Body Of Lost Child Is Discovered

Some farmers are not worrying very much about whether they will be able to pay their living expenses, because their living expenses amount to very little, although they live better than most folks.

That is indicated by the report of those who went on the Chamber of Commerce motorcade through the northeastern part of the county this morning.

Plenty of good canned food, dairy products, eggs and chickens, in addition to the grain sorghum and cotton crops place the practitioners of diversified farming in a position where they can "hold on" indefinitely, no matter what happens to the market for the money crops.

Wonder if we'll ever get to where we can attend a wedding without getting a lump in our throat? Something about 'em is not exactly sad but very solemn, which is as it should be, we reckon. Anyway our heartfelt good wishes go out to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boye, whose wedding we witnessed this morning.

Frank sure scored a home run when he found his partner. Only thing is we feel sorry for Frank if she's got to cook for Frank from now on. Our bunk mate, Bubba Joe Galbraith, is glad he's married because he'll give Joe a better chance to eat more up at Mrs. Lee's boarding house. Some boys could have made a lot of money by putting in a special commodity to furnish that pair sufficient victuals.

Parents of children who were not officially listed in the annual scholastic census, taken last March, must pay tuition for them to attend school this fall. This is a bad situation, but made necessary by an opinion of the supreme court. The law must be changed as quickly as possible to allow a child of scholastic age, whether officially enumerated in the preceding census or not, to attend free of charge.

The scholastic census is not to be confused with the 1930 federal census. All children that were enumerated, whether they lived in this school district at the time or not, are entitled to attend school without cost.

Today eleven Big Spring firms announce formation of the Baby-of-the-Month club, which will present to the first baby born in Big Spring in August, in September and in October. Parents of children born the first day of those months should present their certificate at the Herald office showing the date, hour, and minute of the baby's arrival.

Pretty nice plan, don't you think?

Court Asked To Stop Campaign Funds Body From Querying Cannon

Salvation Army Asks For Clothing

The Salvation Army issued an appeal Thursday for those who have old clothing to give to the needy to bring it to Wander Inn, First and Main streets, or call No. 107.

JAZZ PRE-HISTORIC

ERIE, Pa. (INS).—Mexico may have been the cradle of "jazz" music according to James J. Sullivan, a Boston mining engineer, who stopped here enroute to China by way of San Francisco. "Archaeologists have uncovered instruments in the interior of Mexico which were capable of producing music like we hear today," said Sullivan. The instruments resembled in a crude way, Sullivan explained, the modern clarinet and saxophone. "They were played by the prehistoric men, who roamed the North American continent centuries ago," he said.

STOLEN SHOES TRAP HIM

NEW YORK (INS).—Dominick E. Villo, 37, today owes his arrest on a larceny charge, and his subsequent confinement to 45 similar charges, to the vanity which impelled him to put on a pair of patent leather shoes stolen from his latest victim, Vincent Fogliani, 16, the partner in this Ruffalo act, was the first to be arrested, rushing out of an apartment which the two lads had just robbed into the arms of passing detectives. The youths are accused of over 100 robberies with $30,000 in booty.

Testimony By H. F. Sinclair Senate's Wish

Oil Magnate Receives Telegraphic Request From Pollard

AUSTIN, July 30 (AP)—The senate, beginning the last day of its 61st investigation voted to request Harry F. Sinclair to appear for questioning.

Senator Tom Pollard of Tulsa, author of the resolution, wired Sinclair in Tulsa suggesting that he try here and testify in the afternoon.

The house discussed methods of considering conservation bills. Some favored handling of the bills by the committee of the whole, some by a sub committee. The body finally decided upon two sub-committees.

Seat In Congress Sought By State Senate Member

AUSTIN, July 30 (AP)—The only member of the state senate who is an avowed candidate for a bigger office is Ben G. Neal of Wichita Falls. Neal is going to enter the free-for-all which has resulted from the decision of Guinn-Williams of December to retire from congress at the end of his present term.

W. D. McFarlane and E. D. Sartain, who were candidates against Williams last year, are already running again. McFarlane, who lives in Graham, left the state senate to run for congress. Sartain, a Wichita Falls man, was a leader in the Hooper Democratic ranks in 1928. Sartain got a few more votes than McFarlane to go into the runoff with Williams last year.

Others mentioned as possible candidates are Walter Cline of Wichita Falls, Dr. C. J. Sherrill of Bellevue, a member of the state house of representatives, and Fred Minor of Denton, speaker of the house. The field probably will be large, as it usually is when an incumbent retires.

Minor also has been regarded as a possible candidate for congressman-at-large in event the state should not be redistricted. Prospects for redistricting were considered slim inasmuch as the special session of the legislature ends August 12.

Two members of the senate are former unsuccessful candidates for congress. They are T. J. Holbrooks of Galveston and John W. Hornsby of Austin.

The charge often is heard in Austin that the chief reason so much trouble is being experienced in passing a redistricting bill is that too many senators are anxious to carve out districts in which they think they can be elected to the national house.

June Fire Loss Totals $724,511

AUSTIN, July 30 (AP)—Texas fire losses reported in June aggregated $724,511, J. W. DeWense, state fire insurance commissioner, has announced. Reports were submitted by fire marshals of approximately 150 cities and towns.

"Vacant houses," DeWense said, "were the cause of blazes. DeWense said many of these vacant houses were overinsured and some of them were mortgaged with the owners having difficulty in meeting payments on the mortgages.

Two hundred fires with losses of $464,311 were listed as from "unknown causes."

The number of fires and the extent of damage from known causes was as follows: 64, vacant houses, $67,837; 51, electrically, $38,202; 34, matches, smoking, $13,428; 29, incendiary, $60,900; 24, stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, $13,719; 18, explosions, $11,935; 16, defective chimney or flue, $6,697; 13, open lights, $2,731; 7, spontaneous combustion, $3,298; 6, gas, natural and artificial, $1,469; 6, rubbish, $1,469; 5, lightning, $6,860; 3, ignition of hot grease, tar, wax, $727; 2, picture shows, $4,988; 47, exposure, $18,940; 10, miscellaneous known causes, $3,661.

Meat Consumption Campaign Opened

AMARILLO, July 30 (AP)—The Panhandle Livestock Association is sponsoring a campaign to encourage the consumption of more meat in an effort to stimulate the price of cattle.

"Meat, the greatest cell-producing food known," say officers of the association, "is only cheaper than it has ever been." To carry their point, the officials are distributing to housewives menus that feature cheap cuts of meat.

Negro Baby, Two Years Old, Walked Fifteen Miles In 48 Hours Before Falling Exhausted In Beal Ranch

Out in the silent brush-covered expanse of the Beal pasture, approximately 14 miles from his home, the 2-year-old negro baby, Snyder, Little, Collins Wells, who was two years old last February, ended his wanderings Thursday morning.

At 11:30 a. m. the searching party which had been scouring the ranches southwest of the 9-R headquarters since the child negro wandered away from the house with his two dogs about 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, came upon the body of the baby.

He had died of exhaustion and apparently had not been molested by animals or reptiles. His position indicated he had fallen as he continued his steady southwestward course. The direction in which he had been going since leaving the house.

An undertaker called to take charge of the body said the child had been dead about two hours. He had walked at least 15 miles and continued 48 hours without food under the blistering sun of mid-summer.

Don Teel local aviator, returned to the home port at nightfall Wednesday after having flown over the area several hours without finding any trace of the boy.

Tracks believed to have been made by Collins were found seven miles from the ranch house late Wednesday. Young persons could hardly believe so young a child could have walked so far.

Nathan Reynolds, owner of the 9-R ranch, for whom the child's parents, stopped briefly at the Crawford hotel Thursday morning enroute from his ranch in the Davis mountains to join in the search for the boy.

The body was discovered by a group of men, members of a party that included as many as 200 persons at various times during the 48-hour hunt.

Value Of Helium Interests Must Be Fixed By Court

AMARILLO, July 30 (AP)—After awarding the Bivins estate and associates damages amounting to $124,411 for gas and oil rights on 9,127 acres of land, three Amarillo men, acting as special U. S. commissioners in condemnation proceedings of the government against the estate, held that the value of helium interests should be decided by a court.

The Bivins heirs and four insurance and oil companies associated with them had asked for $500,000 damages. The government had offered to pay a little less than $50,000 for helium rights on the tract, which is a part of the 55,000-acre lease owned by the government in the famous helium-bearing Cliffside structure.

Findings of the special commissioners, John E. Hill, W. T. Coble and W. J. Morton, were sent to U. S. Judge James C. Wilson at Fort Worth, who probably will hear the helium claim at the fall term of federal court in this city.

Baby-of-the-Month Club Formed By Eleven Big Spring Merchants

And now the first "king of the household" who makes his... or her... entry during the months of August, September and October is to have just the right recognition that is due him... or her... at the time of such an important event as the arrival of a newcomer to the household.

Eleven Big Spring business firms have organized their joining of an organization known as "Baby-of-the-Month" club and each will have gifts ready for first baby born in Big Spring during each of the months named.

These merchants are featuring their merchandise in a special "Baby-of-the-Month" page of advertising which appears in this issue. The type of gift that each will give the newly arrived one is indicated in the advertisements on the page.

All that is necessary for the parents of the "Baby-of-the-Month" to do in order to see if their child may be designated the first baby to be born in the month of August is to have the physician present a birth certificate at the Herald office showing date, hour and minute of the baby's arrival. The gifts will be given to the first white baby to be born during the month.

Retail business firms who are charter members of the "Baby-of-the-Month" Club and the gifts which they will give the fortunate infant are: Mellinger's, baby dress; Cunningham and Phillips Stores, selection of Clapp's Baby Foods; Texas Electric Service, credit of $10 on purchase of new General Electric refrigerator or the gift of a small electric lamp; Collins Bros., Drug Store, Johnson and Johnson Baby Package to the baby and Collins Foot Ease to the proud father; Barrow Furniture Co., baby swing; Dairyland Products, 40-quart milk coupon book; Economy Laundry, $1 worth of laundry work; Hollywood Shoppe, gift from novelty department; Bradshaw Studio, baby's first photograph; Wacker's 5c to 35c Store, pair of baby's shoes.

As soon as the Baby-of-the-Month has been determined an announcement will be made in the Herald.

Motorcaders Find Howard County Crop Prospects Best in 20 Years On Inspection Trip of Thursday

A small but highly interested group of Big Spring citizens comprising an abbreviated motorcade made a thorough inspection and good will tour through the northeastern part of Howard county Thursday morning. The auto caravan headed by C. T. Watson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, made five halts to inspect crops first hand.

The initial pause was made at the Walter Robinson farm east on Highway No. 1. The motorcade was met by Robinson who led them about the place pointing out various features on the well kept farm. Robinson said his boys were busy working in the field and that the girls were canning peas; he showed the crowd a sample of the canning done by the women. He also said that many other vegetables would be stored in that manner and pointed to a dug out full of freshly canned stock.

Robinson's feed crop was in excellent shape save for slight damage done by a small green "stink bug." His corn was over "head and hands" tall and hundreds of ears were just right for "roasting ears." He followed the idea of two rows of corn alternating with two rows of peas. He has several acres in feed and beautiful cotton. He had a large garden near the house in which he raised cantaloupes, watermelons and other produce. A tank near the windmill pumped a steady stream of water contained fish which were large enough to eat. He had two patches of fine sudan grass in which good stock were grazing. An orchard, which had been struck by the late freeze, bore a few good plums.

Continuing on the Bankhead highway the motorcade next stopped at Coahoma where several business firms were visited. After a pause during which Tom Ashley and Jim Black distributed frozen desserts to the children the procession resumed its itinerary having been joined by B. F. Roberts, Coahoma merchant, A. P. Hauck, bank cashier, and Mr. DeVaney, editor of the Coahoma newspaper.

To Rogers

Going north a short distance the caravan turned west striking the W. C. Rogers farm after having seen farms belonging to Sanders estate, Will Spears, W. W. Lay, Will Robinson, Bob Guthrie, and Sam Buchanan. Here the group saw what many termed the best feed they had observed in Howard county this year.

Large herds for the most part un-molested by bird or insect, averaged six and eight inches in length and about one pound in weight. Rogers had some eight acres of such feed. He led the crowd across one of two sudan grass pastures where horses and mules were grazing, thence into his cotton field. Here stalks were yet too young to have bolls but the average number of squares found on each stalk was estimated to be well over thirty. The group moved back to the house where chickens roamed in a pick and span yard with a modern chicken house to roost in. The fowls were of the white wyandotte variety and were a perfect picture of successful poultry raising.

The cars resumed the journey turning north to Ben Ben Miller.

Al Capone Is Surprised By Court Ruling

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson ordered government and defense to present evidence in the prohibition and income evasion cases against Al Capone beginning this afternoon.

Capone was disconcerted by the order. He previously had pleaded guilty. It was rumored he might withdraw the plea.

The judge said that if Capone asks leniency he must submit to questioning on all proper issues. He said the defense and prosecution agreement could not bind the court. Capone was charged with five thousand prohibition offenses and evading taxes on a million dollar income. Al came to court without a bodyguard.

Murray Threat Brings No Action From Operators

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 30 (AP)—Oil operators were still inactive in the face of Governor Murray's threat to stop production unless a price of a dollar per barrel is posted by Saturday night. Doubt was expressed that federal court orders or anything short of presidential action would stop Murray.

Five Cases Arising In Yates Oil Field Before Supreme Court

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 30 (AP)—The Yates oil field in Pecos county had given rise to five cases which the supreme court of Texas had admitted to its docket.

There is perhaps no other field in Texas which has as many cases for the consideration of the supreme body as this field, which in October, 1931, will be five years old. The date on which the court will make its decisions is not known but the eyes of the legal fraternity of Texas are centered upon these decisions, many of which involve new precedents.

The case of Ruby Holmes vs. Ila G. Yates; that of Fred Turner vs. oil companies owning leases in the field; that of Addie Miller vs. Ira G. Yates; that of H. E. Leman vs. John Garner and another case arising out of Dallas county, in which the plaintiff seeks lands additional to those contained in a warranty deed covering lands west of the Runnels county school tract comprise the five now before the courts.

New Record For Distance Established

Unsighted Since Take-Off Pair Covers At Least 5039 Miles

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 30 (AP)—Russell Boardman and John Polando, American aviators, landed here at 1:30 p. m. 5:20 a. m. Big Spring time, having covered 5039 miles from New York in 49 hours 29 minutes. They had been unsighted along the way.

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Naval hydrographers said that the Boardman Polando plane flew at least 5,039 1/2 miles, touching Cape Race near Paris on the way to Istanbul. The shortest route from New York to Istanbul was 5,014 1/2 miles.

HARBOR GRACE, Newfoundland, July 30 (AP)—Hugh Herndon, Jr., and Clyde Pangborn, who left New York at the same time that Boardman and Polando took off, landed in Wales yesterday and flew to Crofton, England, today. They were planning to continue to Moscow and around the world.

They said they crossed the Atlantic in fog without seeing water. Boardman and Polando set a distance record. Disoundee Coyle and Maurice Bellifonte held the record previously, 4,901 miles from Paris to China. Boardman carried a number of parachutes to drop messages but only one was found. He was picked up today near Le Bourget field, Paris. Both ships were single motored Bellanca monoplanes.

Classification Talk Given Club; Musicians Heard

Members of the Kiwanis club heard a classification talk on "clothing" by Bernard Fisher a. d. were greatly entertained by selections on guitars and some novelty numbers by Bob Pinkston and J. M. Shibley of the Bankhead service station and Joe Wolfe of Dallas. Mr. Weber is to manage the J. C. Penney store, opening here in a few weeks.

Mr. Fisher reviewed the processes used in making men's suits. They are of either cotton or wool. The wool may be from sheep, goats, goats, llamas or camels. Differences in appearance of suits, as well as may not be discernible when on display in windows. The difference comes out after they are "a customer's backs," said Mr. Fisher. Quality of suiting is calculated by weight per yard and tensile strength. Wool fabrics often are adulterated by mixture of cotton, he said.

"The difference between a suit costing $17.50 and one marked as $100 lies in the cloth and the tailoring. Some suits are machine-made, others are hand-made. The latter may be finished after 350 work of work by the tailor. He said few people realized how great the reduction in price of men's clothing has been since 1919.

The string trio played several selections. Mr. Pinkston is an artist with the steel guitar. Mr. Miles became a favorite of the club men with his novelty whistling, singing and yodeling.

Thanks were expressed by President G. R. Porter to committee in charge of last week's meeting at the City Park, especially to J. L. Webb and Mrs. H. C. Timmon.

At Barbecue Picnic

Honoring Miss Mildred Bailey of San Antonio, Mrs. Florence McCoy fetted a group of the younger set at the city park Wednesday evening to a luscious chicken barbecue with all the accessories needed to make the spread a most delicious one.

Those attending were Misses Louise and Frances Wheeler, Lena Kyle, Veda Robinson, Vieta Sanders, Jane Tinsley, and Mrs. McNew; and Roland and Howard Schumacher, Carroll Jones, Fred Koberg, and Homer Childress and Joe Elliot of Abilene.

Hoover Being Crowded To Wall In Effort To Maintain Wages Many Believe; Railroad Men Stand Pat

BY RAYMOND CLAFFER
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1931 by United Press)

WASHINGTON, July 30 (UP)—Belief is growing among many persons in the administration that President Hoover is being slowly crowded to the wall in his effort to maintain wages. This crowding, it is held, arises from a growing feeling in many industries that wage or salary "adjustment" and dividend reductions, may be unavoidable.

It is now a race between the effort to preserve consumer buying power and the accumulating deficits and vanishing earnings of a number of industries which are striking at payrolls. Which side wins will depend on the duration of the depression. Officials have practically quit guessing about that.

President Hoover is continuing his fight. There was firm denial in a White House statement yesterday that the president is surrendering. But officials almost up to the president's door, talking privately, say that many concerns will be unable to hold out against wage cuts much longer. Some have already ceased to hold out.

The United States Steel Corporation's reduction of its dividend from $7 to $4 and its announcement that salaries of officers and other salaries employees were to be "adjusted" bring some elements in the situation out into the open. United States Steel is the nation's industrial pace maker which makes its actions important for psychological reasons.

Officials were hesitant to discuss the action. Railroad labor executives sounded a warning against turning any failure of the railroads to get their 12 per cent freight rate increase into a drive on wages.

Railroad employees are not only prepared to "resist" such a move, the labor officials said in a statement but they are also fortified with the solemn agreement between representatives of employers and employees and the government of the United States not to permit the pressure of a business depression to be used as the excuse for breaking down the American standard of living and compelling men to labor for less than just compensation for their services.

While there is no disposition to overlook the seriousness of the wage situation if the depression continues, officials do point out that the cost of living has fallen about 15 per cent so that a wage cut of 10 per cent still would leave the worker a little ahead. Theoretically this does not take into account that the wage earner may be struggling with mortgage, life insurance, doctor bills, and other obligations which are not reduced by a fall in prices.

If there is any gloom, it should lie in the White House itself. For although President Hoover's $75,000 salary has not been reduced, he is in danger of losing the outstanding achievement of his battle with the depression—his fight for wages. Democrats ridiculed the prophecies that the depression had only 60 days to live, but they could not talk down the fight he made to hold up wages.

Club Raid In El Paso Nets Fifteen Arrests

EL PASO, Texas, July 30 (UP)—Fifteen men were arrested and alleged gambling equipment seized in a surprise raid on the Knickerbocker club today. Those arrested were three dealers and 12 players. The dealers gave their names as Joe Jones, J. McIntyre and D. Rempsey. They are held in jail while the purported players each posted $25 bond. The warrant upon which the raid was made set forth that poker, dice and 21 games were played in the club.

The Chattanooga baseball club is one of the most expensive in the minor leagues, representing an investment of $70,000.

Wholesale Release Of Colorado Prison Inmates Is Planned

DENVER, Colo., July 30 (UP)—Wholesale release of approximately 500 felons who have become trustees at the overcrowded, rest-less Colorado penitentiary, was provided today by a ruling of Attorney General Clarence L. Ireland.

In an opinion to Governor W. T. Adams, Ireland ruled the governor could apply the state's automatic pardon and parole law as amended by the last legislature in its attempt to relieve conditions which caused the disastrous riot at the prison in 1929. He held that good time allowances provided in the law for trustees must be figured off their sentence at the time they became trustees, instead of being subtracted from the time they serve. The ruling opened the way for the early release of approximately half the 1100 inmates in the 70-year-old penitentiary where trouble has recurred regularly since the bloody insurrection.

SWEDEN HAS 896 PORTS STOCKHOLM (INS)—Sweden has 896 ports along a coast-line of 3,900 kilometers (2,425 miles), according to data offered by the Stockholm port director, Salomon Vinberg. The numerous lakes and rivers of Sweden occupy over 8 per cent of the surface of the country. Of Sweden's 113 cities 79 have ports of their own, and the Swedish merchant fleet with 2,500 vessels of over 20 net register tons and with a combined tonnage of 1,152,000 net tons corresponds to 2.2 per cent of the total world tonnage.

Joan Bennett Suffers Broken Hip Attempting To Ride Bad Horse

HOLLYWOOD, July 30 (UP)—The efforts of Joan Bennett, film actress, to ride an unmanageable horse, resulted in her being confined in a hospital with a broken hip.

Miss Bennett, while on location yesterday, heard James Kirkwood, actor, decline to ride a certain animal. "I know that horse," said Kirkwood. "I've ridden him and he's bad. I won't get aboard him again." Another man seconded Kirkwood's statement. "You don't know how to ride," Miss Bennett was reported to have said, jokingly. She climbed into the saddle and a moment later was thrown against a tree. EASY TO FILL JURIES NOW DENVER, (INS)—The depression has been a big boon to W. T. Mayfield, Denver jury commissioner. No longer does he have to listen to an endless stream of trivial excuses when he is trying to get jurors. Instead, the jury fee looks like a bit of easy money in these times and most men selected for jury duty are more than willing to serve.

Harkness, of New York, owner, came to something over $95,000, and all that sum was spent here in New London, much to the benefit of the town's unemployed. The Cytheria's bill was only an average one, it seems, for vessels overhauled here.

Benefit 42 Party Very Successful

Methodist Philathea Class Reports Enjoyable Occasion

The benefit 42 party given by the members of the Philathea Sunday school class at the home of Mrs. E. W. Potter Wednesday afternoon was a huge success financially and socially.

There were sixty guests. The house was attractively decorated with garden flowers carrying out the class colors of pink and green. The tables, accented and refreshments also carried out these colors in a very charming manner.

Assisting Mrs. Potter or the hostess committee were Mrs. C. C. Carter and Mrs. Hugh Duncan. They extended their thanks to all the members of the class who were so helpful in putting over the party; also to Calvin Boykin for lending them chairs and to Joe B. Neel for transferring the chairs to the residence.

No prizes were given for playing 42, but there was a clever little fortune-telling game for which prizes were a home-made cake doled out by Mrs. L. A. Talley. Mrs. E. W. Potter won the prize.

The class promises to give more such parties if there is a demand for them.

The guest list included: Meses. Harry Lester, Jake Bishop, Jack Nell, D. C. Hamilton, H. W. Nell, F. A. Steelman, Hal Hart, Calvin Boykin, H. B. Keaton, C. S. Dilitz, R. H. Jones, C. T. ## Miss Frances Melton Becomes Bride Of Frank Boyle In Thursday Rites

In a simple ring ceremony solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. B. Holmes, at a o'clock Thursday morning Miss Frances Melton became the bride of Mr. Frank Boyle.

The rites were performed by Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church, in the presence of a small group of close friends of the couple.

Guests were ushered into the Holmes home by Misses Vaillia True and Irene Knous, who presided at the guest register. As the hour of nine was tolled Mrs. Alfred Moody softly played "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms." The bride, attired in traveling costume of blue with black accessories was attended by her sister, Pauline Melton. H. B. Boyle of Handley, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyle left immediately for a brief wedding trip to Madiera Springs, Alpine, El Paso and southeastern New Mexico after which they will visit here for a day enroute to Handley, where they will spend several weeks.

Mrs. Boyle has resided here since early childhood. She was graduated from Big Spring high school and Simmons university, where she was a popular and active participant in various campus activities. In the summer of 1930 she toured Europe as a member of a party of Texas accompanying the Cowboy band of Simmons university. Since her graduation from college she has been a member of the faculty of the local schools.

It was as fellow members of the school staff that Mr. and Mrs.

MRS. FRANK BOYLE

Boyle first met Mr. Boyle, a graduate of Baylor university, who served five years as instructor in science in the high school here. He was one of the charter members and served as president of the Lions club and has been one of the most useful of Big Spring men in promoting Boy Scout work.

Mr. Boyle has resigned from the faculty here and will enter the Baylor University School of Medicine in Dallas in September. Mr. Boyle will return here to take up his teaching duties. Mr. Boyle is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Boyle of Dallas.

Wall Brackets Bring Gardens Into Rooms

BY MARGERY TAYLOR Interior Decoration Editor, McCall's Magazine, Written For Herald

Wall brackets for plants have at last come into their own in design and decorative value—and the very latest have been achieved period styles.

They've broken away from the tradition that hanging plants had to be in wire contraptions lined with moss and made them lively possibilities for every room.

The new wrought iron brackets are really designed, not just made. There is, for instance, an urn effect perfect for the Spanish patio—and so, too, would be the holders in a combination of antique rusted iron and tile.

There are a number of brackets for rooms where Directorate designs would be appropriate.

One with two pot-holders is shaped like a lyre, combined with an arrow, while another shows how delightful a conventional bow-and-arrow design can be.

Because of the growing interest in the Colonial interior, some of the latest wall brackets are designed to be at home there. The admirable combination of colored glass containers in iron supports features them.

Charming also is a witch bowl in green, amber, amethyst or blue, filled with drooping ivy—or a hanging bottle in green, bubble glass.

There is variety in the new brackets—from the one-plant holder to brackets which are really trees, supporting ten or 12 plants. And for windows there are low standing racks.

Beginning in the hallway, the Iron and glass make hold for indoor plants.

visitor may be welcomed by green plants on each side of the mirror. In the living room they make a case and perch are ideal places for striking schemes over the fireplace, or if you are tired of the conventional vase and clock effects.

In the dining room they can give the same fresh effect as flowers—two or three brackets between double windows, and the trick is done.

And, generally, the sunroom, terrace and porch are ideal places for the little hanging garden, or even the elaborate "tree" stands.

From front door to attic, there seems to be a "just right" bracket for every room. And, if you're a real gardener, you needn't limit yourself to ivy, of course.

It is suggested that those interested in the display come prepared to look through it leisurely.

The hours tomorrow and Saturday will be 4 to 6 in the afternoon. On Sunday afternoon it will be shown from 3 to 5. There will be women present to read the scrap books to the little folks.

The display is sponsored by the Boys and Girls' Friendship Club of the First Methodist Church.

COULD DRIVE STRAIGHT MIDDLETON, Conn. (INS) —

A rural constable trailed Jerry Wren, of Waterbury, over miles of road into the city here, picked up a policeman and followed him to the city limits. Then Wren was placed under arrest for reckless driving. His car had wobbled all along the way as if it had too much alcohol. The policeman tried to drive the car back and he was no better at the job than Jerry who was discharged by Judge Carl F. Anderson when he promised to have the machine fixed. Jerry wasn't driving recklessly, the judge decided.

PRE-SCHOOL CLINIC

The following statement is issued by County Health Department concerning the pre-school clinic to be held at the Court House Saturday at 2 o'clock:

A child entering school should not be handicapped. It is unfair to expect a child suffering from a physical or mental sickness to compete with well children; it is also unfair to the school, because the educators are asked to work with defective material.

This is the time to check up on his condition. Bring him to the court house August 1, at 2 p. m., have him protected against diphtheria or vaccinated against smallpox and given a physical examination.

Children die from the above diseases. The mortality rate has been greatly reduced by immunization and vaccination, yet the United States in 1930 lost 8,000 children from diphtheria. Two doses of diphtheria toxoid given to these children would have saved 8,000 lives.

If you are unaware of the value of vaccination, consult those who remember what happened not so many years ago, when an epidemic of smallpox broke out. Vaccination is a certain and absolute protection against smallpox.

Diphtheria immunization $1.50. Smallpox vaccination 50 cents.

MRS. M. R. SHOVALTER, Howard County Public Health Nurse.

UNLINED COATS SMART FOR AUGUST

PARIS (AP)—Unlined coats are the smartest wrap for August wear. Many Parisian couturiers display silk crepe or featherweight wool wraps, without even the suggestion of a lining, to wear with hot weather frocks. Where linings are necessary in order to retain the line of a coat, they are made of finest georgette.

RED IS FAVORED FOR SPORTS OUTFIT

PARIS (AP)—Mrs. Reginald Folger is among smart women sporting red as a summertime color. She appears these days in a simple white shantung frock designed with a touch of red on the collar and worn with a short jacket of red sinelle which is made with short cape sleeves. A red sports hat completes her costume.

VOTERS' LEAGUE HEAD RESTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Miss Belle Thorwin, president of the national league of women voters, finds rest and recreation during the summer at her country estate, "Windsor," near Cleveland, Ohio.

Little Girl, Stricken Hopelessly, Smiles and Talks of Happy Future

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—Little rank haired, Sallee Louise Dalton lay in the "drinker" hospital in Kings County Hospital today smiling up at "Jippy," her toy giraffe perched seductively atop the machine, and chattering about "eight years from now" with a physician who holds no hope for her life.

The 10-year-old Brooklyn girl, stricken with infantile paralysis, was happy because her newly found friend, Dr. Tom, was nearby to attend her. He is Dr. Thomas C. Fry.

"When I get out, and in about eight years, then I'll be old enough to marry you, Dr. Tom. And by that time you ought to have a lot of money and be all ready to get married," she told him.

Dr. Tom smiled, but not when he turned away. He knew his little friend doesn't have a chance to live.

All Sallee's body except her throat and head are paralyzed, and for eight days she has been in the mechanical contraption which forces air into her lungs and out—a record in such cases, doctors said.

Yesterday Sallee composed a little prayer. Her mother, Mrs. Dalton, wrote it down, and they both repeated it:

"Oh, my Jesus on the Cross, look down on us and have mercy on us, who looked up to Thee to plead Thy forgiveness and again receive the love and light of Thy most sacred Holy Angel."

Miss Dalton stays with Sallee most of the day and every evening her father, John C. Dalton, a stock broker, visits her.

Meanwhile health authorities issued further warnings in connection with the city's infantile paralysis epidemic.

Fifty six new cases, 31 in Brooklyn, were reported in twenty-four hours, bringing the total this month to 429. Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, health commissioner, pointed out, however, that only 463 have been discovered this year, as compared to 9,023 in the 1916 epidemic.

Jim Galloway, former baseball player, manager and owner, has started umpiring in the Texas League.

Successful Brazos County Market Sets Example to Howard

How successful the home demonstration market can be made is shown by the following story from Farm and Ranch which was clipped by Mrs. Joyce Fisher, president of the City Federation.

It relates the activities of the Brazos County market which operated on practically the same plan as that proposed by the City Federation for Howard County.

The first market day for this county will be this Saturday at the Federation Clubhouse. Town women are asked to keep this in mind and to drop by the clubhouse in the morning and look over the country produce.

Mrs. Bob Kutzbank will be the market manager.

The account of the Brazos County market follows:

Operating five sales days in the month, the home demonstration division of the Brazos County Farmers' market, recently established, totaled $28,811 in receipts, with products from 1,000 home demonstration club members and thirteen others, offered for sale in May.

These included 14 varieties of vegetables as well as poultry, flowers, eggs, cookies, noodles, cottage cheese, cranberries, grape juice, canned green black-eyed peas and canned green tomatoes in vinegar and fruit.

"Mrs. Hugo Eshenkovsky is manager of the market. She takes orders over the phone arranged for the products to be brought to market. Keeps the books, has charge of the bank account and issues all checks. Payment for all sales on the market is made in the cash—union presentation of the sales tax which gives the price of the owners and the price of the commodity. A market check is prepared and made against cash sales and a check for the balance delivered to the owner at the next sales day.

"Three ladies, chairs and the market manager serve at each sales day.

MANY DRIVERS NEED SLEEP

HARRISBURG, Pa. (INS)—Lack of sleep is often a prime factor in motor accidents, a survey by the Pennsylvania bureau of motor vehicles here indicates. Check up by the division of safety of numerous "accident prone" drivers, W. W. Matthews, division chief said, indicates that irregular sleeping hours and attempts to "catch up" on slumber are often directly connected with causes of motor crashes.

ROAD FUND TO 169 TOWNS

HARTFORD, Conn. (INS)—Connecticut's legislature appropriated $2,000,000 to be used to harden rural roads this summer, after listening for weeks to the slogan "Get the farmer out of the mud." The money was available anytime after July 1, and it now develops that each of the state's 169 towns has applied for some of the cash. Some result each town gets $47,700 for its dirt roads, and there will be just $250 left over.

LOVE CAR HAS WILD RIDE

SCRANTON, Pa. (INS)—A wild ride by a freight car through three boroughs as it loomed head while being switched around the Mayfield yards of the New York Ontario and Western railroad here ended after fifteen minutes with its demolition against the locomotive of a freight train. During that time, it crossed four crossings with highways. It was at night and the lone car had no lights burning.

Vealmoor Demonstration Club History Related by Mrs. O. L. Thorp, President Of The Club

Last September I started going to the Home Demonstration Club at South. I did not go long before I realized the need of a Home Demonstration club in our community.

I talked with other women and found several interested, so on March 16, of this year, Mrs. Allgood met with us and we organized. About 20 or 30 women and girls were present. We enrolled 18 as club members. Since that time we have done a good deal.

Several members have got a start of evergreen plants; six have made hot beds and profited by them. On May 1, Mrs. Allgood met with us at the home of Mrs. Mae Zant and gave a salad demonstration. On June 5 she met with us at the home of Mrs. Jim Hanks and gave a cheese demonstration. Both were a wonderful lot of help to those present. Mrs. J. A. Iden and Mrs. E. W. Kelly have made 10 pounds of cheese.

The club is trying to raise money for a pressure cooker and sealer. Each club member was to sell one dressed hen. Several have done so. Mrs. E. W. Kelly had charge of a play which netted $8 clear.

Practically all members are keeping records on eggs, shoes and so on. Eight have filled pantry budget cards and I believe we shall fill them. Four made dresses for the contest at Big Spring. We all got greatly benefited by both Mrs. Allgood's and Miss Swift's help on them.

Mrs. J. L. Bucknaw bought 377 baby chicks for $25 and raised 337 of them. She canned 94 fryers which filled 79 No. 3 cans, 10 cans of stewed chicken. The value of the canned chickens was $31.53. She ate 23, valued at $7; sold 7 at 75 cents which brought $2.45, making a total of $10.93. Cost of chicks at 4 months was $100. She

Bluebonnet Club Entertained By Mrs. E. M. LaBett

Mrs. E. M. LaBett entertained the Bluebonnet Club with a very pretty party Wednesday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. W. D. McDonald made high score for club members and received a pretty vase. Mrs. W. M. Paulson for high and received a placard.

Mrs. Raymond Wirt and Mrs. Victor Mellinger were the only guests.

Lucille LaBett and Anna Belle Johnson assisted with the serving of the delicious ice cream.

The club members were Meses. McDonald, Paul, Lee Weathers, P. H. Liberty, S. L. Baker, Gus Pickett, C. E. Shive, J. B. Hodges and O. Y. Miller.

Mrs. B. Wilson has gone to Hugo, Okla., to attend a family reunion. She went as far as Dallas with Mrs. L. A. Talley. She will be gone a week and will be accompanied by her sister, brother and mother when she returns.

Army Veteran of Texas Bordered To Be Retired

SAN ANTONIO, July 28. (UP)—Col. George T. Langhorne, ranking line officer of the United States Cavalry and picturesque Mexican border officer, will be retired Friday according to army orders posted here today.

Colonel Langhorne saw service along the border as commander of the Eighth Cavalry at Marfa and Fort Bliss and took part in the Pershing expedition. He also was the hero of many Big Bend forays and directed the expedition which hunted Aviators Davis and Peterson, captured by Mexican bandits.

Langhorne was an officer in the Pershing punitive expedition and in 1923 was chief of staff of the American relief expedition sent to Japan after the earthquake.

He was 64 years old on July 5. He will retire at Chicago where he has been on duty with the 65th Reserve Cavalry.

HOW'S your HEALTH?

Dr. Inge Goldstein Analyst of Medicine
DISEASE AND HEALTH

The average person is inclined to think of health and disease as centered about the home.

Home is a place one goes when sick, but sickness may not be the result of home environment or home experience.

In fact, few of the 24 hours are spent at home, and many more hazards and exposures are found outside it.

The place of work, for example, exercises much influence on one's being. This general fact has led to the development of the special branch of industrial medicine and to the formulation of the list of occupational diseases.

Many a headache results from a poorly ventilated shop or factory. Much eye strain is the result of improper lighting, particularly in the case of the publisher's hot type cases. It is a common habit to read a newspaper further than the amount required by them for the actual space covering the article. The habit is so serious that the editor is advised to serve to reject or edit all advertising copy. All advertising orders are accepted on the basis of the actual space reserved.

Sentenced to Sunday School

THE old practice of sentencing manufacturers to enrollment in the navy are going to be returned. Uncle Sam discovered that men who were sentenced to serve in the navy or go to jail did not make the best sailors. The practice was a hangover from freeboating days, when ships at sea were manned largely by criminals freed from prison.

At Houston last week a municipal judge sentenced four boys to attend a certain Sunday school class for 22 Sundays in succession, in expiation of the crime of having stolen some gasoline from a motorist's tank.

The theory is that the boys will attend Sunday school and learn the joys and privileges of being good.

But the practical result is apt to be a hatred of Sunday school on the part of these boys. A dog does not lick the leather strap with which it is beaten. It fears and avoids it. Using the church or Sunday school as a place of punishment is unfair to the church. It is, or should be, a place of love, of trust, of respect, of self-sacrifice.

Frank sentences of all kinds have a place in an enlightened age.

Sunday school is a fine place. Every youth should go there occasionally, if not regularly. But he should go voluntarily, to love and humility, not as an unwilling captive.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Death has again cut to one the Republican majority in the house of representatives of the seventy-second congress.

But the passing of Bird Vincent of Michigan leaves administration forces as confident as ever that they will have sufficient strength to control organization of the house.

For Vincent represented what is commonly called a "rock-ribbed" Republican district.

Joe Fordney came down to Washington from Saginaw for 11 consecutive terms, when, voluntarily retired, he remained in the house long enough to assume sufficient seniority to get the chairmanship of the ways and means committee—that prize of all committee assignments.

It was Fordney who had his name attached to the Fordney-Cumbe tariff bill, predecessor of the present Hawley-Smoot act.

Vincent succeeded him. He served four terms and was elected for a fifth at the time of his death.

HABITUAL WINNER

Vincent never was bothered with serious opposition. When he had a Democratic opponent, he managed to roll up majorities of three to one.

Reapportionment, admittedly a vital question in Michigan, will not affect this particular district. Its lines remain virtually the same, the urban centers of the state being the sections best concerned.

So although today the house rolls show 215 Republicans and 213 Democrats, the former are not particularly worried. The majority of two with which they returned from the last election they regarded as safe this far—with the eighth Michigan district's reputation what it is.

Judged from past Republican victories, there is reason to believe that it would take a big upset to change the political complexion of this district.

Vincent's career in the house followed a course different from that of his predecessor, Fordney. Fordney's interest lay in the field of government finance. Vincent interested himself chiefly in immigration and veterans' legislation and matters pertaining to territorial affairs.

NO 'KICK' I DEBATE

Although he had served eight years in the house, he remained comparatively little known. He spoke on the floor rarely, and when he did it was usually about the three subjects in which he was most interested.

Running debate held little attraction for him.

His efforts to sustain the right of Bec of Pennsylvania to his seat in the house two years ago brought him into the limelight for a while. Bec's right was challenged on the question of non-residency. Vincent, as chairman of the house election committee, championed the Pennsylvania cause.

During the last session he was greatly handicapped by illness, which only lasted a second, I managed to throw him across one corner of a heavy table in the center of the room.

"He hit it pretty hard and I guess it must have hurt his back. Anyway as he fell his head hit on the base of the big swivel chair in front of his desk. I saw, he was knocked out, but I never dreamed he was hurt bad. I guess Martin must have been in the vault getting out his books because he evidently hadn't heard a thing, and from behind the counter where Martin worked he couldn't see the door of the cashier's office. I realized the situation in a flash. There was that bundle of money! I just grabbed it, slipped out of the door and to the depot just in time to catch my train to Camden.

"In Camden I delivered the papers and went to the hotel and registered in case there should be a call for me of the phone. Then I bought a ticket to Buffalo—it was just about time for the east bound train.

"But I didn't go on that train; I struck out on foot across country 14 miles to Wheeler, a town on another railroad. I boarded the train to a junction point where I caught a train to Cleveland. From Cleveland I went to Denver, and from Denver to Red Butte.

"I never knew the cashier was dead until I read the story in the paper. It was too late then for me to back out because I had gotten away with the money. I hate to think of poor old Dad Martin being in jail for something he had no more to do with than you. But it's his or me.

"You see, having Martin's Masonic charm in my hand when Campbell jumped me, I dropped it in the tuft and never once thought of it again."

"How much did you get away with?"

"Twenty-five thousand."

"Got it on you?"

"Of course. You see, I already had the money I got from Pierre. I paid my expenses out of that."

"Hum-m," said Donovan, and tapped into deep thought.

Bruce Cary's mental and nervous condition was pitiable. In his recital he had lived again, as it were, every hour of mental agony which he had endured from the moment when he had tricked Pierre to his discovery that Donovan had known all the time of that tragedy at the bank.

Fear, remorse, uncertainty, had assailed him with increasing strength. Step by step the net of circumstances had been drawn about him. And now the inevitable crisis! The dangers between which he must choose were appalling. Another touch and the ambitious bank clerk would become a desperate animal ready to kill or to be killed.

"Well, what are you going to do?" he demanded at last.

"What would you suggest?" asked Donovan with grim humor.

"We've got to go some place where I can lay low until this Orchard Hill bank affairs blows over."

"Exactly. Once your innocent father-in-law is convicted and hung you'll be safe, huh?"

"What else can I do?" snarled Bruce. "It's him or me, ain't it?"

"Donovan rose to his feet. "Come on. We've got to go some place with this palver that we had any right to."

"Where are we going?" cried Bruce leaping to his feet.

"To Dripping Spring first, then to Red Butte."

"Not me!" shouted the other furiously. "You'll never get me back to Red Butte to be arrested for murder."

MORE SUMMER STUDENTS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (INS)—Students registering for the summer session at Harvard University totaled 2454, or a few more than the number enrolled for 1930. The record year for the largest enrollment for the summer session was 2900 students in 1927.

EXIT

by Harold Bell Wright

SYNOPSIS: Pierre Donovan tracks Bruce to Mother Mountain, where he is seeking gold. Interested neither in the gold nor in the money he had given Bruce for the venture, Pierre thinks only of Bruce's deserted wife, Ann. For Pierre knows that Bruce's arrest in connection with the murder of a bank cashier would expose his charge of intimacy between Ann and Pierre. He wants Bruce to return and avert this scandal. Pierre, unseen on his arrival, hears Bruce and his companion, Pierre's estranged father—although Pierre does not recognize him—arguing over their next move, now that their water is almost gone. He is startled when Bruce tells the man he hadn't meant to kill the cashier, for whose murder Ann's father is being held.

Chapter 31
TRIFLE VERSUS TRIFLE

BRUCE paused for a moment before replying to Donovan's question as to the mystery surrounding his flight from home. Then he began:

"I had to go to Camden that night to deliver some papers from our bank to Mr. Fulger, the president of the Camden bank. Pierre was ready to go to New York to school, but at the last minute I persuaded him to let me have his school money to invest in this wonderful mine you had been writing me about."

"All right, go on."

"Well, I'd made up my mind that if I could get that money from Pierre I would cut loose from Orchard Hill and come out here and join you. So when Pierre turned his money over to me, just a few minutes before I left to catch my train to Camden, I saw my chance. I left a letter for Ann, telling her that I was through for good."

"Ann's father had to go down to the bank that evening, and we walked as far as the bank together. At the side door of the bank we said goodbye. Martin went into the bank. I started on toward the depot. I had only gone a little way when I suddenly remembered that I had nearly $20,000 in the bank and wished I had it. You see, Pierre's money was not nearly as much as you said we would need."

"I looked at my watch and saw I had plenty of time, so I hustled back. As I was unlocking the door I saw something shining on the sidewalk. I picked it up and it was a Masonic watch charm. Of course I knew it was Martin's and I didn't even put it in my pocket until I thought that in another minute I would hand it to the old man."

"To him it was a treasured emblem—a gift from his friends that he always carried with him. The spring in the catch was weak, and I suppose it had come loose when he stopped at the door to the bank."

"That side entrance to the bank opens into a hall; on one side is the main room; on the other the offices of the president and the cashier. As I passed the cashier's office I noticed the door was open about an inch, and the light on. I pushed the door wide open. There was Campbell our cashier, just about to put a package of money into a small grip."

"Then he saw me, and I knew by his actions what he was up to. He was getting away with the bank's cash and I had caught him in the act. Didn't I ever say a word to him? He jumped me. In the transactions committee, championed the Pennsylvania cause."

During the last session he was greatly handicapped by illness,

Prosperity Still Clings To Sheep Raisers of State

BAN ANGELO, Texas, July 30 (AP)—Two thousand soldiers of prosperity, ranchmen attending the annual meeting of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas, were in San Angelo this week. Their pockets were not so well filled as in the golden years of 1927, 28 and 29, but the great God of the range country, Rain, has visited more than 80 per cent of their places this year, and production costs are lower than in two decades.

Ranch leases have been reduced from 10 to 25 cents an acre. The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank has renewed its loans, many of which have been reduced by payments received from shipments of fat lambs and wool.

More than 200,000 head of fat lambs have already moved out of this section to the markets, and their weights have been as high as 30 pounds, almost as good as the prime lambs shipped from Arizona. Prices have averaged around 6 to 6 1/4 cents. Last year there were very small movements of grass-fat spring lambs to market, but they brought 9 cents. The average weight this year has been around 70 pounds, bringing in cash to West Texans about $1,250,000 from this movement. The country now is filled with lambs ready to go when the market improves.

Feeder-buyers are attempting to acquire the spring lambs for fall delivery at 4 cents a pound, but they are not meeting with acceptance. Last fall the price on feeder lambs ranged from 4 to 5 cents a pound, the latter figure being paid in January of this year after the bulk of the crop had moved.

Extensions to the sheep country continue to be made, with ranchmen acquiring leases and buying ranches in what has been the sacred cow belt, farther westward.

The sheepman's next big payday occurs in September, October and November, when Texas lambs will go to 15 or 20 different states to be fed.

Not a single sheepman in the Southwest believes that lambs will languish for lack of feeder-buyers this fall and all of the lambs are expected to be moved out of the country. Last fall the feeders came down to Texas under a cloud of hard-time talk, said they weren't interested in sheep, but before the ranchmen became aware of it the feeders had bought nearly everything in the country.

There are no doggy, or poorly grown lambs in Texas this summer. Prices being paid for bucks, now being delivered over the country, range from $10 to $15.

National Wool Marketing Corporation officials here have announced that advances will be made on Texas fall short wool but are urging that this not be clipped.

Receipts of wool and mohair by the five cooperatives of Texas, which function under the National Wool Marketing Corporation, for the year 1931 are announced: Uvalde, 1,515,894 pounds, compared with 934,113 pounds in 1930; San Angelo, 6,605,995 pounds, compared with 4,040,922 in 1930; Menard, 2,692,722 pounds, compared with 1,407,693 in 1930; Del Rio, 2,471,888 pounds, compared with 1,597,663 in 1930; Sonora, 1,214,858 pounds, compared with 326,819 in 1930.

Straw Stacks Worth $2 Per Ton; Angelo Corn Crop Unusual

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 30 (AP)—Hundreds of stacks of straw which dot the West Texas grain fields today, are regarded by ranchmen as added insurance against drought in future days. These straw stacks at today's prices are worth about $2 a ton. Barley is considered the best straw, and straw is next and wheat third.

The corn crop in this section, ordinarily not considered a superior corn producing area, is the best in many years, according to W. I. Marshall, county agent. One field of irrigated corn is producing 75 bushels to the acre.

The cutting of maize and hedges will commence in about two weeks, and these fields are ripening rapidly. Some cane patches are as high as 20 inches high.

BLIND, HE MAKES RADIOS

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (INS)—Although he has been blind for many years and has never seen one of the newest radios, James Mullin has constructed many of the instruments and for some time was consulting builder for a radio concern. He has recently been taken for treatment to the League Island Naval Base Hospital. He is a Spanish War veteran.

COLLEGE POLICE COURSE

MADISON, Wis. (INS)—The University of Wisconsin is considering offering police training through its extension division. Definite plans for such a course are to be worked out by a committee of League of Wisconsin Municipalities. A tentative plan is that a week's training course should be held at Madison once a year and that cities and towns throughout the state should send representatives.

Texans Test Motor Before Hopping Off On Trans-Pacific Flight

SEATTLE, Wash. July 30 (UP)—Test hops were today on the program of Reg L. Robbins and Harold S. Jones, who have been impatiently waiting a chance to get started on their second attempt at a non-stop refueling flight to Tokyo.

If the test shows their new motor to be in good shape, they will be ready to start as soon as the weather man reports that flying conditions are good along the route.

They plan to re-fuel over Fairbanks and Nome, Alaska, and to make the flight to Japan in 40 to 45 hours.

$15,000 Liquor Load Captured On Coast

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, July 30 (UP)—Customs agents captured a truck near Orange late yesterday loaded with more than 200 cases of imported liquor valued at around $15,000. The Italian driver escaped.

Federal men traced the truck number but said their investigation proved the man who owned the truck had nothing to do with the rum running. They would not elaborate on the statement.

Unmarried Mother Charged In Killing Of Her Stepmother

DENISON, Texas, July 30 (UP)—Jewell Denton, unmarried mother of three children, today was charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting yesterday of W. O. James, 48, her widowed step-father with whom she had lived for a number of years.

Miss Denton, an attractive woman of 30, said the shooting was an accident. She said that she and her stepfather scuffled over the pistol and she attempted to wrench it from him.

It fell to the ground and as she picked it up it went off twice accidentally, she told officers. One shot struck James in the chest killing him instantly.

The woman was taken to jail in Sherman but will be returned here for examining trial. The shooting took place at the James home.

Beaumont Votes Bonds For Elimination of City's Grade Crossings

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 30 (UP)—Plans for the elimination of grade crossings here moved forward today as a result of the voting of a $900,000 bond issue here yesterday for the city's share of the track elevating project.

The Southern Pacific railroad is to pay around $3,000,000 in the project which calls for a railroad viaduct with 11 underpasses.

County Auditors For Fee Plan Abolition

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 30 (UP)—Texas county auditors were back at their offices today recommending that all state, county and precinct officers be paid by salary.

The auditors elected G. Earle Hutchings, Graham, president, to succeed W. W. Preston, Lockhart at the close of the session.

The next convention will be selected at a post convention meeting of officers, it was decided. Dallas, San Antonio, Austin and Fort Worth are bidders.

Slain Bandit Found To Be Ex-Wink Man

KILGORE, Texas, July 30 (UP)—A would-be bandit who was slain early today as he and two companions attempted to hold up a team camp soft drink stand was identified as Jimmie Williamson, 23-year-old oil field character from Wink.

Police suspects, including Williamson's 17-year-old brother Ed, in an effort to learn the identity of the other two men who fled in the darkness when John B. Jenkins, operator of the stand, opened fire with a pistol.

The younger Williamson has been held in the Gregg county jail. Longview on a forgery charge. Kilgore police records showed that

Baby-of-the-Month Club Stirs Interest

Introducing!... The Baby-of-the-Month Club as an integral part of the community life of Big Spring under the sponsorship of eleven progressive Big Spring business firms! The organization was created through the generosity of Big Spring business men who believe that too little recognition is given the new heir when he... or she... arrive to take command of the home. Recognition will therefore be given the "first baby" to be born in each of the next three calendar months. The club comes into being today. Under the plan adopted, club members will extend congratulations to baby and parents in a concrete, substantial form.

The following list gives the names of members, together with the gifts they will present each month to the fortunate child and its parents: Mellinger's, baby dress; Cunningham & Philips Stores, selection of Clapp's Baby Foods; Texas Electric Service Co., credit of $10 on purchase of new General Electric Refrigerator or the gift of a small electric lamp; Collins Bros. Drug Stores, Johnson and Johnson Baby Package to the baby and bottle of Collins Bros. Foot Rest to the proud father; Barrow Furniture Co., baby swing; Dairyland Products, 40-quart milk coupon book; Economy Laundry, $1 worth of laundry work; Hollywood Shoppe, gift from novelty department; Bradshaw's Studio, baby's first photograph; Wacker's 5c to $5 Store, pair of baby shoes; Austin-Jones, baby dress.

The "baby-of-the-month" for August will be determined in this way: The first white boy or girl to be born in Big Spring after midnight of July 31, 1931, will be officially decided as the winner of the gifts. The same plane of selection will be used each of the other months of the life of the club.

In order to qualify, the baby's birth certificate, signed by the attending physician, should be brought or sent without delay to the Herald office. The certificate should show the exact date, hour and minute of birth.

As soon as the baby-of-the-month for August has been determined its name will be given to the Herald. Watch for the announcement.

Give Baby Plenty of Dairyland
PASTEURIZED MILK

In welcoming the "Baby-of-the-Month" we would like to give a word of advice to its mother. When it comes time for bottle feedings, use Dairyland Pasteurized Milk to be sure, supplemented with orange or tomato juice. The leading doctors of our country agree that properly PASTEURIZED milk is the only SAFE milk.

Questioned as to the often-repeated statement that pasteurized milk is not the best for babies on the theory that its food value has been reduced, one of the most famous physicians declared that "babies, fed raw and pasteurized milk, show a slight average difference in the net daily gain in weight during the feeding period when given orange or tomato juice. The slight difference might truthfully be said to be in favor of the milk that has undergone the pasteurization treatment."

We will give the "Baby-of-the-Month" a book of tickets (40 quarts) good for Dairyland Pasteurized milk.

A Herald representative followed closely behind leaving copies of the paper at each mail box and house.

Davis led the group to an orchard where twelve trees were loaded with first class "jelly plums." Preceding this move the crowd had inspected a fine cotton and feed crop featuring excellent terracing work done by Davis. Some of the cotton along the flats was between knee and hip high. John Wolcott demonstrated his ability as a hog caller "de luxe" when he summoned two large shoats from under shade to the view of the crowd. They were only eight months old but large, fat and apparently excellent meat for the winter months.

My studies have been a revelation of the excellence of organization in America comparing favorably with those of Luthansia in Germany," said Dr. Lauke, who obtained his doctorate in engineering six years ago. "Designation of the German lines as the Luthansia is a modern application of an old, old term. The 'Luth' means air, sky."

The "hansa" was a proper name designating water traffic activities in inland seas north of Germany, very much as Lloyd's refers to English shipping interests.

Studying Efficiency "When I say I am studying organization, I mean principally what is spoken of in America as efficiency. I am learning from American air lines their ways of getting the most done with the least outlay of effort and time. This covers the whole field of commercial aviation from provision of planes, preparing them for the line, advertising, educating the public to the use of air travel, the handling of passengers, and, in fact, every phase of the industry."

Dr. Lauke, a young man of the typical German scientist type, speaks English fluently. He arrived in New York in April. Since then he has visited Washington, Detroit, Milwaukee, Toledo, Akron, where he saw the USS Akron, under construction, and a number of other cities of the country.
