DRILLING TO BE STARTED ON MIDLAND COUNTY OIL TEST

NEW ECTOR AREA GETS TWO MORE

Southern Crude Buys Another Lease Near Cowden

Immediate drilling operations are expected to be started on the Nordon Oil Co. test in Midland county, fourteen miles southeast of Midland, following contract by the Cowden Drilling company with Herman Bilbrey of Midland to construct the cellar and slush pit for the test.

The pits will be started Monday, Bilbrey said. He had instructions to rush them to completion as material for the test was being trucked from Marfa by the drilling contractor.

In Section 40 Locations for the test was made by the Nordon Oil Company, Ltd., of Canada, with district offices in Midland, about the middle of August. It is in section 40, block 38, township 3-south, W. T. Gray preemption, on the J. M. Mathena lease. This tract is in east central Midland county, ten miles south and four miles east of Midland, and is about eight miles north of the Pure Oil company's abandoned test on the Hut ranch.

It is rumored that the test will be carried to a depth of either 4,500 or 5,000 feet. The cellar is to be eight feet square and 16 feet deep, and the slush pit 60 feet square and 4 1/2 feet deep.

North Ector Locations In the meantime, interest runs high around the Southern Crude Oil Purchasing Company's No. A-1 Cowden wildcat well in northern Ector county. The well has been flowing from 273 to 289 barrels of oil on 24 hour gauges, total depth being 4,244 feet.

Material is said to be unloaded for two diagonal offsets, one a north-east and the other a southwest, from the Cowden wildcat producer. The northeast offset will be in section 26 and the southwest in section 27, both in block 43, township 1-north, Ector county.

Bought New Lease Purchase of a half section lease by the Southern Crude from B. H. Blakeney, three miles west and slightly north of the Cowden well, was reported here yesterday. It is the east half of section 21, block 43, township 1-north. This tract lies about half way between the Cowden and the abandoned Pear No. 1 Goodman test, and in the tier of sections to the north.

The Fuhrman Petroleum Co. No. 1 W. T. Ford, southern Andrews county gasser, is shut down to run pipe after the gas had been muddied in.

BONNER ELECTED MARSHAL OF BUS TREK ON TUESDAY

John Bonner will be marshal of the chamber of commerce chartered bus trip to Rankin, Iran, McCamey and Crane City Tuesday. He was appointed Friday by R. D. Scruggs, chairman of the auto and retailers committee of the chamber of commerce. Bonner will tell the people in towns visited that if they are going away from home to trade, they ought to come to Midland as Midland is about 96 per cent closer to them than any other large city. Bonner will point out that by coming to Midland from Rankin, Iran, McCamey and Crane City, as against going to the next closest large city, they can save from $8 to $10.40 automobile expense. The Midland man will exhort them to come to Midland and save the difference.

Latin Countries to South Still Politically Upset

Political insurrections continued to give off vapors Saturday throughout the Latin-speaking countries, and the trend to a Teutonic nation was observed.

Cuba and Germany reported political unrest, and the Argentine was still furrowed with factional disorders. Argentina has held the political spotlight during the past few days as the president of the republic has been deposed and intercepted in his attempt to leave the country.

Military rule now has full sway in the Argentine, and the whole country is celebrating in undisguised pleasure.

LATE MOVE MAY MEAN YUCCA IS TO BE REOPENED

The entire production of the 1930-31 season has been tied up by motion picture franchises, it was announced Saturday by Manager John Bonner of the Ritz theatre and Griffith interests.

The most significant factor seen in the move to get all the best pictures for Midland is the likely re-opening of the Yucca, $300,000 house that was shut down a few months ago because of failure to get cooling equipment installed before the summer set in.

Bonner said that Universal has been added to the list of producing corporations that will send to Midland the pick of their releases. Contract was signed with Universal last week, and now Midland has contracts with the five major producers, First National, Warner Brothers, Paramount, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Fox.

Contracts will run over a period of years. In the case of the first two companies mentioned, 10-year franchises obtain, in the latter three, five-year franchises. "All Quiet Along the Western Front" is to be one of the first Universal pictures to be shown here. The theatre manager did not give the date of its showing but said it would be soon.

Bonner did not say that the Yucca would be re-opened soon, but he did say that the Ritz already has more strong pictures available than it can possibly show.

It is believed that the big show house, the finest between Fort Worth and Los Angeles, will be opened as early as possible.

Pat evidently thought the generator was more dangerous when kicked than when approached by a naked flame.

MEXICAN TAKEN, LARGE STILL IS DESTROYED HERE

A 50-gallon still that was running at full capacity was taken by city and county officers Friday afternoon in the Mexican quarter. Peter Ortez, Mexican, was taken into custody when he admitted he was sole owner and operator of the distilling place.

Andy Norwood, city marshal, R. D. Lee, constable, and Fish Pollard, deputy, made the arrest. They approached the place and went into it by different doors and had the Mexican "covered" before he had time to make his escape.

Ten 50-gallon barrels of mash and three gallons of whisky were confiscated and later poured out. The man offered no resistance.

The distillery was located in an adobe hut one block from the city barn, just east of North Dallas street. The floor was of earth and was completely covered with the still and mash barrels.

Ortez had a local police record and was married to a sister of the Mexican slayer of a Big Spring sheriff several years ago, court records show.

AMERICAN BOAT WINS RACE OVER THE SHAMROCK V

The staunch yacht Enterprise successfully defended the American cup in the first race against the Irish challenger, Shamrock V, Saturday, making the 30-mile course in faster time than Sir Thomas Lipton's boat.

For 37 events American tradition has held that the cup must remain in America, and only three times during that period, which has dated back to the time of Queen Anne, has an American boat failed to win. Sir Thomas Lipton, five times challenger, will probably make this the last time to race against an American defender. The ardent sportsman is growing old, but it is his fondest ambition to take the cup back to the shores of Britain, from

They explained how exhibits should be arranged for showing at the Midland county farm fair to be given this month.

Interest in the fair appeared to be at a high pitch. Questions were asked at the meetings by practically everyone present.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of each meeting, the farm folk having brought ice cream in large freezers. Several other meetings at other communities are to be held.

ATLANTIC WEATHER SAID BAD

Bromley to Try Hard Route Over the Pacific

Two planes took off Saturday (eastern standard time) across the ocean wastes for other continents. One of the planes, the Columbia, sailed eastward for Europe, the other, the City of Tacoma, eastward for America.

MONTREAL, Sept. 12, 13. (AP)—Captain Errol Boyd and Lieutenant Harry Connor hopped off at 7:30 this morning in the monoplane Columbia for Harbor Grace, Maine, on the first leg of a transatlantic flight to Croyden, England. The start was made despite meteorological reports that weather conditions are not the best.

Leaves Japan SAMBONGI, Sunday, Sept. 14. (AP)—Pilot Harold Bromley and Harold Gatty, navigator, soared over the Pacific at dawn today, beginning the 4,532 mile nonstop flight to Tacoma, Washington, in the monoplane of Tacoma.

Hundreds of Japanese cheered as the plane turned northeastward, headed in the direction of Cape Yezumi on the island Yezo. The plane carried 1,600 gallons of gasoline.

The attempt of Bromley makes the fifth he has assayed. Death has ridden astride the fuselages of his planes, plucking at his attempts with uncanny alertness. His ships have crashed, burned, and in general failed to come up to the expectations he has demanded.

If he is successful on the present attempt he will have broken a "jinx" that has followed him during the past few months.

A religious census was taken three years ago, also.

DESPONDENCY REFLECTED GRIMLY AS LEAGUE OF NATIONS GOES INTO 11TH SESSION; DISARMAMENT CONTENTION

GENEVA, Sept. 13. (AP)—Shadows of pessimism hung over the eleventh session of the League of Nations assembly during the first period of its labors ending tonight. Delegates look forward to next week's activity to provide dawn.

Pessimism was manifested in grim speeches of most orators who pointed out the slowness of the world's advances toward disarmament and the solution of economic problems. Next week non-permanent members of the council are to be elected and regular committees will begin actual work.

AUSTIN, Sept. 13. (AP)—Contracts calling for construction of state highway projects in 22 counties, at an estimated cost of $1,726,000, will be let by the highway commission at meetings Monday and Tuesday.

A large portion of the work will be in West Texas counties and will provide work for drought-stricken farmers. Each of the contracts will specify use of local labor wherever possible.

The list of projects calls for improvement of approximately 165 miles of highways. Most of the work, however, is grading and drainage.

OIL MEN PLEASED AT LOOK

Formal Opening to Be Held Friday of This Week

From 250 to 300 oil men were in Midland Saturday to inspect the quarter-million dollar Hughes Tool company plant which will be formally opened at a public gathering Friday.

From all over the state they came, and other states. Officials of the main office of the Hughes Tool company at Houston, others from the west coast, men connected with major oil companies throughout the country, and a wide gathering from over the Permian basin of West Texas—all were here and pronounced the plant one of the finest in the Hughes organization.

Hughes officials made a minute inspection of the plant and said it was modern to the point of being a model for future plants that might be constructed.

New Crossing Completed City Manager A. J. Gates had the new crossing before the plant finished in plenty of time for the opening, and Superintendent Pistole of the Texas & Pacific Railroad company had workmen cover it with rock screenings.

The Lions club orchestra played for the Saturday affair, and Jim Murray, president of the Murray Tool company of Cleveland, Okla., kept the crowd running to the exits to watch him zoom and dive overhead in his scarlet Cessna monoplane.

Friday afternoon will see the formal opening of the plant. The entire public is invited to visit and watch operation of the big machines of the company. The chamber of commerce has named a committee on preparation for the event, and the largest crowd to attend such an opening in Midland is expected.

SYSTEM IN CHARITY WORK

The importance of conducting charity work through recognized and organized channels, such as the Midland Community Welfare association, the Salvation Army, or the American Red Cross, is seen in figures published in an article by William F. McDermott, Chicago newspaper man, in The Rotarian, showing that street begging is a $150,000,000 business in the United States alone. Add to that $100,000,000 collected by fake charity racketeers and there is a quarter billion dollars donated by big-hearted American people to charity panhandlers.

When four "legless" cripples in Chicago traveled to their posts by taxi, reports Mr. McDermott, they were arrested by police and found to have nearly $100 in their pockets—a half hour's profits. An Omaha "blind" pencil seller was found to own a prosperous rooming house. University students have found panhandlers making as high as $200 a day, and a palsied New York subway "specialist" was discovered to have $40,000 in first mortgages.

Fake charity promoters know religion and "war relief" are sure-fire appeals. They know that few citizens will risk ridicule by checking up on those who solicit the name of religion or soldier-welfare. The solution of the problem, says Mr. McDermott, is for a local non-partisan civic organization to prepare a roster of authorized charities. Citizens should then be asked to refrain from donating to causes not on the list.

The problem of the tincup beggar can be solved by such charitable institutions as the Salvation Army issuing relief tickets. The citizen supplies himself with these coupons which, when presented by the recipient to the organization, are good for lodging and breakfast. The citizen is then billed for the actual cost. Wherever such systems are in use, says Mr. McDermott, they have been found useful in weeding the truly needy cases of poverty from the false.

IT'S PAINFUL, BUT NECESSARY
Henry Ford, remarking that our recovery from the business depression will be rather long-drawn-out, asserts that this is going to be a good thing for us.

"Otherwise," he says, "the people wouldn't profit by the illness. And when it's all over we'll know things we didn't know before. I'm inclined to view the matter optimistically because I can see that people are thinking now. And that's something they didn't do last year, or even two years ago. Very few people thought then. That is, they thought of only one thing. They thought of buying and selling stock."

There is a good deal of sense in that. Unquestionably the inflation that preceded last autumn's market crash bred some bad business practices and was responsible for an unhealthy business attitude. The cure is painful, but in the long run it is apt to put us in a better position than we occupied before.

BARBS

"Alfalfa" Bill Murray may have hitch-hiked in his campaign for governor of Oklahoma, but he won the nomination in a walk.

Bernard Shaw, who said he signed a contract for the movies because of financial reasons, is one who feels, no doubt, that money talks.

A decree has been issued in Mexico against "pistol toting." This action is pretty sure to make inaugurations there in the future rather spiritless affairs.

North Carolina State College is holding a summer school for janitors. It is said they're often given permission in class to take the floor.

Those states which have had population totals clipped off in the revised census tabulation, have one consolation—it may mean fewer congressmen.

Recording radio movies on a thin steel band instead of a film recently was demonstrated successfully in Berlin by a Hungarian inventor.

All the Great Powers Will Send Gifts and There'll Be Lots of Pomp When Abyssinia Crowns Ras Tafari Its Emperor—He'll Get a Nice Photograph of President Hoover

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—One of the most superb spectacles of pomp and ceremony in modern times will be enacted early in November at Addis Ababa, the capital of Abyssinia, when Ras Tafari is crowned emperor.

A hundred thousand warlike tribesmen and distinguished representatives of the United States and the other great world powers will meet for two or three weeks of celebration in one of the last few absolute monarchies left among nations. Not forgetting a squad of sound movie cameramen.

Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany, Japan—and America, too—are going to make an appropriate fuss over this coronation because they all have important interests to serve in Abyssinia—or Ethiopia, as the Abyssinians call their country. The European powers have had political interests there for many decades, during which the Abyssinians have seemed unconquerable by force. British Somaliland, French Somaliland and Italian Somaliland all border the country.

Big Developments Expected
Ethiopia is considered on the verge of a great national revival which will open it for exploitation. Outside nations seek the exploiting privileges. France built the railroad to the capital. Britain and France have been interested in other rail or motor roads. There has been considerable excitement since the J. C. White Co. of New York obtained an agreement to survey the proposed $20,000,000 irrigation dam at Lake Tsana, source of the Blue Nile. Americans hope to get the dam contract and other concessions because Ras Tafari knows we haven't any political ambitions in Africa.

We're sending a special ambassador to the coronation. J. Murray Jacoby, New York banker. His military aide will be General William Harts, one of the handsomest and most profusely decorated officers in the United States. Charles Lee Cooke, protocols and ceremonials officer of the State Department, will also be there. The American minister resident is Addison E. Southard, who is keeping the department informed about the big show.

Britain will send the Duke of Gloucester, son of King George. Italy the Duke of Abruzzi of her royal house. Japan, it is said, the brother of her emperor, France, the Marshal Franchet D'Esperey, and the Vatican State will send an emissary, for Abyssinia has been a Christian nation since 380 A. D. even though her people are of the Coptic faith.

Most of these folks will go bearing fine gifts to Ras Tafari, for his is a gift-giving, gift-taking people. From the U. S. government the emperor will be getting no more than a large photograph of President Hoover, presumably autographed, and cablegram of congratulations. But certain American manufacturing corporations, realizing the importance of Ethiopia and its coronation, will toss in a big radio set, a large electric refrigerating outfit, a swell automobile and other such doodads.

Costumes in the pageantry and ceremony probably will surpass anything ever done in Africa. Customs both ancient and picturesque will be observed. The feudal rulers of the land still hold umbrellas over their heads on special occasions as emblems of their high office. The Abouma, head of the Coptic church in Ethiopia appointed by the Patriarch at Alexandria, will be an important figure in the great program of elaborate religious pageantry to be unfolded before the eyes of the foreign missions. Ras Tafari is said to be a remarkable man. He has subdued all opposition to him and all the little kings of Ethiopia now pay him allegiance. He was regent of the country for many years and is of the line which claims descent from the original King Menelik, who was the offspring of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. He follows the Empress Zauditu, or Judith, daughter of the last emperor, who was put in power when her ruling grandson Yasu turned Mohammedan. She was known as the Queens of Kings. Ras Tafari played in with Zauditu and got her to name him a king, afterward strongly fortifying his position.

Quelled a Revolt
Early this year Zauditu's plottish husband, Ras Gugus Olie, started a revolt against Ras Tafari, who used airplanes against him. An airplane bomb landed squarely on Gugus and blew him into small pieces. The Queen of Kings died the very next day. Rumors that she had been poisoned were met with dignified denials. Ras Tafari became undisputed ruler under the name of Haile Selassie and President Hoover sent him a cablegram of congratulations.

European nations have favored the diplomatic method of dealing with Ethiopia ever since the Abyssinians wiped up the desert with an Italian army in 186, killing about 5000 and capturing other thousands.

Abyssinia is the home of vast numbers of lions and also of many antelope, including the dik-dik, an antelope which hardly ever grows to a weight of more than 10 pounds.

The railroad from the sea to the capital takes about a week to reach Addis Ababa. The train runs in the daytime and parks at night.

THE TOWN DOCTOR

MANY ARE CALLED BUT FEW LISTEN

Every community is called upon to make the most of its natural advantages. It is not a case of "many are called but few are chosen" when it comes to communities making the most of that which the good Lord has given them—it's a case of ALL are called but too few LISTEN.

Or if they hear the "call" they sit back and say, "Well, that can't be right, for we have never done it that way." Therefore when the time comes for an industry or some interested party to "choose" a town for some particular purpose they are not invited to the party.

In traveling over a half million miles of North American highways and byways it has been my pleasure to see and study, and therefore know, many habitats of man, both large and small. Many, and in fact most of them, have tried, at least now and then, to make the most of the stake nature gave them; they have, even through only off and on, made an effort to do that which they thought would help make the community a better and more attractive place to live and work. Whether or not effort was based on sound feasible workable plan does not enter into it—the fact that the attempt was made is enough.

Some, and I might say although too many, accepted nature's gift as a matter of course, and everybody TOOK all they could get without PUTTING any thing back. As is always the case under such conditions, the time came (or is near at hand) when there was nothing more to TAKE and then—"dead town."

Now I have seen other communities, which recognized, with full appreciation, the "gift" nature had bestowed upon them. They made manifest their appreciation by improving it on the only plans approved by the giver—common sense, sound judgment and NATURAL laws of cause and effect.

These towns were always ready and willing and eager to listen to any sound plan based on "good Business" that would BUILD their community. These are the towns

The Town Quack

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

It's a common thing to hear someone sympathize with a friend who has suffered misfortune, but about half the time you wonder if they mean half they say. I heard yesterday of an example of sympathy in which the sympathizer proved how he felt.

It seems that the Rev. George F. Brown had four teeth pulled. The Rev. Leslie A. Boone expressed his sympathy. I don't know whether it was because Brown showed that he doubted Boone's real feeling of sympathy or not, but anyway late that afternoon, Boone went to the same dentist and had four of his teeth pulled.

According to church announcements, church services will be held as usual today, which is proof that both of the preachers have stamina and that at least one has sympathy.

Pearl Wimberly, our society editor, waited until this late in the season to catch the hay fever. Must have been out getting a story on a barn dance or something. Anyway, now she is hoping for an early frost.

Later information says that Rev. Boone's text this morning will be, "They were with us but are gone, and how the parting hurt."

I wonder if there is anything significant in the letter addressed to The Reporter-Telegram, attention Mr. Harrison from the Dry Climate Ink and Roller company. What could they have to sell that would work you will believe a thing is so, and there are enough other fellows just like you, it WILL BE SO!

Try getting together with fellows who think "can." Refuse to associate with those who think "can't." Remember that the fellow who says "It can't be done" is always interrupted by some fellow doing it. Why not be the kind of fellow who DOES think?

SOLUTION MAY BE NEAR IN MYSTERY THOUGHT ONCE TO INVOLVE TWO WHO LIVED HERE; CLIPPING IS PRODUCED

Possibility that the mystery hovering over the discovery last February of the bodies of a woman and a child in the murky waters of the Pecos river below Pecos may have been partially dissolved appeared this week.

At the time, conjecture placed the age of the woman at about 35, and that of the girl at about 11. The girl had worn street clothes and had been apparently strangled. The woman's body was wrapped in a blanket and tied with thin clothes. Physicians believed that both were dead when tossed into the stream.

FARMERS ARE BUSY NOW

Seeks Improvements

In this age of progress and enlightenment, instructors are beginning to believe more and more in the standardization of the schools in which they teach.

A plan concerning this is being made by the teachers of Prairie Lee rural school. The instructors, Mr. and Mrs. Lacewell and Miss Margaret Carpenter believe they can put this plan over with little expense. In a standard rural school there are score cards which are filled in each year by the teachers. This means that school work, playground equipment, comfortable housing and many other things shall be kept up to standards set forth by the state.

Prairie Lee, being the largest rural school in the county, favorably located and with the expectation of a perfect attendance record after the harvesting period is over, should be the first school in the county to be made a standard rural school.

With cooperation and a small expense, this plan can be carried out and probably the school will continue to be a standard school because other teachers will work hard to keep the certificates which have been required by their predecessors.

The teachers would like to see Prairie Lee made the best rural school in West Texas by bringing its work up to the highest standard.

Charlie Sutton of Lamesa is visiting Mr. Robert Saylor of this community.

The cotton here is opening rapidly. Some farmers have out as many as six bales. One farmer says he cannot get enough pickers.

School will continue through next week according to present plans. How much longer has not yet been decided. Children will aid in picking.

The mother's and fathers are asked to remember to meet with Miss Derryberry and Mr. Wendt, county agents, here at the school-house next Thursday night, September 18. Mr. Wendt and Miss Derryberry want to show how to arrange exhibits for the fair. All of the parents should be out to this meeting. All must help if we are to be able to take those first prizes offered.

WRITER EXPECTS GREAT SPEEDS FROM ROCKETS

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (UP)—The liquid hydrogen-oxygen fuel developed by Prof. H. Goddard to drive his now famous "moon rockets" in their exploration of extreme altitudes may result in development of a super-airplane, one capable of traveling 1,000 miles an hour through the thin air miles above the present aviator's ceiling.

This interesting possibility is advanced by William H. Wenstrom, United States army technical expert, who interprets Prof. Goddard's experiments in the current issue of the Review of Reviews.

Explaining Prof. Goddard's principle of rocket propulsion, in which the rocket is driven higher and higher by a succession of periodic explosions of the fuel, the writer points out that the German Fritz von Opel has flown in a glider propelled by black powder using the same principle. The Goddard fuel is 100 times as powerful as black powder, he points out.

"The recent trans-America record of Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh focused attention on an idea long half-known," he continues. "That is, that under suitable conditions surprising airplane speeds can be made at extremely high altitude. Where a height of five miles is extreme for the screw-driven craft, the rocket plane can perhaps go up 20 miles and cruise at more than 1,000 miles an hour. With such a craft it would be possible to watch a sunset fade in Massachusetts and then experience the sensation of time turned backward as the plane sped for San Francisco where we could watch our second sunset in one afternoon."

The most conservative scientists today view it as not at all inconceivable the moon may some day be reached as a result of the Goddard experiments, says the writer. Both the Smithsonian Institution and Daniel Guggenheim, the philanthropist, are now supporting the work.

"To visualize the next Goddard rocket, think of a metal pocket pencil magnified until its length is about 10 feet," says the description. "The pointed end contains several instruments. A special camera will bring back a picture of the complete solar spectrum, never visible on earth because the atmosphere absorbs many important radiations. An air-trap will bring back actual samples of gas, deciding whether helium or hydrogen predominates—at present a vexed question. And electrical instruments will measure the ionization levels, while a barometer records their pressure."

Right now much is being said about the goal of education, but along about next November there will be much to suggest that the one on the football fields answers the description.

L. C. Proctor is putting up a wolf-proof fence on his ranch.

Necessary Evil Don't scorn the wallflower. Somebody has to wind the phonograph.

The goal that the lumber, etc., set for themselves was to make the best that was to be sold. You can judge how well they succeeded by giving it a trial.

"So you go to school now, Billy?" "Yes Uncle." "Let me hear you spell puppy." "I'm too big for that. Try me on dog."

Mr. N. G. Baker is building a new garage at his place on 601 S. Terrell St.

A local man says: "A lot of men are so busy planning for tomorrow that they never have time to do the things which they planned yesterday to do today."

A shrill scream rent the deserted house. "Hooray," said the landlord, "the house is rented."

Pat: "Why are you wearing so many coats on such a hot day?"

"Imagine my embarrassment," said

Aunt Emma, "when, according to my usual custom, I looked under the bed before retiring, I had forgotten I was in an upper berth."

Today, not tomorrow is the time to come in and get that Wall Paper.

UNUSUAL MALE CAST IN "DAWN PATROL"

One of the most unusual aggregations of male actors in the history of motion pictures supports Richard Barthelmess, First National-Vitaphone star, in "The Dawn Patrol."

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. plays the role of Scott, the most important acting part in that young actor's career. Young Fairbanks has been featured and co-featured in several First National-Vitaphone pictures and has built up quite a following. He was last seen in "Way Of All Men" and "One Night at Susie."

Neil Hamilton will be seen in "The Dawn Patrol" playing a role with many historic possibilities. His part is that of Major Brand, commander of a British flying squadron who is compelled to sacrifice young flyers on hopeless missions. Hamilton was for years a featured leading man under the banners of D. W. Griffith and Paramount.

Gardner James plays a flyer whose nerves have broken under the strain. James has been well-known to picture-goers for years.

Two English actors take important parts in this Barthelmess production. Edmund Breon who plays a monocled British officer and Clyde Cook, appearing as a bartender. Cook's comedy relieves the tense situations with which "The Dawn Patrol" abounds. James Finlayson is another acquisition from the comedy screen. Like Cook he, too, is a graduate from the short comedy field. From the musical comedy stage and vaudeville comes Frank McHugh in the role of an hilariously inebriated private in the ranks.

The most important of the lesser roles is played by William Janney, whom First National-Vitaphone placed under contract after seeing his splendid work in "The Dawn Patrol."

"Dawn Patrol" starts today at the Ritz Theatre.

John M. Gist of Odessa transacted business in Midland Saturday.

The visit of Miss Byrnes to Midland will be one of greatest value to local temperance workers. Her stay will not only include Thursday but continue through Friday.

Young men and women are especially inspired by Helen Louise Byrnes. She has a fascinating power of thrilling audiences of young people and is looked upon as one in a thousand. Young America seeks higher and better things and Miss Byrnes is said to strike the note best suited to appeal to the heart and mind of the coming generation.

She is field secretary for the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, chosen for her special ability as a speaker, her alertness of mind, her power to hold the attention, to instruct and to inspire.

County Fair Sidelights

Women's booths at the Midland county fair September 26 and 27 will be filled with original articles being prepared by almost every club woman in the county.

Braided rugs made from heap sacks are being completed this week by Miss Viola Campbell, Mrs. A. L. Hollman and Mrs. Herrington.

The dresser scarf booth will exhibit at least 20 embroidered and hemstitched patterns.

Seven county women are putting the last few stitches on tailored dresses.

About twelve children's dresses will also be included in the dress booths.

Final arrangements were made by the Busy Bee, Cotton Flat and Valley View clubs at meetings held last week. Approximately 150 people attended these gatherings.

As an organizer of campaigns, leagues, and clubs, she is without doubt one of the most effective workers in the country.

Miss Byrnes is a graduate of that great evangelistic institution of the middle west, the Moody Bible Institute. She is an ordained minister of the Methodist Episcopal church; a member of the International Federation of Christian Workers and the International Evangelistic Association. These affiliations are typical of the national scope of her endeavors and accomplishments.

In speaking of the secretary's ability, the chief executive of the W. C. T. U. in North Dakota said, "Her attractive personality, her sunny temperament and her real desire to help make Miss Byrnes a speaker and a helper this state is always delighted to welcome."

UNEMPLOYMENT IN ITALY SAID TO BE RISING

ROME, Sept. 12. (UP).—The director of the National Bank for social insurance, Commendatore Medolaghi has just informed the cabinet that the figures of the unemployed in Italy on July 31 were 342,093, showing an increase of 21,806 over the total for the end of June this year. Of these unemployed, 232,145 were men and 109,948 women.

Unemployment insurance was being paid on the foregoing date to 130,000 unemployed.

It may be conservatively estimated at around 400,000 with a probable increase in the winter.

There is no dole system in force here. The government social insurance subsidy is only given to those workers who regularly pay their insurance quota every month. Half of this is paid by the employer, and half by the worker.

Employees, such as clerks, are outside the government scheme of social insurance, unless their own organizations or corporations have made special provision to this end. This only happens in special cases.

The Italian government has planned an extensive scheme of public works for the forthcoming winter, involving more than two hundred millions of lire. In addition there are extensive programs for municipal public works for large sums.

The principle behind the Italian government's plans for dealing with unemployment is "no money for nothing." The dole is not admitted, and every workman must earn the money he obtains from the government's public works scheme.

REEVES COUNTY GRAND JURY FINDS NO EVIDENCE SUFFICIENT TO RETURN INDICTMENT IN LLOYD CASE MYSTERY

The mystery surrounding the slaying of Mrs. Jeannette Lloyd, whose battered and lifeless body was found beside the highway below Toyah on the morning of July 27 remains unsolved.

After being in session for nearly a week the Reeves county grand jury reported last week with no indictment in the Lloyd slaying. The grand jury recessed to meet again on September 17.

The body of Mrs. Lloyd, with the head crushed in, was discovered by a bus driver early on the morning of July 17.

It was identified by papers in a handbag which she carried as Mrs. Lloyd who had been engaged in the practice of chiropractic at Midland recently.

Shortly after the slaying laundry marks on a piece of a short found near the body were traced and one young man arrested. This man, "Chick" Richardson of Midland, was quickly released, however. Since then no developments in the case have occurred.

Ector Field Starts New Development

ODESSA, Sept. 13.—Ector county's new oil field, 16 miles north of Odessa has started a general program of development. Cowden A-1 drilled in this wildcat well in this new territory to a producer this week has created a great deal of excitement.

Four new locations have been selected, two by the Southern Crude and two by major companies. The Southern Crude has erected eight 500-barrel storage tanks and is erecting a 55,000 barrel tank, clearing off ground for field offices, machine shops and a warehouse.

To meet this new activity, the Ector county commissioners are arranging to oil the surface on the road that is being used at present and will keep crews on this road in order that the people using same may travel with ease. The potash highway is being paved and will pass within two miles of the present new field.

Former Sheriff Suicides Friday

KIRVEN, Sept. 13. (UP).—A bullet wound, inflicted last night, proved fatal to Horace M. Mayo, 55, former sheriff of Freestone county, at his home here. He sent an employe on the farm with letters to his wife and brothers telling how to dispose of his property. When relatives arrived, they found Mayo unconscious. He died later and a suicide verdict was returned.

Mayo is said to have worried over business reverses.

LIVESTOCK HOLD UP DESPITE NEED FOR HEAVY RAIN

AUSTIN, Sept. 13. (UP).—Livestock held up remarkably well in view of drought conditions, federal statisticians said in the report as of September 1, released here today.

Cattle conditions declined only four points to 78 per cent during August, and sheep declined five points to 76 per cent.

Rains are needed in south Texas but stock is not suffering. Much of the panhandle, coastal belt and all of south Texas produced sufficient feed to meet the local demand and a few produced a surplus.

Conditions of sheep and goats are becoming critical, with prospects of fewer sheep shorn this year than usual.

Sunflower Here May Be Champion

Here may be the champion of the weed kingdom: There's a wild sunflower in Midland with 730 blooms and 500 buds on it, and there's a new bud being born every half hour or so.

J. H. Williamson, a church deacon, reported the sunflower and has plucked the flowers to prove his statement. It's an ordinary wild sunflower growing in the extraordinary rich soil of Midland.

ABILENE PREPARES FOR FAIR EVENTS LATTER PART SEPT.

ABILENE, Sept. 13.—Elaborate plans are rapidly being completed for the fourteenth annual West Texas fair which is to be held in Abilene Monday, Sept. 29 to Saturday, Oct. 4, inclusive.

The entertainment features will be entirely different from all previous shows. Ernie Young's gala revue, "Spanish Nights," will be presented before the grandstand each night.

On Monday afternoon, the Abilene Eagles and Big Spring high school will meet on the gridiron, and on Saturday the Eagles will play Sweetwater. On Tuesday there will be a series of motorcycle races.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, a complete rodeo program will be presented before the grandstand. There will be eight main events, wild steer riding, bulldogging, wild mule race, calf roping, goat roping, wild cow milking, bronc riding, and a musical chair race. Special events will be an exhibition of whip chacking, trick roping and riding, the High School Horse, a cowboy clown, bulldogging steers from a racing automobile, and cowgirls' exhibition, bronc riding.

A special feature of the entertainment will be a terrapin derby, preliminaries to be run about the middle of the week and finals on Saturday. At least 3,500 trained racing terrapins are to be imported for this special event. Each entry will cost $2, and present indications are that thousands will run well over $3000. Any person may enter one of these trained terrapins upon payment of the entrance fee.

Williamson Gets Letter from West

Description of the great scout jamboree was in a letter from Chief Executive James West to Marcos Williamson here. He said, in part:

"A vast green meadow under our feet. A fringe of stately forest. Stands filled with thousands and thousands of spectators. The chief scout lifts a crooked African horn to his lips and blows a call. There is a swirl of Scottish bagpipes, and fifty thousand scouts begin to move. First comes America, 1500 strong. Old Glory leading. Everybody in shorts, perfectly uniformed. As they pass the reviewing stand each scout breaks out a tiny American flag in salute, and the Duke of Connaught raises his hand in acknowledgement.

No one who was present at the opening of the world jamboree and the two weeks that followed will ever lose that great inspiration. The game of scouting as it is played around the world has a thousand faces, but a single heart and motive—they are written in the scout oath and law. We were proud of the world's scouts. We were especially proud of our American boys.

"By their uniforms ye shall know them." That was practically the only way in which we could tell where a scout came from in the babel of half a hundred tongues. Never before was it borne on me so strongly how important a trust our own scout uniform should be to us, how careful we should be in wearing it correctly. In our uniforms we become not just individuals but representatives of a vast movement, of a great nation. Carelessness of one reflects on all. Let the world know us at our best, in the official uniform correctly worn."

Arm Torn off; Is Buried in Odessa

ODESSA, Sept. 13.—Tuesday when driving a sedan near Monahans, Bud Stokes, who operates a rooming house at Penwell, was resting his left arm on the door of the car with his elbow extending out of the car.

A truck driven by a man alleged to have been intoxicated struck his car sidewise, perking the extended arm off, just above the elbow. The severed arm fell in the road.

Stokes stopped his car, picked up the arm and continued his trip to Monahans, two miles away. First aid was given the injured party and the following day he was brought to the Odessa hospital for further treatment. Today an undertaking company received instructions from Stokes' mother to prepare the arm and bury it. She stated that she had heard of people losing their limbs and later felt the ill effects of the limb, due to not having been properly buried. Be this as it may the undertaker prepared and buried the arm in the Odessa cemetery.

MIDLAND SETS A RECORD FOR GOOD WILL JOURNEYS

Midland business men through their chamber of commerce have set an all-time state record for goodwill trips taken by towns of less than 25,000 inhabitants, it is believed here.

During the past year, the city will have made by Sept. 27 one chartered bus trip, two chartered train trips, two motor caravan treks and a number of side journeys to Andrews, Big Spring, Stanton, Rankin and other places.

More than 1,080 miles will have been covered by the goodwill journeys, more than 500 people carried along and more than 100 automobiles.

The trips have been conducted under the general direction of the automobile and retailers committees of the chamber of commerce.

Much new business has been traceable to the goodwill fostered by the trips, various business men say.

Midland-Paso Grid Tickets Going Fast

El Paso is buying a large number of tickets for the Austin high and Midland high school game there Sept. 27, news from the border city says.

The pep squad of the Austin school has been charged with the sale of tickets, and held a breakfast one day last week to make a report that was said by El Paso newspapers to be "entirely satisfactory."

Midland will play the El Paso school at night, under arc lights. Neither team has ever played under such circumstances and the chances are even for either to win, it is said. Midland will probably make trouble for the Pasoans, however, as the Bulldog aggregation is showing much improvement over last year.

A special train will be run from Midland. This is sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

Text: Jer. 1:4-10; 31:27-34

Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying:

Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee; and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations.

Then said I: Ah, Lord God behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child.

But the Lord said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.

Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee.

Then the Lord put forth his hand, and touched my mouth. And the Lord said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.

Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them, to build, and to plant, saith the Lord.

In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge.

But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah:

Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was a husband unto them, saith the Lord:

But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and will write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for September 14. Responsibility of the Individual. Jer. 1:4-10; 31:27-34.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

From one of the so-called minor prophets, Amos, as we have seen, a man great in character and service, we turn now to a major prophet, Jeremiah, sometimes noted for the dolefulness of his message, but more noted for the courage with which he refused to use honeyed words in a tragic time and for the pointedness of his rebuke to his age and the clearness of his message concerning the way of life and hope.

The core of Jeremiah's message is in his emphasis upon individual responsibility. It begins with himself. He is conscious of a call of God that came in the very purpose of his life. He has the assurance that he was sanctified even before birth and that he has been called as a prophet. In spite of this call he feels his weakness, and he assures the Lord that he knows not how to speak. But with all his hesitancy he heeds the call and goes to do and say the thing given him. It is a great picture of a man with a consciousness of a mission and with the determination to fulfill that mission even though he feels so little qualified for it.

Individual Responsibility

So he comes forward, daring to speak in the name of the Lord. He speaks to those who were hiding behind the law of heredity, and he reminds them that they are responsible for their own iniquity, and that it is possible for them to make a covenant with God as directly and powerfully as any that their fathers had made. He turns the mind of the people from the outward aspect of religion to its inward aspect. The law of God is in the inward parts, and it is written in the hearts of men.

Here we see Jeremiah striking a note very similar to that of Amos. Religion does not consist of form and observance; it has a deeper reality. It is an ideal picture that Jeremiah draws of a people with that law in their hearts determining their obedience to everything good. In the ideal kingdom that he thinks of zeal and knowledge as creating, he pictures a time when every individual will have his part in the true society, when none shall say to his brother "know the Lord," for all shall know him from the least unto the greatest.

It is not quite easy to grasp the significance of the work of these prophets. We read so much of the ideas and impressions of a later day into a record and we fail to see the extent to which the prophet was a man far ahead of his time, with strong individuality and with magnificent daring, expressing to the world the vision of his own soul in love and in righteousness.

The prophets of Israel stand as sublime figures in the records of history as unique in relation to their age as great artists or authors whose personalities have become supreme above their environment.

The deepest message that these prophets themselves would have enforced is that prophecy was not limited to themselves, or to any particular time or place. Prophecy is not limited to themselves, or to any particular time or place. Prophecy is not so much foretelling as fortelling.

The prophet was, and is, the preacher. Sometimes he is a priest ordained to a particular calling and service. Sometimes he is a farmer, or a herdsman, or a man in position and power—but always, be he priest or layman, the distinctive thing about the prophet is his character and his message.

The prophet is the seer—looking into the heart of truth and into the heart of reality and applying the truth fearlessly to the conditions and problems of his age.

Message Often Spurned

The people around him did not always appreciate either his character or his message. Sometimes they stoned him or cast him into prison. Can we discern the prophet more clearly today? Or are we, also, among those who stone the prophets?

Surely there are prophets in the modern world if we can discern their character and heed their message—men (and women) whose vision is of a world of tomorrow, progressing in peace and righteousness moving forward in social welfare through devotion to God and the service of man.

KONJOLA FREED FT. WORTH MAN OF RHEUMATISM

Suffered Five Years—Kidney And Stomach Ailments Also Banished.

MR. N. R. DANIEL

"I suffered from rheumatism for four or five years," said Mr. N. R. Daniel, 808 East Arlington avenue, Ft. Worth. "This settled in my left leg and hips and I became so sore and stiff that I walked with a limp. I could not stoop sufficiently to lace my shoes. Later I became afflicted with stomach pains caused by gas. My kidneys became affected and I suffered constant back pains."

"I watched local endorsements of Konjola and decided to give it a trial. I noticed a change while I was taking the first bottle so I continued the treatment. Today the pains of rheumatism have entirely passed. I move my limbs freely and without effort. The stomach and kidney ailment have gone the way of my rheumatism and I no longer suffer from constipation. Even head catarrh which bother me for years has been relieved by this new medicine."

The files of Konjola contain many such instances. Konjola is free from alcohol, nerve-deadening or heart-depressing chemicals.

Konjola is sold in Midland at Mayes-Young Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. (Adv.)

Nanking Expected To Remain Capital

PEIPING, Sept. 12 (UP)—The capital of China will remain at Nanking, even if General Chiang Kaishek is overthrown and the northern coalition succeeds in its campaign to reorganize the government, in the opinion of Chen Kung-po, the leading southern delegate of the chief executive committee of the Kuomintang now organized in Peiping.

In an interview with the United Press, Chen said it may be necessary to establish a government temporarily in Peiping, but eventually he believes Nanking will be the permanent capital. He declared Nanking, because of its location, the logical seat of government.

Chen also predicted that General Yen Hsi-shan will be elected chairman of the reorganized government if Nanking is defeated in the civil war. "This is the military period of the revolution," said Chen, "and we need a military man to head the government."

PENWELL AND OILERS PLAY DOUBLE-HEADER AT COWDEN PARK

Midland May Shift Plans of Offensive in Polo Game This Afternoon

TIMMONS AND HILL SLABMEN FOR LOCALS

Fans who like their baseball even in the face of approaching football weather will have a chance to see two games at Cowden this afternoon that promise to be good.

The Oilers and Penwell tie up for a double-header. Next Sunday they will play a return double-barrel engagement at Penwell, which will be the last baseball games this season for local clubs.

This afternoon's play will hinge in all probability about the mound work of Timmons and Hill, a couple of young fellows who are always due to furnish the crowds with colorful performances.

The Oilers should be able to take both sessions if these hurlers are right. The siege guns of the local team have been shelling the offerings of every pitcher to face them during the second half of the Tri-County league, running up scores that were top heavy.

The first game gets under way at 2:30.

Simmons Vaqueros Point Toward TCU

Fifty other promising athletes reported.

The Cowboys are pointing for one contest, and make no bones about it, the T. C. U. battle which will be staged in Breckenridge October 4.

ODESSA GRID MACHINE FINDS LACK OF RESERVE POWER, BUT WILL HAVE FLASHY LETTER MEN IN THE LINEUP

With nine of last year's lettermen back in the lineup, and with ten other youngsters struggling to beat them out of berths, the Bronchs of the Odessa high school are showing quite a bit of stuff in their daily workouts. Coach Alton Swain, new director of athletics, is yet noncommittal concerning their chances at a winning machine, but says he will be able later to tell more about it.

In the meantime he is working the boys harder than they have been worked in a long time and is preparing them for whatever they may run up against, says the Odessa News-Times, which continues:

It is believed that the comparatively small number of men out for football will be increased after a few weeks, as soon as school is in full swing. The main problem at present seems to be a shortage of material, but this may prove merely an apparent problem as the machine is worked into shape.

Among the lettermen back are George and Wilflore Whittenberg, co-captains and co-stars in the backfield. Both of the boys are men of experience on the field, with speed, driving force and excellent field generalship. In the line will be Richard Henderson, who has been holding down a line position creditably for some time. Bernard "Wabble" Miller and Roswell Miller are two other huskies expected to add to the line strength. Murray Fly, Earl Tripp, Vernon Adams and John Farmer are all smaller men, who played their first games last year. They were all lettermen and all showed creditable amounts of stuff on the field.

Of the remaining ten or more out, there are a few who have come here from other schools, with experience on the gridiron, while there are also a raft of freshmen, some of whom are promising.

The football schedule in the district interscholastic contests includes only four games for Odessa, two at home and two away. The schedule for the official games follows:

October 10—Pecos at Odessa.
October 17—Stanton at Odessa.
October 24—Midland at Midland.
November 15—Wink at Wink.

It is quite probable that the first game of the series will not be one of the schedule games. The coach has stated that he hopes to get the first game with one of the strong teams of the area, so that the Bronchs could accurately test their strength. Fort Stockton, Crane, Ran-

GREENIES CERTAIN TO WATCH BUM COWDEN

They'll have to head Bum Cowden at Texon today or he is likely to go on another scoring spree that may bring back the Greenie series to Midland, a Texon fan said Saturday, but Midland will go into the game this afternoon with another idea, it is likely.

Midland, known for having three men who can at will assume most of the offensive role, may shove another man repeatedly through the Texon defense and let the Green Jessies be misled into watching Bum.

Cowden shot seven of the nine goals scored by Midland in the Thursday game, the second game of the three-game series. He scored enough individually to tie the total points registered by Texon.

A large bunch of fans was expected to leave in automobiles this morning for Texon. The series, which was evened Thursday by the Midland win, will be decided, and it is the last preparation game before the West Texas exposition tournament which will be played during the week of Sept. 22-27.

Buffaloes and Wild Cats Change Dates

CANYON, Sept. 13.—The football date with Abilene Christian college and West Texas Buffaloes has been changed from Saturday, October 11 to Friday Oct. 10 and will be played as a Dad's day feature, and will be a night game, starting probably about 8:00 o'clock.

The game between these schools has always been a classic. The Christian Wildcats have been successful in toppling the Buffaloes for the past few days. Not since 1927, when playing before a homecoming crowd on Buffalo field, "Red" Keith intercepted a pass and galloped for the winning touchdown, which knocked A. C. C. out of the T. I. A. A. championship, has the Bison Herd been able to down the Wildcat tribe.

kin and McCamey, will all be asked for extra-schedule games. The athletic department hopes to give Odessa fans more games at home this year and more real contests during the season than in any previous season.

TCU SQUAD WHIPS INTO SHAPE FOR UNUSUAL JOUSTS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 13.—Faced with the task of playing two games in as many days, within 10 days after the opening of the training season, Coach Francis Schmidt of the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs is driving his charges with all possible speed.

Secret practice will be carried out through the season, according to Coach Schmidt's custom.

The Christians will do the usual thing this year by playing two games on successive days—Friday and Saturday, Sept. 19 and 20. The first of these will be with the Denton teachers in Denton, and the second with the Commerce teachers in Fort Worth.

Owners of Fine Cars Choose Firestone Tires

Firestone originated the Balloon Tire. All major developments and improvements in today's Balloon Tire design and construction have been introduced by Firestone.

Increased power, high speed and four-wheel brakes, are only a few of the developments in motor cars today that demand tires of extra strength. Firestone, anticipating these advancements, has lead with tires designed and built to meet every requirement of new cars.

The new Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon is built for extra wear—extra service. It is rugged, strong, safe, and in addition to its inbuilt strength, its outward appearance is one of beauty. What more could you ask in a tire?

Yet there is more in a Firestone Tire—Gum-Dipping, that patented extra process found only in Firestone Tires, gives you many extra thousands of miles of trouble-free service at no extra cost. That's why owners of fine cars choose Firestone Tires.

Drive in today—we will make you a liberal allowance on your worn tires.
