Around World Flyers Forced Down by Jammed Controls

LANDING IS MADE IN USSR

Plane Wrecked but a Lucky Fate Holds Airmen Safe

MOSCOW, July 8. (UP)—Mattern and Griffin failed in their attempt to beat the Post-Gatty record when a forced landing was necessary Thursday near Borisov, in Soviet territory near the Polish frontier.

Jammed control were blamed. The plane was wrecked but the men were only superficially injured. They received treatment and proceeded to Ruzsk, intending to board a train for Moscow tonight.

The flyers were overdue thirty hours at Moscow when found. They were not reported for 37 hours except once by guards along the Lithuanian frontier early on the morning of July 7.

GRIFFIN'S WIFE HAD NOT FEARED SAFETY

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 8. (UP)—Mrs. Griffin was not worried regarding her husband and received calmly the news of the crash.

"Really, I did not fear after the Atlantic was crossed. I knew Griffin was an excellent pilot and was capable of going any place anyone else could, but I doubted his navigating ability necessary to span the Atlantic. I was surprised that they were forced down," she said.

MINGLED REMORSE AND HAPPINESS

FORT WORTH, July 8. (UP)—Word that the flyers were down brought mingled remorse and happiness to Mattern's wife and mother.

"There is not much to say," said his wife. "We are tickled that they were forced down after such a good start. We were never worried much after they crossed the Atlantic. I doubt that this will remove the world hero from Jimmy's bonnet. I believe he will fly again."

His wife was more concerned over safety of the flyers than over failure of the flight.

Wilson and Scott Off for Pen Terms

Midland county prisoners who for months had awaited transportation to Huntsville for serving penitentiary sentences were delivered Tuesday morning by Sheriff A. C. Francis to "Uncle Bud" Russell, penitentiary official, at Big Spring.

J. W. Scott and W. K. Wilson were the only ones to be delivered from Midland.

Sheriff Reeder Webb of Ector county delivered six prisoners to Russell at Big Spring Monday evening.

African Snake Wins an Honor

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP)—The most dangerous living thing, in the opinion of Captain Barnett Harris is the black mamba, a snake found in the African jungles.

Harris, in an interview here, said the mamba's poison kills a human within a few minutes after the bite. It can rear up high enough to strike a man on horseback, he said.

The captain, returned to America after a photographic expedition in Africa, said scientists here recently perfected a serum which will counteract the mamba's poison, he said, the serum must be administered within a few seconds after the bite.

Motorist Sued For Slander

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Talking back to a cop may cost Michael W. Brooks, real estate dealer, $20,000. Motorcycle Patrolman Frank Eike has filed suit for that amount, claiming slander.

In his suit, the first of its kind ever filed here, Eike said he stopped Brooks and told him his headlights were not burning.

"You're drunk and crazy," he quoted Brooks as replying. "You'd better get some gum to get rid of the odor smell on your breath. I don't see how in the hell you ever got on the police force."

Brooks was taken to a police station where he insisted a doctor be called to examine Eike's eyes. While a physician was making the examination, Brooks allegedly exclaimed: "Examine your eyes. You see things." This caused Eike great embarrassment, mental agony, suffering and injury to his feelings, the suit alleges.

John D. Tees off On 93rd Birthday

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 8. (UP)—John D. Rockefeller arose at 7 o'clock, ate a hearty breakfast and hurried toward town to deny these reports and, disregarding the fact that today was his 93rd birthday. He said he expected to live to the age of 100 anyway and saw no reason for fuss over a birthday.

More Business Is Seen in Reports

AUSTIN—Business which received charters from the secretary or state during June were somewhat larger in size than usual so far this year, according to the bureau of business research at the University of Texas. The 174 new corporations had total authorized capital stock of $6,401,000, which lacked only 3 percent of equaling the authorized capital stock of then existing corporations chartered in June last year.

Although last year there were 13 firms whose authorized capital stock was $1,000,000 or more, this year there were only six; of these six, however, one was a livestock concern with paid-in capital stock of $1,000,000, and another was a $2,500,000 oil firm. The number of firms capitalized at $5,000 or less, dropped from 66 in May to 64 in June, last year in June, only 35 firms had such a low capitalization.

Merchandising and oil firms, numbering 40 and 45 respectively, continued to head the list of new corporations in number, though both of these groups were smaller than in May; the manufacturing group, on the other hand, increased from eleven in May to sixteen in June, and compared with fourteen in June a year ago.

Vote on Booze Is Expected

Movement Instituted To Get Expedited Activity

WASHINGTON, July 8.—A bill to legalize beer containing 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight was brought before the senate just before adjournment last night and a vote was expected today on its attempt to rule it out of order or send it back to the committee.

The beer "rider" to the home loan bank bill was called up by its sponsor, Senator Bingham (R., Conn.), at the end of a day enlivened by a spirited prohibition debate. Senate prohibition supporters planned to make the Bingham proposal on the ground it is unconstitutional, or to seek to recommit it.

Not Optimistic

Advocates were not optimistic. In addition to those opposed to legalizing the brew several senators believed the proposal should not come up as a rider on the home loan bank bill.

Also scheduled for debate today was a resolution by Senator Barbour (R., N. J.), for repeal of the 18th amendment and return of control of liquor traffic to the states.

For two hours, democrats and republicans in the senate engaged in a lively game of trying to induce the other party to take the lead in changing the prohibition laws in view of planks adopted by the Chicago convention.

Cuts Party Lines

Out of it came a clear indication that prohibition still cuts across party lines and that not all, at least, of the southern democrats, are ready to vote for beer despite the platform declaration for immediate modification of the Volstead act.

From two democratic senators—Glass of Virginia and Asturist of Arizona—came the reiterated contention that beer which is intoxicating in fact would violate the constitution and that more evidence should be shown before the President Hoover signs a law doing 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight is not intoxicating.

With several senators often talking at once and the speakers showing the approval of the fast-flying sallies and retorts, Vice President Curtis had to warn both floor and galleries against demonstrations.

Joins in Laughter

He himself joined in the laughter once, however, when Senator Gore (D., Okla.), described President Hoover as taking a cake walk with a pitcher of ice water on one shoulder and a little brown jug on the other.

The senate floor was only one of the day's prohibition developments.

In the house a petition to Speaker Garner for immediate action on beer-for-revenue legislation was circulated among republican anti-prohibitionists. Representative La Guardia (R., N. Y.), predicted 60 republican signatures would be obtained.

Rufus S. Lusk, legislative officer of The Crusaders, an anti-prohibition organization, in a statement said "the best relief bill that congress can pass is a beer bill."

Among those who engaged in the senate prohibition discussion was Senator Borah (R., Idaho), who has been sought by the prohibition party as its standard bearer.

Borah's Inquiry

When Senator Glenn told Ashurst if the democratic party would take steps to carry out its platform, some help would be forthcoming from the republican side, Senator Borah inquired:

"Does the republican party plan to furnish the votes to carry out the democratic platform?"

Glenn, apparently referring to the republican independence of whom Borah is one, replied there was precedent for republicans to vote with democrats.

"The only time you and your friends do is when liquor is involved," Borah shot back.

Roosevelt and Smith—Before and After

Time and change have had their will with the two men who were the Damon and Pythias of politics... Alfred Emanuel Smith and Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

There was no hint of any rift between them—personal or political—when they conferred in 1924 for then Roosevelt was manager of Smith's drive for the nomination for the presidency in that year.

Only a year ago (center) the two met at luncheon in Albany to discuss prospects for the 1932 convention, and all was very evidently harmonious then. Smith a little grayer, Roosevelt more matured, but friends both.

But a few days ago a jubilant Roosevelt is shown (lower left) as he received word of his nomination for the presidency, while Smith, silent, tight-lipped, crept home to New York after his crushing defeat at Chicago. Thousands awaited from the vanquished leadership that came only this week. Al will support the nominee, he said.

DEATH THREAT IN BALM SUIT IS RECEIVED

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Superior Judge Lester W. Roth, hearing the $200,000 breach of promise action brought by Myrtle St. Pierre against David Hutton, late yesterday found in his chambers a threatening note which caused him to order an extra guard about the courtroom.

By Miss St. Pierre and Hutton, husband of Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, the evangelist, previously had reported receipt of threatening letters.

The note addressed to Judge Roth was printed crudely in pencil on a card. It read:

"Dear Judge, please see the jury gets instructions for a Hutton verdict. If you don't through no fault of yours, that black-mailing schemer will get one of these. You save bloodshed if you follow instructions. One of these" referred to a 43 calibre cartridge tied to a corner of the card by a string.

The note was signed: "One for your justice."

It was found on a window sill accessible from a fire escape. The judge turned the note over to Under-Sheriff Gene Biscailuz for fingerprint tests. Several additional deputy sheriffs, as well as a special patrolman to guard Miss St. Pierre, soon took stations in and about the courtroom.

Eugene Eben, bearded radio organizer, repeated under cross examination his denial that Miss St. Pierre, once his fiancée, had ever been in a maternity hospital as "Mrs. Eben."

Miss St. Pierre, summoned to the witness stand, created a sensation in demanding from Judge Roth the right to "defend my honor."

Sloan Returns From Dallas Air Meeting

Harvey Sloan, owner of Sloan field, home from Dallas where he attended a meeting of Texas airport managers at the Baker hotel. An airport managers association was formed and will meet again on Oct. 14.

Sloan believes the organization of the managers into a permanent body will be of importance in handling some of the common problems of managers. Tax matters and other problems affecting aviation are to be studied.

The Midland man reported business people of Dallas were growing more optimistic over conditions and over the general outlook. He said the Dallas business men see better times not only ahead, but already actually felt.

Sub Lies 230 Feet in Water

Sixty-three Lives a Toll of Dive, Believed

CHEERBOURG, July 8. (UP)—Microphones lowered near the hull of the submarine Promethee, which sunk yesterday off here with loss of 63, failed to discover any life on the vessel.

The submarine lay in 230 feet of water and there was little hope of its being raised. Seven survivors who were blown from the deck at the sinking told a harrowing tale of taking turns on two life belts until they were rescued by two fishermen.

Investigators said that the disaster was due to mishandling of the controls by an inexperienced crew.

HAD SUBMERGED TO CORRECT FAULTS

CHEERBOURG, France, July 8.—The French submarine Promethee plunged without warning into the waves of Cherbourg harbor while on a trial maneuver, taking down at least 66 men in 150 feet of water seven miles north of Cape Lev.

Seven members of the crew, including Lieutenant Dumestiel, the ship's commander, were saved when they were hurled from the deck into sea by the lurch of the vessel in its unexpected dive. They swam until they were picked up by a fishing boat.

Efforts to locate and salvage the submarine with its imprisoned occupants, begun immediately, were impeded by violent currents prevailing at that spot. Search for the sunken craft by naval planes was handicapped by miserable flying conditions, which made the job dangerous. The submarine, in service only two years, was endeavoring to correct mechanical faults when it set out particularly for diving trials.

The ministry of marine at Paris said the Promethee had not been in perfect working order. It was in an effort to bring the machinery to perfection that the disastrous trial had been arranged.

It was estimated 49 members of the crew and 17 other men, including engineers and workmen, went down with the ship. The correspondent of the Paris newspaper Le Matin estimated the victims at 70.

Marine experts offered hope last night the men inside the submarine might have found time to close the watertight hatches before there was a fatal rush of the seas into the ship, which sank like a flash.

This hope, however, was coupled with a pessimistic statement that arrangements were being made to endeavor to raise the submarine. They were aided by the presence at Cherbourg of France's special floating dock for the raising of submarines. Efforts were concentrated on determining the exact location of the ship and the conformation of the sea bed.

Oppose Ford's Farm Lot Plan

MEDFORD, Ore. (UP)—Henry Ford's recent plan for small farm tracts in industrial districts was condemned in a resolution adopted by the Eagle Point Grange.

Ford contended the plan would permit workers to raise part of their food supply.

The grangers, however, said it would increase serious conditions of over-production and under-consumption, from which the country is already suffering.

A NEW SCHOOL OF ORATORS

Real oratory has been almost a lost art in American politics in recent years. Now it is beginning to look as if what is left of it is going to suffer a most profound change.

The impassioned shoutings, the majestic deliberation of address, the age-old tricks of the orator's trade—all of these, abruptly, have become handicaps instead of assets.

You get this idea, anyway, after absorbing part of a political campaign by radio. It is the radio which is about to transform the orator's art—and the net result will be a distinct gain for the orator's listeners.

The recent party conventions illustrated the change admirably.

Sitting by the loudspeaker, you would hear Senator Whoozis or the Hon. Blank engaged in making the welkin ring. It would all be in the traditional manner. Each sentence would take anywhere from 30 seconds to two minutes to come to birth.

Then, when he had finished, a regular radio announcer would take the microphone to make some announcement—and what a contrast!

In a quiet, even voice he would prove himself capable of saying ten times as much in a given time, of saying it infinitely more clearly and of making an incomparably better impression.

The contrasts—furnished over and over again, day after day, at each convention—were too sharp to leave any room for doubt. The orator is going to have to change his style. The tricks that went over big in the day of vast outdoor meetings fall utterly flat on the radio.

THE LAUSANNE SITUATION

It is becoming clearer every day that a new mental attitude will be necessary before France and Germany can come to an agreement on reparations. And dispatches from Lausanne do not show any indication that the conferees are ready to alter their views.

The conference is on the verge of failing, and the reason is simple. Germany insists that reparations must be canceled; France insists that they must not.

What the aftermath of the conference may be is impossible to forecast. A deadlock has been reached, and European recovery cannot begin until this deadlock is ended.

A CHALLENGE TO OUR CITIES

The urgent need of every large city for funds with which to carry on settlement, playground and similar activities among its underprivileged groups is sharply emphasized by a recent report from a city mission in New York.

This mission, which specializes in providing brief country "vacations" for children from the tenement areas, reports that the children it is caring for this summer are weaker and punier than ever before.

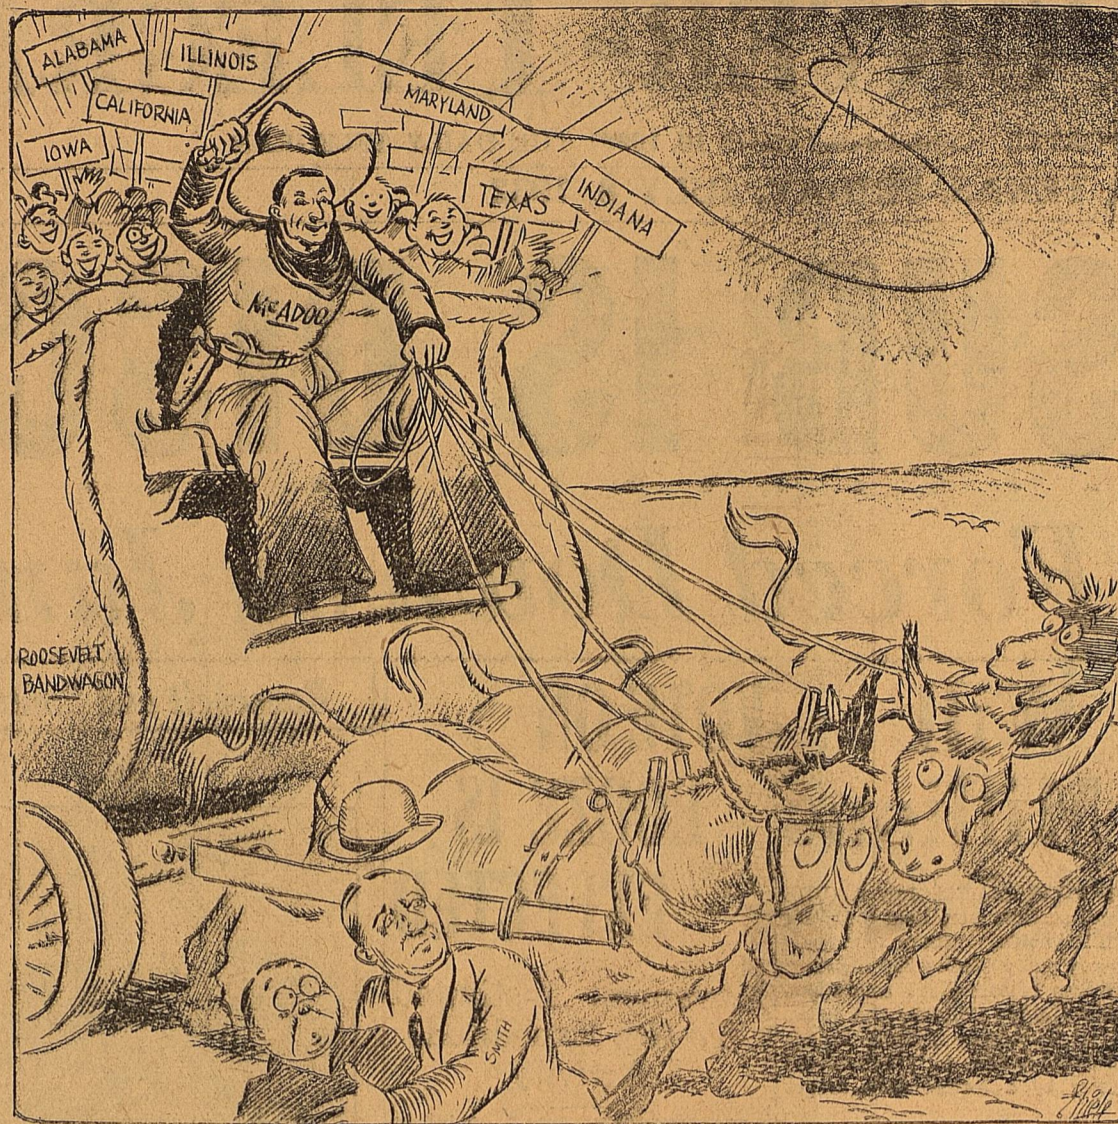

The depression is beginning to levy its toll on child health, and the toll is a cruel one. A similar problem is present in every sizeable city. The challenge to tax-supported and private relief agencies is one that must be met.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

4216 Townbridge Street, El Paso, Texas, July 5, 1932.

Dear Editor: I am enclosing a few notes on the great Paisano encampment.

I worked for years before we got the encampment started and have been president and manager ever since.

Let me say in the outset that this is not a money making concern. Not one connected with the encampment receives a cent for his or her services or official position.

The object of Paisano encampment is to be a blessing and a help to mankind, physically, mentally and spiritually. To do good, this is the 11th year—12th encampment—and it is steadily growing.

We have many letters of inquiry

Choice Cooks Corner

The following recipes may suggest other possibilities to you.

Plum Soup
Plums make an appetizing soup and the soup offers an excellent means of using this fruit in menus.

Wash plums thoroughly. Put into kettle with water and simmer until skins are broken and fruit is tender. Strain through jelly bag. Add mineral water and sugar and bring to the boiling point.

Arrowroot is often used for thickening sauces and puddings in place of cornstarch. It is especially desirable for children, since it is more easily digested than cornstarch.

Currant Soup
Currant soup makes a pool of lovely color in glass cups.

Two cups of red raspberries and two cups of red currants make a delicious combination for a soup. Strawberry and orange is another good combination.

Blackberry and sour apple is a piquant mixture, too. All berries make inviting appetizers, used alone or in combination.

Cherries and grapes also produce well flavored fruit soups.

Question: Just what is the danger in impure water?

Answer: Water which has become polluted by sewage and other wastes often contains the germs of disease. Many typhoid fever epidemics have been traced to impure water.

Question: Are there any canned vegetables that will aid in the prevention of pellagra?

Answer: The United States Public Health Service has completed a study of the pellagra preventative power of canned spinach, canned turnip greens, mature onions, and canned green beans.

Canned spinach, though not especially rich in this vitamin, contains enough of it to be important. Canned beans are a poor source of the pellagra-preventing vitamin.

By Martha Bredemeier, County Health Nurse
Question: Just what is the danger in impure water?

Answer: Water which has become polluted by sewage and other wastes often contains the germs of disease. Many typhoid fever epidemics have been traced to impure water.

Question: Are there any canned vegetables that will aid in the prevention of pellagra?

Answer: The United States Public Health Service has completed a study of the pellagra preventative power of canned spinach, canned turnip greens, mature onions, and canned green beans.

Canned spinach, though not especially rich in this vitamin, contains enough of it to be important. Canned beans are a poor source of the pellagra-preventing vitamin.

Question: Boil the water, if there is any doubt as to its purity, for boiling kills germs.

CHEER UP, ALL YE

BALTIMORE, Md.—That hardening of the arteries is due to use of alcohol, tobacco, coffee or other stimulants, as has been taught by some, is a lot of "propaganda," is the belief of Dr. Raymond Hussey, professor of pathology at Yale university, who recently addressed medical alumni of the University of Maryland here.

Virtually nothing is known about the factors bringing about this condition, he reports, and treatment of it now consists of prevention, rather than cure, in some cases.

He urges that the public be taught the significance of the disease, particularly when it affects the coronary arteries, those which supply the muscles of the heart.

HARDWARE AND UNITED CLUBS WIN HANDILY IN THURSDAY GAMES

BRACE OF GAMES WILL BE PLAYED THIS EVENING, ELECTRICIANS AND PHONES, HOKUS AND PHARMACISTS

Midland Hardware and United Dry Goods company, first and second clubs of the Industrial league, had little trouble in downing Cowden-Epley and The Reporter-Telegram for wins last night. Scores were: Hardware 13, Cowden-Epley 6; United 5, Newspapermen 1.

Adams and Gemmill pitched neat games in the evening's opener, but the Newsies could not hit. Joe Pierce hit a home run for the winners in the fifth.

Save for the first and sixth innings, when the Hardware scored a total of 10 runs, the second game was good. Pope hit a home run in the third and Bill Morgan scored on a long fly dropped by Center Fielder Umberson.

Actor King of an Island Hasn't Seen

Charles Bickford, film actor, is the king of a South Sea island, which he never has seen.

The screen player recently revealed his ownership of a tiny isle near Java, while at work with Tallulah Bankhead in her current Paramount starring production, "Thunder Below," which is the Yucca theatre's feature today. Featuring with Bickford are Paul Lukas, Eugene Pallette and Ralph Forbes in an intriguing triangle drama with a tropical setting.

Adventurer, former seaman and engineer, and owner of numerous other side-lines, Bickford purchased the island through an advertisement in a newspaper. It had been owned by a young Englishman who intended to spend his life there but suddenly came into a title and a fortune and decided to return to his native land. He advertised his island for sale and Bickford purchased it from photographs and descriptions.

The island is only 110 acres in area, eighty acres of which are given over to the cultivation of coconuts.

Some 250 natives live on the island, working the coconut grove for their sustenance.

Bickford hopes to sail to his "kingdom" this summer.

GUNMAN'S THEORY

If a bad man approaches you with a gun in his hand, watch his lips. He will always wet them if he really intends to pull the trigger, says Tom Mix, and he says so from experience.

Six bad men have wet their lips at him but only one was quick enough to get anywhere with it.

Mix brings his knowledge of bad men to his hole in "The Texas Bad Man" which opens at the Yucca Saturday.

SUNDAY-MONDAY
SYMPHONY OF SIX MILLION

As big as life—as powerful as love.

This'll Give You A Fair Impression Of The Flying Game

This isn't a Broadway chorus, made up to look like fivers. They're real-for-sure pilots, all of 'em—though you'll admit they'd give showgirls a run for their money when it comes to looks. Left to right are Laurel Sharpless; Laura Ingalls, who is planning a trans-Atlantic flight; Flo Scheer; Annette Gibson; Viola Century; Jessamine Goddard; Mrs. John T. Remy; and Mrs. Evelyn de Sev-

rsky, wife of the Russian war ace. They were comely and skilled participants in a benefit air show held at Valley Stream, Long Island.

'Symphony 6 Million' Human Appeal Film

Touching the heart strings with its deep pathos and its rendering of a sublime romance, an exceptionally fine picture opens at the Grand theatre Sunday.

The film is RKO-Radio Pictures' "Symphony of Six Million" co-lecturing Ricardo Cortez and Irene Dunne in a story of deep human feeling by Fannie Hurst.

Like most of Miss Hurst's tales it is a sympathetic saga focused on the lives of two young people who are integral parts of a dominant background of traditions and economic structures.

Vaguely reminiscent of "Humoresque"—one of the screen's indisputed classics from the pen of this eminent authoress—the film paints in bold, dramatic colors as it tells the poignant story of a Ghetto Doctor's love for a teacher of the slums.

The cast is perfect with Cortez and Dunne and the supporting players, Anna Appel, Gregory Ratoff, Lita Chevret and Noel Madison are extremely well suited temperamentally and artistically to their difficult characterizations.

Miss Hurst has scored again and with her producers, the director and cast of this remarkably human film play.

Shades of Chic Sale! Anyway You Are All Invited

Chic Sale will be jealous July 14. At any rate he would if he were in Midland.

A specialist will be here to construct a sanitary pit toilet. Ben L. Grimes of the state department of health is coming to Midland at the request of Miss Martha Bredemeier, county health nurse, to give a demonstration of construction of a sanitary pit toilet.

Farmers, ranchmen, rural school trustees and all household heads whose toilets are not connected with sewer systems are urgently asked to witness the demonstration next Thursday. The sanitary toilet will be built at a point about 12 blocks east and one south of the Texas & Pacific railway station, which will be about one block south of the third crossing east of the depot.

Miss Bredemeier points out that last year three persons in Midland county died of typhoid fever. She believes the cases were caused from insanitary toilets or privies. She says parents who love their children and people who respect their own lives and health should see the sanitary toilet next Thursday and have it explained. It may be seen any time of day after 10 a. m.

Where scrap lumber is available the sanitary pit toilet may be built for less than $5. Many have been built for as low as $3.85. The only fixed cost is for cement for the underground pit. If other materials are available. A model of a sanitary pit toilet is on exhibition in the window of the chamber of commerce.

County Judge Hill has written rural school trustees urging their attendance at the demonstration, and all ranchers, farmers and others not having sewer connections are urged to see the demonstration. General adoption of this type might save the county from a serious epidemic, Miss Bredemeier says.

Dr. E. L. De Golyer, New York geologist, believes the secrets hidden under the waters of the sea can be exposed by dynamiting and blowing deep sea life and vegetation to the surface.

Minister to Talk Theisms of World

A most interesting sermon subject will be discussed Sunday morning in the Methodist church when the Rev. Edwin C. Calhoun preaches on the theme, "What is Christianity?"

The minister will develop the answer according to what the Christian religion has in common with other great religions of mankind; such as Buddhism, Mohammedism and other theisms—and how Christianity is different from all other religions.

The sermon was conceived to appeal to those who are confused in their religious thinking and to give information to those who are seeking to know more about the religious life of civilization.

The minister speaks Sunday evening on, "The Unknown God."

ADD PRODUCERS

Two oil producers and one dry hole were completed last week in three West Texas counties while two counties gained one location each. Continental No. 1-D Cowden in Crane county pumping 132 barrels the first 24 hours and C. A. Martin's No. 1 Hugo Freels in Loving county flowing 172 barrels the first day increased new production for the year to 20,535 barrels by 63 wells in 10 counties.

The failure was in Garza county, raising the year's total of dry holes to 21 in 11 counties. Pecos and Scurry counties listed one location each, increasing the 1932 total to 127 in 27 counties.

COL. BALL, HOUSTON, IS DEAD

Run Down by Truck As He Buys a Newspaper

HOUSTON, July 8. (UP)—Col. Thomas H. Ball, 76, once candidate for governor and a former congressman, was near death after being struck by a truck last night while he was purchasing a newspaper. The driver of the truck, J. I. Sisson, 43, was charged with failing to stop and render aid. Physicians said that due to Ball's advanced age there was little hope for recovery. Ball was one of the staunchest drys and was known as the "father of Port Houston."

10 Leading Batsmen For Week Compiled

Through error, the following 10 leading hitters of the Nocturne league was not run earlier in the week.

Manager John Bonner of the Yucca theatre will award a pass to each of the following, in line with his custom of each week rewarding the outstanding stars of the game:

B. Howard (United) whose average was 1.000; Dobson (Drug club) .750; Connor (Hokus-Pokus) Cook (United) French (Hokus-Pokus) Watlington (Ford) Sikes (Ford) .666; H. Jones (Hardware) Grubley (Telephone club) Wyatt (Drug club) .600.

S. M. Warren of the Newsies also qualified, but is in California on his vacation. He batted second highest for the week, .800.

Yucca Stage Show Booking Is Mixed

Due to a mistake in booking arrangements, Les Bartlett and his "Flashes of 32" will not show at the Yucca theatre Sunday and Monday as advertised, but will come later in the week, according to Manager John Bonner, who left this afternoon for Stamford, where he will confer with Bartlett.

The stage presentation act, just off big time circuits, was booked here by Bonner last week, when he made a trip to Fort Worth.

"I think the show can be brought here next week," the manager said. "But if it is necessary, I will wait longer, as the show is one of the best to play in Texas this season. It is booking engagements so fast that the managers have a general mix-up in schedule."

SURE IT'S THE SOAP. I WISH NED WOULD TELL HIM ABOUT KIRK'S COCO CASTILE. IT'S UNSCENTED, YOU KNOW. ENDS BODY ODOR INSTANTLY

Why do the girls avoid him—WHY?

Certainly it's unpleasant—the odor of perspiration! But why disguise it with a highly scented soap? Get rid of it with coco castile! Kirk's Coco Castile makes oceans of lather—even in hard, cold water. It makes a fuller, more penetrating lather than ordinary soaps, because it is made from 100% pure coconut oil. It goes deep into the pores, removes every trace of oily, dirty film, then rinses off in a flash. It is mild and agreeable to the skin, yet against several very common bacteria* laboratory tests prove it 5 to 10 times as germicidal as carbolic acid. Best of all, it's unscented. You step out of your bath—without any chemical or heavy perfume odor—as fresh and clean-smelling as a woodland breeze. Try it—for hands, for bath, for a wonderful shampoo. You'll be amazed at the difference. Avoid imitations. Look for the arrows. Always ask for Kirk's by name.
