DENIED CRIME

Refused to Admit He Was Murderer Of Girl

LUBBOCK, Oct. 28. (P)—L. O. Cooper died by his own hand in the Lubbock county jail last night rather than face a possible murder charge in the slaying of Juanita Kelly, 21, whose body was found in a shallow grave on his farm.

After leading officers to the hiding place of the girl's skirt and the knife with which she was slain, Cooper asked permission to sleep, saying "I'll finish it up for you in the morning."

He said "two other men," who approached as he and the girl sat drinking in his car killed her, but admitted that the knife used belonged to him. He said that he became frightened and buried the body.

Investigators said that when the body of the girl was found it was disfigured and nearly nude.

The murder of Miss Kelly allegedly took place the night of October 17, when she went to a dance with Cooper and was last seen.

Cooper had been grilled by officers since Monday.

FASCISTS SHOVE OUTPOSTS NEARER TO MADRID TODAY

Announce Ready For Final Thrust At Capital

By Associated Press Spanish Fascists shoved their outpost within ten miles of Madrid today, announcing they were ready for a final thrust rumored imminent.

The government ordered mobilization of all able-bodied to bolster the yielding lines of raw recruits.

West of Madrid the insurgents pushed toward Electoral, strategic government point.

Madrid announced it had plenty of supplies to resist a siege of two months.

Huge fascist warplanes—"blackbirds of death"—splattered Madrid gun emplacements with machine gun bullets today in their daily sortie to terrify the populace into quick and bloodless surrender.

American newspapermen, captured by fascists on the battlefield, told their compatriots in Talavera de la Reina today that:

"It is quite possible the militia will run from Madrid when it is attacked. Madrid can be taken in two days. There are many trenches around Madrid, but they are nothing more than shallow ditches such as the militia deserted at Navalcarnero as soon as the moors got within rifle range."

The American embassy in Madrid issued a note advising Americans still in the capital the building would be reopened if the situation should become more serious.

Cochran Discovery Unable To Recover 8-Inch Casing

By FRANK GARDNER Nitro shot will be set off tomorrow in the northernmost producer yet drilled in the West Texas Permian Basin, Honolulu, Cascade and Devonian No. 1 E. B. Duggan in southeast Cochran county.

Efforts to pull the string of 8-inch casing proved fruitless so operators decided to leave it in the hole and put the well on production. The No. 1 Duggan has been heading an average of 60 barrels of oil daily, with the top of the pay line found at 5,025. A baller and a half of salt water per hour developed.

Expect New Taxes To Provide Funds

Omnibus Tax Bill A Amendment Restricting Eligibility to Grants Finally Approved By the House

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (P)—The third called session of the forty-fourth legislature ended today, adjourning at midnight after enactment of laws radically revising the old age assistance plan and creating a system of unemployment compensation.

The new laws provided emergency measures for the uninterrupted assistance to the aged. The large number of new taxes are estimated to yield $8,000,000 annually.

One of the new laws restricted pensions to persons in "necessary circumstances" and abolished the assistance commission, placing the administration in the hands of a board of control.

The unemployment compensation bill permits Texas to participate in the federal social security act provided the latter is not repealed or held unconstitutional.

Alfred Satisfied Governor Alfred praised the legislature for its accomplishments and said there would not be another special session. "It accomplished all the most pressing needs" he said.

After the house vote on the omnibus bill, the senate quickly convened and passed, 21 to 3, a bill authorizing issuance of $3,000,000 in interest-bearing warrants on the old age assistance fund to pay pensions.

Change Rate It changed the rate of interest to be paid from that approved by the house, however, necessitating further consideration by the lower chamber.

The house recessed until 8 p. m. and the senate until 8:30 p. m., providing the second night meeting of the session.

Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogata, retiring from office, was unanimously elected president pro tempore of the senate to serve until the next session.

Just before the all-important vote on the report, the house indicated sharp reversal of sentiment in previous tests by adopting a resolution by Rep. Emmett Morse of Houston which would have permitted appointment of a new committee to adjust differences between the houses.

Sentiment for final action was so strong, however, that rules were suspended and a vote had directly on the conference report at hand.

Last minute appeals by representatives who long had opposed liberalization but announced they would switch their votes in order to provide revenue for pensions in an admitted emergency apparently settled the issue.

UNIVERSITY GETS CLEAN SLATE FROM MEMBERS OF HOUSE

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (P)—The house of representatives today had given the University of Texas a vote of confidence and commended the faculty for their conduct during the legislative investigation of reported communistic and atheistic teachings at the university.

The probe ended last night and the committee was discharged. A report by a minority member of the committee said that communism and atheism of a necessity were taught in the university but as "knowledge only with no attempt to influence the beliefs of any pupils in such matters."

Chairman Joe Caldwell and member Tom Cooper of the committee declined to testify at a justice of peace inquiry how certain letters figuring in the inquiry came into their possession. They pleaded immunity under the constitution from all questioning.

'CHILD BANDITS' GIVEN SENTENCES

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 28. (P)—Probate Judge Sam O. Bates Tuesday sentenced three "child bandits" to five-year terms in institutions for juveniles, but made reservations for early paroles for good behavior.

Fifteen-year-old Priscilla Frost, Beloit, Wis., drew a sentence to be served at Good Shepherd Convent at Memphis. However, if her behavior is satisfactory, she is to be paroled at the end of one year.

Chester Johnson, 16, and Dick Flannery, 15, both of Chicago, will be sent to the state training and agricultural school at Nashville. They are to be paroled at the end of two years if their conduct is satisfactory.

The children testified they came here from Chicago with a youth whom they described as "the ringleader," and participated in a drug store holdup that netted about $50.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (U.P)—The Green Bay police court has formed a "penmanship class" in which traffic law violators are "enrolled." Recently two boys, one arrested for speeding and the other for illegal possession of an automobile, were ordered to write the laws covering their offenses 5 and 25 times, respectively.

Metropolitan Area Of New York Is Objective

(By Associated Press) The campaign paths of President Roosevelt and Governor Landon led to the New York metropolitan area today.

Three speeches were on the Roosevelt program, dedicating the gymnasium of Brooklyn College, the fiftieth anniversary of Statue of Liberty and a Roosevelt park talk.

Landon decided to stop at Trenton and Newark before reaching New York.

Roosevelt's speech commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Statue of Liberty has been labeled "non-political" by the White House; but campaign addresses have been scheduled for Wilkes-Barre, N. J., and Wilmington, Del., Thursday.

Coupling promises to expand the civil service and consolidate government agencies, the republican nominee closed his campaign for Pennsylvania's 36 electoral votes last night with an address in Pittsburgh.

Salt Lake City Sees New High Birth Rate

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. — New York, with its 47 electoral votes, is the biggest of all the states and when they talk election pluralities in the Empire state they talk in big figures.

The popular vote probably will exceed 5,000,000. And Democratic politicians talk just as glibly about a plurality of 1,000,000 in New York City as Republican politicians speak of a margin of 800,000 or 900,000 upstate.

No one imagines that Landon could be elected without carrying New York, although it is easily conceivable that Roosevelt might. One interesting shift of political opinion your correspondent notices after a three-week absence from the state. Whereas big shots in both parties previously thought Pennsylvania was more likely to go for Roosevelt than New York, they now believe New York is a better bet than the Keystone state for the president.

As a general statement, it is fair to say that Republican politicians are leaning on the Literary Digest poll, which indicates a Landon victory in New York by somewhere around 500,000, and that the Democrats in command of the state campaign pay homage to the comprehensive New York Daily News poll, which indicates a Roosevelt plurality of more than 800,000.

The American Institute of Public Opinion gives the state to Roosevelt by a shade.

Farmers For Landon

Regardless of the size of Roosevelt's New York City plurality, it can be reported that although nearly all purely rural counties upstate show a marked decline in Roosevelt sentiment since 1932, there is an increase of Roosevelt straw votes wherever upstate counties are importantly industrialized.

Democrats will take a 2 to 1 licking in communities where farmers predominate heavily, but will hold down Landon's upstate majority by showing strength wherever industrial labor is to be found.

Upstate labor, according to most sources, has heretofore usually been Republican.

About two-thirds of the state vote is in communities of 7000 or 8000 or more, although many communities of up to 10,000 are not necessarily industrialized.

The New Deal is the only important issue in New York state and both sides agree that the tremendously increased registration is due either to protest against or support of it.

The gubernatorial fight is an echo of the national conflict, and Republicans attack the "Little New Deal" of Gov. Herbert Lehman.

From excellent sources I get the assertion that the Roosevelt and Lehman vote will run about even, but other reports differ, including those which quote unidentified Tammany leaders as saying the state ticket will run well behind the national ticket in New York City.

Worried By Propaganda

As Democratic campaign headquarters, one finds profound but unadmitted concern over the Republican "pey envelope" propaganda which seeks to make the contributory old age pension plan and its employer-employee assessment an issue against the New Deal.

If this propaganda is successful, it may cut into the pro-Roosevelt labor vote.

Lehman, who has twice been elected governor by astonishingly large majorities of more than 800,000 and ran this year only under heavy pressure from Roosevelt, is opposed by Judge William F. Bleakley of Westchester county, who was picked—partly because he was a Catholic—to whittle down the Democratic vote in the metropolis.

The state party platforms model after the national ones and Bleakley attacks government extravagance, protests harassment of business, and generally slams New Deal policies.

Lehman stands on a record of support for progressive legislation, including strict regulation of public utilities plus co-operation with New Deal legislation, state social security bills which a Republican legislature blocked, and compulsory audit of "milk trust" books in the interests of both farmers and consumers.

The New York Evening Post has revealed certain alleged private financial transactions of Bleakley during his judicial tenure and this may prove important. Some voters upstate will support Lehman, the Jew rather than Bleakley the Roman Catholic, but many Tammany Irishmen in New York City will turn to Bleakley, some because Lehman once vetoed a badly written bill providing free transportation for parochial school children.

Election Day Suggestions

extent to which Al has swayed votes is just a big question mark.

Tammany, internally torn by a fight for control, professes to be going down the line for Roosevelt and most close observers say Tammany won't figure importantly, anyway, and finds its constituency so adulatory of Roosevelt that it wouldn't dare fight him, even if its chief interest were not in local candidates, as it is.

Party leaders in Brooklyn, the Bronx, Richmond and Queens—the four boroughs outside Tammany control—a solid for Roosevelt and Lehman. There are 180,000 new registrants in Brooklyn, a borough which everyone believes the machine can deliver by a huge plurality.

Republicans lean heavily on Al Smith's influence in the city. The Farley-federal machine, extending down into WPA ranks; a Jewish vote apparently solidified for Roosevelt by Republican emphasis on the name of David Dubinsky; a predominantly Democratic Negro vote; the American Labor Party, which is making a state-wide Roosevelt-Lehman campaign and is considered the biggest factor in the city's registration increases; and Mayor La Guardia and the independent progressive group fighting for Roosevelt.

Play on Tammany's Fears

Republicans seek to enrage Tammany by the assurance that the American Labor Party will not only divert votes from local Democratic candidates, but will also be Roose-

Australia Asks Baseball Tour by Clubs From U. S.

SYDNEY, (U.P.) — The New South Wales Baseball Association has decided to take advantage of Australia's celebration of its 10th anniversary in 1938 to make the nation completely baseball conscious by inviting two professional teams from the United States for a series of games here.

Negotiations have been opened both with the anniversary committee and with the National League in the United States.

While the state has expressed a willingness to help the project financially, it will be up to the Baseball Association to make the series such an event in Australian life that even the bushmen will soon be playing baseball.

The proposal to the National League embraces a tour by teams of front-rank players. It may be decided necessary and desirable to insure the financial success of the venture by playing a series of exhibition games at Honolulu and in Japan before reaching Australia.

CHICAGO, (U.P.) — United Airlines officials plan literally to lead their airplanes "home by the nose."

W. A. Patterson, president announced that company engineers had perfected a new "anti-static" airplane radio antenna placed in the nose of the ship and designed to insure clear reception of voice and directive beam signals despite heavy static created by snow or rain conditions.

Halfback Fast With The Handicap of Short Leg

EAST LANSING, Mich. (U.P.) — Jack Coolidge of Muskegon, Mich., fleet halfback at Michigan State College, is an annual worry to the stockroom boy.

It developed on an inventory of stockroom records that Jack requires a 7 1/2 shoe on one foot and an 8 1/2 on the other. Not only does he require a larger shoe on one foot, but one leg is a half-inch shorter than the other and one of the shoes must be built up to keep him on even keel.

These defects have not handicapped Coolidge, who is battling on even terms with Steve Sebo of Battle Creek, Mich., for the starting right half job. He is one of the fleetest boys on the squad.

Woman Asks Alimony Below Sum Offered

ELYRIA, O. (U.P.) — Mrs. Julia Toth is conservative when it comes to alimony.

"How much do you think you ought to have for yourself and your 15-year-old son?" Judge D. A. Cook asked.

"Six dollars a week," she replied.

Judge Cook turned to her husband, explained it was his duty to support his wife and son until their case was finally disposed of, asked him what he thought they should have.

"I think she ought to have $10 a week," he answered.

"I don't want $10. Six is enough," snapped Mrs. Toth.

Non-plussed, Judge Cook shook his head. "I've never had a case quite like this." He set the alimony at $10.

Hallowe'en on Grid When Trapped Freighter Fought Against Sea's Might

It's Hallowe'en every Saturday for Andy Roddenberry, University of Georgia quarter-back. Andy, suffering from a broken nose, has to wear a special mask to protect his face. Here he is with the awesome helmet that any youngster would be proud to wear on Oct. 31, the night the witches cavort.

Half of $1000 Bill Is Idea for Yucca Film

Half a loaf, according to the sages, is better than none. But one half of a thousand dollar bill is not worth any more than half a postage stamp. "Two in a Crowd", the romantic comedy drama showing today and tomorrow at the Yucca theatre is the rollicking tale of two young moderns who start without even half a loaf. Where they go from that point and how they finish, is told in the diverting screen story.

The principal characters in this Universal film offering, portrayed by Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea, each finds half of a torn thousand dollar bill. It has been whisked out of a window during the course of a wild New Year's Eve party, where the money flies faster than the wine, and wine flows like Niagara.

After the pair find the divided currency, they bring it back to par value by pasting the bank note together. In joining their fortunes, they also interweave their lives. Then they proceed to get themselves into a maze of tangled situations, madder by the minute.

The girl has previously received $500 from her small town suitor to buy a wedding trousseau. Instead, she spends it for a dramatic course and is ashamed to go back home. Her new boy friend is almost thrown in jail when he tries to cash the bill at the same bank where it had been stolen earlier. To make things more complicated, the bank robbers get on his trail and things happen at ear-flapping speed.

"Two in a Crowd" directed by Alfred E. Green, includes such excellent players as Henry Armetta, Allison Skipworth, Reginald Denny, Nata Pendleton, Elisha Cook, Jr., and Andy Clyde.

When Yard Was Decreed First, It Was From "Here to Thar"

How Measurements Came Into Being

By means of colored pictures, legends and actual instruments, hundreds of persons each day learn that linear standards originated naturally from parts of the human body. These persons stand amazed before a display of small rectangular pieces of hardened steel, their faces polished to the brilliancy of burnished silver.

The first known measurement was the length of a man's forearm from the point of the elbow to the end of the middle finger. This is the beginning of the thrilling story told in the display presented by the Johansson division of the Ford Motor Company in the Ford building at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. The display includes measuring instruments employed from 1740 to 1800.

With the small gauge blocks invented by C. E. Johansson, it is possible to measure in terms 15,000 times finer than a human hair. This is the startling information that interests visitors to the Ford building. With Johansson blocks it is possible for man to measure accurately "within two millionths of an inch." Two millionths of an inch, for example, is about 1400 times "thinner" than the average newspaper sheet.

Here's Practical Value The nontechnical persons who try to get a mental picture of a millionth of an inch ask "what is the practical value of such extremely fine measurement?" The answer is simple—without this means of accurate measurement the building of automobiles in great numbers would be impossible. The Ford car, for example, has 186

When the yard first came into being, it was because Henry I, King of England, decreed the distance from the point of his nose to the end of his thumb was the lawful yard. And what Henry said in those days went. And a digit was the breadth of a finger, from .72 to .75 inch. Measuring by use of the digit is portrayed in the lower photograph, one of a series of murals showing the development of measurement to the present-day accuracy of the Johansson gauges, used in the making of Ford V-8, Lincoln and Lincoln-Zephyr motor cars.

points of contact in which tolerances of less than five 1/10,000ths of an inch are required.

History in Murals By means of colored murals, the Johansson exhibit shows the history of the measurement of length. One picture explains that the digit was the breadth of a finger, or from .72 to .75 inch. The palm-width across an open hand at the base of the fingers measured about 3 inches. In 1324, Edward II of England decreed that three barley corn grains taken from the center of the ear placed end to end, equalled an inch. A foot ranged from 9 1/2 to 19 inches. Henry I ruled the distance from the point of his nose to the end of his thumb was the lawful yard. In the sixteenth century, the lawful rod was the length of the left foot of 16 men lined up as they left church on a Sunday morning.

HONOLULU (U.P.)—Middle Western farmers seeking greener pastures for their stock might try Hawaii. A recent survey reveals that more than half of the islands' total area—6435 square miles—is classed as pasture. One-fourth of the archipelago is forest and about one-seventh waste land.

duced a crevice into which the sand slipped. An arrow that is too stiff to bend will fly to the left of the target. It is deflected from its course by contact with the bow as it glides past.

The SPORTS HORN

BY JESS RODGERS

Dear Jess:
 Say, boy, do you know where I can find a good football team to write about? This one here has completely jumped the traces on me, everything has gone "screwy."
 We are through—they tell me—so I guess we are. Their more games to drag through before the season is over. The whole team may fold up before that time, though.

The above plaintive call comes from none other than Johnny Smith, he who a little while back would have you know that Monahans should have been in Class-A this season and would have been had officials of the larger districts not been afraid of them.

Well, Johnny, you might try writing about the Bulldogs if you really want to write about a good team.

Smith took a vacation, and see what happened. The Monahans club took it on the chin three consecutive times. He says he went all over three states while taking his time off. He evidently didn't go into Arkansas—they wouldn't have ever let him leave. He's their kind of folks.

It will be the Bulldogs versus Bowie-Hi of El Paso here Friday night and the home club should add another scalp to their belt. But there is a big IF staring the club in the face. Wafford, because of a severe cold and sore throat was forced to play the Wink game while not in the best of condition and he has failed to show any improvement to date.

Despite orders he was up and around yesterday after three days in bed but there is no cinch he will stay up. He is so hoarse he sounds like Frank Gardner when he talks.

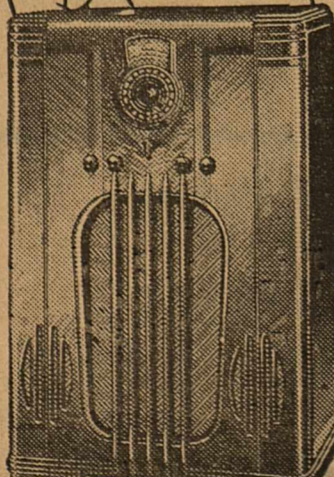

Without the big boy in there Friday night Bulldog hopes would really be dimmed. And it is a cinch Duteh will not let him in the game unless he is in top form. The club

Sutherland Gives Gophers Slight Edge In Grid Battle With Strong Northwestern

Irish, Gaels Named Favorites In Tussels

BY JOCK SUTHERLAND
Pittsburgh Head Coach

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—Chicago Association of Commerce knew something in declaring this a football week. The gridiron world will be turned in on the Chicago district on Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

Saturday sees the phenomenal Minnesota varsity engaging Northwestern at Evanston in an engagement which may go a long way toward settling the mythical national championship as well as such a thing possibly can be determined.

That same afternoon in nearby South Bend, Notre Dame again comes to grips with Ohio State.

The traveling circus representing Saint Mary's College of California looks up with Marquette on Friday night in a game that will fill Chicago's spacious Soldier's Field. The Chicago Park district is sponsoring this battle for its employe's welfare fund.

Northwestern generally is conceded a better chance against Minnesota than any club deployed against the Gophers since they edged Pittsburgh in that memorable scrap early in the campaign of 1934. The Purple plays sound football and has a number of individual stars, but it is difficult to pick against an outfit that has been as consistent as the one drilled by the very able Bernie Bierman. I give Minnesota a slight margin.

Against Ohio State, Notre Dame will have the confidence born of its late and winning rally of the thriller of a year ago. The Buckeye attack has been unsteady. I like the Irish.

Sees Fordham Too Robust

Marquette has an unusually fine all-around backfield luminary in Buzz Buiuid, but the Milwaukee aggression is shy reserve backs. Slip Madigan has turned out a number of outstanding teams at St. Mary's and this fall's edition is one of the most accomplished and best balanced of all. The Galloping Gaels moved to the battleground directly after their game with Fordham. They have done nothing but practice, play, and talk football for days. They figure to cop.

I suspect that Fordham will prove a bit too robust defensively for Pittsburgh in New York. The Rams held Pitt to a total of exactly 68 yards last autumn, which is the least a Panther club ever has gained. The Panthers are a young club and their attack has not been consistent.

Pennsylvania is my choice over Navy, largely because it should be in better physical condition following a comparative breather with Brown. The Midgies on the other hand, are tackling the Quakers after savage battles with Yale and Princeton.

I favor Michigan State over Boston College, which hasn't shown too much in an offensive way.

Army packs too much heavy artillery for Colgate. Columbia didn't like its tie with Cornell last season, and figures to make up for it against Carl Snaveley's sophomores. Dartmouth last year broke the jinx which the Yale Bowl had been to Hanover teams for years, and I have an idea that the Green will again prevail.

Princeton and Harvard launch the season's competition in the Big Three, with the Crimson lacking material with which to combat several opponents on its schedule.

Holy Cross is one of the eastern powers, and I have a hunch that Dr. Eddie Anderson's squad has a little too much stuff for the Temple team of the grand old man, Pop Warner.

Rice should dispose of George

Washington in an intersectional engagement.

Illinois Over Michigan
 Purdue would be a bit too much for Caregie Tech on even terms, and the Boiler-makers have an edge in that the Plaid is travel-worn and tired from a severe early season grind.

I am in a position to know that Duquesne is a bit too accomplished for Detroit, despite its upset defeat by West Virginia Wesleyan.

Illinois is improving and should get by Michigan's Wolves. Indiana

MARINE DEFENSE URGED

LONDON (U.P.)—The suggestion that mercantile marine officers should go through a course in defense is made by the Officers' Federation in its annual report. The course should include gunnery, anti-aircraft methods, depth charges, smoke screening and especially station-keeping and convoy organization, the report states.

is vastly improved this trip and packs a few too many tricks for Ozzie Simmons and his Iowa company. Wisconsin should turn back Chicago, but it figures to be close.

Louisiana State has one of the finest arrays in the country, and must be selected as a winner over Vanderbilt. North Carolina is too strong for North Carolina State. Alabama is the choice over Kentucky on all round strength. Major Bob Neyland has brought Tennessee a long way back — fair enough to hurdle Georgia. Duke will win as it pleases from Washington and Lee.

The majority pick Texas over Southern Methodist sophomores, but I am inclined to lean the other way. Sammy Baugh's passing gives Texas Christian a margin over Baylor, a team that got going in the last period against Texas after being and early season disappointment. Texas A. & M. figures to emerge victorious in a passing battle with Arkansas.

Oklahoma should repel Iowa State, and Tulsa is my choice over Kansas State. Nebraska is altogether too powerful for Missouri and Kansas should win from Arizona with little trouble.

Auburn will find Santa Clara a hard bunch of Bronchos to tame in San Francisco after a transcontinental trip.

Stanford is about due to repulse U. C. L. A. California is my pick against Washington State, and Washington has too much power for Oregon.

WHERE FRENCH KINGS WERE CROWNED

FOR the fourth time, the famous cathedral at Rheims, France, has been rebuilt. It was once the most magnificent church in Europe. On its ground St. Remi crowned King Clovis, in 496 A. D., and there in the ninth century the first Rheims cathedral was built. Here, for centuries, all the French kings were crowned.

After being burned down, it was rebuilt in the 11th century. The cathedral burned again in 1211, was rebuilt, and again destroyed by fire in 1481. During this interval the church contained more than 2300 statues and statuettes, and became known as the "Bible in stone."

Then, during the World War, the Germans rained 30,000 shells upon the edifice, and it became a tragic ruin. Now, through aid from America and other countries, the great cathedral has been rebuilt, matching as closely as possible its former self. France, in 1930, issued a stamp showing the finished house of worship.

New Beauty Aids Are Easy to Use

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Most interesting on cosmetic counters this week are items designed to simplify beauty routines as well as make you lovelier. It seems that cosmeticians have outdone themselves to make their wares easy, even amusing, to use.

A hand lotion that has been a favorite for years and years now comes in a bottle with special stopper which acts as a drop-at-a-time dispenser. You turn the bottle upside down, press the dispenser top against your hand and get only one large drop, instead of quantities of liquid, half of which spills on the floor or in the wash basin. This does away with waste and, incidentally, prevents dust and dirt from entering the neck of the bottle.

A well known cologne now is put out in a small siphon which operates in the same manner as a soda water siphon. Instead of patting yourself with cologne, you press a button and spray it on. The siphon lasts for years. You simply buy refills for the bottle.

Then, too, there is a new curler gadget that will interest girls who have trouble with ringlet ends. You roll a strand of hair around the metal gadget, into the ends of which you have stuck a bobby pin or a strong hairpin, then push the roll off and over the pin. When the curls are quite dry, pull out the bobby pins.

Also new are lipsticks of a special composition that prevents lumps and smears. One of these

The Simple Routines of a Dancer Help Maintain Beautiful Posture, Hair

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Posture and foot exercises, daily rest treatments for the eyes and a shampoo twice a week are the beauty routines that Ruth Harrison, lovely musical comedy dancer, is most conscientious about.

"I think every woman should learn to stand, walk and sit gracefully," Miss Harrison says. "One of two simple posture exercises in the morning and, through the day, a thought or two about carriage ought to help a great deal."

Ruth Harrison's own posture is perfection itself. She stands "tall," with weight on both feet. There is no exaggerated hollow in her back so her hips look neat and trim and her stomach flat.

"I wash my hair twice a week," the pretty blonde star continued. "I give it one hundred strokes with the hairbrush night and morning and I was it with a harmless liquid shampoo, made from castile soap shavings and plain water. Sometimes I finish with a rinse, made from the whites of three eggs and a pint of luke-warm water. Whenever possible I dry it by hand."

Miss Harrison went on to talk about the special care she takes of her eyes. For fifteen minutes each afternoon she "palms" them. This is done by wetting the palms and holding them gently over the closed lids. It relieves tension and leaves the pupils clear and sparkling.

The dancer's foot exercises are extremely simple, but, if done regularly, will strengthen toes and arches. For five minutes each morning, she walks about her room in bare feet, then jicks up a ping pong ball or a large marble with her toes. This is repeated about twenty times with each foot. She buys shoes carefully, making sure that they fit the arches of her feet snugly and that the lasts are exactly right.

The "burden" of being one of the world's wealthiest girls didn't weigh heavily on Mildred Yount, 16, shown here in a new picture, as she enjoyed all the thrills of the Texas Centennial exposition in Dallas. Miss Yount, of Beaumont, Tex., is heirress to a $38,000,000 oil fortune.

Rural Schools

School work at Prairie Lee has begun again after a recess of five weeks for cotton picking, and every one has begun his work with renewed interest, principal A. M. Bryant reported today.

Although the week has been a busy one with everyone, several visitors have expressed sincere interest in the work of the school, and it is great to observe the eagerness of the children to study and prepare for the work. It is interesting also to note the sacrifices many patrons are making to send their children to school.

The muddy roads make it difficult for the bus to make its route, the roads having been lately graded up.

The school has the promise of road graders to level up the school grounds. After this is done playground equipment will be erected for the year.

An amusing evening was enjoyed by Messrs. and Meses. W. N. Cole, Kirby Sims, J. T. Baker, J. C. Hudson, D. M. Hays, Mrs. S. P. Hall, the club guest, Mrs. J. F. Tiller of Odessa, and the host and hostess.

Don Davis Home Scene of Bridgette Party Tuesday

Mrs. Don Davis was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Bridgette club in her new home, 307 N. G. which was further enhanced by bright yellow chrysanthemums in harmony with her Hallowe'en color scheme.

Three tables of bridge were played during the afternoon with high score going to Mrs. J. J. Kelly, and second high going to Mrs. E. D. Richardson.

An attractive refreshment plate with pumpkin faces made out of crackers and pimento cheese was served to the following guests: Meses. J. J. Kelly, Oscar Cooper, Bill Van Huss, A. E. Horst, R. R. Cowan, E. D. Richardson, A. P. Baker, L. A. Tullos, Kinnie Reese, Red Knight, Harry Prickett, and Mrs. Jack Hawkins, club guest, and Mrs. A. Knickerbocker, tea guest.

1937 Models ON DISPLAY at all Buick Showrooms

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $765

WITH automobiles as with everything else, there has to be a leader of the flock.

Sure it's a Buick - the most stunning, sizeable, satisfying Buick that ever gladdened your startled gaze - but its good looks are literally the least of it.

Behind that massive radiator grille and under that gorgeous bonnet is an even bigger, smoother, valve-in-head straight-eight Buick engine, fed by an all-position aerobrot carburetor that does thrifty things with gasoline.

And control of this magnificent performer - from thrilling take-off all through the range of speeds and including safe-stop hydraulic braking - is soft and easy as a fork in pie.

You can't describe it, so why handicap language this way - come in, now, see for yourself.

It so perfectly captures in its beautifully contoured metal the dash and spirit of its buoyant action that it looks fast even when it's standing still!

Air Lines Employ 270 Hostesses Each Day

There are 270 young women employed as hostesses, and 42 men employed as stewards on American-operated air lines, according to the most recent reports from the lines to the Bureau of Air Commerce, Department of Commerce. Announcing these totals today, Eugene L. Vidal, Director of Air Commerce, said that four domestic air lines employ hostesses and one line extending to foreign countries employs stewards.

In October, 1935, there were 197 hostesses, all on domestic lines. There were three male stewards on domestic air lines a year ago and there also were stewards on foreign extensions, but the total is not available in Bureau records.

The air lines which have hostesses on their airplanes include American Airlines, Transcontinental and Western Air, United Air Lines and Western Air Express. American Airlines has one steward, and Pan American Airways, operating to Latin America and across the Pacific, has 41 stewards.

The Bureau of Air Commerce has no jurisdiction over hostesses and stewards, as it does with respect to qualifications of pilots and dispatchers, and airworthiness of equipment, but does request the lines to include in their reports the number of hostesses and stewards employed.

Three Forms Approved For Coronation Medal

LONDON, (U.P.)—Three forms which the Coronation medals will take have been approved by the Deputy Master of the Royal Mint, Sir Robert Johnson.

They will be the official medal which will be registered, with both obverse and reverse designed by the mint; a medal in silver or bronze, with the obverse designed by the mint and the reverse left clear for municipal coats of arms or other designs required, and medals on which both obverse and reverse are designed by the individual medallist in each case.

If you think that America has gone ultra-streamline in its automobile models, you ought to see Paris. The well-to-do Frenchman, with a flair for the extreme will drive something like this in the next year: probably the Peugeot, top, bearing a marked resemblance to the newer type of airplanes, or the Bugatti, below, featured by improved aerodynamic design. These pictures were taken at the 30th annual Paris Motor Show.

Chicago Is Theme Of Next Broadcast By Carveth Wells

The intriguing story of Chicago—its growth from a fever-stricken swamp to a great commercial center—will be told by Carveth Wells Sunday, November 1, when he describes that city's many attractions in his Continental Oil Company broadcast, "Exploring America with Conoco and Carveth Wells."

It was thousands of years ago, Wells explains, that Chicago's destiny as the focal point of a region of great wealth was determined—when a great sheet of ice gouged out the basin of the Great Lakes, making the site of Chicago an ideal place for railroads to converge as well as a great inland seaport—"one of the greatest centers of international trade."

And for the tourist, says Wells, "Chicago is simply full of amazing things to see"—including Jackson Park, famous State Street, Lincoln Park, Museum of Science and Industry, University of Chicago, Grant Park, Field Museum of Natural History, Adler Planetarium, Shedd Aquarium, the Art Institute, Chicago Historical Society, and Chinatown, all of which will be discussed by the well known reporter-explorer.

"The Museum of Science and Industry is unquestionably one of the most fascinating places to explore in Chicago," Wells says. "The exterior alone, one of the finest examples of classic architecture, is well worth seeing. But once inside, you can see the record of man's work upon earth—from the age of the Pyramid builders to that of electricity and mass production."

Local listeners who wish to tune in on Carveth Wells Sunday, November 1, may do so by dialing station WFAA at 12:30 o'clock.

Legion Singers Visit Exposition

The famous Hot Springs National Park trio and their accompanist are pictured here in the court of the Ford building at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. The trio captured first honors at the recent American Legion convention in Cleveland. They were part of a motorcade of 200 Arkansas citizens who visited the Centennial and Ford Exposition in Dallas. From left to right, Miss Madge Witt, alto, who formerly sang over KMOX, St. Louis; Mrs. Ralph Teed, first soprano, former contributor to KOA, Denver; Mrs. Howell Brewer, second soprano, and Mrs. John Summers, accompanist.

Relic Will Be Carved Into Cribbage Board

HONOLULU, (U.P.)—A rib from the skeleton of the old British man o' war the Briton, which patrolled the Pacific a century ago and now lies in the Bay of Wrecks on Christmas Island, has been brought to Honolulu by Capt. Bill Anderson in his sampan, Islander.

In strange contrast to the dignity it once claimed, the rib, which is made of camphor wood, will be carved into cribbage boards.

Apricot Stones Yield Powerful Explosives

SYDNEY, (U.P.)—The latest war industry to bring wealth to Australia is that of growing apricots.

The discovery that a material for powerful explosives exists in all stones has created a greater demand for apricots here than can be supplied. The market is entirely overseas.

Jam or dried apricots have become a mere by-product in comparison with the more important one of producing apricot stones.

OIL-PLATING DONE HERE

(BUT BE SURE YOU READ ALL THE OTHER WINTER OIL ADS, TOO)

You will find most of the emphasis these days, on oil that flows freely.

Well and good. You SHOULD use your correct Winter grade, but . . . You can see that the more freely any oil flows, the more freely it FLOWS DOWN OFF the pistons, cylinders, and other parts when you stop.

Then in starting up cold, where is mere free-flowing oil?

It is waiting to be pumped up on the job. And even in much warmer weather than this—according to engineering opinion—those oil-starved waits can cost you more engine wear than all the rest of your driving!

But this Winter with free-flowing Germ Processed oil, you can have your engine Oil-Plated! . . . much more than a change to OUR Conoco Germ Processed oil. . . really a change to unbroken Winter lubrication for YOUR engine. It may stand cold for hours—days—weeks. Yet the slippy Oil-Plating formed only by patented Germ Processed oil, will always be UP IN ADVANCE. Pistons slip easy. Starter spins. Oil-Plated engine obliges—and lives the good life, on a stingy diet of Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

RICHMOND, Va. (U.P.)—Cotton fabric will be used by the state highway department for paving the floor of a bridge over the Pamunkey river at West Point, Va., in connection with similar Federal-State experimental projects in other parts of the country.

Handcock passed through here from the printers' home at Colorado Springs, where he has done his rights when the urge to wander is not too strong.

WTCC Asks Support To Pass Proposed Amendment No. 6

Support of wide political interests was claimed for Amendment No. 6 in a last minute appeal by the author, George Moffett of Chihuahua, to voters in the general election, November 3. While the call was general to all Texans, it has particular import for West Texans, who reside in 65 per cent of the state's territory, pay 45 per cent of all money going into the state treasury, and yet have only 35 per cent of the 150 members of the lower house at Austin.

"Among the active supporters working for its passage," said Moffett, "are the following: Honorable Coke R. Stevenson, speaker of the house; Senator Clint Small of Amarillo; Representative Jack Padgett, Austin member of the house; and Jim Ferguson former governor and known as the 'killer' of more amendments than any other Texan. All four have come out in the open for the measure, which provides for equalization of legislative representation on a basis of geography as well as population in the laying out of legislative districts. The author is chairman of the legislative committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Not 'Agin' This One
Ferguson, whose well-known "I'm 'Agin' it" has meant the death knell for many a proposal, discusses the provisions of this one: "Amendment No. 6 provides a limitation on the number of legislators that can be elected from any one county. The amendment proposes to restrict the number of representatives from any county to seven, unless a county has more than 700,000 people, and then one additional member to each additional 100,000 population. The object of this amendment is to prevent concentration of legislative power in the large cities. If the six large cities of the state should reach an average of one-half million each, they could elect enough members of the legislature in the house and senate to absolutely control all legislation and we would see six counties controlling the remaining 248 counties. I think this is an important amendment and should be adopted."

Another politician with long experience is Speaker Stevenson: "My experience in the legislature has been that a small group can, by effective cooperation, become the deciding factor in legislation. Members elected from a few densely populated counties are far more likely to work together than members elected from scattered areas. For this reason, Amendment No. 6 seems to be a desirable balance wheel. Furthermore, a county with 500,000 people is not likely to have any greater variety of interests than a county with 100,000 people and, therefore, there is not the need for an increase in members in such a county.

Presenting "Lunch Time at Dionneville"—one of the most striking pictures of the quintuplets you've seen in a long while. Tin cups in hand for their morning snack outside their log-hewn nursery, the quins are a happy lot. Starting at the left there's Marie. Her gesture looks like a hint for a refill, doesn't it? Next is Cecile, and does she exude an air of perfect gastronomic satisfaction. Then Emilie—ah, the cameraman has caught her attention. He has caught Annette's attention, too, but she isn't putting down her precious cup for anyone! She's drinking and taking a sly peek at the same time. And, last, Yvonne. A bit determined about something or other, the lips would seem to indicate. Maybe it's more luncheon. Her cup's empty.

"Furthermore, our federal constitution in many ways reflects the principle that geography as well as population should be considered in our legislative set-up, and the supreme court of the United States has upheld this contention."

Thirty States Have It
The release of Padgett, Austin member, follows:

"My understanding is that approximately 30 states, actually do consider geography as well as population, in apportioning the members of their law making body among the various counties of their domain. Since Texas has more than twice as many counties as any other state, and since there is probably greater diversity of interest in Texas than in any other state, it seems to me highly proper that the balance wheel proposed by Amendment No. 6 be inserted in our constitution."

The tendency toward centralization has gone too far already to insure the perpetuation of a healthy condition, declares Senator Small. "Representation in the legislature should be well diffused over the entire state, just as are the base industries. The products of the range the farm, the forest, the mine, or the oil or gas well—these are things that have made Texas. But unless our constitution is amended, concentration and centralization of legislative power will continue. I honestly believe the adoption of this amendment is necessary to insure the continued prosperity and proper development of our state."

38,000 Farmers Are Aided Through RA

AMARILLO, Oct. 28—In the year ending September 1, the debts of 38,728 farmers throughout the country have been reduced $30,446,610 through the voluntary Farm Debt Adjustment Program sponsored by the Resettlement Administration. It was announced today by Paul V. Maris, acting director of the Rural Rehabilitation Division. As a result of this activity, $2,181,867 in delinquent taxes has been paid to local governments.

Prior to adjustment these 38,728 farmers owed $118,940,410; after adjustment, $88,493,800. Their burden of debt was reduced 25 per cent.

The average debt reduction was $786, and the average farmer's indebtedness following adjustment was $2,285.

Fifty one per cent of all cases under consideration were adjusted. At the end of the period 24,810 cases were pending.

"All of these cases were adjusted voluntarily by the farmers and their creditors," Maris explained. "Farmers burdened by debts presented their cases to their county Farm Debt Adjustment Committee. These bodies cooperated by getting debtors and creditors together and assisting them in working out adjustments."

The ability of the farmer to carry his debt load and eventually pay out, on terms equitable to both parties, was the basic consideration in all cases, according to Maris. He emphasized that neither the committees nor the Resettlement Administration attempted to effect arbitrary adjustments. They only assisted farmers and creditors in an attempt to solve a common problem.

While each case was worked out in accordance with its individual circumstances, debt reductions, extensions, reduced interest rates, and budgeted repayment plans were responsible in general for adjustments made.

"In many cases it has been possible for the farmer to refinance his debt at a reduced interest rate with the original creditor or some other lending agency," Maris said. "In other instances careful budget planning has pointed the way to systematic payment of debts.

"Creditors have benefited as well as debtors and have cooperated willingly to effect settlements under which their prospects for collections are greatly enhanced. Most of the accounts were inherited from pre-depression times and in many cases represented inactive accounts which creditors were glad to revive into active status. There has been comparatively little desire on the part of creditors to foreclose and acquire
