All Russia Broils With Hatred; Crisis Hour Approaches

ULTIMATUM ANSWER DUE

Chinese Sublimely Continue Taking Over Railways

MOSCOW, July 16.—(UP)—Russia's patriotic fervor rose to a high pitch today as the zero hour approached for the expiration of the Soviet Union's three-day ultimatum to the Chinese government at Nanking.

The ultimatum was prompted by China's seizure of Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria. It dominated throughout the far-flung Soviet Union, and most citizens minced no words in demanding that the government take a firm stand with the far Eastern Republic.

Take Over Railway Manchuria continued to assume complete control of railway today in spite of the Soviet ultimatum. Unconfirmed reports from Harbin said that 2000 Soviet troops crossed the Manchurian border but retreated at the approach of a Chinese battalion.

CHINA NOT PERTURBED

SHANGHAI, July 16.—(UP)—Reports from Nanking today indicated that the Nationalist government of China will not reply to Soviet Russia's three day ultimatum on the Harbin incident within the time limit set by Russia.

TENSION DEVELOPS

UNDATED.—Despite the expressed belief in China that no further serious consequences may be expected from recent seizure of the Chinese Eastern railway, considerable tension is reported to have developed in Moscow. International circles in Paris, London and Tokyo have expressed doubt as to developments of hostilities, but there were rumors of troop movements along the Siberian-Manchurian border.

Mass Meetings Held Chinese demonstrations against "Chinese Fascists" were held in Moscow during the night and the press published unofficial "warnings" that Russia would oppose violations of her rights. A three day ultimatum reported to have been sent to China by Russia demanding a conference to clear up the situation expired today.

Confusing? Just A Weather Report

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 16.—(AP)—It is not a ten-word message containing an international plot to wreck nations, although it looks just like that, which J. H. Jarboe of the weather bureau and other government meteorologists receive each morning.

Ten words such as "Acorns granite stop horsefeathers stop—" sounds like disaster. But it is merely the daily weather report for South Texas.

In order to save Uncle Sam money this meaningless jargon is sent to Jarboe each day. For ten words of this can tell what it would take thirty words of plain English to tell.

Obregon Day Is Observed in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 16.—(AP)—The first anniversary of the assassination of General Alvero Obregon will be observed in diverse parts of the country July 17, with decoration of statues and renaming of streets in honor of the revolutionary leader and holding of memorial services.

Jalisco street in Mexico City will be renamed "Alvero Obregon Avenue" and President Portes Gil will preside at the unveiling of a monument in Mexico, suburb of the capital.

A funeral ceremony will be held in the Iris theater at night.

Tin Pans, Cans And Nights Under Moon for Employee

Somewhere between Midland and the west coast, Arthur Walter, Oklahoma collegian who for several weeks had been foreman of The Reporter-Telegram's composing room, is motoring in a small roadster with Charles Adams, Prairie Oil and Gas scout.

The two boys are on a sight-seeing trip across country. They plan to do all their cooking, sleep at night under the skies in most approved western fashion, dance at every resort, play golf on the highest course (at Clonderofu), drink every specimen of mineral water en route ("even if it floors us"), and see everything from the highest peaks to the lowest subterranean river between the starting and terminal points.

Walter has been foreman of some of the best college dailies of the South. He came to Midland from Edmond, Oklahoma. He has a brother in Long Beach who is with the Shell Petroleum Corporation, and there will be a three-day visit there.

FLIGHT ATTEMPT AT HOUSTON IS SUMMARILY ENDED

HOUSTON, July 16.—"Billion Dollar City" which was attempting a new refueling endurance flight record, landed this morning after only 20 hours in the air. The first reports were that the motor sputtered and stopped running.

HOUSTON, July 16.—The second successful refueling contact was made early today by "Billion Dollar City" which is seeking a new endurance flight record. Joe Glass and Glenn Loomis, pilots, who took off yesterday, reported that everything is in perfect condition.

WORK GOES ON TO COMPLETION NEAR ALPINE TERMINAL

Final survey of the 86-mile strip to Presidio from Alpine to Presidio, according to reports from Alpine today, a right-of-way committee is busy as the work of engineers is nearing completion.

The Alpine Avalanche has the following to say of the work in its latest issue:

With more than half of the final survey completed and work being pushed as rapidly as possible, Santa Fe representatives visiting Alpine the past few days predict that actual construction work on the Oriental railroad gap from Alpine to Presidio will be under way by the 10th of August, it was stated here a day or two ago.

The survey party had completed the final survey as far south as the lower edge of the Wilson ranch the first of this week, it was stated, a distance of more than 40 miles from Alpine or practically one-half of the entire distance to the Mexican border at Presidio. Preliminary surveys were completed some time ago. Santa Fe representatives here this week said it is expected that the entire survey will be completed by the first of the month, according to information given the chamber of commerce office here.

With work on the survey rapidly nearing completion the right-of-way committee has been busy this week interviewing ranchers in Presidio county through whose land the right-of-way passes. While the Santa Fe already owns a right-of-way all the way from Alpine to the border, acquired when this company bought out the Orient a few months ago, it was found advisable to change the route in a number of instances and the survey now being made will definitely establish the route the rails will follow.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mrs. G. T. Crenshaw of Odessa was operated on for nose and throat trouble here yesterday. Dr. R. A. Verdier informed The Reporter-Telegram office this morning.

Mrs. Crenshaw, whose husband is a well-known ranchman, will be able to leave for her home today.

A Quick Change on the Beach

In Portland, Oregon the girls have found out how to get in and out of their bathing suits even when no dressing room is available. A top frame of wire, cloth enough to reach the ground, and shoulder straps to hold it up complete the portable dressing room—as demonstrated here by two fair bathers.

DALLAS MAN TELLS OF SLUGGING AND POSTING IN PATH OF INTERURBAN CAR

DALLAS, July 16.—(AP)—Jack O'Keefe, 35, of Hutchins, was found injured fatally on the interurban tracks near the city limits today. Police are working on the theory that he had been slugged, and his body mangled by a car after it had been placed on the track to cover up a possible crime.

As O'Keefe was placed in the ambulance he told police he had been slugged and dragged on the tracks in front of the train. Examination of the body revealed that the skull was fractured. Both legs and one arm were severed by the train.

Arch-Murderer Sought In Hills

MEXICO CITY, Mex., July 16.—(AP)—Three hundred members of the "Association of Unemployed" have set out in search of Luis Romero Carrasco, alleged arch-murderer who escaped from jail here about a week ago and for whose capture a reward of $500 has been offered.

The "Association of Unemployed" was founded some months ago by the capital's jobless and seeks to find occupation for its members.

Troops, police and the public in general are co-operating in the manhunt.

Tough? They Sleep In Borger Cemetery

BORGER, Texas, July 16.—(UP)—In Pampa, where the oil boom in Gray county has made living quarters in hotels, rooming houses and private homes scarce, some people are sleeping in the cemetery.

The other night two men spent most of the night trying to find a place to rest for the remainder of the night but could not locate a single cot. After hours of search the tired pair drove to Fairview, the Pampa cemetery, parked their car and slept on the ground near the tool house.

Reporter-Telegram Has New Foreman

Ross Trafton has been added to The Reporter-Telegram staff as foreman. For years he has been make-up man on some of the biggest dailies of the country. He was with Tom Hughes of Amarillo for several months, and did the major part of the make-up work there.

Trafton is a general man, able to do anything in a printshop, even to operation of the linotypes.

At one time, Trafton was make-up man for the Press-Citizen of Iowa City. He is an accomplished musician, as well.

MILLIONS FOR SOUTHWEST IN PRODUCE HIKE

KANSAS CITY, July 16.—(UP)—Farmers in the southwest wheat belt may not believe in Santa Claus, but some attempted to believe in the goose that laid the golden egg. Six weeks ago they faced large production and no market. Today grain experts see continued upward prices for new and old crops. Yesterday's raise in the market will mean millions to the Southwest.

APPROPRIATIONS AGGREGATE LESS THAN VETO SUM

AUSTIN, July 16.—(AP)—The legislature completed consideration of appropriations today.

Both houses accepted free conference drafts of departmental and claims and accounts measures.

The appropriations aggregated $47,792,000, a $3,000,000 decrease under the money measures vetoed by Governor Moody when he called the third session.

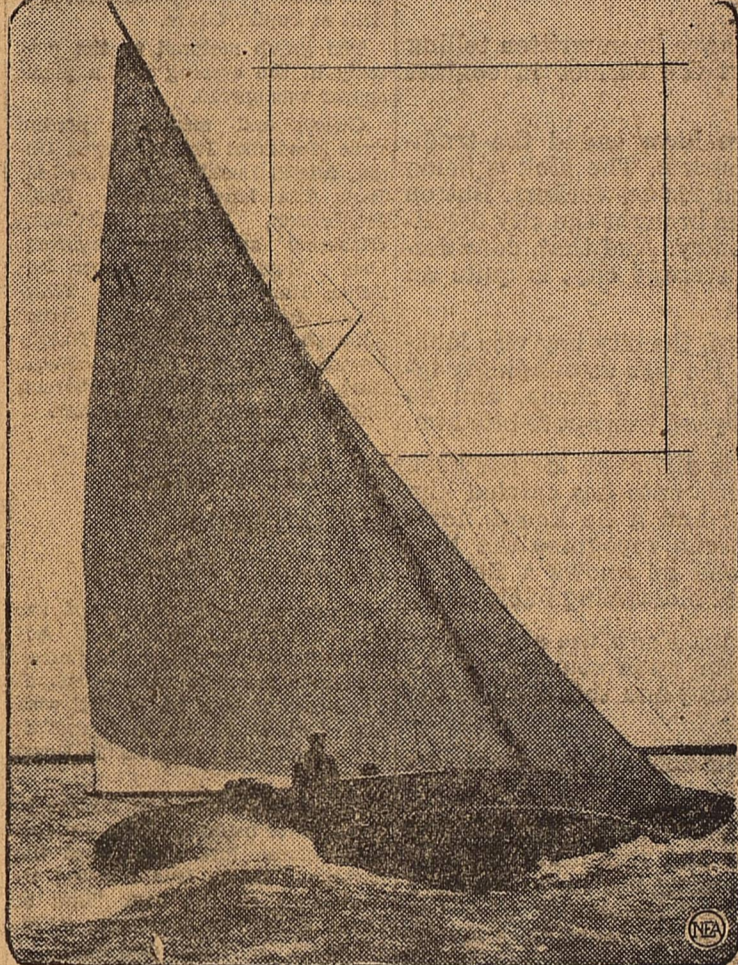

Cantaloupe Trade Making Midland Busy These Days

The cantaloupe movement between California and eastern markets is causing an increased business on the Texas and Pacific lines through Midland, between three and four hundred cars of cantaloupe each twenty-four hours are being re-iced in Big Spring by the Southern Ice & Utilities company. This movement constitutes between five and six trains daily. The cantaloupe movement so far this year has consumed 50 days with 30 per cent more cars being re-iced this year than for the same time during 1928. During 1928 there were 190 train loads of cantaloupe handled by the Texas and Pacific via Midland, and at the present rate that number will be surpassed this year. The trains are operated on schedule time, making perfect connections at East St. Louis Illinois with trunk line trains for eastern states.

West Coast Sends Yacht Entry East

For the first time in history, a western yacht, the Pirate, owned by Commodore O. K. Hunsaker of Los Angeles, has been shipped to the east for summer speed classics along the Atlantic. Matt Walsh, famous racing skipper of Los Angeles, will handle the Pirate in races at Larchmont July 20-27 and in the Marblehead races August 3-10. Here is a pretty shot of the Pirate kicking up her heels in a smart breeze in Los Angeles harbor.

FORMER NAVAL FLYER TELLS WHAT HE BELIEVES OF PORT AND PILOT HERE

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following appreciation of the Midland airport and of the field-manager there was delivered by letter to The Reporter-Telegram. The writer, Harold Todd, will probably make an endurance flight in Southwest Texas within a few weeks. He has a notable service record with the U. S. Navy, air division. For almost a week he has been in Midland seeking co-operative backing for a solo endurance flight.

By HAROLD TODD (Formerly Naval Flier) While in the city I have been more than elated to note that the many complimentary reports on the airport at Midland, one of the reasons for this point being selected as a base for the proposed solo endurance flight, were not only accurate but failed to thoroughly describe the many advantages embodied in the field. To say the least it far surpasses the landing fields in many of the larger cities not only in the state but in the whole country. When first shown the field I could not help but wonder if the citizens fully appreciate the field and what a tremendous potential asset it is to the already rapidly growing city. Have they realized that nature had provided them with a port for the ever increasing mode of transportation in a way not provided for so many other cities? Many cities having other assets can never have an airport to compare with Midland without prohibitive expenditure. Whereas I had seen the port before, in fact immediately after my arrival, it was not until this morning that I had the pleasure of flying over the field as a guest of "ye scribe" a representative of the Reporter-Telegram and the field-manager of the port. The trip embodied many interesting points such as fully appreciating the approach to the field surrounding the excellent country, with its high safety factor, the efficient manner in which the field is managed and operated by H. M. Becherer. Then last, but not least, the expert flying which fulfilled the request made by my host that he be stunted. It was very gratifying to note that Becherer refused to take

TOTAL VOTES HERE TO BE LESS 100

Reports From Over State Show Few Go to Polls

Voting in Midland was unusually light today, few ballots being polled in the constitutional amendment election.

Up until 4:30, only 33 votes had been cast. "There will probably be less than one hundred votes cast at the time the polls close," a county official said.

QUIET OVER STATE

UNDATED.—Apathy characterized voting today in the constitutional amendment election.

Scattered returns from a number of sections of the state indicated this slowness on the part of the people to go to the polls.

A few election judges reported not one vote had been cast in their precincts shortly before noon.

A few votes counted were favorable to amendments increasing the number of supreme court justices from three to nine, and making the governor's salary $10,000 instead of $4,000.

Horse to Become Famous for Being Unknown—Ogden

AUSTIN, Tex., July 16.—(UP)—"The horse will soon be a curiosity to city youth," says Ralph R. Ogden of Austin, heading a subscription to erect a memorial to the Texas Mustang on the state capitol grounds.

He offers to be one of 1,000 men to contribute $50 each for the memorial. He proposed Ike Pryor affil, Hervert Kokernot, San Antonio, Richard Elebert, Corpus Christi, Tom Waggoner and Tom Hickman, Fort Worth as a committee to carry out the project.

"We who have lived in the open with only the canopy of Heaven for shelter with our faithful horse for a companion can appreciate and love the noble animal," said Ogden. "Living in Texas today are many who can recall the days, weeks, and sometimes months spent on some far away ranch or some long journey with only their horses for companions. To see that they did not learn to love their pals and partners would be intemperate.

"As a native Texan I can think of no greater pleasure than knowing that a worthy memorial is being erected to perpetuate for the future generations The Texas Mustang."

GETTING THE CITY MAN OUT INTO THE COUNTRY

By Bruce Catton

A good many weighty articles have been written telling how the automobile has brought the farmer in contact with the city.

Good roads and fast machines have ended the traditional isolation of the country districts. The hick is being done to death by Henry Ford and his co-workers. But on the other hand, the automobile has brought the city dweller into contact with the open country.

In rural regions, a few years ago, the city boy was looked upon with a sort of contempt. He was astoundingly ignorant; he couldn't tell a horse from a sheep, and he thought the docile cow in the farmyard was apt to bite him.

Today the city-bred youngster is different. He has been placed and seen things. His father's auto has carried him into the country time and again; and if he knows nothing about farm life, he at least can recognize the livestock he sees in the meadows, and he knows a field of green corn from a white expanse of blossoming buckwheat.

Now all of this is rather important. For if the automobile gets the city youngster out into the open country, it also gets his father and mother out there; and this is all to the good.

The city, when you stop to think about it, is a poor sort of place anyhow.

Winter submerges it in dirty snow, dangerous ice and dismal slush. Then spring comes and tantalizes the city folk with faint hints of an awakening life in which they cannot share; and summer, loafing indolently over the land, only makes the city a place of steaming canyons and hot pavements, where even the faintest breeze, laden with fumes of gasoline and coal smoke, is a gift from heaven.

So, on evenings, and on week-ends, the roads from the city to the country are filled with autos, bearing people out of the city into the country.

What do they get out of these brief pilgrimages? Nothing much—and everything. They get a glimpse at their earth as it is meant to be, and not as man has defaced it. They get a chance to see how a rolling green field, a purple hill, or a stretch of woodland can put to shame the finest skyscraper, the most glittering of city avenues.

The earth is a living miracle, and those who inherit it must, after all, be destined for some sort of ultimate glory. And that is the sort of thing one forgets in the city.

Ring the Belle!

By MABEL DUKE For NEA Service

"Pale hands like lotus buds that float..."

"It is astonishing how little women know of 'dressing' their hands," declares Bebe Daniels. "Oh, yes, every woman knows that her costume isn't complete without the right gloves, but that isn't the end of hand 'dressing.' I'm speaking of the use of jewelry. So often a woman's hands are marred rather than flattered by rings and bracelets."

No amount of beautiful, flawless stones in exquisite settings, strung on the fingers, can be as beautiful as a single ring to enhance the beauty of the hand. Even though one may own a number of expensive and beautiful rings, to wear more than one or two on a hand detracts rather than adds to one's appearance. And more than one ring should never be worn on a single finger except of course a wedding ring and solitaire.

An imperfect hand may be enhanced immeasurably by an intelligent use of jewelry. A single ring on the ring finger will make the hand appear longer and slimmer whereas a ring should be worn on the little finger only when the hand is gracefully shaped. Miss Daniels advises:

"Hands may further be enhanced by bracelets and today's fashions permit of as many bracelets as the pocketbook will allow. A wrist watch or closefitting bracelet at the wrist makes the wrist appear smaller and the hand longer. With the bracelet further up on the arm, the wrist will appear longer."

"GENTLEMEN OF THE PRESS" MADE UP GRIPPING ALL-TALKING PICTURE BY PARAMOUNT "Take a story dripping with human interest in an atmosphere that everyone likes to hear about, give it a cast of fine, tramping, magnetic actors and a production that puts into it every possible value and you get a picture like "Gentlemen of the Press," Paramount's latest all-talk-

On the stage "Gentlemen of the Press" was the sensation of New York and the story has been faithfully reproduced for the screen. A master cast, headed by the incomparable stage artist, Walter Huston, includes six members of the original stage cast.

The story deals with a veteran newspaperman who has given up everything in life for his business. When his daughter was born, he was covering a prize-fight; when his wife died, he was on assignment covering a Mexican uprising; when his daughter graduated from high school, he was writing about Lindbergh. This only thing he has not given up is his fatal susceptibility for a pretty woman.

ALL-STEEL BUILT like a SAFE. BUT two months ago General Electric announced the first ALL-STEEL refrigerator ever built. Now this outstanding scientific development of the times has been made available in six popular models. The all-steel refrigerator cannot warp. It is strong—built to last. The doors, fitted by hand at the factory, retain their close fit. The new exterior baked enamel finish, smoothly white, as hard and durable as porcelain, has the added virtue that it does not check or crack. Coupled with these advantages is the previous perfection of the General Electric mechanism which is permanently self-oiling, hermetically sealed in a steel casing and mounted on top, safe from dust and difficulties. Quietly, economically, it constantly maintains the temperature in the refrigerator at several safe degrees below the danger line of 50. It freezes ice cubes rapidly. Yet, notwithstanding these exclusive features these new models are offered at surprisingly low prices and on our plan of conveniently spaced payments. The small family model, at the factory, is priced at $215. New all-steel models in six different sizes at our display rooms invite your inspection. Listen in on the General Electric Hour every Saturday, 8 to 9 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, over the N. B. C. network of 42 stations. $215 at the factory with conveniently spaced payments. MIDLAND EDGES INTO SECOND POSITION AS COLTS WIN, 2-1

MOORE ALLOWS BUT ONE RUN IN GAME

For Seven Innings "Hall of Fame" Stands Open

Little Lefty Moore, after a batting rampage the day before, came back Monday to show that good things may happen in pairs. The young fellow held the Ballingerites to one run. For seven innings it seemed the pitcher would enter the "Hall of Fame" but in the eighth Kittrell doubled, went to third on an infield out, and scored after a catch of Kallina on a long foul.

Play by play:

First Inning
Ballinger: Jackson was out Lagunas to Kallina. Scalling walked. Bean watched a third strike go by. Mueller went out by the Moore-Kallina route.

Midland: Lagunas was out short to first. Lewis went out to Bean unassisted. Flowers rolled to Lybrand who tossed to Bean.

Second Inning
Ballinger: A. Mueller walked. Lynch sacrificed. Van to Kallina. Kittrell grounded out. Lagunas to Kallina. Mueller going to third. Parma struck out.

Midland: Kallina struck out. King fled out to Jackson, nice running catch. Dave Cheeves fled out to Mueller.

Third Inning
Ballinger: Lybrand grounded to Lagunas and made Lagunas' first error. Jackson failed to sacrifice. (Lewis to Lagunas) forcing Lybrand. Scalling fled out to Cheeves. Bean caught out at first. Van to Kallina. Midland: Stagner struck out. Van singled to left field. Moore fled out to left field. Lagunas forced Van at second. Mueller to Lynch.

Fourth Inning
Ballinger: Mueller fouled out to Kallina. A. Mueller grounded to Lagunas and was caught out at first.

Lynch did the same thing. Lagunas to Kallina.

Midland: Lewis grounded to Bean and was safe at first. Lybrand, who was covering the bag, dropped the ball. Flowers sacrificed. Lewis going to second. Kallina walked. Lynch scooped King's grounder, touched second and doubled King off first.

Fifth Inning
Ballinger: Kittrell watched the third strike go by. Moore walked. Parma on four pitched balls. Lybrand fled out to King. Parma was out stealing second.

Midland: Cheeves walked. Stagner singled to right. Cheeves stopping at second. Van hit into a double. Cheeves going to third. Moore doubled to left center, scoring Cheeves. Lagunas was out. Kittrell to Bean.

Sixth Inning
Ballinger: Jackson fouled out to Stagner. Scalling watched the third strike go by with a three-two count. Bean fled out to center.

Midland: Mueller justified Lewis grounder. Lewis making first. Flowers again sacrificed. Lybrand to Bean. Kallina popped in front of the plate to Lybrand. King popped out to left field.

WILKIE COLLINS' NOVELS BROUGHT ENORMOUS SUMS
In his day Wilkie Collins was the highest priced author writing popular fiction. His books commanded what was then enormous sums and were translated into more languages than any novels up to that time. For "The Woman in White," a strange story of Scotland's moors, he received a record price for magazine rights in this country and England. "The Woman in White" has been made into a photoplay and will be the attraction at the Grand Theatre tomorrow with Blanche Sweet as the star.

Former Naval Flyer
any unnecessary risk, whatsoever, but promised the gentleman of the press the desired thrill in a much more sane and efficient manner—namely, by zooming both up and down.
Should the reader notice a representative of the press of this city going down the street holding his head very erect, he can rest assured that the aforementioned gentleman is not holding his head in that manner because he is proud zooms he used his head, contrary but purely because in one of the to the natural plan, as a seat on the roof of the plane for some few seconds. It was in a most efficient, safe and expert manner entailing no risk, strain, (except to the neck of Ye Scribe, and that by request), or stress whatsoever. Everyone was satisfied, the writer still being able to look to the right and the left due to his anticipating what was coming and placing his hands on the roof and holding himself in the position in which nature intended one to sit—which is as we all know "not on our head."

"In addition to the writer's admiration to the efficient manner in which the pilot rendered a demanded service, he feels it would be unfair not to mention the flying that spoke much louder than words of a foundation of real military training and many hours at the controls."
