

Thompson and McDonald Re-Elected

Lightest Number Votes in 2 Decades Cast in County

Thompson Winner By 4 to 1 Margin

With only 608 votes, one of the smallest-if not the smallest vote-in the last two decades cast in the Saturday runoff election here, Midland county voters straggled to the polls to give both Ernest O. Thompson and J. C. McDonald, margins over their opponents.

Thompson, present Railroad Commissioner, easily defeated his opponent Frank Morris, polling 480 votes while the Dallas man could gain only 118. Precinct one gave Thompson his greatest margin percentage, 392 ballots being cast for him while only 54 were registered against him.

How Midland voted by precincts follows:

Railroad Commissioner:	Prec. 1	Prec. 2	Prec. 3	Prec. 4
E. O. Thompson	392	58	7	24
F. S. Morris	54	38	0	26

Commissioner of Agriculture:

J. C. McDonald	250	60	7	21
G. B. Terrell	191	34	0	24

J. E. McDonald present Agriculture Commissioner, had a smaller margin of victory but was 79 votes ahead on the final count. McDonald polled 338 votes while 259 persons signified their dissatisfaction with his administration by casting their ballots for George B. Terrell.

COUNTY JUDGE OF ECTOR IS AGAIN WINNER IN RACE

Moore Receives 516 Votes, Johnston Given 500

ODESSA, Aug. 22 (Sp).—Two incumbents were returned to office and a third beaten in one of the hottest run-off primaries staged in this county in several years.

The county judge's race was a battle from the word go and not until the very last was the eventual winner decided. I. E. Johnson, attempting to wrest the seat from incumbent A. W. Moore, was unsuccessful by the narrow margin of 16 votes. Moore garnered 516 votes while the total for Johnson was an even 500.

Jesse Orth, county attorney, was once more returned to office when he defeated Dan Fowler by a vote of 643 to 358.

In precinct two, Son Kelley, incumbent, lost out by nine votes to Milton Marr. The new commissioner polled 115 votes, compared to 106 for Kelley.

Ernest O. Thompson led Frank Morris in the county, 719 to 251. George B. Terrell barely defeated J. E. McDonald, getting 441 votes compared to 436 for the present holder of the office.

CROWD OF 45 AT MEETING HEARS OF SCHLUMBERGER

J. L. Mathieu Speaks Before Gology Society

A crowd of 45 last night heard J. L. Mathieu, general manager in charge of engineering for the Schlumberger Well Surveying corporation in the United States, address the West Texas Geological Society upon "The Latest Development of Schlumberger Methods in West Texas."

Mr. Mathieu was introduced by P. D. Moore vice-president of the society, presiding in the absence of the president, E. Russell Lloyd.

After a brief resume of the past history of Schlumberger methods in Europe, South America, and the United States, Mr. Mathieu explained, aided by lantern slides, the application of the electrical logging device to record resistivity and porosity of drill-hole formations. In touching upon temperature surveys, he demonstrated their effectiveness in locating the top of cement in cased holes and in locating gas and water horizons in uncased holes. A point stressed by him was that gas horizons may generally be located also in cased holes because of the sensitivity of the Schlumberger instruments.

SPAIN READY FOR SETTLEMENT WITH GER. GOVERNMENT

Want Hitler Member Of The Neutral Nations

CAPITAL TO FALL

Rebels Advancing On Madrid From Two Directions

By Associated Press

Augusto Barcia, Spanish Minister of State, declared Saturday that the German protest against a reported Spanish search of a German ship would be settled to the satisfaction of both governments thus clearing the way for Germany's entrance into the European neutrality agreement in Spain's rebellion.

Southern rebel armies had only to capture Toledo before facing virtually an unimpeded road to Madrid. Northern rebels launched an assault on the San Sebastian front. Rebel headquarters were shifted from Burgos to Valladolid, to bring the nerve center of their forces nearer Madrid.

International war threats were lessened by Italy's contingent acceptance of the proposed neutrality pact but the Germans accused Russia of aiding the Spanish loyalists against the rebels with which Germany now sympathizes.

In New York 12 persons were arrested after demonstrating on the German liner Bremen against the German anti-socialistic attitude.

ALL CONTESTS OVER STATE ARE DECIDED

LATEST STATE RETURNS

DALLAS, Aug. 22. (P).—Returns at 1:30 a. m. today from 227 counties, 121 of them complete, show E. O. Thompson has 444,137 votes to Frank S. Morris, 288,213. J. E. McDonald, 414,769. George B. Terrell, 297,140. In district 8, Holcombe had 25,810 votes while Thomas had 34,527. In 15 counties of district 13, nine of them complete, Gossett had 29,973 and McFarlane 28,635. In district 17, reports from 12 counties, eight of them complete, Blanton had 16,331 and Garrett had 31,301. For civil appeals court Judge of district 1, votes from 19 counties, five of them complete, Cody had 51,639 and Scule had 46,719. In district 2, 12 counties, seven of them complete, gave Bunnenberg 21,422 and Speer 42,114.

DALLAS, Aug. 22. (AP).—Returns tabulated by the Texas Election bureau early Sunday seemed to indicate the outcome of all contests in the Saturday democratic run-off primary in the state.

Ernest O. Thompson, incumbent, held a lead of approximately 50 percent over his opponent, Frank S. Morris, in the race for Railroad Commissioner while J. E. McDonald, seeking reelection as Agriculture Commissioner of the state, was leading his opponent George B. Terrell by more than 40 percent.

The colorful Thomas L. Blanton, for many years a member of congress from district 17, was far behind his opponent Judge Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland. The election of Garrett was considered cinched.

In congressional district 8, Albert Thomas held a substantial lead over Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston. In district 13, the race was close but W. D. McFarlane, the incumbent, was leading Ed Gossett by what seemed to be a conclusive margin. In the civil appeals court races, Horace Soule was trailing his opponent T. H. Cody in district 1, while in district 2, John Speer held an impressive lead over Harry Bunnenberg.

Of an estimated 800,000 total votes cast in the run-off primary, approximately 90 percent had been tabulated by 1:30 Sunday morning. A number of counties held no run-off primary, among these being Terrell, Live Oak, Kerr, Kendall, Culberson, Glasscock and McCulloch.

The total vote was somewhat larger than had been predicted by political leaders, due to the fact that few counties had heated local races to stimulate interest, and to the fact that for the first time since 1918 there was neither a United States Senator's or Governor's race to whip up state-wide interest.

EARLY RETURNS SHOW SMALL VOTE

DALLAS, Aug. 22. (P).—A light vote Saturday was indicated in the democratic run-off primary by first reports. The Houston Chronicle said that an unofficial canvass gave Ernest O. Thompson a better than two to one lead over Frank Morris for railroad commissioner, and a similar lead for J. E. McDonald against George B. Terrell for agriculture commissioner.

Fort Worth, San Antonio, Galveston and Dallas were voting light. The Austin Statesman said that early returns gave Thompson and Terrell had substantial leads there.

Old Records Reveal Many Ships Lost In The Santiago Pass

BROWNSVILLE, (P).—Efforts to find records that would identify the bulk of a ship found at the bottom of Brazos Santiago Pass recently, resulted in unearthing an old customs house wreck record that revealed Brazos Pass is literally strewn with wrecks. There should be the remains of at least 25 there.

The old record showed that another 25 ships are resting at the bottom of the Gulf, the mouth of the Rio Grande, and in the stream proper as a result of "risks of navigation" during the early days of sea travel in this section.

The number of wrecks surprised persons who ride the sluggish Rio Grande from Brownsville to Rio Grande City safely in a modern river ship. Early steamers, however, went to the bottom swiftly after ramming submerged logs and, on many occasions, the report revealed, passengers barely escaped drowning.

Brazos Santiago Pass, that treacherous bar now gone to make way for ocean commerce of a new kind, holds the secret of a varied lot of ships. Tall French three-masters, laden with wine, squat steamers, little lighters, barges and big American sailing ships cracked up there.

"Stranded on the bar and battered to pieces by the waves," is a stock expression in the reports telling of the loss of ships.

Next to the bar at Brazos the bar at the mouth of the Rio Grande was the most hazardous to navigation in this section.

The records begin in 1873, and ends with the loss, in 1914, of the schooner E. P. Wright, laden with small arms and ammunition for Tampico, Mexico, during the days of revolution. The E. P. Wright owned by the Gulf Fisheries at Galveston, was of 97 tons and valued at $8,000.

The captain claimed he knew little. See (Old Records) Page 5

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—Indictments returned in Wisconsin against most of the major American oil companies and 58 of their officials and other oilmen open a new chapter in the history of the anti-trust laws.

The Department of Justice will soon be prosecuting important individuals and corporations in other industries on charges of violating the Sherman act.

Meanwhile the nature of the oil cases and the background of the new trust-busting campaign have been somewhat obscured. If the government proves its charges and wins a verdict, the oil industry will be convicted of flagrant violations and its contention that it is being prosecuted for price-fixing practices previously approved by the government will be exploded.

Assistant Attorney General John Dickinson will try to show that major oil companies attempted to starve out independent jobbers and refiners by secretly buying up the gasoline of independent refiners, both raising the price to the jobbers and making it difficult for them to get supplies.

It is alleged by the government that a buying pool was formed, operated by stooges, and that independent refiners didn't know to whom they were really selling. The government will also contend that the great secrecy with which charges operations were conducted indicated that the defendants were aware of their illegality.

G-Men Conduct Probe
It is contended that an artificial price was created and published, which about 4000 middle western jobbers, under terms of their contracts, were compelled to meet.

The indictments came after investigation by federal lawyers and "G-men." Wire-tapping was proposed at one point, but Dickinson refused to countenance it.

It required months to get behind the alleged stooges and trace the "higher-up" connections they are charged with having. Agents had to trace back through a series of meetings in hotel rooms, check telephone call records, and find out who met whom and where before they could present their findings to the grand jury, which in turn made further accusations.

Oil Men Defend System

Oil men say they're being prosecuted for practices which the government encouraged, but vigorously denied in Washington. There was a buying pool, ostensibly for prevention of dumping, for a short period in 1934. Oil Administrator Ickes is said to have put a stop to it. No official is known to have condoned such practices as the government now charges.

Three years ago business men urged and were granted a suspension of anti-trust laws to stabilize competition, in return for promises of shorter hours and higher wages. There was inevitable confusion after the supreme court killed NRA in June, 1935, but Attorney General Cummings in the following July took Dickinson from his post as assistant secretary of commerce to head up the Department of Justice anti-trust division. Work on the oil and other cases began at once.

Charge "Slick" Evasions
Officials insist that "big business" has become so acutely aware of the anti-trust laws that most violations are well planned and very surreptitious, thus requiring many months of work by those who seek evidence. The independent jobbers have been shouting for action through the last year, but their complaints were vague and the evidence scarce.

The U. S. Supreme Court, by outlawing open price agreements has driven price-fixing business men "underground." It has held in effect that practically any price agreement between competitors is illegal.

But a single corporation can monopolize 99 or 100 per cent of the business in a single commodity with out violating the law—unless the court says this was done with wicked intent. The court already has held that when a corporation runs competitors out of business it does so not with the purpose of putting them out of business, but to build up its own business.

Norwegian Carves Native Village In Miniature for Lakes Exposition.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP)—A miniature Norwegian village carved by hand by Hans Simenson, Minneapolis craftsman, will be among the exhibits to be seen by visitors to the Cleveland, Great Lakes exposition.

Simenson, who rose to fame in his native Faaberg, in Gudbrandsdalen, Norway, learned his craft while working as a shepherd.

He gained his skill with his knife while passing lonely hours with his flocks in the hills of Norway. His first figures were of his sheep and goats and other animals he encountered while at work.

Later he became interested in reproduction of models of the buildings of Norway. He continued this interest after arriving in the United States.

Simenson's models are carved accurately, to scale and are complete in the most minute detail. They are fastened together, as are the originals, with small wooden pegs.

Interiors of the buildings are as painstakingly accurate as the exteriors. His houses are complete with furnishings, all carved to scale. In the church of his model village are tiny pews and a pulpit.

Among the most interesting of the buildings included in the display he is sending to Cleveland is the "stabus," a combination granary and storehouse, modeled after the original, built in 1400.

Also included is an example of a classic example of Norwegian peasant architecture with a "ram-loft-stue," or wealthy peasant's home, and a "husmandsstue," or tenant peasant's home.

World May Get One-Time Gong, Do Away With Clocks
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. (UP)—A ticklish time for watchmakers is in store, according to Dr. Walter H. Bucher, professor of geology at Stanford University, who predicts the day when a powerful radio station will supply the entire world with synchronized time.

"Man has become exceedingly artful in the measurement of time," says Dr. Bucher, "and already possesses instruments and techniques to register millions of a second or millions of years.

"The speed of detonating nitroglycerine, moving at approximately five miles a second, can be observed as it passes from one exploding molecule to the next, a length of time in which in an algebraic ratio would be to one second as one second is to 414,000 years."

Bullets Are Photographed
Dr. Bucher declares that rifle bullets, whistling through the air at 3,000 feet a second, can be photographed with the aid of delicate timing devices, as they proceed each one third of a millimeter.

"At the other extreme," states Dr. Bucher, "scientists have found a piece of ore in northern Russia which they estimate with fair accuracy to be 1,850,000,000 years old.

"The age of a bit of ore from the Black Hills region of the United States has been fixed at 1,466,000,000 years."

These ages, Dr. Bucher explains, are ascertained through chemical analysis of radio-active ores, in

Soil Conservation Progress Reported

FORT WORTH—Nearly 49,000 farmers, business men and agricultural leaders visited Soil Conservation Service demonstration projects and ECW camps in Region 4 during the past 12 months, according to a statement on the progress of field activities issued by Louis P. Merrill, regional conservator.

For the most part the visitors to the 20 project demonstrations and 57 soil conservation camps consisted of groups of farmers and land owners who were interested in seeing the complete coordinated erosion program of the Service as applied on the farms of cooperating farmers. Recent surveys throughout Louisiana, Arkansas, and Texas indicate that a high percentage of the total number of visitors returned to their homes after seeing and having complete erosion control program explained to them and instituted similar programs on their own farms.

Other statistical information regarding the field progress of the Region 4 Soil Conservation Service follows: 4,473 farms under agreement; 673,242.6 acres under agreement; 10,101 Soil Conservation Association members; 48,741 visitors to project and camp areas; 18,937.1 acres retired from cultivation; 43,118.9 acres of pasture sodded; 29,188 miles of contour ridges and furrows; 33,379.9 acres protected by strip crops alone; 88,427.3 acres protected by combination of strip crops and terraces.

In addition there are: 5,875.6 miles of terraces constructed; 121,268.3 drainage area of terrace outlet protected; 1,509,091 square yards of terrace outlets sodded; 974.4 acres of meadow strip terrace outlets established; 3,035 acres of timber stand improved; 6,595.1 acres of woodland planted; and 10,911,650 trees planted.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

Some fellows have all the luck. A friend of mine was at the bus station seeing his wife off. While they waited for the bus, he weighed himself on those fortune telling scales. He turned it to the question: "Will my ambition be realized?" He then dropped in his penny, weighed himself in at 196 and this answer turned up: "Yes, very soon." His wife, looking on, said: "Yes, I guess so; I am leaving town."

Bill Epley, on his return from a two weeks trip to the Rockies, was surprised to find that the town had not even closed up while he was away.

Which reminds me that this has been one of the best "business summers" Midland ever went through. All retail stores, etc., report that their volume has held up remarkably well. What Midland needs now is a good rain.

A fellow named Neatherlin who runs a furniture shop across the alley from us hit the nail on the head. He said we need a shower in town and a good rain out in the country.

Those citizens of the Stokes community don't hesitate to admit that they have good farm land. B. T. Hale said, they have had less rain than most of this country but their crops still look better than most he has seen.

Another thing we still need is plenty of houses. If we had a census of the people who have tried to move to Midland and couldn't find places to live, it would make a small city itself. We could have stopped an additional 5,000 people here during the past twelve months if we could have produced a rent house every time a family showed up. Of course the home owner citizen is fine, but most of them have to live here a little while first to be sure this is the right location.

If you will check up the deed records and the building permits, I believe you will find more home

1936 EDITION OF BULLDOGS WILL OPEN TRAINING MONDAY

LOTS OF MATERIAL ASSURES COACH OF FIRST CLASS TEAM Will Build Around A Large Bunch Of Lettermen

The 1936 edition of Midland Bulldogs will open practice Monday. New practice equipment will be issued, lockers will be assigned and the old ball will start its rolling the same afternoon. The first week practice will be conducted once daily each afternoon from 2:30 until 6:00. Starting next week practice will be held twice daily, 9:00-11:00 in the morning and from 2:30-6:30 in the afternoon.

The team will be built around the returning lettermen and squadmen from last year. The following men who lettered last year will be back to defend their positions. Woodrow Adams at left tackle. From all indications Adams should prove to be one of the best tackles in all West Texas. At left guard we find Fredrick Mitchell, another letterman. With two years experience under his belt, he should be a real helping hand to Adams in holding down the left side of that line. At center there will be Thurman Bryant, the pivot man of the district. This lad can either play end or center, and he can play both positions well. At right guard, there will be Rempel (Pinky) Cowan. Coach Baumgarten states that "Pinky" will be one of the toughest guards in the district to handle this fall. At right tackle there will be Gordon English and J. B. Miller, both squadmen from last year, and these boys, if they come through should both make the Bulldogs good tackles, they are both capable of holding down that right side of the line. At right end will be E. B. Rountree and Noble Van Dyke. Both boys have what it takes to make real ends. Coach has stated that Rountree will develop into one of the best ends that he has coached in Midland high school. Both are squadmen from last year. At left end there will be E. P. Lawson and John Dean. Lawson, is the large blonde lad from Stokes, and is one of the best pass receivers in the District. Dean, just a youngster should make a real end both on the offense and the defense.

In the backfield Coach Baumgarten plans to have weight, speed, and deception, plus passes and quick kicking. At right half will be

Houston Boyd of El Paso, seeded number two, easily defeated Hood, 6-0, 6-1, and then defeated T. J. Turner, 6-4, 6-2. W. B. Clinton, San Angelo, seeded third, defeated Redden, 6-0, 6-1. Other seeded players advanced to the quarter-finals without any serious competition.

Thirty six players, the largest number ever to enter the event, were on hand for the opening day matches and everything pointed to the most successful tournament yet held.

Quarter-finals matches in both the singles and doubles will be started at eight o'clock this morning and run all through the day until completed. It is expected that the final matches will be started about four o'clock this afternoon.

SALVAGE CRAFT INVENTED

The SPORTS HORN

BY JESS RODGERS

Well, three schools in this district have already won the football title in this district. This department claims it for Midland, Johnnie Smith claims the gonfalon for Monahans while someone (presumably Travis Moorman) of Pecos wants all and sundry to know that the Eagles of the city west of the Pecos will win all laurels connected with a championship club.

Moorman goes so far as to announce that he has a punk half-dollar that he is right and I am wrong. Should be able to get a little wager with him on the outcome of the game here this year. While others are proclaiming to the world the class of their teams Wink, as usual, is not saying anything. But you can be darn sure that they will come up with one of the best, maybe the best team again this year.

Midland fans will get to enjoy a real home schedule this fall. Games with Big Lake, Pecos, Lamesa, Wink, Stanton, Odessa and Bowie High of El Paso will be met on Lackey field. The team will make appearances on only three foreign fields, Colorado, Crane and Monahans.

Taylor's weight is now 175 pounds. In the deep position we will find John Rettig with plenty of competition. Other backfield men and squadmen from last year are Brooks Roberts, J. L. Barber, F. C. Across the Rockies in a Ford V-8

MORE THAN 18 MILES PER GALLON ON TRIP OVER MOUNTAINS

Doenges Motor Company
Tonkawa, Oklahoma
Red Rock, Oklahoma
June 19, 1936
Gentlemen:
I have just returned from a two weeks' trip in which I covered more than 4800 miles and I am so well pleased with the performance and economy of my new Ford V-8 that I want to tell you about it.

Our car, a Fordor Sedan, with Trunk, accommodated seven of us on this trip which took us through the mountains of Colorado, Wyoming and into Washington State. On the return trip there were nine of us and we came back through Salt Lake City and Denver.

On this trip we passed over six of the Rocky Mountain Passes and we marveled at the ease at which the car took these steep grades and the rare intervals at which we bought gasoline, for upon our return, by dividing the total miles traveled by the total number of gallons of gasoline bought, we found that we had averaged over 18 miles to the gallon for the entire trip which I think is unusually good considering the load we carried and the roads covered.

The car has given us perfect performance and I am well pleased and proud of my new car.

Yours very truly

A. R. Stout

If you want facts about the Ford V-8, talk to Ford owners. Their experience and enthusiasm mean more than anything we could say. ★ The letter above is typical. 4800 miles across the mountains with seven and nine passengers. More than 18 miles to the gallon of gasoline! ★ The brilliant performance of the Ford V-8, its abundant power and quick pick-up, are coupled with economy.

Prove Ford V-8 Economy Yourself

Arrangements for rooms were made in advance and the group will not return until Tuesday.

Bride-Elect Honoree At Kitchen Shower And Party Friday

Miss Annie Faye Dunagan, bride-elect of Ernest Neill, was honored at a miscellaneous kitchen shower following a buffet supper and bridge for which Mrs. John B. Mills was hostess at the Hogsett home Friday evening. Guests were members of the Anti club group.

Petunias and other summer flowers were used on the supper table from which plates were served.

After supper, games of bridge were played, with Miss Lucille McMullan holding high score and Mrs. Olen Fryar low score. Both presented their prizes to the honoree.

The tissue-wrapped shower gifts which were brought in and presented to the honoree at the close of the game came as a surprise to Miss Dunagan who thought the occasion only a club party.

Present were: The honoree, Misses Lucille McMullan, Thalia Howell, Marguerite Bivins, Maedelee Roberts, Nina L. Gartman, Meses, Clint Creech, Olen Fryar, and the hostess.

At The Library

On the rent shelf are: "If I Have Four Apples," by Josephine Lawrence; "This is a novel of an American family who tried stubbornly, dramatically, desperately, to say 'two apples plus two apples equal eight apples.' They even persuaded themselves that they were not apples at all, but alligator pears. Josephine Lawrence is the novelist of American life who wrote 'Years Are So Long.' in this new book, she is doing a new kind of writing about American life—nearer to the truth, farther from fiction, more genuinely exciting."

"Mystery Flowers," by Grace Livingston Hill Lutz; "Diana Disston and her father had grown very close together since the death of her mother, whom they both adored. One day, however, Diana finds that her father had married a distant cousin whom Diana distrusts. Helen poisons the mind of father against daughter, and brings unhappiness to them both. How a reconciliation with her father is finally effected, how the 'mystery flowers' are at last explained and how a new and more perfect happiness comes to Diana—these make a beautiful and moving story."

"King Lehr and the Golden Age," by Elizabeth (Drexel) Lehr; "Mrs. Lehr tells the story of her twenty three years with Harry Lehr—from the time of her marriage until his death a few years ago. Extracts from his locked diary are included. Readers get intimate glimpses into the lives of the fabulous rich who frequent such places as Newport, Southampton, Bar Harbor, and the North Shore of Long Island."

On the seven day shelf are: "Man, the Unknown," by Alex Carrel; "Dr. Carrel, who, with Colonel Charles Lindbergh, has successfully displayed their mechanical heart to members of the International Congress of Experimental Cytology, here turns his scientific acumen to the study of man, the most mysterious of all creatures. It is an unusual treatise, as books of science come in these days of popularizing. It is constructive in pointing a way to the remaking of man. It is easy to grasp and pleasant to read. He has advice to offer that will be hard to follow, but may prove to be right."

"Wake Up and Live!" by Dorothea Brande; "The central theme of this book: Act as if it were impossible to fail, affected its readers even when it was in manuscript form. At that time the young lady who typed it for the printer, did what she had always wanted to do: gave up her job and worked for herself. And two months later had her own typewriting agency, employing three girls to help her. In another instance an office worker began immediately to write two short stories she had 'had in mind' and proceeded to sell them to a magazine. The reader of 'Wake Up and Live' will readily understand how and why these minor miracles have occurred. It will be interesting to them to read how the ideas which Mrs. Brande writes about in this book affected her own life. This is Mrs. Brande's third book within the space of three years, and, as readers of her previous books testify, her best."

On the two-week shelf is: "Why Keep Them Alive?" by Paul de Kruif; "A passionate protest against the illnesses and malnutrition prevalent among children because poverty, and short-sighted social-economic system, fail to provide for them the benefits of science and a stable, adequate food supply. Dr. DeKruif's fight for the lives of the Dionne quintuplets is described as an example of what can be accomplished if the resources of science are available."

Additions to the memorial shelf are: Mr. Donald Hutl, in memory of his father, Mr. J. E. Hutl; "Historic Sketches of the Cattle Trail of the West and Southwest," by Joseph G. McCoy.

In memory of the Rev. and Mrs. Howard Peters, given by the Rijnhart Circle, which they organized: "With the Tibetans in Tent and Temple," by Dr. S. C. Rijnhart. Miss Elma Graves, in memory of Lela Mae Miles; "Book of Old Ships," by H. B. Culver.

High Style From The Alps

Of Tyrolean inspiration is this wool knit jacket in a warm, rosy shade of pink. Felt flowers and leaves are placed below the four set-in pockets, and the bands of dark contrasting binding are set off by rows of white scroll embroidery. CITY'S FINE REVENUE HUGE
LOS ANGELES (U.P.)—Crime does not pay—for the criminal—but mild ones like misdemeanors, getting drunk, traffic violations, etc., contribute largely to the city's income. The entire receipts from fines, forfeitures of bonds and other court sources for the 1935-1936 fiscal period was $1,899,638.25.

Municipal Debts In State Showing Gains

AUSTIN, (P)—The face value of municipal bonded debts has increased in much greater proportion than population in Texas, says J. T. Barton of the University of Texas bureau of research.

In a recent study Barton pointed out the bonded debt assumed by 58 sample cities during the decade 1925-1934 was 1,180.9 per cent greater than that assumed during the decade 1895-1904, but the population in 1930 was only 355.7 per cent greater than in 1900.

Barton examined debt figures over a period of 45 years, sources including the state comptroller's office, city records and the files of private information services.

His treatise took up trends in bonded issuance, including the debt incurred and purpose of issue; the amount owed, involving overlapping debt, gross funded debt, time warrants and bonds and current financial conditions.

"For the 45 years studied, 56.2 per cent of the total value of bonds and 40.7 per cent of the total number of bond issues were registered during the eight-year period 1924-1931," Barton said. "After 1931 the issuance of city bonds felt the full impact of the depression, for the amount issued during 1932 was only 16.7 per cent that of 1931."

"During 23 consecutive years, 1904-1926, and also for a total of 34 of the 45 years studied the most commonly used interest rate was five per cent. The average interest rate was highest in 1892, lowest in 1902, and second lowest in 1934."

Last Landmark In County Destroyed

RUSK, Texas, (P)—This county seat lost its last landmark when the once noted Cherokee hotel was razed recently and the lumber hauled away to build farm tenant houses.

Visiting celebrities in the early '50's made the Cherokee headquarters, and a big advertisement in the Texas Enquirer informed the public that the hotel could be purchased at its stables which were "under care of competent hostlers." Patrons also could rent its "fine two-horse carriage and fine buggy."

In the seventies and eighties, the father of the late John B. Long, representative in Congress, operated the place as the Long Hotel. In recent years only the lower floor was habitable, being rented as apartments. The site is being considered for the new post office for which appropriation has been made.

Chevrolet Trucks Set Record Sales

Further evidence that purchasing power is rising, in spite of adverse conditions in some sections, is seen in the announcement that Chevrolet truck sales are nearly 20,000 units higher, for 1936 to date, than they were in the same period of '29 the previous record year.

The announcement was made by W. E. Fish, Chevrolet commercial car and truck manager, in a report to W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager. It showed that Chevrolet had delivered 140,371 trucks this year, up to the end of July, as against 120,355 in the same period in 1929. The improvement parallels gains made in passenger car sales, which are at the highest level in Chevrolet's entire history.

"Every month this year," said Mr. Fish, "Chevrolet truck sales have shown a substantial increase over the best corresponding month in the past. January truck volume was 3,268 units above that for January 1934, our previous record January. The lowest gain was in February, which picked up 614 units over our previous February high in 1929.

"Registration figures for the entire country," Mr. Fish said, "reflect the durability on which Chevrolets growing popularity among truck users is based. The number of Chevrolet trucks in service has nearly doubled since 1929, increasing from 438,278 units to 859,462 units.

"Chevrolet truck sales this year are accounting for 39.1 per cent of all business in their weight class, this being a gain of 2.5 per cent over our showing last year. Such figures reveal the stability of those underlying economic factors on which all kinds of business depend. They show that the adverse conditions notable in certain localities have not been far-reaching enough to offset the country as a whole.

"Building on the fine record made in 1936 to date, we should be able to make this an all-time record year for trucks, just as it will be our greatest total unit year."

IT STARTED A HEAT WAVE

THIS BIG AND BEAUTIFUL BUICK AT $765*

THE automobile business says that a motor car is "hot" when it enjoys outstanding public demand. On that basis, the 1936 line of Buicks has started a heat wave all its own.

Month by month sales have climbed. Buick not only tops all cars at or near its price in sales gain — the whole price class in which Buick sells is farther ahead of last year than any other, including the very lowest priced group!

There's something in that. When people start putting their dollars into Buicks instead of the lower priced cars — it's good proof that they're getting more for their money.

Better look into Buick. Especially this big, roomy Buick SPECIAL, Series 40 — beginning in price at $765, list at Flint, Mich. Let us know, and we'll be around with a demonstrator.

Unscheduled Olympic Event: Game Of War In Worried European Nations

BY MORRIS GILBERT
NEA Servic Staff Correspondent
BERLIN, Aug. 21.—The Olympic games were a wonderful thing for Germany. They kept the people's mind off Spain.

For the moment, although the press vociferously protested against the infamy of an established government fighting to defend itself against rebellion, there was a distraction. And after Berlin had swallowed hard a few times at the sight of the non-Nordic Mr. Jesse Owens out-athleting any of the local blondes, this capital turned methodically to the contemplation of sport and let other matters drift.

The atrocity stories—the atrocities were all on the part of the Spanish republicans—were buried on Page Ten after the recapitulation of the athletic events to date, and a report of the victory of that great sports hero, Mr. Sven Hedin, who defeated all comers with his lecture, which was scheduled among the Olympic events, on "The Horse in the History of Asia."

British Neutrality Is Current Desire of Nazis

However, important decisions were being made, in the time that the Fuehrer spared from watching the games. It is perhaps possible now to outline the basis of Nazi foreign policy, about as follows:

For the present, nothing will be done to disturb the neutrality of Great Britain. Germany is pushing the flirtation to the limit. It was British suggestion which prevailed on the Wilhelmstrasse to be mild about the Spanish affair. While it would be pleasant to have a new Fascist regime in power on the opposite corner of France, Spain is pretty remote and pretty unimportant in the Nazi scheme of things for the future.

Nazi Germany is taking the long view. Hitler's phrase about planning for a hundred years to come is taken seriously by observers here.

British Alliance Scotches Nazi Aid to Rebels

Long before that time, however, many things will have been decided. The only real help that Spain could give Germany—in return for German assistance—would be for a triumphant Spanish Fascist government to quit the League of Nations.

That bargain was probably not struck, because of British interference and the comparatively greater need of Germany today for British friendship, which, for the present, she congratulates herself she has won.

The method of German diplomacy for some time to come must be to keep Europe in a condition of uncertainty and confusion. Local sporadic troubles and disagreements anywhere in Europe fit Germany's game because they all tend to shatter the Versailles Treaty. With revision and abandonment of that treaty serving as an essential for German aims, anything that weakens the established alliances or shakes the League is fine.

Here, in the long run, Germany and Britain may find themselves in disagreement. But that time is not yet.

Germany Aims To Be "Big Three"

The dominant purpose of Germany is to become the ruling power on the continent of Europe. She sees a future when she will be one of the three nations each controlling a continent—the United States in the western hemisphere, Japan in Asia, Germany in Europe.

That also is not being taken into consideration by Great Britain just at this time.

The ringed Olympic banner and the Nazi swastika, symbols of internationalism and of nationalism, side by side in the excitement-filled streets of Berlin during the Olympic games.

The means toward European dominance, the Nazis hold, is to crush Russia. This, they believe, would be a lot simpler than many people imagine. Germany today is confident that her army is far better than Russia's. As for the old warnings that nobody can conquer Russia, that the great Napoleon failed, that everybody has failed to date—the Nazis point, with a triumphant snicker, to what Mussolini did in a supposedly "naturally invincible" Ethiopia in spite of the calamity howling of all the military prophets in the world.

It would probably not be necessary, either for Germany to fight Russia without help. On the east, Japan would certainly be a partner.

Britain May Face A Very Rude Awakening

But, it is stated here, Nazi Germany will do nothing against Russia until she is assured of several things: First, the neutrality of England. That is essential. Then, the support of or at least acquiescence of Poland and Italy.

Grant those promises, and Russia is doomed. So say the strategists in Berlin.

These matters are more or less immediate. They come within plans for say, the next ten years, and might be pushed ahead rapidly in as many months.

After that—but this is really the long thought—Germany would take up the question of colonies. And then it might be that Britain would find the friend she has been so considerably nursing would turn out to be—a rather imposing enemy and rival.

DENIALS FAIL TO HALT BELIEF THAT MEXICAN WORKERS ARM ON FASCISM

MEXICO CITY (U.P.)—Vigorous denials fail to down entirely assertions Mexico's radical workers are arming for battle against Fascism.

A newspaper report that "labor militia" had been formed and placed on "war footing" in several radical unions affiliated with the Confederation of Workers of Mexico (CTM) drew disclaimers from Vincente Lombardo Toledano, CTM secretary-general.

The changes affecting nine officials with the rank of brigadier general or general, were announced in the absence from Mexico City of Gen. Andres Figueroa, secretary of war.

In the reports of the formation of workers militia some observers said they saw partial explanation of the dramatic exiling, Aug. 11, of Gen. Nicholas Rodriguez, organizer and "supreme leader" of the Fascistic, anti-communist "gold shirts."

With Rodriguez out of the country and his followers officially dissolved, it was argued, Cardenas would be in sounder technical position should he deem it advisable to call on workers to surrender arms they might have.

In any case the CTM, if it did intend to arm its members, was doing no more than taking a leaf out of the government's book.

A year ago the secretariat of war set up a special department charged with the information of agrarian militia with the officially announced task of defending rural school teachers against attack of enemies of the government's socialistic education program.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

AGER TO RETURN TO GERMANY

THE zealous Nazi spirit that has brought the Saar back to Germany and has left its mark on Danzig is spreading to the former colonies of the Fatherland. In 1915 British Colonials walked into German Southwest Africa and took command there. After the war, that territory was mandated to the Union of South Africa.

Now reports have it that trained Nazi propagandists have entered the old German colony and stirred up the 15,000 German natives there, despite a League of Nations decree against such activity. Tension has run high between German and British inhabitants, and the Union of South Africa has set up a commission to investigate the situation. Fear is expressed that this may be the first colony to demand its return to Germany. Perhaps this territory, like the Saar and even Danzig, may again issue German stamps, which had been discontinued in 1915. One of the older types picturing the ex-kaiser's yacht is shown here.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE SCORES GREATEST TRIUMPH IN 'POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL'

Last night at the preview at the Yucca Theatre Shirley Temple came to town in a new Fox hit that is by far and away the greatest film she has ever made.

Before a packed audience of the little star's admirers (and who isn't?) "The Poor Little Rich Girl" flashes across the screen in a blaze of melody, laughter and romance and left the cheering throng delighted with the knowledge that Shirley had topped even the greatest of her past hits.

Here is Shirley in all her glory in a song filled laugh-laden story that is one of the crowning cinema achievements of this or any other year.

"The Poor Little Rich Girl" — Shirley herself — opens in the palatial mansion of Michale Whalen, father of the little miss. Shirley has no mother but her father has provided a veritable regiment of aides-de-camp whose sole duties are to look after her.

If Shirley dares to sneeze—off she must go to bed while a doctor is called to prescribe for her "alarming cold." Shirley, as you can imagine, is none too pleased with this state of affairs and persuades her father to send her to boarding school.

While waiting for the train Shirley slips away from her nurse, Sara Haden, and wanders along the streets playing a game of make-believe. Miss Haden, in the meantime, is the victim of an accident, and during the following days in which Shirley seeks adventure the little girl is not missed by her father.

JOAN CRAWFORD AND CLARK GABLE IN SHOW 'DANCING LADY' AT THE RITZ

With Joan Crawford and Clark Gable headlined, a smashing parade of sizzling song hits, an eye-thrilling cavalcade of pulchritudinous chorus ensembles, and a sensational Broadway drama as story motivation, "Dancing Lady," which is now showing thru Monday at the Ritz Theatre, towers to new heights in screen musical entertainment.

Here is the Joan Crawford of old, the lingered lady of "Our Dancing Daughters," "Our Modern Maidens" and "Our Blushing Brides"—the Crawford who stampedes the box office, and leaves 'em panting for more.

Teamed once more with Gable, Joan plays her chorus role with all she's got. She wears the kind of costumes that men will gape at and women will try to copy. And when she dances—well she dances! Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer has topped them all with this musical spectacles that stagger imagination and smashes. The picture abounds with and throbs with a romance that alone would make the picture a grand evening's entertainment.

Robert Z. Leonard did a brilliant job of directing from the famous James Warner Bellah novel published serially in a national magazine. Joan plays the part of the burlesque chorine who is determined to make good on Broadway—at any price. Gable is the hard boiled dance director who treats 'em rough—and on off.

What A Cast

The cast reads like an all-star screen, stage and radio aggregation—Franchot Tone, May Robson, Winnie Lightner, Fred Astaire, Robert Benchley, Ted Healy, Gloria Foy, Art Jarrett, Grant Mitchell, Maynard Holmes, Nelson Eddy, Sterling Holloway and those devastating Ted Healy stooges.

"Green Pastures" Coming To Yucca 3 Days Next Week

At last "The Green Pastures," Marc Connelly's Pulitzer Prize play than ran eighteen solid months on Broadway and was road showed throughout the United States, thrilling millions of people comes to the screen.

The picture which retains all the unique qualities that made the stage production known as "America's Best Loved Play," will have its local premiere at the Yucca Theatre on Sunday August 30 and will be shown for three days.

It is said to be the most pretentious production ever attempted by Warner Bros., or any other studio. Absolutely nothing was spared in the making of the film to give this inspiring play the majestic background it deserves and to make it one of the outstanding screen dramas of all time.

There are one hundred and twenty beautiful scenic settings, some of them of gigantic proportions, such as the sunlit glare in which six-hundred characters attend a celestial fish-ry, the scene with Noah's Ark breasting the flood in a terrific storm; a Southern community, with its full sized church, its gambling halls and night clubs, the barbaric palace of the Kings of Babylon, and the spectacular night club in which the Babylonian revels are held and in which eighty comely and shapely dancers entertain the King and his courtiers.

Marc Connelly, the author of the stage production, who collaborated on the screen play with Sheridan Gibney, and co-directed it with

A touching series of events finally culminates in Shirley being adopted by a pair of aspiring radio entertainers, Alice Faye and Jack Haley. Miss Faye realizes that Shirley is no "orphan" as she has told them, but Haley recognizes Shirley's talents, as just what the act needs.

The team is a knock-out in its audition and is hired by Claude Gillingwater—the strongest business rival of Shirley's father!

How Shirley brings success to Haley and Miss Faye, romance to her daddy and Gloria Stuart and happiness to crabby Claude Gillingwater makes her most human and heart-warming story.

It will show today thru Tuesday at the Yucca Theatre.

William Keighley, declares that the picture is vastly superior to the stage show.

"Spectacles we could only talk about on the stage," said Connelly, "we now actually bring before the eyes of the audience."

The story, based on Roark Bradford's novel, is highly humorous, yet tenderly reverent. It begins in a Sunday School of the old South attended by children who ask their pastor to explain Heaven to them.

The story of the creation with the subsequent sins of mankind on earth and the glory of Heaven, as revealed in literally translated Biblical lore, are then presented in picture form by the quaint pastor as he interprets them.

Firemen Extinguish Flames in A Garage

Firemen were called out Saturday afternoon to extinguish a blazing garage in the eight hundred block on West Kansas street. The fire had evidently started from trash burning in a small tub near the structure. The flames were put out after only slight damage had been done.
