NO INFORMATION ON CONVENTIONS OF 3 PRECINCTS

The county democratic convention is scheduled to be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the county court room, and the republican convention will start at the same time in the justice court room.
Despite the fact precinct conventions of the democrats were held Saturday afternoon for electing delegates to the Tuesday convention, only one precinct, so far as could be learned here, had reported. Precinct 1 named the following delegates: District Judge Charles L. Klapproth, J. M. Caldwell, Mrs. Susie Graves Noble, George H. McDonald, Homer W. Rowe, County Judge M. E. Hill, T. D. Kimbrough, and R. M. Barron.
The precinct convention did not discuss an instructed delegation or choice of committee or committee woman; neither did it bring up prohibition or any other issue. Nothing is known of what happened at the other precinct conventions.
The republicans did not hold precinct conventions, but E. V. Lawrence, county chairman, has asked that a good crowd turn out for the county convention. The republicans will hold their state convention May 24 at Mineral Wells, the democrats to Houston on the same date.

Great Offering At Last Rites

One of the largest floral offerings ever made in West Texas was carried and wired Sunday to Snyder for the burial of the Rev. O. J. Hull, former Midland Baptist minister.
Church services lasted from 3:45 to 6 o'clock and were under the auspices of the Masonic order. Ray Hyatt of Midland officiated.
A great crowd from Snyder, Tahoka, Gatesville, Midland and other towns where he had served was present.
The pallbearers were: D. H. Goodnight, A. M. Cade, and J. Wilonsky of Tahoka, Hawley Shuler, Warren Dodson, J. G. Whately and Sam LaRue of Snyder and J. O. Nobles of Midland.
The minister was buried by the side of his mother, who died several years ago. There were five ministers who assisted in the service.
The minister served the Midland church from 1917 to 1921.

AUSTIN, May 9. (UP)—Orders were issued today, effective May 10, to reduce the allowable Howard and Glasscock oil fields from 25,000 to 22,000 barrels daily.

No Change Today In Fuhrman Well

In drilling to 4,475 feet today, Fuhrman Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 F. Borer and others in Andrews county had shown no change since it encountered a small increase in oil Monday from 4,310-15 feet. At 4,400 feet the most closely watched test in the Permian basin was 1,205 feet below sea level and 104 feet past the point at which the well was topped at 4,287 feet, 1,101 feet below sea level, in Fuhrman's No. 1 Ford, three-quarters of a mile to the northwest, the largest of five Andrews county wells.
No. 1 Borer has been running lower structurally than No. 1 Ford, and using one correlation on line points, indicating No. 1 Borer to be 86 feet lower, it was 18 past No. 1 Ford's pay top at 4,400. Granting this No. 1 Borer still has chances of obtaining production at two more levels should it check with No. 1 Ford. The latter's best pay was from 4,387-96 feet and its last increase was from 4,445-50 feet. In the event No. 1 Borer misses small pay which No. 1 Ford had from 4,287-96 feet but gets the second 86 feet lower it would be due to reach that horizon at 4,467.

Dirigible Akron to Miss Midland, It Is Expected

Another Kind of Air Hook-up

Here's news from the Akron which is not expected to pass over Midland this afternoon due to a change in course, but which shows through the medium of pictures some aerial act! The queen of the skies sent out a late radiogram to army station, saying an earlier announcement today that she would follow the Southern Pacific lines into the west will stand. The picture shown above concerns a speedy little "spider" plane just after it had hooked onto a trapeze under the dirigible over Lakehurst yesterday. Then the mammoth airship dropped its little acquaintance—in other words, gave it the air. Lieut. Young is the pilot and Lieut. Harrigan made such a contact a moment later. Bad weather caused the airship not to fly the strict southern route Sunday, which would have brought it over Midland, according to earlier reports.

Over Roanoke, La., At 11:30 Today

HOUSTON, May 9. (UP)—A Southern Pacific dispatcher reported that the Akron passed over Roanoke, La., at 11:30 this morning, 190 miles west of New Orleans.
BEAUMONT, May 9. (UP)—The chamber of commerce received a telegram from Commander Rosendahl of the dirigible Akron saying the ship was expected to pass over Beaumont at 1:30, central standard time.
He said the Akron would follow the Southern Pacific tracks to Houston, thence westward toward the Pacific.

Circles New Orleans Early This Morning

NEW ORLEANS, May 9. (UP)—The dirigible Akron arrived here shortly before 8 o'clock this morning in flight from Lakehurst to the Pacific coast to participate in naval maneuvers.
The giant craft approached the city from the east, circled the business district several times and resumed its westward flight.

Contacts With Ship Are Successful

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 9.—The dirigible Akron, which is lighter than air, glided through low rolling clouds along the Atlantic coast all Sunday en route to the west coast to join the Pacific fleet for maneuvers.
After leaving her home port at the naval air station here at 6 o'clock (E. S. T.) that morning with Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl at the controls, the huge ship rose to a height of about 1,600 feet and headed south.
The Akron circled the station twice and took aboard two tiny airplanes in midair before setting her course.
Lieutenants Young and Harrigan piloted their diminutive spider ships to the proper position below the Akron attached their planes to a trapeze like affair and were hoisted into the five plane "hangar" within the dirigible.
The weather map at the station showed good weather conditions along the proposed route.
Before leaving, Commander Rosendahl pronounced the ship in better condition than before the accident. He said one of her lower fins was bumped against the ground in view of a group of congressmen who were waiting to go aloft.
The ship carries a crew of 64, 15 officers and two naval officers as passengers. Among them is Commander Alger H. Dresel, scheduled to take command of the ship after his return to Lakehurst. Commander Rosendahl will go on sea duty in order to become eligible for promotion.
How long the dirigible will remain on the coast was probably not determined, depending largely upon the amount of helium available at Sunnyvale, Calif.
There was a possibility the ship might be ordered to Hawaii.

Broadway Trippers Give Midland Short Program

The Broadway of America motorcade, made up of automobiles from Colorado, Texas, to New York, arrived in Midland before 9 o'clock this morning, escorted by numerous Midland cars that awaited the highway group at the eastern city limits.
A brief program of band music, singing and other entertainment followed at the Scharbauer hotel. The official band of the Broadway, furnished by Colorado, played, President Mackay of the Broadway spoke, and a men's quartet from McMurry, Tenn., sang. Then the autocade left.
It will arrive in San Diego in time for the association's convention that begins there on Friday.
Colorado had the greatest representation, its seven automobiles containing the following:
J. H. Greene, secretary of the chamber of commerce, in charge, Roy Hester, director of the official band of the Broadway of America, Mrs. C. L. Root, Maxine Wulffjen, Julia Mae Root, Chas. Root, Robert Wulffjen, Harold Hester, Billy Henderson, Everett Tiner, J. B. Sorrels, Eugene Haston, Blackie Hart, John Elliott, Otis Wilson, Mrs. E. A. Dierdorff, Mrs. Roy Hester, Mrs. R. M. Gary, Elvieve Sorrels, Helen Hester, Mrs. Will Barry, Billy Berry, August Armstrong, Marion Watson, Willy Hagler, Jas. T. Johnson, Mrs. J. T. Johnson, Mrs. S. O. Wulffjen, Don Taylor, Lawrence Snively, Hubert Moore, Raymond Gary, Porter Richardson, Clifton Blackard, Sefton Pickens, Max Martin, Wm. L. Scott, Mrs. Wm. L. Scott, John Tom Merritt, Joe Bob Spalding, and Virgie Powell.
One of the most unique features of the motorcade which left New York Tuesday, May 3, was the beautiful centennial car of the Hot Springs chamber of commerce which is known as the "Silver Streak," and has recently been extensively used during the celebration of the 100th anniversary of America's oldest national park at Hot Springs.
This silver and blue car was driven by Scott D. Hamilton, manager of the Hot Springs chamber of commerce, accompanied by Mrs. Hamilton. The car was especially equipped for this trip with a complete amplification system capable of furnishing music and other entertainment for the motorcade. Band music and other musical features were broadcast along the route, with special concerts in communities where time permitted. The radio had to be repaired here and Frank Smith put it in order in 10 minutes.
The Hot Springs delegation included E. L. Howlett, president of the Hot Springs chamber of commerce, Robert A. Jones, chairman of the highway committee and a director of the Broadway of America association, and George H. Brenner, president of the Hot Springs Rotary club.

40 GEOLOGISTS SIGNIFY PLANS FOR FIELD TREK

Forty geologists have made reservations here and at San Angelo for the field excursion to be made May 14 and 15 to the Solitario in Brewster and Presidio counties under the auspices of the West Texas Geological Society. Further additions, including six citizens of Alpine, are expected to increase the party to between 50 and 60.
Dr. E. H. Sellards of Austin, director of the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas, will be chief guide and J. F. Hoserman, district geologist for American Petroleum Corporation here, and M. B. Arick, Humboldt geologist at McCamey, will be assistants. They have done much work in the Solitario, which is located about 70 miles southeast of Marfa, and is one of the outstanding geologic features of the world.
The geologists will pitch camp at McGurk's Tank within the circular dome which is the Solitario. Meals will be served from a chuck wagon for which arrangements have been made with John F. Robinson, secretary of the Marfa chamber of commerce, who will make the trip. Because there is no good water in the region, each geologist will take sufficient water to drink and for his automobile; also his bedding roll.
Some of the geologists will be accompanied by their wives.
In order to leave for the Solitario early Saturday morning, most of the geologists will spend Friday night at Marfa. Those who late in the week had made reservations for the trip are:

Uniform Wage Scale Is Urged

FORT WORTH, May 9. (UP)—A uniform state wage scale with a minimum wage for women will be the principal topics before the annual convention of the state federation of labor, beginning here today and continuing through the month just past.
J. W. Parks, president of Dallas, said a program of the economic problems would be outlined for possible legislative reform and said that Texas labor was probably not as bad off as in other states.

Failures in State Are on Down Grade

AUSTIN.—Commercial failures occurring in Texas totaled only 69 during April, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. The number of failures in preliminary reports at $1,624,000. Normally, there is a decline of about 1.5 per cent in the number of failures but the decline this year was 12.7 per cent, so that the improvement which has been in evidence in this business indicator since last November carried through the month just past.
Two bankruptcies involving liabilities of more than $200,000 each caused average liabilities per failure to jump from the $16,316 reported for March to a preliminary figure of $23,536, an increase of 44 per cent.
Eleven dry goods and clothing firms were included among the businesses which failed in April and nine men's furnishing shops also went into bankruptcy. Eight general stores and that same number of groceries and meat markets closed during the month as did also seven furniture stores, five drug stores and four hardware stores.

Principals in $100,000 Ransom Fiasco

It was Mrs. Edward B. McLean, above, wife of a wealthy Washington publisher, who caused the arrest of Gaston B. Means, several weeks after they had discussed plans for negotiating for the return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby. Mrs. McLean told department of justice officials that she gave Means $100,000, but that no results were forthcoming.
Gaston B. Means, below, told such a convincing story of being in touch with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby that he received, it was charged, $100,000 from the wife of the prominent Washington publisher to negotiate for the child's return. But she waited in vain, and finally consulted department of justice officials. They arrested Means, who himself is a former Federal investigator. He is to go before a United States grand jury Tuesday.

PARTIES TO ACTION ARE NUMEROUS

Monopoly Charged to Defendants by Allred
AUSTIN, May 9. (UP)—First testimony was to be taken here today in Attorney General James V. Allred's attempt to prove 15 major oil companies, the American Petroleum Institute and the Texas Petroleum Marketers' association attempted to create an oil monopoly in Texas.
R. C. Holmes of New York, president of the Texas Company, C. B. Ames, T. J. Donoghue, F. T. Manley, G. L. Noble, W. S. S. Rodgers, E. M. Crone, J. F. Grust and H. W. Dodge, minor Texas company officials, also were summoned from New York and J. S. Leach from Houston, headquarters of the Texas company.
They were to appear before George Shelley, Austin attorney, named by District Judge J. D. Moore to take preliminary testimony. So much of such testimony as is desired will then be available to both sides in trial of the suit in which Allred asks $17,850,000 penalties.
Resumption of the trial proper is set for May 23, before Judge Moore in 98th district court here.
Holmes, reputed million-dollar-a-year president of the Texas company, is named by Allred as one of a general committee of the oil industry appointed at a series of meetings in New York in 1923 at which the youthful Texas official asserts a plan to control the oil marketing of the entire country was formulated.
In his petition before the court here, Allred alleges Holmes named a special committee to assist in formulation of a tentative code and that their report was filed with Holmes at the offices of the Texas company in New York on July 13, 1928.
An actual code, he says, was agreed upon in Chicago, Dec. 3, 1928, and adopted unanimously by the American Petroleum Institute there Dec. 5.
This code, he says, was presented to the Federal Trade commission on July 25, 1929, the Federal Trade commission gave a "pretended approval" which, he says, was without authority of law. Holmes is named as being present at most of these steps.
With a national set-up of this sort, Allred here detailed alleged steps in Texas in its furtherance. He says there were meetings at Houston and Dallas in August and September, 1929.
Allred said a resolution was adopted setting out the national agreement, worded after the Texas anti-trust law. He said the Texas concern were therefore advised not to use the Federal Trade commission form of acceptance of the code, but to use in lieu thereof, "some form that states such acceptance or adoption is a matter of individual action." Such a form was suggested. It, he said, was "only a pretense conceived in fraud" and the true agreement was arrived at in Dallas, Sept. 27, 1929, when he alleges the oil men met.
Carrying out the plan, Allred's petition, asserted a state code committee was organized and L. H. Flynn made secretary.
At another meeting in Houston on Oct. 29, he said 95 per cent of the refiners and wholesalers at Texas subscribed to the code to be effective Nov. 20, 1929.
Flynn, the attorney general asserted, was "ago-between" in carrying out the code and that complaints of violations were made to him.
The code, as set out in the big oil suit, numbers double the Ten Commandments. A twenty-first section was devoted to definitions.
Rule 17 is pointed out as the chief one in attempting an oil marketing monopoly. Under it, Allred said, each company posted sale prices.
"The rule does not expressly in terms require any of the defendants to post or sell for the same prices, yet such was the true agreement." (See OIL OUSTER page 4)

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE LOOKING GLASS

There is something distinctly refreshing in the fact that the English-speaking world is holding a celebration because a busy man took time to write a fairy tale for a little girl 67 years ago.

It seems timely that this event should take place when material depression has dimmed so much of the outward glory of life.

We are remembering that the old story was a normal part of childhood. It belonged to that gay, glad period when life was tuned to a piper's song, and nobody had discovered that the melody came out of a box where a hurdy-gurdy played around the corner.

Anything might happen at the road's turning. There was laughter in the book, gaiety and adventure. We stepped through a looking-glass into a world where a rabbit and a small girl went exploring, queens played croquet, and a turtle sobbed.

By calling attention again to this make-believe page from childhood we realize more fully that the only things in life that are real and lasting are the unseen things—faith, love, loyalty.

The fact that a prosaic, business-depressed world will take time off to celebrate the birthday of a man who wrote an enchanted tale proves that it still believes in fairies.

SHANGHAI AND SERAJEVO

There is something rather ominous about the recent bombing in Shanghai, at which several of Japan's high civil and military officials were wounded.

In each case the outrage was the work of a fanatic, directed against a power which seemed—to the fanatic, at least—to be overbearing and ruthless.

What will happen in the Far East? Will this Shanghai bombing be followed, probably, by a Japanese ultimatum similar to that issued by Austria-Hungary in 1914?

AN AMAZING RECORD

Reports filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission recently show that American railroads made a truly amazing safety record in the transportation of passengers during 1931.

In the entire year, only four passengers were killed and 493 were injured.

Considering the number of people carried on American trains annually, this represents a safety record of surprising excellence.

CHAPTER XXXV When Jack Waring took Denise Ackroyd away from the Gledings party on New Year's eve he had formulated no exact plan.

The pale, perturbed face stared straight ahead. The childish voice answered sleepily. "Don't know, never probably, the way I feel now.

Denise drew her wrap around her again. "We Ackroyds have wills of our own," she said so pompously that Waring could scarcely manage to maintain his gravity.

Denise said, "I'm warning you. Don't climb into a corner and talk really. We Ackroyds have wills of our own."

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.) So beautiful she seemed to me, I wished we might be wed; Her neck was just like ivory—Alas! So was her head.

Shades of the cooking school! I found on my desk this morning a flock of verses written, of course, on the note books furnished by Mr. Aillet of Morton's Iodized Salt fame.

With apologies to Cotter Hiett, I will offer you this one: How doth the gentle laundress Search out the weakest joints And always scrape the buttons off At the most strategic points?

The lightning bug is brilliant But he hasn't any mind; He flutters through creation With his headlight on behind. There has been a lot written about these beautiful but dumb creatures.

Waring shrugged. "I've heard nothing about it," he said, "and I don't believe there's a word of truth in it since she's not the sort of girl to leave without giving notice.

Waring agreed, smiling to himself over the success of his first shot. They swung along Michigan avenue side by side. The winter wind seemed good after the scented, house atmosphere they had just left.

Waring did not mention the fact that Susan was no longer at the office. He had learned it himself only that morning.

Waring pointed to the heap of mail which was revealed as she pushed open the door. "The postman never uses it," she explained. If she had only known what lay behind that small iron flap.

MIDLAND SHUNTED OUT OF FIRST PLACE; LAMESA IS SUCCESSOR

BIG SPRING WINS FROM MIDLAND 25-19; SNYDER, COLORADO, LAMESA OTHER CLUBS OF DISTRICT TO WIN

Midland was toppled out of first place in Sand Belt Golf association Saturday when Big Spring crew took a 25-19 match from the locals on Big Spring's 18-hole course.

Entry	Points
Lamesa	84
Midland	34
Big Spring	82
Snyder	67
Colorado	63
Sweetwater	56
Texas	50
Odessa	31

C. L. Jackson, Midland No. 1 man, was low for the Midland-Big Spring tournament, striking the rain-swept course in 80. Robbins of Big Spring shot an 81 and Delo Douglas of Midland an 84.

Jackson, paired with Frank Day, won one up on 20 holes over Shirley Robbins, and Day was one up on G. R. Porter at the 19th. The Midlanders won low ball, 2 and 1. Jackson played remarkably well on the latter holes after being in distress on the 10th, where he was three down. He shot two birdies and a par on consecutive holes to square his match, shot par on the 14th to have the hole and had his dormie on 16. Robbins played sensational golf at this stage, however, and stood out No. 13 square. Both riddled No. 19 for par, but Jackson took the 20th with a birdie, thus winning the match.

Billy Moran lost to Hicks, a left hander who appeared on the Big Spring roster for the first time Sunday, 4 and 3, and Delo Douglas to Doc Aiken, 2 and 1.

Arch Thomas, who has proved that a long shot can repeatedly upset the odds, continued to win in individual play, taking his match from Latson, 3 and 2, and Joe Chambers won from Wasson, 6 and 5, but, strangely enough, the pair lost low ball match one up.

Rain fell several times during the Colorado-Texas match played on the Midland course. They met here due to Texas's distance from the central area and through a new provision written into the association rules making it mandatory that a neutral course mid-way to the two more than 150 miles apart be selected for towns at the opposite extremes of such a distance.

Oil Ouster--

(Continued from Page 1) ment," charges Allred. The phrasing was but a part of a plan to fix prices so worded to avoid written evidence, he said.

"For the same purpose, he said, if defendants waited until prices were reaching the same prices, it was for the purpose of making it appear the price was not the result of previous understanding."

Next in the attorney general's attack on the major oil companies is an alleged "relentless campaign" of acquiring independent filling stations and disposing of them as competitors, appointing in the former independent operator and owner as an "agent and hireling" of the companies.

More than 90 per cent of the independents were actually eliminated, he charges.

An exhibit lists independents acquired by defendant companies, under leasing agency agreements, requiring 100 per cent handling of the company products.

The Texas company's allegedly acquired stations at Austin, El Paso, Mexia, Dallas, Waco, Henderson, Palestine, Terrell, Amarillo, Fort Worth, Cisco, Mineral Wells, San Angelo, Houston, Brenham and many other places.

Gulf acquisitions of independents are listed at Austin, Mexia, Waco, Terrell, Waxahachie, El Paso, Eastland, Fort Worth, Ranger, Texas, Amarillo, Houston, Kilgore, Marshall and other places.

Tumble acquisitions are listed at Waco Center, Henderson, Palestine, Waxahachie, Dallas, Houston, Navasota, Goose Creek, Marshall, Cleburne, San Angelo and other places.

Magnolia acquisitions are listed at Amarillo, Austin, Taylor, Mexia, Waco, Overton, Dallas, Gilmer, Cleburne, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Ranger San Angelo, Houston and other places.

Sinclair is alleged to have taken over independents at Amarillo, Austin, El Paso, Waxahachie, Henderson, Dallas, Brownwood, Cleburne, Eastland, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Houston and other places.

Continental acquisitions listed include stations at El Paso, Tyler, Dallas, Mexia, Waco, Marshall, Brownwood, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, San Angelo and other places.

Cities Service acquisitions are listed at Dallas, Waxahachie, Fort Worth and San Angelo.

Texas & Pacific Coal & Oil company is alleged to have taken over independent stations at Austin, Mexia, Waco, Fort Worth and Amarillo.

An El Paso station is listed as taken over by the Pasotex Petroleum corporation and Houston and Galveston stations as taken over by Shell Petroleum.

SUN COMES OUT TO AID START OF GOLF MEET

FORT WORTH, May 9. (UP)—A bright sun greeted more than 100 women golfers at the opening of the state championship today at River Crest.

Heavy downpours yesterday left the course in an excellent condition. The men's championship was postponed because of rain.

Offered dealers, airports, customers, and station lessees. If the state should win the maximum penalties of $1,500 a day asked against each company, County Attorney Bryan Bialock of Travis county, would under a statute be entitled to five per cent of the judgment. Bialock studied law while working in a barber shop, then ran for justice of the peace and county attorney. The full judgment would give him approximately $82,000. Out of his prospective share he has employed private counsel to assist in the prosecution. These include the firm of Cofer & Cofer, Austin, Bernard Martin of Wichita Falls, former mayor of Houston, General Alford and George Mendell, Austin attorney. The attorney general, whose salary is $4,000 a year, would get nothing.

Kidnap Charges--

He was brought to Wharton before 7 a. m. Sunday. He made a statement to Detectives Ira Williams and Fred McKee, asserting that he had been hunting squirrels along the creek when he saw Stockton, an old schoolmate, deposit a package in the creek bank.

The officers, demanding $5,000 and threatening him with death and his daughter with kidnaping were received by Stockton. The first left in his automobile, while he was parked in front of his home at Louise, was treated as a joke and the banker told friends about it despite vigorous denials. He refused to tell anyone, relatives said.

Friday a second threat and demand for money was received. It had been mailed to Stockton, who is cashier of the People's State Bank at Louise, from El Campo, and contained definite directions as to where and when the money must be left. It also contained the threat that if the directions were not obeyed, the case "might be a lot worse than the Lindbergh case."

A Great Picture, "Platinum Blonde"

Frothy, effervescent, sparkling—compare "Platinum Blonde," the current attraction at the Grand theatre, with anything intoxicating and you have a pretty fair idea of how delicious is its entertainment quality—but only a pretty fair idea, for you cannot begin to describe its delightful acidity and its infectious humor.

The leading players of "Platinum Blonde" are Loretta Young, Robert Williams and Jean Harlow.
