Voters Of 2 States Go To Polls Today

Roosevelt Has Opponent In Presidential Primary In Pennsylvania

By United Press
The outline of the new deal's 1936 platform began to emerge today as voters went to the polls in presidential primaries in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Bit by bit, President Roosevelt has roughed in the platform outline, adding the latest touches in his New York City address Saturday night.

More details are expected in other addresses within the next six weeks with the full platform taking formal shape at the democratic national convention at Philadelphia June 27.

New Platform
Principal plans in the 1936 platform included work week limitations, minimum wages, stabilized employment and an effort to raise working age minimums and lower maximums; national approach to economic and social problems, wider income distributions and maintenance of policies increasing price levels.

The Pennsylvania primary today matches for the first time President Roosevelt an anti-new deal opponent, Col. Henry Breckenridge on the democratic preferential ballot. Sen. William E. Borah is the only entry in the republican presidential poll.

No Names On Ballot
In Massachusetts voters are afforded an opportunity to write in their presidential preferences but no names of candidates will be carried on the ballot. Delegates for the republican and democratic conventions will be named.

Another political development accentuated the split between President William Green of the American Federation of Labor and President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers.

Green issued a warning to state and local A. F. of L. organizations to stand aloof from partisan politics until the "occasion seems appropriate."

Green's advice was in direct conflict with that of Lewis who has pledged his union and its efforts to the candidacy of President Roosevelt.

clared ended in 1922. His son, Farouk (right) 16-year-old crown prince, will succeed to the throne, ruling under a regency. (Associated Press Photos.)

Italian Troops Continue Uninterrupted March

(By The Associated Press)
Thousands of war-worn, exhausted, hobbling Ethiopian troops began to stream into Addis Ababa today from the northern front. They were famished and gaunt from lack of food and water. Many were wounded.

Italy's northern army commander, Marshal Pietro Badoglio, reported his troops had covered two-thirds of the distance from Dessye to Addis Ababa in a final drive to complete the conquest of Ethiopia.

A gigantic motorized column, one of the most formidable assembled in the entire war, moved southward on the imperial highway to Addis Ababa.

Final Advance
Not alone the impressive size of the column but the record number of white Italian troops included, made it appear certain this advance was the final one with which Marshal Badoglio intends to end the war on the northern front. They were the heavy rains begin in June.

The consolidation of the front at Dessye, in preparation for the drive, has outdone in rapidity and extent anything done in the campaign.

Armored cars, bristling with machine guns, and whole squadrons of heavy and mountain artillery made it certain the column would be able to give battle to even larger forces than the Italians have met—and vanquished—so far.

The presence of many white troops was taken to indicate they have been selected to march to the objective—Addis Ababa, and plant the Italian tricolor in the emperor's capital.

In Germany, Adolf Hitler made General Herman Wilhelm Goering, Reich air minister, premier of Prussia and supreme dictator on raw material and foreign exchange questions. The move was apparently designed to curb the power of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, who incurred Nazi wrath by his open criticism of Hitler's policies, despite his position as the reich economic leader.

Outlook For Crops, Range Much Better

4 Killed, Several Hurt In Storms Accompanying Downpours

(By The Associated Press)
Two persons were killed today by a tornado which ripped through a farming section six miles north of Rockdale during a heavy rain and hail storm. Six persons were injured when another twister struck Cuero, blowing several houses off their foundations and littering the city with debris.

A negro woman and her son were the tornado's fatally injured victims.

Two other negroes were killed and several persons were injured when a freak twister struck in the eastern part of Wharton county.

In Houston, houses were wrecked and trees and power lines were blown down in a severe windstorm.

Drouth Ended
General rains, worth millions to Texas ranchers and farmers drenched all of Texas except the extreme southwest portion and a strip along the New Mexico border.

The long spring drouth over thousands of acres of crop and pasture lands was ended.

Steady showers drenched North Texas, missing only the Panhandle. Brisk rains struck Galveston, bringing 1.09 inches.

Agriculturists hailed the rains as vastly beneficial to cotton, corn, oats, wheat and vegetables.

Scattered rains fell over West Texas, but the Big Spring sector remained in the dry belt.

In Abilene Area
Abilene was in the approximate center of the West Texas precipitation, heavy showers falling there last night. Stamford and Baird had good rains.

The Coleman ranching and farming area reported big rains. Brady, San Saba and Kerrville reported precipitation, while Del Rio received more than an inch following an electrical storm.

The Panhandle, Texas' greatest wheat producing country, had its crop outlook brightened by showers Monday, with the South Plains sharing in the heaviest fall. Two and one-half inches fell at Abilene. Rains extended from Canyon to Latamess and from Mulshoe to Sweetwater. The fall was light at Sweetwater.

The precipitation was lighter in Central and South Texas.

Famine Victims In China Driven To Cannibalism

CHUNGKING, China, April 28. (AP)—A terrible famine sweeping the Szechwan and North Honan provinces today assumed proportions of a national disaster, with estimates of the number of dead and dying ranging from ten to thirty millions.

An earthquake this morning added to the misery, although none was reported dead.

Chinese newspapers reported that hunger-maddened natives were resorting to cannibalism and that parents were selling their children to gain food money.

The appalling conditions were attributed to floods, followed by drouth, and the chronic plaging of Chinese communist soldiers during the past two years.

Indian Chief Is Speaker At Club Session

'Cyclone' Davis Also Heard On Program At Rotary Meeting

Tuesday's program at the Rotary club, in charge of Walton Morrison, was brim-full of entertainment from start to finish. Opening number was vocal solo by Miss Wanda McQuinn, "If You Pass My Door," accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick on the piano. An encore number, "Indian Love Call," was given.

Chief Red Fox of the Sioux Indian tribe, a native of the Dakotas, was a guest of the club and spoke in the interest of American youth. Outlining his early history, Chief Red Fox told of the educational facilities afforded the Indians by the United States government. He said there were 211 Indian reservations in the United States at the present time caring for over 250,000 Indians, with educational and other facilities available.

Indian Dances
Chief Red Fox pleaded for adult leadership in the interest of the American youth of today for the future citizens of tomorrow. At the conclusion of his talk, the chief favored the club with a series of Indian dances, with tom-tom accompaniment, which brought forth much applause.

Arion Davis introduced his father, J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, who spoke briefly to the club on "What Might Have Been," tracing the early day history of the American colonies, with special emphasis on the founding of the American constitution.

He also alluded to the slavery question, and the plan as offered by Thomas Jefferson to solve it, before the civil war.

Foran Meeting
Superintendent Leland Martin of the Foran school invited Rotarians and their wives to attend the annual junior-senior banquet at Foran school next Thursday evening. Proceeds from the banquet, he said, would be used in defraying expenses of a trip planned to the west coast by Foran students.

Announcement of the district conference of the forty-first district was made by President M. K. House, who urged all intending to attend the meeting to make reservations. The conference will begin May 2, and continue through May 5.

Clyde Tingle was introduced as a new member. Visiting Rotarians were Randy Randerson, Abilene; W. B. Mann and C. E. Beblam, Midland; Pascal Buckner, H. S. Fatheree, Wyatt Eason, Galveston; Arion Davis, "Cyclone" Davis, Sulphur Springs, and Chief Red Fox were guests for the day.

Borden County To Get New Oil Test

Will Submit City Budget

Commission To Hear Aviation Committee Report Tonight

City commissioners were to convene in one of the most important sessions of the year today at 7:45 p. m. to consider the proposed budget submitted by City Manager E. V. Spence and to hear a report from the chamber of commerce aviation committee.

The chamber committee will ask action on a petition requesting municipal ownership of the airport. Data for an election on the proposal will be urged.

It was learned on good authority Tuesday that the tentative budget to be submitted by Spence will be more than $7,000 under the budget for the past fiscal year ending March 31.

Several Wildcats In This Area Being Watched

Oil fraternity of this area Tuesday looked with interest upon several wildcat tests being drilled in the Big Spring territory as it was announced that Borden county would get another oil test.

John I. Moore, active in this area in blocking up acreage for the unsuccessful deep test in Glascock county and the East Howard-Snyder wildcat, has completed arrangements for a test, his No. 1 Clayton-Johnson in the center of the northeast quarter of section 29, block 32, T-4-N, T&P survey in Borden county.

Shallow Test In Glascock
It is located 5 1/2 miles east of the last ill-fated wildcat, the C. E. Hyde No. 1 G. M. Dodge in section 27, block 33, T-4-N, T&P survey. It centers among several other tests, some having gas shows, in the area, among them the West Hyde No. 1, Looney in section 15, block 33; Phillips No. 1 Good in section 46, block 33 in Borden county and the Magnolia No. 1 Jeter in section 1, block 24, T-4-N, T&P survey, Dawson county.

Monday M. B. Stanton was rigging up for an interesting shallow test on the Edwards ranch in Glascock county. It is scheduled to drill to 1,000 feet in search of sand production past 900 feet. Production in the area is obtained in the 2,300 feet horizon in lime. It is located in section 11, block 34, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Tuesday the Southern Oil Corp. No. 1 Edwards, section 23, block 30, T-1-S, T&P survey, was drilling at 1,800 feet in lime. It is located between the East Howard and the discovery Chalk pool and is on the same general trend as was the John I. Moore No. 1 Snyder, 330 feet from the west and south lines of section 23, which swabbed 42 barrels of oil for six days but which never was converted into a producer.

Pike Test Drilling
Drilling continued Tuesday on the D. C. Reed, et al No. 1 Pike, 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 24, block 32, T-1-N, T&P survey, just two miles northwest of Big Spring. The test, being

Liquor Sales Are Checked By State Men

Permit Holders Warned To Observe Provisions Of Statute

Deputy Supervisor L. E. Morris of the state liquor control board and a crew of four men are checking liquor sales in this district. Headquarters have been established in Big Spring.

Morris warned permit holders to adhere to the state liquor laws in sale of their products and cautioned wine and beer dealers against sale of hard liquors.

He said that a close check would be kept on all dealers as to closing hours and suspension of business on Sundays and election days.

To Speed Up Payment Of Age Pensions

First Remittances May Be Made In June, By July At Latest

AUSTIN, April 28 (AP)—Orville Carpenter, director of the old age assistance commission, today said night shifts would be inaugurated in some divisions of the commission to speed early pension payments.

He said it was hoped initial remittances would be made in June, and that he was confident payments would start by July 1. With federal aid assured, Carpenter said, it will be possible for Texans to receive the maximum age benefit of $30 monthly.

Texas Leads In Month's Trade Gains

Dollar Volume In Southwest Shows Increase Of 16 Percent

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Retail sales in the Gulf Southwest as reflected by reports from 903 independent stores in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, reporting to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, in cooperation with the bureau of business research, University of Texas, according to preliminary estimates, increased about 16 percent in dollar volume for March 1936 as compared with March 1935. This report which covers the larger independent stores with the exception of department stores, represents 21 kinds of business, 9 of which, due to an insufficient number of reports, are included in miscellaneous or group totals.

The greatest increase was shown for Texas where reported sales for 636 stores were 15 percent above March a year ago. The sales of 212 Oklahoma merchants showed a 15 percent increase and 55 stores in New Mexico recorded a gain of about 12 percent.

When adjusted for the number of working days, March sales for the 3 states showed an increase of about 10 percent from February 1936. There was one more working day in March than in February. Without adjustment either for the number of working days or for seasonal influences, March sales were 14 per cent greater.

All of the kinds of business reported, except food stores which recorded a decline of almost 7 percent, registered gains from last year. The greatest increases were shown by lumber and building materials dealers, with a 49 percent and furniture stores, with a 31 percent increase in sales over March a year ago.

Davis Talks To Students

Original Features Of Texas Declaration Of Independence Cited

J. H. "Cyclone" Davis, colorful figure in state and national politics, here for a week to make addresses in connection with a Centennial education program, spoke to high school students Tuesday morning.

Accompanied by his son, Arion Davis, he was to speak at Foran this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Davis, 81, first entered the Texas political arena in 1876. He became a nationally known figure in 1884 when he was tendered the vice-presidential candidacy on the Bryan ticket. Later he served in congress.

Davis, in his address to the students, recounted clauses in the Texas Declaration of Independence that were in no other document before that document was issued. He also told of his numerous experiences with the slaves on his father's plantation in East Texas.

Davis plans to make several talks here before various groups.

Is Tried For Third Time

J. E. Terry Faces Charge Of Driving While Intoxicated

For the third time in six months, J. E. Terry went on trial Tuesday morning on an indictment for driving while intoxicated.

He was first tried on the count in the November, 1934, term and again on a similar charge in the January, 1936, term. Tuesday he was tried on the original count, one of three against him. Both of his previous trials resulted in hung juries. The alleged offense on which he was being tried Tuesday occurred May 16, 1935, on South Main street.

Tuesday at 3 p. m., the case of Robert Ray, charged with assault on J. R. Bond, his father-in-law, with intent to murder, was to come to trial.

Fees of guilty were heard by the court Monday afternoon. Harry Leffie, admitting to a forgery charge, was sentenced to serve two years in the state prison. J. R. McClellan, indicted for forgery in 1934, entered a plea of guilty and was given a two-year suspended sentence. J. B. Dean, who entered a similar plea to a similar charge, drew a two-year suspended sentence.

R. V. Fugus, Bert Chandler, and Monroe Ashley pleaded guilty to an indictment charging theft on person and were assessed five-year suspended sentences.

Negro Accused In Attempted Attack Is Slain By Mob

ROYSTON, Ga., April 27. (AP)—Lint Shaw, negro farmer, today was shot dead by a mob of 40 men, eight hours before he was scheduled to face trial on a charge of attempted criminal assault.

The negro's body was found at dawn, tied to a pine tree in a creek bottom near the scene where two white girls reported he attempted to attack them after their car broke down.

The mob broke into the Royston jail at midnight, cornered officers and smashed the lock on the prisoner's cell door.

High School Paper Will Publish Only Two More Editions

With the present school term drawing to a close the high school paper, The Wheel, will make issue two more editions. This week the paper, The Wheel, will issue class and the senior class edition will be published May 8. The senior edition be similar to those of former years in that it will recount all the major events of the term.

The Wheel is finishing its second year work as an independent mimeograph paper. On the staff are Jeanna Hostetter, editor; Dixie Stutville, business manager, and Winell Fischer, circulation manager. Reporters are Lola Mae Hall, Maureen Montgomery, Frances Stamper, Mrs. Milton Reeves, Halie Watson, and Mary Louise Inkman. Ralph Houston is faculty supervisor.

On the publication committee are Principal George Gerry, Mrs. W. O. Low, Nell Brown and Ralph Houston.

More Favorable Comment On Edition Many Copies Mailed To Boost Big Spring

Compliments and congratulations on The Herald's 108-page "decade of development" edition of Sunday continued to reach the newspaper staff Tuesday, as additional orders were placed for extra copies of the paper.

Many Big Spring residents were mailing copies to friends at other points, to let them know of the city's development through ten years of oil production. Some comments on the paper follow.

Mrs. Noel Lawson—"Your special edition Sunday was marvelous. The Herald certainly gave the city of Big Spring and the oil fields here a very good paper."

Kin Barnett—"The special was excellent. I spent all Sunday afternoon reading the many interesting stories."

John Nutt—"It sure was a dandy. I haven't finished reading all of it yet."

W. Kirk Baxter—"Your paper's special edition was the best I have ever seen. Congratulations."

Wendell Bedichek, Abilene—"Orchids and roses on your special; plenty nifty and I don't mean maybe."

F. J. Akesson, Dallas—"I didn't realize Big Spring was the big city it is, as reflected in that paper."

W. A. Sheets—"The edition was splendid. It represents a great deal of effort in showing Big Spring and its resources."

W. E. Carrick—"It sure was a good paper."

Joe L. Wood—"The special edition of The Herald was a splendid piece of work."

Mrs. C. S. Blomfield—"You certainly deserve a lot of credit for publishing such a marvelous paper."

Mrs. J. M. Anderson—"I sure liked the paper. I want to send some away to friends and relatives."

G. C. Dunham—"It is a credit to the community, and should get a long way in advertising this city and its assets."

Della K. Agnell—"I want to compliment The Herald on its wonderful special edition of last Sunday. It certainly gave the historical information in an interesting manner, as well as showing the remarkable growth since the discovery of oil. You deserve a great deal of credit for this edition."

W. S. Crook—"A fine edition. I am going to send some to my folks."

Death Takes Otis Thornton

Funeral For Filling Station Operator Set For Wednesday

Otis Thornton, filling station operator and resident of Big Spring for six years, succumbed at his home, 1000 West Third street, at 4:05 a. m. Tuesday, victim of illness. He had been ill for about three weeks, but his condition had not been regarded as critical until he took a sudden turn for the worse Monday.

Thornton is survived by his wife, two sons, Otis Jr., 11, and Lonnie Cleon, 7; three daughters, Susie May, 12, Nell Monette, 9, and Theda, 2; and a brother, Geary Thornton of Big Spring.

Funeral services are to be held from the Eberly Funeral chapel Wednesday at 4 p. m. Other funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Thornton was born on Aug. 5, 1889, in Montague county. He came here in 1930.

TANKER WITH CARGO OF ALCOHOL SEIZED

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 28 (UP)—Customs agents said today that capture of a former oil tanker laden with $300,000 worth of alcohol had broken one of the largest bootlegging gangs found in the United States since prohibition.

Five customs men boarded the tanker, the 206-ton Charles D. Laffer of Wilmington, after she had docked in Arthur Kill yesterday. The crew of seven fought with flats and clubs before they were subdued.

The Charles D. Laffer obtained its alcohol, customs men said, from another ship beyond the 12-mile customs limit.

BETTER BUSINESS IN S'WEST IS SEEN

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 28 (UP)—Matthew E. Sloan, president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, today saw "better business rosin" in the southwest.

The Katy executive headed a group of 50 directors and officials in a survey of conditions in the territory served by the line.

M-K-T's revenue is 20 per cent above a year ago, Sloan said, and freight and passenger equipment is being improved to meet the increased business.

JOHNSON STREET IS OPENED TO TRAFFIC

After being closed since December, Johnson street between 10th and 11th was opened to traffic Tuesday morning.

The road was closed for cutting grades, pouring of curbs and placing of six-inch caliche base. Traffic will be routed over the road until the base has thoroughly packed.

WPA crews under city supervision were moved to the projects on Seventh between Scurry and Gregg and the alley between Johnson and Nolan streets on the 300 block.

When base has been packed on all three, they will be given a two-course rock aggregate asphalt surfacing.

CONTINUE DISCUSSION ON CEMETERY PLANS

A committee composed of representatives from several fraternal and civic organizations today continued its deliberations on a plan for subdividing the cemetery. The committee met first Monday afternoon but elected to continue its discussions Tuesday. Ed Merrill is head of the group.

Around And About

The Sports Circuit

By Tom Beasley

Texas league baseball teams have a way of fooling even the best of guessers. Who would have thought for instance, that the Houston Buffaloes, who began the season as the league's big question mark would be second in the parade early in the third week of play.

Skipper Ira Smith had balled his roster down to 18 players last week, with almost an entirely new line-up. Only six of the Buffaloes remaining were with the club in 1935.

Although Smith relied largely on the lower classification in rebuilding his squad, three of the newcomers were in Class A or better last year. There was a possibility he would get other material from St. Louis Cardinal farms as the season progressed.

Statistician Bill Ruggles, who likes to dig into the "private lives" of Texas league heroes, notes parenthetically that "seven of the Buffs have attended a senior university or college; eight have occupations other than baseball, three being farmers, one a shoemaker, one an insurance salesman, one a box lunch salesman, one a candy-maker and another doing studio work in the movies." The tooth paste industry is not represented this year.

Mike Cvengros, one of the club's indispensable, is the Houston veteran. He is the only Buffalo more than 30 years old. Mike is 34 and is playing for the Little Rock club in 1936. Most of the other players have been professionals only a few seasons, but there is no first-year rookie in the class.

Robert Ross, 6 feet, 3 inches, towers as the tallest of the Buffaloes, while infielder Emmett Mueller, who can stretch only to a height of 5 feet 1-2 inches, is the shortest. Statistician Ruggles notes that "the most distinguished newcomer is John Watwood, the gentleman from Auburn, who went up to the majors from Shreveport in 1932 and stayed around several years. Last year he was with Memphis in the Southern Association. This is Watwood's first season in the Cardinal 'chain store' system."

The Houston roster at the start of the season included: Pitchers—Michael Cvengros, Maurice Forsythe, Herbert Moore, Robert Ross, Alfred Sherer, John Stevenson.

Catchers—Harold Doerr, Herman Franks. Infielders—John Watwood, Justin Skeln, Leonard Backer, John Keane, Emmett Mueller.

Outfielders—Don Padgett, Herschel Martin, John Rizzo, Patrick Riley. Manager Ira Smith was listed as "utility man."

Cvengros, Keane, Padgett, Rizzo Riley and Smith are the veterans retained from last season. Forsythe played with Hutchinson, Kas, in 1935; Moore was acquired from Asheville; Ross from Springfield, Ill.; Sherer, from Bloomington; Stevenson, from Jacksonville, Tex., in the East Texas loop; Doerr, from Portland Ore.; Franks from Jacksonville, Fla.; Watwood, from Memphis Tenn.; Skeln, from Bloomington; Backer, from San Francisco; Martin from Bloomington.

TEXON LOSES—The Texon Oilers booted away another Palestine Basin league game here Sunday afternoon as they made four errors and lost to Crane, 7 to 5.

Colored glasses for use in strong sunshine are the latest product of Palestine industry.

MUNY POOL TO BE POPULAR THIS SUMMER—The Muny swimming pool promises to be a favorite spot for West Texans, these warm summer evenings.

Charley Akay, who has charge of the pool, has received inquiries from many surrounding towns. Midland swimmers asked for rates, etc.

Two Odessans were in the pool Monday and two Midlanders Sunday night.

"It's still a bit chilly for swimming," Akay commented. "The youngsters who swim all afternoon come out with their teeth chattering."

MARTY McMANUS SATISFIED WITH TULSA RECORD

Keen Rivalry Anticipated At Big Ten Track, Field Games

WHITWORTH IS OLDEST MAN LISTED

By United Press Experience and proved ability in professional baseball play stood the Tulsa Oilers in good stead today as Manager Marty McManus scanned a record of eight games won and six lost in the Texas league season thus far.

The Tulsa club for 1936 is composed principally of veterans. Six of the 25 players on the starting roster were more than 30 years old and only 10 under 25. Most of these men gained their experience on teams of class A rating or better.

Not to be outclassed by other Texas leaguers for academic background, the Tulsa club includes six men educated in senior colleges. Two bachelors of arts and one bachelor of science.

Dick Whitworth, who was born in 1893, is the oldest Tulsa player. Whit, as Texas league Statistician Bill Ruggles describes him, was "a veteran in years when young as a pitcher." The youngster of the Tulsa squad is Julian Wasco, pitcher who served last year with Wilkes-Barre in the New York-Pennsylvania loop.

It may be Skipper McManus' hopes to slip up on the "blind side" of his opponents, for the Tulsa club has more left-handed hitters than any other in the league.

In addition to nine players who bat on the port side, and a southpaw exchange hitter, there are left-handed pitchers.

Tulsa's roster at the start of the season included: Pitchers—Edwin C. Bryan, who played last year with Seattle; George Buchanan, on the Toledo Fort Wayne lists in 1935; Darrell Hawley, from Odell, Ill.; Murray Howell, from Devine, Texas; George Milstead, acquired from Fort Worth; Floyd Newkirk, who was with San Francisco last year; James Perry, from High Point, N. C.; Max Thomas, acquired from Seattle; Edgar Selway, and Whitworth.

K. Stammers, Southpaw Court Ace Seeks Crown With New Back-Hand

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—With a marked improvement in her backhand game, comely Kay Stammers, 21-year-old British tennis sensation who blasted Helen Wills Moody to defeat in two sets last year, 6-0, 6-4, aims to become queen of the world's courts within the next few months.

The first, blue-eyed brunette started her 1936 campaign with a slashing triumph over the veteran Betty Nuthall, 6-2, 6-2, in an exhibition that prompted critics to compare her drives with Tilden's and her grace with Suzanne Lenglen's.

Rated At Top In the early season as viewed by conservative critics, the dashing girl from St. Albans appears far ahead of her nearest British rival, Dorothy Round, with whom she is bracketed in the No. 1 position over here.

Miss Stammers is expected to prove a serious stumbling block to American hopes, as represented by Mrs. Moody and Helen Jacobs, at Wimbledon.

The beautiful southpaw's backhand, always before the vulnerable point in her armor, no longer is a major source of trouble. She has coupled this improved backhand with slanting drives to both wings and net work comparing favorably with the finesse shown by Mrs. Moody and Lenglen in her prime.

Jay Pearce, one of Britain's leading professional players, dropped after three hard sets against the smiling girl from Chile. "She ran me ragged," he said. "On that form, she would have beaten any woman at Wimbledon. She is at least 15 points better than she was last year."

OILERS TAKE DECISION FROM ELECTRICIANS, 5-2

(By HANK HART) Chub Reed, a player with a fast ball and a defense that would have done credit to any professional, pitched one-hit ball for five innings while his mates piled up a 5-0 lead and then coasted to a 5-2 decision over Elton Taylor's Electricians Monday night on Muny diamond.

The Settles Roadrunners, pace-setters in the American loop, were awarded a 10-0 default in the second game when the Howard County Refiners gave notice that they had withdrawn from the league.

Grove Malone, on the hill for the Lamplighters, escaped trouble through the first two innings, despite the fact that two of the first three men to face him in the second singled. But Couden players broke loose in the third with a two-run outburst and then bombarded Malone's flips in the fourth for the remainder of their runs.

Both runs in the third resulted from alert base running on the part of the Oilers. Reed, after being passed, went home when the Electricians misplayed Morgan's hopper and the Couden third sacker scored a moment later on Harris' outfield bingle.

Charley Spikes cracked out a circuit smash with West on in the fourth and Morgan accounted for the other run when he doubled with Reed on.

The Oiler lab artist faltered in the sixth to allow Malone and Phillips to score the only Taylor runs, but he tightened suddenly to put the last four men down in order and end the game.

McLarnin Looks Impressive But He's Almost A Washout

Jimmy Loses Interest In Fight Game

Unable To Settle Down To Training For Cansoneri

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin is a trim looking athlete as he strips for his workout at the Pioneer gymnasium. Not an ounce of superfluous flesh appears on his sturdy body. He looks like the grand little fighter who won a lasting place in the hearts of boxing lovers. He looks great—until he actually settles down to the task of preparing himself for his battle, May 8, with Tony Cansoneri.

Then it becomes quite evident that the thrill of the game is gone so far as McLarnin is concerned. He goes through the motions of punching the bag and follows that up with several rounds of shadow boxing. But the way he does it—it's all old stuff to him now. It is an ordeal, and the sooner it is done with the better Jimmy will be pleased.

He looks mighty good against his sparring partner, and has the knack of doing everything according to the book. And he even looks impressive as he steps around the youngster with much of his old time speed and grace. Suddenly it dawns on you that the willing kid in there is little more than a

Fifty-Three Out Of Sixty-One Kentucky Derby Winners Colts

By C. Robert Kay Associated Press Sports Writer Polishing Up On the Kentucky Derby, To Be Run Saturday

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Of the 61 Kentucky derby winners, 53 were colts, seven were geldings and one was a filly. Regret, 1915 winner, was the only filly victor. One filly ran second, Lady of Navarre in 1908, and five ran third—Flamma, 1912; Gowell, 1913; Bronzewing, 1914; Viva America, 1918, and Frudery, 1921. The gelding winners were Vagrant, 1875; Apollo, 1882; Macbeth II, 1888; Old Rowan, 1914; Exterminator, 1915; Paul Jones, 1920, and Clyde Van Dusen, 1929.

Four horses have won both the Kentucky derby and the Pimlico Peakeness—Sir Barton in 1919, Gallant Fox in 1930, Burgoon King in 1932, and Omaha in 1935. Three of these, Sir Barton, Gallant Fox and Omaha, also won the Belmont mythical "triple crown" of racing, Stakes, and are holders of the mythical "triple crown" of racing.

Three Maidens Win Three horses which never had won a previous race were victorious in the Kentucky derby. These "maidens" were Apollo, 1882; Sir Barton, 1919, and Broker's Tip, 1933. No winner of the Belmont Futurity, 1933, the world's richest race for two-year-olds, ever won the Kentucky derby the following year.

Two horses have sired three derby winners each. Virgil was the sire of Vagrant, 1875; Hindoo, 1881, and Ben Ali, 1886. Falsetto, which ran second in the 1879 derby, was the sire of Chant, 1894; His Eminence, 1902, and Sir Huon, 1906. Several thoroughbreds have sired two derby winners.

Three derby winners have sired derby winners. They were Halma, 1895, sire of Alan-a-Dale, 1902;

Bubbling Over, 1926, sire of Burgoon King, 1932, and Gallant Fox, 1930, sire of Omaha, 1935. Four Bradley Winners Col. E. R. Bradley won $215,800 in Kentucky derby stakes. He sent four winners to the post, three seconds, one third and one fourth horse over a period of 13 years. H. J. (Dick) Thompson trained all four of Bradley's derby winners.

Twenty Grand, 1931 victor, holds the speed record for the present mile and a quarter derby distance, 2:01 4-5. From 1875 to 1895, the race was a mile and a half, and Spokane, victor in 1889, holds the record for this distance, 2:34 1-2. The shortest priced winner was Hindoo, 1881, at 3 to 10. The longest shot was Donerail, 1918, which paid $184.90 for a 2 winning ticket. Favorites have won 23 of the 61 runnings.

Two jockeys—Isaac Murphy and Earl Sande—were astride three derby winners each.

Robert Yant, Burlington, Ia. high school senior, has suffered a broken collar bone five times.

TALENT FOR OLYMPICS IS SOUGHT

By Tommy Devine United Press Staff Correspondent COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 28 (UP)—Midwestern track fans will receive a preview of a representative group of Olympic performers here May 22-23, when stars from conference schools meet for the 36th annual Big Ten championships.

The event will be held under the auspices of Ohio State for the second time in conference history. The only other previous Big Ten meet here was in 1925.

The slowness legs that carried Jesse Owens, Ohio State negro star, to three world's records and a tie for the fourth last season will thrust the Big Ten championships into the foreground of collegiate track and field carnivals, and the quantity of Olympic hopes within the ranks this season should serve to keep it there.

Owens in the 1935 meet at Ann Arbor gave the greatest individual performance in track and field history when he set new world's records in the 220-yard dash, the 220-yard low hurdles and the broad jump and tied the mark in the 100-yard dash.

Owens Faces Opposition Whether Owens or any other competitor ever will equal that performance is questionable, but the Buckeye star will be among the participants here this season, and the quality of the opposition

"These vegetables will keep fresh in my Electric Refrigerator"

PENNYWISE SAYS:

"Your refrigerator should maintain a constant temperature of below 50 degrees to keep food fresh and wholesome. Higher temperatures permit rapid growth of bacteria."

Many thrifty housewives have learned to make quantity purchases of perishable foods on days when prices are low, and keep them safely in their electric refrigerators until they are consumed. Often they can save more each month than the cost of operating their refrigerator. Prices of electric refrigerators are still low, and the new models cost less to operate than ever before—only a few cents a day on your low electric rate.

Mrs. Rodgers New W.M.S. Secretary

Fourth St. Baptist Women Render Program

The East Fourth Street Baptist M. S. held a business and missionary service Monday afternoon at the church.

During the business meeting Mrs. Sam Moreland resigned as secretary and Mrs. Temple Rodgers was elected. Circle three was awarded the W. M. S. pin for having the most members in attendance at the workers' conference last month.

The program was given from the vocal service magazine. Mrs. O'Connell gave the Bible study, "The Good Seed." Mrs. McClelland read the life of Miss Fannie E. S. Moore, a pioneer of the W. M. U. Mrs. Thompson told of Dr. E. T. Moore, a pioneer of home missions. Mrs. V. Phillips of Dr. R. H. Hayes, pioneer of foreign missions.

"The Pioneer Spirit" was given by Lucille Carroll and Marie Cowley.

Attending were: Mmes. V. Phillips, Temple Rodgers, J. M. Cate, G. Burnett, D. W. Adkins, F. C. Moore, Ora Martin, F. L. Turpin, Mrs. Moreland, L. S. Patterson, Mrs. O'Brien, McClelland, W. S. Burnett, Frank McCullough, Bob Tenn, O. R. Phillips, Bert Stevens, Mrs. Thompson, H. C. Burrus, W. Puckett and Ben Carpenter.

Evangelist Is Heard Here

'We Believe The Bible' Is Topic Of Jackson's Talk

Evangelist Hulen L. Jackson delivered his first address at the regular of the Church of Christ Monday evening on "We Believe the Bible." A large audience was present for this opening service of the series of meetings which will continue until May 6. Services are conducted each day at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Mr. Jackson's sermon Monday evening was based on three questions: "What is the Bible? Why do we believe the Bible? and What does it mean to believe the Bible?" In discussing the first question the evangelist pointed out that the Church of Christ believes that all of the Bible was inspired by God, both the old and new Testaments. "This being true," he stated, "all historical facts, records of miracles, and even the facts concerning the creation by divine handiwork are true." Furthermore, he said, "There is but one book which should correctly be styled Bible, because the word itself signifies 'The Book.'"

"Our reason for believing the Bible is primarily two-fold: One cannot but notice the great unity throughout the book, and the fact of fulfilled prophecy several hundred years after the prophecy was spoken," said Jackson. He showed that the church believed that there was no contradiction in the Bible when it was properly divided and interpreted. Dealing with a few Old Testament foretellings concerning Christ, he showed how they were literally fulfilled in the life of Christ.

In closing his address, the evangelist showed how that to believe the Bible meant to believe exactly what it says. "If we sincerely believe the Bible," continued the visiting speaker, "we will endeavor to do what it commands us to do."

Cross Children May Need Simple Laxative

When children are cross and touchy, give them Peppermint. The delightful chewing gum Peppermint begins its pleasant effect as soon as you start chewing it. It is a stimulating and healthy food. It is clean, fresh taste to the mouth. As you chew out the laxative ingredient which is absolutely tasteless, the flow of digestive juices is increased. The laxative is mixed with these juices and carried into the system evenly and gently. Peppermint does not irritate, soothe or cause upset and is non-habit-forming. It passes through the system and into the bowels so scientifically that the action is wonderfully easy and thorough. Try the pleasant, refreshing Peppermint gum. Do this. You will find the laxative ingredient for both children and adults. Sold on a money back guarantee. Get your family size package 10c and 25c.

West Texas Bridge Association To Meet Here In October; Local Bridge Players Win Points, Trays

As a result of Big Spring making such an excellent bridge showing at the meeting of the Texas Bridge League in Abilene the past week-end, the Abilene players asked Mrs. Ashley Williams to return to Big Spring in October long enough to hold the West Texas bridge convention originally planned before she moved to Hobbs, N. M. Abilene promised co-operation in making the meeting a success.

Of the six who went to Abilene for the state meeting, Mrs. Harry Lester received three master points and Mrs. Joe Ernest two. A player whose master points from these contests amounts to ten is eligible for the national tournament held in New York City every year.

On Saturday morning in the mixed pairs Mrs. Joe Ernest was paired with Mr. Nash of San Angelo and Mrs. Lester with Mr. Taylor of Houston. Mrs. Lester and Mr. Taylor were highest for the whole house in preliminaries and tied for second place in championship flight.

In the team competition, Mrs. Ernest and Mrs. Lester paired with Mrs. Schultz and Joe Childress of Abilene and came out first in the preliminaries but were defeated by Gerber and Kempner of the Uptown club of Houston. These men, who operate the Uptown club, hold several championships, including the state of California, two from Illinois and New York and have won one national championship. They now hold the Texas state championship.

In the Sunday preliminaries Mrs. Ernest and Mrs. Lester, playing for the Abilene club among 112 players, won by 4-12 matched points, but were defeated by Gerber and Kempner of Houston.

Mrs. Robert Parks and Robert Wagener, Fortson, were top in the mixed consolation section and were awarded two silver trays.

Mrs. Ashley Williams and R. L. Beale were placed second in the mixed consolation.

Auxiliary To Greet Visitors

To Preside At Registry
At Presbyterian
Services

At the business meeting held Monday afternoon by the women of the Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church, the report of the Presbyterian attended by several of the members was given by: Mmes. McConnell, Pierce and Porter.

Mrs. E. L. Barrick was made Bible study chairman for the Ruth circle to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Boatler who has illness in her family.

The members agreed to be responsible for the church registry and to greet visitors every Sunday morning at the church services Mrs. McConnell will preside over the registry next Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley, social secretary, had added to her committee Mmes. Moser, McConnell, Hoover and Currie.

Chairmen and secretaries of cause made their monthly reports.

Women planned a birthday party for May 18 to which Coshoma women will be invited. The party will be held to honor new members and new officers and the auxiliary hopes for 100 per cent attendance.

Members were asked to give a nickel each to the fund being raised by the El Paso Presbyterian to send its president, Mrs. Gray to Montreal, N. M. for the training school to be held there July 23-31, this summer.

Present were: Mmes. A. A. Porter, R. V. Watkins, Herbert Stanley, N. J. Allison, L. S. McDowell, David Koons, C. W. Cunningham, Elouise Arnold, H. H. Moser, George Lee, H. W. Caylor, T. E. Pierce, E. V. Middleton, Sam Barker, D. F. McConnell and E. L. Barrick.

First Baptist WMS Pack Box for Orphans

The members of the First Baptist W. M. S. met at the church Monday for a business meeting and program. Miss Edna Phillips resigned her office as president since she is leaving Big Spring for her home in Dallas. Mrs. B. Reagan was elected to fill out her term.

Mrs. K. S. Beckett was program leader, the subject, "Pioneers of the Kingdom."

Mrs. J. C. Douglass gave the devotional. On the program were: Mmes. J. A. Boykin, E. E. Bryant, King, C. C. Coffee and Miss Phillips.

The members packed a box for Buckner's Orphan's home valued at $65 and gave $37.50 in cash offering.

Present were: Mmes. Viola Bowles, E. B. Kimberlin, George Gentry, J. A. Coffey, Nat Shick, Una Covert, W. J. Ray, A. B. Coleman, R. V. Jones, R. E. Day, Theo Andrews, B. Reagan, R. V. Hart, Tom Cantrell, C. S. Holmes, Roy Lay and B. F. Robbins.

LABORERS CONDEMN COLORADO BLOCKADE

DENVER, Colo., April 28 (UP)—Gov. Edwin C. Johnson's labor blockade along Colorado's southern border was condemned today by sugar beet field workers—the men for whose protection the governor proclaimed martial law.

Meeting in Greeley, Colo., to install officers, members of the beet workers' union of the American Federation of Labor passed a resolution protesting against the blockade as an unfair discrimination against Spanish-American workers.

The workers' protest followed letters and telegrams sent by members of the state's various beet growers' association, industrialists and business men who feared reprisals to the blockade on the part of New Mexico, along whose border martial law was declared.

Gov. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico had protested against an alleged "invasion of New Mexico" by Colorado national guard "intelligence" officers, and against the turning back at the border of New Mexico citizens.

Two Women Entertain At Wesley Memorial Social

Mrs. Glen Lemley and Mrs. Walter Barlow were hostesses Monday afternoon for a social meeting for the members of the Wesley Memorial Methodist W. M. S. at the home of Mrs. Lemley.

Mrs. J. E. Peters gave a report of the Northwest Texas conference held at Amarillo last week. After several games were played, the hostesses served refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruit punch to Mmes. John Whitaker, W. W. Coleman, A. J. Brown, Peters, "Mother" Barlow, Miss Sylvia Peters and a group of children.

Mrs. J. C. Douglass gave the devotional. On the program were: Mmes. J. A. Boykin, E. E. Bryant, King, C. C. Coffee and Miss Phillips.

The members packed a box for Buckner's Orphan's home valued at $65 and gave $37.50 in cash offering.

Present were: Mmes. Viola Bowles, E. B. Kimberlin, George Gentry, J. A. Coffey, Nat Shick, Una Covert, W. J. Ray, A. B. Coleman, R. V. Jones, R. E. Day, Theo Andrews, B. Reagan, R. V. Hart, Tom Cantrell, C. S. Holmes, Roy Lay and B. F. Robbins.

OLD AGE SECURITY

Every ambitious young man on the threshold of his career determines to be a financial success. He looks ahead to an old age of leisure and independence—not to an old age of dependence and poverty. The bitter figures show how thoroughly the hopes of the great bulk of men are blasted.

Out of every 100 men 65 years old or older, five have independent incomes of sufficient size to enable them to retire and live comfortably. Twenty-eight out of the hundred must go on working to exist, well knowing that in a few years that period of earning power will have passed.

Sixty-seven of the hundred are dependents. Their relatives, friends or charity must support them. Many of the men who fail are no less able, no less honest, no less aggressive than the men who succeed.

It is an obvious fact that governmental age benefits can not be extended to the entire population of aged people. Private enterprise and initiative, thrift and investment knowledge can not be ignored or placed at a premium.

The insurance companies deserve recognition for their efforts in recent years to influence people to provide for the future in savings programs. The insurance companies have urged the purchase of annuities as a more valuable investment than mere life insurance.

Due largely to these firm's efforts, thousands of men are resolving that they will be among the small percentage who succeed in winning old-age independence. They are adopting savings programs, such as those offered by the insurance companies, that put safety and security first.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DEWEY PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

This is the fourth of The Washington Merry-Go-Round series on the candidates for the republican nomination for president. The fifth article will appear a week from today.

WASHINGTON—Herbert Hoover is in the republican nomination race chiefly for one purpose—revenge.

Before 1928 the controlling motive behind Hoover's presidential ambitions was an urge for power. Since his defeat in 1928 the ruling passion of his life has been retaliation.

Hoover is furious with the Old Guard because of their open disparagement of him and their refusal to treat him as the titular leader of the party.

Hoover is furious with the Old Guard because of their open disparagement of him and their refusal to treat him as the titular leader of the party.

When he first came out of his self-imposed shell of silence early last year, Hoover definitely had his eye on the nomination.

The field was wide open, Landon was a name little known outside of Kansas, and the ex-president had received a most encouraging response on his first caustic thrust at the new dem.

Next to humbling the democratic president—whose refusal to reply to his caustic attacks he bitterly resents—Hoover wants most to force the hostile GOP chiefs to come to heel and feel the lash of his deep-rooted displeasure.

At that time Hoover warily skirted any public statement of his ambition. But behind the scenes he staked himself for a drive for the nomination.

Who's Hoover? The first thing he did was to take steps to prep up his speeches. A friend recently congratulated the ex-president on his livelier rhetorical style.

It was quite a problem at first, what to do to enliven his speeches. Some of his California friends suggested I send my speeches to the rag-men in Hollywood and let them put some humor in them.

"Did you" asked the friend, thinking it was a jest, replied Hoover seriously. "But I felt I couldn't use the type of jokes they suggested."

Ben Allen, Hoover's press counselor back in the old Belcourt relief days, who launched the first stream of world-wide publicity about him, proved a much more successful literary aide.

At the meeting of the republican national committee last December, the keynote of the off-the-record deliberations was "anybody but Hoover." From then on he faded rapidly from the picture as a serious contender.

The realization that his chances of winning the nomination were dimming gradually dawned on Hoover, and he changed his tactics. He spread assurances throughout the party that he was not a candidate, that his sole object was to make sure the Cleveland convention picked the right man.

Success in these directions is very uncertain. The Landon camp is strongly opposed to any Hoover influence in the shaping of the platform. They fear (with good reason) that the ex-president will attempt to insert a favorable reference to his regime.

Hoover Delegates: To keep himself in the picture, Hoover is maneuvering aggressively to drum up a force of 100 or more delegates under his control.

But now his chances even of making a showing at the convention are fading as did his one-time

Chapter 23
ENCOUNTER
But before Iris could open her letter the light caught the sleeve of her jacket, and Owen danced near her; he had in his arms someone she did not know, who was caught from him. He stopped beside her.

"Having a good time?" he asked affectionately. Before she could reply Camilla saw him. Iris could feel the quiver of excitement which ran over all her body.

Camilla, taking the speech as meant for her, answered, "It's wonderful. I'm crazy about parties. I'm—Oh, Owen, where were you this morning? I wanted to see you and Miss Phina wouldn't let me—"

Owen sat on the floor in the dusk, touching his sister's shoulder. She could feel his shrug of impatience as he answered, "I was busy. I have work to do, Camilla, though people like you never seem to think so."

"I—Oh, Owen, I didn't mean to say the wrong thing. I always do put my foot in it. Please forgive me—"

Georgia's carrying voice broke in on them. "Camilla, where on earth are you? There's nobody to clear off the glasses, the tables are simply full of them. Take a candle and do it, will you?"

Camilla lumbered to her feet obediently, casting one last despairing look at her lost joys in the person of Owen, as she went. "I wish she'd leave me alone," Owen said, "because some day I'll get so discouraged about everything—"

"I can sing my grandmother's songs," said Iris. "In costume, if you like." All alight and excited, she smiled up at Georgia.

"That," said Georgia, "will be wonderful. We'll feature you. Beautiful unknown, doing songs of the Seventies! I can just see you. Remember, you won't be let off. It'll be priceless. And now, darlings, I simply have to throw you all out. Or reveal on without me. Got to be on my way. Good-by, beautiful unknown! Crazy about having you!"

She was off and up toward the dressing rooms. The others seemed to see nothing unusual in this. Some of them followed her to the place where wraps were. Others merely turned the radio to a dance orchestra number, and continued to glide among the caterer's men. As Iris turned to follow the others upstairs Camilla put a hot heavy hand on her arm.

"I want to tell you something," she said in her schoolgirl whisper. "I like you and I want you to be friends with me. You can, I don't do things to people. But Georgia does. She doesn't go out of her way to, but if people get into it, she's horrid. When she talks in that specially purry way is when you want to watch out, if she is my cousin."

And she ran up the stairs. They did not really feel like stairs. They felt like walking on air. Allan was close behind her. "We haven't settled the date of our dinner," he said. "Would Thursday a week—"

"Grand!" She felt for something to put it down on and pulled out Uncle Will's opened letter. As she took Allan's offered pencil and began to make a note on the margin her eyes were caught by the clear old-fashioned writing, and she read it absorbedly, while Allan stood tall above her waiting.

"I am not quite as well as formerly," wrote Uncle Will—who never overstated, "and your aunt is in bed with a queer sort of collapse. But Morgan manages everything splendidly, and Molly Williams comes in to work by the day and is a host in herself. We miss our little girl, of course, but we are glad she's having a good time."

"Oh, Allan, I can't come to your party!" All the fairy-tale times were swept away, and it showed in her troubled, but steadfast, pretty face, lifted to him on the stairs in the half light. "Not unless it's years off. I have to go home!"

But it was not possible, she found, to say anything before or at dinner. A burly red-checked explosive Frenchman, a representative of Molyneux, was dining, and Iris found herself swept into the conversation in her fluent, Aunt Ella-learned French. M. Grioux seemed to like her.

When the guest had gone she called Phina back from her desk and spoke to her with resolution, straightening up from the low old mound of silver cloth on one side of the strange modernistic fireplace. It was chilly; logs had been brought from some invisible hiding-place and were burning as cozily as most things did for Aunt Phina.

"I'm afraid I must go back to Persia, after all. Uncle Will is ill and Aunt Ella seems in a curious sort of state, from what he says."

"Go back, you foolish baby? That would upset everything." (Copyright, 1933-36, Margaret Wildemer)

Iris talks, tomorrow, with Uncle Will. You may have homes of your own, but you are destroying the homes of others.

FIRE RAZES INDIANA TOWN AS WATER SUPPLY FAILS

Dense clouds of smoke rolled over Demotte, Ind., as fire, starting in a lumber storehouse and aided by lack of water to fight it, destroyed 23 business buildings and one residence with an estimated loss of $300,000. A school, a church, a bank and a hotel were the only major buildings left standing in the business area. (Associated Press Photo)

ADVANCE—NOT RETREAT

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LIQUEUR SELLERS
Gentlemen: You are engaged in a wicked business. It is the most infamous business that is operated outside of hell. Although you may have a license under the New Deal administration and under the laws of your state to engage in the merchandise of booze, yet I remind you that under God you have no such license, and under the unwritten laws of decency, purity and virtue you have no such license.

You may not be a reckless driver, but your deadly traffic is causing our highways to be baptized in human blood. Your infernal traffic brings shipwreck to lives, destruction to homes, sorrow to mothers, heart-aches to wives, poverty to innocent children, confusion to the community, corruption to the state, and disgrace to civilization. It empties pantries, engenders strife, inspires crime, swells the prisons, ravages the body, and hangs crepe on the door. It is dishonorable, betraying, depraving, and degenerating. It is an enemy of virtue, modesty and charity.

You are engaged in this evil business for the gain of a few dollars, but I remind you that you are trafficking in the souls of men—Sincerely yours, (Signed) DALE CROWLEY—(Submitted by the local W. C. T. U.)

DILLINGER LAWYER MUST SERVE TERM

WASHINGTON, April 28 (UP)—Louis Piquett, attorney for John Dillinger until the famous public enemy was shot down by G-men, yesterday lost in supreme court his fight to escape a two-year jail sentence and $10,000 fine for allegedly aiding Homer Van Meter, another member of the Dillinger gang. Piquett was accused of aiding Dillinger at the same time he reportedly helped Van Meter but a jury acquitted him of the Dillinger charge. It was asserted in each case that he had harbored the two criminals at a time when law enforcement agencies were hunting the country for them.

TO HONOR THOMPSON AT BANQUET AFFAIR

FORT WORTH, April 28 (UP)—North Texas friends of Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, will honor him at a banquet here Friday.

Gen. John A. Hulen, Fort Worth, will preside, the arrangements committee announced today. Speakers will include friends from the three fields in which Thompson has been most active—the army, railroads, and the oil and gas industry. They will include State Sen. Clint G. Small of Amarillo and Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth.

Fresh Baton Passers Cheer Iowa's Coach

IOWA CITY, April 28 (UP)—The University of Iowa has some exceptionally fast varsity relay teams but Coach George T. Breenham really smiles when you mention his freshman mile team. The yearlings did a 2:22.4 recently indoors on an 8-lap track, 37 seconds better than the old mark and only eight-tenths of a second away from the best indoor time of any Iowa team. That means something, for Iowa mile teams have been nationally famous under Breenham. Iowa held the Drake relay mark of 3:16.9 for 15 years.

Civic Clubs Old in China—SHANGHAI (UP)—Luncheon clubs, generally regarded as an American contribution to civilization, flourished in China long before America was discovered, and still enjoy great popularity. Although two of the international service clubs founded in the United States have branches in the larger cities of China, their membership is far outnumbered by the purely Chinese clubs.

 H. S. Fattersee, assistant principal of Abilene high school visited in the diversified education classes of high school Tuesday morning. According to Fattersee, the Abilene schools are considering such an organization which will begin in the fall term of school. About 50 are expected to enroll in the class.
 The development of Big Spring's student work system has received favorable comment from state executives. Several other West Texas schools have adopted the plan as a result of the Big Spring organization.

CHECKS RECEIVED BY COTTON PRODUCERS
 Special pool checks totaling $2,071.12 were received here for 131 cotton producers Tuesday morning according to M. Weaver, adjustment assistant.
 The checks are in payment for 1934 cotton tax exemption certificates placed in the special pool during the summer of 1935 which is not to be confused with the national pool of last autumn.
 Weaver said that approximately 100 more checks were due from the special pool.

Every year, the Humble Company receives thousands of voluntary comments on Humble Service Check Cards from Texas motorists and out-of-state visitors. These cards tell their own story of courteous, helpful service, of clean stations, of spotless restrooms. Humble Station men take a justifiable pride in these comments from their customers.

Humble Service Stations are carefully designed and landscaped to make them attractive features of the neighborhoods in which they are located. They are fully equipped for your comfort and the expert care your car requires. Humble men are proud of the Stations which they man, and this Centennial year, they're putting their best foot forward.

Restrooms at Humble Service Stations are as carefully kept as your bathroom at home. Many of them are tiled—all of them are spotlessly clean and sanitary. They are equipped with every modern convenience for your comfort.

In a recent study of Humble Service Check Cards mailed to the Company by Humble customers, nearly half the comments complimented Humble Service Station men on their friendly courtesy. These trained men render the kind of service which motorists find helpful.

"The Company doesn't make any exaggerated advertising claims for the products we sell—it's willing to rest its case on the performance of Humble products in your car. After all, that's the only true test of quality, and it's worth more to the average Texas motorist than any number of exaggerated advertising claims. Take Humble 997 Motor Oil for example—now there's an oil for you, as fine as you can buy! But all we say is, find out for yourself about Humble 997 by testing it in your crankcase. Or take Aerotype Esso, our premium fuel; we know it's far superior to even the best of the premium fuels of past years; still, we're willing to let you be the judge—test a tankful in your own automobile and decide for yourself. . . . We ask you to test the performance of every Humble product—Humble Motor Fuel, Velvet Motor Oil, Humble special lubricants, and all the other Humble products you find in Humble Service Stations. The one thing we say about them is this: you'll always find them second to none—and that's a promise! Try Humble products—we're confident you'll come back for more."
