FARM BOYS ADMIT EXTORTION NOTE SENT ATHENS MAN Youths Captured At Austin In Car Of Grocer

ATHENS, Sept. 24. (P)—Officers filed federal extortion charges in Tyler circuit court today against T. W. Walton, 18, and Robert Morgan, 15, who justice department agent L. T. Bowman said, admitted sending an extortion note to Richard Ash, farmer.

ATHENS, Texas, Sept. 24. (P)—Two farm boys, 18 and 15, both of near Athens, Wednesday admitted sending Richard Ash, well-to-do farmer, a letter Tuesday demanding payment of $150 on penalty of death. The letter demanded he place the money at a designated railway trestle not later than 4 a. m. Wednesday.

The boys, caught at Austin Tuesday in a car said to have been stolen here a few hours before from Ras Warren, Athens grocer, mailed the letter to Ash Monday but he did not receive it until Tuesday, Sheriff Jess Sweeten said after L. T. Bowman of the department of Justice had come here from Dallas to aid in the investigation of the case, Sheriff Sweeten and Bowman took statements from each of the youths.

The officers sought to connect both with an extortion letter Ash received March 12. Both extortion letters were signed "The Mystery Rider." In a statement made here Wednesday the younger of the boys said he recopied the second letter after it was worded and written by the older boy.

Sheriff Sweeten said each youth will be charged with automobile theft and attempted extortion.

AMERICAN ENTRY INTO LEAGUE OF NATIONS OPPOSED

American Legion In Resolution Asks U. S. Keep Out

ASK NEUTRALITY Country Urged to Not Become Mixed In Quarrels

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24. (P)—The American Legion convention today unanimously voted a resolution opposing the United States entering the League of Nations.

Other resolutions opposed any modification of war debts, opposed future loans to nations in default of war debts, urged the United States government to maintain a strict policy of neutrality and asked congressional investigation of the Black Legion to prevent confusion with the American Legion.

The American Legion, with whoops and shouts, voted today to make New York's fifth avenue its 1937 parade grounds and listened to a sober warning against "foreign entanglements" from William Green, American Federation of Labor president. A Kansas lawyer, Harry W. Colmery of Topeka, virtually was assured of becoming the Legion's next National Commander as Quimby Melton, Griffin, Ga., editor and the sole opponent, conceded the Kansas victory. Melton said he had already congratulated Colmery and promised him Georgia's support in tomorrow's election.

2 HURT AT LOUISIANA DEPOT AFTER LOUISIANA CROWD ATTACKS WORKERS

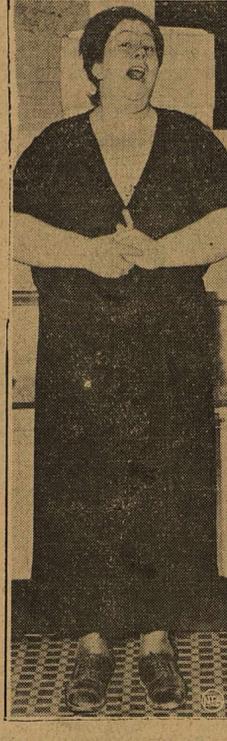

Possibility of New Strike Involving More Than 50 Employees Seen

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 24. (P)—Jeers, stones and bottles were hurled Wednesday in a disorderly scene at Minden, La., in the strike of transportation employees of the Louisiana and Arkansas Railroad company, resulting in injury of two men.

Today R. Norwood, 50, of Minden, division train master for the railroad, was attacked at the depot with bottles and bricks and was bruised and cut over the right eye. His injuries were not serious.

Railroad officials in Shreveport said crowds had been collecting about the Minden depot and jeering crews which were operating trains during the strike.

From Fish Scales

There's nothing fishy about Mrs. Mary Witte's operatic voice, Giacomo Bourg insists, even though she is a fish merchant so he plans to bring her to New York to coach her. The 250-pound Stroudsburg, Pa., mother is pictured singing at her fish stall, the vicissitudes of operating which, she says, gave her the 'soul' for song.

Bicycle Derby Ends With Western Union Boy "Speed Demon"

BY H. H. KENDRICK The down-town Business boys of Midland, sixteen years old and under staged a little bicycle derby all their own last night. There has been considerable argument lately among the "teen-agers" as to who should be called and crowned the "Speed Demon." All during the day boys could be seen tuning up their bikes and making trial speed runs.

The Western Union Boys claimed that they had a monopoly on speed. Benny Lemons, the young sunburned flash from the Haley Hotel, swore that he could ride around the block so fast that he could catch up with himself and kiss himself on the back of the neck.

The phantom fliers were given the gun promptly at 9:30 p. m. and rode North on Lorraine from "M" System grocery to the end of the pavement.

When the smoke had cleared it was found that Conway Baker, No. 1 Boy from Western Union had won first place and that Dan Cuthbert, ex-Western Union boy had taken second honors. Walter Wesson and Doyle Craft tied for third.

Ten boys entered the race, with many others on the side lines offering their shirts to get in on the race, but too late for entry. Baker, the winner, says that he will challenge all-comers. A most exciting race can be counted on for the near future. Any boy who thinks he can beat the fast telegrapher may give his name to Baker or to H. H. Kendrick.

"We will take armed measures for the protection of Japanese lives and property within and outside the international settlement according to our judgment."

DRILL-STEM TEST IN WADDELL WELL SHOWS OIL, GAS

Gulf Wildcat May Be Second Simpson Producer

INTENDED POINT OF CONVERGENCE REPORTED RUINED

Insurgents Poised For Onslaught On Madrid

REBELS ADVANCE Government Admits Troops Only 12 Miles Out

By Associated Press Madrid's defenders loosed the waters of the Alberche river dam on San Martin Valle Iglesias, intended convergence point of the insurgent northern and southern armies today. The town was reported destroyed.

Both government and insurgent dispatches agreed that insurgent marines were within 12 miles of Toledo.

Insurgent commanders poised forces for the final onslaught on Madrid and Toledo, confident the fall of both cities was imminent.

General Francisco Franco prepared to take Madrid by storm along the highway from Talavera. His well drilled troops pushed swiftly ahead, almost without opposition from hungry, tattered government militiamen. The fascist vanguard was reported to be steadily drawing nearer the capital.

The plan officers said was for Franco to strike from the southwest while General Emilio Mola's forces swarmed down from the Guadarrama mountains in the northeast, forming an arrowhead of fighting men for the final thrust.

Perishing's Record Is Played by Lloyd George in Memories

LONDON, Sept. 24. (P)—A scathing criticism of Gen. John J. Pershing and of the whole American world war is contained in the fifth volume of the memories of David Lloyd George, Britain's war-time premier, to be published today.

Lloyd George's indictment of Pershing is based on what he termed the A. E. P. commander-in-chief's stubborn fight to keep his division intact instead of having them incorporated in the allied armies.

"He (Pershing) was quivering with suspicion that the British and French meant to rob him of his army," Lloyd George writes.

The Welsh statesman's caustic chronicle describes incessant disputes with Pershing, and pillories "American indecision and bustling incompetency." However, he praises the courage of the American troops.

Lloyd George declares large numbers of American soldiers in the Argonne sector were insufficiently fed, and criticizes adversely American handling of shipments of artillery, airplanes, etc.

"The result," he says, "was a fussy middle."

Almost the whole first year of American participation in the world war, Lloyd George writes, was "a comparatively insignificant" contribution of a "mighty republic to the struggle in France."

"It was very much less," he continued, "and far smaller than the British nation made in a similar period."

He Beats His Bills and Brags About It; "Damfaintso" Originator Here

Auto expenses, meals and hotel bills, clothing and all luxuries or necessities used by Livingston and his wife and their dog while traveling are the gifts of people and business institutions where they stop. They arrived here today for a one day stop, continuing then to the west. They are on the last 168-day jaunt.

He writes each day the outstanding paragraphs of the trip and at the end will publish a book entitled "Damfaintso." No cash has been accepted, that being one of the stipulations of his stunt. Gifts estimated in value at more than $8,500 have been politely refused.

Three cars, with total value of $55, have been used in the three-letour. A scrap book filled with letters, unpaid bills of all kinds and of interesting articles picked up by the couple is carried.

Livingston is a free lance writer. He decided to beat the "Believe-it-or-Not" and "Strange-as-it-May-Seem" stunts with his original "Damfaintso." His friends said he couldn't do it, but he's almost

BOTH SIDES of the CAMPAIGN

Official views of the Republican and Democratic National Committees on leading issues of the campaign are presented by leaders of the two parties in this series of 12 articles, taking the place of Rodney Dutcher's Washington column during Dutcher's vacation. The Republican and Democratic arguments are presented on alternate days.

BY REPRESENTATIVE FRANCIS D. CULKIN
Assistant Director, Farm Division
Republican National Committee
The constructive farm policies offered to the electorate by Gov. Alf Landon, Republican presidential candidate, are simple and clear. He proposes an effective soil conservation and erosion control program in connection with national land use and flood conservation.

Jeffersonian Democrats Declare Stand They Will Make In Coming Presidential Election

With a full realization that our country faces a political crisis transcending all partisan interests, we Democrats of Texas now pledge our best services to the Nation upon a non-partisan basis. We reassert our belief in the Constitution, in the rights of the States, and in the Jeffersonian principle. Believing thus, we must condemn the Roosevelt Administration.

The issue before the American people today is not Roosevelt versus Landon; nor is it the Republican Party versus the Democratic Party. The issue here is the same as that which rocks the rest of the world, and that issue is regimentation versus freedom and democracy. We are confronted with a change in our form of government from a Democracy, in which the government is the servant of the people, to a Socialistic and Communistic state in which the individual becomes the servant of the state and loses all personal freedom and all property rights.

We charge that Mr. Roosevelt is not a Democrat and never has been in sympathy with the principles of the Democratic party. We charge that Mr. Roosevelt has aided and abetted the aims of the Socialists and Communists, and has set up a board of advisers known as the "brain trust," which is largely made up of red radicals in sympathy with the form of government.

We charge that the key positions in the numerous bureaus set up by Mr. Roosevelt are now held by radical appointees selected for the most part by Felix Frankfurter, known throughout the country for his radical activities. We charge that the radicals, whether they call themselves socialists or communists, now have the nation by the throat, thank being due Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Perkins (a married woman following the Russian system of not taking her husband's name), Felix Frankfurter, Rex Tugwell, and others.

We charge that all New Deal acts such as NRA, AAA, and others in which business, farmers, and the direct of us were to be regimented and directed by some bureaucrat are the brain children of radicals, one of whom is Tugwell. We will prove to you before November 3rd, by quoting Mr. Tugwell himself, that he is as red or redder than Stalin, the Russian dictator. We charge that Mr. Roosevelt has shown no interest in the 1932 platform of the Democratic party except to repeal prohibition. We charge that most of the New Deal bills he forced through Congress were specifically called for in the 1932 Communist and Socialist platforms. We will prove this to you before November 3rd by showing you word for word the platforms of these parties and showing you how the New Deal acts meet the demand of these platforms.

the United States Supreme Court, and who broke their solemn pledge to conserve the domestic market for the American farmer. Under the New Deal, there has been an incredible increase in the importation of foreign farm products and a startling decrease in the sale of American farm products to foreign markets. Since President Roosevelt took office, importations of crude foodstuffs have increased 41 per cent and manufactured foodstuffs 49 per cent. Importations of wheat rose from 3000 bushels to more than 27,000,000 bushels, while importations of foreign corn jumped from 344,000 bushels to more than 43,000,000 bushels. In the meantime, exportations of American wheat to foreign countries dropped until in 1935 they were only a hundredth of what they had been before the New Deal, while exportations of flour decreased 42 per cent, meat products dropped 19 per cent, and lard 82 per cent.

Quotes Landon
According to the Republican candidate himself, even before the AAA was ruled out by the supreme court, it was rapidly disorganizing American agriculture. Some of its worst effects continue. "By its policies," says Governor Landon, "the administration has taken the American farmer out of foreign markets and put the foreign farmer into the American market. The loss of markets, both at home and abroad, far outweighs the value of all the benefits paid to farmers.

As in other instances, the farm record of the New Deal administration speaks for itself. In the summer of 1933, the government paid farmers under the AAA to plow up 10,500,000 acres of growing cotton, or 25 per cent of the total acreage. The Bankhead cotton act of 1934, later repealed by the New Deal Congress, set a limit of 10,000,000 acres of cotton to be marketed by farmers from the 1934-35 crop. The AAA retired approximately 36,000,000 acres of corn, wheat, cotton and tobacco from cultivation, or one-tenth of the land in cultivation in the United States. In the fall of 1933, the AAA destroyed 6,200,000 pigs and slaughtered 220,000 prospective mother sows, at a waste exceeding $30,000,000. The total live weight of the pigs and sows slaughtered was 443,627,348 pounds. Of this, only 97,064,159 pounds of food products were obtained. The rest was converted into inedible grease or fertilizer and was buried.

Slaps Roosevelt
Commenting on the criticism which destroying the pigs aroused, President Roosevelt told a group of farmers in Washington on May 14, 1935, that the crocodile tears, shed by the professional mourners of an old and obsolete order over the

Key to Successful Marriage Sought by Psychologists in Study of 500 Couples

STORRS, Conn., Sept. 24 (U.P.)—A seven year's experiment to reveal what combinations of married couples get along best together—or worse—has been undertaken by Dr. E. Lowell Kelly, assistant professor of psychology at Connecticut State College. About a year ago, Dr. Kelly and his wife, his assistant, appealed to 500 engaged couples to submit to tests for the seven years' period. Today, he has about 200 couples on file, and has issued an appeal for 300 more. When a couple agree to take the tests, they either visit Dr. Kelly at the college or are visited by the professor. "I see all of them personally," Dr. Kelly says. One thousand different items of information are sought by the professor and his wife. What are their likes and dislikes, their personalities, are they introverted or extravertive, their backgrounds, money available, color of hair, eyes, their height and breadth? He also gives

The Town Quack

Two thirds of an inch in a couple of hours is about the right way for a rain to fall. And that's what we had between 5 and 7 o'clock this morning, in case you didn't wake up to listen to it. There wasn't any wind. There wasn't much lightning and there was very little thunder. Just a good steady downpour that took all the dryness out of the top of the ground. A well known columnist at Amalgam gives some comment which is such an established fact that I wonder why he made the statement. However, I guess it was fresh on his mind right after returning from the race track. He said you can outwit human beings, but when it comes to outwitting horses at their own game of running, you surely are trying an impossible job. He said he gave out a lot of tips about the races, but when he walk-fy's arrival brought George Washington into national prominence. Coach Jim Pixlee, however, has expressed satisfaction with his squad. "I have seen better prospective teams than this one flop in October," he said. "But I have seen worse looking ones make good. I expect to be able to put a pretty fair combination on the field." Pixlee has indicated that only four regular positions, two in the backfield and two in the line, have been filled. These are Dale Prather, tackle; Raymond Hanken, end; and George Jenkins and Herbert Reeves in the backfield. Pixlee, with the help of his assistants, Bill Reinhart and Barton Kieh, will attempt to develop two backfield and five freshmen squads of last year. The Colonials have a hard schedule. It is generally believed that they will be lucky to break even. They play Elon, Mississippi, Arkansas, Wake Forest, Rice, Catawba and West Virginia.

Restaurant Shopper Anna Martin, On 10 Meals Daily, Has Not Gained

By Laura Lou Brookman
NEW YORK—She eats all day long—and gets paid for it. Anna Martin, slender, attractive, is a young woman who isn't hungry for a career. She has one which she likes very much, thank you. Miss Martin is a professional "eater-out-er." All day long six days a week, she visits restaurants, hotels, eating places of all sorts, orders meals (and eats them, too), making observations about the food, service, prices and portions.

Miss Martin has never met anyone else who had such a job. So far as she knows, it's unique. She is employed by the Childs Restaurant Company, who decided last January it would be a good thing to have somebody go about New York "restaurant shopping," just as department stores employ shoppers to check the prices and quality of various commodities.

Miss Martin, then in the menu department, was given the job.

CITY WHERE MUSIC REIGNS

THE MEDIEVAL "HOHE SALZBURG"

NESTLING on two sides of the Salzach river in Austria, between two small mountains, the city of Salzburg beckons to visitors from all over the world with strains of classic music. For more than a month, each year, this historic city celebrates its music festival with daily operas, concerts, serenades, and song recitals.

Here the great Mozart was born and atop one of its sheltering mountains stands the house where the composer wrote "The Magic Flute." It was brought from Vienna in 1874.

The city is known as "Austria's German Rome," for its cathedral is a copy of St. Peter's in Rome, while its population is predominantly German. Its history goes back to the time of ancient Rome, when it was established as the city of Juvavum. Destroyed in the fifth century, rebuilt, and destroyed by fires and enemy raids several times thereafter, it finally arose as the present Salzburg about four or five centuries ago.

in as many as 12. She hasn't gained even an ounce since she took the job. Five feet, four inches tall, Miss Martin weighs 125 pounds, which is just about right according to the health and beauty charts.

"People always ask how I manage to eat so many meals and keep from gaining weight," she says. "I guess it's because I walk a lot. Of course, I don't always eat everything I order, but I have to do more than just taste dishes. I do avoid rich desserts."

Her working—or "eating"—hours vary. Some days Miss Martin devotes to breakfasts and luncheons. Others she spends at mid-day and evening meals.

On a day that is to include six breakfasts she is ready for work by 7:30. For half an hour after she reaches the neighborhood where she is working she walks about, getting the restaurants located and working up an appetite.

Breakfast Begins at 8
By 8 o'clock she enters a restaurant, studies the menu and orders her first breakfast. A series of six usually goes something like this:
Breakfast No. 1—Fruit juice, English muffins, coffee.

Breakfast No. 2—Cereal and coffee.
Breakfast No. 3—Poached egg on toast, coffee.
Breakfast No. 4—Sweet bun, coffee.
Breakfast No. 5—Fruit.
Breakfast No. 6—Coffee.

After six breakfasts Miss Martin isn't likely to feel like eating until 1 or 2 o'clock. Then, for a five-decker luncheon, she would probably order:
Luncheon No. 1—Soup and a light sandwich.
Luncheon No. 2—Fish or meat with vegetables.

She isn't allowed to confine meals to just the dishes she likes best, but doesn't consider that a handicap. "I like everything" she says. "Eggplant is about the only thing I ever really disliked and I can eat that now."

She's Held Many Jobs
Twenty minutes is long enough for Miss Martin to find out all she wants to know about a restaurant. The reason she can make expert observations is because there's not a job—from dishwasher to manager—she hasn't held herself. Graduated from Pratt Institute, she spent a year as dietitian at Sydenham Hospital in New York. Later she was food supervisor for a large corporation operating dining rooms for its employees, worked for several large restaurants, and two years ago was employed by Childs.

Miss Martin was born in Housatonic, Mass. Her parents still live there and she marages to get home often. She likes sports though she doesn't have much time for them, reads a lot, including six newspapers daily.

Her duties keep her whizzing about the city at all hours. Called at her office headquarters, a voice on the telephone replied, "Miss Martin isn't here now. It's her lunch hour."

ANCIENT EXECUTIONS REVEAL

LONDON, (U.P.)—A British doctor has established the cause of the deaths of 11 men who died 1,000 years ago. Dr. Gray Hill found 11 skeletons on Stockbridge Downs. He said the fact that all had their hands behind them, and the absence of broken bones, suggested that death was due to execution by strangulation.

KANAI ISLE GETS ARMORY

HONOLULU, (U.P.)—Formation of three national guard units and erection of an armory on the island of Kauai, 100 miles northwest of here, have been approved by the War Department. Kauai is the most northerly island in the territory and the only one which has been without a national guard.

Possibilities of life are greater on the Galilean moons of Jupiter and on the giant moon of Saturn than on any of the other planets of the universe, according to many astronomers.

Yanks Also Have Hurlers Good as Giants

Gomez' Return to '34 Form Lessens Difference

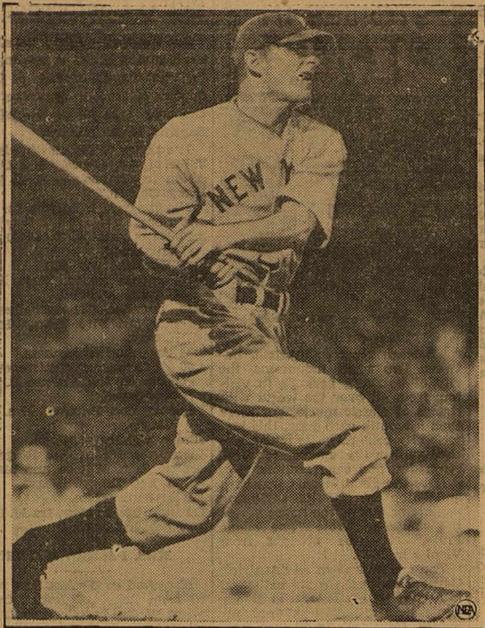

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Despite the presence of Carl Hubbell, Fred Fitzsimmons, and other standbys in the New York Giants' corner, Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox, and other American Leaguers doubt that the Yankees will be out-pitched in the world series.

As Cronin points out, Vernon Gomez probably clinched the right to open another series for the Yanks by holding the Washington cubs to two hits the other afternoon. Gomez has traveled a long way along the hard comeback road in the concluding weeks of the left-hander's second consecutive poor season.

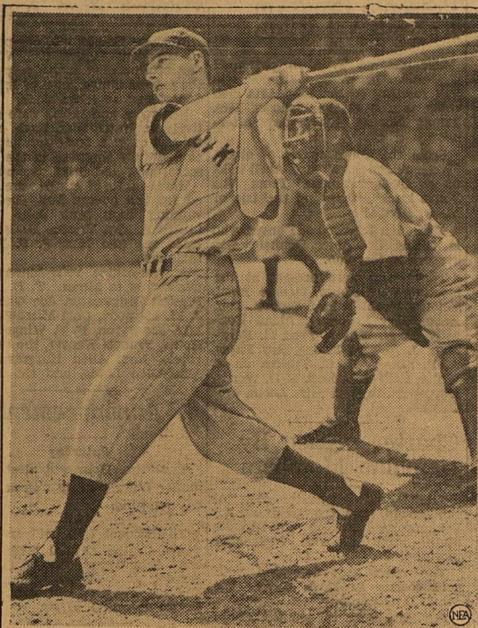

Starting the series has been the ambition of Gomez, and he has made an honest effort to earn the privilege. From 1931, when he broke in as a regular, until this season, Lefty has been the Yankee's top man in the pitching department.

All Gomez lost was his stamina. He is a slightly-built chap who hasn't been the same since his trip around the world two winters ago. It also is no secret that he did not

Foot-footed, eagle-eyed, and plenty potent at the plate are these New York Yankee outfielders, and they'll make plenty of trouble for Giant hurlers in the world series. Selkirk finally has come into his own as a replacement for Babe Ruth, while DiMaggio is the greatest first year man to show up in the majors in years. Johnson, former Red Sox gardner, isn't hitting so well, but he still is a threat at the plate. Powell, obtained from Seantors, is playing grand ball and Seeds, veteran brought up from Montreal to replace the injured Myril Hoag hits timely take the best care of himself the first half of this season.

Gomez is fast again, and with all of his stuff is the match of any pitcher in baseball, including Hubbell.

Red Ruffing Grand Competitive Athlete

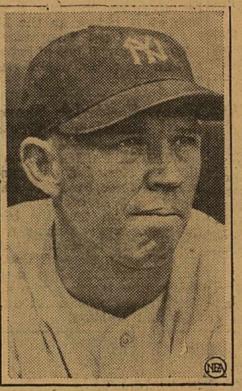

Charley Ruffing no doubt will be the Yankees' second choice. The large redhead is a grand competitive athlete who is likely to dominate the situation on any given day.

Mighty few, if any, pitchers have a more varied assortment than Bump Hadley and Monte Pearson. Either of these right-handers may on a given afternoon be as baffling as the masterful Hubbell.

Besppectacle Johnny Broaca has been very effective since he once more picked up the swing of things in July. Colonel Ruppert's club has superlative relief workers in the experienced Pat Malone and Johnny Murphy.

Jake Powell

Bob Seeds

Cronin urges you to look at the records and see where any kind of a base hit at a given moment would have beaten Hubbell in the two games he took from Washington in the series of 1933. Cronin figures that the Yankees have the necessary power to produce these base hits.

The fact remains, however, that Hubbell prevented a rather capable Washington batting order from getting them.

Extra Base Hits Must Be Choked Off at Source

Joe McCarthy no doubt will need plenty of pitching to match that of Hubbell, Fitzsimmons, Al Smith, Hal Schumacher, Frank Gabler, Harry Gumbert, and Dick Coffman.

While the Giants bank heavily upon the freak deliveries of Hubbell and Fitzsimmons, the left-handed Smith has a curve which may give the left-handed hitting Bill Dickey, Lou Gehrig, and Red Rolfe a few headaches.

Hal Schumacher has yet to find himself following a siege of arm trouble, so scarcely can be classed as dependable. But Frank Gabler and Harry Gumbert are strange faces to the Yanks who may well turn out to be exceedingly mysterious Dick Coffman is no slouch at finishing games.

The Giants may have an edge in pitching, but it isn't the bulge that many imagine. This is particularly true now that Gomez seems to be back in the thick of things on the Yankee side.

The Giants play baseball closer to the vest than the Yanks, but the Polo Ground pitchers will have to choke off the extra base hits of the Ruppert Rifles at the source if the National Leaguers' slight defensive margin is to offset Murderers' Row.

Viewed from any angle, it figures to be quite a series.

THE SPORTS HORN

High school second team 6, Junior high team 0. And the rescue corps for Professor Lackey. He had told the junior lads so often they were not going to be defeated this year that he had begun to believe it himself. And what a let down he got.

In the first place, the Bulldogs scrubs had orders to keep the score close and not hurt any of the youngsters from the other school.

The boys did just that. When they got possession of the ball they would advance it down field two or three first downs and then start passing. And McMullan, scrub passer, has quite a bit less control than does Carl Hubbell with a baseball. His system yesterday was to count three close eyes, throw. Luck was with him once or twice and he managed to connect with receivers but for the most part his throws were as wild as a rookie lefthander in the big leagues.

The Bulldogs will go to Colorado tomorrow night for one of the three trips they will make out of town this season.

Dutch and Bud scouted the Wolves against their game with Snyder last week and came back with reports that despite the defeat by Colorado the club should have easily won the game. They maintained possession of the ball a large portion of the time but the breaks of the game went against them and they came out looser, 12-13.

The Bulldogs will carry a weight advantage of seven or eight points per man when they go into the game and if their pass offense starts clicking they should be able to duplicate last year's score of 12-0.

The Wolves have a fullback, Rankin, that is so tough Dutch and Bud have been alternately playing his position on the second team this week against the regulars. According to the coaches, Rankin will weigh about 165 and has more drive than any other player in this part of the country. He is reported to be good for a few yards each time he carries the ball and is a line-backer de-luxe.

The Bulldog mentors have been outspoken all week in the opinion that the local line will get one of its most severe tests of the season in the game tomorrow night. The Wolf line is a fast charging aggregation that at all times rushed the man with the ball.

Jack Christian, coach of the Wolves, sends forth some humor in the form of a letter to Dutch. Among other things he says the following:

"I hope I can hold you to a score less than 50-0, but I'm afraid if my kids look as bad as they did the other night you will beat me twice that bad."

Christian believes that just about as much as Dutch does. Anytime Midland beats Colorado 50-0 it is time for them to apply for admittance into the Southwest Conference.

The letter from Christian brings to mind a long talk between this department and Coach Thomas of the Monahans Lobos Monday night.

Among other things, Thomas says he will be satisfied if his club can win two conference games this year. He also sincerely hopes Midland won't defeat his club by more than a dozen touchdowns.

That kind of clutter used to be good copy but it isn't even that anymore. It is to darn obvious. And, furthermore, he should make Johnny Smith, the so-and-so, quit telling the world each week just how tough the club is going to be.

And Smith still wants to bet me on the outcome of the Midland-Monahans game; but he still wants a large number of pants.

I'm not even sure I want to bet

J. PLUVIUS SENDS RED RAIDERS TO INDOOR QUARTERS; PREPARATIONS OF CLUB FOR FROG INVASION COMPLETED

LUBBOCK, Sept. 24 (Special)—Chased indoors by J. Pluvius, who did a very thorough job of wetting down the field an otherwise laying the dust of the opening battle, Texas Tech's footballers are doing a lot of "head work" in preparation for Saturday night's conflict with the Horned Frogs of T. C. U. here.

It was a jittery squad that settled uncomfortably in the lounge of the football dormitory, while a heavy rain pelted outside, to hear Coaches Pete Cawthon and Datchy Smith point out the error of their ways in the game with the Texas Wesleyan Rams. The rainy season continued, and with three days to go before clashing with the Sugar Bowl heroes, the Techs still hadn't donned uniforms.

The Red Raiders, if kept indoors much longer, will have the big jitters sure enough by game time Saturday night, and T. C. U. Frogs and fans would do well to join Lubbockians in their petition against excessive moisture.

With the exception of one busted back and a few lesser bruises and scratches, the Raiders put everything on the credit side after the T. W. C. game—except the T. W. C. touchdown. That deficit was more than wiped out as the Techs regurgitated on parade to score 26 points, but there was talk of certain, definite defensive measures to be taken as soon as weather permits.

Maurice Chernosky, big junior halfback, suffered the broken nose in collision with a big Ram, but the member is doing nicely and Maurice should be ready to go again this week. No other players were damaged, although it is unlikely that Fred Byrd, considered a regular halfback this year, will play against T. C. U. A leg injury in scrimmage last week rendered him hors de combat for probably three weeks.

It developed that Tech's No. 1 team is constituted somewhat thusly: Red "Little All-America" Ramsey and J. West, ends; Jesse Browning and Leslie Browning, tackles; Louis Jones and Pete Owens guards; Tex Wington, center; Captain Demp Cannon, quarterback; Jim Neill and Winny Baze, halfbacks, and George Winters, fullback.

The ends and that backfield seem pretty certain to stay put, but other attacks, guards and centers will have something to say about those positions. Bill Holcomb, Alvin Katrola, seniors, and Red Murphy and Chester Hensel, juniors, are by no means out of the tackle race. Frank Guzik and Louis Alexander, are letting it be known that they can play the pivot position.

An attractive schedule has been arranged for the junior high club

And McMullan, scrub passer, has quite a bit less control than does Carl Hubbell with a baseball. His system yesterday was to count three close eyes, throw. Luck was with him once or twice and he managed to connect with receivers but for the most part his throws were as wild as a rookie lefthander in the big leagues.

The Bulldogs will go to Colorado tomorrow night for one of the three trips they will make out of town this season.

Dutch and Bud scouted the Wolves against their game with Snyder last week and came back with reports that despite the defeat by Colorado the club should have easily won the game. They maintained possession of the ball a large portion of the time but the breaks of the game went against them and they came out looser, 12-13.

The Bulldogs will carry a weight advantage of seven or eight points per man when they go into the game and if their pass offense starts clicking they should be able to duplicate last year's score of 12-0.

The Wolves have a fullback, Rankin, that is so tough Dutch and Bud have been alternately playing his position on the second team this week against the regulars. According to the coaches, Rankin will weigh about 165 and has more drive than any other player in this part of the country. He is reported to be good for a few yards each time he carries the ball and is a line-backer de-luxe.

The Bulldog mentors have been outspoken all week in the opinion that the local line will get one of its most severe tests of the season in the game tomorrow night. The Wolf line is a fast charging aggregation that at all times rushed the man with the ball.

Jack Christian, coach of the Wolves, sends forth some humor in the form of a letter to Dutch. Among other things he says the following:

"I hope I can hold you to a score less than 50-0, but I'm afraid if my kids look as bad as they did the other night you will beat me twice that bad."

Christian believes that just about as much as Dutch does. Anytime Midland beats Colorado 50-0 it is time for them to apply for admittance into the Southwest Conference.

The letter from Christian brings to mind a long talk between this department and Coach Thomas of the Monahans Lobos Monday night.

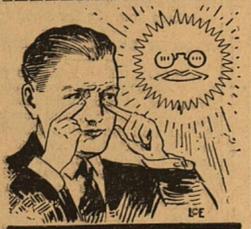

Among other things, Thomas says he will be satisfied if his club can win two conference games this year. He also sincerely hopes Midland won't defeat his club by more than a dozen touchdowns.

That kind of clutter used to be good copy but it isn't even that anymore. It is to darn obvious. And, furthermore, he should make Johnny Smith, the so-and-so, quit telling the world each week just how tough the club is going to be.

And Smith still wants to bet me on the outcome of the Midland-Monahans game; but he still wants a large number of pants.

I'm not even sure I want to bet

STORIES IN STAMPS
 By I. S. Klein

MARS RETURNS TO "HOLY LAND"
 THE Treaty of Versailles again has proved a mere scrap of paper, with Germany's rearming of Helgoland, tiny island in the North Sea. In 1890, when England traded this islet to Germany for Zanzibar, 3000 times as large, the world thought Germany had struck a bad bargain, for Helgoland was doomed to extinction by the sea.
 But Germany built strong concrete retaining walls, and fortified the huge rock so that it became Germany's "Gibraltar of the North Sea." A far cry this was from the "Holy Land" which the Danes had named it before it was taken from them by Britain in 1807. It is less than a square mile in area, one-fifth its size 200 years ago. The island commands the mouths of the Weser, Jade, Elbe, and Eider rivers, and the harbors of Hamburg, Bremen, and Cuxhaven from a vantage point 28 miles off the mainland.
 While still under British rule, Helgoland issued its own stamps in German values, until it came under German ownership. One such stamp is shown here.
