Expect Big Day As Rayburn Revival Draws To Close

Fire Prevention Week Proclaimed by Mayor Goodman

CLEAN UP STAGED IN CONNECTION

Contest Is Announced Among School Students

In order to fight against the red menace, fire, its appalling annual losses, and the unclean conditions which often make for fire hazards, the city of Midland, through the mayor and city council will observe Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-12.

The proclamation of the mayor, found elsewhere in this issue, starts the movement, which will be brought to the attention of every school student of Midland by speakers, and to every individual inhabitant of the city through the press.

An Old Subject Fire prevention is a subject that had its beginning with the progress of man. When man began to build, his first and most serious problem was that of how to prevent fire from destroying that which he had built.

Fire is a destroyer of life as well as of property, and is surpassed only by automobiles in the number of people killed each year. Fire is classed as a careless accident by some people. An accident is the result of doing something in the wrong way.

The remedies for all kinds of accidents, including fire, have been aptly grouped under the three E's—engineering, education and enforcement, and the greatest of these is educational.

There is a cause for every fire that occurs, and the finding and the elimination of this cause is the one big purpose of fire prevention. Fire hazards may be divided into two classes, physical and moral, or personal, as they are sometimes called. The physical hazards are inherent in the risk itself and in its surroundings, and may be partially measured or estimated, and to a certain extent controlled.

Moral hazards arise from personal factors, and are hidden, presumed rather than known, not to be measured or scheduled.

A fire prevention committee appointed by the mayor, and composed of Claude O. Crane, Elliot H. Barron and George Glass, gave out the following statement Saturday to explain the need for a fire prevention week:

Statement Issued "The fire prevention committee appointed by the president of the chamber of commerce earnestly requests the co-operation of every citizen of Midland during this Fire Prevention week. The American cities, huge fire losses is one of the most serious problems confronting their people today.

"Statisticians tell us that each year 10,000 lives are lost, that twice that number of people are injured, and that the value of property destroyed by fire in this country for a decade has averaged $500,000,000 annually.

"Texas has been contributing a full share of the dead and injured along with some $20,000,000.00 of the property loss per annum.

"Midland Has Good Record "While Midland has enjoyed a splendid fire record and now for several years has had a good fire record credit, unless precautions to keep the back of stores clean and remove other hazards that have been recently created in the rush there is a possibility of losing this credit and getting penalty to the regular fire rates.

"The more fires we have the higher the key rates the fire commission must set and practically everything we buy is insured every step of the way from producer to consumer.

LACKEY RECEIVED VOTES FOR PLACING TEXT BOOK BOARD

W. W. Lackey, superintendent of the Midland public schools, came near being named a member of the state text-book commission early this week, although he knew nothing about it until he was mailed a marked copy of the Dallas News giving the account of the organization of the new board of education.

The nine-member board of education, created by the last session of the legislature, supercedes the old ex-officio board of three members and the old five-member text-book commission. The new board of nine members named the advisory committee on books, replacing the old text-book commission, and was requested by Governor Dan Moody to continue the five members of the old commission, including A. L. Day of Commerce, J. G. Dunlap of Cleburne, Bury Bryant of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Kathryn Robbins of Cameron, and J. C. Cochran of Mexia.

Others who were nominated were L. V. Stockard of Dallas, F. M. Black of Houston, Lee Clark of Plainview, W. W. Lackey of Midland, and R. H. Williams of Houston.

T. T. Garrard, formerly attorney of Midland but now of Lubbock, is one of the nine members of the board of education. He nominated the governor's nominees plus Messrs. Clark and Lackey. On final balloting by the nine members of the board of education, the nominees for the text-book advisory board stood as follows, the first five being elected: Day 7, Dunlap 7, Robbins 7, Cochran 6, Bryant 5, Stockard 1, Lackey 2, Williams 2, Clark 1 and Black 2.

When questioned about the near-election to the position Saturday, Mr. Lackey said his nomination was unsolicited and was unheard of until he received the copy of the paper containing the information.

Noted Adventurer Here Over Weekend

Fighting above the clouds with Rebels against the Federals in Mexico, aboard the famous Rum Row fleet when the historic battle of 1925 was fought, border guard in the Big Bend, at Presidio, during the Carranza revolution, frequent trips into Mexico from 1917 until the church-state dispute of 1928, present during local uprisings in the interior of Mexico, in the De La Huerta uprising, in the last battle of Naco, 700 hours aerial photographic work with a major news film company, and numerous hair-raising exploits "on the side"—this sort of existence has filled the background of the life of Jack McFarland, who was in Midland over the week-end.

McFarland, who styles himself a "Soldier of Misfortune," is a member of the famous Adventurers club, organized by "Teddy" Roosevelt, boasting daredevils of the air, explorers, naturalists, soldiers of fortune, filibuster fighters, and newspapermen in its membership.

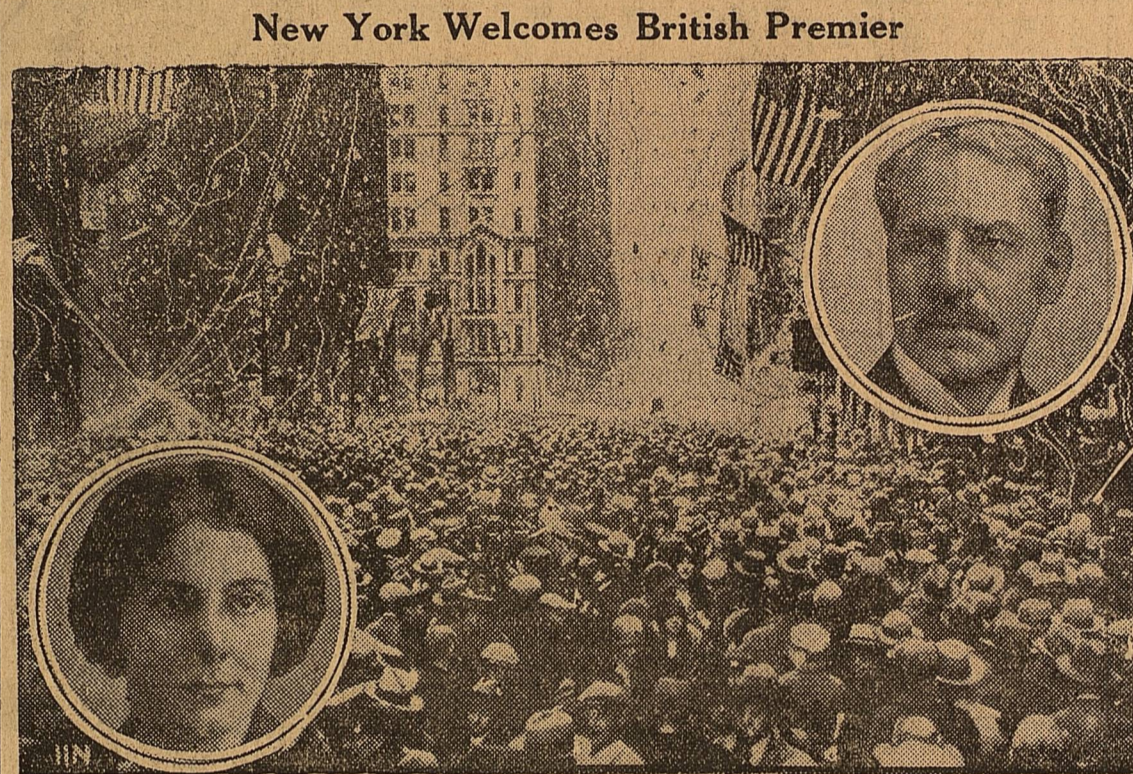

C. of C. Is Asked To Approve By-Laws

For the suggestions and criticisms of the directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, a copy of the preliminary draft of the proposed by-laws of the W. T. C. C. have been mailed to Midland. Frank expressions concerning the by-laws were asked.

The re-draft of the constitution resulted from recommendations of the resolution committee of the W. T. C. C. at a meeting in Coleman recently.

Investigation Asked On Sales Of Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(UP)—A resolution authorizing senatorial investigation of ship sales by the United States shipping board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation was introduced today by Senator McKellar, Tennessee democrat.

Thousands of New Yorkers turned out to greet J. Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain, and his daughter, Ishbel, on their arrival Friday. Premier MacDonald is shown in the top inset. The British nobles are spending the week end with President Hoover and his party on the Rapidan River at a fishing camp.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET FOR ALL IN THIS COUNTRY

Movement for an annual Father and Son banquet will be instituted on the night of September 17, at the crystal room of Hotel Seabauer. This, a community affair, is planned to include every father and his son in Midland county.

Provision is made at the banquet for those who do not have a son. The four scoutmasters of the city, G. W. Brennan, the Reverend Stanley Haver, the Reverend Thomas D. Murphy, and Claude O. Crane, will provide boys for those who are not eligible for entry to the banquet otherwise.

The movement, which is traditional in many places of the U. S., was begun in Midland last month when officials of the Boy Scouts went before the Lions and Rotary clubs, asking that those organizations lend support.

A meeting was held, at which committees of the Lions and Rotarians worked jointly with the scout committee, and framed plans for the banquet.

Homer W. Rowe was made general chairman, and the following committees named: publicity, R. C. Hankins and Claude O. Crane; program, K. E. Ambrose and the Reverend Thomas D. Murphy; tickets and arrangements, B. G. Grafa and B. Frank Haag.

A splendid program will be given on the night of the banquet, a program which will be of short duration. Four hundred are expected to be present. Those desiring tickets may get them through the ticket committee.

"Only those men who have boys with them may enter the ballroom for the banquet," Homer W. Rowe, general chairman, said. "It is hoped that every man in the county will be present."

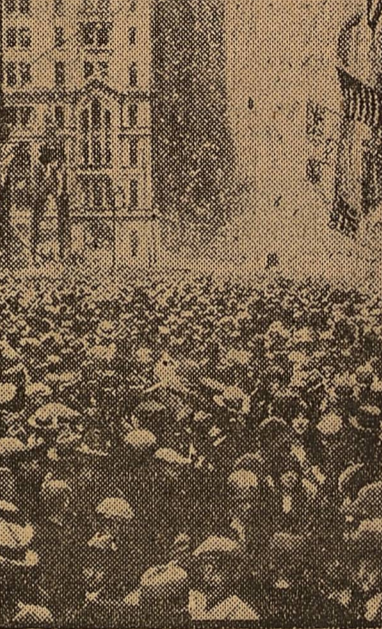

Oil Men Of This Area Off To Tulsa

John T. Gay, field superintendent of production in Texas for the Texas State Oil company, with headquarters in Wink, left Midland this morning by train for Sweetwater, where he will enplane with 13 other oil men aboard a S-A-F-E liner for the International Petroleum Exposition and Oil Conference.

Among the other members of the party which will take off at Sweetwater is William Brewster, Odessa, connected with the Lion Oil and Refining company, and oil men of Refining company, and other Odessa oil men.

A group of Wink and Abilene oil men will charter a T-A-T plane at Abilene this morning and take off at a later hour.

New York Welcomes British Premier

Thousands of New Yorkers turned out to greet J. Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain, and his daughter, Ishbel, on their arrival Friday. Premier MacDonald is shown in the top inset. The British nobles are spending the week end with President Hoover and his party on the Rapidan River at a fishing camp.

Gist Herd Wins Fourteen Prizes

John M. Gist, who has one of his strings of registered Hereford show cattle on exhibition at the Highland Fair at Marfa, won three champions, nine first places and two seconds, according to information received from Marfa Saturday by The Reporter-Telegram.

There were 119 head of registered Herefords in the show, and it has been pronounced a good one with keen competition in all classes.

Mr. Gist, accompanied by W. H. Rhodes and Hence Barrow of Odessa, went with a party of Big Bend cattlemen and business men to northern Mexico just before the Marfa Fair.

Some sixty of West Texas most prominent cattlemen gathered in Marfa last Friday and, after going over to Presidio, took a special car chartered by the Alpine Chamber of Commerce for Chihuahua, Mexico, about 180 miles in the interior.

On arriving at the Mexican metropolis, the ranchers were immediately taken to the Foreign club and the fireworks began. They were wine and dined thoroughly during their three day visit and were guests of honor at a grand ball and their evening. One of the ranchers reports that, although the wine and beer was good and very plentiful, he didn't see a thoroughly tipsy man on the party.

The city of Chihuahua is described as a typical Mexican metropolis, of some 40,000 people, with many beautiful old Spanish homes and no paved streets. The trip, in all, was described as thoroughly enjoyable.

Wade Assists In Getting Pickers

Homer D. Wade, manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, is aiding Midland farmers in securing adequate laborers for picking cotton, according to a letter received by the chamber of commerce here.

Wade, formerly manager of the W. T. C. C., is well known to Midland people. He only recently resigned to accept the Dallas position.

Cashier Robbed Of $2,200 Near Joplin

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 5.—(P)—Two men today held up a bus near here and robbed R. H. Clark, cashier of a bank of Carl Junction, of $2,200 which he was transferring from a bank here to his own institution.

Death Sentence On Charge Of Murder

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 5.—(P)—Richard Nash Burrows, 19, of Chicago, was sentenced to hang Friday, December 13, for the murder of Jack Martin, salesman of Mesa, Arizona.

SUPPORT OF PEOPLE IS VITAL AID

Thanks Offering For Dr. Rayburn To Be Taken Sunday

As the two last days of the Rayburn Evangelistic program approached, expressions of gratitude have been heard from W. I. Pratt, chairman of the laymen's movement, and from leaders of the various churches, as well as from members of the Rayburn party, for the co-operation shown by the people of Midland up to this time.

A great day in the revival is expected Sunday, and the final service is to be held Monday night.

Sunday morning at 10:30, Dr. Rayburn will speak on "The Church." All lodges of the city are invited, and it is understood that the Masonic Lodge will attend in a body, notices having been sent to all members by C. B. Ligon, W. M., and J. M. Gilmore, secretary, asking that members meet at the lodge at 10 o'clock.

At 2:30 in the afternoon, a sermon on "The Science of Christian Growth," will be preached, and everyone is urged to attend. A conference with church members will follow.

At 7:30 p. m., Dr. Rayburn will preach on "The Second Coming of Christ," one of the outstanding sermons of the entire program.

A thank offering will be taken at this service for Dr. James Rayburn, the evangelist. This is the only money he receives for his month's work. W. I. Pratt, in commenting on the financial side of the meeting, said that the budget of expenses has been easy to raise. This pays for all costs except Dr. Rayburn's remuneration, and Pratt expressed the hope that Midland will respond in its usual big way to show appreciation for the way the evangelist has "put his soul into this great work for Midland."

Monday night at 7:30 will be "Trail Hitters Night," and will mark the closing of the month's campaign.

Midland has received great benefit from the revival, according to those in charge, and they thank the people for their cooperation.

Martin Exhibit A Success At Lubbock

The Martin county exhibit, sponsored by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce and supervised by E. P. Whitson and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Holley, at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock, scored a total of 872.9 points out of a possible 1,000 and took eighth place in the fair.

Taking into consideration the fact that Martin county was against such counties as Potter, Swisher, Garza, and other counties that lead at the Dallas Fair, the showing was considered more than fair.

The cotton exhibit entered by Martin county took second place and the grain sorghums were in the leading group. In the general exhibit a bundle of red top sorghum and sun flower heads were entered. Both took first prizes.

The Chamber of Commerce of the county hopes the start made will encourage agriculturists of Martin county to make more of next year's exhibits first prize winners.

Youth Killed As Motorcycle Crashes

GALVESTON, Oct. 5.—(P)—John Cox, 18, died of injuries received today when the motorcycle he was riding crashed into an automobile near Webster.

AMBASSADORS TO EL PASO OPENING STANDARD PORT

Midland ambassadors of goodwill will be present in El Paso this afternoon when the Standard Airlines, Inc., airport is officially dedicated.

H. M. Becherer, field manager of the Midland Municipal Airport, K. E. Ambrose, chairman of the aeronautics committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and "Dusty" Waller, manager of Hotel Scharbauer, will take off at dawn this morning in a ship belonging to the airport. They will land at dusk.

The morning is made up of official greetings to incoming pilots. The afternoon finds the actual beginning of the program, one which is filled with maneuvers from a fleet of planes from the west coast.

Visitors will be given free plane rides over the city, and parachute jumps will be made in the late afternoon.

The new port is located approximately a mile and a half east of Ft. Bliss wireless towers.

Suicide Theory Is Doubtful By Father

DALLAS, Oct. 5.—(P)—M. E. Sides, father of Adolphus Sides, 18-year-old high school pupil who was found shot to death near here yesterday, said he believed his son was murdered and he had information he intended to investigate thoroughly before accepting the suicide theory of officers and in the coroner's verdict.

FORD AIR RACE ENTERED CANADA SATURDAY NOON

WINDSOR, Ontario, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Led by a plane of the Great Lakes Aircraft Corporation, 30 contestants in Edsel B. Ford's reliability air tour landed at noon today after a short hop from the Ford Airport.

They were guests at the second annual border cities' air tournament before taking off on their 5,000 mile, 16-day, trip this afternoon. The ten planes accompanying the fleet landed safely.

Adjourn Pantages Trial Until Monday

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—(UP)—The case of the People vs. Alexander Pantages stood adjourned today, but the pitiful story of 17-year-old Eunice Pringle, who claims that the millionaire theatrical magnate assaulted her, still echoed in the ears of the jurors and spectators. Miss Pringle returns to the stand Monday to permit Pantages' attorney, who will try to save him from the one to 50 year penitentiary sentence, to resume his efforts to break down her accusations.

Two Stanton Scout Patrols Organized

Two patrols were reorganized when the Stanton Boy Scouts met last Tuesday with their newly chosen officers, Scoutmaster Taylor M. Rushing and Assistant Scoutmaster W. C. Glazener. Patrol leaders and troop officers were elected.

Three new boys, Jasper Green, Henry Houston and Elvis Clements, were taken through the preliminary ceremonies necessary to becoming scouts.

Mr. Rushing announced that a council will be formed of the scoutmaster, assistant scoutmaster, senior patrol leader, scribe and patrol leaders, the body to make a program for the year's work.

LINDBERGH RESTED SATURDAY

BELIZE, British Honduras, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Lindbergh rested today, preparatory to spending four days on an aerial search of ancient Maya cities and hidden jungles which land parties of scientists have been unable to find.

"REMEMBER BORGER" IS IN THREAT

Resignation Must Be Placed; Life Is Threatened

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 5.—"Pack your trunk and move on to safer country," was the admonition Jack Miles, constable, who pinned a note to his office door threatening his life.

The note read: "Jack, we cite you to the murder case at Borger. It is no pleasure to us to have a job of that kind done, and we do not give you any number of days in which to resign. We mean for you to do it now."

Miles participated in a number of liquor raids here recently.

RAMSAY SPREADS GOOD WILL WHEN VISITS CABINET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Premier Ramsay MacDonald spread goodwill doctrines among the highest officials of the United States today when he made a series of formal calls on Vice-President Charles Curtis, Chief Justice Taft, and Secretary of State Stimson.

He arose at 6 o'clock this morning, breakfasted at 8, posed for photographers and called on Canadian and Irish ministers.

He planned to accompany President Hoover and his party to the Rapidan River fishing camp, returning Sunday night.

There is close harmony between Hoover and MacDonald as to the objects of their conversations. Both are known to believe the Anglo-American Alliance an impossibility. Their chief purpose is to get each other's view points.

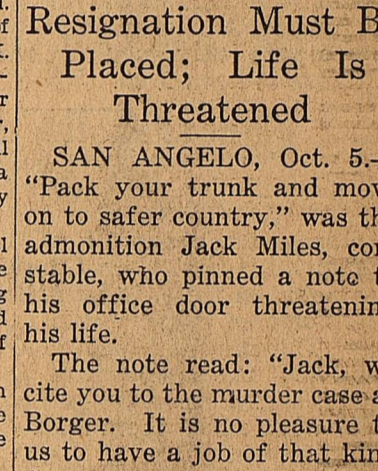

Midland Thanked By Exposition Head

A formal letter of appreciation to Midland for activity associated with the local Chamber of Commerce's entering of exhibits at the Sixth International Petroleum Exposition and Congress, at Tulsa, was received Saturday from William B. Way, general manager of the exposition.

"We wish to assure all delegates from Midland to Tulsa that they will have a most profitable visit and an enjoyable one," the letter stated.

"We have designated Monday, October 7, as Midland Day."

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Citizens of the entire nation will observe Fire Prevention Week beginning today, and continuing through October 12. Activities on the part of Midland people extended toward the prevention of fire, which at the same time automatically tend to save life and avoid personal injury, are a necessity and obligatory civic duty.

It is important that Midland people take due notice of Fire Prevention Week, look to the fire hazards on their own premises, and eliminate any possibility of loss of life or property from this cause.

During 1928, the loss of life from fire in the United States is estimated at 10,000 persons. The number in Texas was 349, an increase of 110 over 1927. Property losses amounted to $472,224,568 in 1928, the Texas losses amounting to approximately $20,000,000. Midland has a comparatively good fire record, but it is the duty of all citizens to keep it so.

DOES PROHIBITION PROHIBIT?

Prohibition enforcement has cost the government $141,000,000 since the institution of the Eighteenth Amendment, according to the Alabama Baptist; but the paper adds that nearly four times that amount has been collected in fines, to be exact $460,000,000. Anybody in the business world would call that good business.

The Baptist Standard, in commenting on the figures, said that the opposers of prohibition weep over the cost of enforcement to the government, but the fines are actually what make them talk.

TEXAS CO-EDS TO PLAY POLO; LOTS OF GIRLS RIDE

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—Horseback riding at the University of Texas has been increasingly popular among women students since its inauguration as a sport in the curriculum of the department of physical training for women just one year ago, according to Miss Helen Hall, riding instructor. Enrollment this year in riding classes has more than doubled that of last year. Approximately 45 students were registered for the classes held last year, while there are 70 now taking the course and a total of 100 girls have already signed up to take riding during the second quarter.

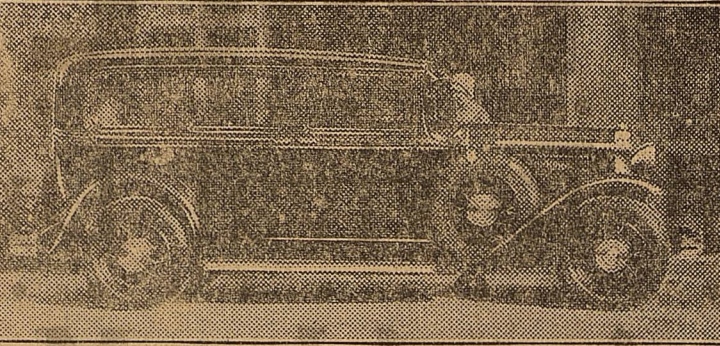

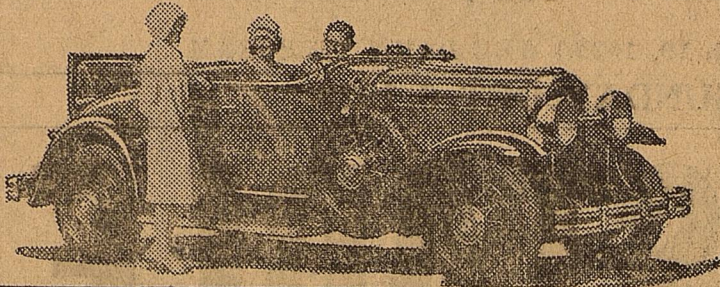

Miss Hall has already planned a number of all-day and week-end trips for her riding classes, a number of which will end at Pearce's Lodge, some eight miles from town by riding trail. Both flat (English) and stock saddles will be used, although only beginners will be allowed to ride with stock saddles.

In addition to the regular classes, Miss Hall is sponsor for the girls' riding clubs, a junior club and a senior club. Membership in each is limited to ten. No special habit will be required for members of the junior club, but Miss Hall expects the senior club to decide upon a special costume. Class members are required to wear trousers but are not required to buy boots. Members of the riding clubs must wear riding trousers and boots.

As an added incentive to the girls taking riding, Miss Hall has decided to form a polo team from the best members of the senior club in the spring. This team will play members of the men's polo team, which is also sponsored by Miss Hall, though not as a university organization.

Texas' population per square mile is 20.6 on the basis of the 1928 estimated total, the lowest of any of the Southern States and lower than all but 12 of the states of the union. The highest density is in Rhode Island with 573.5 to the square mile, and the lowest is in Nevada with 0.7 persons to each mile of area.—Texas Commercial News.

S-A-T Passenger Agent Tells Field Mgr. That Passengers Do Not Ride For Thrill

Although passenger air lines are still comparatively new, the number of people who ride them for thrills is already becoming negligible, according to E. L. Nelson, division passenger agent here of the Southern Air Transport System, a subsidiary of the Aviation Corporation, when he landed at Sloan Field. He was talking to Field Manager H. M. Becherer.

"The vast majority of those people using the scheduled air lines of the United States today are business men who ride in planes because they find it profitable to do so," Mr. Nelson declared. "The number of those who ride for thrills is becoming negligible for the same reason the business of joyhopping is dying out, and that reason is why people who ride airplanes for thrills are almost invariably disappointed.

"There are still a number of people everywhere who have never been up, and of course they look forward to their first ride with quickening heart beat. But even they have all heard so many of their friends say there is no thrill to it that they already half-way believe them.

"Everybody who has ever been up knows there is less thrill to straight flying, which is the only kind of flying passenger planes can afford to indulge in, than there is to any other means of locomotion. The public has not wanted to believe this. It looks as if there must be a thrill to it, to those who have not down, and they have generally refused to believe there was not a thrill in it until they tried it and found out for themselves.

"Invariably they were disappointed, and invariably they told their friends so until many of these friends, even though they had never been up and had refused to believe the first people who told them there was no thrill to flying, finally came to the conclusion that after all, since everybody said there was no thrill to flying, maybe there wasn't. "When that conclusion becomes a settled, demonstrated conviction, in the mind of the general public," Mr. Nelson continued, "the romance of flying will be dead, at least in the old sense, but in its place will be an industry as great as the railroads are today. In the past people have looked on the airplane as a kind of adult merry-go-round, or better still, as a variant on the Figure Eight or other Coney Island riding device. But this attitude is rapidly passing.

"And in the place of the people who rode for a thrill are coming many more who ride because they find it more profitable to do so, just as business houses are finding it is more profitable for their salesmen to send their reports in by air mail and for them to send lots of light freight and express by air.

"For example, Colonel E. S. Gornell, the president of the Stutz Motor Company of Indianapolis, makes an annual swing through the West, visiting the various Stutz distributors. This trip used to cost him $1,000 and require three weeks of his time. This year he made it in four full days and two half days, and yet he stayed just as long in each place as he ever did when he went by train and was on the road three weeks. Furthermore, the trip cost him only $600. The saving, of course, was in hotel bills, meals and other living expense and does not take in the value of his time.

"And Colonel Gornell's is not just an isolated case. Salesmen in various lines of industry, sales managers, distributors, merchants are all finding they can save money by spending a little more to travel by air."

Change Regulations Bollworm Quarantine

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Secretary Arthur M. Hyde of the United States Department of Agriculture announces that the regulations under the rink bollworm quarantine in West Texas have been amended to modify the conditions permitting cottonseed oil mills to ship second-cut linters originating in the area regulated.

In 1928 the Department of Agriculture found that the oil mills located in the counties of West Central Texas involved in the pink bollworm outbreak, which was discovered in that area at that time, were inadequate in number and size to crush the cotton seed produced in the area.

Accordingly, provision was made for the authorization of oil mills located outside of but in the vicinity of regulated areas, to crush cotton seed originating in such areas upon determination by the plant quarantine and control administration that reasonable necessity existed for such action.

The linters cut from such seed were required to be returned to the regulated area for compression and fumigation. Since that plan was worked out, investigations have indicated that by the use of a special type of equipment, the second-cut linters can be passed through rollers under such pressure that all cotton seed with any larvae which might be contained therein will be so crushed as to prevent any infestation.

The new amendment, effective October 1, authorizes the issuance of permits for the interstate movement of second-cut linters passed through the new type of roller equipment when the proper safeguards against contamination are provided. This authorization does not apply to first-cut linters which must be returned to the regulated area for compression and fumigation as heretofore.

The department points out that the second-cut linters to which this amendment relates are not only pressed within the rollers sufficiently to crush any cotton seed which may be contained therein, but that the seed itself is already given a heat treatment at the gins before it is shipped to the oil mill concerned.

It is felt, therefore, says the department, that the present action does not involve risk of spread of pink bollworm to points outside the regulated areas.

If you should lift the body of every car in Buick's field—and compare the chassis—then you too would choose

The New BUICK

If you were to lift the body from the chassis of any one of a hundred cars—and compare the vitally important details of chassis design and construction—you would find Buick so outstandingly superior in all phases of fine car engineering that you would almost inevitably make Buick your choice. Here is what you would see in this famous chassis:

Buick's great new Valve-in-Head engine—developing 99 horsepower in the 124- and 132-inch models, and 80 1/2 horsepower in the 118-inch models. Unapproached in sturdiness, all-round performance—ability, reliability and economy as well.

Buick's new Controlled Servo Enclosed Mechanical Brakes—providing smooth, positive, silent braking, with minimum pedal pressure. And—because fully protected against dust, dirt and water—operating at maximum efficiency in any weather.

Buick's new frictionless steering gear and new Road Shock Eliminator—twin advancements introduced by Buick. The Buick wheel offering effortless control throughout its entire turning range—and the new Road Shock Eliminator assuring complete freedom from annoying jolts and jers.

Buick's new, longer rear springs, and new Levejoy Duodraulic Shock Absorbers—front and rear. Combining to check both bound and rebound, and providing a degree of riding ease without parallel anywhere.

And, finally, such established Buick superiorities as the famous double-drop frame of toughest steel... the massive side and cross members reinforced at points of stress to insure greatest long life... the celebrated torque tube drive, Buick multiple-disc clutch, self-lubricating differential, and numerous other features.

When the list of Buick's chassis features—entirely aside from the irresistible appeal of Buick's new Fisher Bodies—reads like a roll-call of all that is soundest and best in fine car engineering... and when, in addition, you can buy a Buick for as little as $1225, f. o. b. factory... what wonder that all comparisons lead to Buick! What wonder that more than 2,000,000 people have invested their money in Buicks—and that from two to five times as many are purchasing this new Buick as any other automobile priced above $1200!

Young People's Weiner Roast

The Young Peoples' Department of the Baptist church Sunday school had a weiner roast at the church Friday evening at 6 o'clock, at which time Mrs. Dena Kray Stover talked to the group on "New Ways to Interest Young People."

Mrs. W. A. Hyatt, superintendent of the department, arranged the meeting.

A good representative crowd of the department was present, and appreciated the splendid talk of the women's worker.

A committee of the group served weiners, buns, pickles, and ice tea on the church lawn, informally. After the social hour the group attended the revival meeting.

Bible Study Clubs Organize

Growing out of the recent Bible studies and the cottage prayer meetings held during the revival are two Bible Study Clubs. Mrs. I. M. Mitchell's division in Belmont has arranged to meet weekly for a study in the Bible and will begin Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. E. Nolan.

Mrs. T. O. Midkiff's division plan to meet weekly beginning Friday at the home of Mrs. Carl Reeves.

Prayer meetings held Friday had a good attendance of interested women, many of whom have expressed their desire to continue the study of the Bible. Because of the interest evinced by the women, Mr. Peterson, who has been arranging the lessons for the groups, plans to meet all interested in a course of Bible study at the tabernacle Monday afternoon, at which time he will outline a study.

Kiddies Entertain For Junior High

The Junior High has a treat for the chapel hour Monday at 8:30 o'clock.

Two talented youngsters, Delores Barron and Buster Cole will entertain with a group of readings and dance numbers.

Hindu Philosopher's Birthday Celebrated

India's "Great Soul" Aged 69 Has Had Active Year

FORBANDAR, India, Oct. 3.—(UP)—For one day in each year Forbandar is the proudest town in all India. Today is the day, for it is the birthday of the "Great Soul," Mahatma Gandhi, the great Indian Nationalist and Swadeshi leader who begins his 70th year. Gandhi was born in Forbandar.

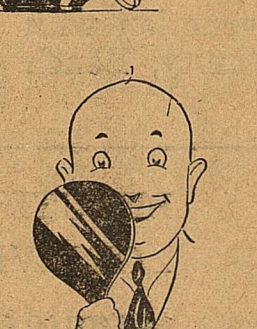

The Great Soul came to life again politically during the past year. He was arrested and fined one rupee, about 40 cents, after rioting in connection with the burning of foreign cloth in Calcutta. Gandhi's great ambition is to banish all foreign cloth from India and do away with machines and machine-made goods. His doctrine of non-cooperation and non-violence with the British administration has often brought him into contact with the authorities. He took all responsibility for the Calcutta cloth bonfires.

The Great Gandhi conducts a colony at Sabarmati which he calls the "Ugoda Mandir" and in which converts to his plain gospel may find peace and work. Gandhi was shocked to find that one of his cousins in the Mandir was guilty of a series of petty gifts, and that his, Gandhi's, wife had violated his teachings by hoarding 200 rupees to herself. Gandhi's great grief was publicly expressed in his own newspaper. The colony's strict code of morals include celibacy and coarse food, devoid of spices.

Gandhi almost caused a riot among his followers when he ordered a cow killed after the animal had been seriously wounded. The cow is looked upon as a sacred animal in India. Not only was Gandhi accused of complicity in a great crime, but it was alleged that he had been unfaithful to his own doctrine of non-violence.

Pearls when not worn for a long time have been known to "get sick and die."

In Arizona, or thereabouts, the train came to a stop that lasted for sixteen hours. Reason: washouts. There have been several cloudbursts, or rains almost as bad, in that section of the country. Hence, train schedules have taken a back seat until an army of hustling workers repair track damages. Charlie Bickford is slated to be the Garbo's man in the reels, that is, if he completes his current talky in time. There is some doubt about this, in which case, Director Brown will have to get another leading man. As you probably remember, the late William Russell scored in this role in the Ince version.

Considerable interest is being evinced in Greta Garbo's first outland. According to the M. G. M.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR MIDLAND AT WTCC CONVENTION

Romance of night and day awaits Midland people who attend this week the W. T. C. C. convention at El Paso.

Plans were completed Saturday for what is expected to be a massed band of 500 instruments as a feature of the entertainment for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce eleventh annual convention. This concert will be given Friday night at the High School Stadium, where a night football game between the College of Mines, El Paso, and Wayland College of Plainview will be staged. It will precede the gridiron contest and will be under the direction of O. M. Nord. Every visiting musician is expected to take part. Indications are that thirty bands will attend the convention.

Between the halves of the game each band will march across the field playing its favorite march. As it enters the field loud speakers will proclaim to the visitors the name of the city represented by the band. These loud speakers will, also, describe the football game play by play.

Many other features for the bands have been arranged for. A band stand on the site of the old Sheldon Hotel will be erected and each afternoon and night hours will be allotted for the respective bands to offer their programs. Following the military parade on Friday, the second day of the convention, the bands may also parade the streets if they so desire. This will give each band ample opportunity to advertise its city.

Suffered Two Years From Stomach and Digestive Troubles, Orgatone Brings Relief

No extravagant claims are made for Orgatone, the new stomach preparation now being introduced here, but that it will restore your system in a perfect state of health if suffering from stomach, liver or kidney trouble. This is backed up by statements of local people who have used this treatment and are loud in the praises of it. Below is a statement made by Mrs. S. M. Coe, of 1123 N. Seventeenth, Abilene, Texas.

"For over a year I have been in a very bad condition from stomach troubles. For about a year everything I ate soured and formed gas. I had pains and cramps in my stomach that would make me miserable for an hour or two after every meal. I was very bilious and dizzy and had severe headaches. I was weak and nervous and was in a general run down condition.

"I heard so much about Orgatone I decided to try it, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt greatly relieved and since I have continued to take it I feel perfectly well, never felt better in my life. My stomach is in fine shape and I can eat anything I want and never suffer with pains and cramps like I used to. My dizzy and bilious spells are gone and I haven't had a headache since taking Orgatone. I'm not nervous as I was and I sleep fine every night. Orgatone is a good medicine and it has certainly helped me and I know it will help others who give it a fair trial."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought at Midland, at the Midland Drug Co.—Adv.

registers 60% increase in EIGHTS

As proof of the tremendous growth in public preference for eight-cylinder cars, registration figures in this State for the first seven months of 1929 tell their own story. Eights above $1000 showed an increase of 60 per cent while Sixes in the same price field decreased 20 per cent.

The tendency is the same the nation over. In 43 states, * Eights above $1000 increased 94 per cent. Sixes declined 18 per cent.

Nobody can doubt the evidence. We are passing into an eight-cylinder era. Already, all of the finest American cars are Eights. In fact, 41 per cent of all American makes are Eights, and the number is constantly increasing.

Spurred on by an Eight-minded public,

Studebaker set out two years ago to build a high-quality Eight that could be sold at moderate six-cylinder cost.

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that are champions—holders of 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined—Eights which are remarkably economical—smooth, flexible, brilliant.

Before investing in your new car, drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Dictator. Bear in mind that Studebaker's 77 years of manufacturing integrity stand back of every one of these cars. And remember, too, that your new car will be worth more a year from now—if it's an Eight!

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Statisticians have placed the loss of life by fire in the United States last year at 10,000, while we are told that twice that number of persons were seriously burned, most of these casualties being women and children.

We learn also from carefully compiled estimates that while an appreciable decline is being shown in the fire loss record of the country, the destruction of property in 1928 was about $472,000,000.

Texas contributes a full share of these deaths and injuries along with some $20,000,000 of the wastage of property values.

A fire loss is a loss no matter how it is figured. The partial relief that insurance affords adds but another item to our tax burden, but that which fire consumes is gone forever.

A large majority of the fires that occur are preventable, for they spring from conditions that exist principally because of our indifference toward them. Fire Prevention Week is set aside each year as a time for us to think and act on preventing, restricting and extinguishing fires.

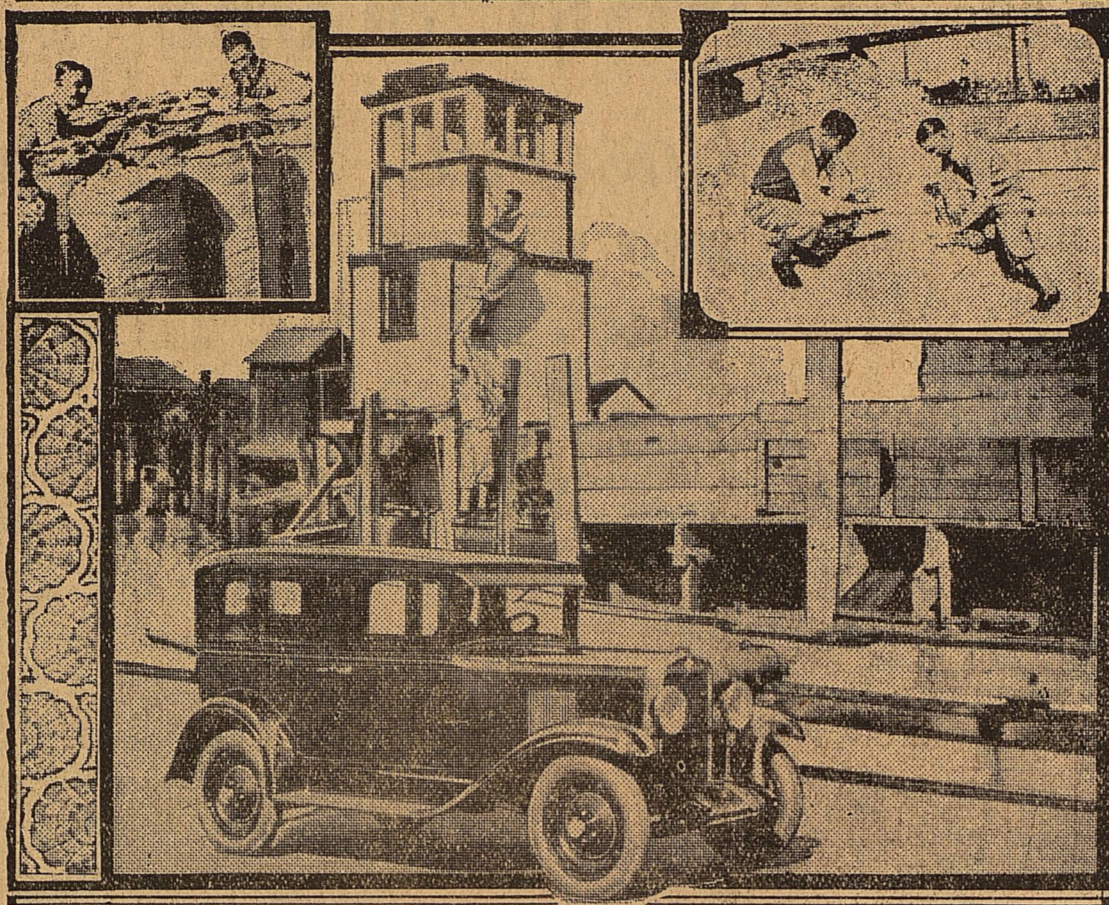

Now, therefore, I, Leon Goodman, mayor of the city of Midland, Texas, do hereby proclaim the period of October 6th to 12th as Fire Prevention Week in this city this year.

Let our public officers, school authorities, local organizations, and all of our people, prepare for execution during that time an educational program which shall include instruction of school children in ways and means of preventing fires, as well as a campaign against fire hazards and all conditions that may cause or promote the spread of fire; and when we shall have thus finished our observance of the occasion, let us utilize the lessons and experiences so gained in making fire prevention an important and permanent phase of the civic life of this community.

Attest: J. C. Hudman, City Secretary.

Sea Shells Turn Into Lime in Western 'Ghost' Town

A Chevrolet Imperial sedan recently visited Alviso, one of the "ghost" towns of the West. Gathering of sea shells, which are converted into lime, is the sole remaining major industry of this town, which was once expected to rival San Francisco and other Pacific Coast ports in maritime importance. Pictured here is a Chevrolet sedan in front of an old schooner; sea shells in sacks ready to be sent to the lime factory; and a pile of unsacked sea shells.

URGES ADOPTING BETTER ECONOMIC FARMING SYSTEM

Frank P. Holland, Jr., president of the Texas Breeder-Feeder association, in a letter to chamber of commerce secretaries of the state, points to the demand for beef and to the economic value of adopting a better balanced economic system. His letter follows:

The time has come when Texas must adopt a better balanced economic system. You have doubtless spent a good deal of time and energy promoting factories and better farming methods, but there is one sort of factory and one phase of balanced agriculture that has not made the progress that it should. The first factory on earth is that one which converts vegetable growth into flesh, and despite the Hollywood and all other fat diets, Americans still eat as much meat per capita as they did at the opening of the century.

Declining cotton yields and the financial uncertainty that surrounds every one-crop system have brought and will continue to bring distress. Dairying is partially alleviating this unbalanced condition in some sections, but not every man can or will milk cows. Yet he must turn to crop rotation to save his cotton profits, and since feed crops seldom can be sold as cash crops at a profit, he must have livestock of some sort which will pay him a profitable price for time otherwise wasted, and for the additional feed he can grow without sacrificing his total yield of cotton. Baby beef and lamb feeding has been amply demonstrated during the past several years. It can probably be introduced into your community to the profit of everybody concerned.

The Texas Breeder-Feeder Association has been organized to coordinate the efforts of several agencies in making meat production a regular part of Texas farm operations where other livestock enterprises are not providing the market for

LAREDO DOCKET BIG

LAREDO, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A record-breaking docket has been announced for the November term of United States court for the southern district of Texas as the result of arrests made by the immigration service since the last term of the federal court here.

Despite the fact that 101 cases transferred from Laredo since the last term of the court have been disposed of by Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson Jr., at Houston and Brownsville, it is announced from the federal deputy district clerk in Laredo that more than 200 cases already have accumulated for the next term and others are being filed constantly with the clerk. Federal court convenes in Laredo on November 11 for a term of one week, or longer if necessary.

the social Undoing of Elizabeth Ann

As a hostess, Elizabeth Ann decided that she was a grand success. She glanced happily about the tables of modish guests in the living room.

This was a party, she thought. One they'd talk about for many a day. Everything was going beautifully.

She giggled as one of the group at the nearest table trumped her partner's acc. The hum of conversation rose and fell.

And then... the telephone rang. "Yes, he's here," she answered, "but he can't come to the 'phone. He's in the garage working on the car... Oh!... Long Distance... very well... I'll call him."

Her heart sank. The sparkle left her eyes. Too well she knew what to expect when her husband "worked on the car."

"And things had been going so well," she thought bitterly, as Ed, red-faced and perspiring, oil and grease from head to foot, paused in embarrassment at the door.

Ed was waiting in the hall when she closed the door miserably behind the last guest. He slipped a consoling arm about her.

"I'm sorry, honey!" he soothed. "It won't happen again. Tomorrow I'll order an extension telephone for that kitchen."

Telephones where you need them save time, patience, housewifely strength—even prevent minor social disasters.

Few know that one or two additional instruments cost considerably less than the single telephone they now have!

By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, and perhaps a rearrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of your telephone service.

LISTLESS BULLDOGS WATCH STANTON SCORE 15-0 WIN FRIDAY

National Problems Disregarded as Baseball World Series is Considered

STANTON'S LOB PASSES PUT OVER TOUCHDOWN; INTERCEPTED PASS AND SCORE SAFETY

Playing indifferent football, Midland high school let Stanton take the opening game of the district schedule Friday, 15-0.

Not once did Midland threaten the Stanton goal. Play was in Midland territory most of the afternoon. Stanton passes that should have been blocked easily went for steady gains when Midland backs failed to get into the air or play their defense zones. Parker on end played a beautiful game for Midland every minute he was in the lineup. Stanton scored two touchdowns, one by the pass route, one through an intercepted pass, and a safety which resulted from a blocked punt.

The Midland line showed up well, but there were glaring discrepancies among the backs. Coach Barry will shift all backs to the line this week except Burris, Johnson, Fryar and Midkiff. Irwin, fast man who is too inexperienced for a regular berth at present, is to be groomed for full-back, but will spend much time at end until he is more seasoned. "Just the fast men for the backfield," Barry summed it up summarily.

First Quarter
Midland kicked off and the ball was put in play on the Stanton 35 yard line. Burris' pass was blocked. Burris made 3 over the left side of the line and White plunged 3 through the opposite side. Burris made it first down.
An attempted pass was blocked, and a Midland fumble was recovered by a Gold Jersey. With third down and 13 to go, White dropped back to punt. The line leaked and he was smothered. His blocked punt rolled back to the Midland 25 yard line, where it was brought inside 20 paces and put in play.

Stanton, after a series of attempted plunges, were able to advance the oblong pellet only five yards, and the ball went over.
On a lateral pass, Burris made 6 yards around right end. Midland lost the ball on a fumble after White failed to gain.
On Midland's 25 yard line, Epley hit the line for no gain. Epley could not gain on the next play and the much touted Hawkins, full-back, was stopped in his tracks. Stanton punted and the ball was downed on the Midland 20 yard line.

A series of line plays failed to gain and White's 25 yard punt was almost blocked by a rushing Stanton end. A bad pass back to Epley was missed and the ball was downed on the Midland 40 yard line, after the ball had been advanced well down the field by a series of rushes with Epley carrying the ball.
Burris failed to gain on the first play at the line, and on the second was thrown for a loss by Robertson. An attempted punt was muffed up when Kelly knifed his way through the defense and threw himself upon the punter.

The quarter ended with Stanton holding the ball on Midland's 40 yard line. Score, Midland 0, Stanton 0.
Second Quarter
Stanton in this quarter launched a passing attack that made for that squad five first downs and a touchdown.

Epley passed to Pollock for 11 yards to start the rough going. Three line plays and Hawkins made another first down. After Epley and Metcalf had made 8 through the line, Epley passed to E. Parks for 15 yards.

Hawkins could not gain through the line and Stanton's march was ended for a time, as the ball went over.

Burris made 2 and 6, but Fryar fumbled and Midland had to kick, the ball going 25 yards.
Epley passed again, to Pollock, for 15 yards. The runner sidestepped the Midland safety man, but was pulled down from behind by a line-man. Stanton was slowly edging its way into the shadow of the Midland goal line again.

And then Stanton started the scoring. It was third down and 8 to go. Epley whipped a pass to Robertson, right end, who almost got over the goal line. Hawkins, fullback, plunged for the marker.

Hinson went into the game for Metcalf, Stanton. He failed to kick the extra point.

Stanton kicked to the 20 yard line, and the ball was run back by the safety to Midland's 32 yard line. Johnson made a nice 6 yard run, but the whistle for the half sounded with Midland far from scoring position. Score: Midland 0, Stanton 6.

Third Quarter
Midland kicked off, but was unprepared for Stanton's replying kick, and fumbled for a Stanton recovery. Epley kicked to Midland's 8 yard line.

White and Burris could not gain and White punted to the 40 yard line. Epley returned the ball to Midland's 33 yard line.

Hawkins made 2 over the line, and E. Epley in two plays made first down. Epley was thrown for a loss, failed to gain on the next play, and had a pass grounded on the third. Johnson went into the Midland

SPEAKING OF SPORT

By FRANK GETTY, United Press Sports Editor

Last Chance for Trophy
Defeated in the four international yacht races this year, the United States will make a last attempt to annex an international trophy in the Star Class Championship races which open at New Orleans on Oct. 10 and are scheduled to be completed on Oct. 13.

Twenty-one star-boats from the United States, two from Cuba, and one each from France, Barbados, Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands will sail in the championship series. Each star class fleet in the world—and there are 42 of them—is permitted to enter one boat in the annual title series; the boat usually being selected after a series of elimination races late in the season.

The defending fleet this year is the New Orleans-Gulf Fleet Club, whose representative, Sparkler second, of the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans, won the championship last year in the races held in Los Angeles. In the 1928 races, Prentice E. Edrington, owner of the winning boat, was at the tiller with F. T. Gray as crew, whereas in today's race he will change his position and sail with Gray as pilot.

Hawaii Among Entrants
While United States yachtsmen have lost four international yacht races during the present season, critics believe that the chances of the United States in today's opening events are bright. The boat that is conceded to have the best chance of winning, according to critics, is the Central Long Island Sound's entry, Okla second.

This series of star-boat races will refer to being formed about him by other Stanton players.

The try for point was good, Parks, on a hideout play, slipping over the line and taking a nice pass from Epley.
Parker took the kickoff when Johnson fumbled, and made a nice run for eight yards in a broken field, just as the whistle sounded. Score: Midland 0, Stanton 15.

The starting lineup for both clubs follows:

Midland	Stanton
Foster	Davis
Center
Burris	E. Epley
Quarter
White	Hawkins
Fullback
Irwin	H. Parks
Right Half
Fryar	Metcalf
Left Half
Midkiff	Robertson
Right End
Woody	Pollock
Left End
Allen	F. Smith
Right Tackle
Mitchell	R. Kelly
Left Tackle
Booth	B. Kelly
Right Guard
McCall	Robert Smith
Left Guard

Midland substitutions follow: Johnson for White; Hallman for Irwin; Parker for Booth; Fleenor for McCall; Parker for Woody; Johnson for Irwin; Hallman for White.

NEWSPAPER TRIES IN SYMPOSIUM TO "DOPE"

Unraveling of the mystery attaching to the looming play-off for baseball supremacy of the world is a laborious process, judging from the attempt on the part of sports desks of America's greatest newspapers to make various angles coincide.

The Reporter-Telegram has arranged a symposium of expression of these writers. Disarmament questions, the stock market, diplomatic differences of Uruguay and Albania—everything of a problematical nature has given way to the simple question: "Which will win—the Cubs or Athletics?"

Of the list looked into, slight edge seems to be in favor of the Athletics. The betting tide has shifted slightly during the past three days, however, judging from the latest writing.

Some of the best baseball writers of America are quoted:

Athletics Favored
Tom Doerer, Philadelphia Ledger—That old flag will be retained by the American League. Mack's Athletics will mass their punch in an inning in deciding games and pepper the Cubs into submission.
Those A's are likely to get off to a disappointing start. They do that occasionally and frequently in important events. The club is composed of clear-thinking, somewhat methodical ball players, who do not flash, but rather, build slowly to their object.

At Oklahoma City: East Central Teachers 7, Northwestern Teachers 0.

Baseball

NATIONAL
St. Louis 3-7, Pittsburgh 1-8.
Brooklyn 3-1, Boston 8-5.
New York 4-12, Philadelphia 5-3.
AMERICAN
Philadelphia 8, New York 4.
Boston 4, Washington 3.
Cleveland 3, St. Louis 2.
Detroit 6, Chicago 3.

Yet, a sudden lead spurs them as it does many another outfit. It is possible the Cub pitchers, Malone and Bush, may check their wallops. But Foxx, Simmons or Cochrane will land often enough to give the Macks the series.

Cubs In 6 Games
P. A. Dolan, New York Sun—The Cubs are my choice for about four out of six games. They have the pitchers and a flock of righthanded batters who shouldn't be bothered excessively by left-handed speed pitching such as Grove and Walberg will offer.

Another thing—various of the Mack players have been out of the lineup this season for reasons which indicate a difficulty to stand up physically under the strain.

A's Have Ace Pitching
Francis J. Powers, Cleveland News—The Athletics are my choice for the World's Series. I believe the Athletics left-handers, Grove and Walberg, with the assistance of George Earnshaw, will be able to check the Chicago batters despite the Cubs' righthanded swatters.

The Athletics have a tremendous batting attack and Simmons, Foxx, Miller, Cochrane, Dykes and Haas will be equal to that of Hornsby, Cuyler, Stephenson and Wilson. Pitching likely will decide the series and it appears to me that the Athletics' staff is a shade stronger than that of the Cubs. But not having seen the Cubs, my opinion merely is that of an American leaguer.

Short Series For Cubs

Ray J. Gillespie, St. Louis Star—It has been a long time since two such well-matched teams have entered a World's Series. Over a season's play, I would favor the Athletics to win out as they undoubtedly play the steadiest ball. But in a short series, the Cubs should get the call because of their fence-busting and break-forcing tactics in important games.

Consult Burton Lingo when you want builders' material, or want figures on any kind of building. We are prepared to serve you.

Burton-Lingo Company

A rest of a few days before the series should enable the Cub pitchers to round into winning form, although just now they are somewhat shattered as a result of over-work in the series of swatfests and double-headers.

Philly For Cubs
Stephen M. Grauley, Philadelphia Inquirer—The Chicago Cubs have my odds in series, although they do not compare with the A's man for man. But the Cubs have fight and co-operation, and this difference compared with the man-for-man idea, should give them the edge over the Macks. The series should be close and I think it will, the club winning the first game getting a big jump on their opponents, which might decide the eventual winner.

A's Better All-round Team
Sam Machnick, St. Louis Times—A tossup. The team getting the breaks will win the series. I will give the Athletics a slight shade because they have a better all-round team. The catching, I believe, will tell the tale. Mickey Cochrane and Cy Perkins are more reliable than Taylor and Gonzales. Of course, Gabby Hartnett in the game would mean a different story.

Cubs in Six Games
Dan Parker, New York Daily Mirror—I look for the Cubs to win the series in about six games. Chicago's lineup is more evenly balanced for left and righthanded pitching than Philadelphia's. The A's have shown a weakness against righthanded pitching and that's exactly what they will have to face against the Cubs. Besides having an edge on batting strength, the Cubs also are a more aggressive ball club. Also, they are finishing the season in better condition than the Athletics.

A's Best On Mound
James Zerilli, Detroit News—Picking the winner of a World's Series is like trying to forecast the weather—it's more or less guess work. However, if one must split hairs, I'll take the Athletics' side against the Cubs.

Takes Chance With Cubs
Paul R. Mickelsen, Associated Press, Chicago—I'll string along with the Cubs in the 1929 World's Series. Over a long stretch I think the Athletics have easily the better team, but in a short series I believe the almost unconquerable spirit of the Cubs will carry them through.

No matter who wins, Athletics or Cubs, some wise men will be shown up in their judgment. Again, when it comes right down to quibbling over words, did any of the writers really commit himself to any honest certainty as to how the playoff may result?

The games can be seen on The Reporter - Telegram's Playograph board. The Texas Music company and the Southwestern Bell Telephone company are co-operating in supplying radio and telephone communications with the plant.

Stage All Set For State Fair Oct. 12

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 3.—The stage is all set for the worlds biggest state fair—which opens on the grounds of the State Fair of Texas, here, Saturday, October 12 and will run for 16 days until Sunday, October 27. It is not only the worlds biggest state fair but will also be the biggest state fair ever staged in the history of the State Fair of Texas, according to T. E. Jackson, president, who has worked hard throughout the year with other officers and directors of the association to give the people of Texas the greatest State Fair ever held in any place. Amusements at the 43rd annual State Fair are better than ever before, there being five major amusements for the 16 day period and numerous others. Among these will be the $10,000 state wide band contest, "The Red Robe," in the auditorium, the Hagenbeck - Wallace Circus in front of the grandstand, the world champion rodeo in the new Livestock Coliseum, and the combined horse show and style revue in the new coliseum.

The Morris and Castle shows will occupy the midway, with many new shows, while the State Fair Permanent Amusement area, with "Light-in" and two new rides and amusement devices will be running full force. The greatest agriculture show ever arranged in the entire south, with its new scoring system and with more than two-thirds of the counties of the state represented, will be seen at the State Fair of Texas.

The livestock department has been divided and during the first week of the fair the beef cattle show will be held, with beef cattle, sheep, goats, jacks, mules and heavy horses; while during the second week the Second Annual Southwest Dairy Show will be in progress in the cattle barns. Dairy cattle, milk goats, swine and light horses will be featured in the dairy show. There will also be the largest display of poultry, pet stock, implements, automobiles, manufactured products and commercial exhibits, ever seen at the State Fair of Texas.

Investigate Cause Worst Prison Riot

CANON CITY, Colo., Oct. 5.—(UP)—In the smoke blackened ruins of the state penitentiary, the scene of one of the worst prison riots of modern times, authorities sought today to discover how the tragedy happened. Investigators from eight agencies tread the bloodstained corridors of the cell house where five embattled convicts held off the attacking army. Prisoners were being called for questioning, and the task of cleaning the debris was started. Wasp communities last only one summer.

Kills Wife, Then Turns Gun On Self

DALLAS, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Bob Williams, 40-year-old Dallas blacksmith, shot and killed his wife, Gladys, a stenographer, with a double-barreled shotgun, then turned the gun on himself in their apartment today. Williams is in a hospital, expected to die, his chin having been shot off. His wife was dressed, preparing to go to work, when the tragedy occurred. Williams fired one barrel at his wife, blowing a hole in the base of her skull. Marital troubles are believed to have been the cause of the shooting.

Chinaman, 252 Years Old, Has Survived 23 Wives; Eats Wild Herbs And Plants

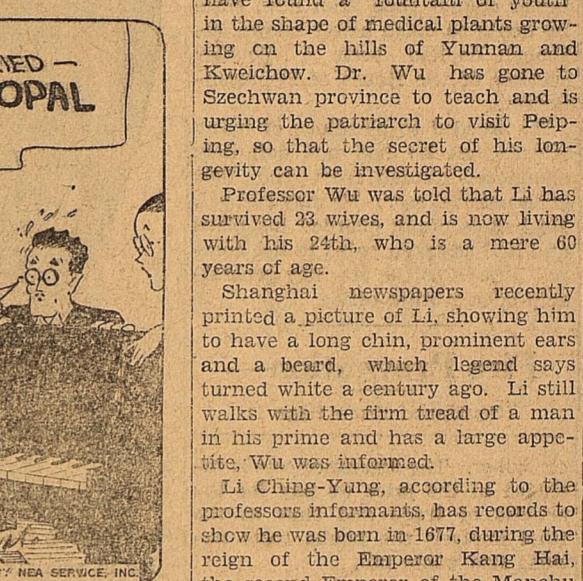

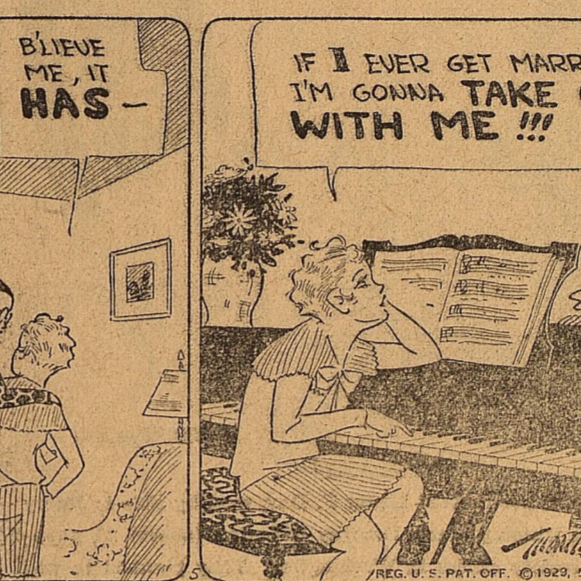

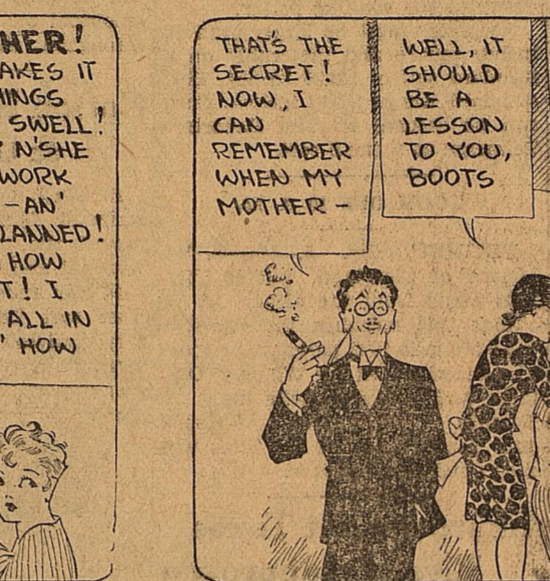

PEIPING, China, Oct. 3.—(UP)—The world's oldest man, who, if his given age is correct, would antedate the American Republic by almost a century, has been found in Kaifshien, a town in Southern Szechwan Province, in the opinion of Prof. Wu Chung-Chieh, dean of the department of education of Minkuo University here. The man in question is Li Ching-Yung. Dynastic records verify to the professor's satisfaction that Li is now in his 252nd year, or more than one-fourth as old as Methuselah, the old man of the Bible who lived 969 years. The professor is interested especially in Li because he is reported to have found a "fountain of youth" in the shape of medicinal plants growing on the hills of Yunnan and Kweichow. Dr. Wu has gone to Szechwan province to teach and is urging the patriarch to visit Peiping, so that the secret of his longevity can be investigated. Professor Wu was told that Li has survived 23 wives, and is now living with his 24th, who is a mere 60 years of age. Shanghai newspapers recently printed a picture of Li, showing him to have a long chin, prominent ears and a beard, which legend says turned white a century ago. Li still walks with the firm tread of a man in his prime and has a large appetite, Wu was informed. Li Ching-Yung, according to the professors informants, has records to show he was born in 1677, during the reign of the Emperor Kang Hai, the second Emperor of the Manchu Dynasty. He was a druggist in his youth, and during his research for medicinal plants on the mountains of Yunnan discovered the herbs which have so remarkably prolonged his life. Now the residents of Kaisien respect Li seems well on his way to his 300th year without showing signs of senility. Last spring General Yang Sen, the leading military in Szechwan, invited Li to a banquet in his honor. Professor Wu understands that Li speaks readily concerning events in his life, and has no trouble recalling incidents which occurred more than 100 years ago.

GOVERNOR MOODY'S FUTURE PLANS MOST INTERESTING IN POLITICS

By R. W. BARRY, Associated Press Staff Writer.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 5.—(P)—The most interesting piece of political news one could disseminate just now would be some positive information about the plans of Gov. Dan Moody when he completes his second term in the chief executive's office, if inquiries indicate in any degree what persons are thinking about.

Gov. Dan Moody has never said he would not be a candidate for a third term. He has not said he would and in these democratic parts it is taken for granted that the governor does not intend aspiring to more than the customary two terms.

But, there was considerable agitation for a third term for Gov. Moody a few weeks back before the $10,000 a year salary amendment was defeated. It was argued then that Texas owed the young man two more years in the governor's office at $10,000 per to assist him in making up for the financial ground he lost in serving four years at $4,000 annually.

At that time it was pointed out that Governor Moody's plans were incomplete, partly because he had been retarded by an indifferent, if unfriendly, legislature.

His civil service, income tax as a substitute for the present ad valorem duty, prison concentration, short ballot, public utilities regulation and other reform had been defeated by the legislature, and this was thought sufficient excuse to warrant his taking his solution of these problems to "the people."

His friends may make an effort to influence him in doing this anyway.

Senator Morris Sheppard of Arkansas is up for re-election to the United States senate next year and Gov. Moody may measure swords with him. Last year when Senator Earle B. Mayfield was seeking re-election there was considerable demand for Gov. Moody's candidacy, but he finally decided to stand for re-election to the governor's office.

The consensus of opinion in political circles was that the governor would have had a better chance at Senator Mayfield's place than in defeating Senator Sheppard.

Gov. Dan Moody's candidacy against Senator Sheppard, should it materialize, would prove an interesting contest. Senator Sheppard not only voted for Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York for president but he stamped the country for him, and Senator Sheppard is the author of the 18th amendment! He stood ace high with the prohibition element in the dries, especially the women dries, were greatly disappointed at the senior senator's attitude.

He was not so strong in the more liberal element, known in some quarters as the anti-prohibitionists.

Gov. Moody, always an uncompromising prohibitionist, was inclined to sulk in his tent after the Houston convention nominated Gov. Smith and it was only after much begging did he consent to make a single speech during the campaign and it was disappointing to the Smith partisans. The governor merely reaffirmed his faith in the democratic party and renewed his fealty to the cause of the South, and had no advice to give to the voters in the situation at hand, they claimed.

Anyway, those who fell out with Senator Sheppard praised Gov. Moody. Those who criticized Gov. Moody expressed admiration for Senator Sheppard. In a race between the two men, Senator Sheppard could expect assistance from a quarter he had heretofore failed to get it, and Gov. Moody would receive some help from persons who previously had championed Senator Sheppard's candidacy against all comers for his great prohibition service.

There is much interest in the future of Robert Lee Bobbitt of Laredo, appointed attorney general to succeed Claude Pollard. He had wanted to become a candidate for governor and had been engaged extensively in feeling the pulse of the people. He was reluctant to accept the attorney generalship because he did not want to lose his place in the gubernatorial set-up.

His friends argued with him it would be to his interest to take the appointment, win re-election and your years from now aspire to the governorship. They pointed out to him that he would have a much better chance than now, since he would be much better known, although he had been a popular speaker of the House of Representatives.

He acceded to pleadings of many friends but he has not definitely eliminated himself from the 1930 gubernatorial race. He may run yet. He has carefully guarded his plans and he has taken pains to not commit himself to the attorney generalship or any other office.

She'll Be Bride Of Jailed Oil Magnate

Prison bars did not prevent Henry F. Day, wealthy aide to Harry F. Sinclair, from winning pretty Dorothy Ridenour (above) 25, popular in younger society circles in Washington. They planned to wed upon Day's release from a Washington jail where he has been serving a four-month sentence for contempt of court growing out of alleged tampering with witnesses in Sinclair's oil trial. It is Day's second marriage, his first wife having divorced him in Paris a year ago.

cur, Midland has a splendid group of men in its volunteer Fire Department that we should be proud of because of their willingness to respond to duty, but we as loyal citizens should do our best to keep the fires from occurring so far as it is possible. We feel sure that the entire citizenship will do their part to make this week a success."

Poster Contest

Claude O. Crane and Superintendent W. W. Lackey, of the city schools, will be present at chapel exercises Monday to make announcements incident to the prevention campaign, and will announce a fire prevention poster contest. Each student from the first to the seventh grade, inclusive, will be eligible for competition. Prizes will be announced after the contest closes.

The rules for the poster contest follow:

Divisions:

First, second and third grades—first, second and third prizes. Fourth and fifth grades—first and second prizes. Sixth and seventh grades—first and second prizes.

The poster shall be made entirely by the individual (no help from mother or dad, suggestions are allowed).

The poster shall be placed at place of exhibit, not later than October 11th (Friday).

The poster must not bear a signature. It will be given a number at the exhibit in order to trace the owner of the winning poster.

No poster must be larger than 48 inches square and preferably on a standard size of 22x28 inches. This standard size of 22x28 inches. Card can be secured at The Reporter-Telegram at a small cost.
