

Intramural Sports At A. & M. Show Big Improvement

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., June 6.—A new record for the number of participants in intramural athletics at the A. & M. College of Texas was established for the year just closed with a total participation of 2865 as compared with 2203 last year, the report of W. L. Penberthy, director of intramural athletics at the college shows.

Playground ball, which has proved to be the most popular sport virtually every year since the establishment of the intramural department, retained its supremacy with 559 students taking part. Two leagues, composed of twenty teams each, were necessary to handle the large number of participants in the sport this year.

Speedball was the second most popular sport with a participation of 403, continuing to make the rapid gains in popularity it has shown since its introduction three years ago. This sport has many of the characteristics of football, basketball and soccer and it is used as a physical education sport as well as an intramural athletic.

In running up the total participation record this year, 1309 different students took part in the fourteen sports offered. Last year the individual participation was 1174. This year's figures show the participation to be about half of the total enrollment of the college.

L. L. Foshee, senior student from Fort Worth, took high point honors in the intramural sports with a total of 216. Battery "B," Field Artillery, took high point honors for competing organizations with 683 1/2. The Company "A," Infantry, second with 687. J. A. French, St. Antonio, was intramural manager of the winning organization, while Foshee managed the second place winners. Points are given for participation and for success in competition.

P. A. Dresser, Corsicana, junior student-manager of intramural athletics at the A. & M. College of Texas during the academic year just closed, has been named senior student-manager for the school year 1929-30. W. L. Penberthy, director of intramural athletics at A. & M. has announced.

V. O. Fritze, San Antonio, and E. Logsdon, Palo Pinto, both sophomore student-managers the past year, were selected as junior managers for next year. Next year's phomore managers will be named in the fall.

Under the present system of conducting the intramural athletic program, A. & M. student managers are selected each year to supply and run off tournaments, other play on schedule, instructive and of value to those who expect to enter city recreation work and manage the given awards at the close of the year.

Seventeen sports were included in the intramural program for the year and more than half of the members of the A. & M. student body participated in one or more sports, according to the records recently announced by Mr. Penberthy. Football, speedball, basketball, volleyball, playground ball, tennis, golf, swimming, horse shoe, pitching, track, cross country, boxing, wrestling and handball are the sports which were offered during the year just closed.

Can a fighter's right hand be ruined by going to college? That question came up in the discussion between the "Duke" and his manager the decision of the fighter to attend school. William Haines plays the biggest role of his career in the future which comes to the Grand and, JoJan Crawford is the color in the east.

The screen play was taken from the recent Saturday Evening Post story by the same name. Proclaimed by critics to be Haines' best, it could prove interesting to watch those who followed the story know the interest. Come out Sunday and see the dramatization of the original story. Step in Sunday and see the "Steps Out", with William Haines and Joan Crawford.

The Church of Christ meets at the Court House each Sunday, 10 a. m. Bible study, 11 a. m. preaching and communion services, 3:35 p. m. preaching, Friday 8:15 p. m. prayer meeting. Don't forget our programs and meet with us and we do service for the Master. Remember if you are a member of the church and not attending services regular you are not doing your duty, neither are you helping to promote the cause of Christ. If you are not attending and you are a member, just read Heb. 10:23-31 and do not try to make it apply to something else for it will not fit. Come and hear us on the day of worship next Sunday at the eleven o'clock service. Sunday evening the version of the Bunich will be the object of the sermon.

Being 21, Horton Smith May Play Better Golf

This young Horton Smith, who has just turned 21, simply must be reckoned among the favorites in any golf tournament where he plays. After a rather disappointing showing in the British open he found his game—and said it with 66's on two successive rounds—in the international professional golf tournament at St. Cloud, France, recently. He won the championship. He soon will return to the United States to start practice for the national championship to be played late in June.

SPEAKING OF SPORT

BY FRANK GETTY United Press Sports Editor

"Fore!" It appears that this is to be a year of remarkable golfing performances, and Bobby Jones had best look to his laurels. The boys will be getting back from Europe any day now to tune up for the national open at Mammoth. R. T. Jones, Jr., must have his club heads burnished bright and his batting eye keen, for if the golf of early spring is any criterion the perennial challenge to his supremacy will take on a new note this year. Young Horton Smith, who celebrated his 21st birthday last week by winning the French professional championship, showed what he could do by knocking off two rounds of 66 in the same day. The he slowed up and was only one under par for his third round. His final count was 66-66-70-71—273. That's golf. And about the same time, Aubrey Boomer, the pale haired British pro who golfs at St. Cloud the year around, grabbed himself off at 61. That's miraculous. Walter Hagen's 67 at Muirfield must not be overlooked. It was with that one cracking round that "The Hag" broke the hearts of his challengers and retained the British open championship. What these folks will do when they get home to familiar fairways is hard to imagine. The red cars whirling around the track while nearly half a million spectators find a thrill in someone's else danger. Victory means a lot to those crouching hooded figures who take their lives along at more than 100 miles an hour to make a Roman holiday for the throng. Steve Hannagan, that irrepressible young publicity merchant, has figured out, however, that fame is fleeting, even as motor cars, and that few in the crowd know where the erstwhile winners of the Indianapolis classic can be found. Three previous winners will be in today's race: Louis Meyer, the youngster who won unheralded in 1928, Peter De Paolo, winner in 1925, and Ralph De Palma, who won back in 1915 and now is 46 years of age. Frank Lockart, winner in 1926, died on the Daytona sands last year trying for a new world's speed record. George Soudars, who won in 1927 is not of racing indefinitely as the result of a severe spill last July at Detroit. L. L. Corum, 1924 winner, is at work in the experimental department of the Stutz Company. Tommy Milton, twice a winner (in 1921 and 1923) is at Indianapolis in the role of impresario having en-

Four winners of the Indianapolis classic have been killed at the wheel of a speeding car, Jimmy Murphy, Jimmy Johnston, astute little manager of boxers, was talking recently of the merits of Mike McTigue, whose retirement from the ring was announced last week. "He was one of the most grateful fighters, and one of the smartest, that I ever knew," said Jimmy, who managed the Irish light heavy-weight towards the end of Mike's long ring career. "He was also one of the best of all the light heavyweights, but he found himself too late." Mike, you see, is 45 old, and had seen more than two score years before suddenly discovering that he could fight. Many a fight fan has groaned with dismay at the old Irishman, ranked a champion of the world, stalled through a dull bout, defending himself with uncanny cleverness but taking never a chance and making no effort to flatten his opponent. McTigue was over 40 years old when something brought about an extraordinary change in his ring technique. He had lost the 175-pound title. His brittle hands had been reinforced once more with silver. He had been knocked out ignominiously by Jack Delaney. Mike seemed destined for an early retirement. But the fire burning inside "Bowd Michael's" wizen hide would not let him leave the ring. Instead, he became overnight a sav-

C. C. HAS BIG EAGLE HOUSTON, Tex., June 6.—(AP)—A bald eagle with a wing spread of six feet has been presented to this city by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. The bird will live in Hermann park zoo here. This is the first eagle ever captured alive in Victoria county so far as is known. It was caught recently nine miles south of Victoria by Gus Stange, young Dry Creek farmer. Stange first thought it was a buzzard and did not shoot until it was nearly 75 yards away. One of the charges from the shotgun hit the eagle's wing and it fell to become captive after a fierce fight. Stange presented the bird to the Victoria commercial body.

To maintain a slender figure, no one can deny the truth of the advice: "REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET." Frantic Campaigns... to substitute other cigarettes for Lucky Strike fail largely because Luckies' superiority so quickly demonstrates itself. Lucky Strike represents a milestone in the progress of cigarette manufacture. The toasting process makes Lucky Strike the brand of distinction, and, in the opinion of 20,679* physicians, is the reason Luckies are less irritating. No other cigarette enjoys this secret heat treatment which removes impurities and irritants, produces a flavor beyond comparison and assures the smoker the maximum of delightful smoking pleasure and comfort. *The figures quoted have been checked and certified to by F.
