July Action to Be Taken on Air Mail Routes Problem

ENTIRE NATION IS COOKING UNDER SIZZLING TEMPERATURE

MERCURY AVERAGES OVER 90

Texas Promised Little Chance for Relief Over Week End

DALLAS, July 19.—(P)—Withering heat is sweeping America. Texas temperatures were reasonable, around 100 degrees in the southwest and about 95 in other parts of the state. Continued warm weather is forecast.

From the great lakes to the gulf and ocean the continent is cooking. Hot winds are parching the crops of Missouri and Kansas, with the temperature around 100.

Phillipsburg, Kan., reported yesterday a temperature of 112; Columbia, Mo., 102; El Centro, Calif., and Phoenix, Ariz., 106; Chicago 99; Omaha 107, and Boston 94.

The nation's average maximum temperature was 90.1-2. Cool spots included San Francisco, 68, and Marquette, Mich., 62.

Temperatures in the central portion were reported rising at noon today.

Texas Sizzling

DALLAS, July 19.—(P)—A heat wave of moderate intensity visited Texas today and will continue over the week-end, Dr. J. L. Kline, head of the government weather bureau, reported.

The mercury is expected to climb to around 100 degrees Sunday. No promise of rain for this section is forthcoming.

U. S. Tennis Players Defeat Italian Team

AUTEUIL, France, July 19. (P)—Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, carried half of America's glory as the United States eliminated Italy and gained the right to meet France for the Davis cup. With John Van Ryn, East Orange, New Jersey, today Allison defeated the Italian doubles team. Allison and George Lott, Chicago, won the singles for a sweep of three matches.

Builds New Houses West Wall Street

M. C. Ulmer secured a building permit for construction of two $3000 residences on West Wall street last week. These will be constructed on the 1000 block.

Man Charged With Selling Car, Then Taking It

One of the most unusual cases to be brought to the attention of the sheriff's department here concerns the activity of a man named Rose who will be returned to Midland sometime today to answer charges of car theft.

It is alleged that Rose sold Will Harris, Midland merchant, an automobile and returned three nights later and stole it. He was caught at Weatherford, with the car, it is reported here.

Harris reported the matter to the sheriff early this morning and wires to surrounding counties and counties at a distance resulted in the man being apprehended.

"That beats me," the sheriff said. "I've heard of strange cases but—"

Harris humorously remarked that the man must not have been satisfied with the bargain.

Appalling Loss of Life in Wake of Asiatic Typhoon; Thousands Without Homes

Lady of the Fans

Probably she won't get a chance to appear like this in the court room. But graceful Faith Bacon wanted the cameraman to bear witness to the fact that she wears clothes—such as they are—behind those fans which she carried onto the stage in Earl Carroll's "Vanities." Faith's dance was one of the reasons why the show was raided by New York police and why Carroll and nine members of the cast were charged with presenting an indecent performance. She was accused of having on only her birthday suit.

WOMAN'S DEATH THREAT FAILS TO DISTURB RENFRO

FT. WORTH, July 19.—(UP)—City Councilman E. T. Renfro was going about his business apparently unafraid today following a receipt of a message threatening his life if he didn't send $5,000 to an unnamed woman. At the instance of Sheriff Red Wright, Renfro left two envelopes containing slips of paper instead of money at a cigar stand as the letter ordered. B. B. King, operator at the stand, refused to accept them and called police. Afterwards he revealed his life had been threatened if he didn't take the letters and leave them in a theatre rest room.

The writer of the letter said that Renfro had exposed her husband, who died later leaving her with a three-month-old child. The letter asked for the money as a loan and promised to repay. Renfro is owner of a big drug store chain.

TOKYO, July 19. (P)—Kyushu island reports today indicated 70 dead, 100 missing, 737 hurt, 4,200 homes destroyed and 13,000 homes damaged as a result of yesterday's typhoon.

Nagasaki's prefecture reported 37 dead, 450 injured; the Fukuoka prefecture said there were 17 dead there, 90 missing and 140 injured.

The typhoon swirled across Korea, where the tragedy is not tabulated.

Korea already was suffering from recent rains taking 258 lives. Two hundred and fifty are believed dead, 155 injured, and 20,000 are homeless. An immense property damage has been reported.

RELIEF PROMISED BY THOMASON; HE VISITS MIDLAND

Plans for assisting the farmer in marketing his cotton through the co-ops, or any other feasible manner of assisting the farmer to market his products at a profit will be favored by R. E. Thomason, candidate for congress from the Midland district, he declared Saturday while in Midland.

Thomason pointed out that he lived in farming country as well as in a cattle country.

"Hundreds of people living near El Paso depend on farming for a living and I stand ready to do all within my power to aid the farmer when I get to Washington," Thomason declared.

The El Paso mayor said support pledged him by farmers, cattlemen, sheep growers, oil men and business men throughout the Sixteenth district indicated he would have a landslide and be overwhelmingly elected. The candidate said he favored a protective tariff on cattle, wool, oil, farm products and all West Texas raw products.

Thomason was recently endorsed for congress by cattlemen, farmers, oil men, luncheon clubs, preachers, women's clubs, and business men in general. He said he had lived in El Paso 20 years and is serving his second term as mayor, and his people are almost unanimously for him.

Thomason promises to serve the whole district, Midland and other towns as much as El Paso.

Boats Collide on Lake; Child Killed

CHICAGO, July 19. (UP)—A yachting party given by the millionaire children of George Pulver, Washington, D. C., who rode onto Lake Michigan to escape heat, ended tragically last night when the boat collided with a racing yawl, sinking both and resulting in the death of one-year-old Elizabeth Ayres. Coast guards are dragging the lake for the body.

Trimotor Engines Throttle Down as Dead Is Honored

Passengers in the big red trimotor must have wondered, and casual spectators at Sloan field turned in surprise to Field-Manager Harold Becherer, when the pilot of the liner stopped taxiing across the field Friday for its trip into the east, throttled his powerful motors to 1,000 revolutions for a quarter of a minute and bowed his head.

It was 5 o'clock here, 3 o'clock Pacific time, the moment when the ashes of Maury Graham, brother pilot, were being scattered to the four winds over the passes the pilot tried unsuccessfully to force his way.

MIDLAND HOPEFUL OF STOP

One Route Directly Through City, It Is Planned

WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—Action toward extending air mail lines by 3,500 miles on new routes is to be taken prior to August 1, postoffice officials said today.

Starting at Atlanta one of the new routes will extend via Birmingham, Jackson, Shreveport, Dallas, Fort Worth and El Paso to Los Angeles, according to present plans. The second route will link another route to extend via Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, Dallas and Ft. Worth to connect with San Antonio.

Midland Interested

Midland is hanging on the decision of the postoffice department, as the position of the city as an air mail stop is hoped for.

The fact that radio beams are to cross here from stations in Sweetwater and Wink leads many to believe that this would be, at least, a logical point for landing mail planes.

Midland's physical adaptability to servicing of mail planes in other respects also causes Midland to hope for a stop. The airport is one of the finest between the oceans, facilities there rate high, and the distance is almost exactly half way between Fort Worth and El Paso, which cities are expected to be stops for the mail line.

CONVICT'S DASH FOR LIBERTY MAY COST HIS LIFE

HOUSTON, July 19. (UP)—Johnny Kells' break for liberty seemed likely to cost his life today. The Chicago youth, serving 25 years at the Imperial prison farm for robbery in Dallas county, and three other convicts, were thwarted in an attempted escape. Kells was shot.

Attendees said his condition was critical after an operation was performed in an effort to save his life.

Convict Guard Homer Venable was guarding a squad of 12 prisoners at work chopping wood. At a given signal a quarter threw away their axes and leaped into the underbrush. Venable said shouts from the other prisoners attracted his attention. He wheeled and fired one shot into the brush. After sounding an alarm Venable dived into the brush and discovered Kells. Others were recaptured within 30 minutes.

REFUSES AMBULANCE

A young man by the name of Cain was "Abel" to walk he told an ambulance driver who had driven to West Midland Saturday when it had been reported the 18-year-old boy had badly hurt his head in a fall against concrete flooring. Although the boy had been dazed by his fall and his head had been cut, he refused to enter the ambulance. The driver said the boy intimated "one bump was enough" for him in one day.

State Aid Sought; No Move To Re-route the Bankhead

State aid in widening the Bankhead highway through Midland from the east and west termini of the present full width paving to the city limits is being sought by the City of Midland.

Mayor Leon Goodman stated Saturday that while theoretically, from the standpoint of the traveling public, a state or national highway should miss the principal business thoroughfares, Midland is not yet large enough to warrant changing the Bankhead highway from its present routing.

"Contrary to the belief of some Midland people, the city council has no thought of re-routing the Bankhead. I think it ought to stay where it is as long as Midland is as small a city as it is. And we are now trying to have the present Bankhead widened which would serve to insure its remaining where it now is," Goodman said.

He pointed out that the sole reason for the paving recently completed on Front street was that it could carry off storm waters. Figures show, according to engineers, that the paving of this street, which will carry traffic as well as water, was much more economical than construction of an underground storm sewer.

The city administration realizes it would be unfair to ask abutting property owners beyond the downtown area to pay the usual 75 per cent cost of paving the highway, hence the request for state and county aid, it was pointed out.

It is realized that the highway east and west of the permanent pavement is neither wide enough nor in good enough state of repair to make it satisfactory but it is not possible to do much in the way of repair or patching, due to the worn out edges.

Neither is it possible for the city to pave these strips, as no funds for such work are available, city officials said.

Satterwhite States Proposed Road Plan

Lee Satterwhite, Odessa candidate for the legislature from this district said in a letter to The Reporter-Telegram that, while he failed in his brief talk Thursday here to find time for mentioning one "proposition pertaining to the highway bond issue, that is, maintenance of designated highways through incorporated towns and cities. I had in mind to discuss it.

"Anyway, I have considered for more than a year, in the event I am a member of the next legislature, to endeavor to provide by statute that the highway commission shall maintain designated highways through incorporated towns and cities. For instance, the City of Midland should not be required to maintain Highway No. 1 through the incorporated section of the town. In other words, the highway commission shall be compelled to maintain this highway through Midland. All of that portion of the streets now in such poor condition should be kept up by the highway commission."

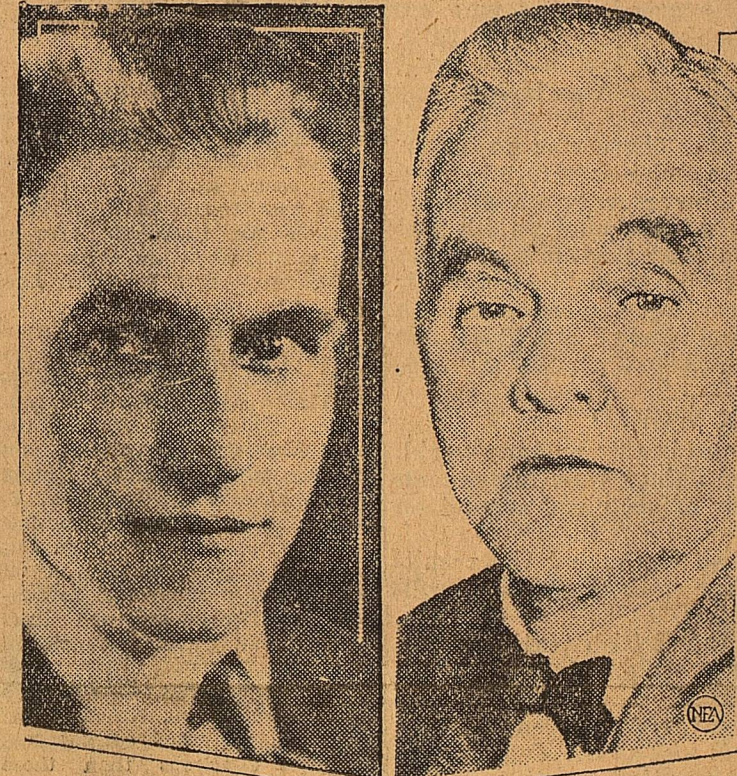

These Girls Make Jones Count 1-2-3

"Keeping up with the Joneses" might applicably be used to designate the second selection of "Miss Odessa" and her two maids of honor.

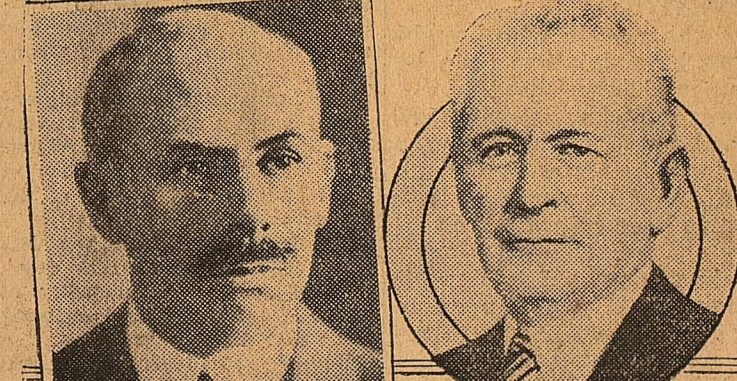

Three Jones girls were given the honors by three Midland judges at the Lyric theatre of that town Friday night when it was learned that former judging of candidates to compete with other beauties at Fort Worth was automatically reversed upon learning the girls were too young to qualify.

Imma Jones was selected for "Miss Odessa" over the list of fair contestants. She therefore is given the title of "Lions Club Sweetheart," provision having been made that the winner should be thus honored.

Norris, left, youthful manager of a chain grocery at Broken Bow, Neb., who has announced as a candidate against Senator George W. Norris, right, the state's veteran son, in the Republican primary. Below are the two Youngs who are rival candidates for governor of California: Milton K. Young, Democrat, and Governor C. C. Young, Republican.

CONNALLY TO URGE THAT FARM BOARD ACT IMMEDIATELY UPON REQUEST OF MIDLAND CATTLEMEN; WIRE RECEIVED

These Girls Make Jones Count 1-2-3

Tom Connally, United States senator from Texas, Saturday wired the Midland chamber of commerce: "Telegram received. Shall take up at once with farm board prices of livestock and urge that board place in operation such force as it may command to stabilize market."

This wire was in response to telegrams sent by the Midland chamber to the Texas senators and federal government agencies urging stabilization of prices in the cattle business. The local organization contends that since the government has appropriated $500,000,000 for correcting the agricultural situation, the cattlemen should have their share of protection.

The messages from Midland pointed out that wheat producers and others are receiving attention from the farm board in the form of commodity purchases in an attempt to stabilize markets. Midland asked that some of these funds be used to purchase meat animals in an effort to stabilize meat animal prices.

It was pointed out that cattlemen face ruin at present prices. (See CONNALLY page 8)

ONE OTHER DEAD, TWO INJURED

Dallam Raid Results In Battle: Woman Takes a Part

DALHART, July 19. (AP)—George W. Alexander, sheriff of Dallam county, and Lon Dillinger, for whom officers held a felony warrant, were killed and Orrell Dillinger, Lon's brother, and Arleta Boger, a woman, were wounded today in a gun fight near here.

The shooting took place in a house south of Dalhart.

On a tip that Dillinger could be found at the house, Sheriff Alexander, Deputies H. D. Foust and Earl Damron, and the deputy sheriff of Hartley county surrounded the place.

Sheriff Alexander had stationed himself with Damron at the front door, and Foust was at the rear of the house.

Foust said he heard a shot from the inside of the house. Getting inside, Foust said he saw Lon Dillinger reaching into a trunk. He covered Dillinger, but saw the woman near the trunk with a shotgun in her hands.

Dillinger made a lunge at him and the deputy fired, shooting Dillinger through the head. The man died instantly.

Foust said Orrell Dillinger rushed from the front door and opened fire. Orrell was shot through the throat and abdomen.

Arleta Boger was shot through the hip.

After the shooting Foust found Alexander in the front yard mortally wounded.

Bert Dillinger and his brothers Lon and Orrell were under sentence of 25 years for kidnapping and assault.

FAMOUS FLYERS LAND

The Hunter brothers, famed from having taken the world's sustained refueling flight record, will land at Sloan field for refueling this morning at 8 o'clock, John Kenneth Hunter, told Paul T. Vickers, late Saturday night. All four of the brothers will land the "Big Ben" accompanying the endurance ship.

 Republicans' Line of Argument for Fall Campaign Foreshadowed by Senator Watson's Recent Speech—
 Defends Administration Record, Flays "Partisans"

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The nature of the Republican "platform" in the fall elections has been outlined in full through a radio address by the Hon. Jim Watson, Republican floor leader in the Senate. Although not heralded as an official party blast, one is informed that the gist of it will serve as a basis of argument for regular G. O. P. candidates everywhere in meeting the Democratic onslaught against the Hoover administration.

In spite of manifold Republican waxes about Claudius Huston and one thing or another, the presentation was an able one and it will be summarized herewith because godness knows how many persons were listening to jazz music instead of to Senator Watson. It's like this:

Defend Party Record
 The administration and its forces have carried out campaign pledges successfully in nearly all respects despite vigorous, unfair, partisan opposition aided by Senate progressives who deserted their party.

The Hoover farm policy, which created the Federal Farm Board, is a prodigious effort which already has substantially helped the farmer in the face of world-wide agricultural depression. Without Hoover's leadership and the party's earnest efforts, the farmer's condition would be considerably worse.

The new tariff law is "chiefly in its rate a farm relief measure." The immense importations from foreign countries were really responsible for the disastrous effects of the stock market crash last October. Now the party has undertaken to cure the situation with higher industrial and agricultural duties and the tariff will vindicate itself by restoration of normal prosperous conditions.

The new flexible tariff provision available to President Hoover puts tariff making on a scientific, fact-finding basis for the first time.

We are still the richest and most prosperous nation in the world, with a national genius capable of surmounting every obstacle. The delay in enacting the tariff law, due to factional and partisan opposition, and the stock market panic which it helped to cause, were primarily responsible for the temporary depression. But the turn is now upwards and if the country will continue to support the Republicans and their policies nothing can halt national progress.

The prompt and statesmanlike action of President Hoover after the panic prevented consequences far more disastrous than those which have been experienced. In conjunction with leaders of industry he made a program which has markedly alleviated the depression, guaranteeing work to hundreds of thousands of persons who might otherwise have been unemployed.

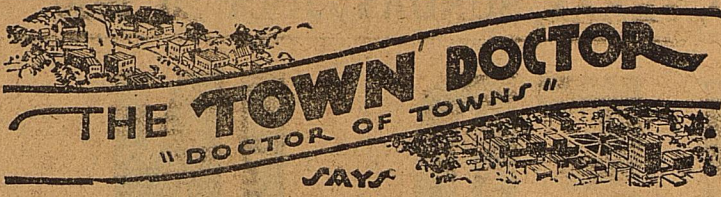

The London treaty not only regained naval parity lost at the Washington conference but stands as a landmark of progress toward world unity in the record of the Hoover administration.

The Hoover administration has settled the last of the war debts, standing for the sound policy of equitable settlement and refusing to be "tided into cancellation."

Hoover has appointed various fact-finding commissions to deal with situations where facts rather than disputing opinions are needed. Important legislation has been passed to help enforce prohibition as a result of the Law Enforcement Commission's findings. Other commissions are doing their stuff for the common wealth.

A 160,000,000 tax reduction was effected despite expansion of national activities; the fifth tax reduction by the party in power, which has relieved taxpayers of a burden of virtually $2,000,000,000.

Under present administration policies we are creating a real merchant marine, through increasing foreign mail contracts. The beginning of the Hoover policy of developing inland waterways was

The best book ever written has no value if not read. The finest automobile ever made is of no value if someone doesn't use it. The most beautiful flower and the most gorgeous rainbow may as well not be if there is no one to see and appreciate them. A masterpiece of the world's greatest artist is of no consequence if it is hidden from view.

There is no value to experience if no advantage is taken of the lessons taught by that experience. Knowledge gained by years of study, and experience is of no profit to others if others do not take advantage of the results of that study and experience.

There is no one man, nor any group of men, who knows everything. If any one person knew all there was to know about anything; if a group of men knew all there was to know about everything, then it would be time to do as so many communities now do—but that time has not arrived.

When a community reaches the point in its existence where it cannot be improved upon; when the people of a community come to the stage where they are, in their own estimation, the essence of perfection and what they do not know isn't worth knowing, when the organizations get it into their heads that what they do and the way they do it can or should be done—JUST THEN the business of those people and of that community, individual and collective starts going backward. Then other communities find it easier to take people, trade and industries away from them.

There is nothing more costly than to be satisfied with things as they marked with the passages of the Rivers and Harbors bill by the present Congress.

The Radio Commission has been placed on a permanent basis, reappointment in Congress and the electoral college has been finally arranged, the census was taken and revealed a steady growth, disabled soldiers have been further provided for, the Federal Power Commission was reorganized, appropriations were passed to begin work on Boulder Dam and the Treasury Department has a new Bureau of Narcotics. Veterans' affairs agencies have been consolidated, the Interior Department is trying to conserve oil and prison parole and probation systems have been reorganized.

President Hoover has faced grave problems he did not create and is carrying through a great program of legislation and administration to solve them. He needs majorities in both branches of Congress which will help and not hinder in the development of his plans.

Believes Miller Will Win Race

"The people of Comanche county had the pleasure recently of listening to the Hon. Barry Miller present his claims for the office of governor. There were possibly 3,000 people who heard him, and in his speech of one hour and a half he never mentioned his opponents, nor did he use a slang phrase to convey his thoughts, but in a gentlemanly way told the people of his political career, how he had served them in the house of representatives, in the senate and also as lieutenant governor," according to W. D. Carroll of Comanche.

"In my judgment, Barry Miller is a man in whom we can place our trust, a man who has been tried and was never known to betray a trust, one whom the poorest, most illiterate man or woman can approach and will be heard, a man whose heart throbs for others' woes and whose integrity has never been impeached.

"Barry Miller has had more experience in state affairs than all his opponents put together. There is no man in Texas or elsewhere who will question his ability or his integrity; there is no man who will not say he is ripe in experience, there is no man in Texas but will say Barry Miller in all his actions in the law-making bodies of our state voted for the rights against the wrong.

There is no man in Texas better qualified to be a real governor than Barry Miller. My prediction is that he will lead the ticket."

SCOUT TROOP MEETS
(By Scribe)

Troop 51 of the Midland scout organization met Friday afternoon at 7:30 in regular session. Roll was called and points for the inter-troop contest were checked. There were 21 boys present.

An election was held for troop reporter and troop scribe, Hugh Baker and Lyod McKinney being elected.

Plans were discussed for going to the Carlsbad Caverns next week if transportation can be arranged. After the meeting the scouts were invited to the home of T. W. Long, Jr., for an ice cream supper.

Several boys of the troop are completing tests for their first and second class ratings. This troop will have a large class-up for the court-of-honor tests Tuesday.

PASS TESTS ON HIKE

Troop 51 of the local scouts organization made an overnight hike Thursday, 16 boys with Scoutmaster W. E. Sharp going to Pyle's ranch, eight miles north of Midland.

Two boys passed their cooking and fire-building tests. W. B. Osborne and Coren Stephenson.

A MAN AND HIS FAITH

A generation that grew up with Sherlock Holmes as its favorite miracle worker cannot look on the death of Conan Doyle as anything less than a personal loss. The number of human beings with really good imaginations is never large; Sir Arthur had one, and it brought enjoyment and a pleasant intellectual stimulation into the lives of millions of people.

Yet it was not solely as the creator of Sherlock Holmes that Conan Doyle is remembered. He had another distinction—a faith, bizarre but strong, which struck a great many of his fellow mortals as outlandish but which nevertheless sustained and helped him when he needed help very badly.

For Conan Doyle was that peculiar anomaly, a believer in an age of confirmed skepticism. Other men might debate the question of determinism, might suggest that men are no better than cunningly-made machines; this aged author could pin his life to the belief that the dead not only lived but could be talked to. He could see a heaven-sent reality beyond the flub-dubbery of table-tappings and dim-lit seance parlors. He could look confidently at the grave as a portal and not as a final resting place.

And this, now that he is gone, is what must stick in our minds. Whether you scoffed at his faith in spiritualism or respected it, there is no blinking this one fact—Conan Doyle, now, knows the truth about it.

It may be, after all, that the proof of the pudding lies in the eating of it. The works that proceed from faith have been accepted, for ages, as proper testimonials; and for Conan Doyle, at least, the faith that was in him was something very real and very helpful.

Read the account of his death. There was no terror, no reluctance. He died peacefully; and just before he died he turned to his wife and said, "You are very wonderful."

Dupe or seer, this man at least had found a faith that made death easy. He had found a faith that sustained him in his old age, a faith that kept him from black despair when his son was killed in the trenches of France, a faith that enabled him to die better than most of us will be able to die.

IT'S A COMPLEX WORLD

No nation lives for itself alone in this modern world. Isolation is a thing of the past. Things that happen on one side of the world have their effect clear around on the other side.

The Indian boycott on British cloth, and the resultant depression in England's cotton mills, have hit Germany's textile industry a severe blow.

The boycott, cutting down the British textile manufacturers' market, has given Europe a surplus of textiles and has caused prices to go down. So the Germans, who have nothing whatever to do with the Anglo-Indian question, are suffering the effects of it just as the English are.

That is the way the nations are tied together in this century. Events that are seemingly unrelated exert a profound effect on one another.

FORGETFUL INVESTORS

Apparently a great many of the people who bought Liberty Bonds were inspired more by patriotism than by a desire to put their money in a sound investment.

At any rate, the Treasury Department announces that buyers of such bonds are losing about $1,000,000 a year in interest through failure to redeem bonds on which interest has ceased. More than $37,000,000 worth of federal securities which have ceased to bear interest are still in the hands of investors.

Most of them, probably, lie in various safety deposit boxes, half forgotten by their owners. If you happen to hold such bonds, it would be a good idea for you to redeem them and put your money where it can earn an income for you. It is startling to think that $37,000,000 is lying idle simply because of carelessness.

Arrangements for leasing the last emergency landing field on the southern transcontinental air mail route in the El Paso district have been completed by Capt. E. M. Haight, representative of the aviation division, department of commerce.

The field is about 20 miles east of El Paso along the Carlsbad highway and consists of approximately 18 acres. A beacon tower and field lights will be installed on this field, according to information given the chamber of commerce. This completes the emergency field sites between El Paso and Sweetwater.

One of these will be at Stanton, and there will be one or two between Midland and Wink, as announced here recently by Capt. W. S. Kenyon, in charge of the survey for this district.

Directed by Roy Del Ruth

In "Hold Everything," a Vitaphone all-color musical comedy which literally "has everything," Warner Bros. have produced one of the most thoroughly amusing motion pictures of the season, a preview Saturday night showed. The picture is showing here at the Ritz.

In cast, story, voice reproduction and the use of color photography, this latest example of the modern screen art takes its place in the very front rank of the new film reproductions.

There is much singing throughout the production, and the score includes at least a dozen tuneful melodies. The majority of these are sung by Winnie Lightner, famous comedienne of vaudeville and musical comedy, and it may be said that she "puts over" a number in a manner that leaves nothing to be desired. Winnie is seen in one of the principal comedy roles, and the other member of an hilariously funny team is none other than Joe E. Brown, who has few equals among screen comedians. Brown, as a "dub" prizefighter, is a positive scream. Another leading role is played by the winsome Sally O'Neil, who is seen as the sweetheart of Georges Carpentier, who also plays a leading role and stages an exciting championship ring battle.

A feature of "Hold Everything" that is worthy of special mention is the dialogue, which sparkles with wit, and has much to do with the success of this rollicking musical comedy. Pictorially, the film is beautiful.

The natural coloring achieved by the improved Technicolor makes every scene one of warmth and beauty, and this production has the added advantage of scenes which are in themselves beautiful. Especially so are the sequences made in Carpentier's training camp, which was actually established in the famous Busch Gardens in Pasadena, California.

Roy Del Ruth, one of Warner Bros.' ace directors, has outdone himself in the filming of "Hold Everything," and has produced a swift-moving comedy which from every standpoint is an unusual success. Important players other than those mentioned include Edmund Breese, Dorothy Revier, Jack Curcus, Bert Roach, Lew Harvey, Jimmie Quinn and Tony Stabenau.

Midland Invited To Angelo Airport

Members of the aviation committee of the Midland chamber of commerce and others interested in aviation have been invited to witness the arrival in San Angelo July 25 of the 25 planes entered in the All-American flying derby, sponsored by the Detroit board of commerce, according to information given this newspaper by the aviation division of the San Angelo board of city development.

San Angelo and Houston are control points on the All-American Flying derby and the flyers will arrive at San Angelo at about noon Friday, July 25, and will spend the night there.

Formal inauguration of the night lighting system at the $65,000 municipal airport at San Angelo which has just been installed, will be held on the night of July 25, when demonstrations of night flying will be given.

REASON FOR LOCATION

Thursday evening's speaking of candidates was held in front of the jail rather than before the bank as had been the program of the afternoon because, as the secretary of the chamber of commerce facetiously put it, "we can put everyone in jail who doesn't stay in the time limit given him."

The secretary also told the group that candidates would kiss all babies presented for osculation. None were brought, and Henry Ansley, managing editor of the El Paso Herald changed tactics slightly, asking that the women themselves come up for the kisses.

Rountree One of First County Men

J. Paul Rountree, candidate for county and district clerk, is another application of the "like father like son" adage.

Rountree's father, A. B. Rountree, was the first county clerk of Midland and, following the expiration of his term, ran for county judge. He held the latter office until his death in 1893.

Rountree moved with his parents to Midland in '94, and was a member of one of the first families of the county.

"There was nothing to speak of in Midland when I moved here," Rountree said to The Reporter-Telegram. "There was the section house and buffalo scattered around. Antelopes were grazing around this rangeland. My father was one of the organizers of the county and I would like to follow in his steps."

"This is the first time I have asked the people of the county to give me an office. I have been in the ranching and automobile business here for several years and everyone knows that I will do my best to discharge the duties I should assume."

Rountree at one time worked on the S ranch, the greatest, at that time, in the United States. It embraced boundaries that were almost stupendous, extending from a point about twenty miles from Midland to where the city of Lubbock now is.

"We branded more than ten thousand calves a year at one time," Rountree said.

Rountree promises a good administration if elected to the office he seeks.

SEEK FIRE BUG TRACE

PALESTINE, Tex., July 19. (UP)—Search was started today for traces of incendiarism in the burning of the Lamar ward school here. The building was demolished and the loss was estimated at $15,000.

HOFMEISTER WILL END REVIVAL AT EVENING SERVICE

The church was compared to a "vine" in the sermon at the tabernacle on Colorado street Friday night by Dr. Hofmeister, evangelist. He based his remarks on Psalm 80: 14; "Return, we beseech Thee, O God of hosts: look down from heaven, and behold, and visit this vine."

"The ancient church which almighty brought out of Egypt, is here compared to a vine, Christ the great teacher, used a like figure when he said 'I am the vine and ye are the branches.' The church is like a vine. The root of the vine, Christ Jesus, was not said to be beautiful—as the root an unsightly object and perhaps few dreamed him of any value. When men saw Christ the word says 'There is no form or comeliness in him that we should desire him.' When he is spoken of as a stone it is said 'A stone disallowed by the builders.' This rejected stone has become 'the chief corner-stone.' He was the very root of the church. To men He appeared worthless. 'A root out of dry ground.' But this frail root, this root of David, sent forth a vine which filled the whole earth. The church of Jesus Christ. The nations of the world are eating the fruit of this vine with gladness and great joy. We note the weakness of the vine. It is a clinging plant. It cannot stand alone. It cannot support itself. The church must lean upon the word of God. The promises and covenants of God. Coming up from the wilderness leaning upon the ram of her beloved, we cling to the very Bible which is the word of God."

"The fruit of the vine makes it valuable. Only the fruit-bearing church, the soul-winning institution is glorifying God. We must cultivate this mission within the church—every branch or member should be a soul-winner. The vine requires pruning. Here is where so many Christians fall in their understanding of God's loving discipline of their lives. He is pruning to make us of greater service and value. We complain under the pruning process. It hurts and we don't like the school of learning. Fruitless branches are cut off. Men gather them and burn them with fire. A vine must be pruned to bear fruit. A church needs the hand of God upon it in its field. There are many places now barren where flourishing vines once produced spiritual fruit. When we fail to remain surrendered to Christ, we are powerless to bring forth results within our own strength. We must abide in the vine; we must abide in Christ Jesus."

The evangelist will speak Sunday morning at the tabernacle on the subject "The Good Shepherd," and at night on the theme "Belshazzar's Feast." This will mark the closing address of the campaign. Dr. Hofmeister has been in this city during the past three weeks.

Ralph Leonard Morris of London, Ohio, has been leading the singing. He comes from the sturdy "Morris family" of Ohio. His grandfather, Dr. Guy Morris, of Columbus, was a practicing physician. Morris hails from the family of Robert Morris, the financier of the Revolutionary war. His work has been appreciated in Midland.

QUARANTINE LIFTED

Quarantine for infantile paralysis has been lifted from the house on North Main street where the 3-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Schubert of McCamey has been treated, according to Andy Norwood, city sanitation officer.

The case was sporadic, not epidemic, it had been announced by the physician in charge.

Every car owner should give serious thought to the question of complete insurance protection. The ever increasing number of cars on the road means greater danger both to the car and the people in it. Carry enough Liability Insurance and also a personal accident policy.

One Good Turn Deserves Another

The above term applies to most everything where human endeavors are at stake and is very applicable in politics, and for this reason we are going to delve into the candidacy of C. C. Watson for the purpose of proving that he justly deserves the high and honorable office of County Judge of Midland county, so as friends to you we invite your earnest and careful attention to the following truthful facts:

C. C. Watson was born Dec. 21, 1874 in the little town of Magnolia, Ark. His father, the Rev. E. N. Watson, a Methodist minister, served the Little Rock Conference for 64 years. Young Watson received his common schooling in the town of his birth, later entering Henderson-Brown College at Arkadelphia, Arkansas, from which institution he received his degree and finished with high honors. He represented this institution in an oratorical contest in 1898. During the time he attended college he defrayed all expenses by working at the printer's trade, holding a union card for several years.

Spurred by the spirit of youth and intent upon going forward he scanned the map of these United States in search of a section where he might go forth and labor to an advantage. After much deliberation he decided to head west and on July 25, 1899 he arrived in Midland. He had hardly relaxed from the long journey when he accepted employment on the Shafter Lake ranch, then owned by John F. Bustin, well remembered by many of the existing old timers. He punched cattle, or rather they punched him until November of the same year when he moved to town and became owner, editor, printer and devil of the Midland Livestock Reporter, the first issue came off the press November 3. It later became known as the Midland Reporter and for twenty-five years he stood at its helm. For several months before coming west he studied law under one of Arkansas' foremost jurists and continued this study until 1902 when he was admitted to the bar. In 1902, over his protest, he was elected County Attorney for Midland and two other counties, defeating the incumbent who was campaigning for a second term. After two years of honest and faithful service he relinquished this position that he might devote his entire time and energy to the publication of the Reporter.

Friends and voters, there are no means of correctly estimating the great amount of good this man did for Midland and Midland County through his untiring efforts as editor of the Midland Reporter. We defy anyone to gainsay there was an issue out of the 1300 issues that he failed to further the cause of advancement for Midland and Midland County. We go further to state that there was not a white man, woman or child living in Midland and Midland County during those years whose names failed to appear one or more times in its columns. We will safely state that there was not a marriage, birth or death omitted; not a land sale, house or lot sale or exchange that did not receive favorable mention. Every mile of good road, every school house, business house and residence received its share of optimistic mention. This man worked hard, thought diligently and expressed his feelings conscientiously and fearlessly with no intent of harming a living soul or causing detriment to any undertaking that affected the welfare of an individual or the community at large.

For the above reasons, friends and voters, we sincerely present the candidacy of C. C. Watson to every old timer in Midland and Midland County and earnestly ask you if this man does not deserve your vote and influence for the office he is seeking. To the new comer or recent citizen of Midland County we have presented to you a man who is beyond a doubt capable mentally and equipped physically to take over the office of County Judge and direct its affairs in a most efficient manner—honestly, fearlessly and impartially. We want you to give this appeal your most earnest consideration and on the 26th day of July go to the polls and cast your vote for a man who has done more for the progress and advancement of Midland and Midland County than any one individual. He is deserving and appreciative of your vote and influence.

Farm Women Leave This Week for A. & M. Short Course

Six Women to Go From Busy Bee Club; Others Are to Represent Cotton Flat, Valley View and Prairie Lee Groups

Midland county's representatives to the annual Short Course at A. & M. college opening July 28 and continuing until August 1, will be twelve club women, two club girls, and the county agents, Miss Genavieve Derryberry, and Mr. Frank Wendt.

Women and girls will attend daily education programs planned for their special work, and the agents will be in conferences with other state agents and state officials.

The largest group from the county will represent the Busy Bee club including Mesdames J. A. Pogue, S. H. Gwyn, Pat Bodine, O. M. Tynner, S. W. Driver and Pat Barber. This group will make the trip by automobile. Women going with Miss Derryberry by train are Mesdames Boyce Eldson and Bill Countiss, Cotton Flat; Bill Arnett and J. E. Wallace, Prairie Lee; Charlie Collier and Miss Ora Robertson, Valley View; Misses Mattie Lee Moore, of Prairie Lee and Belle Wilson of Valley View will be delegates from the girls' clubs.

Assignments Yesterday Delegates met with the county agent yesterday afternoon to review the schedule of the program and to take assignments to be followed. For each program and lecture two women were assigned to attend and take notes. This plan is being followed in order that the local women will receive lessons from every course.

Among the lectures and demonstrations that Midland delegates will attend are "Home Making and Citizenship," "Counting Poultry Costs," "Poultry Marketing in Texas," "Dairy Marketing," "Care of Sick in the Home," "Food Fallacies" and numerous others.

The girls will be organized into groups, each in charge of a chairman for regular programs which will be based on such subjects as "The Gracious Hostess," "Table Etiquette," "Attractive School Lunches," "Garden and Poultry Insect Control," and "Flower Arrangement."

Numerous recognized experts, including W. F. Schilling of the Federal Farm board, Dr. O. E. Baker, bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture and others will contribute to the general programs for both men and women. Every evening except Thursday, when the out-of-door pageant with an all-farm cast will be staged, these general programs will be given.

PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS

Rev. O. W. Roberts, Minister

The Tabernacle campaign under the leadership of Dr. Theodore M. Hofmeister and Ralph Leonard Morris, will close Sunday night. The evangelist will speak at the morning service on "The Good Shepherd" and at night his subject will be "Belshazzar's Feast." The ministry of these brethren during the past three weeks has been well received by the people of this city. It has been a time of "seed-sowing" and the harvest will come in due season. A "love offering" will be taken for the evangelist Sunday night. So come prepared to give. Be sure to place your name and address on the "envelope" so that the evangelist will be able to send you copies of his paper "The Trumpeter" with news of future meetings.

Dr. Hofmeister has calls east and west, but has not announced his acceptance of future engagements. Our "Tarrying meetings" have been glorious.

J. F. Matchett of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is here on business with the Midland National bank of which he is an official. He is accompanied by W. E. Grisso of Seminole, Oklahoma.

Lists Delivered To County Women This Week

Premium lists for the Midland County fair, September 26 and 27, have been distributed to the county farm women by Miss Genavieve Derryberry during the past week.

Women are already making plans to enter articles into the clothing booth, and fruits and vegetables in the food booths.

Contests have also been arranged for the girls' clubs for fruits, vegetables and clothing.

Belmont Women Study Two Books Friday

Belmont Bible class women studied Hosea and Mica at their weekly lesson Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Stange on East Pennsylvania street.

Nine were present and Mrs. John King taught the lesson in the absence of Mrs. T. D. Murphy, the regular instructor.

Plans were made for an all-day meeting this Wednesday at the ranch home of Mrs. King.

Midland Girl May Be Angelo Duchess

Efforts of officials of the West Texas exposition at San Angelo to make the 1930 exposition, September 22 to 27 valuable to every county in the territory are being encouraged in Midland by Frank Wendt, of this city, a member of the West Texas Advisory board of the exposition, says a press release from San Angelo.

The Midland member has just been advised by Preston Y. Chumley, assistant manager of the exposition, that his help will be appreciated in furthering interest in the exposition in this vicinity.

Selection of a duchess to represent Midland in the colorful ceremony which will surround the coronation of the Queen of the West Texas exposition before the grandstand at the exposition grounds on Friday evening, September 26, will be one of the first steps of the local member toward furthering the 1930 program, the letter says.

The duchess will select her maid of honor and they will be privileged to select their escorts, making a total of four persons to represent Midland in the coronation ceremony, it was explained in a letter received by the local member from the exposition officials in San Angelo.

The local member will probably set about selecting the duchess at once. Immediate selection of the duchess and maid of honor to represent this community has been urged in order that widest possible publicity might be given Midland's part in the exposition program, the local advisory board member explained.

Any resident of this community interested in becoming an exhibitor or in taking any part whatever in the West Texas exposition is urged to communicate at once with Mr. Wendt, local member of the West Texas Advisory board.

A feeder lamb show, agricultural show, horse show, official rabbit and cavy show, West Texas band contest, rodeo events, horse races and a terrapin derby are features of the exposition program.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Fuller and child are leaving today for a two weeks' vacation at points in New Mexico.

Mrs. H. H. Meeks and children have gone to Ackerly for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Flint Cosby, who has been a guest in Midland this week.

Ben Wall made a business trip to Seminole, Texas, yesterday.

Local Housewives' Choice Recipes

Now is the time to make marmalades, jams and jellies. Today appears a splendid recipe to follow in making apricot marmalade. Mrs. R. L. Ellison takes this from her cook book.

Cranberry salad sounds appetizing. Follow Mrs. Chas. Edwards' recipe when you want to serve a different salad that will please every member of your family.

Apricot Marmalade Wash and soak one pound of dried apricots in 4 cups of cold water overnight. Add 1 cup of pineapple juice and cook gently for 1 hour.

Add 8 cups of sugar and 1 cup of sliced pineapple cut into small pieces and simmer for 1-2 hour. Pour into glasses.

Cranberry Salad 1 pint of cranberry sauce 2 cups of chopped celery 1 envelope of gelatin dissolved in 1 cup of cold water, add 1 cup of boiling water.

Cool and mix with cranberry sauce and celery. Chill and serve with any salad dressing.

BUSHERS PLAY AT HOME; LENORAH EXPECTS TO FIGHT 'EM

DRAMATIS PERSONAE
Oilers at Penwell.
Valley View at Stanton.
Lenorah at Midland vs Bushers.
Pleasant Valley at Odessa.

Little change is expected to happen to league percentages this afternoon when the above teams line up in batting order for engagements at places specified.

Stanton, on top, should be able to remain there. Valley View is not expected to spike the guns of the boys to the town east of here. Stanton is not dubbed an extraordinary club, but the difference in its playing and that of Valley View is enough to warrant the prediction that Stanton could put its top seat on a balloon and give stickers to the opponents and still be there after the melee.

The Oiler-Penwell game should be a good one, with the two clubs scrapping for a chance to squat on a higher rung of the ladder.

A whale of a scrap should be that of the Lenorah and Bush clubs. These two are thought by most of the fans to be the strongest in the league and might steal first honors for the first half of the current season.

Pleasant Valley is expected to lose to Odessa. The boys have been in the cellar so long, however, they might decide to come back and do a bit of whamming on their own. The day's entertainment should be interesting.

SCOUTING ON INCREASE

There is more activity than ever before in boy scout work of this area, according to A. C. "Coke" Williamson, scout executive of the Buffalo Trail council who has been here reviewing work done by the local organizations.

In the summer scouting generally declines, Williamson said, but the systematic recreational advantages of this district have offset this decline in numbers and, on the other hand, abetted numerical strength, he says.

Here's All-Star Big League Upstarts' Nine; Doing Well

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER
NEA Service Sports Editor

A number of upstarts from the tall and uncut are doing quite a lot of major league ball playing this year. One glance at the batting and pitching averages shows their names with some pretty imposing marks after them.

The rookie crop not only has been good this year, but the harvest seems to be placed where it will do the most good—notably in the case of Walter Berger and Tom Oliver, the young men whose booming bludgones have set rowdy Beanton agog.

There are enough new ball players in the two major leagues this season to form a team, and nobody's setup at that. Here is a lineup, with recent batting marks for the players and recent figures on the pitchers:

Tom Oliver, Red Sox, cf.....	324
Ben Chapman, Yanks, 3b.....	308
Smead Jolley, White Sox, rf.....	332
Walter Berger, Braves, lf.....	316
Jack Sherlock, Phils, 1b.....	356
Mickey Finn, Robins, 2b.....	390
Buster Chatham, Braves, ss.....	333
Al Lopez, Robins, c.....	348

And here are the pitchers:

Clint Brown, Indians, won 7, lost 7
Benny Frey, Reds, won 6, lost 6
Cecil Pat Caraway, White Sox, won 2, lost 1
Lee Roy Mahaffey, Athletics, won 6, lost 2
Joe Heving, Giants, won 3, lost 2

Two National League teams have benefited vastly by new faces in the lineup this year. The Braves and the Robins. Berger and Chatham have brought new life to the Braves. Both are from the Pacific Coast league, and Berger is running Hack Wilson a neck-and-neck battle for the home run honors of the league. This is the Braves' first year out of the cellar in quite a few, and there isn't a doubt in the world that these young men have had a great deal to do with it.

The Robins, too, have profited with rookies, especially with Al Lopez, the young catcher from Florida. Uncle Robbie brought the young man up out of the Southern league where he caught for Atlanta last year, and the way Al has been running the ball games over in Flatbush reminds you at once of Mickey Cochrane. Mickey Finn, bought from the Coast with Gordon Slade, has proved a sensation in a Brooklyn uniform, though competition for the job has been hot with Jake Flowers to battle for the place.

If the Braves are looking up, so are the lowly Red Sox, and Quinn's team has been aided not only by pitchers, but by Thomas N. Oliver. Oliver came from the Athletics via the waiver route, after being picked up by Maek's scouts in Little Rock. Tom is 26 years old and has been knocking around the minors for some years, having parked his hat and coat in some of the very best hotels in Monroe, La., Shreveport, Vernon, Decatur, Los Angeles, Hollywood, Beaumont, Nashville, and Little Rock.

Chapman has been hitting a hot pace at third for the Yanks after making a slow start. He came from the American Association with Dusty Cooke. Jolley of the White Sox, though a veteran minor leaguer, is only 26 years old. He started his baseball life as a pitcher in Mississippi, later going to Texas and the Coast. In four years playing for San Francisco he made 150 home runs, and his batting marks were .346, .397, .404 and .385.

Sherlock is another of the fence-busters gathered together by Burt Shotton. The Phils drafted him from the Coast league where he batted .338 for the Missions last year. He can play anywhere in the field and is a well-schooled young man of 25.

The five pitchers named have shown wonderful promise in their first years. Mahaffey's average is the best, and of course it must be considered he is hurling for a championship club. Benny Frey has maintained a .500 average with a tall-end team. Heving has not had as many chances as Frey or Mahaffey, but he shows a nice lot of stuff and good control. Caraway should be one of the league's star sou'paws next year, though he has been used mostly in relief roles this season. Young Clint Brown established a nice record with New Orleans last year.

Of the 13 players, seven are National leaguers and six American.

TROOP 52 BUSY

Troop 52 met in the regular meeting Friday night at the First Christian church. The meeting was opened by a salute to the flag as the bugler played "To the Colors". The scouts gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The boys that attended the summer camp had charge of the program and demonstrated to the others some of the things that they learned in the camp, including a number of songs, poems, all kinds of tumbling and dives and a short play.

The boys were drilled for ten minutes by Carl Reeves who has just returned from the C. M. T. C. at El Paso. Games of different kinds were played until the closing exercises.

The troop went to a place eight miles north of town last Thursday night, for an overnight hike, and another one in about two weeks is planned.

Most every boy in the troop is preparing to be ready for the court of honor that is to be held Tuesday night.

Clint Brown, Indians, won 7, lost 7

Watson, Candidate for County Judge, Edited Newspapers Here in Old Days; Was Attorney

A scholarly gentleman who has given his life to boosting Midland county and the surrounding area, the economic welfare of residents and the various institutions built about the progressive district—this is the way friends of C. C. Watson, candidate for county judge, describe him.

Coming here more than a quarter of a century ago, Watson started a newspaper. Through lean and prosperous and back with the economic cycle to lean years again, he is said by them to have maintained his characteristic optimism and to have boosted the country that was later to become part of a great business empire.

Watson ran weekly newspapers during the time when circulation rates were comparatively unknown, through the period when they did become accepted in the western country they were not collected.

He wrote much copy, including in the numerous inter-town editorial fights through the columns of his newspapers, yet asked the people for nothing, according to his supporters.

At last he started a daily in Midland, the first here. Through consolidation, that newspaper, The Daily Telegram, together with the Daily Reporter which was the other paper to the consolidation, has merged into The Daily Reporter-Telegram now issued here.

And now Watson is asking his first office and friends are supporting him. His is a platform based on qualification and a sympathetic urge to continue services to the public he began to serve about 25 years ago, supporters say, pointing out that his long association with county residents makes him admirably adapted to understanding their needs. They furthermore point out that his years of training as a newspaper man have kept him abreast of modern methods and needs, and that he will be ready to administer impartially to the new element and to those who have been here for many years.

Watson believes in bigger and better schools; lower, equalized taxes; labor conditions that will more adequately provide for the high standard of living necessary to the laboring man; regular audit of county records; letting the public know every act of the judge's office, the commissioners court, and the various, paternal administration. He passed his law examinations and was admitted to the bar. He was county attorney of Midland and attached counties in 1903.

New Sales Manager For Osborne Motors

J. A. Lambeth of San Angelo has been made sales manager for the Osborne Motor company, and will move to Midland this week with his family.

Lambeth is called one of the few "three-point" men of the Viking-Oldsmobile district, having sold more of these automobiles than most of the other salesmen.

The Osborne Motor company is the latest addition to the automobile dealers of the city, having recently opened in the new garage and show rooms on South Colorado street.

Foster Held in Death of Lingle

CHICAGO, July 19. (UP)—Frankie Foster, former owner of the gun that killed Alfred Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, was brought back to Chicago in manacles today to be arraigned on an indictment charging murder. Foster was taken off the train at a suburb to elude whatever gangsters may be waiting to "rescue" him.

MIDLAND HITTER STILL SECOND IN TEXAS SWAT RACE

DALLAS, July 19.—(AP)—While Oscar Eckhardt, the Texas League premier swatsman, fell off slightly to an even 400 average through the games of Thursday, "Little Gene" Moore, Dallas rookie, had a big week to hike his mark up to 377 and again was the Beaumont star's closest rival, Frank Tobin, veteran Steer backstop, basked in third place with a healthy .364 average.

Other leading clubbers through Thursday, exclusive of the Shreveport and Beaumont night game, were:

Fitzgerald, Wichita Falls, .353; Hunt, Houston .353; Rye, Waco, .351; E. Brown, Fort Worth, .350; Schinkel, San Antonio, .348; Joe Moore, San Antonio, .344; I. Burns, Wichita Falls, .342.

Look to Association

A Midland cattleman who is recognized as one of the principal leaders in the complaint being made here at the devastating trend of low prices for the producer and prohibitive prices the consumer must pay for beef and its products said Saturday that cattlemen of this area hope the Southwestern Cattle Raisers association will send a representative to Washington to seek cooperation of the farm board.

Since the farmer, tobacco grower and other producers are to realize more stabilization of prices for their produce the local cattleman says part of the $500,000,000 to be expended by the government should be applied towards relief to the cattleman.

Other cattlemen say the time has come when necessarily requires action almost tantamount to a lobby in Washington.

Advocates Cut in Seed Price

SAN MARCOS, July 19. (AP)—Texas State Certified Cottonseed Breeders association here today advocated its membership to reduce certified seed prices paralleling with the low cotton market prices. President J. D. Rogers, Navasota, said the prices would make planting seed the lowest in history, or 20 to 30 per cent under the present prices.

FIRST ROASTING EARS

The first home grown roasting ears thought to have been grown in Midland county this season were brought in Saturday from the South Curtis ranch, four miles north of the city. W. T. Forehand, ranch superintendent, raised the corn. He brought the first watermelon to Midland last year.

BARRERS IS HELD

NEW YORK, July 19. (AP)—Henry Barrers, 37, painter, arrested in Canada last week as a suspect in the Washington murder of Miss Mary Baker, naval department clerk, was taken handcuffed to the capital today by the chief of the homicide bureau, E. J. Kelly.

SHAMROCK V IN GALE

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., July 19. (AP)—A gale encountered an hour after sailing for New York today halted the voyage of Sir Thomas Lipton's Challenger Shamrock V to try to lift America's cup. The Shamrock V anchored in the Ryder river.

WHAT IT COSTS HERE

It has cost Midland county farmers only one cent to kill a rabbit using strychnine and salt bait prepared under direction of the county agent, whereas some counties are paying bounties of five and ten cents per rabbit killed. Farmers report that one pound of bait has killed 27 rabbits.
