REPUBLICANS OPEN CONVENTION

MIDLAND TO STAGE JULY 4 PROGRAM Races, Street Dance And Ball Games Included

July 4 will be observed at Midland in a modest way. No pretentious program will be given, but a half dozen or more amusements at about 50 per cent of the usual charge will be available for some people any any visitors who may come.

T. Paul Barron, Aubrey S. Legg and the chamber of commerce secretary were appointed Monday night by President Marvin C. Ulmer to coordinate the various events for the benefit of those wishing to attend and for the best interests of those in charge of the different events.

The tentative program as proposed to the chamber of commerce Monday night follows: 9 a. m.—West Texas Tennis tournament in charge of W. D. Godby, candidates speaking, west side of courthouse at 9 a. m., horse races and perhaps a few roping events at Cowboy park at 2 p. m.

Bushers vs. Crane City at Bizzell park at 4 p. m., bathing beauty revue at Pagoda pool at 6 p. m., playground ball game Midland vs. Stanton at 6:30 p. m., free street dance at 9 p. m., dance at Hotel Scharbauer at 9 p. m., Yucca and Grand theatre open 1 p. m. to 11 p. m.

The only expense attached to the celebration will be an orchestra for the street dance and a sack of meal to pour on the asphalt. This cost, through a special arrangement was held to $12.34.

Other events will be self-supporting, the highest price for any of them will likely be 25 cents and the playground ball game may be seen for only a dime.

Dr. David M. Ellis has scheduled the Busher-Crane City game and it promises to be a hot scrap as Crane City has three ex-major leaguers who helped to swamp Midland Sunday.

"Scotty" Gemmill has arranged the playground baseball game with Stanton, and an all-star game also is like.

The candidates' speaking program is yet to be completed. County and district candidates will be invited to talk.

T. Paul Barron and Timberline Floyd are working on a horse racing program. It will not be a pretentious program, but will be worth the small fee charged, the promoters believe.

The proposed Pagoda bathing beauty revue is not certain. The pool is not open and no promise is made that a revue can be staged.

Gaston B. Means Is Guilty

Gaston B. Means, convicted late Monday of larceny in connection with the $104,000 ransom given by Mrs. Evelyn Wasko McLean in connection with his promise that he could return the Lindbergh baby, is liable to a maximum sentence of twenty years. He is pictured above with his wife.

DIRECTORS REFER PLAN TO SPECIAL COMMITTEE VIEW

A proposal that national holidays be observed in Midland be set in advance so that it would be unnecessary to circulate closing petitions and so that merchants would know when others were closing was referred Monday night by the chamber of commerce directors to the retailers committee for final action.

The chamber of commerce tax committee composed of M. C. Ulmer, R. M. Barron, George D. McCormick, and J. E. Hill and perhaps others plan to go to Lubbock June 24 to attend the budget and tax school of the West Texas chamber of commerce which lasts one day.

Directors present were: Ulmer, Barron, Hill, James S. Nolan, M. F. Peters, Judge M. R. Hill, T. Paul Barron, John Bonner, W. A. Yeager, Harvey Sloan, Aubrey S. Legg, W. B. Simpson, and Homer Epley.

Reports received here this afternoon branded unofficial reports of Monday as erroneous in reaching Pecos en route to Washington. Several motorists from the west said the group had not yet entered Texas, but was headed this way and continually on the move. It is not known when the motorcade will reach Midland.

RETURN TO LUBBOCK Charles C. Watson, Miss Marjorie Ainsworth and Max Bentley, weekend visitors in Midland, left Monday for Lubbock.

Watson is nighteditor of The Avalanche-Journal. Bentley sang at Sunday services of the First Baptist church. He was a guest of Ned and Miss Lydia G. Watson.

PROHIBITION REPEAL WOULDN'T OPEN SALOONS IN TEXAS; DEAN LAW IN WAY

By Gordon K. Shearer. United Press Staff Correspondent. AUSTIN, Texas, June 14. (UP)—Repeal of national prohibition would not open saloons in Texas. The Texas legislature could not repeal them. Only by a referendum and repeal of a state constitutional amendment could liquor traffic be resumed.

If that state constitutional amendment should be repealed and the legislature then repealed the "Dean law", liquor in Texas would be lawful. A question would still exist whether previous legislation, such as that prohibiting transportation of liquor in "dry" territory would have to be repealed if they were superseded by the Dean law.

All this does not mean Texans would have to go thirsty. The Texas wanting his bottle of liquor or his case of beer would simply order it from New Orleans or from the nearest wet point in some other state.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON, June 14. (UP)—Although the house was ready to pass the bonus bill, it lacked 42 of the necessary two-thirds for overriding a veto. The senate claimed to have a majority against the measure.

WASHINGTON, June 14. (UP)—Congress may adjourn Saturday. Senator McNary, republican of Oregon and assistant majority floor leader, said today after a conference with President Hoover.

NEW TAXES COME INTO EFFECT ON 21ST OF MONTH

WASHINGTON, June 14. (UP)—Most of the new taxes voted by congress in the $118,500,000 (B) will become effective on June 21. The measure, signed by President Hoover, on June 6, provided for its being put into operation 15 days later.

The excise taxes on various manufacturers will be paid by manufacturers on all goods they release into the channels of trade on June 21 or after. The public will begin to feel these taxes as the goods move to distributors and wholesalers and then to the retailer.

The new income tax rates—four per cent on the first $4,000, eight per cent on the next $4,000 and surtaxes up to 55 per cent on incomes over $1,000,000—will be levied for the calendar year 1932. Returns are due on March 15, 1933. The 13 3-4 per cent corporation tax is in the same class.

Excise Taxes Lubricating oil, four cents a gallon. Wort, 15 cents a gallon; malt syrup, three cents a pound; grape concentrates, 20 cents a gallon.

Tires and tubes, 2 1-2 and four cents a pound. Toilet preparations, 10 per cent. Dentifrices, five per cent. Furs, 10 per cent. Jewelry, 10 per cent ($3 exemption).

Automobiles, three per cent; trucks and accessories, two per cent; and cinematograph equipment, five per cent. Mechanical refrigerators, five per cent.

Sporting goods and cameras, 10 per cent. Firearms and shell, 10 per cent. Matches, wood, two cents per 1000; paper 1-2 cent per 1,000.

Candy, two per cent. Chewing gum, two per cent. Soft drinks, various rates. Electrical energy, three per cent on sales for domestic and commercial purposes (to be collected from consumer by power company).

Gasoline, one cent per gallon. (See NEW TAXES page 8)

Late Wire

LONDON, June 14. (UP)—The government called the New York British consul-general today, requesting a report on the suicide of Violet Sharpe. The report was expected to be sent by mail from Washington.

TULSA, June 14. (UP)—Despite pool fluctuations, aggregate crude petroleum production in the United States was virtually unchanged for the week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Tyler, June 14. (UP)—Fire destroyed a gin and crate factory at Bullard, ten miles south of here, today. Loss was estimated at $40,000.

LONDON, June 14. (UP)—The admiralty announced that the cruiser Durban was proceeding to Callao, Peru, in the event of need for protection of British interests in Chile.

AUSTIN, June 14. (UP)—The oil and gas division of the railroad commission today reported 1,119 drilling applications filed in May compared with 787 in April. Gregg county led with 359. New producers in May totaled 639, Gregg county leading with 248.

Delegates Sit Where Hammers Rang a Prelude

The above photo shows the republican convention headquarters hall a few days ago. Today thousands of delegates, press members and gallery hangers-on are seated in the structure, as the hue and cry for reelection of President Hoover is started. The democrats will use the same building for their convention soon.

Famed Auto Racer, Show, Here Monday

Wilbur Shaw, famed automobile racer, was in Midland Monday en route to California on a testing trip with a new Ford-8.

In the recent Indianapolis speedway run, Shaw was leading the fast field past the 300-mile mark, when a broken axle forced him to retire from the competition.

He visited at the Cowden-Epley Motor company to have his car checked.

Orphans Please Methodist Crowd

Orphans from the Methodist Home in Waco entertained Monday evening at the First Methodist church with orchestra and vocal numbers. A good crowd attended and applauded each number.

The entire group sang three numbers and the orchestra played three. The youngest girl in the group entertained with vocal and violin solos and readings.

After the program, they were given a party on the church lawn. Fifty-four young people attended, 28 of them from Waco.

Tennis Tourney Finished Monday

Theo Ferguson and Charles Levinson won a couple of loving cups each and Louis Levinson and "Stink" Dorsey each took one as a result of the city tennis tournament.

Ferguson and Charles Levinson won the singles championship in the men's and the junior class, respectively, then teamed in the men's doubles and won that match.

Dorsey and Louis Levinson won the junior doubles. Ferguson and Levinson beat W. T. Godbey and Frank Day in the finals Monday, 6-3, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

BABY BORN A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Link, 1101 West Illinois at a local hospital June 11.

Juvenile Burglars Here Prefer Fruit And Keys to Loot

Fruit, keys and golf balls seem to be the preferred stock being laid in by a gang of juvenile housebreakers in East Maiden Lane.

W. E. Collier, 106 East Maiden Lane, found an apple, three keys and a dozen golf balls missing from his residence Monday, and W. C. Shull, who lives next door to the east, missed fruit and keys.

The thieves had ransacked dresser drawers in his home, but nothing appeared to have been taken. It was thought likely they were searching for money or for a revolver.

In each instance, entrance had been made by cutting screen and raising a window. Both places were burglarized during the daylight hours, and evidently by persons who know the families of the two men were not at home.

No clues were left save for bare-foot tracks on hardwood floors.

First Plane Flight Almost Disastrous

MANSFIELD, Eng. (UP)—Having waited 102 years before going up in an airplane, a Mrs. Stansall had a narrow escape from disaster on her first flight here recently.

Shortly after her 102nd birthday, Mrs. Stansall wrote to Sir Alan Cobham, who was holding an aviation exhibition in Mansfield, asking him to take her aloft. What was more, she asked to loop-the-loop.

A flight was arranged for a party of 17, including the Mayor and Mayor's wife, but on landing the plane lost two wheels, and with a wing dragging the ground, narrowly averted disaster.

Alighting from the plane, the old lady primly rearranged her hat and declared that the flight had been "grand."

DEPUTY SHOOTS SELF Perry E. Step, former deputy sheriff of Garden City, died from gunshot wounds self inflicted, according to a coroner's verdict. His body was found several days ago there.

Step was despondent, his friends said, over failing health.

Here's Your Chance, Vegetable Eaters

Who wants some canned beans, peas, corn and other vegetables? The Midland chamber of commerce started a canned goods department Tuesday calculated to be for the mutual good of farmers and town people.

Here's how it works: Somebody furnishes tin cans, and the farm family will fill the cans with vegetables on the halves, i. e. the can furnisher gets half of the filled cans and the vegetable grower keeps half.

Mrs. Jeff King is the first woman to start the new plan. She has beans, peas, and corn to can. She wants somebody to furnish her with 500 No. 2 1-2 tin cans which will cost $3.10 per hundred. She will fill these 500 with fine vegetables and keep 250, giving the other 250 to the person who furnished the cans. If there is someone who wishes to furnish all or part of these cans, she is asked to call the chamber of commerce and all arrangements will be made.

By this plan, people get succulent vegetables, tastier as good as garden fresh vegetables at a total cost of 7 cents for a large can. Mrs. King will use No. 3 cans if the can buyer prefers.

Four Midlanders Attend CMTC Camp

Four Midland boys have gone to CMTC camp for 30 days, at Fort Bliss, El Paso. Carl Reeves has been assigned to Battery A and will take the "blue" course; Alfred Hallman and Louis Canteloni to Troop E and the basic course.

These courses include citizenship, pistol and rifle target practice, horsemanship, swimming, school of the soldier, mass athletics and many other interesting subjects.

Their duty with the colors will last only a month, but during this time they will live the healthy outdoor life of the American soldier, together with 200 other students from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona.

State Committee For Referendum

AUSTIN, June 14.—The Texas state democratic executive committee decided Monday to submit the question of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to a referendum of voters participating in the July party primaries.

The vote was 16 to 13. Carl Estes of Tyler proposed the resolution which would permit the voters to express themselves for or against resubmission of constitutional prohibition by the congress to the people through conventions especially elected by the separate states to consider that issue.

The state democratic convention that selected delegates to the national nominating convention recently went on record in favor of resubmission.

BOOZE IS OFFERING A BATTLE

Hoover's Record in Depression Fight Brought up

CONVENTION STADIUM, CHICAGO, June 14. (UP)—Republican convention delegates gathered today to listen to Senator Dickinson of Iowa, keynote speaker. He laid down the Hoover administration's record in fighting the depression.

Empty spectators' seats greeted the speaker. There was little boisterousness. Dickinson's speech presented a basis for returning Hoover to the White House.

Nearby police lines held communists in check, permitting spokesmen from a soap box. Women peace advocates paraded in a peace demonstration. Thousands were outside the police lines about the stadium.

The issue remained paramount among the uncertainties of the convention. Delegates were sharply divided over repeal of the administration's plank for resubmission. Details were lacking as to inclusion or omission of machinery.

Chairman opened with a flat eulogy. The usual news pictures were taken.

"The flag was unfurled first in the struggle for independence," Fess said. "It stands for the liberties of all beneath its folds. It went through the struggles of the World war. It stands for more than a mere struggle on the field of battle—for the arts of peace."

Edward N. Huxley, Chicago business man, Edward N. Huxley, Chicago business man, brought the convention here, and Mayor Cermak were introduced.

Forces booming Dawes for vice-president were in the convention as the session progressed today.

Oklahoma Delegates For Farm, Oil Tariff

CHICAGO, June 14. (UP)—The Oklahoma republican delegation passed a resolution at a caucus last night, urging inclusion of a tariff on products from farms, mines and oil wells.

Speakeasies Closed As Wets Parade

CHICAGO, June 14. (UP)—Federal officers closed thirteen speakeasies last night as wet demonstrators paraded preceding the republican national convention.

High Spirits Shown By First Arrivals

CHICAGO, Ill., June 14. (UP)—Thousands gathered in the convention hall here today to see the republican party begin its work of nominating Herbert Hoover to succeed himself as president of the United States.

For the next few days the more than 1,000 delegates and many times that number of camp followers will struggle with platforms, resolutions and party policies. Then a ballot will be taken and the cry of "Hoover and Curtis" will again be heard.

The great convention hall was packed as Chairman Simon D. Fess of the republican national committee called the convention to order. On the floor were the delegates and alternates, in high spirits. Their banners were with them. They came equipped to make a show of enthusiasm at the slightest provocation. (See GOP CONVENTION page 8)

WHERE ECONOMY IS NEEDED

The federal government has balanced its budget. But before you start to cheer, you might remember that the country contains 48 state governments and several thousand city and county governments, each of which has a budget of its own; and all but a very few of them could do with a whole lot more in the way of economy than they have ever had yet.

Furthermore, it is the money spent by these governments that bears most heavily on the average citizen.

If federal taxes go up, the citizen of modest means may have to pay out $25 in taxes annually instead of $10; but his city, state and county governments will take from him—if he is a property owner—anywhere from $100 to $300 a year, and if he wants relief from the "burden of taxation" that we hear so much about it he ought to remember just what part of the burden it is that is the heaviest.

In the main, city and state indebtedness has gone skyrocketing in the past decade. In 1930 the state alone owed nearly two and one-half billions. City debts in most cases have shot up even faster.

And there is a lot more lost motion in city and state governments than there is at Washington. Inefficiency and graft amount to more. A bigger percentage of the taxpayer's dollar is drained off to take care of "the boys."

There is, though, one comfort. It has been proved that honest and determined executives can cut down state and city budgets—if they want to.

Virginia, for instance, had a deficit of $1,358,000 two years ago. Today it has a surplus of more than $2,500,000. Georgia recently cut down its state departments from 102 to 17—with vast savings. Maine made one agency do the work of 45. North Carolina followed a similar path and saved its taxpayers $12,000,000.

In addition, such cities as Milwaukee and Cincinnati have shown how municipal expenses can be slashed if the men at the top really try.

Those things are worth remembering. Balancing the federal budget is not enough. The states and cities have got to start economizing too.

SOUND SENSE FROM DENVER'S MAYOR

Mayor George D. Begole of Denver seems to have uttered some sound sense in his address before the gathering of mayors at Detroit the other day.

American cities, he said, threw their resources to the winds in prosperous times and are now reaping the whirlwind. Furthermore, he asserted, a federal "prosperity loan" would be nothing more than a grab-bag into which every municipality would dip.

Few people will disagree with those remarks. Unwise and extravagant, city government has caused most of the cities' troubles; and the prospect of pouring federal funds into assorted city treasuries isn't exactly a thing to cheer about. Necessity may force us to it, of course. But we might as well remember just why it has to be done.

McGRAW: A BASEBALL LEGEND

Any baseball fan under the age of 35, or thereabouts—and there are a good many million in that classification—is unable to remember back to a time when John McGraw was not manager of the New York Giants.

His resignation, therefore, seems like a fundamental change in the institution of big league baseball itself.

Quitting the game, he steps into baseball's academy of the immortals. There, with such names as Cobb, Mathewson, Chance, Bresnahan, Evers, Wagner, Young and all the rest, he takes his place among the legends of the game; the legends that every youngster hears when he learns the game, the legends that help to give the great American game the color and sparkle that make its appeal perennial.

A motion picture crew, bound for the Far North to screen a drama of the frozen wastes is taking along its own synthetic snow. While that may not be hauling coals to Newcastle, it is at least bringing cornflakes to the Eskimos.

given authority by the chamber of commerce last night to work up the program.

Of course the Yucca and the Grand will be wide open for business in the afternoon and at night, there is some possibility that Padoda pool will be opened in time for the fourth, both hard and soft baseball will be played, Hotel Scharbauer will stage a big dance in the ball room and, on top of all this, the committee has been voted a fund for hiring an orchestra and buying a sack of meal for a street dance.

Police Chief Andy Norwood will be asked for a good strip of pavement to be roped off for the hop and Mayor Leon Goodman will be invited to choose his partner to lead the first dance. After that if he goes on over to Arthur Jury's dance, he won't be missed because the street will be crowded to capacity anyway.

The chamber of commerce is serving as a clearing house for the day's entertainment but will be out only $14 in money, it is reliably reported. The entertainment, aside from the street dance, will pay its own way. The street dances will be free and everybody invited, just as long as they behave.

Folks, don't plan to leave town the fourth. You can have enough fun to be tired out when night comes and it won't cost you a lot of money like it would if you went somewhere else.

The candidate speaking, planned for the morning of the fourth will be the principal forenoon attraction, except that the big tennis tournament will be under way all day long. The speaking will be on the shady side of the court house, according to plans of the committee which was

AIR PATHS of GLORY

By DEXTER TEED NEA Service Writer

Two army aviators shot a plane at a mark 2400 miles away and—hit the bull's-eye! Who were they and what has become of them? Their names are Lieut. Lester J. Maitland and Lieut. Albert F. Hegenberger. They are still flyers.

Delicate Business It was five years ago this June that they jumped aboard their big plane and soared away from Oakland, Calif., bound for Hawaii over the same route on which the gallant Capt. Rodgers faced death. Since they aimed at that little cluster of islands out in the broad Pacific, they must navigate perfectly. A mistake in two degrees in calculations would let them hurtle by, on to an almost certain watery grave.

If they missed the islands, the next landing place would be 2500 miles farther, at the Solomon Islands. But they had fuel enough to carry them only the 2400 miles to Hawaii, so they could not fail.

They were expert pilots. Maitland, enlisting in the army air corps during the World war, took to flying naturally. Hegenberger had had almost as much experience. And both had been in planes practically every day for years.

24 Hours Pass Their plane soared on, maintaining a speed of approximately 100 miles an hour despite wind, occasional banks of fog and treacherous currents of air that buffeted it. They checked their instruments constantly, allowed for drift. As the hours passed and they went over to Arthur Jury's dance, they peered anxiously ahead, trying to discover those little black smears on the blue horizon that they knew they must reach.

As they passed the 24 hour mark the suspense was nerve-racking. It was almost unbearable. And then they saw a faint outline of something. It became plainer and they breathed sighs of relief. They landed at Wheeler Field, Honolulu, in 25 hours and 50 minutes. They had navigated perfectly and they piloted perfectly. They had hit the bull's-eye!

In the days that have passed since they were applauded so lustily for that feat, they have been in and out of the limelight.

Maitland wrote a book about the flight. Then he returned to Kelly field in Texas, and became a reliable pilot who could train other flyers and do test piloting for the army. He specialized in speed flying. Eventually he was decorated by President Coolidge.

In 1920 he was injured seriously in an automobile accident. The same day his wife was awarded a divorce on a charge of mental cruelty. Maitland is completely recovered from the accident now and he continues flying. It is the

Hawk Summons Two Institutes

Budget making institutes are being organized by the West Texas chamber of commerce to be held in Lubbock, June 24, and Breckenridge, June 27.

Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo, president of the regional organization announced the two institutes in the semi-monthly news-letter to the directors after tentative plans for one institute had been previously announced for Lubbock. The change to two institutes was made to make it more convenient for the 82 local public expenditures and taxation committees in as many West Texas cities to attend.

The purpose of the institutes is set out in the announcement from Hawk as follows:

"With a view to being of the maximum service to our local public expenditures and taxation committees, and others interested, our central public expenditures and taxation committee is organizing two one-day institutes upon budget making in local units of government—cities, counties, and schools. "Uniform budget forms, and a standard method of procedure in the creation of budgets will be presented by competent authorities. "We expect to have all of our directors attend; all members of the local public expenditures and taxation committees, all chamber of commerce secretaries, and others interested, including public officials, and chamber of commerce presidents." Budget making in local units of government is the first work assignment given the local committees by the regional chamber's central committee on public expenditures and taxation which has as its general objective the reduction of public expenditures. With the committees created—the machinery set up—and with this assignment already made, the institutes are being organized to set the machinery in motion to accomplish definite results in budget making in West Texas cities, counties and school districts.

ATTORNEY for the DEFENSE with EDMUND LOWE

WHAT HAS HAPPENED Bill Burton, District Attorney, con- sidered an innocent man, and so near that he resigns his post and becomes an Attorney for the Defense in an effort to save the accused from the chair. He also breaks with Valeska Lorraine, whom he finds is double-crossing him. For further developments, he turns the wife and orphan of the man he has unwittingly sent to the chair.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY Burton found that Helen Wallace and her son, Paul, had moved from the modest flat they had occupied with John Wallace was with them, into a poorer neighborhood. There was no bell, so she knocked on the door. "Who is it?" A woman's voice called out. Just as the boy opened the door, she was sitting at a bare kitchen table, sobbing violently. "What do you want?" he demanded, defiantly. "Haven't you done enough to us? Go away!"

"Get out of here! Don't you see you're making her cry" (Posed by Edmund Lowe, Dorothy Peterson and Douglas Haig)

Governor's office, think about them. They didn't commit any crime either, but you're making that boy an orphan and that woman a widow. Go on! Run for Governor!" His face now grave, the District Attorney again arose to address the Court. "I submit to your honor whether or not I have conducted this case in a proper manner," he said. "You have, Mr. District Attorney. You have been eminently fair throughout the trial and the court feels that the verdict was reached entirely in accordance with the evidence. "I thank your honor. And in fairness to the defendant, I ask that his statement be also made part of the record. "It is so ordered. "As he entered his office, Burton was greeted like a conqueror here. Sympathetic young lawyers, now Assistant District Attorneys by the grace of some Tammany leader, called congratulations to him. "Well, boss, another feather in your cap," one exclaimed. "A feather in my cap," Burton mused. "Was a horsefeather?" Ruth Barry, his secretary, replied. "Why do you say that?" "Because that's what I think." "Didn't you hear what the judge said about me—about my able and fearless presentation of the people's case?" "The people had no case. All they had was a very clever District Attorney. If you had been Wallace's lawyer, he would have had a free man today. He was convicted entirely on circumstantial evidence, and you know it!" "What's the difference as long as he's guilty?" he asked. "You didn't prove he was—you just made the jury think so." "He's guilty, Barry." Burton brought the colloquy to an end in a manner which left the girl no doubt that he actually was convinced John Wallace had been justly tried and brought to book for the crime he had committed. "Many women had shared minor roles in Burton's life, but there was one woman for whom Bill Burton cared more than any of the rest. She was Valeska Lorraine, a brunette of thirty-one, who had been in the Ziegfeld Follies. It was only half-past eleven. Burton saw by a swift glance at his watch he hadn't breakfasted yet. Why not make a surprise call on Val. She would probably be just getting up. Burton took a key from his pocket and let himself into her suite. "Val wore a lacy negligee and was sitting on a small settee. Nearby, his derby hat set jauntily atop his sleek black hair, sat a young

Bridge Party Honors Bride-Elect

BY REPORTER Complimenting Miss Janelle Edwards, popular bride-elect of this week, Misses Dorris Harrison and Dorothy Bess Stanley entertained Monday afternoon with a bridge party and miscellaneous shower at the Harrison home, 1008 West Tennessee. The home was attractively decorated with a profusion of roses, snapdragons and fern placed at vantage points about the reception suite. The guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses and Misses J. R. Harrison and A. W. Stanley. After registering in the bride's book, presided over by Miss Mary Belle Pratt, bridge games were enjoyed by six tables of players. High score trophy, an imported handwoven luncheon cloth, went to Miss Helen Margaret Ulmer, and cut prize, hand-embroidered pillow cases, was won by Miss Bernice Hill. They in turn graciously presented the gifts to the honor guest.

labor to lighten, And all your days to gladden and lighten." Gifts, concealed in a huge pink and white wedding bell, showered down upon the honoree. After the pleasant task of untying and viewing the gifts, Miss Edwards charmingly expressed her appreciation for the thoughtfulness of her friends. Those who enjoyed the charming hospitality of Miss Harrison and Miss Stanley and to wish the bride-elect-to-be all happiness were: Misses Catheryn Ratliff, Vicksburg, Miss. Zoe Ratliff, El Paso, Francis Ratliff, El Paso, Ella Jean Harris, Fort Worth, Mildred Henderson, Odessa, Caroline Sims, Marie Belle Pratt, Nancy Rankin, Marie Hill, Helen Margaret Ulmer, Ida Beth Cowden, Martha Louise Nobles, Ruby Hodges, Helen Hodges, Margaret Francis, Eulalia Whitefield, Annie Laurie Hix, Jewel Midkiff, Jess Edith Carlisle, Adleese Haag, Annie Fay Dunagan, Imogene Cox, Bernice Hill, Bernice Sue Ratliff, Dorothy Ratliff, Jean Wolcott, Elma Collins, and Misses Bill Elvins and Alf Reece Jr., Royce City. Tea hour guests were Misses Margaret Ulmer, and cut prize, hand-embroidered pillow cases, was won by Miss Bernice Hill. They in turn graciously presented the gifts to the honor guest.

Howard County Vet Gets Medal

BIG SPRING—Robert Lee Winn, who was wounded in action on the St. Mihiel front September 26, 1918, Wednesday, became the first Howard county veteran of the world war to receive the Purple Heart medal, approved by congress, for men wounded in action or cited for valor. Mr. Winn served with Company H, 360th Infantry, 90th division. The Purple Heart medal, approved during the Washington Bicentennial celebration, is one of the most beautiful decorations the government has issued. The medal hangs from a purple ribbon with white border. It is heart-shaped and about 3-16th inch thick. The border is gold and the profile of George Washington, in gold, is raised from a purple background. Above the profile is a shield bearing three stars and two stripes in red on a white background. On the reverse side are the words, "For Military Merit," with the name of the man to which it was awarded carved in the metal. With the medal comes a lapel pin, a single purple stripe, signifying that the wearer has been awarded the Purple Heart Medal. All men who were wounded in line of duty or cited for special acts of bravery are eligible to receive this medal. Mr. Winn estimated 50 Howard county men may qualify for it and said that it may be received by them by sending their service records to the Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

FLYING BICYCLE

BERLIN—Two German inventors have perfected flying bicycles. The most unusual of these is one powered by rockets. The bicycle is fitted with wings and rocket attachments. The pilot pedals until his speed is enough for him to get off the ground, then ignites the rockets and is shot through the air at a high rate of speed. Tests have been successful. DOLLAR DAYS—JUNE 16, 17, 18 HED' WALK 30 MILES DENVER—What is worse than a good, old-fashioned case of homesickness? Little Curtis Phifer, 12, remarks that there is nothing just as miserable. The lad was taken from the custody of his mother, Mrs. Nan Phifer, and placed on a farm near Boulder. Curtis didn't think much of the farm, so he started to trudge 30 weary miles back to his mother's arms. Authorities found him with his mother, and it was decided to let her keep him. Great Britain is about three times the size of Ireland. DOLLAR DAYS—JUNE 16, 17, 18

Do you inhale? "Let sleeping dogs lie" Why should smokers accept this old-fashioned notion of the cigarette trade? BY this time you must be pretty well convinced of the fact that other cigarettes do not like to talk about inhaling. And yet—this subject—so "untouchable" in cigarette advertising—is very close to your welfare! For you do inhale—well do—knowingly or unknowingly, every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette. "Let sleeping dogs lie" may be the cigarette trade's answer to us! But what's their answer to you? Do you inhale? Lucky Strike does not avoid this vital question. It meets the issue fairly and squarely—because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Lucky Strike's famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it! "It's toasted" Your Protection—against irritation—against cough

ICEMEN AND HARDWARE TIED FOR FIRST; TESCO BIDS TONIGHT

ESKIMOS LOSE FIRST GAME OF THE YEAR; NEWSIES AND GROCERYMEN IN TIE FOR THIRD; TWO GAMES TONIGHT

Through the loss last evening of the Eskimos of Southern Ice to The Reporter-Telegram News Devils and the winning of Midland Hardware from Cowden-Epley's Ford distributors, two important changes in the Industrial league show in the standings today.

The Ice men, who had not lost a game this season, were tumbled into a two-way tie with the hardware boys and the newspapermen climbed into a tie for third place with the Hokus-Pokus grocery men.

An added significance is seen in Texas Electric's bid tonight for nesting on top with the other two clubs. The Meter Readers play Southwestern Bell at 8 o'clock and are favored to cop. Too, the Hokus-Pokus lads, who have been playing a great game all season, are expected to pull away from their tie with The Reporter-Telegram when they play the Petroleum Drug at 7.

Last night's encounter of Midland Hardware with Cowden-Epley was smooth sailing all the way for the winners. Behind Pyron's fast and clever pitching they were never in trouble, and emerged with a 15-2 lead. They outthrew the losers 16-7. The game was played in 55 minutes, and the Hardwaremen scored 12 hits in the fatal fifth. Hiet, and Morgan homered.

The second game was a wow in spots, with hits, runs and errors running closely together. The Ice men scored the first run, only to lose the lead right away. They never were out front afterward, although the going was tight in every inning and Eskimo batsmen almost disrupted the News Devils' edge in the last frame. Sam Warren's work at utility field and Scotty Gemmill's

WICHITA TOURNEY DRAWS WOMEN OF THE ENTIRE AREA

WICHITA FALLS (UP).—Although neither the 1931 champion or runner-up will be contestants, officials of the Texas Women's Municipal Golf association anticipate a fast field for their organization's second annual tournament which will be held here over the Weeks Park Golf club course June 20-25.

Their anticipations are based upon the large number of early entries which to date include delegations from almost every section of the state.

Mrs. F. C. Rochon, Wichita Falls, 1931 champion who won her title at Dallas, is not eligible for defending it because she has joined a country club and played in the recent Texas Women's Golf association tournament at Fort Worth. Mrs. J. R. English, last year's runner-up, is now living in Kansas. The competition is open only to those who are residents of Texas and who have not been members of a country club affiliated with the Texas Woman's Golf association since January 1, 1932.

Officials in charge of the tournament are Mrs. J. A. Rhodes, president, Miss Winnie Maye Giddings, secretary-treasurer, and William Strachan, Weeks Park professional. All entries together with the required fee of $3 will be in the hands of one of the latter two before June 20 to be acceptable. It has been announced, Strachan may be reached in care of the Weeks Park club while Miss Giddings' address is 2130 Avenue J, Wichita Falls. Strachan will interpret the rules and decide all questions during the play.

have taken pause. Mr. Moriarty is a poet.

When the embattled umpire offered to take on all the White Sox alive, one by one, he may have been dreaming of Thermopylae, or something like that. Anyhow, when Pitcher Milt Gaston essayed to be the first of the Sox Moriarty had to lick, George pulled a punch from the very depths of his poetic soul and knocked Gaston colder than four aces.

Tough Bard, Too
How many of the White Sox George could have taken, one by one, is just guesswork, of course, but I'd say a conservative number would be between 40 and 50. If you could write and peddle such poetry as George has written and peddled, you could lick the White Sox, too.

George finally went down fighting, like a true poet. Infuriated Sox practiced hook sliding with George's head for a base. But even in his hour of travail, Moriarty lived up to the Moriarty tradition. Bill Dineen, fellow-ump, moved over as if to interfere, but George told him to lay off, Macduff.

Here's a Sample
But to forget the fight and get back to the poetry. Looking through an old scrapbook, I chanced upon a bit of verse by Moriarty, entitled: "Don't Get Chesty." Here it is:
"O, why should the spirit of mortal be proud? The mortals I mean of a ball playing crowd."
Today, hailed by fandom as

'Champs,' if you please; tomorrow as well liked as cooties and fleas.

"You pull down a liner that saves the old game, and rookers rejoice just to mention your name."
"Then, in a few days if you miss a pop fly and let in a run, you're a terrible guy."
"You smash the old apple for days in a row, and each time you swing you come through with a blow."
"Then, all of a sudden you slump and they hum. 'The title of king is attached to a bum.'"

Manager and Umpire
"Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud? The miracle-manager, Mickey O'Dowd, with just the same ball club he copped with last year, has finished a kilo or two in the rear."
"The pitcher who towers above all the rest; the catcher, just why should he throw out his chest and brag of achievements? He cannot forestall the trip to the bushes that follows his fall."
"And then we consider Joe ump in the fray; a mortal no less than the others who play. He rules absolutely with a wave of his paw, and yet everyone wants to land on his jaw."
"O, why should the spirit of mortal be proud? The mortals I mean of a ball-play—g cr 7d."

"There you have a sample of the output of Moriarty's muse. Milt Gaston probably never read the verse, but he probably is ready to agree George should have wasted no time writing poetry."

Couple Lives Six Months on 2 Thin Dimes But Subsists

By NEA Service
PETERBORO, N. Y.—For six months Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, an old couple living on a farm here, have supported themselves on 20 cents in actual cash—one-ninth of a cent a day.

They faced the winter last fall with that pitifully small sum as their total capital. But they didn't seek charity. Although he is 73 years old and she is 64, they wouldn't give up. By a rare combination of courage and ingenuity, they managed to eat regularly.

And now, with summer coming soon, they are still healthy and more or less happy.

Back to Barter
With no regular market for their farm products—butter, milk and eggs—they realized they must return to the age-old method of barter to get the food they needed. Despite the depression, the cows were giving milk and the hens were laying.

So Mrs. Marshall would pack up a few dozen of eggs or a few pounds of butter as attractively as possible, and her husband would walk the two and a half miles to this village or to Cazenovia, somewhat farther. Then he would go from store to store until he found somebody who would trade with him.

He traded eggs for flour and sugar, butter for meat or other necessities such as salt, spices, canned goods and assorted groceries. Not a cent changed hands.

Keeping Cheerful
Sometimes this method was very discouraging, because it was difficult to do business in that way. But Marshall, despite his age, persisted and always brought home the bacon even if he was forced to spend many hours going from store to store.

The old couple, married 30 years ago at Atlantic City, have always lived on the same farm since the marriage.

They are not going to starve or seek charity so long as they can get enough to eat by bartering. The 20 cents is all gone, but they are selling a few products now. They are cheerful, busy and contented.

NOT SO BAD
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—By reading a good book for two hours a day, Kenneth Ensign, 19, can escape serving a prison sentence of from five years to life. These terms, passed by Judge James H. Wolfe after Ensign had entered a plea of guilty to a robbery, are to be checked regularly by the youth's sister, to whom he has been paroled. The reading course is to extend over a period of two years.

Questions and Answers about Conoco Germ Processed Oil

Q: WHAT DOES "GERM PROCESS" MEAN?
A: The words "Germ Process" describe the scientific method by which this oil is manufactured. Such processing adds immeasurably to the oil's lubricating properties. North American patent rights to this Process are owned by Continental—only CONOCO oils are Germ Processed!

Q: IS IT DIFFERENT FROM OTHER OILS?
A: Yes. It is the only oil of its kind, and does what no other oil can do. The Germ Process gives it the ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces in your motor. The Germ Process also gives more "oiliness" than any other oil. Any oil would be better oil if Germ Processed.

Q: WHAT IS THE "HIDDEN QUART"?
A: The "Hidden Quart" is tangible evidence that CONOCO Germ Processed Oil penetrates metal surfaces and gives surer, safer lubrication. During the first 250 to 350 miles after your first fill with Germ Processed Oil, a pint to a quart seemingly disappears. On later fills, it does not. That's the Hidden Quart—it stays up in your motor and never drains away! Other oils drain away when your car is idle, leaving vital parts unlubricated during the starting period, when almost half of all motor wear occurs. CONOCO'S Hidden Quart lubricates before your motor starts—cutting down costly starting wear!

Q: WHY SHOULD I CHANGE TO CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL?
A: Because, by cutting down starting wear, it gives your motor longer life, keeps it sweet-running and saves expensive repair bills. Because Germ Processed Oil's extra oiliness makes your car run better. It forms a stronger piston-ring seal, making starting easier and giving more power. It withstands crankcase dilution and high temperatures. CONOCO Germ Processed Motor Oil gives you the safest, surest lubrication you can buy. Change now to this better oil at any CONOCO Red Triangle station.

Grazing Lease Cut Is Favored

Representative Penrose B. Metcalfe district will ask the board of regents of the state university for a reduction of grazing lease in several West Texas counties. He is of the opinion that a reduction should be made, but whether or not it will be done is problematical. Ranchmen who have university grazing leases cannot afford to pay higher rentals and declare that a reduction of the former lease should be made. Ranchmen here point out that the majority of university lands for grazing purposes are not worth as much as fee lands. It is also feared that if the higher leases are not paid the ranchmen they have spent in improving the will not be reimbursed for money lands for ranching purposes. The original lessor's contract, under a new ruling is violated when the sub-leases university land. And then the improvements he has put on the lands are taken by the university, allowing the ranchmen nothing for his expenses. It is doubtful if the board of regents will make a cut, Metcalfe said, due to the fact that fee leases have not come down much.
