

Men Of Different Faiths Fight And Die In Comrade Friendship

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH (Substituting for Hal Boyle.)
HEADQUARTERS, 14th AIR FORCE, China, (P)—They lived together, fought together and died together, but their funeral here under a Chinese sky had to be conducted in three religions—Jewish, Catholic and Protestant.

There was one of the five, who because of his own past indecision, was buried as one of three protestants. He may not have been one.

They died in a Mitchell bomber just returned from a sweep against Japanese shipping. They got safely to base but an air raid alarm sent them roaring off again to protect their plane from the enemy.

Circling, they ran into a storm and their plane crashed. With them died a Chinese Lieutenant and a Chinese sergeant, for their squadron was part of the Chinese-American composite wing of the 14th Air Force.

Chaplain John P. Fitzsimmons of Belmont, Mass., stepped forward and laid a white rose and a red rose on each of the first three caskets—those of Captain Charles L. Waugh, of St. Louis, Capt. Derward B. Harper, 26, of Dodge, Texas, and Technical Sergeant Sanford W. Carhart, Jr., 24, of Forest Hills, Long Island.

The symbolism of the roses, Captain Fitzsimmons said, was red for sacrifice and white for faith in the love of God and immortality.

The protestant service finished, Pvt. Samson R. Breuer, New York City, repeated the rose-laying on the casket of Master Sergeant Albert E. Danovitz, 27, of Philadelphia.

Finally Chaplain John S. Kelly placed a pair of roses on the casket of Technical Sergeant Frank J. Leimer, 28, of route 1 Galveston, Texas.

The flags flapped against the caskets. A dozen or so officers from headquarters of the 14th stood uncovered.

The sergeant leader of the firing squad gave the commands in measured sequence. There was the clacking noise of rifle bolts and the crack of firing into the sky. Taps came close upon the dying echoes of the volleys.

It was the first protestant-Jewish-Catholic funeral for American soldiers in the China theater.

The caskets went into new camouflaged vaults of the American cemetery, amid the ancient grave mounds of another people.

State Faces An Acute Shortage Of Teachers

AUSTIN, March 4 (P)—An unprecedented shortage of teachers, with no prospects of easing the situation, was reported here today.

The teachers appointment bureau of the University of Texas had 2,741 requests to fill vacancies during 1943, with only 441 candidates on its available list.

The teacher shortage is now much more acute than at the corresponding period in World War I. In 1918-19 the bureau had 1,017 calls for teachers and 456 applicants registered, or almost half enough to fill all vacancies. In 1943, however, if all applicants had been placed, there would still have been nearly 85 per cent of the teaching positions open.

One superintendent seeking teachers said:

"We are finding that college placement bureaus are not much better off for teachers than we are, consequently many vacancies are not being reported."

The number of applicants for teaching jobs declined more than 50 per cent from 1942 to 1943, the report showed.

"This is the smallest number of candidates registered in recent years," Dr. Frederick Eby, chairman of the board, said. "Perhaps it is the smallest number ever registered."

The bureau placed 361 of its registered applicants in teaching positions, but "there is no doubt that twice that number could have been placed if we had them."

Weather For First Two Months May Portend A Wet Season For The Year

If one can speculate on weather charts, 1944 is dug to be a wet year in Howard county.

The 1.72 precipitation total shown on the regular monthly weather summary by Vernon W. Schaad, in charge of the US department of commerce weather bureau here, throws this year into a peculiar pattern which has appeared only three times in the 40-odd years of recorded weather history here.

Only in 1932 and 1938 have both January and February yielded a total of more than an inch of moisture. In 1932 the ultimate total was 34.25 inches, and all-time record. The same mid-winter duplication occurred in 1938 and the total for the year was over 21 inches, well above normal.

Records show that 1901, 1911, 1923 and 1932 are the only years which had wetter February weather. The record is 4.20 inches in February 1911.

On the whole February was a mild month with an average temperature of 50.2. Top temperature was 76 and the low 21. Unusual was the number of cloudy days, 17 in all. Clear days, which normally predominate, totaled only four and partly cloudy ones eight. Highwinds on Feb. 25 and 27, with a rattle of rain on the latter date, livened the month's weather assortment.

Mackerel Will Be Seined Off Aransas

ARANSAS PASS, March 4 (P)—Plans to pioneer the seining of Mackerel in Gulf waters off Texas have been disclosed by W. J. Godfrey, president of the Western Heli Fish company, who said the company would attempt the seining off Port Aransas late in March or early in April.

The time would depend upon when the Mackerel start running in those waters, Godfrey explained.

He said B. T. Miller of Florida, who has had extensive experience in Mackerel fishing along the Gulf Coast, was in charge of construction at Aransas Pass of nets for the seining and that the nets would be 1,000 to 1,500 feet in length.

If his company's venture proves a commercial success Texas gulf commercial fishermen should be able to work 12 months of the year, said Godfrey.

He added that his company would make available to commercial fishermen, as readily as the process is proved, methods and details of Mackerel seining and that if the undertaking proved feasible practical application would depend upon independent fishermen.

Bonehead Party

DALLAS, Texas (P)—The Dallas Bonehead club, a fun-making organization, announced formation of the Bonehead party to obtain 10,000 miles of gasoline rations for each of its 57 members by making them candidates for president of the United States.

Acting Chief Bonehead Jack Estes said the idea came from the success of Claude A. Watson of Los Angeles, Calif., Prohibition Party presidential candidate, in obtaining such gasoline rations for his campaign. Watson was the club's guest today (Friday.)

WASHINGTON, March 4 (P)—The war department made public today the names of the five army nurses who died in the bombing of field hospitals in the Anzio beachhead on February 7 and 10. They are: First Lt. Blanche F. Sigman of East Akron, O.; First Lt. Carrie T. Sheets of Camp Hill, Pa.; Second Lt. Marjorie Morrow of Audubon, La.; First Lt. Glenda Spethaug of Crosby, N. D., and Second Lt. La Verne Farquhar, Sidney, Tex. Lieutenants Sigman, Sheets and Morrow were in the February 7 bombing and the others in the latter bombing.

Safety Council Plans Program

The Big Spring Safety council, under the direction of President Franklin Nugent, is anticipating a larger attendance when it shifts its meeting time to the evening with the March 13 session. In addition to a program being arranged by Burl Haynie, Big Spring, and John Little, Sweetwater, members of the Texas Highway patrol, there will be a showing of two highway safety films entitled "Gully" and "Remember Jimmy." The safety class taught by Otto Peters will attend in a body.

Nugent and Jack Y. Smith left Thursday evening for Atlanta, Ga. to attend the Southern Safety Conference at Atlanta, Ga. as representatives of Codes Petroleum Corp., and some report on this regional safety council will be held at the parley here, which will be held in room No. 4 at the Settles.

The president is to announce committees at the meeting and preparations for the annual membership drive will be made. Pending further change, meetings of the council will be held each month at 8 p. m. in the same location, he said.

Love Story Of "Madame Curie," Showing At Ritz

When Pierre and Marie Curie, two obscure physicists, announced to the world their isolation of the precious element radium, their recognition was instant. The way was opened for them to claim a place among the most famous scientists of all time. Recently Eve Curie published a biography of her famous parents entitled "Madame Curie," which became an international best-seller. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has brought this biography to the screen in a fine and impressive production starring Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon as the devoted mates. The film is now showing at the Ritz theatre.

The woman, who was later to become the famed Marie Curie, met her husband, already an established physicist, while studying in Paris and working in his laboratory. Soon Pierre, who formerly had little use for women, found himself in love with the beautiful Polish girl. After their marriage the Curies continued to work together to isolate what they believed to be an unknown element which they called radium. They were given almost no assistance and carried on their arduous experiments in an unused shed. There they worked for four long years driven on by Marie's stubborn persistence until they met with success and world acclaim.

Walter Pidgeon, adorned with a beard for greater authenticity, gives the finest performance of his distinguished career as the scholarly professor, Greer Garson, who won the coveted Academy award last year as "Mrs. Miniver," demonstrates again that without a doubt she is the first lady of the screen. She has captured completely the charm and genius that was Marie Curie.

Dame May Whitty and Henry Travers, who also appeared in "Mrs. Miniver," play the parents of Pierre, and Robert Walker, who made his screen debut in "Bataan," is cast as Pierre's assistant and later the best friend of the Curies.

Romance—Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon in a tense scene from the thrilling love story of Marie and Pierre Curie, "Madame Curie," with an all-star cast showing today and Monday at the Ritz theatre.

"Hellzapoppin" Is Showing At State

"We're the only two people in the world who have been successful doing nothing," is the way Ole Olsen explains the fantastic accomplishments of Olsen and Johnson in the entertainment world, the latest of which is their movie "Hellzapoppin," playing today and Monday at the State theatre.

"Yeah," chuckled Chic Johnson, "and we've been getting paid for it, too!"

Johnson is right, they have been paid, and plenty; but records show Olsen is wrong when he says they've been doing nothing.

Contrary to most self-made success stories, Olsen and Johnson have never had heartbreak and struggle in their climb to success.

True, they did start in humble beginnings—a sub-basement honkey-tonk night club in Chicago nearly thirty years ago. But it wasn't long before they were in vaudeville, singing, playing the piano, joking. Their act wasn't sensational, but they got good salaries, and worked forty weeks a year.

"Revenge Of The Zombies" At The Queen

There are thrills and chills aplenty in "Revenge of the Zombies," the strang drama which is showing Sunday and Monday at the Queen theatre. It is the type of picture which literally keeps the spectator on the edge of his seat, as its pseudoscientific theme leads to a succession of surprising situations.

It wasn't long before the team of Olsen and Johnson began enlarging their act, recruiting other vaudeville performers on the same bill. This went on with great success, for several seasons, until the other acts realized that they were working for the mere fun of it.

When volunteer stooges became scarce, Olsen and Johnson came out with their own complete vaudeville review, and their fame grew accordingly on the RKO, Pantages and other circuits. Vaudeville died, but Olsen and Johnson weren't aware of it. They kept right on working.

The cast is exceptional, including as it does such capable performers as John Carradine, Veda Ann Borg, Robert Lowery, Gale Storm, Mantan Moreland and Bob Steele. These players enact their roles with convincing effect, and the result is a hair-raising film which conveys the impression of recording a story of actual events.

The unfolding of the plot reveals that Carradine, an unscrupulous physician pursuing horrible experiments, has murdered his wife (Miss Borg) and has transformed her into a "zombie," an "undead" creature existing in a weird half-world, and now invulnerable to anything which would kill a human being. With this groundwork laid, the story proceeds to a climax which is little less than breath-taking.

Finally Lee Shubert caught their show in Philadelphia and suggested it be enlarged and revised into a musical review. It opened on Broadway, retaining its vaudeville title "Hellzapoppin" and the rest is history. Although the critics panned the show unmercifully, it caught on with the public, and "Hellzapoppin" has become the record breaking long run musical show in the history of Broadway.

Now in pictures, with Ole and Chic in addition to Martha Raye, Hugh Herbert, Mischa Auer, Jane Bryan and others.

Free legal aid to servicemen and their dependents is provided by the American Bar Association when families are unable to pay for the service.

Lyric Presents Women's Status In Nazi Germany

There was much of romance in the girlhood of Tala Birell, who comes to the Lyric theatre today in "Women in Bondage," the amazing drama exposing the degraded status of women in present-day Germany, with Gail Patrick and Nancy Kelly as co-stars.

Tala's early childhood was spent in Bucharest, Hungary, where her father, a wealthy owner of oil properties, maintained a pretentious home in the outskirts of the city. A wood adjoining the grounds was the camping place of bands of roving gypsies, and the fascinated little girl, tingling with a delicious fear that she might be kidnapped at any moment, watched from a safe distance and listened to the wild music of the nomads.

During the first World War her father, an Austrian subject, was thrown into prison, and a short time later the remaining members of the family barely escaped from the country with their lives, suffering privation, hunger and constant danger. Following the war, Tala spent much time on the Polish estates of her uncle, Baron Bogdanski, riding horseback through the woods learning folk songs and dances from the peasants living on the property. Later Miss Birell made her stage debut in Vienna, and did her first screen work in a foreign version of a film produced in England.

The cast supporting Miss Patrick and Miss Kelly in "Women in Bondage" also includes Bill Henry, Gertrude Michael, Alan Baxter, Rita Quigley, Felix Basch, Anne Nagel and H. B. Warner.

Andrews Wildcat Draws West Texas Attention

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, March 4—A big production from the Grayburg section of the Permian lime by the Texas Co. No. 1 A. W. Partillos, north central Andrews county wildcat, attracted most attention in West Texas this week.

Stanolind No. 1 Sealy-Smith, southeastern Winkler county discovery in the Tubb zone of the Clear Fork section of the Permian lime, prepared to run casing after drilling to 6,305 feet and making a Schlumberger survey. Richardson & Bass of Fort Worth staked location for a scheduled 10,000-foot wildcat in Winkler county C NE NE 25-B2-psl, five miles southwest of the Keystone Ellenburger discovery.

The Texas Co. No. 1 Partillos in Andrews county, C SW SW 22-A36-psl, swabbed 20 barrels of oil and five barrels of water in eight hours. It continued to test the section from 4,261 to 4,342 feet, the total depth. The prospect is one mile south of Shafter, four miles northwest of the town of Andrews and is three miles west and one mile south of Signal No. 1 M. M. Fisher, recent San Andres lime discovery.

Plymouth No. 1 University, quarter mile west of the Empa pool in southern Andrews county, C SE SE NE 35-10-U, cored lime from 4,260 to 4,301 feet that showed some saturation, porosity and bleeding oil.

Stanolind No. 1 Tom Cobb, northwestern Hockley county wildcat that touched off a brisk lease play in coring porous San Andres lime bleeding oil between 4,639 and 4,669 feet, swabbed only salt water with a smum of oil after coring from 4,669-84 feet, and was to plug back to around 4,665 for further testing.

Stanolind No. 1 Sealy-Smith, Tubb pay discovery in Winkler county, which was running pipe test, showed more oil and gas in deepening to 6,305 feet after assuring production when 1-1/2 million cubic feet of gas daily sprayed 43 gravity oil at a rate of 10 barrels hourly on a drillstem test from 6,088 to 6,133 feet. It is in the C SW SW 50-A-G&MMB&A.

Mid-Continent No. 1 R. A. Wheeler in Winkler county, C SW SE 10-46-1s-T&P, showed oil and gas in coring to 10,733 feet after entering the Ellenburger at 10,570 feet, 7,443 feet below sea level. This was correlated 48 feet lower than in the opener of the Wheeler Ellenburger field, Stanolind-Shell No. 1 W. D. Blue estate, half mile to the southwest.

Magnolia No. 21 State-Walton, second producer in the Kermit Ellenburger field in Winkler county, flowed 405 barrels of oil, cut one-tenth of one per cent water.

in 21 1-2 hours through a half inch tubing choke. Gun perforations from 10,635-655 feet were cemented, 5 1-2 inch casing was perforated from 10,455-465 and testing was under way. The well is in the C SE SW 4-B3-psl, three-quarters of a mile southeast of No. 20, State-Walton, the pool opener.

Third producer from the Holt zone of the Clear Fork section of the Permian lime in the Keystone field in Winkler, Gulf No. 12 Keystone was finished with a daily flowing potential of 333 barrels of oil from 4,775-92 feet.

Gulf No. 45 W. N. Waddell and others on the northeast edge of the Sand Hills Permian (Tubb) field in western Crane county, registered a daily natural flowing potential of 11,741.64 barrels of 35.2 gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 975-1 for completion at 3,230 feet in the McKnight pay of the San Andres section. It is in the southwest corner of section 27-B26-psl, Magnolia No. 10 P. J. Lea, a south offset producing from the Tubb zone from 4,478 to 4,805 feet, prepared to plug back and test the McKnight horizon.

Phillips No. 1 Ada C. Price, Pecos county wildcat C SW SE 11-101-TCRR, 25 miles southeast of Fort Stockton, had reached 13,914 feet. It set a new West Texas depth record when it passed 12,786 feet.

Kid Shop Observes First Anniversary

A "kid" in the Big Spring business world is growing up.

It is the Kid Shop, which this week celebrates its first anniversary in the local commercial world. Started a year ago as an exclusive children's clothing shop, it proved a hunch by Bob and Eva Pyeatt that there was a demand for such a business.

Experience during the year, according to the owners, has proven that the demand was area-wide as well as city-wide. Although a young concern, it had won the unique distinction of having received a long story in a nationally known trade journal.

Some Talker

RINGGOLD, Ga. (AP) — James Hullender, ex-soldier and candidate for coroner, returned from his employment in Tennessee for 3 day's campaigning and learned that his lone opponent, Gail Emberson, was ill and unable to appear around the polls.

So Hullender campaigned for himself in the morning and for Emberson in the afternoon. Emberson won 1,632 to 704.
