Goal of $500 Is Set By Teams for Two Hours' Work

Committees of Midland business and professional men are at work this afternoon raising Midland's membership dues to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the current year. This action follows a meeting of Midland men this morning with A. M. Bourland, president and manager of the regional organization and Grady Shipp, manager of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce, who is assisting Mr. Bourland.

The dues take effect as of August 14, the date of the membership campaign held here a year ago, and are in units of $10 each per year. It is hoped to raise committees expect to be through SUNDAY MOVIE $500 as Midland's part, and the within two hours.

FLIGHT OF EAKER CLEVELAND, Aug. 29 .- (AP)-The transcontinental mail plane

'Shuttle" was forced down late last night when it was struck by a five gallon can of oil during refueling contact, while on return flight to Los Angeles from New York, in an attempt to establish a record for sustained flying. Capt. Ira Eaker, the pilot, immediately made plans to resume the flight.

Captain Eaker has made several landings in Midland, first with the army refueling trimotor "Question Mark," and later on trips associated with the Brownsville-to-Panama dawn-to-dusk attempt and business flights. Two landings were made enroute to Eden, where Eaker's mother lived until the time of her death a few months ago.

Midland will be closed up Labor Day as though inhabited by a plague.

This is done out of courtesy to Midland baseball players who will be engaged at Cowden Park in a playoff game with Coleman for the championship of the West Texas League, and for the im-

MIDLAND AND COLEMAN START CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES T STEBBINS, COLEMAN FIRST BASEMAN, WITH PANTHERS REJOINS CLUB TO GIVE BOBCATS ADDITIONAL WALLOP

Lee Stebbins, Coleman first baseman who has been adding punch to the Fort Worth Panther infield for BAREPALL the past week, is back at his old post this afternoon as Midland and Coleman battle through the first game of the play off series in Coleman.

Tom Carson and Grady White have been selected as umpires for all games of the seven-game playoff, it has been announced by Dave Snodgrass, loop prexy.

Favored in the street corner fanning bees as starting pitchers are Harris, southpaw, for Coleman, and Blake for Midland. Earlier in the week, however, Manager Jack Holloway of the Bobcats had announced tentatively that the responsibility of the first game would be placed on Hinson, a right hander. There have been no announcement from the Midland camp, but Hollo way was anticipating "Peewee" Gene Moore as the Colt twirlen when he stated that Hinson would help usher in the series. In the eyes of West Texas, Midland has a better chance to win the West Texas playoff than Coleman. Substantial figures support this acceptance. An Associated Press story, dated last night in Coleman, gives Cole-| San Antonio man an almost even break, however in the series starting today. The story, which cites the defensive strength of Coleman fielders and a better balanced pitching staff among the Jack Holloway men, is reprinted below: Boasting two regulars hitting over the .400 mark and five others clouting the ball better than .300, the Chicago Midland Colts, winners of the second half of the West Texas league race, have been established slight favorites over the Coleman Bobcats, first half champs, in their seven-game play-off. While only three of their number are hitting over .300, the Bobcats partly balance the scales with Brooklyn a better defensive machine, both infield and outfield, and a better balanced pitching staff. Earned run Boston averages show the Bobcat hurlers the more effective Little Gene Moore, a southpaw and Blake probably will catch the burden of mound duty for the Colts. They are the only dependable twirlers on Manager John King's club. The Bobcats, on the other hand have Kowalik, the league leader in percentage of victories. Hinson, Halbert. Myers and Harris, of nearly

n Coleman today, according to early reports of tourists who said that rain had started falling in that direction early today.

Midland fans want rain; but they want to see the playoff as early as possible. This does not mean, however, that Midland would like to see the rain wait on the series. Essentially Midland county is a stock raising farming district, and rains are remembered from back beyond the days of baseball in Texas.

Stebbins, returning to Coleman gives Coleman a better break. Hitherto, the club had reason to feel blue through loss of Cam Best, who was lost to the team through temperament. That was on the eve of the playoff, too. The young outfielder was shown the gate with tourist map precision by three Coleman players and two umps. Angelo and Coleman were playing and Cam Pct swat a triple. When he stepped over first base without touching the bag he was called out, and then shown out as his demonstration of 548 wrath became obnoxious. Carl Williams, associated with the Wichita Falls and Abilene clubs, feels in his bones that Midland is jumpy. He is probably correct.' What club would not be jumpy after winning such a per cent of games since the first of June-since it would require winning that per cent to keep ahead of the charging Bearcats from Ballinger Land? Williams says that Coleman might beat Midland if its team got away to a lead. That also is possible, but William's words that compose the conditions are testament to Midland's prowess: "If Coleman can get the jump on kinson will undergo a major operathe Midland warriors, Coleman may win." Prexy Anderson, versatile
