Head of the powerful United Mine Workers with its 500,000 members, the leonine John L. Lewis organized the Committee for Industrial Organization which defied the A. F. of L. and may develop into a separate labor federation.

Philip Murray, soft-voiced Scotsman, for years an executive of the United Mine Workers, is Lewis' chief field lieutenant in the CIO drive to organize the steel, auto, rubber and several other great mass-production industries.

Head of the Typographical Union, Charles P. Howard became secretary of the CIO, and drew his 80,000 craft unionists into moral and financial support of the CIO, denying that the AFL had the right to suspend the CIO unions.

David Dubinsky, head of the Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, which joined the CIO, has been a seeker of peace between the labor factions. His 225,000 members have voted to tax themselves $1 apiece in support of the CIO.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, like Lewis a miner, ruled that the CIO movement was insubordinate and illegal, and suspended its members. Green now faces expulsion by his UMW union.

Scholarly and statistical, John P. Frey for years has been head of the Metal Trades department of the A. F. of L. He charges that Lewis' action has opened labor's gates to Communist and radical influences in the CIO.

Head of the largest union remaining within the AFL, William Hutcheson leads the carpenters' union. Bitterly opposed to Lewis' program, Hutcheson came to actual blows with Lewis in the course of the AFL convention of 1935.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—One of the reasons John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers are citing President Bill Green of the American Federation of Labor for trial is that this is one of Lewis' ideas of having fun.

Another reason is that Lewis in the great battle between the Committee for Industrial Organization and the federation, believes it's good tactics to harass the enemy. And still another reason is that Lewis was more than willing to expose the phonyhood of persistent reports of peace negotiations and practically close the door against any compromise gestures from the A. F. of L. convention at Tampa.

Letter To Editor

The Reporter-Telegram As you probably know, during the last session of Congress, the enlisted strength of the army was raised from approximately 120,000 to 165,000. This latter strength is to be reached by the 30th of June, comprising among others, the states of Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, has a much larger proportion of enlisted men than any other of the nine Corps Areas of the United States. The number of men which has been assigned to us, to be reached at the end of the present year, is 27,650. You know, of course, that the enlisted force of the Regular Army is maintained through the medium of voluntary enlistments. These enlistments are secured mainly through the operation of recruiting services. The undersigned has recently been assigned to duty in charge of the recruiting district of Arizona New Mexico, and southwest Texas. We have received from the Commanding General of the Eighth Corps Area, our proportionate share of men to be enlisted. We are, of course, desirous of meeting the quotas of new enlistments assigned to us. To do this, we must, of course, bring the advantages of army life to the attention of the young men in our area, from whom we might obtain additional recruits. In order to accomplish the ideas set forth in the preceding paragraph, this office is preparing articles for publication in the newspapers throughout this district. This letter is written with the hopes of interesting your paper in the publication of these articles. I should be pleased to have information from you that you are willing to co-operate in our work, to the extent of publishing the articles which I expect to send you from week to week. With kind personal regards and hopes of a favorable reply, I am, Very sincerely yours, Wait C. Johnson, Colonel, Infantry, District Recruiting Officer.

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

A Chicago citizen suggests that start a daily newspaper without pictures or without ads. He cites the Readers' Digest as proof of the fact that the public wants something that is strictly "reading matter." All I have to say in rebuttal is that it would take a lot of newboys to sell enough papers to pay for the expense of publication, if we didn't get an ad sold now and then. The average reader probably doesn't stop to think how many people are required to gather news, lay out and sell ads, write copy, set type, print and distribute a newspaper every day. In our case, one of the small dailies of Texas, it requires a dozen people. In fact, there are right now, thirteen workers on the payroll, aside from carrier boys and street salesmen, they have families to support, accounting for a fair share of Midland's population. But, we are not labor and the privilege of contributing $25 per month to needy dependents. The camp discipline and educational work has been of lasting value to these young enrollees. The printing and publishing industry ranks fifth in frequency and third in severity of accidents among 30 major industries.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

are that it will soon be expelled. Green's on the Spot Question as to Mr. Green's eligibility to be president continues to be raised. Now the U. M. W. comes along to point out that, as far as it is concerned, Mr. Green is just an ordinary union member and accuses him of conspiring against working against, and maligning his own union. Subsequently, it is believed, he will be ordered to "cease and desist" and the eventual upshot is expected to be his expulsion from the mine workers' organization. All of which makes the task of Mr. Green no less painful at the Tampa convention. There are craft union heads whose gratitude to Mr. Green for his fight for their cause is so great that they would just love to boot him out and take his job for themselves. Whether the latest Lewis move will encourage such an attempt is uncertain. In any event it makes it just that much harder to bring any peace between the two labor factions and it may have the effect of disrupting solidarity and morale among the craft unions.

Labor to Hold Spotlight Like it or not, there'll be more and more labor news in succeeding months. The A. F. of L. convention probably will be the most important in its history. The C. I. O. is going into high gear in its campaign to organize workers in the mass production industries.

Congress will have requests for some very important labor legislation, including wage and hour bills. Meanwhile, Senator LaFollette's committee investigating labor spies and civil liberties violations will resume its spectacular hearings in December and a good performance may be expected, because the committee wants to make a good showing prior to its request for a large appropriation with which to continue its work.

Labor policies of one of the two biggest automobile corporations, one of the great rubber corporations, and a big steel corporation will be on the pan. The committee probably also will get around to the Burns detective agency. After operating to date on a shoestring appropriation of $15,000, the LaFollette committee plans to ask for $100,000. Nature of the recent election returns was such that its chances for getting such a sum are considered rather good.

Among other things, the committee is investigating activities of the Black Legion. But the results of that investigation, if any, are for the time being kept a deep secret. (Copyright 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

Busy Season Awaits 2800 CCC Enrollees

A busy season awaits twenty-eight hundred CCC enrollees in 17 camps on national, state and private lands in Texas, according to a report from Joseph C. Kieher, Southern Regional Forester for the U. S. Forest Service, Atlanta, Ga., in announcing plans for the eighth enrollment period for the CCC personnel assigned to Region 8 of the U. S. Forest Service. The work ahead covers many kinds of conservation activities which will be of definite, practical value to the state of Texas. These CCC boys will continue the development and protection of the four newly-created national forests in Texas, in addition to the work to be done on state and private lands. One project which can be classed as a major achievement of the CCC during the next few months will be the planting of approximately 15,000,000 pine seedlings for the reforestation of 15,000 acres of now barren land in the commercial timber belt of East Texas where the Federal government and the Texas Forest Service have co-operated in forest fire protection for years. It will require 30,000 man-days to complete this project. During the next five months these men will be responsible for grading and building 375 miles of roads and fire-breaks, opening ways into forested land where these same men have spent 103,132 man-days on state and private lands in fire protection activities, such as fighting fire and in forest cleanup and fire hazard reduction. During the two years that the CCC have been engaged on work projects under the Forest Service, many enrollees have been trained in the hazardous work of fire tower construction, and up to the present time no accidents have occurred in completing the erection of 55 towers. These fire towers and the thousands of miles of telephone lines constructed by the CCC provide an excellent system for fire suppression work by making possible the prompt detection of fires and reporting them to the fire suppression personnel. In addition to the lines built on national forest lands, 1,075 miles of telephone lines have been constructed on state and private lands. Due to these improvements and the aid rendered the regular Forest Service force by CCC fire fighting crews, the acreage burned over during the past two years has been greatly reduced. Eighteen additional towers will be erected on state and private lands and additional towers and telephone lines will be constructed on national forest lands between now and March 31, 1937. During this work period, much time will be devoted to timber stand improvement work, and due to CCC aid, the state forest areas have been placed in such excellent condition as to serve as research and demonstration areas. In addition to planting, timber stand improvement, road construction and other activities, the work program for the eighth enrollment period will include the collection of field data on 10,500 acres of state and private lands for the compilation of timber type maps for aid in fire suppression work. Provision has also been made for public recreational developments for those who like to fish, hunt or camp in the East Texas piney woods section. The CCC has already made notable contributions to this development by building four dams to impound water for lakes; one of these lakes at Rattcliff in Houston County will cover 70 acres. The correlated activities of the CCC in Texas will mean continued progress in all phases of conservation during these next five months. It is giving the CCC youths an opportunity to engage in constructive

Guessing on Sentences New Pastime in Prison

BOSTON. (U.P.)—State prison inmates have a new pastime. They study court news in the newspapers, and days before sentence is passed upon some offender a chart is prepared inside the institution predicting the length of sentence, looks and character of the expected arrival. Once inside the prison, the new inmate is confronted by the committee which checks up on predictions. The inmate having the highest "score" each month wins the contest. What the prize is has not been divulged.

'Easy' Sums Up Setting-Up Exercises

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Setting up exercises should consist of mild stretching and limbering routines—not back breaking affairs that make muscles sore, bones ache and disposition terrible."

"They are not to be confused with reducing exercises that have to be more violent and which are supposed to make you feel at least a little tired. On the contrary, setting up routines (these should be done by every girl past the age of 14, and it's a good idea to get the men in the family to do them, too) ought to make you feel taller, more supple and in a better frame of mind to face your daily duties."

"It's a splendid idea to start setting up exercises before you get out of bed. Turn off the alarm, throw back the covers, then stretch your feet toward the foot of the bed, pointing toes and turning ankles this way and that. Do all of these slowly, letting your body wake up gradually.

Now get out of bed and stretch your arms toward the ceiling. Yawn if you like. Holding hands far above head, swing your body downward toward the left, forward, to the right, then slightly backward. Bend from the waistline, keeping head up, but don't bend so far that your waist or neck muscles hurt. Be comfortable and enjoy your stretches.

Place your left foot about twenty-four inches in front of the

When I Remember

By Helen Welshimer

WHEN I remember summer, I shall think
Of how one night the sky was overcast,
And watching it, beloved, you said at last
In quiet voice: When loveliness must sink
Behind the clouds, there is no need for fear.
Our wise hearts know that once the sky was bright
With radiance—if it is dark tonight
We had the moon! Remember that, my dear.

REMEMBER that? As though heart could forget
The ecstasy of that so brief awhile
When, whether skies had moons or not to give,
I had your love, your laughter, and your smile.
There was a summer when I was content. . .
Could it have been that this is what you meant?

Prepare Now to Look Best At Christmas

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

This is the season when every one who has a beauty problem is anxious to solve it before the holidays.

"I want my hips and waistline to be inches smaller when I buy a Christmas party dress."

Well, it's not a simple gift you have picked to give yourself. There is no easy way to lose weight. You must eliminate from your diet a good many things that you love to eat. Rich pastries, fried and starchy foods, for example. Substitute fresh and steamed fruits, crisp salads and fresh vegetables.

Also, you must exercise vigorously and regularly. Take a long brisk walk every day. Map out a routine of reducing exercises, especially designed to take inches from waistline and hips, then do them! Finish each exercise session with a brisk massage of waist and thighs. Of course, this is going to take time, and it isn't going to be much fun; but, if you really want to be slimmer by Christmas, you will have to sacrifice food and leisure.

"I want a beautiful coiffure for a New Year's dance."

That's not as easy as it sounds, either. Your favorite hairdresser can't do your hair up in breath-taking lovely swirls and curls if you present to him hair that is dry and dull or oily and stringy. Begin immediately to give your hair a hot oil treatment once a week and to brush oftener and long-

"I want to wake up Christmas morning with clear, smooth skin."

You can, too. But you must walk at least a mile a day, sleep regularly, eat sensibly and take your cleansing routines more seriously. Many a skin looks dull and faded simply because it isn't cleansed properly. Next to cleansing, adequate sleep is of paramount importance. Average eight hours a night from now until Christmas and, unless there is something organically wrong (in which case you should see a doctor), your skin will be much lovelier.

This Safe, External Treatment Helps END A COLD Quicker

The 3-Minute VapoRub Massage

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with warmed cloth.

Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once—two direct ways:

1. Through the Skin. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages. This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

During the night, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Avoids Risk of Stomach Upsets
This safe, external treatment cannot possibly upset the stomach, as constant internal "dosing" is so apt to do. It can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

FORD

advances into 1937 with the LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines. 85 horsepower for maximum performance. 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

In basic design, the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine is a replica of its famous older brother—the V-8 "85." But its reduced size and weight make possible a lighter car, with lower operating costs, and the lowest Ford price in years.

The 60-horsepower engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high and fuel economy is vitally important. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success. Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase, to the same advanced design, with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." It has all the distinctive Ford features for 1937. And it delivers V-8 smoothness and quietness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937. We invite you to see this very modern car at the showrooms of the nearest Ford dealer.

Three-Cornered Battle Looms for Millions Left by Mrs. Hetty Green

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
FORT HENRY, N. Y., Nov. 17—The hundred millions of Hetty Green, who loved money as other women love the memory of their first sweetheart, are again being whipsawed through the courts in a three-way battle.

Hetty's daughter and the widow of Hetty's son are the principal claimants. But several states and the federal government are also sharp on the trail of a little matter of $53,000,000 in taxes.

Hetty Green died 20 years ago, an aged woman forgotten even then by a new generation, remembered by a former one only as a synonym for miserly avarice. In June of last summer died her son, Edward Howland Robinson Green. Despite lavish benefactions and expensive hobbies, Green left behind him some $80,000,000 of the Hetty Green fortune.

At first it was believed that he left no will. The matter of taxes was vastly complicated by the fact that Green had maintained homes in Texas, Massachusetts, and Florida. Which state was entitled to the taxes?

SISTER PRODUCES WILL
Then Green's sister, Mrs. Matthey Astor Wilks of New York, came forth with a will, signed by her brother in 1908, long before his marriage. It left everything to Mrs. Wilks.

And that was believed to be in line with the known wishes of the late Hetty, who had a fanatical fear that some of her millions might get outside the family.

So rabid was this fear of the rich old woman that before she would allow either of her children to marry, she tried to assure herself that Matthew Wilks and Mabel Harlow, who married her daughter and son respectively, should get no share of her money. That was for her blood descendants, not for the families into which they married.

In accordance with this phobia, son Edward, when he married Mabel Harlow, secured Mabel's signature to an agreement to accept $25,000 and a $12,000-a-year annuity in return for renouncing all claims to the Green estate.

WIDOW PUTS UP FIGHT
But Mabel Harlow Green is now contesting this agreement in court, in Port Henry, N. Y., claiming that she had no idea what she was signing when she put her name to it.

look her to a New York bank to see the Diamond-encrusted electric train of Diamond Jim Brady, and that while there she signed the agreement, thinking it only an arrangement for "pin money."

Mrs. Green also hinted at another and later will, but thus far it has not been found. She has a more tangible advantage in the race for millions in that Texas courts have declared her the executor of Green's estate in that state.

Millions are in Texas real estate, railroads, and other properties. The Texas tax, if collectible, would be near $9,000,000, and almost wipe out the general fund debt of the state.

But on the side of Hetty's daughter, Mrs. Wilks, remains the actual will, which she has filed in Port Henry for probate, and which leaves everything to her. Whether the will may be broken on the contentions of Mrs. Green, the widow, is the question which the court must decide.

MANIA FOR MONEY
Hetty Green, through a natural acquisitive instinct and an unnatural horror of ever spending anything, turned herself from merely a rich girl into the richest woman in America. Born Hetty Robinson, she early astonished her Quaker family by prodigies of economy.

She bought boot-tops and soles separately at wholesale and sewed them together to save on the cost of shoes. She blew out the candles at her coming-out party before the guests were out of the house, so as to sell the but-ends later.

She dressed like a ragamuffin, though she was pretty enough in her youth. She married Edward H. Green who had a million or so, but nothing like the pile into which Hetty had already heaped her inheritance. She made Green agree to support her exactly as though she hadn't a dime.

Hetty, who seemed to suffer acute physical pain at the thought of parting with even a nickel for carfare, must have been grieved at the conduct of her husband, who was something of a high-flyer. Maybe she got a certain grim satisfaction when he was wiped out in a stock-market panic and had to spend his declining years in humiliating dependence on her grudging bounty. But they had had two children, Edward and Hetty Sylvia.

Hetty went on piling her dollars into an overwhelming heap. She never engaged in a single productive enterprise. She never gave away a nickel, or spent one except in grim necessity.

Waitresses in greasy restaurants knew her only as a shabby old woman who never tipped.

Million piled on million, with everything coming in and nothing going out. Hetty refused ever to hire office space to conduct her affairs. Too expensive.

She used vacant desk space, or even the floor, at her bank, the Chemical National.

MRS. HETTIE GREEN

HATED TO PAY TAXES
She was the champion tax dodger of all time. To avoid taxes, she never had a permanent residence. She moved from cheap rooming house to shabby apartment in Hoboken, dressed shabbily, had no visible or assessable possessions; nothing but money.

One day she came clumping up to the bank in her shapeless black dress and crape, carrying a frayed black satchel containing thousands

You've Been Asking About the Social Security Act! Perhaps Your Question Is Answered Here

(Editor's Note: Employers, employees and the general public who have been asking questions about the new Social Security Act may have their questions answered by reading carefully the following treatise compiled by The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Why did my employer receive today a form called "SS 4" to be filled out for the government?

This was an initial step to put the old age pension section of the security act into effect, Jan. 1.

Will I get a pension?
Yes, if you reach 65 after 1941, and if you meet the other requirements.

What other requirements?
Principally, you must work in an employment covered by the law at least one day in each of five different years beginning with 1937, and must have at least $2,000 credited to your "wage account."

Your "account."
My employer, if you work in business or industry, is to be given an "identification number." You soon will get an application blank for an "account number." On this account will be kept a record of your earnings, as reported periodically by the employer. The size of your monthly government check after you reach 65 will be based on this record.

What workers are not covered?
Farm and domestic help, casual laborers, ship's crews, employees of federal, state or local governments the self-employed, and employees of railroads, (who come under another pension law), and of religious, educational, charitable and scientific institutions.

Suppose I teach school or am out of work, will I get an account?
You can apply for one, and any wages you get from a covered employment in years to come will be entered on it.

Where will the money for the pensions come from?
The wages of the 26,000,000 employees affected and the payrolls in those shops each are to be taxed 1 per cent in 1937, and up to 3 per cent in 1939 and thereafter.

Who pays?
The boss must deduct your portion from your pay envelope, match it and turn the money over to the government monthly. The first payment is due Feb. 28, on January wages and payrolls.

Will I get back as much as I contribute?
More—the maximum tax is 3 per cent and the least anyone will get back is one-half of 1 per cent more than that.

Suppose I go on working after 65?
Then your check will be held up for every month in which you receive wages from a covered employment.

Can I stay out of the plan?
No, if you work in business or industry.
Can I buy my way in if I own a store?
No, the benefits are not so purchasable.
My uncle has one clerk in his shoe store. Must he report?
Yes.

When will that clerk and I get our applications to fill out?
Your employers must report this week. Employers will get their questionnaires Nov. 24 to be returned by Dec. 5.

Suppose I lose my card and forget the "account number"?
First, you are expected to report the number to the employer as a check so it can be traced through him. Second, your birthplace and parents' names are to be filed to help trace down your number if other means fail.

If I don't receive an application blank, what then?
It is your responsibility and that of your employer to get blanks from the post office.
When do the pensions begin?
In January, 1942.

Suppose I work several years and then lose my job, can I collect anything at that time?
Not under the old age benefit system. Another section of the security act is designed to promote unemployment insurance by the states to take care of such instances.

Does the federal government administer that?
No, old age pensions is the only section administered from Washington.
If I need more than the pension to retire on after 1941, will I get it?
No—the amount depends solely on what earnings have been credited to your account.
How about the movie actor who saved his money and has an independent income?
Independent income makes no difference; the checks will go out to the eligibles just the same at a minimum of $10 and a maximum of $85 a month.

Music Talent On BTU Convention

ABILENE, Nov. 17 (Special)—Delegates to the state B. T. U. convention will hear the finest assembly of musical talent in the Southwest November 25 when nine Baptist colleges and universities contribute to an all star music festival in the Hardin-Simmons auditorium.

Although the fine arts department of Hardin-Simmons will be host to the visitors, guest artists combine with Abilene talent to promise seven thousand convention delegates the most enjoyable musical program they shall have heard in years.

Opening with selections from the world-famous Cowley band, the program will include contributions from the Hardin-Simmons male quartet; Baylor male quartet; Mary Hardin-Baylor sextet; Howard Payne girls' trio; Miss Bernice Skeen, Marshall college soloist; Decatur College girls' quartet; Hardin-Simmons choral club; Hardin-Simmons university orchestra; Westland college girls' quartet; Cadet Bob Miller, San Marcos academy soloist; and Southwestern Baptist Seminary boys' quartet and girls' sextet.

Prof. I. E. Reynolds of Southwestern Seminary is in charge of the program and all music for the convention.

The music festival will be given on the eve of the convention's start November 24. The three-day session will continue through Nov. 26.

of dollars. A bank official reproached her.

"You should have taken a carriage," he said, Hetty Green snorted. "Maybe you can afford to ride in carriages," she retorted, "I can't!"

Behind this money obsession there hid a shrewd old lady, not unpleasing in affairs not concerning money. She crossed wits successfully in court with as brilliant lawyers as Joseph C. Chase, and proved more than a match for such accomplished dollar-jugglers as Collis P. Huntington when they clashed.

In the dingy Hoboken flat where she lived under the name of C. Dewey, which she borrowed from her pet dog to help keep her identity unknown to the neighborhood, Hetty Green died of a paralytic stroke in 1916.

ALL TO SON
To her son, Edward, went the entire pile of dollars. Already successful in business "on his own," the son administered capably the Green fortune.

But there must have been a touch of his father in him, for he never displayed any of his mother's amazing avarice.

"Col." E. H. R. Green lived comfortably on commodious estates, sent dozens of girls through school and college, spent millions to promote radio devices such as the radio beam and television.

He built and offered the government a vast airport for aviation experimental purposes, experimented with $21,000 gasoline-electric driven cars and other devices.

Yet when he died last summer he left behind him intact almost $80,000,000 of the Green fortune.

It is this money that is now about to be divided as the courts shall determine between Green's widow, his sister, and the tax collector.

Japanese Soldiers Take Water Hazard in Stride

Bearing out the contention of many that "war is all wet," these Japanese soldiers waded and swam through river waters during maneuvers at Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island. In this practice advance, supposedly in the face of the "enemy," the soldiers kept dry only their guns and ammunition, which they held above their heads.

Yule Buying Will Be Heavy In Northwest

ST. PAUL, Nov. 17 (U.P.)—The Northwest today heads into the most profitable holiday trading season since the boom days of 1929.

Wholesale houses here are rushing orders to retailers in ever-increasing volume, as the merchant in the city and at the country store prepare for the heaviest volume of Christmas business in seven years.

Indications now are that December retail business in the six north-west states of Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana, Wisconsin and Iowa (plus upper Michigan) will approach the 1929 level. Authority for this statement is John H. De Wild, trade extension manager of the Minneapolis civic and commerce association.

More Spending Assured
The Agricultural Outlook, prepared by the editorial staffs of five mid-west farm papers, predicted that, regardless of the drought, there will be money to spend throughout the Northwest and in all rural areas in the country.

With farm Cash income from sales and AAA payments scheduled to reach an estimated $7,850,000,000, supplementary income from work done off their farms will swell the farmers' bankroll this year to approximately $9,000,000,000 the Outlook said.

Merchandise Ordered Early
And sensing this increase in trade, and making sure they had merchandise to meet the inevitable demand, retailers ordered their Christmas merchandise early this season. Wholesalers had difficulty filling orders in many lines, and manufacturers were unable to replenish jobbers' stocks as fast as demanded.

In 1935, according to federal census figures, retail trade through the six states and upper Michigan was approximately $2,900,000,000. De Wild estimates this total will be swelled to $3,500,000,000 this year.

Puckett Chairman For 'Home Coming'

To assist in conveying its invitations to alumni, ex-students, mothers and dads, Collin Puckett of Midland has been named homecoming chairman for that area. He is an ex-student of McMurry.

Festivities will get underway on the McMurry campus Friday night with a council of fire and pep rally at Totem Circle. In keeping with the Indian tradition the tomorrow will beat all night and the following day until the kick-off at the game at 2:30 p. m. Dr. Thomas W. Brabham, completing his first year as McMurry president will be honored at the homecoming reception Saturday morning and at the barbecue planned for 3,000 visitors at noon.

Masonic Influence Shown in Exhibit

AUSTIN, Nov. 16.—Maps and pictures showing the work done by Masons toward the development of education in Texas are on exhibit in Sutton Hall on the second floor as a part of the University Centennial Exposition.

The Masonic Grand Lodge donated the money for preparing the exhibit, and the work was carried out under the direction of Dr. Frederick Eby, professor of the history and philosophy of education in the University.

B. S. Cobb, member of the teaching staff on the Technical High School in Dallas, furnished much material. He has written more extensively than anyone else on the history of Masonic schools, Dr. Eby says.

Masons during the early steps in education were instrumental in beginning and supporting schools paring in number at different times from 100 to 150. Throughout the years as the state has taken over the educational problem their schools have dropped out of existence as the need decreased.

The Masons originated the idea for a dormitory for daughters of Masons on the University of Texas campus, and the Scottish Rite dormitory is the result of their work.

The exhibit, which will be placed in the Texas Memorial museum when that building is completed, consists of four maps. Each one shows at different dates the Masonic Lodge schools, the private schools which were taught by prominent Masons, and those schools which had a predominant or influential Masonic membership on the school board.

New Era Forecast In Wallace Talk

HOUSTON, Nov. 17. (P)—Secretary Wallace forecast a long-range farm program which would include government crop insurance on a payment in kind basis.

The secretary of agriculture was the principal speaker at a general session of the 50th annual convention of the association of land grant colleges which drew an attendance of 500 educators from over the nation.

In predicting a new era in agriculture, Secretary Wallace said: "I believe, that now we must be taking stock of programs addressed to the longer term situation. Now it appears that we may be standing upon the threshold of better times, perhaps of something like a new era. "In this new era, our permanent policy with respect to agriculture, as I see it, must shape itself to give the farmer his fair share of prosperity, having due regard to the long-time interests of the national community as a whole."

Secretary Wallace, chairman of the committee President Roosevelt appointed to study the proposed crop insurance project, said the first trial on crop insurance likely would be made on one crop, possibly wheat. He explained that the proposition would be a voluntary one with farmers and that payment of premiums by participants and payment of insurance by the government would be in kind—bushel for bushel—or in dollars equivalent to the price per bushel.
