Era of Progression Is Reflected in Present Building

PERMITS SOARING STEADILY

Courthouse Square Being Built Up Each Month

Indication of how Midland has built without booming is evinced by the particular type of construction now under way in the city, engineers, contractors and business men point out.

The $35,000 city hall, done in beautiful Spanish lines, will be ready for occupancy within two weeks. This, with each room larger than the present city hall, will house fire equipment, part of the volunteer fire department, city administrative officers, and everything necessary to carrying on the work of a city four times the size of Midland.

Auditing of the books of the city will be started just as soon as the move into the new quarters is completed.

Big Grocery Building The Whitehouse, Inc. grocery store building being erected at Wall and Colorado will be completed Nov. 10. It is a structure 130x130 foot concrete sloping apron partly covered by a 130x12 foot awning at the side which fronts Colorado street. This will insure convenience to the purchased through curb service.

At the grocery store, there is special provision made for lighting, great display windows and transoms filling the wall space along the entire building. A 30x30 foot stockroom, special refrigeration, market, display cases, etc., will make the grocery store one of the most complete in the Southwest.

Running ice water will give an air of the hostelry to the grocery store. Flowers will line the sidewalk margins.

New Home For Young The store is being built by Felix Stonehocker. Plans were drawn by F. L. Young, who is supervising architect. The inside is to be done in ivory green trim, the exterior in light green. Semi-Spanish type metal tile roofing will be used as a decorative feature.

W. S. Hill, Clifford Hill, Carroll Hill and R. B. Cowden will own the building, Carroll Hill and J. B. Neblett the grocery.

The J. D. Young Corporation will move into a new $22,000 home shortly after Nov. 10, a 50x150 brick building being erected on Colorado and Texas, facing the courthouse square, and diagonal to the Hogan Petroleum building. The store, one of the most beautiful, judging from the present point reached in construction, will include special display windows, balconies, exchange furniture department, shipping room, auditorium for selecting display and numerous other features.

Modern Building F. L. Young, supervising architect, said the building will be notable among buildings of its class in West Texas. Great display windows and a crowning line of higher, lesser windows will give it a distinctive air of being a two-story structure, rather than a single story affair.

Arrangement of floor space on the interior really gives the building two-story facilities, he said. This building is owned by J. B. Wilkinson and J. E. Hill. The main store is two-thirds covered by a large balcony. Built up roofing will be flanked by warm colored coping and Spanish cornices. All ventilating sashes will be of metal.

Rooms on the auditorium floor will be shut off for arrangement of furniture for exhibition purposes, so that the potential customer may see what a living room, dining hall, music room and other rooms would look like when furnished by suites held in stock.

Filling Stations Erected One of the features of the front display windows is the plate glass

Is She Blue?

"Is she blue? You'd be, too, if each plan with you man done fall through—" Maybe that paraphrase of a popular song now applies to Sue Carol, above—and maybe it doesn't—but, at any rate, Miss Carol has announced that her engagement to Nick Stuart, another young movie star, is all off and that she has returned Nick's ring. Or maybe it's Nick who "was the one and only one, and is now the sad and lonely one."

Home Is Damaged By Fire Saturday

The residence of J. D. Hill, Jr. at 1507 South Colorado was damaged by fire Saturday morning about 9 o'clock. The house is occupied by James P. Harrison, but no one was at the place at the time. The origin of the fire is not fully known, but it is thought that a faulty automatic gas water heater caused it. The damage to the house, about $200, is covered by insurance.

"Man Named Clary" Figures In Case

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—(UP)—"A man named Clary" assumed a mysterious role in the trial of Alexander Pantages today, accused of assaulting a young girl. The man was only identified as "coffee salesman." District Attorney Fitts announced that he wanted to talk to him. "Man named Clary," first aroused interest when Leo Slacket, defense witness said Clary took him to see Pantages.

Stanton Cotton Is 4th At Dallas Fair

STANTON, Tex., Oct. 19.—The cotton entered on the county exhibit booth at the State Fair by Martin county was fourth in the entire show with a score of 86.37. Cotton was second in the booth at the Lubbock Fair and was grown by Mr. J. S. Blackford near Stanton. It is of the Kasch variety. The leading score was 92.07 on cotton.

Although Martin County was in 21st place in the county booths it is believed to be of value to the county as many inquiries were answered according to Secretary and Mrs. Claud Holley of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce who were in charge of the booth.

Red top sorghum and sudan shown in the general exhibit at Dallas both won third place in their respective classes.

VISITS IN LAMESA

Mrs. Donald Thruston, who works as a clerk in the county and district clerk's office, spent the weekend in Lamesa, where she formerly lived. Mrs. Thruston visited relatives.

COUNTY VALUATION $3,500,000 MORE THAN LAST YEAR

Assessed valuation of Midland county this year shows an increase of more than $3,500,000 over last. County Judge M. R. Hill told a reporter Saturday in a short interview.

Midland county's assessed property valuation for 1929 amounts to $7,768,946, which will amount to more than $115,000 in tax revenue. The tax rate is $1.50, as it has been for the past three years.

The increase in valuation is attributed to increase in construction, awakened activity in oil, and increase in value of personal property.

LIQUOR RING IS BAFPLEMENT TO EAST OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(UP)—Although lack of unanimity appeared to exist today among federal officers investigating what is perhaps the most powerful rum ring in the country, the name of Scarface Al Capone and Kingpin, Chicago racketeers, continued to be linked with the syndicate.

The existence of Capone's check for $1500, to one of the higher ups of the syndicate, on which payment was stopped before it was cashed, was announced.

New Players In Little Theater

When the Little Theater presents as its first production "The Whole Town's Talking," a group of new players will be seen. Only a few of last year's play group will be on the stage.

Mr. Simmons played by D. H. Starling, has a marriageable daughter. For business reasons he wants her to marry the junior partner, Mr. Binney, played by R. C. Hankins. But the junior partner is a blank—as Mrs. Simmons (Mrs. Peters) puts it, "every time he comes in it seems that some one has gone out." The senior partner has the idea that every woman would like to get that man whom every other wants. Hence he conceives the idea of inventing a few past love affairs for his partner.

But with whom? He selects at random from the book shop, photos of some beautiful woman. A past is created, and all the girls fall in love with him, especially the daughter, played by Adele Marcus. But in the midst of his glory, a terrible thing happens, and all is about to be revealed as false. From this point onward, there is a series of complications which work up to a climax of whirlwind hilarity.

This brilliant farce ran an entire season in New York with Grant Mitchell as the star, and has become probably one of the most popular plays ever staged by amateurs. One Little Theater said they counted 374 laughs during the evening.

Ships Seldom Seen Here Land At Port

When an airport gets a Belanca and a Krutzer trimotor in the same day, it's beginning to grow, according to Field-Manager H. M. Becherer, of the airport.

Neither of the two planes are manufactured in great quantity, but one of each landed at the port one day last week—one coming in from the east coast and the other from the west.

The Krutzer pilot looked over the truck pants of the Belanca and the Belanca pilot the three small Kinner motors of the Krutzer. "Cosmopolitan Midland!" exclaimed the pilot of the Belanca. "I have heard of this air-minded town, but didn't look for this to happen."

CAMP MABRY HAD $150,000 FIRE EARLY SATURDAY

AUSTIN, Oct. 19.—(P)—Fire completely destroyed two of seven barracks at Camp Mabry and damaged a third early today, causing $150,000 loss, according to an estimate by Colonel Taylor Nichols, assistant adjutant general.

The camp is maintained by the Texas National Guard, and its equipment is housed there. The headquarters troop of the 124th cavalry, known as the "governor's organization," used one of the barracks as an armory and an indoor rifle range.

The loss was not covered by insurance. Origin of the fire was unaccounted for, according to Nichols who said that defective wiring might have been the cause. An inadequate water supply hindered the work of the firemen.

The buildings were erected during the war to house a school of military aeronautics.

Former Flyer Here Gets Mexican Permit

T. J. Richards, former Midland and Big Spring aviator who went to Love Field, Dallas, for special work in aerobatics under reserve officers of the air service, was the first flier to be issued an airplane permit by the tourist department of the Laredo chamber of commerce for flights into Mexico, according to a dispatch from the Associated Press.

The permit was issued in accordance with arrangements made with the immigration department of Mexico.

The former Sloan Field flier flew with Claude Berry from Laredo to Monterey. He expects to make the Mexican city his winter headquarters.

WILL REPRESENT MIDLAND AT W. T. C. C. IN EL PASO

Many questions affecting West Texas from all angles will be discussed at various committee meetings during the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here, October 24, 25 and 26, according to press letters from convention headquarters to the chamber of commerce here. Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce, will represent Midland at the convention.

One of the principal meetings to be held is that of the legislative committee, which will take up legislation vitally affecting West Texas. Many of these questions must be settled early in order to prevent a bad effect on the building of this great southwestern empire, it is pointed out.

Clifford B. Jones, Spur, member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce advisory board and chairman of the legislative committee, has announced the program for this meeting.

Principal speakers who will present various phases of the legislative needs of West Texas will be: Congressman C. B. Hudspeth, El Paso; state senators, C. C. Small, Wellington, Pink L. Parrish, Lubbock; Walter Woodward, Coleman; state representatives, Cecil Storey, Vernon; Henry E. Webb, Odessa; Carl Roundtree, Lamesa; Penrose Metcalfe, San Angelo; Coke R. Stevenson, Junction, and Judge Charles E. Coombes, Stamford.

In calling attention to the legislative committee meeting, Jones said: "There is a growing recognition of a definite need to protect the sanctity of land lines and boundaries and to this end legislation is badly needed to provide a prior right of record land owners to purchase judicially ascertained vacancies, change venue to the county in which such judicially ascertained vacancies exist and to validate outstanding land titles." Many other vitally important legislative problems will be discussed.

The program will be: "Needed

BEARISH MOVEMENT PREVALENT

Second Largest Saturday In History Is Recorded

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—An intensive bear drive finally shook out a large crop of hangerson from the stock market today.

Marginal accounts were feverishly dumped overboard in the second largest Saturday in history. Total sales were 3,488,100 shares. The ticker ran nearly an hour and a half this afternoon.

The higher priced issues generally lost from five to fifteen points. Auburn auto and J. I. Case dropped 25 to 40 points each, Case to a new low for the year.

Not since 1908, when 3,774,900 shares sold, has the market seen such a heavy Saturday. The sharp drop is largely attributed to a weakened position, many long accounts, and a recurrence of bearish rumors.

Amateur Carpenters Doing Good Work

When the great outside gets the fancy that amateurs in the Little Theatre can do nothing but carry their roles on the stage they are wrong, according to the stagecraft committee of the organization.

Paul Osborne, who has played in productions of the University of Colorado, and in Civic theatres of Boulder and Denver, designed and built the set for "The Whole Town's Talking," to be given Friday night at the Grand Theatre. He will be on the stage later.

Miss Thelma White, designer of sets for the Little Theatre last year, has been assisting with painting of sets, as has been Mrs. Margaret F. Clark and the director, Mrs. George Abell.

The committee on ticket sale said Saturday afternoon that the pastebards may be bought at most of the drug stores and confectioneries of the city.

Look Who Bachelors Are Using For Sons!

Eligible bachelors of Midland are confining their activities in "borrowing" sons for the Father and Son banquet Monday night to families where eligible girls live, it has been borne out in a check-up made by the publicity committee of the banquet.

The banquet, to be given at the crystal room of Hotel Scharbauer, is attracting considerable attention.

Air Official To Be Here Monday

Lt. Thad Foster of the air corps, and of the Southwest Airways, will land in Midland Monday on a trip being made over southwest Texas, he indicated in a telegram to the Chamber of Commerce.

Lt. Foster will prepare a report on all airports visited, attempting to show progress in aviation from standpoint of physical equipment.

British Premier Rests In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(UP)—James Ramsay MacDonald, premier of Great Britain rested today in the country home of McKenzie King, Canadian prime minister, leaving the most strenuous part of his American continent trip behind him. A fortnight hence he leaves for England where the task of helping world certified peace through naval disarmament parity will be carried on.

He Says Buying Liquor Is Crime

Purchasers of liquor are just as liable to arrest under the prohibition laws as sellers or makers—that is what Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson, above, told a grand jury at Louisville, Ky. He urged that purchasers be indicted the same as others.

EARTHQUAKE FELT IN CHILE; ONE IS KILLED IN TREMOR

SANTIAGO, Oct. 19.—(P)—A severe earthquake which caused some loss of life and heavy damages occurred in Chile today. The quake lasted one minute.

At Pampa Union one person was killed and several were gravely injured. Many houses were destroyed and damaged. Considerable damage was done to nitrate plants.

Congressman Here Saturday For While

John C. Box, representative in Congress from the second congressional district, paid tribute to Midland when he was here for a time Saturday getting the motor of his automobile adjusted for the last leg of his tour from the west coast to his home in Jacksonville, Texas.

"I have seen many small towns about to emerge from the proverbial cocoon into a small city," the congressman said, "but it is somewhat of a thrill to trace the growth of America in towns this size by a comparison with what they were years ago."

"I refer definitely to Midland, as representative of this growth as any. I was through a cattle village called Midland twenty years ago. There were no paved streets. It was typically the saloon-filled, rip-roaring town of the West, the old West. But today, why I see a skyscraper, a most modern hotel, the trace of modernity everywhere. The natural question is, how do you do it?"

The congressman is serving his sixth term from his district. He declined to discuss state matters.

"I am on my vacation," he said simply, smilingly. "I hope you will excuse me."

With the representative was his wife and L. Huggins, also of Jacksonville.

Textile Strike Case To Jury This Week

CHARLOTTE, Oct. 19.—(UP)—The case of seven union textile workers, who are charged with the murder of Police Chief O. F. Oderholt, will be given to the jury next week.

Judge J. V. Barnhill will read the charge to jurors in a long intricate document Monday, it was announced today.

STREET CAR DYNAMITED NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—(P)—A heavy charge of explosives went off early today under a street car, damaging the car's undercarriage smashing windows and tearing up rails. Nine passengers, and the crew escaped injury. The blast was similar to numerous others which have taken place during the protracted trolley strike.

THIRD TIME PASSED BY THE SENATE

Certificates On Farm Exports To Be Stabilizers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—For the third time this session, the Senate today approved the export debenture plan in the farm tariff relief, incorporating the proposal in the pending tariff measure.

As approved today, the debenture certificates on farm exports would be payable to the federal farm board for use in stabilizing prices of surplus crops.

A graduation scale, designed to decrease over-production, also would be provided. This would be accomplished by decreasing the amount of debenture as exports in the particular commodity increased.

The debenture plan was supported by Senator Connally, Democrat of Texas, who said that while the farm board had been established to help agriculture, the board had "not functioned properly."

HOOVER'S POLICY ON PROHIBITION IS CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(UP)—Hoover's prohibition policy outlawing spectacular drives and guns as enforcement weapons was weighed today after a light six month's experience.

175 vessels have been seized since January 1st. Prohibition killings, which averaged twenty yearly according to the prohibition bureau numbered five during the nine months of the current year.

CHAIRMAN PRISON COMMISSION IS A CRITIC OF SYSTEM

HOUSTON, Oct. 19.—(P)—In his first comment since taking office, W. A. Paddock, chairman of the state prison commission declared the Texas prison system was a "mess," and "at present seems to serve no purpose whatever."

He criticized the farming of prisoners as a financial failure.

THE NEW HUNTING LAW

Arrests, convictions and sentences reported during the past few days, in connection with alleged violations of the game laws as they stand since being amended by the last legislative sessions, lead one to believe that he should not go hunting, or if he does, he should do so with fear and trembling.

A few years ago, a citizen could take his gun along when he went on a trip, shooting any game in the season provided. Those were the good old days.

Later, it became necessary to have a hunting license to hunt in any county other than the one in which he lived. This wasn't so bad—it was a protection to true sportsmen.

And now, when hunters have been standing by, patiently waiting for the opening of the duck season, they have gone out in the usual way, careful to have their licenses, and have been arrested on charges entirely new.

The new law provides that a permit must be secured from the owner of the land on which the hunting is done. And the hunter doesn't have to be caught shooting, according to information given here, he just has to be caught with a gun in his possession.

This is probably a good law, in some ways, but it is rather inconvenient in others.

Suppose a man gets permission to hunt in Fasken's pasture. He puts his gun in his car and drives northwest. He is about half way across Scharbauer's pasture when he is met by a game warden. The hunter has a gun. He doesn't have a permit to hunt in Scharbauer's pasture. What happens? According to the new law, as this editor construes it, the hunter is subject to a fine.

There is no way to get to the Fasken pasture without going through Scharbauer's. There is no way to get the gun across Scharbauer's pasture without taking it with him. Looks bad for the old sport of bird hunting.

A NEW "GIANT INDUSTRY"

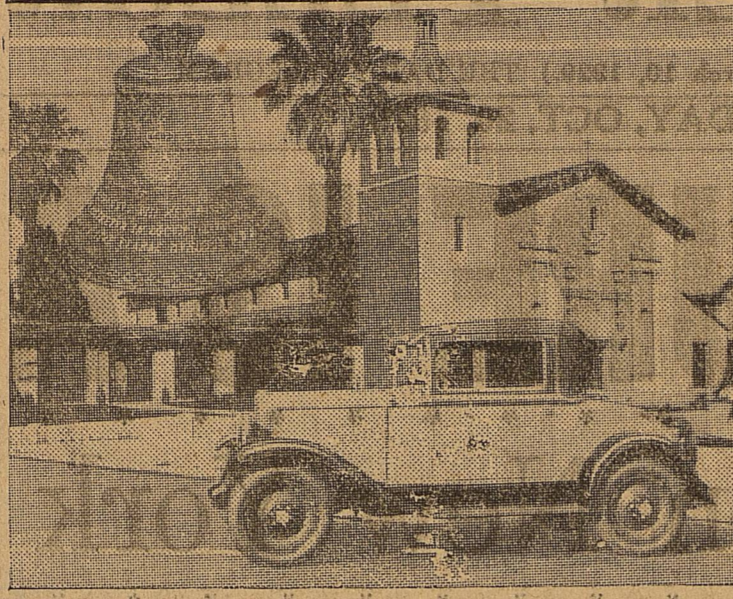

Among the giant industries of America you might list the garage business. It's a whole lot bigger than you may have suspected.

A writer in the current American Architect reveals that there are more than 51,000 commercial garages in this country, representing a total investment of $3,000,000,000. This, of course, does not include the countless millions of private garages.

The development of the commercial garage, incidentally, has brought vast problems for the architect. When a garage rises to a height of more than two stories, it is necessary to devote from 40 to 60 per cent of its space to ramps, driveways and other space for manipulating cars.

This, of course, is a great waste. The architects now are busy devising means of handling the problem more economically. When they do, this new giant industry will go on to an ever greater prosperity.

Bell Forged in Royal Foundries

The University of Santa Clara Mission was recently presented with a bell forged in the royal foundries of Spain. King Alfonso XIII is the donor. For over a hundred years the kings of Spain have presented bells to the Mission at Santa Clara. A Chevrolet coupe is shown in the foreground in front of the Mission.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The first high-powered lobbyist to sway Congress by subtle means was the Rev. Dr. Manasseh Cutler of Massachusetts. The Rev. Dr. Cutler worked on the Continental Congress in 1787 at New York and after bribing influential members with promise of participation in the profits obtained about 5,000,000 acres of the best land in the Northwest Territory, which appears to have cost the promoters about one cent an acre.

He was a man of considerable intellectual attainment and personal charm and he was a fast worker, for he seems to have put the deal over in about three weeks.

The Ohio company, which sent the Rev. Dr. Cutler to New York, was organized by a group of influential New Englanders headed by General Rufus Putnam. It was Cutler's job, first, to obtain passage of an ordinance providing for efficient government of the territory and then to get the land. He won both times.

Nobody Cared About It. This was the first big land deal of the kind ever engineered in Congress, but many more were to follow.

Cutler appears to have been surprised to find a general indifference to his proposal. Some members even suggested that it would be poor business for the infant government, which had at that time not yet obtained ratification of the new constitution.

But puritanical scruples were not allowed to stand in the way and the agreement was soon arrived at. The Rev. Dr. Cutler wrote in his journal:

"We obtained the grant of near five millions of acres... one million and a half of the Ohio company and the remainder for a private speculation, in which many of the principal characters of America are concerned. Without connecting this speculation, similar terms and advantages could not have been obtained for the Ohio company." The price to be paid was some eight or nine cents an acre in specie. The promoters never had any idea of paying actual money. They had bought up the government paper at around 10 cents on the dollar and, they argued, here was a fine chance for Congress to retire some of its obligations.

Members of Congress and the promoters were appointed to govern this land about to be opened up to ex-soldiers and other small settlers who were to provide the real profits. Like the undertaker who married the midwife, this crowd was out to get the population coming and going, for it did not take its own payment for lots in specie.

Cutler had promised General Arthur St. Clair, president of Congress, the salaried governorship of the northwest territory plus some stock in return for his support. Two directors of the Ohio company were made judges and the three men ran the show.

But to return to the Rev. Dr. Cutler—granddaddy of lobbyists. Sessions of Congress were secret then and Cutler was allowed on the floor. Subsequent students expressed amazement at the speed with which the act was passed, but they did not have access to the clergyman's journal.

Somehow or other three new southern members were put on the committee in charge of the act, forming a majority. There is little doubt that Cutler had arranged to stack the committee. The unanimity with which the trio accepted the anti-slavery provisions of the ordinance astonished some contemporary diarists.

Cutler had made the journey in his one-horse sulky and established headquarters at the "Flow and the Harrow" tavern in the Bowery. He stayed in New York only about three weeks before his work was done! He found a ready entree into influential quarters, for he was one of the foremost scientists of his time and had strong backing in addition to being a war chaplain and a director of the Ohio company. Many years ago a eulogistic writer said of him:

"He was a person of stately and elegant form and courtly manners, and at the same time easy, affable and communicative. He was much given to relating anecdotes, and making himself agreeable. His manner particularly impressed the southern members, with whom he chiefly associated... He took delight in the society of beautiful and accomplished women... He needed the votes of the southern members. It was his policy to remain aloof from his northern associates. Northern votes he could get when he needed them. Colonel Carrington, Richard Henry Lee (members of the committee) and Mr. Grayson, all of Virginia, were his warmest friends and confidential advisers.

Made Friends Rapidly. "Dr. Holton, a distinguished member from Massachusetts, said he could not conceive how Dr. Cutler had so soon and so warmly engaged the friendship of members, for since he had been a member of that body he had never known so much attention paid to any one person."

DEL NORTE PREY TO MODERNISM

CRESCENT CITY, Cal., Oct. 19. (United Press).—Civilization positively has arrived in Del Norte most isolated of California's half-hundred counties.

The Lauff hotel, six stories high, has installed an elevator.

Loggers and woodsmen from the redwood area surrounding Crescent City are trooping into town on paydays, seeing the sights and spending their money and winding up with the supreme thrill of a round-trip six story ride in this new contraption.

Crescent City, on the sea near the Oregon line, is almost 100 miles from the nearest railroad terminal. Until lately, travel to San Francisco has been mainly by steamer.

Extension and improvement of the Redwood Highway up the coast from Eureka, through Crescent City and on to connection with the paved Pacific highway in Oregon, is bringing hundreds of tourists through beautiful, rugged Del Norte county for the first time.

The Lauff, a modern structure, built to accommodate the new throng of visitors, enabled the Oldest Inhabitants of Del Norte to throw out their chests by additional yardage when it installed the first elevator in the entire county.

CHEVROLET SIX - the Car of Universal Appeal!

SINCE January 1st, over a million one hundred and thirty-five thousand six-cylinder Chevrolets have been produced. Naturally, this is an outstanding industrial achievement. But it is more than that. It is a great public endorsement of Chevrolet's policy of progress: to build a quality automobile whose design incorporates every possible feature of progressive engineering... whose beauty is distinctive, smart and satisfying... whose reliability is assured by fine materials and precision manufacture... and whose price is so low as to be within reach of the great majority of the people. We want you to know what this policy has meant in the development of the Chevrolet Six—the modern car of universal appeal. We want you to know that Chevrolet has brought within the reach of everybody, everywhere, all the advantages of smooth, six-cylinder performance. Come in today!

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
© 1929 by NEA Service Inc.

Winter is coming! There are many things to prepare for besides the supply of coal and shopping for family overcoats.

Fall is the time to get the family acclimated. It's such a temptation when the first frosty days and nights come to bang down the windows—to stay down all winter except for an inch or two at night—and to seal up our houses hermetically during the day? time so that not a vestige of heat will escape to warm the wide open spaces outside.

We can't get acclimated to winter weather this way, and we can't get the children accustomed to it either. What we are doing by such methods is to start a softening, weakening process that is going to make us camping grounds for all the cold and disease germs on earth.

Ignore Thermometer
In summer, we didn't mind a bit if the children played outside from breakfast till bedtime. In fact, we'd have insisted on it even if they hadn't wanted to.

Just because the thermometer has dropped from 80 to 40 degrees, or something under, is no reason why they should not continue to play outside. The healthiest children are those who play constantly in the open.

Of course, when the air gets very bitter and raw later on, there are several reasons why children cannot spend such long stretches at a time outdoors. But even then, they should have regular open air exercise.

But now, during these mippy fall days, they ought to spend as much time as possible in the open. All day, if they are not in school, won't hurt them.

Without question the fresh air child is less susceptible to winter colds and other results of sudden changes such as we may expect in our north temperate climate.

A lot depends on their clothing, needless to say. There is one law—no, two, for all children's clothing—warm and light. Plain woolen coats, heavy enough to be warm, but not burdensome. Every child should have a light weight raincoat. As these do not give enough heat a warm coat or sweater should be worn underneath on wet days. "Wash" clothes are all right for suits and dresses, for school rooms are warm, but I'd watch the coat. It should be long enough to keep the legs warm too.

Protect Feet From Cold
Shoes should be thick but not too stiff nor too heavy. Soles should be leather, not paper composition, as too many are. Very cheap shoes are usually poor economy. Real leather gives you your money's worth. Watch the soles when they get thin or break. Keep feet as far as possible from damp ground.

Socks are all right now, but later, when the days are freezing cold, I'd use stockings. Doctors tell us it's bad to let one part of the body get too cold while the rest is cozy and warm.

Children when outdoors should be walking or exercising. Indoors let them continue to breathe fresh air by seeing that one window is kept open at each end of the house. There should be a sweep of pure air through the house all the time.

Give them plenty of water to drink. And don't let them stuff on candy and cake. Toughen the family gradually and above all things, don't dig in; then laugh at old King Winter when he starts to make faces.

Hallowe'en Party For Bien Amigos Club

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chapman were host and hostess to a Hallowe'en party given at their home Friday evening, to the members and guests of the Bien Amigos Club.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in true Hallowe'en style. Table covers and tallies were unique and carried out the same spirit.

In the games, high score prize for women went to Mrs. M. L. Layton, and the prize for men was won by C. B. Goodman.

Refreshments of novel design were served to the following members and guests:

Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shields, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Moore, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Bobo, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hodges, Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Ellis, Mrs. M. L. Layton, Mrs. Earnest McKinney and Mr. C. B. Goodman.

The WOMAN'S DAY

By ALLENE SUMNER

Travelers return from China and the Congo with weird tales of the cruelty and torture to women, and we shudder and thank our lucky stars we live in a civilized country.

But if we introduced an unsuspecting savage, or even a hearty cannibal to certain phases of our modern—ultra modern—life, he would probably return to his folk and dwell on the cruelty of the westerner to his women.

What would he think, for instance, if he were taken into our smart, fancy parlors and saw women, apparently chained to the ceiling by the hair of their heads—how would he suspect they were not being punished, but were voluntarily having a permanent wave?

Or if he saw a white-coated man leading a woman with dripping head to a chair between two metal standards, and then turn on two bright hot lamps to beat down on her brain for an hour, would he ever realize that it is by that vicious looking method that she achieves her natural looking finger waves?

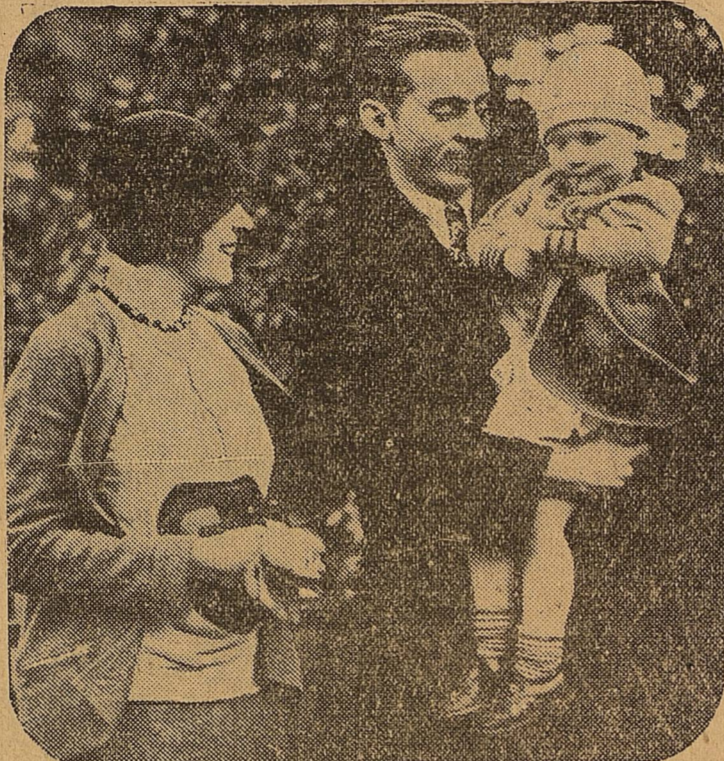

HORRORS
Or, suppose he saw her, stripped to a short chemise, perspiring in one of these belt machines where fat is rubbed off by the friction method, or seated on a revolving barrel, while small revolving rollers wear off the fat where she sits; or then again, suppose he saw her in a steel cage, smilingly, or at least without protest, taking a beating with paddles—would he realize that it was not because she has displeased her lord and master, but to please him that she was suffering thus?

Or, suppose he saw her in a pink walled, blue taffeta curtained cubicle, mysteriously clad in a white sheet, submissively in a chair while a white-uniformed woman standing above her, slapped her neck and chin vigorously for an hour, sometimes with the palm of her hand, and sometimes with a sweater.

How would he be expected to know that she was not suffering retribution for burning the stew or casting a furtive eye at a stranger, but was getting rid of a double chin and a flabby throat by beating it down, literally.

SUFFERING FOR BEAUTY
If there be men who have any illusions about women being the weaker sex, they should never see them while they are being beauti-

When Coolidges Took Care Of Caretaker's Daughter

"Who takes care of the caretaker's daughter when the caretaker's busy taking care?" Well, young John Coolidge, just back from his honeymoon, knew one answer to the riddle, for here, while his pretty bride, the former Florence Trumbull, looks on, you see him holding little June McBirney, daughter of the caretaker of the New Haven, Conn., apartment building in which they live. It looks as though June had a crush on John's hat.

fied, or being reduced. The amount of punishment they will take, without whining, in order to look frail, feminine and helpless, is a revelation. Apparently no torture is too great if it takes off a hip or puts on a curl.

And someone with a fine knowledge of a feminine psychology keeps inventing and putting, onto the market, machines that would have done credit to the Spanish Inquisition.

Which leads one to the inevitable conclusion that all is not torture that punishes the flesh. And perhaps what seems like cruelty among savages, could be just as easily explained, if we know the combination. You need to know why the punishment is inflicted in order to judge.

Cuba Visitors Are Honored At Barbecue At Cloverdale Saturday

Entertaining scores of Midland people Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holmsley and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holmsley gave an old time West Texas barbecue in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Holmsley, who are visiting here from their home in Cuba.

The guests assembled at five o'clock and made merry for several hours on the spacious lawn of the city park. Mrs. W. B. Holmsley, who until her marriage recently had lived in the east, was given a touch of the typical entertainment of the old west; and the occasion was one at which many acquaintances and friendships were made.

Mr. Holmsley, an official of a large sugar refining company in Cuba, greeted many friends whom he had not seen for several years. The barbecue, with its varied and liberal accompanying dishes, proved an admirable feast, depicting the hospitality of the hosts, true westerners.

J. O. Y. Class Stages Contest

The J. O. Y. Class met with their sponsor, Mrs. J. M. White, Friday evening, for a short business session, during which plans were made for the year's work.

Many minor details were attended to, and a commendable feature was arranged, which calls for a host and hostess to be present earlier than the other members each Sunday morning, and see that there are always flowers to brighten the classroom, and that it is in perfect order, as well as to greet the other members as they arrive, and see that any guests are made to feel at home.

There is a contest now being staged between the girls and the boys, using the six point record as a basis. The contest ends the last Sunday before Thanksgiving, and the losing side is to entertain the winning side in some manner. Only a brief lesson study was conducted, as Mrs. White has been ill.

Stork Visits Midland Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Floyd on 815 Outhbert Street are very proud of an addition to their home, by the name of Muriel Adele, who arrived Oct. 15th. The mother is doing very nicely.

Mr. Floyd is a real estate broker in Midland, and both he and his wife are very popular here.

Miss Beulah Bates and Miss Margaret Mahon, both of Ft. Worth, and former T. C. U. students, who are now employed in the Humble offices in McCamey, spent Saturday night in Midland.

Mr. Bud Estes is away on official business in New Orleans and Port Arthur.

Zone Meeting Of Methodist Ladies Proves Successful

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church entertained the Zone Meeting on Friday in an all day session held in the church. Five churches are included in this zone, Rankin, Garden City, McCamey, Big Lake and Midland. On account of bad roads many who were expected from out of town were unable to attend, this interfered with the program in several numbers, but some very interesting papers and talks were given.

Rev. Stanley Haver held the morning devotionals, giving an exposition of the Second Psalm. The Heavenly Song by Gray was very beautifully sung by Mrs. M. F. Peters, accompanied by Mrs. George Glass. Mrs. Mary Bell of Rankin read a most interesting paper on "Social Service, a Practical Expression of the Spirit of Christ." Miss Pearl Smith district secretary gave some helpful advice on various phases of missionary work.

At noon a delightful luncheon was served, buffet style, at the parsonage.

In the afternoon session, Rev. H. H. Washington held the devotional service, his topic was "The Christian's Responsibility for Saving the World." Mrs. F. M. Pratt gave an interesting reading—the "New Style Church."

Business and reports filled the remainder of the afternoon session, closing with a round table discussion led by Mrs. Smith. The next meeting will be with the Garden City Church in January.

The following visitors were noted in the audience, Mesdames, R. L. Butler, V. C. Wiggins, J. B. Russell and A. A. Sanders of Odessa; Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Washington and little daughter Frances, and Mrs. Mary Bell of Rankin; Mesdames E. L. Masters and R. Rattliff of Garden City; Mesdames Harry Anderson and Andrew Faskin of the Presbyterian Auxiliary; and Miss Pearl Smith, district secretary of Eldorado.

Thanks are due the ladies of the local society who so beautifully decorated the churches and parsonage with a profusion of flowers, and to those who prepared and served the very delightful luncheon.

When Love Is Young

By Maud Thomas

WHEN love is young, what a tragedy it is to those who have but lately discovered its sweetness. They're simply crazy over each other, but somehow or other they cannot agree on some things and then—the quarrel. True, it's only a lovers' spat, and oh, how sweet it is "making up." But when there are too many "making up" times, love somehow or other disappears.

No one expects to go through life without misunderstandings and occasional quarrels, but when they get too frequent, then it is truly a tragedy. For each is miserable and unhappy and people who truly love never really quarrel. Love is tolerant, understanding and forgiving, but there's always the breaking point. And when you love, don't put too great a load on Love's shoulders. And don't let too many quarrels mar the happiest days of your life.

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor will present Friday, October 25, a very unusual Hallowe'en Jubilee which will be an interesting and colorful fall feature. The place has been changed from the Masonic Hall to 607 West Wall Street, across the street from Hall and Hejl Service Station. There will be a bazaar of many hand made articles such as pillows, aprons, and other things which will make lovely Christmas gifts. Beautiful Christmas Cards are also to be sold in the booth, in which these things will be on display. The staff of the "Young People's Messenger" will have one of the booths to represent the magazine and obtain subscriptions. A soda pop and sandwich stand

Armida Is Tiny—But You'll Not Forget Her Dancing

By DAN THOMAS HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 20.—The country's movie fans may well begin preparing to welcome a new star to their lists of favorites. A tiny Mexican beauty who goes by the name of Armida, featured in a number of new Vitaphone productions, seems destined to make a speedy raid on the hearts of moving picture patrons. She is just a wee bit less than five feet tall and she weighs precisely 100 pounds—but she is one of the most engaging dancers ever to appear on the super sheet. Armida was discovered by Gus Edwards. She danced for him for some time in west coast theaters, and then landed a movie contract. Her first important role came in John Barrymore's newest picture, "General Crack." Immediately after it was completed she was given a good part in "Under a Texas Moon." Watch out for Armida. Unless we're greatly mistaken, you're going to see a lot more of her in the next few years.

the dress of the ones who take part in the Jubilee. The proceeds of the Hallowe'en Jubilee will go toward the purchase of a bulletin board for the First Presbyterian Church, and a part will be used to send a group of boys and girls to represent the Midland Church at the Kerrville Presbyterian encampment, at Kerrville next summer.

Peter Tom of Lubbock was in Midland on business Friday. Chas. Brown and wife of Cisco were in Midland Saturday.

Miss Mable Gamble, who is employed by Hyatt, Mims and Crane, of Midland, left for Dallas Friday evening. She will meet her mother there and they plan to attend the Fair.

Emily Flanigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Flanigan of this city, who is attending Texas Technological College at Lubbock, is home for the week end. Two of her school mates are with her.

Mrs. George Abell Honored

A birthday party in honor of Mrs. George Abell was given in the lovely home of Mrs. Jack Hazelthine, Friday evening, when she entertained the honoree and a few friends.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with red roses and tall red tapers placed here and there. A tasty buffet supper was served to the guests seated around the fireplace, and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinkle received the trophy for the couple holding the highest score.

Many lovely gifts were tendered Mrs. Abell after the guests had partaken of their after dinner coffee.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Yeager, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Finlayson, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Abell.

After the short business session, Mrs. Ligon served dainty refreshments to the following:

Mesdames D. M. Ellis, M. L. Layton, J. C. Hudman, Fred Ellis, N. M. Robertson, C. C. Hiett, and Bob Osborne.

Martha Fidelis Class Meets For Business

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

By DOROTHY HERZOG HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—The curious quirks in characters. Take Rudy Vallee—it being Monday and no one disagreeing, Vallee is something of a celebrity worshipper which may listen contradictory, in view of his own popularity as radio, band leader, night club and movie star. But he is.

Shortly before he departed for New York, he trekked to the Santa Fe station to see a friend off. It so happened that Lenore Ulric was also leaving. Vallee spotted her. He asked a chap he knew and who also knew Ulric to introduce him. "Introduce me as Mr. Jones," he begged.

So the chap did. Miss Ulric took one look at him and laughed. "Mr. Jones? Go on, Rudy, I know you!"

Another favorite Vallee outdoor sport (not that the above sample is necessarily confined to the outdoor category) was toting a camera around and taking pictures of flick celebs. Vallee conceived a brilliant tableau for one snapshot. All by himself, he did. There's a wooden cannon on the Famous lot. Rudy had Buddy Rogers stand in back of it, as though he were going to pull the trigger, while he and Mary stood in front, embracing fondly. That was one snap. Cute?

So It Goes Whilst at Malibu, Corinne Griffith was visited by an enormous Canine that decided to adopt her. The decision was mutual. "Twas a very dirty dog, sort of a cross between a Collie and a Big Dane. So dirty, indeed, that the servants balked at giving it a bath. Corinne sent it to the dog cleaner. That cost seven bucks. But did the job, for the animal revealed itself quite a shaggy old fellow. Its appetite was in keeping with its bulk. Ate a dollar's worth of meat daily. One morn, Corinne awoke to discover the dog gone. The most Sherlock Holmes of searches cast no light on the where or how.

Corinne was disconsolate. Her husband, Walter Morosco, didn't know what to do about matters until Corinne confessed she'd like a bicycle. "Walter takes the car to town daily. Their other bus is in the Bev Hills' home. Should Miss Griffith decide to stroll to the Commissary up the Malibu Road a piece, she has to walk. Ergo, Walter bought her a bicycle and in the excitement of learning bike balance again, she's stopped regretting the dog. Corinne hails from Texas, so I reckon she rode a bike in the short dress age.

Whoops! It concerns a girl who modeled for Neysa McMein, w. k. artist. She did seem so terribly weary this partik morn. After the upny umph yawn, Miss McMein asked: "Tired, dear."

"Yes," sighed the model. "I don't get enough sleep. I'm on the stage at night and get up early in the morning to model." "I didn't know you were on the stage," eyebrowed Miss McMein. "Oh, yes," yawned the model. "I'm the tassel on George White's curtain!"

Fay Triumphs At the Masquers, Bert Wheeler traipsing in an act when Frank Fay walked out on the stage; one word leading to another, Bert said: "Think you're funny, don't you?" Frank fussed with his cuffs, "I think so," modestly.

Frank smiled benignly: "I think so." "Try and get a laugh now," Wheeler challenged. Frank drew his arm back and slapped Bert a resounding slap to the cheek. The audience roared. Frank smiled sweetly and walked off the stage. Ah, these boys...

vestibules to right and left. These windows extend back to a partition running the width of the building. Staircases run to the two balconies.

The $4,000 Gulf filling station, being done in dark red brick and tile, is rapidly nearing the stage where its walls and columns will be up; the Texas company station, erected at a cost of $5,000, has opened for business at Wall and A streets. It is built of brick veneer.

Construction is to begin on the $9,000 Continental Oil station at West Wall and Marrenfield within a few days. This will be a modern station in every detail.

Cragin and Son will open a model home today on Kansas street, a five-room brick veneer residence which has unique construction throughout, including two floor levels, and imported wall paper.

Building permits for the week were $3,200, reports from the city hall gave out. This swelled the yearly total to $832,470. This, experts say, shows an index of construction in Midland which augurs well for the future, distinctly opposed to figures which indicate a "boom" town.

Mrs. Allen Connell was in Midland shopping Friday.

Buddy Hall of this city left for Ft. Worth Friday to attend the T. C. U.-A. & M. game there Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas of Midland left for a business trip to Ft. Worth Saturday. They expect to be gone a week.

Mrs. J. J. Hankla was confined to her home by "flu" the past week.

Sanitation Officer Praised By Sellman

Inspector Sellman of the state health department said when in Midland the latter part of the week that his second visit here incident to sanitation had revealed to him the thoroughness of the work of Sanitation Officer Norwood.

"There is scarcely a town the size of Midland in the state which has shown a better record for consideration of its health problems," Sellman said. "Much of the success of the movement instituted here for conformity to health laws is to be attributed to the county health board, also," he said.

AN ORDINANCE

An ordinance of the City of Midland regulating the movement and stopping of vehicles of all kinds at certain designated intersections where traffic stop signs are located and where they may be located in the future; repealing all other ordinances in conflict therewith; and creating an emergency.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Midland:

SECTION 1. Vehicles of all kinds, before entering into the streets named below at the intersections as designated herein, where traffic stop signs are located, and at points where traffic stop signs may be located in the future, must come to a full and complete stop:

Main Street at Missouri Avenue, west approach; Main Street at Wall Street, east and west approach; Main Street at Texas Avenue, east and west approach; Texas Avenue at Loraine Street, north and south approach.

The term "vehicle" as used herein includes every automobile, wagon, carriage, omnibus, motorcycle, bicycle, and every other vehicle whether propelled by motor power, main power, horse power or by any other means.

SECTION 2. Any person who shall violate this ordinance, shall upon conviction, be punished by a fine in any sum not to exceed One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars.

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall also apply to any other street intersections and other points where traffic stop signs may be located in the future.

SECTION 4. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance or any part thereof are hereby repealed.

SECTION 5. The fact that there exists an urgent need for more adequate traffic control to protect the lives and property of the citizens of the City of Midland, creates an emergency, and imperative public necessity that the rule requiring that ordinances be read on three several days be suspended and the same is done, and this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage as provided by law, and it is so ordained.

Passed and approved this 15th day of October, A. D. 1929.

Come To Midland For Their Shopping

"Why certainly, we come to Midland to do our shopping," said two pretty steers from the Humble office in McCamey. "Who doesn't?"

The two girls, Beulah Bates and Margaret Mahon, were formerly co-eds at TCU, Fort Worth, where both live.

"We find that what one wants may be bought in Midland as well as in Dallas or Fort Worth—and just as reasonable," the girls said.

Both stated wonder at the steady growth of Midland, even "though we have heard the name of your little city used as a by-word ever since we have been in the West Texas Permian Basin."

MIDLAND HELPLESS BEFORE RUNNING ATTACK OF LAMESA TEAM

Baylor, T. C. U. and Texas Win Games and Loom as Best in Southwest

STANTON WINS AGAIN; DISTRICT HAS NARROWED DOWN TO PECOS; RANKIN AND STANTON

Lamesa ran true to form Friday and beat the Midland high school team 32-6, Midland's touchdown resulting from an intercepted pass in midfield.

The only colorful thing about the game from the Midland angle was the number of fans who went along, 150 of them, and the fight of the Midland line. This fight was at times spectacular.

Although Midland was outplayed at every point of the game and looked like weaklings beside the Tornados of Lamesa, the eleven gave Lamesa the stiffest bit of opposition encountered by the McCollum men this season, the touchdown marking the second scored against them.

While Midland was losing, Stanton, tamer of the dogs two weeks ago, 15-0, entertained Pyote to a merciless 38-0 refrain.

Odessa was idle over the weekend because of injuries.

As a result of the games over the week, it seems fairly reasonable to say that the district championship will lie between Stanton, Rankin and Pecos, with Pecos a more or less unknown quantity.

Other teams look weak when compared to these three.

STANTON DEFEATS PYOTE
STANTON, Tex., Oct. 18.—Stanton strengthened their hold on the district championship here today by giving Pyote a sound licking to the tune of 38 to 0.

The game was played in Pyote territory and Stanton used only straight football, only using two passes. One was incomplete and the other was good for a touchdown.

Gene Parks led the scoring with three touchdowns. Robertson was credited with two and Epley one. The extra points were made. One was passed, Pollock receiving the pass and the other was bucked over by Hawkins.

The entire Stanton team played heads-up football, running perfect interference and the Stanton line held the Pyote lads to a standstill.

Coach Irwin used the entire team with the exception of Henson who was out with an injured leg. He will be in condition for the Pecos game next week end.

The reserves that were used in the Pyote game showed the same fight and aggressiveness that the regulars have shown in all games played this season, they continued the scoring and the Pyote team was turned back in the same manner as when the regulars were in the game.

New Sensation

"I caught the ball, saw a clear path to the goal line and ran," is the way Rolf Carlsen, Pennsylvania's sophomore halfback, described his 96-yard jaunt for a touchdown after receiving the Franklin and Marshall kickoff in Pennsylvania's opening game of the season.

The Quakers won, 14 to 7, so Carlsen's ability to discern the "clear path to the goal line," in spite of 11 F. and M. players, was quite a decisive factor in determining the winner.

Each new season finds a first-year man snatching the football spotlight. Others who have climbed to the heights in one or two games are Chris Cagle of the Army, Al Marsters of Dartmouth, Pest Welch of Purdue, Stumpy Thomason of Georgia Tech, Cannonball Crabtree of Florida, and Mick McEver of Tennessee.

In "River of Romance," as Rogers' father Walthall is the stately military man who considers his honor gone because his son, who had been reared in the East since boyhood, refused to comply with the Southern code and fight a duel with a jealous rival.

Mary Brian has the feminine lead as Lucy, Walthall's youngest ward. June Collyer is the elder ward, who seeks the heart of the handsome Rogers but who forsakes their love when Rogers disappears after failing to fight the duel.

Wallace Beery plays the blustery, sympathetic good-bad gambler who helps Rogers to come back as the mysterious Col. Blake and win the love of Lucy.

Continuation of work established for the future in Midland through the impetus of the Rayburn revival, held in Midland recently, will be taken up this afternoon at 2:30 when laymen of the city churches meet at the Methodist church.

Prayer offering and discussion of resumption of work left off after the close of the revival will be in order by Chairman W. I. Pratt.

Laymen To Meet This Afternoon

TCU COMES FROM BEHIND; BAYLOR IS MASTER PORKERS; TEXAS TRIMS OKLAHOMA AT FAIR

DALLAS, Oct. 19.—(P)—Baylor, Texas university and Texas Christian university stood out tonight as early leaders in the Southwest conference race, with Arkansas definitely regulated to second division under two defeats, and the Texas Aggies only a step above them.

SMU and Rice Institute still hold the sidelines, not having soiled their jerseys in a conference tilt.

Texas Christian university and Baylor showed their expected strength when they downed the Aggies and Arkansas respectively. Texas, the only other team in the conference which has won a conference game, entertained the State Fair crowd at Dallas by defeating Oklahoma University, 21-0.

Arkansas, after its defeat by Texas university last week, fought gamely to overcome Baylor, but the Bears showed a more profitable offensive and won, 31-20.

TCU came from behind at Fort Worth to defeat A. & M., 13-7. It was the fifth consecutive reversal the Christians have handed the Farmers, and solved the problem of comparative strength of the two elevens in what was considered the principal game of the week.

"Yes, I'm Married," Says Society Editor

Virginia Walthall Warren, society editor of The Reporter-Telegram, is married. Mrs. Warren says so herself.

The statement came in response to questions resulting from Mrs. Warren's acceptance of a role in the Little Theater.

Although stories in the Midland daily said Mrs. Warren is married, stories signed by her have carried the by-line of Virginia Walthall Warren.

"The by-line did two things—one of them all right and the other, well, not so good. By use of the by-line an old friend called to find out if it were the daughter of the Reverend P. W. Walthall, pastor of the First Christian church, Eastland. Then, there were those who got the idea that I am unmarried."

and talent. Mrs. Peters who comes here from Ranger, where she worked with the Little Theater and also taught voice, is also a new member and quite an addition to the organization in Midland. Mrs. Peters carries with much grace and poise the part of Mrs. Simmons, one of the leading roles of the play.

FLIES DAILY THROUGH MIDLAND, PILOT ONCE HAD THRILL OF FLYING INTO 90 MILE WIND WITHOUT LIGHT, COMPASS

Home Rador, who is now a pilot on the Dallas-El Paso passenger line of the Southern Air Transport System, and landed near the Midland airport in the fog Saturday, flew the first night air mail from Cincinnati when the airway was unlighted and when the darkness was not even relieved by a light on his instrument board. He had never flown the route before, there was a 90-mile headwind, the thermometer stood at zero and his motor was water cooled!

Many a pilot on those first night mail routes had adverse factors to fight, but his friends say that Rador had about all the adverse conditions possible that night.

Through some slip in the arrangements, the time for the inauguration of the line came before Rador was given an opportunity to fly over the route. The schedule was so arranged that the pilot had about one hour of flying time before dark.

On this first trip, Rador started out with a ship powered with an aircooled engine. He had flown only a little way before the engine blocked a valve and he was forced to return and grab another plane posthaste. The only one available was one with a water-cooled motor.

The thermometer was at zero—not the best time to fly with a water-cooled motor—but the air mail could not fall on its first schedule. So Rador had the mechanics cover the radiator and took off, just twenty minutes before dark.

The ship had no lights of any sort—no landing lights and not even lights for the instrument board. The pilot had a flashlight, but it had never been used before and proved to be an eccentric affair and blinked and blinked and finally went out altogether. Just before he was left in the dark, he observed that the oil pressure was falling off and at length went out entirely. The mechanics had forgotten to cover the oil radiator and it had frozen! Even if the motor kept going—which it probably would not do—he had only a four hour supply of gasoline.

Home thinks he might have considered landing in a situation like that—schedule or no schedule—but there was no place to land as far as he could see. A faint glow below, made by lights of cars on a road, showed occasionally. That was the only break in the steady gloom, but he decided to leave his course, which by the way, he couldn't follow anyway, because he couldn't see the compass—and try to pick up a beacon on the transcontinental route away to the north.

After flying for some time against the heavy head-wind, he finally sighted one of the beacons flashing a guiding finger across the sky and settled into an emergency landing field just as the motor was beginning to pound alarmingly. Clad still in his winter flying suit and moccasins, he went into Chicago, got another plane and completed his run.

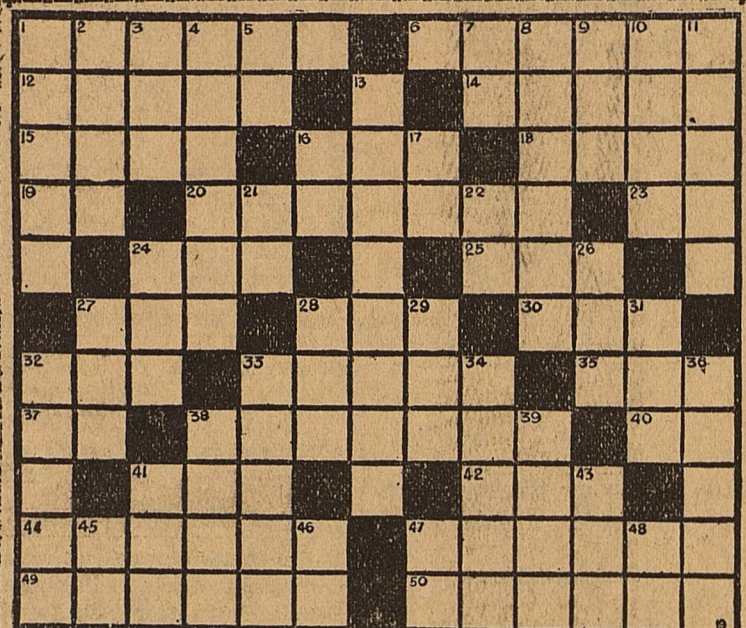

Rador had been studying mechanical engineering in Ohio State University, when he decided he wanted to learn to fly. He enlisted in the army in 1924 and received training in flying at Brooks and Kelly Fields.

After he finished at Kelly he started barnstorming, the inevitable episode in the careers of all early fliers. But unlike most of the fliers, Rador "struck it lucky." Except for a few months when he first started, Rador found barnstorming exceedingly lucrative. He was connected with a University Flying Circus, composed entirely of college men. That fact must have given the circus a peculiar appeal. Rador said, for it was successful. He first came to Midland about this time, hopping passengers.

From summer to summer, this circus toured the middle west, visiting all the colleges. It covered the same territory a second time frequently and was as successful as on the first visit.

Rador did a lot of the stunting for the circus, and, according to his friends, was one of the most

Mrs. Abell Directing Notable Play— "The Whole Town's Talking," A Comedy

"The Whole Town's Talking" was not only written but directed by John Emerson. Emerson is president of the Actor's Equity Association of America, and is universally recognized as one of the ablest directors of our day, both in pictures and the spoken drama. His direction of this play is one of his notable achievements.

Midland Little Theater's director Mrs. George Abell has undertaken to reproduce "The Whole Town's Talking," in every detail as nearly as possible as it was first played in New York. The New York cast: Henry Simmons, a manufacturer, James Bradbury, Harriet Simmons, his wife—Lucia Moore, Ethel Simmons, their daughter—June Bradley, Chester Binney, Simmons' partner—Grant Mitchell, Letty Luthe, motion picture star—Catherine Owen, Donald Swift, a motion picture director—Harold Salter, Roger Shields, young Chicago blood—Gefald Smith.

Schools, Inc. a division of the Southern Air Transport system, he trained students in Austin for several years. The best of the pilots trained during a winter went on the tour the next summer.

In 1927 Rador went to Cincinnati to fly for the Embry-Riddle company, which is now, like Southern Air Transport, a subsidiary of the Aviation Corporation. He flew a passenger line and instructed students on the side.

In his instruction, he set a record which associate pilots declare has never been equalled. The University at Cincinnati was conducting a contest to determine how soon a student could learn to fly. Rador soloed a boy in one day!

Later that year the pilot started the air mail route from Cincinnati to Chicago and had the outstanding experience, as far as thrills and chills go, of his whole flying career.

After some months on the night mail, he returned to Austin to instruct again in the University School of Aeronautics and then came with Texas Air Transport, Inc., to fly the mail. The same determination to keep the mail going that he demonstrated on that first trip made him fly the mail over the unlighted airways of Texas during many a stormy day and part of the night of that first hard winter.

As soon as the passenger lines of the T. A. T. Flying Service were established, he was transferred to that division of the Southern Air Transport system.

Lila Wilson, Violet Dunn, friends of Ethel, Sally Otis, Alice Dunn, Annie, a maid—Elinor Kennedy, Sadie Bloom—Gean Green, Taxi Driver—Ellsworth Jones, Anita Loos as co-author, contributed many clever lines which have never failed to bring laughs wherever played. Miss Loos will be remembered for her brilliant success as the authoress of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" later followed by "But Marry Brunettes."

able and daring stunt pilots in the country. Today he does not stunt. And even a better pilot than he was then—because he has had hundreds of hours experience since that time—he flies the passenger line day after day and occasionally pilots a ship on a pleasure hop of his own designing, without ever executing a single unnecessary maneuver.

"In those days," Rador says in giving his views on the subject, "flying was all exhibition work. Stunting was a part of the game. Today it is serious, practical business and no pilot has a right to hazard lives by stunting."

On the tours he did all sorts of "haywire" flying. "You know, I've done quite a bit for aviation," Home said, facetiously. "I helped a lot of towns decide they needed laws against low flying. Abilene is one of the towns that passed regulations immediately after our visit there."

When the University Flying Circus went into "winter quarters," the pilots trained students at the University of Texas. Associated with Jerry Marshall, who is now general manager of the S. A. T. Flying

A DATE WITH ENGLAND'S SECOND LADY SHOWS THAT SHE IS A VITAL, BREATHING ESSENCE OF SPORTSMANSHIP

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—"She's very much like an American college girl—sort of serious but interested in everything, and intelligent—good company, knows her stuff, and always looks nice but doesn't seem to be thinking about herself or how she looks."

That was the impression Isabel MacDonald made on a Columbia college student, Horace E. Anderson, whose privilege it was to "date" Britain's Second Lady to a football game, and to dance with her at the ball given in her honor by the Henry Street Settlement, with which he also is connected.

"The outstanding thing about her is her intense interest in social work," he said. "On our way up to Baker Field for the game, which she always called a 'match,' she was asking questions, and taking notes about our methods of social service."

True Football Fan
"At the game she was interested in the crowds, and in the spectacle generally, as well as the play. She sat bareheaded, completely absorbed, following every move alertly. Though she had seen few football 'matches,' she knew the rules perfectly, and thought it much easier to follow than rugby, the English equivalent."

"Nothing delighted her more than the cheer leaders. Organized rooting was new to her, because, she said, in England, though everyone shouts and yells, there is no directed and staged enthusiasm."

"She expressed her regret that she would not be able to see one of the big league baseball games. When she was over here before, she became very much interested in indoor baseball, and played it several times herself, and she could visualize what a star like Babe Ruth could do on a diamond."

She's No Wall Flower
Miss MacDonald is a charming dancing partner, and a decided success in the ball room, according to Anderson.

"She is an excellent dancer, and seems to be enjoying herself every minute," he said. "There is a vivacious about her that makes her distinctive. Yet she is not the least frivolous or artificial."

"What impressed me particularly about her was her adaptability, and

It was all very interesting for Isabel MacDonald, right, as she watched Columbia trounce Wesleyan 52 to 0 in a football game. There was a thrill in it too for Horace Anderson, left, a college student, for he it was who had the date with Britain's "Second Lady."

the range of her interests. She could be interested in a game one moment, and in two settlement house kids the next. She was always poised, but utterly devoid of pose."

Miss MacDonald, he said, side-stepped motors every chance she could, and always wanted to know if one couldn't walk to a given destination.

Enjoyed Fall Weather
After a round of diplomatic and social affairs, Miss MacDonald was delighted to spend her last full day in America quietly, a guest at the Westport estate of Miss Lillian Wald, who is head of the Henry Street Settlement.

A drive through the Connecticut Hills, resplendent in russet and gold, and a canoe ride when she and her father each worked a paddle—and got the boat stuck in the mud—and a tramp through the woods were a part of the day's entertainment.

Later in the day, negro singers came to the house and sang spirituals for the Prime Minister and his daughter, something both of them had expressed a desire to hear. Incidentally, it is said that Isabel fell so hard for Rudy Valee's singing that she played one of his records nine times in one evening.

Italian Duce Asked Make Skirts Longer

ROME, Oct. 19.—(UP)—The men of Italy plan to ask Premier Mussolini to do something about making women wear more clothes.

Although the Pope has condemned immodesty in dress and Queen Helena heads a campaign to the same end, the Italian women need the edict of Il Duce to make them lengthen their skirts, the men believe.

Roberto Lops, prefect of Verona, which is the headquarters of the national committee for propriety in women's dress, soon will submit to Mussolini a national petition signed by thousands of men in all social classes requesting adoption of measures checking what is termed the over-increasing "indecent" of women's fashions.

The petition will ask that Mussolini give the final word toward complying with the wishes of hundreds of thousands of the "best men in Italy" who desire to restore moral values within the family. The premier's order would be obeyed unhesitatingly by the women, the request will say.

The committee recently issued again its rules for "indecent dress," which provides that dresses must not be cleaving, transparent or low-cut, that elbows must be covered, that flesh colored stockings must go, and that girls' skirts must cover the knee and skirts for women and young ladies must extend below the calf.

Cave Encountered In Edwards Test

BIG SPRING, Oct. 19.—A cave at 45 feet forced Glasscock brothers to run surface casing at 170 feet in their No. 1 W. P. Edwards which was spudded late last week. The well is 350 feet from the south line and 1,650 feet from the east line of section 18, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. survey, Glasscock county. The well is approximately 2 3/4 miles west of the nearest production.

The bull continued to paw the earth but he advanced no nearer the bright red canoe which protected a nervous fisherman.

Warily approaching the bull Haws found the animal was securely chained.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS THAT WTCC OPERATION BE CHANGED

Changes in the internal operation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will come before the eleventh general convention of the regional organization at El Paso this week. The convention dates are October 24, 25, 26. A complete revision of the by-laws is coming before the board of directors—the work of a committee of three appointed at the Coleman district meeting in July of 1928. Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls, is chairman of the committee, and his colleagues are O. P. Thrane, Snyder, and E. L. Penick, Stamford.

"General Tightening"

In working out the revision, the committee sought to attain a general tightening of the West Texas Chamber's operation. The general manager—a new one is to be named at El Paso to succeed Homer D. Wade—is given somewhat less authority than Wade and his predecessor, Porter A. Whaley, had; while the board of directors is given more. Affairs really will be directed by an executive committee of five, named by the board.

A change is also proposed as to financing. In place of the old indiscriminating manner of soliciting ten-dollar memberships here, there and everywhere, the committee proposes the setting up of a uniform unit standard, the executive committee making estimates of proper amounts the various units shall contribute on the basis of population, assessed valuation and other resources; such estimates to be subject to revision by appeal to the board of directors. It is proposed that membership dues shall be based on the financial ability of the proposed member, but never to be under $10 per member, payable annually in advance.

Budget and Audit
Section 5 of the revision says it shall be the duty of the executive committee, together with the general manager, to submit a proposed detail budget, prior to the annual membership convention; that an annual audit shall be made by a certified public accountant and brought to the convention; and that the organization's fiscal year shall end as of May 1 each year.

It is proposed also that: The President, vice-presidents, treasurers and general manager shall be elected by the board of directors by ballot form; The general manager shall have power to appoint and dismiss all employees, but the number of employees, and their salaries, shall be fixed by the board of directors; All employees handling funds of the organization shall be bonded.

Big Spring Pastor Sees Miracle Come

TROUP, Tex., Oct. 19.—(UP)—In view of events that have transpired in the past few weeks the Rev. R. L. Owen, pastor at Big Spring, is inclined to believe in present-day miracles.

The Rev. Owen had been waging a heroic fight for a new church but despite his efforts little progress was being made. Times were hard and the money necessary to construct the new church was not forthcoming. Just when the situation looked the dreariest and the new church seemed a remote possibility indeed, one of the members of Owen's congregation struck oil on his property. He soon donated $30,000 and this, coupled with sums advanced by others of the congregation, made the building fund complete and the new church became a reality.

You're out-of-date without an EIGHT!

On every hand you hear people talking Eights. And, what is more convincing, you see them buying Eights.

In 43 states,* for the first seven months of this year, new car registrations above $1000 showed a 94 per cent increase in Eights—an 18 per cent decrease in Sixes. (Five states do not compile registrations by engine types)

Every fine car in America is an Eight. In fact, 41 per cent of all makes of American cars today are Eights.

Is it any wonder that thousands intending to buy new Sixes are hesitating?

What is a Six going to bring in next year's trade-in markets? How can it possibly measure up in value with an Eight? Those are the questions that every thinking motorist is asking himself.

For, right now, at the price of a Six, you can buy a brilliant new Studebaker Eight. A champion Studebaker Eight with all the extra power, extra smoothness, extra flexibility and extra value that only an Eight can give.

An Eight built by Studebaker, now enjoying its 77th successful year—now the largest producer of Eight-cylinder cars in the world. An Eight by Studebaker, holder of 11 world records of speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other cars combined.

Choose an Eight from the three great Studebaker lines of Eights now available at new low One-Price prices. Your car will be worth more a year from now if it's an Eight.

*In Texas, Eights increased 60 per cent while Sixes declined 20 per cent.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST COMING TO GRISSOM-ROBERTSON

Miss Lillie Mae Smith, representing Dorothy Perkins Toiletries, will be at Grissom-Robertson Co. next week.

Miss Smith is a graduate beauty specialist, and has wide experience in beauty culture.

A private booth has been installed in the store where ladies may go for consultation with the specialist and for treatments if it is desired. She will gladly make telephone appointments with any one who desires to consult her.

No charge is made for these consultations, Mr. Barron having made special arrangements whereby customers and users of the Dorothy Perkins toilet articles may be given expert advice without cost, and where others may be made acquainted with the excellence and wide range of variety of the Dorothy Perkins line.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity to consult with a competent specialist as to their peculiar cosmetic and beauty culture needs.

OCTOBER

There is a keen tang in the air, A sense of buoyance everywhere, A waking thrill, a note of cheer, That tells us dear old October's here.

The cotton fields, as white as snow, The pumpkins with their golden glow, The waving field of ripened corn, All usher in October's morn.

Anon Jack Frost, the subtle king, His mantle o'er earth shall fling, Which gleaming in the morning sun, Shall proclaim verdure's race is run.

Then from the trees the sere leaves fall, With eddying gusts to cover all The flowers and grass from snow and rain, Till springtime wakens them again.

Now children's voices fill the air, A school day o'er and, free from care, They sing and dance in happy mood, And roam through brown October wood.

They gather nuts, they laugh and shout, They from his nest the squirrel rout, And chase him, as in terror, he Leaps for his life from tree to tree.

Now, for the fitting closing theme, October ends with Hallowe'en, When spooks galore are everywhere, They stroll the streets, they're in the air.

They walk beside, behind, before, They peek at you beside the door,
