Prison Conferees at End of Rope; Young Plan Is Lost

REPORT IS ASKED FOR BY SENATE

Adjournment Tabled With Final Date March 20

AUSTIN, March 14. (AP)—The penitentiary reformation conference committee was plainly at the end of the rope today, after rejecting the plan of Representative Dewey Young of the house conferees to spend $600,000 supplying emergency needs of the system.

The proposal was turned down by a three to two majority of Senate conferees.

Standing for at least a small new unit to be devoted to industrial activities, Young explained that the money he proposed, one-fourth for improvements at Huntsville and the rest for farms, was merely to tide the system over until centralization near Austin could be considered by the next legislature.

Report Called For

Senate conferees were called on for a report on their progress, and the question of whether they should be discharged and a new set named caused prolonged debate.

The sulphur tax conferees were deadlocked and the sine die adjournment resolution as amended, fixing the final quitting date for March 20, remained on the table with indications that Senator Small, who placed it there, would not disturb it.

OPPOSE TAX ON OIL

AUSTIN, March 14. (P)—The disadvantage which it would place on Texas companies competing with outsiders in world markets was the principal objection offered to the bill to tax oil transported by pipe lines in the state at the rate of a cent per barrel, when the bill was considered by the house committee on revenue and taxation last night. The hearing will be continued tonight.

SENATE HITS WISCONSIN

AUSTIN, March 14. (UP)—Texas retaliated today for refusal of the Wisconsin real estate board to approve certain land sales by the Rio Grande development company. It was reported here that Wisconsin machinery orders aggregating over $300,000 have been cancelled.

The senate adopted a resolution urging Texas citizens to refrain from purchasing Wisconsin products. The resolution is pending in the house.

The resolution resulted in the discharge of John Newman, secretary of the Wisconsin real estate board, for the purchase of land at La Feria despite the board's disapproval of the selling policy.

OPPOSED TO STATE ROAD BOND ISSUE

Better Roads Chief Plank In His Platform

WACO, March 14. (AP)—Fred B. Robinson, veteran newspaper publisher and advocate of more and better State highways without extravagance, threw his "coat in the middle of the road" in Texas' gubernatorial race today.

Announcing his candidacy for governor on the Democratic ticket, Robinson reiterated his well-known stand for good roads and lower taxes, opposed the proposed state highway bond issue and favored reduction of motor vehicle license fees and cutting of the gasoline tax from four to two cents per gallon.

He would advocate rebuilding of the prison system on the Wynne Farm near Huntsville at an expense of about $1,000,000, he said, "instead of buying more land and rebuilding elsewhere at an ultimate expense of around $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 or even only $5,000,000, the lowest estimate." He would oppose selling prison farm lands at this time at a probable sacrifice.

Other issues will be discussed when the campaign opens said Robinson, who is the eighth announced candidate for the office, subject to the Democratic primaries in July.

IRA F. LORD IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY CLERK

Ira F. Lord, Midland real estate man and farm owner, authorizes the Reporter-Telegram today to announce his candidacy for the office of county and district clerk, subject to action of the democratic primary election in July.

Lord, in commenting on his candidacy, said that he will, if elected, give to the people of Midland county a business office where public records will be available at all times.

He refers to his experience in handling land and property transactions, familiarizing himself with the procedure of filing and recording records.

Ira F. Lord has lived in Midland county for the past six years, engaging actively in the farming business since he came here from Coke county. He has also been active in dealing in city and farm property.

She testified at both trials that the killing was due to the accidental discharge of a shotgun the husband had.

The hats become the permanent property of the buyer for 38 cents and will be used on other good will excursions this year. People who get the hats are asked to keep them in a safe place on returning home, so they may be ready for future use.

Refuses Food, Clerk Is Growing Weaker

Refusal to take sufficient nourishment has caused J. M. Shelburne, district-county clerk to grow steadily weaker, in the opinion of Dr. W. E. Ryan, attendant physician who has moved his patient to the Thomas hospital for special attention.

Dr. Ryan said Shelburne's teeth, due to mercury poisoning contracted when the clerk took bichloride of mercury several weeks ago, may be causing this aversion to eating. A dentist has been with him several times during the past week.

Aside from this condition of weakness, the clerk is "practically unchanged," Dr. Ryan said.

WOMAN TAKES POISON

MIDLAND OIL MAN NAMED BY WILBUR FOR OIL PROBLEM

A Midland man, H. W. Lourie Jr., office manager for the Fisher-Lourie geological office here after moving from Denver, has been named by Secretary Wilbur to serve on an important commission.

A Fort Worth man, J. Elmer Thomas, made another Texan to be appointed to the committee, others of which live in New York, California and Oklahoma.

As a further step toward carrying out the administration's policy of oil conservation, Secretary Wilbur Monday appointed the five experts on petroleum matters to make a "complete and unprejudiced analysis of the status of petroleum demand."

Acting in his capacity as chairman of the Federal Oil Conservation board, Secretary Wilbur named the men as a committee on petroleum economy. The other men were Joseph E. Pogue of New York, Ray E. Collins of Tulsa and H. P. Grimm of Los Angeles.

Messrs. Collins and Grimm are umpires of production for Oklahoma and California, respectively. Thomas will serve as chairman and Dr. Pogue as secretary.

In a letter to the five appointees, Secretary Wilbur said: "In performing its function of advising the oil industry and the public, the Federal Oil Conservation board needs an unprejudiced analysis of the status of petroleum demand. To that end I desire to ask the services of a group of distinguished students of practical economics in making a brief review of the outlook for 1930, utilizing the best statistics available, and reporting its findings to the Federal Oil Conservation board."

"Two questions present themselves: The first of these is what is the anticipated consumption of refined products? The second is what amount of crude is necessary to meet sufficiently that demand? This broader interests true conservation of a resource in which there is most active interest."

Other members of the Fisher-Lourie Co. here are P. F. Brown, geologist in charge of the Honolulu Oil Co., related office to the Fisher-Lourie Co., Mrs. Frank Gardner, E. R. Hays, geologist, Frank Gilpin of the land department, H. S. Nornally, geologist, Paul F. Osborne, geologist, and J. J. Kelly, accountant.

GARRARD WILL BE LOCATED HERE IN PRACTICE OF LAW

Opening of an office in Midland of the law firm of Lockhart and Garrard of Lubbock was reported here today, negotiations having been under way for selection of office quarters in the Petroleum building.

Tom T. Garrard, former Midland attorney, will be located at the Midland office. He left here in 1922 for Austin, having been appointed by Governor Neff to a place on the criminal court of appeals.

After serving in that position, he formed a partnership with G. E. Lockhart of Lubbock. The two have been highly successful in both criminal and civil courts. Garrard told friends here that a number of Midland people had tendered him legal work if he would return here, and it was decided to have offices for the firm at both Lubbock and Midland.

Proration Subject of Program Prepared By Mosier

Midland will be host city to the Southwestern district meeting of the American Petroleum Institute division of production. The meeting will be held April 10 with a banquet at Hotel Scharbauer in the evening.

A field excursion will be conducted April 11 by the Midland Chamber of Commerce to the Yates, McCamey and Big Lake area, trips to other oil fields in the Midland area will be special, arranged by C. W. Alcorn, Chairman of the Petroleum Committee of the Midland chamber of commerce and assistant state superintendent for Shell in Texas.

An attendance of about 200 is expected at the Midland meeting. Midland is the smallest city an A. P. I. meeting has ever been held in, but the A. P. I. division selected this city because of its proximity to the problems for discussion on the program, and also because Midland is more centrally located than any other available city to the West Texas and Eastern New Mexico oil fields, according to men who made the nominating speeches for Midland at the last convention held in Galveston last fall.

LONGEST DROUTH SINCE '18 HITS MIDLAND COUNTRY

Four months without rainfall on the rangeland of the Midland country.

The longest sustained dry spell since 1917-18.

So say the cattlemen.

Small wonder the stockmen are standing in the streets this afternoon looking upward, watching the clouds.

Weather forecasts, wired The Reporter-Telegram from Dallas, establish the possibility of rain during the next few hours or on Saturday, however. Warmer weather, more cloudy skies, and rain forecast in the southeast section of West Texas hopes for a downpour here.

Stockmen say cattle and ranges are in from fair to good condition despite the dry period. Visitors say the Midland county grass is the best in the Southwest. Various causes contribute to this, chiefly the late fall rains bringing out plenty of green stuff at the last minute before the winter cold spells.

Over weather week ending March 11, Midland temperatures ranged for a high mercury reading of 79 to a low of 23. During this period, the warmest weather experienced by the state was at Fallurrias, where the mercury stood at 100. The greatest drop was recorded at Dalhart, where it was 15. Snyder reported 16 degrees on one day.

During the period light precipitation occurred over east New Mexico and northwestern Texas Panhandle. Temperatures were seasonal or slightly above, generally with much sunshine favorable for livestock. The ranges were improving over central and southern Texas and a general rain would be beneficial over the whole southwest section and the south.

THAT 300 MILE RADIUS

You can't beat Midland in a 300 mile radius. If you don't go as far as Fort Worth on the east, El Paso on the west, San Antonio on the south, and far beyond 300 miles on the north, you won't find a city to visit that provides accommodations exceeding those of Midland. It is true that in that radius there are several cities with larger population, but what more do they provide for the citizen or visitor? Midland has the good homes, the high class places to shop, the good churches and schools, amusement houses that compare with those of the larger cities, strong financial institutions, hotel and office accommodations that rank with the best, a social plane that would do credit to a metropolis. Midland has reached a stage of advancement that eliminates the necessity of "going to town to see something." Its citizens have things to see and things to do right at home, and when they visit other places they come back filled with pride for their own city. Midland is not excelled in a 300 mile radius.

CONSIDER YOUR HEALTH

Your health is your capital. With most of us this is our entire capital. If we are educated, if you have a profession, if you know a good trade, these will avail you little unless you have good health. For you to get sick and remain sick is a great economic loss, to yourself, to your dependents, and also to the community. The health of each person, therefore, is of great interest to the community at large as well as to himself. So long as we are alive we must eat food, have shelter, and clothing. Someone must furnish this. If one is not able to do this for himself it devolves upon others. This is a burden produced by bad health. Besides this, the community as well as his family misses his power to produce. For these reasons, not only is there a personal element and interest in the sickness of individuals, but public measures are also of the very first importance. We should be fully aroused over public health questions.

CHIEF OFFICER MANNING AGAIN

Our old friend Harry Manning, chief officer of the liner America, seems to be at it once more. The heroism displayed by this young seaman and his commander, Captain George S. Fried, in connection with the relief of the steamer Antioch is still bright in the public memory. Now Manning has distinguished himself again—this time by taking a lifeboat across stormy waves to take from a freight steamer an officer whose presence in America was made necessary by the critical illness of his daughter. Captain Fried and Officer Manning almost seem to specialize in this sort of thing. They prove that modern seamen are quite as capable and brave as the seaman of the old sailing-ship days. The American merchant marine is the richer for the presence of their names on its roster.

THE PROBLEM OF HAZING

Hazing is one of the perennial problems for the American college. Every college has its troubles with it at some time or another. Just now it is North Carolina State that is the unlucky institution, with three students expelled for the offense and several more under investigation. The facts in the case are of the usual kind. One student was pulled out of bed by masked invaders and beaten so badly that he was painfully injured. Several other students were forcibly given grotesque hair cuts. Just what it is that makes intelligent young men carry on activities like this is a puzzler. One would suppose that a college man, of all people, would be above such idiotic barbarities.

Come, Come! Gentlemen! We Thought This Was Courtesy Week!

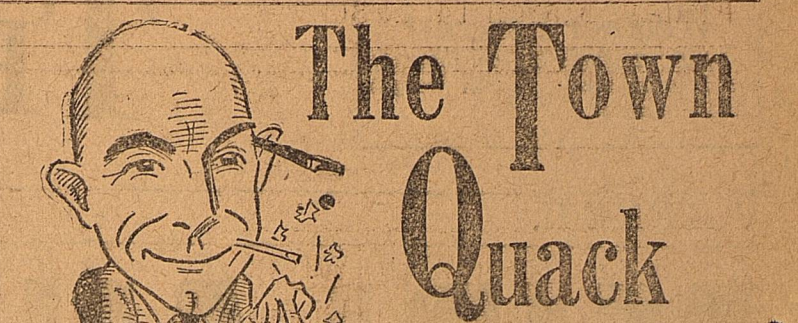

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON, March 14. — As soon as the tariff bill gets out of Congress—and the Senate is now putting on its own finishing touches before the bill goes to conference—Washington will become a dumping ground for all the political dope from the campaigns leading up to the Congressional primaries and elections. Already some of this dope is trickling in and, for what it may be worth, tends to favor some of the more outstanding senators among those who are up for re-election this year for another six-year term. For instance, Couzens of Michigan, Walsh of Montana, Norris of Nebraska and Grundy of Pennsylvania. On the other hand, from Alabama one hears that the skids have been pretty definitely placed under Tom Heflin. Prohibition Issue Rises The wet and dry issue apparently is going to figure as importantly in Congressional elections as it has in any non-presidential election year since prohibition, if not more so. Out in Nebraska, George W. Norris, the notorious independent progressive Republican, now faces the pleasant prospect of a divided field of opportunities. The candidates definitely entered against him for the nomination in the August primaries are State Treasurer W. M. Stebbins and Lieut.-Gov. George A. Williams. Both Stebbins and Williams in list that they will stay in the primary fight to the bitter end, but there have been recent reports that former Governor Samuel R. McKelvie, a member of the Federal Farm Board, may after all decide to enter the race. In that case sufficient pressure might be brought on Stebbins and Williams to cause them to withdraw and leave the situation a two-man fight between Norris and McKelvie. The recent drop in wheat prices however, was calculated to dampen McKelvie's hopes. The anti-Norris candidate or candidates will have the support of Anti-Saloon League officials who want Norris punished for supporting Al Smith in 1928, and the support of public utility and other corporations and standpat Republicans who resent the incumbent senator's failure to take orders from President Hoover. Other members of the Nebraska Congressional delegation believe Norris is reasonably sure to be returned, but think the contest may develop into an interesting fight. Governor Bert Green of Michigan threatens to oppose Senator James Couzens for renomination but has made no announcement. There is a more or less popular theory in the state that Couzens is unbeatable; his constituents seem to like his independence, although he has not real political machine and spends little money in campaigns despite his wealth. Green would have the state G. O. P. machine. He has always run as a dry.

There seems to be a feeling among Montana politicians that Tom Walsh will come back to Senate. He may not be opposed for renomination. On the Republican side, O. H. P. Shelley, a dry, former Bull Moose and once state prohibition administrator, has filed for the nomination, and Supreme Court Judge Albert Galen may go in as a wet. If Galen were nominated against Walsh he might hope to capture some of the wet Democratic vote and the main menace to Walsh seems to lie in the possibility of such a wet-dry fight. In Massachusetts someone must be elected to succeed the retiring Senator Gillett. The primaries are Sept. 15. Calvin Coolidge's old friend, former Senator William M. Butler, has filed for the Republican nomination and so has former State Senator Eben S. Draper. Draper is a wet and Butler hasn't yet announced what he is going to do. Draper came very near winning the nomination in the Bay State's senatorial primaries two years ago. Former Governor Alvan T. Fuller will be the strongest candidate if he enters the primaries, and probably the strongest man his party could name. His intentions are still unknown. The Massachusetts Democrats will nominate a wet but no one knows whom.

Vare May Drop Out Reports from Pennsylvania that Boss Vare of Philadelphia would keep out of the Republican primaries May 20 in favor of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis seem to favor Senator Joe Grundy's chances for renomination and election. Davis would have the labor vote, now lining up against Grundy and the Vare machine, but his strength as a candidate might be somewhat less than Vare's. Former Senator Joe Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, apertical candidate for re-election, is campaigning early and expensively against Dwight Morrow, the organization candidate and now a delegate to the London conference, for renomination to the seat vacated by Walter Edge and temporarily held in trust by Senator Baird. The Democrats will nominate whomever Bos Hague of Jersey City selects and he will run as a wet.

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.

Attention Readers! Do you want to win a prize, and also the everlasting goodwill and friendship of the Town Quack? Well, here's all you have to do. Sit down right now and mail me the best Irish joke you know, so that it will reach me Saturday. I'm going to print some Irish jokes in honor of St. Patrick's Day, and I want to use them in Sunday's paper. If you want to put some pep into this old column, and stand a chance at a prize, shoot the jokes to me. Now the old joke about the two Irishmen who were walking along and found a watch don't count. Both Irishmen stooped to pick it up, but Mike beat Pat to it. Pat, just to give vent to his injured feelings, said, "Mike, what time it is?" Mike, who couldn't tell the time, held the watch up so that Pat could read the time for himself, Pat, who couldn't tell the time either, but who refused to be shown up, said, "Dawned if it ain't!"

Scotch jokes don't count either, unless there is an Irishman connected with the Scotch. Malcolm Meek has a Scotch joke about the editor buying his boy a birthday present, somewhat less than Vares'.

PLAN TO HONOR FLIERS BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Thirteen Polish military fliers will be awarded the insignia of the "Gold Caterpillar" by the Irving Air Chute Company, according to an official announcement made through the Polish legation at Washington. The report was issued by Col. Rayski, chief of the Department of Aviation, ministry of Military Affairs.

HENS NO RESPECTER HAMILTON, Mont. (UP)—Calendar and customs means nothing to two independent hens on the O. J. Hobby ranch. According to precedent, these old biddies should have waited until spring—but, not so; for in the dead winter they suddenly appeared from the hen house leading chirping broods of chicks.

Murder Backstairs

By Anne Austin

BEGIN HERE TODAY The crime: Doris Matthews, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night with perfume from flask presented by Crosby to Mrs. Berkeley, and later used as murder weapon; Dick Berkeley, infatuated with Doris and missing all right from his room; Eugene Arnold, chauffeur; Wickett, butler. Mrs. Berkeley accuses Arnold of having murdered both Doris and her missing son, Dick, because of jealousy and following a quarrel between the three Friday afternoon. Dick walks in, says he has spent the night in the tower room, having fallen asleep waiting for Doris to meet him there as he had drunk only forced her to promise to do. Denies all knowledge of the crime. Detectives go to tower room to check Dick story. After Captain Strawn had given his orders to Wickett he joined Dundee in the third floor hall. "Before we take a look at that tower room, I'd like to have a sniff at the shoes young Dick was wearing last night," he said. "As I said before, the guy that croaked that perfume bottle over the girl's head is pretty sure to have got his shoes spattered with the stuff. Stepped in it, too, probably." "Through here, chief," Dundee suggested, leading the way into his own room and thence into the connecting bath. "It was mighty decent of you to let me question Mrs. Berkeley and Dick, but I want you to know I'll be glad to play dumb any time you say the word." "That's all right, boy," Strawn answered heartily. "You're doing a good job so far. George Berkeley is a mighty big man in this town and I don't want to antagonize him any more than I can help. If you forget anything I'll butt in. Don't you worry! . . . Hmm. Swell room the kid's got! Wonder if he was lying when he said he wanted to marry the girl? His parents would have kicked him out, of course, and he knew it." "I think he was really in love with her, though who knows what his love led him into?" Dundee answered thoughtfully. "Well, here's his dressing room. And these seem to be the shoes he was wearing last night." Strawn took the fine, custom-made pair of black dress shoes and sniffed them, walking away from the dressing room to do so, for the odor of Fleur d'Armour was strong in there. "Can't smell anything but shoe polish," he admitted. "Now let's see nothing to prevent his seeing her from the window, as she went to the summerhouse to keep her appointment with Arnold—not knowing he wasn't going to meet her. Afterwards, this room might have appeared to him as a good temporary hiding place. What are you shaking your head about?" "I still can't see, for the life of me, how the perfume flask fits in anywhere!" Dundee answered. "Besides, as I said, I think Dick was really in love with the girl." "And he was drunk. Don't forget that! Many a man has lighered himself up to a state where he'd rather kill a girl than see any other man have her. But there's no use theorizing yet. Let's get back to the old lady. . . . Lord! What a woman!" he added, with profound disgust. "Now, if it was her that was murdered—" Dundee grinned his full agreement then, with an exclamation, bent to pick up a book that had fallen open and face down, near the head of the couch. It was Conan Doyle's "The Hound of the Baskervilles." "Looks as if Dick was telling the truth about his reading, at any rate," he observed, as he turned through the pages of the first third of the book. "At least, it seems that he made a stab at reading to pass the time, but his mind was pretty well occupied with something else. See?" and he pointed to page 54, on the margin of which was scribbled in pencil, "Doris, Doris, Doris Elaine Matthews, Doris Berkeley, Mrs. Richard Radcliffe Berkeley." "Might be a plant," Strawn growled. "The kid had all the rest of the night to think up a story and ways to make it sound good." "I hardly think Dick is quite that clever," Dundee objected. "And if this marginal scribbling can be taken at its face value, we have definite confirmation of his intention to ask her to marry him." "All right. We'll take it along. Nothing else? Then let's go." When the two men reached the second floor landing of the marble stairs they found Detective Clemmons awaiting them, a small wet bundle held gingerly in his cupped palms. "The apron, eh? Good! Where did Collins find it?" "In the lake, near the summerhouse, sir." "Dropped off the bottom step, just as the body was, so it would make no splash that could be heard from the house," Strawn commented, as he accepted it. "That'll do now, Clemmons. How's everything downstairs?" "Everything quiet now, sir, though Cain had to call for Harper a few minutes ago to help him keep Arnold from busting out of the servants' sitting room. He wanted to come up here and make you tell him what's wrong." When Clemmons had departed Strawn took the wet bundle to a bench against the wall of the second-floor hall and, regardless of the fine petit point upholstery, spread the contents. Among the fragments, large and small, of the broken crystal flask he found a little silver vanity case, marked with the initials "D. M."

"Want to see what kind of lipstick a blond uses?" Strawn asked, grinning, as Dundee snapped the mirrored lid. "Mrs. Berkeley, did you by any chance so approve of your appearance after Doris had finished her work that you leaned toward the mirror and kissed your own reflection?" (To Be Continued)

WCTU Meets For A Discussion of Prohi Founder

Yesterday was observed as "Union Signal Day" by the WCTU in the regular monthly meeting at the Methodist church. Each year in March the ten thousand local unions in the U. S. celebrate in this manner the birthday anniversary of Neal Dow, who is known as "the Father of Prohibition."

The president, Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy, read the scripture and Mrs. Ed Eriksen led in prayer. The president then told the story of Neal Dow, a rising young lawyer of Portland, Maine. One stormy evening, the despairing wife of a drunkard came to Dow pleading for help. Dow went to the saloon where the husband drank and requested the proprietor to sell to this man no longer.

The saloon keeper contemptuously pointed to the license on the wall and said, "so long as the state of Maine permits me to sell, I shall sell."

Stirred by this answer, Neal Dow said, "Please God, we'll change all that."

He adopted as his slogan "Sow Maine knee-deep with temperance literature." The result was that in 1869 Maine became the first state to vote prohibition within her borders.

Year by year, other states followed until thirty-three were already under state prohibition when national prohibition became incorporated into the constitution.

Although only 36 states were required for the ratification of the 18th amendment, 46 states gave their approval.

Connecticut and Rhode Island were the two states which failed to ratify the new idea.

In keeping with "Union Signal Day," song sheets containing Union Signal pep songs were given out and used in the meeting yesterday. Canning little brown paper owls containing the words, "I am a subscriber," were pinned on those who were already getting the Union Signal each week.

Mrs. Florence Richardson spoke out of her experience of many years in WCTU work on the theme, "The Union Signal Answers Wet Propaganda."

The result was that five members more agreed to become subscribers and were presented with owls.

Mrs. H. J. Osborne gave an interesting paper on "Why We Wear the White Ribbon." Four members gave their orders to Mrs. Osborn for these pins.

Mrs. R. L. Mitchell gave a paper entitled, "Sitting WCTU Membership."

April 7-12 is the time set by the national organization for conducting the annual membership campaign. The committee appointed to direct this campaign is composed of the following:

Mesdames Florence Richardson, Ed Eriksen, J. P. Collins and Claude Cowden.

It was announced that, as a result of an effort to get each WCTU member to pay the annual dues by March 8, 27 had done so.

After the Mizpah benediction, repeated in unison, the body adjourned to meet the second Thursday in April at the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Malcolm Meek Entertains Thursday Club

Members and guests of the Thursday club spent a delightful afternoon playing bridge in the home of Mrs. Malcolm Meek yesterday.

Tallies and table appointments were suggestive of St. Patrick's Day, and a touch of green also made the refreshment plate attractive.

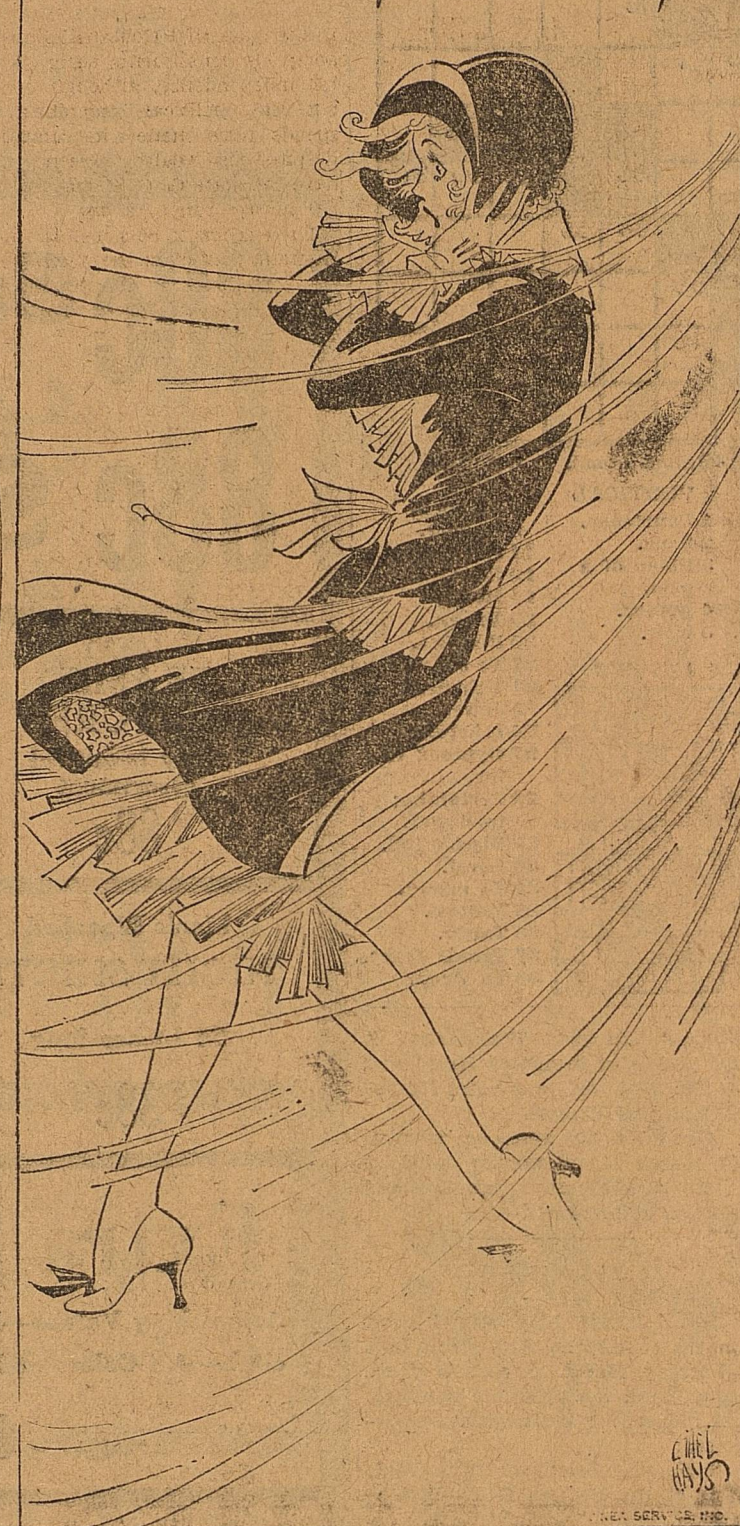

Mrs. M. C. Lusk held high score for guests; Mrs. C. L. Jackson, high for members, and Mrs. C. W. Alcorn cut high.

Those playing were Mesdames W. L. Brown, Carroll Hill, Martin Jackson, Jim Longabaugh, M. C. Luckey, M. C. Ulmer, A. L. Ackers, C. W. Alcorn, A. V. Edmondson, J. A. Finlayson, O. C. Harper, Jack Hazeltine, C. L. Jackson, W. C. Kinkle, H. E. Munson, and R. J. Moore.

BASEBALL SEASON "OPENS" AT VUCCA

When asked by a Reporter-Telegram representative this morning how the show was, manager John Bonner replied without a stammer, "Fine, we opened the baseball season yesterday." It so happens that Bessie Love, former Midland girl, and now one of the most popular stars in talking pictures, is featured in the cast of the picture playing at the Yucca. "They Learned About Women." It is a baseball story, with Van and Schenk, former vaudeville celebrities as well as former baseball stars, appearing in the stellar roles. J. C. Nugent also plays an important role in the baseball sequences thousands of people appear. The variety of comedy, romance and thrills seem to have made a hit with first day audiences. Manager Bonner commented on it as being one of the best hits of entertainment the screen has offered recently. Bessie Love's many friends and admirers will find her superbly pleasing.

Edwin Moss Williams, representative of the United Press, was a business visitor to Midland this morning.

THE NEWS WRANGLER

How do you like the name we've chosen for our ten A press club? Perhaps you don't like it. Well, maybe you'll like it better when I explain why we chose this particular one.

First, what is the purpose of a press club anyway? One purpose is to get news that everyone will be interested in. A second purpose is to let the town people know what we are doing in our school and to keep them interested in it.

Next, what is a wrangler? That isn't so hard to explain. It is a West Texas expression and most of us know what a "horse wrangler" is. A remuda of horses must be taken when a herd is being moved. The horse wrangler's job is to take care of this remuda, round them up each morning, feed them, and to do the odd jobs around the camp. If a horse is lost, he is held responsible for it, and the price of the horse is taken out of his wages at the end of the month.

So you see, the name is rather appropriate after all. Our job is to round up the news, write it up, and cut out that which should not go in. If anyone assigned to a certain story fails to get it, a certain amount will be taken out of his grade at the end of the month.

THE TATTILER

The students have already started counting the days until school is out. It won't be long now. Just two more short weeks and we'll have three months-whoop-ee!

All the girls are just thrilled to death with the cop. They are all filling with him so that he won't give them a red ticket. I heard that he has called Ida Beth and Janelle down for speeding.

And that reminds me that since Ida Beth's geologist friend has been transferred she has found another to take his place. She may be seen riding in a Buick coupe with "Long-hair" on the door.

Ruby has a new crush, too, and her skies are all blue now. Does anybody know who he is? I do, but I'm not going to tell a single soul.

I heard a new one on our dizzy freshman blonde the other day. She has been rambling around the Atlantic Tank Farm lately, and we wonder what she found. Anyway it didn't seem to affect Craze's affection.

Too bad Jean had to fall for the Dean's son in Lubbock. She evidently had a good time while she was there.

Did you know that Nancy is beating Helen Margaret's time with Poe?

Martha Louise got a very ardent love letter from—. Can you guess who wrote this interesting missive?

Speaking of letters—Ruby got one from Big Spring the other day. It seems that she didn't even know the guy who wrote it.

And by the way, our Mary Caroline... but my time is up, and I'd better not tell this, anyhow. I'll save that for next time.

NEWS WRANGLERS STAFF

The Midland Hi News was edited this week by the 10-A class. The editorial staff was:

Editor in chief—Martha Louise Nobiles.

Assistant editor—Jess Edith Carlisle.

Society editor—Ida Beth Cowden.

Athletic editor—Hoyt Baker.

The reporters were Marie Hill, Nancy Rankin, Ida Beth Cowden, Ruby Hodges, Alma Lee Norwood, Maggie Sue Moore, Evelyn Adams, Jess Edith Carlisle, Millie B. Bagley, Lloyd McKinney, Hoyt Baker, and Sammy Lane Cobb.

CHAPEL DAY BY DAY

Monday, March 10, 1930.—The High School read "The One-Hundredth Psalm." Then the girls' chorus practiced in room 108, while the boys' glee club practiced in the auditorium.

After this, everyone was called back into the auditorium, and the president of the literary society, Ralph Hellman, called for orders, and the nominations for annual queen, were in order. The following were nominated: Mary Lou Thlower, Ida Beth Cowden, Earnestine Zigler, Johnny Helen Cowley, and Ella Mae Newland.

Tuesday, March 11, 1930.—Mr. Coher made a report on the debate, which brought victory to M. H. S.

Wednesday, March 12, 1930.—Announcements were made by C. W. Edwards and Thomas Lee Speed concerning the Annual, also an announcement by Mr. Lanham about the band.

Mr. Shifflett gave an account of "The Passion Play." He stated it was the most wonderful play he had ever seen. His description of the play made us feel as if we had seen it.

Thursday, March 13, 1930.—The chapel period this morning was given over to the Midland high school concert band. They rendered several numbers, and the program closed by the band's playing "Peruna" while the high school sang it. Everyone seemed happy and ready to start the day's work right.

LETTER FROM FOREIGN STUDENTS

Lloyd McKinney, a student of Spanish 3, received a letter this week from his foreign correspondent, Augustin del Pino Bejarano. The latter is a student in the Colegio Nacional, "Eugenio Espejo" of Bahoyo, Ecuador, and is the son of a surgeon and physician in that city.

He is at present having a vacation from school work, but promised to send several pictures of the town and the college on his return.

POMES

Tell 'em You're Feelin' Fine
 There ain't no use in kickin', friend,
 if things don't come your way;
 It does not good to holler 'round an'
 grumble night and day;
 The thing to do is curb your grief—
 cut out your little whine,
 An' when they ask you how you are,
 just say,
 "I'm feelin' fine."

There ain't no man alive but what is booked to get his slap;
 There ain't no man that walks but what from trouble gets his rap;
 So mingle with the bunch, old boy
 where all the bright lights shine,
 An' when they ask you how you are,
 just say,
 "I'm feelin' fine."

Your heart may be just bustin' with some real or fancied woe,
 But if you smile the other folks ain't very apt to know;
 The old world laughs at heartaches,
 friend, be they your own or mine,
 So when they ask you how you are,
 just say,
 "I'm feeling fine."

Some girl will, and some girls won't,
 Some girls do, and some girls don't,
 Others might, and possibly would;
 Several may, and no doubt should—
 Wear long dresses.

A Friend's Greeting
 I'd like to be the sort of friend that you have been to me;
 I'd like to be the help that you've been always glad to be;
 I'd like to mean as much to you
 each minute of the day,
 As you have meant, old friend of mine, to me along the way.

I'd like to do the big things and the splendid things for you,
 To brush the gray from out your skies and leave them only blue;
 I'd like to say the kind things that
 I so oft have heard,
 And feel that I could rouse your soul
 the way that mine you've stirred.

I'd like to give you back the joy that you have given me;
 Yet that were wishing you a need I hope will never be;
 I'd like to make you feel as rich as I, who travel on Undaunted in the darkest hours with you to lean upon

I'm wishing at this very time that I could but repay
 A portion of the gladness that you've strewn along my way,
 And could I have but one wish this year, this only would it be;
 I'd like to be the sort of friend that you have been to me.

ANNUAL NEWS

On Friday of last week Mr. Jim Johnson, representative from the Southwestern Engraving Company, spent the day in Midland and gave some valuable assistance and suggestions to the annual staff.

He made the statement that the staff is doing good work and that as much has been accomplished as could be expected.

The pictures for the athletic section with the exception of two or three were mailed to the engraver last Friday. Also all individual class panels have been mailed.

Several cartoons have been sent in. Jess Edith Carlisle and Billie Manning are drawing the cartoons.

Work on snapshot pages is now being done. The staff hopes to complete all snapshot pages by the first of next week. Sophomore and freshman pictures especially are needed. If they expect to have kodak pictures in the annual, they must turn them in by Monday.

ATHLETIC NEWS

The Bulldogs have received a letter from the Superintendent at Nolan, Texas, offering to play a baseball game in answer to the district wide challenge. El Dorado High School has written, saying that they would have a baseball team to contest claims to district championship. It is probable that games will be arranged in these two towns in the near future.

Lamesa high school started baseball practice last week, and it is rumored that several high schools near here have begun baseball practice.

The Midland "Bushers" under the management of Dr. Ellis have begun to work out, and the manager stated that they will be ready to play the Bulldogs on week days very soon.

Coach Barry expects to complete a schedule of eight or ten games within the next few weeks.

MR. LACKEY LECTURES TO CIVICS CLASS

Tuesday morning during the second period civics class, Mr. Lackey gave a very interesting talk on his trip through Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. He told the class about the many historical buildings. One thing that interested the class very much was his discussion on the supreme court, as they have been studying federal and state courts.

Mr. Lackey brought back many books and pictures that were of great interest. He has offered these books to anyone who cares to look at them.

Stanton and Midland are even because just about one week ago Stanton's boys' team beat the Midland team.

The debate Monday night was a very spirited one. If the teams continue to improve in the next few weeks as they have in last two, we expect them to make a good showing in the finals.

FARM FACTORS...

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
United Press Agriculture Editor

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(UP)—Hogs and beef cattle prices have been the main support of the depressed agriculture situation in recent months, according to the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Hog prices have advanced steadily since last November and hog producers have fared better than they did last winter. The hog situation and in lesser degree the beef cattle situation seem to be the bright spots at present as far as the livestock industries are concerned, the Bureau said. "The world-wide slump in grain prices and the weakness in cotton, however, have not tended to encourage producers of those crops. Lower prices for dairy products and for lambs likewise have raised discouraging signals within those two important livestock industries."

"Continuance of the weakness in the wheat market and the recent sharp decline in domestic wheat prices are attributed by the bureau principally to the relatively slow movement of the season's comparatively small supplies into consuming channels. World shipments of wheat and flour in the first half of the current crop year were only about three-fourths as great as those for the corresponding period last season, with the decrease in North American shipments accounting for even greater than indicated by the total figures.

"Recent changes in the fruit and vegetable situation include the not usual February set-back in the potato market; a considerable further price gain in cabbage; irregular, hesitating onion position; and a slightly rising trend in a dull, quiet apple market. With two or three exceptions there seems to be a decided tendency to increase plantings of truck crops for spring shipments. "Some students of the hog situation have been of the opinion that there has been a tendency on the part of producers to hold hogs back in anticipation of higher prices later in the season. If this theory is correct, we are likely to have more hogs come to market in March than in March last year. While this would tend to check the price advance now under way, it is very unlikely that any material decline in prices would occur before April."

The Agriculture Department has just issued a new two-reel educational movie, "Grain Grading" to show farmers the need for grain inspection and the part that grading plays in the movement of grain in the United States for shipment abroad.

Dairymen in the United States lose millions of dollars annually because of poorly cooled milk and cream. These losses occur because inferior milk or cream is returned by dealers to the farmers and because low grade products bring lower prices. Eighty per cent of the country's milk and cream supply is produced on dairy farms where ice is available. Even where ice is not available, milk and cream, by better use of available cooling facilities may be cooled more effectively than is often done.

Insects, which are one of the farmer's chief troubles, are among the oldest of all animals that have living representatives on the earth today. Their fossil remains have been found in the rocks of the geologic period commonly known as the Carboniferous, which according to the present methods of calculating past time, may have been laid down as long as 300,000,000 years ago.

Soybean meal is little used as fertilizer in this country, but Asiatic countries use a great deal. For centuries the soybean meal has been sent to the sugar plantations of southern China and its use gradually spread to plantations in Java and other tropical countries. The high fertilizing value of the soybean meal has long been recognized in Japan where large quantities are imported annually.

MR. C. A. CONWAY

You wonder why Konjola triumphs when all else tried has failed? Cease to wonder, and know that Konjola is actually 32 medicines in one, and that each of these ingredients has its own mission to perform in battling the very causes of the ill Konjola is designed to relieve.

"Ten years I was the hapless victim of indigestion. I became so weak that it was with the utmost effort that I kept at work. Every morning I was tired out instead of rested. I dreaded to see mealtime come, for I knew what misery was in store for me. Medicines were of no avail, and I was about at the end of my string when I started on Konjola. But, just as I told it would do, Konjola went right to the source of my trouble, and in four weeks I was absolutely free from indigestion, and feeling better than in ten years."

Konjola is sold in Midland at Mayes Young drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

right fielder and possibly the pitcher, that is the way the Yankees will take the field April 15 in Philadelphia to begin the fight for the world's baseball championship. In right field will be your old friend G. H. Ruth, and instead of Pipgras, Waite Hoyt may draw the assignment for the opening game. Otherwise, that will be the team somebody will have to beat.

Fresh Strength on Team
It is a new ball team. Many of the old faces are there, the men who played through world championship games before the Mackmen walked away with the pennant last year, but there is new life and blood in the organization. Some vital parts have been replaced with fresh strength. It is a team you will like.

You will like the way that lad Dury Cooke, chosen to fill the shoes of the temperamental Bob Meusel, steps in at the plate for his cut at the ball. When you see the way he follows through at the plate, a swing similar in many respects to the twing of the Bambino, it is easy to realize how he bats .358, his American Association average last year. Manager Bob Shawkey is taking a gamble on the North Carolina boy to fill the left field job. It is a gamble, but as Bob the Gob says, "You have to gamble when you're trying to build."

Another gamble is at third base. Coach-em-up Tony Lazzeri is being displayed this year at second base, where he loves to be doing things, and at the warm corner is another new face, Ben Chapman, recalled from St. Paul.

Shawkey and I sat and watched Chapman whose home is in Birmingham, Ala., play third during a practice game and if there was a flaw in the way he handled his job, it must have been the way he held his ears. He was a .336 hitter in the American Association and he looks to be a .300 hitter for the Yankees. Of course, as Shawkey says, he's a gamble.

And What Big Pitchers!
I never saw in one training camp so many husky looking recruits. Of all the pitchers at Shawkey's command only one, Amerius Polli, is under six feet in height. Polli is 5 feet 10. Fred Asbeck, the Carnera of baseball, is the tallest of the crowd, at 6 feet 6 inches. Fred comes from Cleveland and the University of Michigan, and he shows promise after schooling, making the grade.

Another collegian among the pitchers gives brilliant promise and recalls a memory. His name is Bob Walsh, from Notre Dame, and when he casts that sinker up to the boys to miss, you can almost see the old Ed of White Sox glory. His fast ball is a pip.

Paschal, Durocher, Meusel, Grabowski and others have vanished from the roster. But the material at hand looks to be healthier. There is a lot more fight. Men are struggling for positions; Shawkey has really stirred up glowing life in a team that looked to be dawdling along last July.

Californians in Reserve
On the bench, in all likelihood, will be two gentlemen from California, ready to fill in capacity if one of the infielders should falter. They are Lyn Lary and Jimmy Reese.

I asked Shawkey how many infielders he would carry.

"Six," he replied quickly, "and I've got 'em."

He meant Gehrig, Lazzeri, Koenig, Chapman, Lary and Reese. If you can find a better set of infielders in the big leagues, as a whole it must be some league I haven't seen.

"I've got one hard job, however," said Bob the Gob. "There are nineteen pitchers out there today, and I've got to send about ten of 'em, somewhere else. When I look the gang over I began to feel sorry for myself."

"Just take a look at the catcher, too. Dickey and Bengough are enough for any man's team. Karlon, the recruit from Springfield Mass., can play the outfield if we need him. Bubbles Hargrave can fill in at any time. I think we have the finest bunch of new men I have seen in years."

Only Babe Cutting Up
Just then our conversation was punctuated by a loud report and we both looked out to see what all the shooting was for. A tiny speck was sailing toward the little lake and clump of trees in deep right center.

It was merely the Great Man Mr. C. H. Ruth, having some fun with one of Bob Walsh's fast ones.

PLANS FOR RELAY GAMES AT VARSITY NEAR COMPLETION

By SAM BRASWELL, Jr.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 14.—Plans for the sixth annual University of Texas relays to be held in Austin on March 28 have been practically completed and entries are pouring in to the manager of the games from all parts of the United States.

"More than one thousand of the United States' greatest athletes from most of the major universities and colleges of the country will participate in the coming relays," Ed Cille, manager of the relays, said. "With but ten days remaining for entries to be mailed, we expect that this week will set a new mark for entries received."

This year's entry list promises to bring together the greatest crop of athletes the United States has ever known in competition on the finest track and field in the entire South. Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., is sending eleven men under Coach Herman Phillips. Bert Nelson, holder of the world's indoor high jump record with a height of 6 feet 3-4 inches, is favored by many to capture this event for the Butler team. The University of Iowa has straightened out its differences with the Big Ten and will be well represented. The University of Nebraska, headed by its great track coach and Texas relays referee, Henry F. "Indian" Schulte, will enter the entire track squad in the relays. The University of Kansas entry list has been received and indicates that a strong squad will be on hand for all the events. The University of Chicago, with a squad of 25 men, will arrive in Austin on March 24 and will engage in a dual meet with the University of Texas under artists on March 25. The Chicago athletes will remain in Austin until the relays, working out with the Longhorn track stars the intervening two days. Texas A. & M., S. M. U., Rice Institute, Baylor, T. C. U., and Arkansas will have their squads on hand to uphold the prestige of the Southwestern Conference against the National Southwestern University, Georgetown, Texas, has mailed in its entry list.

Unusual interest is being manifested in the high school division. Entries have already been received from the San Marcos, Chillicothe, Schulenburg, Shiner, Somerville and Smithville high schools in Texas, while a list has been received from Seminole, Okla., high school.

Aubrey "Tiny" Gooch, former Texas Longhorn football and track star, has been secured to act in the capacity of chief announcer for the relays. His fog-horn voice assures the crowds all the information concerning the events possible. Gooch will be ably assisted by Allen Stern, drum major of the famous Longhorn Band.

Henry "Indian" Schulte, veteran track coach of Nebraska, will be head referee and will be seconded by Michael Mahoney, former Columbia University track coach. Mahoney served in the capacity of a member of the French Olympic coaching staff in 1920.

One of the features of the sixth annual Texas relays will be an exhibition 440-yard race between Robert Greenwade, coach of San Antonio Junior College; Clyde Blauhard, member of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and former University of Arizona track captain; and Nelson Creer, former Rice star and holder of the Amateur Athletic Union 40-meter race with a time of 29.3 seconds, and 880-yard junior champion of the United States in last year's championship races at Denver, Colo.

Prizes totaling over $1,500 will be given to place winners in all events. Among the prizes given will be found gold watches, silver cups, bronze trophies, plaques, and gold, silver and bronze medals. All prizes given will be permanent possessions of the team or man winning them.

The last three weeks have been very suitable for outdoor track competition. March weather has always been "mid-spring" in Texas. For this reason, the University of Texas relays will be the first major

MIDLAND WOMAN FINDS FREIBURG PASSION PLAY WELL FOUNDED IN RELIGION AND TRADITION; WAS IN ANGELO

By MRS. A. S. LEGG.
The survival in a few remote villages of continental Europe of the religious miracle play and passion plays of the middle ages seems a curious anomaly to the sophisticated, frenzied civilization of the twentieth century. The most famous and most elaborately impressive of these spectacles are the Passion plays regularly given in the Bavarian village of Oberammergau and Freiburg in the Black forest.

VERNON GETS A BRANCH OFFICE OF COOPERATIVE

DALLAS, March 14. (AP)—Establishment of the first branch office of the Texas cotton cooperative association, since that statewide subsidiary of the American cotton cooperative association was reorganized, was completed this week at Vernon, officials announced today.

"TURANDOT" TO HAVE RADIO PREMIERE NEXT SATURDAY EVENING

NEW YORK, March 13. (UP)—"Turandot," Puccini's last work, left incomplete when the maestro died in November, 1924, will be heard for the first time by radio on Saturday evening, March 15.

The Freiburg play antedates the Oberammergau play by 300 years, the villagers of Freiburg having first portrayed the passion in the year 1284. Tradition surrounds the origin of both productions as a mark of gratitude for some miraculous deliverance.

The chamber of commerce there has agreed to underwrite the expenses of operating the branch office. A clerical staff will be maintained and close affiliation with state and national organizations will be possible.

Fifth in the series of Puccini broadcasts, its radio premiere takes place just three years and 11 months after its first operatic presentation in Milan in April, 1926.

The religious devotion and simple faith of the players are the qualities that most engage the interest of the skeptic audiences. The Freiburg players brought with them the light perfume of artlessness and the grace of sincerity—survivals of that far off time when drama consisted only of plans produced by the clergy to teach religious lessons.

The complete exhibition of strong acting is in Willi Ehrhardt's impersonation of Jugsas. The play limped only in the lack of ardor and physical shortcomings of the "extras."

The time set for the canvass is Sunday afternoon and the membership will be asked to remain in their homes Sunday afternoon until 4:30 unless seen sooner by the workers.

The only one of these "votive processions" to be detached from the Medievalism of which it is indigenous and brought into the glare and fanfare of American modernism is the Freiburg Passion play recently brought to the United States by Adolph Fasnacht.

"That is softer than silence." Two other members of the Fasnacht family appear in the present production.

There will be no morning worship at eleven o'clock Sunday as the pastor will be in Levelland conducting a revival meeting.

The San Angelo Music Guild made possible a presentation of this famous Passion play in San Angelo this week.

Togs For Victims of "Spring Fever"

By CURTIS WOOD
NEA Service Writer
NEW YORK, March 14.—Spring being the time to take it easy and build up the old frame, is the psychological moment to invest in some kind of lounging togs.
Selecting them will be a merry business. You will find robes and pajama suits styled to the Nth degree. In fact, try a few different types of lounging things and see how they send your inferiority complex soaring up a few points, they'll make you look so smart, superior, and leisure class.
Sportswear's preference for color invades the lounging field too. New robes and suits are nothing if not pleasing in tone and vastly becoming to the men who wear them. Whether you are in the market for robes for travel on steamer, train or airplane, for beach wear, wear at swimming pools or for comfort in your own home, there are a lot of choices.
Silks and satins no longer are reserved for the women. Men can be as luxurious as they like. They can even have ensembles of pajamas, in smoking jacket style, with robes to match. Wine reds are a good choice. Bright blues come next in popularity. Black and white is ultra. Green and figured prints that bring out orange tones and even pinks are good.
Lounging robes may be double-breasted or single. They may be tricky, like military coats, or they may be just neatly tailored with plenty of room and many pockets, buttons, or tying with a cord.
The smoking pajama suit often go Ritzy in a Russian manner, buttoning up one side to a high collar. New ones feature fancy round-lapel, smart belts and jaunty double-breasted effects. Trousers for the most part are merely comfortable, not decorated.
Every man needs a couple of lounging things, just as much as his wife does. A good combination is the smoking pajama suit and the beach or pullman robe. Then, whether he stays or goes, he is comfortable lounging, and more than that, he looks well and will know it every time his eye meets a mirror.
