PUBLIC UTILITIES BILL BEING JUGGLED BY TEXAS SOLONS

AUSTIN, June 4.—(UP)—Round one in the fight over public utilities legislation was fought in the Texas senate today without decision.

Whether the proposed public utilities bill should go to the state affairs committee or the committee on civil jurisdiction was left undecided when the senate recessed.

The former committee acted favorably toward the bill at the last two sessions. The decision as to where the bill should be sent rests with the President Pro Tempore Parrish, in the absence of Harry Miller.

Governor to Speak When the senate reconvenes late today it will have a joint session with the house to hear the governor's address calling for economy.

The governor is alarmed at $57,000,000 appropriations measures of the senate and the $46,000,000 appropriated by the house.

The house spent the morning session discussing the proposed rural school aid bill.

Holiness Church Revival Begins; Roberts Preaching

Rev. Roberts returned Monday night from Abilene, where he was called by the serious illness of Mrs. A. B. Tilley.

West Coast Story Cause of Company's Ordering Air Maps

One oil company in California, reading a Midland story in the Los Angeles Examiner, sent for 75 strip maps drawn by O. C. Harper for aviators flying between Midland and El Paso.

The oil company ordered the maps sent to its aviation department.

The maps not only were wanted for safety insurance of flyers of the company, but because of the showing of all oil fields of the West Texas Permian Basin and Eastern New Mexico.

Superintendent May Teach Latin At San Marcos

W. W. Lackey, superintendent of the city public schools, will probably teach Latin and English in the San Marcos teachers college this summer, he stated to a reporter in reply to questioning.

"I am not positive whether I will go to that school or to Texas University," Lackey said. "Dr. Eby the one who delivered the class address to the graduating class here, has asked me to come to Texas. I have not made up my mind on the matter."

The superintendent has formerly taught Latin, English and education while away at summer sessions at teachers colleges.

HARRY AND DOC VIE FOR HONORS ENTAILED IN TAIL TWISTING HERE

When the Lions assemble in the crystal room of Hotel Scharbauer Wednesday noon, something tense in the atmosphere may vent itself in a torrent of words, members of the organization believe.

Harry L. Haight and "Doc" Ellis are being put forward by their friends for the office of tailtwister. Each gentleman has his own peculiar qualifications for the position.

The platforms of the two are unlike as antagonists. Haight believes that might makes right; "Doc," being a chiropractor, believes that might makes riches.

Harry accuses "Doc" of playing golf; "Doc" comes back with the assertion that Harry plays the horses.

Harry says he is for a cleaner Lions club; "Doc" says his worthy opponent should leave that black cigar when he comes up to lunch, then.

Harry says that years of twisting cattle tails more properly qualifies him for the position; "Doc" comes back to say that a chiropractor gets more experience, and "who says that Lions can be driven to eat and drink like a bunch of cattle, anyway?"

The other Lions are going to be present 100 per cent strong to see the outcome.

SPECIAL TRAIN PLANNED FOR JULY FOURTH

Plans for a special train to bring visitors from the eastern and north central part of Texas to Midland for the grand opening of the 12-story Petroleum building are being worked out following a meeting held yesterday in the office of the chamber of commerce.

J. D. Young, chairman of the July 3 committee, said this morning that he had named Aubrey S. Legg, chairman of the transportation committee, responsible for seeing that sufficient conveyance is available during the day for visitors' use.

The plans of the committee are several, Young said today. A committee is to take up with the Texas Pacific railroad a request for round trip excursions to all eastern points including Dallas, all western points including El Paso, and as far north as Roswell, N. M.

A special train will leave Dallas and Fort Worth on the night of July 2, and will leave that night, if the plans of the committee work out correctly.

The committee is also planning for 25 courtesy cars to be placed at the disposal of visitors while here, Young said.

Postal Inspector Expected to Make Favorable Report

Inspector Lisman, postal official of Abilene who has been conducting a canvass of the need for city delivery in Midland said to chamber of commerce officials before leaving for Abilene that he will make a full report on the advisability of limited city delivery here.

Lisman said that he would make available to the chamber of commerce the result of his investigations, which seem to show favorably for the city.

MEXICO CITY, June 4.—(P)—The supreme chieftain of "Christeros" has been killed and the insurgent army, minus a trusted leader, today faced extinction.

FISHING IS BEING DONE FOR TOOLS

Oil Scouts Camped On Property All Last Night

Doubt as to the presence of an oil showing in the Phillips Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Stokes, in Midland county, was dispelled on the part of people who stayed at the test all night Monday, according to statements made this morning that oil dripped from the spear while workmen were attempting to fish the two strings of tools out of the hole.

The hole has not been deepened any since yesterday, the present depth being 3,195 feet; but some who were at the test have estimated that there is from 50 to 60 feet of oil in the hole, as the tools are said to take up about 35 feet from the bottom, and the cable and spray showed signs of oil for something like 20 feet above them.

The test is located on section 101, block 37, township 2-south, and is the only test being drilled in Midland county at present.

Traffic in leases and royalty is said to have gained in activity yesterday and this morning as a result of the prospects for oil.

Several families were involved in the British general election which marked a victory for the Laborites led by former Premier Ramsey MacDonald.

Lady Astor will sit in the House of Commons, while her husband is in the House of Lords. No. 3 shows the Conservative leader, Stanley Baldwin, and his son, Oliver, who was elected as a Laborite.

David Lloyd George, shown at the top, was elected on the Liberal ticket, and his daughter, Megan, and son, Major Gwilym, also were elected in their districts on Liberal tickets.

Typewriter Man Goes To Hospital For Veterans

E. H. Johnson, who for several months has been in the typewriter rental, repairing and selling business here, left Midland today for the veterans' bureau hospital at Fort Bayard, N. M., where he will receive treatment for several months.

Johnson achieved a long distance record for sale of typewriting instructions while here, orders being filled for every continent and a great number of islands of the earth. He is also a writer, articles bearing his signature appearing in numerous technical magazines of the country.

Thirty-one of the 40 teachers who this year were in the public schools of the city have signed contracts to return to Midland next scholastic year, Superintendent W. W. Lackey said Monday afternoon.

Thirty-One Teachers To Return

Six additional teachers have been elected, also, making a total of 37 already signed for the ensuing year.

Fruit Grower Has Thick Crop in His Orchard in City

Harley Meek, who lives on North Main street, has plum trees loaded to capacity and has been eating peaches from his orchard for several days, he says.

Farmers, gardeners, and others interested in growing things of the county say that Midland county has wonderful prospects as a fruit growing section. They who have fruit say they cannot understand the hesitancy felt by farmers in planting large orchards when fruit bears prolifically and brings good prices.

Growing of fruit and then preserving it should be one of the most remunerative tasks of the farmer, those who grow fruit say.

Western Union To Have Branch Office Installed

Western Union will have a branch office located in the Petroleum building just as soon as the new quarters can be made ready for occupancy. Manager Jackson announced this morning.

BRITISH ELECTION ALMOST A FAMILY AFFAIR

Several families were involved in the British general election which marked a victory for the Laborites led by former Premier Ramsey MacDonald.

Lady Astor will sit in the House of Commons, while her husband is in the House of Lords. No. 3 shows the Conservative leader, Stanley Baldwin, and his son, Oliver, who was elected as a Laborite.

David Lloyd George, shown at the top, was elected on the Liberal ticket, and his daughter, Megan, and son, Major Gwilym, also were elected in their districts on Liberal tickets.

Arthur Henderson, center, and his two sons, Arthur Jr., left and William, all elected on the Labor ticket. No. 4 shows Sir Oswald and Lady Mosely, elected as Laborites.

With feeling high in the "Tail Twister" race in the local Lions Club annual election, Tuesday marked the turning point of the conflict.

Early in the morning two sets of handbills were generally circulated among the business houses of the town, both of which gave the general platform on which each candidate expected to be elected to office.

"Doc" Ellis, stating that he was above the use of petty charges and "mud slinging," outlined a "clean" campaign and remarked that he would not belittle his opponent in any way.

Plans are being formulated for issuing general and special invitations, immediately.

Popular Movie Stars Wed In East Suddenly

NEW YORK, June 4.—(P)—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Joan Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Le Seur of San Antonio, were married here yesterday. It was announced yesterday when they bought the license that the wedding would not be held until the fall. They plan a European honeymoon after the completion of several films under production.

CAPTAIN GORE OF AVIATION RESERVE TELLS OF FLIGHT TO WEST WITH SHIPS

Frank D. Gore, member of the chamber of commerce aeronautics committee and a captain in the aviation reserve of the army, left by east bound T. A. T. plane for Dallas this afternoon.

Gore, who has just returned from the west coast with the fleet of army bombers which was here last week, will be gone until Friday.

While in route to the west coast from Midland, Gore flew No. 1 position as a relief pilot in Captain "Red" Black's lead Keystone.

"Midland incited more than surprise among the officers and enlisted men of the flight," he said. "The reaction amounted to wonderment. Major Spatz, flight commander of the pursuits said repeatedly, on the flight, that Midland is suited from spirit, as well as service and geography and other requisites, to be the air terminal for a branching out of army ships from the coast to Shreveport, San Antonio and Fort Sill. The major is strongly in favor of creating such a terminal in Midland. Ramifications could be established here more easily to the places named than at any other place I know."

Gore said that the value of Midland's landing field cannot be properly ascertained until flights have been taken to the eastward and westward.

"We landed at El Paso were taken by the quartermaster over to the army barracks, got a swell feed, went to bed early and were up early the next morning," he said. "By 4:30 every ship was in the air bound for Tucson. The pass through the mountains after we turned away from several minutes flying along the natural boundary was beautiful. At Tucson we were met by only one man and two girls. I couldn't keep from remembering the reception the flyers received in Midland."

Gore said that the dust hovering over the Tucson field was so dense that the bombers and transports had to hover for several minutes before they could land without danger. Visibility was almost nil, he said.

"The Midland port is one in a thousand," Gore said. "It is a field to be proud of—for its level, grassy terrain, its great size, the service given flyers, and the exudation of good old western spirit both at the field and in the city."

COMMITTEES ON INVITATIONS MET MONDAY

Meeting to perfect plans for inviting oil officials, state, county and municipal officials, and prominent people, as well as the general public, to the celebration in Midland July 3 and 4, the invitation committee named by the general chairman held its first conference yesterday.

B. G. Grafa was elected chairman of the committee, and with him are W. A. Yeager and T. Paul Barron, with Dr. J. D. Young and Paul T. Vickers acting in an advisory capacity.

Plans are being formulated for issuing general and special invitations, immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Gonde Renfrow and Mrs. Mamie Letter of Little Rock have wired Ned and Miss Lydie G. Watson, of the Watson School of Music, that they will be in Midland in a short time for a visit.

Cousins of the Watsons of Midland, the Arkansas visitors are carrying out a yearly custom of visiting their relatives in Texas, or of entertaining the Texas members of the family in Arkansas.

Reports that D. D. Shiflett, for three years principal of the Midland high school, will not be back in the city schools next year, were neither affirmed nor denied by Superintendent W. W. Lackey Monday afternoon.

"Mr. Shiflett has not yet signed a contract with us," Lackey said. "That does not mean necessarily that he will not be back. I am inclined to think, however, that Mr. Shiflett will not coach next year. He has too much work thrown on him by his principal's duties. He has requested that he be given more time for his principal's work and for the three science classes he conducts."

The superintendent praised the quality of his principal's work, both in the academic hall and on the athletic field, saying that the coach not only is a coach and a principal, "but has principle."

Chicago General Hospital Burns

CHICAGO, June 4.—(UP)—Eighteen persons were rescued from the blazing Chicago general hospital today when fire broke out in the boiler room, spreading quickly in the four-story building.

ADDED CAPACITY AT REFINERY BY NEW EQUIPMENT

Two new, 4-inch tube stills being installed at the Midland refinery will increase the crude charging capacity of the plant on the east highway about 2,000 barrels, Manager V. E. Jackson said today.

Present capacity of the plant is 3,000 barrels a day. The increased charging capacity will raise these figures to 5,000 barrels per day.

The refinery is shipping in equipment for a new unit for the purpose of refining oil from Winkler county to lubricating oil and asphalt.

Charles Watson Joins Avalanche At Lubbock

Charles C. Watson, Jr., formerly connected on the Daily Telegram as business manager, will go to Lubbock as a staff writer on the Avalanche. He leaves Wednesday.

Watson, son of C. C. Watson, veteran newspaperman, is well known as the best sports writer in this section and a feature desk scribe. For the past weeks he has handled special sport stories for "The Reporter-Telegram." He has been active in play production of the Midland Players, dramatic organization, having appeared successively as a leading player in three dramas.

Watson will work on the feature and re-write desks for a time and cover sports, it is understood.

Custom of Two Families Works Out This Year

Mr. and Mrs. Gonde Renfrow and Mrs. Mamie Letter of Little Rock have wired Ned and Miss Lydie G. Watson, of the Watson School of Music, that they will be in Midland in a short time for a visit.

WE CAN'T BE AMATEURS

By Bruce Catton

Public interest in sports being what it is, the expulsion of the University of Iowa from the Western Conference is a "big story" everywhere; but there are implications in the thing that go far beyond the circle of football and make the whole affair an illuminating commentary on American life.

The outline of the case, of course, is familiar to everyone. Iowa is accused of subsidizing its star athletes, paying them money to keep them in school. The taxpayers of the great corn belt empire, apparently, have been helping to provide their university with winning football teams, much as an independent nation pays out its money to maintain a standing army.

Nobody in America, probably, is especially shocked by the affair. The sensation lies in the fact that Iowa was dropped by the conference, not in the fact that Iowa paid money to its athletes. That part of it won't cause anyone to lift an eyebrow. We are altogether too used to the subsidizing of "amateur" athletes; it is one of those delightful things about which nobody talks but about which everybody knows.

But the rumpus is worth thinking about, just the same. It illustrates perfectly the hazy, illogical way in which we confuse amateurism and professionalism in athletics generally. And our confusion there, in turn, is an illuminating side-light on our national character.

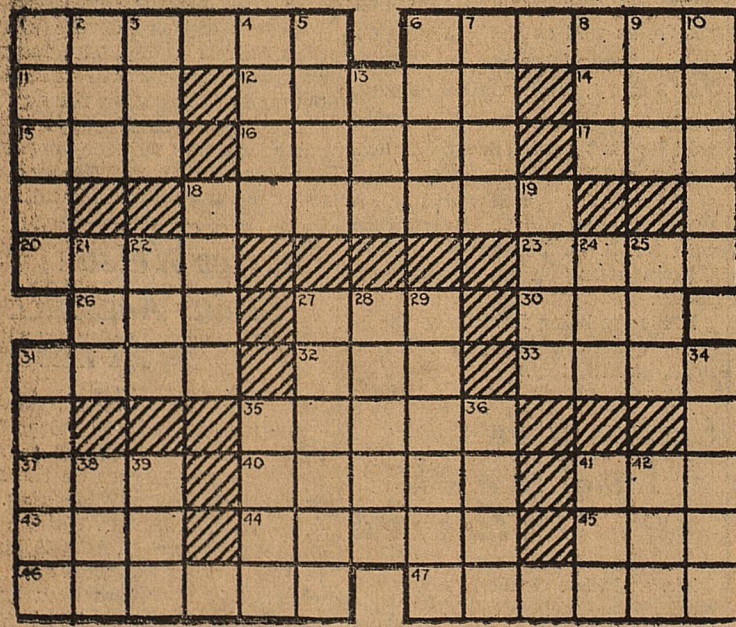

We confuse amateurism and professionalism for the simple reason that we are a nation of professionals. Amateurism is foreign to us. We don't see anything illogical in a college paying brawny youths to enter its portals, because we are thoroughly committed to the doctrine that the end generally justifies the means. We are out for success at any price; and since athletic prestige is a desirable thing for an educational institution to possess, why should not the young men who provide that prestige get paid for doing it?

The amateur is the man who devotes his spare time to some game or hobby for the sheer love of it, without any thought of the reward; and we aren't that way about anything. We don't have any spare time, for one thing; and we refuse to spend our energies on anything that doesn't bring some definite and tangible kind of reward.

This is very likely quite deplorable, but it can't be helped. For this spirit of professionalism, which pervades every part of American life, is the thing that has built all of our railroads and factories and tall buildings and has given us the prosperity that we like to talk about so much.

We are professionals by nature. We have to be, because we have so much work to do. The business of paying football players to go to college is just one angle of a national trait.

COFFEE AFFECTS THYROID

Coffee or caffeine in any form has a tendency to over-stimulate the thyroid or gouter gland, particularly in women, says Professor Oliver T. Osborne, Professor of Therapeutics of the Medical Department of Yale University. "The minor symptoms of this increased thyroid activity are rapid heart action, nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, indigestion, loss of weight and more or less trembling. There are a large class of women in the United States who are not necessarily abnormal, but whose health readily becomes abnormal under the stimulation of tea or coffee."

There are 7,000,000 dogs in the United States. If you don't believe it, walk into any farmer's yard on a dark night to try to get him to pull your car out of a mudhole.

Gangsters are born, not made, says a Chicago psychiatrist. Not just anybody can be an Al Capone.

The WOMAN'S DAY By ALLENE SUMNER

They say that Mr. and Mrs. Mae Merritt would be living together happily today if they hadn't started playing bridge on their honeymoon. The bridge game was in session at the mesdames' mother's home. Wife bid low and something or other seemed to say that she should have bid high. Anyway, husband got mad and threw his cards all over the room. A divorce soon followed.

Every once in a while a squib in the daily press tells us that some domestic or other tragedy has happened because of the radio or bridge or the automobile or player piano or overstuffed furniture or some other phenomenon of this, our modern world.

Not Radio Only While perhaps it is true that the complexity of a modern world with too many things in it has something to do with the universal human propensity of "flying off the handle," it is very sure that a man who would "fly off the handle" because his wife was a dub at cards would "fly off" at some other grievance. And the woman who leaves home because her husband insists on playing the radio all the time would leave for any one of a million other causes.

First Love Here's the former wife of Paul Berlenbach, the man of the ring, trying to annul her second marriage to one Robinson so that she can remarry the pug who gave her $100,000 when they were divorced. Not so queer a story, either. She isn't the first human being to find herself utterly incapable of extracting herself from her first love.

Twofold Persons Alma Reubens, former beautiful screen star, has been placed in a state insane hospital following her second succumbing to drugs. Remembering the lovely exotic Alma in "The Four Horsemen," unless I'm mistaken, it seems impossible to reconcile this person with the recent pictures of the hollow-eyes cadaverous Alma. Far more stupefying than our occasionally glimpsed contrast of various peoples in this world is the contrast of what the same person can become.

SIXTEEN CELEBRITIES MAKE TALKING FILM DEBUTS IN "MARY DUGAN"

Sixteen stage and screen celebrities make their talking picture debuts in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's 100 per cent dialogue dramatic special, which opens at the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

Bayard Veiler, author-producer of the sensational stage hit, who also directed the filmization of his popular play, hand-picked the big cast and rehearsed all its members for three weeks before a single scene was taken.

Norma Shearer, hailed by critics as "the girl with the 100 per cent talkie voice," heads the all-star cast. Featured with her are Lewis Stone, H. B. Warner and Raymond Hackett. Lilyan Tashman, Olive Tell, Adrienne d'Ambriecourt, Mary Doran, Dewitt Jennings, Wilfred North, Landers Stevens, Myra Hampton, Wescott Clark, Charles Moore, Claude Allister and others appear.

Although the players had never stepped before a microphone before, all of the voices registered perfectly and Veiler was delighted with the perfect recordings.

Oddly enough, Veiler is of the opinion that stage experience counts for very little in talking pictures.

"Mussolini's methods have been called dictatorial, domineering and even despotic. It is scarcely within the premise of a business visitor to Italy to judge the truth of these assertions, yet the fact stands that Mussolini has snapped Italy into high gear in the field of world commerce and has accomplished an improvement that is outstanding among European nations."—G. DAINTY FOODS AID BEAUTY. With the slim movement now a well established fact among the fair sex, light foods are the prevailing favorites. Meats, potatoes, pies and rich puddings have been sidetracked for salads, light vegetables, fruits, flavored gelatins, ice-cream, and the more delicate cakes.

Savarin, famous French gastronomic, foresaw the dietary needs of the ladies. He said among other things that "succulent and dainty dishes will give the eyes a fine sparkle, the skin a lovely bloom, the flesh more firmness, thus keeping away wrinkles, beauty's worst enemies. Those who know the art of eating, other things being equal, are proportionately ten years younger than those who scorn it."

Survey Shows Need Of Uniform Laws

By NEA Service
 NEW YORK, June 4.—The American Engineering Council is urging the introduction of uniform traffic regulations in every municipality of the United States.

During the past year the council has conducted an extensive survey embracing 35 states. One hundred cities having an aggregate population of more than 33,000,000 were studied. The survey had to do with the practicability of present street traffic signs, signals and markings. The recommendations to be made as a result of the survey will be handled by state committees. They already have been formed in 19 states and work is rapidly being completed on the selection of committees in other states.

Speaking of present traffic conditions, President of the Council Arthur W. Berresford says: "In most cities the responsibility is placed upon some branch of the police department. No standard official organization handles questions relating to traffic signs, signals and markings, and this defect is perhaps one of the most serious features of the present condition."

ardizing traffic signs, signals and markings. In these cities the safety of everyone depends upon the instant and full recognition of the meaning of the message to be conveyed by the traffic control devices, but the diversity of use and meaning that now prevails causes great hazard and delay."

A certificate from a reputable physician will satisfy the vaccination requirement, Dr. Hardwicke said.

MIDLAND MAKES RACE CLASSIC OF BIG SPRING GAME, 20-5

BIG SPRING STARTS PITCHERS PARADE BUT IT AVAILETH NAUGHT; ALL POUND AGATE HARD

The Midland Colts, chafing under the humiliation of eight straight wins by the Big Spring Cowboys, found some degree of comfort last night when they reviewed yesterday's game with its score of 20 to 5 in favor of the Colts. The Midland boys hit the ball to every corner of the lot and even outside on four occasions and the hardy broncho busters were unable to bust these ponies. Four pitchers were hurled into the breach by Manager Rose and each was treated with the same consideration. Each man to go into the box was necessarily wary of the big sticks waving at them over the shoulders of the Colts, and as a result were unusually wild and fourteen free passes were issued. These, coupled with five errors by the boys and fifteen safe base knocks by the Colts, were enough to swamp the visitors under a stifling score.

Pitchers' Parade Starts
Breedren, tall right hander, started on the mound but soon gave way to Hellums. This young worthy failed utterly in his attempt to stop the stampee and Manager Rose took the mound himself with his left side offerings. But even managers sometimes fall. Blackie Adams was called in from right field to take the place of the discouraged Rose. Adams has a reputation of being able to throw the ball with a great deal of speed but he hardly knows himself where it will go when it leaves his hand.

Everybody Hits
Every man on the Colt squad, with the exception of Ward, got at least one hit during the afternoon and Big Ed Kallina was not satisfied with one for he pounded out two singles and two triples in four times to the plate. Flowers, Cheeves, Van Landingham and Stagner all connected for four base drives outside of the park. Dobbs, for the Cowboys, repeated.

Score in 5 Innings
The Colts scored at least one in every inning but the first, sixth and eighth and the big majority of their tallies came after two men were out. One run crossed the plate in the second after Big Spring had pushed across two in their half. Six trickled home in the third, three in the fourth, five in the fifth and five in the seventh.

While the Cowboys only got two hits less than Midland, they were somewhat scattered and were not of the extra base variety. Ward held them with exceptional ease and lightened visibly in the pinches. Sammy Sain played the star role at bat for the visitors, getting a triple, a double and two singles out of five times to the plate.

First Inning
Big Spring: Antista fanned. Glossop grounded to Cheeves. Rose singled in the infield. Adams singled. Leedy fled to Van Landingham. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Big Spring: Sain tripled. Seitz walked. Seitz stole second. Sain was caught off third on the next play and Rabe was safe at first. Breedren fled to Cheeves. Antista walked. Glossop singled to score Seitz and Rabe. Rose fled to King. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Big Spring: Adams fled to Flynn. Leedy walked. Sain singled. Seitz forced Leedy. Rabe forced Seitz. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Big Spring: Hellums doubled. Antista fled to Kallina. Glossop grounded to Van Landingham. Rose was hit by a pitched ball. Adams fled to King. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Big Spring: Leedy grounded to Crozier. Sain singled. Seitz fanned. Rabe fled to Flowers. No runs, no hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning
Big Spring: Hellums fled to Flowers.

Seventh Inning
Big Spring: Hellums fled to Flowers.

Eighth Inning
Big Spring: Hellums fled to Flowers.

Ninth Inning
Big Spring: Hellums fled to Flowers.

Tenth Inning
Big Spring: Hellums fled to Flowers.

FLOOD WATERS THREATEN LOW LAND AREAS

HOUSTON, June 4.—(UP)—The Trinity and Brazos rivers, their crests nearing the mouths, continued today to menace areas along their lower reaches.

Richmond was accused as the bayou which divides the town threatened to overflow. Back waters of the Brazos have been covering many streets of the town.

Wallisville, which was destroyed in the flood of 1915, was submerged today.

Levees of the Colorado river are reported to be holding.

Mississippi Levee Strengthened
GREENVILLE, Miss., June 4.—(AP)—Frantic efforts of a thousand men who worked all night to construct an auxiliary loop around the crashing Mississippi river levee served today to quiet the frightened populace, who feared repetition of the disastrous flood of two years ago.

Sweeney Chairman Proration Committee
BIG SPRING, Texas, June 4.—M. B. Sweeney, district superintendent of the Sun Oil Company was elected Chairman of the Howard county proration advisory committee in Dallas, Friday morning succeeding R. T. Piner, who asked that his resignation be accepted. Mr. Piner remained as a member of the Committee.

The proration allowance was left the same as the two former months being 37,500 barrels daily, the proration will be 60 percent on all wells except 200 barrels or less and twin wells which rates are established. The twin wells are allowed 50 percent of their gross and wells doing 200 barrels or less are allowed to go free.

At a meeting Friday morning the Amerada Petroleum Company was allowed special privilege to put in heavier equipment in order to try and handle the water situation, which results will be watched by the producers in the field.

The meeting of the advisory committee met with R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas department of the Railroad commission and E. E. Andrews, Howard and Glascock county proration umpire.

Thomas Edison says we do not know one-millionth of one per cent about anything. He must have been watching somebody trying to adjust his brakes.

Stolen base: Seitz 2, Rabe, Flowers, Stagner 3, Kallina.

Hit by pitcher: Rose.

Time: 2:25.

Umpires: Tongate and Davis.

Midland Visitor Opposed to More Street Pavement

Last week an itinerant clothing salesman came to Midland and worked against additional street paving. He didn't in so many words work against street paving, but he didn't pay a license and he took money away from the tailors and dry goods stores that have to pay taxes to pave Midland's streets. Several Midland people who are strong for additional street paving bought clothes from this man who doesn't contribute a cent to Midland. They forgot that if they went more street paving, it is necessary to support the business houses of Midland that pay a large part of the taxes that pave the streets of Midland.

VESUVIUS POURS STREAMS OF LAVA

NAPLES, June 4.—(UP)—Inhabitants of Terzingo today prepared to evacuate their homes as Vesuvius continued to belch forth its eruptions. Activity of Vesuvius started yesterday when great streams of lava started shooting from the crater.

Few Available Apartments For Oil Men Here

A dearth of furnished apartments suiting the taste of oil officials is again being observed in Midland. Four California and two Atlantic officials moved here Monday.

Very few apartments of the class desirable exist in Midland now, it was learned from the housing committee of the chamber of commerce. This need is not the result of little building activity; there is a strong influence towards this movement, in fact. It results from the new influx of oil men and their families.

DEMPSEY'S LIFE IS THREATENED

CHICAGO, June 4.—(UP)—Leonard Sacks, secretary to Jack Dempsey, told the United Press today that both he and Dempsey had received threats on the former champion's life.

This is what caused Dempsey's hurried departure from Philadelphia recently, he said.

Sacks said he received an anonymous telephone message saying "You can't get away with that." He believed the reference was to negotiations Dempsey is making on returning to the ring.

A cable message can go around the world in eight minutes but of course gossip is much cheaper.

Former Texas Senator's Daughter Marries War Vet

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune said today Miss Mary Culberson, only daughter of the late Senator Chas. A. Miss Culberson and Robertson met seven years ago when both were students of Texas University.

LINDY AND ANN BELIEVED SEEN IN LOVE BOAT

WOODS HOLE, Mass., June 4.—(AP)—The yacht Mouette, on which Colonel Charles Lindbergh and his bride are believed to be honeymooning, sailed from here today after anchoring in the harbor during the night.

WILLIAM HAINES AND JOAN CRAWFORD CO-STAR
Many local theatre goers remember vividly William Haines' first talkie picture, "Alias Jimmie Valentine," which proved to be one of the most entertaining pictures of the past few months. Following this tremendous success, with its various talking sequences, comes the announcement that the famous screen star is to appear next in "THE DUKE STEPS OUT," his latest Metro-Goldwyn release. In "The Duke Steps Out," as might be imagined from the title, Haines is again seen in a similar role to the characterizations which made him famous.

Joan Crawford co-stars with Haines in this new comedy-drama, synchronized with sound effects, music score and talking sequences. With two such popular stars as these and a type of story especially adaptable to their remarkable talents, theatre fans of the city may look forward to a genuine entertainment treat when they appear at the Grand, beginning next Sunday.

The comedy situations such as has made Haines famous are said to be highly augmented by the dialogue sequences. The picture is said to have broken all previous box office records at the Capitol Theatre, New York. It will have a three day showing in Midland at the Grand.

"Hustle" Slogan Of Legislature

By R. W. BARRY (Associated Press Staff Writer)
AUSTIN, June 4.—The 41st legislature starts down the home stretch today. It will enter upon its 99th day of legislating since it was convened on January 8.

"Hustle, boys, hustle," is the newest slogan, as leaders express hope that the appropriations bills will be passed, the highway department provided for financially and other unfinished business carried over from the first called session wound up within the 30-day period allotted to extraordinary sessions by the constitution.

Incidentally, it will get Governor Dan Moody's final whack at the legislature, if he retires after having rounded out two terms as chief executive at the beginning of 1931. This contemplation brings to the surface a quiet movement that has been begun by some of the governor's friends.

In event the constitution is amended in the special session election of July 15 to permit the governor to draw a salary of $10,000 annually, instead of $4,000 as at present, a number of the governor's friends are planning to make an effort to persuade him to stand for a third term.

They point out that a term in the governor's office at a salary of $10,000 annually ought to permit the young chief executive to recoup his private fortune.

Governor Moody has lived within his income, probably better than any of his predecessors, but like the others he finds it necessary to pledge his credit for living expenses not provided by the constitution. He gets some allowances for servants at the executive mansion but isn't permitted to buy groceries with any except his own money. The hired help must eat and this expense must come out of the $4,000 annual salary.

Governor Moody, as everyone knows, was just starting out on his own hook when he became attorney general, then governor. He will have lost six years, given to his state, at the most crucial time in the life of one who is starting out at the rather severe task of establishing himself in the law.

It is this situation that has started the "third-term" talk among the governor's friends. They have not discussed it with him, but they will tell you frankly that if Texas decides to pay its governor $10,000 annually they are going to try to get Dan Moody to stand for another term.

There are some other friends, not in on the third term movement, who say that when the news leaks out and the governor hears about it, he will quench it beyond all revival.
