Gubernatorial and Congressional Candidates to Speak

TECHNICAL CONSPIRACY IN SENATE TO FORESTALL SESSION

NAVY PACT MATTER IS CONTENTION

Immediate Vote Or a Senate Recess Is Being Sought

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Two rumors of efforts to upset plans of the senate leaders for debating the London naval treaty at special session were circulated today. The first was a move to bring the pact to a vote before adjournment of the present session.

The second was to endeavor to have the senate recess instead of adjourn, a technical distinction would prevent President Hoover from calling an extraordinary session.

Opinions Are Locked

In an effort to get relief from the presidentially threatened extraordinary session for consideration of the naval pact, leaders of the Senate have gone repeatedly into conference with President Hoover on the matter, two of them appearing at the White House for breakfast one day this week.

The naval affairs committee of the senate has conducted its own investigation into charges American envoys failed to secure for the United States commensurate parity with other nations in the recent London conference.

Senate factions are strictly at sword-point on the issue, high commanders of the U. S. fleet are at variance with others of equal rank on the matter, and President Hoover has intimated he will see the problem decided before the extraordinary session shall have been adjourned.

Dead Foreman Buried At Fairview Today

Funeral services were held at 10 this morning for Dave Traversie, about 45, foreman of the Holt Sr. ranch, 25 miles north of Midland. Traversie died in a hospital here from injuries received Tuesday afternoon when his horse fell upon him.

Contrary to reports received by The Reporter-Telegram, the horse the foreman was riding was not wild. The rider pulled him up, causing the animal to rear and fall backward, pinning the rider underneath the saddle.

The Rev. Thomas D. Murphy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read the ceremony at the Ellis mortuary. Burial was a Fairview cemetery.

The parents and one grand parent survive, as well as the widow and a daughter.

Presbyterians Hope To Send Delegates

The First Presbyterian church of Midland hopes to send at least six delegates to the Westminister Presbyterian encampment's twenty-fifth year, to be celebrated with the opening of the Texas Synod's annual young people's conference in Kerrville, June 10-18, the Rev. Thomas D. Murphy, pastor of the church here, said.

The minister hopes to attend the encampment sometime in August, at which time several ministers of the Synod will be there.

The religious summer work center was started in July, 1906, on a 42-acre tract donated by citizens of Kerrville. The first season a quarter-century ago lasted a week, but the programs now run for three months and total registrations now exceed 3,000 each summer. ##### Star in Real Sea Wreck Drama

No movie director—or press agent—could have arranged a shipwreck-at-sea thriller such as that which imperiled Nancy Carroll, above, when a launch which she was aboard all but foundered in a stiff gale in Massachusetts Bay, off Boston. The film star and her husband, Jack Kirkland, with thirteen companions, were tossed about by high seas for several hours before being rescued by a fishing schooner.

SCARBOROUGH FIGURES IN DECISION LEASE CANCELLATION MATTER; HELD LEASE HOLDERS WILL HAVE TO DRILL

Persons holding oil and gas leases on land must begin operation and drilling within a reasonable time or the leases are subject to cancellation, according to a ruling of Judge Charles A. Boynton in El Paso federal court Wednesday.

The ruling was given in the suit of W. F. Scarborough against the Cosden Oil company, according to the El Paso Herald. It is of far-reaching importance to the development of the oil industry. It was stated by E. M. Whitaker of Whitaker & Peticolas, counsel for Scarborough in the suit.

Scarborough brought suit to cancel an oil and gas lease covering 100 acres of land in the Scarborough oil field in Winkler county on the ground of failure to carry on drilling operations on the tract.

The lease originally was for 10,000 acres of land, which now has 10 producing wells. Cosden Oil company owned the assignment on the 100 acres.

Cosden Oil company contended that the development by the other lease holders protected and relieved it of the necessity of drilling.

Judge Boynton ruled that the lease must begin operations and drilling (See SCARBOROUGH page 6)

HUNTVILLE, June 4. (UP)—William "Dagger" Pruitt watched the last daybreak he will see creep into his cell in death row today and ate his last breakfast, grim but calm. He waited for his mother who is coming to

Three Elected To Go to San Angelo

J. T. Baker, D. C. Biggers and J. H. Biggs intimated Wednesday they would go to San Angelo for the June 10-12 annual convention of the Texas Firemen's association.

They had been nominated and elected in a meeting earlier in the afternoon at the city hall.

Fire Marshal Jerry Phillips will not attend the convention, having mailed his fire report to the state fire department soon after the first of the year. A copy of this will be forwarded to San Angelo, together with the credentials of the fire marshal.

Entertainment features during the convention, already announced, have been increased through intention of the Stamford band, the only volunteer firemen's musical group in the state. Ballinger will also send a special band, and a number of other cities will have orchestras and bands there to represent them.

A report from San Angelo says regular morning and evening concerts will be held, as well as a daily baseball game.

PAY INCREASES IN TEXAS NO. 7 FOLLOWING SHOT

Shot with 240 quarts at 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Texas, Cosden No. 7 Connell, Penn pool's west extension in Ector county, cleaned itself out and made 30 barrels an hour in two 30 minute tests immediately after. Later, the flow increased and it is estimated that the well may be good for 1,000 barrels daily.

"Rather Save a Child Than Get Total City Votes"

Strict enforcement of traffic laws that curb the speedster and reckless driver will be brought to bear with renewed force by the city administration, Mayor Leon Goodman told The Reporter-Telegram this morning.

"Some are criticizing Motorcycle Officer Middleton for arresting them upon violation of city ordinances," the mayor said. "The officer has his orders from the city and county, both of whom employ him. He will continue to take these orders and execute them. And he is accomplishing good results, too."

The declaration from the mayor's office was made because of the apparent need for letting residents of county and city know that their criticism of the officer's arrests does not deter the council from realizing the value of such arrests when their value in saving of lives is considered.

Traffic Must Be Careful
"I had rather see a life saved than get all the votes in Midland," the mayor said. "I would lose them all rather than see one serious accident."

"Road hogs," he said, "and the intoxicated autoist have no place on the city streets of Midland. When the driver of automobiles assumes he has liberty to bank corners on the ground like he would fly an airplane above the earth, he has assumed a bit too much. He has a landing at the city police court awaiting him, as a continuation of the analogy."

Safe, sane driving on Midland streets must take the place of wild, unrestrained speeding, Mayor Goodman pointed out, showing how dozens of children play on the streets and on the marginal sidewalks, not to speak of those who ride in automobiles, driven by those who do observe traffic regulations.

"And those who observe regulations are not going to be made sacrificial victims to the whim of those who thumb their noses at conventional and regulatory ordinances. The city council, working through officers and judicial bodies, will see that traffic laws are obeyed, or penalties executed."

ADDRESSES SCHEDULED 8 O'CLOCK

Court Room Place of Speeches; Murphy Has Arrived

Clint C. Small, gubernatorial candidate, and E. E. (Pat) Murphy, candidate for congress, will speak this evening at the district court room, the first address to begin at 8 o'clock.

Representatives of Small were in Midland Wednesday, arranging for the address of the Wellington man. Murphy arrived this morning.

It is expected that the two addresses will be given in record time, inasmuch as a slight complexity arose in booking Midland for the same night as a point on the two speaking itineraries.

Murphy will probably speak after the conclusion of Small's address. He announced his speaking date prior to Small's announcing, but failed to specify his place of address. In the meantime Small, not having read of Murphy's appearance here, made his announcement.

Small is associated state-wide with his famous land bill, and is expected by his supporters to carry West Texas.

Murphy is an ex-soldier, serving as a lieutenant.

Country Club Gets Tournament Invites

Midland country club golfers have received numerous invitations for its best golfers to enter various club tournaments in West Texas. Bert Boss, secretary, said.

Elverest of Fort Worth, Amarillo and Mineral Wells are among those who have written recently. An invitation is expected from the Alpine country club tournament that each year is held in the Big Bend country. Midland received such an invitation last year, and invitations are being sent out again this year.

To El Paso, Sierra Blanca, Pecos, Ft. Stockton, Texon, McCamey, Del Rio, Uvalde and Abilene. No one is barred and the invitation is general.

This tournament will be held June 7-8. It will be a 54-hole medal meet and cups will be awarded. It will be the fifth annual tournament to be held in Alpine. B. C. Graves Sul Ross coach took the honors last year.

The Amarillo event will be one of the most ambitious ever staged in West Texas, Ross said. An automobile, radio, golf bags and clubs, and more than a hundred other prizes will be awarded.

Midland has taken part in only one tournament this season. Ellis Cowden representing the club at the West Texas Golf association's Brownwood tournament.

Church Celebrates Pentecostal Origin

The nineteenth hundredth anniversary of Pentecost will be celebrated Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church by a sermon that culminates a series started Easter Sunday by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas D. Murphy.

This service is one of numerous ones to be held at the same time by Protestant churches throughout the country, in a movement never before made so general. Observance is purely optional with the church.

Mr. Murphy will speak on "Perpetuating Pentecost," his theme to be taken from Acts 11:4. It concludes a general series, "Easter to Pentecost."

Curtiss Trophy for Marine

He was the only Marine in the race, but Capt. A. H. Page had the situation well in hand and 23 flying gobs couldn't beat him when he piloted his swift combat seaplane to victory in the Curtiss Marine Trophy speed event over Washington. He is pictured above, at left, as he received the coveted trophy from Glenn Curtiss, its donor. Captain Page averaged 164.08 miles an hour for a hundred miles over the diamond-shaped air course.

METHODIST BISHOP BOLDLY INFORMS INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE HE HAS DECIDED TO WITHDRAW AS WITNESS

WASHINGTON, June 5. (UP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr. of the Methodist Episcopal church South today withdrew as a voluntary witness before the senate lobby committee and told the committee if it wanted to question him further it would have to subpoena him.

No witness in recent years has been so bold.

At the opening of the session, Cannon read a statement charging the committee with attempting to "single out and hold up anti-Smith democrats and myself as part of the efforts of wet and Catholic influences" to prevent the recurrence of such a revolt as occurred in the last campaign.

He said he resented the implication and therefore was withdrawing. The committee adjourned until Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Still defiant of senatorial authority, Bishop James Cannon informed the senate lobby committee today that he would withdraw as a voluntary witness and would answer no more questions unless subpoenaed.

He asked for a hearing on his refusal for two successive days to answer questions about expenditures in the Virginia anti-Smith campaign of 1928. Members were divided on the question of prosecuting him for contempt.

WORTH A DIME EACH

LAMESA.—Since Lamesa's 1930 population was announced at 3,486, the chamber of commerce is conducting a check-up in this city in search of citizens who were not enumerated. Ten cents is being paid per head by the chamber for those who were not counted.

LATE FLASHES

SHERMAN, June 5. (P)—The Sherman Democrat was informed at noon today that civilian posses and officers are searching for a negro who approached a group of children at a farm house near Bells a short time before. A 15-year old girl reported that the children barricaded themselves in a house while the negro tried unsuccessfully to enter.

WASHINGTON, June 5. (P)—Arthur Wood, commissioner of pardons for Michigan, has been selected as one of the three members of the new federal pardon board.

MADRID, June 5. (UP)—The Graf Zeppelin cruised slowly over western coastal Europe today, avoiding storm areas and preparing to land at Seville about 6 p. m. It flew over Cape Roca at 9:30 this morning.

DALLAS, June 5. (UP)—Three suspects in the $11,000 robbery of the Grand Avenue bank Saturday were arrested today at Ft. Worth, and were brought here. One had $1,050. Two had police records.

NAME UP AS GOVERNOR CANDIDATE

Committee Says Has No Authority To Bar Republican

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman for Texas, has been drafted as a democratic candidate for governor, Albert Sidney Johnson, secretary of the state democratic executive committee, announced today.

Application for a place for Creager on the democratic ticket was received today by Johnson from D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, committee chairman. It was mailed to Wilcox before the time for filing ended Monday.

The petition carried 30 signatures, five more than the number required by law. Johnson said he is certain that under the recent supreme court ruling in the Thomas Love case, Creager could qualify. "The committee has no authority to keep him off of the ballot merely because he happens to be a republican and is head of that party in Texas."

Rotarians Hear Home Town Speech

Lucille McMullan, Midland's recent entry in the "My Home Town" contest at Abilene, gave her oration on Midland today at the Rotary club luncheon. She received many compliments on both content of the speech and delivery.

Lew and his Hollywood Loops, orchestra playing here, entertained with several numbers.

Arthur G. Jury was chairman of the program for the day. Prizes were awarded Percy J. Mims and Kenneth E. Ambrose who tied for first place last Thursday in the music memory contest; and to Clyde Barron, winner of low score.

Dr. W. E. Ryan, vice-president of the club, presided in the absence of President Malcolm Meek.

FOR RAIL AND ROAD

LONDON.—A new type of motor coach to be seen on the roads here can run either on railway tracks or on the highways. The coaches will hold 50 passengers, will be driven by gasoline and will have flanged wheels for driving on the tracks. A contrivance will adjust the pneumatic tires to the coach when it wishes to travel the open highway.

Religion Due to Play a Big Part in North Carolina's Primary, but No One Knows Just How—Both Simmons and His Opponent Are Dry and Each Seeks the Church Vote

RALEIGH, N. C.—Religion is an important factor in this year's North Carolina politics and religious elements may be decisive in both the senatorial primaries and the election. The Catholicism of Al Smith and John J. Rascob, which was important in 1928, is not playing such a direct part in the Democratic primary contest between Senator Simmons and Josiah William Bailey. Nevertheless, it is being used to some extent against Bailey under the surface. Simmons is relying on a heavy "church vote" to save his political skin. His people have been pointing out to the preachers of the state that the senator was loyal to the Protestant prohibition cause in 1928 when it required the utmost bravery and that a man shouldn't be defeated for that.

us into the primary. Everybody is somebody in the Republican party. Christian citizenship is our highest, noblest and holiest relationship in this great, glorious, and freest government on earth, which under God we are privileged to live and be a part of. "First Corinthians 3:9: 'For we are laborers together with God.' My claim is that the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ should go into everything, everywhere, all the time. I am absolutely willing to stake my chances in the campaign and everything to follow on my Master's statement in His great Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 6:33), 'Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.' 'I believe in the right kind of organizations for everybody and everything, when they are shot through with righteousness. . . . I have never tasted liquor of any kind, have always voted and preached against it, and am more set in my ways than ever. . . . Try the lawyer-preacher for the next six years, and see what we can do for North Carolina and the nation by working in harmony with our great president, Herbert Hoover. If I am elected you will see a new day dawn upon the Republican party in North Carolina. He Asks For Prayers "May I ask you for a greater contribution than all the money that could be given to anyone? Will you try to truly pray that God's will shall prevail, that He may be glorified in His Son, our Savior? John 14:13. He says, 'And whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.' I believe that eternity alone will be able to reveal the multiplied thousands who shall be blessed in every way." The chorus of the Dorsett campaign song goes: "There will be a landslide, there will be a cloudburst. A tumble and a rush to vote the ticket first, And we'll make the grand break on June the seventh sure, And you cannot bring us down, no matter what you do!" Obviously, the Rev. Mr. Dorsett doesn't believe that God is on the side of the strongest political machines.

She Lost 19 Pounds of Fat in 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote—"My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years." Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses. Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast. Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system. At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by that "Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, cheerful vivacity and charming figure. If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from Mayes-Young drug store or any five druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back. —Adv. Eagle Pass: Sam Schwartz, who is remodeling old Cooper edifice into modern hotel and store building, will add third story on new part of building.

THE OLD-AGE PENSION

During the next decade or so the subject of old-age pensions will come in for a lot more attention in America than it has ever had before. That is putting it mildly, of course, for it has hardly had any attention at all so far; but in a few years it will be arousing a lot of discussion. People are beginning to realize that the community has a certain responsibility in respect to the support of the aged. Nevertheless, an old-age pension of any consequence is bound to be highly expensive. For instance, the Massachusetts legislature is now considering an old-age pension bill which, if passed, would add a considerable load to the state's budget. Yet it calls for payments of only $8 a week to men over 65 and women over 60. If Massachusetts passes this bill it will be doing a liberal thing. Yet $8 is not a very sizeable income, any way you look at it.

FOLLOW UP THE GOODWILL

Midland got in some fine work toward cementing the relations between this city and Hobbs and Wink by running a special train last month, this following an automobile visit of 150 or more Midland citizens to Hobbs, Lovington and other points a month before. This goodwill should not be allowed to deteriorate for want of taking advantage of acquaintances. Midland business men are visiting Hobbs and other cities in that section every day. No better way to keep Midland's relations on a sound basis can be found than for these visitors to call on all of their acquaintances while there, to get in touch with citizens that are moving there daily, and to preach the goodwill that Midland holds for citizens of the oil areas. With offices of the oil companies operating there located in Midland, with the tie-up of Andrews county oil operations between Midland and Hobbs, and with facilities here that rival those of the larger cities; with rail connections by way of Monahans, and more recently with bus and freight lines being organized and a through air line plying the route twice daily, Midland offers an outlet to Hobbs and to oil men operating there that is worth much to both cities. It will behoove Midland business people to keep in constant touch with business leaders of Hobbs, and to keep the friendly relations firmly cemented.

VACANT LOT VALUES

As a boom to the value of strategic vacant lots comes the craze for miniature golf courses which is sweeping the country. Well located lots are being grabbed up in many cities to be leased for these courses and are being turned into income property where before it was a problem how to pay the taxes. The Los Angeles examiner recently estimated that these miniature courses mean an income of at least $180,000 to vacant lot owners in the coast city.

TAKING TO THE AIR

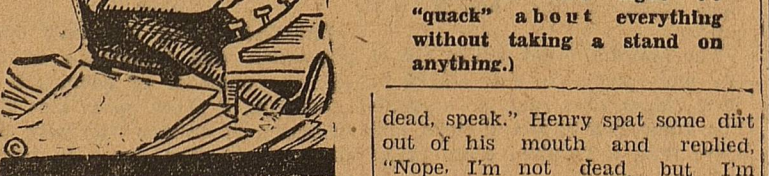

The American public is taking to the air. Last year 90,000 persons made scheduled trips on passenger planes—double the 1928 number, and more will ride this year. The people are becoming air-minded. The airplane has ceased to be a novelty and has taken its place along with railroads, buses and automobiles as a standard mode of transportation. Little more than a year has passed since the modern passenger transport planes came into use. They are models of comfort, speed and dependability. Who can wonder that they are a popular means of travel?

There is an old bachelor cowboy living here who once proposed to a girl and she told him he would have to ask her mother about their getting married. The mother, suspicious about the cowboy's manners, asked him if he drank coffee. He replied that he did if it was hot enough. "How do you cool it?" she asked him. "Pour it out in my saucer," he said. Article Shows How Protection Received

The following special article by Robert J. Bender, general news manager of the United Press, gives a vivid picture of the way in which news stories are covered throughout the world, for members of that organization. The Reporter-Telegram is one of these members.

India, with its 325,000,000 population—nearly three times that of the United States—is in one of the greatest ferment of self-expression ever recorded in history. A large element of this great mass of people is struggling, mystically and passively, to free itself from Great Britain and become independent.

Webb Miller, European news manager of the United Press, has been sent to record for American readers an impartial, American news reporter's viewpoint of the great happenings in India.

Miller flew from London to Karachi in seven days, the first American press association reporter to reach India during the present crisis, and in the ensuing weeks will travel the country far and wide, recording what he sees and hears.

New members were initiated and out-of-door games played by members of the Nail Sackers' Club of the Midland Hardware Company when they motored to Cloverdale park Wednesday evening.

Early in the evening barbecue chicken and other 'fixins' were served to the group.

Members and guests were Mrs. Ivy Lee Mitchell, Miss Bennie Belle Gilchrist, Messrs Geo. D. McCormick, Fred G. Hull, Luther Tidwell, Tom DeCrow, Hubert E. Wester, J. B. Fuller, Forest Hunter, Harry McCarty, Ronald Coleman, Newel Beauchamp, Lawrence Beauchamp, Kelo Adams, Holt Jewell and Claude O. Crane.

Baby Arrives In Home Of Mr. and Mrs. Morelan

Little Miss Johnnie Pearl has arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morelan. The little lady came Tuesday, June 3, and is reported doing nicely.

Miss Bertha Stromman of San Angelo is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harold Moore, for several weeks.

Mrs. Jeff Amburgey and daughter, Mary Alta, of Odessa are shopping in Midland today.

Mrs. J. H. Dean is away from her position at Grison Robertson today because of illness.

Mrs. Ed Erickson left this morning for Ft. Worth where she will spend two weeks with her son. She was accompanied by C. W. Post and his sister Mrs. Emily Cannon and children.

party. Eugene Lyons, of the Moscow bureau, was down in remote Turkistan where, with other American correspondents, he reported the opening of the Soviet's new Turk-sib railway.

In China, where new civil war has broken out, Miles W. Vaughn, Far Eastern manager of the United Press, and D. C. Bess, of the Peiping bureau, were at the scene of action. Bound down the Haiho River from Tientsin, they were blocked by the fighting on the river and could proceed no farther.

Other recent reportorial feats of United Press men in foreign countries included the trip of Ed L. Keen, vice-president for Europe, to Moscow for a survey of the Russian situation; the flight of Harry Frantz, of the Washington bureau, into Santo Domingo for the revolution there, and the long swing through the Balkans of Frederick Kuh, of the Berlin bureau, during which he wrote articles on the situation in Southeastern Europe. Interviewed Leon Trotsky on Prin-kipo Island, Thomas B. Morgan, manager of the Rome bureau, has just returned from a visit to the Island of Lipari, the remote Italian colony for political exiles off Sicily. Morgan was the first American newspaperman to visit the island, and went there with the permission of the Italian government to investigate conditions among the exiles.

Porter Rankin, who has been in Dallas and Ft. Worth several weeks on business, is in Midland visiting his family.

IS SEX NECESSARY?

By Thurber White.

(Reviewed by Eileen Bayer)

As a rule, I admit I am prejudiced against burlesques, satires, "take-offs" and such what nots. In fact, I am an avowed foe of a law against such things as "Ex-Husbands" and "Ex-Mistress" following "Ex-Wife." (Only ex-husbands and ex-mistresses really don't follow ex-wives, do they?) It nearly makes one become an Ex-Reader, in self defense. There seems to be something wrong with the process of taking what purports to be a serious thing (to the one who wrote it anyway) and making it a matter of ridicule.

"Ex-Wife," whatever else you may think of it is a story of a wrecked marriage, a pitiful, frustrated, mistaken failure, and it seems rather cheap to parody the story, even though the parodies are undisputably clever. In fact, it is the cleverness, the glib flippancy, that I especially resent.

But this book "Is Sex Necessary?" by Thurber White, is irresistible. It is a parody, too, but so delightful, and so very apt, that you can't resent it, even if you intend to. You probably will not approve of it at all, but you'll have a swell time reading it. (Even better, if you read it aloud). And surely Mr. Bertrand Russell, and Mrs. Bertrand Russell, and Mr. Havelock Ellis, and Mr. Dorsey, and Watson and Wiggam and all the rest of them would enjoy it too, even if it does base its success at the expense of their pet theories.

Here is an example, taken from the chapter on Answers to Hard Questions, one of the Inquiries from Readers.

(Selected from the files of Dr. Karl Zener.) "Q. I have an aquarium and I got a snail for it because they told me it would keep the water clean, and the snail unexpectedly bore young, although it was in there all alone. I mean there weren't any other snails in there, only fish. How could it have young, very well?"

"A. We cannot tell you everything we know about gaspods, because we know, possibly more than is good for us. In the absence of specific information to the contrary, we would say that the snail in your aquarium had been going around a good deal with other snails before you got him. (her). Some molluscs (not many) can have children merely by sitting around and thinking about it. Others are hermaphroditic. Still others, like us, are dioecious, possessed of but one sexual nature but thankful for small favours."

The illustrations alone are worth the price of the book, and so are the footnotes. And don't forget the Case Histories, the Glossary, the preface and in short, the entire book. If you don't read it all you'll be missing plenty.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carlock and daughter Harriet Donna and Sally Jo of Lubbock are visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Pemberton this week.

THE BEST SHOT SO FAR

Head-on Into Brick Wall at 37 Miles Per Hr! Amazing Test of New GENERAL Dual-Balloon

The Blow-Out Proof Tire

At the wheel was Captain Dick Grace, famous Hollywood daredevil and motion picture thrill king, whose spectacular feats have included the cracking up of 34 airplanes for such productions as Wings, Lilac Time, Hell's Angels, Young Eagles and other thrilling air dramas.

Because of his many daring exploits, Captain Grace was selected as the one man capable of giving the Blow-Out Proof Dual Balloon a test such as no other tire has ever been asked to stand . . . crashing an 8-cylinder touring car under full power at 37 miles per hour into a solid wall of bricks and concrete.

The pictures show what happened!

The Blow-Out Proof Test that Astounded Safety Experts

He Comes Up Smiling

Failing to sail clear over the wall as he had expected, Captain Grace was shot forward, doubling over like a jackknife, bending the cowl out of shape, and was then hurled into the air and to the ground. But fortunately he was only dazed. In a few moments he was on his feet ready to study the effect of the crash.

"As I neared the wall and realized the speed at which we were going to strike, I did not believe an automobile tire could be made capable of standing that blow. In engineering terms there were 170,000 foot-pounds of energy behind the impact," Captain Grace declared after the test.

AN 8-cylinder touring car drives head-on down the field into a solid wall of bricks and mortar. A shattering crash as its 3,500 pounds of speeding steel smashes against the barricade! The entire 10-ton wall, foundation and all, is lifted and tipped forward more than a foot, so terrific is the force of the impact!

Yet the General Dual-Balloon Tires, forced to take the first tremendous shock, are not blown out.

Note how the tires are pancaked against the wall by the irresistible weight and momentum of the car . . . at the moment of greatest impact they were mashed absolutely flat between the wheels and the wall.

The force of the blow left the steel rims bent and flattened out of shape, but the Dual-Balloon Tires, with their built-in rubber shock absorbers, had withstood that battering punishment without a sign of bruise or break.

Examination immediately after the crash revealed absolutely no injury inside or out. Tested against tons of tempered steel and solid masonry, the Blow-Out Proof Tires alone had stood the shock without damaging effect.

This was a test without parallel in all the history of pneumatic tires . . . a demonstration of tire safety and endurance that astounded Akron's safety experts, rubber engineers and all who witnessed it.

Safe against the sudden impact of road holes and bumps that shatter the carcasses of ordinary tires at today's highway speed . . . you can trust your life to the Blow-Out Proof Dual-Balloon. Nothing before has even approached its amazing performance . . . its all-road, all-weather, all-speed safety . . . its easy riding comfort . . . its lower final mileage cost.

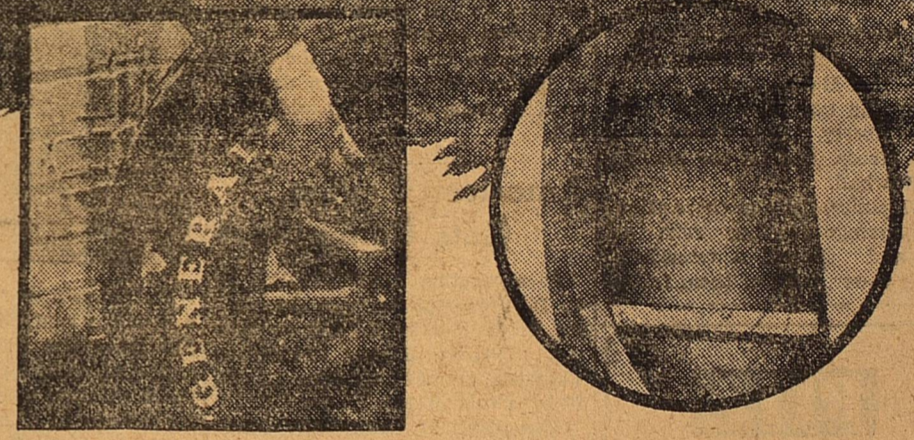

When you know that over 400,000 people are hurt annually in accidents due to tire blowouts, punctures and skidding . . .

IT'S TIME TO ACT!

Blowouts didn't mean much in the day of slow speeds and small tires, but with balloon tires it's different.

Your slowest speed on the highway today is 44 feet a second. At 60 miles per hour it's 88 feet a second . . . and roads are now traffic crowded and the ditch too close . . . less than 1/40th of a second from flat tire to tragedy!

If it cost more to be safe you might be excused for taking chances. But it actually costs less to run with the Blow-Out Proof tire. Its mileage is cheaper, it saves gas, your car stays quiet and new thousands of miles longer, and safety is yours without charge.

Note how the rims were bent flat, inside and outside, on both front wheels by the impact. Yet neither the tires nor tubes were cut. They had not lost a pound of air.

This Week
A Special Opportunity

Another week of demonstration—and we have an extra allowance plan at special terms that are sure to interest you. Let us tell you the cash trade-in value of your present tires. We can use them in any condition—and you'll be money ahead to make the change now.

These are EXCLUSIVE FEATURES . . . .

- 1. BLOW-OUT PROOF. Blow-Out Proof means the final guarantee of safety all the way! Lasting protection throughout the whole lifetime of big mileage—more important than any guarantee because it's the prevention of trouble and not the adjustment of mileage that counts.
- 2. EASIER RIDING. The lowest pressure ever known in a tire. Also built-in rubber shock absorbers. Extra "give" inside and throughout the tire. Eliminates the rebound of ruts and bumps. Double-balloon comfort.
- 3. EXTRA STRENGTH. More pure rubber and extra layers of cord guarantee tensile strength beyond any other tire. Not an ounce of reclaimed rubber in either tread or carcass.
- 4. LONGER LIFE. Extra layers of soft cushion rubber between the cord plies (actually lubricating strips that function like a film of oil and on a bearing) prevent overheating from internal friction, eliminating inside wear. This thicker cushioning throughout the tire lessens the force of damaging blows, absorbing the heavy impacts on rough roads that commonly cause carcass breaks and blowouts in stiffer tires.
- 5. SKID-SAFE. Extra "give" inside and outside, lets the whole tire hug the highway. Skid-safe, double traction, extra softness under the surface, that lasts as long as the tire itself. By actual test, a better non-skid even after wearing smooth, than stiffer tires with brand new tread.

"Big Train" Is Doing Great Pitching

By JOHN T. O'ROURKE,
Written for NEA Service.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The so-called front office of the Washington Baseball Club has a strange affinity with the chief characteristic of the 1930 team.

President Clark Griffith is an ex-pitcher. So is Manager Walter Johnson. So are the coaches, Al Schacht and Nick Altrock, the funny men of baseball.

And the ball club, in spite of its surprising showing at bat to date, is a ball club of pitchers. Even Sam Rice and Goose Goslin will tell you they are former pitchers—not that that makes any difference, however.

The remarkable performance of the Senators' hurling staff has surprised everyone but Walter Johnson, who never seems surprised at anything anyway.

"I think we have a great defensive club," announced the Big Train officially through a microphone at the end of the spring training season. "If my young pitchers come through, we'll have a lot to say as to who will get that pennant this year."

That was all from talkative Walter.

It looks as if his young men have come through. And much of the credit for their development goes to the coaching of Manager Johnson.

"I think there is a place in the game for the great defensive club as well as the great offensive club, in spite of all this lively ball business," says the Big Train.

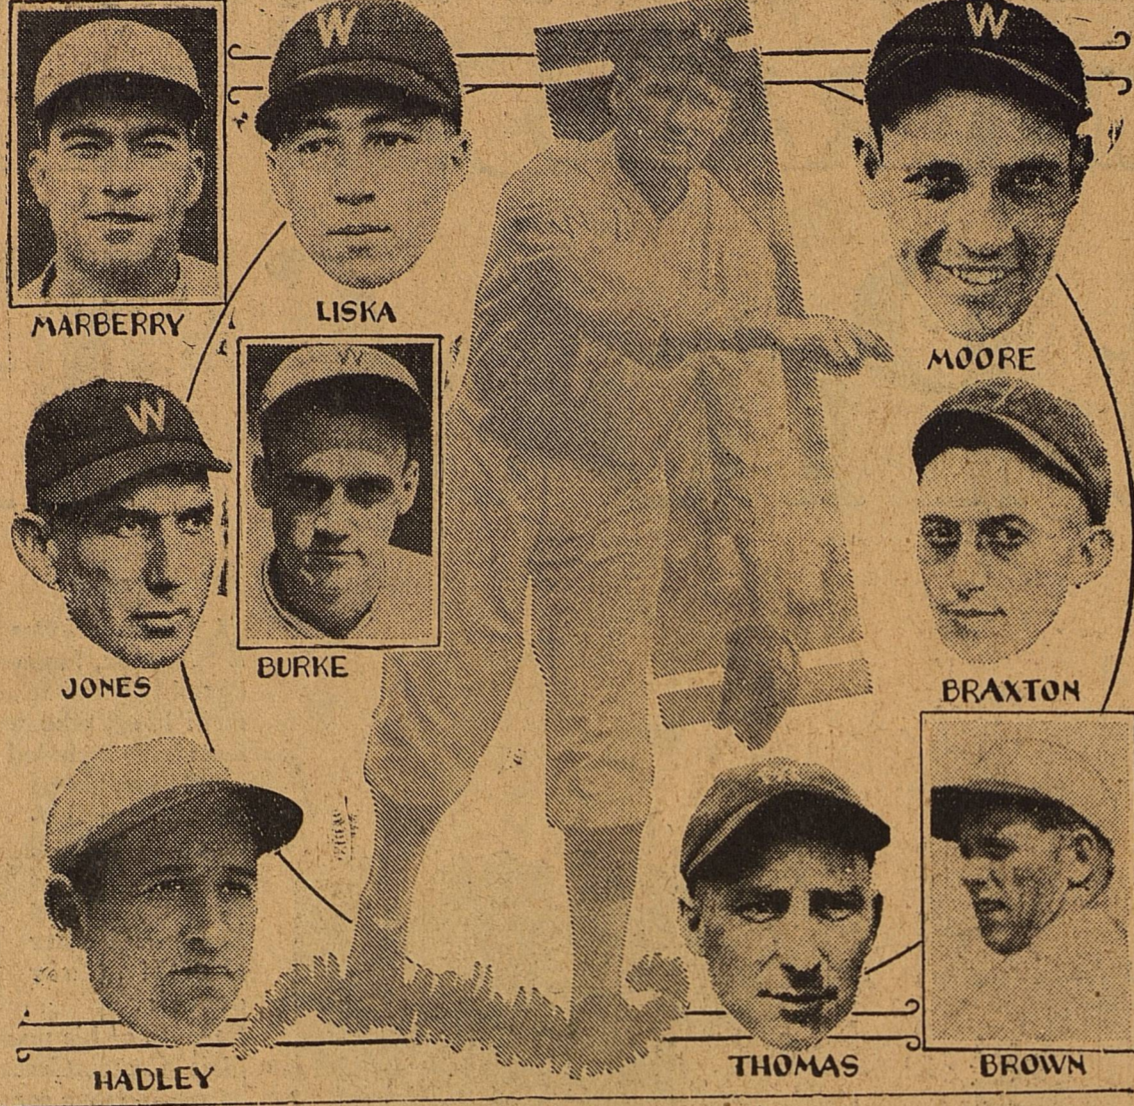

"I think I have the best pitching staff and the best fielding club in the league."

"If my team can make a few runs, my pitching boys will hold down the opposition. The records already show they can do it."

As a matter of fact, this pitching efficiency is one of the very reasons why the club has improved at the plate. Every day of practice finds Walter Johnson in uniform perspiring away on the mound, and flinging what is left of his historic "smoke ball" at the batters. And the boys say that on some days there is a considerable amount of it left.

The regular slab staff at present consists of Garland Braxton, Lloyd Brown, Bob Burke, Irving (Bump) Hadley, Sad Sam Jones, Ad Liska, Fred Marberry, Myles Thomas and Carlos Moore. And all are pitching over 500 ball.

In 37 games, these pitchers allowed an average of four runs per game and showed a remarkable staying power, most of them finishing the games they started, which is unusual in these days of basketball scores. Pitchers have gone the route for Washington 13 times.

No Precipitation Reported from Here

Another week has passed and with it no information turned in from Midland on temperature and precipitation to the U. S. weather bureau, according to a card mailed The Reporter-Telegram from Charles F. Marvin, chief.

This is felt by stockmen and farmers, as well as business men, to be hurtful to interests of the city and county, inasmuch as the influx of farmers and ranchmen depends upon climatic conditions and rainfall.

American Legion Gets Committees

At a meeting Monday called by C. B. Ligon, plans were discussed for the production of the amateur play, "Corporal Eagan," to be given Thursday and Friday, June 19 and 20 by a cast of 150.

The play, an American legion production, is being rehearsed at the Grand theatre.

Committee Wednesday met with Miss Dorothy Deck, director of the Universal company, and heard outlined plans for handling the production.

Following is the list of committees and those serving on them:

Casting—Mrs. Aubrey S. Legg, Mrs. Harvey Sloan.

Children's pageant—Mrs. W. A. Yeager, Miss Leona McCormick.

White ticket distribution—C. B. Ligon.

Home made posters and window displays—Mrs. James Finlayson, Mrs. D. B. Brown, Mrs. C. B. Ligon.

Stage manager and properties—Cordelia Taylor, Lee Jones.

Advertising, handbills to surrounding towns—T. Paul Barron.

I SEEN TODAY

By ARKANSAS RUPLE

Pat Curtain of the Prairie talked a little too loud when he visited our city room the other morning. He remarked that he was poor, had three children who would be ready for college in a few years, and a few such kindred or disjointed remarks. "I call my kids the 'Three Musketeers,'" he said. Suddenly he stamped his foot against the concrete. "By golly," he exclaimed, "I just have two. Like to forget!"

"I call these two 'Amos 'n Andy,'" he said. Asked what he would call a dozen such youngsters in case he were suddenly to come to such realization, he sighed and put his hands over his ears. "The Thundering Herd!" he said.

One of the staff writers who likes to write about aviation had occasion to compliment the editor on the story relating arrival and departure of 17 army P-1's at Sloan field yesterday. "That air story you wrote was hot," he said, carrying copy past the sanctum of ye editor, who, not so much as lifting an eyebrow, mumbled: "Hot Air!"

C. W. Post almost made a hole in one at country club the other day. As he was driving off No. 1 tee, his ball hooked over to the putting ground and came to a stop on the lip of the number one hole there. His short game was bad, however, for when he tried, in exasperation, to hole out on the putting green, his shot rebounded. The club house is an excellent sound box for vocal amplification, as two women and a man over on number one green can attest.

The only thing about Sheriff Audley Francis to suggest an officer is his quiet watchfulness and an occasional bas relief of a gun when the wind blows his clothing closely about his body. He does smoke a Hawkshaw-like cigar continually, though.

Mrs. Nettie C. Romer is a real friend to the newspaperman. I went over there the other day to deliver some stationery and happened to ask her a leading question about transfer of real estate. She climbed upon a ladder and dragged out a heavy book that was all but barricaded with stays and hooks and that sort of thing. She is never too busy to help one in quest of legitimate information. I didn't tell her that I have sold the royalty rights to this column and am figuring on building myself a modern little cottage of two rooms.

A popular cigarette manufacturer will ask Allen Tolbert for a testimonial. Allen failed to be elected to an important Lions club office yesterday just because he had a rasping voice at the moment. Now Allen ordinarily smokes the right brand and, judging from his neighbors' pointed remarks, sings in the tub each morning. But, alas and alack! he changed his brand the day before the election and lost the office. But he will collect a tidy sum for his testimonial.

The advertisement would picture a flea-bitten lion, misery reflected in his face and straight lines leading from a knotted tail connoting pain. Bravely holding the end of the ferocious beast's tail would be W. Edward Lee, tail-twister, his stream-lined and lean body swathed abbreviatedly in a leopard's skin.

Tolbert would be cringing steps in the rear, his neck of monkey teeth chattering in fear. "Ho, enslaved one to fear!" Lee would be saying. "How cometh it that you chatter in terror at such a craven?" And in rasping accents, Tolbert answers him: "Not until 'on sun was two days younger did I find myself lacking in the cardinal strength of man, but in a moment of bad portent did I grab up a brand of nicotine incense that grappled with my manly voice and left me an orgie even to myself. In this brief span that has seemed like centuries, my whole body has atrophied from fear of myself."

Maxine Tom, Mary Lou Thrower and Helen Margaret Ulmer, each in her own car, meet in front of the school house. Is it possible they have not had enough of the reading, writing and arithmetic yet? Though I rate a salute, neither seems to see me.

Ben F. Whitefield is a monarch in his own realm, behind the counters at his store. A. P. Baker explains that his initials mean "Atlantic and Pacific," that his merchandise is obtained from every place touched by those two ponds. Aubrey S. Legg has a way of reminding himself of business even when he has on his smoking jacket at home. He has moved his paper weight, a miniature electric transformer, to his home and has it resting on his feet while he reads, so that he can keep awake while reading the dry philosophical tomes done by Elinor Glyn.

Mrs. Jim Flanagan, who knows her dresses, is said to sketch models in her rooms at night; Mrs. C. C. Watson does a bit of draftsmanship that would surprise you (and just for a hobby). Miss Thelma White improves her golf form out at her ranch; Mrs. C. A. Goldsmith likes to experiment in her kitchen; Mrs. Eileen Bayer does literary criticisms; Mrs. George Abell reads dramatic articles that may aid in next season's little theatre; Mrs. Leslie A. Boone learns the latest filing methods, in order to aid her husband catalog his mounting collection of stamps and postal covers, and Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy studies the history of the WTCU.

The Rev. Thomas D. Murphy almost came into exchange of hostilities with Mrs. Murphy the other day. It seems from popular report, the minister had a distilling unit working in his den. When Mrs. Murphy found it she thought demon rum had fixed its claws in the pastor. But it developed that the fractional distillation in progress was nothing more than another experiment with a fluid concocted for growing hair on a bald head.
