BUSINESS HOUSES TO CLOSE FOR JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION

VARIED PROGRAM ASSURED

Polo and Horse Races To Provide Best Entertainment

Midland's business section will be closed for July Fourth. Merchants decided this morning to close their doors for the patriotic celebration, and will use their influence to get crowds to the fair grounds for witnessing polo games, matched and special races, or go to other centers of amusement.

Only drug stores, pharmacies, restaurants and a few filling stations will be kept open, it was revealed from a check taken shortly after noon today. These establishments will remain open all day.

Midland is not holding the greatest July Fourth celebration in the history of the city, but has a better balanced program and one more economical to those who attend than has ever been held here, leaders say.

Whereas other cities and towns surrounding Midland within a radius of 100 miles allows free entrance to parks where the celebration is held and then charge admission to all side events, Midland, in comparison, is offering a celebration free in many events.

The program here includes band concerts, free daylight fireworks at the race track, horse racing and polo games. Free shows for visiting women and children at the city theaters, diving and swimming contests at Pagoda pool, modest program of fireworks at the pool, hotel dance, and numerous other events, including golf and airplane rides, swimming and private picnics.

There will be no political speeches on the holiday, and Mayor Ewing Thomason of El Paso has not been able to come here for an address. He had been invited by the chamber of commerce.

Troop 52 Scouts Will Meet Tonight

All Boy Scouts of Troop 52 are called to meet tonight at the office of the Southern Ice and Utilities company. It was announced today by Robert Howe, member of the troop.

The meeting will be held at the regular Scout time, 7 o'clock. A surprise is in store for those attending, Scout Howe said.

Legg Returns From N. E. L. A. Meeting

Aubrey S. Legg, district manager of the Texas Electric Service company, returned last night from San Francisco where he attended the annual convention of the National Electric Light Association.

He was awarded the trip on account of the first place won by his district in a company contest for volume of merchandise sales per customer.

Reeves County Is Active In Leasing

Leasing activity in Reeves County during the past 10 days has been the greatest known in the vicinity of Pecos since the old Bell well days. Majors are buying up big leases, Gulf and Humble being among the biggest buyers. One company paid as high as $3 an acre with a 50-cent rental for a 10-year lease.

Where 3 Died in Collapse

Three men were killed and six hurt when this steel bridge over the Monocacy river on the Washington highway near Frederick, Md. collapsed and hurled workmen and trucks 20 feet into the swollen waters. The men were repairing the structure when a heavy truck drove onto the bridge causing the collapse.

AMARILLO WOMAN BLOWN TO BITS; BOMB IS THEORY

AMARILLO, June 27. (AP)—Mrs. A. D. Payne, wife of the recently withdrawn candidate for district judge, was blown to pieces, and a 14-year old son probably was fatally hurt, when the Payne automobile was destroyed by what police believed to be an internal machine. Pieces of wire and a dry cell battery were found in the wreckage.

Vacation Just Work For Local Banker

The casual visitor who remarks at the softness of Bert Ross' hands while pointing to the nomadic swartheness of his sunburned face is not prepared to be told that Ross is a banker who is getting tanned as he works during his vacation.

Ross is building a new miniature golf course, quite the most difficult as regards handicaps in West Texas. The old adage that refers to chopping one's way out of the rough will probably be heard for the first time on a miniature course, for there are handicaps of every description on that lot behind the hotel near the newspaper office.

Ross goes back to the bank Monday, closing out a period he had solemnly sworn to celebrate by one long, continuous holiday on the golf course, but which he ended by working harder than in the bank, "so that everyone can play," as he expressed it.

Police Chief Shot In Nuevo Laredo

LAREDO, June 27. (AP)—Felipe Flores, Nuevo Laredo police chief, was shot and killed today and Emilio Anton, custom house employe there, was jailed on charges of murder. Anton is reported wounded in the leg.

GOOD OATS YIELD MCKINNEY, Texas. (AP)—The best yield of oats thus far this season in this county was that of Frank Johnson, farmer of Foncine. His 15-acre crop yielded 1,710 bushels, 114 bushels an acre.

ALMADA IS THREATENED BY TROOPS

Governor Returns To Chihuahua City From Juarez

EL PASO, June 27. (AP)—El Continental, Spanish language newspaper here, today said that Governor Francisco Almada of Chihuahua, and Manuel Jesus Estrada, named governor by the Prieto faction, both are attempting to handle the government from the Chihuahua City government palace.

Dispatches said that agrarian forces are taking a suspicious attitude, some favoring each man. There is much excitement on the streets. Federal troops are controlling the situation, but grave fears are expressed.

Agrarian troops from Villa Chautemo, near Chihuahua City, are reported marching on the capital, threatening Almada.

Say Order Restored MEXICO CITY, June 27. (AP)—Government officials today said that Governor Francisco Almada had returned to Chihuahua City and that order prevailed.

Contract Given BY THE CITY FOR DRAINAGE WORK

Contract was let Thursday by the city for furnishing necessary materials, equipment and labor for constructing certain drainage improvements in the city.

The West Texas Construction company was low bidder, with a bid approximating $4,700. The project includes construction of the often-discussed drainage road down Front street to a point in East Midland known as "Borrow pit."

The contract also provides for 2-100 cubic yards of earth excavation and 600 yards of rock excavation. Other approximate quantities were 450 linear feet of 18-inch vitrified pipe, 100 feet of 36-inch and 30-inch corrugated metal pipe, and two double storm sewer inlets.

Seek Recount In Paris Election

PARIS, June 27. (AP)—Alleging that 104 illegal votes were cast in the city election April 1, when Mayor J. Morgan Crook was re-elected by 25 votes, attorneys for the defeated candidates, T. J. Record, today filed a district court suit seeking to recount two boxes.

Endurance Fliers Pass 376 Hours

CHICAGO, June 27. (UP)—Kenneth and John Hunter, on the 15th day of their continuous flight in the "City of Chicago" plane, had been up 376 hours at 8:40 this morning. They are determined to stay up until 5 o'clock Sunday morning and break the endurance record.

Ends Life Before Court Testimony

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, June 27. (UP)—Leroy A. Manchester, chief counsel for the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, in a legal battle over merger with the Bethlehem Steel company, shot and killed himself in his office just before he was due to appear in court.

PLAY CARDS IN CHURCH

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—"I'll take two" and "Til pass" were the words floating from the pulpit of an old church on West Travis near North Santa Rosa avenue, when Station Officer Bert Long stepped through the front door.

Six boys playing cards on the pulpit scooped up the "stakes" and fled through a side window as the officer entered the front door. They fled into the arms of Patrolman L. R. Parks, who was stationed outside in anticipation of such a move.

Five of the boys were lodged in the city jail and one in the county jail after they were taken to the police station. "Gaming with cards" was the charge with which they were booked.

ABILENE TO PLAY MIDLAND POLO ON FOURTH HOLIDAYS

Midland's hard riding polo cowboys will meet the pick of two Abilene mallet clubs here in games over the Fourth of July holidays, it was given out today.

Midland has been working out each afternoon in anticipation of the games and will probably have better mounts than the visitors, although Abilene will probably shade the local boys in teamwork, due to having played day in and out for almost a year.

Later announcements of the game and of the teams to meet here will be made in Sunday's newspaper.

Airmail Contracts May Be Announced

Early announcements of the letting of air mail contracts along the Middle South Atlantic route, on which Midland is located, may be expected, it is believed, following the assurance in Washington that San Angelo is to be given an air mail postoffice.

San Angelo has been promised an air mail postoffice, C. P. Harris, a prominent attorney of that city, who is not infrequently called to sit as an additional judge in special cases, made that statement Thursday in Fort Worth. He was en route home from Washington, D. C., where he had a conference with Postmaster General Brown and the heads of the government air mail service on the matter of placing San Angelo on the air map of the United States.

"The general air mail service condition at Washington is this," Harris continued. "The Government is working out a scheme whereby in the Winter, air mail destined for the Pacific coast, especially the Northwest, is to be carried via a southern route. That is planned to escape delays along the northern and central routes, caused by inclement weather, such as heavy snowstorms or excessive rains and blows. Better time, as a whole, it is figured, can be made by that mail taking a southerly route, via Atlanta, Ga., to New Orleans, across Southern Texas, New Mexico and Arizona to Southern California, and thence up the coast as far as Seattle.

"There is also a plan to establish a mail route from Houston and San Antonio northward to Denver, Colo. It is on this line that I was assured by Washington officials that San Angelo would receive a designation. Just when the postoffice will be established, depends upon how the air mail appropriation holds out. If funds are sufficient, I was told, the office would be established this fall, in time for winter flying. Should money run too low, the designation will be made early next year. I was told positively in either instance we would get an air mail postoffice.

"Junk" Men on Voyage

A Chinese junk. An English crew. And a voyage around the world. That's the strange adventure which began in Hong Kong, China, the other day, as pictured above, the junk "Maskee" set sail for the Philippines. It was to be the first leg of a globe-circling trip undertaken by J. L. Stephenson, the captain (top), S. C. Banks (center) and J. C. Grenham (bottom). They expected to cover 150 miles a day in the antiquated craft, visiting principal sea ports on every continent.

FARMERS STRICKEN ONLY THIRTY-NINE BECAUSE OF CROPS BEATEN BY HAIL COUNTY NOTABLE

About 30 Midland County farmers living south of the city suffered complete destruction of their cotton crops in the hail storm of Wednesday.

It is so late to plant that friends and neighbors have sent out a distress call to help these people replant their cotton.

JUDGE HILL IS HOST

County Judge M. R. Hill was host to about 25 farmers of the stricken community at noon today, at a luncheon. Methods were discussed for handling the difficulty in the best way to resolve order out of conditions. Full co-operation was pledged in aiding the community to get ground planted again.

They need planters, seed, feed and men to run planters, and need them now, T. Elmer Bizzell said today. Bizzell asked all who would help to drive by his farm or stop at the Bizzell store on the Rankin road and there get directions as to where to go.

Among those who suffered destruction of their crops were several widows and many tenant farmers. Among the people who need cotton planting assistance, Bizzell and others say are: Mrs. Hankia and Messrs. Lockler, Oliff, Rayburn, Leonard, Montgomery, Jones, Daugherty Bros., Clark, tenants on the Heatley farm, Countiss, Robertson, Porter, Brunson, Long, Booth, Bartley, Holman, and others.

Speed is what counts now, farmers say. They want men to donate work and machinery to get the cotton seed into the ground Saturday and Monday. The ox is in the ditch and some will likely plant Sunday. Every day lost may mean suffering later. Everybody in the county is asked to help.

DAVIS GETS SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Central West Texas Trials Decided This Morning

BROWNWOOD, June 27. (AP)—The jury gave Joe Shield the death penalty here at 9:40 this morning after deliberating since 11 o'clock last night. Shield was charged with fatally wounding his estranged wife, Mrs. Opal Shield, May 14 at the home of her parents at Brooksmith.

Shield is also under indictment for killing her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shields, at the same time. Shield is 35 years old and an oil field worker. He used the insanity plea at the trial.

Two Days of Testimony More than two days were spent in questioning the large number of witnesses called by both sides, some of whom were eye witnesses to the tragedy while most were life time acquaintances of the defendant and his father, Chas. Shield, who was killed in 1911.

Insanity was the lone defense of Shield and his attorneys delved into the family's history in an effort to prove him an abnormal man, his so-called unbalanced mind being attributed to heredity.

The state called in many doctors who proclaimed Shield sane. State's attorneys, assisted by Gib Calloway, special prosecutor made a determined plea for the death penalty while defense counsel, all appointed by court, pled Shields' insanity. Arguments began before jury at 4 o'clock with each side having three hours to present its case.

Shield, admitted slayer of his wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shields at Brooksmith on May 18 showed very little emotion throughout the trial but was most attentive from the beginning. At only one time when his mother was on the witness stand Wednesday afternoon, did he break down, and that followed a narrative of his father's death in 1911.

Davis Gets 5 Years

EASTLAND, June 27. (AP)—Thomas Davis today was convicted and given a five year suspended sentence on a charge of murder of Lucien Shook in September, 1928. Davis was given the death penalty in the first trial, the appeals court reversing and remanding the case. He is also under indictment for killing Leon Shook at the same time. Clyde Thompson is already under the death penalty in connection with the Shook case. (See SHIELDS CONVICTED page 6)

THE LINDBERGH BABY

King Carol may or may not rule Rumania. The gangsters may play their games of hide-and-go-seek any way they please in Chicago today. Tariff may go or come down. American people aren't watching such things just now.

Lindy has a son! The famous flying eagle has become a father. And more people scanned the front pages to see the color of the Lindbergh heir's eyes than ever watched the stock market play its games of see-saw.

Will Lindy, Jr., look like Anne? Will he have his father's boyish smile? Will he inherit fearlessness and love of adventure? Will Lindy pick him up when he starts to cry or will he be reared in the modern fashion which keeps all hands off?

The questions go buzzing around and around... salesgirls, talking between customers, wonder how Anne will dress her son. Mothers, gossiping over the fence or the telephone, wonder how she will feed him; and men, talking clubs and barber shops and offices, wonder how soon he will fly.

But one thing the whole nation is agreed. The son of Colonel Charles Augustus Lindbergh and Ann Morrow Lindbergh will be reared as simply and wholesomely as any boy has ever been. He will be genuine, through and through, and he will be taught that high honor, fearlessness tempered with carefulness, and a modesty that realizes that one doesn't deserve any special credit for having done one's best, are the most important things in life.

Colonel Lindbergh, symbolical of romance and adventure, has kept his feet on the ground just as surely and firmly as he has kept his head in the clouds. Ann Lindbergh proved she was made from the same splendid stuff.

Both are fine tribute to their nation. It is a pretty safe bet that the Lindberghs' son will be a regular American boy.

OUR MODERN CRUSADERS

Once upon a time a Pied Piper played a magic song and the children of Hamelin town followed him to Paradise. When the door in the hillside opened to receive them there was only one child who did not enter.

Perhaps you will remember that there was a little crippled boy whose crutches wouldn't carry him fast enough in the story-book village. So he went back to a town that was dull and lonely, sobbing a little, as he hobbled over the stones, because the music had told him so plainly that he would be well and strong and gay if only he could hurry.

The International Rotary, celebrating its silver anniversary in Chicago, is endeavoring to answer the pitiful cry of the little cripple who wanted to walk like other boys. This very fact should confute the views of those who say that chivalry is dead, since knights in steel-blue armor no longer ride the windy highways. The practical applications of the philosophy of helpfulness that Rotary, and other service clubs are putting into action today are infinitely more worthwhile than any ancient conquest to find a silver Grail or rout a giant.

The crippled child has been Rotary's special task. This organization is attempting to straighten twisted legs; to make small, thin bodies round and plump.

It is not always possible to make children well again, of course, but the Rotary Clubs and those who are working with them, have learned that one can always open a glorious world of imagination where no one need watch the door of the promised land swing shut. They are endeavoring to give the children whom they serve so many merry, happy things to do that they won't miss the lollipop trees the Pied Piper promised to let them climb, or the singing hills that were made for their crimson hoops.

This new lease on life which the Rotary gives crippled children, aside from its other services, is reason enough for its being. To help a little crippled child realize that there is a place for him in the work fields and the play fields of the world, and to make him strong enough and brave enough to fill it, is a most fitting task for modern crusaders.

New Measurement of Light Speed May Change Distance of Sun, Stars

By DON ROBERTS NEA Service Writer

SANTA ANA, Calif., June 27.—For 50 years Dr. Albert A. Michelson, internationally known scientist, has studied the problem of light and now, at the extensive Irvine ranch near here, he is concluding his most famous achievement—the calculation of light's speed.

In 1926, Dr. Michelson performed the seemingly impossible feat of measuring this speed and arrived at the figure accepted throughout the world—299,796 kilometers a second, or roughly, 186,284 miles a second.

Since all solar distances are computed on the speed of light, one interesting effect of the famous scientist's new researches may be to change the distances of the sun and the stars, as we now know them. For example, the distance of the nearest star (Alpha Centauri) is four and one-half light years, or 25,000,000,000 miles, and thus even the slightest correction in the speed of light might change this distance by many millions of miles. It is even possible that a change of 1000 miles or so might be made in the distance to the sun which is now calculated at 93,000,000 miles.

The present figure of 299,796 kilometers a second, says Dr. Michelson, is not more than 50 kilometers off. Why then, you might ask, does the physicist return to his tests?

First Test "Too Easy" First, he wishes to check his previous results because he thinks they were too simply arrived at—certainly a paradoxical situation! And second—this, too, reveals the passion for truth of the scientific mind—Dr. Michelson was not certain of the distance over which the light beam was measured in its flight.

The tests were conducted by flashing light beams between two mountain peaks near Los Angeles, Mount Wilson and Mount Baldy, 22 miles apart.

Before Dr. Michelson arrived, the U. S. coast and geodetic survey spent weeks in calculating an exact 22 miles, and Dr. Michelson was satisfied with their statement that the measurements were correct.

But when—if ever—the world of science asks "Did you measure the distance yourself?" the doctor will not be able to boast that he did—hence the construction of a $40,000 iron tube one mile long near here and the second test.

Although seemingly a tremendous problem in mathematics, Dr. Michelson asserts there is little of complexity in his experiments.

Uses Mirrors A beam of light races up and down the mile-long vacuum tube. It flashes back and forth on revolving mirrors set inside the tube, making in all five round trips—or 10 miles.

Emerging from the tube it is caught again on the revolving mirror. The mile between his mirrors can be measured with error of less than one-sixteenth of an inch and can be checked with ease.

Prior to Dr. Michelson's earlier research, light speed was measured by the calculated distance of some astral body—such as the sun. Now this procedure is reversed and the distance of stars, planets and such is measured by the light speed formula, which increases accuracy greatly.

"My formula is correct within one part in 200,000, approximately. The previous measure was accurate within about one part in 5,000," explained Dr. Michelson.

These pictures show Dr. Michelson and the middle-long vacuum tube through which a beam of light will be projected in order to check the speed at which light travels. The chart above shows the number of years required for light to travel from the earth to various stars, assuming that light travels at a speed of 186,284 miles a second.

Three Factors Involved "Three factors enter into the observation, the mirrors, the intervals at which the tests are made and the observers. I do not plan to make any of the tests myself, and probably will be directly connected with the experiment only if my assistants get into trouble." Fred Pearson Dr. Michelson's assistant, has been in charge of building the great experimental tube, which is light proof and pumped out to a vacuum. He is assisted by Dr. Francis Pease and A. M. Beebe, of Mount Wilson observatory.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

You Can Prove Almost Anything by the Recent Primary Results, but No One Has Much to be Jubilant About and the Big Political Machines Are As Strong as Ever

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Primary results are used to prove almost anything. The political lessons which various factions and individual analysts have drawn from the dozen or more primary elections this year have often been contradictory and in most such explanations of the results one man's guess as to the significance of the result has been as good as another's. Looking at all the results at once it can be said that the general thing thus far proved is that the big political machines are as strong as ever, that organization support is still the most important factor in politics and that the various states still seem "soft" in their political ways. It is possible to draw the inference that the voters are not thoroughly satisfied with the controlling set-up in Washington, but conclusive demonstration of that theory will have to wait for the congressional election of November.

Dwight Morrow's smashing victory in New Jersey may be reasonably attributed to the facts that New Jersey is still very wet, that the G. O. P. organization which supported him is still very strong and that Morrow has built up great personal prestige. He might have won without any of the three factors, but each contributed importantly to his big majority.

Insurgents Win in West Obviously few Jersey Republicans were sufficiently worried about Hoover's renomination problem to desire to spare him the anxiety created by Morrow as the one man talked of to oppose Hoover in 1932. Many voted for Morrow with the idea that they were giving him a boost toward the presidency. Senator Schall's renomination in Minnesota was an endorsement of the western Republican insurgents, whereas the nomination of Governor Christianson, his opponent and a close friend of White House Secretaries Akerson and Newton, would have been taken as an important victory for the administration. There haven't, however, been any decisive administration defeats or victories in the primaries to date. The White House keeps out of these fights and so avoids grief.

Congressman White's defeat of former Governor Brewster for the Maine senatorial nomination was expected. White had the backing of the conservative state machine, which always wins with the aid of public utilities and other corporations. Brewster only had personal popularity and a good record as governor.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina would not have been licked by Josiah Bailey in the Democratic primary if he had not alienated nearly every working politician in his state by bolting Al Smith in 1928. Simmons had created a strong machine, but it turned on him and destroyed him after he had deserted his party. There was no popular uprising against Simmons. Neither

Midland's big men of commerce, banking and industry who have been playing golf for their health, should consider the statement of a noted scientist and health expert who said the other day that golf is injurious to health. A business man goes to the links after a hard day, and instead of rest and peaceful quiet, he gets into hot competition; gets his nerves keyed to a high pitch, slices a drive into the rough, gets mad, runs up his blood pressure and almost boils over. If he does this before working hours, worse than ever. And yet, a bunch of folks around here have been thinking that from 9 to 27 holes of golf every Sunday morning was the very thing to put one in the proper frame of mind for church or Sunday school. Maybe what they mean is that you need to go to church and Sunday school after 9 to 27 holes, about 50 per cent of which is slicing.

Two crack golfers sliced their drives the other day and went to look for the balls. They searched for half an hour without success. Finally, a timid-but interested old lady who was watching the game said, "I don't want to bother you gentlemen, but would it be cheating if I told you where they are?"

Frank Cowden, after getting kicked on the knee in the branding pen Wednesday, played drop the handkerchief at the picnic last night. Amputation of the limb may be necessary.

Jay Floyd, in an effort to get the Abilene polo team here, which he finally got, went down and played with the boys there. Every now and then he would let them slip one by him, and when they got through, the Abilene boys felt lucky and decided to come to Midland.

Jay surely had them kidded, because he's a regular Jak Oakie at polo. Next thing you know he will be playing a role like the Social Lion.

They're Favorite Shades of Fiery-Haired Clara Bow; She Likes Coral Tones, Too

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ninon tells today how Clara Bow chooses colors that best complement her famous red hair. This is the fourth article in a series on "Your Beauty Colors" which have been written for The Reporter-Telegram and NEA Service.

By NINON Written for NEA Service Beauty brings women fame, wealth, love. But often color has the magic power to bring women beauty!

A drab looking woman may become a fascinating pale enigma, when brushed over by the magic of the right colors in her make-up, her clothes, the rooms in which she lives.

Likewise, a very pretty red-haired person can become vibrant, dynamic, dangerous when just the right tones live her, catch and emphasize that fiery beauty that is hers.

If you have red hair, take a lesson or two from the famous Clara Bow, Clara has gorgeous red hair. Her eyes are brown and very large and she emphasizes this by touching up her eyebrows and lashes just the least unnoticeable bit.

THIS WOMAN IN 4 WEEKS LOST 19 POUNDS OF FAT

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America. "Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper and decided to try Kruschen Salts. I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce. I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 pounds and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity. I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends, in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts. "May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince any one." A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at Maves-Young drug store or any drugist in America. -Adv.

Devotional Reading—Isa. 26:1-9

In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah; We have a strong city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee.

Trust ye in the Lord for ever; for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength.

For he bringeth down them that dwell high; the lofty city, he layeth it low; he layeth it low, even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the dust.

The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.

The way of the just is uprighteness: thou, most upright, dost weigh the path of the just.

Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I see thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 29. The Meaning of Christian Discipleship. Devotional Reading—Isa. 26:1-9.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of The Congregationalist

The title of this lesson is apt and comprehensive in summing up the significance of the thirteen lessons, including this one, which have constituted the study of the past quarter.

These studies began with the latter stage in the life and ministry of Jesus, when the law of the cross was becoming emphasized in his teaching, and the shadow of the cross was beginning to fall very directly upon his earthly way. In these lessons the tenderness and beauty of the Christ life are strongly emphasized. In our second lesson we have the picture of Jesus rebuking those who would dismiss the little children, and taking these little ones up in his arms and blessing them, reminding his disciples that of such is the Kingdom of Heaven. The third lesson of the quarter broke in upon the continuity of the lessons to provide for Easter Sunday—a lesson on the reality of the Resurrection, but this in a sense, has been the supreme theme of all the quarter's lessons.

A Stupendous Symbol The lessons fortunately have emphasized the Resurrection not merely as a miraculous event, but as the symbol of a new spiritual life, a life characterized by supreme devotion of truth and righteousness in which all one's faculties and possessions come under the dominance of a new law of love and in which Christ's standard of greatness becomes the standard and ideal for the individual follower of the Master.

The portrayal of Christ as king emphasizes the inwardness and power of his rule over the lives of those who would give themselves to him in love and service, and from this conception of the Christ life we have turned in our study to its application in the realm of good citizenship and in practical experience in the life of today.

The lessons of Christian preparedness and of faithfulness in the stewardship of life have been emphasized in parables. In the closing lessons of the quarter we have come to the tragic experiences of Gethsemane and Calvary which bring us not only into the holy of holies but into that realm where we are face to face with the supreme salvation that Jesus has brought to men through his suffering and death.

It is fitting that such a series of lessons have ended in a study of our own obligation and in what constitutes the glory of the Christian religion; namely, the fact that man is made at one with God in God's purpose of redemption, and in the proclamation and living of the Gospel in accordance with the great commission of the Master his presence and his power are forever assured.

Every Man's Opportunity The magnitude and sweep of such lessons as these ought to bring into our lives a touch of the sublime. The lowliest Christian may live through Christ in a world of glory with the horizon of his life as broad as the universe and the height of his aspiration reaching to the very throne of God.

As the prophet looked out upon a world of unrealized visions, so may not we in our age take heart?

Ty Cobb, Man O' War, Thorpe? How About Cnamp Bobby Jones?

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER,
NEA Service Sports Editor.

When the boys start talking about the greats of other days, Thorpe and Cobb and Man o' War and Iron Man Joe McGinnity, and how their deeds outshaded the puny feats of our modern athletes, you only have to say two words to make them made at you. The two words are: Bobby Jones.

You can win your argument on modern prowess as compared to valiant deeds of old every time if you will hitch your wagon to Jones. He is the Frank Gotch, Barney Oldfield, Pudge Heffelfinger and Old Jake Schaefer of the links. Tie that! Jones is coming home now, with the British Open and British Amateur championships won fairly, in fights to the finish with no fouls. No American has done this before. The British bookmakers who refused to take bets on Jones on the ground that he was a kind of ghost saved themselves a whole lot of money.

He is about to go after two more great prizes he has won before, the National Open and National Amateur. He enters both events a favorite to win. And they call the game of golf the most uncertain sport in the world!

Bobby Jones' father, of the law firm of Jones, Ewins, Powers and Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., calls him Rob. But that name could be improved upon, I think, by the addition of two more letters. Robot might be the better name. And it is not a name that Jones would dislike, as he takes no displeasure in being called the mechanical man of the fairways.

In writing of Jones, there is little new to say. Perfection is just that, and it is hard to ballyhoo. Jones' deeds have spoken actual facts. There is little left to the imagination.

Here is something about Jones, however, that I think is interesting. Here is a man who honestly tries to be an amateur. During the past winter he did not have a golf club in his hands. Every morning at nine he would enter the offices of the law firm on the 13th floor of the Trust Co. Building in Atlanta, and every evening at five or thereabouts he would emerge, with a day of legal matters under his belt, or pardon us, under his hat.

He could leave law, enter the game as a professional and roll up what a prizefighter's manager would call "plenty of bucks" within a few years' time. He is 29 now—by the time he was 35 he could be independently wealthy, and could play his beloved golf the live-long day. But he has chosen differently. The world's greatest golfer is a lawyer, perhaps not as yet the greatest lawyer even in Atlanta, but a young lawyer, "trying to get along."

He is the Robot of the fairways, but he is also a young man with a great big heart. He is distant and cool toward the crowds in a golf tournament, but this must not be taken as an indication that there is anything "high-hatted" about him. With his friends and the people he knows and likes he is convivial and humorous, with all the hospitality of the traditional Southern gentleman.

In his impetuous younger days, Bobby Jones often broke a stick when his art went awry. He doesn't break a great many sticks now; philosophy has somewhat mellowed his temper.

But he still burns up when a shot goes wrong, and his shots still do go wrong, now and then. That is, after all, one of the things about Bobby Jones that endears him to the world. He still can get mad when he's off his game. He's still one of us.

"Scenic Mountain" Day In Big Spring

BIG SPRING, June 27. (AP)—Thursday, June 26, was set by the Mayor as "Scenic Mountain" day when the road leading around the Scenic mountain was finished. This work has been done by public subscription and day labor. The mountain towers the city by 600 feet and was donated to the state for a park during the Neff administration. The road improvement was sponsored by the civic committee of the chamber of commerce and supervised by B. F. Robbins, chairman of the committee. This is an attractive spot for the tourists passing through Big Spring as the surrounding territory can be seen for miles from this point.

Bus Through Here Transcontinental

The new trans-continental, all-weather bus route, recently put into operation by the Southwestern Transportation company, a subsidiary of the Cotton Belt railway, between St. Louis and Los Angeles through Midland and West Texas, is proving one of the most popular of the routes across the country, according to C. B. DeBerry, general passenger agent with offices in Texarkana.

"The new line, which operates the best available equipment, is open the year around," DeBerry said. "While the northern routes are tied up during the winter months, the route through West Texas is open and the country through which it passes is unsurpassed anywhere."

The new route was put into operation on June 1. Ten 33 reclining chaircoaches, costing $10,000 each, operate over the line. They are equipped with overhead baggage racks, individual light and curtains so that each seat may be made into a sleeping compartment. Late equipment includes several 40-passenger busses.

Powered with 150 horsepower motors, these busses complete their runs in record time, DeBerry pointed out. The busses are here at 8 a. m. and 8 p. m.

At present, approximately 3,500 mile of line are being operated by the company. Connections with New York and all eastern points can be made at St. Louis. Western seaboard cities may be reached by connections from Los Angeles.

Fares over the lines operated by the company have been reduced to a minimum, DeBerry said. Vacation trips, to be completed over the lines of the company and its connections, can be arranged by writing the agency in Texarkana. All points of the United States may be reached. A freight service is operated to all Southwestern points.

"The line's object is to provide a year-around trans-continental service equal to that in any section," DeBerry concluded.

SUPPORT THROWN INTO RANKS OF CLINT C. SMALL

STEPHENVILLE, June 27.—Senator Carl Hardin of Stephenville, veteran member of the state senate, Thursday night threw his support to the candidacy of Clint C. Small for governor.

In his speech introducing Senator Small to the rally in the district courtroom here, Hardin praised the candidate from Wellington as the man destined to serve the people as chief executive of Texas. He expressed the opinion that the Panhandle and a great portion of South and West Texas would vote for Clint Small almost solidly.

"This vote alone should put him in the runoff," Hardin said.

Senator Small received a genuine old time political welcome to Stephenville. He was met in Dublin, 14 miles away, with a brass band and he was escorted to this town with a caravan of cars filled with many of his supporters. In the courtroom from which he delivered his address was a radio microphone which carried the program over the air through station WBAP. The meeting was presided over by District Judge Sam M. Russell.

The meeting tonight marked the first time Senator Small has used the radio since the opening of his campaign for governor. Between now and election day a series of radio talks have been arranged for by friends of the candidate, it was announced.

39 Unemployed--

cities reported 5,235 unemployed or 2.2 per cent of the population.

In Texas 91 counties reported 23,937 unemployed or 1.1 per cent of the population while two cities showed unemployment of 6,951,000 or 2.5 per cent.

The highest per cent of unemployment according to the population was for the portion of Chicago surveyed. Out of an area of 1,252,703 population unemployed numbered 53,276 or 4.3 per cent.

Vivid, Intriguing Life Of Don Juan King Is Coming!

In his hectic career of flaming romance he has had two wives and one mistress, each of whom has been among the most beautiful in Europe.

He was baffled in his first love affair with a pretty commoner, bored with his second marriage to a royal princess whom he never loved and, apparently, disappointed with his third romance in which he eloped with a charming mistress and renounced a crown.

Such is the colorful story of "The Prodigal King," Carol II of Rumania, now a prominent figure in the world's news since his recent dramatic return to his native country to recover the throne that he once tossed away for the embrace of a beautiful courtesan.

It isn't the plot of a gay operetta . . . it isn't a movie scenario from Hollywood . . . it's Balkan history.

As such Balkan history as was the ill-starred morganatic romance of his father, King Ferdinand, with the beautiful Mlle. Helene Vacaresco, the queen's lady-in-waiting, a generation ago . . . as much as the strange friendship that existed for years between Carol's mother, Queen Marie—a granddaughter of Victoria—and the mysterious Prince Babu Stirbey, a "court favorite" whom Carol promptly ousted on his return.

The live and loves of this dashing young man, now king of Rumania's 17,000,000 subjects by virtue of having taken the crown from his nine-year-old son, King Michael, who inherited it during Carol's self-imposed exile for love, combine to form one of the most absorbing romances ever written for newspaper publication.

Using facts instead of fiction, personages instead of characters, Minott Saunders, manager of NEA Service's Paris bureau and long familiar with the romantic escapades of the new king, has written an outstanding series of six stories on this gay royal playboy.

This intriguing series will be published in The Reporter-Telegram, beginning June 30. Watch for it. You will like it.

OIL INDUSTRY IS DUE FOR A GREAT CHANGE IN FUTURE

Today, the oil industry, with assets conservatively estimated at eleven billion dollars, is facing expenditures that, within the next five years, will probably aggregate two billion dollars.

This staggering sum will be used to "readjust" the industry to stupendous changes that have been quietly at work, some of them for years, but that today stand as the most vital factors in the industry's future.

In the next five years Utilization, the transportation of gasoline by pipe lines, and hydrogenation will have "made over" the entire oil industry. At a cost to the industry of probably two billion dollars these three great lines of evolution will save the industry untold millions of dollars.

Utilization, or the retarded and orderly development of new oil fields by "pooling" the interests of the different companies and holding production of crude oil to the requirements of the market, will save tens of millions of dollars in the drilling up of new oil fields.

A barrel of gasoline is worth about two and half times as much as a barrel of crude oil and will travel through a pipe line several times as fast as crude oil. In the next five years hundreds of millions of dollars will be poured into pipe line systems to transport gasoline—and the public is going to wonder why this wasn't done years ago.

The old-fashioned refinery with its skimming process recovered about twenty per cent gasoline from the average barrel of crude. Then came the cracking process, widely used for the last ten years, and that increased the total recovery of gasoline to about fifty per cent.

Now comes the hydrogenation process that will turn a barrel of almost any kind of crude oil into a barrel of gasoline. Hydrogenation-process refineries will quickly force all other types of refineries to re-adjust their equipment and line of products to a basis that will enable them to survive in the terrific competition that will follow the general use of hydrogenation.

The startling fact in connection with the hydrogenation process is, that when the time arrives that half of all the crude oil run to refinery stills in the United States goes through Hydrogenation plants (estimated to be about the year of 1934) it will require much less crude oil than was run to stills in the year 1929.

Every year hundreds of millions of dollars will be saved in the drilling up of new oil fields—tens of millions will be saved in the cost of transporting gasoline—and hundreds of millions of barrels of crude oil will be saved because of the big reduction in the amount needed for refining.

For five years the world "conservation" has been coupled with the oil industry in a somewhat accusing way—as though the industry were guilty of wastefulness in nearly every department. But out of it all emerges these three definite proofs of conservation of the highest type—stupendous in cost to the oil industry—and stupendous in saving.

HERE'S A NEW REASON FOR BECOMING AN ACTOR

Losing every cent you ever saved at roulette in Monte Carlo is one way of entering the stage and it served as the reason for Paul Cavanaugh's being an extremely popular young leading man today instead of a lawyer at Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. In Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's brilliant comedy of marriage and divorce, "Strictly Unconventional," now showing at the Yucca Theatre, Cavanaugh has an important role as the man who runs away with someone else's wife.

The Canada goose mates for life, and, barring misfortune, lives to 100 years old.
