By RELMAN NORMAN
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 19 (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson said today President Truman deserves "the main credit for the vision and courage of our foreign policy."

The Democratic presidential candidate, campaigning through New England, also peppered his Republican political foes with a new storm of barbed witticisms. He told more than 6,000 people massed in front of the city hall in Springfield that the GOP had no affirmative campaign issues and said:

"To my considerable surprise they are now saying the central issue of our time is humor."

The governor has been accused of making the campaign, as Gen. Dwight Eisenhower called it, "a laughing matter."

Rain began to come down in heavy pelting drops in the first minute after the governor began speaking.

"I think the Republicans must have interfered with our meeting," he said and he suggested the session be moved inside the city auditorium.

People yelled: "Keep going. Don't mind a little rain."

Record Daily Oil Allowable Due For Texas

By MAC ROY RASOR
AUSTIN, Sept. 19 (AP)—A record-smashing oil allowable of 3,268,813 barrels daily in October was ordered today by the Texas Railroad Commission.

This was up 4,344 barrels daily over the current peak allowable.

The record increase in permissive production was brought about by allowing general statewide production on 23 days of the 31-day month, and giving East Texas 13 producing days.

Currently, there are 22 days general statewide producing days for the 30-day month, with the big East Texas field on 19 days.

Major purchasers of Texas crude voiced an October need ranging from 20 to 23 days at today's statewide proration hearing preceding the commission action.

Sinclair, Sun and Gulf Oil Companies all asked the highest figure. Magnolia, Stanolind and Humble wanted 22, but Humble added that it could use 23.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson told the hearing the commission did not want to be accused of creating a shortage with winter need for heating oils coming up. He also noted decreases in above ground stocks in recent weeks.

The big East Texas pool was cut back to 18 days after the weighted average bottomhole pressure dropped 2.84 pounds per square inch from Aug. 1 to Sept. 1. The September reading was 1,015.83 pounds.

H. P. Nichols, Tyler, told the commission the East Texas situation was not alarming but could become serious. He asked the cut to 18 days which he said represented a daily reduction of about 13,000 barrels.

Drought Continuing Over Wide Areas Of The State

By The Associated Press
Texas' long drought hung on for most of the state Friday even as the storied hill country of Southwest Texas shook off its second siege of floods in little more than a week.

Thunderstorms that rained widespread Texas communities like roaming commandos did little more than cool the local atmosphere. They were—for the most part—not enough to even dent the two-year-old drought.

But they swept eastern, central, and southwestern portions of the state with quick, stinging rainfall. The flood waters closed U. S. Highway 281 north of Johnson City Wednesday night and also stopped traffic on State Highway 16 between Fredericksburg and Llano.

U. S. 281 was washed out in last week's rains but a detour set up by the Highway Department had traffic moving. Then came Wednesday night's rains to knock out the detour.

The squall line unleashed high winds at Llano and at Snyder, Hamlin and in the Eastland vicinity.

UN Fire Bombs Hit Reds In East Korea

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR
SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 19 (AP)—B-29 Superforts today seared Communist targets on Korea's east coast with 300 tons of fire bombs in their first daylight raid in nearly a year.

Thirty-three B-29s from Japan and Okinawa made the blazing attack on Red installations near the port of Hungnam.

Along the battlefield, U. N. soldiers fought grimly to break a new Chinese foothold on Old Baldy Hill in one of four bloody flareups.

Brig. Gen. Wiley D. Ganey, boss of all B-29s in the Far East, personally led the late afternoon strike against Red barracks and stockpiles along the Korean main coastal railway. The planes used electronic aiming equipment to drop clusters of fused incendiary bombs through the clouds.

Fast Sabre jet interceptors flew cover for the giant bombers.

U. N. fighter-bombers hammered at the Reds in support of ground troops in furious Western Front battles.

The U. S. Eighth Army said a battalion of screaming Reds—about 800 men—stormed the crest of Old Baldy last night, signaling a long-expected Communist attempt to recapture the Western Front hill.

"Nobody can claim all of Baldy," a frontline U. N. officer said after Allied and Chinese troops grappled through the night and morning. The crest, he said, was a "scene of confusion."

U. N. tanks hugging the south slope raked the crest with shells as Allied soldiers inched up the east and west slopes against withering fire from Red big guns. The remnants of the attacking battalion clung to the north face. Allied planes lashed at the surrounding areas to keep back Red reinforcements.

The hill west of Chonwon changed hands four times in July and was captured Aug. 1 by the U. S. Second Division.

To the west, northwest of Yochon, two Chinese companies "slashed from all sides" and overran an Allied outpost hill, the Eleventh Army said.

U. N. soldiers called in air-bursting artillery over their own positions.

Polio Adds 151 Victims

By The Associated Press
Polio—still on the downward trend in Texas—spread northward within the state last week as the disease marched toward a record year over the nation.

Already, more than 3,400 Texans—a record number—have been stricken with the mysterious malady this year. Last week it struck down 151 new victims.

Across the nation, the toll is expected to reach 50,000 for the year, a new record.

Though the incidence is still high, it does not approach the midsummer peak of 284 cases in a seven-day period and compares favorably with the 195 cases of two weeks ago.

The State Health Department said Thursday that Potter County registered the highest peak of any county last week with 18 cases. That left hard-hit Harris County in second place with 15 new cases.

Charges Slack Sent To Dismiss Tax Indictments

By HARRY P. SNYDER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Lamar Caudle testified today that Ellis N. Slack, a central figure in controversy over a St. Louis grand jury's investigation of tax scandals, was once sent to Nashville to get some tax indictments dismissed.

Slack made a trip to Milwaukee on a big tax case in which ex-Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois was the defense attorney. Lucas had taken up with then Attorney General J. Howard McGrath the question of getting a dismissal of an indictment against a client, Caudle said.

Caudle, fired by President Truman last November as an assistant attorney general, was in the witness chair for the second day before a House judiciary subcommittee investigating the Justice Department.

Among other things, the House group has been digging into the question of whether there was an effort by the Justice Department to block tax indictments last year by a St. Louis Grand Jury. It has developed that U. S. District Judge George Moore believed Slack was instrumental in getting the grand jury to make a partial report which one juror called a "whitewash."

Moore insisted on further investigation and a number of indictments eventually were returned.

Caudle told about Slack's visits to Nashville and Milwaukee after first saying there had been "too many runaway grand juries"—meaning juries which went further with indictments than the Justice Department considered proper.

The 48-year-old North Carolinian, who was summarily fired by President Truman last November for "outside activities," had a return engagement before a House judiciary subcommittee that has been investigating the Justice Department.

Highlights of Caudle's almost six-month tenure as assistant attorney general were reported yesterday by Dana C. Smith, wealthy Pasadena, Calif., tax attorney. Smith said he helped raise the fund because the $2,500 allowed Nixon for expenses by the government was "nothing approaching enough for a senator representing a state as large as California."

Nixon, as senator, receives a $12,500 annual salary, a $2,500 expense account, and more than $30,000 a year to run his office and pay staff salaries and expenses.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell charged in Washington that Nixon was "morally wrong" and demanded that he resign as GOP running mate to Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Nixon was pressed by reporters for a detailed explanation of expenditures and names of contributors just before he retired in Sacramento early today. He issued this statement—similar to his earlier one—and declined to elaborate:

"This is another typical smear by the same left wing elements which have fought me ever since I took part in the investigation which led to the conviction of Alger Hiss. They have tried to manufacture and create an air of suspicion over a matter which is completely open and above board in every respect."

At least 1 1/2 million workers are likely to get pay increases on the basis of the new index. Living costs had risen sufficiently in June and July to assure this unless they took a surprise dip in August.

The index prepared by the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics topped all previous marks in mid-June at 189.6, with the 1935-39 period used as a base. Another record was chalked up in mid-July at 190.8.

Many labor union contracts are "tied" to the government index and provide that pay rates rise and fall with living cost changes. Several million workers are thus affected, but the quarterly reworking for a different group of them comes every month.

Living costs this summer have been about 3 per cent above last year and 12 per cent higher than before the Korean War started in June, 1950.

ONE OF SIX ACCIDENTS Freak Mishap Finds Steel Pole In Auto

A freakish traffic mishap, which resulted in a steel pole being rammed through a passenger car, was one of six accidents occurring in the city late Thursday and early Friday.

None of the wrecks resulted in personal injuries, city police said. A steel coupling pole on a semi-trailer truck was driven through a parked automobile at Third and Gregg about 8 a.m. today. Front end of the pole apparently worked loose from its coupling with the truck. It pierced body of a Plymouth automobile just under the left rear fender, tearing out both front and rear seats.

Owner of the automobile is J. B. Murphy, Big Spring, police said. The truck, property of Canyon Trucking Company, was operated by Dave F. Thomas Jr. of Midland, according to officers.

Another mishap occurred at Third and Gregg just two minutes before the truck-car incident. Police said pickups operated by Ernest O. Montgomery of Wilson and Theodore G. Osborn of Big Spring were in collision.

About 10 a.m. today, cars driven by Gilbert White of Big Spring and Hugh Morrow of Westbrook were in collision at Fifth and Main.

Sylvester McKnight and Billie Joe Watkins, both of Big Spring, were operators of vehicles involved in a mishap at Second and Gregg late Thursday afternoon. Colliding at Third and Lancaster Thursday evening were vehicles driven by W. M. Blain, Webb AFB, and M. L. Nance, Abilene, according to investigating officers.

OVER EXPENSE ACCOUNT Demo 'Smear' Is Charged By Nixon

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The Republican vice presidential candidate, Sen. Richard Nixon, today replied "a typical left wing smear" to a Democratic charge that he was "morally wrong" in accepting $16,100 for expenses from wealthy supporters.

"If they think by such tactics they can slow up my attack against communism and corruption they will find out differently. I intend to continue to expose the elements which have been selling this country down the river until the crooks and the Communists and those who defend them are driven out of Washington," he said in a statement as he continued his western campaign trip.

Existence of the fund was reported yesterday by Dana C. Smith, wealthy Pasadena, Calif., tax attorney. Smith said he helped raise the fund because the $2,500 allowed Nixon for expenses by the government was "nothing approaching enough for a senator representing a state as large as California."

Engineers Inspect City Sewage Plant

Clyde C. Hays, originator of the "Hays Process" of sewage disposal, and S. C. Cooper, whose engineering firm designed Big Spring's new sewage treatment plant, were in Big Spring today for an inspection of the facility.

The new plant was put in operation recently and utilizes the Hays or contact aeration process for sewage treatment. It was planned by the engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper of Lubbock, of which S. C. Cooper, formerly Big Spring city engineer, is an associate.

Hays and Cooper planned to make motion pictures of the various steps in sewage disposal at the local plant.

The Hays Process involves use of aerobic bacteria which consume solids and impurities in raw sewage. The bacteria grow on closely spaced vertical plates through which sewage is pumped.

A constant blow of air from the bottom of basins provides the bacteria with necessary oxygen, enabling them to thrive in the tanks of sewage.

Effluent from the Hays disposal plants is more nearly "purified" than from certain other systems, making it adaptable for industrial use. Couden Petroleum Corporation uses large quantities of effluent from the local plant.

Hays started development of the contact aeration process about 1923 while associated with the city engineering department of Waco. He perfected the system in 1932 and the process has since been employed in some 200 disposal plants in all sections of the nation.

Parkhill, Smith and Cooper have designed four Hays Process plants, the one at Big Spring being their largest.

General Believes Mate 'Honest Man'

By JACK BELL
ABOARD THE EISENHOWER SPECIAL, Sept. 19 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower defended Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California today as an "honest man" in the political furor over the disclosure concerning Nixon's non-official California expense account.

James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, called newsmen aboard the campaign special train together as the train approached Nebraska City to read them this statement:

"I have long admired and applauded Sen. Nixon's American faith, and his determination to drive Communist sympathizers from offices of public trust.

"There has recently been leveled against him a charge of unethical practices. I believe Dick Nixon to be an honest man. I am confident that he will place all the facts before the American people fairly and squarely.

"I intend to talk with him at the earliest time we can reach each other by telephone."

Previously, in a stop at Plattsmouth, Neb., the stern-faced general had ignored the train-side crowd of about 500 persons.

The Nixon disclosures last night had cast a pall over the campaign train as it rolled south through Nebraska. There was no doubt many of the general's associates regarded the matter as a serious political setback.

There was some talk—not shared publicly by the Republican presidential nominee's top advisers—that Nixon should be asked to take himself off the ticket. Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said Nixon should quit the race.

In California where he is campaigning, Nixon denounced as a "political smear" Mitchell's statement that it was "morally wrong" for the GOP senator to draw on a $16,000 to $17,000 expense fund set up by business men in his state.

Dana C. Smith, Pasadena attorney who acted as trustee, said the fund was raised because the $2,500 expense money allowed senators was not enough for one from a state as large and populous as California. He said no donor had ever asked Nixon for "special favors."

Nixon said in a statement the money was used for hiring extra clerical help, travel expense, printing of speeches and documents and for postage.

It was evident that the Nixon disclosures were embarrassing to Eisenhower, who has been pounding away on his Midwestern tour against what he charges is corruption in government and promoting "freedom integrity" to officialsdom in elections.

He was expected to continue those charges in four Nebraska and one Missouri appearances before a major speech on the subject in Kansas City, Mo., tonight.

Through his press secretary, James Hagerty, Eisenhower declined any comment on the Nixon matter.

However, one of his advisers who asked not to be quoted by name, told reporters he regarded the political implications as "minor."

If this news was disappointing, however, the announcement of Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina that he will vote for Eisenhower was heartening.

Byrnes said in a statement in Columbia, S. C., that he believes Eisenhower is the man best qualified to "clean up the mess in Washington" and to keep the country "out of another world war."

Byrnes criticized the position of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois on civil rights and other issues. Eisenhower had no comment on Byrnes' stand, but it was hailed with glee in San Francisco by Republican Govs. Earl Warren of California and Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland.

Living Costs Reach High In August

WASHINGTON (AP)—New government figures due today may report that living costs reached a record high in mid-August for a third straight month.

Retail food costs advanced slightly between mid-July and mid-August and this seemed sure to edge the living cost barometer a bit higher to a new peak.

Community Chest Group Planning Special Events

An extensive program to acquaint Howard Counties with objectives of the Community Chest campaign and participating agencies is being mapped by the Chest's Public Relations Committee.

Members of the group, led by Gil Jones, drive vice chairman, are planning a parade and other special events, window displays, and a battery of speakers to discuss the campaign at various meetings.

On the Public Relations Committee are Bill Sheppard and Jimmy Hale, parade and special events chairman; George Weeks and Al Stevenson, window displays; and Al Dillon, speakers bureau chairman.

Priest To Probe Italian Charges Against Airman

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 19 (AP)—Father Angelo Elors of San Antonio will conduct an investigation in Rome, Italy, concerning criminal charges filed by Italy against an alleged Sicilian bandit.

The accused man is Pasquale Sciorino, 23, jailed airman from Lackland Air Force Base. He won a 30-day stay on a final deportation hearing after a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

Sciorino told a story of being forced to marry a Sicilian bandit chieftain's sister, beatings and torture at the hands of Communist police in Italy, and his escape to the United States.

In the same hearing, the Italian charged local immigration officers held him incommunicado and denied him sacraments of the Catholic Church after he smuggled a newspaper interview out of the Texas County jail.

Wanted in Italy for a variety of crimes he says are trumped up charges, he is being held here for illegally entering the United States. His charges against the immigration officers yesterday brought a denial from another Catholic priest.

The Rev. Peter Cabeller said Sciorino was asked to postpone his confession because of a mix-up in his marriages. The priest added that he has visited Sciorino in the jail each Friday.

Sciorino told Fr. Elors yesterday that he fled Italy because he ran into trouble while taking part in a movement to gain independence for Sicily from Italy.

After visiting the Italian in jail here and recalling meeting him in Los Angeles, Calif., Fr. Elors decided to conduct the probe while in Italy. He said he would contact the Vatican and Cardinal Ruffino of Palermo who, as Sciorino says, knows of his activities in Sicily.

"I'm very much impressed with the young man," the priest said.

Mitchell County's Farmers Seeking 800 Tons Of Disaster Hay

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 19—Mitchell County farmers and ranchers have turned in 194 applications for more than 800 tons of disaster hay. More orders are coming in all the time, says Will Jones, FMA head in Mitchell County.

Three grades are offered, says Jones, with all applications so far for legume, and mixed legume hay. Grass is available, but none has been ordered.

Jones says that he has been notified that two cars of Iowa Hay are enroute and expected to arrive at any time.

$300 CONVERTS OLD PLANE

Missiles May Help Low-Level Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy today sees in its "pilotless suicide planes" a possible $300 answer to low-level bombing, a special problem that has been costly in lives in Korea.

That $300 is the approximate cost given by a Navy representative for converting a $60,000 obsolete plane—of which the Navy has thousands in mothballs—into a needed weapon in the mountainous terrain of Korea.

This, several Navy representatives said in interview, is the reason for Navy enthusiasm over the latest news in air warfare—Navy robot planes, equipped with television eyes and a 2,900 pound bomb, which dived onto North Korean targets.

But the Navy was cautious about making any claims. Rear Adm. John H. Sides, director of guided missiles, cautioned against talk

Daniel Promises Cooperation For Probe In Starr

AUSTIN, Sept. 19 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Price Daniel today promised his office would "co-operate fully" in investigation of alleged Starr County election frauds.

Two Starr County citizens yesterday asked him to investigate the July 28 Democratic primary in the South Texas county.

Daniel today advised District Attorney Homer Dean of Alice that his office would co-operate as required by the new Texas Election Code.

Daniel assigned Assistant Atty. Gen. Willis Gresham to the case. Gresham said "most of the evidence has already been developed in local election contests and the first action I will take will be to study the record."

An affidavit filed yesterday with Daniel alleged frauds within the county involving races for District judge and district attorney of the 7th Judicial District and for state representatives of the 70th District comprising Starr, Brooks, Jim Wells, Duval, and Jim Hogg counties.

Gresham said Dean had advised him a grand jury would be in session in Starr County beginning Monday.

Dem Leaflets On Candidates, Party On Way To Voters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pamphlets and leaflets, dealing with the Democratic party's record and presidential election candidates are on their way today to voters throughout the country.

The Democratic National Committee said the campaign material, to be distributed by party headquarters in each state, includes:

A pamphlet, in five colors, listing the achievements of Illinois' Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, nominees for president and vice president, respectively.

Five leaflets which attack the Republicans' voting record in Congress, list the work of Democratic administrations and discuss farm, labor and business issues.

Two Return From Church Conference

Dr. Alele F. Carleton, Fifth Methodist pastor, and Dr. O. W. Carter, district superintendent, have returned from Mineral Wells where they took part in tri-conference area council meeting.

Plans were developed for organizing local churches, mission societies, preacher-pensions, evangelism, temperance and town and country work. Means of increasing the inflow of new ministers were talked.

Living Costs Reach New High In August

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—The government reported today that living costs reached another new high in mid-August, the third straight month they have set a new record.

The index prepared by the Bureau of Labor statistics rose to 191.1 per cent of the 1935-39 average. This is 12.3 per cent above the pre-Korean period and three per cent above a year ago.

Slight increases between mid-July and mid-August in the cost of food and most other major consumer items were responsible for the new increase. The prices for apparel decreased slightly. Home furnishings remained unchanged.

The "old series" index, a living cost compilation on which many labor contracts are geared—declined one-tenth of a point during the month to 192.3 of the 1935-39 average.

This minor decline, however, was not sufficient to wipe out living cost gains in June and July. On the basis of the new mid-August "old series" figures, about one and a half million workers will get wage increases.

These include more than 1 1/4 million railroad workers who will get a two-cent hourly pay boost due to the net change in living costs over the past three month period. Nearly 200,000 northern textile workers and a number of other labor groups also are due to benefit from quarterly pay adjustments based on the index rise.

Their contracts, as in the case of the railroad workers, are geared so that wage rates are adjusted quarterly according to index figures.

Palmer Rites Held At C-City Today

COLORADO CITY, (AP)—Funeral service for S. N. Palmer, 77, who was found dead of gunshot wounds in his home here Wednesday was set for 4 p.m. today.

The Rev. R. B. Murray, pastor of the Oak Street Baptist Church was to officiate at the rites at Kiker and Son Chapel.

Burial was to be in the Spade cemetery. Pallbearers were to be Leslie Hamilton, J. C. Northcutt, Floyd Sheppard, Paris Yarborough, H. E. Jones and Jerome Pond.

Self-Inflicted Wound Caused Palmer Death

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 19—W. J. Chesney, justice of the peace, signed an opinion shortly after noon Thursday, that the wound causing the death of S. N. Palmer, Wednesday afternoon was self-inflicted.

DANIEL VOWS TEXAS TIDES BILL

Rayburn Promises Drive To Win Texas For Adlai

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press Staff

Texas Democrats who want Adlai Stevenson for President of the United States had a pledge today from Speaker Sam Rayburn that every county in the state would be organized for a November victory.

As Rayburn made his pledge for an all-out Democratic drive Thursday, former Atty. Gen. William McCraw denounced two Democrats who say they won't support Stevenson.

Elsewhere: 1. Price Daniel, attorney general and nominee of both Democrats and Republicans for U. S. Senate, said he would introduce a bill to press apart from other states Texas' claim to offshore lands.

2. Dr. Louis Buck of New Braunfels, chairman of the Young Republican Federation of Texas, said Senator Richard Nixon, GOP vice presidential nominee, will arrive in Amarillo for a speech Sept. 28 at 6 p. m.

McCraw referred to Gov. Allan Shivers and Daniel as "our present bewildered and befuddled public officials."

McCraw denounced Shivers and Daniel for their handling of the tidelands ownership battle, told a Stevenson-Sparkman rally that other state administrations had waged the tidelands fight and said, "We didn't quit the Democratic Party." Rayburn's appointment to head the National Democratic nominees' campaign in politically turbulent Texas was announced by Stephen Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee in Washington.

Rayburn told the Associated Press, "I think we're going to carry Texas and elect Adlai Stevenson President. We will set up organizations in every county of the state."

Rayburn's staunch party stand is at odds with the stand taken by Shivers and Daniel who have announced they cannot support the Illinois governor for President because he advocates federal ownership of the tidelands.

The Sept. 9 State Democratic Convention at Amarillo, under Shivers control, voted to place Stevenson and Senator John Sparkman of Alabama on the Texas ballot, but they called on Texas Democrats to support the Republican ticket.

Neither Shivers or Daniel has renounced Republican nominations tendered them.

At Beaumont, Shivers declined comment when he was told Rayburn had been named to lead the Stevenson "loyalist" forces.

Rayburn said the Democratic nominee definitely would visit Texas during the campaign and said there would be a statewide rally but he didn't yet know exactly when. He said he would open state headquarters in Dallas Monday with a complete staff.

"I feel all right," he said when asked if he was optimistic about the campaign.

Speaking before the Dallas rally Thursday night, McCraw chided Daniel for his handling of the tidelands case.

"This time the attorney general fell down on his job," McCraw said. "He lost his case before the Supreme Court, but not for the lack of press releases." And the former attorney general added:

"It is time for those who have failed in leadership to admit they are not equal to the task. It may be that they should 'go fishing' and let the stout-hearted and courageous make the fight and win."

Both McCraw and Rayburn hit at Republican Presidential Candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"What the general officers, I do not know," McCraw said, "and I'm rather persuaded that the general does not." He said Eisenhower is "on both sides and in the middle" and his answer on tidelands is "yes, no and maybe."

Rayburn said, "Just because Stevenson is wrong on one thing (the tidelands) doesn't make Eisenhower right on everything else. That's the way we're going to put it."

McCraw said Shivers announced he favored a tidelands oil compromise, May 17, 1949, while on a visit to Washington.

In Austin, Daniel said the bill he will introduce in the Senate would confirm the Texas Annexation Agreement of 1845 and restore all submerged lands within Texas' original boundaries.

"Proponents of the federal tidelands seizure who are now saying they might favor legislation in behalf of Texas if it is presented separately from the other states will have an opportunity to prove their sincerity," the Senate nominee said.

He added he would join other Senators in reintroducing the general bill confirming state ownership of submerged lands.

C-City Scout Leaders Plan Year Activities

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 19—Scout leaders and scout officials met at Ruddick Park in Colorado City Thursday night to plan activities for the coming year.

Bob Eastus, field representative for the Boy Scouts and Tommy Rathff, local high school teacher, acted as host to the group which included, Ira Utz, J. E. Payne, H. B. Southall, Charles Nuckolls, Tom Jay Goss II, Bill Cooper, Frank Ginzler and J. C. Rickman.

Among plans readied for the fall months was a get out the vote campaign on November 1st. Scouters were to gather at the courthouse at 8 a. m. and were slated to hang a "Vote As You Think" placard on most city doorknobs. At 10:30 the scouts would be back for a feed on the courthouse lawn by the Colorado City Jaycees, to be followed by a free show.

An overnight campout was scheduled for November 21st, at Bill Cooper's on Lake Colorado City.

Galveston Workers Back On The Job

GALVESTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Galveston garbage and light crews were working again today—but only under protest.

City garbage men and street light workers returned to work last night after 500 striking city workers signed a partial agreement with the city commission.

But the men voted "to return under protest" and they still want a $40 monthly salary increase the city has refused them, said Albert Meehan, president of Local 1150 Municipal Employees Union.

The tentative agreement calls for union officials to confer with the city auditor for an explanation of why the city maintains it cannot pay more than a $10 monthly increase.

Garbage piled up and city streets were unlighted during the 40-hour work stoppage.

Officers Picked By Hi-Y Clubs

Officers have been elected by the junior Hi-Y and the Junior Tri-Hi-Y Clubs.

Thursday evening the junior boys named Tom Henry Guin to be their president. Others elected were Rodney Sheppard, vice president; Benny Compton, secretary; Gary Tidwell, treasurer; Clyde McMahon, historian.

Wendell Stacey, sponsor, outlined purposes and some possible activities for the club. He made plans for a meeting with club officers to lay out the semester's program. The boys also made progress in equipping the clubroom.

Maxine Rosson was elected president of the Tri-Hi-Y group. Suzanne Reynolds was selected as vice president; Betty Anderson as secretary; Jacqueline Smith as treasurer; LaRue Casey as sergeant-at-arms. Lynn Porter, sponsor, spoke briefly to the girls on the platform, purpose, program and plans for the club. Meeting with the club in its organizational meeting were Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, advisory board chairman; Ginger Hatch, an advisor from the senior Tri-Hi-Y, and others. Miss Porter is to have a meeting with club leaders to map the long-range program.

Joseph Short, Truman Press Aide, Is Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House Press Secretary Joseph Short, 48, died suddenly last night at his home in nearby Alexandria, Va. No immediate cause of death was given. Mrs. Short, the former Beth Campbell, said she heard him fall upstairs, ran up and found his heart had stopped.

Mrs. Beryl Medberry, 23, (above), promised she would "wait for Ellsworth forever," despite the fact he is spending a life sentence in the Colorado state penitentiary at Canon City, Colorado. The attractive Australian war bride, divorced from her first husband, married Ellsworth Medberry, 36, in an office at the penitentiary. Their kiss after the ceremony was their first one.

23 Reds Injured In Pusan Demonstration

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—The Allied prisoner of war command today said 23 Communist civilian prisoners were injured, two seriously, when U. S. military police broke up a demonstration Wednesday at Pongam in South Korea. The prisoners included some former inmates of the rebelious Compound 62 on Koje Island.

Byrnes Reveals He Plans To Back Ike

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Gov. James F. Byrnes has cast away Democratic party affiliations reaching back for more than half a century and announced he will support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president. The governor, who served in all three branches of the federal government, made his dramatic announcement at a news conference yesterday.

Some Southern Party Leaders Criticize Stand

ATLANTA (AP)—Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina drew sharp criticism from many Southern Democrats by his decision to vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president.

The 73-year-old Byrnes, a former secretary of state and associate justice of the Supreme Court, bolted the party he has supported for a lifetime yesterday with the assertion: "I shall place loyalty to my country above loyalty to a political party."

Perhaps the strongest rebuke came from Byrnes' own state. At Columbia, S. C., state Democratic campaign headquarters declared the governor "has turned his back on and deserted" South Carolina Democrats.

"Democrats of South Carolina have gladly bestowed upon Gov. Byrnes many offices and honors, but they have not conferred upon him the right to dictate how they shall vote, and they never will."

State Democratic campaign headquarters here promptly charged that Byrnes "has turned his back on and deserted" South Carolina Democrats. The announcement was expected to carry considerable weight with South Carolina voters who gave Byrnes a record endorsement in his 1950 campaign for governor.

But in other quarters it was greeted with reproach. Jonathan Daniels and Averell Harriman—both high-ranking Democrats—blamed Byrnes' desertion of the party on what they called his personal bitterness.

Harriman, foreign aid chief, said, "The President let him (Byrnes) go" as secretary of state "and he's been bitter ever since. He's now taking it out on Gov. Stevenson (Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee)."

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, who with Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas already has announced his support of Eisenhower, said he felt sure the announcement means "South Carolina, along with Texas and Louisiana can be considered probable Eisenhower states."

Although Byrnes' announcement had been expected for several days, it still came as a surprise to many party faithful.

Reading from a 1,500-word prepared text yesterday, Byrnes said Stevenson had shifted his position on what he considered three major campaign issues, all of which had figured in his decision to support Eisenhower. He said Stevenson first announced he opposed repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, then "on Labor Day changed his position and joined the President in advocating repeal."

College Station Site Of Meeting Of Cotton Body

HILLSBORO, Sept. 19 (AP)—The National Cotton and Cottonseed Advisory Committee to the Agriculture Department will meet in College Station, Sept. 25-26, Col. Burris C. Jackson said today. Jackson is chairman of the Statewide Cotton Committee of Texas and a member of the national advisory group. He said the meeting would be attended by some of the best known research leaders in cotton and cottonseed.

He added that the technical subcommittee, which advises the main advisory body, also will meet in College Station for the two-day period. The Hillsboro cotton man said the meeting's agenda included a full discussion of various projects being conducted in cotton research by both government and private enterprise.

Dr. R. D. Lewis, director of the Texas Experiment Station and Maurice R. Cooper, research administration, Washington, D. C., have collaborated in working out details for the meeting, Jackson, who invited the group to Texas, said representatives from several cotton states would be present.

AP Radio Group Launches Study Of News Broadcasts

NEW YORK (AP)—A committee of Associated Press member radio station representatives has launched an intensive program of mutual study and action designed to have far-reaching effects on news broadcasting.

They describe the program as marking "a significant stride in the further perfection and refinement of news for broadcast to meet changing times," and as "a forward step in assisting member stations to make increasingly effective and profitable use" of AP news.

The seven-man committee was authorized by the Board of Directors of The Associated Press, and was invited by AP General Manager Frank Starzel to hold its organization meeting in New York this week.

Officers elected by the committee are: chairman, Les Mawhinney, news director of KHL, Los Angeles; vice chairman, M. H. Bonebrake, president and general manager of KOOC, Oklahoma City; secretary, Tom Eaton, news director, WTIC, Hartford, Conn. Other members of the committee, functioning under the name of the AP Radio Member Committee, are: Joe N. Bryant, president and general manager of KCBQ, Lubbock, Tex.; Jack Shelley, news manager of WHO, Des Moines; Jack Krueger, news editor of Daniel W. Kops, executive vice president and general manager of WAVZ, New Haven, Conn.

Dr. R. D. Lewis, director of the Texas Experiment Station and Maurice R. Cooper, research administration, Washington, D. C., have collaborated in working out details for the meeting, Jackson, who invited the group to Texas, said representatives from several cotton states would be present.

Grain Prober Says '$10 Million Stolen'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George D. Aiken (R-VT) said today a Senate probe of shortages in government grains and farm products shows "about 10 million dollars that was stolen."

Investigation of the shortages, conducted earlier this year. "It's a pretty good report and the public is entitled to see it," Aiken said. "I would not change more than a dozen words in it and that would be only for clarification."

Shirley Wheat To Be Crowned Queen Of BSHS Band

Shirley Wheat will be crowned queen of the senior high school band when the musicians make their first appearance of the season at half-time in the Big Spring and San Angelo football game this evening.

Shirley was elected by band members last spring to occupy the honor position for the 1952-53 season. Roy D. Worley, high school principal, will crown her while the band plays, "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody." Miss Wheat will be escorted on the field by Steve Kornfeld, president of the student council.

Aiken, who previously had complained of not being able to get a look at the report, said he received a copy this week marked "confidential," with a request by Chairman Ellender that the document not be made public or even shown to senators' office assistants.

Aiken said most of the losses were in government grain accumulated under farm price support program and stored by Agriculture Department agencies with private warehouse and elevator operators. During the public hearings when rain shortages were estimated at about seven million dollars, Secretary of Agriculture Braman testified that this was not the fault of his subordinates but of private warehouse and elevator operators.

Ellender said a review of the report would reflect "quite a bit of criticism on how the matter was handled." He added: "The rascality took place with those whom the CCC (Commodity Credit Corporation) had dealt with. . . . The private warehouse operators embezzled the grain and bulled the market, hoping to sell it at top prices and then make restitution."

"The plan misfired and the warehouse operators were unable to make the grain good."

Mrs. Charles Seale Rites Set Saturday

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 19 — Funeral services for Mrs. Charles L. Seale of Colorado City, who died at Temple Wednesday, will be held at 3 p. m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church. Rev. B. Y. Bradford pastor, will officiate, assisted by Dr. E. A. Reed, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Burial is to be in the Colorado City cemetery under the direction of Kiker and Son.

Mrs. Seale was born August 18, 1877 in Hunt County and had lived in Colorado City since 1910. She and Seale had been married since 1895. Survivors include her husband, and a son, the latter of Arrey, New Mexico.

P-TA City Council Plans Safety Program

A safety program to be conducted in the schools was outlined Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the City Council of P-TA in the High School gym. Mrs. W. N. Norred presided and it was announced that training sessions in bicycle safety would be conducted during recess periods during the next month preparatory to the final tests to be held Saturday, Oct. 18. There are seven phases which students must pass. The Bicycle Institute of America is to furnish two films, "Bicycle Safety Today" and "You And Your Bicycle," which will be shown at all schools. In addition High School and Junior High teen-age drivers will be shown a film, "Last Date," and new methods of artificial respiration will be taught to Junior High students.

Airport P-TA Makes Plans For Box Supper At Meeting

Plans were made to have a box supper at the next regular meeting when the Airport P-TA met Thursday at 8 p.m. at the school for the first meeting of the school year. Proceeds from the supper will go to finance the organization's projects during the year. The group voted to open a nursery for the younger children at subsequent meetings and staff it with volunteer workers. It was announced that a Bicycle Safety Campaign would get underway soon and a safety film would be shown to parents at the Washington Place School in October.

Bookshelves, Cabinets Transform Ordinary Wall
By ELIZABETH HILLYER
Start with an ordinary wall with one window in it and design a dining-library wall. Build bookshelves tall on both sides of the window with door cabinet space beneath. Set the dining table with one end at the window and draw the chairs up to it. It's as simple as that. Then count the gains in both usefulness and decoration. Generous space is provided for books in a room which had no place for them in it before. There's new display for decorative objects and new storage space for equipment and supplies. The shelves, colorful books and decorative objects decorate the wall and the room. The table has moved away from the center of the room to free floor space and to enjoy the view. Between mealtimes, the table can be used as a library table with the library near by, and as a desk that takes advantage of light from the window. Desk supplies may be stored below the shelves where they're almost as handy as they would be in desk drawers.

Waco Home To Give Series Of Programs

The story of the Methodist Home at Waco actually told by the children themselves will go on the air again Sunday at 8:15 a.m. over fourteen radio stations. The Home is dramatizing activities from the lives of its more than four hundred children again this fall on Sunday morning because of an enthusiastic response from radio listeners all over the Southwest last fall. Some of them wrote that they had contributed to its support many years without ever having been able to visit its campus, and that the radio programs gave them a vivid picture of its life. Students and ex-students have done most of the script-writing, and are acting out the incidents. Music by the Home choir will be a feature of the fifteen-minute broadcasts which are entitled, "These Are Your Children."

Girl Scouts Have Campfire Program Thursday Evening

Approximately 120 Girl Scouts and a sprinkling of parents, troop leaders and Council members gathered around a campfire near the Girl Scout Little House Thursday evening for a sing-song and program to open the fall season of Scouting. In charge of the program was Rex Browning, field director, assisted by Ann Mary Gray and Margaret McAdams, area director, of Abilene. Following the program the city Girl Scout Council met in regular monthly session in the Little House. Larson Lloyd, president, and Mrs. Bill Earley were elected delegates to the regional convention, including representatives from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, to be held Oct. 13, 14 and 15 in Albuquerque, N. M. The need of a flagpole and furniture for the Little House was discussed, as were plans for recruiting leaders and other volunteers to assist with the Scouting program. Approximately 325 Girl Scouts are now registered in troops, a slight increase over last year. Miss McAdams reminded the group of the annual area meeting, covering 3 counties, to be held Oct. 30 in Snyder for leaders, board members and other workers.

STEER-BOBCAT DUEL TONIGHT

Tough Battle Expected For Season Opener

King Pigskin begins his annual autumn reign in Big Spring tonight and the resident Steers would like nothing better than a victory coronation on the turf of Steer Stadium.

The Bobcats of San Angelo High School will be on hand to argue the matter in a season's opener football struggle that gets underway at 8 p.m.

And from all aspects it looks like a rugged evening for the boys wearing colors of their respective schools, because the Big Spring-San Angelo duel is one of the oldest high school gridiron rivalries in West Texas.

Although untested this year, the Bobcats have been thrust in the favorite's role, but the Steers have served notice that they intend to go ahead and play the game anyway and then add up the score later.

The Longhorns, who absorbed a 33-0 lacing at the hands of Defending State Champion Breckenridge a week ago, are no longer in the same league with the Bobcats, according to the current Interscholastic League divisions. But the Steers this year have expressed a willingness to do battle with the best in the land.

A Big Spring team hasn't won from San Angelo since 1947, and then, as tonight, the local aggression was supposed to be badly outclassed. The Longhorns rose to the heights and capped that one, 20-19, in one of the true thrillers of that season.

Despite the fact that they have not yet played a regulation game, the Bobcats have flashed signs of rapid development in their early-season drills. They were held to a 13-13 draw in a scrimmage session with Snyder, but came back last Saturday to run up a 40-7 edge over Plainview in another practice round.

The lad who sparked the offensive against Plainview is due to start at the quarterback post against the Steers tonight. He is Bobby Joe Walker who is playing his first year with the varying Bobcats after moving up from San Angelo's Lee Junior High eleven.

He'll be backed up at the signal-calling spot by Jimmy Clatterback, a member of one of San Angelo's most widely known football families. Stuart Vaughn, who was slated to be the No. 1 quarterback for the Bobcats, is still nursing some bruised ribs he suffered in the scrimmage with Snyder.

A man who will be watching, according to pre-game reports, is Lonk Slaughter, who will start at halfback tonight for the Bobcats. Bill Connally at the other half and Pat Adams at fullback round out the San Angelo starting backfield. Mike Henson, 193-pound tackle, and Gary McElroy, 184-pound guard, are expected to anchor the Bobcat forward wall.

The Steers will have several capable operatives available for duty themselves. Their offensive will be directed by Bobby Hayworth, senior signal caller, who will be supported by Frank Long and Robert Angel, two junior ball handlers and passers.

The Longhorn running game will bring to the front J. C. Armistead, Billy Martin, Doyle Maynard, Donald Mack Richardson, Brick Johnson, James Hollis, Don Swinney, Nugent Reid, Ted Scott, Jerry Hughes, Jerry Cook, Buddy Cosby, and Charles Rose.

In the line there will be Gil Gilstrap, Tiny Ellison, Norman Dudley, Bill Dorsey, Charlie Fox, Jimmy Porter, Bill Earley, Wayne Medlin, Junior Suter, Carlisle Robinson, Pascal Odum, Louis Stipp, Doyle Mason, Don Reynolds, Roger Brown, and Jackie Milam all ready for duty.

The Longhorns do most of their running and passing from variations of the T-formation, using both a straight T and a split T.

The Bobcats also operate from a T and have been known to mix in a double wing occasionally.

The exhibition should be a fitting curtain raiser for local football fans.

Indians, Sports Changing Sites

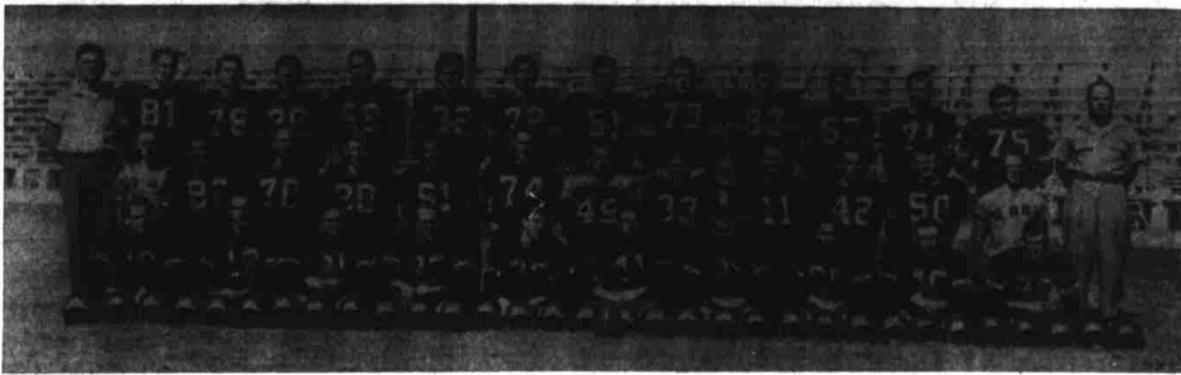

The Oklahoma City Indians and Shreveport Sports, who can carry a bitter fight a long way, take their Texas League championship playoff to the Sooner State capital Friday night all tied at one game each.

At Shreveport Thursday night, the issue went 14 innings before Oklahoma City won it, 8-4.

It was a frustrating loss for the sports, who won the opener Tuesday, 8-4. They got 15 hits, like Oklahoma City, but also had 13 bases on balls and 22 stranded runners aboard.

Oklahoma City wrapped up the game as Al Gerheuser greeted the third Shreveport pitcher, Joe Budny, with a walk in the 14th. After a force-out and another pass, Indian second baseman Joe Damato doubled to break the four-all tie. A wild pitch and Danny Balch's two-run single continued to drive the score to 8-4.

Neither of the starting pitchers survived. Jim Willis of Shreveport nor Bill Greason for the Indians.

'Strategy' Board Is Off To Fresh Start

(Sports Editor Tommy Hart is on vacation. His regular column, "Lookin' 'Em Over" will be resumed on his return.)
By WACIL McNAIR

Opening of the home football season is being seized upon today as an excuse for the Big Spring Herald's board of gridiron "strategy" to renew its annual autumn activity.

As usual, members of this week's board agree unanimously on a few selections, but vary sharply on some others. In many cases they completely desert the conventional dope sheets, climbing out on the limb at the drop of a hat.

Fred Greene, Bob Whipkey, Joe Pickle and the writer compose this week's board, and each has a "sleeper" selected somewhere down the line. Bob Whipkey and Joe Pickle both like Washington State over Southern Cal, while Fred Greene believes Temple will topple Penn State and yours truly is taking a flyer on Santa Clara to upset Stanford.

We're off to another football season:

Tyler Apaches Strong Again

By The Associated Press
Tyler's mighty Apaches rolled over Texas Lutheran, 42-0, while Henderson County beat Paris, 23-7, in junior college football games in Texas Thursday night.

Tyler, powerhouse of the Big Six Conference, was smashing a senior college. The Apaches rolled up a 21-0 lead at halftime with the aid of a couple of pass interceptions and with a 78-yard drive sparked by Jimmy Dickey and Jim Weaver.

Texas Lutheran held Tyler in check in the third period but the Apaches exploded for three more touchdowns in the final period.

Henderson County, a member of the Texas Junior College Conference, was sparked to its victory over Paris, a Big Six member, by Ed Cheek. Cheek passed for two touchdowns, one a 20-yard throw to Billy Ray Atkins, and the other a one-yard pitch to Buster Norman.

Henderson scored first when Dennis Shaw intercepted a lateral and scooted 67 yards. Paris tied it up on a pass from Mac McLennin to Neil Whitaker that carried 48 yards. Then came Cheek's touchdown passes and a safety that came as a result of a bad pass from center on fourth down. Atkins kicked two extra points and Harmon Simes one. Donald Schmidt converted for Paris.

Garden City Seeks Its Second Victory

GARDEN CITY — Garden City's rejuvenated Bearkats were prepared today to seek their second victory of the young football season.

The Flower Grove Dragons were scheduled to furnish the opposition. The Bearkats decided Knott, 8-0, in their season's opener last week.

Quarterbackers Plan Send-Off For Team

With a permanent organization perfected, the Quarterback Club turned Thursday evening to plans for giving the high school football team a good send off in its opening home game this evening.

All fans who will, and certainly all members of the booster organization, are urged to meet at 7:45 p.m. under the south goal post at Steer stadium. They will form a double column through which the Steers will emerge just before game time on to the field. Ample time will remain in which fans can reach their seats.

Elected as co-chairmen of the Quarterback Club in its Thursday evening session at the high school auditorium were Jack Cook and Joe Williamson. Clyde Angel was named secretary-treasurer.

On the 12-member board of strategy are Lee Porter, Jack Robinson, Frank Martin, Ted Hull, Hunka Stewart, Glenn Brown, T. L. South, Bob Currie, Jack Y. Smith, A. Mack Rodgers, W. P. Hughes, Omar Jones.

If a supply of film can be found within a 100 mile radius today, the game with San Angelo will be recorded in movies. Horace Gartett volunteered to be responsible for filming the fra as if a supply of film can be obtained. Otherwise, movie making will become a project for future games.

At the next meeting, at 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 25, a committee will report on estimated cost of chartering a pair of buses to send the band to Brownwood three weeks hence. If this is within reach, the club may sponsor raising funds. Named as a press relations committee were Mrs. Frank Martin, Fullback Pat Harder of the Detroit Lions in the National Football League is a candidate for sheriff in his native Milwaukee, Wis.

Backs At Pecos Are Feared In Class AA Ranks

PECOS, Sept. 19 (AP)—Pecos, rated by many as a top contender for the Class AA schoolboy football championship, thinks it has the two best backs in the county.

Out here the cry of the opposition is to stop Langham and Gutierrez.

Thomas (Son) Langham, 190-pound fullback, and Quarterback Orlando Gutierrez, gave every indication Friday night, in a smashing win over Brownfield, that this, their senior year, will be the greatest of all.

Langham, the most feared back in District 8-AA, chalked up 120 yards in 18 carries against Brownfield, an average of 7 yards per carry. But that's under par for the hudd-running speedster.

For instance, Langham carried the pigskin 128 times in 1951 for a net gain of 1,632 yards, an average of 8.06. On top of that he served as the Warbirds' leading punter, kicking 24 times for an average of 35.4 yards.

A "natural" athlete, "Son," as Pecos folks know him, holds high track, having set the district record in the 200-yard low hurdles in 1950 with a time of 21.9 seconds.

Gutierrez, meantime, is the Eagles' ace passer who also was far from his usual stride in the season's opener at Brownfield. He completed 7 of 15 passes for only 53 yards and one 17-yard touchdown pass.

Last year, the 150-pound man-under completed 49 passes out of 89 attempts, including eight touchdown passes and only two interceptions. His passes netted Pecos 791 yards. In 1950, Gutierrez completed 55 of 138 for a net yardage of 868 and 20 touchdown passes. The deadly passer has lettered in football, basketball, baseball, track, band and choir.

Totalling yardages compiled by these two boys the past two seasons. Coaches Don Mouser and Mitford Johnson found that Langham's running and Gutierrez' passing netted the Eagles a total of 1,823 yards in 1951, and 1,560 yards in 1950.

That's close to a mile a season, and it may be more this year.

Yearlings Meet Odessa Team Saturday Night

The Big Spring Junior High Yearlings, strong in numbers but perhaps somewhat short on experience, will meet Crockett Junior High of Odessa here Saturday night in their first football game of the season.

Game time at Steer Stadium is set for 7:30 p.m.

The Yearlings will be out to try to avenge a 13-6 defeat the Crockett aggregation pinned on last year's Yearlings. Incidentally, that was the only set-back the 1931 Big Spring Junior High lads experienced.

Coaches Harold Bentley and Earl Peeler probably will give several of the Yearlings an opportunity to see action in the opener. Only Jerry Graves, center, and Milton Davis, quarterback, are returning from last year's strong team, and the coaches will be getting their first chance to see how their lads will perform under fire.

Offensive backs who are almost certain to see action include Davis, Charles Repton, Lie Spencer, Larry Hodnett and Charles Johnson. In the backfield, fans probably will see quite a bit of Graves, Preston Bridges, Roy Hughes, Billy Dillon, Eddie Harris, Johnny McDonald, Bobby Fuller, Ken Davidson and Sidney Cravens.

On Defense John Davenport, Richard Werther, Jerry Cagle and Edward Faubion are expected to see action in the line, while promising defense backs include Robert Thompson, Clyde McMahon, C. T. Kilway and Jerry Barron.

Frog-Kansas Tilt Is Feature Attraction

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Christian rolls against Kansas Saturday in the feature game of opening week in Southwest Conference football. It also will be the major game of the nation.

The Horned Frogs, pre-season favorites to repeat with the conference championship, will find out with jarring suddenness if they're as tough as cracked up to be, Kansas is loaded with veterans and feeling its oats over a 27-13 victory last year.

Four other conference teams will be starting the campaign with Baylor taking on Wake Forest at Waco, Texas A&M playing University of Houston at Houston, Texas battling Louisiana State at Baton Rouge and Arkansas engaging Oklahoma A&M at Little Rock.

Only Kansas-TCU and Baylor-Wake Forest are daytime affairs. Rice and Southern Methodist haughtily wait another week to open the season.

It will show quickly enough whether the A&M seventh-place rating is justified.

With a perfect record for the season (they ain't played any yet), we will make the following slashy: Texas Christian-Kansas—A solid vote for TCU.

Arkansas-Oklahoma A&M—Arkansas by four touchdowns.

Baylor-Wake Forest—Baylor should win by two touchdowns at Texas A&M-University of Houston—Here's a good chance for U. of H. to knock over a Southwest Conference team: Houston by a touchdown.

Oilers Square Series Again

By The Associated Press

Odessa, top hand in the regular season, looked like the champ again Thursday night in the Longhorn League's final round play-offs.

The Oilers snuffed out a two-game losing streak and floored Midland with 17 hits, using lefty Evelio Ortega's six-hit pitching to count a 11-4 victory over Midland.

That tied up the best-of-seven championship series at two games each. The fifth game of the series won't get underway until Saturday at Midland, a football game causing Friday night's postponement.

Honors Planned For Chevigny

AUSTIN, Sept. 19 (AP)—Jack Chevigny, whose "Here's one for the Gipper" became part of one of sport's immortal stories, will be honored when his alma mater, Notre Dame, plays the school he used to coach—Texas—here Oct. 4.

It was Chevigny who led an underdog Notre Dame team to victory over Army in 1928 after Knute Rockne had told the team the story of George Gipp—of how the great Notre Dame player on his deathbed asked his coach to have the team someday "win one for me."

Chevigny smashed across with a touchdown and said: "Here's one for The Gipper."

Chevigny coached at Notre Dame for two years, then the Chicago Cardinals in professional football for two seasons. He came to Austin to coach St. Edward's University in 1932. Texas hired him in 1934 and his first team beat Notre Dame, 7-6—the first time a team from the Southwest ever had been able to defeat the fighting Irish.

Chevigny was killed in World War II.

And so Notre Dame and Texas will dedicate their game Oct. 4 to Chevigny. His 1934 team will reunite, with the lettermen of that season occupying seats on the field adjacent to the Longhorn bench.

Six-Man Teams In Conference Action

The District No. 7 six-man football circuit has a well-rounded bill of fare on the menu today.

Gall, a newcomer to the grid wars, takes on Loop at Loop, while the Ackerly Eagles travel to Dawson for league clash.

The Knott Hillbillies, who lost, 9-0, to Garden City in their season opener last week, journey to Union, and Klondike plays at Courtney.

Borger, Amarillo To Launch Finals

By The Associated Press

Borger and Amarillo, a couple of clubs that are just now playing better than .500 ball, Friday night jump right into the series that decides which is champion of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Both completed the season tied for third place on 70-70 records and it took the play-offs' first round for them to get ahead.

Borger Thursday night entered the finals after a six-game series with Albuquerque. Borger won the final one, 9-2.

Amarillo earlier had erased the straightaway champion Clovis nine in five games.

Joe Borger scattered seven hits and left 15 Dukes stranded in scoring Borger's victory.

Six More Teams Are Eliminated

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 19 (AP)—Six more teams were eliminated from the world championship tournament of the National Softball Congress here last night.

In the men's division White Sands Proving Ground, Ogden, Utah General Depot, Kings Grocers of Columbus, Ga., Ogden, Utah Pontiacs and Tampico, Ill., were ousted. In the women's division the axe fell on the Phoenix Blakely Rockettes.

Ogden General Depot out down White Sands 8-3 and then in turn lost to Calvert, Tex., the defending men's champions, 9-0. Salt Lake City Steelers trimmed Kings Grocers 4-0. Double Seven Corp., Phoenix, edged the Ogden Pontiacs 10-9 and Bakersfield, Calif. Elks topped Tampico 3-0.

On the women's side, the Mesa Premiums overwhelmed the Rockettes 17-1 and Portland, Ore. Florists downed West Allis, Wis. 4-0.

Stanton Buffs Set For Battle In Grand Falls

STANTON — Stanton's Buffaloes, who got off to a fine start in trimming the Big Spring B team last week, travels to Grand Falls tonight in quest of their second victory of the season.

The Grand Falls eleven absorbed a 13-4 set-back in their season's opener with the Comhoma Bulldogs.

The Buff attack once again probably will depend upon such operatives as Conrad McKaskle, Norman Blocker, Eldon Hopkins who sparked repeatedly against the Big Spring Short-horns a week ago.

The Buffs showed considerable power last week in running up a 28-0 advantage in the first half and then adding another touchdown in the last half, despite the fact that Coach Read used substitutes liberally during the entire second chapter.

Officials Set Meet For Monday Night

The Six-Man Officials Association will meet at Foran with coaches of District Eight at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 22. It was announced today by Chesley McDonald, chairman.

McDonald, one-time Sterling City coach, stated that anyone interested in officiating six-man football games should be present at the meeting. Latest changes in the rules will be discussed.

Bob Honeycutt, host coach, said the meeting would take place in the Foran High School.

Foran Footballers Have An Open Date

Foran High School football players will take a breather this Friday night and play Water Valley on Friday, Sept. 26. Coach Bob Honeycutt said that future games have been scheduled with Sterling City, Mertzon, and Toyah.

Tech Seeking Its Ninth Title

LUBBOCK, Sept. 19 (AP)—Texas Tech launches a quest for its ninth title in the 18 years the Border Conference has been granting football championships when the Red Raiders tackle West Texas State.

Actually the Raiders already have a better batting average than .500, for they entered the loop a year after its 1931 founding and on five occasions were not eligible for the title. Tech hasn't always played the required minimum.

Coach DeWitt Weaver's main worry seems to be the fact that his Raiders must meet tough opponents—Hardin-Simmons and Arizona—on the road. And even if the Raiders get past their schedule unscathed, chances are that they must be content with half a title. Arizona State at Tempe, not met by Tech, is heavily loaded and favored to go through unbeaten.

Weaver also pointing out that only two years ago an underdog West Texas eleven handed Tech a 28-13 licking and went on to a Border Conference championship.

AREA OIL Vealmore Outpost To Acidize, Two Shallow Locations Pegged

Crane Oil of Texas and Newman Bros. Drilling No. 1 Clanton, east of the Vealmore pool, is to acidize lightly after flowing at the rate of 20 barrels per day.

Two shallow locations have been staked in the shallow area east of Vincent.

Lawton No. 1 Martin, near Sparenberg in southern Dawson, drilled ahead after getting only mud on a drillstem test. In southeastern Glasscock, Seaboard No. 1-A Bishop has abandoned.

New Command Set Up In The Far East

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark announced yesterday a new command will be set up Oct. 1 to be known as the United States Army Forces, Far East (USAFF).

The USAFFE will take over the personnel and work of the Japan Logistical Command, which was organized in 1950 to see that men and supplies were funneled into Korea. It will also take over all the purely Army functions of Clark's Far East Command headquarters.

The USAFFE will be headed by Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, sent to U. N. Command designate at the Panmunjom armistice negotiations.

MARKETS

WALL STREET—Sept. 10 (AP)—The stock market held to a fairly steady course today with the dow Jones slightly more volatile.

Changes were almost entirely fractional either way with a long list of stocks trading unchanged.

Railroads were mixed along with chemicals and public-utility issues. Steels were unchanged to slightly lower. In that class were copper, aluminum, and tin. Motors and utilities held steady. Oil pointed downward.

Also higher were Ford, Packard, International Harvester, Allied Chemical, and South American. Lower were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, and American Cyanamid.

COTTON—NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—Cotton futures were 1/8 to 1/16 cents a bale higher than the previous close, Oct. 28, Dec. 15, and Feb. 28.

NIXON

He did not get the money personally; it was disbursed by a committee, the candidate added.

In Pasadena, Smith said there should be no question about income taxes on the expense fund. He said he handled all the money and that as far as Nixon was concerned "the funds would be either gifts or expense payments."

Smith said he and 90 to 100 other southern Californians raised the fund "because we felt that Nixon was an outstanding spokesman in the Senate for the free enterprise system we believe in."

He said that he could not recall names of all contributors without their consent. But he didn't mind saying he and his brother, Paul Smith of Arcadia, gave a total of $500 a year.

Others who had no objection to use of their names, he said, are Robert and George Rowan, Los Angeles real estate dealers, $500 total, and Henry Kearns, San Gabriel, a smaller amount.

He said contributions were limited to $500 per person a year.

"This is a program I can heartily recommend to public spirited citizens in the United States who have in public office high grade men who do not have independent financial means," Smith said. "We felt such a program would appeal to citizens who wanted to see their U. S. senator do the job right, completely free from financial pressure from any special interests."

Nixon said: "As an alternative, I might have resorted to tax paid facilities, free government transportation, or I might have put my wife on the federal payroll, as did the Democratic nominee for vice president."

"I did none of these... I prefer to play completely fair with the taxpayer."

Mitchell retorted: "Sen. Nixon knows this is morally wrong. Gen. Eisenhower knows this is morally wrong. The American people know this is morally wrong. By no standard, of public morals or of private morals can such conduct be condoned or explained away."

hours of testimony yesterday included:

1. That groups of conscientious objectors to military service used a White House aide to obtain conferences with him which "caused me a lot of trouble."
2. That he was subjected to "a lot of pressure" over a tax evasion case involving prominent citizens of Mobile, Ala. and, eventually, the case was taken out of his hands.
3. That the Kansas City vote fraud case of 1946 was taken from his responsibility when he was chief of the criminal division.
4. That he was one of the officials who recommended against an all-out FBI investigation of the Missouri vote fraud scandal before thieves blasted open a Courthouse and stole ballot boxes and other evidence impounded by a grand jury; and
5. That he felt it necessary to cut down on accepting invitations to capital cocktail parties because invariably they led to "influential" hosts attempting to color his decisions on official business.

Five-Year Term Is Given Man In Assault Case

Dols Wayne Barber received a five-year penitentiary sentence Thursday in the 118th District Court on charges of robbery by assault.

The jury deliberated for approximately two hours before bringing in a verdict of guilty. Judge Charles Sullivan pronounced sentence at 7:55 p.m.

Testimony revealed that John Mager, a Negro, was robbed by a group of boys—including Barber—on June 20. Mager, who works at Webb Air Force Base, was hitchhiking to San Angelo when the boys picked him up.

Mager testified that Barber took $5 from him. Another boy, Tommie Wray McPherson, was given a two-year suspended sentence Wednesday for taking $10 from Mager at the same time. The boys, according to testimony, held Barber at knife point.

Barber also faces another charge of robbery. James Pettite, an airman at Webb Air Force Base, filed charges against Barber for robbing him on July 3, while Barber was out on bond from charges of robbing Mager. Pettite is now in a San Antonio hospital with polio and cannot appear to testify.

The Barber case was the fourth jury trial in court this week, said District Attorney Eron Gilliland.

Jetty Henry, previously given a two-year sentence for forgery, was released on probation Friday by Judge Sullivan. The jury had recommended probation.

Eddie Hamilton, charged with breaking and entering an automobile, was given a two-year suspended sentence by Judge Sullivan Friday morning.

200,000 Head Of Mexican Cattle May Be Exported

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 10 (AP)—An unexpectedly large quota of Mexican cattle—200,000 head—can be exported to the U. S. during the balance of this year.

This quota announcement made yesterday by Mexico's agriculture department was the first since the foot and mouth quarantine was lifted Sept. 1. An outbreak of the disease closed the border six years ago.

Observers considered the quota expectedly large because Mexico's normal export of cattle to the U. S. before the quarantine averaged only 40,000 to 50,000 annually.

Now about half of that may be sent in just the remaining quarter of this year.

The government press bureau, in releasing the quota announcement, gave no details of how many cattle each of Mexico's northern states may export.

HOORAY, TEXAS CAN BRAG AGAIN

AUSTIN, Sept. 10 (AP)—Texas lawyers can brag now.

The American Bar Association has designated the Texas State Bar as the best state lawyers organization in the U. S.

Minnesota and Florida got honorable mention.

The announcement came from: the State Bar of Texas.

Sparkman Takes Poke At Demos Supporting GOP

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Candidate John Sparkman ended his Florida tour with some parting shots at Democrats in the state who are thinking of voting Republican.

"Some people, when they get prosperous, forget what they used to be like," the Democratic vice presidential candidate told an audience of perhaps a thousand last night in the Courthouse square a block from Florida's state Capitol.

"Some people get the idea when they get well-to-do that the Democratic label doesn't belong on them any more."

But he said he didn't think Floridians would "forget the terrible conditions" that followed the last time the state broke away from the Democratic column and voted for Herbert Hoover in 1923.

He predicted Florida, and all other Southern states, will cast its electoral votes for him and Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

After two days of speaking in Florida, Sparkman planned to fly to Little Rock today, to attend the Arkansas state Democratic convention.

Cool Air Felt In Wide Area Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Cool Canadian air ended a spell of mild weather over wide areas of the country today. But it continued warm over Southern and Western states and along the Atlantic Coast.

The cool air extended from the northern and central Great Plains to the Great Lakes region and the lower Ohio Valley. Temperatures dropped into the 30's in Midwest areas early today. Showers and thunderstorms were reported in advance of the cooler weather from New York state to Tennessee.

Rain fell in parts of Montana but skies were mostly clear in other areas from the Mississippi Valley to the Pacific Coast.

A record high reading of 100 was reported yesterday at Medford, Ore. It was 99 in Oklahoma City.

Will The Man Put These Tickets In His Car Trunk, Too?

CHICAGO (AP)—Policeman Walter Philbin stopped Anthony Korczynski, 48, for driving on the wrong side of the street yesterday and proceeded to write out a ticket for traffic violation.

When Korczynski couldn't find his driver's license, Philbin suggested it might be in the rear trunk of his car. They couldn't find it but they did find 39 traffic tickets.

"Those are just some parking tickets," Korczynski said. "I'll get around to paying them one of these days."

Philbin gave him three more tickets—driving in wrong lane, no driver's license and no safety sticker.

Child Fails To Stay Put, Killed By Truck

PETALUMA, Calif. (AP)—Manuel F. Perry Jr., wanted to make sure he didn't run over his little girl. Before driving his 1 1/2 ton truck into the garage yesterday, he picked up 18-month-old Joyce Marie and carried her into his house.

As the cattle buyer drove toward the garage, his wife, Marie, screamed. Perry slammed on the brakes too late. He found his daughter under a front wheel, her head crushed.

She had run back out while he was starting the truck.

EISENHOWER

Des Moines Ia., earlier in the day that local officials said exceeded the turnout for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York four years ago and about equalled that given Truman in the same campaign.

Police officials estimated 80,000 persons saw and heard the General in a parade through city streets and an appearance at the statehouse.

Eisenhower tore into the Democrats with the assertion that the party "looks down on the people—the Republican party looks ahead with the people."

"When it comes to casting out the crooks and their cronies, I can promise you that we won't wait for congressional prodding and investigations," he declared.

He said that revamping the government, he would seek the cooperation of Congress, adding, in a direct shot at President Truman: "The next administration will not be a one-man show."

Jury Men To Be Selected For Murder Cases

A special venire of 120 men has been called by District Clerk George Choate to appear in the 118th District Courtroom at 10 a.m. Monday. Jurymen will be selected from the venire to hear three murder cases and a rape case.

Enrique Artega, Enrique Sanchez and Berthe Rene Timmons will face murder charges. Gilberto Ortiz will be tried for a rape charge.

The grand jury has indicted Artega and Sanchez for allegedly beating Francisco Villa so badly on April 15 that Villa later died. Both men are out on $5,000 bond.

Berthe Rene Timmons has been indicted for allegedly stabbing Beverly Hicks on February 29. Timmons is out on $2,000 bond.

Gilberto Ortiz will stand trial for allegedly raping a girl on Dec. 19. He is out on $1,000 bond.

27 Counties Join Disaster Listing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Housing and Home Finance Administration has added 27 Texas counties to those in the state already designated as eligible for participation in the Emergency Drought Relief Program.

They are Atascosa, Bexar, Bosque, Brazos, Childress, Collingsworth, Coke, Coryell, Denton, Donley, Duval, Freestone, Frio, Falls, Hill, Johnson, Lee, La Salle, Limestone, Maverick, Medina, Milam, Robertson, Tarrant, Wilcom, Wichita and Zavala.

Notifying the offices of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and Rep. Poage, Texas Democrat, of the action, HHFA officials said that under the program the government would bring hay into the drought-stricken counties and pay the freight bill. Livestock producers thus would be able to get feed at the same price that they would expect to pay for it if home grown hay was available in their localities.

High Density Cotton On Future Contracts Due To Be Voted On

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—New York Cotton Exchange members will vote Monday on whether to make high density cotton deliverable on futures contracts.

The proposal is favored by exporters but criticized by American textile manufacturers.

Cotton squeezed by extra pressure into rock-hard bales is called higher density cotton.

Exporters like the idea because they can ship more tightly compressed bales in the limited spaces of ship cargo holds.

But the textile manufacturers say that after such cotton arrives at American mills they must use special machinery to fluff out the fiber so it can be cleaned and used.

The American Cotton Manufacturers Institute, whose membership includes a large segment of the textile industry, has taken the lead in opposing high density cotton.

The plan has been endorsed by the exchange's board of managers. The proposal would compel any mill buying cotton for future delivery to accept high density bales.

Policeman Mistakes Wife For Burglar, Shoots Her To Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A policeman shot his 25-year-old wife to death in their dark bedroom early today mistaking her for a burglar who had been seen in their apartment.

Police gave this account: While Patrolman John Milo, 27, was asleep, his wife, Mary, got up from her bed. When she returned to the bedroom, her husband was awakened by her footsteps.

Believing she was the burglar, he seized his service revolver from a drawer of a bureau near the bed and fired two shots at his wife. One of the bullets pierced her brain, killing her instantly.

The Milo's 2-year-old daughter, Patricia, slept soundly in another room.

Polio Patient Gives Birth In Iron Lung

FORT WORTH, Sept. 10 (AP)—Mrs. James Moore, polio patient at City-County Hospital, gave birth to a boy last night in an iron lung.

Mrs. Moore, a 22-year-old nurse of Fort Worth, was admitted to the polio ward on April 29.

She has been in the iron lung since diagnosis as a polio patient. Her husband is W. C. Moore.

Lions Picnic Saturday

Annual picnic for the Lions and members of their families is set for 7 p.m. Saturday at the City Park. Robert McEwen, president, said that there would be no formal program, but that members would gather at the pavillion at the appointed hour. Families will bring picnic dinners and the club will furnish drinks.

Bid Deadline Saturday

Saturday is the deadline for submitting bids to Postmaster Nat Schick for clerk in charge of the Webb Air Force Base Substation. Information may be obtained from the postmaster.

Reds' Trial In Tokyo Adjourned; Hecklers Prevent Continuance

TOKYO (AP)—Communist-led hecklers today forced adjournment of four trials of 131 Japanese accused of May Day rioting. The trials opened today.

The four courts finally adjourned until tomorrow.

In one, the defense lawyers refused to attend. In another the lawyers held up proceedings to demand more spectators be allowed.

Defendants and spectators broke up the other two by singing Red songs.

Another 116 suspected rioters go on trial tomorrow.

Stanton's Safety Patrol Now On Duty

Trained by Stanton's Chief of Police Ogal Avery, (extreme right) the school now has a safety patrol of more than 30 boys who officiate at the marked crossings in the school area, and who are charged with responsibility for the safety of the other children. Here Patrolmen Bill Stephenson, Vernon Massey and Charles Farum are on the alert for an oncoming car which Chief Avery is signaling on through. Just after the young ladies got across the street they were heard to remark that they thought the boys might be cute in those white helmets.

FOR SELF-PROTECTION

Martin County Kids Set Up Safety Patrol Of Their Own

STANTON, (SC) —The youngest of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce's committees has been the most active recently and some of its accomplishments are quite visible to the traveler passing the Stanton School just before or after school, or during the noon hour.

This committee, the one on Health and Safety, was appointed by Chamber President S. W. Wheeler about the time Mrs. Leo Turner was named city-county sanitarian, to co-operate with her and assist in bettering health conditions in the community.

Chief of Police Ogal Avery was named as a member of the committee, school was about to open, and this was a golden opportunity for him to really do something about a problem that had caused a great deal of concern for a long time. He had been worried about the safety of students at the school which isn't very far from Highway 80 and which is even nearer a cut-off from that highway to the center of the town's business section.

Chief Avery called on Mrs. Hila Weathers, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, stated his problem, and the wheels started turning and churning.

The other members of the committee, Dr. Q. Z. Martin, chairman; Les Weatherall, A. W. Woolsey and Dan Saunders, sheriff-elect, were called into session. From this meeting and with the co-operation of School Superintendent O. H. Winstead there has emerged the school's white-helmeted safety patrol of more than 30 boys. They have been trained for their duties by Chief Avery who also supervises their activities.

Other equipment safety patrolmen are due to receive will include whistles and white belts. Eight of them are on duty at a time and a tour of duty is for two weeks after which they will be relieved by another squad of eight. The helmets are the regular steel military headpiece. A couple of the boys reported at the Chamber of Commerce office and painted them white after which Mrs. Weathers and Mrs. A. C. Wooley lettered them with the safety patrol's "S.P."

White-lined safety crossings have been painted on the streets and Highway 80 near the school and one or more of the patrolmen is on duty at each of these whenever students are leaving or coming to school. The school superintendent and police chief have also co-operated in establishing safety loading zones where students may enter or leave the private cars or buses in which they travel to and from school.

"The boys are doing a fine job," Chief Avery says proudly, "and they are taking their duty seriously. They fully realize that the safety of the other kids depends in a large degree on them, especially since the other kids have been told they can depend on these boys to see them safely across the streets and highways at the marked crossings."

And both the safety patrolmen and school officials say the system is working very satisfactorily because the other boys and girls are co-operating through strict obedience of the orders of these young patrolmen.

The members of the committee say they are well pleased with the program and they all commend Chief Avery for the training and supervision he has given the boys. Mrs. Weathers says the program has also met with the heartiest approval of the mothers and fathers, who have expressed themselves as feeling much better about the safety of their children now that the patrol is on duty.

Boys accepted for the patrol duty

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

The 39 Howard County 4-H Club calves on feed and being readied for the shows have averaged gaining 264 pounds in the last 110-day period just ended. This is an average daily gain for each calf of 2.4 pounds.

The weights of these calves ranged to 980 for the heaviest the last week in May when they were weighed in at the start of the period.

The top gaining calf added 345 pounds and the lowest made a gain of 165 pounds.

County Agent Durward Lester says he believes they're paying for their feed.

J. G. Coldiron, 809 East 2nd Street, has a most unusual apple tree. Or rather it is a very unusual apple tree, but when it starts playing with the antics of the drought it does queer things.

For the last two years this tree has produced nice apples. Wednesday Coldiron went out to gather some of this year's apples and found the tree loaded with blossoms for the second time this year. But he says he doesn't expect to harvest the second crop. He won't have time for that.

Coldiron's explanation for the situation is that the tree struggled along through the drought and did pretty well in a rugged sort of way. Then came the day when there was enough water available to give the thirsty tree a long-awaited and long-deserved drink. Coldiron has been watering it faithfully and now in the luxury of plenty of water for his roots the tree is starting to grow all over again, and in its joy is spreading the springtime fragrance of apple blossoms on the breeze.

J. C. Sale, Martin County Hereford breeder, admits this drought is the worst he has ever seen. He says that in fact there has only been one year in the last several that could be considered to be anything like normal. He says he believes the grass roots on parts of his ranch are dead. Sale expects to be forced to reduce his herd to about 120 cows within the next few days unless something both unusual and unexpected happens.

Most of his grass was revived with some showers earlier in the year.

Ike Will Speak At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 18 (AP)—Dwight Eisenhower will deliver a "major campaign address" in San Antonio about the middle of October, Bexar County Republican leaders indicated today.

Both Joe Sheldon, state committeeman, and Frank Law, in charge of the Ike headquarters here, were optimistic about getting the G.O.P. candidate for president to deliver more than a rear-platform speech in the Alamo City.

"You must remember," Law said, "Eisenhower has many friends in this city and that he met his wife here."

He added that when he introduced himself to Eisenhower at the national convention and told the general where he was from, Ike replied: "San Antonio? That's one of my favorite spots."

Law added that San Antonio's central location in South Texas would be a factor in Ike's decision to deliver a major speech here since it would be convenient for a goodly number of South Texans.

Sheldon said no plans have been made for Eisenhower's appearance here since the exact day has not yet been decided upon.

"It's definite, though," the state committeeman added "that he will be here."

Solomon Begins His Reign

HE ASKED JEHOVAH FOR AN UNDERSTANDING HEART

Scripture—1 Kings 1:28-40; 2:1-4; 3:1-15; 8:1-6:14; 2; 11 Chronicles 5-6

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 IN OUR own time kings have died or abdicated and been replaced by their sons or daughters, one of the latest being Queen Elizabeth of England, the unexpected death of whose beloved father brought the age-old proclamation, "The king is dead; long live the queen."

Solomon, whose name has gone down the centuries as the greatest and wisest of the kings of Israel, was promised the throne by his father, because he loved Bathsheba, Solomon's mother.

The king sent for Bathsheba and told her he wanted Solomon to succeed him. "Then Bathsheba bowed with her face to the earth, and did reverence to the king, and said, Let my lord King David live for ever."

David sent Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, and others, and told them to mount Solomon, on

You will remember Hiram, king of Tyre, who had sent men and materials and built David's house? Solomon appealed to him and he sent materials and workmen; Solomon gathered many Hebrew workmen, and working together the temple was built.

It was situated on a hill called Zion or Moriah. The walls were massive, pillars within are supposed to have supported the flat roof and added to the beauty of the interior.

Jehovah had said to Solomon, "Concerning this house which thou art building, if thou wilt walk in My statutes, and execute Mine ordinances, and keep all My commandments, to walk in them, I will establish My word with thee, which I spake unto David thy father."

"And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake My people Israel."

The temple was finished, and Solomon brought in all the gold

MEMORY VERSE

"Trust in Jehovah with all thy heart, And lean not upon thine own understanding; In all thy ways acknowledge Him, And He will direct thy paths."—Proverbs 3:5-6.

the king's own mule. They did so, and brought him to Gihon.

"And Zadok the priest took the horn of oil out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon. And they blew the trumpet; and all the people said, God save King Solomon."

David's charge to Solomon was a touching and beautiful thing: "I go the way of all earth; be thou strong therefore, and shew thyself a man;

"And keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in His ways, to keep His statutes, and His Commandments. . . . That thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and whithersoever thou turnest thyself."

Jehovah appeared to Solomon in a dream, saying, "Ask what I shall give thee." Solomon did not ask riches, honors, victories over enemies, or even personal happiness. He told Jehovah that he felt like a little child, not knowing how to go out or come in. The people he had been called to rule over were a great people, he said, and humbly he asked Jehovah for an understanding heart to rule wisely over them.

"And the speech pleased the Lord, that Solomon had asked this thing."

On the second day of the second month in the fourth year of Solomon's reign he began the building of the temple at Jerusalem.

and silver that David and his father had dedicated, and the instruments "put he among the treasures of the house of God."

Then Solomon assembled the elders of Israel, all the heads of the tribes, etc., to bring up the Ark of the Covenant and to place it in the most holy place.

"And it came to pass, when the priests were come out of the holy place. . . . also the Levites which were the singers, all of them of Asaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, with their sons and their brethren, being arrayed in white linen, having cymbals and psalteries and harps, stood at the east end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twenty priests sounding with trumpets:

"It came even to pass, as the trumpeters and singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising, and thanking the Lord; and when they lifted up their voices with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the Lord, saying For He is good; for His mercy endureth for ever; that the house was filled with a cloud, even the house of the Lord. So that the priests could not stand to minister by reason of the cloud; for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God."

The king turned his face and blessed the whole congregation of Israel, and he said, "O Lord God be clothed with salvation, and let Thy saints rejoice in goodness."

ARE YOU STARVING YOUR SOUL?

Jesus of Nazareth taught his followers to pray: Give us this day our daily bread.

But he also reminded the world that: Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

It is possible, then, for the body to be well-fed while the soul is starving to death!

That is why churches are as essential to the well-being of a community as farms and factories.

And the people who understand this Christian truth will be as conscientious about worshipping in Church as they are about their ploughing or their employment.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Jet Jeep In Flight

The XH-26, a one-man pulse-jet helicopter made for the Army by American Helicopter Co., zips into the air in its first public flight demonstration before Army Secretary Frank Pace Jr., and newsmen at Torrance, Calif. The small ship is for Army use with combat infantrymen. Top speed is 80 miles an hour and flight range about an hour and a half. It has been unofficially dubbed the "Jet Jeep" because of its jeep-like qualities in the air. The ship, preceded by the experimental "Top Sergeant" and "Buck Private," is the smallest copter ever procured by the Army. (AP Wirephoto).

SHIP TYING EXPERT

Shipping People To Miss Tony Cataneo

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pietro Antonio Cataneo, businessman, died yesterday. He was 64. His death won't cause any particular stir in Chamber of Commerce circles, nor will an appraisal of his holdings be necessary. But news of his death will be lamented around the world. Cataneo, Tony to everyone, was in the ship tying business. That's all, just tying up ships when they docked on the Baltimore waterfront. But he was known well by steamship agents on both coasts and by shippers and crews that frequented this port. Tony immigrated here from his native Foggia, Italy, in 1906. He was a stevedore until he opened a tiny lunch shack in the early '20s opposite Pier 8 in the lower Canton section. By 1927 he was all but bankrupt. He owed 50 months ground rent ($750) for the land where his rundown lunch shack stood. Then came the break. It happened so naturally he almost missed it. He was standing in front of his shack when he heard a ship's officer yell: "Will somebody please take a line!" Tony grabbed the heaving line when it was thrown over and pulled the hawser to the pier. He got $3 for the helping hand. Then the officer promised him $2 more if he would throw off the line when the ship sailed. Tony did. That started him thinking. One ship . . . $5. Lotsa ships . . . lotsa dollars. He started making calls to the steamship lines and found his services were welcomed. Soon he and his son were busy enough meeting ships to give the lunch shack up. Tony, talking about it recently, made it sound so simple. "I laugh at myself when I think how I didn't catch on in all those years. I had to be down and out, sitting in my lunchroom with nothing to do but look at ships. Then I see the same thing—nobody to take lines. Something give me a push. I went out to take the lines. Now my Mike and I have built up the profession of line catching." Mike takes over the business, with 20-odd employees. All from a $5 idea.

Ike Considered Winner If Election Were Held Today

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—Newspaper editors and political writers of the country consider Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower the probable winner over Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson—if the presidential election were run off today.

But many newsmen who took part in a nation-wide survey undertaken by The Associated Press believe large numbers of voters haven't made up their minds. They say it is too soon to tell who may hit the wire first in November. Where editors say they have spotted present trends toward the GOP, the reasons they mention most frequently are currents of time-for-a-change sentiment and Eisenhower's personal popularity. In state after state, newsmen believe the general will make a better showing in his first bid for an elective office than GOP nominee Thomas E. Dewey did four years ago.

The collective opinion of editors and correspondents, brought together from surveys that tapped political sentiment at the grass roots in a great majority of the nation's counties, is that Eisenhower would be fairly sure of 15 states with 153 electoral votes if the vote were taken now. They believe an additional 12 states are doubtful but would be inclined at this time to go Republican. If Eisenhower collected all their 142 votes, his total would reach 295—29 more than the 266 required to clinch the election. Newsmen believe that Stevenson, at this point, could be reasonably certain of 12 states with 121 electoral votes and that he might pick up three doubtful ones with 49 votes. That adds up to 170 votes—96 short of the 266 mark. Half a dozen states with 66 votes are regarded by newsmen as on the fence at this time. Even if Stevenson bagged all of those, he wouldn't have enough to win on newspaper scoreboards. So, as the editors see it, Stevenson will have to smash away in the few weeks remaining before the election at states that now look safe for Eisenhower and those that appear to be wavering toward the general.

But the Illinois governor knows what he is up against, for the survey estimates dovetail with Stevenson's statements soon after he was nominated that he faces an uphill fight, that a desire for a change in Washington is perhaps the biggest hurdle he will have to clear. Estimates for New England complete the national picture in the AP survey. The composite view of "Down East" editors is that the area will go about the same as in 1948. Maine and Vermont are considered sure for Eisenhower, New Hampshire and Connecticut as leaning toward him. Massachusetts is appraised now as safely Democratic, as it was four years ago, while normally Democratic Rhode Island is considered a question mark at this time. Eisenhower popularity and sentiment for a new hand at the helm run through numerous estimates of the outlook in New England, as for the rest of the country. But editors around the nation, who got out transits and rods and surveyed political trends in their own back yards, jotted down a wide assortment of additional factors they believe are influencing the campaign. They mention corruption, the Korean war, "too much Trumanism," inflation and prices. In general, though, editors around the nation figure that rural areas will be strong for Eisenhower while city, industrial and labor districts will favor Stevenson. The way editors view current conditions, it is the Midwest and the Mountain and Western states where any trend toward Eisenhower would show up in actual electoral vote changes. If the election were held right away, newsmen would expect enough states in those regions to switch from Democratic to Republican to swing the decision to the GOP. A majority of the newspapers that helped with the survey are supporting the Republican ticket. Yet in numerous individual counties, editors estimated the trend would run contrary to their own political commitments or those of their papers. The survey covered a period in late August and early September. Another is planned for mid-October.

Prison Rodeo Set To Open Oct. 5

Sheriff Jake Bruton announced today that the 21st Annual Prison Rodeo will be held at prison stadium in Huntsville beginning Sunday, Oct. 5. He said reservations—costing $2.40—can be made by mail at the prison rodeo office in Huntsville. The rodeo will be held for five consecutive Sundays. Events will include a mad scramble, bare back bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, wild mule race, bull riding and the chariot race. Specialty acts and guest attractions will also be included. Bruton stated that a junior-size cowpony will be given to some youngster at the opening day performance. A tooled leather saddle will accompany the pony. The selection of the winner will be made in the arena during the performance.

Local Youth Named Editor Of School Paper At NMMI

Omar W. Pittman Jr., student in the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N.M., has been named editor-in-chief of his school's newspaper, the Garryowen. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Pittman, Big Spring. This is his third year at N.M.M.I. The paper receives its name from the famous song of Gen. George Custer's even more famous Seventh Cavalry. The Garryowen is a bi-monthly publication of the 700-strong Cadet corps. It has a total circulation of about 1,000 copies which go to all parts of the country and to some foreign points, including Korea.

Rapid Industrial Recovery Noted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industry's rapid recovery from this summer's two-month steel strike was underlined in a Labor Department employment report today. The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said non-farm employment hit a record level of 46,900,000 persons in jobs in mid-August. This was an increase of 900,000 from mid-July and 200,000 over a year ago. (End Advance)

Rent Commitment Can Now Be Had

A binding commitment on rent income for planned dwellings can now be obtained from the area rent office. Tom Adams, local rent director, stated today that a landlord wishing to build a rental unit could find out how much income to expect from the rent office. "We are allowed to make 'prior opinions' which are binding," he said. "The rent office is bound by federal regulations to state in writing the amount which may be charged and to stand behind that amount." He said that landlords may request "prior opinions" from the rent office if they plan to build, to make major improvements, or to increase services or furniture. Landlords can easily find out how much additional rent they will be allowed in case of improvements, he said. The rent office will give a specific dollar-and-cent answer. The landlord only has to furnish the location, number of rooms, type of furniture, and electrical appliances

A Bible Thought For Today—

Even the our span covers another decade or two we are more closely comparable with the summer insects than with the great trees of Yosemite that stand for three milleniums. They shall perish but we will be renewed till the earth becomes a cinder. Our memories never perish. — "The days of our years are three score and ten."—Ps. 90:10.

Enforcement Of Driving Rules Can Greatly Cut Down Road Toll

Eight persons, six of them members of the same family, were killed in the outskirts of Austin with a diesel engine crushed the car in which they were riding. A shocking tragedy, truly. But similar wholesale killings occur on our streets and highways with such regularity and frequency that the shock value of such incidents on the consciousness of careless motorists has lost much of its edge. It always happens to the other fellow.

Of the 37,100 traffic dead in 1951, 1,530 died from collision with a railroad train. By far the greatest number, 14,600, died from the collision of a motor vehicle with another motor vehicle. Second highest number died from auto-pedestrian collisions, 9,470.

County Judge Reed Ingalls of Taylor County recently adopted what seems to us to be a sensible and suitable policy. He had been informed that some of the under 16-year-old boys holding his permission to drive had been driving recklessly in the vicinity of school grounds. If the boys who abused his trust were brought before him, he announced, he would invalidate their permission to drive.

Well, that's fair enough. The law says no one under 16 may operate a motor vehicle without special permission of the county judge, and in each instance they must show a reasonable need for that permit, beyond a simple desire to drive.

The law also says no one under the age of 14 shall operate a motor vehicle in Texas, under any circumstance. Such children cannot be licensed by the county judge or anyone else, and it is unlawful to drive without a license.

Nevertheless, children as young as 12 or even less do drive cars in Abilene and elsewhere. Where one child is allowed by his parents to drive, it always causes trouble among other children of the same age, who cite the privileged child to show that they should enjoy the same privilege. The law is a wise one, and it should be enforced.

Skill And Courage Of Pilots Along With More Planes Boost MIG Kill

American pilots over Korea have been having extraordinarily good hunting this month, so much so that there have been hints of a new "secret weapon" now available to our pilots.

As the record stood when this was written, the September total of kills stood at 47 MIGs as against five known losses by our side, or a ratio of better than nine to one. The best previous record was last April when 44 MIGs were shot out of the skies. So, with a little more than half a month gone, the record is bigger than for the entire month of April.

Our own losses for this week, if any, will not be made known until Saturday. For the first twelve days of September we lost two Sabre jets and three sloopers F84 Thunderjets shot down in combat, plus six others lost by other causes.

So far in the war, nearly 500 Russian MIGs have been destroyed in aerial combat with U.N. planes. Our losses of planes have been greater, but most of them have been lost to ground fire and from other causes. We have employed many different types of planes for many different kinds of missions. There is no way of knowing, of course, how many the Reds have lost aside from those shot down by U.N. fighters.

Although there were hints of a new "secret weapon" now possibly in use by our Air Force, there has been no hint of its nature for obvious security reasons. One of our best weapons in comparison with the enemy's strength has been the superiority of our pilots. The hinted-at secret weapon may be nothing more than the improved tactics and techniques of our pilots, plus their improving skill.

Reinforcement of our fighter strength in Korea in the last few months may account for some of the increase in effectiveness against the Reds. For a long time our fighters were outnumbered anywhere from two to five times, or even more. The shortening of these ratios in our favor undoubtedly contributed in some measure to the confidence, skill and courage of our pilots, and added to their effectiveness.

Statistical Row Over Savings Drags In Cost-Of-Living Index

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Evan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, is a chagrined man. He and his staff made an oversight. That oversight burgeoned into a controversy: Did Americans overspend in 1950? Or did they save? If the controversy stops there, all would be well. But will it?

Clague is responsible for the most important index in the United States, if not the world—the Consumers' Price Index. The index measures the cost of living. On its ups and downs depend the wages of millions of workers in the automobile, electrical equipment, and other industries.

To properly adjust this index—to determine how much families spend on food, clothing, shelter, carfare, automobiles, etc.—the Bureau recently made a survey of family earning power and buying habits. When the report came out, it upset the experts. It implied that U.S. families in 1950 overspent their incomes by $400. The Department of Commerce had previously estimated that family savings in 1950 amounted to more than $200, the Federal Reserve Board about $270.

Grover V. Enslay, director of the staff of the Senate-House Joint Committee on the Economic Report, wanted to know what's what. He asked Stuart A. Rice, an assistant director of the Bureau of the Budget for statistical standards, for an explanation. Rice's long title means he's the high mogul of federal government statistics—the Court of Appeals.

Rice wrote Enslay that the survey was made not to "measure savings but to learn what consumers bought in 1950." He then went on to say that families often under-report their incomes and they "put out all-ways sure of their spending either." When the total for expenditures cannot be very precisely remembered, and when, furthermore, it is subtracted from an income figure that itself has some errors, the result can be fairly inaccurate. Those overtones insofar as they reflect on the Consumers' Price Index, itself.

Average Auto Mileage Drops

NEW YORK (AP)—Traffic congestion, deteriorated roads and fear of accidents have reduced the annual average mileage in individual use of passenger cars to below the peak prewar rate, reports the American Automobile Association.

An analysis by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads showed the average individual annual use of passenger cars for 1951 was 9,620 miles, compared with 9,942 in 1946. The 1950 total was 9,030 miles. Both 1950 and 1951 figures fell below the prewar peak travel of 9,285 miles in 1941.

Forecasts based on the six-month estimates for this year, it was reported, indicate the average may show a further drop before 1952 is ended.

Rattler Has A Meal

DILLON, Mont. (AP)—A man who hunts rattlesnakes for a hobby says the reptiles have turned cannibal. Stewart Schlafer shot a 36-inch rattler one Sunday and cut off its rattles. He liked on a little further and then came back to the same spot where he killed the snake.

This time he saw another rattler puffed up from a big Sunday dinner. He killed that one and inside was the first snake minus the rattles he'd removed.

American And Other Textile Mills Are Worried About Shrinking World Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—American, Japanese and British businessmen are squaring away this week. The issue: how much of the shrinking world market for cotton textiles should Japan be allowed to capture with its more cheaply produced cloth?

Since most of the market the Japanese have been capturing has been served in the past by the British, they are fighting back by imposing import quotas against Japanese goods.

At the nine-nation cotton textile talk-fest in England—which is simply a discussion between businessmen, without official backing by their governments—the Japanese are plugging for the removal of import curbs in the British Commonwealth area. In return they would offer to curb their own mill capacities—but they want to sell whatever they make wherever they can.

American textile mills are worried, too, about the shrinking of the world market—fewer yards are being sold now in world trade than before World War II. And they fear competition of the Japanese, who pay much lower wage scales and can undersell.

But the American delegation also takes the traditional U. S. stand that governments shouldn't restrict markets by quotas—that competition is the life of trade. And American farmers sell a lot of cotton to the Japanese mills.

The British have a price advantage over the Americans, also, because English pay scales are lower. But a large part of this advantage is lost because British mills haven't been modernized to any great extent and can't operate as cheaply or efficiently.

The British textile men are up in arms against the Japanese because their industry has been in a slump for months, unemployment is bad, and export markets are all-important to the English.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

The foreman of the historic Waggoner Ranch on this day in 1949 received three broken ribs, cuts and bruises while herding cattle.

You think that trivia and not worthy of perpetuation in the Texas Story? You say a cowboy's life is a hard one and such injuries too usual to recount?

Wait a minute, podner. Hold on to your hat, Zane Grey. Take a back seat, Roy Rogers: your kind is through.

This cowpoke was injured while herding cattle in a helicopter. His name was Tony Haxelwood, a grizzled veteran of the plains, and the crash occurred ten miles north of Seymour. Piloting the "windmill" was Wayne Schlesinger of Houston. A third occupant, Sherman Kennedy, the regular Waggoner ranch pilot, escaped injuries as did Schlesinger.

Probably the helicopter will come into wide usage on the remaining big spreads which have not been cut up into breeding pastures, and the time may come when a crack cowhand must also be a skillful pilot.

Hollywood won't like it, of course, Nor the kids. It won't be the same having Roy Rogers kiss his helicopter.

"Hey-That's My Fountain Pen"

White Collar Worker Now The Pore Relative In U.S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—Uncle Sam's most neglected nephew today is the white collar man.

In the midst of a still-booming national prosperity that is either post-war or pre-war (or perhaps both) the fellow in the frayed white collar is getting mostly crumbs. He eats last.

He is one of the largest classes in America, but who cares what happens to him except himself? He is the forgotten man of politics. A politician may wag his tail to get organized labor's vote, sit up and beg for the organized farm vote, or wrap himself in the flag to win the organized veterans' vote.

But how long has it been since you remember a statesman rearing up, in Congress and announcing: "Well, boys, let's roll out a big pork barrel and help that pore-Hill feller with the dirty white collar?" Somehow there is no lobby in Washington for him, and without a lobby to make noise for him he doesn't get to dip much gravy.

It is said that statistics can be used to prove anything. But no one yet has come up with any statistics to show the white collar man is doing as well as other segments of the population. The figures show that, in terms of income rise, he is falling behind.

This has brought a decline in the prestige of the white collar class, which formerly prided itself on the fact that it rubbed up against wealth but now is learning to its vast sorrow that very little of that wealth rubs off on it.

The skilled worker a generation ago often disliked the white collar man and regarded him as a snob. Now he feels the gent with the pale throat harness is not only a snob—but a poor snob at that, and envies him not at all. He rather feels sorry for him.

The social gulf that difference in attire once made between them has been more than wiped out by the difference in pay, which now sharply favors the guy in the stylish blue overalls.

The plumber, the bricklayer, the machinist used to be a renter and a lunchbox carrier. Today he owns his own home, his own car, and lunches in a restaurant whenever the mood seizes him. Who now goes to his job toting a cheese sandwich and an apple in a paper bag? Thousands and thousands of white collar workers. And they go home to a small parlor, bedroom and kitchenette.

Who can better afford to take his misadventure now and then for a little night clubbing? The guy in the overalls. But after he dolls up for the evening you can't tell him from a millionaire. The office clerk, bookkeeper, or bank teller, however, not only lacks the folding green to pick up a night club but he has to stay home so his shirt is still clean enough to wear another day.

A cab driver I rode with the other day summed up the problem of the white collar worker:

"I worked in an office for years and finally got up to $60 a week. But my wife and I and the kid were starving on that. Then I took to hacking. Now I get fresh air and feel healthier. I can get by on the job with a sports shirt and an old pair of slacks. I work longer hours, but it's a bad week I don't bring home $85 or better.

"I say to hell with white collar jobs. I'd rather support my wife than a laundry."

HST Whistlestop In New York Is Set

NEW YORK (AP)—President Truman's whistle-stop tour in New York in behalf of Democratic candidate Adlai E. Stevenson will take him through the heart of the Empire State in a two-day, 12-speech trip.

Details of the president's New York visit Oct. 9-10 were announced today by Peter Crotty, campaign director of the Democratic State Committee.

Truman's schedule calls for speeches and appearances from the rear platform of his special train in key cities from Buffalo to New York. A major address is scheduled at a rally in Buffalo.

Electronic Elevators Are Aid To People Living A Fast Life

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

People are living so fast these days that even high speed elevators in business buildings are having trouble keeping up with the world.

This condition has prompted development of an elevator that doesn't require the services of a human operator. According to reports the new machines are "electronically scheduled" to shave precious seconds from their up and down jaunts.

The conventional self-service elevators, which have been in use for a number of years, must appear as horse and buggy day relics in comparison to these new models.

They never stop anywhere very long, but keep going up and down on a regular schedule, even when there are no passengers. When one of the cages fills up, however, the new automatic elevators start delivery immediately, regardless of their pre-set schedule.

The doors on the new lifts are a curiosity within themselves. Nobody can get "squeezed" the makers declare, because electronic tubes "see" anyone standing in the doorway and the doors will slide back wide open until the entrance is clear.

However, even the electronic eye can get downright impatient when an unreasonable slow-poke comes along. It doesn't mind a brief delay of its schedule, but if you maliciously stand in the doorway too long, it will give you the "razzberry" with a warning buzzer. Then if you persist in holding up traffic the electronic tube will send the elevator door creeping up to your blind side to give you a nudge.

This last resort effort usually clears the doorway in short order, the manufacturers say and nobody disputes that claim. —WACIL McNAIR

Eisenhower's Chances Look Poor In Home State Of Gov. Stevenson

WASHINGTON—Ike notes—Despite his intensive campaign, Ike's chances don't look good in Adlai's home state. This is the first time since Abe Lincoln that Illinois has had a chance to put a native son in the White House. GOP chances in Ohio look better since the Taft-Eisenhower breakfast. Dave Ingalls, Taft's cousin and campaign manager, telephoned a Cleveland banker shortly thereafter asking for a sizeable contribution. The banker demurred. "This is a real deal now," argued Ingalls. "The Dewey crowd are not going to be in the picture at all, and we are going to have a big hand in the patronage." . . . Relations between Ike and the press are not too friendly. Though Ike has 75 per cent of the newspapers for him, plus a terrific advance build-up, he and the working press aren't happy with each other.

Adlai's gift of words continues to disturb GOP managers. That was the reason for the gibe at Stevenson's humor. Good ghost-writers are rare, and Ike's strategists have been doing their best to find some, so far with not much luck. . . . Ike's friend and original campaign manager, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, is in trouble in Massachusetts; also the GOP candidate for governor, Congressman Christian Herter. Ike will do his best to bolster them, but it seems doubtful he will carry the state himself. Reason why Senator Taft is so "hot" at Ike's No. 1 strategist, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, is that Adams campaigned all through New Hampshire, calling Taft an isolationist. . . . Dan Tyler, GOP chairman in Massachusetts, is worried over losing the big write-in vote that went for Ike in the primary. These independents are bigger in number than the Democrats or the Republicans. They could be alienated by Ike's swing to the right.

If Stevenson loses in November, part of the fault will lie at the doorstep of his newly picked, naive Democratic national chairman, Stephen Mitchell.

The other day, Bert Gross, crack research expert for the Democrats, turned in his resignation and walked out. Reason: A rule that every piece of research had to cross the chairman's desk before going to the White House or Springfield.

Result was a bottleneck. The overworked Mitchell couldn't pass on the research. Nothing moved.

The same is partly true of the Democratic organization today. Chairman Mitchell has done little about the South, has let the great state of Texas seethe to the verge of a GOP victory, has let Southern California continue as disunited as ever, and until recently had no central Stevenson headquarters in Boston.

The new chairman has been either unfamiliar with these local situations or hasn't been able to delegate authority. Turbulent Texas has left in the hands of Speaker Sam Rayburn, who delayed a Stevenson organization meeting until three weeks after the Shivercrats announced for Eisenhower; also in the hands of Sen. Lyndon Johnson, who is worried over his own re-election that he's thinking more about 1954 than about Stevenson in 1952. In New Mexico, Sen. Dennis Chavez has a secret deal with Republican Gov. Ed Mechem to send Chavez back to the Senate now, then elect Mechem against Sen. Clinton Anderson, Democrat, in 1954. Naturally this doesn't make Anderson anxious to help Chavez now.

These are some of the troublespots a strong Democratic chairman should be ironing out. Mitchell hasn't.

Rumors are like mushrooms. Once they get started they keep on growing. Some time ago the Hollywood Reporter reported that Lady Sylvia Ashley, ex-wife of Douglas Fairbanks and later of Clark Gable, had been "squired around Nassau by Stuart Symington, aide to the governor."

Shortly thereafter the same report appeared in a New York gossip column. Only this time, the item omitted the fact that Stuart Symington was "aide to the governor." There happen to be two Stuart Symingtons: One the former director of the RFC now running for the Senate in Missouri; the other a Britisher and aide to the governor of the Bahamas. He happens to be single.

People, r-adding the New York column, began talking about an impending divorce in the Stuart Symington family—the Missouri Symingtons. Symington happens to be one of the most happily married men in public life, but the rumor kept on spreading.

Eventually the rumor came back to Symington from a friend who asked: "Stuart, what's this story I hear about you and Greta Garbo going around together?"

Another rumor erroneously current is that David Charnay, crack New York public relations man, handled publicity for Gangland Leader Frankie Costello. I came near falling for this rumor myself one time.

However, careful investigation convinces me that Charnay was no such thing. As a newsman he once knew and wrote stories about Costello. But they were critical stories. However, the rumor kept cropping up to such an extent that Charnay was cross-examined by the Kefauver Crime Committee, which could find nothing to substantiate the rumor.

Though prob'd by Kefauver, Charnay harbored no grudge, had an interesting experience at Chicago when Kefauver was running for President.

Charnay was advisor to Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia. And after both Russell and Kefauver were defeated by Stevenson and the top party leaders were sitting in the little room behind the convention rostrum trying to decide who should be vice president, Charnay, who was in the room, urged that they bring Kefauver into the conference.

"The South is going to be terribly important in this campaign," Charnay urged. "Kefauver has put up a great fight. He ought to be consulted."

However, Kefauver was neither offered the vice presidency nor even consulted. Both the President and Speaker Sam Rayburn were too sore.

Nova Scotia Favored By Kings

Nova Scotia is proud to have a flag of its own. The province was the first British colony ever to be granted the right to a flag. This came about because, because of Scottish blood were kings of Great Britain.

King James I was ruler of Scotland before he was named to the British throne. Four years before his death, he granted a charter to Nova Scotia (or New Scotland) and he hoped that an important Scottish colony would grow up there.

Nova Scotia did become important, but only a minor portion of its early settlers were Scottish. The settlers included Frenchmen, Englishmen, and Germans, as well as Scotsmen.

Charles I, the son of King James, granted a coat of arms to Nova Scotia. This contained pictures of a unicorn and an Indian, as well as the thistle emblem of Scotland.

The lower central part of the coat of arms is a shield with a blue cross; the figure of a red lion covers the middle of the cross. This was the base for the flag of Nova Scotia.

Wild flowers blossom in great numbers in many sections of Nova Scotia. Violets, white roses and flowering trees offer pretty sights, but the trailing arbutus seems to be the favorite flower. Often called the Mayflower, the trailing arbutus is an emblem of this province, and also is the state flower of Massachusetts.

Nova Scotia passed the half million mark in population early in the present century. Now it is on its way to the 700,000 mark.

An important event in history was the voyage of the "Royal William" across the Atlantic 119 years ago. Leaving the coast of Nova Scotia on an August day, this vessel was propelled to the British Isles largely by steam.

An American vessel, the "Savannah," had crossed the Atlantic 14 years before, but it used steam power for only 80 hours of the long voyage. During almost nine tenths of the time it was on the sea, it was pushed forward by the wind. For this reason, some persons consider that the Canadian-built "Royal William" should be honored as the first vessel to make a steam crossing of the Atlantic.

WORST YEAR IN HISTORY

Polio Epidemic Is Noted In 21 States

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Polio is grimly marching toward its worst year in the nation's history.

The expectation is at least 50,000 cases this year—far above 1949's record 42,366.

Twenty-one states have epidemic rates. Localized outbreaks flare in towns and counties elsewhere. Eight of the 57 residents of Prue, Okla., have polio.

Some schools in at least nine states have delayed openings. One or two others cancelled football practice. In Lock Haven, Pa., all churches, movies and bars were closed for a time; schools still are shut.

Tragedies compounded in dozens of families. Polio struck 11 of 14 youngsters in one family, all eight in another with one boy dying, six children in another.

In Milwaukee Paul Linneman, 16, complained of shoulder soreness after football practice Saturday, was dead of polio Monday. His 4-year-old sister died the next night.

Polio is claiming more teenagers than young adults, but the bulk of victims still are the 5-12 age group. Los Angeles General Hospital reports at least a dozen healthy babies born to polio-stricken mothers in iron lungs.

March of Dimes aid is flowing out by the millions of dollars to pay bills, to supply iron lungs, to pay for special nurses tending critically ill children and adults.

These are highlights of a national picture of polio, as gathered by an Associated Press survey, and late-minute reports from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and U. S. Public Health Service.

By Sept. 13, the nation had 31,391 cases of polio, as against 28,000 at the same time in the "worst year" of 1949.

The big worry is yet unanswered has polio reached its peak yet this year? Each week, the total of new cases in the week ended Sept. 13.

In 1949, polio reached peak in mid-August with a decline in new cases each week thereafter.

Usually, there are just as many new cases after the peak as there were before. Unless something happens to dampen down the spread, the nation could even have 60,000 cases this year.

It looks as though we must anticipate over 50,000 cases for 1952, says Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, Foundation medical director.

Polio is called epidemic if there are 20 cases per 100,000 population.

On such a statewide basis, these are the 21 epidemic states:

Nebraska, 98 cases per 100,000; Iowa 78; Minnesota 60; South Dakota 52; Kansas 50; Texas 45; New Mexico 43; Kentucky 36; Idaho 34; Wisconsin 32; Oklahoma 32; Michigan 31; Washington 30; Mississippi 25; Louisiana 25; West Virginia 23; Arizona 23; Illinois 23; Montana 22; Ohio 22, and Delaware 21.

The Foundation has already shipped out 1,225 iron lungs—more than during all of 1950 and '51—to all states but three. The Army, Navy and Air Force have sped delivery in emergencies.

Methodists To Be Asked For Funds

DALLAS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Methodists from North, Northwest and Central Texas will be asked to raise about $3,500,000 for various church activities during the next four years, Bishop William C. Martin said yesterday.

The money will be used to make the denomination stronger and "keep pace with the times," Martin said.

Executive committees of the administrative councils of the conferences met this week to discuss the program.
