Flush Field Output Down

New East Texas Order Has Effect; Oklahoma Up; Kansas Steady

KILGORE, Oct. 17 (AP)—Military headquarters in the East Texas oil field marial law area reported that production amounted to 389,900 barrels Friday from 2,378 wells. Thirty-four wells reported no production.

AUSTIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—The state railroad commission Saturday promulgated rule designed to prevent the waste of the natural gas of the Panhandle field. The rule provided that no operator should take longer than three days in which to drill in and complete a gas well unless a Miller head or other satisfactory equipment were used to prevent the waste of gas during the drilling process.

The Van oil field allowable was fixed at 50,000 barrels.

TULSA, Oct. 17 (AP)—The opening of flush fields long closed by martial law brought Oklahoma production up from a daily average of 253,000 barrels of last week to an average of 504,973 barrels for the week ended Saturday.

Kansas production was down with an average of 191,610 barrels for the week.

Home Town Talk by Betty

Often you hear folks wonder whether radio will become a rival of newspapers in the advertising business, or whether radio will continue to receive as much patronage from merchandisers as it does today; or whether the time will come when America will receive most of her news by radio.

The census bureau's report on the number of families in Texas and the number having radio receiving sets affords a pretty good answer to this.

Texas last year had 1,383,290 families which averaged 4.3 persons each. There was a total of 257,586 radio sets.

In other words, only 18.6 per cent of Texas families had radios.

Howard county, with 5,567 families had 842 radio sets; only 15.1 per cent had radios.

Compare this with a daily paid circulation in the city of Big Spring that includes, conservatively, 85 per cent of all families, and you have a pretty good idea of the relative value of radio and the daily newspaper as advertising and news media.

Figuring on the basis of 42 persons per family in this county, which is the average for the state and county, this newspaper reaches more than three-fourths of the families throughout the county each day.

Brinkley Programs To Return To Air

No request that he be refused permission to operate in Mexico was made by the department.

Mrs. Luna Glascock arrived Thursday from her farm near Corpus Christi.

$200,000 Value Placed On Tracts Near Alamo

AUSTIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—The board of the legislature created to purchase the business property encroaching on the grounds of the Alamo recommended to Governor Sterling the purchase of the adjoining land, valued at $200,000.

Mrs. Clark Driscoll Sevier, chairman of Corpus Christi, offered to contribute $65,000 as the state appropriation of $150,000 was insufficient to make the purchase. Dr. John B. Herff, owner of one adjoining tract offered to sell for $5,000 less than the valuation, and Governor Sterling said he would approve the purchase after the attorney general approves the land titles.

The city of San Antonio is donating a strip of land and closing a street in front of the Alamo.

Sentence To Be Passed By Court Later

King of Gaudom Experiences First Jury Verdict of Career

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP)—Alphonse Capone was found guilty tonight by a federal grand jury of evading income tax payments.

Sentence will be passed Tuesday by Judge Wilkerson.

Capone was found guilty on five of 23 counts. Defense counsel contended the jury had become confused and had rendered its verdict improperly, findings constituting conflicting answers on different counts. Council argued at length while the court waited to pass sentence. Finally a motion for arrest of judgment was filed. The court announced hearing on the motion would be held Tuesday, after which he would pass sentence.

The verdict was returned shortly before midnight. The case, on trial for more than a week, went to the jury at mid-afternoon.

It was the first time the King of Gaudom had experienced a verdict by a jury.

District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson, in making his first personal jury argument since taking office, demanded that the jury convict Capone. He said the defense had attempted to paint a picture of Capone as a modern Robin Hood, robbing the rich to aid the poor, but that this Robin Hood gave no thousand dollars worth of ball buckles, $27 shorts and thousands of other costly gifts.

George Arliss In "Alexander Hamilton" On Ritz Program

Finest Work Of Career Is Done By Star

Title Role, Taken By Great Veteran, Becomes A Sensation

Any new portrayal of George Arliss is an event of importance in the entertainment world, and each characterization is so flawless that it seems at the moment to be the best he has given. His Alexander Hamilton is in marked contrast to his other roles, for screen audiences have grown used to him as middle-aged or very old man. In "Alexander Hamilton" he is barely past his thirties, a man vigorous and as passionately eager for individual adventure as he always was for the common rights of humanity. This picture will be shown at the Ritz Tuesday and Wednesday.

It is with Hamilton, the man that the play deals, rather than with Hamilton the financial genius who established the credit of the young republic, wrote its Constitution and became its first Secretary of the Treasury. Great questions like the assumption of the Revolutionary War debt, the establishment of credit and the choice of a site for the National Capitol were occupying the mind of Hamilton.

At this moment, Reynolds, a malcontent bent on the ruin of the great statesman, sent to him his notorious wife with a plea for money that she might return to her father thus escaping the supposed cruelty of the crafty Mr. Reynolds. Claims made by Reynolds that Hamilton has made use of public moneys to help the woman, bring Jefferson, Monroe and other notables of the day to accuse him. His disposal of the false charge of dishonesty and his confession of personal surrender to the charms of the alluring Mrs. Reynolds makes one of many intensely dramatic scenes.

Scenes are laid in and about Philadelphia, Washington and the first Lady of the Land—Chief Justice John Jay, Jefferson, Monroe, Count Tallyrand and other famous characters are seen in the ruffles, lace powdered wigs and silver buckles of the day, and half a thousand people take part in the picturesque sequences as soldiers and citizenry. One scene of memorable beauty is Washington's farewell to his troops.

Those who support Mr. Arliss are Doris Kenyon, Dudley Digges, Alton Mabray, Rolfe Harold, Juno Culler, Charles Middleton, Montague Love, Lionel Belmore, Morgan Wallace, Gwendolin Logan, John T. Murray, Charles Evans, John Larkin, Evelyn Hall, Russell Simpson, and James Durkin. John Adolph, direction is notable.

Abilene Bank Men Indicted

Receiving Deposits In Failing Bank Charge Against Two

ABILENE, Oct. 17.—Trials of three Taylor county bankers, indicted by the grand jury here Friday for the week of October 26.

Cases of A. E. Pool and B. Miller, charged with receiving deposits in a bank in a failing condition, are set for Monday, October 26, and those of E. O. Anderson, charged with embezzlement and misapplication of bank funds, are docketed for the following Wednesday.

Indictments of Pool and Miller are the aftermath of the closing on August 28 of the Abilene State bank, of which they were president and vice-president, respectively. Anderson, until a few weeks ago was vice-president of the Farmers State bank in Merkel. He is charged in two bills, the total amount set up in the indictment being $4,150.

Two indictments were returned against Pool, each containing three counts, and one indictment against Miller, containing three counts. Bond for each defendant was set at $1,000 in each case. Miller's sureties were G. J. Davis, J. E. Grissom, S. J. Winter, H. O. Wooten, L. G. Davis, Rupert Harkrider, Hardy Grissom, Dr. G. M. Gillespie, L. E. Gowan and Dr. Grady Shylke. The same men, with W. C. Swenson, signed Pool's bonds. Both Pool and Miller are represented by the firm of Stinson, Hair, Brooks and Duke.

Charges on Pool
The first indictment against Pool covers a $45 deposit by Thelma Kennedy; a $70 deposit by V. R. Allen and $48.38 and checks for $144.45 by J. D. Moore. The second covers a $37.22 deposit by Lee Duckworth; $500 deposit by George E. Morris, and $500 deposit by R. E. Davis.

The three-count Miller indictment, making the same charge, covers the Kennedy, Allen and Moore deposits. Anderson's bondsmen are Claude Comegys, a brother-in-law, and S. D. Gamble, Merkel merchant. His attorneys are W. R. Ely and Dallas Scarborough.

Lawyer's Statement
Scarborough in a statement to News yesterday said: "It will be shown at the proper time that the Merkel bank has not lost a dime and that the sum involved in this case was completely repaid before an indictment was returned. It is, in fact, simply an overdraft, but Mr. Anderson did not have the consent of his board to make the overdraft, which is a technical violation of the law. The draft was covered in full before the matter was submitted to the grand jury."

Attorney Makes Statement
E. T. Brooks of counsel for both Pool and Miller last night gave the News the following statement: "When the facts are known, I feel sure it will be shown that the officials of the Abilene State bank are not guilty of receiving deposits, knowing that the bank was in a failing condition. They believed they could carry the business on and save their depositors and be a great help to the country in the time of depression. "The bank officials had the promise of money sufficient to take care of all their needs, including the payment of any and all depositors, from banking institutions at Fort Worth, Dallas and Chicago. Such arrangements are customary with all banking institutions."

Cash Not Available
"But the banks from whom the Abilene State was to obtain the accommodations informed the officers of the local bank they had had so many calls from other banks they had agreed to assist that they were unable—on account of the depressed condition of the time—to furnish the local officials cash on the securities. "As soon as Mr. Pool and Mr. Miller received this information they closed the doors of the bank."

L. L. Edison

An agent of the banking commission was in Abilene from the night of August 27 until the bank was closed the next afternoon. "Although the bank opened with more than $20,000 cash on hand the morning of August 28, unusually heavy withdrawals during the day, reducing the amount something like 50 per cent, made it necessary to close the institution."

'Pardon Us' Laurel and Hardy In First Full Length Comedy Feature

You can well imagine how fat Laurel and Hardy would get in an intelligence test. In "Pardon Us," their first feature-length comedy, which will open today at the Ritz Theatre, they go back to school. It is a prison institution, but nevertheless a schoolroom.

James Finlayson is the teacher with his four-cornered hat and long robe—one of those "all here answer present, and those not here answer absent" sort of professors. He teaches the convicts their history, geography, arithmetic, etc., which answers, whether correct or incorrect, depend upon the size of the pupil.

Professor Finlayson's thapeau is the target for many a BB shot, and it is poor Oliver Hardy that is the butt of all such tricks. More than once this fellow has to hold his hand out for a smack from teacher's rule—in this case a billy club.

The present activity system of our schools is slow compared to the school work done by Laurel and Hardy in their first feature-length comedy. The schoolroom episodes are only a few of the many hilarious incidents in "Pardon Us" which take the comedy pair on a veritable tour of laughs which starts when Laurel and Hardy are sent to jail for boot-legging.

Hoot Gibson Coming To Queen Two Days

Kathryn Crawford, leading lady in Hoot Gibson's starring picture, "The Concentratin' Kid" on the screen of the Queen Theatre Friday and Saturday, made her way into motion pictures via the musical comedy route. Her pleasing voice was heard by thousands when she was playing the leading role in "Hit the Deck." As a radio singer in "The Concentratin' Kid," Miss Crawford makes an instant hit with her audience. ## Marx Brothers On Week's Bill

Chico Marx is a pianist who became a comedian as a sideline and found his humor more profitable than his music.

His start in the entertainment world as a piano player in a New York neighborhood vaudeville house more than twenty years ago was recalled recently by Chico at the Paramount studios where the Four Marx Brothers were filming "Monkey Business."

"I was getting $5 a week," Chico said. "One night the manager told me I looked husky and offered to increase my wages to $6 a week if I would wrestle one of the performers as an added attraction at each show. I accepted.

"Later, he wanted to work me in as a monologist. So I bargained with him by throwing in a song and a dance. I was raised to $10 a week for my stage appearance, wrestling and piano playing."

Although he has done stage and screen comedy ever since, Chico has never allowed his piano work to drop. He has a solo in every stage show and screen production and is considered one of the most skilled pianists in the country today.

And whenever Chico plays his piano, then you can be sure Harpo is going to follow on his harp. The silent (vocally) member of the quartet is every bit as adept on the heavenly instrument as Chico is on the "horse's teeth."

Their virtuoso interval in "Monkey Business" comes after they leave the transatlantic liner on which they had been hilarious stowaways, and when attending a party given at the luxurious home of one of the passengers they had met on their crossing to America.

"Monkey Business" comes to the Ritz Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

It is the third of the Marx Brothers comedies, the earlier ones being "The Cocoanuts" and "Animal Crackers."

God's Gift To Women

Judging just how long an audience will laugh at talkie gags, is one of the real problems of the director. It is more difficult since the reaction of crowds differs so greatly. Director Curtis of Warner Bros' "God's Gift to Women," starring Frank Fay, coming to the Queen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday next, found the "clocking" of the hilarious farce especially puzzling because of the laughter which the clever lines and situations bring forth from first to last continually.

Will Tells How Ziegfeld Started

By WILL ROGERS

Well Sir every man that has ever done anything out of the ordinary is a character, and I would call Flo Ziegfeld a man that has done something out of the ordinary, plum out of the ordinary. He has given to the American Public for Lord knows how many years, an entertainment that must have given them more pleasure and happiness than any other man in the World. A Circus with all its tremendous aggregation of assorted animals from the four corners of the earth. Yet Mr. Florenz Ziegfeld can take just one breed, in fact just one-half the breed, the she of the specie, and can assemble such a round up of beauty that combined with the best there is to offer at that time in the amusement line, and he can concoct an evenings entertainment that you remember it till the next year.

A funny thing about the "Follies" all the years I was with it, in hearing people speak of the show that year, they never spoke of it in comparison to any other show. It was always "It's better than last years, or its not so good as last years." It always stood alone for there was no other show that they could remember for a year. His hardest opposition has been himself. If he had been new every year, and that particular show was his first, why each one would have been heralded as a masterpiece. But naturally they had to compete with each other. But its not of his shows, or his hundred and one other things that anyone could write on by the hour about that he has accomplished in the theatrical world, its just of him that I want to tell you something.

The reason is its fresh in my mind. He was out on the coast a few weeks ago to visit his charming wife who was playing out there in one of the Coast's most successful shows, and as myself and my family are tremendously fond of him and his family why he was up to our Igloo some one evening for dinner. We got him started in on old times, and we had a great evening. Here was the peer of all Revue Producers of all time telling about his barnstorming about the country in his early career. His real start was with Sandow the strong man, I guess the first strong man that was strong enough to make people pay to see how strong he was. Well Mr. Ziegfeld dug him up over in Europe, and brought him over here. But let him tell it.

"I remember the first time I was out here on the coast. It was on Sandow's first trip. We had a kind of a vaudeville show built around him sorter like Harry Lauder carried, only a better show. One time in Frisco we had him billed to fight a Lion. Just barehanded. It created a lot of excitement and we had a packed house. We were bringing Rome to Frisco. It was not a part of our programme, it was a special stunt that was arranged there. It wasn't framed either. This fellow Sandow really thought he was better than a Lion, so we got him a temporary Colosseum with more bravo than any Christian in the early days ever faced one. The Women kinder half hid their eyes, appearing like they didnt want to be seen that they were looking at such a sight but secretly hoping that something would happen. Instead of the Lion making for him, he had to make for the Lion. Well, the old Lion took to outer edges. Sandow had to follow him, in fact chase him.

"The Lion didnt pay any more attention to him than a house cat would. Everybody boomed that the Lion was doped, but he wasn't. I wouldnt even think of such a thing. I love Lions, especially after I counted up the house. Well Sandow kept at him, at least he kept at him till I could get the money from the Box Office to a fast moving conveyance. It was a terrible shock to me to hear the Lion was not the King of Beasts for I had read it all my life. Sandow dressed for his performances in a Tiger skin, in fact he brought that style of raiment over here. He was years ahead of Elinor Glynn, who used it as a mattress. Well Sandow left the Arena De Lions not ahead of the Lions but ahead of the people. He wore his tiger skin for pajamas during the rest of that night ride. He was as downhearted about the Lion as I was. I never went to Frisco till the year of their big fair out there, when I took the Follies out. I thought of the odor of the Lions but ahead of the people of the newspapers had a memory and said, "The man that arranged for a man to whip a Lion one time is in our midst again. We will watch him this time. If his Follies are doped then give us some of the dope." Did I tell you what happened when we were on our way to the Coast? Well the train broke down and a wheel came off a car. When about 10 men to carry the old broken one into our stateroom. When they got a new one fixed I got we arrived at Oakland the Press Boys met us and I had them come in. They saw the wheel in the drawing room. "What in the world is this?" "Oh, that's a wheel we broke off and the Professor just picked it up and brought it in here." They photographed it, and it made a great story, when as a matter

"He was a great fellow, this Sandow, a very high class man, a fine man, and perhaps the strongest of any of them, the most beautiful body. The Women fell for him hard. An imitator was right ahead of us claiming that he was the real Sandow. We finally had him brought to court, and as the case was progressing and all was argument as to who was which and what. I suggested to our Lawyer to tell the Judge to test them and see which was the real one. I had Sandow's big Iron Dumb Bells brought in and the Judge asked the other fellow to lift it. He pulled a Kidney loose and couldnt even get it out. I picked it up with one hand and was of the box. Sandow reached down, ready to make forward pass with it out of the back window. We won the case. I wish I had some way of testing all my imitators."

He has had a great experience has Mr. Ziegfeld. He looks and is just the same as the days I went with him on his Midnight Frolic Roof, (the first show) in 1914. A many of us got our start, our real start with him. Those were great old days those Folly days, packed house, wonderful audiences, never do or say, never suggested or never cut out. And to think after 20 years of giving them the best in town he still has the best show in New York. That shows it wasnt the performers that made Ziegfeld shows (for hundreds have come and gone). It was just Ziegfeld. I think he holds the record for being champion. He knew colors, and he knew beauty. He knew how to keep audiences from being vulgar. His was a gift, and not an accomplishment. Long live the old Master.

"SOUTHWEST REVIEW" Summer Number

The reprinting in last Sunday's Dallas News of John H. McGinnis' story "The Tomato Can," brings up again the importance of the Southwest Review in literary circles of the southwest.

The Dallas News did not reprint Mr. McGinnis' story just because he is literary editor of that paper, but because it was regarded as a story of outstanding importance. It related, you will remember, a reporter's episode in Mexican town.

In the same issue of the magazine was another story of even more literary value, we think; that was Mattie Lou Frye's story, "Mary." It did not have as intriguing a title but it was exceptionally well written and made it wonder why more Texas writers do not do the same sort of thing. Its atmosphere was genuine and not overdone and its personalities were well defined. We like it even better than the episode "Tomato Can."

Peter Molyneux, the old stand-by, contributed the leading article in this number on cotton—the problem of the day.

Particularly well done was Max Coleman's "Life of a Desperado," which sounded so real that it was hard to believe that he made it up out of a jumble of the many desperadoes he has known, both in fiction and real life.

Barret H. Clark gives Little Theater a good round scolding and many will say "amen, brother" to his words and then go on committing the same old sins.

The one indispensable feature about "The Southwest Review" in our minds is J. Frank Dobbie's book review section, which heads the editorial material. He calls it "A Son-of-a-gun Stew" and it is usually just that—but mighty interesting reading.

O.R.P.

"SUSAN SPRAY" By Sheila Kaye-Smith

This is the story of an English Almee McPherson. Like everything else the author does, it is done with insight and fidelity.

We can particularly recommend it to readers who are puzzled by the complex characters which women, or even men, evangelists present. Their characters, when analyzed, appear to be often very simple. How a preacher can combine such huge selfishness with such eagerness to preach has been a matter of wonder to honest laymen. Susan Spray likes to preach and is happy when she is doing it.

Unfortunately, or vice versa, she is unable when she isn't—and there is the secret of it all.

This is one of the books in Mrs. Phillips circulating library and one which we can recommend not only for itself but as a good cure for hay fever.

Thimble Club Meets With Mrs. Joe B. Neal

Mrs. Joe B. Neal entertained the members of the Thimble Club with an attractive party at her home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Gus Pickle and Mrs. W. G. Bailey were guests of the club.

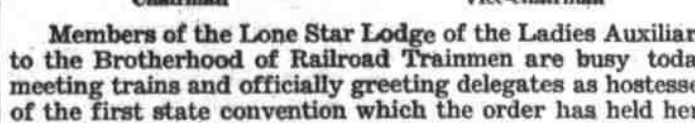

After a pleasant afternoon, a two-course luncheon was served to the visitors and the following members: Meses. F. D. Wilson, C. E. Talbot, Fox Stripling, G. E. Yuse, J. B. Pickle, W. H. Ward, W. H. Purser, W. D. McDonald, W. R. Ivey, G. L. Brown.

Mrs. McDonald will be the next hostess.

Some of Local Officers Of L.A. to B. of R.T. Who Will Entertain The Convention

MRS. J. F. MEADOR Chairman

MRS. J. T. ALLEN Vice-chairman

Members of the Lone Star Lodge of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen are busy today meeting trains and officially greeting delegates as hostesses of the first state convention which the order has held here in its fifty years of history.

The four officers of the local Auxiliary, Meses. Meador, Allen, Powell and N. R. Smith, secretary, and their assistants have had the responsibility of serving with the men on the general arrangements committee and the reception and entertainment committee. Mrs. Powell is also a state officer, holding the position of secretary-treasurer.

Two grand (or national) officers have already reached the city. They are Mrs. Mary Milton, of Denison, state chairman for the Auxiliary, and also first vice grand president, and Mrs. Augusta M. Stutzer, of Columbus, O., grand secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Stutzer's address will be the chief feature of the Monday afternoon meeting.

Mrs. Clara W. Bradley, of Columbus, O., grand officer, was expected until a telegram arrived yesterday informing the local organization that it would be impossible for her to attend.

Delegates Arrive Today Most of the delegates are expected today. The delegates from the west will arrive on the 11:25 train. Among them will probably be a large El Paso delegation, since El Paso wants the convention next year. The members are expected to attend in large numbers, just as Big Spring turned out, almost 100 per cent at the Galveston meeting last year, to boost for this city.

The band will meet the 4:40 west-bound train on which the majority of the visitors and delegates will come. A large crowd of local people are also expected to meet both trains.

Among the features will be five drill teams. They will be sent from the lodges in Texarkana, Temple, Denison, San Antonio and Dallas.

The fact that the convention was postponed from spring until fall will make it possible for more delegates and visitors to attend than would otherwise. Two Texas cities would otherwise national conventions this spring, which meet only twice in four years. Due to these, the Big Spring meeting was postponed.

Afternoon Sessions Open The two afternoon sessions, both of which will be held in the Crystal Ballroom at the Settles Hotel, will be open to the public. The program is printed elsewhere in the Herald.

The Diary of a Deb

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of eight articles written by a Washington debutante giving a close-up of capital society life and describing shopping tours, parties, teas and dances. The other articles will follow daily.)

By JEAN WOODSON (For The Associated Press) — Big Days Ahead WASHINGTON, (AP)—I am so so thrilled!

On Christmas day I shall make my formal debut in Washington society and already the unofficial festivities have begun.

I have just returned from Houston, Texas, where I went after spending a glorious summer in Colorado. From swimming, hiking and riding in the west I returned to plunge into a house party attended by handsome cadets from West Point who flew down to Washington for the week-end.

Cadets in Favor This Year This is to be an "army season." By that I mean that the majority of debas are interested in West Point cadets, wearing pins and rings—I've a lovely ring myself—and dating in advance for Thanksgiving and Christmas week.

Last season the navy rated high with the debas and midshipmen from Annapolis were everywhere. The minute the girls get home from their summers in Europe or the west or New England they start shopping for their deb "trousseaus." Mother and I were down yesterday and I'll write later about the perfectly divine things we bought fresh from their trousseau paper wrappings.

Such fun! I love my silver and pink sequin sandals to wear with my pink negligee. Sandals—high

Saw Lucille Elliott downtown wearing a tricky suit of sheer brown woolen with leopard skin collar. She's a darling girl and is making her debut, too.
It's Fun, Too
We met some more of the debas and after shopping we all went to a roof and danced. We made up our minds to have all the fun we can out of this debut business. We are going to enjoy every minute of it and not take anything too seriously.
Someone asked me if any of us carried mascots for good luck during the season. I know of only one girl who does. I think she carries a tiny silver horseshoe.
There will be a lot of debas this year. There are more brunets than blonds, and one or two lovely red heads. Just now the girls are full of pep after the long summer of outdoor recreation. I wonder how it will be at the end of the season! But we're not worrying about that yet.
We have not decided upon the dress for coming out party. But mother has a novel idea for the black and white ball which officially opens the season.
In Houston I visited a beautiful southern debutante friend of mine. She has three handsome brothers and they entertained me royally. I must tell you about that later.
Tomorrow Miss Woodson tells about a shopping trip.

Big Spring Humbles Midland, 39-0

Hebisen And Dyer Perform In Fine Style

Steers Open Conference Season By Beating 'Hereditary' Enemy

By MARK WILLIAMSON Before two thousand cheering fans the Black and Gold of Big Spring high school marched to a victory 39 to 0 over Midland high school Friday afternoon on the Midland field in the first conference game of District 4.

With the Steers in possession of the ball Hebisen started the drive with a spin play off left tackle for 13 yards. Time after time the big fullback tore the vaunted Bulldog line to shreds with his powerful drives off tackle.

Dyer Outstanding While Dennis, Flowers, Hebisen, Schwarzenbach, Hopper and the entire club played a whale of a game, the honors for the day go to Elmer Dyer, Steer center.

Pinnell, Bulldog center, was the outstanding man on the defense for the Midlanders but he was clearly and completely outclassed by the Bovine.

Color and interest was added to the game with the performance by the Steers pep squad and the Midland cheering section.

The Midland band, one of the best high school bands in the state, played on the field while the Steers led its stuff.

This And That

It was just a case of too much Big Spring Friday afternoon when the locals paraded on the turf at Midland Yards.

Of the starting backs with the exception of Schwatzie, and he did not carry the ball from scrimmage.

All of which served to warn Coach Hennig of the Mustangs that he is going to have a busy p.m. on the day of Nov. 11.

It took us no little while to pick the outstanding man on the field Friday. This boy Dyer was in there every minute.

In case you were not observing the play at the time Big Hop came through with a touchdown when he blocked a punt from the toe of Burris and ambled over for a marker.

Many were the moans set up by the Midland section when Tack Dennis sent the long spiral down the field for 64 yards.

We have before us a statement from R. C. Hankins the Midland scribe to the effect that he would rather send Hallman, Dog fullback, into a 200 pound line any day than Hebisen.

Dennis kicked off 55 yards to Midkiff who got a 16 yard return. Sherrod got one yard at right tackle.

The last period opened with the ball in Midland's possession on the 29 yard line.

It was great to see the Steer line threatened so consistently, and the Steer resistance put up by the locals proved to us that they will stand up under fire.

While we are passing out compliments and whatnots we want to remind each and everyone that Schwatzie called a nice game at quarter and looked good on his return of punts.

Forrester and Coots were in there hustling every minute. The wing positions seem to be well taken care of.

Orr and Martin, starting at guards dealt plenty misery to the Bulldogs. Playing next to Martin was a red haired demon by the name of Sanders, who dumped many an attempted advance of the purple and gold.

Coach Barry met us Friday with a complete list of his men and the starting lineup. This little act was greatly appreciated and we would like to suggest that other coaches follow the Midland mentor's example in future games.

The Scharbauer Hotel, through our good friend Raymond Arnold, informed us that when the Steers left the hotel Friday it was the first time in the history of the hotel that a football team had stayed there, and all towels and other articles in the rooms left unmolested.

Marshall gave the hopes of the Tyler fans for another state championship a hard blow Friday when the school boy champions of last year came out of the short end of a 6-2 score.

Boone Magness continues to ramble. Friday at Huntsville the former Buckaroo flash received a kickoff and sprinted 55 yards for a touchdown to give the Schreiner Mountaineers a 7-6 decision over the Sam Houston Teachers College.

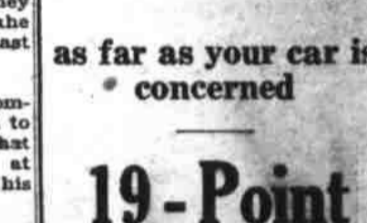

We must hand it to Pinnell, Burris and Midkiff for the nice game played by each during the Midland encounter. Midkiff looked especially good on his return of punts and kickoffs.

The Bankhead highway between Big Spring and Midland Friday reminded us of the highways leading into Austin on Turkey Day. People in cars, on horses, in wagons, on foot, bicycles and what have you, were wending their way toward the Midland county center for the game.

Just a little reminder, McCamey comes here this next week for the second conference game for the Steers. The game is scheduled for Saturday but Principal George Gentry informed us yesterday that efforts were being made to change the game to Friday.

We would like very much to see a uniformed high school band in Big Spring. We have the best football team in the district, the best town in West Texas-so why not the best high school band?

We have been told football spirit has never been so evident here as (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5)

This And That

It was just a case of too much Big Spring Friday afternoon when the locals paraded on the turf at Midland Yards.

Of the starting backs with the exception of Schwatzie, and he did not carry the ball from scrimmage.

All of which served to warn Coach Hennig of the Mustangs that he is going to have a busy p.m. on the day of Nov. 11.

It took us no little while to pick the outstanding man on the field Friday. This boy Dyer was in there every minute.

In case you were not observing the play at the time Big Hop came through with a touchdown when he blocked a punt from the toe of Burris and ambled over for a marker.

Many were the moans set up by the Midland section when Tack Dennis sent the long spiral down the field for 64 yards.

We have before us a statement from R. C. Hankins the Midland scribe to the effect that he would rather send Hallman, Dog fullback, into a 200 pound line any day than Hebisen.

Dennis kicked off 55 yards to Midkiff who got a 16 yard return. Sherrod got one yard at right tackle.

The last period opened with the ball in Midland's possession on the 29 yard line.

It was great to see the Steer line threatened so consistently, and the Steer resistance put up by the locals proved to us that they will stand up under fire.

While we are passing out compliments and whatnots we want to remind each and everyone that Schwatzie called a nice game at quarter and looked good on his return of punts.

Forrester and Coots were in there hustling every minute. The wing positions seem to be well taken care of.

Orr and Martin, starting at guards dealt plenty misery to the Bulldogs. Playing next to Martin was a red haired demon by the name of Sanders, who dumped many an attempted advance of the purple and gold.

Coach Barry met us Friday with a complete list of his men and the starting lineup. This little act was greatly appreciated and we would like to suggest that other coaches follow the Midland mentor's example in future games.

The Scharbauer Hotel, through our good friend Raymond Arnold, informed us that when the Steers left the hotel Friday it was the first time in the history of the hotel that a football team had stayed there, and all towels and other articles in the rooms left unmolested.

Marshall gave the hopes of the Tyler fans for another state championship a hard blow Friday when the school boy champions of last year came out of the short end of a 6-2 score.

Boone Magness continues to ramble. Friday at Huntsville the former Buckaroo flash received a kickoff and sprinted 55 yards for a touchdown to give the Schreiner Mountaineers a 7-6 decision over the Sam Houston Teachers College.

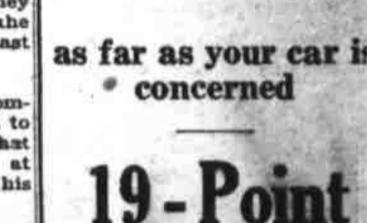

We must hand it to Pinnell, Burris and Midkiff for the nice game played by each during the Midland encounter. Midkiff looked especially good on his return of punts and kickoffs.

The Bankhead highway between Big Spring and Midland Friday reminded us of the highways leading into Austin on Turkey Day. People in cars, on horses, in wagons, on foot, bicycles and what have you, were wending their way toward the Midland county center for the game.

Just a little reminder, McCamey comes here this next week for the second conference game for the Steers. The game is scheduled for Saturday but Principal George Gentry informed us yesterday that efforts were being made to change the game to Friday.

We would like very much to see a uniformed high school band in Big Spring. We have the best football team in the district, the best town in West Texas-so why not the best high school band?

We have been told football spirit has never been so evident here as (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5)

This and That

It is at present a fact which encourages the team and school officials no little.

How's this? Steers 271 points; opponents 0.

This little matter of having our goal line uncrossed is a fine thing—but the pass defense of the Bulldogs must improve if the Mustangs are kept from tramping the last chalk line Nov. 11. While the Bulldogs completed only four passes in the game Friday several others were incomplete due to the inability of the Bulldogs to hold the leather and not to the efficiency of the "Boysies." Schwabie intercepted several heaves, but had the passes missed by McCall and Straghan when in the open been held the record mentioned just above might not be so easy on the eyes.

Flowers continues to improve in the little matter of gathering in those extra points. He can't get too good to suit us. That one little point may win us a tall game some of these days.

Speaking of passes we failed to see one completed by the locals Friday. The only time during the day that the Dogs broke through the Steer forward wall was when Tack was trying to pass. He was rushed on several passes. Then, too, we have seen several dropped by the receivers.
