FRANCE WORRIED Decides to Invite U.S. To Join Up In The 9-Power Pact

By Associated Press
Spanish loyalists today laid down barrage against rebels in the south but the insurgents concentrated a savage attack against the northern loyalist communities.

The French government decided to invite the United States to join European nations in the proposed neutrality accord. French diplomats were worried by the slowness of Berlin's specific reply approving the accord and the possibility that Spanish fascists had violated the neutrality of the Morocco neutrality zone.

American women and children between 30 and 40 of them, left Madrid last night by train for Valencia to board the United States warship Quincy for escape to France.

Only about 100 Americans, with business interests in the capital, remained. Several hundred French and British citizens were to depart soon in fear of growing violence of the war, now in its twenty-fifth day.

LABOR GROUP TO BACK PRESIDENT FOR REELECTION

Non-Partisan Voters
Promised Support
For This Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)— Labor's non-partisan league pledged itself late Monday to national organization for reelection of President Roosevelt, as a base for "establishment of a liberal party" in 1940.

Following the reference to 1940 by Geo. L. Berry, president of the league and an official in the administration, the convention endorsed tally for the furtherance of liberalism in our country.

A message from Mr. Roosevelt previously had been read, coupling mention of supreme court decisions with a statement that "a return to reactionary practices is ever short lived."

"During the past three years," he wrote, "we have endeavored to correct through legislation certain of the evils in our economic system.
We have sought to put a stop to certain economic practices which did not promote the general welfare.
It is a notable fact that it was not the wage earners who cheered when those laws were declared invalid. I greet you in faith that future history will show, as past history has so repeatedly, and effectively shown, that a return to reactionary practices is ever short
lived."

Upward of 50 delegates from the country over applauded the presidential welcome and speeches by Berry, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers; and Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Dr. Thomas' Book Gains a Favorable Review from Critic

Favorable publicity has been given "Selected Stories, Quotations and Aphorisms" a volume of humor compiled by Dr. John B. Thomas of Midland.

The book recently came off the presses of Southern Publishers at Kingsport, Tennessee, and since that time, the author has received numerous commendations and compliments on the work.

The following review of the volume appeared on the book page of the Dallas Morning News for Sunday,
August 2.

John B. Thomas must have been reading magazines and joke books, as well as the classics, for many years to have acquired the material presented in his "Selected Stories, Quotations and Aphorisms." The selections, which number 1,360 in all, are quotable, having been chosen for the aid of the public speaker. To add wit or wisdom to his discourse, the orator has only to glance through the pages of this book and find the anecdote that fits his subject.

The stories are mostly humorous and have been culled from a wide variety of sources.
Wherever known, the origin is given. Scattered among the jokes are pearls of wisdom, in both prose and verse, from such writers as Lord Chesterfield, Lord Byron, Will Rogers, Thomas Huxley.

PRECINCT TWO TO VOTE ON SALE OF BEER AUGUST 22

Dry Easy Winners
In Election Held
Three Years Ago

An election has been called for August 22 to decide on whether or not legal sale of 3.2 percent beer will be allowed in precinct two of Midland county.

Precinct two is known as the Stokes and German districts in the county, and voted dry in the 1933 election by a vote of 11 for the sale of the beverage and 23 against the sale of it. At present time it is the only dry precinct in the county, all others voting for the sale of beer in the 1933 election.

Curiously enough, in the 1933 election the eligible voters of the precinct voted for beer in the state by a vote of 20 to 15 while repulsing it within their own confines.
They split 17-17 on the question of legalized sale in the county.

Eligible voters in the precinct
Monday submitted a petition asking that an election be called to decide upon the sale of beer there and the election was ordered by county officials for Saturday, August 22, the ballots to be cast at the Stokes school house.

cording to local scouters.

Preliminary contests in breast stroke, back stroke, side stroke, and free style swimming, diving, 60 yard medley and 60 yard relay were held this morning. Finals were to be held this afternoon.

At noon a barbecue for the boys was given at Pagoda Pool where the competitions are taking place.

A picture show for the boys followed the noon meal while scouters of the Buffalo Trail council held their bi-monthly meeting at the courthouse.

NO PROMISE OF RELIEF OFFERED TO PARCHED STATE

Hot Winds Continue
To Do Damage
To Crops

DEATHS MOUNT Four Persons Dead As Result of Wave In Southwest

By Associated Press
The mercury mounted toward record-breaking levels today to establish the current Texas heat wave as the worst in 20 years.

Weather observers gave no promise of relief. The chief crop danger, county agents said, was not the heat itself but the tendency of hot winds and sunshine to dry the land and wither mature crops.

Four deaths and numerous prostrations were blamed on the intense heat. McKinney, Collin county, reported the state's high official mark yesterday when the temperature soared to 118.

Fear of extensive crop damage was heightened by the gloomy outlook from weather forecasters' reports.
In only a few scattered areas did cloudy skies give promise of rain.

New all-time highs were recorded at many places in the state. Fort Worth recorded 109.8, the highest figure in 27 years. Dallas temperatures soared to the highest figure in history when the mercury tipped 109.6. Abilene had its hottest day since the weather bureau started keeping the record 51 years ago when 106 was reported.

Midland continued today to be among the few spots in the state where the temperatures were not soaring to new high marks. Yesterday's peak being an even 100 at four o'clock. At one o'clock this afternoon the reading at the weather bureau station was 97. However, the lack of floating clouds indicated that it would probably be hotter before the day ended.

Consistent cooling winds have kept the temperatures here from being as noticeable as they were earlier in the year.

Farmers here say that crops have not yet shown any indication of suffering from the steady heat and that they are in good condition, due to the recent rains, to withstand even hotter days than have been recorded. Both cotton and feed crops are far enough advanced, and the ground is in such condition that owners and tenants are confident crops will not be seriously damaged even should rain hold off for the rest of the month.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The A. F. of L. executive council itself saved the Committee for Industrial Organization under John L. Lewis from a smashing blow.

Suspension of the 10 C. I. O. unions was anticipated and the heads of those unions took it with a laugh. But a split in the C. I. O., which has had all the breaks so far in its battle with the craft unions, would have been relatively disastrous.

A chance to bust the C. I. O. wide open was exactly what President David Dubinsky of the International Ladies Garment Workers offered the craft union leaders on the council.

A member of the council, as well as of the C. I. O., Dubinsky promised on behalf of his big organization to abide by a majority vote decision on C. I. O. activities at the next A. F. of L. convention if the council would only postpone action at this time.

He said he could get several other C. I. O. unions to sign such agreement.

Failed to Seize Opportunity
This simply meant that Dubinsky, pressed by conservatives in his own ranks and personally quite jittery, offered to abandon the C. I. O. at the convention—a two-thirds vote of which is ordinarily required for suspension or expulsion of a union—disapproved of C. I. O. by majority vote.

Convention control by craft union enemies of Lewis is absolutely certain. Acceptance by the council would have meant that the C. I. O. would have been seriously weakened in both numbers and prestige.

But the other council members were asleep at the switch. They refused Dubinsky's offer and suspended his union along with the others.

The effect of the move was to solidify the C. I. O. unions and make more certain than ever the creation of a separate labor movement.

Unions following the Lewis leadership will not launch their rival federation before the A. F. of L. convention in Tampa in November.

Few of them, if any, will send delegates to the Tampa convention. A-credentials committee appointed by President William Green of the A. F. of L. would declare them disqualified and the C. I. O. union delegates would be unable to vote with the rest of the convention on the credentials committee's report.

Green's Status in Doubt
Green's re-election as president is none too certain. As a member of the suspended United Mine Workers, he must obtain membership in another union to run for office.

Dominant craft union leaders at the convention are ruthless and in some cases personally ambitious. They will keep Green at the top only if they are convinced that they would invite public opprobrium if they ditched him after he had led their fight against Lewis.

They don't like Green, believe that he is at heart an industrial unionist, and doubt his willingness to become a real champion for them in ruthless internal labor warfare.

The Coughlin Plan --- As Flynn Sees It

Plans which have been advanced for the revision of the nation's banking system—plans that have become a part of Father Coughlin's own economic program—are described in this second of three impartial articles which John T. Flynn has written in an effort to give readers of The Reporter-Telegram a better understanding of "The Coughlin Plan."

BY JOHN T. FLYNN
(Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

Once more across the sky—a dark and echoing with its rumblings of politicians in eruption—the magic word "money" streaks like a flash of lightning.

It is the word with which Father Coughlin disturbs the slumbers of leaders of both major parties. Father Coughlin tells them, and his radio audience, that the power to issue money is a sovereign power, that it belongs to the government under the Constitution and that the bankers have usurped that power.

But what does he mean by this? How much money is there in the country? There is on deposit in the banks now about 49 billion dollars. But we all know that there is only about a quarter-billion dollars of money issued by the government. Who issued the other 43 billion?

Last year the banks had deposits of 45 billion. Where did the new four billion come from—the government didn't issue it. Who did?

How Bank Create Billions of Dollars
This is a point of the greatest importance. The money is created by the banks. Here is a bank with a million dollars in deposits. You borrow $1000 from that bank. The banker doesn't give you $1000 in cash. He merely writes in your deposit book a deposit of $1000. On the bank's books a deposit of $1000 is also made. So now the bank has deposits of $1,001,000 instead of $1,000,000. You may draw that $1000 out by giving a check to another man, but he promptly re-deposits in the same bank or another one, so that the $1000 of newly created money remains as a new deposit in your bank or some other one. This is the process by which bank deposits are created. And it is with these deposits that we do the business of the nation. This is called bank money credit money.

The banks have it in their power to increase or decrease the amount of money by making or calling loans. And this is a power which Father Coughlin, in common with many other money reformers, says the private bankers should not possess. This power he wants to take away from the banks and vest in the government because he says it is a money making and issuing function.

Howard will ask the I. T. U. to join up with the C. I. O. If it does so, courtship almost automatic suspension, the effect will be something like another smack on the nose for the council.

Convention control by craft union enemies of Lewis is absolutely certain. Acceptance by the council would have meant that the C. I. O. would have been seriously weakened in both numbers and prestige.

But the other council members were asleep at the switch. They refused Dubinsky's offer and suspended his union along with the others.

The effect of the move was to solidify the C. I. O. unions and make more certain than ever the creation of a separate labor movement.

Unions following the Lewis leadership will not launch their rival federation before the A. F. of L. convention in Tampa in November.

Few of them, if any, will send delegates to the Tampa convention. A-credentials committee appointed by President William Green of the A. F. of L. would declare them disqualified and the C. I. O. union delegates would be unable to vote with the rest of the convention on the credentials committee's report.

bank he would put it in a deposit bank where it would remain until he took it out.

Business needs differing amounts of money at different times. The amount of money, instead of being increased or decreased by bank credit as at present, would be increased or diminished by the Currency Commission.

Another Plan Wipes Out National Debt
Another plan might be called the Chicago University plan because it is sponsored by a group of economists there. Under this plan the government would take over the Federal Reserve Banks.

The new bank would immediately buy up all outstanding Federal bonds—paying for them with Federal Reserve notes. The government would then own most of its bonds, thus almost wiping out the national debt and saving hundreds of millions a year in interest. The bondholders would have cash instead.

Private bankers would then be permitted to form three kinds of banks. 1. Deposit banks like those advocated by Fisher. 2. Investment trusts which would accept long term savings and would make all long term loans. 3. Credit banks or associations which would accept savings also and would make short term loans.

Vanderlip Proposes Separation of Functions
A third plan is offered by Frank Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank. Vanderlip would separate deposit banking and investment banking drastically.

There would be two kinds of banks—commercial banks and investment banks. Both would accept deposits. But the commercial bank would make only short term self-liquidating loans. The investment bank alone could make long term loans and depositors would understand that their accounts were not checking accounts.

All are aiming at two things. First, to make bank deposits safe.

What can be done about this? Father Coughlin proposes a scheme. Like the idea of the commodity dollar and managed currency, his plan for this has, in part, at least, support from well-known economists. Father Coughlin mixed into the plan several other ingredients.

100 Per Cent Versus 10 Per Cent Banking
Now we come to the plans for dealing with the great problem of bank-created money, and we can look at various plans for demobilizing the bankers' control over credit.

The first is offered by Prof. Irving Fisher. He calls it "100 per cent banking." Banks have usually cash to the extent of 10 per cent of their deposits. Fisher's plan is to require 100 per cent cash—a dollar in cash in the vaults for every dollar of deposits. Here is how it would work:

First, the government would set up a Currency Commission. This commission would buy from all the banks almost all of their assets, enough to give the banks cash equal to their deposits. The commission would pay for these assets with paper money issued by it.

This done, the commission would have practically all of the bills, notes, bonds, stocks now owned by the banks. The banks would have instead government currency. The deposits of the banks would be the same, but they would be in cash instead of interest-bearing investments.

Thereafter all deposit banks would be chartered as mere warehouses of cash. They would not make loans. They would always have to keep a dollar in cash in their vaults for every dollar on deposit. Their profits would come from charging depositors for the service.

Those who wish to borrow would go to other types of banks specially chartered for the purpose. Such banks would accept funds from investors not depositors. You could put money in such banks for savings purposes, understanding that it could not be checked out at will. You would get interest on your savings. Such banks would make loans. But they would hand over cash to the borrower. If he wished to de-

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

His brains wouldn't fill a gimlet. Features like a bad spell of weather. Busy as a cat raking dirt in the Rocky Mountains. Mean as an acre of snakes. Grunts like a pack jack. St. Vitus dance of the trigger finger.

Today is really "Boy Scout Day" in Midland. About 400 youngsters are expected to be here for their annual after carnival. It is up to the people to do all they can to make the affair a success. The Boy Scout organization is one that should receive the support of everyone. It really starts a boy out on the right path.

Claude Crane says that had he taken up scout work earlier he might have learned to shoot straighter.

Charley McClintic says he can sell anything. So if you have something you would like to get rid of let Charley know about it. He'll find you a buyer—for a commission.

Jim Harrison and M. D. Johnson have gone to Cloudford for a vacation. They will stay until they run out of golf balls.

A few old sayings: He traded the Devil for a witch. Not worth a hill of beans in West Virginia. Like Collins' sheep, he has a head of his own. Hangs on like a poor relation. Like Hell beating tan bark. Runs like a cat to a dog fight. There's many a true heart beneath a coat that is torn. If turkeys were 10 cents a dozen. Rattles in a flea's bladder like a marble in a bass drum.

moting the fight. He buoyantly has predicted a crowd of 100,000 with the admission price ranging from $2 to $10, minus tax. Louis and Sharkey will share evenly on a percentage basis and the Free Milk Fund for Babies will receive 10 per cent.

The Brown Bomber trained for his comeback at Pompton Lakes, N. J., while Sharkey pitched his camp at Orangeburg, N. Y.

Louis Discounts Knockout
Louis began his training with light workouts and kept his schedule for nearly two weeks. He started heavy work a fortnight before the fight. As for the Schmeling knockout, the Brown Bomber is confident it doesn't mean a thing in his career.

"I was too over-confident," says Joe, adding with earnestness. "But I'd sure like to get into the ring with that man again."

Sharkey in training, as was expected, showed the effects of his long layoff in his timing. His whistling left hook seemed to carry its old sting, however, and Sharkey showed he hasn't forgotten that weaving style, which may bother Louis.

Four Recent Fights for Sharkey
Since emerging from retirement, Sharkey has four fights under his belt. Last November he knocked out Unknown Winston, then he fought Tony Suocco twice. One was a draw and Sharkey lost the other on a decision. In his last fight with Phil Brubaker, highly regarded on the Pacific Coast as a hard hitter and clever boxer, Sharkey displayed some of his old time form. He was floored early in the fight, but he came back to win the decision.

Fistic followers believe that if Sharkey enters the ring in good condition and has one of his famed "good nights" it will take all the skill Louis was believed to have before the Schmeling fight to sink the ex-sailor. Sharkey, never regarded as a "killer" is a dangerous puncher and in his younger fighting days was rated highly for his cleverness.

Early betting established Louis as the favorite, but little money seemed available either way.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (U.P.)—The Joe Louis-Jack Sharkey bout at the Yankee Stadium, Aug. 18, promises to be a doubly puzzling affair with two questions stumping ring followers.

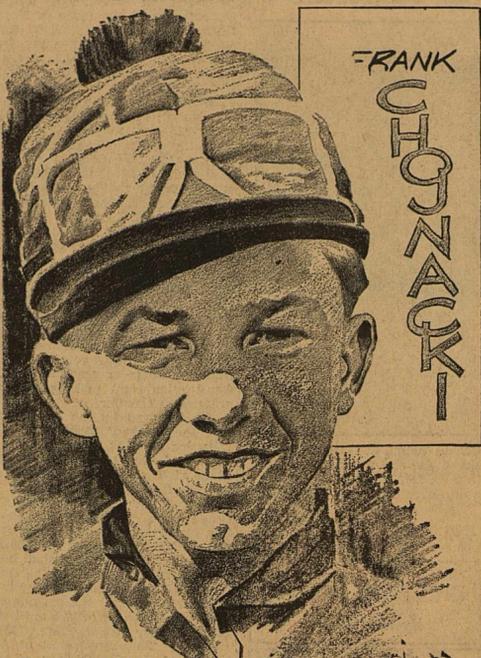

Naturally the first affects Louis and it concerns the terrific beating he took from Max Schmeling last June 19. Will the Brown Bomber be able to "take it," has he built a defense for a right hand wallop to the jaw, and will his knockout leave its mental mark?

The second question, a big one, is Sharkey himself. Known as an in-and-outer from the time he stepped off a battleguard to rise to the heavyweight championship until he faded into fistic oblivion in 1933, Sharkey has had some good nights and some very bad ones. The stars give no hint of what the night of Aug. 18 will bring.

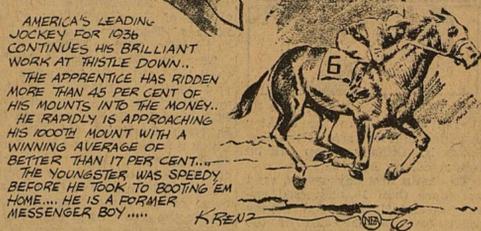

Comeback for Both
The bout, which will be 10 rounds, or perhaps less, is really a comeback fight for Louis as well as Sharkey. The negro is trying again to step into foreground as a challenger for James J. Braddock's crown after being laid low by Schmeling. Sharkey, who has had a few easy fights since he lost the title to Primo Carnera in 1933, has the same aspiration—the heavyweight title.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

The Flying Man

FRA BARTHOLOMEU LOURENCO DE GUSMAO, Brazilian priest and scientist, in 1709, came upon an idea for a flying chariot. He wrote to the King of Portugal and got a pension of 600,000 reis to continue his researches. But, serious investigator, or charlatan, as some believe he was, De Gusmao never got his idea beyond the paper stage.

For it was a strange craft that De Gusmao had envisioned. He called it "Passarola," for it was supposed to fly like a swallow. It was to be a paper kite fashioned like a bird, and with feather wings. Tubes were to guide the wind against the sails, and bellows were designed to work when there was no gale. Magnets were to pull on pieces of amber, and so life the vessel in the air.

De Gusmao became known as the "flying man." He died in 1724, at the age of 41, and his queer invention died with him.

Brazil built a monument to De Gusmao, nevertheless, and in 1929 issued a stamp showing this monument and one picturing the priest, both part of a series on famous Brazilian air men.

Delicious Landscapes

Produced By Artist
RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 11 (U.P.)—A Richmond artist produces landscapes that are good to eat. The trees, the roads, the pastures and the cows are delicious.

He is E. A. Bromm, a baking company executive, whose pastime is making pictures out of icings and candy. The landscapes are astonishingly real, especially after they are framed and hung on the wall.

The trees are made of deep green icing; the fertile fields of chocolate, and the cows of peppermint-red. A cheese-colored moon hangs in a vanilla sky.

If a picture turns out badly, Bromm solves the problem by eating it.

Jack Lovelock and Glenn Cunningham, both of whom cracked the world record in the phenomenal 1500-meter event of the Olympic games, plan to retire shortly. Lovelock, who lowered the standard to 3:47.8, says that running is wrecking his work and health. The New Zealand medical student intends to compete in the forthcoming Empire games in London, however. John D. Shibe is recovering from a nervous breakdown at a retreat in the outskirts of Philadelphia, but will not resume baseball activities for at least a year. The president of the Athletics, who is 65, has abandoned speed boat racing in which he spent a fortune. He has a fleet of expensive boats in the "shipyards of Shibe Park," located under the left field stands. There were 1200 reporters from all parts of the world in the press box during the track and field events of the Olympic games. Larry MacPhail, Cincinnati's champion of night baseball, adheres to the belief that the game as played under arc lights gives fielders and fans a better break than the sunshine variety. The general manager of the Reds points out that fielders do not have the sun and a high sky to worry about. And that the customers can watch the flight of the white pellet against the night background from the time it leaves the bat until it reaches the fielder's glove. Those who have come closest in the past predict that the Braddock-Schmeling scrap will draw $600,000 in the Sunken Garden of Queens, September 24. They also say that Sharkey and Louis will be fortunate to do $150,000 at Yankee Stadium, August 18.

Cards Banned, Browns Knit

On a recent trip, Rogers Hornsby found four of his St. Louis Browns, led by the mischievous Rolly Hamsley, knitting what they claimed would be sweaters. It was done as a protest against the manager's prohibition of card games for money. The knitting needles and balls of yarn disappeared when the Rajah threatened to fine the ribbers. Everything probably would have been all right had the athletes been perusing from charts. A wrenched back is forcing Lou Gehrig to take only half swings at the ball. The result is that potential home runs by the Yankee luminary are merely solidly socked singles. Elmer (Slim) McClelland, Detroit referee who has been in boxing for 30 years, considers the 10 round light-heavyweight battle between Faniz Tzanetopoulos and Bill Bommer, staged in the Motor City, the other night, the fiercest he ever saw. McClelland awarded Tzanetopoulos a debatable decision. Despite a discouraging start, due to illness in his family retarding spring training, Tommy Bridges of the Tigers has a reasonable chance of finishing the season with 20 victories. The little Tennessee grabber 23 in 1934 and 21 last season led 1935. Chuck Woods, Detroit lightweight, has experienced no lull in the beak busting business in nine years, during which he has been in 250 fights. He is fresh from participating in three in 10 days, and gained an easy 10-round decision over Milt Aarons in Chicago in one extra round. Aarons had been repelled only once in 34 starts as a professional. Sidney B. Wood, the tennis player, is president of a firm called the "Gold Diggings Syndicate." It is a mining corporation.

Red Sox Buy Buster Mills

Buster Mills, hard right handed hitting outfielder of Rochester, is the latest sizeable purchase of the Boston Red Sox. Auggie Galan scarcely figures to cut in on any extra money under Philip K. Wrigley's bonus plan this season. The speedy flychaser is batting 50 points below his mark of last year, when he copped 13 prizes ranging from $200 to $500 each. Amateur athletes of Australia are not permitted to receive instruction from professionals. Although the Chicago Cubs and White Sox are keen rivals, Gabby Hartnett, of the National Leaguers gave aid to the enemy. He gave Rip Radcliff one of his model bats last spring. The outfielder is hitting .375 with it. Hal Price Headley, man of many interests in and around Lexington, Ky., has been in the thoroughbred breeding and racing business since he was big enough to lead a horse. Headley has visited every racing course in this country, and calls the new Keeneland track near Lexington the most beautiful in America. Indian Quintana, who conquered Sixto Escobar, bantamweight champion, in a non-title engagement, is a Cholu Indian. Not many of this race remain. Quintana says that his ancestors have been traced back to Montezuma. Frank Demaree, Cub outfielder, is the son of mutes. He knew only the sign language until he started school. Frank Gabler, Giant pitcher, needs only two more victories to win a $150 suit of clothes from Eddie Brannick, club secretary. The wager was that Gabler would not bag eight games.

Grasshopper Do Good Deed

WINNIPEG, Man. (U.P.)—Grasshoppers this year are atoning for the millions of dollars damage they have caused to Manitoba's crops during the last few years, farmers report. The voracious insects are credited with saving farmers $15,000,000 by destroying sow thistles, a dreaded weed menace, over an area of 5,000 square miles in the southwestern part of the province.

'Twas a Fine Crop—for 'Hoppers!

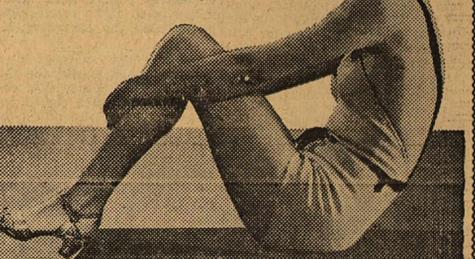

Row upon row of gaunt, parched stalks, every vestige of leaf and ear stripped from them by voracious grasshoppers—this was the dismal scene that greeted Charles E. Geiger, pioneer Oklahoma farmer, when, as shown above, he visited his bottomland cornfield near Blackwell, Okla. With the ravages of 'hoppers and drought combining to destroy forage and feed crops for winter use, Geiger admitted he had never seen anything like it in all his 71 years.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by striking out Section 20 hereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Article XVI. Section 20:

"(a) It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State that the open saloon shall not be reestablished. The sale of spirituous liquors, manufactured in whole or in part by means of the process of distillation and/or liquors compounded and/or composed in part of such spirituous distilled liquors, for private profit, is prohibited within this State except when such sale is made to the State. The State of Texas shall have the exclusive right to purchase at wholesale and to sell at retail such distilled spirituous liquors. Such sale shall be made only in unbroken packages and no such liquors shall be consumed on the premises where sold. The Legislature shall pass laws to prescribe regulations relative to the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of such spirituous liquors and relative to the establishment of State dispensaries; provided, however, the Legislature shall have the power to regulate the sale for private profit and possession of distilled liquors for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes.

"The manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors, the alcoholic content of which is entirely and exclusively the result of the fermentation process is hereby authorized under such restrictions as may be authorized by law.

"(b) The Legislature shall enact a law or laws whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, may by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes shall be prohibited or legalized within the prescribed limits; and such laws shall contain provisions for voting on the sale of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content.

"(c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to sell, barter, or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous vintous or malt liquors or medicated bitters, capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever, for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the Regular Session of the 43rd Legislature."

Sec. 2. Such proposed Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held on the third day of November, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment, shall write, or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment to the State Constitution providing for the establishment of a State dispensary system having the exclusive sale of distilled liquors, and providing for local option."

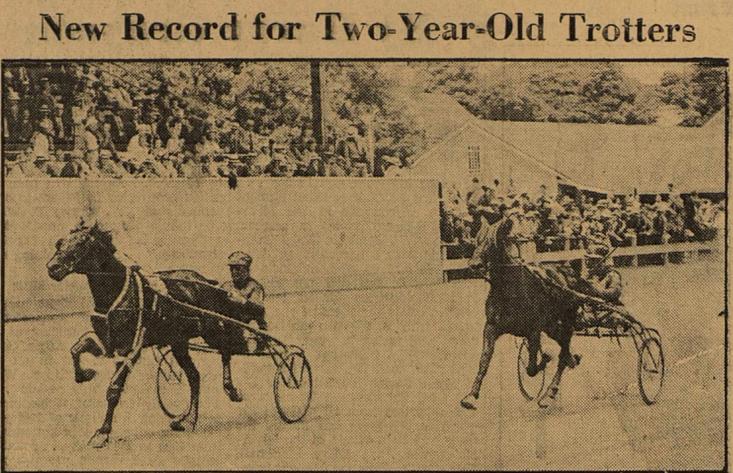

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and shall have the same published and such election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Eight Thousand ($8,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for the expenses of said publication and election.

Stamp News

WASHINGTON, D. C., will be the only city in the country in which first day sale of the new Susan B. Anthony stamp will be conducted, on Aug. 26.

To obtain first day covers, send not more than 10 addressed envelopes and U. S. postal money order covering the cost of the stamps required, at 3 cents each, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C.

First of the new Army and Navy series of stamps may appear even before the Susan B. Anthony issue, but first day place of sale has not yet been determined. Decision for release of this stamp may come so suddenly that there may be little or no time to prepare first day covers.

The souvenir sheet of four commemorative stamps, issued recently in connection with the stamp exposition in New York, may soon be withdrawn from sale at the Philatelic Agency in Washington.

Reminders of potato tax stamps, withdrawn from use, are to be sold by the U. S. Treasury Department to the stamp dealer entering the highest bid. So you may expect to see more of these on sale soon through dealers.

Stamp News
By I. S. Klein

WASHINGTON, D. C., will be the only city in the country in which first day sale of the new Susan B. Anthony stamp will be conducted, on Aug. 26.

To obtain first day covers, send not more than 10 addressed envelopes and U. S. postal money order covering the cost of the stamps required, at 3 cents each, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C.

First of the new Army and Navy series of stamps may appear even before the Susan B. Anthony issue, but first day place of sale has not yet been determined. Decision for release of this stamp may come so suddenly that there may be little or no time to prepare first day covers.

The souvenir sheet of four commemorative stamps, issued recently in connection with the stamp exposition in New York, may soon be withdrawn from sale at the Philatelic Agency in Washington.

Reminders of potato tax stamps, withdrawn from use, are to be sold by the U. S. Treasury Department to the stamp dealer entering the highest bid. So you may expect to see more of these on sale soon through dealers.

LIONS CLUB WILL HOLD BARBECUE

Wives, Friends Will Be Guests of Members At Affair

Members of the Midland Lions club will entertain their wives, sweethearts and friends with an old-fashioned barbecue at Cloverdale Park at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, said outing being the initial ladies-night affair sponsored by the Lions Club here this season. The regular Wednesday noon luncheon of the Lions Club will be supplanted by the barbecue. It is expected that a large crowd of Lions club members, their ladies and friends will be in attendance at the affair, which is being heralded as one of the outstanding ladies night programs ever to be staged by the local service club.

There will be no speech making at the barbecue, but various games will be played following the partaking of the food according to Lions Jim Goodman and Raymond L. Hughes, who comprise the general committee in charge of the affair. Frank Smith and Don Gabbert are in charge of the transporting of the food to Cloverdale, while Clint Myrick, Claude Crane and Ellis Conner comprise a committee to arrange for the drinks, paper plates, etc.

The menu will consist of barbecued beef, frijole beans, onions, pickles, buns, potatoes, coffee and the other essentials that go to make up a first class barbecue. Everything possible is being done to make this affair a most successful event.

Miscellaneous Shower Is Compliment To Mrs. E. J. Flannery Monday Afternoon

Among the larger parties which have brought a touch of gaiety to a heat-flagged Midland recently was the miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. E. J. Flannery, the late Miss Velma Winborne, which was given by Mrs. D. B. Snider, 204 South A street, from 5 o'clock until 6:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. E. H. Black, daughter of Mrs. Snider, assisted her in entertaining.

Bouquets of cut garden flowers and fern brightened the reception room where Miss Mary Lee Snider presided over the bride's book in which guests registered.

A brief program of music, song, and reading was presented. The numbers were:

Piano selection: "Adagio Sostenuto Op. 27 No. 2," Beethoven—Miss Jennie Elkin.

Reading—Lucille McMullen, accompanied on piano by Miss Elkin. "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," by James Whitcomb Riley.

Songs—Patsy Lou Arrington, "Clory of Love" and "The Wedding of Jack and Jill."

Dorothy Lynn Butler, the honoree's small niece, dressed in a page's costume of brown and tan, then brought in a note on a silver plate with a call of "Paging the bride of July 25, Mrs. E. J. Flannery."

The note, read by the page boy, directed the honoree to:

"Give the blue and white ribbon on your chair—a big and let us see what awaits you there."

The ribbon led to a heap of gifts which were concealed from view by a screen.

A plate symbolic of a bride's party was served. Individual molds of ice cream were in the shape of wedding bells with cupid and bridal wreath emblems as decoration. Angel food cake squares were iced in pink.

Besides the friends calling during the afternoon, a number not present sent gifts.

RUN-OFF SYSTEM STUDIED BY DEMOS

Abolition May Be Asked At Meeting of Exec. Committee

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—Governor Allred said Monday he and state democratic party officials were studying the merits and demerits of the run-off primary system with a view of deciding whether to recommend its abolition. It has been in use in Texas for 18 years.

If the majority of the state democratic executive committee concludes that the double primary is not the best way of selecting nominees, the state convention at Fort Worth September 8 likely will be asked to approve a plank favoring its abolition in the party platform.

FEMININE FANCIES

By KATHLEEN EILAND

Adoring parents who stay at home and pay the bills often think, no doubt, that college girls like many things—and get them—whereas their dislikes are negligible in number. A recent questionnaire indicates however, that co-eds have a number of dislikes and can state them definitely.

Here are some of the things they don't like: High-smelling hair tonic on boys, fancy sweaters, red finger nails in the daytime, orchids and spinach, socks with high heel shoes, blind dates, packets that pop open, bulky rain clothes, bow ties on men, fussy clothes for classes, and program dances.

We can't help wondering what the college boys dislike?

Thinking citizens should take off their hats to ranchers of Southern Utah who can lay claim to unusual resourcefulness in tiring a grasshopper is usually a dead loss to the country they invade. Not so to Utah. Agriculturists of that state cashed in to the tune of $10,000 on the jumbos who descended upon their lands.

A California fish bait company gathered up fifty barrels of the pesky creatures.

A movie location crew, for a Chinese locust plague scene in "The Good Earth" piled thousands of the dead grasshoppers into a trench 125 feet long and four feet deep.

All in all Utah farmers received pay for thirty tons of the insects, at an average price of more than $300 per ton.

Now if only some bright soul would show us how to sell dead flies at a profit in the summer time life would be a pretty good thing.

WATER IS STRUCK BY FOSTER WELL

Broderick & Calvert Test Now Testing At 4,237

BY FRANK GARDNER

After logging a good increase in oil from 4,220 to 4,230 with oil level rising 700 feet higher in a short time, Broderick & Calvert No. 1 H. C. Foster, interesting test a quarter-mile north of the discovery well in Ector county's Foster pool, struck sulphur water from 4,230 to 4,237. The amount of water was not large, three bailers recovered, but testing at 4,237 is still in progress. The increase from 4,220 to 4,230 was the first definite pay section the well has found since 4,146 to 4,158 although samples from 4,179 to 4,183 bore evidence of oil saturation.

After striking the increase and before drilling into the water zone, the 2,500 feet of fluid in the hole increased to 3,200 feet. Gas volume is not sufficiently large that the well will flow. The Broderick & Calvert prospect is located 2,310 feet from the south and 330 feet from the east line of section 13, block 43, township 2 south, T. & F. survey.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 1-A Johnson, a wildcat being drilled five miles north of the Foster pool in section 42, block 42, township 1 south, has reached 2,330 feet in anhydrite.

Fishing For Bailer

Fishing for bailer is delaying progress in Lou Stogner and Elliot Roosevelt No. 1 Gogins, Yoakum county's sole active wildcat. The test had reached a depth of 4,643 feet in lime and anhydrite when held up by loss of the bailer. Top of brown lime in the Stogner and Roosevelt test has been called at 4,547 feet. It is located in section 215, block D, John H. Gibson survey, six miles and a half north of Plains.

In Cochran county, Honolulu and Cascade No. 1 Duggan has resumed drilling after a shut-down of several weeks at 2,297 feet while standardizing. It drilled plug from 10-inch casing set at 2,297 and is now drilling ahead below 2,300 Top of anhydrite was called at 2,210. It is in the center of labour 13, league 55, Oldham county school land.

Activities in Gaines county remained virtually at a standstill today with Humble No. 1 C. H. Eubanks shut down for orders bot-tomed at 5,342. Landreth No. 1 Kirk installing standard rig and pumping equipment, and Stanolind No. 1 Dewey Davis, newest Gaines test, moving in material and digging cellar and pits.

Has 1,041-Barrel Potential

Offsetting a 619-barrel well in the southeast part of Winkler's Sayre pool, Gulf No. 5-A Daugherty registered a 24-hour potential of 1,041 barrels of oil with 3,300,000 cubic feet of gas. Flow was gauged through open casing after a nitro shot of 360 quarts from 2,800 to 3,000 feet, the total depth. The No. 5-A Daugherty is 330 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from the east line of section 13, block 26, public school land.

Recently started up again after a wait for orders to deepen, the interesting northeast Winkler test of Joiner Oil Corporation No. 1 Evans-Cowden in section 46, block 73, public school land, is drilling ahead in gray lime below 5,045 feet. The test will go to 5,500 unless oil, gas or water is struck at shallower depth.

Crane Tub Tests

In western Crane county's Tubb area, Gulf No. 2 Tubb is re-cementing 7-inch pipe at 4,226. Humble No. 3 Tubb is drilling lime at 3,150 and Gulf No. 2 McKnight is drilling anhydrite at 2,205.

The two deep or Ordovician tests in that part of Crane continued to show progress: Moore Brothers No. 1 Barnsley is drilling hard lime at 5,419 carrying a hole full of sulphur water, and Gulf No. 2 Waddell and others is drilling lime below 5,212.
