TOMORROW AND THE BIG FIGHT COMES OFF

STAGE ALL SET AND BATTLE OF VOTES WILL WAGE WITH USUAL FURY

This week there has been little of interest in anything here and perhaps throughout Texas outside of political issues and the candidates who championed them, and tomorrow comes the show-down. Last week The Reporter published the whole primary ticket and it is not necessary to repeat it. However an incident came up in Dallas last week that is of much interest and may help some persons to make up their minds as to how they wish to vote on certain State offices. Dallas County lined up a Klan and anti-Klan ticket, from U. S. Senate to constable, and a few of these names will be voted on in Midland County tomorrow.

Ku Klux Klan Sympathizers

For U. S. Senate—Earle B. Mayfield.
For Governor—Pat M. Neff.
For Lieut. Governor—Col. Billie Mayfield, Jr.
For Chief Justice Court of Criminal Appeals—A. b. Harper.
For Superintendent Public Instruction—Ed. R. Bentley.
For State Treasurer—Geo. C. Garrett.
For Comptroller Public Accounts—William M. Woodall.

The above, bear in mind, are sympathizers with and are endorsed by the Ku Klux Klan, while the following names do not sympathize with and are opposed by the Klan:

Anti-Ku Klux Klan

For U. S. Senate—Clarence Ousley, Cullen F. Thomas, C. A. Culberson.
For Governor—Fred S. Rogers, Harry T. Warner.
For Chief Justice Supreme Court—C. M. Cureton.
For Associate Justice Supreme Court—Thos. B. Greenwood.
For Lieut. Governor—T. W. Davidson.
For Attorney General—W. A. Keeling.
For Supt. Public Instruction—S. M. N. Marrs.

The above line-up ought to enable many persons who are doubtful to make up their minds satisfactorily as to how to vote in the offices named. The data taken from Sunday's issue of the Dallas News, are wholly authoritative.

With reference to local politics The Reporter is without bias. Good men offer themselves for all places and our citizenship needs no guidance in any instance. Local political preference, as a rule, "is usually the result of sentiment anyway, and candidates should, first of all, always look to their personal popularity before entering into a local political arena.

CATTLE AND LAMBS LOWER HOGS UP

Chas. M. Pipkin writes from Kansas City Stock Yards, under date July 17, that light receipts checked the downward tendency in the hog market which was evident last week and the market rallied 5 to 10 cents today. There were not enough hogs here to go around. Best corn fat steers and butcher cattle held steady and grass fat and plain killing grades were lower. Receipts were liberal but there was evidence of a healthy demand. Sheep and lambs were quoted off 25 cents.

Receipts today were 17,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs, and 7,000 sheep, compared with 15,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs, and 6,000 sheep a week ago, and 12,650 cattle, 7,500 hogs, and 5,000 sheep a year ago.

Trade in fat cattle opened slowly with killers and order buyers offering lower prices with sharp reductions on the plainer kinds. Later the movement over the scales, of the better kinds, became free at nearly steady prices and the plainer kinds showed at 15 to 25 cents lower. The day's receipts were the largest of the season and included a heavy run of grass cattle from Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. The extreme price range for grassers was $5 to $8.75, wintered summer grazed steers sold up to $9.50 and prime corn fat steers up to $10.30. Grass fat cows and heifers were 15 to 25 cents lower and fed grades steady. Choice light weight weas were 25 cents higher. Prime heifers sold at $9.60.

Demand for stock and feeding cattle was active and prices held steady in the face of a decline in fat cattle. Several bunches of good stockers and 900 pound feeders were made at $7.50. Demand for stock cows, heifers, and stock calves is increasing.

Hog prices were 5 to 10 cents higher than Friday, the low day last week, and the sagging tendency in the market seems at an end until much larger supplies are available. Today's receipts, 7,000, were not large enough to meet requirements and in some cases did not fill all their orders. The top price was $10.30, and the bulk of sales $9.85 to $10.25. Pigs sold up to $10.50.

Choice light weight ewes sold at $7.25 to $7.50 and were quoted steady. Lambs made up the bulk of the supply and they were 25 to 50 cents lower. The top $13.25 was paid for both native and Arizona lambs.

Normal conditions prevailed in the horse and mule trade, and the 200 offered sold at steady prices.

NOTICE OF DEMOCRATIC PRECINCT CONVENTION

All Democrats are requested to meet in precinct convention at the court house election day, tomorrow, at 2:30 p. m. The usual order of business will take place.

H. M. HORTON, Chairman.

Guthrie Allen came in Tuesday from his ranch in Andrews County, suffering of a wounded eye. He got the point of a bear graz blade stuck in the right orb, and it was very painful. It was fixed up all right and he went home yesterday.

On next Friday night July 28th, the Midland band will give a lawn social at the court house yard. Ice cream will be for sale, and a special program by the band and others will be rendered.

Misses Lady Connell, Elsie Wolcott, Mabel Holt, Leola Bigham and Margaret Caldwell returned early in the week from Cisco, where they have been the house guests of Miss Frances King. The girls report an "awfully" nice and interesting time.

Mrs. N. W. Bigham returned this week from Dallas where she has been under medical treatment, and we are glad to report that she is much improved in health.

Thornton Davis, who sustained an awfully painful wound in the calf of the leg on the Burl Holloway ranch in Andrews County one day last week, is improving. He was gored by a Brahma bull he was trying to rope, and horse he was riding was probably killed.

Some move, I understand, has been or is being made to elect me Justice of the Peace. I thank those who may have interested themselves in this matter, but I could not consider the office under any circumstance. T. B. Wadley.

HALFF SELLS SOME VERY FANCY SWINE

Henry M. Halff sold and delivered this week to John N. Simpson, the Duroc Jersey boar, Colonel Cherry Sensation, sired by Wonder Sensation Colonel, a J. D. Michie bred boar. This young boar will be used on the Simpson farm at Aledo, Texas, where Mr. Simpson has assembled a small but select herd of Duroc-Jersey swine.

Mr. Halff also sold and delivered this week to Andrew Fasken, five Duroc-Jersey sows, all sired by Wonder Sensation Colonel, a famous Duroc-Jersey boar bred by J. D. Michie, of Childress, Texas. Mr. Fasken has charge of the 300,000-acre Morris ranch, located north of Midland, where they are raising excellent crops of feed. Mr. Fasken is starting a herd of registered Duroc-Jerseys, and besides purchasing these sows from Mr. Halff, has recently bought a registered Duroc-Jersey boar from the Simpson farm, of Aledo, Texas.

THREE-DAY RODEO AND BARBECUE

Sept. 3rd, 4th, 5th

Watch for Big Circular and Announcement of events in this paper next week

POTASH REPORTED IN REAGAN COUNTY

DEPOSIT OF POLYHALITE IS FOUND AT SEVERAL LEVELS IN WELL

The discovery of potash in notable amounts in a new area in Texas is announced by the U. S. Geological Survey, department of the interior. The new discovery is brought to light through the analysis by the survey drill cuttings collected from the Santa Rita No. 1 well, drilled by the Texas Oil & Land Company in the southwest corner of Reagan County, Texas, which is 120 miles from the Means No. 1 well in Loving County, and 55 miles from the Bryant well in Midland County, where, also, according to previous announcements of the survey, potash deposits are present.

The Reporter has frequently commented upon the potash discovery in Bryant No. 1, nine miles south from Midland, the discovery here being the initial cause of interest in possible commercial potash in West Texas. Our neighbor, Odessa, is now actively engaged in development, and the activities there are watched, from week to week, with a great deal of interest.

FAMOUS HALFF RANCH WILL BE DIVIDED

HUNDRED THOUSAND ACRES ARE TO BE AUCTIONED OFF IN SMALL LOTS

Readers of The Reporter will have noticed the page advertisement of Henry M. Halff that has been running some weeks now, with a change each week. The message of this advertisement is of moment to all the southwest and marks the passing of one of the most famous ranches in all its far-reaching bounds, for it is to be cut up and sold in small tracts, or tracts to suit the purchaser, at public auction. A story of this momentous event, almost an epoch marker in West Texas history, was written for a recent issue of the Fort Worth Record by Hamilton Wright, which we reproduce as follows:

Fifty years ago if a seer should have announced to the world that West Texas was destined to become the greatest agricultural section in the Southwest and the ranch as it was known then would be a curiosity in "these parts," he would have been considered a fool—"damphool," if you please.

But just such a situation is now staring West Texas in the face. Great ranches are being broken up and converted into farms that are producing the finest products of the Southwest.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce just a few days ago sent out to the press of the country the statement that several enormous tracts of land enclosed under one fence were being subdivided into farms. This raw land which had never known the plow but the dig of the hoof of the wide-spread-horn cattle is now being farmed or will be farmed as soon as it can be put in cultivation. A few instances of this kind show the way the agricultural wind is blowing.

On top of these announcements comes another. It comes through the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from one of the biggest cattlemen in the State—Henry M. Halff, of Midland.

Halff is planning to call an auction sale of 100,000 acres of land, 300 head of registered cattle, 600 head of high grade cattle, Oct. 30th of this year. The land will be cut up in lots to suit the purchasers.

"This auction will be the beginning of the end of the big ranches, and it is necessary for the development of West Texas." Such is the statement of Henry M. Halff himself.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce feels that it is matter of great importance to West Texas that this sale is successfully conducted, for it will be the forerunner of scores of other auctions that will for the first time in years give the humble tenant of East Texas and other sections the opportunity they have been praying for to get possession of agricultural land, while it is still cheap.

Colonel Fred Perdue, of Decatur, Ind., will arrive in Midland August 10th for the purpose of listing the land, and getting everything in readiness for the big auction sale, which, it is expected will draw hundreds and hundreds of people to Midland and bring about the opening up of 100,000 acres of fine agricultural lands.

Halff has been one of the pioneers of the West. He has been a consistent booster for West Texas. In the dim past when others of migratory type saw no future to the glowing West, Halff continued to have heart. He has been identified with the activities of the West for many, many years and is one of the leaders in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

If his land is broken up into 100-acre farms—a nice little farm for any West Texan—it means that 1,000 new farms will spring into being in Midland County next year. If 75 per cent of this land were planted in cotton and the weather conditions were ideal, it would mean that at least 35,000 of 40,000 more bales of cotton would be produced in the West. If any other crop, figure it out for yourself.

Halff's lands lie in a section of the country where irrigation in its "nth" degree will be employed some day. When that comes to pass the man who owns this land will be worth millions.

This auction sale promises to be one of the big events in Midland's history. What changes it may mean to the Midland Country it is hard to realize in the fullness thereof, and already it is a matter of extensive press comment in wide ranges of the cattle growing and farming districts.

France is issuing new 50-centime coins in bronze aluminum.

REV. W. A. SMITH GOES TO SOUTHWESTERN

Rev. W. Angie Smith, pastor of the Methodist church in Midland, left on the early train Monday morning for Southwestern University at Georgetown to take his second year's course that is required for four years by the Southern Methodist church for all young ministers in the itinerancy. Bro. Smith has only held a regular pastorate for two years, Kerrville last year and Midland this year. He has more than endeared himself to the people of Midland, not only in the Methodist denomination but to other denominations as well. He will be gone about two weeks, and therefore his pulpit will be vacant during his absence. We wish him well on his trip.

H. Rickman, wildcatter, is in Midland again after an absence of several months. He has been associated with Midland men in their Louisiana investment.

GEO. G. GRAY INTO REGISTERED CLASS

STARTS WITH A MAGNIFICENT HERD THAT IS TOPPED BY MIDLAND BULL

George G. Gray has been raising cattle in the Midland Country ever since there was any Midland, and has been gradually grading up his cattle and improving them, until in 1920, '21 and '22 he has been selling grade bulls to the breeders west of Midland. But not being satisfied with producing these good grades, Mr. Gray has added to his herd 135 head of registered Herefords which he recently bought from the Singleton herd at Tahoka, Texas. And in order to advance further and producer of as good Herefords as can be produced, Mr. Gray purchased one of the Henry M. Halff herd bulls. He gave Mr. Halff $1,000.00 for Domino H., No. 906049, calved April 27, 1919, believing that Domino H. has the breeding that is demanded, the bone and the quality; but before purchasing him Mr. Gray had to be shown, and inspected carefully calves which have been sired in the Halff herd by Domino H.

Domino H. is a grandson of Beau Randolph, a Gudgeon & Simpson bull, which is now at the head of the Gaudreault herd in Nebraska, for which they paid $21,000.00.

It will be remembered that Beau Randolph was used several years on the Pegues ranch west of Midland; and Domino H. was selected by Mr. Halff out of the Pegues herd as a baby. His dam was a large Domino cow, and his sire a Sagamore—Beau Randolph.

You can expect to hear from the calves of Domino H. that will be produced in the herd of Mr. Gray, and we congratulate Mr. Gray upon entering so handsomely into the circle of registered breeders. He has indeed a herd that any breeder could be proud of.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENJOYS LAWN PICNIC

On last Friday evening from 7 until 10 o'clock, the Sunday School class of Mrs. E. R. Bryan, together with a number of invited guests enjoyed a most delightful picnic on the beautiful lawn of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Snodgrass in West Midland. Forty-two was one of the many diversions of the evening, and a most elaborate menu was served by the ladies to the large and hungry crowd, in fact it was a feast fit for a king and many were the enthusiastic comments made by the guests as the tempting viands disappeared in rapid-fire time. All enjoyed every moment of the occasion of this Christian fellowship.

MIDLAND GIRL WEDS FORMER DALLAS MAN

With the pictures of the contracting parties appearing above the following story was carried in the society columns of the Dallas News last Sunday:

"Thomas W. Crutcher, of Eastland, and Miss Viola Reynolds, of Midland, were married at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening by Dr. Graham Frank in the pastor's study of the Central Christian church. They were attended by Harry W. Crutcher, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Mann, of Dallas.

"The bride is the daughter of J. O. Reynolds, a stockman of Midland.

"The bridegroom, a son of the late George W. Crutcher, former mayor of East Dallas, was born and reared in Dallas, but for the last few years has lived in Eastland, where he is engaged in the insurance and oil leasing business. He is a director of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce. He organized the Eastland Elk's lodge and was its first exalted ruler. He is president of the Eastland Rotary Club which he organized, and is treasurer of the Eastland Masonic lodge. He is a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner, being a member of the Dallas bodies.

Mr. and Mrs. Crutcher are motoring to South Texas on their honeymoon and will be at home in Eastland about August 1st."

Dear forests of Scotland provide wealthy owners with sport during a few weeks in the year. The greatest part of this land could be profitably farmed. The total area of these forests is 3,432,385 acres. The slums of Edinburgh and Glasgow become more congested and the emigration hsts from Scotland increase as the deer forests grow in extent.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

B. W. BAKER

Thanks to my many friends—who standing for a square deal, have interested themselves in my candidacy. Despite much street talk in Midland that a certain interest is attempting to center on some candidate to defeat me, my friends are true.

I am not indorsed by any class of people and am under obligations to none, but will owe my nomination to the people as a whole.

My record as the best District Attorney the District has had since its creation and the fact that my campaign has been directed in a clean way upon the proposition that the best qualified man should be elected, entitles me to a second term in office in keeping with Democratic usage and custom.

OIL DEVELOPMENT IN PECOS FIELD

TOYAH-BELL, MUCH MOOTED WELL, SEEMS NOW A DEAD INTEREST
From the Pecos Enterprise.

The Laura Well
It is announced this week that a new contract for the completion of the Laura well of the Sunshine-Federal interests has been made with J. D. Granger, of the Granger Drilling Company, of Ft. Worth. The contract recites, it is understood on good authority, that the Sunshine-Federal interests are to pay for the reaming of the present hole from 2,300 feet to around 2,700 where 8 inch casing is to be set. When the payment is made the Granger Drilling Company are to complete the hole to 4,000 feet or to a point where the well flows 100 barrels of oil per day before they receive any more money, at which time they are to be paid in full according to the contract.

The Granger Drilling Company shipped from Wichita Falls three car loads of machinery on Monday of this week which is expected to arrive any day now and which will be used in drilling the Laura well. The company in charge will use a rotary outfit and contemplate no trouble whatever in completing this well at an early date. It will probably take ten days to do the reaming and set the casing, after which the hole will be finished in short order.

The contract is believed by the Sunshine-Federal interests to be the best one they have ever made with any concerns and practically assures the completion of the well at an early date.

The Laura was one of the first wells to be started in the Pecos oil field and more money has been spent on this hole than any in the field, and they have had more trouble with it than any other in the field. It looks now as if the worry of the operating company is to cease and is placed upon the new contractors who are experienced men and have no fears as to the outcome.

The Bell Well
The situation at the Bell well stands practically unchanged from last week, according to information given out at the office of that company today. A fishing tool which it was not anticipated would be needed had to be ordered from Fort Worth. That was expected in on today's train but failed to arrive. It will probably arrive tomorrow when work will be resumed.

The Toyah-Bell Well
The force at the Toyah-Bell have succeeded in catching the casing and as we go to press are making good headway pulling it. They are at this time unable to say just how much of this casing is being pulled but believe that they have about three thousand feet. They will more than likely get all out that they now have hold of by tomorrow when they will know the status of the situation. They are hopeful, more so than ever, of getting the string out now at an early date and believe that their worst troubles are over.

The Hershenson Well
Manager Landrum, of the Hershenson interests states that the work at the well is now going on smoothly. The bit that was reported broken last week has been removed from the hole, a new bit installed and the work goes merrily and satisfactorily on, with good progress being made.

Los-Pecos Well
Manager Arch Bell, of the Los-Pecos Syndicate, in town yesterday, stated to the Enterprise that work is progressing at his well satisfactorily. They have encountered a hard formation upon which a ten inch casing is to be set before resuming drilling and then a rock bit will be used in connection with his rotary outfit. He expects to set this casing and resume drilling some time next week.

The Rivers Well
The Enterprise understands upon good authority that the River well of the Arthur Pitts Company has been shut down permanently. Permanently means until some other well is brought in or until it is refinanced. This well was drilled to 4660 feet when a monkey wrench was accidentally dropped in the well and has up to the time of shutting down caused an intricate fishing job.

Casing in Willoughby No. 1 Being Set for Drilling

Both the Cowan and the Casey ranch wells, the Nos. 1 and 2 of the Willoughby Petroleum Company have made fine progress this week. As the Enterprise goes to press Mr. Willoughby, president and field manager in charge of the work reports that apparently all difficulties have been overcome on the No. 1 well, the casing is being set and that if after standing until Monday morning no water seeps into the hole drilling into the oil bearing level will start. The well was drilled a few inches deeper and a very noticeable increase in the free oil was had which with other conditions has convinced the management that commercial production may be expected at any time now without warning and the office and other fixtures are being moved to a safe distance in case of fire.

Work will proceed with all due diligence, stated Mr. Willoughby, but added that precaution to save the oil and not haste in finding it was the plan and that while anyone is welcome the results will not be withheld from the people and that any one who desires to know actual conditions will be advised.

Biliousness and Constipation
"For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally," writes Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.

Judge Birge Holt, Sr., of Sherman, was a distinguished visitor to Midland last Wednesday and circulated freely among our people in the interest of his son's candidacy for district attorney. He is accounted one of the most brilliant jurists in Texas and his visit to Midland was received by our people with much pleasure.

D. M. Pinnell and wife were in the latter part of last week from their ranch west of Andrews. Good range, reports Mr. Pinnell, and fat cattle, but a good rain is beginning to be needed.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he can not be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested like buying dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.

TAKE TIME TO STOP! LOOK! LISTEN! WAIT

The mad desire to beat a train over a crossing is costing dozens of lives every week, writes Farm and Ranch editorially, and continues: Curiosity to see what a train looks like on the other side is inexcusable as is the indifference of many automobile drivers to the danger of attempting to make a crossing without first making sure that no train is approaching from either side. There can be no reasonable excuse for a railroad crossing accident. If it is a dangerous crossing by reason of high banks or because the railroad is otherwise concealed from view then the driver should exercise extra precaution. At every railroad crossing in the land warning signs are placed a sufficient distance from the tracks to give a motorist ample time to bring his car to a stop or to slow down until he can see whether or not the crossing is safe.

Railroad trains are not in the habit of leaving the right-of-way to chase automobiles over the country. They are confined to a well-defined course and everybody knows just what the rails are there for. Then why take your life and that of others in your hands and rush over the track without thought or without a knowledge of whether or not a train is approaching? It is not only a criminal carelessness, but a species of insanity.

In one of the Southwestern States a law has been passed making it a misdemeanor to cross any railroad track without first coming to a stop not nearer than ten feet of the rails. The enforcement of this law may cause some inconvenience, but it will save many lives.

AMERICAN UTILITIES BELONG TO THE PEOPLE

After showing that the 50,000,000 policy holders in American life insurance companies have a third, or over two billions of dollars of their assets, invested in public utility securities, Haley Fiske, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, claims that it is the American people, who are the real capitalists and who own the utilities.

"We have a right to insist upon fair treatment of light and power companies by the public and by supervision officials," said Mr. Fiske in an address to the N. E. L. A. convention at Atlantic City.

"It must be recognized that no corporate abstractions by the American people are the owners of the bond capital of the companies. Every policy holder is ipso facto a capitalist. An attack upon capital investments is an attack upon the wage earners of the country. Not only the regulating authorities but the people themselves must be taught this. The policy holders need this fact to be brought home to them. It is important to teach the working people that they are the capitalists and that attack on capital investments is an attack upon themselves.

"Over-taxation, confiscation, failure to help public utilities by refusing to permit adequate rates, are robbing them, not the rich."

MUCH PLEASSED WITH BANKHEAD HIGHWAY

Judge J. M. DeArmond is this morning in receipt of the following letter from D. E. H. Manigault, division engineer of the State Highway Department, upon which he (Judge DeArmond) is to be congratulated: "My Dear Judge:

"In company with Mr. D. E. Henry, the Federal Engineer, I have just made a trip of inspection over the highway in the portion (the western) of the State. We are well pleased with the looks of your new road, and especially with the gravel, which seems to be of excellent quality, and is being well placed.

"With kindest personal regards, I remain," etc.

There seems to have been some criticism relative to the gravel that is being placed on our highway. All persons in authority, however, seem to consider it all right, and certainly Mr. Manigault is competent to judge.

Worked One Night

A kind hearted woman was visiting a penitentiary. "How came you in this unfortunate position?" she asked one of the inmates.

"I was working in a bank, mum, and—"

"Oh, I see," she interrupted. "How long did you work there before you got into trouble?"

"One night, mum."

Shot in the Evening

Two privates of the 362nd colored infantry were sitting on the porch of "Buffalo Hall," one reading and the other dozing. The reading one suddenly nudged his friend.

"Wake up, buddy, an' listen!"

"Waffo?"

"Boy, it says here that the Germans has got a gun what shoots 25 miles an' hits what it aims at!"

"How far?"

"Twenty-five miles."

The sleepy one, now wide awake, shook his head and muttered: "My Gawd! You runs all day to get shot in de evenin'."

He Loved Cheese

Tilden Tilford, the author, tells of one of his cowboy friends who was inordinately fond of cheese; cheese of a masterful, authoritative variety. To save the ranch from ruin the cook placed the last of the Brie in a bottle and corked it tightly before he swooned. But such was the poignancy of the little captive in durance vile that the cowboy got on nicely simply by rubbing his bread upon the bottle.

The foreman, grieving to see one of his men the victim of such a perverted taste, locked the cook house door one day and rode away. "This," quoth he grimly, "shall be cheeseless Monday."

But on his return he found the addict happily eating his evening loaf and rubbing each slice of bread upon the window pane.

He Missed Her

Herbert Smith, the bowie knife thrower, was assisted in his act by his elderly wife. She stood against a board facing the audience while her husband stood 20 feet away and threw bowie knives at her. The trick was to escape hitting her, until at the end of the act the board was stuck full of knives, from which the woman setcaped unharmed.

The act never failed to elicit shrieks from women in the audience in the cities east of the Rockies, but at the opening performance in Tonopah, Nev., in the days when the mining population of that city contained no women, knife after knife was thrown at the woman by her husband and silence was maintained by the audience. At the thirtieth throw, however, a voice was heard from the rear of the hall. "My God! Missed her again."

Mamma Forgot

Little Nellie's mother was entertaining the famous aviator. After he had finished a thrilling story, little daughter sighed deeply and said:

"I've clear forgot how it feels to sail through the air."

"Why, Nellie," said her mother, in a shocked voice, "you were never in the air in your life."

"Gracious! Mamma, have you forgot that the stork brought me?"

He Paid His Bill

The condemned man had only a few hours to live.

"Good news! Good news!" shouted the attorney, as he neared the death cell, in the company of a guard.

"Am I relieved?" the condemned man asked eagerly.

"No, not that," replied the attorney, "but you have just come into a fortune of $20,000, and you can go to the gallows with the knowledge that all of my bill is paid."

To the Voters of Midland County:

I had hoped that I could see each of you in person and solicit your support in my race for county judge; but the duties attached to my office, and especially the construction of the Bankhead Highway, have demanded almost my constant time and attention; and not being willing to sacrifice the interests of the County for my own personal gain, it has been a physical impossibility to see every one. I trust you will therefore accept this letter in the same manner as a personal interview asking for your support and influence.

During the time I have served you as county judge, I have given my undivided time, thought and best efforts to the administration of the affairs of the county in a business-like, sane and economical manner, and I base my appeal primarily on the record I have made, believing that the experience gained in the past better qualifies me for a more successful service in the future.

In the letter Mr. Klapproth has written to the voters he bases his sole issue upon whether or not I should be re-elected, "just to be your county judge while the Bankhead Highway is being constructed through Midland County." He fails to mention that there are many other important duties attached to this office, but space will not permit me to refer to these in detail. He argues that any candidate duly elected, whether or not he has had any experience in the administration of road building projects or not could assume the duties of county judge and carry on such a project efficiently. He fails to recognize that there are many perplexing problems and difficulties to be met daily in the successful carrying out of such a project as the one we have now under construction in this county. He seems to ignore the fact that my extended experience gained in the organization and working out the present contract, the perfecting of an efficient working force should be of any interest to the voters of Midland County who wish to see the county realize to the fullest extent from its present construction program. Because of the part I have had in this preliminary work, I am thoroughly acquainted, not only with the problems and routine incident to the work from day to day, but with the entire project being familiar with the policies of the State and Federal departments, and better able to cope with the issues involved in a project of this magnitude which come up daily for solution by the administrative heads of the county.

I submit to you that a change in the office of county judge at this time would offset a great deal gained and retard the progress greatly. So much ground would have to be gone over again and a great deal of time, valuable experience and knowledge lost.

For the past three years I have served as one of two Texas directors of the Bankhead National Highway Association and in this capacity have fought, not only for the interests of Midland County, but for the whole of West Texas in securing the routing of this great National Highway through this State and this county. The ramifications of this project under consideration extends not only across Midland County and throughout the four adjoining counties under the present contract, but through the State and the Nation.

If therefore my record in the past has met with your approval and my promise and willingness to faithfully serve you in the future to the best of my ability will justify you in retaining me in the office, it is my hope to make such a record for you and in your name as shall justify your confidence and support.

Thanking you for your past support and assistance, I beg to remain

Faithfully yours,

J. M. DeARMOND.

Henry Wrage and family were up Wednesday from their Garden City ranch. The range, reports Mr. Wrage, though getting dry is in fine shape and cattle are doing well as one could wish.

FINE PERFORMANCE OF SUNSHINE SPECIAL

During the entire month of June the Sunshine arrived in St. Louis on time every day except two, at which time the Sunshine reached St. Louis only 19 minutes late, thereby making all noon-day connections at St. Louis during the entire month.

The above information is authorized by and is a part of a circular issued recently by the general passenger department of the T. & P.

JUST THE SAME ONLY A LITTLE DIFFERENT

Running a newspaper is just like running a hotel, only different, says an exchange. When a man goes into a hotel and finds something on the table which does not suit him, he does not raise his voice with the landlord and tell him to stop his old hotel. He sets that dish to one side and wades into many dishes that suit him. It is different with some newspaper readers. They find an article occasionally that does not suit them exactly, and without stopping to think it may please hundreds of other readers, make a grand-stand play and tell the editor how the paper should be run and what should be put into it. But such people are becoming fewer every day.

Wasn't Afraid of Complaints

Jumping at conclusions sometimes lands one in the hole. A farmer of Bergen County was sitting on his back porch on a late afternoon trying out a finger exercise, which he had been told would drive off rheumatism from his ancient digits. Prof. Frederic, driving past and seeing the farmer, stopped and, alighting from his car, went toward the patient rheumatic.

Noticing the old man's gesticulations with his fingers, the professor jumped to the hasty conclusion that here was a deaf mute. Drawing an envelope from his pocket he wrote: "I want a quart of milk." The farmer read it and got the milk. "How much?" wrote the professor. The farmer held up his spread hand three times and the learned instructor laid down 15 cents and started down the path, when he heard behind him the farmer call to his wife. "Mother, I just sold a quart of that sour milk to a dummy. I ain't afraid of his complaining." The professor kept on going.

Custom officials recently raided two United States shipping vessels and one Norwegian vessel in New York harbor and confiscated 2400 bottles of liquor not down on the manifests.

A WORD IN MEMORY OF GORDON PURCELL

Some weeks ago an esteemed former citizen of Midland, Gordon Purcell, brother of our townsman, S. H. Purcell, died. The Reporter was enabled to secure but meager facts and only a paragraph appeared about the sad event, we expecting later to give details. We neglected this, but it is a pleasure to publish the following in memory of this deceased:

Dear Mr. Watson: Will you grant me space in your paper to say a few words in memory of an old time citizen of Midland, our friend, Gordon Purcell. Probably no other citizen ever loved the old town and its people more. Although for the past 16 years a resident of California he never was weaned entirely away from the friends and scenes of his early manhood.

Gordon Purcell was a splendid man, loyal to his friends, affectionate to his family and humble before his God. In the quarter of a century that I have known him intimately he has never strayed from the straight and honorable path that streams like a ribbon of sunlight before an honest man. He never lost faith in his fellowman and never shirked his duties as a citizen or as a follower of the Christ.

Gordon died recently in Tucson, Ariz., the victim of a dreaded disease. For several years he knew that the end must come soon, yet he was kind, cheerful and considerate. He leaves a wife, Jennie Townsend Purcell, and a son, Willard Gordon Purcell, besides brothers and sisters and friends to mourn his passing. To these relatives and friends, I submit the following as a consoling thought:

"We do not sigh when golden skies have donned
The purple shadows and the grey of night,
Because we know the morning lies beyond,
And we must wait a little for the light.
So when grown weary with the care and strife,
Our loved ones find in sleep the peace they crave,
We should not weep, but learn to count this life
A prelude to the one beyond the grave.
So with Gordon Purcell the prelude is ended and he rests secure and happy in the "mansion not made with hands eternal in the heavens."
Sincerely his friend and brother,
CHAS. F. O'NEALL.

The above writer is also a former citizen of Midland and now lives in Dallas. Mr. O'Neall is president of the Shelby Coal & Fuel Co., a $200,000 trust estate.

And in those days cometh John the Baptist preaching in the wilderness of Judea, saying, Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. (Matt. 3:1-2.)

Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of repentance: and thing not to say within yourselves, we have Abraham to our father. (Matt. 3:8-9.)

And behold a voice out of the cloud saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye Him. (Matt. 17:5.)

Now after John was delivered up (5beheaded) Jesus came into Galilee preaching the gospel of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: Repent ye, and believe the Gospel. (Mark 1:14.)

I tell you, nay; but, except ye repent, ye shall all in like manner perish. (Jesus in Luke 13:3-5.)

The goodness of God leadeeth thee to repentance. (Rom. 2:4.)

For Godly sorrow worketh repentance unto salvation (a new birth) repentance which bringeth no regret. (2 Cor. 7:10.)

And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have wrongfully exacted aught of any man, I restore, fourfold.

And Jesus said unto him, Today is salvation (pardon, a new life) come to this house. (Luke 19: 8-9.)

Repent ye therefore, and turn again that your sins may be blotted out, that so there may come seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord. (Acts 3:19.)

NATIONAL CAREFUL CROSSING CAMPAIGN

TERRIBLE DANGERS THAT ARE UNNECESSARY NARRATED BY ENGINEER

An engineer, long in service, has written the following in the cause of the National Careful Crossing Campaign:

Nothing has given me more pleasure than the recent announcement of the national "Careful Crossing Campaign," endorsed by the American Railway Association. "Automobile Accidents" in my opinion are one of the large problems confronting the public today. One cannot read a daily paper without being impressed with the great number of accidents and appalled with the enormous loss of life and property, as well as shocked at well as shocked at the number of injuries.

Highway Railway Grade Crossing Accidents contribute a large proportion of the total, and as a locomotive engineer of about 40 years in railroad service, I am somewhat familiar with this class of automobile accidents, which is no doubt due to the phenomenal increase in number of automobiles in use. Twenty years ago, they were few and far between, while I understand there are now approximately ten million automobiles in service in the United States; that is one to about every thirteen people. As a locomotive engineer, it seems to me ten million automobiles is too low an estimate, as on my train I meet them on nearly every crossing, at all times of the day or night, every day in the year. Rumor to the contrary notwithstanding, a locomotive engineer has a soul, or at least a heart, and does not with malice aforethought run down and over the automobile that gets on the track ahead of his train, killing and maiming the thousands of men, women and children that meet fate in this manner each year. My acquaintance with locomotive engineers is large and I know that the nerve strain this new menace has brought, is causing many premature grey hairs and nervous break-downs.

Hardly a day goes by when the pilot on one of the fast passenger trains doesn't see an automobile, perhaps loaded with a family, women or children, or perhaps a gay picnic party suddenly appear on the railroad track immediately ahead of his engine. That is an agonizing moment—your heart leaps into your throat, you can't breathe, every nerve twangs tight like a struck piano string. You can almost hear the crash—visions of flying splinters and broken automobile parts pass before your eyes, as well as the dead and dying forms of the occupants of the car. The suspense is terrible. You realize that to stop the train is impossible on account of its tremendous weight and high speed made necessary by modern railroads. In most cases, the automobile gets safely over the track, sometimes by a margin of only a few feet, sometimes by only a few inches, but in many cases, the crash comes and the engineer actually experiences his tragedy. Then follows the gruesome task of picking up the dying and the dead, giving first aid to the injured, clearing the track of the debris and proceeding with the train. Try to imagine the feelings of an engineer, who has the safe operation of a train carrying perhaps hundreds of passengers in his care, with the cries, moans and groans of the dying ringing in his ears—perhaps the blood of the victims on his clothes or hands, which unmakes and unfits him for a time at least to continue his exacting duties.

Frequently, the striking of an automobile means the derailment of engine and train, endangering the lives of not only the engine crew, but his passengers as well. Perhaps, if automobile drivers could experience this, they would be more considerate of the feelings and safety of others, even though they cared nothing for the risk to themselves. One thousand eight hundred and seven persons were killed and four thousand nine hundred and sixty-one were injured in railroad highway grade crossing accidents in the year 1921. These "accidents" occur so often that engineers watch saw an automobile of fishermen coming almost fascinated, wondering if the drivers will attempt to cross over ahead of the speeding train, praying they won't but powerless to do more than sound the whistle and bell signals.

Recently, in approaching a popular crossing near Dallas on my engine, I saw an automobile of fishermen coming towards the track at high speed. It looked like an even race to the crossing. My train was going at about 80 miles per hour, that's 88 ft. per second and weighing about one million pounds. I could not stop. I started the whistle and bell and wondered if they would be foolish enough to try to beat us over the crossing to save maybe five seconds of time fishing, or would practice common sense and stop. They didn't stop, but passed over the crossing, so close ahead that my engine struck and broke some fishing poles. They had their reckless thrill and I had my nerves shattered. All to save five seconds time. Is it worth it? I'll say it is not.

Another recent more or less common occurrence was when I saw a party of young boys and girls in an automobile approaching a railroad crossing at high speed on a road paralleling the track, all seemingly having a hilarious time, shouting, waving hats and handkerchiefs, bantering us for a race to the crossing about a quarter of a mile ahead. I sounded the usual whistle and bell signals and wondered if they really meant to attempt to cross the tracks ahead of the train. They did—getting over only about 100 ft. ahead of the engine and when across stopped and gave us the ha! ha!, as we passed. It's awful to contemplate the result of a slight mistake by a driver in speed of train or a seconds delay on the track.

As life is man's most precious possession, once gone can never be restored, any campaign designed to conserve it, ought and I believe will meet with the endorsement and support of the whole people. The remedy or preventative in this unnecessary loss of life and limb is so simple that anyone can learn it. It can be expressed in four words: "Don't Take a Chance!"

This has been expressed in so many ways that its familiar to everyone. Pet phrases are "Safety First," "Watch Your Step," "Stop, Look, Listen," etc. The last was originated by the railroads and is usually posted at highway crossings.

May the "Careful Crossing Campaign" now on, hasten the day when all people will realize these warnings are not placed at crossings for their decorative effect, but to help prevent "accidents."

Jno. N. Simpson and Geo. Ratliff made a business trip to New Mexico, 30 miles northwest of Las Cruces, last week. Mr. Simpson reports to us that it is awfully dry the whole way out there, except a small strip of country at Kent, about 10 miles wide perhaps.

We are going to San Francisco the 27th. I will drive the chief engineer's car for him. Sure will be a nice drive. It is about 600 miles. He pays my expenses up there. Besides I don't have to go on the ship. Tell Homer to keep an eye open for a job, about the first of January, 1923. Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Faint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stogall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. B 35

OIL DEVELOPMENT AT INTERESTING STAGE

From the Big Spring Herald.
A crowd of folks can be found at the Enders-Cushing well No. 1 most every day now as this test is at a most interesting depth and everything looks favorable for bringing in a producer before the drill goes much deeper.

For the past 250 feet the drill has been pounding its way through alternating strata of gray, brown and black lime and blue shale. Three or four feet of a formation geologists pronounce as being Ranger black lime was encountered this week and geologists state it will be encountered again and then production may be expected. The geologists state the present lime formation is very bituminous and they declare that everything looks favorable for bringing in a real producer.

Owing to the fact that a caving formation in the McIntyre well makes it necessary to suspend drilling until casing could be secured the drillers were transferred to Sparkman well and they are now running tower on this test. The Cushing Ranch Drilling Association are indeed fortunate in having three test wells going down since it enables them to retain their expert drillers by pushing work on one of the three tests when it is necessary to temporarily suspend work on any of these tests. It would be difficult to assemble first class drillers if it was necessary to discharge them every time a temporary shut down occurred and yet the companies could not afford to carry them on the payroll when work was suspended.

The excellent outlook for the Enders-Cushing well is indeed encouraging and this well will come in for much attention as the drill continues to approach the depth where big production is to be expected.

It is planned to bring in T. & P. No. 2 of the Underwriters Oil and Refining Company, today. This well is north of Westbrook and is an offset to Morrison No. 2 which well has produced from 200 to 300 barrels of oil daily for some months.

On account of the increasing amount of gas being encountered the boiler at T. & P. No. 2 was moved back, Thursday and everything shaped up to bring it in today. Additional storage tanks have also been put in place.

Quite a few of our folks plan to go to Westbrook today to see this well drilled in.

As this well is right near the Morrison No. 2 which oil men pronounce an especially good well there is no question whether or not T. & P. No. 2 is going to be an oil well the only question is as to the amount it will produce.

This well may determine whether or not the Underwriters Oil & Refining Company acted wisely in refusing the two million offer for their 10,000 acre lease in the Westbrook section.

It is stated that the Standard Oil Co., of California, made this offer for their holdings.

M. A. Maxwell and C. Johnson, independent oil operators, who are drilling three test wells in the Howard-Mitchell County oil fields were here on Wednesday from Colorado.

Messrs. Maxwell and Johnson have great expectations for the Iatan section and will drill at least three test north and west of Iatan.

Their Stewart No. 1, located one mile northwest of Iatan, was spudded in July 4th; their second test, the Capps-Lucas No. 1 will soon be underway; while their Jones well No. 1, 9 miles northwest of Iatan is being shaped up to spud in at an early date.

IRON FOUND IS OF METEORIC VALUE

DISCOVERY NEAR ODESSA MAY RESULT IN SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

From The Odessa Times.

Odessa has earned another unusual honor.

Not only has it gained the distinction of being in the center of the supposed potash beds of the Great Salt Basin, claimed to be the largest known salt basin in the world, but now it has broken into print in the American Journal of Science, and secured a niche in the National Museum at Washington, perpetuating for all time, the name of Odessa, Ector County, Texas.

For the lump of iron found in the co-called blowout on the ranch of J. Jules Henderson about nine miles southwest of town has proved to be a meteor. Meteors are scarce in this country. They are the only means of giving the scholar and scientist any knowledge of what exists on the planets and stars which circle about us.

Consequently when a chunk from one of these heavenly bodies frees itself from the whirling mass, dashes out of its orbit, falls through millions of miles of space and lights on this little old globe of ours, it is more than a simple object of curiosity, and will immediately attract scientists from all parts of the world.

Just how long the lump of iron has been on this earth is unknown. It was picked up one day when Sheriff L. E. Johnson, E. V. Graham and others were riding through the Henderson ranch. There is a huge blowout, covering several acres and fully ten feet deep in a section of this pasture. The blowout has long since grown over, but it is well defined, the sharp unusual edge making an al-perfect oval. All the adjacent land is flat, and there is no apparent cause for this unusual condition of the land, unless some huge body hurling through space landed there, sunk itself many feet below the surface and threw up these unnatural "dikes."

The bit of iron about the size of a man's fist had been on exhibition at Rhodes & McKinney's office for over two years and had been a constant object of curiosity. It remained for Dr. A. B. Bibbins, Md., president of the Maryland Academy of Science to call the turn, and it was through his activities that it has been definitely determined that the lump of ore is of meteoric origin.

When Dr. Bibbins first saw the ore he was intensely interested and when he was here with Mr. Hartzell last winter he suggested the possibility of it being a meteor. When he returned he carried the ore with him, and the accompanying pamphlet by George P. Merrill, of the National Museum, testifies to the result of the tests and establishes as a certainty, "Odessa's Star." The pamphlet was printed in a recent issue of the American Journal of Science, through the permission of the secretary of the Smithsonian Institute in whose hands Dr. Bibbins placed the meteor.

The description is highly technical but sufficiently plain for the layman to realize that the find was a valuable contribution to the scientific world. The fact that only a small portion of ore was found and because the blowout is so large, Dr. Bibbins is of the opinion that there might be a larger meteor in this section, and it is barely possible that one of the institutes in the east may start some scientific research to determine whether or not a larger section is under the ground.

This belief is further borne out by the unusual action of magnetic needles when over this blowout. They are visibly affected, and it is well known that a large body of ore would have a similar effect on a compass needle. It is hoped that further investigation of the blowout will be made.

In the issue of the magazine containing the story, a cut, or picture of the meteor thoroughly etched and polished was carried, giving it unusual prominence. The ore has been sliced, so that the Smithsonian Institute and the National Museum have pieces, the Maryland Academy of Science has a piece and the Commercial Club will also get a slice. The full description follows:

Art xxxi—Meteoric Iron from Odessa, Ector County, Texas; by George

P. Merrill.

The fragment of an iron meteorite described below was brought to the writer's attention by Dr. A. B. Bibbins, of Baltimore, who states that it was found by a ranchman at the west side of a "blow out" about nine miles southwest of Odessa, a little east of section 8, block 43, township 3, S. Ector County, Texas, and placed in his hands as a possible sample of iron ore. As received the fragment weighed 1,120 grains and was stated to have been cut from a larger mass—size not given. Exteriorly it was much weathered and oxidized and gave little indication of the customary pittings. The accompanying figure of a slice cut parallel with the greater dimensions is natural size. As will be noted, the structure is octahedral and of coarse crystallization (Og). The etched surface is dull and lusterless and abundantly sprinkled with small, angular areas of schreibersite.

As the light is reflected from the etched surface at varying angles, the interior field gives the effect of having been cut parallel with the broad kamacite plates, while in the outer marginal portion they are cut more nearly at right angles. (See fig. 1.) The suggestion is that of an intergrowth of two portions of unlike orientation. Taenite plates are thin and inconspicuous as are plesite areas, the entire mass being composed mainly of the broad kamacite plates and the included schreibersite.

A slice of the iron freed from all crust and oxidation products and containing no visible troilite was turned over to Mr. E. V. Shannon, of the Museum, for analysis. He reports as follows:

"A portion of the iron weighing 13,357 grams was dissolved in aqua regia and the nitric acid expelled by repeated evaporation with hydrochloric acid. The chloride solution was filtered on a Gooch filter, the residue being tabulated below as carbon. It possibly included some other extraneous substances, as dust, etc. This residue was ignited after weighing and was practically all destroyed by the ignition. After ignition the asbestos mat was fused with potassium pyrosulphate, leached with water, the solution acidified and precipitated with ammonia, ignited and fused with sodium carbonate and potassium nitrate and leached with hot water. Only a doubtful and exceedingly faint trace of chromium was found.

The chloride solution of the entire 13.36 grams was precipitated with hydrogen sulphide, the precipitate being examined for copper and platinum. No platinum could be detected. The copper was thoroughly proven. The solution, after removal of hydrogen sulphide, was made up to 1 liter and portions of 50 cc. (.6679 gm.) were used for determination of iron, nickel, phosphorus and manganese, also soluble chromium. No manganese could be detected by the colorimetric method, nor could any soluble chromium be found. Cobalt was determined by the nitrosobetanaphthol method on a 200 cc. portion of the solution (2.6716 gms.) Its identity was thoroughly established.

Sulphur was determined on a second portion of the iron weighing 13.4440 grams. This was dissolved in nitric acid, the sulphur separating in part as such in visible floating particles. This was oxidized with fuming nitric acid and determined as barium sulphate." The results of the analyses are as follows:

Iron	90.69
Nickel	7.25
Cobalt	.74
Copper	.02
Platinum	none
Chromium	trace
Manganese	none
Carbon	.35
Phosphorus	.23
Sulphur	.03
total	99.31

These figures fall well within the limits of other analyses of iron of the coarse octahedrite group and need little comment. The small amount of material available for analysis is probably the cause of the apparent absence of platinum.

Claud F. Cowden and wife returned the latter part of last week from Shreveport, La., where Mr. Cowden was looking after his oil interest. He and his associates have great hopes of their interests in that field.

Our former townsman, J. V. Walker, was with us for a few days last week, from Breckinridge, his home. It is a pleasure to know that he is prospering at Breckinridge, engaged in the grocery and meat business.

MAN ASKS AND GOD ANSWERS QUESTIONS

LAYMEN'S HOME MISSIONARY MOVEMENT 1327 SNYDER AVE., PHILADELPHIA, PA.

What are the two special resurrections?

(1) The heavenly, or spiritual, resurrection, Rev. 20: 6; Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection. They shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with Him a thousand years.

1 Cor. 15: 41-44, 49, 52, 53: It is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption; it is sown in dishonor, it is raised in power; it is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body. And as we have borne the image of the earthly (one, Adam,) we shall also bear the image of the heavenly (One, Jesus.) The dead shall be raised in corruptible; for this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

(2) The earthly, or human, resurrection, Ezek. 16: 53, 55, 61, 63: When I shall bring again . . . the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them. When thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate. Then . . . thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger; and I will give them unto thee for daughters. Is. 25: 6, 8: In this mountain shall the Lord of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things . . . He will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God shall wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of His people shall be taken away from off all the earth. Is. 65: 17, 19, 21-23: For behold I create . . . a new earth. And I will joy in My People. They shall build house and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them. They shall not build and another inhabit; they shall not plant and another eat. And Mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands. They shall not labor in vain, nor bring forth for trouble.

What are some Scriptures bearing on both resurrections? John 5: 28, 29 Rev. Ver.: All that are in the tombs shall hear His voice and shall come forth—they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of judgment. Acts 24: 15: There shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

1 Cor. 15: 45-48, 54-57: The first man is (was) of the earth, earthly; the second man is the Lord from heaven. As is (was) the earthy (one, Adam,) such are (shall) they also (be) that are earthy; and as is the heavenly (One, Jesus,) such also are (shall) they (be) that are heavenly.

Why should we expect a resurrection—a perfecting—of the obedient of the world as well as of the church?

(1) God's Oath-bound Covenant to bless all nations through Abraham's Seed, Jesus and His followers, Gen. 22: 18: In thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed. Gal. 3: 16, 29: He saith . . . To thy seed, which is Christ. If ye be Christ's are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

(2) The Ransom-Sacrifice of Christ for all. 1 Tim. 2: 5, 6: The Man Christ Jesus . . . gave Himself a ransom for all. John 12: 32, 33: And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto Me. This He said, signifying what death He should die. Rom. 15: 18, 19: (Am. Rev. Ver.): Through the righteousness of one the free gift came (shall come) unto all men to justification of life; for . . . through the obedience of the one shall the many be made righteous.

1 Cor. 15: 21, 22: By man came also the resurrection from the dead. For all in Christ shall be made alive.

(3) The sacrificial sufferings of Jesus' followers for the dead. 1 Cor. 15: 29-32: Else what shall they do which are baptized (with sacrificial sufferings, Mark 10: 34-40) for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they, then, baptized (with sacrificial sufferings) for the dead? And why stand we in jeopardy every hour? I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily. If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? Where will these two resurrected classes spend eternity?

(1) The faithful followers of Christ, John 14: 3: I will come again, and receive you unto Myself, that where I am either ye may be also. 2 Cor. 5: 1: We have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. 2 Pet. 3: 13: We . . . look for new heavens . . . where in dwelleth righteousness.

(2) The obedient of the world, Prov. 2: 21: For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it. Is. 60: 21: They people shall be all righteous; and they shall inherit the land forever. 2 Pet. 3: 13: We, according to His promise, look for . . . a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

Plaintiff alleges that on or about the 3rd day of July, 1913, in order to secure the prompt payment of the above note, that the Staked Plains Lodge No. 384, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, by its trustees W. W. Wimberly, H. M. Ramsay and H. N. Garrett, made, executed and delivered to Leslie A. Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiff prays that citation issue to the defendants in the terms of the law, commanding them to appear and answer this suit, and that upon a final hearing hereof, he have judgment for his debt, principal, interest and attorney's fees, and for foreclosure of the said deed of Trust lien, and for order of sale, and for the application of the proceeds to said judgment with further provisions that if the proceeds of the sale of said property is insufficient, that then he have his execution against each of the other defendants herein named jointly and severally for such balance, for costs of suit, and for other relief, general and special, in law and equity, and in duty bound will ever pray.

YOUNG LADIES HAVE A PROGRESSIVE DAY

On last Friday a progressive day of parties was given in honor of these charming visiting girls: Misses Margaret Owen, of Waxahachie; Virginia Harris, of Ft. Worth; Louise Jones, of Denton; Jo Jo Evans and Mrs. Clifton T. Grice, of Dallas.

To start the day off right, a crowd of jolly girls met at the home of Miss Mary Barron at 8 o'clock. They were received on the porch, beautifully decorated with sunflowers and pot plants where they were served a delicious two-course breakfast. Dainty hand painted place cards marked places for the sixteen girls. Miss Virginia Harris received a beautiful hand embroidered guest towel as honor guest favor.

At 10:30 the party progressed to the home of Miss Loraine Davis who, with Miss Lula Elkin as co-hostess, entertained with bridge. After a number of exciting games, they served a delicious luncheon plate. Miss Margaret Owen won high score for the visitors, Mrs. Lane Dupree, the highest score, and Miss Mary Barron the lowest. The prizes were dainty hand made handkerchiefs. At 2:30 the party broke up and each guest went to indulge in a brief "beauty" nap before they met again at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parks at 5 o'clock.

With Miss Leona McCormick as hostess, the guests were again entertained with a series of bridge games. Miss Margaret Owen was presented with a lavender pot pourri as honor guest prize, Miss Mamie Moran, a handsome deck of cards as high score prize, and Miss Virginia Harris, a box of lavender as second high score prize.

At 7 o'clock an even number of young men arrived and after drawing for partners, the guests were served to a buffet dinner. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and various other diversions. At a late hour the guests very reluctantly took leave expressing to Mr. and Mrs. Parks many thanks for another delightful evening in their always hospitable home.

Those who enjoyed the entire day were: Misses Harris, Owen, Jones, Evans, Mamie and Annie Merle Moran, Annie Mae and Lois Patterson, Barron, Davis, McCormick, Elkin, Baker, White, Mesdames Grice and Dupree. Those who joined the party for the evening were: Messrs. Parks, Byron, and Billy Bryant, Earl and Ray Moran, Barron, D. Davis, McCormick, Hill, C. Davis, Mims, Tolbert, Bludworth, Dupree, Castleman, of Dallas, Patterson, Guy and Clyde Cowden, and Misses Clifford Heath and Geraldine Cowden. —Contributed.

Walter Jerden and family are visitors the latter part of the week from Mineral Wells. They are former citizens of Midland and have many friends who are glad to see them again.

Chas. Edwards and family are this week visiting friends and relatives at Hereford.

Mrs. J. P. Inman entertained the T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Sunday School on last Friday afternoon, July 7th. The ladies brought their embroidery and a delightful afternoon was spent in work and conversation. At the close the hostess served delicious cream and cake to 25 members.

Mrs. Werhler, nee Miss Eddie Taylor, arrived yesterday and is a guest of her father, J. Wiley Taylor.

Dr. Tigner left this week for a vacation trip in the San Angelo country, and will be gone until about August 1st or 5th.

Vice President W. A. Hyatt of the Midland National Bank, returned on Wednesday from El Paso where he spent several days on business for his bank. He enjoyed his visit and deems it to have been profitable to his institution.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Haag and daughter, Addlese, and son, Mervin, will leave Monday for a long anticipated visit with the mother and father of Mr. Haag, at Jacksboro. They expect to be absent for a week after which time Mr. Haag will be back in his office for steady work.

Doc Coates arrived the first of the week from his place near Jal, N. M. He reports all that section in the finest possible condition.

Mrs. J. Tom White and daughter, Miss Thelma, left Tuesday morning for Mr. White's ranch in New Mexico, near Knowles. They expect to be gone until about the middle of September. Accompanying them were the Misses Alma, Lois and Annie Lee Brunson, who will visit in that section for two or three weeks.

C. A. McClintic is here this week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. McClintic. He is a member of the State Guards and they have a company at Sweetwater, on the 27th they go to Camp Mabry for two weeks' training.

Henry M. Half recently sold and delivered to Lee Bivins, of Amarillo, two work horses, 30 saddle horses and 80 high bred mares. These mares are either sired by or bred to the registered thoroughbred stallion, Ech Davis. It will be remembered that Ech Davis was retired from the Juarez race track, and made some nice winnings at the Midland fair.
