Dodson Well In Glasscock Looms As New Pool Opener

PRODUCTION NOW ASSURED, LOOK FOR INCREASES

Delayed By Fishing Job At 2,643 Feet

BAIL FREE OIL

No. 1 Carter Is In Central Part Of County

By FRANK GARDNER

With small production already assured and at least two more oil-bearing zones expected to be drilled into, the central Glasscock county wildcat of Floyd C. Dodson and Barney A. Duffy No. 1 Carter presages a new oil pool for the West Texas region. Operations are being delayed by a fishing job at 2,643, but drilling should be resumed late this afternoon.

According to operators, samples from 2,615 to 2,625 were blue shale and a small amount of brown lime bearing a taste of oil. On the next screw, formation from 2,634 to 2,636 drilled soft, and, upon coming out, bit showed that there was some free oil in the hole. Operators then bailed out free oil and cavings, at 9 p. m. Saturday, drilled three more feet, then lost tools. Tools were recovered and the well remained shut down until 9:30 yesterday morning, at which time it bailed seven full barrels of oil and two ballers three-quarters full of oil, with 12 feet of cavings still in the hole. The oil recovered represented an accumulation of about 10 barrels in 12 1/2 hours. It tested 36 gravity at 98 degrees.

Upon resuming drilling, the section from 2,639 to 2,643 was soft gray lime, but a jumped pin caused the present fishing job. At last reports, crew had bailed out down to tools, recovering five more ballers of oil.

The Dodson discovery is located in the southwest corner of section 8, block 35, township 3 south, T. & P. survey, a mile and a half northeast of the Fleetborn Oil Corp. No. 1 Dodson, structurally high failure which had several promising oil shows but failed to attain commercial size.

Dawson Status Unchanged No new developments were reported today on the Ray Albaugh et al No. 1 Robinson, prospective pool opener in the northwest Dawson county, other than later bailing tests indicated that water was exhausting. According to some reports, less than a quarter-baller of water showed the last time baller was run to bottom. A thousand feet of oil is standing in the hole. It is probable that the well will be drilled deeper, but plans of operators have not been definitely announced. Total depth of the No. 1 Robinson is 4,194 feet in line. It is located in the center of the northwest quarter of section 46, block M, E. L. R. R. survey.

New Dunning Pool Well Empire No. 1-B Cummings, Dunning pool well in northwest Ector county, is reported flowing 42 barrels an hour after treating with 4,000 gallons of acid. Total depth of the well is 4,305 feet.

In the Goldsmith pool, Gulf No. 8 Goldsmith is drilling at 3,945 feet in line, while Phillips and Pure No. 6 Cowden is fishing at 4,100 feet.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 1-A Johnson, wildcat in section 42, block 42, township 1 south, T. & P. survey, five miles north of the Foster pool, had reached 3,730 feet in anhydrite.

R. H. Henderson No. 1 Lum Daugherty, test west of the Henderson pool in Winkler county, threatened to blow out when it struck gas from 2,863 to 2,865 and 2,880 to 2,885. The oil zone has not yet been entered, according to reports. The test is drilling ahead below 2,920 feet in line. It is located in section 33, block 74, public school land.

Weather Conditions In State For Last Month Generally Unfavorable to Crops

Weather conditions during August were mostly unfavorable for growing crops in Texas, especially in the northern half of the State. It was hot and dry with temperatures reaching very high levels early in the month. There was marked deterioration in the condition of pastures, late feed crops, and cotton. During the last few days in August, and the first few days in September rains fell in many sections of the State, but this moisture came too late to be reflected materially in the reported condition of crops on September 1.

Farm pastures were reported 52 percent of normal, or a drop of 20 points from the condition reported a month ago. This compares with the 10-year average (1923-32) September 1 condition of 63 percent, below the 10-year (1926-35) average on September 1, but livestock were in good condition. Range and other feed supplies are ample for the major portion of the State, with good supplies in the southern half, and poor to fair supplies, in the northern half.

A 1936 cotton crop of 3,036,000 bales of 500 lbs. gross weight is forecast for Texas, based upon condition as of September 1. This represents a decrease of 314,000 bales from the forecast made on August 1. The present forecast of production compares with 2,956,000 bales

GERMAN MIGHT OF STEEL DISPLAYED FOR HITLER TODAY

Reichsfuehrer Sees Army Equipment At Big Show SAVES BUSINESS

Private Enterprises To Be Protected, He Declares

NURNBERG, Sept. 14. (AP)—Germany's new compulsory service army staged its first display of strength with steel and motorized equipment for the benefit of Adolf Hitler and hundreds of thousands of Nazis assembled here at the 4th annual convention of the party today.

The demonstration came after the Chancellor asserted Germany will guard jealously the principle of private business enterprise. The dictator outlined his plans for the future of the nation included marshalling all the industrial establishments under government control.

Germany is well armed and ready to defend a miracle—the miracle of its own resurrection—the Reichsfuehrer told 120,000 uniformed Nazis and 50,000 spectators in a ceremonial tribute to the World War dead Sunday.

Emphasizing that the 120,000 uniformed men before him were only an extremely small percentage of his 2,500,000 storm troopers, his 225,000 black uniformed S. S. men, not to mention the national armament equipment, Hitler asked: "Who can oppose this bloc of national determination?"

MAGNUS JOHNSON, EX-CONGRESSMAN OF MINN. IS DEAD

Pneumonia Fatal To Famed Member Of U. S. Body

LITCHFIELD, Minn., Sept. 14. (AP)—Magnus Johnson, a Swedish immigrant to the northwest in the 1890s who became a United States congressman and senator, died Sunday. He would have been 65 years old Saturday.

Stricken with pneumonia Aug. 23, Johnson was brought to a hospital here from his home in Kimball. He rallied last week until Friday, when his condition took a sudden turn for the worse.

Heart stimulants were administered and he was placed under an oxygen tent, but lapsed into unconsciousness Saturday night and died at 3:27 a. m. Members of his family, including the wife, were at the bedside.

Soon after he established a home in Meeker county, Minnesota, after working several years as a Wisconsin lumberjack, Johnson interested himself in cooperatives and the farm-labor movement.

He served in both houses of the Minnesota legislature and in 1923 was elected to the United States senate to fill out the unexpired term of the late Knute Nelson.

When the former senator was defeated for the governorship of Minnesota in 1926 by Theodore Christian, the republican senatorial candidate, Johnson returned to his farm. The Farmer-Laborite, known throughout the state for his picturesque language and use of the exclamation "py golly," returned to the political arena in 1932.

Running for congress against twenty-six others in a race in which nine at large seats were to be filled, Johnson was first with 388,616 votes. As a representative he supported President Roosevelt and voted for most new deal measures.

Horsemen Coming To Midland Meet, Drake Predicts

D. J. Drake, local trainer of race horses, arrived yesterday for a brief visit with his family before the Tri-State Fair meet opens at Amarillo Friday. The meet at Panhandle was completed Saturday afternoon.

Drake said much interest was being registered among horsemen because of the $1,000 added Merchants Handicap race here, as well as the other substantial purses. All horsemen attending the two meets there will come to Midland, as well as numerous good horses now being raced on larger tracks, Drake predicted.

The Tri-State meet also will have good purses, totalling approximately the same amount as those of Midland Downs, although not making up as large a single purse as the local Handicap.

HEAR EVIDENCE IN 'LEGION' SLAYING

Ex-Member Testifies He Recognized Davis At Meeting

DETROIT, Sept. 14. (AP)—Michael Layton, former city employee, testified at the trial of 12 men charged with "executing" Charles Poole that he heard abduction plans discussed at a meeting a few hours before the shooting.

Layton said that he recognized both Harvey Davis, one of the defendants and Dayton Dean, confessed "trigger-man." He said that Davis accused a "fellow who had been beating his wife."

FASCISTS SET UP OWN GOVERNMENT IN SAN SEBASTIAN

Strong Troop Lines Defend City From Socialists

SAN SEBASTIAN, Sept. 14. (AP)—Fascists completed occupation of San Sebastian today, setting up a civil administration as strong lines of troops held the city from a possible counter-attack by defeated socialists who fled before the insurgent advance.

Government forces to the south claimed to have stopped an attack at Talavera.

Diplomats are attempting to obtain the release of women and children among Fascists besieged at Alcazar and Toledo.

Gen. Emilio Mola's Fascist troops raised the red and gold flag of the old monarchy over the deserted capital of Guipuzcoa Province Sunday.

The last refugees quit the Northern Bay of Biscay city at noon as the insurgent moorish troops moved through it.

Men and materials were moved up from the former battle fronts of Renteria to establish a new base of operations within San Sebastian, once the heart of the Spanish government resistance in the Bay of Biscay region.

A band of anarchists, who escaped vigilance of Basque nationalists directing the government evacuation, set fire to the casino and dropped bombs into a number of houses as the rebels entered.

The Basque fighters, seeking to prevent damage to the city, killed or wounded many of the anarchists who sought to pillage stores and homes.

Government troops, their retreat slowed by congestion in the Bay of Biscay port and a traffic jam on the road to Bilbao, sniped at the advancing insurgents as they fled.

TROPICAL STORM HITS AREA SOUTH CORPUS CHRISTI

Little Damage Felt At Center of The Disturbance

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 13. (AP)—A tropical disturbance which threatened the Texas Gulf Coast Sunday moved inland across a sparsely-settled area about 70 miles south of here.

Little or no damage was expected. The winds at the center of the disturbance were estimated at approximately 50 miles an hour, and weather bureau officials here said the storm is rapidly decreasing in intensity.

The center of the disturbance apparently crossed the coastline south of Baffin Bay. It was accompanied by rain squalls, and heavy rains fell along the coast as far north as Angleton in the Houston area.

North of the storm area is the famous King Ranch. There are virtually no population centers near the storm center.

Here storm signs were diminishing and the barometer was falling. Residents of low-lying areas nearby had fled to higher ground as the disturbance approached, and vacationists living in light beach houses had moved to safer quarters.

Elsewhere along the coast storm signs were rapidly moderating.

At Bay City, fitful rains fell throughout the morning and the weather was unsettled. There was little wind.

Rockport had a wind which attained 40 miles per hour shortly before noon. A heavy rain fell in that area.

Port Lavaca had a high tide but the barometer was descending. Rains and squalls had prevailed since 3 a. m. Sunday but moderated in the afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—The pneumonia rate from presidential inaugurations is going to take a jump and weather hazards for these spectacles will be materially increased. That's one of the thoughts occurring to officials who already are making plans for the first January inauguration. Thanks to the Norris "lame duck" constitutional amendment, the winner of the November election will be inaugurated January 20.

Washington frequently has substantial blizzards in January, and the chances of bad weather then are much better than for March 4, the old inauguration date. A design for the platform, which as usual will be built out from the portico on the east front of the capitol, already has been drawn by David Lynn, architect of the capitol. Congress will meet January 5. Because 15 days wouldn't have been enough to organize inaugural preparations and get the platform up, congressional leaders thoughtfully legislated authorization and $35,000 for expenses before they adjourned in June. It also appropriated $25,000 for

Mary Belle Pratt Becomes Bride Of John M. Speed in Twilight Wedding; Couple Leaves on Brief Wedding Trip

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Pratt, 911 West Kansas, was the scene of a lovely twilight wedding Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock when their daughter, Mary Belle, became the bride of Mr. John M. Speed, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Speed, 301 North F street.

The house was beautifully decorated with smilax, pink larkspur, baby's breath, and pink roses. The impressive ring ceremony was read by the Reverend C. M. Epps in front of the fireplace where an improvised altar was formed with smilax and brass candelabra holding lighted white tapers gracing the center of the mantel with brass candlesticks with white tapers at either end. Floor candelabra with white tapers were used on either side, flanked by ferns and tall flower baskets of pink gladioli, tall pink and white larkspur, baby's breath and fern. The lighted candles shedding a soft glow over the wedding party.

The pre-nuptial music, "I Love You Truly" and "Love's Old Sweet Song," was played by Miss Lydia Watson, pianist, and Mr. Ned Watson, violinist. After this, Mrs. Roy Parks sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," followed by the passage from Ruth, 1:16-17, Mrs. Holt Jewell being the accompanist and playing "Melody of Love" softly during the reading.

As Miss Jenny Elkin began the first strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride party entered the living room. During the ceremony she played softly "The Evening Star" from Tanhauser and afterwards Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a raisin brown satin crepe afternoon frock with matching accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, fern, and baby's breath.

An Old-Foe Fights F. R. Arthur Ballantine, former assistant secretary of the treasury, has been placed in charge of research at republican campaign headquarters in Chicago and is now in a position to resume fighting out an old grudge with Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was one of his classmates at Harvard.

The two men were political enemies in university politics, and Ballantine is bitterly opposed to Roosevelt today. Roosevelt led a faction of "aristocrats," Ballantine a group known as the "alley cats."

In the last year she has fought it out for the editorship of the Harvard Crimson and the permanent presidency of the class. Roosevelt won both times.

Spies on The Job Various New Deal agencies have been discovering for weeks that they were harboring spies for the republicans. Some employees have resigned and accepted jobs with the republican national committee, there to unburden themselves of what might or might not be called official secrets.

Others have stayed on, supposedly to supply the opposition, with information, covertly, confidential documents, or copies of them, keep turning up in the hands of republican publicists.

The same sort of thing happened four years ago, but not on such a large scale. Republicans had been in power 12 years and had few enemies in administration ranks.

Nor were there so many new agencies, with a certain proportion of fumbles, offering such a fertile field for espionage.

'Swing Time' Newest Astaire Rogers Film

Two hilarious romances interweave dizzily through a taut and hilarious plot in "Swing Time," RKO Radio's new musical hit starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Astaire is the apex of one triangle, with Miss Rogers and Betty Furness at the opposing points, while Miss Rogers' triangle is comprised by the rivalry of Astaire and George Metaxa.

These four players, with the mirthful assistance of a new comedy duo, Victor Moore and Helen Broderick, keep "Swing Time" rolling at high speed on the wheels of seven Jerome Kern songs, and the dances which include the new and sensational "The Waltz in Swing Time" performed by the two stars.

A spectacular production scene, "Bojangles of Harlem," created by John Harkrider, present Astaire in a black face act with a special group of dancing girls. This and two lavish night club settings and an extraordinary reproduction of a deserted Adirondack hotel in mid-winter comprise the principal settings of the film which is showing today and tomorrow at the Yuca Theatre.

Few Tenants Can Win Land Ownership With Present Farm System

(This is the first of three articles on what is being done by the Resettlement Administration to assist tenant farmers to become landowners.)

We might not be so seriously concerned with farm tenancy if it were a passing or transient condition, if it were simply a stage by which the farmer reached a higher level. But tenancy as it exists in Texas and Oklahoma tends to be a permanent stratification in which the greater part of our farmers are permanently imbedded. Financial returns to the tenant farmer are ordinarily so low that he is prevented from accumulating the reserves which would enable him to shake loose from that condition.

At a conference of southern agricultural research leaders held at New Orleans, a large amount of new material was made available, which included a study of 700 share croppers in Alabama. It showed that only one out of ten of them ever became owners. Only one out of four ever moved to the condition of a third and fourth renter in which he owned his teams and equipment. Seventy five per cent of them remained their whole life as share croppers.

The study showed that in three years out of four these families lost money or broke even. That is, during three years out of four they made enough only to liquidate what they owed to their landlord, or they increased their debt to him. Another study showed that out of 3,000 share croppers, forty per cent were in debt to their present landlords, with a debt of more than one year's standing. The average indebtedness was more than $80 to the present landlord. It was concluded from the results of this study that one-third of the share croppers in Alabama were indebted to this extent, and that the average share cropper under the present system can expect no more than a bare living and will remain permanently dependent upon the landlord for credit. There are 78,463 of these share cropper families in Texas and 13,640 in Oklahoma, totaling more than 430,000 individuals, who have no teams or tools and who are also entirely dependent upon their landlords for food and supplies while making a crop.

Instead of the number of small farm owners increasing, we have found during the last few decades that there has been a concentration of land in the hands of a few owners. There has been an increase in the number of farm operators, but at the same time there are indications that the ownership of these farms is tending more and more to move into the hands of a comparatively few. During one ten-year period, a study made in seven cotton states showed that the number of landlords owning more than five farms increased by twenty-five per cent.

We all know that many large farms have broken up, but when this happened the land has not been divided among small owners. When put on the block, these plantations are not divided and sold at reduced values to groups of rising small owners, but are sold en bloc to other large plantation owners if to business and professional leaders in towns who are looking for investments. These purchasers of foreclosed property are often financed by federal long term farm credit and become absentee owners.

It has been due to our past system of financing and credit, as much as to anything else, that the landlord tenant system has perpetuated. The Resettlement Administration is now taking over a large number of farms which have fallen into the hands of loan companies, and is breaking them up into small tracts to be sold to tenants and other low income farmers under conditions which will make it possible for these small owners to pay them out.

LONDON, Sept. 14. (P)—George Andrew McMahon was found guilty today of producing a revolver near King Edward July 16 with intent "to alarm his majesty," and was sentenced to 12 months imprisonment. He was acquitted on two of the three charges facing him. He testified that a "foreign" power wanted him to shoot the king on an earlier occasion.

Ready to Guard Government's Bullion Billions

Soon to receive into its impregnable, underground vaults the $10,600,000,000 hoard which Uncle Sam will ship across the nation in 50 or more armored trains, the federal gold depository at Fort Knox, Ky., is pictured above, near completion. At each corner can be seen one of the machine gun turrets which, with every scientific device from torch-proof steel to "electric eyes," will be used to guard the federal strongbox. Visible, also, are the two moats circling the building which, at the touch of a button, can release their water to flood the bullion-laden vaults.

G-MAN AIDS HUNT FOR MISSING BABY

Search For Kidnaped Tot Pushed After Week's Disappearance

DETROIT, Sept. 14. (P)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, sent Inspector E. J. Connelley here Sunday night to take charge of the government's part in the search for 20-month-old Harry Browe.

The baby disappeared from his carriage in a park here a week ago today, and expiration of the seven-day time limit specified in "Lindbergh" kidnaping act enabled federal men, whose role has been limited thus far to observation, actively to enter the investigation.

This development occurred as Mrs. Robert Browe, mother of the missing boy, appealed to the anonymous writer of a note which is regarded by police as "the most encouraging clue so far" to return the child.

The note, penned on half of a torn picture postcard inclosed in an envelope mailed here to the mother, said:

"Mrs. Browe please forgive me for taking your baby. You can not understand how it is to be without one. You have so many, surely you can spare this one. He is beginning to like us and we want you to know..."

The outlook for broomcorn production is unchanged from that of a month ago, when 6,000 tons were forecast. Moisture conditions are favorable for the late planted crop in south Texas. Production last year was 12,000 tons.

Apple production is forecast at 87,000 bushels, compared with 171,000 bushels produced a year ago. Peach production, based up a reported 40 percent of a full crop, is estimated at 1,200,000 bushels compared with 1,981,000 bushels harvested in 1935. Pears, at 49 percent of normal, are expected to produce 325,000 bushels, compared with 469,000 bushels produced last season. The crop is turning out better than was indicated a month ago. Quality of the fruit is good. Grapes were reported at 52 percent of normal, and a production of 1,500 tons is expected, compared with 1,904 tons a year ago.

Pecan production promises to be very short in Texas this season. Production, based upon a reported condition of 27 percent on September 1, is forecast at 9,000,000 lbs., which compares with 44,000,000 lbs., produced in 1935, and 13,000,000 lbs., in 1934.

Late August rains were beneficial to the Texas citrus crops and should hasten the sizing of fruit. Grapefruit, at 71 percent of normal, and oranges, at 76 percent are unchanged from the condition of a month ago. On September 1, 1935, grapefruit condition was 37 percent and oranges 42 percent.

Grapefruit condition on September 1 in Florida was 72 percent of normal compared with 52 percent a year ago. California reported 73 as against 76 last September, and Arizona 69 compared with 89 in 1935. Florida oranges were rated at 74 percent compared with 59 a year ago, California 75 this year and 73 last year, and Arizona 65 as against 88 in September 1935.
