BRICK WORK SHOWING UP ON NEW SCHOOL

FOREMAN EXPECTS BRICK TO BE LAID IN LESS THAN MONTH FROM NOW

With the laying of brick and stone almost to the top of the new High School building, the edifice is taking on a magnificent appearance.

B. T. Westerman, foreman on the job for the Morgan Company, states that as soon as the rest of the face brick arrives, this phase of work will get along even more rapidly.

The entrance to the building is one of the most handsome to be found in Texas school buildings, the arches, stone work, brick work, and architectural beauty being perfect.

It is expected that concrete will be poured for the floor of the auditorium almost any time. This auditorium will seat more people than any building in town, the main floor having a capacity of about 600, and the balcony about 200 or 250.

CASH PRIZES OFFERED FOR ESSAY CONTEST

SCHOOL STUDENTS HAVE GOOD CHANCE TO WIN $5 ON ESSAY ABOUT MIDLAND

Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce at the meeting held last week voted to offer a prize of $5 to the best essay by a high school student on a subject of the general theme of Midland's actualities and potentialities, and another prize of $5 will be given to the grammar school student writing the best essay on the same general subject of Midland's present advantages and the opportunities for future development.

Detailed plans for the contest were left to Miss Frances Melton to work out and conduct as she sees fit. She and Supt. W. W. Lackey have already approved the idea.

It is the intention of the Chamber of Commerce through this plan to help "sell" home people on their home town and country in order to make it easy to "sell" newcomers on this country. The Chamber of Commerce Directors believe if Midland has a spirit somewhat akin to that famous "Dallas Spirit" it will be easier to get newcomers to locate here. They feel that Midland now has a fine booster spirit, but believe this plan will help show home people about some of the possibilities of this section with which they may not be familiar.

Andrews Man Died

W. S. Bonar, ranchman of Andrews County, was found dead at his place last Sunday, evidently having passed away as a result of heart trouble, according to reports.

Mr. Bonar lived alone, and stayed on his place so closely that he did not have a wide acquaintance, although he had lived in that country for a number of years.

His son, who is a moving picture owner in Racine, Wisconsin, was notified, and he came at once to Midland. The body was brought here last Sunday by Undertaker Newmie Ellis, and the funeral was held here Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. The body was buried in the Midland cemetery.

Expiration Dates Not Yet Posted

Many people will notice that their subscriptions still carry the same date as before the recent contest, and do not yet show the credits.

This is because an exceptionally heavy run of job work has kept the force very busy, and the making of new slugs for the mailing galleys has been postponed. However, we hope to have the job completed by next week. The work of mailing the papers each week has increased almost double, but the big circulation is what we want.

Jim Kendrick and family are spending the week here from Dallas, visiting relatives and friends. Jim is now shop foreman of the Reo dealership there.

MIDLAND COUNTY'S EXHIBIT AT THE WEST TEXAS STATE FAIR AT ABILENE

Midland won ninth place, and the Chamber of Commerce received a premium of $25. More than a thousand pieces of Chamber of Commerce literature were distributed to bona fide farmers, many of whom declared they were going to look at the cheap Midland farm lands.

T. Holcomb won first on Quinces, R. E. Van Huss second on June Corn and B. H. Blakeney second on Figs in the individual exhibit at Abilene.

COUNTY AGENT AGAIN EMPLOYED BY COUNTY

COMMISSIONERS VOTED MONDAY ON SECOND YEAR'S WORK BY J. B. SNIDER

The County Commissioners voted last Monday to appropriate the county's part toward the County Agricultural Agent's salary for the second year's work by J. B. Snider.

A number of farmers and business men went before the Commissioners Court to commend the work of County Agent Snider, and to express their desire that the Agent's services be maintained through the coming year.

The Midland County Commissioners are business men, and are operating the county's business on a sound cash basis. They told visitors that they desired to maintain the agent, but would have to spend about $1,000 less on county roads. They were assured that the county's interests would be served better in the long run by maintaining the agent; and that increased property values would result, so that the road fund and the general fund would have more income by the end of another year.

County Agent Snider has accomplished much in his first year, and had to pioneer the field. His next year will undoubtedly make a showing, because the foundation is built for a successful season.

Armistice Derby Proved Exciting

Brother against brother, was the state of affairs on the afternoon of Armistice Day, when two fast race horses took the track against each other, one of them owned by Leon Bryant, and the other by Byron Bryant.

The Leon Bryant horse was ridden by Dr. Bloss, former jockey and race horse man; while the mare belonging to Byron Bryant was ridden by Huey Woody, bronc rider, and horse man in any form.

Two fast heats were ridden, both of them being won by the Leon Bryant horse.

W. F. Myrick left for Hillsboro the first of this week, on a business trip.

Business Houses Moved This Week

Two business houses moved this week, getting located more into the heart of town.

The Claud Jones Barber Shop and the Tom Flood Cafe, both of which have been located on Main Street, a block south of the depot, have moved to the Phillip building, where the Rialto Theater was formerly operated.

By getting more into the heart of the business section, they will be better fitted to handle their increasing business.

Both concerns are installing good equipment.

Judge E. R. Bryan Receives Write-Up

The following article appeared in the El Paso Bulletin, a paper issued by the Masonic Fraternity in that city:

School Program Greatly Enjoyed

With more than 200 visitors at the high school auditorium Wednesday morning, a rare program was rendered, representing much effort on the part of the school students, and talent on the part of performers.

Patriotic programs were given throughout the schools, as announced in last week's paper.

Swedish gymnastics and health exercises were given, showing a beauty of rhythm and a training rarely seen.

In addition to the regular numbers of the program, Mr. Wallace Wimberley was called on by the high school students, and pleased the audience highly with piano selections. Miss Burhead was then called for, and her piano solos were repeatedly encored.

No other programs were given in the city, but the school exercises furnished an interesting day for all. Basketball between Midland and Pecos girls was played at 1:30 in the afternoon, and football between Midland and Pecos at 2:30.

Five New Families Move Here Recently

With the improving and settling of the Moss farms, northwest of Midland, five new families have already moved here from Mississippi. The total is thirty one new people.

This number includes Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moss, who are in charge of putting in the farms. Five new farm houses have been completed, and the sixth is almost ready for occupancy.

Mr. Moss is highly pleased with the prospect here, and states that the new families expect to like the Midland country.

Mr. Moss was formerly in the Naval service, having gone through the U. S. Naval Academy, at Annapolis, and later having reached the rank of Lieutenant. He was in line for the commission of Lieutenant-Commander, but retired from the service on account of his health.

His brother B. L. Moss, of Soso, Mississippi, is a leading agricultural authority; and came to Midland last year to buy land for cotton farming. He has increased his holdings here since that time.

The Central West Texas district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in Midland Jan. 19, 1926. The date was tentatively set by Porter A. R. Q. LEE TO SPEAK HERE NOVEMBER 23

WEST TEXAS C. OF C. PRESIDENT TO DELIVER FAMOUS DIVERSIFICATION ADDRESS

President R. Q. Lee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will speak in Midland the night of Nov. 23, which is a week from next Monday. He is coming to Midland on invitation of the Local Chamber of Commerce and will be a guest of the organization while here.

Farmers will be specially invited to hear Mr. Lee who will speak at one of the churches. Mr. Lee will make his famous diversification address. He has spoken all over West Texas and made special trips to the Rio Grand Valley and to East Texas, on urgent invitation from leaders of these sections, to make his address.

Mr. Lee will be accompanied by Mrs. Lee, who has a special message for women. E. H. Whitehead, publicity manager of the West Texas Chamber, will also be with the party. President T. Paul Barron of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Monday night appointed Homer W. Rowe and B. Frank Haag as a reception committee for Mr. Lee and his party.

Though Mr. Lee is a millionaire, he has been a dirt farmer he still farms and he knows farming as a practical farmer. His address is applicable to Midland, in fact he uses some of the records given him by the local Chamber of Commerce Secretary, in his addresses elsewhere. Big business men and farmers all over West Texas, and women as well have heard this diversification address which has attracted such wide attention.

Gypsum Products Great in Texas

Output of the five plants in Texas, located in Hardeman, Fisher, Jones, and Nolan Counties, engaged in the manufacture of gypsum products is valued at more than $2,000,000 annually, according to Dr. E. H. Sellards of the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas. In addition to the abundant supply of raw material for the operation of these plants, outcroppings of gypsum deposits are found throughout that belt of country, extending from Hardeman County on Red River to Coke County on the Colorado River, and in Culberson County. A ready market is found for these products in Texas and adjacent States, extending East to the Atlantic coast.

RED CROSS YEAR A RELIEF RECORD

DISASTERS DROP IN 1925

Ranged From Fire to Earthquake and Covered Wide Area at Home and Abroad.

Virtual completion of the largest peace-time project of post-disaster rehabilitation ever known has been accomplished by the American Red Cross in less than a year, as a part of its relief work in the more than 90 disasters in which it served in the past year.

This great program was undertaken following the tornado which struck five mid-western States last spring, killing 796 people, injuring 2,239 more, and causing inestimable property loss. It left a huge area of devastation in its wake, presenting a real problem. The Red Cross, however, went to work on the heels of the storm, caring for the injured, sheltering and feeding whole communities, and helping every individual sufferer from the destruction back to normal.

The magnitude of the problem is indicated by comparison of the huge casualty list with that of the entire preceding year, whose combined losses were 735 dead and not quite 2,000 injured, as a result of the record number of 192 catastrophes.

The story of the Red Cross service in the past year, recounted by the report, ranges from fires heading the list of destructive forces with 29 disasters, to mine explosions, tornadoes, typhoons, floods and earthquakes.

The Santa Barbara earthquake was among the outstanding events recorded in the report. The Red Cross had completed its relief organization of the scene within a few hours of the disaster, and in addition had launched a program designed to permanently restore every person affected by it, to his former status once more.

The Red Cross service in the period following the wreck of the Navy airship "Shenandoah" was typical of its promptness and effectiveness. Service in this instance was afforded by Red Cross chapters in the vicinity of the wreck, and by representatives of the national organization. It demonstrates graphically the value of each of the more than 3,000 chapters of the society which are at work in virtually every part of the country, in the facility they afford the national organization in emergencies.

There were 61 domestic disaster operations reported in which the Red Cross rendered service either through chapter or national staff personnel during the year. In 34 of these the national organization appropriated a total of $3,047,256.49, the greater portion of which was received as direct contributions for the relief of specified disasters. The relief operations following the northern Ohio tornado of June, 1924, were brought to a close in May, 1925, after an arrangement had been made with the Lorain chapter to provide expert services to the families of any tornado sufferers who required such assistance in the next two years. In this single disaster the relief work, as finally accounted, reached a total of $1,019,751.23.

The mid-western tornado of this year, covering a strip of territory 400 miles long involved an expenditure up to June 30 of $774,000, while the total amount turned in to the fund through the agency of the Red Cross was $2,645,000. In addition to this sum specifically collected for the purpose, the Red Cross had expended from its regular reserves $124,000.

In all these disasters, Red Cross workers have been impressed by the spirit of determination and hopefulness shown by the people. Once they recovered from their grief and bewilderment, they began at once to rebuild, materially and otherwise, and always on a better scale where possible. Another significant feature of these occurrences, as noted in the report of the Red Cross, was the promptness with which the local chapters organized emergency relief before help could be received from outside sources. A direct effect of their example has been to stimulate disaster relief preparedness among chapters all over the country.

The services of the American Red Cross are performed invariably in the name of the American people. On the effectiveness of this representation during the past year, it will launch the ninth annual roll call this year on November 11, to continue until Thanksgiving, November 26, during which support through membership will be invited for 1926.

What Becomes of Red Cross Sweaters
What becomes of the sweaters which the American Red Cross has asked for? In the first place, they are needed for the 30,000 disabled veterans still in hospitals this winter, the garments being in great demand. The surplus left from the war has been exhausted since the Armistice, hence the new call for the sweater-knitters to resume their needles, a call already being met.

The American Red Cross serves in your name; you can make it more effective by adding your name to its membership during the Roll Call Nov. 11-26.

Gains 142,000 Members in Year in Schools Throughout United States.

A new high level in peace time membership of the American Junior Red Cross is recorded for 1925—its ranks numbering 5,738,648 school girls and boys—a gain of 142,000.

This unique and powerful children's organization started as a war measure, but today is one of the greatest influences for peace ever known. As increasing participation in local programs of service has featured their year's growth. It is indicated that to a greater degree than ever pupils in the schools are performing individual and collective acts of service in a true Red Cross spirit.

The success of the Junior swimming program, launched last year through co-operation of the Life-Saving Service of the Red Cross, has led to a determination to make it a regular feature of both these branches.

An outstanding feature of the Juniors' work this year was the participation for the first time of a Junior Red Cross worker in the disaster relief operations following the tornado in Missouri, Illinois, and Indiana. Schools in many more fortunate localities displayed a keen interest in sending toys and books for the use of the children in the disaster area.

The Junior Red Cross program has flourished not alone in settled communities, but has been extended to Indian schools, and to native Alaskan schools where many Eskimo children undertook Junior work. In addition, the international correspondence between schools is proving more and more popular. American schools are now corresponding with those in thirty-four countries.

bang, and near the close of this quarter Midland went over for the second touchdown, due largely to the runs of Greenhill who is to be congratulated on the capable and efficient manner in which he handled his great variety of plays and the generalship he manifested.

The fourth quarter began with Midland carrying the ball deep in Pecos territory, where it was kept most of the quarter. Greenhill was taken from the field with an injured ankle, else the score might have been different, for his absence was keenly felt by his team mates. The game ended with Midland lacking only a foot of another touchdown, where it was carried by Captain Bill Arnett on a line play. Arnett was another star in the game, but due to the fact that he was used a good deal for line plunges, he did not get to show up as much as Bloss, Girdley, and Greenhill, but he is a battering ram that any coach is glad to have. The final score was Midland 13, Pecos 0.

While these men carried the ball and were therefore conspicuous, still it was a game that was played by the entire team. Superintendent Norman, now of Colorado but formerly of Pecos, had written the Pecos men not to try to go through our line, for such an attempt would be futile. So it was in this game, for our line stood like a stone wall on defense and charged like mad men on the offense. The work of Klebold and both of the Kings stood out in the line, and they were ably supported by those on each side of them. Al Cowden, Louis Thomas, Jackson Parker at Center, Friar, Cole and others played the game like men many pounds heavier than they. Any team is said to be as strong as its reserves, and in this Midland showed up well in the game Wednesday, practically each man on the team being allowed to go in for part of the game.

Midland gained 405 yards while Pecos gained 67. Midland 28 first downs while Pecos made 5 first downs.

Coach Comer has been handicapped all season by having so many cripples, but in the last eight days he has developed a fast charging team with beautiful interference. His men tackled low and hard, and often three or four would tackle at the same time. He has developed some good plays and has a quarter who knows how to pull them. His fakes are seldom equaled in collegiate games, and given a few more days of good practice, he will have a squad which will be a very dangerous opponent for any team in the district. Good luck, high school. We are with you, and the town is proud of the glorious

MIDLAND DEFEATS PECOS, ARMISTICE

BULLDOGS OUTPLAY VISITORS AND WIN BY SCORE OF 13 TO 0

(By Dick Graves)

Midland and Pecos, traditional enemies, met on the local gridiron for their Armistice Day game Wednesday, fighting to the last whistle and giving an exhibition of football which has seldom been equaled for brilliancy on the part of Midland and for stubborn fight on the part of Pecos, in their seven years of athletic relations. It was Midland's game from start to finish with Pecos showing up well during the first few minutes of play and fighting bitterly to stave off defeat throughout the game.

Midland winning the toss, chose to receive, and after a line plunge had failed punted to the Pecos 30 yard line. It was then that Pecos gave Midland her only scare. They rushed and passed the ball deep into Midland territory before the Midland line braced and held them for downs. It was here that "Doc" Bloss a new star in the M. H. S. constellation, broke out. Greenhill called for an end run with Bloss carrying the ball. He made a scintillating broken field run which proved him to be the "Red Grange" of the afternoon, advancing the ball 30 yards on this play. On the next play, Fred Girdley, who co-started with Bloss, advanced the ball 20 yards on a long end run, the famous wedge formation. While his spectacular gains were made possible by the air tight interference of his team mates, still during the entire game, it took from two to five Pecos men to bring Girdley down. In a few more plays, Midland went over for the first touchdown of the game, the final play being a line plunge.

The second half was a duplicate of the first with Girdley, Bloss, Greenhill, and Arnett advancing the ball, and Pecos stubbornly fighting their flashing runs. The half ended with Midland in possession of the ball on the Pecos one yard line.

The second half started with a

"Merton Of The Movies" Coming

It is a genuine pleasure to me to say a word of appreciation of that extraordinary fine comedy "Merton of the Movies" which comes to the Idlehour Theater of Midland, Wednesday November 18. I saw the picture in Dallas and laugh yet when I think of the amusing situation into which the country boy got when he tried to break into the movie game. The management of the Idlehour can well afford to guarantee a laugh or money refunded. A person would have to have a very bad case of the mullygrubs not to laugh heartily at "Merton of the Movies". To people who enjoy good humor, hearty laughter and a pleasant entertainment, I recommend that they see "Merton of the Movies" at the Idlehour.

So Weak Couldn't Stand

"My wife's health broke down and for years she was just a physical wreck," says Mr. Thomas Glynn, of Gibson, La. "We did everything we knew, yet she seemed to get worse and worse. She was so weak till she couldn't stand, and had to be carried like a baby. It looked like nothing would save her that had been done."

CARDUI

For Female Troubles

"I began looking around. I knew that Cardui was for women. I decided to try it for her as all else had failed. She couldn't eat, she couldn't sleep, and I was desperate. After taking a few boxes of Cardui, we were so glad to note that she wanted something to eat, and with each bit of nourishment, and each day's doses of Cardui, she grew stronger and got up out of bed. She is now able to cook, and stronger than in a long time."

Cardui has been in successful use for nearly 50 years in the treatment of many common female troubles.

GOOD ADVERTISING PAYS THE FARMER

Why Advertise? Advertising has assumed tremendous proportions in the affairs of the city business men. It is estimated that one billion dollars is spent annually for commercial advertising. This large amount is invested in advertising because it pays. It has been proved repeatedly that by increasing the number of sales the cost of selling is decreased. Farmers know that by increasing the acre yield of cotton by fertilizers or other means, the cost of growing a pound of cotton can be reduced. What many of them have not learned is that advertising has the same effect on the cost of selling a product that increased acre-yields have on the cost of growing a product. Good advertising will bring the farmer dividends just as it has brought dividends to the men in the industrial world. It will enable him in reason to set his own price on the goods he produces a thing that he has longed to do ever since farmers began to produce beyond their own needs.

There is no mystery in advertising. Investigation and practical results have proved to be a safe investment where the buyer is familiar with the fundamental principals. An advertisement should do four things:

(1) attract attention; (2) arouse interest; (3) create desire; (4) effect a sale.

As a rule people prefer products that have had a reputation built up for them through advertising. The public is willing to pay more, as a rule, for a product backed by consistent advertising than it is for an unknown one. The first advertisement may have little effect on the reader, but an impression is usually made that, while faint at first, may be developed into decided desire for that particular class of goods as the advertising message is repeated.—Eugene Butler, in The Progressive Farmer.

Robert and Bob

The Editor had the honor of a personal visit from Tommie Wilson Jr. the first of this week. It seems that Tommie has been known to some people as "Mutt." Now that his younger brother is getting big and strong enough to help bear the burden Tommie decided to call himself "Jeff" and his little brother "Mutt."

However after much consideration, he decided further that both should be named for his "Grandpa", R. D. Healy, so he believes that he should be called "Robert," and his little brother "Bob."

Recuperating From Drouth.
Texas will never cease to be a wonderful state. Two months ago a large part of the state was seriously suffering from the effects of a long drouth. The rains came too late for the cotton crop, but in time for the grass to spring up and for fall feed crops to mature. The fields are covered with oats and rye and the stock are again sleek and contented. Business men report that business is "as usual" and that people have apparently forgotten the long drouth. About the only noticeable depression is in the auto trade, for many people who might have been buying new cars are using their old ones another year.

Not Voting Road Bonds.
About the only topic of general conversation in Austin now, aside from the weather, is about road matters and road contracts. The rumors, investigations and revelations cast a gloom over the public that is worse than a drouth or a prolonged rainy season. No one knows what to expect next and the people are appalled about all the talk of waste and extravagance in the expenditure of their taxes. The effect has been to stop the voting of bonds for road building, with the result that road building progress in Texas will be seriously checked. When confidence in those entrusted with public expenditures is destroyed or weakened, progress stops, not knowing which way to turn. Let us hope that the beclouded atmosphere in Texas official life may soon be cleared.

Hotel Rest Rooms for Customers.
Leading dry goods firms at San Antonio and Dallas are doing something that might be tried to advantage by chambers of commerce or other organizations in smaller places. They are sending letters to select lists of customers telling them that when they come to the city they will find a room at a certain hotel ready for their use during the day without charge and without reference to whether they make purchases from the store. A card is enclosed that entitles the holder to all the courtesies of the hotel for the day at any time the party may be in the city.
Public rest rooms are usually cheerless places and expensive to maintain. Those who go there often have a feeling that the rooms are semi-charity institutions. Why not arrange with the local hotels to have rooms available during the day for the free use of those whose standing entitles them to such courtesies? The cost should not be great, and it would be good advertising for the hotels and for the towns showing this interest in out-of-town customers.

Personal Appearance an Asset.
We all know that it makes a person feel better to "doll up" a bit. The women do not put on finery and use cosmetics solely to please the men, but largely to please themselves. They have learned the value of personal appearance better than the men, although very few men fail to respond in better feelings to the influence of good clothes and attractive personal appearance. Every one knows that good clothes are a valuable business asset. Very few can get themselves in a proper state of mind for worship without putting on their "Sunday clothes."

Band Music in Texas.
Fourteen bands from neighboring towns gathered at Lampasas recently and gave a massed band concert. A few years ago such a thing would have been impossible, for there were not many more than fourteen brass bands in Texas. Now every town of any consequence and most country communities have good bands taught by competent directors. Music dealers find that their best business is in band instruments and band music. Music in whatever form it appears evidences the culture of a people.

The Texas Pecan Crop.
Texas pecans are now being gathered and marketed. While the crop is short in some localities, the yield in the state is said to be about the average. Pecans are growing more in favor everywhere as a food and as a substitute for meat. Prices are becoming more stable and more in line with prices of other food products. Texas is destined to become as noted for its pecans as for its cotton, for pecans can be successfully grown in all parts of the state and in every kind of soil.

Civic Clubs and Service.
Civic clubs are being accused of praising themselves too much—of self-boasting. While there may be much of the "look-at-us" attitude in the methods of some of the clubs, they are showing the churches that to serve God one must serve his fellow-men.

Community Lines Lost.
Automobiles are fast destroying the imaginary lines that once divided town and country and separated communities from each other.

NATIONAL HEALTH AIM OF RED CROSS PROGRAM

Nurses Guard Community Health: Home Hygiene and Nutrition Featured.

The increasing appreciation by the American people of the value of a national health structure is reflected in the comprehensive machinery built up by the American Red Cross and kept in constant operation in the past year in the interest of national health.

Instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, in nutrition; inspection of school children, the maintenance of an effective nursing service, all formed a part of the Red Cross organization assisting in keeping America well.

Altogether 51,121 students were instructed in home hygiene and care of the sick, including 31,430 school students, of whom 20,231 received certificates. This work reached the Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Girl Reserves; also telephone companies public and private schools, community and industrial groups. An unusual fact of this service was its adaptation to the needs of the blind, through transcription of the text book in Braille print.

The year's work also demonstrated a growing understanding and appreciation on the part of Red Cross field representatives, chapters, co-operating agencies and others, of the place of nutrition in community programs, looking to community health.

There were 2,800 dietitians enrolled during the year; regular nutrition instruction reached 138,065 children; 20,359 adults attended nutrition meetings, while 1,885 schools were aided in furnishing lunches.

Co-operative relationships were established with various Government and educational agencies in making this branch of the Red Cross health work more effective.

Another of the health-promoting activities of the Red Cross lies in its public health nursing service. There are nearly 1,000 such nurses serving in every part of the country.

As an invaluable reservoir in time of a great national emergency, there is enrolled under the Red Cross banner a reserve of 42,002 nurses. In a number of disasters during the past year in which the Red Cross has aided, and where the services of the nurses were required, they have been among the first to mobilize.

At Lorain, O., last year 34 enrolled Red Cross nurses were engaged in relief work, while 124 were employed in the mid-west tornado disaster relief operation of this year. The work of Mrs. Dorothy Davis Sleichter, a Red Cross public health nurse stationed at Fairbanks, Alaska, in checking a flu epidemic at Fort Yukon, in the Arctic, has won praise from all who knew of it.

It is to assist in maintaining such valuable services to the community that the American Red Cross invites members during its ninth annual roll call, November 11 to 26, the only such appeal which the Red Cross makes in the year.

No appeal is so international as that to the humanity of every people. The sum of $1.50 from a Japanese boy in Tokio to the Santa Barbara relief fund bespeaks a world of friendship, engendered by the American Red Cross.

When the mariners on the high seas enroll 100 per cent. in the American Red Cross, should you lag behind?

Join the American Red Cross whose work is your expression of your humanitarian impulses.

Armistice Day Recalls War Writings

Below is printed a wonderful piece of prose and verse, hitherto never published nor read in public. It was composed by J. W. Bullock, of Midland, during the World War, and under the excitement and inspiration aroused when the young men went to fight.

Armistice Day celebrations have recalled many articles written during the war, and the one printed below is worthy of consideration by every reader:

This is dedicated to our country and those that love our country's flag and principles for which it stands, and for its brave defenders.

We hear the martial tread of the mighty host that are now preparing to brave the unknown dangers of the Sea, and meet a cruel relentless foe in a foreign land in one of the mightiest conflicts the world has ever known. In defence of a righteous principle that all people may be free to live under freedom's rule.

Greater love hath no man than that he lay down his life for his friends and his country.

Boys, we that cannot be with you can never repay you for the sacrifice you are making; but we can be loyal to you and in some measure sacrifice our pleasures in order that we may be able to add to your comfort.

Remember you are now writing history that will be cherished and recorded in the hearts of millions of people now living and millions yet unborn.

Over the Sea our brave boys go Under Old Glory's folds unfurled, To let the German Kaiser know He cannot rule the world.

Amid the cannon's awful blast, Under the bombs and ball, We believe you will stand the test For you go at your Country's call.

Though our tears for you may fall, This is our parting trust, Boys we hope to welcome you all When autocracy is laid in the dust.

May the bright wings of love Follow you wherever you roam, When our country rests like a peaceful dove We will rejoice to welcome you home.

Boys we know you are brave and true For you are going at your country's call; And yet, and yet we cannot forget Some brave boys may fall.

Our Soldiers patriots brave and true Leave their homes and sacrifice their all,

To meet the unseen dangers of the ocean blue, To fight for freedom right at their country's call.

Our best wishes for you brave defenders, The admiration for the sacrifice you make,

Can never be told in price of gold, in service rendered, The world to free, and all agree the Kaiser's power to break.

Soldier boys, defenders of the Red White and Blue, In your might you go to fight to win the right.

Remember the eyes of the world are turned on you, Do your best; God will do the rest, in his might we will win the fight.

It may be far, it may be near, We know not when we know not where,

But we know that the time will surely come We will win the fight against the German Hun.

And on some future day or night, On mountain height and in the vale, Will flash the light we have won the fight,

For freedom's right for justice will prevail.

J. V. Stokes III

J. V. Stokes Jr. is now telling his friends all about J. V. Stokes the Third, the little fellow having been born on the afternoon of Armistice Day.

Mrs. Stokes and the boy are reported to be doing nicely. J. V. the second states that on November 11, seven years ago, he had no idea that such a wonderful event would come into his life on that same anniversary.
