German and Basque Decide Heavyweight Tilt in Garden

NO ODDS ARE CONCEDED EITHER

Betting Pulse Is Not Quickened By Reports

NEW YORK, June 27.—(UP)—Flying from Albany, Paolino Uzudun, Basque woodchopper, arrived here shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon for his heavyweight fight tonight with Max Schmeling, German challenger, at Yankee Stadium.

BATTLE OF FOREIGNERS Thousands of people will jam the great arena established by the late Tex Rickard tonight to see the battle of foreign challengers under the glaring arc lights.

They will see for the first time in years foreigners pitted against each other in an effort to weed out one principal in heavyweight competition, which has been strangely muddled since the memorable day when Dempsey awakened for the second time in his life to remember he had failed.

Paolino nor Max has fought an opponent of especial merit. Both are noted as 'blotters', though Max can hit. Paolino can take the hardest blows in the fight industry, critics say.

Little Betting on Outcome At the present moment, there appears to be little betting on the outcome, although fight fanciers in the ranks of scribes say that Max should have the edge.

Briefly, reports of scribes at the respective training camps of the two fighters have said that Max may win the fight if he gets his hard right to the Basque with the necessary frequency in the earlier rounds; that Paolino will probably win if the fight drags past the eighth round. Radio reports will be given over national radio hookups.

Jesse Tells Why Farmers Make Less Than They Should

In Midland county farmers not only have ideas, but write them. The following is done by J. A. Jesse, one of the county's most successful tillers of the soil.

Many a man has lost his farm who could have paid for it had he terraced and otherwise kept up the land. Not counting the increased value in the farm, it is surprising the difference it makes in how one goes about it. Take, for instance, this farming territory in West Texas as where the rainfall is not so plentiful. By putting terraces on a level and the rows in the proper direction, water will in many instances collect and be distributed as well as it would in an irrigation project.

A crop made through agency of water saved and collected by terracing might save a farmer from ruin on any "dry" year.

I have terraced about 400 acres this year, thanks to the valuable assistance of our farm agent, Frank Wendt. A man who can instill in the mind of the farmer the necessity for such work and then come out regularly to the farm and see that the work goes through to a successful culmination—that man is built of the timber that we need (Continued on Page 4)

Midland Marked As One of Four Stops On Route

Once more has Midland scored as the air center of a large area.

On large aviation maps to be distributed throughout this continent, Midland is one of only four Texas fields to be located. The others are Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso.

The maps were printed for the San Diego chamber of commerce, and list only the finest landing fields in the country.

The route shown is proposed as an air mail path, a subscription on the map informs.

Plans Leap Into Matrimony

Marriage may bring flighty young men down to earth, but it will be a precarious route that John Charles Krajcik, left, will take to his wedding. He literally is going to jump into matrimony. Krajcik is one of ten army men holding the world's parachute record, and he intends to leap out of a plane at 5000 feet and drift down to a field at Newark, N. J., to say his "I do's" with Miss Elizabeth Sais, center. By manipulating the cords of his chute he expects to be able to maneuver right to the side of his bride-to-be and the minister. The couple here are being congratulated by Captain J. O. Donaldson, chief of the Newark Airport.

GOVERNMENT GIVES HEADSTONES FOR SOLDIERS' GRAVES

These head stones are uniform in size and quality, and will be laid down here freight prepaid when ordered through the local legion post. Those interested in securing head stones for deceased ex-service men who are buried here should get in touch with Mr. Wasaff.

The offer applies to veterans of not only the World War, but also of the Spanish American and the Civil Wars, Mr. Wasaff states.

Girl Who Lands Here Says Planes Vacation Need

When Margaret Giddings and party landed their 6-place job Traveler monoplane at Sloan Field Wednesday afternoon on their way to Colorado Springs from a few days "roughing it" near Fort Stockton the young lady was asked whether cross country flight to week-end resorts and to vacation spots is getting to be the fad with Colorado society folks.

"It is that," the young lady answered, delicately powdering her nose. "In an age of acceleration, speed, and woman, making her own ways, girls, especially, find that time for play is being limited more and more. It is natural that modern steps must be taken to crowd in speed with playtime. So my party took ship when it decided to spend a few days in Fort Stockton.

"We got up in the early morning and fly a hundred miles in an hour, land on a convenient meadow, and are swimming, boating, hunting or fishing with the same ease and convenience that most would have doing these things a mile away from their homes. And we get the benefit of going to virgin spots where the fish really bite and where the waters are not crowded (Continued on Page 4)

ARMY O-2 SHIPS EN ROUTE OHIO LAND AT PORT

Two army Douglas O-2 bombing ships flew into Midland for refueling Wednesday afternoon. Lieut. C. M. Cummings and Lieut. W. W. Amis, both of whom have landed army planes on Sloan field in the past, stated that they were on their way to the National Guard encampment in Ohio for a few days.

LAWYERS BEGIN ARGUMENT TODAY IN ROBISON CASE

AUSTIN, June 27.—(UP)—Arguments began at 11 o'clock today in the hearing by the House on charges against J. T. Robison, land commissioner.

The attorneys were allowed three hours on each side. After that the regular house rules will prevail, allowing arguments by House members before a vote is taken.

Lubbock Will Be Represented At Hogan Opening

The Lubbock chamber of commerce will be represented at the festivities attendant upon the opening of the Hogan Petroleum building, a special letter from A. B. Davis, secretary, says.

The Lubbock chamber is watching the press for all news of the Midland celebration, which is expected to be the biggest in the Southwest.

TEXARKANA, June 27.—(AP)—L. H. Simmons, deputy sheriff and former police chief here, died last night from bullet wounds received yesterday in an attempt to arrest L. K. Person, plantation owner. The shooting started from an argument over cattle.

Help the Chamber By Sending Out City Literature

"There's a lot of Midland publicity and Fourth of July programs at the chamber of commerce for you," Paul L. Young, secretary of the July 4 committee of the chamber said this morning.

"There is everything there—from windshield stickers to oil literature," he went on to say. "If you want to aid the city in getting a great crowd here on the holiday, get this literature and publicity matter, then send it out in letters to your friends. "One Midland woman has sent 25 programs to her friends. Why don't you do the same?"

TOOLS FISHED FROM PHILLIPS' NO. 1 STOKES

Information received early today from the Phillips well at the Stokes ranch indicates that the tools which were lost in the hole had been fished out after 15 hours work.

The depth Wednesday night was about 4,200, and the formation was said by the driller to be a hard shale, according to J. V. Stokes.

Wells in Oklahoma have been known to drill through this shale, directly into the pay, Mr. Stokes was told; but if production comes from the lime, the formation should become softer.

The Midland County test, located 17 miles southeast of Midland on section 17, block 32, township 2 south, is equipped for a deep test, although definite information as to the depth planned has not been made public.

Chamber Giving Wide Publicity To Baseball

Wide publicity is being given the West Texas League ball games at Midland July 3 and 4 by the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber telephoned the schedule to Stanton Thursday in time to go in the Stanton Reporter as that town is much interested in any contest between Midland and Big Spring.

Paul L. Young, chairman of the July 4 Chamber of Commerce committee, went to Odessa Thursday to give the newspaper of that town an account of the ball game, as Odessa, too, is much interested in the Midland-Big Spring rivalry.

News of the ball game has already been sent to 32 newspapers, has gone out in 1,000 special invitations, and on 10,000 dodgers. The chamber will furnish a band free of charge for the ball game Thursday.

H. M. Becherer, field-manager of the Midland airport does not agree with statements of Colonel Halsey Dunwoody, executive vice-president of Universal lines, who gave for press release this week a statement designed to show that the airplane for private ownership has not been invented yet and that individual flying will not become popular until a fool-proof plane is invented.

"We believe in Texas that the colonel is wrong in some particulars," the Midland manager said. "It is the desire of the aviator to see the time come when all planes are more fool-proof, but it must be borne in mind that the mechanical law may always be held partially culpable for the progress of aeronautics. Man, the human element, is the other factor. Those who fly know that this is true and will never expect more than an approach to the limit of perfection. They will endeavor to make of inventions and improved methods of flying variables of that approach, however."

Becherer said, quoting the language of one of his army air training school instructors. "It is true that better planes will be built, however, the field-

Circulation Of Reporter-Telegram Gaining Steadily

Growth of the circulation of The Reporter-Telegram has shown exceptional progress during the past few weeks, with the highest number of subscriptions for one week ending Saturday, with a total of 60 for 6 days.

Mrs. S. M. Warren, formerly with the circulation department of a daily paper at Eastland, and Alvin Patterson, Midland high school boy, are devoting full time to enlarging the Midland daily's circulation. Chas. Underwood, circulation manager of the Amarillo News-Globe spent several days here assisting in organizing the Reporter-Telegram's circulation department along more systematic lines.

The publishers of the paper plan to have the daily going to practically every established Midland home, as well as to many in surrounding towns and counties, within the near future.

Beautiful Girl Wanted For Revue At Lake Cisco

Is there a Midland girl who would like to establish this city as a center of beauties, thus giving it the designation in the realm of pichurite that it enjoys in that of oil, cattle, potential farming, aviation and numerous other categories? If so, the chance is here for the girl.

The Cisco chamber of commerce is asking the Midland chamber to designate a girl "Miss Midland," and this the chamber will do if the girl will go on her own responsibility. A large revue is to be held at the "Golden Horseshoe," on Lake Cisco, July 4.

18,000 Gallons Sold At Airport In Thirty Days

When the critical reader finds an account in the public press about the amazing number of planes which land at Sloan Field, he is apt to wonder if the account is not overstressed at times.

If he should check the amount of gasoline pumped into the petrol tanks of the visitors' ships, however, he would have the concrete basis for acquaintance with the real facts.

In the past 30 days, H. E. Dunagan, local gasoline agent, has supplied the port with 18,000 gallons of fuel, he said this morning.

"There's not another port in the state that sells as much gasoline in comparison with the size of the town where it is located," Dunagan said.

HOUSTON, June 27. (UP)—Frank Snyder's release as manager of the Houston Buffaloes was announced today on the return from Dallas of President Fred Ankenman who is dissatisfied with the team's showing. Gene Bailey is now piloting the club.

BECHERER DOES NOT AGREE WITH STATEMENTS OF NOTED FLYER ABOUT IDEAL FLYING PLANE FOR INDIVIDUALS and under the strict supervision by which such operations are conducted today is as safe as automotive or train transportation. But for the average man who does not give all his time to the business it still offers hazards which can only be overcome by thorough training and perfection of plane construction.

"The Colonel," Becherer said, "was war-time assistant chief or the A. E. F. Air Service and head of the technical division of America's overseas air forces, and is one of the world's best known aviators and an authority on aerial operations. He is also one of the world's most decorated soldiers. He is a graduate of the 1905 class at West Point and remained in the army until after the war when he became the European representative of a group of American bankers, with headquarters in Paris.

"He further prophesied the merger of the larger air transport lines with the railroads, steamship lines and auto builders in which all means of transportation would be harmonized and synchronized to the best advantage to the public and to the financial backers of the industry."

Becherer quoted Colonel Dunwoody as saying: "Of course the sons of rich men and the air pioneers will continue to operate ships on a private ownership but we, close to the industry, know that the day when planes will be generally operated as automobiles is distant. From a line transportation angle we have worked this problem out until air transportation over regularly operated lines

EXTRA COPIES OF SPECIAL EDITION WILL AID IN ADVERTISING MIDLAND

Orders for extra copies of the special edition to be published Sunday by The Reporter-Telegram, honoring the opening July 3 and 4 of the 12-story Petroleum Building, have begun coming in.

It is pointed out by the publishers that this affords an excellent opportunity for Midland people to send to their friends up to date and condensed information about the city, and will assist greatly in advertising Midland and the surrounding country to the outside world.

These copies will be mailed out by The Reporter-Telegram circulation department for 15 cents each, 5 cents for the papers and 10 cents to cover postage, wrapping and mailing expense. All that is necessary is to turn the names and addresses in with each order.

Hundreds of extra copies are being run off to see that the special edition secures wide circulation.

SPECIAL SLEEPER FROM DALLAS TO MIDLAND ON 4TH

To accommodate extra travel from Dallas and Fort Worth to Midland incident to celebration in connection with opening the Hogan Petroleum building on July 3-4, one "high grade 12-section, drawing room standard steel sleeper" has been ordered by Frank Jensen, general passenger agent, to operate the Dallas-Midland line, leaving Dallas July 2.

Copy of transportation advice to the chamber of commerce has been received here. An ad section taken from the Dallas News of the June 26 issue was also inclosed, showing the great publicity Midland is getting in state papers from the opening plans. Jensen said that arrangements for more publicity has been made for the T. & P. in the Dallas News and the Star-Telegram, as well as in intermediate cities.

Station Agent Hamlet says that special rates will also be given from Midland to El Paso on the date. Rate from El Paso to Cloudfraft, N. M., and return will be only $3.50, he says.

INSTALL NEW OFFICERS OF ROTARY CLUB

Installation of new officers, with addresses by both the outgoing and the incoming officers, characterized the program today of the Midland Rotary Club. J. S. Bonner was chairman of the day's events.

He introduced first the outgoing president, W. I. Pratt, praising the remarkable administration under which the club has been organized and operated for more than a year.

President Pratt reviewed briefly the history of the club, stressing the friendly relations that have been built up, told of the club's part in the civic life, the boys' work, of the student loan fund, and other details in connection with the organization's activities.

He was given a rising cheer by the club. Kenneth Ambrose, outgoing vice-president, also told of the advantages to the city of the luncheon club, and expressed his pleasure at working with Ily Pratt, the untiring president.

Elliott H. Barron made his report as outgoing secretary, showing the club to be in splendid financial condition. Fred Wemple, outgoing treasurer, who has been out of the city for the past few months, was voted the thanks of the club for his efficient work.

In introducing the new officers, Mr. Bonner spoke briefly on the responsibility of an officer, stating that to uphold the dignity of the organization and to give it constructive leadership were important.

Aubrey S. Legg was then introduced, and read a list of suggestions concerning the "needs of the club," wherein humorous "take offs" were made on practically all members.

Splendid speeches were made by each of the new officers, including M. M. Meek, president, Dr. L. B. Pemberton, secretary, Dr. W. E. Ryan, vice president, and J. O. Garlington, treasurer.

Prior to turning the gavel over to the new president, President Ily Pratt gave the official welcome to two new members, Gus Edmondson and Harvey Sloan. They were presented with framed codes of ethics by A. B. Anderson.

John P. Howe reported on the trip wherein Rotarians and their wives took the group of Midland boy scouts to the camp on the Pecos river. A truck and driver were furnished by J. E. Hill, and cars were driven by Mesdames J. O. Garlington, W. E. Ryan, and John P. Howe, and by Ernest McKinney, T. D. Murphy, Aubrey Legg and Clarence Goodman.

REPUBLICAN PATRONAGE DENIED

Senate Investigation Committee Working At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, June 27.—(P)—"While Federal office holders might not be asked to contribute to the $100,000 fund being raised by the Republican organization in Texas, that campaign is a good reminder to them to donate," Senator Brookhart, chairman of the Senate patronage committee said today while interrogating witnesses in the Texas patronage investigation.

Eugene Nolte, state executive chairman, had denied that office holders were asked to contribute, and declared that the $100,000 is being raised only for maintenance of the State Republican organization.

Politics in Hidalgo county were again under discussion.

Mrs. Schaben told Brookhart and Senator McKellar, his associate that the independent democrats and republicans in Hidalgo county in the last election campaign held what they expected to be recognized as a Republican convention, nominated the county ticket, only to have recognition refused by National Committeeman Creager. She claimed five Creager convention delegates walked out.

CONDEMN MACHINE POLITICS

SAN ANTONIO, June 27.—(UP)—Testimony which chairman Brookhart characterized as terrific condemnation of any political machine was given today before the Senate sub-committee investigating Federal patronage in Texas, by Mrs. H. O. Schaben, of Hidalgo county.

Mrs. Schaben told Brookhart and Senator McKellar, his associate that the independent democrats and republicans in Hidalgo county in the last election campaign held what they expected to be recognized as a Republican convention, nominated the county ticket, only to have recognition refused by National Committeeman Creager. She claimed five Creager convention delegates walked out.

George Glass Has Youngest Scribe In U. S., He Thinks

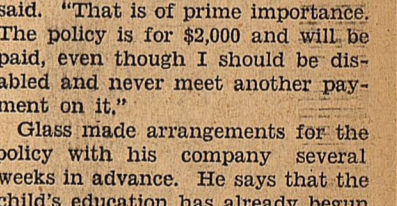

George Glass claims to have the youngest daughter in the world who has legally signed an official document. When but one minute old, the child stuck out one pink foot and gave a desultory push against an educational policy which will insure the child an education in the event its father should die or be rendered disabled. The imprint is still discernable.

The child, Monta Jo, is the youngest child in the state to have a policy of this kind, possibly in the entire country.

"I want my child educated," Glass said. "That is of prime importance. The policy is for $2,000 and will be paid, even though I should be disabled and never meet another payment on it."

Glass made arrangements for the policy with his company several weeks in advance. He says that the child's education has already begun—chiefly vocally.

WATCH GRASS FIRES

As hot weather continues, with only occasional scattered showers, and with wind which dries up vegetation, it behooves those who are out over the country to guard against prairie fires.

At this season, when the grass is tall and has dry tops, the danger is greater than at any time of the year, and a carelessly flicked match by a cigarette smoker, or a glowing ember left at a camp fire may cause the loss of section after section of grass which is badly needed by the ranchmen.

Cattle are still in good condition over the country, but the grass is badly needed to keep them in summer feed before the next rains fall. A devastating fire can mean financial loss to any ranchman now.

A WORD ABOUT YOUTH

You don't hear so much nowadays about "flaming youth" and its sins as you did a short time ago. In case you are still a bit worried about the erring younger generation, however, you might listen to these remarks by the Rev. Charles R. Brown, D. D., dean emeritus of the Yale Divinity School, who has seen the new generation at close range for a number of years.

"I have no sympathy whatever with this wholesale decrying of the tendencies of youth," says Dean Brown. "The young people are not everything that is great and grand and good, neither are they the last word in total depravity. They are mixed like the rest of us. The wheat and tares grow together in that soil which is warm and rich and fertile beyond measure, according to the seed sown."

That seems to us an excellent size-up of the situation. It is a good antidote for the dolorous wails of some of the discouraged graybeards.

Ice Box Cookery School Held by Miss Edith Cox

About fifty Midland housewives were received yesterday afternoon by Miss Edith Cox, head of the Home Service Department of the Southern Ice & Utilities Company, at an Ice Box Cookery School conducted by her in the old Chamber of Commerce building.

Valuable recipes for summer cool dishes were the main things demonstrated and lectured upon by Miss Cox. The feature of the afternoon's program was the ideal service of an ice-buffon course showing the proper service of silver and china.

Demonstrations showing how elaborate dishes for parties and simple dishes for the lunchtime were prepared were also valuable and interesting for housewives. The frozen and chilled dishes were prepared in an Ice-Way Refrigerator.

The following is one of probably the most simple prepared and yet nourishing of the group demonstrated yesterday:

Jellied chicken and vegetable loaf. 2 tablespoons gelatine, 1 cup chicken stock, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon vinegar, few grains of red pepper, 1-2 chicken diced, 1 cup small peas, 1 cup cubed celery or shredded cabbage, 1-2 cup thinly sliced radishes, 1 green pepper. Soak gelatine in stock five minutes, dissolve over hot water, and add vinegar. Pour over the chicken and vegetables which have been well mixed. All seasonings and pack in a mold. Place in refrigerator under the ice to chill. This can be molded individually or in one large mold.

ALICE WHITE TALKS FOR FIRST TIME ON VITAPHONE

Alice White, youngest of First National's screen stars makes her Vitaphone debut in "Hot Stuff," the attraction at the Ritz Theatre next Sunday.

Advance reports indicate that Miss White's voice is as good as her looks. After many talking tests, First National signed Alice to a long term contract under which she will make nothing but talking pictures. Only three years ago she was an unknown script girl, working for thirty-five dollars a week.

Her remarkable rise to stardom resulted from her indomitable pep and attractive personality. Many of Hollywood's famous critics are predicting a still greater future for Alice now that the talking picture has taken its place in the hearts of movie fans.

"Hot Stuff" was adapted from "Bluffers," a collegiate story of Robert S. Carr. It deals with two very devilish students, a college shiek and a co-ed, who pretend to be a lot worse than they are, who eventually discover each others secrets.

It's a First National Vitaphone picture and was directed by Mervyn LeRoy. Prominent in the supporting cast are Louise Fazenda, William Bakewell, Doris Dawson, one of the Wampas Baby Stars of 1929 and many others.

Free Shows July 4 At Palace Theatre

Correction of an announcement made through publicity and advertising concerning the July 4 celebration is authorized by W. H. Williams, operator of the Ritz and Palace theatres. It has been announced that the Ritz would give free shows on that date, whereas the announcement should have said the Palace.

As in former years, Mr. Williams will extend the courtesy of free shows at the Palace to visiting ladies and children. Tickets will be secured from the chamber of commerce office. This announcement is made to avoid possible confusion.

4,000 To Dance July Fourth At Big Street Dance

Definite location of the place for the great street dance to be held on the night of July 4 here has been made, members of the committee in charge reported to Paul L. Young, general chairman, this morning.

The dance will be held on Texas avenue, between North Main and Lorraine streets. Four thousand people will dance to the strains played by the Post City orchestra that night, chamber of commerce officials believe.

It is thought that the Mississippi Valley was once a great interior sea.

TWO DROWN IN CREEK NEAR WACO

WACO, June 27.—(P)—George Dworsky, 13 years old, and his sister, Helen, 11, were drowned in the waters of Cotton wood Creek late yesterday when the girl fell into a swimming pool, and the brother, who was not able to swim, attempted to rescue her.

J. L. Dworsky, father of the pair, barely escaped. Although not able to swim a stroke, he went in after the two children. He was taken out almost unconscious by Louis Gast, 20 years old, who also rescued the bodies of the children.

Word Designation Means Little To Store Proprietor

L. A. Arrington, proprietor of the Midland Drug Store, made a pharmacy by recent legislation which applied to all drug stores maintaining a prescription department, says that he will not change the name of his store.

Herein lies an interesting bit of technicality. The City Drug has already changed its name to "City Pharmacy." Other stores over Texas are doing the same.

But Arrington likes the old name of his store, and will not change. Instead, the proprietor will tack up the name pharmacy outside his store somewhere, thus coming within the law. But business will be conducted under the name "Midland Drug."

SPORT BATTER ON TOP IN TEXAS WITH .385 CLIP

DALLAS, June 27.—(AP)—A mighty hitting campaign during the last week saw Langford Shreveport outfielder, climb from tenth place among Texas League batters to the pinnacle. The slugger Sport increased his average from .345 to .385 in his seven day spree and displaced his teammate, Starr, for top honors.

For the first time this season, no player was batting over the .400 mark through games of Thursday. It is doubtful the figure will be reached again this year. George Blackerby, Waco's demon outfielder, threatens to assume the batting lead. If he outbats all rivals in the current campaign it will be the first time in the league's history that a player has led two consecutive seasons.

Langford (St) .385; Starr (St) .381; Blackerby (Wa) .377; Lapan (WF) .372; Bennett (WF) .363; Hanson (Bt) .357; R. Moore (Ds) .356; Whitworth (FW) .353; Hutson (St) .349; McClanahan (St) .349.

In addition to leading the batting procession, Shreveport also supplies leaders in runs scored and stolen bases. Whelan, Sport first sacker, has dented the pan 62 times, while Stewart, rookie second baseman, has swiped 16 stations. Blackerby is runner-up in runs scored, with 61. Pursuing Stewart in the matter of base thefts are Eddie Moore, Fort Worth, Flaskamper, Dallas, and Whelan, Shreveport, each with 15 pilfers. Flaskampers led the procession last season.

Charlie Barnabe, veteran Steer southpaw, is showing the way to pitchers of the circuit, with 11 victories and only two reverses. Caldwell, Waco, and Lindsey, Houston, each has won 11, but has encountered more defeats. Lindsey tops the hurlers with 59 strikeouts. Andy Messenger, San Antonio ace, has whiffed 57.

COLTS TO ABILENE AS LEAGUE RACE NARROWS TO LAST DAYS

LOST TO COLEMAN WHEN KALLINA BROKE IN 5TH

As a result of Midland's loss yesterday to the Coleman Bobcats, Midland has taken a drop to the first step above Ballinger, the cellar club.

An eighth inning rally that overcame a four-run lead was the deciding factor of Coleman's win. Kallina had until this time allowed only three hits, but seven came in in this fatal inning and all Coleman's runs were scored.

In spite of having won 3 successive games, Abilene remains a half game out of the leadership through Coleman's two successive wins over the Colts. The race, wide open at the beginning of the week, narrows down to Abilene and Coleman. It would seem, Midland goes to the city of the Aces for three games; San Angelo plays Coleman the same number of games, and Big Spring will take a fling at Ballinger.

Jesse Tells

I would like to write a few lines in regard to farming. I was raised on the farm. I have been in Washington, Fayette, Lee, Bastrop, Wilkerson, Bell, Hamilton, and, now, Midland counties. I always find a new farming area the most profitable, especially if it is easy of cultivation, fertile and low in purchase price. These qualifying values are all found in Midland county.

The greatest trouble, however, resulting from farmers coming into a county like this is that they try to take up too much land, try to cultivate too many acres. The same crops are planted year after year. And there are too many acres under cultivation per given farmer in many instances. Few farmers terrace. The soil is worn out as a result.

Comparatively, for this section, large sums are expended by the farmer for grubbing and breaking. This is a bad beginning to this allowing of the land to wash away by poor farming methods. By a little time spent in terracing, he could save this washing of land and the money it would insure him.

The ratio of production of improved land to that which is allowed to lie exposed to the weather is great.

Errors: J. Moore, Stone, Crozier. Sacrifice hits: Ragan, Lewis. Cheeves.

Double plays: Lewis to Cheeves, T. Moore to J. Moore to T. Moore.

Stolen base: Stagner. Two-base hits: J. Moore, McBride, Bryant.

Three-base hit: J. Moore. Home run: Kallina.

Bases on balls: Ragan 2, Kallina 4. Struck out: Ragan 4, Kallina 8.

Hits: Ragan 8, Kallina 10. Umpires: Ballanfant and White.

The Girl Who

The girl turned to the pilot of the ship. "We have the same safety insurance in a single motored ship that the trimotors have, have we not?"

And the pilot nodded affirmatively.

Air travel in single motored planes is just as safe as in multi-motored equipment, the pilot stated.

"Ever since the war the government subsidized lines of Europe have been operating day and night with single motored ships. Their record is very nearly perfect and shows a considerable safety advantage over motor and rail routes. The fact that insurance rates on passengers, equipment, and pilots over these lines, which for a time experimented with multi-motored planes, is as low as the rates on all other systems of transportation is further evidence of the contention that smaller and lighter planes requiring but one motor are as safe as their heavier and higher powered cousins."

There are several reasons for this which are often overlooked by the layman, according to the pilot. The first is that single motored planes are infinitely more flexible and more easily handled in case of an emergency. Good flying country such as the Southwest offers no emergency could occur in a single-motored which could not be corrected by any intelligent pilot, assuming that he was flying at sufficient altitude. The single motored airliner can be landed in half the space required by larger ships and with a much higher degree of safety because it is so much more maneuverable.

"The Braniff system, which operates both tri-motored and single motored plane and which has made a remarkable safety record, attributes its freedom from accident to the careful service given every plane in its use," the pilot said. "No matter how satisfactorily its performance has been when on a scheduled run, immediately upon its return the plane is inspected down to the last coter pin and a triple check of each detail made. Only when it is in perfect running order is it al-

purpose whatever. "Accident reports of the Department of Commerce show a very low percentage of casualties in airline operation, and in no case were they of such nature as indication unfavorable comparison between single and multi-motored planes," stated the pilot.

Insidious Falsehoods—Boomerangs

The insidious falsehoods apparent in the claims of selfish interests are boomerangs emphasizing the truth of Lucky Strike's popularity and success. Lucky Strike is a blend of the choicest tobaccos, matured by nature, abounding in fragrant aroma and bursting into delicious, satisfying flavor when toasted for 45 minutes. This heat treatment is the reason 20,679* physicians claim Luckies to be less irritating than other cigarettes. Toasting, the distinctive process, makes Lucky Strike the cigarette of distinction.
