Cotton Fumigation May End by Middle November

Hope and Her Wealthy Husband

Hope Hampton, ex-movie star who quit the films to seek fame in grand opera, is shown here in one of her few pictures ever taken with her wealthy husband, Jules Brulout, camera magnate, as they sailed from California on the liner City of Los Angeles for a vacation in Honolulu. The vacation follows a strenuous opera season.

While Midland is likely to be kept under quarantine, it is hoped, but not promised, that fumigation requirements will be ended after the middle of November.

These were the opinions voiced by J. D. Glass, member of the State Pink Boll Worm commission, on his return Saturday from Dallas, where he attended the conference following receipt of an official notice from the commission, and a telegram sent from Dallas by the Midland chamber of commerce.

Glass was informed that a pink boll worm was found in a trash pile at a Midland gin on Oct. 14, and said members of the commission indicated Midland would be kept under quarantine for a while longer. No promise was made about relieving farmers of fumigation costs, but the matter will be again discussed and Glass hopes, though he is in no wise certain, that farmers will be relieved of fumigation costs.

By VICTOR H. SCHOFFELMAYER Agricultural Editor of The Dallas News

Discovery of one live pink boll-worm in gin trash at a Midland gin, announced by the Texas Pink Boll-worm commission Friday at a special hearing in Dallas, prevented the release from Federal and state regulation of eleven counties comprising the western extension of infestation by the pest in West Texas. Up until the finding of the worm on Oct. 14 the commission was favorable to removal of existing restrictions as to seed sterilization and bale fumigation.

However, commission members representing Dawson, Howard, Martin, and Andrews counties will meet at Austin on Nov. 13 to consider release of that group, provided no worms have been found in the meantime. The entire area of eleven counties has been under federal and state regulations for nearly three years without the finding of a worm until the discovery at Midland.

Members of the commission present were Chairman Farris; W. K. Crawley, Lamesa; W. W. Porter, Colorado; John H. Boogher, Grand Falls; D. S. Freeman, Fort Stockton; J. M. Del Curto, chief entomologist of the Texas department of agriculture, and J. D. Glass, newly appointed commissioner for Midland county, who arrived shortly before the commission adjourned.

Others attending were George B. Terrell, Texas commissioner of agriculture; P. S. Puckett, chief administrative officer of the federal department, San Antonio, and D. M. McEachern, federal inspector who found the pink bollworm at Midland.

The West Texas counties in the area found to be infested in the winter of 1928-29 and which have hoped for release from present regulations are Dawson, Andrews, Ector, Howard, Midland, Glasscock, Crane, Upton and Reagan. These are called the western extension infested area. The old established pink boll-worm areas are El Paso, Presidio, Ward, Reeves and Pecos counties.

Mr. McDonald said that since the live worm had been found at a Midland gin through the agency of one of the new gin trash machines set up by the federal and state government. (See COTTON page 8)

WELFARE ASSOCIATION PRAISED AS IT REPORTS AN END OF HALF YEAR; CHRISTMAS PLANS THEN DISCUSSED

Praise of the work conducted during the past seven months by the Midland Community Welfare Association was voiced by Midland citizens who attended a meeting of the body Saturday afternoon in the district court room. Speakers pointed out the advantages of the association over the former more or less haphazard methods of handling charity work here.

Reports were made by Mrs. W. H. Sloan, general chairman of the organization on general policies followed and on specific cases handled. Her report was supplemented by details given by Mrs. J. E. Hill and Mrs. Foy Proctor, Judge M. R. Hill and Elliott H. Barron, other members of the executive committee, and by Mrs. Russell Lloyd who has been active in the work. Baron, disbursing officer, reported that an average of $62.50 had been spent per month on charity work for the period the association had been organized.

The meeting was opened by County Judge Hill and was then turned over to Mrs. Sloan. She invited suggestions and criticism from the 30 or 35 interested citizens attending the meeting. Speakers commended the committee for the constructive work and spoke favorably of the policies used. W. I. Prati was one of the principal speakers. (See WELFARE page 8)

RAIN FALLS PROFUSELY THE WHILE

Mass Deferred as the Ceremony Ends Too Late

ASSISI, Italy, October 25. (AP)—With gay attire and their party drenched by rain, Princess Giovanna of Italy and Czar Boris III. of Bulgaria were married today at St. Francis church before a gathering of kings, queens and some of the most notable royalty of Europe.

Three trains bearing the wedding party from Pisa arrived an hour and a half late just as a drizzle started which turned to a hail downpour on reaching the church.

The Roman Catholic ceremony was brief, Mass, scheduled to follow the wedding, was omitted due to lateness of the hour. She is a Roman Catholic and he a Greek Catholic.

After the wedding in the upper church, the royal party paid a reverential visit in the lower church to the Tomb of St. Francis. The wedding breakfast was then held at Villa Constanza.

Giovanna becomes Europe's youngest queen by the marriage. The wedding is also the first post-war union of ruling families who were enemies during the World war.

Where Two Died in Air Crash

Here's all that remained of two fleet racing planes a few moments after they had collided while making a turn in the free-for-all race which closed the air meet held at Mercer Airport, near Trenton, N. J. George Zinn, wealthy young sportsman of Rydal, Pa., and R. W. Mackie, Curtiss test flyer, pilots of the planes, were killed because the low altitude of the crash, which occurred before 25,000 spectators, made parachute jumps impossible. Four ships had been closely bunched at the home pylon when Zinn, climbing to avoid one threatened collision ripped into the tail of Mackie's plane.

Little Theatre to Present Veterans

Three veterans of the little theatre stage and five new players will be seen when the group opens the 1930-31 season Thursday evening at the Yucca theatre with "Aren't We All?"

Mack McCracken, Joseph A. Seymour and John Bonner are those who played last season. Mrs. T. B. Flood, Miss Constance Robertson, Mrs. Charlotte Cragin, Mildred Gemmill and Marcos Williamson are the new players.

The play is clever from the first to the last. John Bonner is certain to carry the laughs. The clever way in which he is trapped is one of the subtle twists to the plot that makes the play stand out as "different."

Mrs. George T. Abell, director, and Miss Lotta Williams, assistant director, put the characters through rehearsal Friday night and said everyone was "in character" nicely. Another rehearsal was called for this afternoon.

TRAINING FOR BIGGER MEN

Little attention is paid by the average citizen to an American character who has become important enough for books to be written about him, and that is your daily visitor, the newspaper route carrier.

These boys are doing an important mission, representing the newspaper to the public, and upon them rests a responsibility of building or destroying goodwill that is vital to the institution they represent.

Route carriers are receiving a training that will be worth much to them in business, or in after life. They are being trained in accuracy, honesty, goodwill toward the public, or making friends; they are getting a practical education in a job that allows them to pursue their regular school work.

Route boys are not immune from making mistakes. Some of them do not succeed, finding the responsibility of the job to their distaste. Others continue to improve and are invariably given better opportunities. Some of the nation's outstanding business and professional leaders point with pride to their early training as newspaper route carriers.

Think of your daily visitor in a different way. Give him a good word and you will find that it helps him to help you.

MONDAY IS NAVY DAY

October 27th is Navy Day, the one day in the year which has been set apart to better acquaint the American people with their Navy, its wonderful history, its peacetime missions, and its ships and men. It is particularly fitting that the birthday of President Theodore Roosevelt has been designated for annual commemoration as Navy Day, for it was during his administration that the Navy received that impetus which resulted in the United States taking its proper position in the front rank of nations.

In order to fittingly celebrate the occasion, the entire United States Fleet is divided, and ships, singly, and in groups, are sent to all seaports. Flags are flown from every masthead. Parades of bluejackets march the streets ashore. Holiday is declared. All ships are thrown open for inspection by their shareholders, the American people, and the Navy is "at home."

The country-wide celebration of Navy Day is under the auspices of that group of patriotic citizens, the Navy League of the United States who, with President Roosevelt, believe, "The United States Navy is the surest guarantor of peace, which this country possesses." But the Navy is not only an instrument of war; it is a powerful influence for peace; it is a pioneer in many industrial developments; and its effect on our national life, both international and domestic, is so great that even estimation fails.

October 27th is an appropriate date for Navy Day for another reason—for on that date in 1775, the first resolution to authorize American warships was introduced in Continental Congress. Since that time the United States Fleet has had many changes; it has decreased at times and expanded at times; public opinion and disarmament conferences have resulted in fleet reduction; wars have resulted in large building programs—but withal, we now have a Navy of which we may well be proud, and we shall retain the firm conviction that regardless of the task set before it, in peace or in war, the Navy will merit the simple praise, well expressed in two words, "Well done!"

WATCHING THE GRID SCORES

It's a healthy sign to see the public, everybody from newsboys to gray-haired veterans, so interested in football. They watch the high school games, then on Saturdays they haunt the radios or wait for press reports on college games, both intra-state and inter-sectional. It's a sign of love for clean sport.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

The Department of Labor Employs for Many Months Have Been Wondering Who Will Be Their Next Boss, and It Looks Like Davis Will Remain Until He Takes Office as U. S. Senator

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Few government departments have ever been kept in such long suspense over the question of who would be their next boss as the Department of Labor.

It has been going on now ever since the election of Herbert Hoover, which was just about two years ago. At that time no one suspected that the new president would longer require the services of Secretary James J. Davis, known locally as "The Puddler" and—for some reason or other—in Pennsylvania politics as "Banjo Jim."

Sooner or later there must be a new secretary. Davis stayed on because Hoover couldn't decide whom to put in his place. Then Jim announced for the Senate in Pennsylvania and won the nomination, which means his election, so there was but a brief lull in the buzz of speculation in the Labor Department and labor circles generally, as it was first supposed that Jim would resign as soon as he began to campaign.

Popular With Employes Lots of people in the department are worried because they fear they are likely to get almost anyone. Many of them would just as soon get old Jim. After all, he doesn't putter around with department affairs enough to bother anyone and probably there are few men who would give rise to so many funny stories as old Jim. The latest yarn is about how Jim is supposed to have asked "What fire?" when Mr. Hoover asked him about a wire which burned out two of his important bureaus ten days previously. Your correspondent doesn't vouch for its authenticity, but it illustrates the sort of stories people who know him like to tell about the secretary.

The point is, however, that such able bureau chiefs in the department as Mary Anderson of the Women's Bureau, Grace Abbott of the Children's Bureau and Ethelbert Stewart of the Bureau of Labor Statistics have for years been allowed to do as much progressive, constructive work in their fields as limited funds would permit. The Immigration Bureau has principally distinguished itself for its hard-boiled attitude toward deportation or admission of radical thinkers. The Conciliation Service seems to be regarded by labor leaders as a futile agency and the U. S. Employment Service has not yet thrilled anyone.

Naturally, the people in these bureaus would like to keep right on in their activities without interference from above. In 10 years they have developed initiative and taken responsibilities upon themselves. From their various viewpoints, they can easily imagine the appointment of some unsympathetic person with an urge for changes in policy.

May Wait Till March There has been a report that the Puddler would resign about the first of December after his election as senator from Pennsylvania. But those who have observed his tenacity in clinging to his post through the change in administration and the primary and election campaigns doubt very seriously whether he will leave before the time comes to take his Senate seat March 4.

In view of the increasingly critical nature of labor problems, especially the prevalence of unemployment all through 1930, it might be supposed that the large amount of discussion here about the secretaryship might center on the idea of getting an expert qualified to tackle such problems. But there is probably no candidate who would be satisfactory to everyone. The next secretary will be a Republican reasonably satisfactory to both labor and its employers. If he is a labor leader he will have to be a conservative labor leader.

In any event he will be permitted to call some of labor's problems to the attention of the country. Davis himself made frequent speeches pointing out the increase of tech-

The Town Quack

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.

You never know when a celebration is over. I was beginning to forget all about my birthday, big event though it was, when along came a bill yesterday from Taylor's Drug store, as follows: The Town Quack, to one 5-pound box of candy (Delivered 10-23-30 to Mrs. K. E. Ambrose) $10.00, and, as though the bill might be already overdue, a notation was made at the bottom saying, "Please Remit." Sounds more like an April fool joke on Taylor's Drug store than a birthday celebration.

Now hasn't Coach Barry stirred up a hornet's nest over at McCamey? Just because some of their football players got uncovered as being ineligible by the eligibility committee of the district, Barry got credit for throwing McCamey out or getting the team suspended. Looks like Barry must have had 'em scared the way they took advantage of the opportunity to hold him responsible. Well, if I were a coach,

ABOUT PEEWEE GOLF

Now that the season is over, it surely will be all right to say something about miniature golf courses without having a thousand or so people writing letters of condemnation, full of scathing accusations that I am giving somebody or group of somebodies a lot of free publicity—or, worse, that I am getting paid for doing it.

How much good or how much harm the playing of these peewee golf courses does for ones golf game doesn't interest me for I have given up hope of improvement and have about come to the conclusion that mine can be no worse.

As to whether or not these courses come under the category of a public nuisance because they disturb the peace and quietude of those who go to bed when the lights go on (there are those who just can't let anybody else enjoy a bit of fun) doesn't bother me, for I never retire before nine thirty; and there are only three of these courses withnological unemployment and the practice of many industries which release workers when they reach middle-age. Once he even admitted that millions of persons were subsisting on less income than was required for a decent standard of living. On the other hand, Davis' department has issued misleading figures as to unemployment. It was responsible for last winter's weekly employment statements, based on alleged surveys, which showed an improvement every week but always totaled up to a net decrease in unemployment at the end of the month.

A dozen men and a couple of women have been proposed as successors to Davis and some of them will be discussed in another article.

in a block of my domicile, and you know a person really should not consider anything a public nuisance unless it affects from all four sides.

What does interest me about these little trick playgrounds is that the worst one I ever saw is such an improvement over the looks of the lot before the course was constructed thereon, that I think every man, woman and child that has the least spark of pride in his or her community, should rise up and give thanks to the fellow that thought up the idea.

I'm not so sold on the game, and I'm not interested in how much can be made out of them in money, fun or anything else; but I do say this—give me a Peewee golf course every time rather than a vacant lot full of tin cans, broken home brew bottles, ragweed, thistles, non-descript signs and billboards, and other junk.

YOUR CHILDREN by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

I live in a district where citizens try to keep their hedges and lawns in order. But I take a walk every day, and shudder, for in spite of the efforts of householders and janitors, literally thousands of paper scraps continue to deface the landscape.

Chewing-gum papers, wrappers off patent candy packages, cigaret containers, everything on earth seems to be thrown on the streets, and to my mind it is the most disgraceful of American habits.

We cannot blame it all on the children and young people, but the habit is a childhood habit, grown up, in the case of older people. At that, I think children are responsible for a great part of the mess.

Habits Are Lasting Add to the street garbage the thousands of school papers torn up and what have you? Not a garden of the gods by any means.

Once the habit of orderliness on the streets is ingrained in a child he will keep it forever. I've put all sorts of silly stuff in my pockets, from banana skins to caramel papers rather than throw one out even on a country road, because I was taught to respect the highway as I would the parlor floor. I'd have far more fun if I were not so orderly, but someone else would not, so I continue with the banana skins and the caramel papers and wrestle with the aftermath myself rather than have a beautiful privet hedge or the feet of the Rose of Sharon defaced. For refuse never stays in the middle of the street for a man to sweep up, and out comes the citizen with his rake and broom to do what we should have done in the first place.

The worst of it is, no matter how hard the citizen works the disorder is always there. He simply cannot keep his place immaculate.

Street a Rubbish Heap One day recently I watched a crowd of young people come out of a radio show. They had pounds of literature gathered at the different booths. It was late on Saturday night. What did they do? Throw the whole business on the sidewalk, before they got into their cars.

On Sunday I went past the same spot. For a square in both directions the street was a rubbish heap, and not only the street but the lawns and walks of adjacent householders who would have to get out on Monday morning—if they could endure it that long—and clean up the scraps left by careless young America.

We should tell children that they must respect the streets—hold on to everything until they find a refuse container, or until they get home and hunt a waste basket. The schools give this elemental training, and it should be supplemented at home.

PRIVATE PLANE CARRIER

NEW YORK.—The U. S. Navy may have airplane carriers in its fleet, but Col. Edward A. Deeds, wealthy banker, has one too. On top of the deck house of his huge yacht, the "Lotusland," he carries a 4-place sport amphibian, capable of making 122 miles an hour. The yacht is 207 feet long and carries a crew of 24.

AIRPLANE FREIGHT NEW YORK.—Shipments of freight are expected to be speeded up considerably when the New York Philadelphia airplane freight line starts operating. Chicago Opens Its Grand Opera Season In $20,000,000 Home With New Offering

By RAY BRENNAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (UP).—Chicago's civic opera starts its most ambitious season Oct. 27 when the salmon colored velvet curtain moves back to reveal the opening scene of "Lorenzaccio," an opera by Alfred de Musset produced for the first time in the United States.

In the "diamond horseshoe" of the gold and green auditorium in the $20,000,000 skyscraper that towers above the west side of the loop, will be Chicago's "four hundred."

Eight operas, including Hamilton Forrest's "Camille," which will make its world premiere in Chicago, have been selected for the season. Others will be chosen later with a view toward "fitting" members of the company with parts.

Mary Garden Star
As in other seasons, the favorite star will be Mary Garden, restless prima donna, who will appear in the title role of Camille. The supporting cast will include Charles Hackett, as her lover, and Charles Borromeo, in the role of his father.

Camille will be one of the most elaborate presentations ever attempted in the mid-west.

Production of new operas has been called one of the least stable ventures of the amusement world. Sponsors of the company have prepared to care for an expected loss. Presentation of a new opera costs thousands of dollars, they have learned, and even a successful piece can be presented only a few times each season.

Camille originally was accepted for the 1929-30 season, but its production was delayed when it was found to have unusual rehearsal demands. It was written especially for Mary Garden.

Inspired by Dumas
Forrest, a young American composer, drew his inspiration for Camille from the famous story and play written by Alexandre Dumas. The setting, however, is changed to the modern world and current

Three of Bryan's Kin Run for Office

Three close relatives of the late William Jennings Bryan are candidates for public office in the November elections this year. Ruth Bryan Owen (below), his daughter, is seeking re-election as a congresswoman from Florida. Charles W. Bryan (below), his brother is running for the governorship of Nebraska, and Silas Bryan (inset, above), son of Charles, is running for Congress in Minnesota.

The opening presentation, "Lorenzaccio," was taken from the drama by Alfred de Musset. Sarah Bernhardt made the dramatic version famous during her season of 1896. "Lorenzaccio" was transformed to opera for Vanni-Marcoux, the Franco-Italian singing actor, who will appear in it with the Chicago company. Another member of the original cast, Jean Vieulle, also will appear.

Lorenzaccio was written into an opera for Marcoux by the composer, Ernest Moret. It was one of Marcoux' most notable successes at the Opera Comique.

Other Operas
In addition to Camille and Lorenzaccio, the new operas selected for presentation by the Chicago company are "The Bartered Bride" and "Die Meistersinger," novelties in German; "La Navarraise," "Mignon and Mignon," revivals in French, and "Mefistofele," a revival in Italian. In addition there will be the old favorites like "Faust," "Rigoletto" and "Il Trovatore."

The personnel of the company for the season includes Hilda Burke, Coe Glade, Sonia Sharnova, Chase Defrere, Frank St. Leger, Oscar Colcaire, Cyrena Van Gordon, Giorgio Polacco, musical director, Mary McCormick, Edouard Cotreuil, Frida Leider, Maria Olaszewska, Maria Rajdl, Lotte Lehmann, Hans Hermann Nissen, Edouard Harich, Alexander Kipnis, Egon Pollak, Maestro, Moranzoni, Rosa Raisa and Giacomo Rimini.

PIGEONS ON PLANES

MONTREAL.—In case of mishap, airplanes in the Royal Canadian air forces patrolling forests, are carrying carrier pigeons along. If the pilot is forced down, he releases one of the birds which is expected to return to the home airport to summon aid. This system in the majority of cases has proven successful.

FRIGHT FROM CRASH FATAL

POUND, Va. (U.P.).—Richard Wright died an unusual death when two automobiles collided on the street, outside the window of the room in which he was sleeping. Wright, half-awakened and frightened by the crash, tried to jump out of the window and was held by a companion. While they struggled Wright died of heart disease.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Oct. 23, 1930.

Dear Sir: This committee has learned that your newspaper has carried articles explaining the proposed constitutional amendment to be voted on at the general election in November.

Permit me to express our appreciation of the civic service you have thus rendered in informing your readers about these very important, if somewhat uninteresting, amendments. We have been treated with uniform kindness by the newspapers of Texas generally, and we believe that the space that has been devoted to discussion of these amendments will result in their carrying, but as it is always a difficult matter to arouse interest and bring out a large vote where there are no personalities involved, we hope that the newspapers of Texas will continue to discuss these measures in the final two weeks of this campaign, and thus insure a representative vote of these measures.

Thanking you again for the service you have rendered the state by the publication of the articles referred to, we are

Yours very truly,
Chas. S. McCombs.

Local Housewives' Choice Recipes

Canned berries can always be purchased at the grocery stores and fresh supplies of delicious jellies and jams should be kept in the cupboard through the winter. Here are delightful tested recipes for putting up jelly in a few minutes.

Loganberry Jelly
Ingredients: 4 cups (2 lbs.) juice; 1 bottle pectin; 7 1-2 cups (3 1-4 lbs.) sugar.

Use only fully ripened berries. Crush thoroughly and drip through jelly bag. Do not drip over night as unhooked juice ferments quickly. Measure juice and sugar into large saucepan, stir, and bring to a boil. At once add pectin, stirring constantly, and bring again to a full rolling boil and boil 1-2 minute. Remove from fire, let stand 1 minute, skim, pour quickly. Cover hot jelly with film of hot paraffin; when jelly is cold, cover with 1-2 inch of hot paraffin. Roll glass to spread paraffin on sides. Requires about 3 quarts berries. Makes about 11 eight-ounce glasses.

Raspberry and Currant Jelly
Ingredients: 4 1-2 cups (2 1-4 lbs.) juice; 1 bottle pectin; 7 1-2 cups (3 1-4 lbs.) sugar.

Use only ripened fruit and in equal amounts. Crush thoroughly, add 1-2 cup water, and bring just to a boil. Drip through jelly bag. Measure juice and sugar into large saucepan, stir, and bring to a boil. At once add pectin, stirring constantly, and bring again to a full rolling boil and boil 1-2 minute. Remove from fire, let stand 1 minute, skim, pour quickly. Cover hot jelly with film of hot paraffin; when jelly is cold, cover with 1-8 inch of hot paraffin. Roll glass to spread paraffin on sides.

Requires about 2 1-2 quarts (3 1-2 pounds) fruit. Makes 11 to 12 eight-ounce glasses.

Midland Social Groups Prepare for Winter Festivities

Little Theatre Production Is Dated for Thursday Evening; Week Closes With Pioneer Party by Mr. and Mrs. Cowden

With the social calendar bearing announcements of a number of festive functions, the coming week will usher in the opening of the winter season with interesting events for social, dramatic and religious groups.

For members of the Little Theatre, the date of Thursday evening is given for the production of "Aren't We All", not only one of the greatest Broadway successes, but one of the most fascinating displays of style ever presented on the stage.

Combined with the production will probably be dinners and luncheons for members of the cast.

On Halloween night, which will be the next after the Little Theatre play, will be numbers of social festivities. Dances, bridge parties, informal evenings at home and other jolly events are scheduled for that evening.

During the past week, hostesses have been using as decorations for their parties and features of entertainment Halloween schemes. The last of these for the week was the evening bridge given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowden for members of the Pioneer bridge club at their home Friday evening.

The season's appointments were used in table markers and pretty fall flowers were used for floral decorations.

At the close of the games, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rowe received high score for men and women. Mrs. George Glass won highest score for guests.

The guest list for the Cowden party included Messrs. and Mrs. Clyde Cowden, Elliott F. Cowden, O. B. Holt Jr., Homer Rowe, Ellis Cowden, Jno. B. Thomas, Joe Youngblood, Allen Tolbert, Mrs. George Glass, Mrs. Clifford Hill and Mrs. Marshall Lusk of St. Louis.

First Program Shows Artistic Ability of Pupils

Musical selections and readings rendered at the monthly recital of students of the Fine Arts Teachers' Association Saturday morning showed excellent preparation and artistic ability.

Especially to be commended is the Violin Choir from the Watson School of Music which gave examples of harmony and perfect time in Bailey's composition, "Long, Long Ago."

Approximately 100 people attended the recital which was the first of programs to be presented the last Saturday of each month.

Missionaries Have Baptist Circles As Namesakes

Three Baptist foreign missionaries from the West Texas districts have as their namesakes three circles of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist church of Midland.

The Lockett circle received its name from Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Lockett, who are now on the African field doing medical work. The American home of the Locketts is in Abilene.

The name of Miss Blanche Rose Walker, who has been sent to the China post from Texas, was selected by a second group of local women.

Miss Lucille Reagan of Big Spring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagan, prominent West Texans, has been remembered by the third circle. Miss Reagan is now located in Nigeria, Africa.

Adopting both foreign and state mission programs, members of these circles will hold their first meetings of the present organization Monday afternoon with the study subject "Your State and Mine."

Walker members will meet with Mrs. J. H. Barron with Mrs. Bob Preston as leader. Women on this program will be Mmes. Alvin Hicks, W. A. Hyatt, J. V. Hobbs, R. O. Walker, D. W. Brunson, and E. W. Cowden.

Using the same subject, the Lockett circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Albert M. Gantt. Women who will discuss topics are Mmes. W. W. Wimberly, H. B. Dunagan, A. J. Gates, N. W. Bigham, A. M. Gantt, Troy Eiland, Stockton and Mrs. M. R. Hill.

The Reagan circle meeting at the home of Mrs. B. C. Girdley will hear the program discussed by Mmes. R. A. Verdier, Oren Collins, R. V. Lawrence, J. H. Burris, E. A. Wall, J. M. White and J. H. Williamson.

Mission Program By Unions at Evening Service

An "airplane view" of foreign mission lands is the mission program planned by the B. Y. P. U.'s of the Baptist church to be given the latter part of next month at the Sunday evening service, according to an announcement made following the business meeting of officers of these unions Friday evening.

Special costumes, decorations and musical selections will be features of this program. The exact date will be announced within the next few weeks.

Witches, Owls, Spooks and Pumpkins Galore for Halloween Party

Children Enjoy Masses of Halloween Symbols; Older Folk Delight in Old Fashioned Games

Apple-bobbing, fortune tellers, all are amusing. "Ye Magic Urns" Other less familiar games are "Ye Magic Urns" consisting of three bowls, one containing clear water, one colored water, and one empty.

A candidate is led blindfolded to these vessels when he or she dips the fingers into one of them. If it be clear water, marriage for a maid or bachelor; colored water, marriage to a widow or widower; empty, candidate to remain unwed.

In the game of "Fate Cakes" doughnuts are made containing rings, thimbles, pennies, keys, and buttons, these latter to represent wheels. To start a doughnut containing a ring signifies a wedding; thimble, single bliss; penny, marry wealth; key, marry a flirt; button, marry a traveler.

Buffet Supper Last, but by no means least, have a tasty buffet supper instead of the usual desultory Halloween doughnut and decorate the dining room with your Christmas tree candles strung up and down the wall, showing through the eyes of cats or the mouths of owls. This gives a pleasantly spooky effect.

Follow the leader is a good game to start the afternoon. You can have contraptions here and there that will emit weird sounds and have every available junk from the trash yard for the guests to walk over. Fine anyone making shrieks and make each redeem his or her fine with a funny stunt.

The event would not be complete without fortune telling. Have a witch dressed up ghostly, seated in a dark hut. As each guest arrives, her bony fingers, which she wears on the end of her own hand, should point out to greet the guest. Boys' fortunes and girls' must be kept separate.

Bobbing apples, eating raisins off a string from the ceiling, taking bites off doughnuts hung from the chandelier, peeling apples and throwing the peelings over the right shoulder to see the loved one's future.

MIDLAND TRAMPLES THE WILD HORSES OF ODESSA IN 32-0 WIN

Coach Barry Asks Reading of Minutes in Rebuttal to McCamey Charge

SECOND TEAM DOES MUCH OF THE PLAYING

Lackey field was dedicated in a fit manner Friday afternoon, the Midland high school rushing six touchdowns and two extra points over the invading Odessaans, to take a 32-0 win.

A crowd of slightly more than 2,000 saw a game that was fast in spots, slow in spots and mediocre at times. Odessa was so weak that the team could scarcely threaten to score during the afternoon, save once or twice when passes were almost caught in dangerous territory by Bronco ends and backs.

The best part of the game was in the first quarter, when Midland's first string backs, ran straight up through gaping holes torn in the Odessa forward wall by the powerful Midland line. To the real football fan, however, the most significant feature of the game was the power of Midland's reserves, B team men who tore their way through the Odessa defense for a touchdown when unleashed.

Numerous penalties marred the smoothness of the game. Both teams were penalized often for holding and being off-side. Both employed the air attack to good advantage. Midland scored by passes, bucks and runs alike.

A big crowd was in Midland from Odessa and both teams had their pep squads in full uniform for the first time during the season, uniforms having been delayed in shipment. The pep squads and the Midland high school band paraded during the half.

Harold Becherer of Sloan field flew above the stadium during the first part of the game and Kenneth Yost of the Keystone Royalty company shot scenes of the kickoff and first plays.

Colors of both schools were dropped from the air, as was a draped football.

THE PLAY BY PLAY

By JAMES P. HARRISON, Special Staff Writer.

First Quarter
 Captain G. Whittenburg of the Bronchos won the toss and chose to defend the south goal, leaving the choice of kicking or receiving to Captain Parker of the Bulldogs, who chose to kick.

White started the game by kicking to Baines, left tackle, on the 30-yard line. Baines returned the ball four yards before being downed. First down and ten to go for Odessa.

Tripp made one yard around left end of the first play. W. Whittenburg failed to gain on a cut-back play at the right side of the line. G. Whittenburg punted to the third down to Midkiff on the latter's 38-yard line who returned 9 yards.

Johnson, at left end, lost 7 yards on a wide right end run. Midkiff made 5 yards on a cut-back through the line. Burris made 5 yards on the third down to carry the ball to midfield. White punted to G. Whittenburg, who fumbled on his own 20-yard line, with Midland recovering.

Midland was penalized 5 yards on the first down for off-side. Fryar went through the left side of his line for 6 yards, advancing the ball to the Bronchos' 19-yard line. Hallman smashed the line for 11 yards and first down, leaving 8 yards to the goal line. Fryar hit the line for 5 yards and Hallman went around left end for one yard. Fryar went through the left side of his line to carry the ball over for the first touchdown of the game. White converted for the extra point with a perfect place kick.

Score: Midland 7, Odessa 0.

Odessa chose to receive, White kicking the ball to Bolen on the latter's 22-yard line. Bolen made a pretty 17-yard return of the kick-off, to place the ball on his own 39-yard line. First down and 10 to go. W. Whittenburg hit the line for a one-yard gain. G. Whittenburg was thrown for a one-yard loss around end. W. Whittenburg fumbled on the next play, but recovered to make one yard. However, Odessa received a 15-yard penalty for holding and on the next down G. Whittenburg punted to Midkiff on Midland's 42-yard line.

Midkiff fumbled the punt but picked it up and made six yards before he was downed. A pass on the first down from Burris to Fryar was incomplete. Burris took the ball on the second down, only to fumble and recover for no gain. Midland received a 5-yard penalty on the next play, which was an incomplete pass. White punted out of bounds on the Bronchos' 45-yard line.

G. Whittenburg made two yards around right end on the first play. W. Whittenburg hit the line on the second down but fumbled the ball and Hallman recovered for Midland on the Bulldog's 49-yard line.

A pass from Burris to Fryar was incomplete. Burris made 9 yards on the second play on a right cut-back. Burris hit the line for 4 yards and first down. Fryar went through the line for 5 yards. Midkiff hit the line for 6 yards and first down, advancing the ball to Odessa's 27-yard line.

The first down found a pass from Burris to Fryar incomplete. Burris hit the line, but fumbled the ball Odessa recovered on its own 21 yard line.

Midland was penalized 5 yards on the first down when G. Whittenburg punted. Midland drew another 5-yard penalty for off-side on the second down, which gave Odessa first down and 10 to go.

G. Whittenburg was thrown for a one-yard loss on the first play of the series as the quarter ended.

Score: Midland 7, Odessa 0.

Second Quarter
 The second quarter started with the ball in the possession of the Bronchos on their own 30-yard line, second down and 11 to go.

Foster broke through the line on the first play of the quarter to throw G. Whittenburg for a one-yard loss. Both teams were off-side on the next play and G. Whittenburg punted to Fryar on Midland's 49-yard line, Fryar carrying the ball to his 48-yard line on the return.

Fryar hit the line for a good gain, but Midland drew a 15-yard penalty for holding. Fryar made three yards through the line.

A long, perfect pass from Straughan, who had been substituted for Burris, to Fryar was good for a touchdown. The Midland quarter-back executing a nice side-step to escape the dive of the Odessa safety after the dive of the Odessa safety after he pulled up for the marker. White failed at place-kick for the extra point, but an Odessa linesman was off-side and Midland received the extra point.

Score: Midland 14, Odessa 0.

Midland substituted Estes for Parker.

Odessa chose to receive and White kicked only 20 yards to Farmer, who was downed in his tracks on his own 40-yard line.

their own 14-yard line. Fryar went over left tackle for 5 yards on the first play. Midkiff made 10 yards on a cut-back play, advancing the ball to the Bulldog's 29-yard line and making it first and ten for Midland.

G. B. Hallman hit the line for 3 yards as the quarter ended.

Burris replaced Straughan, who took Johnson's place in the line and Estes replaced Captain Parker.

Neither team scored during the third quarter. Score: Midland 20, Odessa 0.

Fourth Quarter
 The last period started with the ball in the possession of the Bulldogs on their own 37-yard line, third down and one yard to go.

Burris heaved a long pass to Straughan that netted 52 yards, advancing the ball to Odessa's 11-yard line. First and 10 for Midland.

Burris lost one yard on the first down. Midkiff hit the line for 6 yards. Fryar followed with 4 yards to take the ball to Odessa's 2-yard line. On the fourth down, Burris smashed through the center of the line for a touchdown. White failed to make the extra point at place-kick.

Score: Midland 26, Odessa 0.

White's kick-off was short and E. Miller fell on the ball on the Bronchos' 46-yard line.

Coach Barry sent in 9 substitutes.

G. Whittenburg made 7 yards around his right end on the first play. G. Whittenburg's pass on the next down was completed, but the ball was called back and Odessa received a 5-yard penalty for off-side. Whittenburg took to the air again, but found no receiver. W. Whittenburg lost 7 yards on a lateral pass from his brother, G. Whittenburg punted from his 41-yard line to Midland's 40-yard line, where a Bulldog fumbled. Odessa recovered for first and ten.

The first play was an incomplete forward pass. F. Hallman recovered the ball on a lateral pass to W. Whittenburg after the Odessa fullback had fumbled.

Midland took the ball on its own 40-yard line and L. Murphy lost 8 yards on a delayed end run. A pass from Straughan to Gilbow should have been good for a substantial gain, but the Bulldog end muffed his chances. Straughan made a long run around right end for 8 yards. Straughan, on the fourth down, punted 43 yards to G. Whittenburg, who was downed in his tracks on his own 15-yard line.

G. Whittenburg went around left end for 25 yards and first down on the initial play, but a penalty took the ball back to the 15-yard line. W. Whittenburg made 5 yards around left end. G. Whittenburg made one yard on a right cut-back. G. Whittenburg punted to Straughan, who grounded the ball on the Bronchos' 36-yard line.

Straughan made 3 yards around right end, but Odessa was off-side on the play and Midland took the gain afforded by the penalty, which advanced the ball to Odessa's 31-yard line.

Straughan tossed a perfect pass to D. Parrott, and the husky little Bulldog trampled his way over the goal line. The Bulldogs again missed their signals on the try for point.

Score: Midland 32, Odessa 0.

Captain G. Whittenburg chose to receive, and Straughan kicked the ball to W. Whittenburg on the latter's 19-yard line, making a return of 16 yards.

The Bronchos took to the air when Bolen, at left end, hid out on the left sidelines. The pass was from G. Whittenburg and was good for 16 yards and first down.

G. Whittenburg's next pass was incomplete, but his next heave was caught by M. Fly and netted 12 yards and first down.

The Bulldogs' secondary was asleep on the next play and a pass from G. Whittenburg to Bolen, who had hid out, would have been completed had it been long enough, with a probable touchdown for Odessa. On the next play, a pass from G. Whittenburg to Bolen, who had hid out, would have been completed had it been long enough, with a probable touchdown for Odessa. On the next play, a pass from G. Whittenburg to W. Henderson carried the ball deep into the Bulldog's territory, making it first and 10 for Odessa on Midland's 8-yard line.

G. Whittenburg dropped back to pass, but there was nobody at the receiving end as the game ended.

Final score: Midland 32, Odessa 0.

Sidelights on Game

Now that the club that is listed under the sign of Bull, the gentleman shown above, has fulfilled expectation relative to its superiority over the Odessa team, several things might be said in criticism, some of this being unfavorable.

It's already history that the Bulldog aggregation buried the Mustangs of the city to the westward under five touchdowns and two extra points. The Doggies got going in the first quarter, wading through the Odessa team as though the eleven westerners were shadows belted with black and red. Then the B team went in and scored and the first string went back in and romped their cleats down the path for a change of digits on the scoring board.

After that it was anybody's game—the "anybody" referring to pure A or B squads or a mixture of the whole. Apparently there was little difference.

Newspaper dope had played the difference in strength of the clubs at from three to five touchdowns. In reality, the difference was from five to 10, if Odessa was really Odessa Friday. For Midland was not the fighting pack of Dogs that battled the superior Colorado team here the Friday before. The boys might have run the score up to a figure that would have dazzled the eye.

There was no necessity for running up a great score, however. Barry wanted to see the strength of his reserves and kept the Odessa team worn down with fresh men. But to see the Dogs musing up their plays, missing punts, getting off bad kicks and not running according to coaching made the stands restive. A great club, the Midland eleven, and one capable of better work than that which cropped out during the Odessa game.

A lot of credit is due Odessa for the way the club fought against heavy odds. Only 13 men were fit to go into the game, in the first place, and Midland outweighed them man-for-man around 15 or 20 pounds. Coach Swain figured, but strong is the tradition that Midland and Odessa always fight.

Odessa scored five first downs while Midland was piling up 14, getting their downs on passes chiefly. The Bronco gained only 33 yards from scrimmage in 14 plays while Midland was heeling off 171 yards on 31 plays. Midland gained 193 yards via the air route, Odessa 83.

8 times for total of 86 yards. (A 21-yard penalty was inflicted on the Bulldogs for interfering with the receiver of a pass, which accounts for the odd number of yards in the total of 86.) Odessa was penalized 6 times for a total of 70 yards.

Yards lost on scrimmage plays: Midland 31 plays for 171 yards; Odessa 14 plays for 33 yards.

Yards lost on scrimmage plays: Midland 4 plays for 15 yards; Odessa 6 plays for 16 yards.

SAYS HE DID NOT PREFER CHARGE AS SAID

Head Coach Barry of the Midland high school gave emphatic denial Saturday morning that Midland high school through any of its representatives lodged protest against McCamey for alleged "flagrant violation of the eligibility rules of the district interscholastic football rule."

He answered charges made in this newspaper Friday by A. Garland Adair, editor of the McCamey Leader and a special correspondent of The Reporter-Telegram.

A member of the football committee Friday absolved Midland from any blame relative to the matter, saying the McCamey school made a mistake in playing ineligible and, for that reason, would have to face a recommendation of the committee that it be suspended for a year. It had formerly suggested two years.

Barry said Saturday:
 "The Reporter-Telegram had some reason, to believe that the McCamey story was not correct and it is trying to get the full facts and publish them.

"I did not enter a protest against McCamey. I have heard that the counts for which the committee undertook to punish McCamey were rather numerous. I am suggesting to the Reporter-Telegram that it send each member of the district committee a copy of the Friday paper and ask each for a statement as to whether or not Midland played any part in having McCamey thrown out and if so, what part.

"A full account of the minutes of the meeting of district committee should be published.

"The incident is regrettable, but Midland does not feel culpable."

Kenneth Yost, photographer of the game, has shot everything that gallops, swims, flies or crawls, his friends say. He showed Bech and a few friends some of his pictures Friday evening projecting them on a screen in his commodious apartment in the Scharbauer hotel, the apartment Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer used before their top of hotel bungalow was finished. The room was darkened and Fred Turner facetiously "synchronized" radio and phonograph music with the silent pictures. A bullfight in Juarez was one of the most interesting films shown, particularly as a cameraman is not allowed to take scenes in the bullring. But Yost not only got away with his picture, but got three bulls killed before leaving.

That Odessa team was surely a Whittenburg delegation. Those boys might come over and join Midland. They would show up with that stout Midland line aiding them. Every play of the game found one of these boys in the way of a Midland man, or else carrying the ball or doing some fancy blocking. As a sports scribe said while looking over his chart, "G. Whittenburg passed to W. Whittenburg. A Whittenburg blocking a would-be tackler and Mrs. Whittenburg jumping in elation in the Odessa stand." A football family, and a credit to our invading friends.

The second string certainly showed up. When there was a hole the backs dived through it. If passing was necessary they did fairly well at that. When there was no hole they made one. What more could you ask?

This little, lanky Straughan was the biggest surprise of the day. He punted, passed, played safety, ran with the ball, caught passes and did just about everything a new recruit dreams about. He was ragged in taking punts and passed about three times into the waiting arms of an opponent, but was a whole of a power at that. It is the first time he has showed anything. He has played at quarter on the B string and substituted at end on the main cord, but until Friday showed little to cause the lime light to play around him. He out-kicked White and out-passed everyone. He is not shifty in his running, neither is he as fast as the split-second backfield that has been in the running, but it is predicted that he will be heard of plenty.

Judging from the reserve power, Midland should have another powerful club next season. Little boys of last season have put on beef and certainly look mean.

At the half, the Odessa pep squad took matters in hand. Sixty-six strong, clad in red sweaters and black dresses, the squad marched in impressive formation. A little girl, and she was a honey, plodded along with her big sisters, carrying a smart cane and was sublimely unaware of the cheers she was getting. She must have been three. Any time she comes to Midland she is invited to dinner by the sports staff. Another idea: If you should see her, tell her to send her picture to the sports editor. He would like to have it on his desk. What is her name? Somebody get busy and let us know.

The sports writer is not trying to throw off on anyone, but don't you think the Odessa pep squad deserved 15 bars for Odessa after making his parade? A group of university grads and business men of Midland called a staff writer of this newspaper and asked that as he was on the field he lead the cheers in the absence of the Midland pep squad, which was forming on the grassy

Coach Kitts Will Pull Fastest One

ATHENS, Oct. 25. (AP).—Coach Jimmy Kitts, whose Athens Hornets have won the national interscholastic basketball title for two straight years, is planning to spring something new this winter.

There is so much fine material coming up that Kitts expects to have three teams of about equal strength, to be treated as separate and distinct units. Instead of substituting one player at a time, an entire team will be sent in, and then another.

Two long trips already have been arranged for the Hornets. During the Christmas holidays they will make a tour of several northern states, including Indiana, playing 10 games against the strongest teams available. Early in February they will go out to El Paso for a three-day stand, taking on the stoutest opposition they can find. Athens sportsmen will underwrite the expenses for both trips.

Although he lost three members of last year's championship quintet, including a couple of All-Americans, Kitts expects to have fully as strong a team. Freddie Tompkins and Henderson, forwards, will be back, and there is a new center who towers six feet, six.

AERIAL SHOTS OF FOOTBALL GAME TO BE SHOWN ON FRIDAY PROBABLY; OTHER SHOTS TAKEN DURING GAME

It would have been okeh, that bit of an aerial parade over Lackey field Friday, if the "egg dropper" had not let the wash from the prop blow pieces of twine string around the purple and gold streamers of Midland. The other end of the twine wrapped around his neck and before the colors could be released Harold Becherer, field-manager of the municipal airport, was ready to bank the Robbin over the school house beyond.

Everything else presumably went off as scheduled. Kenneth Yost of the Keystone Royalty company grabbed off some perfect shots on the start of the Midland-Odessa football game, caught the Midland and the Odessa stands as they were animated with dancing, waving figures, and everything else from the pep squads of the two towns and the Midland band, to a session of one of Coach Barry's eloquent gesturings as he lectured several tuckless men on the bench and Superintendent Lackey as he ambled about bowing to the stands and waving a bunch of flowers.

Aerial shots were taken rather high to be clear, but it was necessary to keep high enough not to endanger the crowd of approximately 2,000 in the stands and on the field. Field-Manager Becherer seldom flies below 2,000 feet over crowds but did a bit of hedge hopping Friday so as to give the high school and fans motion pictures of the game. He checked his plane most of the day Friday, going over every inch of it in an effort to find anything that might make a low flight in any way hazardous.

The football and Odessa colors floated down at the right sport, the football falling in mid-field and the red and black falling in the Odessa stand, but the purple and gold, Midland colors, became fouled in the terrific wind blast and wrapped around those in the plane. Streamers tied to the plane at Sloan field whipped themselves away in gradual frazzling before the plane reached a point above Lackey field. The streamers looked like purple and gold flame flowing out of the wings of the plane with the tattered ends giving themselves off like sparks.

This matter of taking pictures in the air resolves itself into a contest between pilot and cameraman. Becherer could not bank around for new positions as fast as he might have at greater altitude, for fear his low flying might conceivably result in danger to the crowd. Accordingly, Yost was having to do most of his shooting from the edge of a wide circle, sometimes with the plane banked over steeply and a wing standing in the camera angle. The two had shot pictures in the air together before, however, and form a skillful pair.

Yost got his negative rolls off on the Friday night train and expects to have them back in time to show to the fans at the Ritz theatre Friday night, he believes. Odessa fans are coming over in a body to see the film, which will be shown on the news reel program through the courtesy of Manager John Bonner. Yost assumed all costs for taking the picture, which cost him about $50. He would consent to taking no "expense account", neither would the Sloan field flyer. Both said they were glad to do anything to aid the school system and those who support clean athletics.

Odessa people stopped at the port on the way back to their town and thanked the field-manager for his courtesies, and asked that their appreciation be conveyed to Yost.

green for its march. But the enthusiasm of Midland was evidently for Midland alone, for only a few took up the rans, which fizzled into blurred nothingness as the Midland band started playing across the field. A new stadium was being dedicated; courtesy should demand that Midland always cheer the parade of opponents' pep squads. How about it? Did you ever attend a university game and see on school fail to cheer another? It would be a cinch to say no. Midland is thickly populated with college men and women who would like to see the old college spirit infused into play here. A bit of "excelsior," y' know.

The Midland band is a crack unit, no doubt about it. Odessa's stands find it irresistible. Once during the preliminaries Midland was playing a famous pep song and Odessa, having different words to it, sang also, picking up the song after the first three bars and following through with as much enthusiasm as though they had a mortgage on the uniforms and instruments on the Midland band. All of which was clever and aroused much amusement along the sidelines.

Odessa simply had no luck at the Midland line. There's a reason, as the cereal house aptly states it. Not many teams have been able to puncture that wall of beef.

No. 1 Whittenburg, to distinguish him from the rest of his tribe, looked savage as he played with blood streaming down his face. The redder his face got the harder he played. He is a sweet little player and it's just too tough he is not with a better balanced club.

Penalties came so fast that when a player made a nice run the stands paused in their cheering to see how far back the ball would be carried. Both sides were off-side continually, held each other and otherwise slowed up the game.

Odessa was fighting in the third quarter. Most of the Midland line-

BULLETIN

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany, October 25. (P)—Germany's second coal mine disaster within week tonight is believed to have killed a hundred miners in May-back mine at Quierschieta in the heart of the Saar Valley. The explosion which was caused by fire damp trapped the miners in a deep shaft.

An accurate check tonight was impossible. Twenty three bodies were recovered and twenty five injured had been brought to the surface, while all those underground are considered lost. There is no accurate check on the number underground at the time of the explosion.

up was first string men, and they couldn't score.

It is impressive to see eight men go into the game in a substitute body. That happened several times and is getting to be a habit with Barry. That enables him to test out his reserves. When will he send out 11 men? We are all watching for it.

Now, here is some of that bad criticism. Midland is failing to convert those extra points. With a line like Midland has there is little alibi for failing to get a bigger percentage of place kicks through the bars. White is a capable kicker and should practice a lot. There will be a time in the average team's season when a well directed place kick wins games. But the kicker must put an educated toe against the pig-skin in order to do the work. He cannot depend on the line to do it all.

All in all, Midland has a great team, and one that can reasonably be expected to fight.

Welfare--

Mrs. Russell Lloyd called attention to the fact that when clothes are sent to the association, volunteer workers of women must handle and sort them, and a plea was made that all such clothes should be clean garments.

It was pointed out, with the approach of winter, there would be more demands on the association. Specific cases were cited to show that a number of families will have to be cared for here.

K. E. Ambrose, representing the Boy Scout organization, described a program in which scouts will repair and rebuild toys to be distributed to poorer families at Christmas time. The Rev. Thomas D. Murphy expressed appreciation of Midland pastors for the association's work. The newspaper was praised for its assistance, also the Texas Electric Service company and the Southern Ice and Utilities company.

ernments, ten scouts have been sent to active search for more worms in cotton fields surrounding Midland. It had been believed generally that, in view of the severe temperatures of last winter, that there was little likelihood of finding any pink bollworms, but it now has been established that at least one worm managed to escape and it is not unlikely that others will be found. This, of course, changes the entire attitude toward the regulations. These will continue as heretofore.

It was suggested by the commission that the Texas law governing the pink bollworm control be amended, since it specifies that whatever quarantine measures be proclaimed must be governed by the finding of a live pink bollworm in a cotton field. The efficient new gin trash machine isolates the worms at the gins, but without any clue to from which field the insects have come.

Mr. Crawley, representing Dawson county, was insistent that his county be released this fall because no infestation had been found there for nearly three years, but Mr. McDonald and Mr. Del Curto dissented from this view for the reason that with the approach of winter weather, pink bollworms become very active, seeking a place to hibernate against the cold, and are therefore easily discovered in the gin trash machine, which removes the insects from trash with a degree of about 98 per cent efficiency.

In the Midland instance Mr. McEachern stated it took 20,846 bushels of gin trash run through the machines in the western area to find one worm. Since the machines handle trash from all the cotton coming to gins from surrounding country, often extending far into another county, the finding of a worm must be supplemented with additional field scouting to locate definitely the infested field. There are some 386,000 acres of cotton growing in the western extension, Mr. McDonald stated, of which perhaps two-thirds of the cotton has been ginned and the trash run through machines separating the worms. After severe winter temperatures have set in it will be more difficult to find the worms, since by that time they have either entered into the ground or into the seed to hibernate. The next few weeks before real cold weather comes will be the best time in which to find the worms with the aid of the new machines, Mr. McDonald and his assistants stated.

Mr. Rohwer stated the federal regulations which govern in control of pink bollworms and other pests and acknowledged that the federal department had received splendid co-operation from Texas farmers and from the state department of agriculture. Commissioner Terrell also praised the co-operation of the federal agents, as did Chairman Farris, who further pledged the full co-operation to both departments of the state pink bollworm commission.

Mr. Del Curto brought up the matter of whether the state pink bollworm commission should not be reappointed, with suitable additions for additional judicial districts in infested territory. He thought that under the law the term of the commission had expired, but this has been taken up with Governor Moody, who is to make an announcement as to the commission's personnel shortly. In fact, it was stated Governor Moody recently had named several new commissioners, of which Mr. Glass is one.

Dope Runs True in All But One Game

Late report of scores from the Oil Belt:

Eastland 20 Brownwood 0. Abilene 0 Ranger 0. Mineral Wells 7 Sweetwater 6. Big Spring 6 San Angelo 6.

These scores, with the possible exception of the Abilene-Ranger game, came about as near fulfilling the dopsters' predictions as anyone could hope for. Ranger was perhaps a couple of touchdowns better than Abilene on paper but the very fact that the Eagles were the underdogs really put them on a par with the Bulldogs of Ranger.

Friday Breckenridge slaughtered Cisco 35 to 6 to give the Oil Belt its biggest upset in years and leave Shotwell's Buckaroos heavy favorites to cop the championship again.

SPANIARD LANDS

Mrs. Marshal Lusk of St. Louis arrived in Midland last week for a visit with her sister, Mrs. O. B. Holt Jr.

Editors Ray and Ray Junior Shuffler were in Midland Friday afternoon covering the Odessa-Midland game for the Odessa News.

Mrs. Paul T. Vickers will be a special soloist at the First Methodist church in Stanton Sunday evening.

Carroll Hayes of Odessa was among the Odessa football fans in Midland for the game Friday. He formerly coached the Odessa squad.

Midland Chamber Aids Publicity

Assistance of the Midland chamber of commerce has been asked by Colorado in publicizing the completion of paving in Mitchell county. The Midland organization has outlined a campaign of extensive publicity, and the local chamber will supply Colorado with model newspaper stories, newspaper cut lines and suggested radio material to be used from New York to Los Angeles advertising the completion of the worst gap on the Broadway of America. Aid of Midland was requested by phone Saturday following written suggestions.
