Wilbur on Oil Recovery Pyrotechnic Ballyhoo Parole System Joke In "Soviet Paradise"

By R. C. Hoakins

Secretary of the Interior Wilbur is leading a movement to effect sound oil conservation in one of the great California oil fields. His statements regarding this field might, with equal force, be applied to almost all petroleum developments.

"They have recovered a few millions of dollars and have wasted about three times that many millions of dollars to date," he says. "The whole question is whether they want to waste a billion dollars or not—they can do it easily in this case."

"The gasoline is worth, at the best calculation, a dollar a barrel, or from $2,500,000,000 to $4,000,000,000. We know how to get it and get it all and can do it without waste. Without a combined program there will be more than half of the resources of this field wasted, becoming a dead loss of the county, the state and the general public."

"We want the adoption of a method whereby technical experts will tell us what to do and how to do it, eliminating waste and saving every bit of oil in the field, rather than to let the man who only wants to make money and make it now do it."

Secretary Wilbur places his finger on the crux of the problem—the selfish, irresponsible producers who have wasted vast quantities of our petroleum resources in the past and have made the efforts of major producers and governmental authorities to achieve sound conservation futile. It is to the vital interest of the public, as well as the oil industry, that petroleum waste be outlawed.

As a rule, no political talk is more rhetorical and devoid of sound commonsense than that surrounding tariff proposals. The halls of Congress are fairly creaking with "defenders of the people," "guardians of prosperity," "bulwarks of the nation" and such.

Coming down to the facts of the case, there should be no such verbal pyrotechnics in the case of the tariff. It is safe to say that a group of unbiased experts with a sound grasp of industrial conditions here and abroad, and an understanding of our established tariff principle, could agree on a model tariff within the space of a few weeks.

This will never happen, however. The tariff is in politics. It is a means of getting votes, of getting space in the newspapers. What politician can better himself with broad economic principles when such an opportunity as this is at hand?

We cannot afford to tamper with the prosperity of our mining industry.

Unfriendly legislators in some of our foremost mining states have proposed and in some cases passed regulatory and tax bills whose effect has been to decelerate the logical progress of the industry. Such legislation is usually "justified" by the fact that it is an aid to farmers and other industries within the state who hold the political balance of power.

In several states mining is the leading industry. More money is invested in it and it employs more labor and pays better wages. Every other industry is dependent on it for prosperity. Paralysis of mining would virtually mean paralysis of agriculture and all other industries.

Our mines have not made excess (See IN BAS RELIEF page 6)

LOCAL MEN MAKE TRIP TO CAPITAL

Independents Would Be Benefitted By Passage

No action on the bill to regulate oil pipe lines had been taken in the senate at press time today, due probably to the fact that emergency debate had sprung up on the order of the prison board to stop receiving prisoners in the penitentiary.

Four Midland men left this morning for Austin to assist representatives of other cities in activity to promote passage of the pipe line bill, anticipating early vote. In the group were E. G. Bedford, Joe J. Crump, Harvey Sloan and W. E. Wallace.

Preliminary work toward getting the bill before the senate for early vote was well under way late Monday. The bill had been introduced by Senators Julian S. Hyer of Fort Worth and C. C. Small of Wellington, bearing the signatures of 21 senators.

The senate state affairs committee reported the bill favorably early in the afternoon.

When it was reported in the legislature that major companies would oppose the bill on the grounds of unconstitutionality, a conference was held by R. M. Tilley, assistant attorney general, with Tom Cranfill, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas, and Ernest May, counsel for the association. After Tilley had examined the redrafted bill, he ruled it would be constitutional if passed.

No opposition to the bill had developed up to Monday night.

The bill asks for nothing that other states do not now enjoy and it is believed that gradually relief will be brought to the independent operators, to the State of Texas at large and to the University of Texas.

After studying carefully the details of the bill, Senator C. C. Small, of Wellington, had the following to say regarding the merits of the measure:

"It is the purpose of this bill to equalize opportunities and facilities of the small independent producer and the large companies. The measure affects the purchasing and transportation of crude oil. It gives the railroad commission authority to regulate storage charges and prescribe fair rates, and forbids discrimination in storage facilities and charges. By providing for the issuance of warehouse receipts it enables the small producer to hold his oil for a better price. Meanwhile he is secured by provisions of bonded warehouses that his oil will be ready for delivery when sold.

"Nearly all Texas pipe lines are affiliated through stock ownership or otherwise with a major purchasing and producing company. This bill provides that any such company affiliated with the transportation company must purchase independent oil in proportion to its own production. That is, if it seeks to curtail independent production in a particular field by refusal to purchase beyond a limited quantity, it must play fair by curtailing its own production.

"The bill also authorizes the railroad commission to order the extension of transportation and storage facilities whenever the public interest requires it. Thus the independent producer will have recourse against any arbitrary or unjust refusal to afford him transportation to market or storage for his production.

"Man of Terror"

Called "Russia's man of terror," Nikola Krilenko, Public Prosecutor, has announced he will "exterminate to the last man" those who oppose his plan of extending the death penalty to cover a wider variety of crimes. He is pictured here in a fighting pose as he prosecuted a murder case in Moscow.

GOVERNERS ARE ASKED COOPERATE

Production Drops In Nation's Fields During Week

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP)—Curtailment of gasoline production was suggested today by the federal oil conservation board to the industry. Operation of refineries six days a week instead of seven was proposed by the board which is composed of four of President Hoover's cabinet members.

The board also called on the governors of oil states, Texas, Oklahoma and California, to point out to the industry the danger of waste that lies in increasing gasoline stocks.

PRODUCTION DECREASES TULSA, Okla., March 4. (UP)—A sharp decrease in practically every field in the nation, especially in California, was noted today in the Oil and Gas Journal's weekly report on average daily production of crude oil.

The national daily average declined 79,898 barrels, to a total of 2,619,198 barrels.

WORKMAN DIES FROM FALL OFF 36-FOOT TOWER

Reports received in Midland Monday saying L. C. Jones, 28, might survive a 36-foot fall from the newly completed water tower in Andrews were not borne out by the patient, Jones dying at 10:30 last night in the hospital here.

Injuries received from the fall were listed as a fractured spine, several fractured ribs, a fractured collar bone and other injuries.

Jones' wife, who lives in Wink, said the body would probably be sent to Frederick, Okla., for burial. Arrangements are still pending, the Barron Funeral parlors informed.

Jones was working for the Jim Finlayson Tank Co., removing scaffolding. He slipped and fell, his body turning over and over as he hurtled downward. He struck with terrific impact on his head and shoulders. An Odessa ambulance carried the man to Odessa, where it was announced he would be sent to Fort Worth for treatment.

Jim Finlayson, however, drove the man to the Thomas hospital in his own automobile, but surgeons could do nothing to save him.

Oil Men Return From Field Trip

The field trip in Uvalde county was extremely beneficial, according to oil men from Midland who returned Monday night from San Antonio, where the San Antonio Geological society was host to contingents from over Texas. Midland men who heard papers read Saturday and went on the field trip Sunday were: Georges Vorbe, Richard Willis, William Blackman, Claude Hight, John Abbott, W. W. Irwin and Harold Vance.

There were approximately 150 men in the party which gathered at San Antonio for the field trip. Formations in Uvalde county appear younger than those of this area, the men reported.

ONE WOUNDED AS RUM RUNNERS TRY CROSSING BORDER

EL PASO, March 4. (AP)—A United States customs inspector was wounded today as guns flared again in renewal of skirmishes between Mexican rum smugglers and border patrolmen.

The fight was one of three in which officers attempted to halt efforts to run rum into El Paso.

Third Robbery At Big Spring Pulled

BIG SPRING, March 4.—Merchandise valued at approximately $125 was stolen from the Segal and Company's store on East Third street, here early Monday morning.

making the third business house burglary in Big Spring within 48 hours. Entrance to the S. Segal building was made by prying the lock from the front door similar to the method burglars used in obtaining entrance to the Snowwhite creameries early Saturday morning. The Snowwhite creameries loss was approximately $250 in cash when the burglars knocked the knob from the safe. The H. O. Wooten wholesale house was also burglarized early Saturday morning and 10 cases of cigarettes stolen.

Negro, Slayer, Is Hunted At Lufkin

LUFKIN, March 4. (UP)—Officers are searching today for a negro bootblack and porter who yesterday shot to death L. D. Ehrhardt, 39, official of the Central Finance company. The negro fired three shots into Ehrhardt's body. He is believed to be hiding near Lufkin.

In Revolution-Ridden Domingo

Manned by a small army of loyal troops, proud old Ozama fortress, pictured above, underwent fierce shelling in the capture of Santo Domingo, capital of the Dominican Republic, by revolutionary forces. While victorious rebel leaders assured United States Minister Charles B. Curtis, lower right, that American lives and property would be safeguarded, 28-year-old John M. Cabot of Boston, upper left, a member of the American Embassy staff, acted as negotiator of peace between the opposing forces. The revolutionists first seized Puerto Plata and La Vega, shown on the map upper right, and continued their triumphant southward march to Santo Domingo. Many federal officials sought refuge in Port au Prince, capital of neighboring Haiti.

Coyotes Is Coyotes in County

If every poisoned coyote bait were eaten by a coyote, there would be 43,400 dead coyotes in the Midland county. Of course, all of the baits will not be eaten, then, too, there are not 43,400 coyotes in this area.

But W. D. Funderburk, federal government predatory control man, and the Midland County commissioners court and other county commissioners are cooperating to exterminate these pests. Funderburk said today it would have been impossible to do this work in Midland county without the assistance of the county commissioners.

Clarence Scharbauer, Donald Hutt and W. M. Pyle are among prominent Midland ranchmen who report big kills from the poisoning work.

The chamber of commerce has turned in to Funderburk requests for more than 40,000 baits. Ranchmen interested in having this work done may leave their orders with that office. The poison man is distributing 7,000 baits at Odessa early this week, but will be in Midland about the middle of the week. Ranches get this poisoning service for less than actual cost. They are charged only 50 cents a section.

EXPLORER TO BE WITH GEOLOGISTS 2 DAYS IN CITY

When the West Texas Geological society meets at 7:30 Thursday evening in the ball room of Hotel Scharbauer, Dr. Bailey Willis of Stamford university will talk on "African Problems."

Dr. Willis has just returned to this country after an extensive trip through the African continent.

The second meeting of the society will be held at 7:30 Saturday evening, in the same place. A paper will be read on the Hendricks pool in Winkler county. This was prepared by Messrs. Ackers, de Gitchis and Smith of the Southern Crude Oil Purchasing Co.

All geologists of this area and others interested in the paper are asked to attend.

Texas-Pacific New Well One of Best, Lea County

Flowing by 40 minute heads, the Texas-Pacific Coal and Oil company's No. 3 State, in Lea county, is regarded today as one of the field's best wells. A 24-hour gauge, ending at 7 o'clock this morning, showed 1,687 barrels.

Pay was topped at 3,694, and the total depth is 3,717. The oil tests 27.5 gravity, it is reported. For the first 15 hours, it flowed 1,193 barrels. A choke will be installed in an effort to bring the well to a steady flow, it was reported here this morning.

The well is located in section 21-23-36, and is a quarter mile north of the T. P. Coal and Oil's No. 2 State which is producing at the rate of 230 barrels. The well is in a block of 8,500 acres. The first well in the block is a large gas well, still farther to the south, indicating the oil prospect in the direction of the No. 3. The new well is about 12 miles north of Jal, N. M.

Empire Oil and Gas company's No. 2 Lindley was reported this morning to be making 34 million cubic feet of dry gas at 3,310. It was expected that this would be killed and filling resumed.

Rector Oil company's King well was drilling at 4,740 in brown lime. Louisiana Oil Refining company's No. 1 B. B. Ralph, Gaines county, was in lime at 4,725, drilling.

SUPERINTENDENT LACKEY RETURNS FROM NEA MEET

Superintendent W. W. Lackey of the city schools returned this morning from the meeting of the National Educational association, department of superintendent, at Atlantic City. He made talks on the meeting and the trip to and from Atlantic City both to the high school and the junior high school.

Attendance was estimated at approximately twenty thousand from all parts of the United States, Lackey hearing about forty addresses from the leading educators of the union. Among the speakers heard was Hon. Raulth Bryan Owens, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan and congressman from Florida.

The Texas delegation, headed this year by Superintendent Lackey as president, numbered about 175 superintendents, principals and supervisors. Approximately 100 of these went by special train via New Orleans. (See LACKEY RETURNS page 6)

RESOLUTION WOULD HAVE PROBE MADE

Penitentiary System Not To Receive Prisoners

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP)—The senate today voted to table a resolution by Senator W. D. McFarlane to direct a committee of three to investigate the claimed "over-crowded conditions" and the situation generally in the prison system.

Governor Moody said "The penitentiary agents have simply been notified that no more prisoners will be accepted until some of those now in the prisons have served their terms or have been forgiven. Counties will be required to keep the prisoners until the penitentiary can handle them."

Board Criticized A telegram from County Attorney Ordon Burns, of Walker county, accused the board of "incompetency, trying to use the big stick on the Legislature," suggesting "that the board members resign, declaring that the board had violated the law in issuing orders that no more prisoners be accepted by the state penitentiary system."

Opponents of the plan to centralize the penitentiary system near Austin were severe in criticism of the action of the state prison board in issuing orders that no more prisoners be accepted by the penitentiary system because it has reached its maximum facilities. Senator Nat Patton described the action as "about the worst attempt at grandstand play" he ever saw. Representative A. H. King declared it a "master political stroke." Representative J. C. Duvall said it was merely an effort to force centralization near Austin.

NO WHOLESALE PARDONS

AUSTIN, March 4. (UP)—Governor Moody today met the crisis of state prison overcrowding with the declaration that he will not subject the state to the dangers of a crime wave by wholesale pardons, in order to reduce the prison population.

He estimated that a maximum of 250 of the total of 5,125 in penal institutions can be released.

WOULD JAIL WARDEN

FORT WORTH, March 4. (UP)—The warden of the Texas penitentiary will receive Tarrant county prisoners or go to jail for contempt of court, was the edict of Judge George Hosey of the criminal district court here today. He cited legal statutes saying that the warden must take those sent to the penitentiary.

Surprising her husband on their second wedding anniversary, Mrs. A. E. Horst entertained a number of friends with a dinner bridge Monday evening. The couple received several lovely gifts.

Baptist W. M. U. Has All Day Meet

In observance of the week of prayer, the Baptist Missionary Union held an all day meeting Monday at the church. Twenty-two women were present.

The Walker and Reagan Auxiliaries had charge of the program, which was begun in the morning, and after lunch, was continued into the afternoon.

The program was based upon "Look Upon the Field," a home mission study book written by Una Robert Lawrence. Mrs. J. B. Thomas and Mrs. H. B. Dunagan had charge of the programs of the separate circles.

Mrs. Claude Cowden opened the meeting with the president's message to the society, "The Harvest Is Come." Others who had special topics were Mrs. A. J. Gates, Clarence Ligon, Phillips, Frank Norwood, Paul T. Vickers, J. M. White, M. D. Cox, Ben Driver, R. O. Walker, C. C. Hiett, Halton, C. V. Dale and J. V. Hobbs.

At noon, the Lockett Auxiliary served a delightful lunch.

At four o'clock, Rev. George F. Brown took up the New Testament in teaching the Bible study, which is based on great epochs of the Bible.

Make Plans For Future Work

The Episcopal Women's Auxiliary met Monday afternoon with Mrs. I. E. Daniel, 904 West Tennessee street for business.

Plans were made for the line of study through Lent, and the members decided to meet each Monday, in order to finish the course mapped out for the Lenten season. The auxiliary will hold a sale of Easter eggs the Saturday before Easter. It was planned.

The Auxiliary hopes to build a mission church in Midland as soon as possible, and after the meeting yesterday, the women looked at a few lots which might be suitable for a location.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Joe Crump, J. M. Shipley, D. B. Brown, Hunter Erwin, Miss Emily Bird Smith, and Mrs. Daniel.

Christian Society With Mrs. Elkin

Mrs. Will Elkin, assisted by Mrs. Frank Elkin, was hostess to the three circles of the Christian Missionary society Monday afternoon.

After a business discussion, Mrs. H. H. Meeks led the study, with "Jesus' receipt for Power" as the theme of worship.

Mrs. Ed Erickson opened the program with a prayer, and Mrs. Frank Elkin gave the Bible study from John 5:30; 15:1-5.

Mrs. Charles Klappoth gave an interesting talk on "The Emerging Church."

Special music by Mrs. Van Camp, who sang "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life," was enjoyed.

"If I had a Million Dollars," was the topic given by Mrs. L. B. Pemberton, and Mrs. G. W. Breneman's talk was on "Church Board Problems."

After the study hour had been closed with the benediction, delicious refreshments were served to twenty women.

YOUR CHILDREN by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Don't let children know that they are being trained, that they are objects of experiment.

One of the greatest mistakes that we parents can make is to let the children in on the fact that we're trying to do certain things to them.

It doesn't matter much whether we're using the old-fashioned method of curing by smacking, shaking and scolding, or the new-fashioned way of prevention—it is wrong to let them get the impression that they are material for our workmanship. In a way they are, but they need not know it.

Of course, we don't want to rub out that feeling of human relationship—of belonging. That gives them a feeling of pride and security in the home. We want them to feel that we are acutely interested in them and that what they do matters more to us than almost anything else in the world. As a matter of fact, this feeling is the very foundation of training. But that is different from bossism, whether that bossism is kindly or otherwise.

Children get a wrong impression of their status in the home, in the world, in society in general, when day after day this matter of training is made paramount to all other affairs in the house. Who can blame them if they absorb the idea that they are the most important things in it and that the universe circles around them? Our conceit is easily fed even at one year of age. And it converts all manner of things into nourishment for its own growth.

I suppose it will be remarkable that training consisting of smacking and scoldings don't make for conceit. Not in the way we think, perhaps, but it is a well-known fact that a child starved for attention will persistently do things that have only such rewards as these for his trouble—just to attract attention to himself.

The Changing Nymph -:- By Fanny Darrell

THE maiden that revelled in Summer's golden days, who walked through the woods with the soft rain gently caressing her while the wind played hide-and-seek with her lovely hair, is more beautiful than ever amidst the snows of Winter. Playtime for her, care-free laughter filled hours, skimming over the ice, or breezing along, cheeks tingling with the wind that sings of the icy fastnesses that hide behind the grey mists of the North. She knows that Love sees her at her best, that her beauty is but the expression of her glowing youth, that her heart sings a song of the vibrant life that courses through her slim, lovely form.

The children are the most important things in the house. The universe does swing about them. They are the whole world of the future. What they will be, it will be. But to let them think so, to make them over-conscious of their own importance, and to turn their eyes constantly on their own ego, is weakening the raw material we have to work on even before we begin.

Leave Influence Unseen And so we should try to keep them as unconscious of our influence as possible. We should try to give them the idea that everything they do comes from within themselves, and as a matter of fact it should. There is too much talk nowadays before children of influence and training and all that. Let the influence be there always, but as an unseen guest. It is a very good idea when talking to children, even little ones, not to say, "I think it best," or "Father thinks it best," or "Don't you think it best?" or "What do you think would be the right thing to do?"

BIGAMY LEGAL IN GERMANY IF PLANNED RIGHT

BERLIN, March 4. (UP).—Bigamy is not a punishable offense in Germany, if one knows how to go about it. This has been definitely established by the Berlin courts in the case of a shoe factory official named Schultzenstein.

In 1903 Schultzenstein married a German girl and lived with her for 20 years. Albert, the marriage was not a happy one and in 1923, after his wife had attacked him with a carving knife, he left her without going through the formality of obtaining a divorce. In 1926 his company sent him to Leningrad to study shoe manufacturing methods there. In Leningrad he met a young lady from Libau, with whom he fell in love. They set up housekeeping together and registered themselves under the Russian laws as man and wife.

A year or two later, his Russian mission ended. Schultzenstein returned to Berlin, bringing with him his second wife. In compliance with German law they reported to the police upon their arrival, announcing themselves as Herr and Frau Schultzenstein. After a few months the first wife discovered her successor. She laid the facts in the case before the Berlin prosecutor. Schultzenstein was arrested and charged with bigamy.

At the trial a prominent lawyer, who is also an authority on foreign laws, testified as "a friend of the court" that an alleged offense committed in Russia was punishable in Germany only when it was also punishable according to Russian law. In the new Russian criminal code there is no penalty for bigamy, the only relief available to the offended party being the privilege of bringing civil suit for the purpose of having one or the other of the marriages declared invalid. Moreover, unlike most other countries, Germany recognizes Russian law. Hence Schultzenstein could not be punished by a German court.

Having apparently no alternative but to accept this view, the court acquitted Schultzenstein and ordered the state treasury to reimburse him for the expenses he incurred in defending himself.

Meanwhile it remains unclear as to whether he has two lawful wives or only one.

Film Favorites to Sing In Whiteman Hour

Lillian Roth and Joe Wagstaff, guest artists on the Paul Whiteman-Old Gold Hour.

STEPPING out of her latest role in the new Paramount talkie, "Honey," Miss Lillian Roth, young and vivacious star of many a Broadway operetta, will grace the Paul Whiteman-Old Gold Hour, Tuesday evening, March 4, on the Columbia coast-to-coast network.

With her at the microphone will be another screen favorite in the person of Joe Wagstaff, aristocratic star of the latest Fox films, "Song of Kentucky" and "Let's Go Places."

Accompanying this duet will be Sam Coslow, Tin Pan Alley's prolific song writer, composer of "Bebe," "Wanita," "Not Yet Suzette" and other hits.

Miss Roth, actress practically from her cradle days, enjoys the reputation of having been featured by the Shuberts, Flo Ziegfeld, Earl Carroll, Texas Guinan and now Jesse Lasky. She is still in her teens, yet she boasts successes from the early age of 6. Having won honors through the length of Broadway, she now finds herself the star of Paramount's latest picture, "Honey."

The broadcast, in which Miss Roth, Wagstaff and Coslow will be featured, goes on the air at 9, eastern standard time.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES TO GREET CATTLEMAN AT SAN ANGELO

Texas U May Take State Relays Again

SIX SPECIALS IN PRESENTATION EVENTS AT ANGELO

SAN ANGELO, March 4.—A West Texan will bow to a good horse at most any time—and he is a poor cow puncher if he can't tell a good one a mile away.

But the experience of having a pony of the range bow and scrape to his public, dance to music then go through a series of difficult stunts that would be hard even for an athlete from Midland high school will be witnessed by members of the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association who attend horse races at the San Angelo fair grounds March 19.

Members of the association will be in San Angelo March 18 to 20 inclusive for their 55th annual convention. The inaugural Spring Race Festival, sponsored by the San Angelo Board of City Development, will open March 19 to continue through March 22, and the initial program has been dedicated to the visiting cattlemen and their ladies.

Prince, a 6-year old horse owned and trained by Homer Rumsy of near San Angelo, has been delegated to welcome the visiting cattlemen to the race track. Prince will make his bow, then leap over an automobile, jump a pole 42 inches high without a start and with the pole under his neck, and do numerous other stunts—just to entertain the cattlemen.

Six special events have been slated for the initial dedicatory program, with five events each of the three following afternoons. The races will start at 2:30 p. m. according to J. E. Elrod, chairman of the executive committee in charge.

Elrod is highly pleased with the large number of well known stables that have entered for competition in the 4-day program here.

HAVE DONE TRICK SIX OUT EIGHT TIMES IN PAST

AUSTIN, Tex., March 4. (AP)—After six weeks of strenuous training, Coach Clyde Littlefield expressed optimism over the chances of bringing the 1930 Southwest Conference track championship to the University of Texas, Texas won second place in the conference in 1928 and 1929 and placed first in six of the past eight years.

Texas' chances of coming through with the championship depend largely on the showing made by the sophomores during their first year of competition with the outlook extremely promising.

Captain Mondrick of Cameron, who placed in both the high and low hurdle events at the last conference meet, has been hard pressed by John Henry of San Antonio, a sophomore who showed promise of developing into a first rate varsity man. Magnus Smith, the third hurdlar, also showed splendid early season form.

Scott Wilkey of El Paso has shown even better form than Smith when he placed in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Wilkey also showed short dashes center in Wilkey, Luckett of San Antonio, last year's freshman champion. Fred Harlingen and Elkins and Craig of San Antonio.

Good Talent

Three men from last year's championship relay team are leading contenders in the 440-yard dash. They are Westfield of Cisco, Harris of Cleburne and Terrell of Fort Worth. Material for this event is further augmented by Frank Barton and E. F. Meredith of Wichita Falls, sophomore stars.

Adolph Schiller of Rosenberg looks the best of the candidates in the mile event. His main competition is coming from S. S. Bowman of Austin, John Williams of Del Rio and Buford Green of Dallas.

Cecil Cole of Cisco, who placed in the conference meet last spring and who was one of the mainstays of the cross-country team in the fall, has been showing even better form in the two-mile event than last year. Others in this event who are expected to give opponents plenty of trouble are Daniel Storm of Austin, Clifford Cate and Barney Slaughter of Cleburne.

Inventor, 19, Plans to Skim Over Atlantic Ocean in New Winged Ship in 60 Hours

Here is the strange-looking winged boat in which 19-year-old Paul Dudley, shown in inset, of Quincy, Mass., expects to go to sea. The single wing isn't sufficient to lift the ship into the air, but it is designed to skim over the top of the waves like a gigantic sea bird, at speed of 80 miles an hour.

QUINCY, Mass., March 3.—In addition to a flair for practical science, 19-year-old Paul Dudley had a father who believed in his boyhood dream of a half-boat, half-airplane which could skim the Atlantic in less than three days.

Probably no one else would have flung a small fortune to the winds created by two 450-H. P. motors on such a strange-looking craft. But the elder Dudley already has spent $25,000 for its construction and is prepared to invest a good deal more in tests before he allows this slim, quiet, bespectacled son of his to dash out upon the high seas.

The launching here the other day culminated months of feverish effort at the local shipyard, where young Dudley directed and worked with mechanics and carpenters. It was a proud moment when his fiancée, Miss Ruth Jenkins, of Watertown, broke a bottle of mineral water on its blunt prow and christened it the "Silver Eagle."

A series of trial runs southward along the Atlantic coast to Florida will be undertaken soon. The hydroglider, for that is its technical name, is 40 feet in length, with a single wing of 42 feet. Neither wing nor motors are sufficient to lift the craft into the air, but Dudley is sure it will be supported so it will just touch the tops of ocean waves.

The maximum speed, while loaded, is expected to be 80 miles an hour. Except in the roughest seas, this should afford the stability of an airplane in flight. The controls, even to the aerial rudder at the stern, are operated exactly like those of an airplane.

The cabin is nearly as revolutionary in design as the exterior. In a space 30 by 8 feet, luxurious quarters are provided for 30 passengers bent on crossing the ocean in a hurry. Folding berths are provided, with wicker chairs for daytime sailing. Meals can be served from a fully equipped galley.

Amazed! Way Tanlac Relieves "Rheumatism"

For years the remarkable results obtained from Tanlac in the treatment of general rundown conditions have amazed its users, but most surprising of all is the quick relief this remarkable medicine gives in cases of "rheumatism" and stomach ills that yield to nothing else.

Men and women who thought themselves beyond human aid, who suffered for years with pains from stomach and bowel troubles, neuritis, chronic headaches, dizziness, vertigo, constipation, who saw their lives daily going down into a death valley, all now have through the amazing stimulating and cleansing action of this REAL MEDICINE, Tanlac, found themselves once more in the possession of a strong healthy stomach and a body free from pain. One user says, "I suffered for years from rheumatism but after taking Tanlac for a couple of weeks I was over the rheumatism, my kidneys acting once more efficiently in eliminating the poisons. They had not a bottle from the nearest druggist. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back. Accept no substitutes."

OIL MEN HERE

Eight officials of the Mid-West Oil Co. met in Midland Saturday evening before making a tour of the fields. They left this morning for the producing areas of the West Texas Permian.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Thomas returned to Midland Monday afternoon from a week end spent at Texon, where they attended the polo club dance of the Big Lake Oil company.

Mrs. J. Alfred Tom of Stanton stopped in Midland this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Witcher of Odessa stopped in Midland Monday afternoon.

The Godless Age

Soviet soldiers are shown here carrying ikons and religious decorations from the Simonoff Monastery, Moscow, prior to the razing of the structure to make room for a "new house of culture." It is part of the Soviet Government's drive to relegate religion to a minor place in Russian affairs. Knitting machines hum industriously in the halls of the Znamensk Monastery, where pious Moscovites once knelt in prayer. Bells whose mellow tones have called the faithful to worship for centuries are being crashed from their towers and melted so that the metal can be used for farm implements.

has grown so in Russia that more than one thousand churches have been closed.

Houses of worship are being wrecked. Photographs now showing the progress of this Communist offensive against religion. The destruction of the Simonoff monastery on the outskirts of Moscow is pictured above.

In one picture Soviet Government soldiers and Communists are shown toiling eagerly up a slope to the monastery to tear it down stone by stone. The more stones a Communist removed, the more worthy was he in the eyes of the "Godless" movement.

The Godless One, official organ of the Moscow Godless League, says Moscow must not lag behind in the war on religion.

IF THIS BE COMMUNISM THEN WE, THE UNITED STATES, DO NOT WANT IT.

This is a country of religious liberty, not of a destruction of all religion. Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other large centers have beheld disorderly Communist outbreaks fomented to create riots aimed at our nation among those out of work. But they never have and never shall prevail against the American spirit of true Democracy which protects a person in his or her religious belief.

A wealth of material also has been found in the field events, which have always been the Longhorns' strongest branch.

Leaders in the race for high jump honors are Milton Perkins of Bastrop, Jimmie Underwood of Paris, John Craig of San Antonio, and March of Harlingen. In the broad jump, six men have displayed exceptional form in practice. They are Craig, Perkins, Fomby, Elkins, Underwood and Peebles.

In Good Condition

G. McKinnon of Plainview, the pole vaulting luminary of the Longhorns for the past two seasons, apparently has reached the best form he has ever attained while serious consideration has been given to LeVine Heneman, a sophomore from Illinois. G. Trousdale of Smithville and J. R. Dunn of Plainview round out the pole vaulting squad.

George Harris, who won a letter two years ago, is back in school and working on the weight events. He is showing well in both the shot and discus. Alfred Rose of Dallas, winner of second place in the discus in the meet last spring, will report for practice as soon as released from the basketball squad. Joe Boyer of Floydada, Bruce Alexander of Elmore and Shelley of Austin also have been making a bid for discus honors.

The champion high school javelin thrower of the state in 1928, Hill Hedges of Austin, seems destined to make his mark in Southwest conference circles. He has been closely pressed by Roy Galloway of Weatherford and Perkins.

Perhaps it would justify its existence in the following language:

"I kept a family of four warm and comfortable for 30 days.

I cooked three meals a day for four persons for 30 days—90 meals in all.

I kept on hand a supply of hot water for washing, shaving and baths for four weeks.

I boiled clothes once a week for four weeks.

I saved, as compared to other fuels, at least two hours a day in the kitchen for 30 days—60 in all.

I saved in cleaning and laundry bills and damage to furnishings by the smoke and soot that would have resulted from the use of other fuels.

I saved the time and trouble of ordering fuel, storing and handling cleaning stoves, making fires and emptying ashes.

I was ready to serve you at any time, night or day, heat was needed.

And now I am ready and anxious to serve you again and to retain your everlasting goodwill."

New York man fell five floors and was unhurt. What's the trick? Think of the time it would save, waiting for elevators! Most people are worrying about the income tax, but the real fret still is how the outgo taxes us. Dr. Alfred Adler of Vienna, famed psychoanalyst, says bridge addicts are victims of superiority complexes, and the game is a cheap pastime. Eh! Maybe so—if you play for a tenth of a cent a point. Also, he contends it is one of the easiest games to play. He's wrong, or we're just plain dumb. Cleveland engineers say the number of men out of work is partially due to the number of women at work. Be that as it may—the women get the money even when the man has the job. Americanism: Razing the big fight, and then devouring all the newspaper cuttings. The household page gives a recipe for "Clapper pie." We suppose it will be conspicuous for its crust. Or maybe we should expect a film frosting. Today's smile: As sure of his job as a French premier. SCHOOL CAMPUS TO BE IMPROVED BY LAND ARTIST

Employment of a landscape expert for the purpose of beautifying the grounds of Midland High School was voted at the last meeting of the school board, following a motion made by George Ratliff and seconded by Dr. John B. Thomas.

When the high school was built, two full city blocks, well located with reference to the city, were purchased, one street between them was condemned, and the building constructed across the center, facing south.

This arrangement made possible the developing of a beautiful high school campus. Meanwhile, with the rapid increase of scholastic population and the fact that tax valuations were a year behind in increasing, beautifying of the property was deferred.

The action recently taken by the board in voting to employ an expert in land is expected to result in the creation of a beauty spot for the city.

Meeting of M. E. Society

Members of the Methodist Missionary society met in regular business session Monday afternoon at the church at 3:30.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Terry Eldin, vice president, and the devotional led by Mrs. O. B. Holt. Sr. Mrs. J. P. Collins opened the business discussion with prayer, and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. M. M. Seymour.

Interesting reports were heard from the various officers of the organization.

Announcement was made of the "World Day of Prayer," March 7, and plans were made to observe this day in a meeting at the church. Members were urged to attend.

Mrs. L. A. Boone closed the meeting with prayer.

A box to go to the Wesley Community house was prepared and Mrs. Mount Armstrong, supply superintendent, is to see that the box is mailed. Members donated various articles to the box, and quite a large contribution was made.

MANY FORMS OF HEALTH TROUBLES ENDED BY KONJOLA

New Medicine Goes To Every Source Of Common Ailments; Crowds Calling Daily at Mayes Young Drug Store.

Local men and women in all walks of life are daily visiting the Mayes Young drug store to find out for themselves about the unusual merit of this celebrated medical preparation, Konjola, which is being introduced to the people of Midland and vicinity for the first time. Countless modern people, regardless of their health or position, are suffering the same common ailments that arise from an unhealthy inner-system.

Human suffering afflicts the great same as it afflicts the mass of people. This new Konjola goes to the very source of common ailments. By helping Nature, Konjola is far above many of the older known remedies. In this new day of science, a medicine must cleanse the system of all toxic poisons, and this must be done through the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

The same medicine must strengthen and invigorate these organs to more healthy, normal action. It takes

Promised $100; Killed For $65

WICHITA, Kansas, March 4. (UP).—Mrs. Ben Turner was slain for $65, which was $35 less than the price agreed on by her husband, according to a confession late last night by Jim Stutton. Stutton worked under Turner in a salt plant. He said that Turner talked of ten of murdering his wife, offering $100 to commit the deed. He said he finally agreed, that he hid in the Turner home and killed the woman. He said Turner paid him $65 and promised to pay the rest later.

POLICE SPREAD NET TO CATCH SAFE CRACKERS

HOUSTON, March 4. (P)—Police spread a net over the city today in an attempt to capture safe crackers who looted two Houston safes in two days, and escaped with $4,100. Pecos Well Showing A Big Gas Volume

Black and Goodman Number 1 Pecos Valley, section 34, block 3, H. & T. C. survey, Pecos county, approximately 22 miles northeast of Fort Stockton, has drilled to a total depth of 1533 feet and is approximately three feet in the pay, which was topped at 1530.

It encountered a showing of gas between 1495-98 which increased to 18,000,000 cubic feet at 1528-30.

The well is averaging approximately 300 barrels of oil daily.

Significance in the well chiefly relates to its proximity to the Stein et al Number 1 Pecos Valley, a 12-barrel producer a quarter of a mile to the southeast.

A two-inch line extends from the three Pecos Valley producers to a loading rack on the Orient railway.

Chamber Sends Out S-A-F-E Publicity

Newspaper stories on the goodwill trip to be made by the Midland chamber of commerce March 18 to Andrews, Seminole, Lovington and Hobbs, was sent out by the local chamber Monday to newspapers within a radius of 120 miles.

Other publicity sent these papers was that relating to S-A-F-E, airline which opened its Sweetwater-Midland extension by landing at the port at 6:15 Monday. One passenger arrived.

a liquid to do these things. In making Konjola, the juices from twenty-two of the finest medicinal plants and herbs have been selected. It is scientifically made in one of the largest modern laboratories.

One of the first cases for which Konjola was used was kidney trouble—getting up frequently at night. The man who took it came back the fourth day and said he slept all through the previous night. It was earned afterward that he had been doctoring over ten years for his trouble. Another man had been crippled with rheumatism, swollen joints, stiff, aching limbs and agonizing pains. He had not left his home for eighteen months. He completed a few weeks' treatment of Konjola and said he walked several blocks for the first time in two years. This, of course, was about three weeks after he had completed Konjola. From this case, it was determined that Konjola would do wonders for neuritis. One lady who had tried nearly everything for this trouble said that five bottles of Konjola had completely ended every ache and pain. She had previously taken mineral baths, electric treatments and medicine upon medicine without results. All of these are actual cases and can be verified by the signed statements in our possession.

Another lady was treated with Konjola for stomach trouble. She said in five years she had spent several thousand dollars on her health. She was bed-ridden three days out of five, but shortly after she began with Konjola, she could eat heartily of many things she had not dared to eat in years. Her food agreed with her and she continued with Konjola for a few weeks longer and gained 20 pounds. One lady told us that this new medicine did her more good than four years of special dieting. She took Konjola for nervousness and a general run-down system.

When Konjola is taken into the human system, there are 22 extracts from natural plants that have a certain individual duty to perform on the functional organs—stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. The cleansing and invigorating of these organs is what brings about such amazing relief and new feeling of health after long cases of suffering.

Konjola is now sold in Midland at the Mayes Young drug store, where many prominent people are calling daily to find out about this surprising new medicine. —Adv.

SEVERAL MIDLAND PEOPLE TO SEE BIG COMPANY FROM FREIBURG IN 'PASSION'

A large number of Midland people will go to San Angelo March 10, 11 and 12 to witness the Freiburg Passion Play, it was learned here after a number of church leaders and others had been questioned about their interest in the performances.

The Rev. Leslie Boone, pastor of the First Methodist church of Midland, who is among those who have witnessed the play, said the play is enlightening and that he found nothing objectionable whatever about the portrayal of the Life of Christ as presented by the German players.

"Of course there may be some personal objections, but they would be entirely personal, due to one's religious training, but the play is enlightening and very much worth while," the Rev. Boone said.

Rev. George F. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church here, pointed to an editorial page comment on the play which appeared in The Baptist Standard. "I have not seen the play, and do not wish to make a statement about it, other than that this item in The Baptist Standard evidently shows the editor sanctions the play. I am confident it is a great performance," the Rev. Brown said.

The item appearing in The Baptist Standard gave the following interesting facts about the play:

In 1624 the inhabitants of Freiburg (Baden), Germany, first presented the Passion Play. They have given it periodically since that time, as well as in nearly every city in Europe. The production is colossal with hundreds of people participating, a thousand of the most beautiful costumes, camels, and a donkey. Scene blends into scene without pause, as one marvels at their genius of stagecraft. The performance begins with a prologue depicting Adams and Eve in the garden and the fall of man. This is followed by a tableau of the glorification of the cross. The great drama of the passion of Christ closes with the resurrection and the singing of the mighty "Hallelujah chorus" the "Messiah."

Without metals American industrial supremacy would come to an end. Legislators would be well to remember that unavoidable fact.

Among the patriotic shrines visited by the delegation were: the cemetery at New Orleans, Independence Hall and Valley Forge in Philadelphia, Mount Vernon, Arlington, and Christ church in Alexandria (the place where Washington and Lee worshiped), the Capitol and the library of congress in Washington.

Superintendent N. R. Crozier of Dallas was elected president of the department of superintendence of the National Educational association. This honor is the greatest educational recognition that can come to a man in the profession, and this is the first time that a southern man has been elected to this position.

"SHAPE AND FASHION—such things will remain"
(Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1807-1882)

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"
Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.
