A City of Churches
Leaven in the Loaf
As Hover Recommended
Cheap But Valuable

The Methodists and Baptists have delegated to committees the task of looking into the advisability of building new church buildings. The Catholics have tentatively made their arrangements. The Church of Christ is completing a new structure. The Pentecostal Holiness denomination made announcement two weeks ago of the same intention.

Midland is getting to be a church town, it would seem. Certainly it is growing into a church-building community. There is a difference in the terms, it is said from the pulpit.

It has not been long since representatives from women's clubs, appearing before local service club luncheons, spoke of the necessity for making Midland churches on a par with Midland's other public buildings. That bit of suggestion may have been the leaven to the loaf.

Midland is getting state-wide attention to its announcement that it will co-operate in various ways in the national program of economic amelioration. A half million dollars in public works will be spent. This will relieve unemployment, one of the disturbing factors. Public confidence can thus be partially restored.

Frank Izer is being tried on a charge of burglary in district court today. His alleged companion, Mable O'Conner, a woman, drew a 3-year suspended sentence when tried Saturday. The two were charged with burglarizing the home of A. C. Matlock, about 7 miles east of Midland. Today's case is prosecuted by District Attorney W. R. Siffth. C. W. Dunaway represents the defendant.

And consider the amount of loot the defendant is charged with having taken, how little it takes to give one a sobering look toward the walls and bars of the state penal institution: one shot gun, one vanity set, one guitar and one toilet set. Money is cheap, but it has value when used to obtain what man wants. Man should remember that.

Work Progresses On New Church

Work on the new brick building of the Church of Christ, in northwest Midland, just east of A Street and south of the Dr. McCall home, is making rapid progress.

The building, being erected at a cost of approximately $8,000, will provide a commodious and comfortable meeting place for this growing church.

F. L. Young is architect for the building, and M. G. Blaydes is foreman of construction.

CHASE FOR TROPHIES WEDNESDAY

Two Parades Planned For Big Holiday Celebration

Plans for the Christmas celebration to be conducted in Midland were completed this morning when the chamber of commerce committee held a meeting at the office of the organization.

Those present were M. M. Seymour, R. D. Seruggs, Mrs. Homer Rowe, Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith, W. I. Pratt, K. E. Ambrose, M. M. Meek, B. G. Grafa and Dr. J. D. Young.

According to present plans, Santa Claus will arrive by airplane Wednesday afternoon, and after circling over the city will land at the country club.

He will be met there by the high school band and a large crowd of Midland people, and will head a parade to the business section of the city.

Santa will be escorted by a special guard of honor composed of Boy Scouts of the four Midland troops. City and county officials, heads of civic organization and other dignitaries will be in the parade.

Santa Claus will distribute gifts to Midland children in the course of his visit, and after the parade will meet the children at the big Christmas tree on the court house square.

At 6:30 Wednesday evening, a second parade headed by Santa Claus will start at the city hall. The high school band, the pep squad and the Boy Scouts will accompany him to the business streets.

Stopping at Main and Wall streets, Santa will make a speech to the public, and will distribute carnival caps, confetti and other holiday articles to the people, preparatory to the big trophy chase and celebration of the opening of the holiday season.

Promptly at 7 o'clock, a whistle will blow, and the trophy chase is on. It is pointed out by the committee that the trophy chase, in which local stores will distribute valuable gifts, will last Wednesday night only, and after that no gifts are to be distributed.

It is understood that a number of stores will have Christmas turkeys for their gifts, and other useful articles have been promised. It is planned for the trophy chase, although short in duration, to be one of the gala events of the year.

Most stores have signified their intentions of having show windows protected by blinds until the chase starts, and all will then be opened to view at once, revealing the gifts to be distributed to the people of Midland and surrounding territory.

Holiday decorations, consisting of street lights and small Christmas trees along the sidewalks, will be in place before Wednesday, many of the lights being installed already. The big Christmas tree, to be located on the court house square, has been received and is ready for installation.

New Activity In Odessa Noticeable

Fourteen cars of rig machinery were being unloaded Sunday at Odessa supply houses when a Reporter-Telegram representative drove through the town, and it looked to him as if all of the supply houses there were filling their warehouses and outlying grounds.

He reported, following conversation with Odessa citizens that the town is full of people and every room is full. New locations and activity in the Penn well area is considered responsible for the increased business.

TEACHERS REPORT GOOD CONVENTION HELD IN DALLAS

Midland public school teachers who returned Sunday from the meeting in Dallas of the Texas State Teachers' Association reported a harmonious, constructive and enthusiastic meeting. Those representing Midland were W. W. Lackey, R. C. Cotner, Misses Helene Miley and Tammie Burris. Several other Midland teachers joined the association this year but did not attend the convention.

Lackey, as president of the Texas delegation to the National Educational Association convention which is to be held in Atlantic City in February, reports that a larger delegation than ever before will go from this state, some 7,200 in number.

MARTIN COUNTY PROSPERITY IS DUE TO FARMERS

(Special to Reporter-Telegram)

STANTON, Dec. 2.—Martin county farmers, taking the county over, are in good condition. Ginnings this week will have totalled about $5,500 bales and the county will make enough feed to run through the coming year.

Besides the cotton and feed grown here the vegetable and fruit crop was good, and the poultry industry is growing. The Parker hatchery has installed a 16,000-egg incubator which will stimulate this industry. Last year there were approximately 60,000 baby chicks sent into this county, aside from the ones bought from the custom hatchery in adjoining towns.

In this trade territory, there were several hundred dollars paid for turkeys, and many of the turkey raisers are holding their birds for a better market, hoping the Christmas demand will bring the price up.

One of the best money makers in this territory is the dairy cow. At this time, Stanton boasts of one of the best milk markets to be found; the Southwest Dairy Product company is buying milk at an average price of about 30 cents per gallon, which makes a price of 80 cents per pound for butter fat. This company pays to the dairymen here approximately $3,000 per month for milk, and Stanton has three cream buying stations which buy several hundred dollars worth of cream per month.

The stock industry cannot be forgotten in Martin county, as a great per cent of the land is still in ranches. Stockmen are in good condition, most of them having contracted their calf crop early at $45, and the winter grass is as good as has been in years.

Many of the farmers will terrace their land this coming year, as was decided in the terracing demonstration sponsored by the chamber of commerce last week. Levels have been received for five of the men interested in terracing. These levels were bought in one shipment and came to the farmers at wholesale cost, saving them about $4 per level. Two terracing machines were sold and farmers are buying these together so this valuable work will go on. Despite the fact, Martin county has no county agent, it is hoped one will be employed soon. Martin county products rank high in quality. This was demonstrated by the county exhibits shown at three fairs this year. Martin county cotton ranked 4th in the State Fair of Texas and watermelons grown on the P. M. Bristow farm won first in the general exhibit. Grain sorghums also ranked along with the winning exhibits.

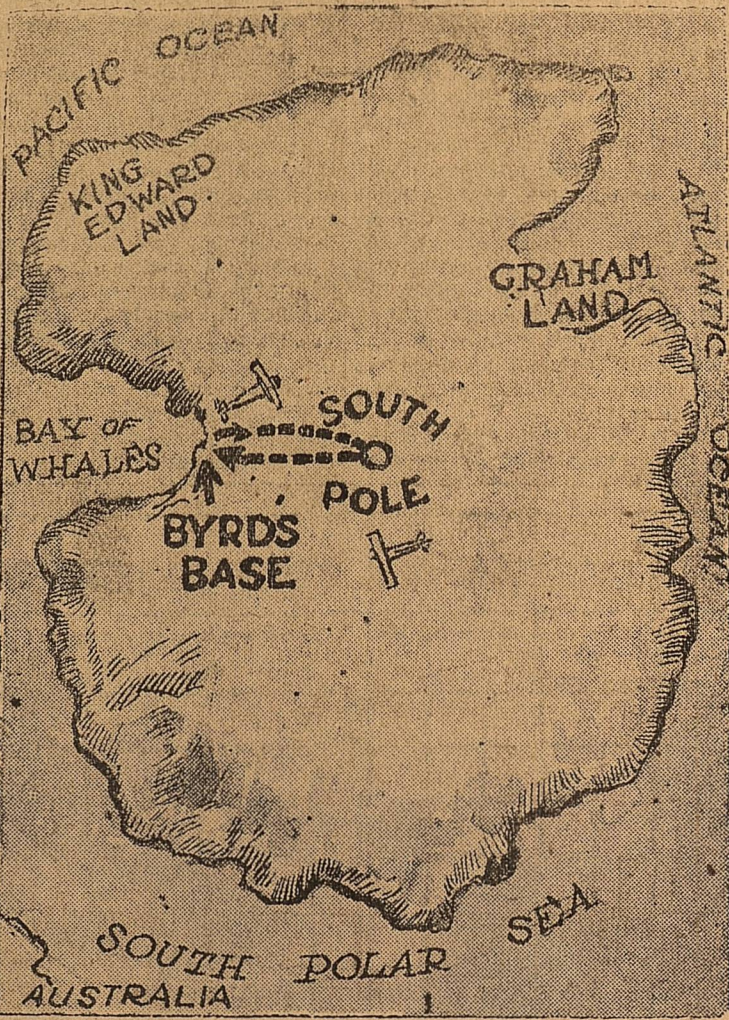

The town of Stanton has had a steady growth this year due to prosperity of farmers in the county. With the outlook for 1930 bright and new farmers coming to the county, business men are expecting a good December business and are not expecting the usual let-down experienced in the past.

The Martin county chamber of commerce is working on an agricultural program for 1930 that will benefit both farmer and merchant.

Howard Cattleman Buys Yearlings

BIG SPRING, Texas. — Tom Good, local ranchman received this week 2,883 head of steer yearlings to be placed on his ranch in Borden county. These cattle were purchased from ranches in Lubbock, Borden, Dawson and Howard counties. The cattle will be fed through the winter months by Good.

McMurry Singers Here Tuesday Night

The "Gypsy Giggles," glee club of McMurry college, Abilene, will be presented at the high school Tuesday evening by the junior class of the Midland school. Harvey Fryar, former graduate of the Midland high school, will be with the singers. Admission will be charged. The program begins at 8 o'clock.

Furniture Store Opening Tonight

Doors will be open at 7 o'clock this evening for the dedication of the Home Furniture company, J. D. Young, president of the J. D. Young corporation, of which the local furniture company is a part, announced this morning.

The public will be conducted through the establishment, served refreshments and given souvenirs. A program of musical selection has been arranged.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the home will be opened for a short time, both in the mornings and evenings, R. C. Montgomery, manager, announced. The building is a beautiful, commodious, and well arranged structure which cost $25,000. It is at the corner of Texas and Colorado streets.

METHODISTS VOTE FOR ACTION ON BUILDING PLANS

Endorsement of a church plant to accommodate 600 persons in the auditorium, with Sunday school quarters for 500, was voted unanimously Sunday by the First Methodist church of Midland; and the building committee was authorized to go forward with plans for providing such accommodations.

The building committee is composed of J. O. Garlington, chairman, Charles L. Klapproth, B. Frank Haag, M. C. Ulmer, W. I. Pratt and Mrs. O. B. Holt.

Talks favoring immediate action toward a building campaign were made by W. I. Pratt, B. Frank Haag and Ralph Cameron, a visiting architect.

The procedure voted on, according to representatives of the church, does not mean necessarily that there will be a new building, but plans for either a new building or remodeling or adding to the present structure will be considered by the committee.

LIQUOR AND VICE ON INCREASE, AS SHOWN IN REPORT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(P)—A flying squadron of prohibition prosecutors, speeding here and there over the country to lend aid to local officials, has impressed Attorney General Mitchell so much that he reported today to Congress that its creations marked a highly important step in the progress of dry law enforcement.

The report of the Attorney General said that liquor smuggling from the high seas and across the Canadian border continued during the past year and that the ocean smugglers had discarded the use of large boats for speedier motor boats.

Almost every phase of the prohibition enforcement work increased during 1929. Criminal prohibition prosecutions instituted during the year totaled 56,786, the number of cases terminated were 56,455 while 18,690 were pending at the close of June 30. Of the cases terminated there were 47,100 convictions.

Included in the report was a statement by Sanford Bates, superintendent of prisons, who said the problem of coping with the "tremendous increase in the number of persons committed by the federal criminal courts," had reached a climax.

Emphasizing the crowded condition of federal penitentiaries, he said the Atlanta prison "even with the questionable practice of placing two or more men in a cell might house comfortably 1,712 persons, but that it now had 3,777. The Leavenworth prison, with a normal capacity of 1,560 had 3,723.

Seek Motive For Death Lometa Man

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 2.—(UP)—Police attempted today to unravel the motive behind the apparent murder of a man believed to be R. W. Hall of Lometa, Texas, whose body was found Sunday night in an alley behind a rooming house. Hall's skull was fractured.

Baptists Meeting With Architects

Members of the building and finance committees of the First Baptist Church are holding a meeting this afternoon with architects, with the purpose of adopting plans and employing an architect for the proposed building program of the church.

The meeting is the second to be held with the architects, a previous one having been held to give the architects an idea of what the committee desires and time to formulate their plans and estimates.

Six or seven architects are represented at the meeting, according to advance information. The meeting was called for 1:30 in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer, with Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, chairman of the building committee, and J. O. Nobles, chairman of the finance committee, in charge.

Young To Bring 20 To Theater Opening

When the $300,000 Yuca theatre, biggest and most luxurious playhouse between Fort Worth and El Paso, opens Thursday evening with Rio Rita, screen musical, and a glamorous array of stage talent, one store in Midland will have every one of its employees present in a body.

Dr. J. D. Young, president of the corporation which owns the Home Furniture company, bought 20 of the $2 opening-night tickets from Manager John Bonner this morning.

"I have not been to a picture show in 12 years," Dr. Young said, "but I certainly want to attend with every one of the employees of the store the great opening. I believe every person in Midland should make the opening a success by filling each seat of the big house."

Manager Bonner said this morning that 50 tickets were bought between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning and that ticket sales are beginning to look like a pre-game rush in a college town.

Each seat will be reserved, and Bonner said those who expect to see the show had better buy now.

ROTARY GOVERNOR TO MAKE VISIT HERE THURSDAY

Bernard Bryant, governor of the 41st district of Rotary International, including the Midland club, will make his official visit to the Rotary club here Thursday, it was announced this morning by Malcolm M. Meek, president.

Governor Bryant lives in Stamford and makes one official visit to each club in his district during the fiscal Rotary year.

Problems affecting Rotary in general, as well as this particular district, will be discussed with the local club members, and Mr. Bryant will make an address at the regular luncheon Thursday.

Mexican School Principal Arrives

Mrs. D. W. Wright, formerly of Colorado, arrived in Midland during the week end and began her duties as principal of the Mexican school, a part of the school system of Midland Independent School district No. 1.

Mrs. Wright is a teacher of considerable experience and comes to Midland highly recommended. The Mexican school, recently opened in its new brick building, has two teachers, Miss Jessie Mae Estes of Midland being in charge of the primary department.

Members Urged To Attend CC Meeting

Members as well as directors are urged to attend the meeting tonight of the chamber of commerce, it was announced this morning by officers.

Any subject pertaining to community problems will be considered if brought up by members or directors, and open discussions will be held.

CROWDED WEEK IS STARTED

Session Will Last 8 Months; Finances Stated Good

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(UP)—A substantial tax reduction for every individual was the first business on the crowded calendar as Congress convened today in their regular session lasting eight months.

The government's healthy fiscal condition outlines Hoover's prepared address for delivery to both the House and Senate.

Wednesday, Mellon is to go before the House Ways and Means committee to advise how the reduction shall be applied. It is expected that the reduction will be made a law before the Christmas adjournment.

Tax reduction, tariff and prohibition are the three major items on the calendar of the Seventy-first Congress.

Leaders of both Houses intend to push these problems to a conclusion as rapidly as the cumbersome legislative system will permit. All are to be disposed of before adjournment probably in June.

The $150,000,000 reduction in taxes (ordered by the administration to encourage prosperity, will be the first order of business in the House. A brief resolution has been prepared applying the reduction of 1 per cent to all classes of income taxes and to the 12 per cent corporation tax.

Because of the simplicity of the resolution and the promise of Democratic leaders that they will encourage the proposal, there is reason to believe the matter may be passed in routine fashion. The situation seems to guarantee that the reductions will be made effective in time for the payments to be made by all grades of taxpayers next March 15.

Tariff Dispute

The tariff bill is the particular bone of contention of the session. The issue which wrecked the program of the special session is holding over with increased intensity for this session. The lineup of the congress is the same and there is no sign apparent to indicate any of the differences have been ameliorated.

There is an assuring conviction, however, that some tariff bill will be passed and already talk of compromise proposals is being started. This is a notable improvement in the situation as compared with last fall when leaders of the administration group in the senate were openly expressing their skepticism about any possibility of an agreement.

The senate is adamant for its bill, including the elimination of the flexible tariff provision, the de-benture clause, and increased agricultural rates. The House leaders want none of these things except the increased agricultural rates. In addition the House wants more increases on industrial rates.

It is being suggested by leading authorities of both Houses a perfect compromise would be effected by eliminating the de-benture, adopting the senate provision against the flexible provision and balancing the agricultural and industrial rates to a point where they would be signed by the President.

These authorities place little stock in the suggestion Mr. Hoover would veto the bill merely because it went against his wishes in the matter of the flexible tariff.

New Dry Law Fight

Prohibition arises as an issue in nearly every session of congress, but it will be approached by this one from a different angle. Heretofore, there have been battles in debate between the so-called wets and the dries over proposals to modify the prohibition law or to repeal it.

This fight is to be over how high the enforcement appropriations should be boosted, whether enforcement should be transferred from (Continued on page 6)

CHOOSING CHRISTMAS TOYS

Some very timely—and very wise—suggestions have been put forth by the extension service of the Iowa State College at Ames, Ia., under the head of "Choosing Christmas Toys." They will help parents, uncles and aunts and other persons who are now pondering this weighty question and at the same time aid in developing the education and the character of the child and in safeguarding him from injury.

Here is what the pamphlet says:
"1. Toys must be safe. There must be no tacks or small bells and buttons that can be pulled off and swallowed by the child. Baby's toys should be washable since he puts practically everything in his mouth. Hair on dolls and dogs, which becomes dirty with use, may be a source of danger. Guns may be dangerous and they foster carelessness in the use of firearms. Toys that create the spirit of destructiveness and foster callousness toward the value of human life should be discouraged. For small children avoid toys that make startling noises and sudden movements.

"2. Toys must be durable in material and workmanship. Any toy that pulls to pieces easily is a poor purchase. Since such toys are too flimsy for proper care and repair, they encourage extravagance, while the toys that resist wear and tear encourage thrift and conservation of property.

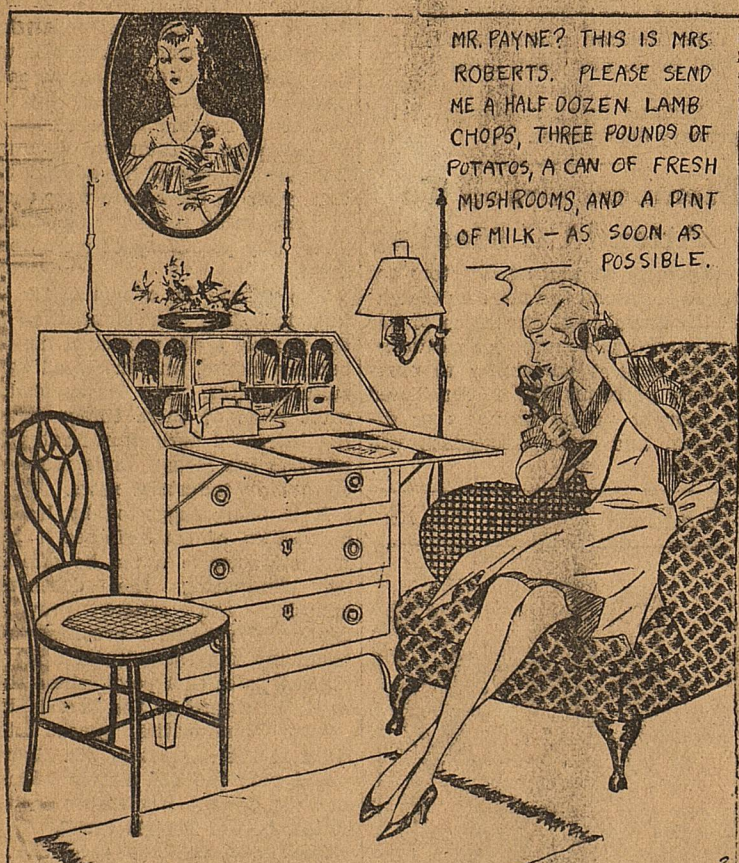

"3. Toys should be artistic in color, form and expression. The child's appreciation of artistic qualities and his attitude toward things and people are greatly affected by his earliest toys. Avoid poorly proportioned and ugly shapes, simpering expressions (as on dolls), inharmonious colors and harsh, jangling noises. Harsh sounds from toys are not only unpleasant for the family, but they have an unwholesome effect on the child. Toy musical instruments should be chosen for their pleasing sounds. If these do not produce the notes in a fairly true manner, leave them in the shop if you value the child's development of musical appreciation.

"4. Toys should be adapted to the age and continued use of the child. Blocks are the best example of play material that adapts itself to the successive stages of the child's development. As a tiny infant he enjoys grasping and staring at bright colored blocks. Later he gets much pleasure from handling, putting them in a basket and dumping them out again.

"When the baby is 2 years old he can fit his blocks together in a box, and make trains and houses of several of them. From 3 to 6 years he begins to arrange them in simple designs, while blocks of various sizes and shapes will be used to build imaginative trains, towers and bridges. Dolls, clay crayons and blackboard, colored beads and tinker toys are playthings that hold the child's interest as he grows older.

"Older children should have toys that satisfy their love of activity and their desire for sports and games. Girls will enjoy dolls and housekeeping toys but they should be encouraged in sharing outdoor or athletic interests with boys. In buying sports material, buy only things of good quality. Equipment that encourages interest in scientific experimentation is splendid."

Loaded Dice

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RONEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—Somewhere in the organization of the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement there lurks a set of brains—and probably more than one set.

In the brief period of its existence this commission has already distinguished itself over all other commissions for its discoveries of facts of which all intelligent persons already were aware and for its willingness to admit those facts. For it is one thing when everyone knows certain conditions to exist and certain matters to be true, but it is quite another thing for an official group to acknowledge them publicly.

Now George W. Wickersham, on behalf of the commission, has actually put forth the suggestion that such conditions as unemployment and housing conditions are a cause of crime. He says that "a study of crime and law enforcement goes to the root of social conditions and the everyday life of the people."

This is certainly something new for crime commissions to be finding out. Everyone else, it would seem, has known as much. But in the many previous state and municipal crime investigations it does not appear that anyone officially has gone into the causes of crime as deeply as the Hoover commission.

Acting on its recognition of the economic factors among crime causes, the commission has selected Miss Mary Van Kleef, director of the Russell Sage Foundation industrial studies and an authority on the regularity of employment, to study the results of full, regular employment in the reduction of crime.

It was the same commission, one will recall, which two or three months ago made the astounding discovery that public officials and law enforcement officers sometimes violated the law. Everyone knew that, too, but the fact that the commission was willing to acknowledge it and actually to include the condition as one of its main topics of study afforded what seemed to be evidence that this commission deserved to be called "different."

The commission named an able subcommittee to study and determine not only the extent of law violations by law enforcers, but also the effect which such violations had upon the extent of crime in general.

One other important and commonly realized fact was privately, though not officially, recognized by Chairman Wickersham when he wrote to Governor Roosevelt of New York that the federal government must have the co-operation of the states if prohibition were ever to be enforced.

conditions are placed on record, it shall be the duty of the City Engineering Department to prepare numbers of the said addition and said numbers shall correspond to the general scheme of numbering contained in this ordinance so far as is possible.

Section 4: That for the purpose of locating houses in the respective blocks in the residence portions of the City approximately fifty feet of frontage shall constitute a lot or space for a house number; and in the business section of the City each twenty-five feet shall constitute a lot or space for a house number. All odd numbers shall be placed on the left hand side of the street, proceeding away from the base line and even numbers shall be on the right hand side of the street and proceeding from the base line as set forth in Section 2.

Section 5: All numbers on houses or residences in the City shall be of a figure not less than three inches in height and approximately two or more inches in width and shall be so placed as to be seen readily from the street. They shall be purchased and paid for by the owner or agent of the property. The figures shall be of durable metal, glass or enamel, and they may be painted of neat design and durable material on the glass transom of the door. Perishable materials such as wood, paper and card, and marking of pen, pencil, or other easily displaced material, or substance shall not be deemed in compliance with this ordinance.

Section 6: It shall be the duty of the Engineering department to designate the numbers of all houses in conformity with the preceding provisions and they shall furnish the owner or agent of each house now or hereafter built with its proper number at the time such building permit is taken out.

Section 7: It shall be the duty of the owner or agent of business or residence buildings to number properly and correctly the same and in like manner number all new buildings in construction and hereafter constructed within fifteen days after the building is completed; or within fifteen days after it is occupied. Buildings removed from one lot to another shall in like manner be renumbered according to the new location within fifteen days after such removal and re-locating, and the owners, agents, or other persons making repairs to buildings shall cause the number (or others of proper kind) to be replaced should the repairs or improvements require temporary removal of the numbers.

Section 8: Any person, whether owner, agent or occupant, who shall after fifteen days written notice from the City Engineering Department fail or refuse to number correctly any house owned, occupied or controlled by said person or who shall fail or refuse to number any house which has been removed from one lot to another, or which has been repaired; or who shall number any house otherwise than in conformity with this ordinance, or who shall obliterate, conceal or obscure any house number by paint or other means, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than Five ($5.00) Dollars nor more than Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars.

The Town Quack

The best joke of the season was about the old game of playing horse kids. The editor made it appear that a boy these days doesn't know what a horse is. The low down is that the editor's own kid rides the editor's foot every night, and when he gets tired of that makes his dad get down on his all-fours and buck like a mustang. These editors put out a lot of theory which doesn't work out in their own homes.

That's like the Yes-Man when his kid asks him for a nickel. He immediately thunders out "NO."

Ralph Shuffler, editor of The Odessa News-Times, in commenting on the proposal of State Press to have West Texas editors send a foot of pennies to the Lorraine woman who is raising money to build a church, said about the only experience of that kind he ever had was when a church gave him the boot for playing penny-ante.

Around the Corner

By Truda Dahl

THE nicest things in life seem always to be "just around the corner." Sometimes the road is long and straight before we come to the turn and we tire of seeing the same things day after day.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Robert ©1928 by NEA

Fall usually means more or less contagious disease among children. Let us hope that this season may see fewer cases than last, just as last autumn's record was under that of the year before, diptheria and scarlet fever especially.

Occasionally, of course, we still have scarlet fever or diptheria epidemics but we now call twenty-five cases in an average city and epidemic, where not so many years ago it took several hundred cases to earn the name.

But there will be sporadic cases, and I think it is just as well to explain to a mother who has had no experience, a few of the things to look out for, if the doctor should come in some day in answer to a hurried summons, look a small patient over, and announce that he has neither one of these diseases.

Diet Most Important If one eats moderately and correctly, the greatest obstacles in search of skin beauty are overcome.

The next step is to keep the skin at all times cleansed of dirt and grime. In cities where the water is soft and pure, coming from mountain streams, it is refreshing to use the good old-fashioned method of soap and water.

Unless the method is one that helps to firm the muscles of the face, most facial massages are to be avoided, because they have a tendency to stretch the outer skin, making it fall into the dread "double chin" line.

The subject of make-up is so interesting that I shall cover it more concisely in another article. Of one thing, however, be absolutely certain. Never apply a facial powder that is not pure in content. The old compounds of a decade or so ago, with their lead bases, were absolutely poisonous to the skin. A face powder must be fine in appearance, of a shade to blend with one's skin—unless, perhaps, the woman wants to appear a shade or two darker, in which case she selects a brunet powder. Where the skin is

Restrain Your Fears

In the first place, don't get panic stricken. No mother who hears that news need have a shock now. Twenty years ago, absolutely! Now—no!

Let me warn about these convalescent cases. No matter how well a child seems, try to obey the doctor's orders to the letter. It is as important to use care after recovery as it is to adhere to directions during the run of the disease.

In diptheria the heart muscle is weakened. Don't let a convalescent child overdo, and don't let him go out too soon and run. Make him rest frequently.

I often think that a long quarantine is the best thing a child can have. The longer he rests the better he will be afterward.

The WOMAN'S DAY

There's nothing funny about divorces or domestic difficulties, if they happen to involve one personally, but often one can view those of others with detached amusement.

There's no telling what will bring two people together, or what will draw them apart—or what will please a woman, or what will make her angry.

In the late Victorian literature, and in Ibsen plays, women were shrieking to be understood, as alas, they were only too well later, and this generation has said much about debunking sex, and learning about life from studying the birds and flowers and animals. Now comes a product of this generation bearing a new grievance.

Mrs. Paul Bartsch, wife of the eminent biologist, resents being treated as a biological specimen, and wants a divorce from her scientific mate.

He, she says, is obsessed with the subject of biology, so much so that he has turned his home into a laboratory with birds and animals running over the place, and that she herself is nothing more to him than a biological specimen. So sick is she of this state of affairs, that freedom is her only solution.

Then there is also the amusing case of the Hackensack man, Horace Bush, who ordered his bride of two months out of the house when he caught her smoking. In court, he said he was willing to support two homes, one for his wife to smoke in and the other for himself, but he would not live in the same house with a woman who smoked.

Asked the judge: "What is the matter with women smoking?" Said Bush: "Your honor, I have an aversion to tobacco in any form."

The judge, instead of reproving the wife, or suggesting that she change her habits, ordered Bush to make good his offer and maintain the two homes.

One can imagine Bush's surprise.

EDUCATIONS ON CREDIT

Passing from the problems of the married, to those of the unmarried, it is interesting to see that ambitious women are not afraid to step out and borrow money for their educations.

According to Miss Margaret Gilman, chairman of the scholarship committee of Bryn Mawr College, the modern ways of doing business are reflected on the campus, and girls now borrow money to pay their tuition rather than work and pay their way through college.

"The old-fashioned approval of the college student who worked his way through college," said Miss Gilman, "had its correlative in the horror of debt. Today neither idea is valid. Civilization is supported on credit.

"If it is sound economy to buy an automobile by installments, it certainly is sound for the student

There wasn't enough cheering at the University of Nebraska games, so these leaders were appointed to try to draw out the noise. That's why everybody in the cheering stands at Nebraska now is hoarse.

So Everybody At Nebraska Is Hoarse to buy his education by installments.

Certainly one has great admiration for the girl who can swing both the financing of her education and the acquiring of it at the same time.

But many girls who have wor-ed their way through school have realized they did so at the expense of much college life that was highly desirable, and have overtaxed their strength doing so.

To go in debt for an education seems much more sensible than to go in debt to your health. And it's easier to pay back money than energy.

ham or bacon.

Dried beets offers another change for the third course.

Vegetables should be used more freely than they are. Creamed, or at least with a garnish of crisp broiled bacon, in hash, omelets, and sauces, they offer an infinite diversity of foods for the breakfast menu.

Muffins, griddle cakes, waffles and French toast will be a welcome change from toast every morning. The different grains and flours make it possible to serve these breadstuffs in great variety.

Codfish Cakes

Two cups mashed potatoes, 1 cup shredded and cooked salt codfish, 1 egg, 2 teaspoons butter.

If the fish and potatoes are cooked together, the flavor of the cakes is improved. Pare potatoes and cut in cubes of uniform size. There should be three cups. Wash fish in cold water and shred very fine. Cook in boiling water to cover until potatoes are tender. Drain thoroughly. Return to fire and add butter. Mash until potatoes are perfectly smooth. Add egg well beaten and beat well. Drop from spoon into deep hot fat and fry from one to two minutes. Drain on brown paper and serve on a bed of parsley. The fat should be hot enough to brown a cube of bread in forty seconds.

Pilot Here Tells Of Queer Figure

In ordinary flight, the proper tips of each Southern Air Transport passenger plane travel more than ten miles a minute, according to Slim Payne, who landed his S. A. T. airliner at Sloan Field, today.

"Each steel propeller is nine feet six inches long," he explained, "and at cruising speed each revolves between 1600 and 1650 times a minute. Figure it out and you will find the tips travel 10 miles a minute, or 606 miles an hour. On the take-off and when the plane is climbing, the motor is 'reved' up considerably more, which means considerable more speed for the propeller tips, and in addition to the forward speed of the plane.

"That is why they have to be kept so smooth. At such speed a small fault would set up a tremendous vibration."

"ORGATONE WAS JUST WHAT I NEEDED" SHE SAYS

"I Got To Where I Couldn't Eat Anything and Wash't Able to Rest At Night, But Am Relieved Now," Says Brownwood Woman

Mrs. L. A. Brandenburg, of 505 Melwood Street, Brownwood, Texas, in her statement regarding the benefits received from Orgatone, said:

"I have just taken one bottle of Orgatone and am greatly pleased with the results in my case. I just haven't felt like myself for several years. I scarcely had no life or energy about me, and my appetite was very poor and suffered terribly from indigestion. I just got to where I couldn't eat anything without suffering and having intense pains in my stomach afterward. Gas would form on my stomach and I felt depressed and down hearted and just had to force myself to do my work. I had nervous sick headaches, and at times couldn't get any sleep at night. I felt that my condition was getting worse and needed something to build me up.

Orgatone was just what I needed to bring me out of it. It seemed to go right to the spot and I could tell a change in my condition

In many families the breakfast menu remains almost unvaried from day to day. The family is apparently satisfied with the fried toast and coffee that can be quickly prepared and quickly eaten, and the busy housekeeper is inclined to "let well enough alone." Children must have a hearty breakfast, but their menu is too apt to become monotonous and to consist of the same foods morning after morning.

During the winter months heartier food is needed by everyone, and if breakfast were made more interesting, a more adequate meal might be eaten and the day started with greater vigor.

Such a variety of fresh, canned and dried fruit is available that it is possible to have a different one every day for several weeks. Cereals also are offered in great variety, and in winter breakfasts, especially hot cereals, play an important part.

The third course of the breakfast menu requires some thought and planning if the homemaker would serve other than the hackneyed combinations of bacon and eggs. Excellent as these foods are for breakfast dishes, they lose their popularity if repeated too frequently.

Fish is always good for a breakfast dish, particularly in one of its cured forms. The smoked and salted varieties have a pleasant tang that compares favorably with unable to do anything but look at the ceiling and think, Gene A. Howe, better known to the Texas Panhandle as "Old Tack" of the News-Globe, is spending about $1,200 in having every bed in both Amarillo hospitals fitted with head sets for radio reception. Howe is part owner of The Reporter-Telegram.

Work of installation is under way and every one of the nearly 200 beds will be equipped before the end of this year.

The News-Globe spends around $15,000 a year on Col. Tack's column through rewards for lost dogs, prizes for yo-yos and the like which he offers.

ROSCOE LANDS MIDLAND GAME IN CONFERENCE THERE THURSDAY

"HOME TO HOME" RULING PUT CRIMP INTO MIDLAND PLANS; $400 TO BE COLLECTED

After a four hour conference in which each town's representatives made a strong fight to have the game played in their respective place, Roscoe finally was given assurance Sunday afternoon that the Midland-Roscoe bi-district play-off for high school football honors would be there.

The game will be played Friday afternoon. Midland is standing at the top of District 3, Roscoe District 9.

Due to the insistence of Roscoe school officials that the play-off should come to Roscoe because of a so-called "home and home" rule, Midland let the game be scheduled there, rather than leave the matter up to state officials. Roscoe declared that team had played in Midland in 1922 and 1923, and that Midland was due to play this season's encounter in Roscoe, as a result.

Superintendent W. W. Lackey of the Midland schools said this morning that there was an agreement that after Roscoe played in Midland in 1929 that Midland was to go to Roscoe the following year, but that Roscoe could not raise the expense money, $100.

"We feel we are under no obligation to Roscoe, as a result," the superintendent said.

Midland, in entering competitive bidding with Roscoe for the Friday game, bid almost $500, while the best Roscoe did was $350. Finally, it was agreed that Midland would play in Roscoe for $400 and 50 per cent of the gross gate attendance above this figure.

One hundred and fifty school students this morning at the high school rose to signify their attendance at the game. Two hundred town fans are also expected to go.

the Treasury to the Justice department and whether the buyer of liquor should be made by legislation equally guilty with the seller.

The appropriation issue will be laid before the House at the start of the session with the presentation of the Treasury and Post Office department appropriation bill. Dry Southern senators, including Harris of Georgia have indicated that when the bill gets over in the senate they will seek to appropriate more money than heretofore has been provided.

The Jones resolution authorizing appointment of a joint congressional committee to inquire into the advisability of the Justice department conducting enforcement machinery will be taken up early in the senate. The investigation was recommended by President Hoover who has said he favors the transfer.

The Sheppard bill to make the buyer of liquor guilty rests in the senate judiciary committee, where it will receive prompt consideration. As the dries are split on the proposal, it probably will not be brought up on the floor of the senate or the House until later in the session.

Other Matters on Agenda
Aside from these three major subjects there are many of importance, including the following:

The Vane case is to be taken up by the senate tomorrow, to decide whether Senator-elect William S. Vane of Pennsylvania should be admitted to the senate in view of his $800,000 primary campaign expenditures.

Annual appropriation bills enlarging the flood control and farm relief expenditures for next year.

Proposed financial legislation, including a threatened investigation of speculation on the stock exchange.

Railroad consolidation as proposed in the Fess bill now pending before the house and senate interstate commerce committees.

Proposed legislation on the development of inland waterways.

Naval building appropriations.

Radio legislation, including consideration of the Couzens bill for creation of a Communications Commission.

New Magazine Is Back On The Stands

An old magazine, for the railroad man, has been issued, and The Reporter-Telegram has been sent two copies to judge.

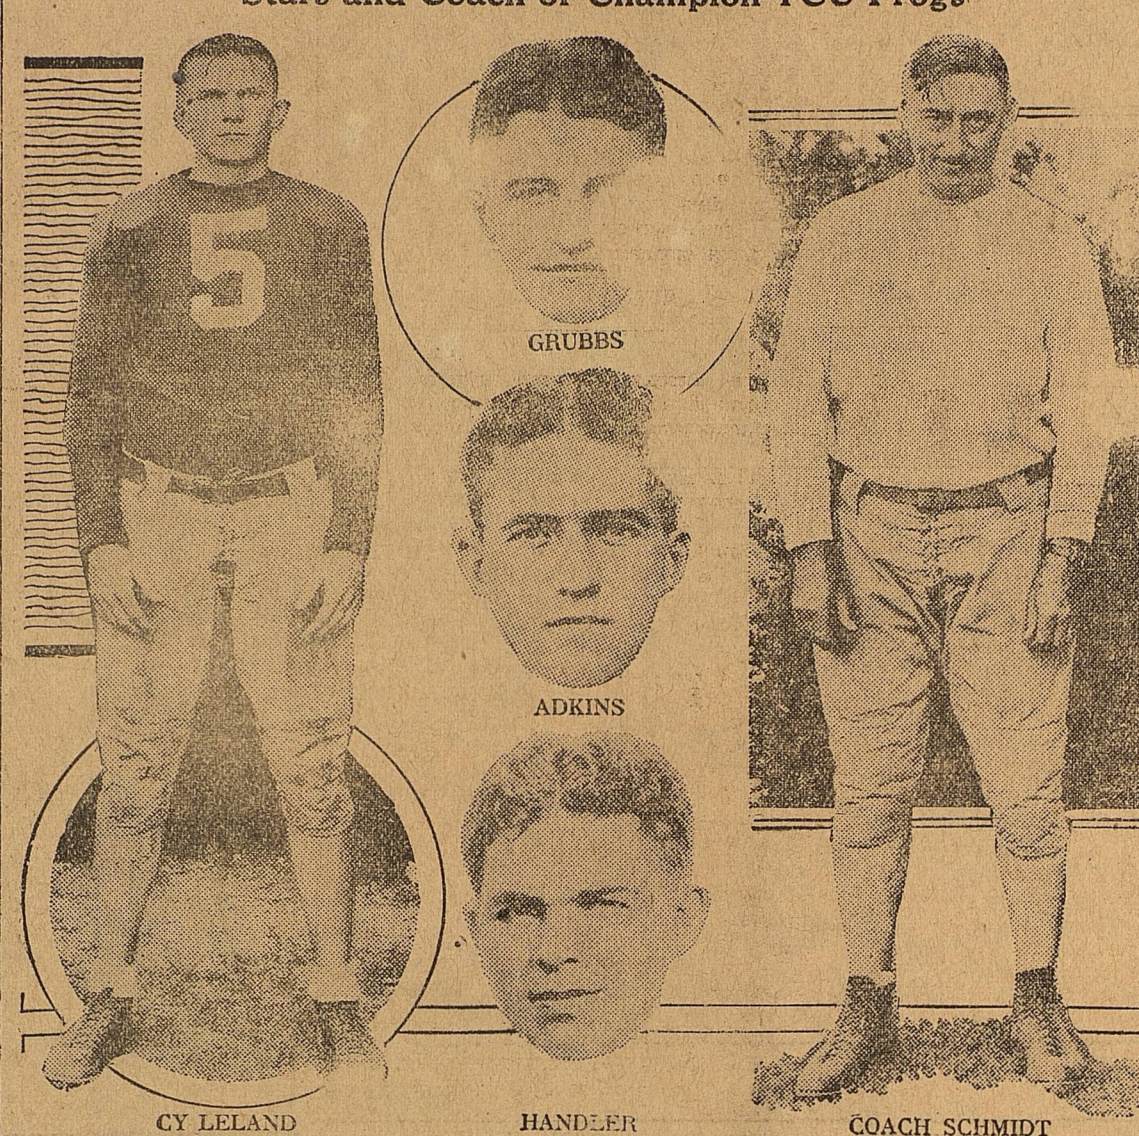

The Railroad Man was taken off the list of the Munsey company's list when war time removed from the news stands many of the old favorites.

This publication, in its new form, according to officers of the publishing house, has been designed to appeal to every class of railroad men and women, and to the general public interested in railroad life and transportation affairs. Replete with fiction and feature articles, the latter illustrated with photographs, it is easy to understand the facts in the statement of Clarman T. Dixon, vice president of the Munsey Company, and executive head of the magazine.

Stars and Coach of Champion TCU Frogs

CY LELAND GRUBBS ADKINS HANDLER COACH SCHMIDT

If one were to single out the star of the Horned Frogs, he could not find a more brilliant performer than Cy Leland, half-back. Recently Leland took the pigskin under his arm on his own 10-yard mark to race 90 yards for a touchdown in the rout of Baylor. The week before he had done the same thing at Austin against the Longhorns.

Influenza struck the camp of the Horned Frogs recently, putting no less than five regulars on the sick list. Fortunately for the team and Coach Francis Schmidt, a band of capable reserves were available to plug the gaps.

An old question of whether or not a player ever fully recovers from a broken leg has been answered in the affirmative as far as Howard Grubbs is concerned. Grubbs has been the outstanding quarterback of the southwest this fall. He sustained a broken leg as a freshman in 1926. In his sophomore year his play was handicapped, but during the 1928 season and this fall he has displayed as much stuff as any signal caller T. C. U. has known.

Adkins, center, and Brumelow and Handler, guards, form a bulwark at the center of the forward wall that is not matched anywhere in the southwest. Brumelow is captain of the eleven and is acclaimed by many as the best guard in the conference.

ard of the 33rd U. S. Infantry in the Philippine Islands campaign, has been awarded a citation and a silver star for bravery and gallantry in Northern Luzon December 4-18, 1899.

The letter from the war department enclosing the citation and announcing the conferring of the silver star said Twiss will later be furnished an engraved certificate, a Philippine campaign medal and the Spanish war service medal.

Twiss was discharged from the army just as the United States entered the war with Spain. The day after his discharge at Key West he enlisted in the 33rd Infantry and was sent to San Antonio, from where he proceeded with Colonel Luther Hare and his command to the Philippine Islands and engaged in many of the major engagements in the islands.

HIGH SCHOOL MEN SAY BARRY "PAPA OF GRID TEAM"

The high school football men are positive they have the best coach in the conference, as revealed by the following story which was typed out by one of the warriors Saturday:

The Midland Bulldogs are certainly thrilled to death over their recent victory of 25-21 over Marfa. The game was a surprise to a number of side line coaches who like to tell the team what to do. If you will recall the first of the season they were razzing Coach Barry about his green stuff and saying he didn't know his business as a coach. But results will tell.

Coach Barry came to Midland for the first time this year and met a bunch of green and inexperienced men and finally worked them into a District champion team. Not once during the long struggle when his team was losing and being criticised did he tire in his efforts to do all he could for them.

There is nothing honest that he will not do to win a football game and there is nothing dishonest that he will do to win. He is not the type of a coach to jump up and down on the side line when his men make good plays, but inwardly he is boiling. He has won a place in the hearts of the Bulldogs that can never be filled by another.

Papa Barry has had to work hard for his title. He even risked his reputation when he came to Midland knowing he would be working with green men.

The Midland Bulldogs have never been so well equipped and cared for. Coach Barry has been helped in the latter phase by two of the best doctors in this section, Drs. Wright and Ellinger. They have made untold sacrifice for the football team. Every evening after practice you will find their office swarmed with charley horses, sprained jacks, sore necks, and twisted ankles.

Before every game one of the doctors goes down in the locker room and sweats and labors taping ankles, padding sore shoulders and making it possible for the injured men to participate in the game safely.

At the game one of the doctors is always on the side line to take care of the men injured during the game. They have not missed a game, not even when we played away from home. They are vitally interested in every game we play and we cannot express our thanks in words.

We will never forget the loyal support of the Pep Squad and of

Town Laughs But Moran Gets Bear

They laughed at Billy Moran, Dewey Stokes, Henry Wolcott and "Bum" Cowden when these men said they would go bear hunting. They still laughed when the men left.

This morning the hunters drove into Midland with a 125-pound black bear. Moran shot with his 303 Savage rifle, at the foot of Gomez peak, 15 miles southwest of Balmorhea, on the Lee Knight ranch.

"There are lots of these animals left in that wild country," one of the hunters said.

The bear, which is being exhibited on the streets, was shot through the head while on the run, at a distance of approximately 125 yards. Moran's first shot knocked him over dead.

the high school as a whole. The town is certainly supporting us now and we are sure they will not let Roscoe out-bid us for the bi-district game.

Test Validity of Small Land Bill

AUSTIN, Dec. 2.—(UP)—Validity of Senator C. C. Small's land bill which Governor Moody vetoed and then was passed over his veto, was argued today in the third court of civil appeals.

The act was sustained in a suit by the state vs. C. W. Bradford in district court. The attorney general then holding the law unconstitutional filed an appeal.

If the act is sustained, Bradford and 700 other defendants will be entitled to keep their land in the bed of Red River in Gray and Wheeler counties.

Oil made the land worth $50,000,000.

Presbyterians To Launch Campaign

The Presbyterians of the Synod of Texas, according to Rev. Thomas D. Murphy, pastor of the Midland Presbyterian church, will launch a Synod-wide evangelistic campaign on January 1, which will extend until Easter. This will be by far the largest undertaking of the kind in the history of Texas Presbyterians. It is planned to hold an evangelistic campaign in every church in the Synod, which is composed of ten Presbyteries, embracing the entire State of Texas and a part of Southeastern New Mexico. The number of churches in the Synod is 393, and the aggregate membership is almost 47,000.

The object of the campaign will be to enlist every Presbyterian in the Synod during the period from January to Easter in a real effort to tell the evangelism of Christ.

A committee of the strongest pastors and laymen in the state have been working on plans for this campaign for more than a year. It is planned to use the various pastors for the preaching in the different churches, but each local pastor will have some one else to do the preaching in his own church. The plans of visitation evangelism, in which much individual work will be done by the officers and lay members, will be largely employed.

The committee of El Paso Presbytery, in which Midland is located, has worked out January 12-26 as the date for the campaign in Midland. The Rev. R. G. Davis, San Angelo, evangelist of the Brownwood Presbytery, will do the preaching. He has had years of experience as pastor, but has for some years been evangelist in the Presbytery of Brownwood, and is splendidly fitted for the work that is planned here. The session of the Midland church has approved the date, and is hoping to get the membership enlisted in a systematic way for one hundred per cent co-operation in the undertaking. Invitation will be extended to Christians of all churches to attend the meetings here.

The pastor of the Midland church has been booked for one or more meetings during February and March.

Horse Stops; Boy Breaks Arm In Fall

When he tried to "round up" a team of horses, James Kinney, 15, son of Mrs. Bertha Kinney, 702 S. Dallas street, was thrown as the animal stopped suddenly and suffered a broken leg.

The mishap happened on the Scharbauer ranch, Saturday. He had been working on the ranch during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Dr. Bobo has the boy's leg in a cast, and the patient is suffering little pain.

James was not riding in a saddle at the time of the accident, having leaped to the bare back of his horse.

Shepherd Ill In Fort Worth Hospital

Through omission, the name of J. H. Shepherd, was not included in the Sunday supplement of the Home Furniture company.

Shepherd is the oldest employ of the J. D. Young corporation, of which the Home Furniture company is a unit. He is the auditor of the organization.

For two months Shepherd has been ill in a Fort Worth hospital.
