Bonus Traps Vet

A friend stood trial charged with his murder rather than reveal the fact that Jesse Owen Gifford (above), 45, of South Pittsburg, Tenn., still was alive, it became known when Gifford revealed his whereabouts through applying for the soldiers bonus at Susanville, Cal. When Gifford disappeared 8 years ago, another body was identified as his and his bonus paid to Mrs. Gifford.

LAST-HOUR VOTE CAMPAIGNS ARE PUSHED IN EAST

Roosevelt Invades New York City Tonight

(By Associated Press) Major parties watched intently in the unfolding of final campaign strategy of leaders, locked in eleven-hour combat in the thickly populated industrial east. President Roosevelt goes to New York city tonight. In a speech yesterday he told a college of negro students of the administration's policy of "no forgotten men, no forgotten races." Governor Landon went to the heart of the Pennsylvania steel regions, speaking at Philadelphia last night. He said the new deal "wields the same axe which has destroyed the liberties of so much of the world." He is going to Pittsburgh tonight. Bringing his final eastern campaign drive to the birthplace of the constitution, the republican presidential nominee said preservation of the "charter of our liberty" and "the American way of life" was the fundamental issue before the voters November 3. "This administration," the Kansas said, "wields the same axe which has destroyed the liberties of much of the old world. An unbalanced budget, inflation of the currency, delegation of power to the chief executive, destruction of local self-government."

Fete to Erase the Flood Memory of Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (U) — The city of Johnstown, scene of great floods in 1889 and 1936, will "get out from under" in a mammoth Halloween celebration which is intended to "bury forever" all thoughts and reminders of the two disasters. Parades, prizes and general merry-making will feature a busy day and a gala evening. Civic leaders are banded together to bring to the city once again a joyousness and show of prosperity which for years has been lacking. At any rate—the floods will be "buried for keeps."

SENATE REFUSES TO TAKE ACTION ON REQUEST OF HOUSE

No Time Announced For Resuming Hearings

ADJOURN SOON

Senators Expected To Quit Session Tonight

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (P)—The Senate delivered an ultimatum to the House today in a resolution "respectfully declining" reconsideration of the omnibus tax bill.

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (P)—The Senate took no action today on the request of the House to resume conferences over the controversial omnibus bill, containing a provision for drastic deliberalization of the old age assistance law.

The Senators seemed unenthusiastic about meeting the House objections. A resolution calling for Senate adjournment was adopted but is not expected to be put into effect before tonight.

By a vote of 77 yeas to 62 nays, the Senate refused to rescind action by which it instructed a conference committee against a section of an omnibus tax bill which would radically revise the pension law, but proponents of deliberalization plunged into the argument again planning another vote.

A two-thirds majority of the membership of 150 would have been necessary to suspend the rules and give the house opportunity to vote again on a resolution of instructions.

Several members, including Rep. Alfred Petch of Fredericksburg, pleaded for a compromise, while others demanded that the lower legislative chamber stand firm against what they said was an effort of the senate to force deliberalization.

COLD WAVE SENDS CHILL OVER STATE

Heavy Frost In North Portion, Rain Falls At Other Points

By Associated Press A new cold wave drove temperatures below freezing in North Texas today, heavy frost nipping the Wichita Falls region. Rain fell at Palestine, Del Rio and other scattered points. The forecast for tomorrow indicates warmer weather.

OKLAHOMA VOTERS HEAR McCRAW RAP REPUBLICANS, PRAISE DEMO RECORD

ENID, Okla., Oct. 27.—Texas' Attorney General William McCraw today sped toward other battle fronts of the presidential campaign, after telling an audience here last night that President Roosevelt "with courageous leadership and vision has lifted the nation out of the depths of despair to a high plane of security and happiness."

McCraw declared that on election Tuesday next week America can look forward to "four years of lacking with Landon or riding with Roosevelt." He declared that it is "unthinkable that America can be led astray by clever abuse or studied distortion of truth—the American people, reelecting President Franklin D. Roosevelt, will register recognition of duty well done and of dreams brought to actual consummation."

The Texas state official is on an intensive campaign tour which will take him, within a week, more than 10,000 miles through doubtful and traditionally republican states. He is using airplanes for his longest "jumps." Major speeches by Attorney General McCraw are scheduled in Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 29, and at Norwich, Conn., the following night. At both places he will appear with U. S. Attorney General Homer S. Cummings as the principal speaker. Republican campaign charges that democrats attempted to subvert the federal constitution were derided by McCraw in his address here last night. He demanded that we "let the records speak."

"The United States Supreme Court, in our 146 years of national life, has declared unconstitutional 69 acts of congress," McCraw said. "How many of those laws knocked out by the supreme court were the product of the republican party? How many were the product of the democratic party? "Why, only 22, or about 39 per cent, have been the work of democratic congresses. Look at the other side of the record. Forty-two, or more than 60 per cent, of the un-

Unarmed Troopers Man Defenses Against Rebels

Inadequacy of armament for the defense of Madrid is revealed in this picture showing unarmed Spanish militiamen marching to take their places in fortifications on the outskirts of the city. When arms are received, they are rushed to the scene of actual fighting on the three fronts the rebels have established before Madrid. Raw recruits are trained without equipment, and receive guns after they reach the battle scene.

GINNING RESUMED AFTER SHUT-DOWN BECAUSE OF RAINS

1,933 Bales Gathered To Date In The County

Midland gins today resumed ginning of cotton after being temporarily forced to halt over the week end by rains in the county. Amount brought in today was light but is expected to increase as the weather clears up.

A total of 1,933 bales had been ginned at noon today. What percentage of the total in the county this will be is unknown but it is believed to be somewhere near one-half of it.

Records of the three city gins are as follows: Farmers Cooperative 1100 Williams-Miller 694 Farmers Marketing Ass'n 539

22 Absentee Ballots Recorded in County

A total of 22 absentee ballots have been cast for the November 3 election. Mrs. Susie G. Noble, county clerk, announced today. According to the official, this is one of the largest numbers ever to be cast preceding the general election.

Deadline for appearing and casting the vote is Oct. 30. Time on the ballots being sent through the mail is extended until midnight, Oct. 31.

ANDERSON TO BE NAMED CHIEF OF INSURANCE BODY

To Administer The State Affairs Under Act

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (P)—Governor Alfred said today that R. B. Anderson, state tax commissioner, would be named chairman and executive director of a commission to administer the new Texas unemployment insurance act.

Walter C. Reilly, executive secretary of the State Federation of Labor, will be the labor member. The employer representative has not yet been named. The commission will begin functioning after the federal government approves the act.

Former Employee of La. Railroad Charged After Arrest

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27. (P)—Officers said today that three men had confessed a conspiracy to burn the Louisiana and Arkansas railroad bridge near LaPlace yesterday. A veteran conductor, one of the men, was charged with arson. He was on a strike with other transportation employees of the road. A fourth man was named and is being sought.

Japanese Boats to Fish In American Waters

TOKYO (U)—Japanese fishing interests are planning an invasion of American waters.

According to the newspaper Hochi, the Kyodo Fishery Company has two ventures in prospect—large scale of fishing off the Brazilian coast and also along the western and eastern coasts of Mexico. Joint capital enterprises with the governments concerned are contemplated. The newspaper stated that Diesel-engine floating canneries capable of going direct to the American continent from Japan, have been constructed.

'WALLY' GRANTED DIVORCE TODAY ON MISCONDUCT PLEA

Case Is Uncontested By Husband In Court

6 MONTHS DELAY

Decree Will Become Final In April Next Year

IPSWICH, England, Oct. 27. (P)—M. s. Wallis Simpson, Baltimore-born friend of King Edward of England, won a divorce in a brief hearing here today.

The defendant, Ernest Aldrich Simpson, did not contest the case. The decree will be made absolute in six months.

The evidence presented alleged the husband guilty of misconduct at a hotel, employees of which identified a hotel register to show proof of the allegations.

Counsel announced a correspondent, who was named, had been subpoenaed for the trial but did not appear.

The plaintiff said she had lived happily with her husband until 1934.

It is expected most of the newspapers in the United Kingdom will ignore the case in tomorrow's editions.

Beauty of Southwest Will Be Glorified At El Paso Sun Carnival

EL PASO, Oct. 27.—Southwestern beauty will be glorified during the Southwestern Sun Carnival in the glittering court of the Sun Queen.

Beautiful girls from all southwestern cities and towns will ride on the Sun Queen's float during the spectacular "Pageant of Beauty" parade and will be in attendance at the court of the sun queen during the coronation ball.

Every city and town in the southwest is invited to send a princess to be the guest of the Southwestern Sun Carnival Association during the gay carnival season.

Association officials today urged service clubs and civic groups in towns planning participation in the southwestern sun carnival to make their plans now for the election of their princess.

They said a voting contest should be held between candidates of two or more service clubs or other groups. The princess should be at least a high school senior.

The voting will be carried on through the purchase of tickets to the sun bowl football game. Tickets for seats between the 30 yard lines of the sun bowl will sell for $1.50 plus a government tax of 15 cents, and will entitle the purchaser to 150 votes for his favorite candidate. Tickets selling for $1, plus a tax of ten cents, will entitle the purchaser to 100 votes for his choice.

Clubs and organizations selling tickets to the sun bowl game will be allowed ten per cent of the selling price of the tickets, less the government tax. For example, the sale of a $1.50 ticket will net the seller 15 cents, not 16 and one-half cents. Many out of town organizations last year made as much as $140 through the sale of tickets to the sun bowl game.

When the princesses from the southwest arrive in El Paso, they will be taken to the homes of El Paso's leading women where they will be the guests during the duration of the southwestern sun carnival. The hostesses will act as chaperons for the princesses to all social events.

Princesses will not be put to any expense save the purchase of some float of the sun queen during the pageant of beauty parade. This cloak will become the property of the princess and will provide her with a striking evening wrap for other social occasions.

Officials of the Southwestern Sun Carnival Association today reported that enthusiasm for the glamorous spectacle is gaining momentum daily. Pecos, Texas, and Bisbee, Douglas and Tucson, Ariz., are the latest out of town entrants. Prospective entrants were warned that the deadline for their entries to be received in El Paso is December 1.

Handwriting Expert Says She Scares Men

BOSTON. (U)—Miss Elizabeth McCarthy abandoned law practice two years ago so that she might devote her energies to handwriting detection. Since that time she has figured in a string of front-page human tangles.

A Juncoque and attractive blonde Miss McCarthy attributes much of her success to her men. "I have a face that frightens babies, and grown men," she said. "The minute I appear on the scene—before I even take the stand—I've seen the culprits run away."

Blond Now

Mary Garden, who used to be a redhead, returned to New York a blond and, what's more she told reporters that she's off marriage forever. The former famous opera star, shown above on her return aboard the Bremen, declared, "I never found but one man interesting enough to marry, and he died. That ended it for me." Miss Garden is now a cinema talent scout and musical adviser.

RUNNING TUBING IN NEW FUHRMAN POOL EXTENSION

Henderson 1 Parker Is Showing For Well

BY FRANK GARDNER

Tubing is being run today in the R. H. Henderson and others No. 1 Parker, new southwest extension to the Fuhrman pool in Andrews county. No estimates have been made as to the size of the well, since it was drilled in with oil and has not yet been unloaded, but all are agreed that it is a producer. Bottomed at 4,556, steel line measurement, it found saturated lime from 4,490 to 4,550 and drilled a very soft section from 4,515 to 4,525. The Henderson well extends production three-quarters of a mile from the Republic No. 1 Fuhrman in the pool. It is located in the Parker strip, section 111, and 212 feet south of and 660 feet east of the southwest corner of section 25, block A-43, public school land.

The Lee Drilling Co. is moving in rig material and water well is being drilled for the William Hannigan and others No. 1 Logsdon, new well in northwest Andrews county, 16 miles west of the Means pool and 14 miles northwest of the Deen Bock pool. It will be carried to a contract depth of 5,000 feet with diesel rotary unless oil or gas production or sulphur water is encountered at a lesser depth. Location is in the center of the southwest quarter of section 5, block A-32, public school land, near the center of a 400-acre block obtained from the Amerasia Pet. Corp.

Pumping test is scheduled to start today on the Humble No. 8 R. M. Means, south offset to the Humble No. 1 Spinks, recent northwest extension to the Means pool. The well is bottomed at 4,555 and was treated with 5,000 gallons of acid. Rig from the No. 8 has been moved to the No. 9 R. M. Means, northeast extension test, and surface pipe has been set.

Casing Stuck Operators were unable at first attempts, to pull 8-inch casing from the Honolulu, Cascade and Devonian No. 1 E. B. Duggan, southeast Cochran discovery, and are circulating to free it. The well will be shot within the next several days. It has been hanging an average of 60 barrels daily from pay section entered at 5,025. The No. 1 Duggan was plugged back from 5,098 to 5,068 to shut off a baller and a half of salt water.

Uscan and Illinois No. 1 Brownfield, Terry county wildcat, last night had drilled to 4,210 feet in anhydrite and red rock.

The Texas Co. No. 1 Bob Slaughter in southwest Hockley county is drilling on casing shoe at 3,075 feet.

Keys Pool Producer In the Keys pool of Winkler, Adams, Hitchcock and Bradley No. 1-B Walton-Thompson has been completed for natural flowing production of 978 barrels in 24 hours flowing through 2-inch tubing. First drilling halted at 3,100.

Sinclair-Pratt No. 1-C Cummins, Sayre pool well, was shot with 240 quarts from 2,770 to bottom at 3,010 and flowed 43 barrels the first hour after the explosion. At the end of 17 hours it had made 166 barrels.

RAW RECRUITS ARE HURLED AGAINST THE INSURGENTS

Surprise Attack Of Loyals Ends In Disorder

PEACE TRY FAILS

Efforts To Isolate Struggle Held Up By Soviet

(By Associated Press) Desperate socialist commanders hurled waves of raw recruits against insurgent forces today in an effort to stem the Fascist Madrid advance, only to be driven back with heavy losses. A counter-attack surprised sleeping Fascists but the commander rallied his troops and drove the socialists back in disorder.

As the newest battle raged in Madrid sectors fresh efforts to isolate the Spanish conflict were postponed in London when the session of the neutrality sub-committee was called off. The suspension was ordered after a note, expected to clarify the Russian position, failed to arrive.

It is said representatives still awaited a declaration to show their position on the non-intervention accord. They would answer Portuguese charges that Moscow agitators were responsible for the situation provoking the Spanish war.

American newspaper correspondents, captured by Fascists, described the condition of the Spanish capital as desperate. The newsmen were sent to Salamanca for questioning.

Furthering their campaign to terrify the inhabitants of Madrid into a speedy surrender Fascist aviators again bombed and strafed the suburbs of the capital. Several small bombs were dropped on Barajas airport, causing light damage. Crews of government anti-aircraft batteries blasted away at the diving planes but did not bring any down.

MUSSOLINI SAYS ITALY 'IS READY'

ROME, Oct. 27. (P)—Premier Mussolini said today that Italy is "ready" to repeat its heroic efforts against anyone in defense of the empire. He said in a message to Italian Blackshirts that "Italy is stronger than ever before."

300 WILL ATTEND ODESSA BANQUET

Chamber of Commerce To Honor Oil Men Friday

ODESSA, Oct. 27. (P)—Approximately 300 will attend the annual banquet of the Odessa chamber of commerce, honoring the oil men of West Texas, on October 29, according to advance ticket sales and invitation acceptances received from out of town guests by the entertainment committee of the chamber of commerce, in charge of arrangements.

Harry Hines, chairman of the state highway commission and oil man of Wichita Falls, will be the principal speaker, and the banquet will be served by the home economics class of the Odessa high school.

The program will include a vocal duet by Mrs. Paul Moss and Mrs. John Evans, a special number by Mrs. F. E. Hatfield, who was recently heard over the Texas quality network during the Odessa broadcast from the Ft. Worth Centennial and violin selection by Mrs. W. A. Martin, well known Odessa musician.

More than 100 oil men from all districts in the Permian basin are expected to attend. The banquet will be under the direction of a chamber of commerce committee composed of John Marks, J. T. Long and Mark Henderson.

Eight Bombers Due At Airport Today

Eight bombers will arrive at Sloan Field this afternoon at approximately five o'clock from Barksdale Field in Shreveport.

They are being led by Lieutenant Davis, and are carrying ten passengers who will remain here overnight.

Captain Blessley, who was flying a BT9, arrived here at three o'clock followed by Pilots Kuttler and Ryan, flying a 2A12 from El Paso.

TO ROBY

Mr. Herbert Goforth has returned to his home in Roby, Texas, after a visit with his sister, Mrs. Joe Whitmire.

The well is in section 11, block 26, public school land. Humble No. F-5 University, North Ward pool well, flowed 1,072 barrels on a 12-hour test and is running liner today preparatory to starting the official Railroad Commission gauge. It was shot with 310 quarts of nitro from 2,492, to 2,755, the total depth. Location is in section 2, block 16, University land.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27. — Among the "big five" states whose electoral votes are so vital to Governor Landon, Ohio is the only one which has voted with the winning side in every presidential election since 1892.

You will find some Ohio Democrats feigning that the unpopularity of Democratic Gov. Martin Luther Davey will pull President Roosevelt down to defeat and some Ohio Republicans will tell you they're worried lest Davey ride on Roosevelt's coat tails to victory over their candidate, Attorney General John W. Bricker.

Generally speaking, however, there are certain points on which most politicians and political experts agree:

1. That Bricker will defeat Davey and run well ahead of Governor Landon.

2. The winner's margin in the presidential contest will be very small.

3. Roosevelt will receive large urban majorities and destination of Ohio's 26 electoral votes will depend on the extent to which rural and small town voters feel outraged concerning the New Deal.

New Deal Partisans who believed a month or two ago that Landon would win Ohio now believe otherwise. Some Republicans agree with them, conceding a recent swing to Roosevelt.

But the so-called rural vote usually dominates Ohio and although large cities formerly Republican now obviously are Democratic, the rural areas appear to have returned to at least normal Republicanism.

New Voters May Decide
The Roosevelt-Landon battle is so close, what with Negro, labor, and WPA voters all veering heavily toward the New Deal, that this writer suspects it will be decided by any strong leaning there may be among the 200,000 to 300,000 new voters who appear on this year's unprecedentedly large registration lists.

The Columbus Citizen polled 100 new voters in normally Republican Franklin county and found 76 for Roosevelt, 17 for Landon, 2 for Lemke, and 1 for Browder. The Akron-Times-Press found new voters similarly strong for the president.

In Cleveland one is told that 120,000 new registrants went on the rolls after conspicuous activity by Democrats and especially by the pro-Roosevelt Labor's Non-Partisan League.

But those are urban indicators. Heavier registration outside the cities may signify, as Republicans insist, a strong Landon protest vote. Roosevelt personally has been sure of Ohio ever since Senator "Honest Vic" Donahey told him he had it in the bag. Other big Ohio Democrats had previously told the president the same thing, but he remained skeptical.

Vic Has Big Following
The fact that Donahey recently made a hot radio speech for F. D. R. on the other hand, may be much more important than his prediction. Donahey served three terms as "the people's friend" and was elected senator in 1934 by the walloping majority of 437,000, after the administration had vainly opposed him in the primaries.

Many Ohioans pay a lot of attention to Vic. Buckeye state voters are inveterate ticket-scratcher and often have voted for a Republican president and a Democratic governor in the same year. Roosevelt's margin in 1932 was only 74,000 whereas Democratic Gov. George White's was 300,000.

Today you hear more about the governorship than about Roosevelt and Landon. In their speeches, Bricker hardly mentions Landon and Davey hardly mentions Roosevelt. One sees "Roosevelt and Davey" signs all over the state, however, even though few believe it will be "Roosevelt and Davey" on Nov. 3.

Davey Often in Hot Water
The Kansas governor failed to cause any emotional upheaval on his recent visit to the state and Bricker received the most applause when they appeared jointly. Roosevelt, incidentally, made no major speech in Ohio because of the Davey complication.

None of the larger newspapers or more important Democrats are supporting Davey, who is charged with undue partisanship in appointments, mismanagement of the state liquor system and various other blunders.

Davey is depending heavily on support from Dr. Townsend, and from Father Coughlin's organization. His opponent, Bricker, is considered clean, honest, able, open-minded, and reasonably liberal, although not brilliant. Bricker isn't hammering at Roosevelt, knowing that he will get many Roosevelt votes.

Straw Votes Clash
Ohio has had more straw votes and polls than any other state. The Literary Digest gives Ohio to Landon.

The Scripps-Howard newspapers' poll, covering half the state and three-fourths of the vote area, gave Roosevelt 57 per cent of the vote, Landon 37 per cent and Lemke 7.4.

A re-survey covering about 10,000 votes in the five most heavily populated counties show Roosevelt standing still with the 57 per cent he had in a first poll and Landon's percentage up from 34 to 37.1 an increase corresponding exactly to Lemke's loss from the previous poll. This checks with persistent reports that Lemke is slipping.

The Columbus Dispatch poll, which also has a record for accuracy, shows a lead for Roosevelt and Bricker. The Cincinnati Inquirer poll has been running about 50 for Roosevelt to 42 for Landon.

Cleveland Favors F. R.
The Cleveland Press poll indicated Roosevelt would carry this city by 100,000, but more conservative estimates pare that to 50,000 or 60,000. There are 120,000 new registrations in Cleveland, however, and no one can tell.

Cleveland, hard hit by the crash when two of its biggest banks failed, has had as many as 37,000 men on WPA. But business has been picking up rapidly and business men are only lukewarm in opposing the New Deal.

Republicans are using the higher cost of living as an issue in Cleveland, distributing widely their "meat is low—taxes are high" signs. Cleveland has always been a Republican Negro stronghold, but even the C. O. P. hiring of Jesse Owens does not appear to have made a deep impression on the colored vote, which has shifted toward Roosevelt.

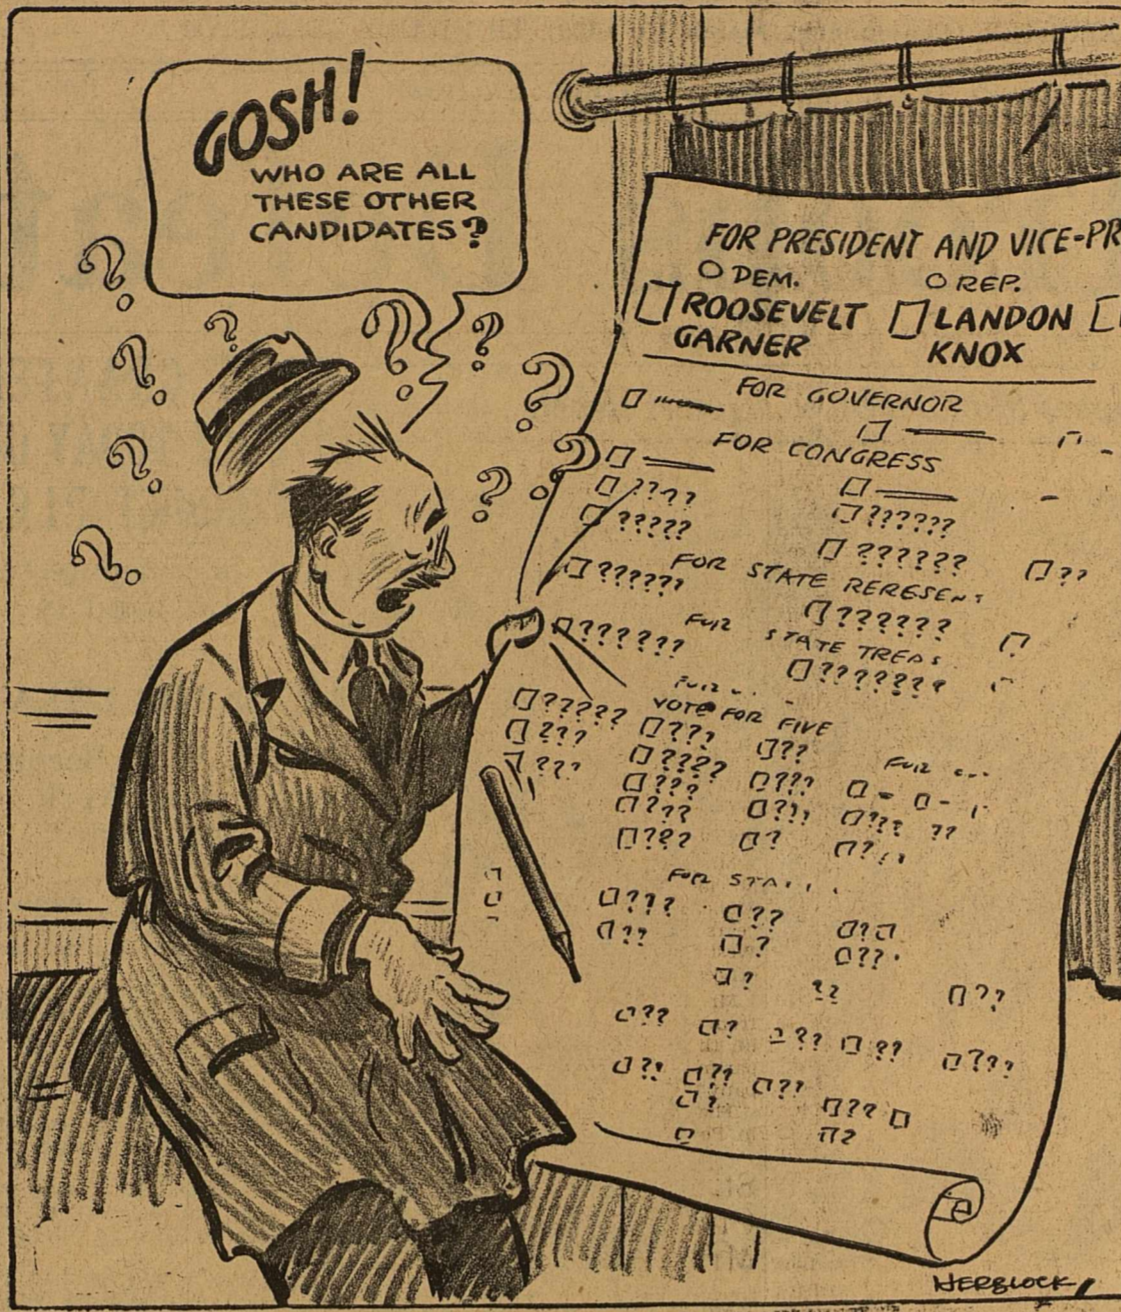

Many Cleveland Republicans feel that Landon has no great chance of election and are bending all efforts toward landing the 6000 state jobs in Cuyahoga county, which will be theirs if Bricker wins.

Coughlin is stronger in Cleveland than elsewhere in the state and Lemke's vote in the city is estimated at between 25,000 and 40,000.

Separate Roosevelt and Davey headquarters have been established in both Cleveland and Columbus by politicians who have Roosevelt's interests most at heart.

Both sides appear to have ample funds, but Republicans are expected to have the largest wad to spend on getting out the vote.

There's Still Time To Find Out

Stork Derby Near Deadline; Court Battle Is Forecast

By NEA Service

A race unique in history ends at midnight Oct. 31, the deadline for Toronto's bizarre $500,000 stork derby. As the marathon goes into its final days, new drama and tragedy come from the weird range spun by the will of Charles Vance Miller, eccentric Toronto lawyer and sportsman, who bequeathed the half million to the Toronto woman who would give birth to the most children from Oct. 31, 1926, to Oct. 31, 1936. One of the mothers is fighting for her life, broken by child bearing. At least two of the children are seriously ill, giving new ammunition to the scores of critics who have been bitter in their condemnation of the race. Trustees are expected to let the courts de-side the winner, presaging a bitter legal fight.

Apparent leader down the home stretch was Mrs. Matthew Kenny, 33, mother of 14 and expecting her fifteenth. Twelve of her brood are eligible, declares this French-Canadian mother, but her claims are vigorously attacked by several of her rivals. She asserts, however, that she will show the necessary registration records when they are required, and emphatically states that she will not join in any of the proposed agreements to divide the rich purse. "I'll keep it all," she answers to every proposal. The Kennys have been living in poverty for several years, since the father lost his job with a tire factory.

Mother of 12 children, with 10 of them held eligible for competition in the derby. Nine of her flock are living, healthy youngsters despite the fact that the family had been on relief for several years. A late entry in the contest, Mrs. Nagle while admitting the fortune posted by Miller was a great inducement, still declares that she's a believer in big families. "I'd like to be the mother of the biggest family in Canada," was her answer to an interviewer. All the births in the Nagle family were single ones, with the exception of one pair of twins.

Waging a grim fight for the life of her 6-month-old baby daughter, Mrs. Arthur Timleck, while confident of victory, has given little thought in recent weeks to the prize for which she is a leading contender. The child has been seriously ill for weeks. Mrs. Timleck, 37-year-old Irish-Canadian housewife, is the mother of 17 children, nine of whom are living. Belief that she will be victorious is based on the fact that every one of her youngsters has been properly registered, a point that may be decisive when the award is made. A big family is "fine," Mrs. Timleck admits—but she thinks birth control wonderful.

they have no chance to carry Texas. I tried all summer to get the weeds here in town cut, without much luck so maybe the frost will kill them.

My idea of a clutch: Keeping a record of the worthwhile accomplishments of a legislature.

I don't know of anything that will make a fellow madder than discovering a flat tire on his car. But it never seems to be very bad if the flat is on someone else's car.

Mrs. Ola Dublin Haynes says that china pig that gets all the fines assessed people for chewing gum in the tax collector's office is really getting fat since a story was written about the "pay as you chew" campaign put on over there. One local man gave the pig a stick of gum. And then he wanted to fine the pig.

ed areas, but on farms which easily might produce a balanced diet. Thus the kitchen garden and the home cannery offer the most hopeful line of attack on that plague. Texas' first need is to support its State Health Department adequately, that it may set up full-time service—a county health unit or equivalent—in every community. A modest annual investment in such service would save the people millions.

Noah Webster took 21 years from 1807 to 1828, to prepare his American Dictionary of the English language.

The PWA, to date, has allotted $3,000,000 for construction purposes. More than $2,292,000,000 of this amount has been spent.

against the verdict allowing her to enter the race are expected to add to complications in awarding the fortune.

As for pellagra, that malady never attacks a person who lives on a balanced diet. In one sense the pellagra victim has starved to death; frequently he has starved in the midst of plenty. An ironic aspect of the record is that the heaviest death-toll is not in the cities' slums.

State Health Report Completed By Board

Though progressive in many directions, Texas has been backward in protecting its citizens' health. The Texas Planning Board emphasizes that in fact in reporting on its recent State-wide survey. The planners found that 17,000 persons died prematurely and needlessly during 1934—the latest year for which statistics have been compiled. That number included 10,000 victims of preventable infectious diseases, and 7,000 succumbed to pellagra—a disease of nutrition. Organized public health service reaching all Texas 6 million people could have saved these lives. Epidemic-control-involving quarantine measures, public sanitation and education—would greatly reduce, if not eliminate, the death toll of tuberculosis, typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria, and other germ diseases.

Party-Dance Honors C. I. A. Girls And New Teachers

The new teachers and C. I. A. girls of Midland were honored by their alma mater members Monday evening at one of the most brilliant and successful social affairs of the season.

The guests got an inkling of the situation when they arrived at the Country Club grounds and saw two huge pumpkins peering at them from behind the windows flanking the entrance door. As soon as they entered their suspicions were confirmed, when they found that they were apparently not themselves, but some celebrity such as Fred Astaire or Stan Laurel in search of the mate Ginger or Oliver. By the time the confused one had located his mate, he had become warmly acquainted with the majority of the guests.

The ballroom was the essence of Halloween with bats, witches on brooms, ghosts sailing around in orange and black atmosphere. There was a great orange moon with C. I. A. spelled out in black bats and a witch's pot which contained fortunes was blazing before the fireplace.

The guessing games received hearty applause from the festive group, especially Lee Cornelius who won the prize for guessing such things as the number of peanuts in a bottle, the weight of Miss Dura Roxburgh, the size of Professor Lackey's hat, and the diameter of a half dollar.

Mrs. R. D. Scruggs presided in the Chamber of Horrors where she had the victims analyzing some of the body portions of a murdered black cat, by the Braille system. After other spine curdling and hair curling experiences the fiddlers arrived and the square dances started. Bob Preston called the dances, which were Virginia Reels, Paul Jones, and shodoles.

Have I Forgotten You?

By Helen Welshimer

HAVE I forgotten you, you ask? I do not think so, dear. I cannot walk on certain streets For fear you will appear.

AND when a hurdy-gurdy plays An old last summer song, No matter where I go, for days I take the tune along.

AND someone on a crowded street May so resemble you My heart turns over quietly, And starts to break in two.

News From The Midland Students At Hardin-Simmons

Lorena Dunagan, John Hart and O'Brien Hart of Midland are three of the many freshmen at Hardin-Simmons university who with transfers accounted for a 15 per cent increase in enrollment at the outset of the fall term, records in the registrar's office show.

Miss Dunagan, and John and O'Brien Hart are among those in Mary Frances and Ferguson Halls. The university dormitories provide spacious study rooms with adjoining bedrooms and baths. Good wholesome family-style meals are served to several hundred who live on or near the campus.

Enrollment this year brings students together from nearly two hundred Texas towns and eleven states.

According to the academic calendar the Midland students will have vacation periods from Nov. 26 to Nov. 30, from Dec. 19 to Jan. 1, and from March 26 to March 29.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

VIKING OF THE NORTH

SOME 40 years ago, a sturdy young giant of Christiania, now Oslo, left his country of Norway with a crew of 13, to prove that the Arctic Ocean had a natural drift from east to west. Other scientists ridiculed the idea, but Fridtjof Nansen went on.

Nansen soon found that he was right. As his ship drifted westward with the ice pack, he pushed across the ice afoot to the North Pole. He came within 228 miles of the Pole, the farthest north reached by man up to that time.

Since then, Nansen has become famous not only for his explorations, but for his human endeavors. He was once Norwegian minister to London, and during the World War aided in repatriation and refugee work. For this he received the Nobel peace prize in 1922.

Today, a little over 70, Nansen is one of the most respected veterans of science in the world. His picture appears on a stamp issued by Norway in 1935.

Wade's Biggest Kick Was Victory As Coach of Small Military School

Two Games With Georgia Tech Thrilled Famous Mentor of Duke Blue Devil Club

BY WALLACE WADE Head Coach, Drake University

DURHAM, N. C. Oct. 27. — I believe the game out of which I gained the most satisfaction in winning was played in 1920, while I was coaching the Fitzgerald and Clarke Military School in Tullahoma, Tenn.

We had won all our games with prep schools by 50 points or more. Bryson College, our opponent, had played some of the Southern Conference schools and held its own very well.

Battle Bagley, one of the leading southern officials, and field judge in our recent game against Georgia Tech, was coaching Bryson.

On the opening kickoff, we booted a short one and recovered it on the Bryson 40-yard line. We lined up quickly with a signal and passed to an end on the old sleeper play for a touchdown. This gave us a running start, and we won, 19-6.

It was quite a coincidence that in the game against Georgia Tech this year the Engineers used the short kick on us successfully, and a few plays later scored a touchdown with the old sleeper play. After that maneuver, Bagley and I looked at each other knowingly, remembering the game back in 1920. Bagley seemed to say: "Well, Wallace, Tech evened the score for me."

I certainly did enjoy winning this year's game with Tech, and think we were very fortunate to do so.

Another game with the Engineers that made me feel mighty well was in 1924, my second year at Alabama. Tech had not been beaten by a southern team in five years. After a fine game we won, 14-0.

Thrilled Beating Old Boss

At the end of 1925, when we won all our games, Alabama was the first southern team invited to play in the Rose Bowl. At the time we trailed the University of Washington, 0-12. Seven minutes later after the second half began, we had scored three touchdowns, two from passes caught by Johnny Mack Brown and thrown by Pooley Hubert and Grant Gillis. It finally ended Alabama 20, Washington 19.

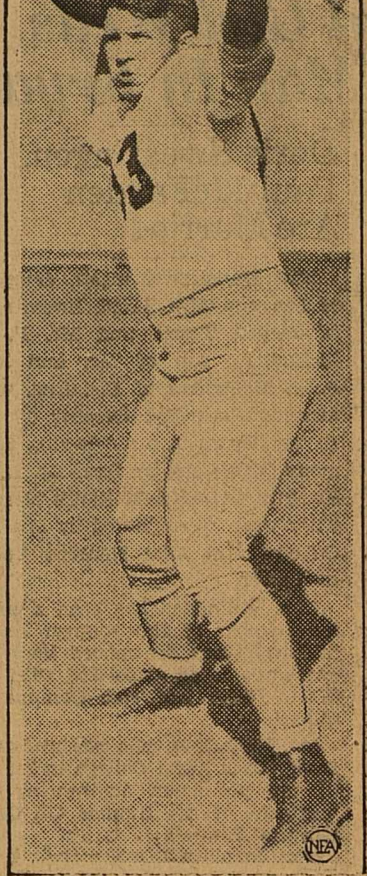

The next season, with nine regulars missing, we were scheduled to play Vanderbilt in the second game. Before going to Alabama I was assistant under Dan McGugin, and since this was our first rivalry as coaches, I was eager to win from my old boss and friend.

It didn't look as if we had much chance, due to losing so many players from the previous year. However, we had a great day. We threw four passes, all by Hoyt Winslett, and three were caught by Herschel Caldwell, now coach at Duke, for touchdowns. Final score was 13-7 and I was a happy man.

We had another interesting game in the Rose Bowl in 1930, when Alabama won from Washington State, 24-0. Two touchdowns were made by long passes from Jimmy More, an end, to John Suther and Ben Smith. Spinner Campbell made a 42-yard run for a third touchdown, and J. B. Whitworth, present line coach at L. S. U., kicked a place

Wilton Kilgore, Auburn full-back, is said to be the best man in that position in the south. Santa Clara will see him in action in San Francisco, Oct. 31.

Crowell Little quarterback North Carolina in its traditional game with Hunk Anderson's North Carolina State squad at Chapel Hill, Oct. 31.

Bill Crass, L. S. U.'s 200-pound senior halfback, is expected to show Vanderbilt a lot of broken field running and kicking at Nashville, Oct. 31.

In 1932 we got a great thrill at Duke by winning from the University of North Carolina, 7-0. This was the first time since 1892 Duke had won from the Tar Heels.

Another game we enjoyed winning here was the Tennessee contest in 1933. Coach Bob Neyland's Volunteers had been almost invincible for five years. The great Beattie Feathers was in Tennessee's backfield. Duke won, 10-2, with Tackle Freddie Crawford playing what I think was probably the finest game I ever have seen a lineman display.

In 1935 North Carolina had a great team and won all its games by impressive scores. The Tar Heels were rated on top, and we were given little chance. However, we upset the dope and won, 25-0.

Oh, Those Monday Blues!

This story would be misleading if I related only the games which I particularly enjoyed without mentioning a few of the defeats that hurt. In 1923, my first year at Alabama, we came to our Thanksgiving Day game with Florida, favored to win the game that would have given us the Southern Conference championship. The battle was staged in a downpour of rain. We ended the first half leading, 6-0, and it appeared a safe bet that no one would score again in the mud.

But as result of some splendid kicking by Ark Newton, and some great running by Edgar Jones, we lost, 16-6. I was a sick young man that night.

One of the biggest disappointments I ever had was in 1928, when we lost to Tennessee, 15-13. We had gotten off to a fine start, had fine material, and prospects were bright. But things broke against us right from the start. Gene McIver took the opening kickoff for the Vols and ran it back for a touchdown. After the next kickoff, we scored on the first play from scrimmage. The difference in the scores of the two teams was two points made on a safety when we fumbled a bad pass from center behind the goal line.

In 1933 we had won nine games and were playing Georgia Tech. We were favorites, and hoped to win to finish the season with a clean slate.

We carried the ball across for for a touchdown, but it was called back because our team was off-side. Tech finally scored, and we were never able to overcome that lead.

Many other defeats have hurt, too, but these have taken a particular toll and probably added more gray hairs than the others.

Whooping Cough Control Needed

AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—While whooping cough is evident in all months of the year, the first weeks in October this year showed a rise in the number of cases reported to the State Health Department.

"Whooping cough is one of the most serious communicable or germ diseases affecting childhood, and is especially dangerous to babies who have not passed their first birthday." Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, said in recommending stricter methods of control. About ninety per cent of all deaths from whooping cough occur in children under five years of age, the records show. "The disease is usually transmitted," Dr. Brown said, "by direct contact with the secretion of the mouth or the nose, or with articles freshly soiled with the secretion. Only a short exposure is required to contact the infection. The communicable stage must be considered to extend from seven days after exposure to an individual infected with whooping cough to three weeks after the development of the

From The Bunker

The Midland Country Club Golf Tournament to be played Oct. 31, and November 1, may not have much to do with the crowd on the Golf Course as the weather, but either or both made all the niblick chunkeys go out and hunt for lost par shooting this past week end.

The tournament is only a week away from last Saturday, and rain or shine there is going to be a tournament. K. P. Hart, Paul Oles, of the parent Oles', Bostwick, I'd have mentioned the Champ sooner if I could have spelled his name, Glen Black and Bob Hamilton were seen shooting at par or better, whether they hit their aim or not, they are all men of merit to mention for the coming tournament. Another of the old school who was outpacing his slants, and making Tex Crawford promise to take lessons was Joe Crump. Joe is a veteran of many a tournament and along with the old settlers here should account for some nice golf in the tournament.

Johnnie House, Arick Dozier and any number of the Humble boys will more than likely be on hand to cheer for the trophies. Haven't seen Mack McClintock, the telegraph man out lately, but he will also be somewhere near. Kip Harper, Rusty Bayer and their gang had a foursome with plenty of excitement, they could be heard across the course, I guess it was when someone sunk an approach, Bill Simpson, Frank Johnson, Pat Riley, Earl Blair, the Zero Bomb Boy, Ed Dooler, the barber, San Laughlin, Ted Lowe, Vance, Earl Whitcomb, Earl Moran, the secretary, who once played and has gone laxy, and numberless others are men of Midland to be accounted for, and in their individual flights could stand watching when the tournament play comes along.

L. B. Hass, an Oklahoma golfer with years of tournament play behind him will give better golfers something to shoot at, and several years ago he held many crowns in Tulsa and the Oklahoma State Tournaments. He was city champ of Tulsa for four years, and Hass can still shoot par and better if pushed. He smacked about the longest ball that has been seen in these parts since long tall Dougherty left.

It is rumored that our column has made Burt Hemphill oil up his sticks and declare himself in on the tournament. Burt was rumored to have taken his clubs to San Angelo for a bit of practice Sunday, and both he and Nalle Gregory, hot home time city champs of San Angelo are likely contestants here in our tournament, in fact they will make bargain buys in the Calcutta.

Jim Isabel of Texon, Jamison of Iraan, E. C. Hix and Bob Scott of Colorado and Johnnie Neal of Hobbs are all mentioned as players expected here when we have roll call. Mix in the Lamesa, Big Spring and some of the other area golfers and we will have the fastest tournament yet held in West Texas, Morgan Neal and half a dozen Odessa golfers will be on hand, Obie Bristow, Eddie Morgan, Doug Jones who won the Lubbock Tournament and Shirley Robbins will head the Big Spring group, and in case of on hitch, Lehman, a many times champ will bring several of the Abilene golfers, Joe Dick Slaughter has been named to help Obie Bristow and others auction off the golfers in the Calcutta. Farmer, Dougherty, Counts and several others are expected to come down from Lubbock. Mix well and what a field of golfers that will be. The winner of any trophy in such a field will have something to

New Event Added To Centennial Rodeo

DALLAS, Oct. 27.—A wild horse race has been added to the events in the fall edition of Col. W. T. Johnson's World Championship Rodeo at the Texas Centennial Exposition. The rodeo will start Nov. 17 and continue through Nov. 29.

Frank N. Watson, the exposition director of promotion, announced that Col. Johnson had informed him that 50 head of wild mustangs, never before ridden or handled by man, already had been obtained for this new event. Everett Colburn, the arena director, was sent to Eastern Oregon, Montana and Idaho where he selected and purchased the mustangs from among 2,000 head of wild range horses. They will be shipped here in time for the opening of the rodeo.

The judges and officials have drawn up a set of rules for the wild horse race which promises to make it one of the most spectacular of the contests. Col. Johnson wrote Mr. Watson. "We tried out such a race in the rodeo for the first time this year in the Garden, and have revamped the rules in the light of our experience in New York. An entirely new herd of horses will be used in our Centennial rodeo race."

When the arena has been cleared, he wrote, nine mustangs will be driven into the chutes, each fitted with a rope halter. Each team will consist of three men, two to hold the horse and one to saddle and ride him, if he is lucky. The contestants must saddle their mustangs within a space marked off at one end of the arena by the judges.

The first puncher to mount his saddled mustang and ride him across the finish line at the other end of the arena wins first prize money.

"There's nothing like it for thrills and spills," the colonel said. In addition to first, second and third prize money, there will be a special prize of $25 at each performance for the rider whose mustang does the fanciest and meanest bucking.

Other events in the rodeo will be saddle and bareback bronc-riding, steer wrestling, cowgirls' bronc-riding, calf roping, and a number of special demonstrations of western sports. Prizes will be awarded the last night, which also will be the last night of the $25,000,000 Texas World's Fair.

"Whooping cough is not easy to detect in its early stages, for during the first week or two it resembles an ordinary cold in its symptoms. Then, however, the child begins to have attacks of whooping. The catarrhal symptoms and cough gradually become more severe, there is a running from the nose and the eyes are reddened. The child coughs in spells, the cough getting more severe and finally develops what is commonly known as the 'whoop'.

"Preventive measures against whooping cough should include keeping small children away from other children when whooping cough is in the neighborhood, and a visit to the family physician if whooping cough is suspected. Medical care is essential in whooping cough because proper medications can ease the spasmodic whooping and thus may save a life.

Old Chinese Remedies Give Way to The New

WASHINGTON, (U.P.) — Gradual introduction of modern medicines in China is resulting in a noticeable decrease in demand for old Chinese remedies and is strikingly reflected in the downward trend of imports of deer horn, which is highly prized as a curative agent by the older generations of Chinese, the Commerce Department's chemical division reports from Shanghai.

Approximately 4,150,000 American veterans of the World War are still living.

tell the folks back home about.

Other Midland golfers to be mentioned are Jimmie Maxwell, Ralph Barron, Ed Brubeck, McClure, Dave Finley, Billy Sparks, Harry Adams, Barham, Boone, Conklin, Wheeler, Faag, Flood, Howell, Lowe, Armstrong, Pyron, Walsh, Verrees, Felix Stonehooker, M. H. Parks a new member and just numberless others, all able to go out and shoot this course in consistent scores that will win in the various flights down the column. They can not all be Championship Flyers as there are only 16 in the chosen few to represent the Championship group, and there will be flights for all. Of the 16, it is an even bet that many of the Midland golfers will be up in that flight, and in all probabilities, one of the local golfers will end with the crown, no matter how fast the field these home boys know the home course, and will make good golfers play better than they know to win.

THEY make few rough-and-ready football players in the modern era of the game who could stack up with Ernest J. (Pug) Renner, Northwestern University's All-America halfback in 1931-32. Pug was all football, and Big Ten and intercollegiate opponents of the Wildcats during his career will confirm that.

His best year was in 1931, when he rambled 1551 yards, 648 from scrimmage. He was particularly poisonous to Minnesota that season. Against the Gophers he streaked 95 yards from a kickoff for a touchdown, and later dodged 80 yards with a punt for another counter.

Pug was a great blocker and ball carrier, and no tackle was too tough for him to try on defense. At present he is playing pro football with the Boston Redskins.

Miss Taylor To Represent Women's Club at Convention

The Business and Professional Woman's club of Midland was honored at a dinner Monday evening at 7:30 in the private dining room of the Scharbauer Hotel.

They announced their plans of sending their president, Miss Fannie Bess Taylor, to the Regional Conference of the Business and Professional Women's organization which is to be held in Dallas November 6, 7, and 8.

This organization is associated with some of the greatest women's names in the Southwest such as that of Mrs. Patricia Solander, who will be one of the leaders. Mrs. Solander of Ossawatimie, Kansas, had the distinction of being the first woman to preside over the deliberations of the Kansas Senate, WHO'S, WHO for that year tells of her being presented with a gavel made of Kansas grown Walnut and Osage Orange in tribute to a "Wonderful Kansas woman." Mrs. Solander is a speaker of force and distinction, with a wide interest in current topics that promises a most interesting discussion.

The members who attend the dinner were Misses Elizabeth Wilson, Eva Batchelor, Elma Graves, Clara Jesse, Laura Jesse, Drucilla Lord, Bertha McGrew, Fannie Bess Taylor, Lydia G. Watson, Francis Stalworth, Marie Spencer, Juanita Perkins, Lotta Williams, Lois Eilleyer, and Mrs. Susie G. Noble, and Mrs. Bertie S. Mitchell.

'The Sea Spoilers' Now Showing at Ritz

Alaska... sea poaching... the adventures of the United States Coast Guard.

These are the principal elements that comprise something "different" in screen stories, for Universal's "The Sea Spoilers," which opens at the Ritz theatre today.

Besides these refreshing elements of story theme and background, "The Sea Spoilers" offers John Wayne in his first starring role under the Universal banner.

The breaking up of a relentless ring of seal poachers, on the world famous seal rookeries of Pribiloff Islands, is the central theme of the story. While John Wayne, as Commander of a Coast Guard cutter, is chasing the poachers, his sweetheart, played by Nan Grey, is kidnapped and held hostage by the gang.

John Wayne faces tests of courage and wins promotion through his thrilling exploits. The final struggle to capture the stronghold of the poachers is set to the exciting tempo of a pitched battle.

Besides Miss Grey as his leading lady, there is a supporting cast which includes Fuzzy Knight, William Bakewell and Russell Hicks.

Indiana Friday afternoon from 4 to 6.

Saturday Mrs. Hal Peck, Mrs. Edward Whitaker, and Mrs. John Perkins are entertaining at tea at the home of Mrs. Perkins, 602 S. Main, Saturday afternoon from four to six.

COTTON PROBLEMS MOST SERIOUS NOW CONFRONTING SOUTH, ECONOMIST SAYS

AUSTIN, Oct. 27.—Cotton problems are the most serious problems confronting the south and particularly Texas, it was stated by Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the bureau of business research of the University of Texas, in his monthly review of the industry. He pointed out that the predominant position the south held in world production for over 125 years created a complacency that may cost the cotton growers dearly.

"Have not the rapid increases in cotton production in foreign countries during the past four years completely exploded the old idea, all too prevalent, that the south had a God given monopoly on cotton production?" he questioned.

"Agriculture is the greatest single source of employment in Texas. Census figures for 1930 show that 38 per cent of all those gainfully employed in Texas were in agriculture. Government data also show that cotton and cottonseed furnish about 80 per cent of the cash income from crops in Texas and about 57 per cent of all cash income from farms and ranches in Texas normally comes from cotton. These facts emphasize the seriousness of the loss of income from cotton and cottonseed to the state. The cash income from lint cotton in Texas in 1935 was only $162,000,000 and all indications point to the fact that this year will be little if any greater than last year. The fact that income is considerably less than half what it was prior to the depression. The buying power of cotton as indicated by the bureau of labor statistics wholesale index of all commodities is even now about as low as at any time during the depression.

"Why has there not been a recovery in income from cotton in Texas? There are two reasons: First, and perhaps most important, is the much fewer bales produced; and, second, failure of the price to advance in proportion to the reduced production. When income from cotton in Texas is measured in gold the decline is even more pronounced. The average farm value of lint cotton produced in Texas during the three years prior to the depression was about 9,700,000 grains of gold. According to the last government estimate of the Texas crop and prevailing prices, the farm value of lint cotton produced in Texas this year will not exceed 2,300,000,000 grains of gold.

"To what extent have government rental payments, bonuses, and price equalization payments made up for the above loss in income from lint cotton in Texas? That is a very important question. During 1933 government payments to cotton growers and landlords on cotton accounts amounted to $23,000,000; during 1934 they amounted to $35,000,000; during 1935, $47,000,000; and this year, probably not to exceed $25,000,000 or $30,000,000. In addition to the above the farmers have had a restricted use of their land which has been of some value even though they were not supposed to produce cash crops from it. When all is said there is still a great reduction in cotton incomes in Texas compared with the income during 1927-1930. Can Texas farmers get that income back? Increases in foreign production and trade restrictions indicate that it will be very difficult."

The monthly cotton balance sheet as given by Dr. Cox shows that the indicated supplies in the United States October 1 were 15,079,000 bales, compared with 17,030,000 bales October 1 last year and 15,744,000 bales two years ago. The indicated supply of cotton in the United States is thus 1,951,000 bales less than last year. Stocks of American cotton in and afloat to European ports were 207,000 bales more than on October 1 last year. The above items of supply of cotton have been decreased 1,744,000 bales.

"During the past seven years the average points change in the adjusted New Orleans spot price (price divided by the bureau of labor statistics wholesale index) resulting from 100,000 bales change in supply has been 16.31 points," Dr. Cox continued. "If these figures hold good for this year, the index price of New Orleans spot cotton based on the above changes in supply is due to go up 284 points or up to 16.04 cents. When this index price is adjusted by the United States bureau of labor statistics index of 81.5 and the futures margin indicated a price of about 13.50 cents. The bureau supply price charts indicate a price of about 13.50 cents. The offsetting factor to the bullish American supply is the very large estimated foreign production of 16,700,000 bales. The increase abroad about offsets the decreases in the United States.

"Spinners margin on American cotton based on the price of 32 twist yarn in Manchester and the price of middling 7/8 inch spot cotton in Liverpool was 164 in September, compared with 178 in August and 162 in September last year. The price margin for September averaged 4.47¢ compared with 4.25¢ for August and 3.90¢ for September last year. These figures indicate a good demand for cotton."
