Audrey Earley To Begin Activities Training Soon As WASP at the USO

Flying becomes the ambition of many young girls but few are lucky and talented enough to make the grade. Audrey Earley was one of the few and now she is to begin her training as a WASP May 26 at Avenger Field, Sweetwater.

Miss Earley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Earley, formerly of Big Spring and now residents of Reno, Calif. She first began her training at the Big Spring airport under instruction of Art Winthelzer. Soon after her part the government took over the airport. Determined to learn to fly, she spent her weekends in Odessa at Ector county airport receiving more instructions. She continued this until her family moved to California in January, 1943. Civilian flying is not allowed on the west coast because of defense measures so Miss Earley moved to Reno, Nevada, in May to continue her training at Hubbard Field for five months. This last seven months she has been flying with the Civil Air Patrol, operating out of Sky Harbor at Phoenix, Ariz.

Additional flight training will be received by Miss Earley while in training with the WASP. Beginning her training in Stearman, an open cockpit biplane, she will have advanced training in the North American AT-4. Upon graduating, WASP pilots are later checked out in army planes.

A WASP's job consists mostly of ferrying ships from factory to field, towing targets for aerial gunnery practice, and test hopping new and repaired planes. At the present time all WASP pilots operate within the Continental United States, but now that the army is taking over the WASP and are commissioning girl pilots, they may have a chance at ferrying ships overseas.

Miss Earley attended Big Spring high school and is a graduate of Tyler high school. She was a member of the Blue Brigade, Dramatic club, and a member of the tennis team. She attended Southwestern Junior college at Keene for two years. She is a member of the San Francisco chapter of the Women Flyers of America, a national social organization for women pilots.

"I want him Back... so I'M SAVING WASTE PAPER!"

Yes... waiting is hard. But it's easier when you're doing something to protect and aid him... and bring him home sooner!

Your Government says that waste paper is the No. 1 war shortage. There's your opportunity!

For waste paper is everywhere. Newspapers, magazines, wrappings, corrugated paper... bundle them all in packages about 12 inches high and turn them in.

The very waste paper you tie up may well be made into paperboard that packages the K-rations, ammunition or blood plasma your fighting man will use.

So enlist the children. Enthuse your neighbors and friends. Scour attics and basements. Then start a regular system of saving and bundling your waste paper for war.

It's so little to do... and it may mean so much to him!

Texans Share In Air Victories

U. S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE FIGHTER COMMAND IN BRITAIN, May 22 (AP)—Eighth air force fighter pilots yesterday found German aircraft largely sitting ducks in their sweeps over Germany.

A double kill on the ground was scored by Lt. Albert C. Homeyer, of Barstow, Ward county, Tex.

One each on the ground was claimed by Lt. Samuel E. Hansrard, Phillips, Hutchinson county, Tex., and Capt. John D. Landers, of Joshua, Johnson county, Tex.

Capt. Bill C. Routt of Nacogdoches shot down one and shared destruction of another.

Sgt. Hollis R. Nowlin of 3008 Ninth, Port Arthur, Tex., destroyed one Nazi craft and shared in another destroyed on the ground.

Gulley Veteran In Restaurant Business Here

The name of L. L. Gulley has stood for good food in Big Spring 33 years—and 1944 is no exception.

Gulley's cafe, which was opened at 101 Main street March 2, is open 24 hours daily and features good steaks, fried chicken, fish and oysters in season, homemade cakes and pies and complete lunches and dinners.

Large, cool and clean, the cafe has a seating capacity of 55, in booths, at tables and at the counter. Eighteen persons are employed by the cafe and service is prompt and good.

Gulley has been a resident of Big Spring 43 years. Entering the cafe business at an early age, he opened his first place of business 33 years ago at the historic old Stewart hotel, formerly situated at the present location of the Home cafe.

He formerly owned and operated the Busy Bee cafe, Waffle Shop and Clover Grill.

He appreciates the patronage Big Spring residents have given him and will continue to offer the same good service he has in the past.

Harley Sadler To Run For 2nd Term

AUSTIN, May 22 (AP)—Friends of Rep. Harley Sadler of Sweetwater said here today that citizens of Fisher, Mitchell and Nolan counties by petition have placed his name on the democratic ballot for re-election to a second term in the legislature.

Sadler, tent showman known all over the state, had announced he would not be a candidate for re-election in the 117th legislative district.

Ready To Serve—Lined up and ready to leave on their many routes are some of the Southern Ice trucks which daily service Big Spring businesses and homes with crystal-clear, pure ice. Although the demand for ice has multiplied in recent years, Southern Ice Co. in Big Spring always has been able to meet the demand of its old and many new customers and, unlike other points, has never found it necessary to "ration" ice. The company has a large productive capacity and a tremendous storage and vault capacity, for not only does it serve local needs but handles re-icing for railroad fruit cars off the company docks at extreme left. Machinery Situation Better

The George Oldham Implement company on the Lamesa highway is right in the midst of a remodeling program which completely changed the appearance of the building interior and has given a modernistic air to the place.

Owned and operated by George Oldham, who has had years of experience in the implement business, the Oldham company has doubled the size of the shop which now measures 5,000 square feet of floor space to take care of additional shop work.

They have re-arranged and modernized the repair department with new counters, bins, displays, etc., in keeping with the times.

Bins are still being painted and the remodeling is not quite completed. Centering the T-shaped building is the office which has been re-painted and remodeled. It is enclosed with glass windows and is proving to be a cool, clean and comfortable working place for employees.

Oldham feels that the outlook for farm machinery in the next few years looks very promising. Comparing the future with the past few years during the war, the manager reviewed the fact that at the beginning no farm machinery was released for sale. Now they are able to get tractors and other machinery which includes McCormick-Deering and Fairbanks-Morse hammer feed mills. These mills have been rationed but do not require purchase certificates at the present time.

Operating in the present location for the past four years, the store has built up a creditable trade in Big Spring and surrounding towns and communities.

In the line of insecticides for the coming months Oldham will be featuring calcium arsenite for leafworms, which become prevalent during rainy seasons.

"Of course, this sounds rather optimistic speaking of rain, but just in case, this insecticide can't be beat," said Oldham.

LEAVES FROM A WRITER'S NOTEBOOK

By HAL BOYLE
LONDON, May 22 (AP)—Out of the morning mist rose the rolling hills of Scotland, fresh as a page out of Bobby Burns and our first sight of land since leaving America.

The gulls were trim and white as compared with the smoke-covered scavengers that scrounge off Brooklyn.

A passenger threw out a cigar butt and a gull immediately dived and came up with it in its beak.

"Look," said a sailor, "they've taught these Scottish gulls to shoot snipes."

The men were quick and courteous, but one long-faced passenger learned it would cost him $15 to bring three bottles of Scotch whisky back into Scotland.

"Of course, mon, you can work it and drink it on the dock," said a customs man genially. But the passenger paid.

We took a train for Edinburgh, which on Sunday is closed tighter than a saloon door in Kansas. You couldn't even buy a sandwich in the railroad station.

"Sorry we can't get you a sleeper but that would take about three weeks," said a former commercial agent for the Katy railroad, adding: "Just like back home."

There was no liquor-stocked club car, nor a diner, and no butcher boy. You bring along your own food if you want to eat on British wartime trains.

Past the windows rolled a travelogue of Scotland. Wooden poles still stud fields to give pointed welcome to any next planes seeking a landing.

We blacked out at dusk and came by morning into brawling, restless London, nerve center of the coming new front against Hitler.

Texarkana Gunner Is Credited With Plane

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, May 22 (AP)—Staff Sgt. David A. Markle of Texarkana, Tex., was one bomber gunner credited with an enemy plane, according to the Mediterranean Allied air force which said American bombers and fighters shot down 35 enemy planes in the May 18 raid on the Romanian oil center of Ploesti.

Bengals Take Two Games Off Washington

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Detroit Tigers nudged the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals out of the major league limelight yesterday. The Bengals swept a doubleheader from Washington to run their winning streak to six straight and climb into the American league first division.

Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouse turned in two fine pitching performances to whip the Senators, 2 to 1 and 7 to 1, at Washington in the latest development of their road winning streak that started in Philadelphia last Wednesday night, when an error led Trout beat Bobo Newsom. Trout has pitched two of the six games with Rufus Gentry, Johnny Gorsica, Stubby Overmire and Newhouse also going the route in the other games.

Meanwhile the Yankees twice beat the St. Louis Browns in Yankee stadium before 59,161, largest crowd of the season. The Yanks took the opener, 4 to 3, in 12 innings when George Carter forced home the winning run by walking Johnny Lindell with the bases loaded. The nightcap was comparatively easy for the Bronx bombers, 5 to 1.

The Cardinals, breezing along in the National league top spot, walloped the New York Giants at St. Louis 10 to 3 in the first game, but had to be content with a split when the Giants took the nightcap, 7-0. Mel Ott hit his first homer away from the Polo Grounds.

Charlie Grimm's Chicago Cubs surprised by blasting the Boston Braves in two games at Wrigley Field. Al Javery, Braves starting pitcher, was demolished in the third inning of the second game for dispatching umpire Jess Coakley's calling of balls behind the plate.

The Boston Red Sox wound up their home stand by whipping the Chicago White Sox twice, 4 to 3 and 9 to 2, to sweep a four-game series. The double setback dumped the Sox into the cellar.

Cincinnati shoved Brooklyn deeper into seventh place in the National league standings Sunday and in the American Cleveland made it three straight over Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics by taking the first game of a twin bill, 5 to 4, in 11 innings, but tripped on the nightcap, 3 to 2. In the opener Bobo Newsom fanned 12 batters, but still was the losing pitcher.

Frank Colman's pinch triple in the eighth gave Pittsburgh a 4 to 3 triumph over the Phillies in the first game of their twin bill at Pittsburgh. The Phils were ahead, 9 to 4, in the second game when it was called after the eighth inning because of the Sunday law. The last inning will be played the next time the Phils visit Pittsburgh. Until then the game does not count in the standings.

Aulbach Wins War Bond Open Tourney

AMARILLO, May 22 (AP)—Winner of the second $2,500 war bond open is George Aulbach, Amarillo Country Club golf pro, who shot a 204 in the 54 medal meet at the municipal course.

Pre-tournament favorite Pvt. Jimmy Gaunt, of Ardmore Army Air Field and the Texas PGA champion, was runner-up with a 207. Gaunt was leading Aulbach by a stroke at the start of the final 18 holes yesterday but Aulbach shot a 67 while Gaunt parred the course with a 71.

Aulbach won a $900 war bond and a trophy. Gaunt won a $250 bond. A Dallas golfer, Dick Martin, won in the amateur bracket.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Spring fever dept. . . . The Maine lakes and the landlocked salmon and toque are striking furiously; that in Wisconsin big pike are almost jumping into the boats; even that anglers at Peconic Bay are hauling in weakfish by the dozen and a big run of blues is reported heading north. . . . But this note from Dave up at Freedom Village is almost too much to endure.

Just Fishin'
"Today I went fishing," Dave writes. "I dug some worms and started in at the village dam with the intention to fish down to the outlet. After 15 minutes, I felt a helluva jerk and then a few more, so I pulled in a 12-inch Rainbow. No kidding, right in the brook directly behind the store. . . . The bugs are beginning to bite badly, but now I was determined that nothing would deter me. It really was beautiful down by the stream; the apple blossoms are all out and the brook is just high enough. Everything was perfect. . . . In the course of my excitement I lighted a cigarette. It smelled funny, or at least I thought I smelled something burning. It was only my new $1.19 sweat shirt. Just then I slipped and darn near went all the way in; I did manage to put the fire in my clothing out. . . . I fished on. . . . Every time I got discouraged, the 12-inch would jump around in the basket and I would sing aloud (the worst thing one can do around a trout stream). . . . Down by Sim's I got another mite and another beautiful trout broke the water and played around before I stuck him in my basket—12 1/2 inches. . . . The time is here; the fish are biting; the weather is great; tomorrow for breakfast I shall have a little Rainbow trout. . . . Spring only comes once a year; why don't you come, too, for a few outin'?"

American Legion Heads Are Named

PARIS, May 22 (AP)—Clarence C. Braden of Jefferson is the new district adjutant of the first Texas district of the American Legion, succeeding the late E. A. Sheppard, Marshall.

Braden also was named at yesterday's convention as national convention delegate, with Sigbee Williams of Texarkana elected alternate delegate. The convention passed a resolution which favored lowering of the minimum voting age from 21 to 18.

Flashes From 43-1—

Former Bombardier Trainee Here Has Close Call In Crash Of Fort

A veteran of the English, African and Italian theatres, Lt. H. R. Young of Nashville, Tenn., had his belly full of narrow escapes before returning to the States for a rest. Returning from a raid over Italy on September 15th of '43, Young's Fort was downed over the Mediterranean by several Messerschmidts. Young, with several other crew members, all injured, drifted around in the sea for three days before being rescued by a British destroyer. He was hospitalized in Catania, Sicily, for awhile, later being moved to Cairo, Egypt, where he was decorated with the Purple Heart by General Ralph Royce. A month later he was sent to the big convalescent camp at Palm Beach, Fla. He's now in great shape again, and is sweating out another combat assignment.

All we know about Lt. Dick Zembruski of Hartford, Conn., is that he is squadron bombardier in an outfit in the Pacific.

After completing 300 combat hours and 46 missions in the New Guinea area, Lt. Jim Crook of Blytheville, Ark., returned to the States recently with a Distinguished Flying Cross and a Silver Star to say nothing of an air medal with a trunkful of clusters.

Lt. John J. Browns of San Francisco, Calif., studied navigation at Hondo after leaving Big Spring. Arriving in Australia back in October of '43, Browns was assigned as navigator to a B-24. He's been blasting the Japs ever since.

Lt. John C. Drickson of Claremore, Okla., was returning from his 16th mission, a raid on Brunswick, Germany, when a burst of flak blew his Fortress apart. The entire crew bailed out with only minor injuries, and are now prisoners of war in Germany. Drickson had the air medal with two clusters.

Another prisoner of war is Lt. Art Cooper of Meriden, Conn. Cooper's Fort was shot down by fighters over Wazemunde in Germany last July 29th.

On March 21st last, Lt. Martin Bechbach of East Orange, N. J., completed his 25 missions with the 8th air force in England. Most of his missions were flown as a navigator on a B-24 over Germany. Already possessing the Distinguished Flying Cross and the air medal with several clusters, Bechbach visited the States for awhile, then left again for England, probably to take part in the invasion push.

Charley Parker Runs 9.6 Century

SAN ANTONIO, May 22 (AP)—Although floating the last 20 yards, Charley Parker, Jefferson high school's state sprint champion, ran a 9.6 hundred yard dash in a feature of last night's army track meet here.

Perry Samuels, also of Jefferson, and Ted Haese of Brooks General hospital, former South-west Texas State Teachers college star, finished second and third, respectively, in the three-man exhibition race. Ralph Ellsworth and Leo Culbertson of the University of Texas withdrew from the event.

San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center scored 36 1-2 points to win the enlisted men's team championship, beating Hondo navigation school by one point.

Tom Crane, formerly of Springfield college, Mass., won the four-mile marathon in 22:45.5.

Ten Round Bout In Houston Due To Draw Record Crowd

HOUSTON, May 22 (AP)—A million dollar gate is a novelty in boxing—or was.

Principals in the extravaganza of cash and socks are Al Hostak, twice middleweight champion of the world, and Cpl. Glenn Lee, formerly No. 1 contender for the crown.

Cpl. Earl Stewart Will Defend Title

DALLAS, May 22 (AP)—Corporal Earl Stewart of Fort Worth Army Air Field will be here this week to defend his championship at the Glen Lakes invitation golf tournament.

The tourney this year will be a combined affair sponsored by the Glen Lakes Country Club and Dallas Athletic Club.

Qualifying play started today for those who did not wish to compete for the test-run medal. Those who do must post qualifying scores Thursday. Match play starts Friday with two 18-hole rounds.

Maggie Sets New Racing Record

ANGELS CAMP, Calif., May 22 (AP)—"Maggie", jumping frog owned by Merlin Fisher, 13, Stockton, Calif., is the international jumping frog champion. "Maggie" set a new world's record of 18 feet 2 inches yesterday in the 17th annual event.

The former record was 15 feet 10 inches.

A crowd of 5,000 persons, mostly from Calaveras county witnessed the event which was featured by the unveiling of a statue of Mark Twain, whose story "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras" brought fame to this community.

The total, if all seats are filled—and the Houston war bond sports activities committee has no doubts they will reach $20,000,000.

The Elks Lodge, sponsoring the show, will pay the purses of the fighters and all other expenses.

Hostak now is with the 13th armored division of Camp Bowie Brownwood, Texas. Lee is a member of the 84th infantry division of Camp Claiborne, La.

Al has had only one bout since entering the service, knocking out George Barathe here last month and demonstrating he has lost none of the dynamite that a few years ago gained him fifteen consecutive kayos.

Lee hasn't had a ring battle since signing to fight with his Uncle Sam but before that he had defeated and lost to Ceferino Garcia, dropped three close decisions to Fred Apostoli, whipped Solly Krieger who won the title from Hostak then lost it back to him and knocked out Harry Balsamo Baby Saban and Dale Sparr and dished Al Manfredi, Izzy Jannazo and Watler Woods.

Present prices of whiskey

Hiram Walker brands are supplied regularly, yet due to wartime demands your dealer often will be unable to furnish the brand you request

OUR GOVERNMENT has found it necessary to place higher taxes on many things in order to raise the billions of dollars needed to win this war.

And whiskey is one of the things on which a higher excise tax has been placed. In altering the prices, the distillery, the wholesaler, and the retailer are adding only the exact amount of the new tax, without "mark-up."

Since our plants stopped distilling whiskey in 1942 the only changes in official prices of Hiram Walker brands have been those due to excise taxes and OPA adjustments.

The official OPA prices of Hiram Walker brands in this city are now as follows:

Canadian Club
Blended Canadian Whiskey
90.4 proof. This whiskey is 6 years old
$3.39 PER BOTTLE
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES ON CANADIAN CLUB REPORTED AFTER MARCH 31, 1944—INCLUDING LATEST FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

Signet
Bottled-in-Bond
Rye Whiskey, 100 proof
$2.64 PER BOTTLE
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES—INCLUDING LATEST FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

IMPERIAL
Blended Whiskey, 86 proof
30% straight whiskey
70% neutral spirits distilled from fruit and grain
$2.25 PER BOTTLE
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES—INCLUDING LATEST FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

Walker's DeLuxe
Straight Bourbon Whiskey
86 proof. This whiskey is 4 years old
$2.24 PER BOTTLE
OFFICIAL OPA PRICES—INCLUDING LATEST FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

A substantial quantity of Hiram Walker brands is supplied regularly to this area. Yet the wartime demand is so great that your dealer often cannot furnish the brand you request. In fairness to him, please be patient and remember that the whiskey shortage is real... due to the war work of the distilleries. The best way to obtain your favorite brand is to ask for it every time!

Public Policy Discoveries

The other day in Dallas, Leonard M. Brin, regional director for the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice, asked the Dallas News not to ask specifically for Negroes when advertising for employes.

Mr. Brin asked the News to desist from the insertion of an ad, which was headed: "Wanted: Colored Man" because the committee "considers that such advertising is in violation of the order . . . and automatically bars persons from other race or color from applying."

Most people agree that there is no supportable basis for discriminations, that citizens of the United States are entitled to a fair break regardless of race, creed or color. But just wherein an innocent want ad, specifying the desires of an employer for a specific type of employe, constitutes discrimination is most difficult to see.

If the Dallas News wanted a colored man for that particular spot, it wanted a colored man, and it goes without saying that it hired a colored man. Perhaps the PCFEP felt that the white man had been discriminated against. Perhaps, too, the PCFEP was just a wee bit short of anything to do when it sent out the order to the News to refrain from inserting advertisements or stories which mentioned race, creed or color in hiring employes.

The U.S. Congress

Anyone who visits Washington comes away with a new-found respect for that institution known as the Congress of the United States. Unfortunately, most of us get our impressions of Congress from a few spectacular individuals who perform either on the floor of House or Senate, in the newsreels, in the newspapers or from any other public forum opportunity may offer.

Take any representative group of 531 men and women and you will find a certain percentage of them will turn out to be heels, time-serverers, dead-beats, clowns and fourflushers. We doubt that this percentage runs any higher among the 531 senators and representatives than it does among any group of the same size you might handpick from the general population.

Most congressmen, either from conscientious regard for duty or from the necessities of politics, make an honest attempt to serve their constituents. We would guess that about 75 per cent of a congressman's time is taken up by direct demands from his constituents. They come to him for every conceivable purpose, and they demand an immediate answer. Fully 50 per cent of these questions and problems could be solved by the appropriate agency of government, but the average citizen or business man thinks first of his congressman—and he expects that congressman to drop everything and dig up the information, or secure the action, or solve the problem that bothers him at the moment.

Perhaps this is as it should be, for indeed a congressman is supposed to be the representative of the people who sent him to Washington; but the good old American habit of crying on your congressman's shoulder results in making a flunkey out of him, instead of permitting him to be a statesman. If every congressman could be twins, with one twin handling the problems of statecraft and the other serving as a sort of contact man for the folks back home, we probably would get a much higher brand of statecraft.—Corpus Christi-Caller.

The War Today

by DeWitt Mackenzie Associated Press War Analyst

The decisive battle of the European war, Berlin declares, will have to be fought on the German west wall defenses of the invasion zone, and "the real attack must come from the supply base and aircraft carrier, England."

This assertion is made with a worried weather eye on the up-and-down Allied offensive in Italy. The German appraisal of the general situation—made with the idea of reassuring a jittery home public—isn't exactly accurate, since Hitler will be crushed by concerted Allied action from west, south and east. However, it's true in the sense that we can't put the big squeeze on the Fuehrer until his formidable fortifications along the invasion coast have been smashed and we have established ashore a great army headed for Berlin.

There's no question of the ability of the western Allies to set up a second front, and even the Germans admit that this can be done. Still, while we refuse to consider the possibility of failure in such an operation, it must be said hypothetically that if there were no invasion of western Europe the war would drag on interminably no matter how much striking power the Russians might apply on the eastern front.

It's equally true, of course, that an invasion by the western Allies would be long in knocking the Germans if the Red armies weren't hammering the enemy on the eastern front. There must be pressure on both sides.

The Moscow communist newspaper Pravda says D-Day is imminent. Viewing the Allied offensive in Italy with vast approval, Pravda declares that the cracking of the Hitler line has shown the Germans that "the Allies are capable of breaking any defense, and possess sufficient forces to do so."

That undoubtedly is true. The Allies now have not only the will but the way to smash Hitler, and are giving a fine demonstration of this in Italy. We shouldn't make the mistake, however, of extending the comparison and trying to gauge the invasion of western Europe by the operations on the Italian peninsula.

While German defenses in Italy have been plenty tough, they haven't shown the strength which may be expected in the west wall in France.

It must be realized that while it is comparatively easy to send a soldier home it is much more difficult to return him here.—Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Central Pacific Commander.

Our political dissimilarities with Russia need not be the source of friction if we seek and find the many practical ways in which we can work to a common end.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

You'd Be Surprised— Shortest But Most Famous Stream

By GEORGE STIMPSON

The river Jordan in the Holy Land is one of the most famous small streams in the world.

Nobody knows how this stream of song and story got its name.

Some authorities derive "Jordan" from Hebrew "yarden," meaning "to go down," with the ending "an" for "en." If this theory is correct, "Jordan" literally signifies "the descender."

Possibly "Jordan" is derived from some pre-Semitic word the true significance has been completely lost.

In the fifth century Jerome, a great Latin scholar, supposed the name to be a compound of Hebrew "y"or and "dan" and to signify literally "the river of Dan." This theory was probably suggested by the fact that the town of Dan in northern Palestine was near one of the sources of the Jordan. But Jerome's theory is now generally rejected as untenable.

In the Bible the Jordan is referred to by that name in patriarchal times and long before the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt.

In Genesis 13:10 we are told that "Lot lifted up his eyes, and beheld all the plain of Jordan."

that it was well watered every where."

The Jordan, though the largest stream in the Holy Land, is only 135 miles long in a straight line. Because of its tortuous channel its total length is about 250 miles.

Between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea, a distance of only 65 miles as the crow flies, the actual length of the Jordan is 200 miles.

The fall of the stream from source to mouth is about 3,000 feet, or an average of 22 feet to the mile.

Its width varies between 70 and 80 feet and its depth from five to 12.

Near its mouth it narrows down to a sluggish stream only about 70 feet wide.

The Jordan is not navigable. There are many shallow places in it that have been used as fords since ancient times.

Neither "bridge" nor any equivalent word occurs in the Bible and it is not known whether there were any bridges over the Jordan in Biblical times.

Jesus was baptized by John the Baptist in the waters of the Jordan and the little river is associated with many other important events in the Bible.

Today And Tomorrow

No Discrimination Here

By WALTER LIPPMANN

A conference of men and women who represent employers' organizations, labor unions and governments in many countries has been meeting recently in Philadelphia. They adopted a charter of which the central idea is an agreement "to further among the nations of the world programs which will achieve full employment and the raising of standards of living."

At first glance this may seem like one of those ideas which are so big that they are merely pious and wishful hopes from which nothing can or will come. Yet, in fact, it is a safe and conservative prediction that when the war is over, no matter who is President, no matter which party is in office, the paramount question will be how to achieve and maintain full employment and a rising standard of life. No public man will deny that this is the overall aim of his policy; parties will stand or fall as they succeed in carrying it out.

This is a new thing in our own domestic politics, and indeed it is a new thing in the history of the world. Men have always, of course, deplored unemployment and wanted good and profitable work, and they have struggled and fought for it. But in this century, bloody and violent though it has been, mankind has made an epoch-making discovery. It is that involuntary mass unemployment in a modern industrial nation is an unnecessary and preventable evil.

Economists, industrial leaders, public officials are by no means entirely agreed which among the many measures are the best. But never again will they or the mass of the people accept the view, which was the common view thirty years ago, that public policy has nothing to do with and can do nothing effective about the maintenance of reasonably full employment. Mass unemployment is not inevitable and it is, therefore, intolerable.

The discovery of new principles of public policy is so rare that we find it difficult to recognize them when they are discovered. We are used to new discoveries in medicine and engineering. In government and public policy there are few great new discoveries and there are no panaceas; most of the problems of international politics were anxiously examined by Thucydides, and there are few fundamental problems of government that were not studied by Aristotle.

Yet when we look back we can see that the world we were born into was profoundly affected by the discovery in the eighteenth century of the principle of the international division of labor. From the very earliest times there had been international trading. Nevertheless, the wide application of this principle as a means of increasing the wealth of nations rested on a new discovery which men like David Hume and Adam Smith were able to define and to explain.

In our epoch the principle of the division of labor has been modified and supplemented by the discovery that large nations with big resources, skilled labor and progressive management can, if they insist on it, regulate the cycle of booms and depressions.

Since the discovery has been made the public will no more tolerate a failure to apply it than they would tolerate hospitals which refused to use sulfa drugs and penicillin.

The International Labor Organization has no power whatsoever, it cannot legislate. It cannot appropriate money. It cannot bind any government to do any particular thing. Yet it has spoken with great authority, with the same kind of great authority which a convention of doctors would have if they declared that the means for dealing with an epidemic existed.

We have here an exhibit of international co-operation which is profoundly important. For it shows that the inner problem is not how to persuade the nations to pledge themselves to do things they regard as burdensome and contrary to their interests; it is to discern their true national interest, so that when they serve themselves they are good neighbors. Thus, to maintain full employment in the United States is unmistakably an American interest; if we do not, we shall suffer deeply among ourselves. That is what the Philadelphia charter has to say to us.

If we can absorb this idea, that by a successful policy of maintaining full employment here at home we make our fundamental contribution to economic stability and prosperity abroad — if we grasp this idea, then all sorts of vexatious issues will fall into their proper perspective. Here is the real answer to the notion that prosperity depends upon cut-throat competition for international markets: with full employment at home we shall have no frantic desire to export furiously. Here is the real answer to the notion that we can or should restore world prosperity by some kind of vast philanthropy: if the American economy, which is such an immense factor in the world economy, is kept working steadily at reasonably full capacity it will set up a demand for goods which will contribute enormously to prosperity almost everywhere else. There is no basic conflict between the national interests of the American people and their international interests and duties. There are conflicts due to shortsightedness, to being penny wise and pound foolish, to the pressure of special interests that do not always understand their true interests. These conflicts can be overridden because they arise not from the nature of things but from a lack of the knowledge which already exists.

Hollywood— Stars' Airs - On - Wheels Curbed

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—The young actor known as Dane Clark came out of the laundry, his arms loaded with bundles, and headed for the jalopy parked by the curb. It was a sad, dingy little relic, possibly of pre-Roosevelt vintage. "Hallo," he greeted cheerily, depositing his bundles. "Now I've got some shirts. What you think of my car?"

He couldn't have been more cheerful if he had been showing off a sleek new teardrop model of the type the ads dream about for post-war. "It runs," he boasted, "and it can climb hills!"

As he spluttered away along the Sunset strip, heading for home with his clean shirts, he seemed a symbol of a new, unfulfilled Hollywood that couldn't have been true a few years ago. An up-and-coming actor, totting his own laundry—and within sight of the luncheon crowd at the Players' club—and driving a jalopy!

Even before the war, the automobile preferences of the cinema crowd had been toned down. There were plenty of long, shining and expensive jobs purring through the studio gates, but there were few which could remotely match those of the era of lavender limousines, scarlet phaetons, and gold-monogrammed motor coaches. In those days of large and sudden money, negligible taxes, and the whole glittering world beckoning the newly rich to come and spend, many a movie star's car could have joined a circus parade and still attracted notice.

From around 1916 through the 1920's, Hollywood-on-wheels was an eye-popping sight. Francis X. Bushman's lavender limousine, with chauffeur in lavender livery; Tom Mix's $12,000 vehicle; Wally Beery's custom-built sedan which reputedly cost $16,000; many another made-to-order job complete with accessories including bar.

TOM ROSSON Public Accountant Income Tax Service 603 Petroleum Bldg. Phone 1233

—these were samples of the fashion. It's a different line today. Most of the stars could park near a war plant and not have their cars seem conspicuous. Robert Alda, with a four-year-old coupe, says he'd have the rattle removed from the top if it could be done without a garage appointment three days in advance. Joan Leslie has a car just like her postman's.

Red Skelton's bantam, a gas-saver, is conspicuous only for its color, green. Barbara Stanwyck drives a pint-sized coupe, and Joan Crawford's grey number is the same model and make as several in the parking lot for studio office workers. Ann Sheridan drives a station wagon, also useful for hauling feed to her cow, chickens and turkeys, and Jane Wyman uses a once swank job whose better days are long since past.

Maybe after the war Hollywood will bloom again with four-wheeled chariots. Until then it's fashionable to "drive poor."

Washington In Wartime— Thorns In New Ration Points

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—Some administration stalwarts are admitting—off the record, of course—that they are considerably perturbed about the criticisms being tossed at several war agency chiefs.

Most of these criticisms, at the moment, have to do with manpower, the food production and distribution programs, and rationing.

Outstanding example is the recent announcement of OPA Director Chester Bowles that all points are off on all meats but steaks and roasts. This, coming on the heels of reduction of butter from 16 to 12 points a pound and the lifting of the rationing on shortening and many processed or canned vegetables, gave the impression that the lifting of all rationing might be just around the corner.

At the same time, OPA announced that points allowable for meats and other red stamp products would be available from now on only at the rate of 30 points for each four weeks, instead of 60. The full import of this didn't hit the public immediately, but it did strike administration critics between the eyes.

On the floor of Congress, it was asserted that the new point allowance made butter, choice cuts of beef, and rationed cheese cost just twice as many points as before. Families who formerly got their 12-point a pound butter out of 30 points per person per fortnight are now going to have to get the same butter out of 15 points per person for every two weeks. Beef eaters, who formerly could see their points out over a period to satisfy their cravings for good red meat, now find they have only half as many points to play with.

Unless OPA was off the beam entirely, this is exactly what it intended. The announcement might very well have read: "We are taking all rationing off certain red stamp non-security articles for the time being; and doubling the point value of those still being rationed."

Adding to the confusion was a recently published article in a national magazine over Chester Bowles' by-line in which he predicted that many of the processed foods and meats wouldn't be free of rationing until after Germany, at least, is defeated and perhaps not until after the war in the Pacific is over.

Actually, according to government officials and others not involved in the fracas, the confusion arises more from mishandling of public pronouncements than in policies pursued.

One good point of our rationing law is its flexibility. Shortages or surpluses arising today can be taken care of within a few hours by lightening point-values here, lifting them there. Buried in the Bowles announcement of the lifting of some meat rationing was the warning that this might only be for a few months. If the word "temporary" had been written into the first sentence, much of the present criticism might have been avoided.

Detective Burg Hughes said the ex-convict and Mrs. Lewis, wife of a Tulsa railroad worker, were seen together in several beer taverns Saturday night.

Her body was found beside the Church of God in the northeast section of the city. Hughes said bruises on her head and body indicated she gave her assailant a hard struggle before she was slain.

Nine Convicted In Utah Trial

SALT LAKE CITY, May 22 (AP)—Eight men and one woman, members of the "Fundamentalist" cult which believes in plural marriage as an expression of religious freedom, were convicted today on federal white slave and kidnaping charges.

They are among 46 persons arrested by federal agents and Utah officers March 7 in a dual campaign aimed at wiping out polygamous practices in the west.

The convictions were imposed by Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy of Cheyenne, Wyo., last week, but were not disclosed until his decision reached federal court here today.

Fifteen Salt Lake City men including John Yates Barlow, 70-year-old cult president, were convicted Saturday of state charges of unlawful cohabitation, accusing them of consorting with 53 women not their legal wives.

Mark Clark Nearly Killed By Trap

ON THE FIFTH ARMY FRONT IN ITALY, May 22 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, Fifth army commander, narrowly missed being killed when a well-disguised booby trap on an abandoned German artillery piece exploded less than 25 feet from the jeep in which he was riding yesterday.

The explosion critically wounded one soldier and injured several others who had been standing near the Nazi anti-tank gun. Clark was making an inspection tour of the front.

Plants Process Timber

HOUSTON, May 22 (AP)—More than 700 East Texas plants are engaged in processing timber, ranging from sawing logs into lumber to building boxes, says M. M. Bryan, acting forest supervisor of the Houston office of the U. S. Forest Service.

During 1943 Texas produced more than 1,300,000,000 (billion) board feet of lumber, Bryan said.

More Showers Fall In Area

Big Spring and area had another taste of moisture Sunday night with .13 of an inch being added to the .82 of an inch which was recorded Saturday evening by the U. S. department of commerce weather bureau at the airport.

County Agent O. P. Griffin said sandy areas possibly would be able to plant on the shower, but reports were insufficient to judge whether tight land sections had received ample moisture to sprout a crop. Lomax and Elbow communities were said to have planting season and Coahoma, Center Point and Moore may have enough.

Holes in channels to city lakes were reported to be filled so that more showers all will go into the lakes. The T&P lake south of town caught a month's supply, greatly relieving strain on the city's short supply. Total rainfall to date is 3.39 as against 3.87 a year ago, but 2.13 of that last year fell on May 21.

Powell Creek lake, one of two which the city uses for water supply, caught 10 inches in its depleted basin. Elsewhere the weather picture was spotted.

Heavy rains and some hail struck the Dallas-Fort Worth area early Monday after high winds and electrical storms caused damage at San Antonio and at Franklin, Robertson county.

Dallas had 1.10 inches rainfall, accompanied by gusts of high wind and an electrical storm. Fort Worth had 1.17 inches, with light to moderate hail in some areas.

Rain, beneficial to Victory gardens and field crops, extended southeastward to Corsicana, 1.27 inches. Waco had .68.

Fire Chief M. L. Butler at San Antonio said lightning which struck a residence caused about $100 damage.

Local Scouters Take In Camping School

Seven local men returned early Monday from a camping school held in the Philmont scout reserve of northern New Mexico, having served as "scouts" for three days.

They studied camping practices, games, etc., and then put them into practice, using the rugged mountain country as their workshop. Making the trip were H. D. Norris, field executive; W. D. Berry, Justin Holmes, Dr. W. R. Hardy, Elrah Phillips, Dr. P. W. Malone and Cecil Westerman.

Millions Observe Day

"Wetback Situation" Is Now Causing Immigration Service A Headache

SAN ANTONIO, May 22 — Immigration service officials here and in Philadelphia today cited figures comparing deportations of aliens in 1942, 1943 and 1944 as proof that they are doing all in their power to control what border officers refer to as the "wetback situation."

A wetback is Rio Grande slanger who wades or swims the boundary stream to cash in on the booming fruit and vegetable labor market and running the risk of apprehension and deportation for high available wages.

William A. Wahien, district director of the U. S. immigration service for the border area along the Rio Grande from Langtry to the mouth of the river, said that in April border patrolmen took into and deported 2,280 aliens; in April last year the figure was 715; in April 1942 it was 234.

"We are not raiding farms and ranches to round up aliens, but we are picking them up constantly on the highways and in towns, or as many as we can catch coming across the Rio Grande," he said.

In Philadelphia, H. R. Landon, chief of the immigration service's exclusion and expulsion office, declared that Mexico contends there are approximately 25,000 of its nationals now in the United States illegally, many of them in Texas. He said the service was aware that a large number of wetbacks were entering the country, but that personnel of the border patrol is insufficient to export them all.

The immigration service finds itself the target of this double-barrelled criticism.

On one hand, farmers complain because every time a wetback is deported, they are deprived of needed labor; on the other hand, there have been complaints from Mexican officials that terms of the wetback program are not rigidly enforced.

Landon holds that the only function of his office under terms of the 1944 labor act is to enforce the agreement between the war food administration and the Mexican government. He said the WFA must actually sign contracts with the Mexican laborers, then sub-contract these workers to employers.

He added that one trouble in the situation is that Texans do not meet all terms of the agreements between WFA and Mexico. Under the act, the WFA was authorized to agree with Mexico on such matters as pay, hours and sanitation for Mexican workers. Mexico claims that there is discrimination against Latin Americans in Texas, that that Texas will not meet all terms of the agreement with the WFA.

Another factor in the situation is the claim by Rep. Milton West of Brownsville, that his amendment to the 1944 labor act—which became effective on Feb. 14 of this year—makes it lawful for a Texas farmer to go to Mexico and recruit help, and that it is not necessary for the hiring to be done by the War Food Administration.

West's amendment waived the $8 head tax and the literacy test to facilitate employment of foreign labor, and provided that such workers needed only identification cards and "shall be admitted to perform agricultural labor in the United States for ex-lease and under such conditions as may be required by regulations prescribed by the commissioner of immigration and naturalization with the approval of the attorney general."

C-C Committees Are Given Praise

Chamber of commerce directors Monday had words of praise for members of its highway committee and also noted with pleasure the inauguration of north-south air service through Big Spring.

After A. V. Karcher, who went with the group to Austin last week to press road claims for Howard county, had reported on order of steps toward a million-dollar road to Snyder, designation of the south section of the Garden City road, and paving of a section on what ultimately will be an extension to the proposed Andrews road, various members lauded the committee's work and paid tribute to Manager J. H. Greene.

Similarly, the aviation committee under Dr. P. W. Malone, was especially honored after the chairman had reported on the Continental Air Line stop here. Dr. Malone reported a six-year campaign in behalf of the project, told how briefs had been drawn, how several representatives, including Greene, Ted Groebel, Cal Boykin, Bob Whipkey had gone to Washington in its behalf, and how Continental eventually was named as carrier for the route. The matter of filing briefs in a pre-conference hearing in Washington on June 7 for feeder service to the committee.

Directors also heard reports on the freezer-locker unit and on the US 87 highway association meeting to be held in Denver, Colo. May 30-31.

Delivering the baccalaureate sermon to Big Spring high school's graduating class Sunday night, Chaplain James L. Patterson of Big Spring Bombarrier school listed health, intelligence, ability, social adjustments and spiritual life as achievements to be sought in the game of life.

Several hundred persons were present for the service, which was conducted in the municipal auditorium.

Chaplain Patterson compared life to a baseball game, and mentioned scores which may be made. His subject was "Son, Remember."

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, presided at the service. Mildred Watson gave the processional, followed by invocation by Rev. J. E. McCoy, pastor of the First Christian church. A hymn, "O Morn of Beauty" was sung by a girls' ensemble.

Candidate's Platform Has But One Plank

AUSTIN, May 22 (AP)—Minnie Fisher Cunningham, candidate for governor said today her platform had "only one plank and would fit on a postal card."

"Mobilization of the entire forces of the state behind the war effort, and the men and women who are in our fighting forces," is the whole kernel of her program.

The office and office force which has been handling the "Draft - Double - for - Governor" campaign, will now rally behind Mrs. Cunningham leaders in the Double campaign said.

Mrs. Cunningham advised they "do their best" to encourage J. Frank Doble to run, but in his last interview at Cambridge, England, where the former University of Texas professor is now teaching English, he evidenced that his "destiny was not in the direction of the Texas' governorship."

Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, active in women's political affairs and formerly connected with the extension service of Texas A. and M. college and the agricultural adjustment administration, said she had formally filed for a place on the ballot for governor in the July democratic primaries.

Body Discovered In San Antonio Elevator

SAN ANTONIO, May 22 (AP)—City detectives today were attempting to solve the mystery surrounding the death of Mary Lou Lowrey, an attractive brunette, whose partially clad body was found in an elevator in a downtown building early Sunday by Sergeant Charles Barrera and Detective E. E. Kelly of the homicide bureau.

"The dead woman's clothing was half torn from her body, and there were numerous bruises on her arms and legs and a bruise on each of her cheek bones," Barrera said in his report on the case.

Detectives were called to the building by Raymond Curry, night manager. They found the woman lying on the floor of an elevator and sent her to the county hospital where she was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Justice of the Peace Frank Vaughan is conducting an inquiry to determine the cause of her death.

Curry told officers that a party had been in progress on the third floor of the building and that it was attended by the dead woman, a 17-year-old girl and a 37-year-old woman employed at a downtown drugstore, a young man employee of the drugstore, and an employee of a downtown bar.

When tons of excess munitions were exploded in France after the last war the sound reverberated 200 miles.

State Labor Leader Proposes Change

AUSTIN, May 22 (AP)—A criminal appeals court decision declaring that limitation of hours under the child labor law must be enforced by sun time rather than central or war time today caused State Labor Commissioner John D. Reed to propose an amendment to the law to facilitate enforcement.

In letters to members of the state legislature Reed said: "I am sure that you can see the confusion that will exist in giving the proper interpretation and enforcement to this law as directed by court. Deputies doing this work would almost have to be qualified astronomers."

He pointed out that 10 p. m. solar time, would mean any time from 11:10 to 12 midnight, central war time, because no two cities from east to west across the state have the same solar time.

The child labor statute says a child of less than 15 can not be worked or be permitted to be on duty from 10 p. m. to 5 a. m., but the law does not stipulate whether standard, war or sun time applies.

The court ruled, on a case from Dallas county, that sun time is the only time and must be applied.

Cancellation Of Demo Convention Is Not Accepted

ATLANTA, May 22 (AP)—A suggestion by Georgia's Governor Ellis Arnall that the democratic party cancel its national convention on with the war—because "President Roosevelt will be accorded the nomination by acclamation"—had aroused little interest today among national party leaders.

Most members of congress who were available, including Senators George (D-Ga.) declined comment, but Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said the presidential candidate could not be legally chosen except in convention, and that the party gathering would be held regardless of indications as to nominees.

Arnall not only foresaw Roosevelt as the overwhelming democratic choice, but added that "his running mate will be the candidate of his choice."

Defense Motion Granted Gibson

PITTSBURGH, May 22 (AP)—Federal Judge R. M. Gibson today granted a defense motion to quash an indictment charging Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation with destructive of records of tests on steel ship plate.

The company also is charged in another indictment with falsification and concealing of records of the tests.

Summations of evidence on the second indictment still are to be heard.
