FINANCIAL SPEAKEASIES

In leading a drive against various types of bucket shops in New York, Assistant United States Attorney George J. Mintzer coined a new phrase—"financial speakeasies." They are exactly that," he said, "Some of them having a doorman and a peephole through which to scan visitors before the door is opened."

Bucket shops, tipster sheets and other alleged illegal financial enterprises, according to U.S. Attorney Tuttle, have victimized more persons and caused greater losses than did the recent $5,000,000 failure of a private New York banking house.

These investment frauds have given rise to the more or less common belief that all purchasing of listed stocks is in the same class with betting on the ponies or buying lottery tickets. They have, in many instances, caused an unfair stigma to be attached to honest and legal transactions and thrown all blame on "Wall Street."

As a matter of fact, no group of people is more interested in stamping out investment frauds than are legitimate brokers and bankers and stock exchanges. Stock and bond issues are rigorously examined before being listedmember brokers are audited much in the same fashion as banks—investors are continually warned against purchasing unsound and unknown issues.

The solution of this problem, as is true of most others, is up to the purchasing public. Bucket shops and tipster sheets must have customers before they can exist and prosper. If every investor, before buying, made it his business to first consult a reputable investment banker or a brokerage house that is a member of one or more of the large recognized exchanges, the day of investment frauds would rapidly wane.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK COMING

October 6 to 13 has been set aside as Fire Prevention Week. During that time public and private organizations and authorities will make an effort to instruct citizens in the fundamentals of doing away with our terrible fire

In past years the fire rate has always gone down during the week, only to rise again to "normal" immediately after. It is the old case of a lesson going in one ear and out the other.

Fire is perhaps the greatest single menace to progress we must face. Every year it destroys property which, in terms of monetary value, would support whole governments, cover the country with paved highways, provide greater educational facilities or do any number of other great services. And on top of this must be placed the still greater destruction in human life.

During Fire Prevention Week we will learn of the danger of neglected wiring, carelessly disposed of matches or cigarettes, piles of refuse, poor building construction and so on. But unless our citizens carry the lesson learned through the other 51 weeks of the year nothing will be

Court House Floor Plans

The spacious basement floor of the proposed new court house makes room for some Midland organizations which have long suffered for lack of homes. The American Legion, which has been meeting in upper stories of vacant buildings when there were such, will have a permanent home with opportunity for displaying its flags, artillery, medals and other decorations. The Boy Scouts, who have met on lawas, in front of churches and in various temporary meeting places, will have a hall all their own. Storage rooms are provided for older records of the county clerk and of the tax collecter, being protected against fire. Other store rooms provide needed space for other county records. A boiler room serves the heating plant. Janitors quarters, toilets for men, white and colored, take up one end of the basement.

On the first floor of the proposed court house, the offices which are most commonly used and which should be easiest of access are located. Commedious corridors lead one to the county clerk's office, with its lobby, main work room, proof room and recording room. Across the hall is the tax collector's office with its lobby, counter and main office. Adjoining it is the tax assessor's office, having lobby, main work room and two private offices. The county treasurer, the county attorney and the county sheriff have one section of this floor, each having labby or reception room in addition to the main offices. The sheriff's office has an adjoining hold-over cell, and a vault for storing "evidence." The County Library is located on this floor, and adjoining it is the ladies' rest room. A study of the floor plan shows the convenience of the various departments.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN

Located on the second floor are the county court and the justice of peace court, both of which are used often and should be easy of access. Seating capacity, in proportion to the importance of these courts, is provided. Offices of the constable and jury join the justice court, and a jury room is adjacent to the county court. The county highway engineer has his office on the same side of the building. Accross the half is the jury dermitory, with toilets, beds, linen room and other accommodations for jurors who have to stay on cases overnight. Next is the county judge's effice, with receiving room and private office, the commissioners' court room, the county auditor's quarters, and the office of the county superintendent, with book room, office and lobby.

The entire third floor is taken up with the district court, with its well arranged seats, jury box, judges bench and locations for attorneys' tables; and with the offices of the district judge, district clerk, district attorney, grand jury room, assembly room, plaintiff's assembly room, defendant's assembly room, and with the many store rooms and smaller offices. A close study of the floor plan will reveal the splendid arrangement of this floor.

A study of the jail plans, located on the fourth floor, will show that a jail delivery from this floor would be practically impossible. The jail at El Paso, located on the top floor of the court house, has a similar plan and there have been no jail deliveries. The upper part of the district court room takes up part of the floor, the jailer's bed room, living room, kitchen, office and reception room being adjacent. A corridor leads to the jail lobby from which is entered the jail corridors connecting with the cells. A day room serves the occupants of various cells. Separate departments are provided, according to law, for juveniles, for negroes and for Mexicans. The sheriff's private elevator ascends directly to the jail. Officers who have studied the plan of this floor declare that no change would be needed.

POWERFUL DRAMA STARS BANCROFT IN NEW SETTING

Tense, suspenseful drama, in a setting as intriguing as any ever brought to the screen, comes to the Ritz Theatre, starting Sunday, for two days, when "Thunderbolt," George Bancroft's new all-talking picture shows here. The gripping situations, surpassing the tremendous episodes of "Underworld," pulse with life-giving dialog and sound.

Harlem, New York's Negro district, with all its sinister, hidden underworld, is revealed on the screen as it actually is. Bancroft portrays the part of a hard-fighting gang boss in love with Fay Wray, Eric von Stroheim's beautiful heroine of "The Wedding March." The girl repulses Bancroft and, in an effort to go straight, turns to Rich-

Dallas or Wichita Rule Favorites in Dixie Prospective

BIRMINGHAM IS IT'S A TOUGH GAME WEAKER THAN LAST YEAR

DALLAS, Sept. 18.—(AP) Only once since the Dixie Series was inaugurated eight years ago has a Southern Association entry been victorious, the Mobile Bears holding that distinction at the expense of a great Fort Worth club. Unless the Birming-ham Barons, 1929 Association champions, look better on the field than they do on paper, there appears slight chance of Texas League losing the Dixie title in the forthcom-

Either Wichita Falls or Dallas probably would rule a favorite over the Barons, who lack the offensive power of either of the Lone Star finalists. Johnny Dobbs, veteran Baron pilot, has been given much of the credit for driving his team, composed largely of veterans, to the Southern title.

Birmingham Weak The Birmingham club has little resemblance to the team that lost to the Houston Buffs in last year's Dixie Series. Yam Yaryan, veteran backstop, and Ernie Smith, shortstop, are the only survivors of the outfit that Houston humbled.

Several names in the Baron lineup will be familiar to Texas League fans. Arthur Weis, slugging left fielder, led the Texas League in hitting while with Wichita Falls several years ago. Frank Gibson, who shares backstop duties with Yaryan, piloted the San Antonio Bears last season. Moose Clabaugh Baron outfielder, set a world's record for homeruns while with Tyler in the Lone Star League two years ago. Weis was the Southern's leading hitter for a long period this year and is the sparkplug of the Barons' attack with an average of .339.

Two Good Moundsmen Bill Ludolph and Bob Hasty, righthanders, form the backbone of the Dobbsmen's mound corps. Ludolph has won 21 and lost only 8. Hasty has a record of 21 wins and 11 losses. Ray Francis, a southcertain to carry the burden in the that area.

An Invitation to MIDLAND

and the People of West Texas to attend the

FORMAL OPENING

of Our New Store
Thursday, Sept. 19, 1929

This opening marks the consummation of one of the most momentous strokes of merchandising expansion in the commercial annals of West Texas.

As previously announced the Wadley-Wilson stores at Midland, Odessa and Pecos have been acquired by the Grissom-Robertson Stores, Inc., and will assume that name in the future. Grissom-Robertson Stores, Inc. are a combination of twenty-six of the very best stores in West Texas and New Mexico.

This welding of interests, resources, organization, efficiency, buying power and prestige contributes to the public service and advantage in such a measure as to make this announcement of stirring signficance to every citizen of this community from standpoint of civic pride as well as personal benefit.

Further, this combination of stores has strengthened the scope of their buying and selling operations, establishing for the new organization and importance and power in the wholesale field that must and will rebound to the benefit of every future patron... in the greater selections offered, in the economies developed through augmented purchasing power; in the reduction of overhead made possible by a unified operating program and in the greater opportunities for scope of service performance and in service appointments.

To the many patrons of this concern we offer our appreciation for your custom throughout the years. We desire to express our consciousness of your trust, loyalty and confidence and we advance with profound sincerity our promise, proposals and policy to render in the future the finest and broadest conception of service that our greater facilities now make possible.

ATTRACTIVE STORE IS CLIMAX IN CAREER OF MIDLAND MERCHANT

Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, when the new front doors of the Grissom-Robertson Store, formerly Wadley-Wilson Company, swing open, the people of Midland and surrounding country will walk into one of the most modern, most complete and most systematically arranged department stores in the state.

The group of efficient sales people shown in photographs on this page, handicapped for several weeks on account of internal re-arrangements of the store, installation of fixtures, and complete renovating and remodeling of the building, will feel the joy of waiting on their customers in old time form and of showing with pride the handsome new

OFFICERS INCLUDE MEN WITH STRONG MERCHANDISING RECORD

In purchasing the Wadley-Wilson Company stores at Midland, Odessa and Pecos, the Grissom-Robertson Stores, Inc., acquired some of West Texas' leading mercantile institutions and probably the strongest small chain of stores

Built upon a reputation for fair dealing, nonest values and quality merchandise, the stores, with the Midland institution as a nucleus, grew from a small dry goods store to an up-to-date group of real department stores.

Grissom Store Still A Home Institution

Just as Wadley-Wilson Company was a home institution, serving Midland in every possible way, the Grissom-Robertson Stores, Inc., is a Midland institution.

Addison Wadley, former head of the Wadley-Wilson stores, covers a bigger field, being district manager, but makes his home in Midland and owns valuable property here, as well as being vice-president of and a stockholder in the Grissom-Robertson Stores, Inc.

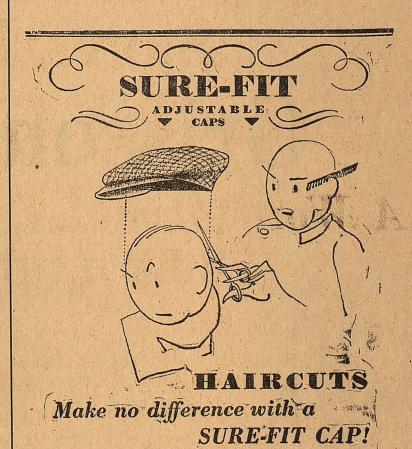

Clyde Y. Barron of Midland is manager of the Midland store, and the personel of clerks is the same as before the big merger which made the Midland store a part of the larger organization.

Wadley One Of First Big Advertisers Here

Grissom-Robertson Stores, Inc., in acquiring the Wadley-Wilson Company stores, has purchased one of the most consistent advertisers ever known in Texas among the smaller city mercantile businesses.

Addison Wadley, when the Midland store was the only one operated, and when the population of the town was only about 2,000, advertised so extensively that he was bringing customers from surrounding towns even larger than

When Midland had only a weekly newspaper, he had a half page space which was never omitted. He also used direct by mail advertising and had a complete mailing list. His semi-annual sales were famous over all of West Texas, and his customers learned that any article was just as it was advertised. The same policy is continued under the new organization, Mr. Wadley states.

When you slip on your SURE-FIT after a haircut and find it slipping to your ears, just adjust the little strap and buckle above the brim and it will fit you perfectly as it did before with ordinary caps when in every way SURE-FITS are so much smarter? We have a fine variety to show you!

> Quality is a short word ... just seven letters ... but it is the all important factor to consider in the production and sale of merchandise. From the purchasers point of view, price is the first, and great question. Yet underneath the "How Much?" lies the perhaps more important query . . . "How Good?" Failure to consider this may mean the saving of a few cents at the loss of several dollars . . "Bargain" may mean a saving of money at the expense of good values. "Good Value" can only mean merchandise at prices that are as low as a consistent quality standard and correct styling can permit.

ADDISON WADLEY IS OUTSTANDING SUCCESS AMONG TEXAS MERCHANTS

The formal opening Thursday of the new Grissom-Robertson Stores, here, at Odessa, and at Pecos, marks an episode in the commercial history of Midland, especially, that, could it be reviewed in detail, would be vastly interesting to readers of this paper, long time residents and new comers alike, recalling to the one memories of until, at its culmination in the sale the rapidly dimming past and presenting to the other visito the Grissom-Robertson concern, it is nowhere the leggest concern, tas of city progress, the present culmination of which could be so little pictured in the beginning. Such a detailed review would be voluminous to the extent of usurping the interests of an occasion that may be said to presuppose the beginning of another episode no less interesting and probably far more promising than the early days of the charge of the ladies' ready-to-wear

Rise of a Midland Boy The opening of the Grissommay be thought of as a rose-hued Midland boy, Addison Wadley, and, lives of several others with whom he has become associated from time to time, and with whom he is still in intimate and friendly accord. Wadley came to Midland in 1886, just an infant 43 years ago. Truly he may be accorded the distinguishing title of "Old-Timer," and one whose mind is richly stored with memories of early days.
