Sterling Approves Measure Reducing Cotton Acreage

Law Provides Penalty; Test Is Expected

Prohibits Permanently Planting Same Land Successive Years

AUSTIN, Sept. 22. (AP)—Governor Sterling today signed the cotton bill which was passed yesterday. The bill limits the planting of cotton for the next two years to thirty per cent of the present cultivated area. It also prohibits permanently planting of the same land in cotton in successive years.

District and county attorneys are required to enjoin prospective violators. Twenty-five to $100 fines per acre can be levied for violation of the law.

Opponents claim the bill is unconstitutional holding it will take property without due process of law. A court test is expected.

There is no doubt but that prevention of planting cotton on the same land in successive years, as provided by the new Texas cotton acreage law, will be beneficial.

It was unfortunate, however, that the legislature had to make this system of crop rotation compulsory by statute.

If farmers could have gotten together on such a plan, and made it stick throughout the state, it would have been a lot better.

But, you can't get that many people in any industry to agree on any one policy.

Since the law has been passed and signed by the Governor we will all watch its effects with much interest, hoping for the best.

So much for cotton. For several generations cotton hasn't been King it's been Master. If this law keeps the south from cotton's clothes, puts bread and meat in the cupboard and leather under the feet of the people who have become footloose treading back and forth to banks to try and extend loans everybody will be glad.

We hope you read the article in Sunday's Herald explaining the terms used each day in the weather report for Big Spring and vicinity given daily on this page through courtesy of American Airways.

There will be more facilities for weather observation here than in any city in all West Texas when the department of commerce and department of agriculture stations are completed.

WOMAN IS ARRESTED

Mrs. Leslie Wilcox, 26, said by friends here to be a sister of Miss Nita Allen and Mrs. Joe Ludon of Big Spring, was in a critical condition in the West Texas Baptist sanitarium at Abilene this afternoon from gunshot wounds inflicted as she stood in the door of her apartment at 1102 North Fifth street, Abilene.

Mrs. A. R. Franklin, Abilene, was being questioned by the county attorney in connection with the shooting.

Mrs. Wilcox resided here until four months ago. She was a beauty parlor operator while here.

Mrs. Wilcox's sister, Mrs. Les Williamson, was fatally shot here several months ago. The husband, Les Williamson, is under bond charged with murder in connection with her death.

Mrs. Franklin, wife of an Abilene plumbing supply dealer, was arrested a short time after the shooting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Loving, at Twelfth and Cottonwood streets, Abilene.

Mrs. Wilcox was shot three times through the body. Physicians doubted she would recover.

At the hospital Mrs. Wilcox said Mrs. Franklin came to her apartment and did the shooting.

A few minutes after the shooting a woman called officers and, without giving her name, said she had shot a woman and wanted to give up. She gave the address of the house where she could be found.

A search had been started for a woman immediately after the shooting. She had dropped a gasoline courtesy card and a bill from the city water department at the scene of the trouble. Both bore the name of Mrs. A. R. Franklin.

The woman who shot her knelt on her door and asked whether her husband was there, Mrs. Wilcox said.

Mrs. Wilcox said she told the visitor her husband was not there. The woman then pulled a pistol and began shooting, said the victim.

Mrs. Wilcox had resided here four months. She came from Big Spring, where she was reported in Abilene to have relatives.

Mrs. Ludon and Miss Allen, the sisters, were reached here early this afternoon and informed of the tragedy.

City Judge Warns Against Running Over Fire Hose

Attention of all citizens was called to the ordinance against trying to pass fire trucks on a duty run against running over a fire hose under any condition, by City Judge Tracy T. Smith Tuesday morning.

"During the fires Saturday night a number of cars ran over a fire hose. We are going to put into effect immediately a former practice of fining any and all persons committing such an offense," Mr. Smith said.

The hose costs the city $150 a foot and each section is fifty feet in length. A hose which has been run over is weakened and liable to give way at any time, firemen pointed out.

In addition to being an expense to the city, the efficiency of the department is greatly hampered by cars running over a hose, and the cooperation of the citizenship is asked in preventing this in the future.

Suggested Democratic Platform Submitted By Shouse Confronted By Objections From Texas Leaders

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (UP)—Chairman J. J. Shouse of the Democratic National Executive Committee "suggested" a tentative democratic platform for 1932. Leading points in the platform were:

1.—Modification of the Volstead act to permit sale of light wines and beer; eventual submission of the 18th amendment to a national referendum.

2.—Compulsory unemployment insurance; enactment of the Wagner bill for a federal employment service; appropriation of funds for additional public works, with a bond issue if necessary.

3.—Dismissal of the federal farm board; provision of warehouse credits to help farmers market their crops.

4.—Public ownership of power sources with private operation under local regulation.

Shouse is a close friend of John J. Raskob, chairman of the party's national committee, and it was assumed by many that the platform represented Raskob's views as well as Shouse's. If this is the case Raskob apparently has changed the strategy of his anti-prohibition campaign.

Raskob previously had called for revision of the 18th amendment to permit state option. Shouse's platform also favors such a scheme after submission of the amendment to a referendum, but asks legalization of light beer and wines pending such action.

AUSTIN, Sept. 22. (UP)—J. J. Shouse's proposed democratic platform met objection here on two planks.

Mrs. Claude de Van Watts, state president of the W.C.T.U. called his plank on beer and light wine "an absurd gesture of the wets."

Fritz Engelhard, member of the Texas legislature and of the Texas Farm Co-operators objected to the proposed abolition of the farm board. He wrote Shouse about it.

"Any man who believes the activities of the board have been futile, convicts himself of gross ignorance regarding this particular matter," he wrote.

Former Governor Dan Moody sticks to his former utterance. "It's time to think of empty stomachs—not dry throats."

Albert S. Burleson, member of the Wilson cabinet: "I have no comment to make."

Rev. B. J. Forbes, minister from Weatherford condemns the repeal and modification proposal. "It is going to be the chief issue of the next campaign," he said.

DALLAS, Sept. 22. (UP)—Jed Adams, Texas democratic national committee man, described as "very foolish" the advocacy of light wines and beer in the democratic platform suggested by J. J. Shouse, chairman of the executive committee.

Adams said he was heartily in favor of the unemployment relief plank, agreed that the federal farm board should be dismissed and declared that revision of the tariff is "very essential."

Adams agreed with the proposed plank advocating a five-day week for government employees and local control of power companies. He said he favored some control over mergers but was not sure whether the tribunal suggested by Shouse will meet the need.

Holstein also was divorced.

Protests Of Cotton Rate Change Made

Increase Will Cost Howard County $40,000 Say Observers

Changes in freight rates on cotton for shipment from Big Spring to Gulf Ports will cost Howard county approximately $10,000 in additional freight costs, it is estimated by B. Reagan and C. T. Watson, who attended a rate hearing in Lubbock recently, before representatives of the railroad commission.

New rates, on a mileage basis which do away with the common point method of fixing charges, provide decreases of approximately 20 per cent for points near the Gulf, while increasing the rates from Big Spring westward, and northward.

The net hike for Big Spring is 5 cents per hundred, or approximately 40 cents per bale.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has filed application for rehearing on the rates.

Fantastic meandering of the group boundary lines set up by the railroad commission were outlined Monday night to directors of the Chamber of Commerce by Mr. Reagan and Mr. C. T. Watson, who recently attended a hearing on the rates at Lubbock.

Lamesa, 55 miles to the north, is in another 'group,' and draws a 95-cent rate.

San Angelo, 90 miles southeast gets 84 cents.

Balmorhea's rate is $1 per hundred.

The 84-cent group takes in the entire territory of southern, eastern and northeastern Texas. It is in effect from a point on the border, barely including Del Rio and the western boundary of the 84-cent region makes numerous curves, to take in San Angelo, extending northward, crossing the T & P just west of Tye, and leaving Sweetwater in the 89-cent class. The boundary continues northeast to take in the small town of Westover, Baylor county, leaving Seymour to 89 cents west of Burkburnett.

The 89-cent territory includes East Reagan county, Big Spring, Justiceburg, Garza county, excluding Post. The western boundary for this class twists convulsively to take in Girard, thence further eastward to include Kirkland, but excluding Childress.

The 95-cent territory includes Fort Stockton, the boundary leading a general northerly direction barely to include Lamesa. The worst twistings of any of the boundary lines then takes place.

A semi-circle is drawn to include Levelland, Lubbock and Hale Center, excluding Plainview and dipping due south to include Peterburg and Crosbyton but to exclude Floydada, Lockney and Goodnight, however, are left in the 95-cent territory, the boundary hitting the western line of Oklahoma at a point that barely excludes Shamrock.

The most westerly area, drawing $1 per hundred as the cotton rate, takes in Ealmorhea, running just inside the western boundary of the state to include Farwell, Hereford, Plainview, Amarillo.

Chapter I THE GILDED YOUTH

RAMSGATE, the house that James Sherrill built, sat heavily on the exact summit of a long hill. The architect had been given free rein, and he had contrived to blind the whole-hearted. In place of rambling warmly on the top of the hill, the house jutted straight up into the sky with an arrogant contempt for the fitness of things. Sherrill died of pneumonia during the winter of 1902, but his house remained an unfortunate monument to a successful man.

It had an immediate effect upon Freddy Munson. It stared down stonily as the little coupe turned in from State street, and Freddy stared back. "What a tomb," he murmured.

Sam Sherrill, at his side, looked toward the house. Then she smiled. "Isn't it! The sad thing is that it belongs to my family."

If Freddy was surprised he made no sign. "I might have known that that has," he said wearily. "I'm always running into one, just when I feel amiable."

Sam Sherrill smiled again, with out resentment. "Don't worry. I'm one of those who decidedly hasn't. Nowadays we live just below Rams-gate, in what was once the stable. Some people say our family has gone down hill."

"That was a bad moment," Freddy said. "I thought you were rotten-rich. Money is disgusting."

"Is it?" Sam raised her eye-brows. "Well, maybe it is, but it's not unique to want money. I wish I had a lot of it. Then I could pay my bills, and not worry about the mortgage and have nice clothes."

Two huge posts of still gray stone marked the entrance to Rams-gate. From the face of each sprouted

Secretary Of Commerce Meets Representatives Of Oil States, Seeking Curtailment Of Imports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (UP)—Secretary of Commerce Lamont today promised representatives of western and southwestern oil states that he would give thorough consideration to a plan they presented today for limitation of world oil production to help the domestic industry.

Thurman Hill, member of the Kansas utility commission, who headed the delegation, said they would call tomorrow upon President Hoover and later would ask the assistance of the state department in promoting an international conference to consider control of production in the world's leading oil areas.

At the conference with Secretary Lamont, C. V. Terrell of the Texas railroad commission described what had been done in Texas to ward curtailing oil production. He indicated that curtailment in the East Texas field could not be considered.

Plan To Take Up General Expense Warrants With $3,000,000 Of State Highway Funds Is Being Considered

AUSTIN, Sept. 22. (UP)—An attempt to finance the state over the dull period by use of state highway funds was hit upon today as a new way out of tax difficulties.

The plan is to take up state general expense warrants to the amount of $3,000,000 with highway funds. The highway department then would be reimbursed as the state general fund is swelled by later taxes.

Opposition of senators to reopening of appropriations for salary cuts and other reductions, is said to have caused the new plan.

Saturday administration leaders announced confidently that Governor Ross Sterling would submit such a revision. This morning they said there will be no submission of the topic.

A bill to permit the diversion of highway funds was being drawn by Representatives R. M. Hubbard, A. P. Johnson, R. M. Wagstaff and Senator Walter Woodward.

Towns Enter Attack Upon Weed Report

Dallas Urges Needs For Service; Argument By November 15

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. (AP)—Chambers of commerce of Dallas, Lubbock, Big Spring, Ackerly, Lamesa, Brownfield, Levelland, Littlefield, Dimmit, Hereford and Vega have filed briefs attacking the recommendation of Examiner Weed that the interstate commerce commission limit the building of the Texas and Pacific Northern Railway. Today was the final date for filing exceptions.

Weed approved about 125 miles of the proposed line between Big Spring and Vega, disapproving the construction north of Brownfield and Lubbock.

The Dallas chamber of commerce filed a separate brief. The others were filed jointly. The joint brief said that development of the region was being impeded because of lack of railway facilities. The brief claimed the service given by trucks and buses was insufficient.

The brief said: "The whole region needs the service of an East and West system which will provide it with efficient and expeditious single line connections East to Fort Worth and Dallas and points beyond and West to El Paso."

Oral arguments before division four of the commission are to be held by November 15.

Oklahoma Oil Men Confident Prices Will Rise Quickly

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 22. (UP)—So confident were Oklahoma City field operators that a crude oil price rise was forthcoming that they prepared to open their wells, closed by Gov. William H. Murray's military shutdown decree.

Field Umpire Otto Bradford predicted the $1 per barrel price level demanded by the governor would be posted by Friday.

He pointed out that wells could be opened for flow within three or four hours under military control.

"That's the way Murray will open them," he said. "The national guard will be maintained so the lid can be clamped on within fifteen minutes if prices start falling again. If the field is opened under supervision of the corporation commission it would take 15 to 20 days to do it."

Arrangements For Tree Planting Given Approval By C of C

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening approved plans presented by Manager C. T. Watson for a city-wide tree-planting campaign here this fall.

Figures on costs of trees suitable for planting here will be submitted soon. It is considered possible that 2,000 trees may be set out here by arrangements being made by the Chamber.

Inside Story Of How Texas Tech Location Was Made Is Related

LUBBOCK, Tex., Sept. 22. (UP)—The "inside story" of the locating of Texas Technological College was given in a recent address here by State Superintendent E. M. N. Marra.

Marra was a member of the locating committee that selected Lubbock as a site for the "West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College." There were 35 cities of this region asking for the location. How the selection was made was never told publicly, Marra said, until he told the story in the address here.

"We visited the 35 towns in 20 days, then went to a hotel room in Fort Worth to begin our deliberations," the superintendent of public instruction said. "We had been given a brief from each town, and had seen the sites each city offered. After deliberating for several hours I made a motion that each member of the committee write down the names of five cities he would be willing to support for the college site."

"The names were written on slips as ballots. When we had assembled them all we found 11 towns on the ballots, 24 having been eliminated. We eliminated five others a short time later when another member of the committee suggested that we select three towns."

"We all felt that the new college should be located somewhere on the caprock. The six towns now in the running included Snyder and Sweet water off the caprock, and Lubbock and Plainview on the Plains. I have forgotten the other two."

"We went to lunch and returned to the room for further deliberation. Finally, Dr. W. B. Russell, now president of the University of Oklahoma, made a motion that Lubbock be selected."

QUAINT TOWN AIMS TO PRESERVE ITS QUAINTNESS

ELSAH, Ill. (INS)—In a day in which many towns are doing their best to develop the appearance of an "up-and-coming" modern town, this little hamlet, founded by early settlers nearly one hundred years ago is doing its best to keep anything from destroying its picturesque beauty.

Feeling that the stone dwellings of the community represent a type of architecture not seldom seen in this country, officials of Principia college, a $3,500,000 institution which is being erected in the outskirts of the town, are cooperating in averting the marbling of the architectural harmony of the village through the influx of new establishments.

The architect who is planning the erection of the institution is designing the building not unlike the surrounding buildings of the little town, and his advice has been offered to residents who are planning new structures.

Even filling stations, the erection of which were unforeseen by the founders of the hamlet, are being constructed to harmonize with the quaint vine-covered stone structures of the village.

Japan Feels Earthquake

TOKIO, Sept. 22. (UP)—Eleven persons were killed in a violent earthquake that struck two Japanese prefectures yesterday. Nine were killed in Siatama prefecture and two in Gumma prefecture. Many more were seriously injured.

Communication lines between here and Karulawa, the summer resort where Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh recently visited U. S. Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes, were disrupted. There are a number of Americans and British residents in the village.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 22. (UP)—An earthquake of moderate intensity was reported from central and western Ohio cities Sunday evening. Several distinct shocks were accompanied by a low rumbling.

Damage amounting to approximately $10,000 was reported from the village of Anna, Shelby county, where two churches, the high school and several houses were shaken.

Severe shocks were felt also in the region of Lima, Sidney, Cincinnati, Springfield, Dayton, Wapakoneta, West Mansfield, Zanesville, and Cairo, Ohio.

SAN ANGELO Woman Given Year And Day For Embezzlement

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 22. (UP)—Mrs. Jeannette Harter, for 12 years teller of the San Angelo National bank, was sentenced to a year and a day in prison after pleading guilty in federal court to a charge of embezzling bank funds.

Mrs. Harter told the court her husband had been ill for some time. She will be committed to a federal institution for women in West Virginia, the court indicated.

books for the county library, which will circulate them through its community stations and thus make a much greater number of books available for each school than could be purchased if each school district bought its own library.

The total circulation for the past year was 151,251 books or an average of 12 books for each man, woman, and child in the county. With 671 new borrowers added to the circulation list in the past 12 months, records show that the circulation has doubled over that of the previous year.

There are 25 rural library substations, and thousands of most avid readers are to be found in the rural homes. One library substation was established for the small Mexican population of this county with the result that 1,509 books were read during the past six months by the Mexicans, the majority of them by Mexican children.

In addition to the books, a total of 15,789 magazines were circulated through the county library system among the 12,000 people of this county.

The following took part in the play: Mrs. C. E. Blomaheld, the Rev. Mrs. O. L. Thomas, United Thank Offering treasurer; Mrs. Deard, the spirit of the Thank Offering; Mrs. Creech, the spirit of thankfulness for material blessings; Mrs. D. L. Ringler, the spirit of thankfulness for health; Mrs. E. Phillips, the spirit of thankfulness for other blessings; Miss Louise Gilmore, the spirit of thankfulness for beauty; Mrs. Johnson, the spirit of thankfulness for sorrow; Mrs. George Garrette, the spirit of thankfulness for peace; Mrs. Otto Peters, Chinese; Miss Reddie Winslow, United Thank Offering worker.

Christian Women Devise New Way Of Raising Money

The First Christian Council met at the home of Mrs. J. J. Green Monday afternoon for a business session and voted to adopt the "Hungry pig" method of raising money. Mrs. D. C. Hamilton was also a hostess.

Mrs. Ira Rockhold was appointed keeper of the pig's whereabouts. The idea is that every member of the church is to raise money by some means and to put this money in toy banks which take the shape of pigs. As the pigs travel from member to member Mrs. Rockhold is to be called so she will know the location of the pig.

The council plans to start out two pigs tomorrow morning.

Those present were Mmes. Rockhold, J. J. Green, H. Clay Read, I. D. Eddins, Ruth Barnes, G. W. Dabney, J. F. Kennedy, H. E. Clay, D. C. Hamilton, W. M. Taylor, C. A. Brewer, C. A. Murdock and W. W. Inkman.

The next meeting will be October 19.

"Cake Walk" In Store For Pupils At Cooking School

A "cake walk" is in store for women attending the Herald free cooking school which Myra Oliver Dougan is to conduct, during the week of Sept. 29 at the Settles Hotel. The lecture is included in the general subject of the "gentle art of cake making," where, she believes, the art of cookery is really demonstrated.

In addition to the many delicious cake recipes which Mrs. Dougan will demonstrate in her model stage kitchen, she will relate interesting and unusual facts concerning cake making from its infancy.

Cakes of the sixteenth and seventeenth century, she has found in her studies, were made mostly from bread dough, yeast raised, enriched with eggs, sugar and fruit. And the most sought for cake recipe in the days of the Restoration was a rare Banbury Cake, the recipe for which consumes more than half a page in its cook book with ingredients that seem limitless.

Nun's Cake Prized

Another prized early cake, the only one made without bread dough in its day, was called the nun's cake. It is said to have originated in Whitby Abbey, from Hilda, the greatest of all Abbesses, and was carefully cherished and handed down as a heritage from generation to generation. Its preparation was almost a ritual and is based almost entirely on the method of beating. And such beating! The original recipe calls for beating of four pounds of butter, 35 eggs, and then again with rose water or orange flower water; all told, the beating process consumed two hours! The modern recipe for this nun's cake has been simplified from the cumbersome occupation of hundreds of years ago to one cup of butter, the yolks of five eggs and whites of two eggs, and as Mrs. Dougan will demonstrate, is just as delicious.

Molasses Used

The early American cakes were sweetened with molasses fresh from the West Indies; fruit from Spain and Italy; raisins and currants from the Mediterranean, and spices from the Dutch Merchantmen. They were frequently baked in huge loaves, sufficient to last a month.

Cake making is one of Mrs. Dougan's favorite realms of cookery, in which she has many valuable facts assembled, practical for the home cake maker, which she

GOVERNMENT CONTROL A FAILING EXPERIMENT

By Sir George Foster

Why are you women from thirty countries here tonight, bound together by a belief in a great principle and engaged in a high enterprise? You are here because you are women and love the child and the home and because you are bound together for the protection of the children and the home.

If I could only burn it upon the hearts of every man and woman in all the civilized world that the liquor traffic is the inveterate, persistent enemy of child life and the family and the home; that these are the raw material with which the drink traffic works! Unless it can get control of this raw material—the youth of the world—it will become extinct. Don't let us think of the liquor traffic as working with barley and corn and chemicals. That is not the raw material, with which it works. The raw material on which it must depend is the children in the home and those things that are bound up in the future of the race.

That is why for long years I have been an enemy of the drink traffic. That is why I am determined to raise my voice against this arch demon of the human race. Comparable is it only to that other social evil, the drug traffic. Both bring out the beast in humanity. And both kill the angel in humanity. I am against these two beasts with all my being. I am for the angel in humanity, which must repress and subdue the beast.

That was the cry of Frances E. Willard when her sweet voice fifty or more years ago spoke from many platforms in Canada, preaching protection for the children, for the home, for the family. That is your motto still and that is why you are here.

You come from foreign lands. You come from distant communities and from those near by, but we all have this in common, that we all respond to every influence that raises the divine above the human.

The goal is within sight and I would lose my faith in God and my faith in humanity if I did not believe that the goal would yet be reached and the peace and happiness that belong to the child and family in being protected from the drink traffic would be guaranteed forever and ever.

(Sir George then threw the light of his keen logic on the situation in Canada.)

I want to tell you that prohibition is not dead in Canada. Prohibition is not even asleep in Canada. The temperance movement has not gone back. The temperance movement is going forward. The problem of the liquor traffic is not solved in Canada. One system has succeeded another but the present system is only an experiment, not a solution. It is not only an experiment but it is a failing experiment. It succeeded as a form of prohibition in this country which began when we were engaged in a perilous and fearful war, when the people uttered their condemnation of the traffic, when they said to the traffic, "Get out! We want to be efficient. Liberty and justice are at stake. We must be efficient and we cannot be efficient with the handicap of the liquor traffic."

Recently the traffic was brought back wrapped in seemingly respectable garments. It is clothed with respectability and by this act we have reversed the order of things as they should be.

What are the brewery, the distillery and the winery out for? Less drinking or more? Is it to their interest to stop drinking? Ask yourself the question. Is not their every motive selfish, for profit? They are laughing in their sleeves at the government which warms them in its bosom. Other business has to toot for custom. The business of the brewery, the distillery and the winery is put upon a pedestal. The liquor business has the government for a salesman. What binds these two together? What is the thing that joins these two? Profits. On their lips they are for sober homes, less drinking. By their actions, what are they after? A division of the profits. In a cycle of blue moons—whatever a blue moon may be—in a cycle of blue moons, in all our depression where you heard our high finance specialists discussing the waste from the drink traffic?

In these days when economic pressure is so intense $50,000,000 went into the liquor shops in Ontario alone last year and $200,000,000 went over the counters of the government shops in Canada.

Who pays for this? We do. The child pays. The family pays. The church pays. All the fine interests of the country pay.

Watchmen, what of the night? What of the future? This is the answer that comes to me, "God is in His heaven. Humanity is on the march." Onward and forward. The goal is within sight. The watchman's voice rings out to me and to you, "Be of good cheer. Carry on. Carry on. Carry on."

Lindbergh Flies For Suffered In Chinese Floods

NANKING, China, Sept. 22 (UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh became a flood relief worker today, taking his black monoplane on an aerial survey of Kiangsu province where millions are suffering and homeless.

The flight was started after the famous American aviator, who arrived here with Mrs. Ann Lindbergh from Japan Saturday, had offered his services to aid the flood victims.

Dr. Arthur Young, flood relief adviser to T. V. Soong, Chinese government finance minister, accompanied Lindbergh to take photographs and determine the extent of aid which will be required.

Flower Show Plans To Be Taken Up At Garden Club Meeting

The Garden Club will hold its regular meeting Thursday afternoon, Mrs. J. M. Morgan, especially requests a large attendance, in order to learn what can be done about the Flower Show.

The flower show has been advanced to October this fall and the Garden Club has charge of it. Owing to the dryness of the last two months, the president says that it will be necessary to do more planning than usual.

All flower lovers and gardeners are expected to be present, regardless of membership or not.

This And That By Mark

Boone Magness, manufacturer of touchdowns, punter, passer and ball totter de luxe has established himself in the Hill Country and will demonstrate to the natives just what can and should be done by a first class back as he carries on this year under the colors of Schriener Institute, of Kerrville.

We can easily imagine the manner in which Bully Gilstrap, Mountaineer coach, welcomed the former Breckenridge star. Speaking of importations the Kerrville institution never seems to lack real football talent.

We hear a new bottle cry from Bigland. "Rue" Moore, guard on the cadet eleven, goes into the huddle with the cry, "Let's go girls." Not to discourage Mr. Moore or anything like that but we are of the opinion that before the sun goes down on Turkey Day the gentleman in question will change this remark (in his mind at least) to "Not so hard men."

It would seem that Ernie Koy all-conference fullback of the Texas U. Longhorns, is hardly in condition to play this season. He is down from 218 lbs. to a mere 203. No sense in putting such little fellows on the field to participate in anything as rough as the going gets in the Southwest Conference.

Koy seems to be a mere youngster, however, compared to Cauthron, tackle, who tips the scales at 260 pounds.

Harvard is going to think they grow 'em mighty big in the Lone Star state before the Steers get through with the crimson-jerseyed warriors on their invasion of the East. Oct. 24. While the Mustangs have gone north and east several times and have on each occasion ALMOST brought home the bacon we feel that the Longhorns of Texas are really going to carry the mail on their first invasion of the East.

While pointing for this game may cost the Steers the conference title we refuse to be surprised if the charges of Littlefield & Co. shatter all conference tradition and repeat as champions of the Southwest this year.

Speaking of defeats, etc., we remember the effect of the Rice victory of the Longhorns last season. Said loss made the Steers the championship team they turned out to be. We wonder if the 7-0 win of the Ranger club Friday will have a like effect on Sweetwater. In all sincerity we hope not.

The papers inform us that many and often were the bad heavens made by the Mustang center in the tussle with Ranger Friday. One bad pass from the middleman is apt to ruin a ball game—let alone eight or nine. This perhaps had something to do with the failure of the Mustang offense to start clicking. Oh, yes and we don't want to forget what was termed bad general ship on the part of the Sweetwater field general. We can expect the boys to make mistakes, however, for when they get to the point where they don't they will be too good for this writer to watch. We won't be able to get that far away from home.

The gridiron feats of Dangerous Dan McCarthy and others of former Ranger fame seem to have been forgotten in reports concerning one Don Flahie, Ranger speedster who broke loose for a 58 yd. run last Friday to down the Sweetwater Mustangs. It seems all this young gentleman needs is a little more time and he will be ready to accomplish things in a big way in the Oil Belt during the torrid campaign for the championship.

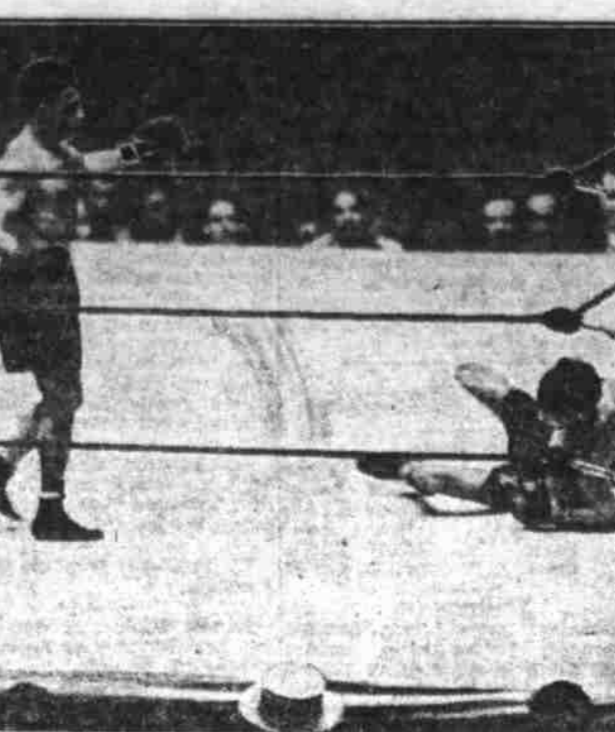

It won't be long now. The pre-conference games will soon be over and the wolves will start howling in earnest. The competition is going to be plenty stiff and many fans will be disappointed 'ere the season is well under way. We hear much from all sides concerning the club's part of the new district and just how far down the line the other team will finish—if they do.

Just to make things interesting for the wise ones—We have just received a message from our friend Alfred Collins, and he is anxious to reward the deposer who will name or come the nearest to naming the order in which the clubs of District 4 will finish. All you have to do to be the winner of this valuable prize, and we are not trying to kid anybody, is to print the order in which you think Midland, McCombs, Colorado, San Angelo, Sweetwater and Big Spring will finish in the championship tussle, and before your suggestions must be in before the first conference game on Oct. 17. The winner will be announced Nov. 26. Contest is open to any man, woman, boy, girl or employee of this or any other paper within the corporate limits of Big Spring.

Cards Win From Robins In 10th 11-10

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—While Tony Kauffman gave one of the finest exhibitions of relief pitching seen here this year, the Cardinals came from behind to tie the score in the eighth inning and then nose out the Brooklyn Robins, 11 to 10, in 10 innings Monday.

Relieving Hallahan in the sixth inning after the Robins had taken a three-run lead, Kauffman retired two batters in order and then turned the visitors back for four straight innings without a man reaching first. He struck out five, two in the tenth inning.

The Cardinals jumped on "Pee Ridge" Day, third Brooklyn batter, for three runs to square things in the ninth. Moore, who relieved him, made the mistake of walking Jim Bottomley in the tenth after two men was out. He looked as if he might pull out, but Jimmy Collins followed with a game-winning double over Frederick's head.

GIANTS 15, CUBS 7 CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—pounding five pitchers for 27 hits, the New York Giants observed their last appearance in Chicago this year by outscoring the Cubs, 15 to 7, in a wild exhibition Monday.

McCABE IS DEFEATED AS BARONS WIN FROM BUFES

Next Game Wednesday In Birmingham Ball Park

HOUSTON, Sept. 22 (UP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, tuning up for the World Series, divided a double-header with the Detroit Tigers Monday. The champions had most of their regulars in the first game, which they won, 3 to 2. A mix (are of rookies and string help) dropped the second game, 6 to 5.

Hanson Too Late Dick McCabe, loaned to Houston from Fort Worth, was charged with the loss. The Barons jarred one run from him in the first inning and pounded him for two more in the fourth. The veteran Hanson relieved him in the fifth, but it was too late.

Both teams left late last night for Birmingham to resume play there Wednesday.

The Texans got one more hit—seven—than the Barons, but could not follow through. Bancroft scored for Birmingham in the first inning after Catcher Sprinz had dropped his slow pop-up, permitting him to reach second. He came in on Abernathy's long fly to center field.

The fourth inning saw heavy Baron action. Weis singled and went to third on Susko's double. Gooch scored them both, bouncing a hot one off Shortstop Carey's glove hand.

The paid attendance was away off—6,113.

tinue unless a curb is placed on imports of crude oil and refined products.

The representatives sought an agreement on the part of the four importing companies, Standard of New Jersey, Standard of Ohio, Dutch Shell and Gulf for a greater curtailment of imports.

Seek Less Imports
Hill said the oil producing states have agreed to curtail production one-third and it was believed that importing companies should curtail a like amount. Representatives said oil interests in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana agree there should be a tariff on oil and refined products.

Secretary Lamont promised his callers that he will have the legal phases of the situation investigated. This was taken to mean whether the importing companies may make an agreement without violating anti-trust laws.

Capt. J. F. Lucey of Dallas with Commissioner Terrell represented Texas in obedience to a request telegraphed by Governor Ross Sterling. Lucey said Texas is in harmony with the general reduction program.

Secretary Lamont was told that Texas production had been fixed tentatively at 902,000 barrels daily production, increasing to 961,000 barrels in 1934, and believed that the United States production should be held to 2,407,000 during 1932 and 2,555,000 in 1934.

In the afternoon the representatives called on Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the United States tariff commission which is making a study of production costs.

TULSA, Sept. 21. (UPI)—Oil men awaited result of conference to stabilize the domestic oil industry as oil leaders conferred with Secretary of Commerce Lamont at Washington about an agreement to curtail imports of foreign petroleum.

For the best HOME-ROLLED cigarettes ever... try this

OPEN a tidy red tin of Prince Albert... sniff the delightful fragrance of the tobacco. It's the grandest aroma that ever floated out of a package of smoking tobacco. Then spread a cigaretteful in a paper and see how quick and easy it rolls into a trim cigarette that burns evenly and stays put. No fuss or muss or spilled tobacco... because P. A. is crimp-cut. That's why it rolls so smooth.

Now light up!

You'll have to admit that no other home-rolled cigarette ever had so much to recommend it. Prince Albert is simply better tobacco, Gentlemen.

Have you tried a pipe lately? Men who thought a pipe was not for them have changed their minds after the first load of P. A. This friendly tobacco just wouldn't think of biting your tongue or parching your throat. Take my tip... get out the old pipe and give it a new deal.

— AND THE PAPERS ARE IMPORTANT, TOO. The perfect combination for home-rolled cigarettes: P. A. for filler and OCB for wrapper. The world's finest papers, made at the famous Bollere mills in France expressly for R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. Book of 150 leaves for $5. Buy OCB's with good old P. A. and you're all set to be satisfied.
