Farm Advertising Trip for Midland County Successful

IRA LORD RETURNED THURSDAY

Much Interest Shown In Places Where Car Stopped

Returning late Thursday from a 10-day trip through Central West Texas and Northeast Texas, distributing literature and exhibiting products to show what Midland County offers as a farming country, Ira F. Lord, representative of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, reported a successful mission.

Lord went along the Texas and Pacific railroad to Dallas, going then to Greenville, Commerce, Sulphur Springs, Decatur, Alford, Denton, Fort Worth, Cleburne, Coleman, Ballinger, Bronte, Robert Lee and intermediate towns. Crowds of farmers ranging from two or three men to a hundred or more were told by the Midland man of Midland County's low priced and productive land, of the abundant water, the facilities for diversification, and of the success with which farmers here have paid for and improved their farms from the dependable crops.

After he got out of West Texas, the real interest in Midland County was found, Lord said. The people listened intently to his statements about this territory and were eager to receive the illustrated folders prepared by the chamber of commerce, containing photographs of farm, livestock and truck scenes made this year. Policemen saw to it that Lord could stop his car at important street corners where he could distribute the literature conveniently, and he was given privileges everywhere.

Diversification was the chief item of interest to people farming east of here. They were pleased with what Lord told them about the abundant water, the possibility for feeding good beef cattle on home grown feed, and for growing truck crops of various kinds.

People seemed familiar with Midland, having seen much publicity about the town and county, and they spoke highly of the progressive spirit shown by people of this section.

The big advantages of climate and water interested the people Lord talked to. The Midland representative said he didn't see a feed crop anywhere in the state equal to these in Midland County, and was glad to find upon his return here that the local crops were still better after the rains of last week end. He found that Midland had a longer dry season during the summer than 50 per cent of the places he visited.

Many citizens east of here said "We admit that you have us beaten for a farming country." Some of them declared that a farmer cannot pay himself out on the higher priced land down that way, and that they would come on out here now if it were not for wanting to dispose of some of their stuff there without a sacrifice.

Many people declared that they would come out here to see the country, and Lord expects many of them to locate in Midland County. Some of them who had people here said their Midland relatives were doing much better financially on their farms.

The folders distributed emphasizing diversification, and another quota is being prepared at present to give diversified farming a better display, as that is what farmers elsewhere look for in West Texas. Lord said that the trip was the greatest thing Midland has done to attract people here, and he recommends that such a trip be made by someone from Midland every year until Midland County is recognized as an outstanding farming area.

Newspaper publicity followed the Midland man on his various visits, and he has received copies of several papers since he returned here. It is believed that the trip will have lasting benefit. An editor at Robert

Lions Club Wants City Health Nurse

The matter of securing a city nurse for bettering health conditions in the public schools is now engrossing the attention of the Lions club. Committees appointed by Lion President M. C. Ulmer will undertake to study conditions incident to health in the schools, in order that they may make recommendations.

The Lions club last year sponsored a drive which resulted in testing of children's eyes. It was planned to go much farther in that direction this year.

Decision to undertake the work was made at the weekly meeting of the Lions, Wednesday.

PRISONERS SEEK BOND AS TROOPS LEAVE BORGER

BORGER, Oct. 18.—(UP)—At least eight men are attempting to obtain release on bond today while national guardsmen are preparing to leave this afternoon. Six men held under general order number six are unable to get bond. Six men will be employed by the new police force, it was announced.

Civil officers here and in Hutchinson county administered their duties today for the first time since Moody sent state troops here September 30 to investigate the assassination of John Holmes, district attorney, and to clean up the town. Martial law is still effective, but Brigadier General Wolters had withdrawn soldiers from the court house and city officers here, and had turned over all police duties to civil authorities and rangers.

Soldiers are due to leave this afternoon and it was thought that martial law will be lifted then. There is no indication that the soldiers have been able to track down Holmes' slayer, but their presence led to the resignation of almost all county and city officials.

Sentenced Banker To Change Plea

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Motion by Charles D. Waggoner that his plea of guilty be changed to not guilty was denied in Federal Court today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Attorneys for C. D. Waggoner, Telluride, Colorado, who pleaded guilty in the federal court to charges of mail fraud in connection with a scheme by which he mulcted New York banks of $500,000, announced today that they are preparing a motion to change the plea of not guilty. Waggoner is under sentence of 15 years in the Atlanta penitentiary. The move is unusual in legal procedure.

Character In Play Talks At Story Hour

Mrs. Marian F. Peters will conduct the "Story Hour" for children at the county library Monday morning at 10:30, according to announcement from Miss Emily B. Smith, librarian.

Mrs. Peters, active member of Midland's Little Theatre, having a prominent part in "The Whole Town's Talking," which is to be played Oct. 25, has done much children's work in Ranger, where she formerly lived.

Freed On Charge Murder Of Chum

EDINBURG, Oct. 18.—(AP)—J. C. Baldwin of Corpus Christi was freed by a jury early today of charges of murdering his chum, George Morris, who was stabbed in the heart with an ice pick in Mexico last month. The jury deliberated two hours and 20 minutes after receiving the case last night.

LIQUOR INDICTMENTS

DETROIT, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Federal indictments against 42 men, said to have been involved in two huge liquor syndicates operating out of New York, Detroit, and Chicago, were returned by a grand jury today.

Fifteen of the alleged conspirators had already been arraigned, the district attorney announced.

CITIZENS OF BIG SPRING ALARMED BY EARTH TREMOR

BIG SPRING, Oct. 18.—(P)—Much excitement prevailed here this morning after hundreds of residents were awakened by the rattling of windows believed to have been caused by earth tremors.

The first shock occurred at 12:30, and the last which was the most severe, was shortly before 7 this morning.

Residents reported that they had counted five tremors, all of which were of short duration.

PROBABLY DYNAMITE

Midland citizens who heard of the Big Spring tremors advanced the theory today that the shocks were probably caused by heavy discharges of dynamite somewhere in oil areas, similar to those near here two weeks ago which caused many to believe Midland had been visited by earth tremors.

Midland Asked To Enter Armadillos

A proposal, possibly more unique than practical, was made Midland sportsmen this morning through a letter from Carl A. Blasig, of the Brady chamber of commerce.

Blasig said: "An armadillo race has been arranged as the afternoon feature of Brady's trades day next Monday, October 21.

"This race will be sponsored by the Brady Rotary Club, and about a dozen entries have already been received. A fee of two dollars will be charged each entry and the money divided 60-30-10 among the three winners of the race.

"An improvised race-track will be arranged on the plaza for this unique event, which is to be staged promptly at 4:30 o'clock. Anyone, regardless of where he lives, will be permitted to enter one or more armadillos, provided he makes his entry before nine o'clock Monday morning at the Chamber of Commerce office. Each competitor must furnish his own animal and "jockey."

"The race of these small-clad little animals is causing considerable speculation. But regardless of whether they will run in one direction or the other, or show an inclination to law down on the "job" as armadillos are wont to do, the race will provide its angles of amusement for the spectators. However, each man entering the contest will be permitted to act as "jockey" to his own entry or hire a "jockey," who with a small and harmless stick may gently prod his runner to greater speed."

Slayer Gives Up At Marlin After Chase

GROESBECK, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Sheriff Henry Barton today brought Bunyon Whaley, wanted in Limestone County for the slaying of his father-in-law, Whit Taylor, to the Groesbeck jail. The killing occurred Tuesday night, and a two-day search had been made for Whaley who gave himself up at Marlin last night after the Navasota river bottoms had been searched for him.

Moors Make Fierce Attack On French

ORAN, Algeria, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Moorish forces made another raid on French troops on the south slopes of the Atlas Mountains, cutting up a column of the French Foreign Legion. Fifty legionnaires, native soldiers, were killed and 21 were wounded. The tribesmen left many dead on the battlefield.

BRANDS STRIKE A FAKE CHARLOTTE, Oct. 18.—(UP)—

The Loray mill strike last June was called a "fake strike" today by E. T. Cansler, state counsel in the final arguments against seven union workers charged with the murder of Police Chief O. F. Anderholt. He said the strike was "projected and foisted upon the people of Gaston county according to Fred Beal's own testimony."

An abstract containing more than 600 pages was being mailed this afternoon by W. A. Hyatt, oil royalty and lease dealer here. The land covered was some of the Terry tract in Gaines County. The lawyer who examined the abstract called for a five day extension after receiving it.

Ishbel Turns Engineer Enroute Home

Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of England's Premier, rode in the cab of the engine of the Empire State Express as the train rushed across New York state on its way to Canada. Miss MacDonald took the throttle for a time and vigorously rang the bell. The photograph was taken at Syracuse, N. Y., as the train paused at the station.

MIDLAND HUNTERS PAY FINES IN POLICE COURT; CHARGE THEY HAVE NO PERMITS

Four men paid fines in police court this morning for hunting on inclosed land without having permits from the owners.

Two of the men pled they had not shot at birds. But Police Judge J. M. Gilmore ruled that each had a gun in his car, which was on enclosed land which did not belong to them, and that they had gone into the land with a purpose of shooting birds.

Lum Daugherty and R. R. Damron were two of those who paid fines. The names of the other two could not be learned. Charges were made by District Game Warden S. R. Trasher, Longview, who has been here about three months. County Attorney T. D. said that the law in the case reads: "Whoever shall enter upon the inclosed land of another without the consent of the owner, proprietor or agent in charge thereof, and therein

Thirty-five Or Fifteen, You Have The Same Chance Of Dying Or Of Marrying

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Although a spinster at her thirty-fifth year may look with varying degrees of envy on her sister of fifteen, there is one respect in which they are quite on a par, according to a recent study made by the statistical bureau of a nationally known insurance company. This shows that both the older woman and the young girl have the same chances of marrying and dying within five and one half years. Similarly a young woman at twenty-five is in exactly the same category as the fifteen year old girl when it comes to marrying and dying within a period of seventeen and one half years.

As an explanation of both comparisons, the insurance statisticians cite the example of the woman of thirty-five and the girl of fifteen as follows: "This, of course," they point out, is due to the fact that the young girl of fifteen has a greater chance of marrying within five and one half years than an older woman of thirty-five; but, to balance this, the young girl of fifteen has a considerably smaller chance of dying within five and one half years than the woman of thirty-five."

The study, linking marriage and death together in this manner, was made for the purpose of determining what is the combined probability of a person marrying within a specified period and then dying before the end of that period. It supplements another study made by the statistical bureau some time ago on the chances men and women at various ages have to survive for a given period and be married within the period.

Results of the new study, which have been published in the company's statistical bulletin, are of special interest to social welfare workers, who not infrequently find themselves confronted by a situation in which the so-called premature death of a husband or wife, leaving dependent children, has to be met.

Authorities learned that the syndicate had a board of directors which met and tallied the profits and declared dividends. The ring showed a profit of $2,000,000 in six months. Notations showed that huge sums were paid to local officials in New Jersey for protection.

Reduced Fare To El Paso Convention

Operation of a special train from Big Spring to El Paso next Wednesday, for the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce October 24, 25 and 26, is announced by the Texas and Pacific railroad. Round trip rates from Midland, including pullman, will be $15.55, and round trip fare without pullman will be $9.37.

BAPTISTS GO TO INSPECT CHURCH AT BIG SPRING

Twenty or more Midland people left here about 1:30 this afternoon for Big Spring, on a trip of inspection of the new Baptist church of that city, for the purpose of getting ideas to be used in completing plans for the new Baptist educational building here.

J. O. Nobles, chairman of the finance committee for the $50,000 educational building under consideration here, headed the party and was accompanied by Mrs. Nobles, M. D. Johnson, Claude O. Crane, Alvin Hicks, R. J. Moore, Rev. Geo. F. Brown and wife, Frank Cowden and wife, Clarence Scharbauer and wife, Mrs. Homer W. Rowe, Claude Cowden and wife, Mrs. B. A. Wall, J. M. White and wife, Mrs. T. C. Sisk, and possibly others.

Although the majority of the money to be used in erecting the educational building has been subscribed, work on the project was postponed during the period of the Rayburn revival; but it is planned now to complete raising the total amount of money as soon as possible.

Eastern Star To Send Delegate

Mrs. Gladys Waters, assistant matron of the O. E. S., and Sister Mary S. Ray, Martha, will leave Midland Saturday for San Antonio where the Grand Chapter of the O. E. S. of Texas will be held.

A good report on the activities of the local chapter will be given. Midland has 66 members of the Eastern Star.

Decision to send representatives from Midland to the state meeting was made on the night of Oct. 8, at the last regular session.

Arnett Receives String Of Steers

Sam Arnett, ranching at the Circle Bars northwest of Midland, received something over 300 head of steer yearlings yesterday, having bought part of them from S. R. Preston and part from W. M. Schrock. They were delivered from the Preston and Schrock ranches south of here to the Circle Bar ranch.

Foreman Of Swift Plant Is Killed

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Al Garland, 62, foreman for the Swift Packing Company, was killed instantly today when he was run over by a string of box cars in the yards of the plant.

Children, Editors Have Day At Fair

DALLAS, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Thousands of school children from every section of Texas made their annual trek to the State Fair today, celebrating Children's Day. It was also Press Day, and many editors are attending the special program. Attendance records continue to soar.

Bootleg Syndicate Showed Big Profit

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Further knowledge of ingenious operation of a gigantic bootleg ring which the government has crushed was gained today from voluminous documents seized.

Authorities learned that the syndicate had a board of directors which met and tallied the profits and declared dividends. The ring showed a profit of $2,000,000 in six months. Notations showed that huge sums were paid to local officials in New Jersey for protection.

Seek Maniac Who Fired Seattle Hotel

SEATTLE, Oct. 18.—(UP)—The pyromaniac who deliberately set fire to the Portland Hotel yesterday, resulting in the death of eight persons and the injury of 14, is sought today. Officials of the investigation revealed today that the stairway to the laborers hotel had been drenched with kerosene and then ignited. All of the injured are recovering.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO LIFE OF MRS. TOLBERT

Last tribute to the life of Mrs. John Tolbert, who died here early Wednesday morning, was paid Thursday afternoon by hundreds of friends who packed the First Baptist Church at the funeral service. Floral offerings placed around the casket formed a huge bank of flowers and greenery when the service was held at 3:30.

Music was provided by a choir of select voices from the several Midland church choirs, and the sermon preached by the Rev. George F. Brown was characterized by many who heard it as one of the most beautiful ever heard here.

Rev. Brown drew splendid lessons for the lives of others from the life of Mrs. Tolbert, who although an invalid and a sufferer for more than 20 years, maintained a happy disposition and a keen interest in her friends and loved ones, as well as in the affairs of her church and of the community.

Following the funeral sermon, the casket was borne from the church by O. B. Holt, Joe Youngblood, J. O. Nobles, Earl Moran, Elliott F. Cowden, R. M. Barron, M. R. Hill, and C. M. Goldsmith, active pall bearers.

A long procession of automobiles followed the hearse of the Ellis Funeral Home to Fairview Cemetery where, after song and prayer, the body was laid to rest.

Mrs. Tolbert, who with her husband came to Midland in 1884 and had lived here constantly since that time, was among Midland's most revered citizens. She had been ill with rheumatism for more than 20 years and had been confined to her home all that time. She was one of the last three charter members of the First Baptist Church here, and one of the last two to live in Midland.

Her death came early Wednesday after a more severe illness had come upon her 30 hours before. Her husband, John Tolbert, her two sons, Harry and Allen Tolbert of Midland, and her daughter, Mrs. C. K. Bell of El Paso; with a large number of out of town relatives and friends, were here for the burial.

Midland Men Help Set Scout Quota

A nominating committee was appointed to name officers for the coming year, when Midland men attended a Buffalo scout district meeting at Colorado Thursday night.

This committee was composed of Wendell Bedechek, B. H. McClain, Jerry Riorden, A. B. Rogers and B. G. Grafa.

Midland delegates to the meeting were convinced that the year 1930 augurs well for scout work. The budget, which provides for a field executive who will spend his entire time in Big Spring, Midland and points to the west of the eastern part of the district, was set at $9,100, the Midland quota being $1,800.

The executive board of the council held in the Colorado Hotel. John P. Howe, Kenneth E. Ambrose and B. G. Grafa composed Midland's delegation. Ten West Texas towns were represented, 32 men being present at the banquet.

Rained Again Over Midland Territory

Good rains fell over the Midland cattle country again Thursday night, reports of a heavy rain west of here and north of Odessa, and of another south of Midland, having come in early today.

This moisture, added to the heavy rains last week end, and combined with the heavy dews each night, keeps the surface of the ground wet and will be of a great benefit to weeds and grass for winter pasture.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Some people are satisfied to blow bubbles and wait for the breaks.

OPENED TUESDAY

The celebrated lobby investigation opened before the Senate judiciary sub-committee Tuesday when six witnesses were called upon to tell what influences were exerted to affect the writing of the sugar and pottery schedules of the pending Republican tariff bill.

The witnesses were summoned when the committee received private information indicating an extraordinary effort had been made to influence the action of congress on pottery rates, and committee members have hinted they expected to develop at the outset some salient facts about the mysterious movements of the secret army of propagandists here seeking to influence the actions of the national government.

Frederick L. Koch, chief of the pottery and earthenware division of the tariff commission, was the first witness today as the senate lobby committee started its investigation, testifying he understood charges laid been preferred against him to the commission to the effect that he "was biased and prejudiced."

Koch said that after he had appeared before a house tariff sub-committee, William Burgess, a former member of the tariff commission, who is interested in the pottery business, had preferred charges against him to the chairman of the tariff commission.

"How did Burgess know what your testimony was," he was asked. "I don't know, but he went to the tariff commission the morning after I testified. My testimony regarding pottery valuations was attacked by the committee."

Koch said the house sub-committee was composed of Representatives Watson of Pennsylvania, Timberlake, Colorado and Bacharach, New Jersey, all Republicans.

"What was his charge?" asked Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana. "I don't know. I understand he claimed I was biased and prejudiced."

DON'T GO TO BED EARLY

A great deal too much has been said in praise of the old "early to bed and early to rise" slogan.

To be sure, it may well lead to health. And health, possibly, may sometimes lead to wealth. But wisdom—well, that's something else again.

There are two kinds of wisdom in this world. One is the kind that enables a man to go about his daily business, keeping out of trouble, earning a living and finding ways of laying aside a little bit of extra money now and then. The other kind doesn't bring such definite rewards. It is the serene wisdom that keeps a man from getting discouraged and downcast; the soothing knowledge that the world isn't such a bad place, after all, and that most of its pitfalls are affairs that men dig for themselves.

This is the kind of wisdom that leads to contentment and peace. And, oddly enough, you can often gain it by staying up late at night.

This isn't written in support of night clubs, late parties and the like. There is precious little wisdom to be found in such activities. If you are going to get any real good out of keeping late hours, keep them alone; keep them alone, and get out of doors.

The mind works better around midnight. To be sure, there is sleepiness to contend with, at first; but after a little while this drops away, somehow, and one is able to think more clearly, to understand more easily, to find reasons for hope where none was visible before.

Then, if one picks his nights right, there is the moonlight.

Moonlight, late at night, when all of the day's noises have gone away to bed, is queer stuff. Nothing looks as it does by daylight. Familiar houses are made to look like enchanted cottages. An ordinary row of trees looks mysterious and exciting. The commonest of streets, lying deserted in this strange whiteness, becomes enticing and picturesque with a haunting sort of beauty.

Now all of this is only another way of saying that things look prettier by moonlight than they do by sunlight. Everybody, very likely, knows that. But why do we take it for granted that it is the moonlight that is false?

Maybe we're mistaken. Maybe the unattractive colors that the familiar scene wears by daylight are simply disguises, put there to deceive us. Maybe it is the sunlight and not the moonlight that puts a wrong aspect on things. Does this sound reasonable? After midnight, when the moonlight floods your back yard, it does. Then it seems quite likely that enchantment of moonlight is genuine. Then it is easy to believe that we have misjudged our world, and that it is infinitely more beautiful, more mysterious and more enjoyable than we generally suspect.

Maybe this notion is all a mistake. But it's a good notion to entertain, just the same. And you'll never get it if you don't stay up late at night once in a while.

Daily Washington Letter

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Unless the dry organizations develop cold feet, which they seldom do, Senator Sheppard's bill to brand the buyers of liquor as equally guilty with the sellers probably will turn out to be the issue in the most important prohibition fight for several years.

If the bill is made a law there will be virtually nothing left for the drys to ask for in the way of legislation excepting measures so extreme that no one has previously considered them advisable to press. The drys experimented with heavier penalties when they put over the Jones law, but hardly anyone argues that the "five and ten" act has had any particular effect on the enforcement situation.

It May Not Pass

There is some chance that the Sheppard bill will be allowed to die a quiet death. It does not appear to represent the considered program of the dry organization, though it has the approval of Bishop Cannon, who is the strongest individual figure among them. Some of the most important dry leaders are going cautiously, explaining that they desire first to determine the possible legal obstacles to a law covering liquor buyers, which may indicate that they desire to first observe the general action toward the measure.

In this connection it's interesting to note that some of the strongest drys in Congress are opposed to the bill. Although a few of those who have already declared it may change their minds under Anti-Saloon League pressure, a vote in either house is likely to roll up the largest "wet" minority vote since the passage of the Volstead act.

The effect of such a law is the most important point for everyone concerned to think about and there you have views diametrically opposed.

Some drys believe that millions of Americans would stop patronizing bootleggers, unwilling to join a class at last recognized as criminal by the statutes.

Others fear that it would have no such effect and that, on the contrary, it would tend to stiffen resistance to the prohibition laws by automatically creating the largest class of lawbreakers with which any government ever had to deal.

Legal experts of the Prohibition Bureau say that while such a law might result in more convictions, its principal effect upon the community would be as a method of moral persuasion. Some of them are convinced that it would result in a large reduction of the amount of liquor consumed and that it would tend importantly to make abstinence "respectable."

Both the drys and the prohibition enforcers are emphatic in the contention that the purchaser is morally as guilty as the vendor. "The difference," says Pussfoot Johnson, "is the difference between the inmate and the frequenter of a disorderly house."

But in the past the drys haven't felt that a law covering purchasers was worth fighting for. Wayne B. Wheeler and his companions decided to let it ride when they framed the Volstead Act and passed it. The act provides that no one shall buy liquor without obtaining a permit, and of course the permits are unobtainable. The act doesn't make the provision stick by applying any penalty.

Concentrate On Bootleggers

It does provide against transportation and possession with penalties, and the drys have always figured that buyers could be adequately prosecuted for illegal possession or transportation. They would rather convict one bootlegger than a dozen customers, although they believe examples should be made of some of the wealthy and more prominent scofflaws.

They are now giving serious consideration to the Sheppard bill and promising among other things that if passed it will provide an immunity bath for government witnesses, including prohibition agents.

But none of them seem wildly excited about it. They are pinning their faith much more on changes in enforcement personnel and on their belief that President Hoover will force more honest and official administration of the law.

Another Abilene Woman Declares She Had Suffered For Two Long Years—Orgatone Restored Her

"Talking about things that help people," said Mrs. Lena Broadhearst residing on Rural Route No. 4, Abilene, Texas, in an interview. "Orgatone is doing more good than any medicine I have ever known in my time and I'm for it good and strong."

"About two years ago," she continued, "I started having stomach trouble and nothing I could do in the way of medicine treatment seemed to help me in the least. The first spell left me in a badly weakened condition, and it was very necessary for me to take a strong laxative almost every night. When I did eat anything it would form gas on my stomach and make me misererable for hours afterwards. I would bloat up awfully with gas and my stomach would sometimes burn like it was on fire. My nerves were in such a wretched condition that I could hardly sleep at night and would get up in the morning all worn out and felt drowsy and dull most all day.

"I had been reading so much about Orgatone in the papers here and of several people who seemed to be troubled like I was had received fine results from taking it, I decided to try it myself. It sure fixed me up just like it did them, and after all of these months I am at last in the best of health. My stomach is in good condition and I can sleep all night long as sound as a child. I have a fine appetite and can eat most anything I want, and my stomach doesn't bother me in the least. I am no longer troubled with gas and my nerves seem to bother me none, and are in perfect condition. My constipated condition has been relieved and I didn't have headaches anymore. I have been built up in every way and am enjoying better health than for years." Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Midland at the Midland Drug Store.—Adv.

Miss Derryberry Discusses Salads

Miss Genevieve Derryberry, home demonstration agent, has written an interesting discourse on the use of salads in the daily menu, a copy of which follows: Salads and Salad Dressings Salads constitute a course in almost every dinner and are the piece de resistance at many luncheons and suppers. They are now made in an endless variety of ways, and are composed of meat, fish, vegetables (alone or in combination), or fruits with the addition of a dressing.

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

By DOROTHY HERZOG Copyright, 1929, Premier Syndicate HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 18.—Monte Blue and his indignant ribs are home again after a week's sojourn in the Hollywood Hospital. And Monte, who is an active soul, prowls the house restlessly, anxious to be sufficiently reкупed to finish the five days more work on the picture wherein he was injured while shooting water scenes at Laguna. raised under glass and should be treated as any other hothouse plant. Canned or cold cooked left over vegetables are well utilized in salads, but are best mixed with French Dressing and allowed to stand in a cold place one hour before serving. Where several vegetables are used in the same salad they should be marinated separately, and arranged for serving just before sending to table.

Meats for salads should be freed from skins and gristle, cut in small cubes, and allowed to stand with French dressing before combining with vegetables. Fish should be flaked or cut in cubes. Where salads are dressed at table, first sprinkle with salt and pepper, add oil, and lastly vinegar. If vinegar is added before oil, the greens will become wet, and oil will not cling but settle to the bottom of the bowl.

Little Theater An Essential Product Says Mr. Peters

By M. F. PETERS In proclaiming Little Theatre Week, Midland is taking an initiative that when reviewed for a moment, may be classified as another link in the great chain of human events that combine to make our city appreciated, admired and loved by its loyal citizens. Each individual taking part or contributing an effort for Little Theatre Week, regardless of consequences is in a broad sense a public servant because the motive for Little Theatre activities is Art and Art belongs to the people, inherent and individually. Born within every soul is the unmistakable motive for imitation and through Little Theatre activities there is an outlet for the histrionic abilities that are not to be had elsewhere. Its value as a distinctive contribution for the advancement of Midland cannot be overlooked, just concrete evidence that our citizenship, business, civic and otherwise—all, appreciate the value of a well rounded endeavor to further the indomitable progress of our town.

How far the results of Mrs. George Abell, director of her players will reach in their efforts is measurable in the support given by their friends, co-workers and supporters. Their motive is not a big bank account, nor is it for personal glory or fame for any particular individual—merely another social endeavor for the pleasure and entertainment of all Midland, inclined to appreciate individual and collective home town effort. The Little Theatre movement deserves and is worth whole hearted support from our town because with in the success of our local organization lie great potential advertising possibilities for Midland, not obtainable in any other manner. And to substantiate this conjecture is the accomplishment of Dallas Little Theatre from its humble beginning in a back yard to national prominence in a few short years and climaxing its success with three consecutive winnings of the famous Belasco Cup and now one of the most highly appreciated local organizations of that city. Midland is fortunate in claiming so many capable players as compose the cast of "The Whole Town's Talking," and under the efficient and masterful direction of Mrs. Geo. Abell the initial offering of Midland Little Theatre this season is predicted a great success for Friday night, Oct. 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Post will be in Dallas and Fort Worth over the week-end.

TARKINGTON INFLUENCE ROGERS' DRAMATIC LIFE

Booth Tarkington plays marked two important occurrences in the life of Buddy Rogers, Paramount screen star. In 1922 Rogers made his stage debut in Booth Tarkington's "Clarance" as presented by the senior class of Olathe High School, Kansas City. Rogers played the title role. Because of his work in the play and his subsequent activities as leader of the glee club, he was cast in the leading role of the school's production "The Mikado." He later came to the Paramount Picture school in New York and subsequently was assigned to parts in moving pictures. Booth Tarkington's play "Magnolia" forms the basis for the story of "River of Romance," Paramount all-talking production in which Rogers is the starring lead. It is Buddy's second all-talking film. Mary Brian has the featured lead opposite the star. June Collyer, Wallace Beery, Henry Walthall, Walter McGrail, Mrs. George Fawcett and Anderson Lawler are also featured in the picture, which was directed by Richmond Wallace. "River of Romance," will be seen and heard at the Ritz Theatre for 2 days beginning Sunday.

A PIONEER FAMILY MOVING INTO PIEDMONT AREA

By Lloyd McKinney, History 10A.
 When we first decided upon the tract of land we wanted, we set to work. The spring of the year was setting in, and there was plenty to be done. The first thing we did was to clear about an acre of land that was on a small hill away from the creek and the damp lowlands around it. We built a fairly large cabin and a smaller house for the few stores of meat, flour, and other necessities we had brought with us in the wagon. Having placed in the cabin the few pieces of furniture we had, we set to work on a shelter for the horses, the cow, and chickens. We built a small but comfortable stable and poultry house, with a face of logs around it. Then we ate supper and turned in for the night.

The next day we were up very early, as there was very much yet to be done. The boys first tended to the live stock, while I was making a survey of the land around us. To the north, over the creek, was a level tract of land, covered with much forest and timber. It was black soil which was very rich and fertile. After we had eaten breakfast, we set to work clearing the land of the timber. We worked all morning very hard. After noon hour, we cleared more timber from the tract for about three hours more. Then we set to work making the cabin larger, and a better shelter. We did more work to the roof, because in the spring in this country, showers and rains are very frequent. It was the time of the year of the equinox, that is, the time of the year when the sun is crossing the equator. I knew of this sort of weather at this time of year, so I was giving my attention and work to our shelter and the shelter of our stock. By the end of the day, we had done much work, but were only about half through with the clearing of the timber on the tract where we were to cultivate our crop. That night the full moon rose. A thin layer of clouds gave it a very peculiar color, and a large ring appeared around it. I knew it gave promise of a storm and was very thankful we had a good shelter.

The next day was the twentieth of April, we were again up early. The sun rose about six o'clock, and the morning began to be very warm as early as it was. We ate breakfast and began working. Two of the boys and I cleared timber while Bill, the other boy, planted corn on the cleared land, at 10 o'clock that morning it was very hot. It was beginning to grow cloudy, and thunder was heard in the west. About noon it began raining. We could not work anymore that day, but we knew that these showers would be beneficial rather than harmful.

In the next few weeks we had plenty of land cleared and under cultivation. We were now making a good living for our family in this new area, and we were very thankful that nature had given us good crops for our stables, timberland for our shelter, and livestock for work, meats, and other necessities.

LETTER FROM EX-STUDENT

The following letter was sent to the Midland High News:
 Austin, Texas,
 October 19, 1929.
 Midland Hi News, Inc.,
 Editor-in-chief:

I suppose you will be surprised to hear from me, but I saw the first issue of the Midland Hi News. With the support of the other students in Texas U., I wish to congratulate you upon your success of the first copy.

As everyone knows, college life isn't what it's cracked up to be. I wish now that I had studied more when I was in high school. Pass the word around, and tell all the kids who are planning to go to college to study hard, as it is " " without the foundation.

Tell Mr. Lackey hello for all of us. Say, just confidentially, who is the tattler? Tell who ever it is I enjoyed his or her section immensely. Wishing you many more successes in the journalistic fields, I remain,

An old Midland Hi Ex,
 WADE STEVENS.

BAND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. W. S. Lanham announced Wednesday morning in chapel that all members of the band are requested to take better care of their instruments. Persons who do not belong to the band are asked to stay out of the practice room.

Regular practice for band members is held on Monday and Wednesday, at 3:15.

CHAPEL DAY BY DAY

Monday—Mr. Lackey led the assembly in the reading of "The Lord's Prayer," "The Twenty-third Psalm," and in singing, "By the Rivers of Babylon."

Tuesday—special numbers were rendered by Wallace Wimberly, teacher of music, and Barney Graf, freshman in Midland High School. Mrs. Woodrum visited chapel.

Wednesday—Miss Solomon, Public School Music teacher, sang "Roses of Picardy," and "The Song I Love," Barney Graf sang "Sleepy Valley," Miss Stella Mae Lanham, teacher of public speaking, read "At the Foot of the Game," Mrs. K. E. Nutt, nee, Miss Elma Collins, led the reading of the last stanza of "The Chambered Nautilus," and Milton's "Ode on His Blindness."

Thursday—Judge B. F. Haag visited during chapel hour. Mr. Haag announced that all boys who were interested in the Father-Son banquet should purchase their tickets early. Marion Wadley and C. W. Edwards led the pupils in a short pep rally.

Friday—Miss K. E. Knutt, Jr., of Lovington, New Mexico, who was formerly Miss Elma Collins, visited in chapel Wednesday morning. She led the high school in the reading of "The Chambered Nautilus," and Midland's "Ode on His Blindness."

Mrs. Knutt was a senior in Midland high school last year. She was valedictorian of the senior class, editor-in-chief of the high school annual, president of the Latin club, and critic of the Literary Society. She also belonged to the Choral club, Home Economics club, and the Mu Eta Sigma Sorority.

Mrs. Knutt's parents were early settlers in Midland and they have done much toward the development of this city.

OFF WITH HIS HEAD

The students of the Latin classes have been assigned parts and started work on a playlet entitled "Off With His Head," which will be presented in assembly within a few weeks. Vann Mitchell, who has been given the leading part, has some very interesting and amusing experiences, adventures, and conversations with the characters and constructions in his Latin grammar, who miraculously come to life when he goes to sleep.

The entire playlet is instructive as well as entertaining and it is written in English. The complete cast of characters, which includes every student in the Latin department, will be announced at a later date.

FORMER STUDENT WRITES MR. SHIFLETT

Charles Sandidge wrote the following letter to Mr. Shiflett with his six weeks test papers in it to prove to Mr. Shiflett that he could pass in Abilene schools. The test papers contained such weighty material that Mr. Shiflett had to pay two cents postage to obtain the letter.

Abilene, Texas,
 Oct. 9, 1929.

Dear Mr. Shiflett:
 I am very sorry I didn't get to stop and talk to you the other day, because I have some papers you would like to see. But being as I didn't I'm sending them to you. How is Mr. Lackey? I sure would like to be going to school in Midland again. Surely do miss the chapel and selling tickets and what not. Say isn't this stationery hot? Ought to be it cost four bits a dozen. I've got a big job for you. Bush wrote the other day and said he was going out for football. Well, he good and don't treat friend C. W. too hard.

Chas.
 P. S. The "M" on the history paper means "mastered," not "missed," or "mangled."

THE TATTLER

Oh, my! Of course every body knows we're having six-weeks quizzes this week and there shouldn't be quite so much going on, but this S. L. business just will continue and letters will arrive no matter what happens at school. I heard that Dorothy Bess received an eight page letter from Chattanooga—let's hope that Martha doesn't get very jealous. Our dear history Prof., Mr. Cotner, looked as though he might have been in heaven while reading that letter from Coleman. Oh yes! As usual Jean received another "special" from the California boy friend, but tough luck, Jean, two cents postage was due.

Just imagine my astonishment when I saw Jean Verdier riding around with Lloyd Long, another lucky football star, Sunday afternoon.

Guess who Ruby's latest rival is? No one but our own little "Runt." And all she can talk about is her latest S. L.

If anyone wants a little brother, sister, or kitten taken care of just call on Marion. She should be quite experienced after what happened Saturday.

Can it be true that Archie really calls on C. W. now, instead of Janelle?

I wonder why "Red" was so anxious to go after Marie Friday night, leaving his date at the dance? We hope she didn't feel hurt.

Listen girls! It's really too bad but the doctor told Red to leave women alone.

Was that Jean's S. L.'s car that Walter Fay was driving Tuesday at noon? It must have been, as we nearly had a fight on hand.

The Freshmen are learning fast—they even furnished their cars for the boys to drive. Yes, that was R. V. driving our Freshman's little green Ford. C. W., you had better get busy.

Why was it that Ray just couldn't leave Imogene's until late hours Monday night? Looks bad, Imogene.

Who is this strange A. & M. boy, that no one ever heard of before, who is writing Dorris? I guess she will have A. & M. stickers all over everything.

COMMENTS OF THE NEW TEACHERS

Miss Miley, history teacher and a junior sponsor says that the high school building is beautiful and well kept. "I think that the chapel exercises are wonderful. There is nice order in the school at all times," she told the reporter.

Mrs. Barry, Latin teacher and a sponsor of the juniors, also commented on the beauty of the building and the way it is kept. "The attendance of the students in school and chapel exercises each morning are to be especially commended."

The 9A and 11A Latin classes are above the average in their work," Mrs. Barry said.

MESSAGE FROM MR. BISHOP

Miss Allie Mae Stout, teacher of sophomore English and a sophomore sponsor in the Midland high school, was the guest of Mrs. John Bishop of Abilene, Saturday night. Mrs. Bishop, who is now teaching sophomore English and has charge of the dramatics of the Abilene high school, was a former teacher in Midland high school. She has expressed her desire to visit Midland as soon as she has an opportunity.

"I particularly miss the singing and the chapel exercises each morning," she told Miss Stout.

CONDITION OF THE MIDLAND HI BULLDOGS

Jack Irwin has a bad back, due to an automobile accident. G. B. Hallman has a bad leg.

The coach believes that the Bulldogs can beat Lamesa if they will. The starting line-up is now unknown, and will not be given until Friday before the game.

HIGH SCHOOL ROOMS FIRST IN ATTENDANCE

Of the five rooms in the entire school system making averages in attendance for the first month of more than 99 per cent, four of them were high school rooms. Those four rooms were: One senior room, two sophomore rooms, and one freshman room. The five rooms ranking highest in attendance for the month in order of rank were:

1. Miss Burrus' room, 8-A room, 99.80 per cent.
2. Miss Louise Rippy's room, 4th grade, 99.41 per cent.
3. Miss Allie Mae Stout's room, 9B room, 99.37 per cent.
4. Miss Hefner's room, 9A room, 99.30 per cent.
5. Miss Thelma Lee Rippy's room, 11A room, 99.23 per cent.

THE TWELFTH MAN

"There's place and means for every man alive."
 —Shakespeare.

The twelfth man is a figure who is unknown to many high school students, but his presence adds greatly to the playing power of each member of the football team.

Every person who is not a football player is entitled to assume the responsibility of the twelfth man.

We should not only consider our work as the twelfth man as our duty, but we should deem it a rare privilege to render such services to our team and to our school. Every loyal pupil should experience a feeling of pride and joy in being able to lend his support to the players.

The work of a regular player lasts through four quarters. The twelfth man should play the game as conscientiously as the players in the field.

The results of the efforts put forth by our twelfth man will be noticeable. If we have not done our duty in the past, may we not shoulder our responsibility now?

Our players catch the spirit of enthusiasm from the great twelfth man who encourages them with cheering and yelling.

Stay in the game, twelfth man, and lead our team to victory.

LIBRARY NOTES

1. The librarians will start Monday with the new system of issuing books.

2. Ida Beth Cowden substituted in the library last week.

3. The heaviest fines in the library are being collected from the freshmen, some of whom seem unable to understand the theory and practice of "the one period book."

4. Anthropologies have been issued to all members of the senior, junior, and freshman classes who have paid their library fee.

5. The most popular book in the library is Dickens's "Chief Contemporary Dramatists."

6. The librarians request that all one period books be returned to the desk three minutes before the bell rings. The librarians need this time to check the books off and replace them on the shelves before the period ends.

The third team of the big string played Junior High Monday. Score 0-0. Both sides played hard. Junior High relied on end-runs entirely. Third string tried passes, line bucks, end runs, and punts.

The line-up was:

THE SOPHS MEET

The sophomore class met Wednesday, October 16, to discuss the election of officers for the literary society.

Representatives from the senior and junior class presented their propositions concerning the election of the candidates.

After great deliberation the sophs unanimously voted to go on record to support the "ambition seniors."

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

On Thursday, October 10, fifteen girls met in room 900 for the purpose of organizing a girls' basketball team. The following girls were present:

Rosie Pliska, captain; Lucille McMullan, co-captain; Meneta Sheldene, chairman of entertainment committee; Alma Lee Norwood, reporter; Adah Driver, Ella Margaret Tyner, Patricia Thomas, Christine Meadows, Norine West, Mary Lou Thrower, Edith Young, Nell Wayne Carlisle, Dorothy Holzgraf, Mary Pou.

The girls will practice on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 3:15 until 4:15.

Miss Lanham, coach for the team, announces that the first practice will be held on Monday, as plans are being made for improvement of the court during the week end.

GENERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Miss Lena Solomon, public school music teacher, announces an enrollment of 106 pupils in the department of music.

Girls have been testing their voices this week to see if they will be eligible for membership in the choral club.

Mr. D. D. Shiflett, principal of the high school, says that new pupils are entering the high school every week. The entire enrollment on Wednesday was 277.

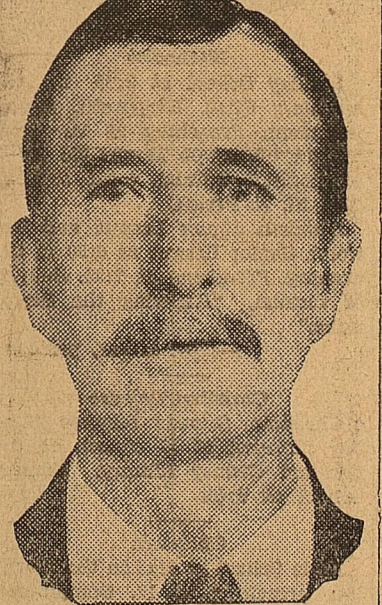

HE WANTS TO TELL ALL HIS FRIENDS OF SARGON

"I've seen Dallas grow from a small town to a great city and I have many friends in Texas. I want them all to know about Sargon, and what it did for me.

My stomach was out of order for a long time. Although I ate very little, I was often in misery after meals and smothering spells would frequently wake me at night. I was constipated, my blood was thin and my color was as yellow as gold. I had severe pains in my back and sides and my kidneys would get me up all during the night.

"Since taking Sargon, I'm in better health than for years. I eat like a hungry school boy and can digest anything. There's not a pain in my body and I sleep good all night. Sargon Pills toned up my liver and ended my constipation. Now my skin has a good healthy color and I feel like a new man." Wm. D. Vaughn, 1910 S. Akard Street, Dallas.—Midland Drug Co., agents.—Adv.

SPANISH STUDENTS TO WRITE SPANIARDS

All except one of Miss Hefner's third and fourth year Spanish classes have enrolled with the Bureau of International Correspondence in order that a correspondent from a Spanish speaking country may be selected to write these students in Spanish and our students to write in English, each telling things of interest in his country and interesting things about his daily life. Miss Hefner says this will create interest in the class work.

The Spanish club will have its regular meeting on the last Tuesday of this month.

Miss Klapproth, of the department of history and mathematics states that she is more pleased with the Midland High School system than any other in which she has taught. She says that most of her freshmen pupils are above the average in scholarship.

Miss Burrus, eighth grade English teacher, asserts that the foundation for freshman English has been well said. Their work surpasses that of the usual freshman.

Miss Hefner, our new Spanish teacher, thinks that we have one of the best organized school systems that she has ever been connected with. She says that the students show a better spirit of cooperation here than in most schools. Miss Hefner states that the chapel programs are both profitable and interesting. She says that she enjoys her classes very much and likes our city.

Those absent on Tuesday were: Lillian Wilson, Johnnie Helen Sundquist.

Doris Harrison was unable to attend school Wednesday. Hazel Ma-

HIGH SCHOOL EXPECTED TO LOSE BY FOUR TOUCHDOWNS TODAY

Aggieland Is Primed for a Pleasant Week-End in Frogland

ENGAGE LAMESA TERRORS OF HEAD COACH M'COLLUM; LAMESA KNOWN TO HAVE STRONG TEAM

Twenty-two high school football men, secretly harboring the desire to break the jinx which has dogged them all year, left this morning for Lamesa to engage the heaviest, fastest and probably the best balanced grid machine in this section of the state, the Lamesa high school.

More than one hundred fans went along with the club to act as moral and audible support. Midland high school, reduced in point of pride to the place where the team collectively is entertaining the idea of letting its whiskers grow until it has won a game this season, is expected to fight the superior Lamesa team hard for every break this afternoon.

Lamesa Beat Stanton
That odds favor the huskies of Coach McCollum is seen from the comparison of the two squads and their records. Midland is outweighed more than 15 pounds to the man in the line, and the Lamesa backs tote the pigskin faster than the Midland boys ever thought of going as a backfield unit.

Earlier in the year, before the Lamesa boys had got warmed up, the team wiped out the fight of a Stanton eleven and shoved them back for a 6-0 reversal. Midland lost to that same Stanton squad 15-0. Lamesa has won other games, not having been beaten this year. Midland has lost each game played, the first to Colorado, 6-0, the second to Stanton, 15-0, and the third to the small town of Rankin, 13-6.

Team Fears Pecos
Today's game is thought here to point to at least four touchdowns by the Lamesa crew. Midland is not expected to score. The game will probably be played almost exclusively in Midland territory.

The majority of Midland fans believe that Midland's high school gridders can get going next week. They have to meet with little opposition, taking on the Wing high school Oilers on that date, and in Midland. On the following Friday, Odessa is in Midland for a game.

The runaway is expected November 30 when, instead of cessation of war as supposed in an Armistice Day game, Pecos, in Midland, is expected to give the local boys the hardest grubbing of the season. Pecos has already given Odessa a sample of the knee-carpet slipper racket. Pecos is in Midland on Nov. 16, and season is ended in Pecos by a round-robin game.

Daily Market Report

Dallas Cotton

There was further decline in the cotton market the first half of the session under continued southern selling, liquidation and short selling, which while of moderate volume was sufficient to force the market down, making a new low ground on all options. Cables came better than due, while opening trades on the Dallas market were irregular, being two to three points lower, with weakness in October in New York apparently holding the market down, but later in the morning, under continued hedge pressure and liquidation, with some short selling on the favorable weather conditions, prices worked lower. Late in the morning, October in New York sold down to 17.51, December 17.86, January 17.97, and March 18.25, or 10 to 17 points net lower, with the list 10 to 17 points under the previous close on noon call.

THRIFT MAY BE THE TURNING POINT OF YEAR

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18.—Aggieland will move in a body to Fort Worth tomorrow for the annual T. C. U.-A. & M. football game. Four special trains, leaving College Station at 4 a. m. will carry some 2600 cadets and A. & M. officials to Fort Worth.

Following the arrival here between 10:30 and 11 a. m., the Aggie cadet corps, with the Aggie band, will parade through the downtown district. The parade will be reviewed by President F. M. Waits of T. C. U., President W. O. Walton of A. & M. and various military officials.

One thousand automobiles will be on hand to transport the visiting Aggies to the T. C. U. campus immediately after the parade. Here, from 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock will be served a barbecued dinner, with the compliments of T. C. U. Visiting A. & M. officials and faculty members will be honored guests at a luncheon at the University Club. The really big event of the day is, of course, the football game at 3 o'clock. It is estimated that 15,000 persons will see the game. Following the game, the Aggie visitors will dine, complimentary, at any one of nine restaurants and cafes in Fort Worth. From 8 to 11 o'clock that evening the A. & M. Ex-Students' of Fort Worth will give a dance at the Texas Hotel, honoring the visiting Aggie students.

Apparently the famed irresistible force is going to meet the equally famous immovable body on Clark Field. Coach Schmidt has been spending much time this week on perfecting a defense for the vaunted Aggie aerial attack and off-tackle smashes. Matty Bell, if reports are reliable, has been working on the same kind of a defense, as these two types of attacks are also the strong points in the Frogs' defense.

Despite all of this preparation for defense, the game promises to be featured by spectacular offense. The Frogs will be "shooting the works" in the Aggie game. They can put everything they have into the contest because they face almost a month of comparative rest before another difficult game. Three successive Saturdays carry games with

Texas Tech, the Denton Teachers and Rice Institute. Not until Nov. 16, in the game with the University of Texas Longhorns, are the Frogs expected to receive a real test of their strength.

Widely Known Man Moves To Midland

Here are statements quoted direct from letters about a new Midland man:

"To be frank this is the first time in my life I have asked a man to stay in a position he wanted to quit. You are too good a man to go back into a bakery shoving a peel."—C. P. Oliver, manager Arkady Dept., The Fleischman Yeast Company.

"This is to certify that Mr. James S. Paterson has been for the past 9 months night manager with control of all departments. During that time I have found him very attentive to duty, able to control, has a thorough knowledge of all branches of the trade, both practical and technical. . . ." T. W. Barnes, manager, W. son intimately for two years and have been in a position to observe his activities as a capable business man and baker for a period of four years and I am pleased to say that these years of observation and personal contact have proven to me that he is a man of the highest type, both as to personal character and business ability."—Fred Relling, auditor, Reilly Baking Co., Wichita Falls, Texas.

"I recommend James S. Paterson as being one of the best of my colleagues"—Pagot, a famous baker of Paris, France.

"Sergeant Paterson was decorated for gallantry in the field"—M. F. Winder, Lt. Col. R. A. M. C. "He can be thoroughly recommended as a skillful trustworthy cook."—Wm. King, acting adjutant, writing from the Cyclist Base in England.

The above are excerpts from the original letters written about James S. Paterson, production manager for the Paterson Baking Company of Midland. This bakery supplies all Midland stores, and is located across Main street from the First National Bank.

THE SAVOY HOTEL, Ltd.

Directors' Office, Office Entrance, Embankment Gardens

Savoy Hotel, London W. C. 2

March 22nd, 1921.

I beg to certify that James S. Paterson has been in the employment of this company, with a break of four years owing to the war, during a period of 17½ years.

During the greater part of that time he has been employed at the Savoy Hotel as baker. He is an excellent workman and has a special knowledge of fancy breads and rolls; he has worked for some time in the Patisserie department, where he was chiefly employed making small cakes, scones, etc., for teas.

During the last 12 months he has been engaged as head baker at Claridge's Hotel, and has given every satisfaction. He is leaving in order to take up a still more important and better paid position.

SPEAKING OF SPORT

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Sports Editor

Joe Sewell, little Cleveland third baseman, who was brought up from New Orleans to fill the Indians' gap at shortstop when Ray Chapman was killed in 1920, is after Everett Scott's consecutive game record.

Scott's record is 1307. Sewell has played in 1090 consecutive games. He has 203 games to go to tie and 204 to go to break Scott's record.

Sewell was shifted to third base from shortstop the past season and played a bang-up game at the hot corner. Unless Sewell is injured, he promises to eclipse Scott's record and then some.

Records

Among the new National League records made last season are the following:

Most hits—O'Doul, Philadelphia, 254.

Most runs—Hornsby, Chicago, 155.

Most Doubles—Frederics, Brooklyn, 53.

Most home runs—Klein, Philadelphia, 43.

Most runs batted in—Hack Wilson, Chicago, 153.

Hornsby had two of his records surpassed. He formerly held the league record for the most hits, 250, made in 1922, and the league record for the most runs batted in, 152, made in 1922.

Klein and Ott

Melvin Ott, young New York Giants' outfielder, has a chance to tie or beat Klein for National League home runs honors in a double-header against the Phillies in the next to last day of the season. Ott went into the games with 42 homers, only one behind Klein, and the Phillies' pitchers walked him six times. The Giants squawked long and loud about the affair, but it didn't do any good. They just kept on walking Ott.

Ott is a better ball player than Klein. He shouldn't have been deprived of all equal chance to beat Klein. Maybe next year, Ott will get so far ahead of Klein, the latter will never catch him.

Traveling Champions

Washington State college will claim the travelling championship of the football world at the close of the 1929 season. Twelve games, comprising the longest and most difficult schedule in history for the far western school, will take the team some 13,688 miles over land and sea before the last game on New Year's day.

The final three games find Washington State making its longest trips. A trip to Los Angeles, where the Cougars play Southern California on November 30, nets 3,200 miles. Then comes the longest trip of the year, a 6,578-mile journey across the Pacific to Hawaii. The Cougars meet the Honolulu Athletic Club on Christmas Day and then wind up their schedule against the University of Hawaii on January 1, 1930.
