Galveston Police Round Up Picketing Seamen

'RANK AND FILE' ROUNDUP OF MEN STARTED BY CITY

Plan Made to Expand 'Sit-Down' Strike in New York

CHARGES HURLED Violence Attempt Is Alleged By Employer

(By Associated Press)
Galveston police today arrested 36 pickets in a roundup of the "rank and file" of seamen striking in sympathy with Pacific coast maritime workers. Officers filed charges of unlawful assembly.

In New York plans were made to expand the "sit-down" strike into a general walkout, with charges of violence and attempted violence exchanged by a ship owner and the head of the seamen's group.

The Fairbanks, Alaska, chamber of commerce asserted merchants there have only 30 days food supply.

New Orleans police detained 56 seamen arrested during raids on pickets.

Government officials noted that the strike had spread to virtually every major American port and slowed down the movement of foreign bound United States mail.

The strike held in its grip all American west coast ships, tied up export movements in Boston harbor and brought many vessels to a standstill on the Atlantic and Gulf Coast. Insurgent seamen claimed 49 ships were tied up in New York harbor.

FIRST FROST FOR COUNTY FIVE DAYS AHEAD OF AVERAGE

Usual Date Is Nov. 9, 30-Year Records Reveal

Midland county's first frost of the 1936 fall season, striking early yesterday morning, was only five days earlier than the thirty year average for this district, according to a check-up by S. A. Debnam, county agricultural agent. The average date is November 9.

Last year, the first killing frost was on Armistice day. The earliest on record for this area is October 23 and the latest for the spring season is April 23. Debnam's records showed.

The frost yesterday was expected to damage much uncut feed, although the growing season for feed crops already had extended longer than usual, due to the late September and early October rains and the subsequent warm weather.

FRENCH WORKERS CALL NEW STRIKES

Three Fresh Walkouts Are Ordered as Chamber Of Deputies Meet

PARIS, Nov. 5. (P)—French workers today called three fresh strikes as Communists and Rightists opened the regular chamber of deputies session with vigorous debate.

Workers at an oil refinery seized property as bakery workers called a meeting for tomorrow to discuss a possible strike.

Funeral Services Held For Aged Woman

Funeral services were held at the Ellis Funeral Home at 10:30 this morning for Mrs. Carrie Margaret Kuykendall, 72, who died yesterday at her home at 901 E. Florida street here. Mrs. Kuykendall had been an invalid for several years, residing with two of her sons here.

Funeral interment services, which were held at Fairview cemetery, were in charge of the Dallas weather bureau, said the mass of chilled air from Canada would strike the Panhandle Friday. Frost blanketed much of the state today.

The deceased is survived by five children, three sons and two daughters. Two of the sons, Joe Jasper and Clint are Midland residents.

Bob Miller of Murree's Incorporated, Pampa, Texas, has joined the staff of the J. C. Smith and Company in the shoe department.

Life Saving, Not Death, In This Blast

These mighty explosions, instead of demonstrating how many human beings can be killed at a single stroke, were designed to study means by which thousands of lives may be saved from the menace of coal dust blasts in mines. The experimental explosions were set off at Bruneton, Pa., by officials of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. This marked the 25th anniversary of the bureau's study of the hazard.

FARLEY TO TAKE UP JOB AGAIN AS CABINET MEMBER

Will Resume Post As The Postmaster General

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (P)—Democratic Chairman James A. Farley said today he would end his leave of absence as Postmaster General and take up his official duties again Friday by attending a Cabinet meeting in Washington.

He has been on leave since early in the campaign.

He declined to comment on reports he would leave the Cabinet when President Roosevelt begins his second term, other than to say: "I'm going back to serve out my term. I have nothing to say about what will happen after that."

He did say, however, he intended to continue as Democratic national chairman regardless of whether he stayed on as Postmaster General.

Farley said he planned to leave on the Normandie Nov. 11 for a shore vacation in Ireland.

Commenting on the election, he reminded newspaper men of his statement Sunday that President Roosevelt would carry every State except Maine and Vermont.

"We would have carried Maine if we had put forth the same effort as we did in the September election," he added.

Asked if he had anything to say about the old adage that "as Maine goes so goes the Nation," Farley said the only thing the saying proved was that "as Maine goes so goes Vermont."

"Do you take the heavy vote for the President as a blank check?" he was asked.

"The people of the country," he replied, "need have no fear of what will happen during the next Administration of President Roosevelt."

NEW COLD WAVE TO HIT IN PANHANDLE

Snowstorm Expected To Cover Area Some Time Friday

By Associated Press
A new cold wave menaced the Panhandle today. J. L. Cline, meteorologist of the Dallas weather bureau, said the mass of chilled air from Canada would strike the Panhandle Friday. Frost blanketed much of the state today.

Empire Well Greatly Increased By Acid

BY FRANK GARDNER

Apparently increased 10 to 15 times over its natural size by acidizing with 3,500 gallons of a special formula, the new two-mile northwest extension to the Cummins pool in northwest Ector county, Empire Oil & Refining Co. No. 1-C Cummins, flowed 350 barrels of oil the first five hours of production gauge. It made 100 barrels the first hour, then rate of production declined; however, an unofficial report had it as jumping back to 100 barrels and hour on the sixth hour of test.

The Empire well tested 80 barrels through tubing on the last 24-hour gauge of its natural potential. Bottomed at 4,291, it had been showing a slight amount of sulphur water, and a 50-foot layer of jelly seal was pumped in before the acid treatment to prevent the acid from working upon the water zone. The jelly liquefies after standing for 36 hours and flows out with the oil. Located 2,200 feet from the south and 440 feet from the east line of section 22, block 45, township 1 north, T. & P. survey, it topped pay at 4,190.

Showing a small amount of oil at 4,180, Shell No. 1 E. F. Cowden, semi wildcat a half-mile west of the discovery in the Harper pool at Douro in Ector county, is drilling below 4,220 feet. It must develop commercial production by Nov. 18 to validate lease.

Skelly & Republic No. 2 McKenzie, short west extension of production at the north end of the Penn pool, flowed 264 barrels in 24 hours and is now shut down while the rig is cleaned up to prevent fire hazard. Offsetting it to the south, Skelly No. 5-A Scharbauer was found to be bridged at 3,000 and operators are now cleaning out at 3,050.

First Gas In Line
The first gas in the line in Amerada No. 1-A Averitt, southwest offset to the discovery gasser on the Seminole structure, was logged at 4,886 to 4,896, with an increase from 4,896 to 4,915, and the well was drilling at 4,920 this noon, showing no oil. The amount of the gas was unestimated, since the well is being drilled in with rotary, using heavy circulating mud, but it would probably be about the same as that struck by the Walsh and Adams discovery at 4,910, which gassed 12,368,000 cubic feet. The first well blew gas for several days before being shut in, and the "wet" appearance of the gas flow led many to believe that the oil horizon was not far below the point at which hole was junked when tools were lost. The Amerada well is located 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 22, block G. W. T. R. survey, three miles northwest of the town of Seminole.

TOTAL GINNING COUNTY TOTALS 3,000 BALES NOW

Two-Thirds of Crop Believed Already Gathered

A total of 3,102 bales of cotton have been ginned in Midland so far this fall, a survey showed today. Ginnings during the past two weeks have been slowed up considerably by the inclement weather but all are going full force again now.

What proportion of the crop is left in the field is unknown but it is estimated that about two-thirds of the yield for the year has already been ginned.

The Farmers' Cooperative gin leads others, having ginned 1,472 bales so far. The Williams and Miller gin is second with 950 bales and the Midland Cooperative Marketing Association is third with 680 bales.

HURT IN WRECK, 2 TO LEAVE FRIDAY

South's most serious injury was a broken leg and his tongue was severely lacerated, being almost cut in two.

Four others persons in the car at the time of the accident were killed and a sixth, Robert H. Miller of San Antonio was injured. Miller will also leave a local hospital tomorrow for his home. His most serious injury was to his back.

French Capitalists Will Visit Oil Field

Two French capitalists, Henri Bourree and C. Gallochet of Paris, will visit the McElroy Ranch in Crane county this week end, accompanied by W. D. Waltman, of Los Angeles, president of the McElroy Ranch Co., on business with Lester L. Grant, resident manager.

The Paris capitalists are stockholders in the company, having bought the holdings from the late John T. McElroy soon after discovery of the Gulf Production Co. pool on the ranch. It will be their first visit to the property in two years.

INSURGENT SHIPS SHOT DOWN IN AIR DUEL OVER MADRID

Others Crippled, Are Forced to Flee From City

MORE MEN TAKEN Government Rushes Fresh Troops To War Front

MADRID, Nov. 5. (P)—Two insurgent combat planes were shot down today in a stirring fight over Madrid. Two other Fascist pursuit planes, seemingly crippled in the aerial battle, fled toward the insurgent lines. The fight started after a series of visits to the capital by insurgent squadrons.

Whipped to fever fighting pitch, fresh government troops hurried to the fighting line amid the roar of a fierce artillery duel between Fascist and Socialist gun crews only a few miles beyond the outskirts of the capital.

Socialist batteries at El Cerro de Los Angeles west of Getafe, bombarded the insurgents there, blocking their attempt to cross to the east to take over the Valencia highway.

The roaring of the guns was heard intermittently from several points in the capital.

Old Clothes Wanted At The Relief Office

Winter is here again and it comes the problem of the needy.

Do you know that in this city there are children who have not enough warm clothes to go to school? Do you know that buried in the clothes closets, attics, and basements of our homes are enough unused garments to keep them warm and presentable this winter. Now is the time to hunt out these clothes and take them to the Relief Office at 319 East Texas. Coats, sweaters, jackets, or clothing of any kind are needed and will be used.

For the past few years, the Federal Government has helped the states and communities take care of the needy people, but this is no longer true. From now on, it is up to this town to care for its own people.

There is no fund from which clothing may be bought. One hundred twenty six families have been supported by the WPA work. Twenty-four dollars per month is paid for eighty hours work. The average family in this group contains four members. It is easy to see why there is no money left for clothes, after paying for food and rent. They can barely exist on this income.

When the farmers needed cotton pickers, the WPA workers were taken out of the government jobs so that they might work in the cotton fields. When the picking season is over, there will be two hundred families depending on WPA labor for food and upon this town for clothing.

Will you help? Please bring any shoes or clothes for adults or children to the Relief Office at 319 E. Texas next Tuesday.

PYRONS TO FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pyron are expected to return today from Paris, Texas, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Pyron's nephew, Pyron White, young son of Mr. Pyron's sister, Mrs. Ed White of Sour Lake. The boy was buried in Paris Wednesday.

Late News

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 5. (P)—Joe L. Pritchett, mathematics professor at Sam Houston Teachers College here for nearly 50 years, died today.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (P)—Terminating the proposed "risk" federal crop plan a "stunning task," R. M. Bissell, a private insurance official today told the special crop committee named by President Roosevelt that the government should proceed slowly.

LISBON, Nov. 5. (P)—Unconfirmed reports from the insurgent lines outside Madrid today said that aerial bombardments on Madrid's suburbs had killed 2,000 persons.

Rebels Rescue Holy Relics

Rebel defenders of Oviedo freely risked their lives to save holy relics during the epic siege of the Spanish city by an army made up chiefly of Asturian miners, who fought savagely with primitive weapons and dynamite. Here two of the insurgent troopers are seen as they reached safety with church relics. The siege was lifted and then renewed, with heavy loss of life on both sides.

FINAL RETURNS SHOW DEMOCRATS WILL HAVE INCREASED MEMBERSHIP WHEN THE NEXT CONGRESS ASSEMBLES IN JANUARY

Largest Number of Party Ever Elected Will Face President When Next Session Opens In Capital

Associated Press returns on the 435 seats in the new house of representatives last night showed: Democrats elected 316 (present congressmen 308; vacancies 13).

Republicans elected 87 (present congressmen 100; vacancies 4).

Progressives elected 6 (present congressmen 7).

Farmer-Laborites elected 3 (present congressmen 3).

Seats still in doubt 23. Necessary for a majority 218.

Associated Press returns on the 36 seats in the United States Senate last night showed:

Democrats elected 24; holdovers, 47; total 71.

Republicans elected 6; holdovers, 11; total 17.

Farmer-Laborites elected 1; holdovers 1; total 2.

Progressives elected 0; holdovers, 1; total 1.

Independent 1; holdover 1; total 2.

Seats still in doubt 4.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (P)—A massive democratic majority received marching orders Wednesday to assemble in the new congress two months from today to pass on Roosevelt legislative proposals.

Late compilations of election returns showed that when President Roosevelt next addresses a joint session of the senate and house, probably in January, he will look into the eyes of perhaps the largest number of democrats ever to sit on Capitol Hill at one time.

Such a topheavy majority was indicated that a new assignment of seats was inevitable. Even before the election the democrats occupied a large share of the normally republican space in both chambers. In the senate democrats were assured of seven seats.

But such numerical strength does not necessarily mean a smooth-working legislative machine. In the house democrats had elected at least 293 new members compared with 79 for the republicans. Total membership is 435 and a majority is 218.

Last session the democrats had 70 senators compared with 22 republicans. In the house they had 308 members against 100 republicans.

In the next congress they will supplant at least five senate republicans. The democrats lost in Massachusetts, however, to Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., grandson of the celebrated historian and senatorial foe of the League of Nations. Lodge trounced former Governor James M. Curley, who aspired to succeed the retiring democrat, Marcus Coolidge. Democrats won at least 22 republican seats but lost at least 10 now occupied by members of their party.

Democrats who will sit in senate seats formerly occupied by republicans while they consider new legislation this winter are: James H. Hughes, who eliminated, returning to Austin Tuesday.

VAST NUMBER OF PLANS OUTLINED BY NEW DEALERS

Crop Insurance, Low Cost Housing Is Studied

VOTE CLIMBING

President Is Nearly 10,000,000 Up On London

A vast low-cost housing plan, an "ever normal grainary," crop insurance, and a drive to convert farm tenants into farm owners were among suggestions new dealers were drafting today for the legislative program of next congress as President Roosevelt's popular majority roiled toward 10,000,000.

The president gave no intimation of how he felt regarding details of the various proposals.

The latest returns show the democrats elected 330 members of the house and probably 75 senators. The democrats also captured 25 of the 33 gubernatorial contests.

The total tabulated vote reached 40,720,832, highest mark in history. Almost 20,000 voting districts were still unreported, indicating a possible total of 45,000,000 upward. If the trend continued the president's plurality would pass 10,000,000.

London carried only Maine and Vermont. Returns were complete from Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—If you think that millions of Americans are relieved that the campaign is over, you ought to talk to the boys who guarded the president. The tens of millions who have seen the chief executive in the last few weeks have little conception of the tremendous strain the campaign imposes on officers of the U. S. Secret Service.

The task of seeing that the president gets safely there and safely back again is one of the most intricate and important assignments, and Col. Edward W. Starling's boys are glad it's over.

That is, over for the campaign. For the responsibility of guarding the life of the president goes right on around the clock, every day of the year.

It's a highly specialized task, in fact, and detailed knowledge of it is reserved for the few. The Secret Service men themselves decline to talk about their work.

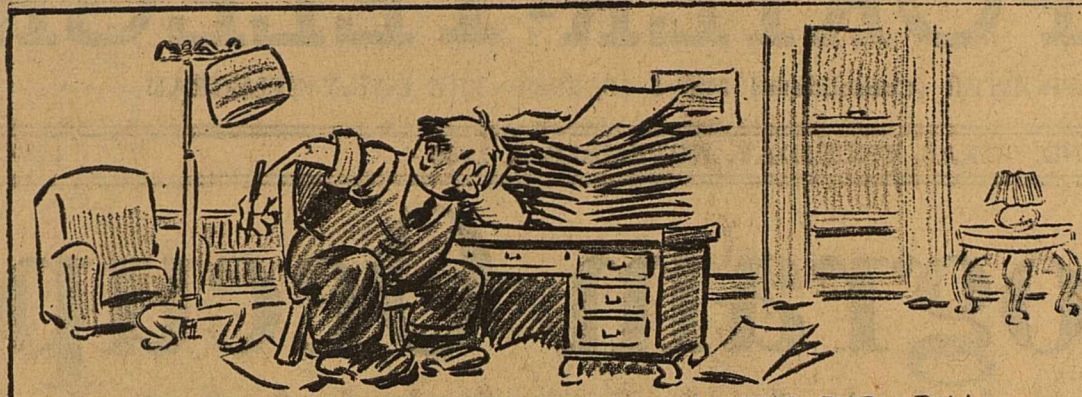

But every habitue of the White House and all who have traveled on presidential trains have at least glimpsed parts of the careful network of planning, timing, checking, and rechecking that engages dozens and sometimes hundreds of persons when the president goes on the road—campaigning or any other occasion.

STARLING GOES AHEAD
Colonel Starling, general and alert chief of the White House Secret Service, invariably proceeds as the advance guard.

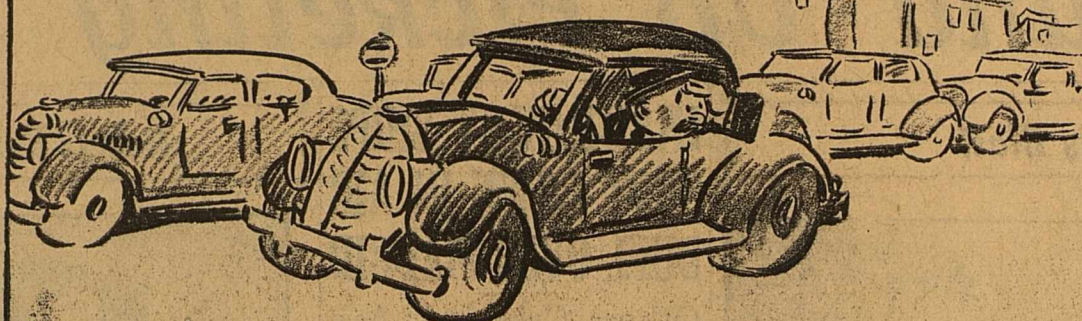

Starling, once a railroad detective who attracted attention thru the number of bandits and thieves he caught, joined the Secret Service 2½ years ago and has been at the White House since the Wilson administration, a friend and guardian of five presidents.

Starling plots the course the president will take and surveys the terrain at every platform stop. He

World War To Cost The U. S. 100 Billions Says H. M. Robinson

What is the cost of wars? Not in human misery, but in cold cash? Henry Morton Robinson, in an article in the Rotarian magazine, predicts that by the time the last Liberty bond is retired, and the last pension paid, the World War will have cost the citizens of the United States a total of 100 billion dollars! "At the close of the fiscal year 1920," he writes, "the treasury department of the United States unobtrusively announced that America's participation in the World War had cost 27 billion dollars. Staggering as the figure was, no one believed it to be the total cost of that great struggle to American taxpayers. And it wasn't. At the end of June 1936, the direct cash cost of the World War to the United States—not including such indirect costs as the war's share in causing the depression—was 45 billion dollars.

"Next year this figure will have to be revised upward again by one billion, and in 1938 still another billion will be added. A half century from now Americans will still be paying at the rate of a billion dollars annually.

"If anyone doubts that war is responsible for the larger part of the national debt," he continues, "let him scan the following figures: In 1916, the public debt of the United States was one and one-fourth billion; the per capita interest charge on this modest indebtedness was 22 cents. Two years of war shot this debt up to 25 billion dollars—the most terrifying and spectacular skyrocketing of public obligations since governments began to keep books. Interest charges advanced to nearly $6 a head—and have remained there ever since.

"Next to interest charges on our national debt, the Veterans Administration usually claims the largest annual share of taxpayer's dollar. This bureau has already spent 17 billion dollars. Last year it expended 550 millions—and this sum does not include a single penny of bonus money, either. The principal outlay was for pensions and disability payments." The author points out that of this amount, survivors of the Indian Wars, and some relics

STORIES IN STAMPS

By L. S. Klein

The high-decked caravel, Santa Maria, lay in the harbor of Palos, Spain, when it was commandeered by order of Queen Isabella, to carry Christopher Columbus and his crew over the new westward passage to India. It was a 100-ton vessel, big enough only for Mediterranean trade, but Columbus picked it for its low draft and its ability to go through shallow passages in the strange waters he was to visit.

The Santa Maria was not to last longer than one way to America. For, while the flagship lay off the coast of Hispaniola, now Haiti, it broke its mooring, was dashed upon a sand bank, and wrecked. The ship had to be broken down and a blockhouse, called Ft. Navidad, was built from its timbers.

In this fort, 40 men were left with supplies for one year, while Columbus returned to Spain, on one of his other ships.

The Santa Maria appears on the 3-cent stamp of the Columbian series issued by the United States in 1893.

goes into huddles with police chiefs, instructs them as to the handling of crowds, the placing of their men, the roping-off of certain areas, and the "spotting" of national guardsmen in case it is felt advisable to use them.

He arranges for stationing uniformed and plain-clothes men in hotels and other buildings which the president is to visit, on roofs and in windows and doorways along the line of march.

ATTENDS TO ALL DETAILS
He supervises arrangements for platforms and ramps and sometimes is able to see to it that the presidential automobile is driven to within a few feet of the stage. He consults with railroad executives and trainmen, local politicians, hotel managers, waiters, and elevator operators.

When the president is to speak in a large stadium or auditorium, the whole structure is searched as if by fine-tooth comb.

Hours before the presidential party arrives, the building is practically sealed tight, with Secret Service and police officers on constant guard. Through the stands usually are scattered hundreds of local plain-clothes men, under Secret Service supervision.

When the president address Congress, Secret Service men are stationed in each section of the galleries.

RUSSELL WOOD IN CHARGE
The presidential party and train are in the charge of Russell Wood, first assistant to Starling. At the outset of every trip Wood goes thru the entire train and checks up on everyone on board.

Only the presidential party, Wood's men, railroad men, newspapermen, photographers, and radio men travel on the train.

About a mile ahead dashes a pilot engine to assure clear tracks. Behind it is a dummy train, there to prevent possible collision from the rear.

The president's car—it's always the "Pioneer" or the "Robert Peary"—is at the rear of the train and 24 hours a day there is a Secret Service operative guarding each entrance. At any stop, however unimportant, one pops out on the rear platform and peers about until the train gets going again.

About 15 Secret Service men are assigned on each trip. One of their functions is to see that the party keeps moving, as each presidential trip and each incident thereof is timed by the clock and schedules are run off almost on split seconds.

The greatest strain comes when the president leaves the train to be driven through crowded streets to a crowded destination. In cities, motorcycle cops usually travel ahead, followed by a pilot car full of local police and Washington operative which precedes the presidential car. A Secret Service car invariably follows close behind the president on any automobile drive.

GUARDS ALWAYS READY
Wood stands on the running board of the presidential car, beside the driver, his eyes on the crowd. Sitting in the front seat on the other side of the car is Gus Gennerich, Roosevelt's personal bodyguard and former New York State trooper, his hand in his coat pocket.

Gus always has the car door slightly open, ready to jump out in case of emergency. If the procession isn't going too fast, three or four agents from the car behind will be found walking or trotting along with their hands on the president's car.

In New York and one or two other large cities it is customary for motorcycle policemen to flank the presidential car, with tear gas guns and other weapons ready for action.

Gennerich sits directly behind the president when the latter is speaking and there's a sprinkling of Secret Service officer down in front and on the platform.

When Roosevelt is at his home in Hyde Park, Secret Service men are in charge, but they bring in some White House policemen and New York state troopers to help them guard the estate.

CREW IS "HAND-PICKED"
Since the unsuccessful attack on Roosevelt in Florida in 1933—when Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago was killed—the Secret Service has tightened its precautions a great deal.

The White House Secret Service body of officers previously carefully picked out a crew hand-picked from a selected from smart young men who have established creditable records as investigators.

Starting pay in the service is $2600, although most of the experienced men who guard the president earn between $3200 and $4000 a year.

Society and Clubs

Robyn Club, Watson School of Music, In Initial Program

The Robyn Club, composed of the younger students of the Watson School of Music, held its initial meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Watson Studio.

Thirty one students responded to roll call by giving some musical expression and its meaning. Alberta Smith and Mildred Massy presided at the attendance card, giving gold stars to each one who answered promptly, and green stars to the ones who were hesitant or absent.

Following this, the new students introduced themselves, and elections were held at which Mary Helen Walker was elected president, Lucile Ford, vice-president, and Wilma Mahoney, secretary.

Birthday greetings written by Miss Lydie Watson, were given by club members who had had occasion to celebrate the date of their nativity since the last Robyn club meeting. Dorothy Rose Otho, Ann Ulmer, Lucile Ford, Betty Fay Tate, David Lee Hunter, Dorothy Barron,

Mmes. Geisler, Kidd On Jr. Wednesday Club Program

Miss Mary Maude Sparks was hostess to the Junior Woman's Wednesday Club Wednesday afternoon at the regular study meeting of the club's course, "Interior Decoration."

Mrs. Barron Kidd presented a paper on "Decorative Textiles," and Mrs. Ralph Geisler, "Tapestries, Rugs and Carpets."

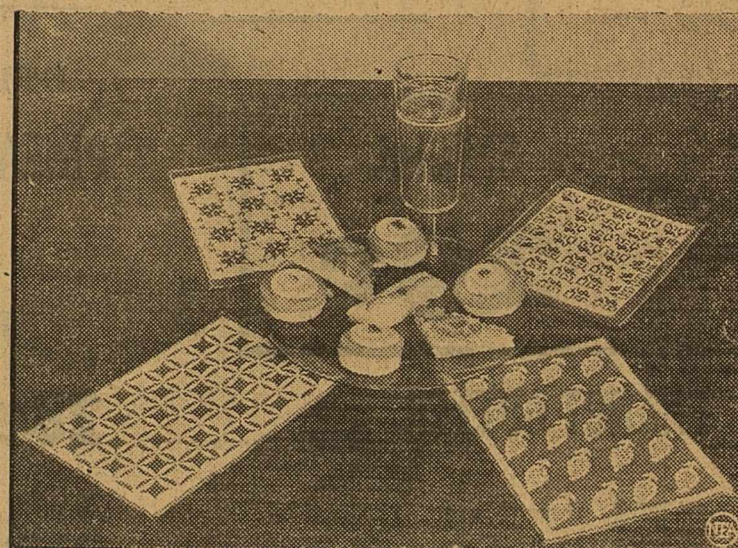

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes Ben Black, W. M. Blevins, Ralph Geisler, Barron Kidd, Frank Miller, Alf Reese, Jr., John M. Speed, Jr., Hugh West, and Misses Ida Beth Cowden, Ruby Hodges, Lucile Thomas, the hostess and the club guest, Miss Georgia Goss.

Two Popular Party Candidates

It's the party influence! Not political, as at first glance you might guess. The parlour inspiring this gala tablecloth—very, very gala, indeed—the sort that are pleasantly informal, with a bite to eat, plenty of good conversation and the spirit of home-like festivity hovering over all. The 54-inch cloth, designed by Marguerita Mergentime and headliner in her new series called "100 Years of American Design," is dark brown with 98 American and political slogans in white. Set your table thus, set your guests to guessing who said what, and there'll be "table" talk—and plenty of it! The glass ware is amber and the napkins bear toasts, printed in three different languages on each.

Turning the pages of history backward and arriving at something strictly new is a real trick. It's done above by setting a table with a cloth, just off the looms, but authentically reproducing the design of a tablecloth of 1868—tassels, scallops, lilies-of-the-valley and all. The colors are typical of the period—lemon yellow, turquoise and marine blue. One of the series "100 Years of American Design," it's intended for dining rooms furnished in the newly popular Victorian manner, or, for that matter, for anyone who admires rather elaborate, colorful designs. Victorian glass ware is used, most appropriately on the table.

'Germany' Discussed At Modern Study Club Meeting

The Modern Study club met at the home of Mrs. S. S. Stinson, 1608 Holloway, Wednesday at 3 o'clock. Mrs. J. M. Haygood was leader for the afternoon in the absence of Mrs. T. M. Crawford.

Subject to a brief business meeting, the roll call was answered by German current events in accord with the program subject, "Germany."

Mrs. S. S. Stinson presented a talk on "Germany and the Jews," and Mrs. J. M. Haygood, "Hitler and Nazism," after which the club members participated in a round table discussion on "The German Attitude Today."

The study was attended by Mmes. H. S. Stammer, R. P. Johnston, S. S. Stinson, J. W. Skinner, Tom Sealy, John M. Hills, L. C. Link, J. M. Haygood, Fred Turner, J. H. Rhoden, L. Waldo Leggett, A. H. Riley, and M. H. Crawford.

Mrs. R. H. Biggs, was introduced into the club as a new member and Mrs. T. A. Nelson was a club guest.

Mrs. Hurley Is Hostess To Naomis

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

That led to his habit of making such dives, and, on his return to Waco, he and his brother-in-law organized a diving company for the purpose of salvaging articles from the Brazos river.
