Dave Marr was the recipient of the Bob Stovall Memorial Award at the Muleshoe Area Industrial Foundation's annual meeting Tuesday night. In making the presentation, Duane Lloyd, president, said, "After the death of Bob Stovall we created this special award in his memory. He strived to make Muleshoe a better place to live and work and touched many of our lives in many ways. The recipient of this award donates many hours in many ways. He is spirited and dedicated to Economical Development."

Getting underway at 7 p.m. in O's Restaurant, guests were registered by the Leadership Muleshoe Group.

The tables were decorated with tulips, which were used as door prizes at the end of the banquet, and "Tulip" suckers made by the Alvarado High School FHA Chapter, whose sponsor is Sharla Henry Bruns. Darlene Henry decorated for the banquet.

Lloyd called the meeting to order and Jay Messenger gave the invocation. The pledge was led by Kenneth Henry.

Special guests, Mayor Robert Montgomery, City Councilman Juan Chavez, Bailey County Judge Marilyn Cox, Commissioners Butch Vandiver and C.E. Grant, Chief of Police Wayne Holmes, Chamber of Commerce manager Jack Wilson, Richard Edwards and the media, Magann Rennels, Channel 6, and Larry Hall, from the Journals, were welcomed.

Ronald Ashford, secretary/treasurer, gave the financial report. Lloyd reported on the projects the Industrial Foundation had worked on and stated that although they were disappointed that Muleshoe didn't get a prison, they were successful in getting High Plains Agro Industry (Old Galante). They will be opening up this year, according to Lloyd.

"We have been working with local people on some projects. We still have things on the drawing board. We are watching to see what effect the Western Free Trade Act is going to have and what effect the land coming out of the farm programs will have. We supported the one half cent sales tax proposal. It will take two or three years to be beneficial to the community," Lloyd continued.

Retiring plaques were presented to Kenneth Henry and Jay Messenger.

An election was held with several names being placed on the ballot. Messenger and Henry were re-elected to serve three years terms. Election judges were Jack Wilson, R.A. Bradley, and Mike McDearmon

The board of trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District met Monday night, February 8 in the Administration Building, Cindy Purdy, president called the meeting to order.

Curtis Shelburne gave the invocation and the minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

Robert Montgomery, Mayor of Muleshoe, met with the board and read a proclamation proclaiming February as School Board Recognition Month in Muleshoe.

The proclamation read as follows:

Public education in this nation is a beacon to the world in its commitment to meeting the needs of all its children without regard to race, wealth, or disability.

An excellent public education system is vital to the quality of life of all Texas citizens and communities and is basic to the future economic strength of our country.

More than 7,000 men and women serve their Texas communities on school boards and continually strive to improve the quality of education in the state's school districts.

The local board of education is a uniquely American institution that has made the public schools both flexible and responsive to the needs of local communities, the state, and the nation, while keeping alive the fundamental ideal of representative government.

School board members give of their vision, knowledge, leadership, and time, with no expectation of salary, working purely for the common good.

All Texans should recognize and appreciate the many contributions made by our locally elected school board members and support them as they approach the difficult task of educating tomorrow's generations.

Therefore, I, Robert Montgomery, Mayor of the City of Muleshoe, Texas, do hereby proclaim the month of February, 1993, as:

SCHOOL BOARD RECOGNITION MONTH in Muleshoe, Texas and urge the appropriate recognition thereof.

A trustee election for electing trustees in Districts Two, Three, and Five has been called for May 1. This is the positions Cindy Purdy, Max King and Frank Saldania presently hold.

County Needs Four-Eight Inches Of Water For Planting

Bailey County producers within the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 need four to eight inches of water from precipitation and/or irrigation to bring the five-foot root zone soil profile to field capacity before 1993 spring planting, according to soil moisture survey data released by the Water District and the USDA-Soil Conservation Service (USDA-SCS).

"The soil moisture sites in the northern portion of the District, including Bailey County, were read in early December. The soil moisture deficits may not be as much due to snow, rain and ice that have fallen since the survey was completed," says Wilfred E. "Willie" Crenwelge, USDA-SCS Soil Scientist.

Crenwelge adds that there are several factors accounting for the moisture deficits in the three and four foot layers of the soil profile.

"Excellent pre-plant soil moisture conditions reduced the need for irrigation during the 1992 growing season. The crop roots extracted moisture from the three and four-foot soil layers as they normally would. The Fall season was drier than normal, and as a result, the soil moisture in these layers was not replenished," he says.

The annual soil moisture survey data helps inform irrigators about general soil moisture and availability conditions across the 15-county Water District service area.

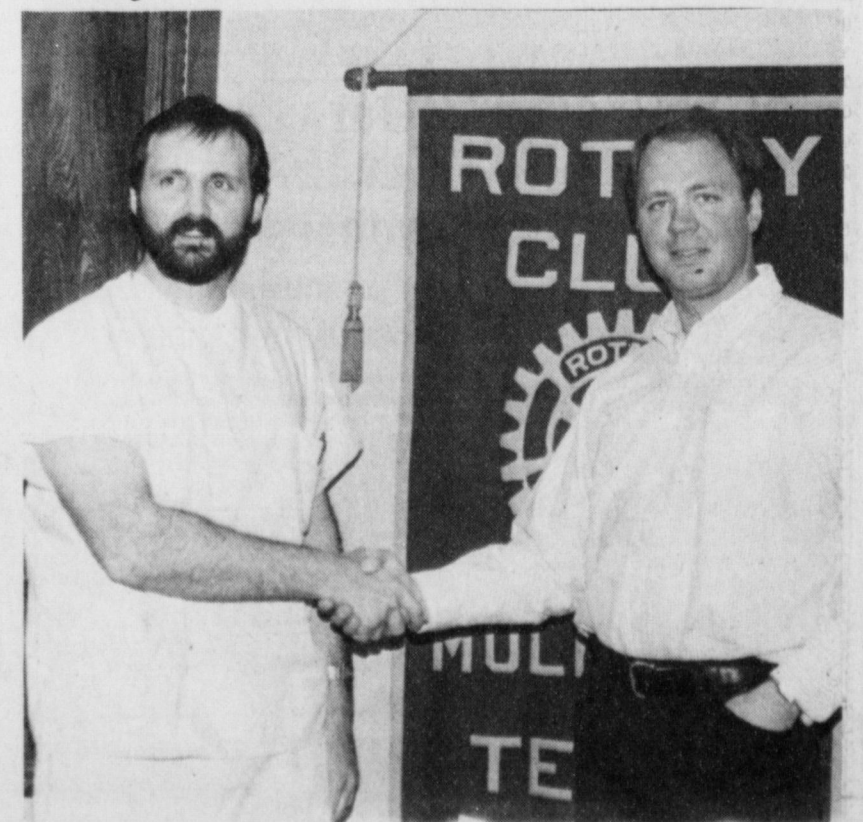

"Irrigators can use this information to estimate the amount of water needed during pre-plant irrigation to bring their soil to field capacity without over-irrigating or under-irrigating. However, producers should remember that these are guidelines which should Cont. Page 6, Col. 6

Dear Members of MISD School Board:

The members of Texas Classroom Teachers' Association and the Texas State Teachers' Association appreciate your leadership role in the Muleshoe school system. We realize that if our schools are to be effective in the task of educating our children, we must rely on strong leaders. As members of the Muleshoe school board, you offer the guidance we need.

Your concern for students, teachers, and administrators is evident in a variety of ways. We find you to be open to new ideas for the enhancement of education. You have allowed the staff of the Muleshoe schools to try innovative approaches to learning; you have approved new courses of study; you have granted professional leave for teachers to attend workshops to improve our skills. We know that you will back our staff in areas of discipline and will help us maintain a safe, pleasant learning environment.

As you have carefully screened and chosen a strong administrative staff, you have provided positive role models for teachers and students. Your selection of Bill Moore as superintendent provided the impetus for continued growth and innovative techniques. He, in turn, has recommended and you have approved a dynamic administrative staff.

Thank you for careful attention to the individual and corporate needs of Muleshoe Independent School District.

Sincerely yours,

Young Lawyers Mentorship Program Reaches More Than 3,000 Students

There are many discouraging facts about the status of children and education in America today. In addition to learning reading, writing, and arithmetic, students face situations such as abuse and teenage pregnancy. It has been estimated that 135,000 children take guns to school daily. The Texas Young Lawyers Association of the State Bar of Texas is arming at-risk students with a different kind of weapon—knowledge.

TYLA's Texas Star Mentorship program provides role-models for at-risk ninth and tenth graders. The program allows lawyers and other professionals to reach out to Texas high schoolers from disadvantaged backgrounds. The mentoring sessions help students learn to set goals and realize their potential.

"The outlook for children and education in America looks bleak. As community leaders, lawyers can use their skills and personal efforts to provide children with educational and social opportunity," said TYLA president Steve Martin of Austin. "TYLA has traditionally emphasized young people and education in a variety of its projects."

The project began last fall and will reach more than 3,000 students statewide by its end, this spring. School districts from 16 metropolitan and rural areas participated in the project. "To my knowledge, Texas Star is the largest coordinated effort at mentoring the biggest number of students," said Austin attorney Jeff Rusk who chairs the project. "The Board Appreciation Month in Texas. The Muleshoe chapters of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association and the Texas State Teachers Association wanted to express their appreciation for the support and leadership of the Board of Trustees in securing a quality education environment for teachers and students of MISD.

Members from TCTA and TSTA provided a light meal for the trustees at the February 8 school board meeting and also presented president Cindy Purdy with a letter highlighting some of the ways the board has worked to better the school system.

mentoring sessions run an average of four to six weeks and have allowed us to provide a large number of students with a glimpse of what their futures can be."

The responsibilities of mentorship were not taken lightly by TYLA. Mentor kits were created and distributed to professionals participating in the program. The kits include suggested discussion topics, commonly asked questions, tips on dealing with uncomfortable or volatile situations and form letters.

"The biggest challenge I faced as a mentor was breaking the ice. I had to draw the kids out, but once they opened up they had a good time. Many of the students I mentored come from poor socio-economic backgrounds and I think this opened their eyes to opportunities they didn't know existed," said stockbroker Tomas Esteban who was a mentor at Pace High School in Brownsville.

"I really enjoy watching the students' goals change as they learned about the number of different career opportunities within a profession. On one field trip to a hospital, students realized there was more to the medical profession than just being a doctor. They go close-up looks at other professionals such as lab and x-ray technicians, and emergency room personnel," said Rusk who mentored at Georgetown High School, Georgetown.

The program has been praised in reviews. "I've received numerous positive comments from both students and parents. TYLA's efforts to make the program both fun and educational were obviously successful," said a Central Texas high school principal.

"It's interesting seeing what different people do. Before this program I hadn't really thought about doing anything. I hadn't thought about my goals," said one Central Texas student.

Making The Difference In Coping With Arthritis

For family members of the 37 million Americans affected by arthritis, one important challenge is finding ways to live as enjoyable a life as possible, despite arthritis, reports the Arthritis Foundation.

According to the Arthritis Foundation, you can do many things to help cope with the impact of arthritis in your family. These include:

* Learning about arthritis—find out all you can about the disease that has become a part of your life.

* Accepting new realities—you may have to alter your habits and standards. But, being realistic about what is possible will reduce tension.

* Adjust relationships—in order to make the difference in each other's lives, be patient and supportive of each other.

* Make adjustments in household routines—families often find that in order to manage arthritis properly, they need to create new ways of doing things.

* Be flexible—learn to make short-term plans for outings, trips, and other special events. Create back-up plans in case your family member isn't feeling well enough to take part.

* Communicate effectively—it helps to know how to talk with one another. You should talk with rather than to a person, use "I" instead of "you" statements and be an active listener.

* Use community resources—many resources are available to families of people with arthritis. These include social workers/counselors, members of your health-care team and your local Arthritis Foundation chapter.

"Your family can lead a full and rewarding life, despite arthritis", said Kara Stuller, Branch Director of the Northwest Texas Chapter. According to Ms. Stuller, you should learn to be courageous and experience your feelings, whether they be of anger, sadness, or grief. Ms. Stuller says you then should move beyond the unfairness of arthritis and focus on positive challenges in coping with the disease.

For more information or to request a copy of the brochure, the Family, contact the Arthritis Foundation, Northwest Texas Chapter at (806) 795-0931.

The Arthritis Foundation is the source of help and hope for an estimated 37 million Americans who have arthritis.

Enlightening Tips

There are many old proverbs and sayings that we just take for granted, but if we stop and think about them, we find the truth that lies within the words.

Being an artist at heart, and exploring the arts into depth as I am, I tend to be opening my eyes to many quandaries that I had never acknowledged before.

Beauty comes from within. Have you ever thought about it?

The beauty of a shimmering rose basking in the dewy sunlit morning. The beauty comes from within and embellishes every little petal as it opens its face to the world.

A tiny little butterfly dancing around on the petals of the fragrant rose. Fragile and beautiful, fluttering harmlessly in the warm morning breeze, came from within the ugly cocoon.

Words brushed upon my ear, coming from within the innermost being of a soul. Words that warm and brighten; transcend past the outer fragments of my imagination to fill my heart and mind.

The raging sea, frothing at the lips of the waves, holding an array of beautiful rhythm as they flounce upon the shore.

The arpeggio of the floutist as the harmonious melody of a beautiful song flourishes from within.

Beauty: the inherent quality of something causing a pleasing state to the eye, ear, or the mind. It doesn't necessarily have to be pleasant on the outside to hold the beauty within.

Parenting Tips

...from your friends at De Shazo Elementary.

Teach your child to prepare healthy snacks.

From 101 Ways Parents Can Help Students Achieve.

Microwave Tips

One can microwave steaks in a browning dish but if a grill is available it's the better choice.

That's because the grill is simpler. But if there's no grill, fit the steak into a browning dish, pre-heated for about 8 minutes. Remove all bits of fat on dish and after browning first side, remove juices with spoon.

Each side of a typical T-Bone will require 2 or 3 minutes and will brown better if brushed with butter. The grill will take only about six or eight minutes more.

Beliefs Can Adversely Effect Life

Some people believe, deep down, that their needs are never going to be met if they have to depend on others. They have felt rejected and disappointed in others in the past. They develop an attitude of survival where they become manipulative. There is little confidence in others. They also may have feelings of resentment and have a fear of rejection. They want to be cared for without expressing needs. This way they do not feel as rejected. A person with this belief may want you to guess what they need and might think "if you really love me you will be able to guess and meet my needs." That's a tough thing to do. There will be emotional distance in this type of relationship.

Another belief some people have is that "sex is my most important need". The results are that everything is sexualized. They see support, care, affection, etc. in a sexual sort of way. There is usually a preoccupation with sex. Emotional involvement is avoided which may affect the spouse's response to them. It, also, could lead to inappropriate sexual behavior with others.

Loving Someone Too Much Can Kill

Flames of fire can be put out by a blanket, dirt, water, chemical, etc.-some type of smothering. The flames of love can be extinguished by smothering, also. Smothering takes place when you:

1. believe you're the only one that can meet another's needs. Everyone needs involvement with more than one person to have needs met. We have too many for one person to meet.
2. spend all of you time with one person. When you're especially close to a person, it's natural to like being with them, but it's healthy to have some time apart, even for a few hours or a day or two.
3. do not want a person to have a good time apart from yourself. The fact is enjoyment of others can enhance their enjoyment of you.
4. question every thought, word or action. This comes from insecurity in oneself and the relationship.

There are other behaviors that smother. Smothering causes a person to feel dominated: like they have no freedom; unable to breathe emotionally and controlled.

If you're "smothering" someone they get to a point when they come up for air in order to survive and grow for themselves. It's best to allow your partner to have interests, hobbies and opinions different from yours. They'll feel alive.

Rich And Creamy Pasta In Parsley Nut Sauce

- 1 pound pasta
- 1 large shallot, finely chopped
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2-3 cloves of garlic, shoot removed and finely chopped
- 1 1/2 cups red pepper, julienned
- 1/2 bunch broccoli, stalk peeled and cut into bite-sized
- 1/4 pound pea pods, ends and strings removed
- 5 1/2 ounces freshly grated part skim milk Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons chopped pecans
- 1 cup fresh parsley, washed and chopped finely
- 1/3 cup Marsala or dry Sherry
- Green part of 1 bunch of green onions, shredded for garnish

Put a large pot of water on to boil for the pasta. Saute shallots in olive oil over moderately low heat until transparent, about 5 minutes. Add garlic and continue to saute 2 to 3 minutes. Add the red pepper and cook gently until tender.

When the pasta water comes to a boil, add the broccoli and pasta finish cooking at the same time (you may need to add the pasta first if it takes more than 5 minutes to cook.) Add the pea pods to the saute pan 5 minutes before pasta is done.

Combine the Parmesan and pecans in the food processor or blender. Add 1 cup of pasta water to the cheese and puree to a smooth consistency. Drain the pasta and toss with the cheese mixture and the parsley. Add the marsala to the saute pan, return to a boil, then pour over the pasta. Garnish with the shredded onion and serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Variation: Omit the red pepper and broccoli and add 2 oil-cured tomatoes, cut julienne, with the shallots. Add 10 ounces washed and drained fresh spinach just before serving.

How do the "experts" make their long-range weather forecasts?

Weather forecasters study a number of things in determining what the weather will be in a particular period.

One of the things they watch closest is the buildup and movements of large polar air masses in the polar regions. These air masses spill over and flow down over Canada and enter the United States. They often bring cold or stormy weather.

Their course can often be predicted. If fewer of these polar air masses are indicated, or if they seem weak, then it is likely that warm air masses will push upward and over the United States—or at least over a southerly part of it.

Taking these calculations under consideration, and other factors, something more than a "guess" can be arrived at, although the "experts" still miss—and weather remains something of a mystery.

IAM REALLOCATION

In 1993, you may once again reallocate your farm IAM (Irrigated Acreage Maximum). When a farm has more than one (1) irrigated crop, and the effective IAM for the crop exceeds the effective Crop Acreage Base (CAB) for the crop, the operator and owners have the right to reallocate the amount of the excess. In any year, the reallocation: (1) cannot cause the receiving IAM to exceed the CAB, (2) Must be completed on CCC-507A and signed by both the operator and owners of the farm, (3) Is final for the year and changes the crop IAM's for the next year. If you intend to reallocate your farm IAM, it must be done by no later than April 30, 1993.

SPOUSE SIGNATURE

Remember that a spouse (Husband or Wife) can sign ASCS documents on behalf of the other without a Power of Attorney on file. If you do not wish for your spouse to have this authority, please provide this office with a written statement to that effect.

SCS COMMENTS- CONSERVATION COMPLIANCE

SCS has helped develop plans on all highly erodible land in Bailey County. These plans call for certain requirements that must be met each year. Example: Windstrips MUST be in place at the proper interval each year. Failure to maintain the strips can result in non-compliance. We will be making conservation compliance checks in March to determine if producers are following their plans and controlling erosion. Producers will be informed by letter if they are being checked and requested to be present when the check is made. SCS can not revise a plan with a producer to get him in compliance after a compliance check is made. You will be reported out of compliance to ASCS and ASCS will determine the penalty. It can result in loss of program benefits on all USDA programs. If you have any questions on your plan dealing with conservation compliance, please feel free to contact the SCS Office in Muleshoe at 105 E. Ave. D. Phone 806-272-5124.

Rotary Hears Presentation On Physical Therapy Program In Muleshoe

Justin Brosack, physical therapist at Muleshoe Area Medical Center, gave a presentation on the therapy program here in Muleshoe. He and his wife, Arlene, are members of the P.T. program at MAMC. The program is growing and is expected to grow even more in the future. Arlene currently travels to Bovina, Lazbuddie, Friona and Farwell caring mostly for children's P.T. cases. Most of the P.T. cases are outpatient referrals from area physicians, concerning back patients (herniated discs, strained ligaments, etc.) hips, knees, and shoulders.

After giving a background on their education and previous experiences, Justin pointed out that the main advantage of the program here is, that patients don't have to travel to Lubbock to receive the physical therapy treatments they require following surgery.

Mark McClanahan, in charge of the program, introduced Justin Brosack as the guest speaker at the Tuesday noon Rotary meeting. David Tipps, opened the meeting and visiting Rotarians, Charles Acott and James Williams, both of Farwell were introduced.

Guests were introduced and the press was given appreciation. School Board Appreciation was given recognition. Following the program, the meeting was dismissed.

Senior Citizens

A nursing home is not necessarily the next step when you're no longer able to live on your own at home. There is an alternative that will let you retain your independence. If loneliness is as much a problem as frailty, consider the living arrangements at the SENIOR CITIZEN RESIDENT CENTER: a unique facility in the Clovis area.

There is plenty of room to walk and exercise. We can promise excellent food, a private room, a full schedule of activities, caring and dedicated employees and a place you'll soon feel is your home; and at less than half the cost of most nursing homes in the area. Come and visit us at 2210 Mabry Drive, Clovis. We think you will be surprised that Clovis can boast of a facility such as the Senior Citizen Resident Center.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS

CAN LOWER THE PROPERTY TAXES ON YOUR HOME

A Homestead Exemption lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. For example, if your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth only $45,000.

You Qualify for a homestead exemption if you owned your home on January 1 and used it as your primary residence on January 1. It doesn't matter whether your home is a house, a condominium or a mobile home.

Exemptions are available to all homeowners on their school taxes. Additional exemptions are available to homeowners who are disabled or age 65 or over. Other exemptions may be offered to homeowners by school districts, counties, cities, and special districts. All taxing units offer exemptions to disabled veterans.

Apply to your local appraisal district office at the address shown below for all exemptions you may qualify for. Application forms are available at this address.

If you received a homestead exemption on your present home in 1992 you won't need to apply again in 1993 unless the chief appraiser requires you to reapply.

However, if you passed your 65th birthday or became disabled before January 1, file a new application to receive additional exemptions.

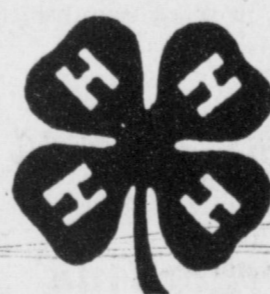

If you haven't received an exemption on your present home, or if you moved to a new home, make a new application for 1993.

The Deadline for applications is April 30, 1993. Contact your appraisal district before then if you need more time.

For more information, get a free copy of the pamphlet, Taxpayer's Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, at your appraisal district office or from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The House Public Education Committee last week approved a school funding proposal that is basically the same as a measure blocked by Republicans in a pre-Christmas special session.

Panel chair Libby Linebarger, D-Manchaca, said the school funding package should be ready for the full House to consider this week.

GOP members indicated they will not support the amendment unless accompanying legislation addresses some of their concerns. They want to make any tax increases subject to voter approval and restrict court intervention in school funding.

House and Senate leaders say a proposed amendment must be approved by lawmakers by Feb. 20 to go on the May 1 ballot.

Because he is the hand-picked appointee of Gov. Ann Richards, Krueger is the symbolic front-runner. He's never claimed to have the lead.

In fact, Texas Republicans released new poll results showing former Attorney General Jim Mattox leading the field at 22 percent; Krueger, 18 percent; State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison (GOP), 16 percent; GOP congressmen Jack Fields, 9 percent; Joe Barton, 7 percent and Democrat Jose Angel Gutierrez, 3 percent.

A spokesman for Krueger said the poll shows that Texans remember Mattox because he lost his 1990 bid for governor.

The survey, conducted Feb. 1 by Public Opinion Strategies, polled 600 likely voters and had a margin of error of four percent.

Gay, Lesbian Issue

Krueger supports gays and lesbians in the military, but he urged President Bill Clinton to let generals decide how to implement the new policy.

Krueger considers this a reasonable appeal to the middle ground, but it irked leftist homosexual groups and rightist religious groups.

His opposition's strategy so far is obvious: first get Krueger to declare a position, then peel off layers of his support with criticism from all sides.

The Dominant Issue?

Mattox, although not yet an announced candidate, quickly reported strong support for homosexuals in the military. He knows that if you want groups to stand strongly behind you, then you must make a strong stand for them.

Republicans, of course, criticized Krueger for even thinking of letting homosexuals wear a military uniform.

The issue, rightly or wrongly, is fast becoming the focus of the Senate race, despite the fact that most Texans are probably more worried about the economy.

But homosexuals make up a strong faction in the Democratic Party, and their numbers and activism are not to be ignored.

Homosexual Marriage Bill

Last week, Rep. Glen Maxey, D-Austin, and Rep. Debra Danburg, D-Houston, filed a bill to legalize homosexual marriages in Texas.

Maxey is openly gay and Danburg represents the notorious Montrose district.

Maxey complained that despite cohabitation, joint credit cards and checking accounts, his companion would be powerless to give permission for Maxey's emergency room treatment.

Bipartisan House Seen

Signaling a more bipartisan Legislature, House Speaker Pete Laney last week revamped the House leadership and named more Republicans to chair powerful committees.

Rep. Tom Uher, D-Bay City, was named speaker pro tem.

Laney, D-Hale Center, named Rep. Tom Craddick, R-Midland, as chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means committee. Craddick will undoubtedly kill any bill which calls for new taxes.

Top state leaders have said they won't increase taxes this session, but Craddick said he expects his committee to be busy with tax-related bills. "They had 450 bills in there last time, so I think we'll have our boat loaded," he said.

Laney chose GOP members to chair 10 of the House's 31 standing committees.

Meanwhile, Laney continued to win praise for installing many House reforms sought by rank-and-file legislators.

Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, who stood up for House rules reform last session, said, "Speaker Laney has caused a 180-degree turn-around to fair play in the House; he is truly a hurricane of much needed fresh air."

Other Highlights

■ The Senate approved a boll weevil eradication plan that was backed by the agricultural establishment but opposed by environmentalists, farm workers and organic farmers. The bill by Sen. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, now goes to the House for consideration.

■ Former Texas House Speaker Gus Mutsers has been sentenced to four years probation, ordered to pay $756,000 in restitution and perform 400 hours of community service for his part in a phony land development scheme.

National Easter Seal Society Offers New Resources To Support Americans With Disabilities Act

It has been little more than one year since the first phases of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), those addressing access to public transportation and public facilities, took effect. Just six months ago, the employment provisions were added, prohibiting discrimination in the hiring and promotion of people with disabilities.

"Easter Seals is encouraged by the spirit with which corporate America has begun to embrace this landmark civil rights legislation," said James E. Williams, Jr., president and chief executive officer of the National Easter Seal Society, "and we want to do everything possible to help make the transition to an inclusive, accessible environment."

To help businesses and other organizations keep abreast of and implement the provisions of the ADA, the National Easter Seal Society is pleased to offer the 1993 edition of the Americans with Disabilities Act Resource Catalog.

The catalog is a 13-page library of products and promotional pieces covering all aspects of the ADA, including education, hospitality, housing, legislation, employment,

Math Counts Competition to Be Held

1. A farmer has some pigs and some chickens. He finds that together they have 70 heads and 200 legs. How many pigs does he have?

2. Express four and one-half billion squared in scientific notation.

These problems are familiar to students in some schools. Teachers, known as MATHCOUNTS Coaches, are preparing to send teams of "mathletes" to the February 13th regional MATHCOUNTS contest at Texas Tech University, where they will compete with eleven other teams for trophies and a chance to advance to the state-level contest in Austin, March 27.

The competition is sponsored by the South Plains Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers (TSPE). Members of TSPE organize the regional and state competitions in Texas each year. They are supported by volunteers and a generous grant from Nationsbank.

MATHCOUNTS is a popular coaching and competition program for 7th and 8th graders. Based on innovative problem-solving methods, enjoyable team-centered practice sessions, and spirited "count-down" rounds, MATHCOUNTS has won thousands of fans among teachers, parents, and students throughout the 50 states, in four U.S. territories and even overseas in American schools for children of diplomats and military personnel.

Each September, TSPE mails the MATHCOUNTS School Handbook, free of charge, to all middle schools in Texas. This year

TSPE also provided its own Solution Manual—full of ideas for solving every problem in the book—to every teacher who registered a team for the competition phase of the program.

Texas Commissioner of Education Dr. Lionel R. Meno recently endorsed MATHCOUNTS, offered to help expand distribution of the Handbook, and encouraged administrators to support the program in their schools. Nationwide, MATHCOUNTS is well on its way to achieving one of its cornerstone goals—raising the prestige of mathematics achievement.

South Plains Chapter MATHCOUNTS Coordinator is Ches Carthel, P.E., 806-794-1100. Students who advance to the state contest will compete for scholarships and other prizes, and a chance to represent Texas at National MATHCOUNTS Competition in Washington D.C.

Synchronized Lights Save Texans Money And Time

If you found a way to save $62 for every dollar you invested, would you do it? The Governor's Energy Office and the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) did with Traffic Light Synchronization (TSL) Program.

"When lights are synchronized, motorists don't have to brake every 10 seconds, idle at stop lights, or accelerate and slow down every block," said Ray Stoker, Jr., commissioner of transportation. "No one loses with TSL program. It saves time, money and fuel."

With funds allocated by the Governor's Energy Office for TSL, city and TxDOT staff are retimed 2,243 signals in 44 Texas cities. The cost was $7.9 million. The results were more than anyone expected.

Fuel consumption went down 30 million gallons. Reduced delays added up to 43 million hours, or 5,000 years annually. The number of stops fell 1.7 billion. The total savings to Texans in reduced fuel, delay, and stops will be about $485 million in the next year alone. That's about $62 for every dollar

April 29-May 1. Did anyone count up correctly? The answers to the two problems at the beginning of this story are:

1. 30 pigs
 2. 2,025 x 10¹⁹
- (in case you wondered whether American students could handle problems like these...the second one was submitted by Michael Tabla, a student at J.J. Daniell Middle School in Marietta, Ga.)

11 Area schools are registered for MATHCOUNTS competition. They are: Denver City Junior High School, teacher Kellie Adams; Hale Center Jr. High School, teacher Cindy Chapman; Lubbock Middle School, teacher Chester Jones; Lubbock Atkins Jr. High School, teacher Sue Damron; Lubbock Evans Jr. High School, teacher Elaine Dutton; Lubbock J.T. Hutchins Jr. High School, teacher Max Bebernis; Lubbock O.L. Slaton Jr. High School, teacher Mike Hill; Lubbock All Saints Episcopal School, teacher Carolyn Neal; Lubbock Christ the King Cathedral School, teacher Coach Ravishanker; Petersburg Jr. High School, teacher Randy Shutes; and Plainview Estacado Jr. High School, teacher Lucy Lozano.

invested. Some cities saved even more. "Money wasn't the only program benefit," said Stoker. "The benefit and its tremendous success reinforced partnerships among the cities, TxDOT, and the governor's office."

TxDOT served as the administering agency for the TSL program, which was funded with oil-overcharge funds made available through the Governor's Energy Office. The U.S. Department of Energy approved the program as part of a package of transportation-related programs to reduce energy consumption.

It is amusing how people think you're interested in their troubles. Americanism: Thinking you are educated when you finish school. By the way, what was the name of the last sensible book you read?

EXENCIONES DE RESIDENCIA

PUEDEN REDUCIR LOS IMPUESTOS QUE PAGA POR SU CASA

Una exencion de residencia le ayuda a reducir los impuestos sobre la propiedad que tiene que pagar por su residencia reduciendo el valor que se utiliza como base para calcular sus impuestos. Por ejemplo, si su casa esta valorada de $50,000 y usted recibe una exencion de residencia de $5,000, usted va a pagar impuestos de residencia como si su valor fuese de $45,000.

Usted puede recibir una exencion de residencia si usted era el dueño de su casa el primero de Enero y la usaba como su residencia principal en la misma fecha. No importa si su residencia es una casa, un condominio o una casa remolque.

Hay exenciones que cualquier persona que es dueño(a) de su residencia puede usar para bajar sus impuestos escolares. Exenciones adicionales se ofrecen a dueños de residencia que estan incapacitados o tienen 65 años o mas. Otras exenciones puede ofrecerse a propietarios por distritos escolares, condados, ciudades y distritos escolares.

Solicite todas las exenciones que usted puede recibir en la oficina local del distrito de valoración en la direccion que se cita abajo. Si usted recibio una exencion para su residencia actual en 1992, usted no necesita solicitarla para a menos que el jefe de valoración pida que haga una nueva solicitud. Sin embargo, si usted cumplio 65 años o quedo incapacitado antes del primero de Enero haga una nueva solicitud para recibe exenciones adicionales. Si usted no ha recibido una exencion de valoración actual o si se cambio de su casa, haga una nueva solicitud para 1992. Usted tiene que hacer su solicitud antes del 1 de Mayo de 1993. Comuniquese con su distrito de valoración antes de esa fecha si necesita mas tiempo para hacerla. Para tener mas informacion usted puede recibir una copia gratis del folleto Los Derechos, Remedios y Responsabilidades del Contribuyente de Impuestos en la oficina del Consejo Estatal del Impuestos sobre la Propiedad (State Property Tax Board) en Austin.
