Four Held as Borger Postoffice Robbery Is Probed

200 SUMMONED FOR LEAH BAILEY TRIAL, SET FOR DEC. 3

ACCUSED HAS BEEN SENTENCED

Twice Drew 99-Year Terms But Case Is Remanded

A special venire of 200 has been summoned to appear in district court at 10 o'clock on the morning of Dec. 3, when the case of State vs. Leah Bailey is slated to start.

All jurors of Nov. 17 and 24 will be included in the 200. Information relative to the date of moving into the new court house was not available this morning. It had been announced previously that court would begin in the old court room and would be finished in the new building. The failure of furniture to arrive has held up the date of moving.

Leah Bailey has twice been sentenced 99 years to the penitentiary on charges by indictment with the murder of Dan Horn, a peace officer. In each instance, the court of criminal appeals has reversed the decision of the lower court and remanded the case.

The case was originally tried in Midland on a change of venue. It is one of the most interesting of all court cases ever tried in Midland.

Truck Delivers Welfare Clothing

Those having clothing to contribute to the work of the Midland Community Welfare association will now be saved the effort of delivering them. By telephoning numbers 106 or 107, a truck will call anywhere in the city to get the clothing and will deliver it to the proper place for sorting and giving out.

This convenience was provided today by Aubrey S. Legg, district manager of the Texas Electric Service company, who says the truck is at the disposal of the public for this purpose any hour of the day, not just for any certain day but any time a Midland citizen has clothing, bedding or useful articles to be given in the welfare work.

Clothing for children is especially needed at present, officials of the association say, but there is also a demand for clothing of all ages and sizes, for men, women and children.

Bedding, old furniture, stoves or any useful articles that can be spared will be placed where they are needed most, it is announced, and the Texas Electric truck will call for the articles upon receiving calls at the above numbers.

POSTMASTER TAKEN FROM HIS HOUSE

$4,000 Believed to Be The Amount of Robbery

BORGER, Nov. 21. (AP).—Four men were under arrest here while Borger and Amarillo officers continued investigation of the robbery of the Borger postoffice last night, when between $3,000 and $4,000 was taken.

Robbers took Postmaster Harold Rothschild from his home forcing him to admit them to the postoffice. One man remained at the house to guard Mrs. Rothschild while another took Rothschild to the postoffice.

Exact Amount Unknown The exact amount obtained was unknown but postal officials and Inspector Johnson from Amarillo were checking records to ascertain the loss.

The postoffice is on the main street of Borger and the postmaster's office, where the safe is kept, is in full view of the sidewalk. Window curtains were drawn by the robber as he entered and as the public lobby of the building was open the postmaster was warned to keep quiet.

At the point of a pistol, the robber compelled Rothschild to open the safe. Return to Home After about 30 minutes, he and Rothschild returned to the Rothchild home, where the other people had compelled Mrs. Rothschild and Manie Brumbach, Rothschild's nephew, to enter a bathroom and stand facing a wall. Rothschild was commanded to enter the room with them as the robbers departed, they shut the door, although they did not lock it. They warned Rothschild not to seek help until they were gone.

SANTANDER, Spain, Nov. 21. (UP).—Dr. Claudius Dornier said today he was confident that the DO-X would attempt a flight to New York. A representative of the Dornier company previously had announced that the flying boat would not cross the ocean.

Mr. Batchelor was for four years presiding elder of the Uvalde district, and for the past two years he was pastor of the Harlingen Methodist church. This church is the one to which the Rev. Leslie Boone, formerly of Midland, was appointed.

Mr. Batchelor is one of the leading ministers of this conference. He is very popular with ministers and laymen of the church. He has been a member of the various civic clubs such as, Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis, and has the distinction of being one of two or three Methodist preachers holding the honorary thirty-third degree in Masonry.

Ingalls Tests the "Hell Diver"

A new type of airplane called the "hell diver," the only one of its kind ever constructed, is being flown on the west coast by David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy for aviation. The secretary calls it a "two-seater fighter that will out-perform and out-maneuver any other military type plane in the world."

It will climb 2800 feet per minute, and Ingalls has flown it at 180 miles per hour with the throttle only partly open. Ingalls is shown here with the plane at Los Angeles.

Habit Saves Slayer Did Governor Kill Deer? Headed for Hot Seat

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 21. (P).—The regular habits of Judge W. C. Morrow of the state court of criminal appeals probably saved Jess J. Maples, Houston slayer, from execution last Tuesday morning.

At 10 o'clock Monday night, Governor Dan Moody was undecided whether he would give Maple a reprieve. He said that unless the court asked the stay, so that the latest legal move in the condemned man's behalf might be studied, he would not extend executive clemency.

At that hour Judge Morrow had not been located. Just then his private secretary was found, who said that Judge Morrow's car was parked in its regular place on the capitol driveway.

A watchman was posted at the car. When Judge Morrow came to drive it home, the watchman sent him to the governor, and a few minutes later the ten day stay was signed.

Maple's rehearing application probably will be decided by the court next Wednesday, just two days before the scheduled day of execution. The same day, oral arguments will be heard in the court on behalf of John W. Brady of Austin former appeals court judge, sentenced to three years imprisonment on a charge of murder in the death of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, court stenographer.

The question is, did or did not Governor Moody kill a fourteen cent buck on a recent week-end excursion to Kerrville?

The governor says he didn't. An enterprising Kerrville correspondent of several newspapers says he did.

The governor told of a fruitless hunt when he returned here Monday night to act on the Maple clemency petition. He reiterated his original story when shown the dispatch from Kerrville. Nevertheless, the alleged kill found its way into a number of newspapers.

CHAMBER ERECTS 24 ROAD SIGNS SW-PECOS ROUTE

Erection of 24 steel road signs by the Midland chamber of commerce was completed Thursday.

The signs extend to a point west of Pecos and east to a point near Sweetwater. Each sign has different wording calculated to interest travelers and calculated to increase all lines of business in Midland, particularly the hotel, tourist camp, cafe, filling station, garage, and drug store business.

The signs are made of re-inforced steel and set in concrete bases. They are expected to stand for years with re-painting when needed. The work is in keeping with larger cities of Texas, and is expected to be of immense benefit to Midland. The chamber of commerce sign committee was composed of Marion F. Peters, Claude O. Crane and Marion M. Seymour. The committee got the work done at an especially economical figure.

RAMSAY HINTS AT SELF GOVERNMENT IN INDIAN TALK

LONDON, Nov. 21. (UP).—Offer of a federal form of government for India, but no hint of immediate dominion status, was continued in a carefully guarded speech of Premier Ramsay MacDonald at a round table conference on India today.

He said the people of India were not in position to produce at once a static or permanent constitution, but that one must be evolved over a period of time.

Starts Row

A recently-expressed opinion by Bishop William T. Manning, shown here, that the Episcopal Church "is fundamentally and definitely Catholic," brought direct renunciation in the form of a statement from thirteen Episcopal clergymen in his New York diocese. Participants in the action, without mentioning Bishop Manning, declared they issued the letter in an effort to safeguard the fellowship between the Episcopal Church and all vital elements of American Christianity.

STANTON-MIDLAND PLAY-OFF

Winner Meets Marfa Thanksgiving to Decide Area

Perfect football weather greeted the dawn today, marked on the sports calendar as the date of the Midland-Stanton football game for elimination of one of two teams jointly claiming the honor of playing Marfa Thanksgiving for the district crown.

The temperature at noon was 56 degrees; only a gentle breeze was blowing, and the sky was clear save for a few cumulus clouds. Nothing a coach could ask of the weather was not present, and both clubs were expected to flash everything in its trick repertoire, in an effort to dislodge its arch challenger.

For both teams realized that today offered the strongest threat of the season. Marfa is believed to be weaker than either Midland or Stanton, and, believing in the doctrine of survival of the fittest, both coaches were expected to tell their quarterbacks to hold the bag open and release every scoring possibility.

The fact that Marfa scouts were known to be here to chart the plays made no difference to the offense planned for today. Both coaches realize that, to meet Marfa, the team of the opposing coach must be shunted aside, and both appeared decided to make his strongest bid. The biggest crowd of the season was expected to jam the field. Extra attractions, such as pep squad formations and the playing of the Midland band, were certain to lend color to the afternoon.

Midland was expecting to win the game, but there was no hesitancy in the Stanton club's statement that it could not be left out. It promised to be a great game.

NEVER A BETTER TIME TO BUY

This newspaper does not offer any definite cures for the national depression of business we have heard so much about. It doesn't even claim to be able to solve any local slump that might exist, neither does it admit that there is a local slump of any consequence.

The fact that there is a national depression overlaps enough to make itself felt in Midland. However, cattle conditions are good, oil business in this area is slowed up but is ready to spread with any needed degree of rapidity as the national situation improves.

The local situation is far better than in most areas. Business men here are enjoying better patronage day by day than in larger cities 150 miles away.

Many Midland people are planning to do some buying—Christmas shopping and purchasing in general. They are not hurt financially to any extent and have about as much money to spend as usual, yet are possibly holding back a little on buying what they intend to buy eventually.

From now until Christmas is a good time to buy. Merchants are offering every inducement in the way of special prices and are bringing on ample stocks just as in the most prosperous of years. There never seemed a better time to avail ones self of good merchandise at fair prices.

Then too, a lot of people are planning to add a room to the house, to build a new garage, sidewalk or to make improvements, alterations and repairs around the home. This is the ideal time. Building materials are said to be cheaper than a year ago and than they will be a year from now.

Labor is plentiful. Many home people of the building crafts are idle at least a part of the time and if you are planning these jobs, why not get busy while the occasion is so opportune and attractive?

The Reporter-Telegram does not advocate useless spending, but it does urge those who have things to buy and jobs to do to get busy and be doing these things while everything is right for buying and building.

AIR TRAFFIC INCREASING

Another indication of the rapidly increasing popularity of air travel is found in the recent report of the department of commerce that schedule air transport lines of the United States carried more passengers during the first six months of 1930 than during the whole of 1929.

Domestic lines and American-operated lines abroad carried 208,357 passengers, 3,761,376 pounds of mail and 1,145,477 pounds of express in that period.

The report adds that the total of 208,357 passengers carried on the schedule air lines in the first six months of 1930 represents a fourfold increase over the number carried in the corresponding period of 1929.

The number of passengers flown during the entire year of 1929 was 173,405.

The passenger traffic for domestic air lines was 185,956 and for foreign air lines 22,400 for the first six months of 1930.

With increased air routes and a growing familiarity with the advantages of air mail and air travel, an even greater increase can be anticipated for next year.

TEXAS OIL

Figures recently announced by the United States bureau of mines covering the year 1929 credited Oklahoma with a gross petroleum output valued at $364,650,000 from its 61,180 wells with an average of 11.3 barrels per well.

The Texas production was valued at $322,520,000 from 36,280 wells, an average per well of between 22 and 23 barrels.

California came third in the list with $321,367,000 worth of oil from 10,520 wells, an average of 75 barrels a day.

These three states accounted for four-fifths of the nation's production of crude oil worth $1,280,000,000.

Such figures bring such a realization of the natural wealth, much of it untapped, in this section that it should give us a greater feeling of security regardless of what kind of business conditions may come or go.

STICKLERS

CHAPEL TREATS

Three visitors were present in chapel Monday: Rev. Murphy, Rev. Calhoun and Rev. Peters, representing the Pastors association of the city. After the students read and sang Mr. Lackey presented Rev. Peters, who spoke to the students on "Books." "Books," he said "have three definite periods in their lives; a time to be born, a time to live, and a time to die."

After some discussion on books and libraries, Mr. Peters told us some interesting things about "The Book," which we know as the Bible.

He showed us how the Bible had but two definite periods in its life. One period was that when God had Moses to turn his back on the future and to write of the beginning of creation.

"That," said he, "was the birth of the Bible. Through all these years it has been living. These are the two definite periods in the Bible. The Bible will never die as long as the world stands."

After these remarks, he showed us how we should form our lives to follow the teaching of the Bible. He left the idea that we should believe the Bible, read it, and live according to its teachings every day of our lives.

THE TATTLER

I have decided that the case of John King and Jean Rogers must be getting serious. John is really waking up.

Last night proved to be an interesting night. Jean Verdier and Lloyd Long were together. It seems that they have picked up old threads and started again. Moffett Gilbow and Gladys Norton were seen on Main street several times. Of course one was not surprised to see Jean Wolcott and Ed Watts. Among other couples were Doris Black and Cy, Dorris and Ray and Red and Helen Margaret.

I was really quite surprised to see Velma and Herschel together Sunday night, but they say it isn't the first time.

I wonder how Marie does it. Do you remember her Sunday afternoon?

Oh, what news! Dorris went to Stanton with both Ray and Cy. Now, Pauline, the railroad is not the place to linger. You know a train might "happen" along.

THEY SAY THAT:

Mr. Shifflett made the announcement: "We will have lab on Wednesday, the day after Tuesday."

Mr. Cotner is a real author, and a good one, too.

Buzzards fly around the geometry class room, awaiting a chance to enter.

Miss Cartwright is interested in history teachers.

Kathlyn sure likes "spikes." Janelle has moved to a different seat in fourth period study hall. Wonder why?

A freshman came up to 300 to use the dictionary and walked back to Jean Verdier. Hey, now!

Janelle offered her new ring to about eight different boys in thirty minutes. Who has it?

The fish are going to give a play. A bell saved several chemistry students' lives.

Lucille received quite a surprise last Friday night.

Carlton and Belle Wilson have turned the tables on Sherwood and Sammy Lane.

The senior rings arrived last Thursday and before even the newness was off, some underclassmen were wearing them. Why the rush? Jess Edith is still interested in Calvin.

Doris must be trifling with Cy. She was with J. E. Sunday afternoon.

Mary Caroline and Maurice, Frank and Helen Margaret, Ham and Ida Beth, were present at the Stanton game.

When Mr. Cotner gives one class a test, he gives them all one.

CLUB ENJOYS BREAKFAST

Too early for any Saturday morning, the home economics club girls met at the school building at seven-thirty for a sunrise breakfast last week. About eight o'clock this group left for Cloverdale. Such fun! Everyone seemed to grab at once. The manners that Miss Pawelek had taught seemed to be ignored. The girls would enjoy another such breakfast if it were not quite so early.

THE PEP SQUAD

The high school pep squad is rounding out one of the most successful years in school history. Each girl feels a responsibility in making this year's squad the best ever. Loyal support, when the Bulldogs needed it the most, has meant a great deal to the team. Cold weather or rain has not prevented the girls from coming out to practice for stunts or to be present at every game. Their cooperative spirit on each occasion has been worthy of praise. They have set a precedent for future pep squads here.

ANNUAL NEWS

Members of the "Catoico" staff have begun the work of cutting pictures and arranging them on panels. Work on several panels is being held up because a few students have failed to return proofs to the photographer or because they have not gone to select the picture they want. All students are urged to return their proofs or see about them at once.

Cecil McEntire has drawn a few of the cartoons for the book. A duplicate dummy has been completed. Each head of committees and members of the staff are working. Group pictures of school organizations will be made soon.

BAND HAS NEW FOLIOS

Let it rain, snow, hail, sleet, lighten or thunder while the band is playing in the open and anyone looking at the sheets of music afterward will never know what they have been through. This is because the band members have new folios in which to carry their music. The folios are black with transparent fronts. Mr. Shrader says the folios are a good investment because they will keep music fresh, clean, and legible, thus paying for themselves with money which otherwise would be spent in buying new music.

CAN YOU IMAGINE—

If Lloyd is really and truly in love with Nancy? (It does seem kinda sad to see one that has been immune so long fall victim to Cupid's arrows.)

Frank and Lucille going together? (Well, that's just what happened if I'm not mistaken.)

Who the girl is that is so interested in Olen (Wake up, Olen. Get out of that trance and go hunting.)

Why E. B. hasn't received a letter with a Crane post-mark on it?

Who gave Kathlyn the cute little bracelet?

What would happen if Ed should get another girl?

Miss Miley not making some pupil be janitor?

James Walton and A. B. Cooksey being still in study hall?

Whom Ham said he dreamed about?

Annie Fay not giving the mouse sneeze in chapel?

Mr. Cotner not wanting students to think?

Why Frank brings all his books in his home room at 8:15?

Conrad and Herman not going around, arm in arm?

Lloyd McKinney and Conrad D. not making love to each other?

Billie not speaking of "Romance?"

Ida Beth driving her car carefully?

Some girls getting to pep meeting on time?

Why Virginia kept it a secret whose sweater she had for a while?

Who will fall in geometry this six-weeks?

Mr. Barry not saying Santa Claus wants to talk to him?

What started Frank to memorizing theorems in geometry?

In whom John King's latest interest is?

Why Pauline doesn't want to be a hateful character in a play?

Avalyn and Marguerite not "double dating" together? And always with the same escorts?

Why Mary Katherine was so interested in a certain bet?

Mr. Cotner never blushing?

Irene and David quarreling?

Bill in love?

Where Annie Fay cultivated her giggle?

Why Mildred was interested in wearing a senior ring?

Miss Rippy forgetting book reports?

Mr. Barry not telling his students how brilliant they are?

Why Carl Ruse does not fall for some one?

Why Ruby was so interested that she stopped to talk to Mr. Shifflett at the Wink-Stanton game? Was he really the attraction?

Why Pauline, Virginia, and Lotie did not like the grandpas when they were offered to them so kindly?

Why, R. V. is such a tease?

Red: Say, did you know that cave-men used to knock girls senseless?

Lloyd: Huh, that ain't necessary now.

John: Not if there were enough members in the club.

"Don't Be a Goose"

Miss Burris asked her class to write an essay on geese. This paper was turned in by a freshman miss.

"Geese is a low, heavy set bird, which is most meat and feathers. His heads sits on one end, and he sits on the other. He ain't got no between his toes, and he's got a balloon in his stummock to keep him from sinking. Some geese, when they get big, has curls on their tails and is called ganders. Ganders don't haff to sit and hatch, but just eat and loaf and go in swimming. If I was a goose, I'd rather be a gander."

Miss Rippy: Sit down in front, James.

James: I can't, I'm not made that way.

Ida Beth: Why do you speak so hoarse?

Nancy: I was talking through a screen door and strained my voice.

I eat my peas with honey; I've done it all my life; It makes the peas taste funny, But it keeps them on the knife.

Mr. Cotner: I like cheerfulness. I admire anyone who sings at his work.

Vann: Say, you must love a mosquito.

Mrs. Barry: How many make a dozen?

Mr. Barry: Twelve.

Mrs. Barry: How many make a million?

Mr. Barry: Very few.

Our Bulldogs

He's a tough old fellow, With tough old hide for clothes; His ears and tail are clipped, And his teeth are as long as his nose.

When it comes to fighting That fellow takes first place; He goes in to a scrap With a grin upon his face.

He grabs 'em and they holler; He swings 'em round and round; And when he finally drops 'em They lie still upon the ground.

WE WONDER WHY—

Miss Miley and Miss Burrus want to stay on the Pecos side of the field Armistice day.

Velma and Kathlyn couldn't stand up in church Sunday night. Red blushed during Mr. Lackey's speech Monday morning.

Mr. Cotner didn't make an announcement in chapel Monday morning.

Red, after playing football all year, asked Mr. Cotner what S. O. L. meant?

Lloyd didn't have any interest in the dance Saturday night.

Mr. Lackey kept the boys in chapel Monday morning.

Miss Solomon and Miss Lanham moved one seat to the left in assembly when Mr. Hankins and Marcos Williamson were on the stage.

Marie had two boy friends, Sunday afternoon.

The Seniors' rings seem to have changed "hands."

Red was giving away vanities Saturday night and where he got them.

Pennsylvania Politics Is As Muddled As Ever—Pinchot, Almost Defeated by Business Men, Bids for Their Confidence—Davis May Lose Senatorship if Vare Decides to Run in 1932

WASHINGTON.—Those fascinating politics of Pennsylvania, which were all scrambled during the primary and election campaigns, are still scrambled.

That great Republican commonwealth of 9,000,000 population appears to be too large for any single group to control and the elections have given it a system of bloc government in which captains of industry and finance, dictators of political machines and various lesser groups and personages will play with the unique Governor Pinchot a game of trades and compromises.

Just as elated Democrats in Washington sought to reassure business by renouncing any policy of legislative instruction, Pinchot, almost defeated in the election because so many business men were afraid of his "radicalism," has been making overtures to Pennsylvania business asking it to have confidence in him personally. He is trying to get the idea over that he is not against business or big business as such.

Pinchot, a national figure largely because of his fight on the public utilities and his position as an outstanding Republican dry, is likely to dominate Pennsylvania legislation for the first couple of years if only because of his patronage power. After the good jobs are all filled he probably will have more trouble. In any event there is likely to be much compromising under his administration.

Many Powerful Blocs The legislature has blocs representing the Vare crowd of Philadelphia, the Allegheny county machine and the Mellons, the hard coal district, the railroads, labor, Joe Grundy with his many manufacturers, and others.

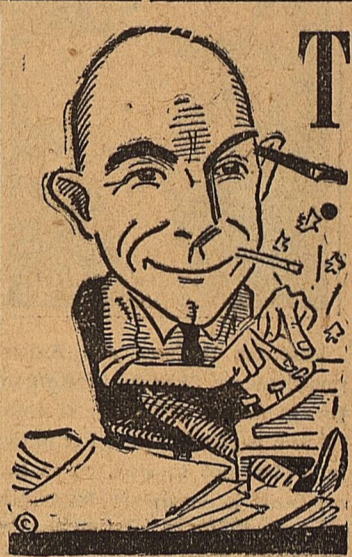

Presumably there will be different lineups on separate measures, since no faction can dominate Pennsylvania alone. Joe Grundy, although defeated in his senatorial primary campaign, occupies a favored position because he fought for Pinchot's election and even contributed $10,000. He and Pinchot probably will work together as long as they can and then bust Grundy is a hard-boiled reactionary and Pinchot a progressive, political individualist who never stays hitched.

One thing they both share is deep hatred for W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Vare machine of Philadelphia, with which Atterbury is allied.

The Philadelphia and Allegheny county—or Pittsburgh—machines are battling each other again this season. In the primaries, Philadelphia went for Jim Davis for senator and Francis Brown, Vare's man, for governor, while Pittsburgh went for Davis and Pinchot, causing nomination of the latter. The Philadelphia gang frothed at the Pittsburgh gang. Then the Pittsburgh machine, apparently with full intent, gave Pinchot the county majority in the election which just enabled him to carry the state. Philadelphia delivered a majority of 240,000 for the wet Democratic candidate.

The rest of the state has a horror of domination at Harrisburg by the Philadelphia crew, so that Vare and his boys stand alone now except as for Atterbury and his Pennsylvania railroad, which enters 54 of the state's 67 counties. But it's a powerful entity and has proved it can deliver Philadelphia for a Republican, Democrat, or spotted zebra by at least a 200,000 majority.

Arthur Jury was making a speech at the Rotary club. "I am a self-made man," he declared. "We accept your apology," Ily Pratt, chairman of the program committee, said.

for unfavorable predictions as to his re-election is the fact that both he and Davis come from Pittsburgh and that Philadelphia will sooner or later demand one of the two senators for herself. Davis may be the one to suffer.

Well, the meat market proprietors still has Philadelphia and the machine in his hand. Active direction is in the hands of Sheriff Thomas Cunningham, James Hazlett and Charlie Hall.

Vare May Run Again The Mellons are not as active in politics as they were when W. L. Mellon, Andy's nephew, was Republican state chairman.

Senator Jim Davis comes up for re-election in 1932 and presumably can have the job for another six years if Vare is willing. Vare may run himself, according to some rumors, which probably would leave Davis helpless. Vare was elected in 1926 but the Senate barred him because of excessive primary expenditures. Vare hated to lose that seat and may still have his heart on it.

There has been some discussion of Senator Dave Reed's chances of renomination and re-election, but he doesn't have to run again until 1934. Reed is one of the ablest Republican senators and is likely to become increasingly prominent as a Senate leader. The principal basis

Local Housewives' Choice Recipes

Stuffed pork tenderloin sounds appetizing. And, as a dessert for the meal try this different recipe, Biscuit Tortoni.

Stuffed Tenderloin

Two pork tenderloins, 2 cups bread crumbs, 1-2 cup melted butter, 4 leaves of sage, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 teaspoon onion juice. Split the tenderloins lengthwise and flatten out. Make a dressing of crumbs, butter and seasonings, adding a small amount of hot water if the crumbs are very dry. Use this as a stuffing for the tenderloins, roll and tie with a strong. Bake one hour in a moderate oven, basting frequently with hot fat. This is enough for eight or ten servings.

Biscuit Tortoni

1 cup light corn syrup
3 egg yolks
Few grains salt
1-2 teaspoon vanilla
1-2 tbsps. gelatin
1 cup heavy cream
1-2 cup macaroni crumbs

Beat the egg yolks light and add to the corn syrup. Cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens—about five minutes. Add the gelatin soaked five minutes in water to cover. When cool, flavor, add salt, beat into the cream, whipped, and transfer to little paper cases. Dust the tops thickly with the macaroni crumbs and put in a cold place to become firm. If possible, pack in an ice cream freezer, using equal parts of ice and salt, and put pieces of cardboard between the layers to keep the cases separate, or put in freezing compartment of automatic refrigerator.

Prairie Lee Boosters

The proverbial "dirty faced school boy" left our grounds for "keeps" last Monday morning when Mr. Laewell and his boys got the new lavatories installed. "But, do the children use them" someone asks. Yes! and with what joy. It is a pleasure to see large and small alike washing their hands before eating lunch and after playing. Now the youngsters are asked to save any scraps of soap they find. These scraps will be boiled, making a liquid soap. The trustees have promised a soap holder and paper towels.

If plans hold up as they are expected to and the people of this and surrounding communities come to the pie supper Saturday night in large numbers, next week the teachers plan to start serving hot lunch to the youngsters each noon. Judge Hill has promised us an electric stove and the trustees have given their consent to use it. If sufficient funds are raised another step for-

MIDLAND WISHES LUCK TO TEAM THAT COPS ROW TODAY

WIN FOR EITHER TEAM WOULD GIVE ESPOUSING TOWN TITLE OF CAPITAL OF GREAT PURPLE AND GOLD AREA

By the time you have read this, the matter of deciding a sub-district championship will have started, and with it the decision of whether the farther east one goes the stronger is the school that whets its activities on a purple and gold grindstone.

The long-heralded battle between Midland and Stanton, two purple and gold institutions, started at 3 o'clock. These two schools and Pecos make the purple and gold color combination honored by three-fifths of the teams playing this season in the eastern half of the football district. Midland, to the east of Pecos, humbled the river crew Armistice; now it remains to be seen whether Stanton, ever farther east, can jar Midland loose from a record of no losses in the Bulldog meadow.

If Midland wins, the flashy club here will not only go into the district running against Marfa on Thanksgiving, but will be acclaimed the capital of the purple and gold territory round about.

A win over Stanton would be a distinct achievement. Stanton has shown the same power, according to scores, with Midland in two games this season—deadlocking Midland in a scoreless tie once and beating Pecos by the same score as Midland in another engagement.

A win would do something probably just as significant—break a Stanton jinx that has snarled loudly at the heels of the Bulldog club for a period of the last three engagements, when Midland lost once and was tied twice by the Thundering Herd.

Worthy foes, and ones that Midland would cheer against Marfa Thanksgiving in case of a reversal here this afternoon, Midland, made up of grid enthusiasts who never forget the cardinal principals of sportsmanship in their zeal, wishes luck to the club that wins—feeling it deserves everything it gets.

DISTRICT 8 TANGLE

By R. C. HANKINS. Star gazers in Midland were numerous last night. Tomorrow would bring a perfect day for the Stanton-Midland football game here or it would not. It did (to overlook the fact that tomorrow has not come.) The day was perfect for a classic this morning just before my sports deadline. Ought to be great going for both clubs.

Stanton came over without having tested out its greenery that forms a carpet on Lackey field. Whether this disadvantage would show up in the first running plays of the rival machine from the eastern village made for more speculation on the streets today than the stock market, price of flannel underwear or the number of boys who will attend tonight's papa-urchin banquet.

We had a great time at our pep rally last night. Mr. Lackey, oldest student of the high school, told me spirit was more effervescent (Mr. Shifflett's descriptive term) than at any time under this football moon. John Bonner threw some humorous left hooks and right crosses, and wound up by lecturing the tightly filled auditorium on the value of a confidence diet before games. He told the school it could start living at his theatre, inasmuch as he is giving another football-picture party, which makes about the third he has officiated in during the past few weeks. Mister James P. Harrison (just Jimmy, to me) told a Scotch joke and then wouldn't explain it; but did fall into a lucid period long enough to clip off 99 yards for touchdown with the statement that he felt it in the marrow of his tottering bones that Midland would jerk Buffler meat Friday night. Mrs. J. M. White, from an advantageous seat in the auditorium, showed what a wallop a woman can put into a sports talk. M. C. Ulmer counted out a few well-chosen bits of advice and said he was behind the Doggies. Coming from a banker, that must have sounded just right. Coach Barry allowed to escape a bit of vapor he dreamed a few nights ago. What a Freudian would analyze from it is a mystery to most of us who are bad scholars, but the dream essence had to do with water pushing over a dam. Maybe there were a few buffaloes on the bit of masonry. Mr. Lackey also had a dream, but he has 'm anyway. No one who is head of an institution like his could live without dreaming—certainly the institution couldn't.

It was a pleasure to sit up there on the stage, the band at our backs, the pep squad in front, pretty girls and husky athletes scattered everywhere. I gotta kick out of it, and that's no bedtime story.

My friend, Robt. C. Cottner, who stalks around in gark vaults where historical documents may be found, had a lot to say about Buffalo Hydes being the most susceptible part of a Bison's periphery. Hyde is the Buffalo coach, if you must know. But Midland will "bury" him if you please, the Buffs he went on to say. He showed that nothing but Bull Pups had bitten the Herd on the former meeting, running under the bellies of the monarchs of the plains and doing nothing more than teasing them. "Now as you stand there pledging each other support, let us all think of this," he said. "Just as we outdistanced the Odessa Bronchos, outgated the Wink Tigers and out-soared the Pecos Eagles—just so will we stampee the Thundering Herd!"

Stanton burned Midland in effigy at a great pep rally the other night. Clever posters showed a Midland Bulldog on a funeral pyre, a rope around his neck and a Stanton Buffalo setting fire to the pyre with the breath of his heated interior. If Stanton loses today's game it will not be because of the spirit behind the team.

Army Bares New Rifle to Be Used

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (UP).—A newly-designed automatic rifle which army ordnance experts believe will fill the long-felt want for such a weapon will be ready for test at an early date.

This was revealed today in the annual report of Maj. Gen. Samuel Hof, chief of ordnance of the army. Recently, Hof, in an address before a body of ordnance manufacturers, pointed out that thus far no nation had adopted a light automatic rifle satisfactory in every respect for the use of infantry.

The weapon soon to be tested is the result of great research. It will be of the .30 calibre type and sufficiently light to be carried by foot-soldiers. The possibility exists that if the gun is found thoroughly satisfactory it may lead to a redistribution of infantry forces into smaller units, which, however, would have the same firing capacity as the present units of 250 men equipped with rifles whose magazines hold only five bullets.

Hof's report also revealed that during the last year a semi-automatic 37 mm. gun has been completed and successfully tested.

Still another development of the last year in the ordnance field is a medium tank weighing 15 tons, equipped with two heavy guns and two machine guns, and having a speed of 15 miles per hour. It will be ready for tests soon.

DOES KNUTE FEAR FURY OF GIANTS FROM N'WESTERN?

Knute Rockne has said that Northwestern's big, heavy linemen will cause no end of trouble and that the Purple passing attack may be hard to quell. From this, one gets the idea that the Wildcats probably will defeat his Notre Dame aggregation by a touchdown or two.

A correct interpretation of these phrases would show that Rockne believes Notre Dame will defeat Northwestern by from 6 to 14 points, that the Irish will man-handle that big Wildcat line and that the Purple passing attack will harass his defensive backs for only a little while. In fancy English, the Sage of South Bend is giving us the run-around with his "little white lies."

Seriously, though, Rockne has a right to think Northwestern will be the stubbornest foe his Rockets have encountered this season. If he entirely disregarded the unblemished record of the Wildcats, it is doubtful if he could have forgotten how they scrapped it up a few years ago when Notre Dame had everything and Northwestern was just beginning to find out what this football business was all about.

The team of the Four Horsemen, regarded as Rockne's best until this fall, was well satisfied to bag a 13 to 6 victory at the expense of Moon Baker, Tim Lowry and their Purple mates back in 1924.

A year later, the Irish were hard-pressed to win 13 to 10 in the second half. Parisien, O'Boyle, Heardon and Boeringer, Notre Dame stars of that fall, again found the Lowry-Baker bunch extremely hard to tame. If you recall, Northwestern led at the half and during the rest period Knute had to remind his boys that "Notre Dame never lost a football game on Cartier Field."

They went at it again in 1926—Niemic, Boeringer, Chris Flanagan and some others for Notre Dame, opposing Luke Johnsons, Tiny Lewis, Waldo Fisher and the same Moon Baker. Again Notre Dame won—this time 6 to 0—and Knute heaved a sigh of relief at the conclusion of a three-year contract between the two institutions.

From end to end, Dick Hanley's Wildcat line has an edge both in weight and experience over Notre Dame's regular forwards, Baker, Oilphant, Riley and Woodworth conclude three seasons of brilliant play on Nov. 22. Marvill, Evans and Clark fill out two campaigns. Only Captain Conley in the Notre Dame wall is a three-year veteran. Yarr, Kurth, Kosky Culver, Metzger and Kassiss are playing their first season as regulars, after a year as understudies to Cannon, Moynihan, Twomey and others of Notre Dame's 1929 front.

Notre Dame will be without the services of an All-American fullback. Northwestern will miss the playing of an All-Conference fullback. It's too bad, but Joe Savoldi and Pug Rentner could have staged a real fullbacking duel if the Fates had not shelved them just before the big game.

Hobbs Has Pep Squad Of More Than 60

HOBBS, Nov. 21.—Hobbs girls seen cheering on the sidelines in all of the football games, dressed in their black and gold colored costumes are the girls who make up the Eagle's Pep Squad.

There are approximately 65 members in the squad and they are doing their utmost to help win every game of the season with their wild cheers and yells for victory, to help the boys along.

The girls know about 35 yells and meet twice each week to practice and learn new songs and yells. Field parades for future games are being worked out. The sponsor is Mrs. Murtel Dancer.

Our machinery of justice is over-worked. —Geo. W. Wickersham.

WHAT DOES A HOME COST?

Rent a $5,000.00 house for 11 years at $50.00 per month (which is very nominal rent) and you have paid your landlord $6,600.00. All you have to show is a number of rent receipts. All these years you have been a tenant, living in a rented house. Not only your neighbors, but even strangers, know it, for a rented house is not a home and shows it.

Buy a $5,000.00 home on a monthly payment plan at $50.00 per month. At the end of 11 years you have paid for your home with rent money, plus about $1,200.00 for taxes and insurance.

Now to sum up in one case you have spent $6,600.00 and have nothing. In the other case you have spent $7,800.00 and have a clear deed to a $5,000.00 home. Your home has cost you $1,200.00.

We have homes in every part of Midland—attractive homes at reasonable prices. We are closing out our real estate business, expecting to handle oil properties only, and it will be to your advantage to see us now.

HAD GAS PAINS AND BAD TASTE

Georgia Lady Tells How She Has Been Benefited by Black-Draught.

Gainesville, Ga.—"I have been taking Theford's Black-Draught for about thirty years," writes Mrs. R. L. Freeman, of 121 Grove Street, this city.

"I used to suffer with constipation. This caused me to have a tired feeling, and very severe headaches, bad taste in my mouth and gas pains. I wouldn't have an appetite, and did not feel equal to my work.

"I found Black-Draught quick to relieve, so I have used it off and on all these years. It is harmless and easy to take. I can recommend it most highly."

The medicine which this Georgia lady mentions is the same Theford's Black-Draught which thousands of men and women have recommended because of the good results obtained from its use.

It is a purely vegetable preparation of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Easy to take—no bad after-effects.

Refuse imitations. Get the genuine, in a yellow package, marked "Theford's."

UNIVERSITY AND REAGAN COUNTY MAY ROW AGAIN

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 21. (AP)—Controversial questions involving business relations between the University of Texas and the operators of the Big Lake oil pool in Reagan county may be reopened by Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt.

Bobbitt said regents of the university had asked him to look into "several questions," the most important of which was whether the university royalties had been paid on a proper basis.

The university collects a one-eighth royalty on oil produced in the field on the basis of a price averaged from postings in the mid-continent field. Bobbitt probably will determine in his inquiry might be carried so far as to ask for an interpretation of the judgment in the case of the state again the Reagan County Purchasing company and others, the judgment which recently came under the scrutiny of members of the legislative committee investigating university land leases.

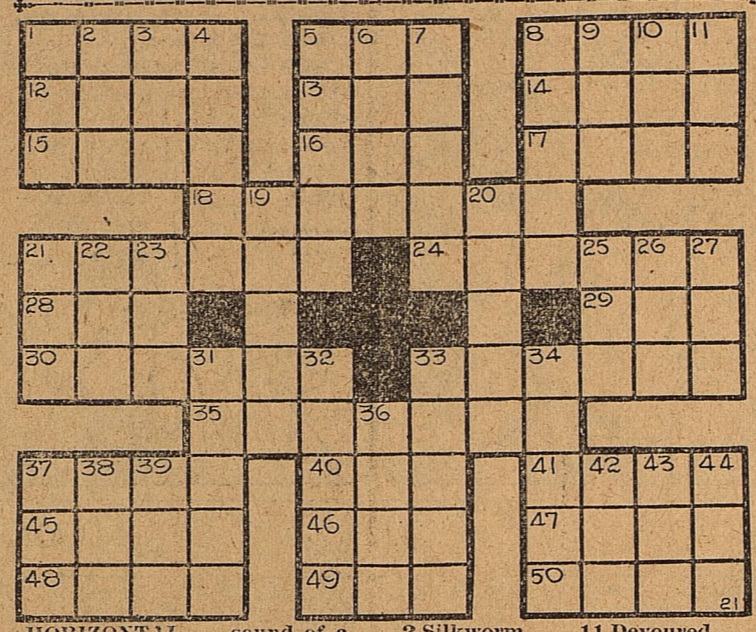

In this case, the university received a million dollars, cash settlement, in consideration of which leases held by the two Big Lake operators were held to be valid.

The cash settlement was for profits in the Reagan County Purchasing company, which receives a bonus of 20 cents per barrel for all oil it handles for the Big Lake operators.

The judgment also gave the university a one-eighth share of future net profits of the purchasing company.

The clause has raised some question, some attorneys holding the belief that the one-eighth share of net profits should be paid the University regents to determine whether they shall accept their royalty after the income tax has been paid, since for all practical purposes the regents are "in the oil business" as shareholders.

NEW AMBASSADOR GETS OVATION IN MEXICO CAPITAL

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21. (AP)—J. Reuben Clark, new United States ambassador to Mexico, arrived here today. He was greeted at the station by a delegation of business men and newspaper correspondents, and went at once to the embassy where he will reside.

In recent weeks Oklahoma's production has been well below the allowed figures. Even with an increase of 16,700 barrels in the daily average production last week, the output was held at 506,350 barrels, or more than 38,000 barrels under the limit fixed by the corporation commission.

Student Directs 400-Piece Band

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21.—Directing a 400-piece orchestra while it played one of his own compositions provided Sproesser Wynn, Texas Christian university freshman, with the greatest thrill of his life.

Wynn entered a march composition, "Lone Star," in the annual National high school orchestra competition, and was awarded first place. He wrote the 200 parts for the orchestra and directed the organization when the piece was played. The march is now being published by the C. L. Barnhouse company of Oskaloosa, Ia.

Wynn has played in the National high school orchestra in Chicago for the past four years and last year won the national championship on the French horn. He is now playing French horn in the Horned Frog band. However, he performs almost equally as well on the saxophone, cornet, alto and piano.

PRORATION MAY BE TIGHTENED IN OKLAHOMA

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 21. (AP)—The Oil Proration structure, the dam built by producers in an attempt to check the petroleum output to a balance with demand, may be made more stringent in Oklahoma.

With market requirements slackening, largely the result of the seasonal slump in gasoline consumption, and with supplies in storage mounting, the demand for Oklahoma crude oil has dropped sharply.

The situation has been brought forcibly to the attention of producers by the Prairie Oil and Gas company's action in reducing its purchases of oil from the Oklahoma City field to a scant 3,000 barrels daily, or 12,000 barrels under the amount the company had been taking.

Following the Prairie's action, Alvin Richards, Tulsa, president of the Kansas-Oklahoma division of the Midcontinent Oil and Gas association and chairman of the association's proration committee, named a subcommittee to make a survey of the producing and purchasing situation in Oklahoma with a view to recommendations for a decrease in the state's daily allowed production.

This development comes at a time when Oklahoma's production is at the lowest level in four years and the country's total output is well below what it was two years ago. General adoption of proration practices is given the credit for the reduced production.

Under present orders of the State Corporation commission, Oklahoma is permitted an average daily output of 545,000 barrels of crude oil. A preliminary survey has indicated, Richards said, that this figure is in excess of the actual market demand.

Upon completion of the new survey, the Crude Oil and Gas association may recommend to operators a supplemental order, further restricting the state's production be sought from the corporation commission members of the subcommittee are J. S. Sidwell, Prairie Oil & Gas company; E. R. Filley, the Texas company; and Ray M. Collins, State Oil Empire.

Operators in the Oklahoma City field, the most vitally affected by the latest development, were called to meet today for a discussion of the altered situation.

In order that proration programs in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas may be kept in general accord, the Oklahoma committee has suggested in a resolution to William N. Davis, vice-president of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, that the matter of adjusting the inequalities in the programs of the three states be laid before the association's board of directors.

E. B. Reeser, president of the Barnsdall corporation, who last week was re-elected president of the American Petroleum institute, pledged the committee his help in seeking to effect a remedy for the present situation.

Fred S. Cook, superintendent of the land department of the Prairie company, said a sharp reduction in sales and full storage tanks compelled the company to cut its oil purchases. In October alone, he said,
