Flying Cadets to Land at Sloan Field Friday Morning

ENROUTE TO KELLY BASE AT SANTONE

Expected Here About 10 Or 11 O'clock This Morning

BULLETIN

Weather conditions being seasonal, it is expected by Field-Manager H. M. Becherer that an expected detachment of army planes attached to the Kelly Field, San Antonio, base will land at the municipal airport Friday morning between 10 and 12 o'clock. The ships are expected to take off from St. Still, Lawton, Okla., at the dawn.

A group of Army flying cadets from Kelly Field, San Antonio, will land sometime Friday morning at Sloan Field, according to dispatches received from the commanding officer of the air training base.

The flight consists of the third detachment of the October graduating class, two of which have already landed here as a refueling point on a great circle which begins and ends at Kelly. The route is traced through Dallas, Okmulgee, Ft. Sill, Midland, Ft. Bliss and thence to Kelly.

On the occasion of the last landing here, Sunday morning, one plane, flown by Cadet E. W. Anderson had a minor crackup. His left wheel, landing gear and propeller were damaged. An inspection was made after the landing of the cadet had been okayed, and the report made to read "Failure of a damaged strut to hold."

Lunch will be served the cadets at the administration office of the field. Midland as a control center for regular air training student cross country flights is getting to be a by-word with the army, it is indicated. More and more do instructors fly the short route to Midland and make arrangements for flight landings at Sloan Field.

Twenty-three instructors and enlisted cadets comprised the first landing of the Kelly Field fliers here, three weeks ago. Sunday's flight was composed of 13 P-1 and three A-3 machines. The same type planes will land Friday. The fliers are a part of 50 pursuit pilots attached to the graduating class, which is composed of 50 pursuit, 32 observation, 18 attack and 18 bombing pilots.

Ed exhibited rattles of a snake he had killed earlier in the afternoon when he came to Midland Saturday to spend the weekend. The snake had 13 rattles and a button.

Army Ships, Here Sunday, Back Home

The fifteen army pursuit planes which landed in Midland Sunday took off from Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tuesday en route to the home port, Kelly Field, at San Antonio. The planes, flown by cadets, had been on a cross-country flight which took them to Muskogee and Fort Sill, Oklahoma, Midland, and El Paso.

Huge Midland Oil Map Off To Tulsa

A mammoth oil map showing Midland in the center of the West Texas Permian basin oil fields was expressed to Tulsa Wednesday night. The big map will be used as part of the Midland Chamber of Commerce exhibit at the International Petroleum Exposition. Working on the map calls attention to the fact that oil men in Midland save their companies a day's time and as much as 270 miles wear and tear on their cars over the nearest other oil city. Other features of the exhibit, hotels, office buildings, the new court house, schools, literature, etc., will be taken to Tulsa Friday morning, and will be erected early Saturday morning in time for the opening of the big oil show.

A NEW DALLAS TO LOS ANGELES AIR LINE ANNOUNCED

Announcement of the opening of air transport service between Los Angeles and Dallas within the next few weeks as the first move in a line contemplated to give 24-hour service between Los Angeles and New York was made in Dallas Tuesday by John Borden Miller, vice president of the Great Southern Airways, which will operate the line. No announcement was made relative to stops in Midland, but it is thought that this will be made soon.

Extensions of the line, after inauguration of the Los Angeles-Dallas juncture, will be from Dallas to Atlanta and thence to New York. Services will be offered during daylight hours at first, one ship leaving and one ship arriving in Dallas daily at the start. Later continuous service will be offered, according to the announcement, with sleeping accommodations provided over those sections of the line to be traveled over at night.

Miller was in Dallas en route to the factory which is making the company's equipment. This is to be all-metal monoplanes, eight places, with a cruising speed of 130 mile per hour, faster than on any line now in operation, and a maximum speed of 150 miles an hour.

The first branch of the line will be divided at El Paso into a Texas and a Western division, headquarters for the Texas division to be located in Dallas, Western headquarters in Los Angeles. According to Mr. Miller the air distances on the line show 1,350 miles from Dallas to Los Angeles, 600 miles from Dallas to El Paso, about the same as from Dallas to Atlanta. Flying time between Dallas and Los Angeles is estimated by him to be 10 hours and 30 minutes.

According to the announcement the company is incorporated under the laws of Delaware at $2,500,000 with C. M. Hatch of Pasadena, president.

"Earthquake" Felt Last Night When Light Geophysical Charges Were Touched Off

That many Midland people thought an earthquake imminent last night when geophysical work 20 miles from the city set up aerial vibrations that shook windows in their frames was reflected this morning in the number of telephone calls received by the office of The Reporter-Telegram.

"Was there an earthquake?" one woman wanted to know. "Did you hear anything about earth tremors felt in Stanton and Odessa and Big Spring?" another person asked. "I heard there had been a house shaken down in Big Spring."

The crew of geophysicists have been shooting charges of about the same size for two months, but last night was the first shooting at night. Owing to the condition of the atmosphere extremely miniature earthquake waves were sent out through ground charges. These tremors, though the manner in which they travel underground, give indication of the sub-surface structure of the territory tested with a view to ascertaining mineral deposits, specifically as regards oil.

Due to seasonal winds which have hampered the delicate electrical, and highly sensitive, instruments, the night blasting had to be resorted to. For three days the crew had done little work.

So, Midland had no earthquake, and the tremors were set up here chiefly through the agency of a light breeze which brought the aerial vibrations in this direction. A heavy charge placed within five miles of the city would likely not be felt with a "quartering" breeze.

PARKER BUYS THE BUCHANAN RANCH WEST OF ODESSA

J. E. Parker of Midland bought the 20-section John Buchanan ranch west of Odessa, this week, he is announced in Odessa Wednesday. The ranch, consisting of 12,800 acres of valuable grazing land, is reported to be priced at $75,000, it is reported.

Mr. Parker also has the old Dublin ranch, joining the Buchanan place on the west, with approximately the same number of sections as the newly purchased place, and has a large ranch in Andrews County, just southwest of the town of Andrews. He has heretofore herds of recognized breeding, and produces calf crops which bring around top prices for this section each season. His additional territory in the Odessa country will make possible much larger ranging operations.

The Buchanan ranch is the last portion of what was one of the largest ranches in the Odessa country, the former owner being among the pioneer cattlemen of that area. He operates a hotel in Odessa.

Mineral holdings on the Buchanan ranch are considered valuable, as the Penn well on the York ranch is only a short distance south. Leases in that vicinity are said to have brought good prices.

Frank Haag made a splendid talk on his classification as an attorney, pointing out that an attorney must take an examination on his knowledge of law, must take an oath to support the constitution, and must take an oath to represent his client to the best of his ability. He showed that a small part of his practice is for people who are in trouble, the bulk being a service in the regular channels of business.

Ira F. Midland's Mayor More Than "Fair To Midlin," Says El Paso Staff Man

Midland's mayor, Leon Goodman, is middlin' busy in other ways, says H. S. Hunter, writing his "Around Here" feature for the El Paso Herald.

Hunter was interested in Goodman when he found that Midland man at the railroad rate hearing in El Paso the first of last week, during which two other Midland witnesses testified, Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and George D. McCormick, manager of the Midland Hardware and Furniture company.

The article follows: One of the interesting men who have been here for the past several days in connection with the railroad rate hearing is Leon Goodman, of Midland.

Mr. Goodman was educated for engineering. After achieving success in that field he abandoned his profession to become a cattle buyer. His success as a cow trader has been much greater, even, than as an engineer. So much so that he has been credited with being the largest individual cattle buyer in the United States. His transactions amount to something like $6,000,000 a year.

Naturally, this involves much besides merely buying cattle and turning them over to someone else at a profit. It means that various lots of cattle are constantly being received by him, and others sold. As stock is received it has to be placed on feed. The matter of arranging for pasturage is no small under-

Two Score Hailed Up Before Military Court

BORGER, Oct. 3.—(P)—Rangers and Texas National Guardsmen continued their raiding today and, in a half hour, arrested more than 40 pool players.

Four pool halls fell before the raiders, who began work last night when 30 hotels, houses of ill repute, and small joints were searched.

Fourteen persons spent last night in jail, and two vagrancy charges were made against Justice of the Peace Walter Bronnhall. Fines of $100 were assessed in each case.

The arrested was booked "held for investigation." It was said that liquor charges would be filed.

BORGER, Oct. 3.—(UP)—More than two score of Borger's "undesirables" told stories before a military court of inquiry today following wholesale raids last night. Fifty were arrested.

The offensive will continue until Borger is rid of undesirables, Brig. Gen. Jake Wolters said.

Nine are held in jail. Rangers are conducting intensive special search for one "gunman bootlegger" whose name is known.

An exodus of hoodlums continued and many dance halls, speakeasies, gambling dens and joints are closing, fearing further raids.

WOMEN PROTECT EL PASO BOOZE RUNNERS ON RIO

EL PASO, Oct. 3.—(UP)—"Hiding behind women's skirts" is the latest plan adopted by gunmen for rum runners in this locality to escape the bullets of the border patrol.

Of late, when skirmishes have occurred between the gunmen and members of the border patrol, the gunmen have calmly stood behind women whom they have with them, and fired at the officers, apparently secure in the belief that the patrolmen would not shoot toward the women.

Patrol Chief H. C. Horsley has announced, however, that the situation will change. "Our officers cannot continue to run the risk of death out of chivalry to a woman who chooses to offer herself as protection to a rum runner."

"Recently," continued Horsley, "I lay hidden in the brush at the edge of Cordova Island and watched the rum runners unload a large amount of liquor several yards across the line."

"Two men with rifles stood beside the liquor. Two women kept close at their sides. The packers were there ready to run the liquor across the line as soon as spotters reported the way clear."

Horsley intimated that the border patrol will adopt a new plan of attack to combat the latest innovation of the rum smugglers.

MIDLAND NEEDS MORE FARMERS

A survey made a few years ago by an agricultural agent showed that there were 400,000 acres of tillable land in Midland county. J. B. Snider, former county agent here, later county agent at Waco, and now head field man of the Borden Milk Company in Texas, estimated that Midland County had a potential cotton crop of 75,000 bales annually.

The facts are that only about 40,000 acres are under cultivation in Midland County, or only one-tenth developed. Midland needs hundreds of additional farmers to till this excellent farming land. It has been proven that cotton can make good on land which has not had rain for 90 days, and can yield from one-fourth to one-third of a bale to the acre.

Midland people should familiarize themselves with the possibilities in their own county, then cooperate in every possible way to securing more substantial farmers as citizens.

A few years ago, even the leading business men, when asked if the county was good for farming, would say, "Yes, if it rains." The "if it rains" phrase became almost a penal offense and is seldom heard now, but there are still innumerable citizens who do not know what the actual farming possibilities of Midland County are.

Midland needs more farmers!

On the World's Airways

By JOSEPH H. BAIRD
United Press Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(UP)—Roosevelt field, one of America's most famous air termini, from which Charles A. Lindbergh took off on his trans-Atlantic flight, soon is to be made into a model airport. Approximately $1,000,000 is to be spent in improving it, Seth Low, president, has announced.

All followers of aviation will remember the tragedy attending the attempt of Rene Fonck's machine to take off from there several months before Lindbergh came into the public eye. The machine struck a gully and two of Fonck's mechanics were killed. An inadequate runway foiled attempts of many other aviators to take the air with heavily loaded machines and Lindbergh barely succeeded in getting his plane aloft before reaching the runway's end.

Now a new, smooth runway, 7,800 feet long is to be built. Dangerous transmission wires, "barely missed" by every trans-Atlantic flyer, will be removed. Shaky old hangars built during the war will be razed. Adjacent smoke-stack will be torn down.

In the place of these hazards and eye-sores, broad turf surfaces and wide runways will appear. Fliers will be able to take off in any direction. Eight giant steel and concrete hangars will be erected. A casino for spectators will be built. New York long has been the focal point of eastern air activities. With the prospective establishment of trans-Atlantic dirigible service, its importance as an eastern "gateway of the air" probably will increase. The announced plans for the recreation of one of the country's oldest airports near American metropolis will be welcomed by fliers everywhere.

During the World war one of the government's toughest problems in manufacturing airplanes was that of obtaining sufficient amounts of the right kind of wood. Now, it appears, wood is becoming a less important material in airplane construction, as manufacturers are reported to be substituting light metals in its place. Steel propellers have replaced wooden ones in many planes, instrument boards are made of mica, cabin framework is largely of aluminum, and wood, in many planes, is used only for wings, fahing, and as a framework for upholstered cabins.

The 1929 National Air Tour for the Edsel Ford cup and cash prizes of $20,000 will get under way next month. An itinerary covering a large part of the United States and including visits to Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, Canada has been planned. It is estimated that the journey, beginning at Ford Airport near Detroit October 5 and ending there October 21 will cover 5,000 miles.

Thus far 35 aviators have announced their intention to take part. Many classes of ships, including transport planes, mail planes, training planes and sport planes have been entered.

The contestants will compete against one another on the basis of an efficiency handicapping and formula system worked out for each ship at the beginning of the tour. This system, it is said, will permit each plane to stand an equal chance of winning against any other ships regardless of size, type or speed.

The "drive it yourself" system of the automobile world soon is to be paralleled by a "fly it yourself" system of the air.

Contracts for 100 Arrow sport planes have been signed between the Arrow Aircraft and Motors Corporation of Hatfield, Neb., and the Saunders Fly-It-Yourself System, it was learned.

These small ships, powered by Genet motors, will be distributed at various cities over the country. Any responsible pilot, after demonstrating his ability to fly, may rent a ship which he may return to the original airport or check in at any of the system's other bases.

Playograph Board To Reveal Battle

The World Series battleground of 1929 is perfectly arranged for an ironman pitching performance with George Earnshaw of the Athletics or Pat Malone of the Cubs picked as the leading candidates for the role. The battle can be reviewed as conveniently in Midland over the Reporter-Telegram's playograph board as in listening in over radio.

These two fast-ball right-handers have thrived all season on plenty of work. They have finished stronger than any of their curving mates and the probability now is that they will face one another on the opening day at Wrigley Field next Tuesday. Malone, at least, seems a certainty, although Connie Mack would not hesitate to switch to Robert Moses Grove if the willowy southpaw manifested a sudden return to his midseason form.

The schedule for the series is so arranged that it would be altogether possible for Malone or Earnshaw, assuming they are the first game selections, to twirl four games, still having three days of rest between each assignment. This, of course, would hinge on the series going the limit of seven games. Two days of traveling and the Sunday of rest in Philadelphia give the pitchers more than the usual amount of time to recuperate.

One certain thing so far as the pitching is concerned is that it will be a fast-ball series. The "big three" of the A's, Earnshaw, Grove and Rube Walberg, all have tremendous speed. So have the main Cub trio—Malone, Guy Bush and Charley Root.

Otherwise the vital factor of mound work, considered 60 per cent of any World Series battle, is largely speculation. When he is "right," there is no better pitcher in either league than Grove, but the pitcher has been off-form since July. The Red Sox pounded him all over the park in his last appearance. It will be an especially heavy blow to the A's if Grove does not regain his form for the series. He is the ace of the staff and Mackian chances of victory are generally considered to depend on whether he is "right."

Guy Bush was the Cub ace until around the middle of August, but he hasn't lasted a full game since then until Tuesday when he dropped a close decision to the Reds. Walberg has been erratic; so has Root, although the latter pitched a 1-0 shut-out this week. These stars may need the inspiration of a real battle to bring them back to form. There wasn't much to worry about while the Cubs were galloping to pennant victories by one-sided margins.

Any one of several lesser lights in the pitching cast may come through if the stars fade.

At any rate, Midland can stay at home and see the series free. The Texas Music company, and the Southwestern Bell Telephone company have helped make this possible by radio-telephone hookup.

Daily Cotton Market

The cotton market was featureless during the morning, with short interests continuing to depress the market without making much headway. The general disposition was to await the government crop figures, with hedge selling being offset by price fixing. Cables were better at the start, but weakened later with the market opening irregular, prices being two lower and five higher, which was followed by a small gain of 5 to 8 points at mid-morning. At noon, the list was unchanged to 5 points higher. The Giles Bureau estimated the condition 54.3 per cent normal, and indicated the crop at 14,833,000 bales, while Fairchild gave the condition at 52.8 and the yield at 14,692,000 bales.

The members who had parts on the program and their subjects were as follows:

"Character Differences With Age," Mrs. Merle Jewell.
"Education For Health," Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith.
The meeting was at 5 o'clock.

DOG'S TEETH EXTRACTED TO EVADE DEATH SENTENCE

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—(UP)—A 17 year old dog sacrificed his molars in order that his 80-year-old owner, Mrs. Francis Edwards, might not be deprived of his companionship.

Police charged that the dog was vicious and had bitten two people. The aged woman pleaded in court for the life of her pet. The dog was her only companion she said. Judge Calloway ordered the dog restored to her—after his teeth had been extracted.

Publisher Gave Valuable Lease To Subscribers

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 2.—(P)—Chester R. Bunker, who several years ago gave an interest in a large west Texas oil lease with each subscription to a weekly oil and mining paper, and then saw the lease sell for $1,000,000 after oil was struck, today was free on $10,000 bond after being charged with using the mails to defraud.

He entered a plea of not guilty at a hearing before United States Commissioner J. W. Flynn.

Bunker, president of the Bunker Printing Products Corporation, which, at one time, published most of the oil weeklies, and much of the oil promotion literature here and subsequently was developed into a book publishing organization, is charged with fraud in connection with alleged assurances to investors that his company would return 8 per cent on its stock.

Barnes Circus In Midland Today

They are in town: The blood sweating behemoths of holy writ, the tawny tigers, the black maned Arabian lions, the pretty ladies who jump through hoops on to the backs of galloping horses, wild animal trainers who put their heads into lions' mouths, the man who swallows swords, petite little girls who walk on the sharp edges of swords and train snakes: Yes, they are all here: early this morning when the first of The Al. G. Barnes Circus trains rolled into town, High Bill, the tallest man in the world accompanied by a couple of The Klinkhardt Midgets, the smallest humans on earth were to be seen on the shady side of the Rialto. The old football grounds which has been the home of all tented shows for years was the mecca for hundreds of visitors this morning, as the wagons rolled on the hot, husky mastodons moved them to their allotted places, as crowds of excited youngsters clamored and fought with huge rolls of canvas, carried water, poles, sweating like trojans, all working with more gusto than they do when beating carpets for mother or cutting the lawn for dad.

As the front doors to the Zoological Gardens opened, it could be seen that Midland was more than upholding its reputation as a first class circus town, from the rounds of applause that greeted the different acts on the lengthy program. The Barnes management is assured of a record breaking crowd tonight. From the time that the show's genial announcer informs us that we were about to see the opening spectacle "Aladdin and the Parade of Gold" to the time that we were told "It was all out and all over," there is not a dull minute. Wild animals of Bible days, put through their paces by some of the world's greatest subjugators, daring aerialists, really funny clowns, the finest bunch of performing horses in the land, stirring hippodrome races and high jumping thoroughbreds, herds of elephants that do everything from standing on their head to playing football, highly trained seals, boxing kangaroos, racing camels, sacred oxen, buffalo, yak, and many others. "Tusko" the mammoth of them all parading his way around the hippodrome track to take his bow to an enthusiastic but nervous audience. Peanuts, popcorn, pink lemonade. Yes: It's really circus day, the weather is perfect, the show is great. Let's cast aside all cares, let's all be youngsters today, no matter whether we have hair on our face a yard long. Let's go to the circus. The Barnes show will close its local engagement with a complete performance tonight at 8: sharp, the doors to the Zoo will open at 7. All advertised free attractions will be given in front of the side show at 6:30. Reserved seat grandstand chairs are now on sale at The City Drug Co. ODESSA, Oct. 3.—Commissioners of Ector, Andrews, Gaines and Terry counties are now settling right-of-way claims and laying plans for an improved all-weather road from McCombs to Brownfield, by way of Crane, Odessa, Andrews and Seminole, connecting with State

Highways 84 and 99 and giving an almost direct improved route from Odessa to Lubbock. This work is being done in preparation for a proposed bond issue in the counties concerned to hard surface the entire stretch. The State has promised these counties aid on such a road after a bond issue is carried to improve it. The present work will merely put the road into shape for a limited travel and will be an attempt to make it passable during all kinds of weather. Andrews county is grading a portion of the road, and will surface the worst places through the sand. Ector is grading and putting in culverts in this part of the stretch.

STANTON "BOGY MANS" MAY THROW COG INTO MIDLAND SQUAD

Dixie Series Goes to Birmingham as Result of Poor Game Wednesday

BIG FULLBACK CARRIES ON SHOULDERS EPIC TALE OF POWER; MIDLAND MAY WADE THROUGH

Coach Barry and his high school warriors feel no particular elation at the respective sizes of Midland and Stanton as they go into the grid tilt between the two clubs here Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

This, the first official game of the new season, brings to mind the fact that it is the size, experience, weight and other more than tangible factors which makes for selection of the best of two opposing teams—rather than the size of the town that club represents.

Midland May Lose
And Stanton, boasting 13 men of from two to three years experience already tucked under their mole-skin belts, each of whom averages ten or more pounds to the man more than the squad of the Bulldog institution, is clearly a favorite to twist the local doggies' tails, put a crimp in their nostrils, trim their ears—and in general do other little absurd things calculated to make of a perfectly good Bulldog machine a group of scurrying Boston screw-tails.

Reports coming into the Midland camp say with bogey-like and sobering propaganda that a giant of a fullback who weighs 170, who is fast and shifty, and who has the further qualifications of being a four-year man who has been kept out of the games this year in order, presumably, to give rise to a psychological "dark horse" complex.

Stanton Has "Dark Horse"
This ace in the hole may give Midland's doggies a shot of rabies treatment that will effectively dull their teeth and fighting heart.

No one, however, has ever had the audacity to say that a screwtail can't pinch with the molars, and it may be that the imprint of these will be the more telling from a bit of filling to be given through "skull" practice this afternoon.

This game means much in the annals of the district competition. The eighteen huskies of Coach Irwin may march through Midland to a championship, or they may be so battered and bewildered by straight rushes, deceptive cutbacks and spins, aerial hurling, and the rest of the strategy held up the wide, flowing sleeve of Midland's Coach Barry that they may curl up and sleep out the rest of the season in a siesta that may have to be diagnosed by the club physician as recuperation from injuries received in trying to stop the Midland steam roller.

A great crowd is expected at the park.

Purple Christians May Find A Snag

FORT WORTH, Oct. 3.—The Texas Christian University Horned Frogs are working at top speed in order to polish up their offense and strengthen their defense in preparation for the game Saturday with Simmons University. The Christians are let-down to a certain extent. There is always a let-down after a one-sided victory like the one with Daniel Baker last Saturday. Another factor is the losing of their star fullback, Austin Griffith, who will be out five or six weeks with a chipped shoulder, Coach Schmidt is driving his team hard and hopes to have it in fine condition by Saturday.

One of Dutch Meyer's freshman teams has been drilled in Simmons style of offense and defense, and the Frogs are scrimmaging this club every day. Outside of Griffith there are no serious injuries on the squad. Hinton and Roberson are complaining of minor bruises, but these are the only ones.

AT THE AIRPORT

Field-Manager H. M. Becherer took off at noon in the port's Curtis-Robin three-place monoplane for Hobbes, N. M., where he was to land for a passenger who desired to deplane at Carlsbad. Becherer expected to land on the return before dusk.

"Air Center of West Texas"

S-A-T ship to the west, Homer Rader, pilot, flew on time over its route from Fort Worth to Midland today. Weather conditions were described by the pilot as almost perfect.

NIGHT PRACTICE FOR SUL ROSS— POINT FOR TECH

ALPINE, Tex., Oct. 3.—Strengthened by the addition of thirty husky Freshmen from high school football teams all over the state, the Sul Ross Lobos, who took Simmons University into camp last spring, are rapidly being whipped into shape by Coach B. C. Graves for their season's opener, Texas Tech at the Highland Fair, Marfa, Texas, October 5.

Coach Graves, usually pessimistic, is predicting the smartest and fastest Lobo squad in years. He made the statement yesterday that if his team could get away for a win against Tech the Lobos would go through the season with a clean slate. In that game many of his men will be playing their first college football and will suffer from a lack of experience.

Earl Wicker, fullback; "Flash" Clark, speedy Amarillo half; "Iron Man" McNeill, Clark's shifty running mate; and Buddy Withers, veteran quarter, will probably start in the lineup of the backfield. Of last year's backs, only W. D. "Ox" Cowan is not returning. Many new backs will get into the ruction, however, Graves promised.

The line, all important for Graves' system, has suffered more heavily from graduation, and only three varsity men Captain Charlie Dyer, tackle; Blanton McLean, end; and Marion Cooper, guard, are on hand. However several second-stringers from last season and a number of new men are on hand to fill the gaps.

The squad is scrimmaging every night on the bright green grass of Jackson Field and is in fine condition. Graves predicts that his starting lineup will hit the scales at nearly 180.

SMU Enplanes For Cornhusker Game

DALLAS, Oct. 3.—The Southern Methodist Mustangs were sent through their last scrimmage Wednesday in preparation for Saturday's fray with the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Lincoln. After the workout Coach Ray Morrison selected the squad of 30 men who will leave early tomorrow night for the corn belt. The squad flies to their game by plane.

GAME LISTLESS IN MOST INNINGS; BAD SUPPORT

By ED BALL,
(Associated Press Writer)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 3.—Birmingham won the baseball championship of Dixie by defeating Dallas 7 to 5 here Wednesday in the sixth game of the Dixie series. Both teams were far below their usual playing form and loose pitching and fielding figured conspicuously in the scoring.

In defeating the Texas league champions the Barons stole a total of seven bases. Two delayed double steals were completed. Six pitchers saw service and during their respective turns on the mound were accorded discouraging support afield.

Second Southern Win
The victory gave the Southern association winners their first Dixie series pennant and the second to be won from a Texas league team in the ten years' history of the playoff. Mobile won from Fort Worth in 1922 for the first Dixie championship.

The Barons settled down to the business of scoring in the first inning, two runners cross the plate. Guy Sturdy, doubled to start the inning and after two men were down Weis singled to score Sturdy and himself accounted for a tally when Ernie Smith belted a triple into right field.

Whitey Glazner, who rose from Birmingham sand lots to baseball eminence and a Baron until Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, declared him a free agent last spring, went down before his former mates when Joe Klugman lashed his first pitch for a double, to open the second inning.

Milton Stock sent Joe Martina in to stem the tide and he held the situation well in hand during this frame, after Ludolph and Gibson squeezed Klugman home.

Great Ludolph Warmly
The same reception accorded Ludolph in his second start at Dallas last week was repeated in the fourth when Country Davis tripled to lead off and scored on a single by Bish-off. Johnson forced Bishoff at second and Jeffries fled to Weis, but with two cut out Morse singled and Johnson scampered to third. Ludolph's control seemed to have disappeared with the play and Martina was hit by a pitched ball and Flaskamper walked. The veteran Johnson Dobbs saw his chances for the game fading and he rushed the youngster Carlos Moore to the mound. Morse and Martina scored on Rosenthal's single.

A brilliant play by Sturdy in the fifth accounted for a run which tied the score at four all. After reaching first when he forced C. Moore, Sturdy stole second and was sacrificed to third. He made a dash for home putting Bishoff in front of the plate to take the throw which he missed.

The first double-steal by Birmingham was worked in the sixth by Klugman and Gibson. Klugman scoring the run. His hit, a terrific drive along the third base line, was knocked down by Jeffries but he could not get the ball away from him and it went for a single. Bennett who was on first by virtue of a fielder's choice, went to second on the play, he scored on Gibson's single and Klugman halted at third. The double steal followed.

Another double steal in the seventh netted the final Baron run. Two were down when Clabaugh was hit by a pitched ball and he went to third on a hit and run, Weis coming through with a single.

Steers' Last Gesture
Dallas scored a run in the eighth when Johnson walked and Jeffries singled causing Dobbs to remove Moore.

Hearn relieved him and Harvel, a pinch hitter beat out an infield blow, scoring Johnson.

Weis, Smith and Klugman each hit safely twice to garner six of Birmingham's nine base hits. Davis and Jeffries each hit a pair for Dallas. Sturdy, Clabaugh, Bennett, Klugman, Gibson and Bennett were the Baron base stealers. Martin committed the lone Steer theft.

Johnny Dobbs piloted the Barons to their second consecutive league pennant and accounted for his sixth time by finishing first as a manager in the circuit.

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Legally, politically and socially woman has been emancipated from those chains which bound her. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has exploded the ridiculous theory that forced the stigma of inferiority upon a sex.

"toasting did it" —
Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful, corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation-No Cough.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300° Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

SPEAKING OF SPORT

By FRANK GETTY,
United Press Sports Editor

Racing

With the death of Sam Hildreth, the Rancocas Stable, long a leader in thoroughbred racing, is without its prime mentor. Moreover, Harry F. Sinclair, the owner, is in jail.

The passing of James Rowe, a trainer whose reputation was on a par with that of Hildreth, was not marked by any such consequences, for Jimmy Rowe, Jr., not only has taken his father's place, but has trained a majority of the season's winners.

The green and white colors of the Rancocas Stable, which for some years have flashed home in front in the leading fixtures of the American turf, may be seen no more. When Harry Sinclair emerges from his Washington prison, he may seek less fame than his race horses have brought him.

Earle Sande

A report recently had Earl Sande, long recognized as the premier jockey of the American turf, returning to the saddle. The exigencies of making weight drove Sande from the riding game, and he became a trainer and owner. He was successful in a small way, but anyone who follows the track knows that it is necessary to have a large stable of good horses to beat the game.

The business of making weight among jockeys is, while necessary, one of the most cruel in the world. The boys torture themselves to get down to the proper or required poundage. Sande, after years in the saddle, during which he rode winners in all the leading classes, wisely for a time gave up the riding business.
