Several East Texas counties are operating under the "Optional County Road Law" which provides for a unified county road department, or under special laws of almost identical provisions. In the main, these counties report success It should be stated that the counties mentioned below apparently had a more sharp division along precinct operation lines than does Howard County; hence are finding marked changes. The fact remains that they are reporting economy, efficiency, and more roads under a ecordinated program, and it is reasonable to believe that the same could be attained by Howard county, if a unified road department is given the support it is entitled to. PANOLA RECOMMENDATION

Writes County Judge Wm. J. Merrill of Panola County, of which Carthage is the county seat:

"I unhestitatingly recommend the adoption of this road law in any county in the state. A simple reading of its provisions wil convince anyone that it provides for a unified, business-like method of operation of the county's road and bridge department.

"For this sytem of operation to are necessary: (1) All four commissioners and the county judge spirit; (2) the people of the entire county must be informed and edtion set forth in the law. A desire ucated to the principles of operaof a commissioner to keep control of his portion of the road equipment in order that he may accomodate his constituents hinders the operation of the law. Abolition Of Fee System Is Due Favorable Vote Tuesday

The method of compensating all dis- to make the change, enough of them that triet and county officers is involved in one of the important constitutional amend- be affected. ments on the general election ballot next Tuesday. This is proposition No. 6, on which voters will vote for or against "providing that all sheriffs, constables, députy constables and other law enforcement officers shall be compensated on a salary basis."

The fee system has been thoroughly threshed out in times past, and on the whole, Texas counties have gotten away

Under present constitutional provisions however, all counties under 20,000 population are allowed to pay the constables, deputies and other authorized officers on a fee system. This makes it necessary for these officers to make arrests before they receive any compensation, and of it is only natural that some injustices, and some abuses have arisen.

In justice to the general public, we think the amendment should be adopted, amendments. Others will follow in subse-

the welfare of the people as a whole would

Under the proposals, arrests and resulting fines would be deposited in a county fund to pay the salaries of the officers, which would assure the cost of this phase of the county government would still be borne by law violators.

The amendment would not disturb a fee compensation system to precinct and county offices which are non-law enforcement positons, such as public weighers, county surveyors and notaries public.

It is The Herald's view that the state and county governmental system will fare better if the fee system is abolished completely, as far as peace officers are concerned, and this amendment makes such abolition possible. A vote "for" this amendment No. 6 is advocated.

(This is the sixth in a series of editorials on the proposed state constitutional because many rural counties would have quent issues of The Herald).

First Nighters Can Ruin A Good Play With Antics

NEW YORK-Ever been to a Broadway warehouse within the week, but the kinsas their favorite nieces and nephews, sons and daughters come on stage?

These umbilical segments of an audience can actually ruin a good play on the first night. I've been at the premiere a maid in a brief walk-on during the last act was greeted on her belated appearance with hand-clapping from about six relatives out front which almost crippled the plot beyond hope.

The stars, naturally, are welcomed to the stage with usually a spontaneous exhibition, and the doting mamas and avuncular dopes whose relatives have tiny parts apparently refuse to have the star get away with such pre-play approval. That the featured folk on stage are greeted thus because of the audience's appreval of past productions doesn't seem to enter their minds nor deter them from the swift depletion of whatever action is proceeding on stage. A few evenings ago I attended an opening wherein a young lady came on stage in the closing act. Things were batting along badly enough as it was, and anyone in the audience with a grain of theatrical sense knew it was a likely case for the

They apparently had read the play script, for they huddled together, probably arranging signals for the planned disof a taut drama wherein a lady playing play. They watched the door at the side of the set instead of the action. The crucial moment arrived. The girl stepped in, her first appearance in a Broadway play. She looked in dismay at the star, sneaked a frightened peek at the first rows, and her claque of relatives beat a sectional rattle of applause. This shattered her even more. Suddenly you could hear a sibilant whisper from the wings.

The prompter tossed her the line. The girl nodded, and in a monotone delivered her soliloguy. It was awful; embarrassing, ameteurish, downright disgraceful. But the aunties and uncles in the congregation beamed. Their little Duse had done it. I'd like to bet she won't do it again.

Rosalind Courtright, sharing starring honors at the fashionable Persian Room of the Plaza Hotel with Dancer Paul Draper, might have the West Coast rights to a story about Ernie Byfield, who runs the Ambassador Hotel in Chicago.

"My father used to run the Sherman Hotel," he explained the straight-faced Ernest. "One day he met me in the lobby and took a liking to me!"

The fair Rosalind may own California rights to this little story by virtue of the fact that her husband is Hernando Courtright, owner of the smart Beverly Hills Hotel in Hollywood.

Trouble is, Hernando, who hadn't previously expressed any wild desire to have his wife warbling on his popular premises, now would like it. But he can't engage the busy Mrs. Courtright for another year. With a little pull, which hasn't been successful so far, he may get her to star in his hotel's supper room before the ned of 1949. Illionois' Hard-Hitting Douglas Gets It From Left And Right Wing

The other day, GOP Congressman Fred Busbey, one of the Chicago Tribune's trained seals, unleased a diatribe at Douglas calling him a left-winger, a friend of the Commies, and about could think of. The blast was so unfair that Busbey's patron saint, the Tribune, published an editorial halfway apologising for its congressman. .

Meanwhile Douglas is getting it in the neck from the other side. Several months ago, before Douglas entered the senatorial race. Bill Miller, Wallaceite leader of the Progressive Party, approached Jake Arvey, Demcratic leader of Chicago, with a proposal to run no Wallace candidates auginst local Democratic candidates.

GOOD MEN "You've got some pretty good men running." Miller told Arvey. "and we''ll support 'em. But we want to know whom you're going to run for the Senate. If it's Douglas we won't deal."

"Why not?" asked Arvey. Miller hestitated. "we don't like him," he said. 'Well what's wrong with him?"

Arvey persisted. "He's a Red baiter," replied the leading Wallacite. "He's always talking about the danger of communism. In the end Arvey told Miller Douglas would stay in the race, so the deal was off. Real truth is that Douglas is feared and hated by the extreme leftwingers because he knows their game. Enlisting as a private in the Marine Corps at the age of 50, Douglas rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel, was wounded. had a magnificent record, a former Chicago University professor and member of Chicago's city council, he stands head and shoulders shead of the Chicago

Tribune's Sen. Curley Brooks. NOTE- A lot of people are going to split their ballots in Illinois and other midwest states next week. GILLETTE MAKES COMEBACK

Back in 1938, Harry Hopkins, son of an Iqwa harness-maker and right-bower to FDR, flashed the signal that his chief in the White House would oppose the democratic senator from Iowa for re-election.

The senator in question, silver crested Guy Gillette, had opposed many Roosevelt policies and was put first on the list for FDR's famous purge.

Result: Iowans, boiling mad, went out of their way to renominate Gillette. Later Guy, a Democrat, became the victim of Iowa's normal Republican swing, and went back to his fields of corn and his front porch. Today, with no machine to support him, little money, and a weak candidate at the head of the ticket, Gillette appears to be staging a come-

With the stamina of a truck driver, he has piloted his own car all over the state, talking wherever there is a crowd, indoors or out.

Iowans pride themselves on both their voting intelligence and their voting independence. It looks as if they will feature Dewey and Gillette at the head of their ballots next Tuesday.

A mild mannered ex-senator from Kansas is driving a tired second-hand Pontiac around his rock-ribbed Republican state, speaking five times a day, drawing good crowds and making so many friends that his opponent is getting worried.

The ex-senator is George Magill, one of the few Democrats ever sent to Washington from a state where running for the Senate on the democratic ticket is considered about as hopeless as running on the Republican ticket in Virginia. This year, while Virginia will probably vote Republican certain midwestern states are likely to send Democrats to the Congress.

Magill's race is tougher than most-though not because he is running against Ex-Governor Andy Schoeppel, whom Alf Landon once called "the errand boy of the big corporations." Magill is getting some quiet support from certain of Senator Capper's faithful friends, sore over the way Capper was pushed out of the senatorial picture. But the main factor helping Magill is the slipping price of wheat. plus an inane remark made by Schoeppel. Asked who was running against him, Schoeppel re-

"I'm running against some Irishman and I can't think of his name."

A lot of Kansas farmers, however, know Magill's name and know it pleasantly. For when in the Senate, he co-authored the Pope-Magill farm bill providing for 90 per cent parity loans on wheat and other staple crops. A lot of farmers are also getting wise to the fact that it was the 80th Congress that gutted the Pope-Magill bill by prohibiting the government from renting additional elevators to store grain. Thus the government cannot buy from the farmers.

So the Kansas race between Tortoise Magill and Hare Schoep pel may yield some surprises. MIDWEST MERRY-GOROUND

Friends of Illinois' handsome ov. Dwight Green are thankin his lucky star he is running in a presidential year. Otherwise he would be swamped. Last time he won by only 68,000 votes, and the embarrassment of his gambler friends and their big campaign contributions. . . Green's opponent, Adlai Stevenson, is a former U.S. delegate to the United Nations, assistant to the secretary of the Navy, and is the grandson of a vice president of the United States, Several Republican newspapers have endorsed him.. . . It looks like G.O.P. Congressman Ross Rizley will be snowed under in the senatorial race in Oklahoma. Folks remember how Rizley put himself in the category of a pocketbook congressman by introducing the rate reduction bill for the big natural-gas companies at the very same time his law firm represented three companies which would profit from the bill-Cities

Unlike some fashion-following gals who look like windswept pomeranians in the new short haircut, on Shirley it looks good. I ascertained that at her Brentwood home, where I arrived as she was dusting off the glass cases containing her fabulous doll

Along these lines, Shirley told me she is taking up her singing and dancing lessons again. "With conditions as tough as of its domain, presides today over what in the Soash armour, for not a few neighwas once the city of Soash.

Once it was the frame for a bank, one of the most modern and elaborate in this area. Today it is a monument to a city that might have been.

W. P. Soash literally pulled the community from out of the soil back in 1910 when he made extensive plans to colonize the lands of the famous Long S (Slaughter) ranch. On March 18, he filed his plan of the Soash township, straddling the Howard-Borden line at the juncture of sections 16, 17, 20, 21, block 33-3n, T&P.

The town had 169 blocks and 28 streets, many of them bearing names familiar to early day ranchers. Locations were reserved for churches and a half block for a school. Soash was farsighted enough to provide a spot at the potentially busiest part of his city for a park.

Soash and his associates raised the bank building, but already there was an odd assortment of businesses popping up, among them a 40-room frame hotel, a cafe, a big garage and several general merchandise concerns.

All the city needed was people, and Soash soon was to see to this. He promoted an excursion from the Corn Belt and one which ran from Waterloo, Iowa was said by natives to have been "20 cars long." They were met at the station here with a brass band, hustled into waiting cars and hacks, and taken to Soash hotel for their excursion into the promised land.

Agents were ready to sacrifice the virgin stretches at $30 an acre, which some thought was somewhat in excess of what better land was worth at that time. As a PICKLE

A concrete hulk, rising like the ghost matter of fact, this was one of the holes bors lured prospects from the fold with sly offers of lower prices. Some who made down payments wrote it off to experience, others moved on the ground, convinced great opportunity awaited them.

And Soash began to grow. Soash himself had such faith in his namesake that he poured foundations for a $40,000 home. Meanwhile, a well was sunk in the center of the city and for two years men pumped and hauled water to a line of trees extending half a mile in each direction from the park square. An electric power plant was installed and Soash moved ahead of a host of West Texas points with "electric lights." Impressed, Big Spring men pooled their resources and launched plans to build a railroad to Soash. It never became a reality but did prod the Santa Fe into running a spur to

Alas, Soash had reckoned without the one factor which was probably the most important in West Texas-weather. As 1910 passed out, it was on the wings of a drouth and by 1911 purchasers accused Soash of having hauled water for a lake which had been impounded nearby the year before. Men and women held on doggedly, but when rain did not come in 1912 courage no longer sufficed. The bank folded, frame buildings were moved off, and the city of Soash died the dry death. The founder stayed with West Texas, settling at Lubbock, and eventually made his comeback. His dream city, however, was beyond the pale of resurrection. - JOE

New Nationalism Is Now Arising Inside Germany

BY GEORGE BRIA

For DeWitt MacKenzie BERLIN UP-A NEWSPAPER CARTOON shows four giant soldiers sprawling in the ruins of a city. A tiny bespectacled man stands on the outskirts.

"Pardon me," he asks timidly, "where is the German sector?" The cartoon, published this summer, is out of date. For a "German sector," born of East-West strife, has grown in the mind if not the body of Germany.

It reached its climax early in September in a demonstration of 250,000 Germans against the Russians in Berlin. Some of them stoned the gigantic Soviet war memorial commemorating the Red army sweep from Stalingrad to the heart of Germany One man defied bullets to climb on the Brandenburger and fling down a red flag. It was a plain red flag and not the official Soviet banner, but only a pedant would quibble on the difference.

EVEN A YEAR AGO SUCH A HOSTILE demonstration against one of the occupying powers would have been hard to conceive. Today the mind has become so grooved along East-West lines that the outburst was hailed by western supporters as a defiant cry of freedom, and by the Russians as an attack of Fascist gang-

Who was right Neither side, entirely. More accurately, the demenstration can be defined as the greatest sign to date of the rising tide of a new German nationalism.

Few experienced observers of the German scene would venture to say that the mass of Germans had entirely rubbed off the taint of Nasism and militarism and, in three short years, became peace-loving freemen. On the other hand, most agree that the Germans daily are displaying a greater show of independence in the zones controlled by the British and Americans. From Joseph Cardinal Frings in Cologne to Socialist Franz Neumann in western Berlin the cry is Germany for the Ger-

THE REBIRTH HAS BEEN NURSED along by official British and American policy. A high point came last spring when British Military Governor Gen. Sir Brian Robertson lifted the few remaining official bans on social intercourse and called the Germans "Christians."

Thus, three years after the amashing of Hitlerism, the Germans became socially acceptable.

The French, fearful of any sign of German revival, still treat them am an inferior conquered people and base their policy on long-term occupation and re-education.

The Russians, although they plump for thdrawal of all occur for "German unity", also frown socially on the Germans. The unified Germany they seek is a Communist Germany. So far the spiritual rebirth of Germans poses the greatest threat to the Russians. The mass of Germans are largely anti-Russian and anti-Communist. Germans openly admit they want a crack at the Russians.

THIS RAISES THE QUESTION OF how if it should come to an East-West war, would the Germans do any fighting. Will there by a German army?

In setting up the west German state there are no known plans for a war office, or even a foreign office. The question of rearming the Germans never is mentioned publicly, but it is in the background of everyone's thoughts.

For, aside from the material aid such a force could furnish the West, it obviously is difficult to conceive of rebuilding westefn Germany economically without also providing the Germans with the means for defending their gains.

This explains French aversion to the idea of reviving Germany. For the new nationalism which today is pointed against Russia may take a different turn tomorrow in the surprise bag of history. . .

Russians Are Performing Amazing U. N. Flip-Flops

blocked action on two of the biggest issues in the world: The atomic bomb and the Berlin blockade.

In both cases the result is the same: Obstruction. By contradicting herself, Russia has made this much plain: If there's going to be any ball game at all, it has to be played Russia's way. Take the case of the bomb-

The UN long ago set up an Atomie Energy Commission to find ways of outlawing the atomic bomb and being sure no nation could make it. The commission finally recommended

First, set up UN control, with UN investigators free to go into any country to see that no one was cheating.

AFTER THE CONTROLS WERE working, the United States would get rid of its bombs and no nation would have Nothing doing, the Russians said. They wanted the U. S. to destroy its bombs before the other nations set up the controls or talked about them. Now take the case of the Berlin block-

A group of six nations not mixed up in that dispute suggested in the UN that Russia lift the Berlin blockade so the U. S., Britain, and France could send supplies in by train to feed their troops in Berlin and Germans living there. Then, said the six nations, as soon as the blockade was lifted, Russia, the U. S., Britain, and France could begin talking about all their Berlin problems.

So Russia dished out the medicine it wanted the UN and the U. S. to take on the bomb; but when the UN asked Russia to take the same medicine on Berlin, Rus-

ON SUNDAY, THE THIRD ANNIVERsary of the birth of the UN, Secretary of State Marshall said the greatest blight on the record of the UN is the "obstructive attitude" of certain nations.

He didn't mention Russia by name. There's no doubt he meant Russia. That country now has used the veto 28 times in the UN to block international agreements or action. The U. S. hasn't used it once.

Only time can show whether this aystematic obstruction of the Russians is a plan (1) to make the UN helpless and hopeless and (2) to keep the world in iitters.

But it would not be the first time, according to congressional experts on Russia, that the Russians took part in an international peace organization for the purpose of wrecking it.

This year the House Committee on Foreign Affairs published a study of Russia called "The Strategy and Tactics of World

Communism." It said: "Prayda in 1931, when the Soviet Union had accepted membership in the commission created under the League of Nations to study the problem of European union, explained that the Soviet Union had done so only in order to wreck the project."

Will Continue Efforts To Get Traffic Lights

Big Spring will continue efforts o obtain authority for erecting stop and go traffic signals at intersections on Gregg street. City Manager H. W. Whitney submitted a report Tuesday to city commissioners on findings of state highway engineers concerning requests for new signals. The report indicated that authority would be granted for additional signals on Third street at intersections of Nolan and Goliad, but the volume of both vehicular and pedestrian traffie at Gregg street intersections would not be sufficient to justify installation of signals.

The city had named the Park street, 18th street. Northwest Third street and Norhtwest Fourth street intersections in requests for Gregg. Commissioners noted that the engineers' report was based on traffic count made by the highway department during June and July, which they asserted, represented a period of below-average traffic each year. Nevada Wolfpack Is Offensive Leader

Heath Gunning For New Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. 49-California, Notre Dame and Army have strengthened their positions among the leading offensive teams on the nation's collegiate gridirons but they still have a long way to go if they are to overtake highflying Nevada.

The Nevada Wolfpack, with the help of a great passer and a soso schedule, rolled merrily along at the head of the offensive standings released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, leading all other teams in both forward passing and total offense.

Nevada maintained its lofty position on the spectacular passing of Stan Heath, who is virtually certain to rewrite the record books with his aerial game before the season ends. In winning all five of its games to date, Nevada has piled up 2,940 yards by rushing and passing, an average of 498 yards per game. Of that total, 1,439 of Nevada's yards have come through the air. Miami has averaged 422.6 yards per game, California 401. Notre Dame 395.2 and Army 389.

Nevada is followed in the passing department by Georgia Tech. William and Mary, Columbia and Navy. But Georgia Tech's average of 190.8 yards per game is far behind the Nevada average of 287.8.

Meanwhile, Texas Mines pushed into first place in the rushing department, dropping Army to second place, with Notre Dame third, Oklahoma fourth and California fifth. The Texans are averaging 343 yards per game on the ground, compared with Army's 340.6 yards.

The Longhorns, they insist, agreed among themselves that they should have copped the duke with yards to spare in that one and have been waiting for a year to even matters.

That sounds like so much eye-wash. In the first place, the one-point coaches have to have a place to defeat kick the Steers upstairs, right into the Sugar Bowl, where they sit. picked up quite a piece of change. In the second place, Doak Walker's kicking toe was about the only difference between the two elevens. They were that evenly matched. In the third place, TU had beaten SMU every previous fall for a half dozen years, a factor that could provide equal inspiration for SMU to finish in front. Spectators, and there will be no less than 68,000 of them, will probably see one of the best games in the long history of the rivalry, for the simple reason that all heat is off both clubs.

If each or both seams carried unbesten and untied records into the struggle, the beys would have a tendency to tighten up and play defensive ball, as did SMU last fall while trying to nurse its one-point lead.

Two Independents Say Squeeze Put On Domestic Oil

HOUSTON, Oct. 27. IF-Major purchasers' failure to meet the 35 cent-a-barrel increase in crude oil prices puts the squeeze on domes tic production in favor of imports two independent oilmen said here yesterday.

Phillips Petroleum Co. made the increase recently. Several other companies followed, but a few wen back to the old price.

"The major buyers' holdou against higher prices is detrimen tal to the best interests of inde pendent purchasers, royalty owners and general public," Guy Warren, Corpus Christi, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn., said.

Warren spoke at a district meet ing of the association. Glenn H. McCarthy, Houston independent, said major companies are increasing steadily their imports of oil.

"This foreign oil is being laid down at New York City for $3.15 a barrel," he said. "In favoring foreign oil at the expense of ina sed domestic reserves and at igher price the big buyers simare protecting their investments & road.

One source estimated perhaps 1,-000 gallons of a glycol base product, advertised as a permanent type, had been bulked in Big Spring and this may help improve the situation. Some boost their bulk anti-freeze as ethylene glycol, which is the principal ingredient in the top seller in the field.

There is no need to fret about the motor freezing, however, for these is a seeming abundance of alcohol base anti-freeze on hand. This is effective but has a tendency to boil out over a period of time. In the process, a slight odor is given off whereas the permanent types are generally odorless.

Ask the woman who owns one

By tradition, she's entitled to the last word. So Packard has built it for her!

She might not care whether what's under the bonnet is a "free-breathing" straight eight, or a turbo jet.

But when she praises delightful responsiveness, and the soothing smoothness of Packard power . . . we like it! (What man ever put so dainty a shoe against an accelerator pedal and got such results?)

She might not eare whether Packard's superior roadability and handling ease are achieved by advanced engineering, or by happy little gremlins.

But when she tells us that her Packard has the restful riding ease of a limousine, and the finger-tip handling of a tiny tot's stroller . . . we beam!

And when it comes to styling, and tailoring, and convenience features, she's always been the No. 1 authority -and New York's Fashion Academy confirms her good judgment in preferring Packard.

Come in-learn all the reasons why the most enthusiastic "man who owns one" is often a woman!

LAYOUT OF COUNTY FAIR - Here are the principal buildings and the general layout of the 1948 Howard County Fair, set for Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the bombardier school area near the airport. The buildings are located along the road which leads to the Muny air terminal, which may be seen in the extreme background at left. Arrow from No. 1 points to the westernmost of the first three warehouse units which house the fair exhibits. This unit will contain the commercial exhibits and a large concession unit. Flanking this to the left and indicated by arrow No. 2 is the location for west fair entrance and the general area where the carnival will be located. Up the line and Indicated by arrow No. 3 is the building which will contain homemaking, general agricultural, institutional and other special exhibits. Identified by arrow No. 4, is the building which houses the livestock (beef and dairy animals, sheep, swine and rabbits) and poultry exhibits, together with possibly some agricultural row crops, etc. Between No. 3 and No. 4 is an area given over to exterior display of implements, farm trucks, etc. Arrow No. 5 denotes the approximate point for the east gate, which opens on to the main road into the air base area. The paved area shown left in the picture will be closed to automotive traffic during the fair as a safety measure. (Jack M. Haynes photo).

Howard County's First Annual

Howdy Neighbor! We hope you are sort of making plans to look in on the Howard County Fair this

It starts Thursday for three big days, you know, and we figured you'd like to be in on the first fair which everybody is planning to become a big annual

Lots of people have put in lots of time trying to shape up a show you will enjoy. In typical West Texas fashion, you'll want to drop around and see what has been accomplished.

More than that, maybe we'll see some things we had forgotten about; some things we didn't know our people were doing; some things that our rich soil is returning to us even in dry years.

It ought to be a lot of fun, and maybe we'll learn a few things in the process. We might even gain a little inspiration and confidence in a great people and a great county. How about it? Meet us at the fair?

under a reorganization plan started at the suggestion of the chamber of commerce agriculture committee. The original fair association operated under that committee's wing, but when talk of resurrecting the annual fair began this year, association leaders expressed a need for broadening the organizational base.

To do that virtually all major organizations and institutions were invited to submit names of representatives. Many of them did and it is from this list, plus some additions later made by the board, that the present directorate is tak-

Late in August the board, having met to consider temporary or ganization proposals set about perfecting the permanent organization under the existing charter. Officers were elected and included Joe Pickle, president; Lloyd Wooten. vice-president; R. V. Middleton. treasurer; Don Burk, secretary. In turn the board authorized the president to name an executive committee and to suggest, organizational plans. Named to this conmittee were the four officers, M C. Grigsby, George White, Donald Lay and E. W. Lomax. Most of thdetail plannings for the curren fair shapes up through this com mittee and hen is referred to the general board for approval.

While the big job is staging the annual fair, there may be other problems for the association to consider during the year. One of them may be development of permanent facilities, possibly other events, But these are being shoved back until the big job is accomplished Oct.

These are the directors for the Howard County Fair association: Charles Staggs (ABClub), Fred Keating (Rotary), M. C. Grigsby (Jaycees). Joe Pickle (Lions). Don Burk (American Legion), Clyde Waits, Jr. (Kiwanis), Sam Buchanan and E. W. Lomax (Howard County Hereford Breeders), A. J. Stallings (Howard County Farm Bureau), Marian Jenkins (Coaho-

of M. C. Grigsby, chairman of the finance committee for the Howard County Fair association. Grigsby, a busy merchant, has taken time out to ride herd on three vital roles, that of contacting firms which are not exhibiting commercially but who wish to support the fair financially; of supervising the handling of gate charges of nine cents per person; and of checking with the carnival which is showing all this week and in conjunction with the fair. Grigsby also is a member of the executive committee. (Jack M. Haynes photo).

Wooten Center Of Operations

Wooten as general superintendent, and his 10 key committees.

Wooten, an active civic worker, carries a sound background of accomplishment with him in dealing with the planning and staging of the big show. He has served as president of the local Jaycees and is currently a district vice-president for the state organization. If he has had a particular field of interest it has been in encouraging club activities among rural youth, for Wooten once was a successful 4-H club boy himself. On one occasion he won district honors in dairy judging and was selected as one of the top club judges in this field for the state.

To bring about the promotion of he fair in as short a space as possible, Wooten set up 10 committees to supervise the detailed and intricate workings of a fair. Durward Lewter, county agent, was made chairman of the agricultural exhibits. Under him he likely will have committees for livestock, poultry, general farm and garden crops, and community exhibits. Margaret Christie. county home demonstration agent, was named chairman of the homemaking division which will have classes for canning, preserving, clothing. frozen foods, antiques and for needlecraft by elderly women.

Commercial exhibits were made the responsibility of Ray Griffin. Griffin quickly sold most of the available space to firms wishing to display their wares during the fair. Bulk of this space was on the interior; but the fair also provided space for exterior exhibits of farm machinery, trucks, etc.

The big job as chairman of the finance committee went to M. C. Grigsby. Here the plan of operation resolved itself into about three major divisions, that of contacting business houses for support where they did not feel commercial exhibits were feasible, to deal with the carnival which will show during the fair and to supervise sale of nine-cent admissions at the gate. With J. H. Greene and George White, Lewter and Miss Christle were named on a catalogue committee to promulgate rules and regulations, set up various classes of competition, etc. Neel Barnaby was named chairman of the committee on concessions and charged with responsibility of making arrangements for these. The tough task of providing for buildings and grounds was delegated to Harvey Wooten. This embraced the job of seeing that booths were erected, buildings eleaned, lighted, sanitary facilities readied, ete. A sub-division also included securing volunteer and other help for operation of the fair during the three days. Advertising and publicity was handed to a committee headed by Joe Pickle. It is through these committees that Wooten is pointing to success of the 1948 fair, and to use his words, "whatever measure of success we have will be due to them and to those they secure to help

The "ditched" flier in the demonstration was a 19-year-old seaman, Lorin Atkins of Dallas, Ore.

He volunteered for the role. Pilots of the rescue planes were Edward-A. Arnold, Jr., of Rexford, Mont., officer in charge of the helicopter detachment, and Chief Robert W. Camp of Hutchison, Kas. It was the third rescue, when Atkins was pulled dripping from the waters of Pearl Harbor, that most closely simulated an actual rescue

Atkins, wearing a life belt, was bobbing about in the water with only his head above the surface. Arnold brought his helicopter to a standstill about 20 feet above him The helicopter hovered close to the water. A life line operated by a

To Make Howard County A Community Of More Comfortable Homes

We offer you the best in warm air heating equipment. This includes central heating plants that can be economically installed with openings in each room. We have units that can be installed in either a basement, closet, or in the attic.

Also, we carry a complete line of floor furnaces that are made to last and are priced to meet your pocketbook. All our heating equipment is equipped with thermostat and automatic controls. With controlled warm air heating you get clean fresh air that is at the right temperature. You eliminate expensive wall sweating and dangerous indoor fumes.

When thinking about an Air Conditioner you certainly want one that will give you the most for your money. We carry the washed air system which gives you cool clean fresh air in your home, yet does not build up the humidity inside. Units are designed to give a full rated air delivery with no moisture "pull through." The washed air system keeps the mats clean and free from odors. These units are not flimsy. They are engineered to deliver rated capacity quietly and without vibration. The type of construction used throughout gives assurance of continued satisfactory

Naturally you want to save money on your initial cost when installing your cooling or heating equipment. Fi-Blak Home Insulation installed in your ceiling and sidewalls will save you up to 40 per cent on your fuel bills and keep your home up to 15 degrees cooler in the summer. When you can stop your heat loss in the winter and your heat gain in the summer it stands to reason that you can get by with a smaller cooling or heating plant. Monarch Metal Weatherstripping will stop any extra cold air coming in around your windows, and will also help to eliminate the dust from blowing into your home.

We wish to take this opportunity to invite one and all to attend the Howard County Fair . . . see what your county is doing . . . how it is progressing . . . what new ideas are being introduced to farming, ranching and homes. While at the fair be sure to drop by and see our booth and get a first hand introduction to the difference between a house and a home.

The third condition is due to lack of platelets. These are special blood cells which help make blood clot properly. They also are made in the bone marrow. If the spleen is removed, the bone marrow usually begins producing sufficient numbers of platlets again. The operation has been 85 per cent successful in overcoming this disease, Dr. Dameshek reports.

He says the spleen secretes some substance that tends to restrict production of blood cells. He thinks the substance may be a hormone. He and his associates are trying to produce extracts from spleens to solve the puzzle. If there is a hormone, it might lead to methods of controlling the blood diseases without operation.

MEAD'S (NO BREAD

BECAUSE IT'S

Fresherized

DOUBLE WRAPPED TUNNEL BAKED

MEAD'S FINE BREAD is the pace-maker in purity because it is untouched by human hands throughout the baking process. This is made possible by use of the airconditioned, tunnel-shaped oven pictured above. Specially designed and built for Mead's Fine Bread Company of Big Spring, this massive oven bakes MEAD'S FINE BREAD with five different temperature stages. Each stage is thermostatically-controlled for baking accuracy. "Hands-off" tunnel-baking gives MEAD'S FINE BREAD active flavor and ripple-soft texture. Air-conditioned tunnel-baking is another advance in the art of making a better MEAD'S FINE BREAD.
