Hoople Suggests You Try Dropping That Safe And Pin to See Which Will Hit the Ground First

"For thirty days' work, which would you rather receive—Pardonnez moi—we're getting ahead of the parade."

That happens to be part of one of the "HOOPERS" that appears in the "OUR BOARDING HOUSE" comic today—and you can so easily turn to the comic page and see if you can solve a couple more of Major Hoopler's right-of-his-own-brain queries.

In the meantime, did you work out the answers to yesterday's "HOOPERS"? And, if so, do your answers tally with the Major's? Here they are:

Question 1: What makes a sun ray warmer, passing through a cake of ice?

Answer: Nothing does—because it doesn't get warmer. And besides, why waste the ice in this kind of weather?

Question 2: Which will strike the ground first, falling from a height of 10 feet, a pin or a safe?

Answer: "In answering this question, kind friends," said the Major, "I must ask you to go back with me to the days of Aristotle and Galileo. Mr. Aristotle believed that if two bodies of the same substance fell

Bullard said he called to the driver to halt and fired into the car. Cochran drove away and Bullard followed in his own car. In two miles, he overtook Cochran, called an ambulance for the blood stained man and notified officers. Bullard is a line tester for a construction company.

The signs will be built of iron with bound edges and will be erected on iron posts set in cement. They are expected to stand without re-painting for three years. The signs are 24 feet each and will carry the word "Midland" with mileage, and bearing a different slogan on each sign designed to bring additional business to Midland merchants, garage men, filling stations, hotels, theaters, tourist camps, professional men and others.

The committee will have 12 signs erected each side of Midland extending 110 miles east and west. The signs are expected to attract more than usual attention as they are original in design and in wording, so far as town advertising is concerned.

Lions Told Of Hix Trip To New York

By HARRY L. HAIGHT The Lions club met today in the Scharbauer. That is their custom on every Wednesday. Lion Boone presided and as usual made a good job of it.

Among the visitors were J. H. Clark of Abilene who was the personal guest of M. C. Ulmer, Clark is a member of the Abilene Lions club. He made an instructive response to his introduction. Mr. M. H. Bice of the Western Union traveling department, was the guest of Lion Rutledge, the local manager of the Western Union.

John Hix gave an account of his trip as was announced last week. This trip took him and his family through many states and culminated in a stay in New York City. He paid a tribute to the Hotel Scharbauer in comparison to what he saw in the New Yorker which is perhaps the greatest hostelry ever erected. Apart from size Hix stated that the New Yorker had nothing that the local hotel did not have with the exception of radio's in each room. Equipment and service here were fully as good as in the great New York hotel. Hix's comment was to the effect that apart from a change of scenery Midland was just as good as anything he saw up north.

The Lions orchestra continued to dish out delightful harmony during the meeting.

SPECIAL TRAIN, EL PASO GAME, RATES OUTLINED

Active work toward securing the required 150 tickets on a proposed special train to El Paso September 27, when the Midland high school Bulldogs play the team of the Austin high school there, is expected to be started within the next few days by local sport fans.

Frank Jensen, general passenger agent of the Texas and Pacific lines, wrote to the chamber of commerce here giving full details and tentative schedule of such a special train. The fare would be a cent a mile each way, or a round trip ticket for $6.15 provided as many as 150 tickets were sold.

The tentative schedule outlined by Mr. Jensen would have the special train leave Midland at 5 o'clock in the morning, arriving at El Paso at 12:15 p. m., leaving that city at the following afternoon at 1:50 and arriving here at 9 p. m. This would allow one whole afternoon, one night and the following morning in El Paso. Jensen said, however, that the schedule would be worked out entirely to the satisfaction of the local people.

Interest in a special train to El Paso for the game, the opening football engagement of the season for the Bulldogs, has been worked up following invitation from Wilbur Wimberly, formerly of Midland, who is assistant principal of the Austin high school at El Paso, and other former Midland people living in that city.

MIDLAND NATIONAL IS BUYER

W. M. Pyle on Dawson Farm Gins First Bale Tuesday

Bidding 13 cents a pound, the Midland National bank bought the county's first bale of 1930 cotton when it was auctioned off on the streets of Midland today. The bale was raised by W. M. Pyle, on the Marcos Dawson farm, and was ginned here late Tuesday afternoon.

Captain W. E. Wallace, according to annual custom, was auctioneer when the sale was held in front of the Midland National bank this afternoon.

The bid was raised to 11 cents by J. R. Martin, vice-president of the Midland National, for the institution.

The bid was raised to 11 cents by J. R. Martin, vice-president of the Midland National, for the institution.

Ben F. Whitefield of the Midland Mercantile then bid 11 1/2 cents, his bid being raised by Martin to 12.

Raises Own Bid "Who will bid thirteen?" Auctioneer Wallace asked, to which Martin replied that the bank would, and the bale was declared sold at 13 cents, weighing 468 pounds, the bale brought $60.84 at auction.

Premium of $50, raised late yesterday by Lon Roberts, plus the price of $8.06 received for the seed, brought the total amount for the first bale to $118.90. The seed sold at the rate of $20 per ton, being bought by the gin.

Bale Ginned Tuesday W. M. Pyle, farmer on the Monroe Dawson place 12 miles south of Midland, has undisputed claim to producing Midland county's first bale of cotton for 1930, bringing in his load of cotton in time for ginning Tuesday afternoon.

The bale, after being ginned by the local Farmers Cooperative Gin, weighed 468 pounds. It was taken to the sidewalk in front of the Midland National bank for display, a card bearing the announcement that it would be sold at auction this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The farm on which the cotton was grown is known to old timers of this section as the old Dr. Robinson place, and was bought by Dawson about two years ago.

Crops Advanced Midland crops are believed to be farther along than those in surrounding counties, local business men who have been out over the country say, although it is reported that two bales were ginned earlier this week at Big Spring.

August 26 is earlier than the first bale has been ginned here in the past few years, the date having been early in September. It is predicted that a great deal of cotton will be picked and ready for ginning here in a short time.

ROAD FIGURES SPEAK

There are 2,484,822 miles of unimproved dirt roads in the United States, according to the American Farm Federation, and many thousands of additional miles which have been only slightly improved.
There are 2,747,732 farms located on the unimproved roads, and 1,988,704 on the slightly improved dirt roads. Less than 500,000 American farms are located on roads which are passable every day of every year.
There can be no permanent agricultural prosperity so long as our farmers are isolated from their markets by a barrier of mud. Agricultural progress, both social and economic, will be retarded until our farmers have all-year contact with the outside world through the medium of surfaced, weatherproof roads.
Low-cost, long-wearing, serviceables have been developed which make it possible to provide rural areas with practical year-round roads. When every state embarks on such a program, we will have gone a long way toward permanently solving agriculture's problems.

IMPROVING CATTLE PRICES

Announcement from Washington yesterday concerning the better conditions predicted for cattle prices will be welcomed now to Midland cattlemen.
The agriculture department said that prospects favored a "material advance in cattle prices in the next 12 months."
A report issued through the bureau of agricultural economics and market supplies of cattle during the next five or six months probably would be about the same as a year ago but the supplies during the first half of 1931 were expected to be smaller than in 1930.
Demand for stockers and feeders this fall will not equal that of last year—and for that reason slaughter is likely to be somewhat greater, the report said.
"Prospects favor a continuation of low imports of both live cattle and calves and of fresh and frozen beef and veal. Consumer demand for beef probably will improve somewhat in the next six months with the advent of cooler weather, especially if there is an improvement in industrial activities. Prospects favor a material advance in the next 12 months."

THE AUTOMOBILE IS RESPONSIBLE

In spite of the fact that 31,000 people were killed last year by automobiles, the general accident situation affords grounds for optimism.
Accidents among children of school age have increased less than one-tenth of one per cent in the last seven years. Less than 100 passengers were killed while traveling on all the American railroads in 1929. Hundreds of our large industrial concerns have made remarkable records in reducing their accident rates—both in frequency and severity. A multitude of smaller plants are establishing one, two and even five-year "no-accident" records. Had it not been for the tragic increase of deaths and injuries due to the automobile, the national accident rate would now be 30 per cent lower than it was 17 years ago.
The crux of the entire matter is that we have made good progress in preventing all kinds of accidents except those for which motor cars are responsible. Safety work and instruction in schools and industries, fostered and encouraged by casualty insurance companies, has been the means of saving thousands of lives in the last decade. This work is being carried on with increasing intensity and vast progress will be recorded in the future.
The automobile accident record will not be reduced until we take decisive means to keep the reckless, the irresponsible, and both the mentally and physically incompetent from the public highways, where they menace the lives and property of all other motorists.

Lithuania Takes Revenge On a Former Dictator

By MILTON BRONNER, NEA Service Writer.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—"The Biter Bitten," a delightful comedy of the little country of Lithuania, has just had its third act written in the shape of the serio-comic arrest of the ex-dictator Alexander Voldemaras, on the order of his former friends, who last year toppled him from his job and have now deprived him of his freedom.

Perhaps the only people who do not appreciate the comedy are the Lithuanians themselves, because they have been having a rough time of it for the past sixteen years. The outbreak of the World War found their land a province of Russia. It was overrun many times by the German and Russian armies which surged back and forth. When the war ended, the Lithuanians awoke to their sense of nationality and proclaimed an independent republic. Back in the fourteenth century there had been one of the most powerful countries in Europe. One of their grand dukes became king of Poland, and later Poland and Lithuania were united under the same king.

Had Further Conflicts
The new republic of 1919 was not at the end of its troubles. The Russian Bols invaded it with their armies, but the Lithuanians fished them and got an indemnity from them. Then there were conflicts with the Poles and a peace was patched up, Poland recognizing the ancient Lithuanian city of Vilna as capital of its neighbor. But, shortly afterwards, a Polish general, on his own, occupied Vilna. Poland at first denied him. Then, with a hunger for the important city, it welcomed him. And the League of Nations, framed to do justice between the nations, gave its blessings to the action by handing over Vilna to Poland. That has given Lithuania an everlasting grudge and grievance. It has never been on speaking terms with Poland since and has closed its frontier to Poland and refused to do business with it.

But even then Lithuania's troubles were not over. It had a government made up of a coalition of Populists and Socialists. Suddenly on December 17, 1926, a military cabal overthrew the government, set up Anthony Smetona as president and Professor Voldemaras as prime minister. The latter was the virtual dictator. In addition to military support he had the active backing of the Iron Wolf, a Fascist organization. The chief Iron Wolf ruled with an Iron Paw. Martial law was proclaimed. There was a censure on the press and on public meetings. There were prosecutions of his political enemies. There was a decided immigration of Lithuanians, fleeing from his reign of terror. But he had one big card which had the whole-hearted support of his countrymen. He refused absolutely to give up Vilna. He kept pegging away at this question. Every time the League of Nations met in Geneva, he stormed away on this subject, making himself a nuisance to the booted western Europeans and the South Americans. Last September, in his capacity as premier, dictator and foreign minister, he once more went to Geneva and once more orated all over the place.

Women Started Trouble
In his absence, two petticoats brought about his downfall. President Smetona and a politician, M. Tubelis, married sisters. Madame Tubelis suggested to her sister, Madame Smetona, how nice it would be if Tubelis were made premier. People were tired of the dictator anyway. This message was carried to Smetona. He sounded the army and the police, found everything was "set" for a change, and suddenly pulled the skirts from under Voldemaras. The little stocky man, with the bullet head and close-cropped hair, came storming home, but found no way to get back into power. He had offended too many people.

But he refused to vacate the residence assigned to the prime minister. From there he plotted and planned with his Iron Wolves to pull another putsch. But President Smetona happens to be stronger with the army and the police than the former dictator. So the government proceeded to weaken the Iron Wolves by arresting some of their leaders. Then it concluded the time had come to give Voldemaras a dose of his own medicine.

The little professor came home the other evening from a stroll only to find himself confronted by a lot of armed police with a number of waiting cars. They took him into his house and showed him governmental order for his banishment from Kovno, the capital. He merely snorted. Then they pulled another document—an order for his arrest. Overcome with fury, he rushed to the telephone, only to find that the cops had cut the wires. Then more like a comic opera dictator than one in real life, he screamed and stamped, shouting that the warrant was not in order, as he had never legally given up his post of premier and foreign minister and the warrant omitted those titles.

When the police mildly suggested they might be compelled to use force, he consented to sign a receipt stating he had read the warrant, but insisted on signing with his full name and with the titles of premier and foreign minister. He was then taken away to an obscure farm village, many miles from Vovno, where he has only the company of a priest, who is a personal friend. Later the government proposes to prosecute him. The officials are still debating with themselves whether it will be better to send him to the hoosegow, where he sent so many others, or to boot him out of the country.

Letters to the Editor

A RETROSPECTIVE VIEW

Gubernatorial race was started by the entry of nearly a score of good men and women. The whole people on the start and finish were determined to eliminate isms in two particular cases, the major of the two is hard to decide, which was the most unpopular, and still is undecided. Mr. Moody on one side and Jim Ferguson on the other. The rank and file of the electorate of Texas believe both have been excommunicated with a single operation the 23rd of August. And The Star-Telegram seems to think it was one of the most important as well as the most successful major operations performed in political surgery in a decade. Thousands and thousands of people in all walks of life in Texas join The Star-Telegram in hoping that Mr. Sterling will redeem the governor's office of its constant turmoil the past several years, and hope Mr. Sterling will prove to the people "their fears are groundless." The great vote recorded the 23rd for Ferguson and the defeat of Attorney General Bobbitt is a distinct rebuke to Moody-ism in Texas and will forever settle personal and prejudicial disputes between Ferguson and Dan Moody. Both have been advanced to the pinnacle of fame. Both have been swallowed by public condemnation and in all probability will never be elevated to another office only by appointment as it concerns Moody and as Mr. Ferguson stands impeached, he couldn't hold office in this state.

I therefore accept Ross Sterling as my governor-elect, and pledge my support to uphold the laws of Texas when he shall have been inaugurated governor of the greatest commonwealth extant. The pivotal 5,000 that elected Mr. Sterling took a shot and risked that Mr. Sterling would not let Moody-ism dominate Texas government the next four years. And it is to be hoped that their stand will be amply rewarded with the most successful administration possible.
Don't bolt. Don't follow Tom Love's precedent. Stay with the ship.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

Some 50,000 Young Men Are Attending the Citizens' Military Training Camps This Year—They Get an Enjoyable Vacation and the Nation Gets a Military Reserve

WASHINGTON.—Fifty thousand young men between the ages of 17 and 31 are taking their vacations this summer at Uncle Sam's 53 Citizens' Military Training Camps.
The first year of this training system was 1921 and in that summer 12 camps were established with an enrollment of 10,000. In the year or two subsequent, before facilities had been expanded, many applicants had to be turned away.

Gives Big Reserve Strength
Three hundred thousand men have now gone through the four-week period at camp with the C. M. T. C. They have swelled the nation's total military reserve strength to about a million, for there are also 177,000 national guardsmen, 115,000 reserve officers and 400,000 members of naval, marine and other miscellaneous reserves. These groups would be depended upon by the government to form an experienced nucleus for America's armed forces in the event of any serious war.

The War Department pays for transportation to and from the army posts where the C. M. T. C. camps are located and reports that the course has proved attractive to thousands of young men who could not have afforded much of a vacation on their own expense, as well as to many who could.

College and high school students make up a large proportion of the C. M. T. C. companies. A report on 773 recruits enrolled at the camp at Fort Des Moines, Ia., drawn from Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota, shows that 531 were students, 83 farmers, 32 laborers, 18 clerks, 16 teachers, nine merchants, five chauffeurs, one cook, one barber, one movie actor, one newsboy, one tailor, one athletic director and 33 of others trades and occupations.

There are four courses of study: Basic, for raw recruits; Red, for recruits not so raw; White, for non-commissioned officers, and Blue, graduates from which are eligible to second lieutenants in the Reserve Corps.

The bugle blows at 6 a. m. in the C. M. T. C. camps and the boys dress, make their beds and sweep out the immediate vicinity. Then follows 30 minutes of calisthenics before breakfast. The War Department boasts of the food served in the camps: Breakfast contains wheat cakes, bacon and eggs and coffee with which to start the day. Drill and target practice take up the rest of the morning. In the afternoon there are likely to be hikes or lectures on citizenship, rights and obligations to one's country, obedience to the laws, the importance of doing what you're told and so on.

There are lessons in first aid and the care of the sick and wounded and sightseeing trips to nearby historical shrines which are likely to stimulate the patriotism of the students.
Late in the afternoon comes an hour of recreation, baseball, swimming, volley ball, tumbling and

Are you all set for the big street dance? Watch for the announcement by Louie Arrington and Fred Wemple. They are planning the season's biggest celebration when the dirt is removed from the Wall street block between the Scharbauer and Llano hotels.

So elite is that certain business block that the business men located on it have been trying to think of a suitable name. Silk stocking row was voted out in view of the fact that 40 per cent of the people who walk down that street don't wear stockings.

If the council and property owners hadn't worked out a decision to pave the block with concrete, I would have decided that it be called Hot Hop Street, but that's out of date now.

You will want to follow closely the developments of the railroad from Big Spring. If somebody else doesn't protest hard enough to break up the plans and have the road built out of Midland, watch me spread my stuff. I'll have the interstate commerce commission considering the advisability of sending down a special examiner to confer with me.

No word from Hankins. I read and re-read the Amarillo Globe and News yesterday, and if he wrote anything in it, I couldn't locate it. I'll bet the managing editor wrote out three blue pencils and then tore up all of his copy.

Well, after the men around town read what I had to say about Pearl's pretty visiting cousin, they lined up early this morning and dropped in to see the society editor about church announcements and things. One camp claims an increase of from 61.7 per cent physical efficiency at the outset of the course to 96 per cent at the end of four weeks. The second examination also showed an average gain of 4 1-2 pounds in weight and 1 1-2 inches in chest expansion.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS

Many Fabrics for Underwear

By WILLIAM H. BALDWIN
Author of "The Shopping Book"
Written for NEA Service

Men are going in more and more for lightweight underwear. Underwear comes in many fabrics.

Cotton becomes highly absorbent when bleached, and is not greatly affected by heat or moisture. Because it quickly absorbs perspiration and allows of rapid evaporation it is highly regarded for summer wear. It is often combined with silk or wool, and in proper weights can also be made into suitable winter garments.

Wool provides greater warmth than any other kind of cloth. It is highly absorbent. The better grade of wool garments has been pre-shrunk to guard against undue shrinkage later. Silk, when pure, is a very strong fabric. It is also extremely elastic, and a silk garment, when stretched, readily springs back into its original shape.

TOMORROW: Men's underwear; cut and finish.

Melody Way Class Solves Problems

It is safe to assume that all fathers and mothers, realizing that music is a mark of culture, wish their children at least to have an acquaintance with the Art, and as much musical training as they seem likely to absorb.

Perhaps you do not wish your child to become a professional musician, unless gifted above the average; but who knows what home will produce a Paderewski, a Kreisler, or a Spilmann-Heink?

"Is Every Child Musical?" Each father and mother faces this question in a more direct and personal way. "Are MY children musical?" I'd like them to play the piano, but I don't want to pay for a lot of lessons, or buy an expensive instrument, only to find they are not talented, and then the piano will stand idle.

Perhaps some hesitation, too, is caused by the memory—all too common—of being driven to the piano when a child, to practice for dreary hours on dull exercises while playmates were out at their games. Parents and friends predicted your future regret over lot learning to play, with singularly little effect on your interest. And today, with your own children, you are reluctant to bring pressure to bear when perhaps the results are in doubt.

Melody Way Piano Class stand in strong contrast to the old methods. Because the musical material is beautiful from the start, and because class work is inspirational, the little beginner, is carried by his own interest to the point where his actual accomplishments become the compelling motive for continuing. Because a group of children are taught at one time, the cost per pupil is reduced to a very low sum, and at the same time high grade teaching is assured. Because the Melody Way Set includes a practice keyboard for each child, a piano in the home is not essential until the child's musical talent has been demonstrated.

Melody Way Classes a Great Boon to Parents

They provide excellent musical training at low cost. They develop musical ability through the child's own interest. They frequently discover unsuspected musical talent. They help parents decide the "piano question." They provide wholesome occupation for the children's leisure. They bring into the home the joys of music.

WHITES EKE OUT VICTORY IN TUESDAY POLO GAME

TERRAPIN RACE IS WON BY GALLANT FOX

The hard fighting Reds were again trounced by the invincible Whites in a polo game at Cowboy Park Tuesday afternoon, this time by the narrow margin of 5 to 3.

Thursday will be the last day of preliminary games before the tilt with Texon here Sunday and Monday, and the public is urged to take advantage of the free gate and see the Whites and Reds.

all Midland polo players, in a fast practice scrimmage.

Every player on the Whites got a goal Tuesday, Myrl Jowell, at No. 1, getting two; Bob Oates, at No. 2, getting one; and Spence Jowell and Jay Floyd, playing the 3 and 4 positions, getting one each.

For the Reds, Cowboy Evans at No. 2 and Clayd Floyd at No. 4 shot the goals, Clay getting two. Bum Cowden played No. 1 and Clyde Cowden No. 3.

It is expected that bronc riding will be a feature of Thursday's entertainment, although no riders were secured yesterday. Through error, Bill McCullough was given credit for bronc riding Sunday whereas the rider was Meade (Eul) McCall.

Terrapins Fast Tuesday
Terrapin racing proved even more popular than on former occasions Tuesday, 13 entries participating, some of them having been owned and entered by Midland women.

Gallant Fox, entered by Jay Floyd, was first; Ross Sterling, by Mrs. H. H. Johnson, was second; and Ford Cab, entered by Chungy Cowden, was third.

Ten others also ran, including Spark Plug by the City Drug store, Ma Ferguson by Timberline Floyd, Zev by Clay Floyd, Man O' War by Spence Jowell, Billy Boy by Mrs. M. C. Lucky, Happy Hoodigan by Leonard Howell, Jimmy Allred by J. N. Wells, Nancy Hanks by Mrs. Williams, and Jim Dandy by Miss Adkins.

Ma Ferguson, who ran three heats Sunday, is believed by her owner, Timberline Floyd, to have been doped Tuesday, having turned up her toes to the sun and refused to run.

Polo, Races, Advertised
J. N. Wells declares that his terrapin, Jimmy Allred, showed the best speed of all the animals, but ran three-fourths across the ring,

TEXAS FROWNS ON NIGHT FOOTBALL; BAYLOR TO PLAY

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 27. (AP)—Although night sports seem to be coming into vogue and one South-west Conference school, Baylor University, has announced its intention of playing a part of its 1930 grid schedule under the lights, the athletic council of the University of Texas has gone on record in opposition to nocturnal athletics. Recently the council vetoed a plan to install the arcs at Memorial Stadium and has shown no indication toward reconsidering its action.

Members of the council, however, do not believe night football will detract from the speed or visibility of the game but are of the opinion that it will take away that "something" which makes a Saturday afternoon football game, with the tang of Autumn in the air, an event to be remembered.

Proponents of the plan say there is as much enjoyment attached to a night grid tussle as there is to a daylight tilt. They point out that if a baseball can be astly seen and handled under the lights, the much larger football could even more easily be passed about.

The athletic council of the Longhorn school, after studying the problem, has reached the opinion that not only would the night games lack any more kopecks to the athletic treasury. Many persons, they opined, would rather see a game in the afternoon, when the sun is shining, than at night when the chill winds blow. This would be especially true of games played late in the year when the temperatures are prone to drop rapidly after Ol Sol takes himself over the horizon.

Gate receipts would not be materially increased by the change, athletic officials said, because most of the football fans do not work on Saturday afternoons when the majority of the games are played.

The first meeting of the revamped athletic council of the University of Texas was held recently, discussing the coming season. S. M. U. and Baylor will be back almost intact, while Rice will present the best team she ever had and will bear watching.

Schmidt said recently, discussing the coming season. "S. M. U. and Baylor will be back almost intact, while Rice will present the best team she ever had and will bear watching."

Frog Lineup To Have 11 Veterans

FORT WORTH, Aug. 27. (AP)—When Coach Francis A. Schmidt of Texas Christian University issues his call for the initial practice of the 1930 football season, he will have 11 lettermen around which to build a contending eleven.

A squad of 41 men is expected to answer the first call on Sept. 10. These include 21 from last year's Southwest Conference championship aggregation and 20 coming up from the freshman ranks.

Lettermen who will be back include Co-capt. Noble Atkins, center; Loo Butler, guard; Harlos Green, fullback; Stan Lambert, guard; Austin Griffith, fullback; Grassy Hinton, quarterback; Co-capt. Cy Leland, quarterback; Othol Martin, end; Ray McCullough, end; Clyde Roberson, end; Vance Woolwine, quarterback; and Howard Baxter, end.

T. C. U. lost six regulars by graduation, including Howard Grubbs, all-conference quarterback; Miko Brumbelow, guard, who captained the 1929 machine; Phil Handler, guard; Rod Moore, tackle; Buck Barr, tackle; and Bustor Walker, end. The biggest hole to be filled is that of Howard Grubbs at quarterback. With no outstanding field generals on either last year's reserve or freshman squads, the success of the Purple will depend largely on Coach Schmidt's success in finding someone to replace Grubbs. Cy Leland, Grassy Hinton and Vance Woolwine are all candidates for the quarterback position.

T. C. U.'s great line composed of Moore, Handler, Barr, Brumbelow and Walker is gone, but Line Coach Bear Wolf has some good replacements coming up.

Some of the outstanding players from the reserve and freshman squads available this year are: Tackles Eury, Elkins, Cox, Howell, Shackelford, Evans, Welsh and Boswell; guards, Vaught, Boyd, Roberts and O'Brien; fullback, Summer; halfbacks, Oliver, Wright, Tinner, Spearman, Snow and Dennis; centers, Hirstine and J. W. Townsend, and ends, Pruitt, Carpenter and Salkeld.

"It's going to be a tight race, with lots of competition," Coach

CHARLY BITES DOG FOR A BET

EDINBURG, Tex., Aug. 25. (AP).—When a dog bites a boy, that isn't news, according to the staid fore-runner of modern journalism, but when a boy bites a dog—well, that is news, and how.

Charles Rogers, 19-year-old high school youth here, bet that he would catch the first dog that happened to pass him on the school campus and bite the animal. His bet was promptly covered.

Pretty soon along came a yellow cur and Rogers proceeded to grab the "pup" and take a generous mouthful of hide, hair and all. The dog resented it and snapped at Rogers. Rogers is now recovering from an attack of blood poisoning caused by the bite, from which he almost lost his right arm.

Texas will be held early in September. At that time the council, which was reduced from 11 to five members by the board of regents last spring will take charge of the athletic destinies of the Steers. The council is composed of three faculty members, one ex-student and one student.

W. E. Mezenthin, will be the chairman of the council.

The change in the administration of athletics at the University was expected to eliminate a great deal of the inter-departmental friction which was characterized past Longhorn efforts to achieve athletic glory.

YOUR CHEAPEST NECESSITY

YOUR fire insurance dollar pays for indemnity—for immunity against financial loss when calamity overtakes you. But that dollar buys so much more than the indemnity it pays for that it ranks as one of the most effective dollars you spend.

Fire insurance, from the indemnity standpoint alone, is one of the cheapest of present-day necessities. Its cost has consistently declined for many years—even during the period of war inflation.

And this in spite of the fact that insurance service—as rendered by the more than 250 Stock companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters—has multiplied its activities for the public welfare and greatly enlarged their scope.

Research and Engineering
Your fire insurance dollar may pay for indemnity only, but for good measure provides engineering and research services to make life and property safer—laboratories in which to test materials and devices—scientific measurement of fire hazards—building construction codes—arson detection and investigation—organized fire prevention—and other voluntary measures designed to lower the fire waste and thereby reduce the cost of fire insurance.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

A thorough understanding of what Stock Fire Insurance really means and does—and greater public use of its facilities—will result in a still further reduction of the fire waste and a consequently greater service to the insuring public.

Purchase by J. P. H. McMullan and Paul L. Young, of Midland, of a stock of dry goods in Abilene was announced in the Abilene News today.

The Abilene Gambill store, purchased from the Citizens National Bank of Abilene by J. P. H. McMullan and Paul L. Young of Midland, will be opened for business the first of September.

The Citizens bank took over the stock soon after R. H. Gambill filed petitions in bankruptcy, several weeks ago.

Both McMullan and Young have had long merchandising experience. They announced plans to employ between 30 and 40 Abileneans for their opening sale.

The building at Second and Cypress streets has been rented from George L. Paxton.

Sadler Coming For One Night Stand

Harley Sadler and his company will appear in Midland Tuesday of next week, for one night only, in his big tent theatre, his advance agent announced today while in Midland completing arrangements.

Sadler sent the following message to Midland friends: "We are bringing our new Tent Theatre which is the largest and most beautiful for our play a three-act comedy drama entitled 'Toby and the Rum Runners' or 'Along the Canadian Border'."
