FEDERAL PENSION OFFICIALS BEGIN DISTRIBUTION OF APPLICATIONS TO EMPLOYEES OVER NATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (P)— Ready for the stupendous job of assigning "account numbers" to 26,000,000 workers, government officials said today business in general and big business in particular was cooperating heartily with arrangements for the federal pension system.

Early this morning postmen will begin delivering applications for the accounts to employees, on the basis of reports their employers were required by law to make by last Saturday night. If an employer reported one or a hundred people in his hire, as many forms will be delivered to his shop with a few to spare. The employees have until Dec 5 to return their questionnaires.

Since the deadline for the employees to apply for an "identification number" has now passed, questions about the government's attitude toward those who refused or failed to do so were being asked of the internal revenue bureau today.

Officials said each case would be decided on its merits, without any wish either to be lenient to violators of the law or to take a "crack down" approach. Until a specific case came up, there appeared to be little likelihood of a ruling on the subject. Neither was there any apparent prospect of an extension of the deadline. No data was yet available on how many employers refused to cooperate.

Revenue officials and Jesse M. Donaldson, deputy first assistant postmaster general, both expressed gratitude for cooperation from business. "Some of the biggest corporations," said Donaldson "are setting aside office space and hiring help for their employees to apply for pension accounts. Many employees will even find the date and their names already entered on the card for them."

2500 MIDLAND WORKERS WILL GET BLANKS SOON

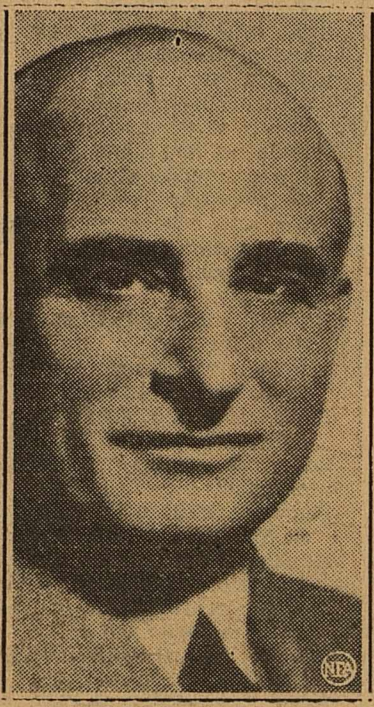

Employees' application for account numbers will be delivered to 2,500 commercial and industrial workers in Midland by the postoffice this week, marking another step in the setting up of the social security program.

For convenience these forms, known as SS-5, will be delivered to employers, for further distribution to employees. They must be returned to the post office by December 5, a week from Saturday.

Employees may elect, however, to obtain forms direct from the post-office. Forms may be returned direct to the postoffice, thus keeping all information confidential from the employer. John P. Howe, Midland postmaster, announced a scarcity of the blanks at the present time but has been notified that more of them will be here soon.

Social Security forms SS-4, for employers, were distributed to 295 Midland employers last week and were due to be returned to Howe Saturday. The postmaster announced today that 171 of the forms had been returned. According to rules of the social security board, employers' forms filled out henceforth should be sent directly to the board, at Washington, D. C.

BOB, SONNY LAMB SENTENCED TO 99 YEARS FOR CRIMES

Murder and Holdup Confession Is Made By 2

GUTHRIE, Nov. 24. (P)— Bob and Sonny Lamb, West Texas hijackers who last Thursday night signed statements confessing to a murder and half a dozen holdups, were each given sentences of 99 and 15 years on guilty pleas before Judge Isaac Newton in 50th district court here Monday.

The longer sentences were assessed on robbery with firearms charges resulting from holdup of a beer parlor east of Guthrie on highway 24, near Benjamin, the night of August 1, in which a wrist watch, 32 cases of beer and a .38 Colt revolver were taken.

The 16-year terms were assessed on assault to murder charges, returned after a shooting scrape north of King county the same night. According to the pair's confession, the two attempted to hold-up a liquor store on the King-Cottle county line between Guthrie and Paducah. In a gun battle Pinky George, operator of the store, was shot twice. He recovered.

The two hijackings in which the Lamb father and son participated were the first in the history of King county, according to residents.

R. L. and Alfred Lamb, known as Bob and Sonny, are former residents of Abilene. Their apprehension came about last week after investigations by the state police safety department with cooperation of county and city officers in West Texas. Aiding in bringing the two to trial in King county was Sheriff George Humphreys.

The Lambs signed statements last Thursday in Coleman, before an investigator of the state bureau of intelligence, Sheriff Frank Mills of Coleman, and other West Texas officers. Confession was made to six hijackings, a killing, and several automobile thefts.

A special grand jury in Menard county returned murder indictments against each Saturday, charging murder of N. J. Johnson, Erna store operator, last September 10.

Dialogue To Be Presented On Health Program Wed.

A dialogue will be presented on the Health program which will be broadcast over station KRLH Wednesday morning at ten o'clock presenting Dr. W. E. Ryan, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, and Mrs. W. B. Chapman in "A Pneumonia Case."

Mrs. Frank Miller will present two musical numbers, "Romance," by Sibelius, and "Gabbotte," by D'Albort.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt Jewell and daughter will return from Fort Worth tonight where they have been visiting since Saturday.

Order French Navy To Look Out For The Flag

SUBMARINES OUT England Reported To Have 4 Near Spain

(By Associated Press) Great Britain and France took quick measures today to protect merchant ships from molestation in Spanish waters as the Madrid government charged "foreign warships" were aiding insurgent attacks on the socialist fleet, mentioning Italy and Germany.

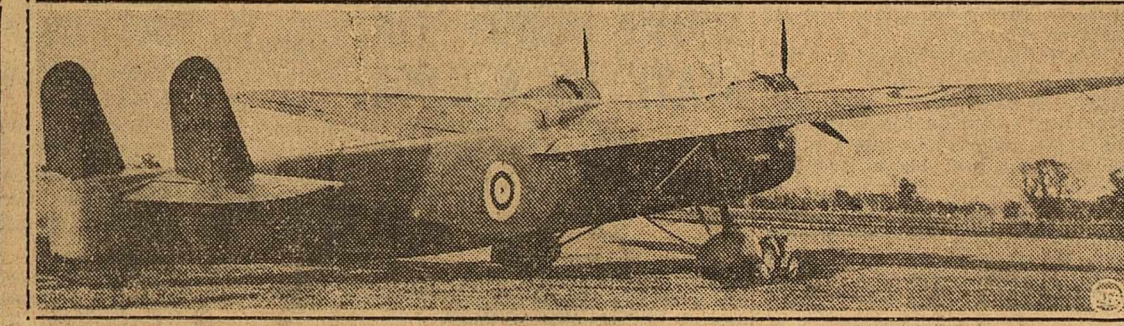

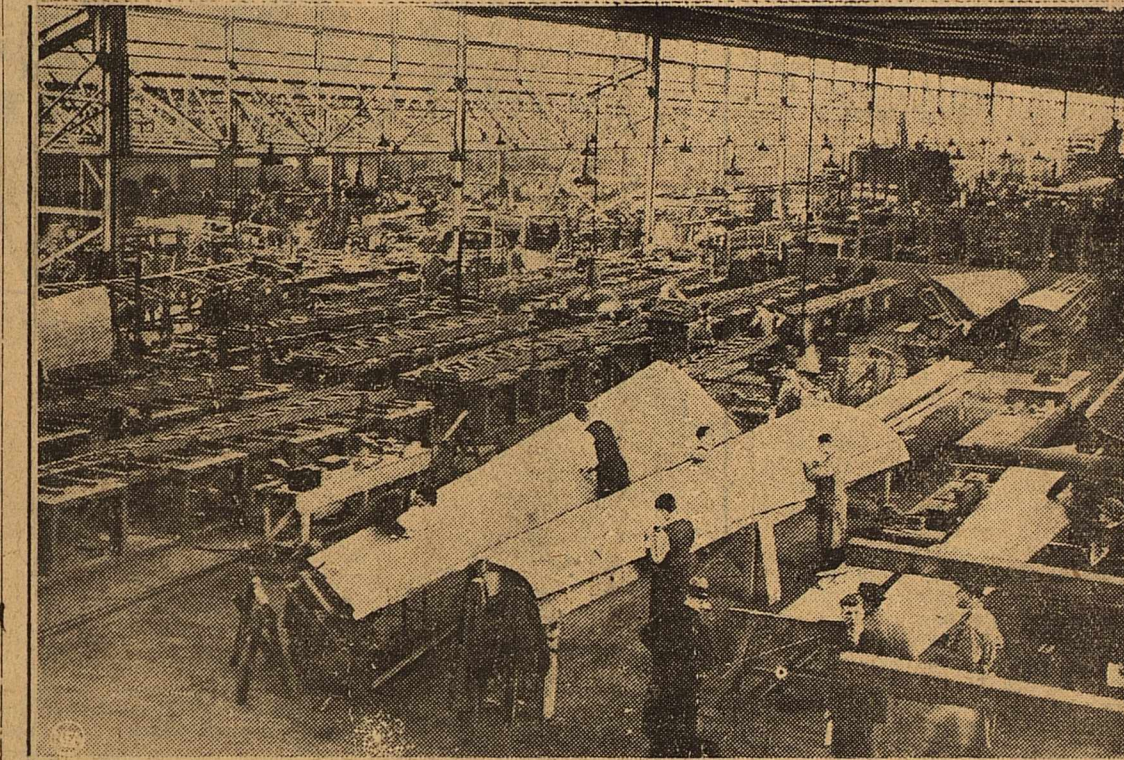

England was reported in informal circles as having characterized the insurgent explanations of blockade intentions as unsatisfactory, and are believed to have ordered four submarines and a depot ship to Spain. The move followed foreign secretary Eden's warning that British warships would protect its merchantmen from an attack by either side.

The French government instructed its ministry of navy to "take all appropriate measures in protection of the French flag in Spanish waters." A Spanish communique indicated a German U-boat might have loosed the torpedo which Madrid charges damaged the cruiser Cervantes in Cartagena harbor Sunday.

The United States has ordered its embassy at Madrid evacuated to Valencia and has offered safe conduct to all Americans desiring to flee the capital.

The Spanish government said that an insurgent attack on the northwestern section of the capital had been repulsed and that the Fascist stronghold at Oviedo had been taken.

As Britain Feverishly Pushes Mighty Air Fleet

Nervousness over the critical state of European affairs has lashed Britain to a frenzy activity in rearming. The growth of the British air force since the $1,500,000,000 armaments program was instituted 18 months ago is revealed by estimates that total of first line planes has been increased from 580 to 992, with three to four craft in reserve on each type, making a strength of more than 4,000 aircraft. The mass production methods utilized to speed manufacture of planes is shown in the upper view of the factory at Cricklewood, near London, where the deadly new Harrow bombers (below) are assembled.

APPLICATION OF 3 COUNTIES GRANTED IN AUSTIN TODAY

Highway to Connect With No. 216 In Ector County

MUST SPEND CASH $50,000 For Grading Clause Is Imposed By Commission

AUSTIN, Nov. 24. (P)— The highway commission today granted the application of Midland, Winkler and Ector counties for a designation from Kermit to the connection with highway 216, near Odessa, on condition that they spend approximately $50,000 for grading.

Granting of the application follows the recent instruction of the above route by Chairman Harry Hines of the highway commission. At that time, he assured Midland oil men and county officials that the route was logical and was needed especially by the oil industry.

County Judges S. M. Halley of Winkler county and E. H. Barron of Midland county went to Austin yesterday to appear before the commission, today's action apparently following the formal application for designation.

The route designated is a continuation of the Midland-Andrews cut off and follows the Ector county road serving the north Ector fields to the Winkler county line. From there it will continue westward to the town of Kermit, making the Winkler county and north Ector fields more accessible from Midland and Odessa, as well as all points east.

Growing necessity of traffic from oil pool to oil pool has caused company men to have to drive great distances out of the way in the course of a day's business. The new route, when completed, will split a large section of the active Permian Basin territory, eliminating much waste mileage.

From Midland, the road goes northwest over the present Andrews route, intersecting the Odessa-Andrews paved highway where the new designation begins, and going due west to Kermit.

Coldest Weather Of Fall Hits in State

HIT-RUN DRIVER SOUGHT WHEN MAN DIES OF INJURIES

Cleburnite Loses Life As Result Of Accident

Sam Smith, Cleburne, about 50 years of age, who was run over by a hit-run driver near Germania about 8 o'clock Sunday night, succumbed last night in a local hospital. Attendant physicians blamed his death on a fractured skull.

Smith was run down as he was walking along the highway enroute to the Germania filling station to procure gasoline after he and George Duncan, riding with him, had run out of the fuel near the station. He was not able before his death to give officers a description of the car.

Duncan was able to give officers a meager description of the car he believed to be involved in the tragedy, saying he believed the car to be a V-8 Ford with a pick-up body on the back, it was reported.

Officers of both Midland and Howard counties are pressing a search for the driver of the car but so far have failed to unearth any clues that would aid them in their investigation of the crime.

Funeral service for Smith are being delayed, pending word from relatives at Cleburne.

Queen Coronation Is Witnessed By An Enthusiastic Crowd

The Coronation of Eddy Gene Cole as Queen of the Midland high school took place last night in a beautifully rendered ceremony. The Court of the Lone State State was opened by the heralds, Fredda Fae Turner and Julianan Cowden, who wore cow-girl costumes of gold satin with accents of red.

The stage was given a regal appearance with a solid background of silver. In the center of the stage, over the throne, hung a huge blue star electrically lighted. Chairs of gold with high backs bore the crests of the six countries represented at the court.

Jack Noble, as bearer of the Spanish flag, wore a sixteenth century Spanish costume of linked mail and steel helmet. Pady Sue Whitcomb, the Princess of Spain, wore a dress

EXTORTION SUIT AGAINST ROBSON DISMISSED TODAY

Arrested in 1934 In The June Robles Kidnaping

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 24 (P)— Frank Flynn, United States district attorney for Arizona, announced today that the attorney general in Washington had authorized dismissal of the case against Oscar Robson, former Tucson night club operator, indicted for the June Robles kidnaping.

Robson was indicted two years ago on charges of writing extortion letters. Flynn said the dismissal apparently would be grounded on insufficient evidence.

The girl was abducted in 1934. An extortion note demanding $15,000 was never paid. The girl was found 19 days later in a desert pit near Tucson.

AMERADA WELL IS DEEPENED TO 5,092

Drill-Stem Test Attempted But Packer Fails To Hold

By FRANK GARDNER Deepening from 5,022, Amerada No. 1-A Averitt, discovery well three miles northwest of Seminole in Gaines county, encountered saturation and slight porosity from 5,025-26. Drilling stopped at 5,029, and a drill-stem test was attempted but ended in failure when packer failed to hold. At last reports, crew was coming out with drill pipe.

The last eight hours of a 21-hour test made after treating with 2,000 gallons of acid, the No. 1-A Averitt flowed an average of 7 barrels of fluid hourly, 90 per cent oil and the rest basic sediment and water, with gas volume of 11,700,000 cubic feet. Both oil and gas flows appeared to have been about doubled by the acid treatment.

Also in Gaines, Stanolind No. 1 Morrow is drilling at 2,586 feet in salt. The wildcat is located in section 20, block A-24, public school land.

Dawson Well To Pump Ray Albaugh No. 1 Robinson, northwest Dawson county discovery, has run tubing and rods and was to start a pumping test today at noon. The well's total depth is 5,038, and there is 4,500 feet of oil standing

Faye Cotton, Enroute To Hollywood Spends A Night In Midland

Miss Faye Cotton, Texas Sweetheart number one, star of the Frontier Centennial, and outstanding example of the "local girl makes good," spent last night in Midland enroute to Hollywood, California, where she is under contract with the Universal Studios.

The Texas beauty, was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Lillian Powell and son, B. W., and was taking her time, stopping by for a neighborly visit with Mrs. Ruth Ramsell of J. C. Smith and Company. One of the fortunate few that "knew her when."

She said that "they" had wanted her to take a plane to California but she was driving her Ford V-8 and combining vacation with a business trip, appreciating the first time she had had to herself for six months.

Miss Cotton says that she wants to make good in California, "but of course, if it turns out that I am not fitted for that work, I will only feel that the experience has been priceless, and I will look for something else."

When asked her opinion of Paul Whiteman and Billy Rose, she said that she liked Paul Whiteman "as well as he likes Texas," and that although she was afraid of Billy Rose's "frankness" at first, being accustomed to the "good natured, two-faced" Texas ways, she thought he was "grand" now and that some Texans did not give him "credit for his genius."

"I am really sorry," said this bit of Pampa pulchritude, "that the Casa Manana show is closed and that it is all over because I have so many friends in Fort Worth and now I will have it all to do over again in Hollywood."

Colored Health Board Approves Cafes Here

GERMAN NAMED AS WINNER OF NOBLE PEACE PRIZE, '35

Severe Criticism Of The Award Is Expected

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 24 (P)— Carl von Ossietzky, German pacifist, and Carlos Saavedra Lamas, Argentine foreign minister, were announced today as the winners of Noble peace prizes. The former was called the winner for 1935 and the latter for 1936.

German Minister Salm expressed regret that von Ossietzky, publicist freed recently from a German prison and noted as a pro-Hitler liberal who has devoted most of his career to answering charges of treason for allegedly slandering the German armed forces, was given the award, asserting, "it will create embitterment of Germany."

Rumors of Ossietzky's designation were followed by the resignation of two committee members. Saavedra Lamas is prominent in the League of Nations, being president at the League assembly recently.

of white taffeta printed with red roses and a mantilla of white silk lace. Her escort was Robert Tanner.

Wayne Lanham, the standard bearer for France wore a sixteenth century costume, with lace frills, a wig, and tricorne hat. Mary Jane Harper, Princess of Spain, was attired in a yellow and orchid flowered satin dress made with a hoop skirt. She was escorted by Marvin Park.

Harry Sindorf, the Mexican standard bearer, was dressed in a Mexican officer's uniform of blue, with a tall hat topped by a huge red plume. Wanda Ticknor, or Princess of Mexico, wore a typical Mexican costume of red sequin skirt and embroidered blouse. B. C. Girdley was her escort.

Tommy Wilson, bearer of the flag of the Republic of Texas, was dressed in a pioneer costume of brown suede and a coonskin cap. Jessa Lynn Tuttle, the Sweetheart of the Republic, wore a bluebonnet blue frock of moire taffeta. Her escort was John Dublin Jr.

The standard bearer of the United States flag was Goodrich Heil, who was dressed in an American officer's uniform. Adale Reiger, the Sweetheart of the United States, wore a costume of orchid satin and pink chiffon designed with a hoop skirt. She was escorted by Robert Payne.

The standard bearer for the Confederacy, Bobby Walker, wore a Confederate uniform. Velma Johnson, the Sweetheart of the Confederacy, wore a yellow satin dress typical of the Confederacy era. Russell Wright acted as her escort.

James Frank Johnson, the King had a robe of real velvet bordered with ermine, a crown of red and gold, and a gold scepter.

Eddy Gene Cole, the Queen, was attired in a white moire dress and wore a magnificent train covered with a silver sequins and lined with white satin. Her crown was of dainty silver and rhinestone filigree.

Ann Ulmer, the crown bearer, Alma Fae Cowden and Patsy Arrington, train bearers, were dressed in short white taffeta dresses made with circular skirts.

The history of Texas in six parts was related by Billy Noble and Dorothy Lou Speed. After each part an appropriate feature of entertainment was presented.

For the prehistoric background Elma Gene Noble, in a red and yellow costume gave an excellent Indian dance.

For the Spanish period, a group of six girls, Christine Pate, Virginia Ann Hilliard, Louise Elkin, Edythe King, Gene Doran, and Helen Dronpleman, presented a colorful dance with tambourines. Their costumes were of various hues made with long ruffled skirts.

The French period was featured by a Gavotte, danced by Melba Schlosser, dressed in a pale blue costume of the French Colonial period.

An excellent rendition of the Mexican National dance was given by Mary Adella Kendrick and Dorothy Young who wore Mexican costumes in the National colors.

The features of the period of the Republic were a song "Another Mile" sung by Fred Gordon Middleton, wearing a cow-boy costume and accompanied by Courtney Cowden and Buster Cole as rope twirlers, and "You're Like a Toy Balloon" sung by the girls trio consisting of Janette Hays, Mary Beth Sorrigas, and Louise Elkin. Doris June Bayless, in a blue net dress trimmed in silver, gave a toe dance between parts of the song.

The United States period was represented by a graceful menuet danced by Anna Beth Bedford, Joyce Beauchamp, and La Moine Sindorf, the ladies, dressed in green colonial costumes and black lace half

CANVASS OF VOTES SHOWS DEMOS WIN STATE BY 650,000

Margin is Smaller Than One Made In 1934

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—A canvass today of the official returns in the presidential election in Texas showed President Roosevelt's majority over Alf Landon to be approximately 630,000, less than his margin over Hoover four years ago.

Joe Pollard, heading the ticket of democratic electors, received 734,485 votes to 100,711 for C. C. Welch, high man for the republicans.

Two counties—Gillespie and Kendall—went republican. They were the only two in the state to desert the democratic banner.

lo, present member of the state commission, who pleads for a closer understanding of the game laws in the part of the public. Her article is both instructive and filled with the fervor of a true sportsman.

I once heard of a man who went around with a chip on his shoulder. After a time, along came a man who swung and knocked off the man's head, without even aiming at the chip.

We often talk about the long tongues, but we seldom mention the long ears which listen to the long tongues.

Do you remember the old verse about Susan Louder? I heard it thirty years ago and used to recite it to my friends. I thought of it this morning while taking a bromo: Here lie the bones of Susan Louder. She died from drinking sidlitz powder. Gone from this earth to her Heavenly rest. She should have waited 'til it efferevated.

I did so much talking about saving out pep for the Odessa game until after we had played Monarchs that I almost slipped up and forgot we were about to play Odessa Thursday. But the Bulldogs are not forgetting it and should be as tight as a bunch of foxes. I don't think they are over confident, but I don't think they are going to be satisfied with anything less than a three or four touchdown win over the Bronchos. Lackey Field will be the scene and 2:30 will be the time. Four bits will be the admission.

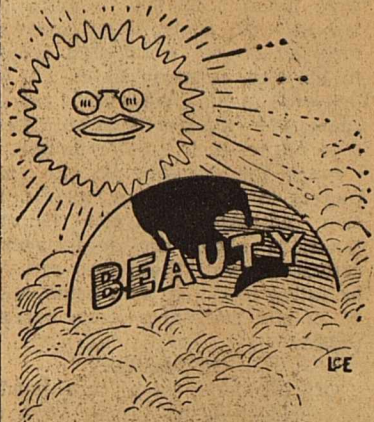

One of the best publications I have seen in a long time is the annual sportsman's edition of the Amarillo Globe-News. Published in tabloid size, it portrays the wild game set-up of the Panhandle and eastern New Mexico in a big way. Gene A. Howe, ardent sportsman and former member of the Texas Fish, Game & Oyster Commission, started it several years ago and doesn't miss a season.

Prominent among the articles contained in the tabloid is one by Mrs. Hal Peck of Midland and Amarillo.

The first automobile license was issued to Elwood Haynes of Kokomo, Ind.

Vinegar Used Gingerly Is Salad Secret

One cooked vegetable, one uncooked green in a salad—that's the most simple rule for menu-making with a dish of health in it. Add to the green of salad either other vegetables or fruit, and your simple rule takes on magnificent promise.

Melons, right now, beg for a place at the salad course. You'll find honeydews, casabas, Persians and winter watermelon like splashes of color waiting to add flavor, consistency and food value to your dinner.

Begin with a honeydew salad. Chill the melon, cut in translucent green moons, run a knife between outside and first layer of flesh rest it on a bed of crisp lettuce, and, just before serving, pour on a restrained amount of French dressing, only lightly seasoned, but made piquant with fresh lime juice. This is the season for limes and they were born to make salads with pride.

Mixed Green Salad

A mixed green salad, served in a large bowl right at table, will revive the appetite after a roast and start it out, vigorous again, looking for dessert. Mixed green means many greens of different texture and shape and flavor, all huddled together in that chilled bowl, waiting for the French dressing that will transform them into a unified delight.

Your local markets will surprise you if you look. There are romaine, escarole, chicory, Boston and iceberg lettuce, celery tops and roots, the tender little leaves of broccoli, those infant leaves of fresh spinach, watercress and even radishes from the south to give assorted vitality to that salad bowl. A little minced onion has a way of keeping this emerald assortment in amiable unity.

Garlic, once regarded by Americans as an intruding alien, has been admitted to the best salad circles. And practically no self-respecting jar of French dressing, standing in the refrigerator, is without its clove of garlic. Incidentally, the statement that it is difficult to make men eat salads is based on superstition and too much vinegar. Any hotel or restaurant manager will tell you that men eat more salads than women—that is good, green, lively salads.

DUELISTS HURL CREAM PUFFS

A Rack of Young Lamb Gambols Among Fresh Vegetables Whets the Appetite

A rack of young lamb gambols among fresh vegetables.

By NEA Service

Here's a recipe a noted French chef in America calls lamb en casserole bouquetiere. But only the name is foreign, the taste is 100 per cent American.

For four servings, get a rack of 8 lamb chops. Have them slightly "Frenched" by the butcher. At the ends of the bones, put cubes of bread and cubes of salt pork alternately. Season lightly with salt and pepper. Place in very hot oven and roast for 20 minutes. Then add 2 tablespoons each of finely chopped white onions, carrots and celery to the pan. Return to hot oven and cook another 5 minutes. Then remove the rack and keep hot. Add 1 cup brown gravy to the vegetables in the pan and simmer for 10 minutes. Strain this gravy.

Now For The Vegetables

While the rack was in the oven roasting toward succulence, you were preparing 4 vegetables. The result is this — you have ready 1 cup carrots cut in thick strips, 1 cup peas or Frenched green beans, 1 cup turnips, cut in thick strips the same size as the carrots, and 2 cups potato balls. These were boiled in separate salted water until almost, but not quite, done. Now place the hot rack of lamb in a large attractive casserole.

Arrange the almost cooked vegetables about it attractively. Over these pour the strained brown gravy. Return the rack to the oven, hot, but not quite so hot as it was for the roasting. Bake not more than 10 minutes and then serve. This is the kind of dish, impressive looking and really not very hard to trouble, to serve when you entertain your husband's business associates. Don't forget the paper frills. Business friends are easily impressed by such things.

Lamb and mushrooms on skewers is another handsome variation. Allow 1/3 pound lamb steak for each serving. Use large fresh mushrooms. They are plentiful now and moderately priced. Cut the lamb steaks into 1 1/2 inch squares. Peel the mushrooms and use only the large caps. (Save the stems and peelings for cream of mushroom soup.) Season meat with salt and pepper. Use steel skewers. Run the skewer through center of square of lamb, then through the center of mushroom cap. Continue with meat and mushrooms until each skewer is filled but do not crowd together. Brush lightly with olive oil in which a tiny clove of garlic has stood an hour. Lay skewers across baking tin under hot broiler and broil for 15 minutes.

Baby Beef Champion Wins Chicago Trip

Texas' 4-H baby beef champion for the season, Byron Eckert, 15, of Art, fed out 19 calves in five years. His prizes at county and state shows total $510.53, more than half of which he won this year at the Fort Worth, San Antonio and San Angelo shows, and the Mason County Fair. Total sales proceeds on his calves are certified as $3,833.19.

The boy was a member of this year's winning livestock judging team. His latest recognition is to receive the Armour all-expense trip valued at $120.00 to the 15th National Club Congress to be held in Chicago, Nov. 27-Dec. 5. It was awarded by L. L. Johnson, state boys' club agent, who reported nearly 3900 contestants in 27 counties for the trip. The boy will be one of the Texas delegation of 25 of the year's outstanding clubsters to the Club Congress.

Thanksgiving Dinner Costs Less This Year

Thanksgiving dinners will cost less money this year chiefly on account of lower prices of turkeys and poultry. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics said today. How much less, officials would not say, since prices vary with quality and the markets.

Wholesale prices of turkeys, due to this year's large crop, are reported at about 5 cents a pound less than in early November a year ago. Prices of chickens are down about 3 cents, also due to larger supplies. Ducks and geese are priced slightly under a year ago.

Prices of cranberries will be relatively high again this year (about the same or possibly slightly higher than a year ago). Prices of apples are higher. Oranges and grapefruit probably will be slightly lower.

Retail prices of potatoes in October were 80 percent higher than a year ago, on account of the small crop of late potatoes. Prices of sweet potatoes also are higher, and the retail prices of cabbage, carrots, and lettuce will be slightly above those of a year ago, the bureau said.

But prices of squash and onions will be much less than a year ago — about one-half the prices of '35. Celery is slightly lower priced as is rice. Various nut crops are small this year with prices advancing.

Mrs. Middleton Is Hostess To Annie Barron Circle Mon.

Mrs. Fred Middleton was hostess to the Annie Barron circle Monday afternoon at her home at three thirty o'clock.

Mrs. H. B. Dunagan gave a talk on tapestries which was interesting to the circle members.

A Thanksgiving plate was served to Meses. Ray Hyatt, J. H. Barron, J. H. Williamson, R. V. Lawrence, Luther of El Paso, J. V. New Orleans Tour Is Next on Conoco Broadcast Series

The exciting story of New Orleans—called "The Crescent City" because of its location on a great bend of the Mississippi river—will be told by Carveth Wells Sunday, November 29, in his radio broadcast, "Exploring America with Conoco and Carveth Wells," sponsored by Continental Oil Company.

Relating briefly the turbulent episodes in the city's history under six flags, the popular explorer-reporter will trace New Orleans' growth from a swampy French settlement to one of America's outstanding health resorts and recreational centers.

Of particular interest will be his description of the most ancient and historic section of the city—the Vieux Carré—and other places which contribute to New Orleans' distinctive old world atmosphere of France and Spain. Also, Wells will present interesting facts concerning the famous Mardi Gras festival—a season of gaiety and pageantry which annually attracts thousands of visitors to the Louisiana city.

Local listeners who wish to tune in on Carveth Wells Sunday, November 29, may do so by dialing station WFAA at 12:30 p. m.

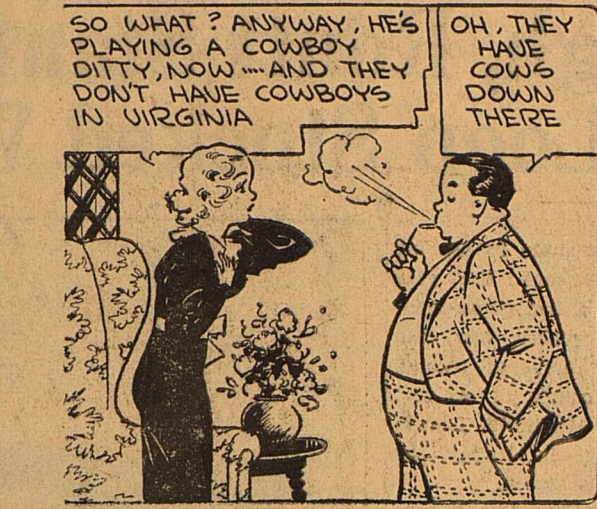

Until recent times, it was a common belief lightning hurled down thunderbolts.

The gripping organs of the cat's claw creeper grow in all directions, and sway to and fro in an ever-widening arc, until they come in contact with nearby tree trunks. The claws enter the bark, develop roots, and then send out new, clawed creepers.

PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

Baugh, Routt Stand Out In S W In Loop Stocked With "All" Eligibles

By NEA Service So many stars shine in the big Southwest Conference this year that it really is a hazardous occupation to be a picker.

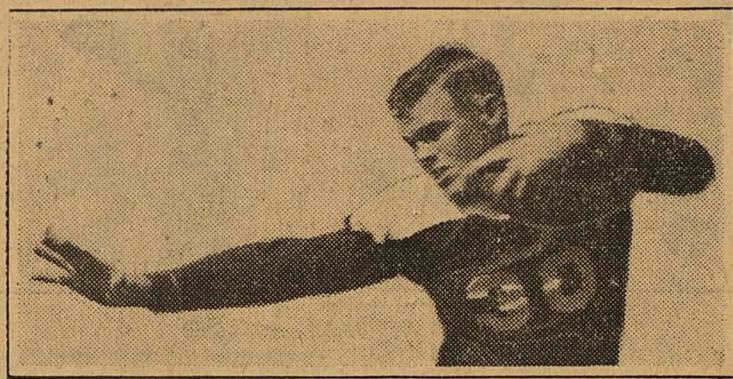

If the dope of Pop Boone, veteran sports editor of the Ft. Worth Press, is right, Texas Christian will tear things up in its remaining games, which include engagements with Southern Methodist in Dallas, Nov. 28, and unbeaten and untied Santa Clara in San Francisco Dec. 12.

If the Fort Worth array accomplishes this, Slingshot Sam Baugh, the quarterback and Walls and Roach, the Honed Frog ends named on the All-Southwest Conference first team, will have earned their right to be on the squad.

Baugh hasn't played much in recent games, but did plenty of damage while he won on the front line. He pitched the Frogs to 18 points in 18 minutes against Baylor, 18 points in 22 minutes against Texas, and to 12 points in 10 minutes against Centenary. The 145-pound Davey O'Brien carried on the rest of the way on each occasion.

Baugh was on one leg in the Texas A. and M. tilt. The Howard Payne, Texas Tech, Tulsa, and Mississippi State engagements were played in mud.

Baugh and Routt Stand Out Southwestern school can contribute a brilliant array of talent to the east-west Shrine Year's Day. Nearly all of the men on the first and second all-star teams, as well as other luminaries, graduate and thus will be available.

Dick Todd

Jack Robbins

John Whitfield

Sammy Baugh

Dick Todd, upper left, Texas A. and M. halfback, crashes NEA Service's All-Southwest Conference team. So do Jack Robbins, lower left, Arkansas halfback and passer extraordinary; Johnny Whitfield, center, Texas A. and M. tackle; and Slingshot Sam Baugh, right, Texas Christian quarterback and daddy of the passers who is the southwest's foremost candidate for an All-American berth.

is the southwest's foremost candidate for All-American honors. Joe Routt of Texas A. and M. stands out as the best guard in the conference.

Southwest aggregations continue to lean to passing. Jack Robbins of Arkansas and Dick Todd of Texas A. and M., the halfbacks, are adept passers. Robbins tossed a large share of the 105 passes the Razorbacks used in their first three starts, and has been at it ever since. Robbins is a triple-threat man. Both he and Todd are elusive and slambang runners and good blockers.

Wolfe, Texas fullback, can smack the line and block. Football Fortunes Change Johnny Whitfield of Texas A. and M. and Cliff Van Sickle of Arkansas are the tackles. They are large men, capable of pulling out of the line. They rush passers and are rocks in the line when thrusts are directed at them.

Table with 3 columns: First Team, Position, Second Team. Lists players from various schools like Texas Christian, Texas A. and M., Arkansas, etc.

HONORABLE MENTION: Ends—Mabry, Texas Christian; Collins, Texas; Clark, Baylor; Hamilton, Arkansas; Morrow, Texas A. and M. Tackles—Koching, Texas; Dougherty and Frankie Rice; Whitfield, Texas A. and M. Guards—Gillmore and Owens, Arkansas; Lythien and Jones, Texas A. and M. Center—Small, Texas; Aldrich, Texas Christian. Quarterbacks—Smith, Rice; Sheridan, Texas. Halfbacks—McClure, McCall, and Caldwell, Rice; Masters, Baylor; Manning and Vitok, Texas A. and M.; Sloane, Arkansas. Fullbacks—Patterson, Southern Methodist; Holt, Arkansas; Sprague, Southern Methodist.

1933 No Different For Odessa, Midland Was Winner By 19-6

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series of six reviews on Midland-Odessa high school football games played in the last 10 years. Another will appear tomorrow.) (From Nov. 26, 1933 File of The Reporter-Telegram).

Midland backs and ends suddenly discovered in the third period Friday afternoon that they could block sensationally, and our Mr. Gordon Jones was shaken loose from there out for touchdown gambols of 22.10 and 43 yards, allowing Midland to beat a surprisingly strong Odessa club 19-6.

The Midland field general, held down to no scoring and only an occasional long dash earlier, not getting into the game until late in the first period, thus ran up his total to seven touchdowns against Odessa in the last two seasons, having run back four, only one of which was less than 50 yards, against the Broncs last season.

In the third period he broke away behind great blocking for a 32 yard run around his right end. In the fourth period he ran the ball 47 yards to the Odessa 10, then struck off his right tackle for a touchdown. A few moments later, with the ball on the Odessa 43, he waited until his mates opened up, feinted while they were blocking out ends, tackle and secondary, romped through a cavernous hole and put on a burst of speed for touchdown that left the safety man gasping.

Odessa scored within the first three minutes, when the Midland starters, made up largely of second stringers, failed to stem the plunging of Blanchard Farmer, John Krebs and Billy Smith and passing launched by Nash Tucker.

The Tucker to Krebs passing combination was dangerous all afternoon, resulting in placing the ball on the Midland one-foot line for the first period, from where it was bucked across by Krebs. A latter attack from the air by these two boys placed the ball on the Midland 5 but it went for naught and Smith failed to pull in a heave into the end zone.

SCOUT LEADERS IN SESSION HERE

Initial Meeting Called Big Success' 16 Are Present

The first session of the Scout Leaders' Training School was highly successful, leaders reported after the initial session last night. Sixteen men from Penwell, Odessa and Midland participated.

The men were divided into two patrols, the donkey and the wild pigeon. Buster Howard of Midland acted as patrol leader for the donkey patrol, while Curley Webb of Odessa acted as leader of the wild pigeon patrol. John P. Howe and Guy Breneman were in charge of all work and Harold Kendrick acted as scribe. Claude Crane acted as senior patrol leader.

The patrol work is on a competitive basis and to date the donkey patrol leads by 10 points. Those attending the initial meeting reported a good time as well as learning much that will prove valuable in continuing the scout work.

at the Ritz Theatre tonight, when local citizens will have their last chance of obtaining a Thanksgiving fowl absolutely free of charge. Ten turkeys will be given away to holders of lucky numbers, the drawing being conducted in the usual "bank night" manner.

Ten turkeys were given to individuals holding lucky coupons on last Tuesday evening when a packed house gathered to participate in the drawing. As a result of the two drawings, 20 Thanksgiving Day tables in Midland will boast free turkeys. The turkeys were sold to the Lions Club at an appreciable discount by the Doran Produce Co. of Midland, the turkeys being the best that may be had in this section. "Under Your Spell", is the name of the feature picture which will be shown on the screen this evening. Through the courtesy of J. Howard Hodge, manager of the Ritz and Yucca Theatres, the Lions club will receive a generous percentage of the total receipts, the funds derived thereby to be used in carrying on the club's charity and sight conservation program.
