ALTITUDE RECORD SMASHED; MAN CLIMBS 40,000 FT. THIS MORNING

TEMPERATURE WAS 60 BELOW ZERO, RECORD SHOWS

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(UP)—Lieutenant Apollo Soucek of Anacostia Air Station today flew to a height of 40,000 feet, believed to be the new world altitude record for all classes of planes. Soucek landed at 12:35 this afternoon, having been up a little over an hour, reaching the outer edges of the atmosphere after a 45-minute climb. The temperature was 60 degrees below zero.

He refused food on landing. He underwent a physical examination, then asked for a cigarette. He was able to walk.

CHAMBER GETS REPORT FROM GAS COMMITTEE

The Midland chamber of commerce has received from the WTCC a copy of adopted resolutions from the oil and gas committee of that body, which read:

Whereas, the net return to the oil industry during the past three years has netted to producers and refiners the lowest return in the history of the business, this return being one and ninety-five per cent on an investment of approximately $11,000,000,000, such return being due to the over-production of crude oil and the consequent low price for same, and

Whereas, increased taxation on the industry will result in more serious chaos in said industry, and

Whereas, the oil industry paid in gross production tax during 1928, in the State of Texas, $4,322,968.06, whereas the same industry paid in 1926 $7,351,984.18, this vast difference being due to the low price of crude in 1926 as compared to the price in 1928, when the price of crude was in keeping with the cost of production, and

Whereas, the oil industry indirectly paid approximately $16,000,000 in gasoline taxes in 1928 and in addition thereto, a like amount in ad valorem and special taxes, approximating one half of the taxes paid to the State of Texas.

Therefore, be it resolved that we oppose and ask our representatives to oppose any increase in taxation directed against the industry so that the combined efforts of the men engaged and other agencies now seeking to place the business on a more stable basis, to the end that price of crude oil shall be more in keeping with the cost of production.

Sinclair Should Wear Stripes, Heflin Says

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(UP)—Harry Sinclair, serving a jail sentence, was made the object of an attack by Senator Heflin during a speech before the Senate today. Charging that courtesies shown Sinclair were disgusting, Heflin said, "Let him wear stripes like the others. Sinclair refused to tell the truth. He is a thief who tried to steal the nation's oil reserves. If he were a poor boy who stole a loaf of bread, Sinclair would not be treated like he is."

Gore, a captain in the aviation reserve, personally visited proper authorities on the west coast and is optimistic of the chance to secure the stop over.

HAMILTON SHOT BOY RECENTLY

Technicalities May Keep Wasaff Out Of the Case

Sam K. Wasaff, Midland county attorney, may prosecute Judge R. H. Hamilton, Amarillo attorney who formerly was a judge of the court of criminal appeals at Austin, and who Saturday morning, shot his son-in-law, Tom Walton, Jr., 21, to death.

Wasaff would not state whether he will accept the proposition made him. A question of legality may bar him, he thinks. Date for the trial has not been set.

Tom Walton, Jr., 21, hotel clerk, recent Texas University student, and who secretly wedded the young beautiful daughter of Judge R. H. Hamilton, prominent attorney, was shot and killed by Judge Hamilton Saturday morning.

The youth, who had met, wooed and married Miss Theresa Hamilton while both were students at Austin, was killed when he called at Judge Hamilton's office in the Amarillo building, shortly after nine o'clock.

His relatives said he went to Judge Hamilton's office to show him his marriage license and to tell him he had married his daughter three months ago.

Hamilton, shortly after the killing, said he had fired to protect his family, and later in the day said, through his attorney, that he shot in self defense.

Released on $20,000 Bond Hamilton waived preliminary hearing and was released from the county jail on bond of $20,000. A charge of murder was filed against him.

Hamilton is a former member of the Commission of Appeals of the Supreme Court. His home is at 809 Buchanan street, but Mrs. Hamilton and her two daughters have been living in Austin during the school term.

Watson left the state university a month ago, coming to Amarillo to help support his mother," relatives said. He and Miss Hamilton were married in Austin on February 12. It was definitely disclosed by the Associated Press. A marriage license had been obtained in Georgetown, near Austin, and Justice Bryan Black of Austin said that he had performed the ceremony.

Watson, employed as clerk at the Capitol Hotel, was a flying cadet at Brooks Field before entering the University of Texas.

Mother's Grief Causes Alarm

McALISTER, Okla., May 8.—(UP)—Shock and grief over the death of her son, Tom Walton, Jr., who was shot and killed in Amarillo Saturday by his father-in-law, Judge Hamilton, may be fatal to Mrs. Tom Walton, the youth's mother, physicians said today. She was unable to attend the funeral conducted by De Molays here. A trained nurse attends her constantly.

Not only did the cast impress Midland enthusiasts of the amateur stage, but people from surrounding towns have asked that the play be presented in their towns.

CHARACTERS WERE EXCELLENT IN PORTRAYALS

When the curtain closed last night at the high school on "The Cajun," French drama presented by the Midland Players, the most sustained applause ever to greet a play in Midland rocked the house for several minutes. The play will be given again Thursday night.

It was surprising, considering the fact that the drama had only one act and that it dealt in a fashion in the patois of the "Cajun" tongue, how much real appreciation there was in the audience.

It would be difficult to pick out the best work of any given character, as, indeed, it would be to arbitrarily state which luminary among the cast deserved most consideration. All lived their parts, and as such, were "Cajuns," just what the audience went out to see.

Mrs. George Abell, director, played the part of the "Cajun" maid who was to be married to her cousin. The laws of the state of Louisiana had been changed, however, so that the marriage had to be thwarted. The most tragic thing possible in the life of a human being fell to the lot of the poor maid, who tried to commit suicide and was restrained.

A perfect voice, girlish features, mobility and mood ever shifting—these were some of the striking characteristics of an exceptional portrayal.

Fridolf Swenson, Mrs. Abell's support in the drama, was the cousin who was to have married her. He registered the deep pathos necessary to playing such a role. He was faced with the extreme problem of comforting his sweetheart and, at the same time, telling her that marriage in Louisiana was impossible under the present law. A secrecy, known only to themselves, went over in just the modified way it should have to the audience.

Mrs. Aubrey Legg, in the part of the "Cajun" mother, might have been Ada Jack Carver's own conception of the type of person for

G. H. BYRNE AND WIFE CRASH

Were Intending To Fly to Midland On Thursday

By C. T. WATSON (Special Wire)

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Byrne, Big Spring aviators, were painfully injured here at noon today when their Monoprep airplane fell approximately thirty feet.

Byrne received cuts and bruises about the face, and Mrs. Byrne suffered a compound fracture of the left arm.

According to Byrne, pilot of the plane, the accident occurred when the ship failed to gain altitude caused from an overloaded tank of gasoline.

He was attempting to land the plane when the accident happened.

Flyers Known Here

Mr. and Mrs. Byrne were well known to Midland people. Byrne is district distributor for the Monoprep and Monocoupe airplanes in this territory.

Both flyers have had only a few hours of solo work, but are considered good flyers by those who know them.

A staff member of The Reporter-Telegram recently made a flight with Byrne, who handled his ship well and occasioned a lengthy story in this daily by his expert maneuvers. This was the second time that Byrne had taken up a passenger.

Intended Visit Here Mrs. Byrne unknowingly attracted the attention of northern papers, her flying when at the factory of the Monocoupe people several weeks ago.

Both aviators had intended flying over for a visit to Reporter-Telegram staff members tomorrow.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

LAYING THE FOUNDATION

With all of Midland's building program which has been under way now for two years, and with all of the new residential sections, six to twelve story hotel and office buildings, Midland has only laid the foundation for the city which it is destined to become.

In laying this foundation, stability has been the watchword, and visitors from all points of the compass have expressed compliments on Midland's program of building substantial construction.

This characteristic is found in residences, business houses, hotels, office buildings, street pavement, school buildings, and in all classes of construction.

The additional expenditure which has been necessary for making Midland substantial will bring results for years to come, and will eliminate the expense of tearing down and building over, which is characteristic of boom or shack towns.

THE DEADLY SAFETY PIN

If you have a small baby in your home, you will be interested in what Dr. Chevalier Jackson, Philadelphia specialist, has to say about babies swallowing foreign substances.

Dr. Jackson's clinic has extracted all kinds of things from the throats of children—safety pins, peanuts, toys, candy, pennies, buttons and even jewelry. And here is what he says:

"Safety pins have killed more babies than firearms. Intelligent care taken by the parents or nurses could reduce effectually the disheartening number of casualties resulting from lodgment of objects in the throats and lungs of children who have been permitted to put such things in their mouths."

That bit of advice ought to be pasted up in every home. It doesn't take much trouble to keep little things out of baby's reach—and a little carelessness in that matter may cost the child's life.

IMMIGRANTS AND TOURISTS

The restrictive immigration law of 1924 has had one effect not looked for by its framers, according to an article by Roger Shaw in the current Golden Book magazine. It has increased, greatly, the number of American tourists to Europe.

Here's how it happened. The steamship companies were unable to fill their steerage quarters. So, desiring to make them pay, they refurbished them and invented the "tourist third cabin" arrangement. This promptly made European travel available to thousands of people of small means, who had always wanted to go abroad but had never been able to afford it.

Last year more than 100,000 Americans went to Europe in that manner. If it had not been for the immigration restrictions, they probably would have stayed at home.

ASPHALT SOLVES A PROBLEM

The problem of constructing secondary highways at a low cost, is being solved by the use of asphaltic surfaces. Extensive tests have shown that this type of road is dependable, easily and cheaply laid and maintained, and that it will out-wear many more costly surfaces.

Hard surfaced market roads are becoming an agricultural necessity. The demand is for more low cost paved highways in districts where traffic is comparatively light, and where on asphaltic materials meet the peculiar requirements.

Our present state highway systems are unequaled. But there remain hundreds of thousands of secondary roads which must have an economical waterproof surface to develop the back country and relieve congestion on main highways.

Colonizing Old Slaughter Ranch, Cochran County

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 8.—(AP)—A last stronghold of the cowman on the broad prairies of Northwest Texas—the John B. Slaughter ranch of more than 20,000 acres in Cochran county—has yielded to the call of colonization, and next fall this tract will be cleared of its cattle and opened to farmers.

The land will be divided into 200 farms, which will be sold at attractive terms to encourage rapid settlement.

The ranch is one of the few remaining traces of the cattle barons. Headquarters of the ranch remain as they were when years ago they formed a showplace for the entire South plains country.

Nestling in the center of the broad fertile prairies of Cochran county is the six room stucco and brick home which forms the headquarters. In former years the home was the scene of many a celebration for cattlemen.

The ranch was established in 1902 by Col. C. C. Slaughter and originally comprised 250,000 acres.

Thirty years ago, as one of the pioneer cattlemen of this section, Col. Slaughter dreamed of the day when farms would supplant the then supreme steer on the Texas plains. Speaking at a railroad celebration at Plainview in 1907, Col. Slaughter said: "The day is not far off when the great fertile plains of Texas will become the breadbasket of the Southwest."

At the time of his death, Col. Slaughter owned approximately 1,000,000 acres of land in Texas.

Too Much Music Rouses Ire Of Beaumont People

BEAUMONT, May 8.—(AP)—Radio loudspeakers and other music making devices placed out-of-doors have raised the ire of Beaumont citizens, and the city commission has been asked to provide measures to calm them down, especially at night. Most of the instruments are connected with soft drink stands.

WON'T PAY RENT FOR GHOST HOME

GALWAY, Ireland, May 7.—(UP)—Because his cottage was haunted by "sheeogues and fairies" a cottager in the Arran Islands has refused to pay his rent. This at least is the story told by Patrick Flaherty, rent collector for the Arran Islands when boarded before the Galway Health Board to explain mysterious movings and unpaid rent items on the part of the Islanders.

"It strikes me," said the secretary of the board, "that fairies make an easy excuse for moving about from one cottage to another. I was under the impression that the days of sheeogues and fairies had passed forever, but I guess I overlooked the Arran Islands."

GOOD HEALTH AFTER FLU

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 7.—(UP)—Influenza epidemics are followed by periods of unusually good health, believes Deputy Health Officer Ennels. He credits flu for the fact that Knoxville is almost free from the usual spring crop of measles, whooping cough, mumps, chicken pox and other children's maladies.

LOST GIRL AND MONEY

RACINE, Wis., May 8.—(UP)—When Byron Jones, son of a prominent farmer near here, was "thrown over" by his school-teacher sweet heart, Frances McCarthy, he tried to recover some of the money he had spent on her by mailing her threatening notes. Miss McCarthy turned over the notes to authorities and the plan failed.

Beacon Lights For Airport At Miami Ordered

MIAMI, Texas, May 8.—(AP)—The Trans-Continental Air Transportation, Inc., operating between New York and Los Angeles, has consummated a deal with owners of the local utilities plant for current for three beacon lights, one of which has been constructed on top of Mount Moriah, just outside the city limits.

The beacon's rays can be seen from the air for a distance of 150 miles, it was said.

Regular service over this route is scheduled to start May 15.

The nearest landing field is four miles west of here on the Miami-Pampa Highway.

KERNEL TACK GAINS FAME ON TACTLESSNESS

AMARILLO, Texas, May 8.—(UP)—Dissertations on flappers, night-clubs, music, big city snobbery, and other choice bits of what-not as written by Kernel Erasmus Tack, the Tactless Texan, may soon head eastern reading lists.

Within a year, the pen-name of "Tack" and the real name, Gene Howe, have been carried from the Bleak Texas plains to all parts of the country. Right now, Howe is considering offers of eastern editors to bring "the world as seen from Amarillo" to eastern magazine and newspaper readers.

Some of the offers have made him dizzy, he told his Panhandle clientele.

The son of Ed Howe, famed "Sage of Potato Hill," Gene stepped from his father's home in Atchison, Kansas, among the oldest Missouri river towns, into metropolitan newspaper areas. After gaining the "experience," he headed for the Texas Panhandle.

Finder of Lost Dogs
There he acquired the Amarillo News-Globe. The Kernel's first reputation came as the finder of lost dogs. He is credited with having returned more vagrant puppies to their boy-owners than any person in Texas.

Whether it was a cookstove wanted for a hungry family, a job for the stricken cattleman, or customers for a church bazaar—if the thing was worthy, Tack went out to get it. He became the friends of the common man.

Lindbergh came and went, and with the Colonel went the name of the "Kernel" through the United States. In the midst of idolization of a nation, the Tactless Texan had dared to criticize the aviator.

It started when the city fathers telegraphed Lindbergh to stop over on a flight to the West Coast. Speeches of welcome and a parade to be headed by the high school band was prepared. The wire was not answered.

In Clovis, N. M., neighboring town across the prairie, twenty thousand people left their business and their ranches to see the prince of aviators on announcement he would stop there. The holiday became a joke. Lindbergh explained later he didn't know Clovis was on his route.

Idol Smashing
Soon after, Lindbergh landed at the Amarillo airport without announcing his arrival. A few little boys

Laredo Seeking Establishment Of Aggie Station

LAREDO, Texas, May 8.—(AP)—About $10,000 will be asked of Webb County commissioners in an effort to secure for this section the proposed horticultural and agricultural station of A & M College, directors of the Laredo Chamber of Commerce announce.

J. B. Chilton, prominent agriculturalist, has offered 250 acres, the maximum required by the bill calling for the station, and a water site for the college.

flocked to greet him. They said he "was not a bit nice." One or two of them cried. Tack heard about it. Unwilling to see a child's vision dissipate unnoticed, he told the public what he thought of the idol.

When Tack said Lindbergh acted "uppity and had the swell head" townsmen—a few of them—told the editor to go back to finding dogs.

Then came the visit of Mary Garden and the Chicago Opera to Amarillo. Tack told the city it was skinned, that Miss Garden's voice was falling and that she was so old she was "bottery." He claimed to know more about music than any six persons in the Panhandle. Women club members took him up and were looking for an expert to test the "Kernel" when he suddenly was called from town on business.

He went out to the frying pan into the fire with the ladies. This time with the women from Milk-shoe, nearby town, whose history started with a ranch. Asked by the women to assist in putting over a name more euphonious and "effete," Tack considered the color and western romance in the first name. He learned a Vassar girl from Milk-shoe had written her mother the name was not proper. Tack issued his ultimatum; let it be Muleshoe.

Loses Some, Gains More
Not so many persons read about the Muleshoe incident in the Tactless Texan column. Tack had lost 700 subscribers after the Mary Garden incident. More threatened to cancel their subscriptions.

Instead, more ordered the paper. Tack now claims the largest circulation of any paper in any city of Amarillo's size. He has 30,000 subscribers and Amarillo has 40,000 citizens.

Tack recently had his 43rd birthday. He hinted for "old-fashioned caramel cake, the kind he liked best and got the least." His office was stacked with it. So was the children's home.

THEY'LL BE OLD-FASHIONED BRIDES

By JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, May 8.—June brides will go old-fashioned this year when they select their wedding gowns, if they would be stylish.

The newest wedding gowns hark back to the mediaeval age for their inspiration. They have a dignity of other years in their length and trains; a quaint modesty in the cut of their neck-lines and incorporate in their scheme of things the tight bodices, long tight sleeves, peplum, and other themes of the long ago.

They are smart this June, however, in exact proportion to their effect of simplicity. Richness of fabric is the keynote. Cleverness in cut is its running mate. Much real lace appears as yokes and sleeve touches. Some gowns have not regally embroidered in crystals and pearls.

Off-White Shades Have Vogue
Classic dead-white satin has yielded to the suntan desire for off-white satin. Rich broches may have a gold thread patterning them. Chiffon, net, tulle, georgette and mouseline de soie fashion many perfectly beautiful wedding gowns, practically all of them in the delicate off-white shades instead of white. Even the pinkish off-white is having a vogue, and when combined with delicate costumes for the bride's attendants, makes a delectable picture that is unforgettable.

The tight bodiced wedding gown, with some individual cut to the skirt, is the best taste. The skirt, whether flounced, tiered, composed of flat horizontal sectors, circular or gored, usually is cut with ingenuity so that it hangs in soft folds almost to the ground, with the train coming from the hips.

The train's length is immaterial. Some are short, usually the ones that dip in three points, from the back and both sides. Others insert circular widths that fall gracefully to fashion a court length train.

There's Width in Neck-lines
Neck-lines are apt to be wider than deep, square and bateau lines are no more the cut of the moment than a V neck. Leaves are either the long tight kind or else follow some distinctive style, usually after they leave the elbow.

Veils of lace are an enviable heirloom to bequeath this year's bride. Nothing is more queenly than the creamy lace veil one's mother and grandmother wore. This year's veil flows out from under a little cap, usually. This may be of lace, pearls, tulle, fine silver mesh or brilliants.

The bride's bouquet may be a sheaf of white roses or lilies, a big nosegay of orange blossoms or gardenias, or a garden shower of white lilies, narcissus and orange blossoms.

The Moyan age inspired this lovely off-white satin wedding gown, from Henri Bandel. There is rich dignity and beautiful simplicity in its great length, its rose point lace yoke and its flowing sleeves that divide at the elbow to supplement the train. A mediaeval period cap of tulle, embroidered in pearls, holds the veil. To the left of the bride is the bridesmaid's frock of turquoise blue silk net, topped by natural colored bakou hat, with pink off-white chiffon for the informal ceremony. It is a full, scalloped skirt with a distinctive scarf treatment. The braid hat is gardenia trim med.

Distinctive and illustrative of the Moyan age theme is a wedding gown from Henri Bandel, of classic off-white satin, fashioned long and form fitting with a yoke of exquisite real rose point lace. The tight sleeves are unique in the way they open at the elbow to fall in flowing beauty to supplement the train. The headress is a Moyan age cap, made of seed pearls on tulle.

A Gown for the Garden Bride
For the bride lucky enough to have a garden to be married in, or for the bride who prefers an informal home or church ceremony, Henri Bandel creates a stunning off-white chiffon wedding gown that is charmingly feminine.

Its bodice hugs the figure to hip-line, where a voluminous, circularly cut skirt is posed with a quaint shirred heading. Its skirt's edge is scalloped and dips low on either side and the back touches the ground.

A novel scarf of matching silk net crosses the bodice like a bolero, swings to pointed long ends in the back and simulates sheer sleeves. Her picture hat is off-white Swiss braid, with gardenias trimming it.

The bride will be flanked by lovely soft colors this season. For six attendants' costumes a good color combination is maize, Parmesan violet, turquoise blue, pink, apple green and either melon, flamingo or chartreuse. All of these, however, are pastel shades. The different colors blend as softly as flowers in a garden.

Chiffon is tremendously popular for the June bridesmaid's costume. Some garden weddings will feature organdie or net. Tulle is excellent for church or home weddings and lovely effects in panels, tiers and peplums can be obtained from its use.

There are long, irregular skirts on bridesmaid's costumes, with little diaphanous panels that dip and float softly in that walk towards the altar. Hats usually are of chiffon or horsehair braid in shades to match or contrast with the frock. They may have ribbons, flowers, lace or even ostrich feathers on the hat's color.

Nosegays for Bridesmaids.
Nosegays of garden flowers are in good taste for the bridesmaids, or an fish vanity this mornite, they too are them this summer for decoration. Slippers invariably match the hats and if mitts are worn, quite a stylishful of tulips or roses. The maid or honor usually has a frock of soft-hue than the bridesmaids, for of course she stands nearest the bride and her color contrasts with the wedding down itself.

The attendants' frocks are of silk net, the one shown being the turquoise blue one. It has wide pleats around the bodice and the neckline that dip to give much rear length. A big, old-fashioned sash bow hangs almost to the floor in the back. The big, flopping bakou hat in natural color has chiffon banding and streamers of the turquoise net.

"Neck-Line"

By MISS IMOGENE SIMMONS
EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is an article written by Miss Imogene Simmons, winner of the first prize given in the state for evening dress. This contest was held in Dallas last week. This article is one in a series written by members of the Home Economics Department of Midland high school.

The neck-line of a garment is of great importance and should be designed carefully to be in harmony with the shape of the face and chin and the length of throat. The general proportion of the whole body should be considered. Usually, tall, slender people have long thin faces, so that some times the throat and face require different types of neck-line. A shallow, round or square neck opening makes the throat look shorter. A deep pointed or round one has the opposite effect.

A person with a long thin neck looks well in collars that roll up, or are fitted up in the back. High collars are often becoming, while a person with a short or thick neck looks well in flat collars, especially collars that carry the line of the neck opening of the dress down the front in a long, slender line.

THESE PRACTICAL JOKERS

MARION, Ind., May 8.—(UP)—Entering her home to find her husband lying on the floor, apparently dead, a bread knife in his hand and red ink resembling blood all over the floor caused Delores Higgs so much mental anguish that she has filed a divorce suit here against Lemoine Higgs.

SPENCER, Ia., May 8.—(UP)—It's bad enough to get drunk in Iowa, but to get intoxicated in the county jail, while being held for investigation, was less majestic, or something, and today Harry Nelson and "Red" Welch are spending 30-day sentences because of the fact.

Buck Harris of El Paso is visiting friends and relatives in Midland for a few days.

BARTHELMLESS' VOICE PROVES EXCELLENT FOR VITAPHONE

Richard Barthelmess is now heard as well as seen. The star of two-score features, famed for his "Broken Blossoms," his "Tol'able David," and his "Patent Leather Kid" is now being heard for the first time in "Weary River," his newest First National starring feature, coming to the Ritz theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

In "Weary River" Barthelmess not only talks but plays the piano. A Vitaphone test proved his voice of excellent quality for talking pictures and advance notices predict unprecedented success for the initial Barthelmess talkie.

"Weary River" is from the short story by Courtney Riley Cooper, and adapted to the screen by Bradley King, directed by Frank Lloyd. It relates the story of a convict who sings over the radio, wins a parole, becomes famous and wins the love of a girl. It is a wide departure from anything Barthelmess has done before and offers him the sort of human characterization in which he excels.

The cast supporting Barthelmess is headed by Betty Compson, who recently played the feminine lead in Barthelmess' "Scarlet Seas." Others in the cast include William Holden, Raymond Turner, George Stone, Louis Natheaux, Robert O'Connor, and others.

PREPARING FOR ALTOONA RACE

ALTOONA, Pa., May 7.—(UP)—Repairs on the big wooden bowl of the Altoona speedway, reputed to be the world's fastest automobile racing track, are being rushed in order to have everything in readiness for the 1929 inaugural of the track on June 15.

At that time some of the world's best known drivers will compete in a 200-mile race.

Rumors that the last race had been run over the track have been denied by officials of the Speedway. Already more than $27,000 has been spent on repairs this season.

Three carloads of the finest long leaf pine lumber has been ordered for still further repairs.

In an effort to eliminate fire hazards at the track the board surface of the track in front of the repair pits has been eliminated this year and a treated macadam has been substituted.

WONDERS OF RAILROADING

BOSTON, May 7.—(UP)—The water's verbal announcement, "first call to dinner," has been abolished on the Boston and Albany railroad and henceforth, the waiter will walk through the cars banging a Japanese gong with a wooden hammer.

ERRORS AGAIN CAUSE COLTS TO LOSE GAME IN LAST FRAMES

THREE HOME RUNS HIT BY COLTS IN GAME

For the second time in two consecutive days, the Colts let errors determine the outcome of a game, and lost, 10-7. Stealing away to a run in the first and second innings, letting Abilene score one in the third, it seemed that the bunch was going to have a successful termination.

Little "Pee Wee" Moore, left hander, was breezing along with a good wind in his sails. He had class, and no mistaking that. But errors began to happen. Abilene scored three in the fourth and three in the fifth. Midland kept plugging, however. McNeely, Segrist and Cheeves hitting homers to score one in the fifth and four in the sixth.

Thus the game was tied up. Segrist pulled "Pee Wee" when the little fellow got slightly wild. Well, the rest of the story is found in the three runs that were chased in and Midland lost.

The play by play report:

First Inning
Abilene—Norek watched three of Moore's lints sail by without striking once. Allday flew out an easy one to McNeely in right. Anderson doubled down the third base foul line. Andrews lined sharply to Storey. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Second Inning
Abilene—Orr beat out a roller to short. He took second on a passed ball. Cox was out, Storey to Burrows. Nebel was out on an easy grounder. Segrist to Burrows. Bradbury was out, LeGear to Burrows. No runs, 1 hit, 1 error.

Third Inning
Midland—Burris lined out to Orr. Segrist homered over the left wall.

Why Can't They Be Broadminded

Fourth Inning
Abilene—Cox singled the box. Nebel was struck by a pitched ball. A passed ball let the runner advance. Bradbury singled to right, scoring Cox. Turner was out, Moore to Burrows. Norek was out on a fly to Manley, Nebel scoring. Allday walked. Bradburyscored when Stagner threw to LeGear, who dropped the ball. Anderson was out, Storey to Burrows. 3 runs, 2 hits, 1 error.

Fifth Inning
Abilene—Andrews was safe at first on Storey's error. Orr was out to Burrows, unassisted. Andrews scored on Cox's double against the left field boards. Nebel was out, Storey to Burrows. Bradbury drove a home run over the left field way, scoring Cox ahead of him. Turner fouled out to Burrows. 3 runs, 2 hits, 1 error.

Sixth Inning
Abilene—Norek was out, Storey to Burrows. Allday fouled out to Segrist. Anderson fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Abilene—Andrews doubled to center. He took third on a passed ball. Orr was out, Moore to Burrows. Cox scored Orr by a long drive over the right field wall. Nebel doubled to center. Davis took the pitching role for Midland. Bradbury walked. Nebel took third on a throw to first in an attempt to catch Bradbury. Turner scored Nebel when he forced Bradbury at second. Norek fanned. 3 runs, 2 hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Abilene—Allday was safe on Stagner's error on a fly pop to the pitcher's box. Anderson hit into a double play. Andrews walked. He stole second, took third on a passed ball. Orr flew out to Manley. No runs, no hits, 2 errors.

Ninth Inning
Abilene—Cox fanned. Nebel popped out to Burrows. Bradbury walked. Turner fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Crops Damaged On Plains But Prospects Good

PLAINS, Texas, May 8.—(AP)—Unseasonable weather has caused considerable damage to fruit and vegetable crops in this section, according to reports received here. Cotton also was said to have suffered. Range conditions, however, were reported better than at any time during the past 15 years. Cattle herds were expected to be greatly increased as a result.

GANGLAND GETS TRIPLE MURDER BODIES FOUND

HAMMOND, Ind., May 8.—(AP)—Three men were found, brutally beaten, then shot to death, on a lonely road near Wolfe Lake today. In the triple murder was seen Gangland's first answer to Chicago's gang massacre last Valentine's Day. Two of the bodies were found back of the seat of a coupe which was discovered nosed into the ditch, by Hammond police. Forty feet away was the third body. The bodies of two of the victims were identified as John Scallisti and Albert Anselmi, notorious henchmen of Scarface Al Capone. The third man was later identified and is said to be Joe Guinta. Scallisti was released under $50,000 bond a week ago pending trial for the St. Valentine's Day massacre. Water freezes every night of the year at Alto Curcero, in Bolivia, while at noon the sun is almost hot enough to blister the skin.

Textile Unions Plan Drives for Organization of Textile Workers

By EDWARD L. LEWIS, United Press Staff Correspondent (Copyright, 1929, by United Press) ATLANTA, Ga., May 7.—(UP)—Two great competitive drives to organize the 300,000 textile workers of Dixie are planned by organizers of the National Textile Workers' Union and the United Textile Workers of America. In a statement to the United Press, made while he was spending the night in a Gastonia, N. C., jail on a charge later dismissed, that he had kidnapped the wife of a textile worker, Fred Erwin Beal, organizer of the National Textile Workers' Union, revealed plans for the drive. Alfred Hoffman, southern representative of the United Textile Workers, a union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has announced similar plans. The significance of the two campaigns lies perhaps in the fact that neither union is recognized by any southern textile mill. Several mill managements have intimated they consider the present strikes highly important because if they succeed the unions will secure a foothold in the south. So far activities of the two unions have been cautiously kept from colliding. The United Textile Worker has directed the strike at Elizabethton, and after a conference, decided to lay activities in the North Carolina field, where the strikes are controlled by the more radical union. Beal told the United Press a conference to be attended by delegates from every large textile mill in the south was planned in the near future for the purpose of extending the campaign and starting sympathy strikes. "We intend to organize everywhere in the south and unite the southern workers with the thousands of textile workers in other parts of the country," Beal explained. "It may take a long time, but we hope to have the entire field organized." Hoffman, southern Federation of Labor representative, said that organized labor throughout the country would be asked to contribute a fund of $1,000,000 for the United Textile Workers' campaign in the south. Both Hoffman and Beal claim the southern textile operatives have been exploited and forced to accept starvation wages. The point of view of the other side is broadly expressed in a statement issued by the Johnson City Chamber of Commerce regarding the strike situation at Elizabethton, 10 miles away. "The location of this large industry (plants of the American Bemberg company and the American Glanzstoff corporation) in this section of the south has proven a great boon to the entire country. The investment now represents, we are told, approximately $20,000,000 and affords an opportunity for steady employment to 5,000 people. "It has just been announced that work will begin at once on the second unit of the American Glanzstoff corporation which will involve an expenditure of approximately $10,000,000 and give employment to 2,500 additional workers. These facts and figures speak for themselves. This may be exploitation, but it is the kind that any city or community would welcome."

SLAIN YOUTH'S MOTHER MAY DIE OF SHOCK

M'ALESTER, Okla., May 8.—(UP)—Shock and grief over the death of her son, Tom Walton, Jr., who was shot and killed in Amarillo Saturday by his father-in-law, Judge Hamilton, may be fatal to Mrs. Tom Walton, the youth's mother, physicians said today. She was unable to attend the funeral conducted by the De Molays here. Trained nurses are attending her constantly.

Parade Staged By Animals Of The Dallas Zoo

DALLAS, May 8.—(AP)—Animals of the Dallas zoo recently were put to work earning money for themselves. They were paraded through the downtown section during a celebration at which the proceeds went to the zoo.

Audience Applauds—

(Continued from page 1) the part. She was in a continual fret about the details of the marriage and in keeping her volatile daughter resigned to the fate which awaited. Particularly did Mrs. Legg's enunciation of patois carry over the lights. James P. Harrison, idiot son, could scarcely have been better. A tumbler song at times escaped him as he toyed with buttons, strings and other trinkets on the floor. He did not say a word during the play, but the sympathy of the audience went out to him in poignant offering as he pitifully moved his mishapen body about on the floor, put his head on his mother's laps, and rested under her embraces. His portrayal of mute walt when his mother gave him a taste of a sort of pot pourri was masterful. The boy had a superstitious "mark" on him, a "mark" which had much significance in the suggestion of the play's finale. Charles C. Watson, as the rustic lover of the past, was handsome, big and powerful, light hearted and singularly adapted to his role. His mastering of the dialect and his tossing laugh showed why he has played in every production the players have worked up. Dr. LeConte was the priest, and he wore his habit with ease. He, too, did the patois well, and his paternal suggestions and law-abiding advice was done with credit. Dr. LeConte is a valuable addition to the Midland Players. He will probably be seen in forthcoming plays. MORE TO COME—MORE TO COME
