OBVIOUS STRENGTHS OF POLITICAL PARTIES STILL UNKNOWN

GOP HAS A NARROW MARGIN

Senate - House Meet Will Decide the Matter Later

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (AP).—United in seeking prosperity, national party leaders returned to business today from trying to find who won control of congress in Tuesday's election. Obvious control is undetermined until the senate and house meet a year hence.

Final official returns left republicans with a majority of one in both house and senate contests. Close races are promised in the short session approaching. Administration leaders are preparing to concentrate on the enactment of vital appropriation measures to make a special session next spring unnecessary.

Unfinished business of the last session is the next consideration followed by the Muscle Shoals, plant motor and bus regulation, prohibition and employment matters.

G. O. P. Has Edge
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (AP).—Subject to recounts, the final returns of Tuesday's national election today stood in the house: republicans, 218, democrats, 216 and farmer-labor, 1; senate: republicans, 48, democrats, 47 and farmer-labor, 1. Recounts are being demanded on a number of close results on which the republican majority rests.

Marfa Tips Nothing In 19-0 Rankin Win

The real strength of Marfa could not be determined by Midland scouts at Rankin Saturday, even though the invaders from the far side of the western half of the district won, 19-0.

The game was played on a field slopy with mud and water. Marfa counted in the first quarter on a return of a punt, in the third on return of kick-off and in the last quarter on a sustained drive. Little could be determined on shiftness, however. Marfa had an easy time of the game and seemed content to do no more than score the three touchdowns.

Head Coach Barry of the Midland high school saw the game from the sidelines, as did Superintendent Lackey and Principal Shifflett. Marfa has already won the western half championship and it is expected that Midland will play that club for the championship, as was done last year.

Fire Chairman Almost Is Burned

Claude O. Crane, chairman of the fire prevention committee of the chamber of commerce, almost got the laugh on him Friday night.

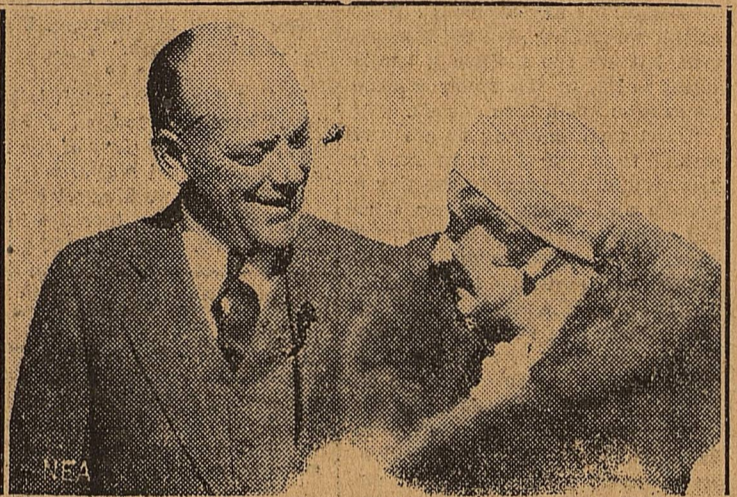

Claude, who is constantly warning the public about fire hazards, used an old connection to a gas stove. "Daddy, come here pretty soon and see what is wrong," one of his small children said to him Friday night.

Claude went into another room and found the flames from the exposed connection had set fire to the wallpaper of his room. He was just in time to extinguish the fire.

But Claude was back on the job Saturday, with nothing but a scorched finger wrong with him. He was stronger than ever in his admonitions.

"Tell the public to be careful of all connections and to install rigid ones instead of flexible ones," he said. "Especially are last year's connections apt to cause grief."

Mary Garden and Gene Make Up

This photograph ought to prove that the feud between Mary Garden, opera star, and Gene Howe, editor of a newspaper at Amarillo, Tex., is ended forever. It began when Howe criticized Miss Garden's operatic performance in Amarillo a year ago, and ended the other day when he invited Miss Garden to tea at his home—where this photograph was taken. "I think he's the weirdest person I've ever met, but he's all right and I like him so well that I've invited him to be my guest both in Chicago and France," said Mary.

2,000 SEARCH FOR BANDITS IN CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 8. (UP).—Hunts were conducted today for five desperados, who yesterday held up the Southern Pacific's Stockton Flyer at a lonely spot northwest of here and escaped with more than $57,000.

Two thousand peace officers and volunteers searched the Berkeley Hills while detectives attempted to find out what became of an assortment of weapons shipped from a New York munitions house recently to a mysterious consignee here.

17 FEARED DEAD AS BOAT TURNS OVER AND SINKS

EUREKA, Calif., Nov. 8. (P).—The coast guard station here reported tonight that the steam lumber schooner Brooklyn turned over and sank while crossing Humboldt Bay at the entrance to the harbor. It is believed that the crew of 17 men were all drowned. Water was extremely rough over the bar and apparently the schooner was struck by a large wave. The guard sent out boats to look for bodies.

Personal Letter Praises Calhoun

The Rev. Edwin Calhoun was held in high esteem as a civic worker as well as a preacher, according to a letter from the Pearsall chamber of commerce to the Midland chamber. Secretary N. H. Hunt of Pearsall says of the new Midland pastor: "We are sending to you a mighty good worker and splendid man in the Rev. Edwin Calhoun."

"So do not fear to call upon him for anything. He is not only a good worker but a fine sport—and a good all around man everywhere."

"While we hated to lose him, we are happy that he is going to such a fine city as yours."

Odessa Invites Midland People

Several city and civic organization leaders of Midland have been invited to attend the annual banquet of the Odessa chamber of commerce next Friday night. Josh Lee, of Oklahoma university, famous after dinner speaker, will make the principal address. Leon Goodman of Midland will speak on inter-city relations. New directors will be elected by the Odessa chamber.

BODY TO OPEN HERE ON FRIDAY

F. E. Cragin General Chairman of the Convention

The two-day program of the seventh annual convention of the West Texas Retail Lumbermen's convention, to be held in Midland Friday and Saturday, was announced Saturday by committee-men here.

F. E. Cragin is general chairman of the body, and expects a big crowd of the retailers. A. B. Anderson heads the program committee, composed otherwise of Alvin Hicks and Chas. Berry.

Other committees were given as follows: Finance—Alvin Hicks, chairman, R. V. Lawrence and R. J. Moore. Registration—Chas. Berry, chairman, Mrs. C. C. Pritchett and S. E. Cragin.

Entertainment—R. J. Moore, chairman, Alvin Hicks, F. E. Cragin, A. B. Anderson, Chas. Berry, R. V. Lawrence and A. Harry Anderson. Ladies Entertainment—Mrs. S. B. Cragin, chairman, Mrs. Alvin Hicks, Mrs. F. E. Cragin, Mrs. Chas. Berry, Mrs. R. V. Lawrence, Mrs. A. B. Anderson, Mrs. A. Harry Anderson, Mrs. R. J. Moore.

The complete program of the two-day convention is found on page 7 of today's issue of The Reporter-Telegram.

New Minister to Preach Twice Today

Methodists and Baptists will likely join Sunday in listening to the first sermons in Midland of the Rev. Edwin Calhoun, pastor of the First Methodist church. The Baptist minister, the Rev. George F. Brown is in Emms, where he is to marry his son, Fred, to Miss Emeline Glaspy. "Life's Futures" is the subject announced by the minister for the 11 o'clock hour and "Behold the Man" for the evening service.

Attempted Jail Break Fails

CHANDLER, Okla., Nov. 8. (AP).—Sheriff Red Mears shot and killed Jim Haggood, alleged hold-up man, Fred Moore escaped and two others were captured when four prisoners broke out of the Lincoln county jail here today. The prisoners slugged William Beasler, jailer, when he brought their breakfast. Beasler's injuries were minor.

Stanton Sheriff Knows Who Smuggled in Saws

"We know who smuggled saws into the Martin county jail, but we don't want to mention any names for a while," Sheriff J. H. Zimmerman of Martin county said Saturday night over telephone to The Reporter-Telegram.

"Some of the people live in the country in this county. The wife of one of the three men who escaped from the jail here in Stanton Thursday night and a man who came here with another of the men are also guilty. Formal charges will be lodged against all those we know are responsible, but we don't care to divulge names yet."

The three men sawed their way to freedom early Thursday night.

Bernstorff's Proposal Is Voted Down; Five Support

Seeks Annulment of Marriage

GENEVA, Nov. 8. (AP).—Count von Bernstorff's proposal to limit the number of army conscripts called to the colors annually by parties to the league of nations preparatory to a disarmament conference was rejected by a commission today. Approval was voted on the alternative principle for a limitation of the period of conscript service.

Only five nations supported the German recommendation, Russia, China, Sweden, Norway and Holland, while the United States, Great Britain, Canada, France, Italy, Japan, Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Rumania and other states stood solidly against the von Bernstorff's plans.

AMERICA TAKES RECOGNITION OF NEW GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (AP).—The United States today recognized the new government of Brazil. Secretary Stimson made the announcement of this government's favorable attitude after a conference with President Hoover.

The present Brazilian government obtained its power through a coup overthrowing the administration of Washington Luis.

PROVENCE FOUND; IS IN HOSPITAL; SUCCESSOR NAMED

GREENVILLE, Nov. 8. (UP).—Dean Wedemeyer assumed the office of president pro tem of the college today in the absence of Dr. Provence, who is in a Houston hospital. He was made temporary president by a special meeting of the board of trustees last night.

HOUSTON, Nov. 8. (UP).—Dr. E. W. Provence, Burleson college president, who wandered four days thru the state suffering with a form of aphasia, was in a sanitarium here today resting, according to W. C. Averill, brother-in-law of Mrs. Provence.

The educator was brought here late yesterday by his wife and family physician.

Ask for Cigarettes Then Rob Clerk

HOUSTON, Nov. 8. (AP).—Two gunmen last night robbed J. B. Casey and his store at Barbers Hill near here of $2,000 and escaped. The men entered at closing time, asked for cigarettes, and pointed a gun at Casey when he went to a safe to get change for a $10 bill.

Republican Chief Advises Midland

A total of 380 clubs were formed in Texas by W. E. Talbot, republican candidate for governor, in the queerest political campaign ever carried on in Texas, according to old politicians. Talbot made no purely political speeches. Most of his time was devoted to a study of the economic needs of Texas. Newspapers throughout Texas praised the Dallas insurance man as a great Texan, though he had no chance to be elected governor.

Here is what he wrote Midland people to do: buy from home town merchants; buy locally manufactured products; buy state manufactured products; start spending judicially, and start having necessary work done to give employment to labor; consume as much cotton and wool as consistent with needs.

Her international romance with Lord Inverclyde, which culminated in their marriage in London last year, now may go on the legal rocks. The former John Howard-Tripp, pictured above, has brought suit in the British capital for annulment of the marriage. The former stage star and the multi-millionaire English nobleman were wed after a courtship in New York and London.

Mayor Insists on Colored Streets

CARMEL, Calif., Nov. 8. (AP).—Mayor Herbert Heron, poet, came out openly for colored paving last night, telling the city council that it may be green, red or blue, but "I won't vote for ordinary paving."

HOOVER WARNED BY GARNER FOR PROXY REGIME

UVALDE, Nov. 8. (UP).—Promising propaganda and government by commission must give way to practical suggestions, Representative John N. Garner, ranking democratic member of the house, warned President Hoover today in a formal statement to the press.

He declined to discuss the new regime and pledged cooperation to the administration if the democrats gain leadership of the house.

Bishop Seaman To Preach Here

The Rt. Rev. E. Cecil Seaman, bishop of the North Texas diocese of the Episcopal church, will be in Midland Monday afternoon, and will preach that evening at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church.

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer, the Holy Communion will be given.

Episcopal leaders of Midland expressed appreciation Saturday for the courtesies of the Presbyterians and the management of the hotel.

.28 INCH IS TOTAL IN CITY

"Dry Strip" Nearby Again Passed by Rain Clouds

Range - weed - producing rains fell in intermittent drizzles Saturday and Friday morning and brought relief over extensive area of cattle land. Rain here was .28 inch.

General reports showed that showers and drizzles fell to the west, east, northwest and south. No report was made from the north.

The greatest precipitation was to the south, where the road leading to Rankin was flooded in places so much that a bus due here at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon had not arrived at 7:30. Several who attended the Marfa-Rankin football game in Rankin said that country had been wet by a good rain.

Rain to the west extended as far as Pecos, possibly farther. Precipitation was about a quarter-inch. To the east it was drizzling as far as Sweetwater. The Iatan flats detour was in good condition for traffic. To the northwest it had rained as far as Hobbs, N. M.

The temperature here fell to 49 degrees for its lowest mark for the day.

Rains Miss Strip

The persistence with which moisture-bearing clouds have formed over a dry strip of land near here, only to blow away without discharging rain, was continued Friday and Saturday when parts of Ector and Andrews counties and an area in New Mexico still suffered for lack of water while proximate areas received drizzles and showers.

This area is 20 miles wide and 50 miles long. Little or no rain has fallen since last August. Showers off this side of the strip, at the Goldsmith place, fell Friday night and a good rain Saturday afternoon.

October Canning Exceeds Spring's

Midland farm women have canned more this fall than ever before in the history of Midland county, it was learned Saturday.

In October alone, more canning was done than during all last spring. Seven or eight beehives have been canned and several more are to be put up.

ANALYZING THE DEPRESSION

A Midland banker has checked back 52 years in an analysis of the present business depression that is so much talked of. He finds that during that time, there have been 15 periods of depression, eight of them major and international and other seven minor or within the boundaries of the United States.

The eight major periods of depression included the panic of 1907 and the depression of 1914, also the present slump, he said.

A survey of previous periods of depression shows that they average about two years from the peak of good business to the trough of poor business, and average about a year and a half from trough back to the next good peak. These depression periods were not all alike, either in duration or in intensity, but that was the average, he pointed out.

With the present depression period 14 months under way, and with every indication that the bottom has been reached, he believes that by exercising good business methods people of this section especially may expect better times in the not far distant future.

However, he cautions against use of unsafe methods, of excessive spending and of too high living. He points out the good conditions of the cattle industry and the safe position of the oil industry and the strategic position of the Midland country in these industries. "Midland people have everything optimistic to look forward to," he said, in effect.

WHAT ADVERTISING IS DOING

The average newspaper reader is not conscious of the effect advertising has on him, but if he picks up a paper that carries no advertising he realizes that something big is missing.

Ralph Starr Butler, vice-president of the General Foods corporation, said, "The newspapers in this country, by making it possible to tell an advertising story in every literate home, are unconsciously but fundamentally responsible for the recognition of a new form of wealth—the wealth represented by trademark good will."

Thus it is seen that the institutions having standards have been able to build good will through newspaper advertising. Without their trademarks or high standards, they have little tangible to advertise; but the retail store or the nation's biggest business may endure and get bigger by upholding standards and by advertising.

John Wannamaker has something to say for consistent advertising. "Advertising doesn't jerk. It pulls, but if stuck to, it will exert an irresistible force. Advertising is no game for the quitter."

Midland business houses which are giving service and satisfaction with each sale, and which are maintaining consistent advertising programs, are showing a substantial growth and are gaining good will each day. The good will is built through upholding standards of quality, service and economy; but the good will is expanded through consistent advertising.

THE DRINKING SENATORS

It is interesting, though not especially surprising, to learn that the federal prohibition people at Washington have had an undercover man keeping tabs on U. S. senators who have been patronizing bootleggers. The next question that arises is, "What is the prohibition unit going to do with the information it has collected?"

One suggestion might be that the unit simply make public the names of the offending senators. It might give us some useful information about some of our alleged statesmen.

For a long time Washington has been full of wild rumors about the vast number of senators who buy booze. Publishing this list of names would at least enable us to see just how much there is to these rumors.

STICKLERS

The illustration represents a simplified map, on which the numbered circles are Indian camps and the lines are paths. The five Indians are hostile toward each other and are all going to their camps at the same time. The problem is to get each Indian to his respective camp by a route that does not cross or travel on any other Indian's path.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the third and last of a series of stories on Colonel Eddie Rickenbacker, America's premier World War ace, just decorated by President Hoover with the Congressional Medal of Honor. Today's story tells of his thrilling air battles in which he shot down 26 enemy aircraft.

By ROBERT TALLEY, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Two days after Eddie Rickenbacker arrived at the front to become an air fighter in Uncle Sam's famous 94th or "Hat-in-the-Ring" squadron he was off on his first trip over the German lines.

Major Raoul Lufbery, an American who had fought with the French before his own country entered the war, took Rickenbacker and Lieutenant Douglas Campbell, another newcomer, on a three-man patrol in the Champagne sector. It was in March, 1918, and Lufbery—who had shot down 17 enemy ships while with the Lafayette Escadrille—was then squadron commander.

They met no German planes that day but Rickenbacker was under fire in the air for the first time when 80-pound German anti-aircraft shells began popping under and around him. He did not realize they had burst so close until he returned to his airframe and found the tail of his plane had been punctured in several places.

Rickenbacker Scores First Victory Without Even Being Fired On

A few weeks later—on April 29, 1918—he shot down his first enemy plane, a scout of the Pfaltz type that he and Captain James Norman Hall picked up near Pont-a-Mousson. They dived for the German, and the latter started to run with Rickenbacker and Hall in hot pursuit.

"I was gaining on him every instant," Rickenbacker has related, "and had my sights trained dead upon his front seat before I fired my first shot."

"At 150 yards I pressed the triggers. The tracer bullets cut a streak of living fire into the Pfaltz tail. Raising the nose of my airplane slightly, the fiery streak lifted like a stream of water from a garden hose. Gradually it settled in the pilot's seat."

"The swerving of the Pfaltz course indicated that its rudder was no longer held by a directing hand. At 2000 feet above the enemy's lines I pulled up my headlong dive and watched the enemy machine continue on its course. Surviving slightly to the left, the Pfaltz circled a little to the south and the next minute crashed on the ground just at the edge of a wood a mile inside their own lines."

"I had brought down my first enemy airplane and had not been subjected to a single shot!"

That is Rickenbacker's own story of the first of his 26 victories over German airplanes and balloons. That deed won him the D. S. C.

In order to guard against exaggerated heroism, suppose we let the official citation of the War Department tell about some of the others.

Citation Tells Story Of Thrilling Battles

"One bronze oak leaf is awarded Lieutenant Rickenbacker," continues the citation after making the original award for his first victory, "for each of the following acts of extraordinary heroism in action:

"On May 17, 1918, he attacked three Albatros enemy planes, shooting one down in the vicinity of Richecourt, and forcing the others to retreat over their own lines."

"On May 22, 1918, he attacked three Albatros monoplanes 500 meters over St. Mihiel. He drove them back into German territory, separated one from the group, and shot it down near Flirey."

"On May 28, 1918, he sighted a group of two battle planes and four monoplanes, German planes, which he at once attacked vigorously, shooting down one and dispersing the others."

"On May 30, 1918, 4000 meters over Janinoy, he attacked a group of five enemy planes. After a violent battle he shot down one plane and drove the others away."

"On Sept. 14, 1918, in the region of Villey, he attacked four Fokker enemy planes at an altitude of 3000 meters. After sharp and hot action, he succeeded in shooting one down in flames and dispersing the other three.

"On Sept. 15, 1918, in the region of Bois-de-Warville he encountered six enemy planes who were in the act of attacking four Spads, which were below them. Undeterred by their superior numbers, he unhesitatingly attacked them and succeeded in shooting one down in flames and completely breaking the formation of the others."

On Sept. 26, 1918, near Billy, while on voluntary patrol over the lines he attacked seven enemy planes (five Fokkers protecting two Halberstandts). Disregard the odds against him, he dove on them and shot down one of the Fokkers out of control. He then attacked one of the Halberstandts and sent it down, also."

Single-Handed Rout of Seven Won Hoover Decoration

It was for the latter fight—a double victory—that Rickenbacker was decorated with the Congressional Medal of Honor by President Hoover.

These were not all of Rickenbacker's victories. In September, he was just getting started. Before the armistice ended the war in November he bagged 11 more planes and four German observation balloons.

"Balloon strafing," as it was called, was a thrill indeed and one of the most dangerous jobs that an airman was called upon to perform. These stationary balloons, moored by a long cable, were necessarily close to the ground; each was strongly defended by its own anti-aircraft battery, by machine guns and often by hovering planes. They were still more dangerous to attack because their fixed altitude and position made protection easy.

How Rickenbacker Became a "Balloon Buster"

Rickenbacker's most thrilling experience in "balloon busting" came unexpectedly when he was returning from an expedition of "ground strafing" (swooping low and machine-gunning columns of marching troops on roads behind the lines). It was near Sivry-sur-Meuse on Sept. 28, 1918.

Cruising along a shell-pitted road, Rickenbacker suddenly came upon a group of Germans towing an observation balloon toward the front. It was moored to a moving truck and less than 300 feet above the ground.

The German observer saw Rickenbacker's little Spad coming for him and jumped from the basket with his parachute. A moment later a stream of Rickenbacker's incendiary bullets struck the big bag and it exploded with a blinding flash and deafening roar.

Greatest of "balloon busters" was Lieutenant Frank Luke, of Phoenix, Ariz., member of the neighboring 27th squadron and a great friend of Rickenbacker. Luke, who specialized in bursting balloons, set a record that was never equaled in any army—and died bursting his last one. His body was never found. It was after dark: he may have plunged straight into the bag and been blown to bits, with his machine, by the resultant explosion.

Lufbery Leaps From His Flaming Plane

Major Lufbery, who took Rickenbacker on his first trip over the German lines, likewise died the death of a hero. A German incendiary bullet struck his gas tank and his plane exploded in mid-air. Ground watchers saw Lufbery climb over the side and jump from the flaming ship. His body fell in an aged peasant woman's garden.

Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt was another. Sergeant Thom, flying a red-nosed Fokker in Baron von Richthofen's famous "Flying Circus," sent Roosevelt down in flames. The Germans buried him with military honors and that night they sent a wireless message to his outfit—the 95th squadron—to tell his buddies that he had died like a hero.

Chivalry was not lacking on either side, even though these knights of the skies fought to grim death. Rickenbacker's own squadron once tried to "steer" a German Fokker to a safe landing behind the allied lines after its occupant had stood upright in the cockpit with folded arms as a sign that his ammunition was exhausted.

Eddie Refuses to Shoot a Helpless Enemy

Rickenbacker, himself, once tried to "steer" a Fokker with a dead engine to an American landing field, rather than shoot a helpless enemy. The German's glide, however, was not sufficient to clear the trees and he crashed. He crawled from the wreckage, uninjured, and waved a cheery greeting to Rickenbacker just as some doughboys rushed up and made him prisoner.

And then there was Captain Hall, who was forced down when the German lines when a wing ripped off his baby Neuport in a headlong dive. The German pilot landed beside Hall and made him prisoner. That night the German squadron had Captain Hall as their guest at dinner and entertained him royally.

All told, the 94th Pursuit Squadron in which Rickenbacker rose from lieutenant to commander, shot down 69 enemy aircraft between April 14 and Nov. 10, 1918. It was the first to go over the lines and brought down the last German airplane to fall in the World War.

And what about Eddie Rickenbacker today? America's greatest ace, who shot down 26 German aircraft, 12 of them fighting Fokkers, has a quiet peace-time job in New York now.

He is vice president and director of sales of the Fokker Aircraft Corporation—marketing the machines he once shot down.

THE END.

The business end of Captain Rickenbacker's famous Spad, in which he fought his most thrilling air battles in France, is shown here. The fight pilot sighted his two machine guns through the ring sight, aiming them by pointing his plane. Below is a Fokker, shot down in battle, Rickenbacker having bagged 12 planes of this type among his 26 air victories.

Have you seen Ed, the new Methodist preacher? He looks like a good scout to me. The way the boy's "jerked the belt off of him" out at the scoutmaster camp it looks like some of them were lucky he was good natured. Built like an All-American tackle, Ed has a virile, agreeable, handsome appearance that will make plenty of friends for him in Midland. We hated to lose Leslie Boone but it looks like we could have done a lot worse than to have drawn Ed Calhoun.

The English language has some peculiarities. Imagine a foreigner who has been studying our language if he should run into this sentence: "Through the rough cough and hic-cough plough me through, I ought to cross the slough."

In this day of the much talked of unemployment question, I am reminded of the old story of the Irishman who wanted higher wages. An Irishman working for a Dutchman asked for an increase in pay. The Dutchman replied: "If you are

THE TOWN DOCTOR

"DOCTOR OF TOWNS" SAYS

HERE IS A TIP FOR WISE BUYERS

Serving in the capacity of physician, surgeon and diagnostician to sick cities, tired towns and calloused communities is not always such a joy provoking occupation. Altogether too often it brings to light ways of doing things by seemingly intelligent people, that, to say the least, is not conducive to any idea or thought that the world is making progress—that is if one is to allow such things to influence his personal views of the matter.

Take the matter of advertising as an example. Every town in which it has been my pleasure and duty to make a survey of retail stores I have found merchants (or had I better say "storekeepers") that say it does not pay them to "run an ad" in their local newspaper.

One can hardly believe, in this day and age, when everybody with any common sense at all knows that you cannot expect to get ANYTHING unless you ask for it, that it would be possible to find such people in business—or, again correcting myself, I had better say "running a store." Now there will be many who read this that will say "Sure, a fellow who writes for newspapers would say that."

Well, you have a right to think whatever you wish, but here's the way I look at it: If a store, or a seller of any product or service does not give me an invitation to come to his store or office to spend my money, I take it for granted that he doesn't want my trade; if he doesn't worth it, I would be pleased to give it to you. Now let us see what you do in a year. Pat, we have 365 days in a year. You sleep eight hours every day, which makes 122 days you sleep, which, taken from 365, leaves 243. Now you have eight hours' recreation every day, which makes 122 days from 243, leaving 121 days. We have 52 Sundays in a year which you have off, leaving you 69 days. You have fourteen days' vacation. Take this off and you have 55 days left. You don't work Saturday afternoons and this makes 26 days in a year. Take this off and you have 29 days left. Now, Pat, you allow 1-4 hours for meals, which totals you in a year 26 days. Take this off and you have one day left. I always give you St. Patrick's Day off; so I ask you, Pat, if you are entitled to a raise."

Get mad, Bulldogs! I want more than a win from you when you go to Peccos. I want you to give those boys an unmerciful beating, with a wholesale piling up of touchdowns and points after touchdowns. We've got a lot of work ahead of us yet, and I want to see you fellows get tougher and tougher.

I want to be alive, wide awake, and enjoy life and associate with those who live and do things, rather than with those who just exist and are satisfied with things as they are.

I don't want to come in contact with those who conduct themselves and their business on "What used to be"—it depresses me, lowers my batting average, and life is too short and the battle of happy living is too risky for me to take any chances.

It may not mean anything to you, but for me, I spend my money with the concern that ASKS for my business, and gives me a reason why I SHOULD give it to them, through the columns of my newspaper—not just once in a while, but all the time. AND believe it or not, you will find it to be money in YOUR pocket if you do likewise.

Miss Frazier Is Married to Mr. Rountree Saturday

Marriage vows for Miss Pauline Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Frazier, and Mr. Herbert Rountree, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Rountree, were read Saturday evening at 8:30 by the Reverend Edwin Calhoun, at the Methodist parsonage.

A group of close friends of the couple attended the ceremony.

Mrs. Rountree has lived in Midland several months, coming here from Greenville where she completed high school studies.

Mr. Rountree is circulation manager of the Reporter-Telegram and has lived in Midland most of his life. His parents are pioneer residents of this section.

School studies were done by Mr. Rountree in El Paso where he lived several years. Before joining the Reporter-Telegram, he was connected with the Suddreth Chevrolet company.

Mr. and Mrs. Rountree are making their home in Midland.

Arno Art Chapter At the W. H. Sloan Home

A study of "The Precursors" was conducted by members of the Arno Art Institute chapter at the home of Mrs. W. H. Sloan Friday afternoon.

Mrs. F. H. Lanham was leader and gave a summary of the lesson. Mrs. John Shipley spoke on "The Life of Botticelli;" Miss Eula Gee Gantt told of the pictures, "Adoration of the Magi" and "Allegory of Spring;" Mrs. Fred Turner described the painting, "The Birth of Venus;" Mrs. Shipley, "Madonna the Manicant;" Miss Alberta Gantt told of the "Life of Ghirlandajo;" Mrs. A. M. Gantt discussed the "Birth of John the Baptist" and Mrs. E. M. Barron presented "Giovanna Degli Albizzi."

SOCIAL NEWS PAGE FOR WOMEN

Social Sets Are Entertained With Various Functions

Variety Marks the Final Days of the Week; Pioneer Club Members Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cowden Friday

Social gatherings of interest to various groups have been features of the last days of the week. The calendar for the new week announces more festive affairs and entertainment for out-of-town guests, who will chiefly be women who come to Midland from all over West Texas with their husbands to attend the West Texas Lumbermen's convention.

Hostesses are selecting Thanksgiving themes exclusively for their parties during the weeks preceding the holiday.

Among these functions of the late week was the bridge party for members of the Pioneer club in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cowden host and hostess.

Players to receive awards were Mrs. Ellis Cowden, cut; Mrs. O. B. Holt, high club, and Mr. C. M. Goldsmith, high club.

A delicious salad plate was served after the games to Messrs. and Mrs. Elliott Cowden, Ellis Cowden, Homer Rowe, Joe Youngblood, Harry Tolbert, C. M. Goldsmith, Dr. and Mrs. Jno. B. Thomas, Mrs. O. B. Holt Jr., and Mr. Donald Hitt.

Mrs. Yeager Hostess
Listed with the afternoon club parties of the week was that given by Mrs. W. A. Yeager as a compliment to the Thursday club at her home.

Stressing the autumnal motif, the hostess decorated her home with bunches of pretty flowers and marked the tables with novel tallies and score books.

Score favors were given to Mrs. W. B. Royer, high club, Mrs. Jno. Dublin, high guest and Mrs. Malcolm M. Meek, high cut.

Guests and club members were Mes. Avery Alcorn, Malcolm M. Meek, C. L. Jackson, R. W. Patterson, O. C. Harper, A. L. Ackers, W. C. Kinkel, M. R. Jackson, R. J. Moore, W. B. Royer, George T. Abell, Jack Hazeltine, Jno. Dublin, R. L. York, Fred Hill and Tom Combs.

Alathean Class Party
Holding interest for more than thirty members and guests of the Alathean class of the First Baptist church was the afternoon social given in their honor by Mrs. J. E. Hill and Mrs. John O. Nobles at the Hill home Thursday afternoon.

"Gold Bug" was the feature of the afternoon entertainment and Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith, who scored highest in the games, was presented a lovely bouquet of radiance roses.

House decorations for the party were vases and baskets of fall blossoms.

In the tea room, guests were

Added Fullness of New Mode Has a Slenderizing Effect

These new models, from Jean Patou, illustrate the principle by which fulness is used to accentuate the slimmness of the figure. Amaranth red velvet is used to fashion the sumptuous evening gown at the left, which is trimmed with sable fur. The complicated cut-out effect of the coat, as well as the train, enhance its formal look. The elaborate lines of the afternoon dress, center, are executed in black cloth and the broad-tail and ermine "pelarine" scarf and muff are made to harmonize with the general slenderizing effect. At the right is a black chiffon evening gown featuring the oblique tiers which emphasize the flowing silhouette.

Week of Prayer Programs Arranged By Methodist Women

Organizations of the First Methodist church will observe the following week as the Week of Prayer and services will be held on afternoons during the week.

The outstanding program will be given by the Woman's auxiliary on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. J. D. Young will be leader and the program which she has outlined follows:

- Hymn, "Sweet Hour of Prayer"
- Devotional, Matthew 7:13-27; 12:33-35; Luke 6:43-49; 11:27; 13:23-27
- Mrs. George Glass.
- Silent prayer
- Responsive reading
- Solo—Mrs. Marion F. Peters
- "Prayer Life of Jesus and His Disciples"—Mrs. T. S. Nettleton.
- "Eliza Bowman School, It's Beginnings, the Present Site, and Its Buildings," Mrs. J. P. Collins.
- "Eliza Bowman School, the Work Accomplished, Its Student Body and Its Needs," Mrs. J. M. Haygood
- Song, "Love Divine"
- "Wolf Mission, Wanted a New Building," Mrs. Chas. Coffee
- "An Act of Penitence and Self-Dedication," Mrs. J. D. Young
- Offering
- Benediction.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Pratt are leaving soon for Denton where they will visit their daughter, Mary Belle, who is attending C. I. A.

Miss Doris Bryant has returned from Abilene where she finished a business course in Draughts Business college.

Bridge, Luncheon and Musical Tea Are Announced for Lumbermen's Wives

Wives of West Texas lumbermen, who come to Midland Friday and Saturday of this week, will be honored guests at a series of socials arranged by the convention social committee, headed by Mrs. S. B. Cragin.

Friday at noon the women will be complimented at a luncheon and bridge, being arranged by Mes. A. B. Anderson, A. C. Neal, Charles Berry, and R. V. Lawrence.

A musical tea at the S. B. Cragin home Saturday will be another feature of the two-day stay. The committee making plans for this affair includes Mes. A. Harry Anderson, F. E. Cragin, R. J. Moore and Alvin Hicks. Fine arts students of the city will be presented on the program.

Joining their husbands, the wives will also attend a barbecue, banquet and dance while guests in Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Pratt Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

In observance of their wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Pratt invited a few friends to their home Thursday evening for dinner and bridge games.

As the guests arrived, they drew slips of paper which named them some comic character for the evening. Ten points were deducted from the bridge scores each time a guest failed to call another by the comic name.

Prizes for the games went to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sloan, high scorers, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Ambrose, low, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Garlington, cut.

Guests included Messrs. and Mes. B. G. Grafa, J. O. Garlington, K. E. Ambrose, W. H. Sloan, Mrs. J. A. Finlayson, Mrs. L. M. Colwill and Mrs. Vincent Crawshaw.

Talented Readers Are Members of Play Readers

Several of the most talented readers and dramatists of the city are members of the Play Readers club, which meets twice each month at homes of members.

The last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William Simpson and the reader was Mrs. H. N. Bayer. "Rebound" by Stewart was the play for the day, and various items of interest to the theatre were read and discussed.

November 19 is the next meeting date, with Mrs. H. N. Bayer as hostess and Mrs. S. B. Cragin reader. Guests at the past meeting were Mes. U. Hampton, Ruse, A. S. Legg, Mathews, L. B. Lancaster and F. F. Winger.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Conger were expected to arrive in Midland last night for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Blakeney.

Mrs. Alice Mason left last night for Dallas where she will spend a few days visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. U. Hampton left Saturday morning for Wichita Falls and Coleman where they will visit relatives during their vacation.

A. S. Legg is in Dallas for a few days transacting business for the Texas Electric Service company.

Mrs. C. D. Hodges spent Saturday afternoon visiting in Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Sondgrass have returned from San Angelo where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Quarrels, for a few days.

W. R. Smith went to Stanton yesterday to transact legal business.

"THE SPOILERS" TALKING VERSION IS MASSIVE FILM

Five hundred extras, the largest number ever taken on a location of this sort since the advent of sound pictures, were used by Paramount at its big camp and set at Point Huemene, California, for "The Spoilers."

The set, a mile long and a quarter-mile wide, duplicated in every detail the boom town of Nome, Alaska, as it was thirty years ago at the time of Rex Beach's classic story.

In addition to the 500 extra and bit players taken from Hollywood, Edwin Carewe's company recruited an additional half-thousand "atmosphere" players from Axnard, Ventura, Santa Paula, Saticoy and other adjacent communities for the bigger scenes.

The Hollywood contingent lived at the big tent city for three weeks, utilizing the tents and cabins that were a part of the Nome set, for beneath its rough exterior this new Nome was modern and with every living convenience.

Gary Cooper is featured in this first all-talking production of "The Spoilers," which begins its first local engagement at the Ritz Theatre, today.

Supporting him in the cast are Kay Johnson, Betty Compson, William Boyd, Harry Green, James Kirkwood, "Slim" Summerville, and others of favor with cinema fans.

Wallace Wimberly is spending the week end in Abilene. He was accompanied from Stanton by Miss Hazel Herron and Rufus Hyde.

Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Harkins have returned to their home in Houston after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Haley.

J. S. Hopson of the Greyhound Bus lines of Abilene was a business visitor in Midland Friday afternoon.

Miss Stella Maye Lanham is spending the week end visiting in San Angelo.

Tramp Party Is For Church Organizations

Joining for an evening of frolic and play, members of the Loyal Workers B. Y. P. U., the Sunshine and Go-Gettum classes of the First Baptist church enjoyed a clever "tramp" party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Walker Friday evening.

Guests, costumed as tramps, were greeted at the back door and participated in suitable games which continued until late in the evening when "hand-outs" were served.

The hostesses gave nicknames to each guest and during the entertainment each was called by the name.

Guests were Mes. Nez Cosper, Vivian Arnett, Kathlyn Cosper, Lois Walker, Velma Bilbrey, Dortha Meadows, Evelyn Adams, Clara Jesse, Abera Hines, Sarah Matthews, Edyth Sundquist; Messrs. Leon Arnett, Fred Rice, Ponder Stringfield, Herschel Arnett, George Haltom, Frank Flourney, J. C. Pogue, Joe Mitchell, Herman Walker, Lonnie Hall, Roy Long, Earl Kelly, Mrs. George Haltom, Mrs. W. A. Hyatt, Mrs. W. E. Umberson, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Burris.

Socials Are Planned for Amarillo Guests

A series of entertainments has been arranged to honor the Rt. Rev. E. Cecil Seaman and Mrs. Seaman, of Amarillo, who will come to Midland tomorrow for Episcopal church services.

During the stay here, Mr. and Mrs. Seaman will be house guests of Mrs. J. L. Crump, who will also honor them with dinner Monday evening. Following Holy Communion Tuesday morning, Mrs. A. S. Legg will be hostess at breakfast and for evening dinner, Mrs. Jno. E. Adams will compliment Mrs. Seaman.

Miss Glaspay and Mr. Brown to Marry in Ennis Today

A party of Midland folk left Friday afternoon for Ennis, where they went to attend the marriage of Miss Emeline Glaspay and Mr. Fred Brown, son of the Rev. and Mrs. George F. Brown of Midland, which was to be held this morning at nine o'clock.

Those going were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cole and children, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Brown and Miss Annie Frank Stout.

REDUCTION IN GAS RATES 5TH IN THREE YEARS

Announcement by the West Texas Gas Company of another reduction in schedule of rates for natural gas service effective from and after the October 1930 meter readings is the fifth reduction in rates by that company within the past three years.

The new schedule as effecting Midland will result in a savings to resident consumers using 50,000 cubic feet or more in one month. Commercial users; namely, office buildings, apartment buildings, factories, stores, churches, hospitals, schools, theatres, hotels, and auditoriums and municipal buildings, bakeries, restaurants, newspaper plants, and rooming houses using 50,000 cubic feet or more in any one month will also be effected by the new rate schedule. Class three or industrial rate schedules remain unchanged from the former schedule of the company's rates. Several extensions to the local plant have been made within the past few months serving domestic consumers and one industrial consumer, the Hughes Tool company.

According to Local Manager Marion F. Peters, there are approximately 1050 meters in operation in Midland, a gain of 50 users for the year.

New Oil Man Here A Crack Athlete

One of Midland's new oil men is a crack athlete. He is W. E. Hendricks of the Phillips, transferred here from San Angelo. Hendricks is one of the most famous football players who ever kicked a pigskin on Oklahoma university's team. He was the champion prize fighter of the state of Oklahoma when he was collecting scalps in that state instead of rock samples in Texas. Hendricks is an old college mate of Bill McKinley and other Oklahoma university exes in Midland.

Steno Here Will Buy New Hose

"Cheerio!"
"I want a new pair of hose. I'm not going to be fired and my wages won't be cut."

It was a stenographer from a Midland business office speaking. She said the boss had notified all employees they were to be kept on the payroll and would not have their pay cut.

Business leaders in Midland say that if all employers in all stores, offices, all contractors and others who hire people will assure their employees their jobs are to continue and to stay at the present standard of pay, all lines of business will be helped. In every city in the United States where merchants and other employers have given their employees this assurance, business has been helped. They say as soon as people know they can keep their jobs and keep their present pay, the employees will begin spending money. Several employers in Midland have actually raised the pay of some of their workers during the past few weeks.

Troop 52 Has A Good Meeting

Scouts of Troop 52 met in regular meeting Friday night and on account of the bad weather was forced to have the first indoor meeting of the winter. The meeting opened with the scout sign and the scout oath. In the game period following the boys enjoyed the games of Indian wrestling, bull fight, rooster fight, horse and rider, and several others. Then came fifteen minutes of peppy songs. The songs were sung under the direction of Marcos Williamson.

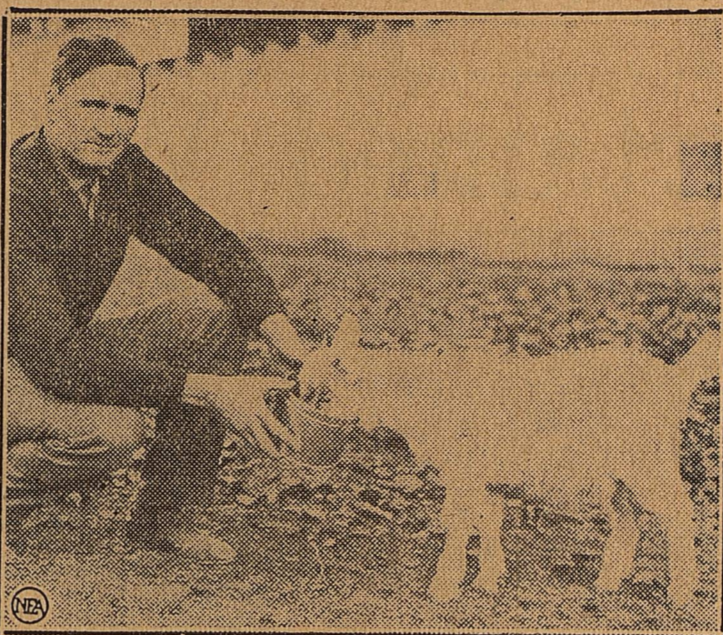

The period of instruction was greatly varied and consisted of tenderfoot instruction, rapid knot tying for all classes, fire by friction (which proved interesting to tenderfoot scouts who had never seen it performed), and healthcrafts in the form of deep breathing exercises. Under the direction of Walter Elkins, music instructor, the buglers met in the first of the group instructions which are to be given each Friday night until the bugle corps is functioning properly. There were three buglers present. Seven are expected next meeting night.

The boys are working hard for the next court of honor and also for the inter-troop rally that will be held in about another month. The troop now has about 20 members and several that are about ready to pass their tenderfoot tests and expect to have about 28 boys by December.

Boys present at the meeting were Leonard Pratt, Billy Hiett, Kenneth Ambrose, Oliver Buffington, Malcolm Breneman, Odell Ponder, Doyle Miller, Joe Young, Bugk West, Herbert Shea, Robert Howe, Sam Midkiff and Scoutmaster G. W. Breneman and Buster Howard assistant scoutmaster.

Walter Johnson Gets a Goat

Other American league clubs had better be on guard. Walter Johnson, manager of the second place Washington Senators, has taken up a study of goat-getting out of season. Here you see the "Big Train" playing the role of water-boy to a pet baby goat at his farm at Alta Vista, Md., where he is spending the winter. The farm is managed during the baseball months by Johnson's two motherless sons.

ATHENS, Nov. 8. (UP).—Five masked bandits went to the home of Tucker Glenn, president of the Citizens State bank at Larue, 12 miles east of Athens, late Friday night and forced him to go to the bank where they threatened his life unless he opened the vault.

Troop 51 Has Crack Bugle Corps

A drum and bugle corps was organized by Troop 51 Friday night. A bass drum and two snare drums were secured and seven bugles. The boys practiced for several minutes and then the troop marched in formation down the street several times. The drum and bugle corps follows: Conrad Dunagan, drum major; G. B. Hallman, bass drum; Vann Mitchell, instructor in snare drums; M. D. Johnson, Carl Ruse, Lloyd McKinney, Barney Grafa, E. B. Evans and Jack Ambrose, snare drums. Fred Hallman was elected instructor in bugles and the following as buglers: Hoyt Baker, Harry McCarthy, A. B. Cooksey, James Walton, Merwin Haag, Fred Wright Jr., Carl Reeves, Jack Garlington and Bill Patrick.

Roll was called and only three scouts out of thirty-six were absent. There were several visitors among whom were Marcos Williamson, assistant scout executive, and R. C. Hankins. A number of songs were led by Williamson, and then the drum and bugle corps demonstrated to him what it could do. As soon as money can be raised other drums and bugles will be added. Troop 51 will organize a light-weight football team of boys under 115 pounds. They will practice at the high school Saturday afternoon and will play any team of their own weight.

YOUR CHILDREN by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

The radio man has just been giving the usual winter warning about fires.

He said that 10,000 people last year had paid the price of someone's carelessness, over a third of this number being children.

And he said what I've been preaching for years, that we always think that fire won't hurt us. It is something for the neighbors to worry about. This is the greatest danger of all. When we get that feeling of security about anything in the world, then we need to look out.

Now we don't want to set up a credo of fear. That is obsolete and superstitious. But, common sense and care have no dealing with fear, and a combination of both will avoid trouble where a senseless fear only courts it.

Let us see what we can sensibly do to frighten away the fire demon.

We must see that all gas fittings and pipes are perfect and throw out rubber tube connections. There is only one time to do that and that is today.

Amateur Wiring Blamed
Electricity is safer than flame, sometimes. I think there are too many amateur jobs of house-wiring—places where holes are bored through with no porcelain or other kind of protective apparatus to keep a wire from touching wood.

Electric irons need something.

I don't know what, but some kind of device to make them fool proof. We don't forget our purses but we do forget our irons. One fixed law for every member of the family should be, "Disconnect when not in use—at once." This holds good for curling irons and every other type of heating device not protected by its own construction.

Gasoline and explosive cleaning fluids should be handled like dynamite. Remember that fumes travel and hunt a flame. Outside is the best place for cleaning-bees.

"The United States," says the radio man, "lost $35,000,000 in fires in 1929, caused by careless handling of cigars and cigarettes."

I cannot add to that. But the last thing anyone should do on leaving a room, or a house, is to see that every butt on every ashtray or elsewhere is out.

Watch the ashes on the grate and put high screens before all open fires.

Is the furnace in good shape and are the flues and pipes away from wood-work? Asbestos paper is cheap and makes a fairly safe wrapping. Is the flue of the wood or coal grate clear? Is there any soot inside to take fire and endanger the roof?

There are companies that clean chimneys.

WAKE UP!

...it's time to buy

Prosperity is not dead in America...it has simply been asleep...dreaming bad dreams...dreams of depression; of the fear of spending...the delusion of hoarding. We've been in a lethargy from which only a real alarm could arouse us.

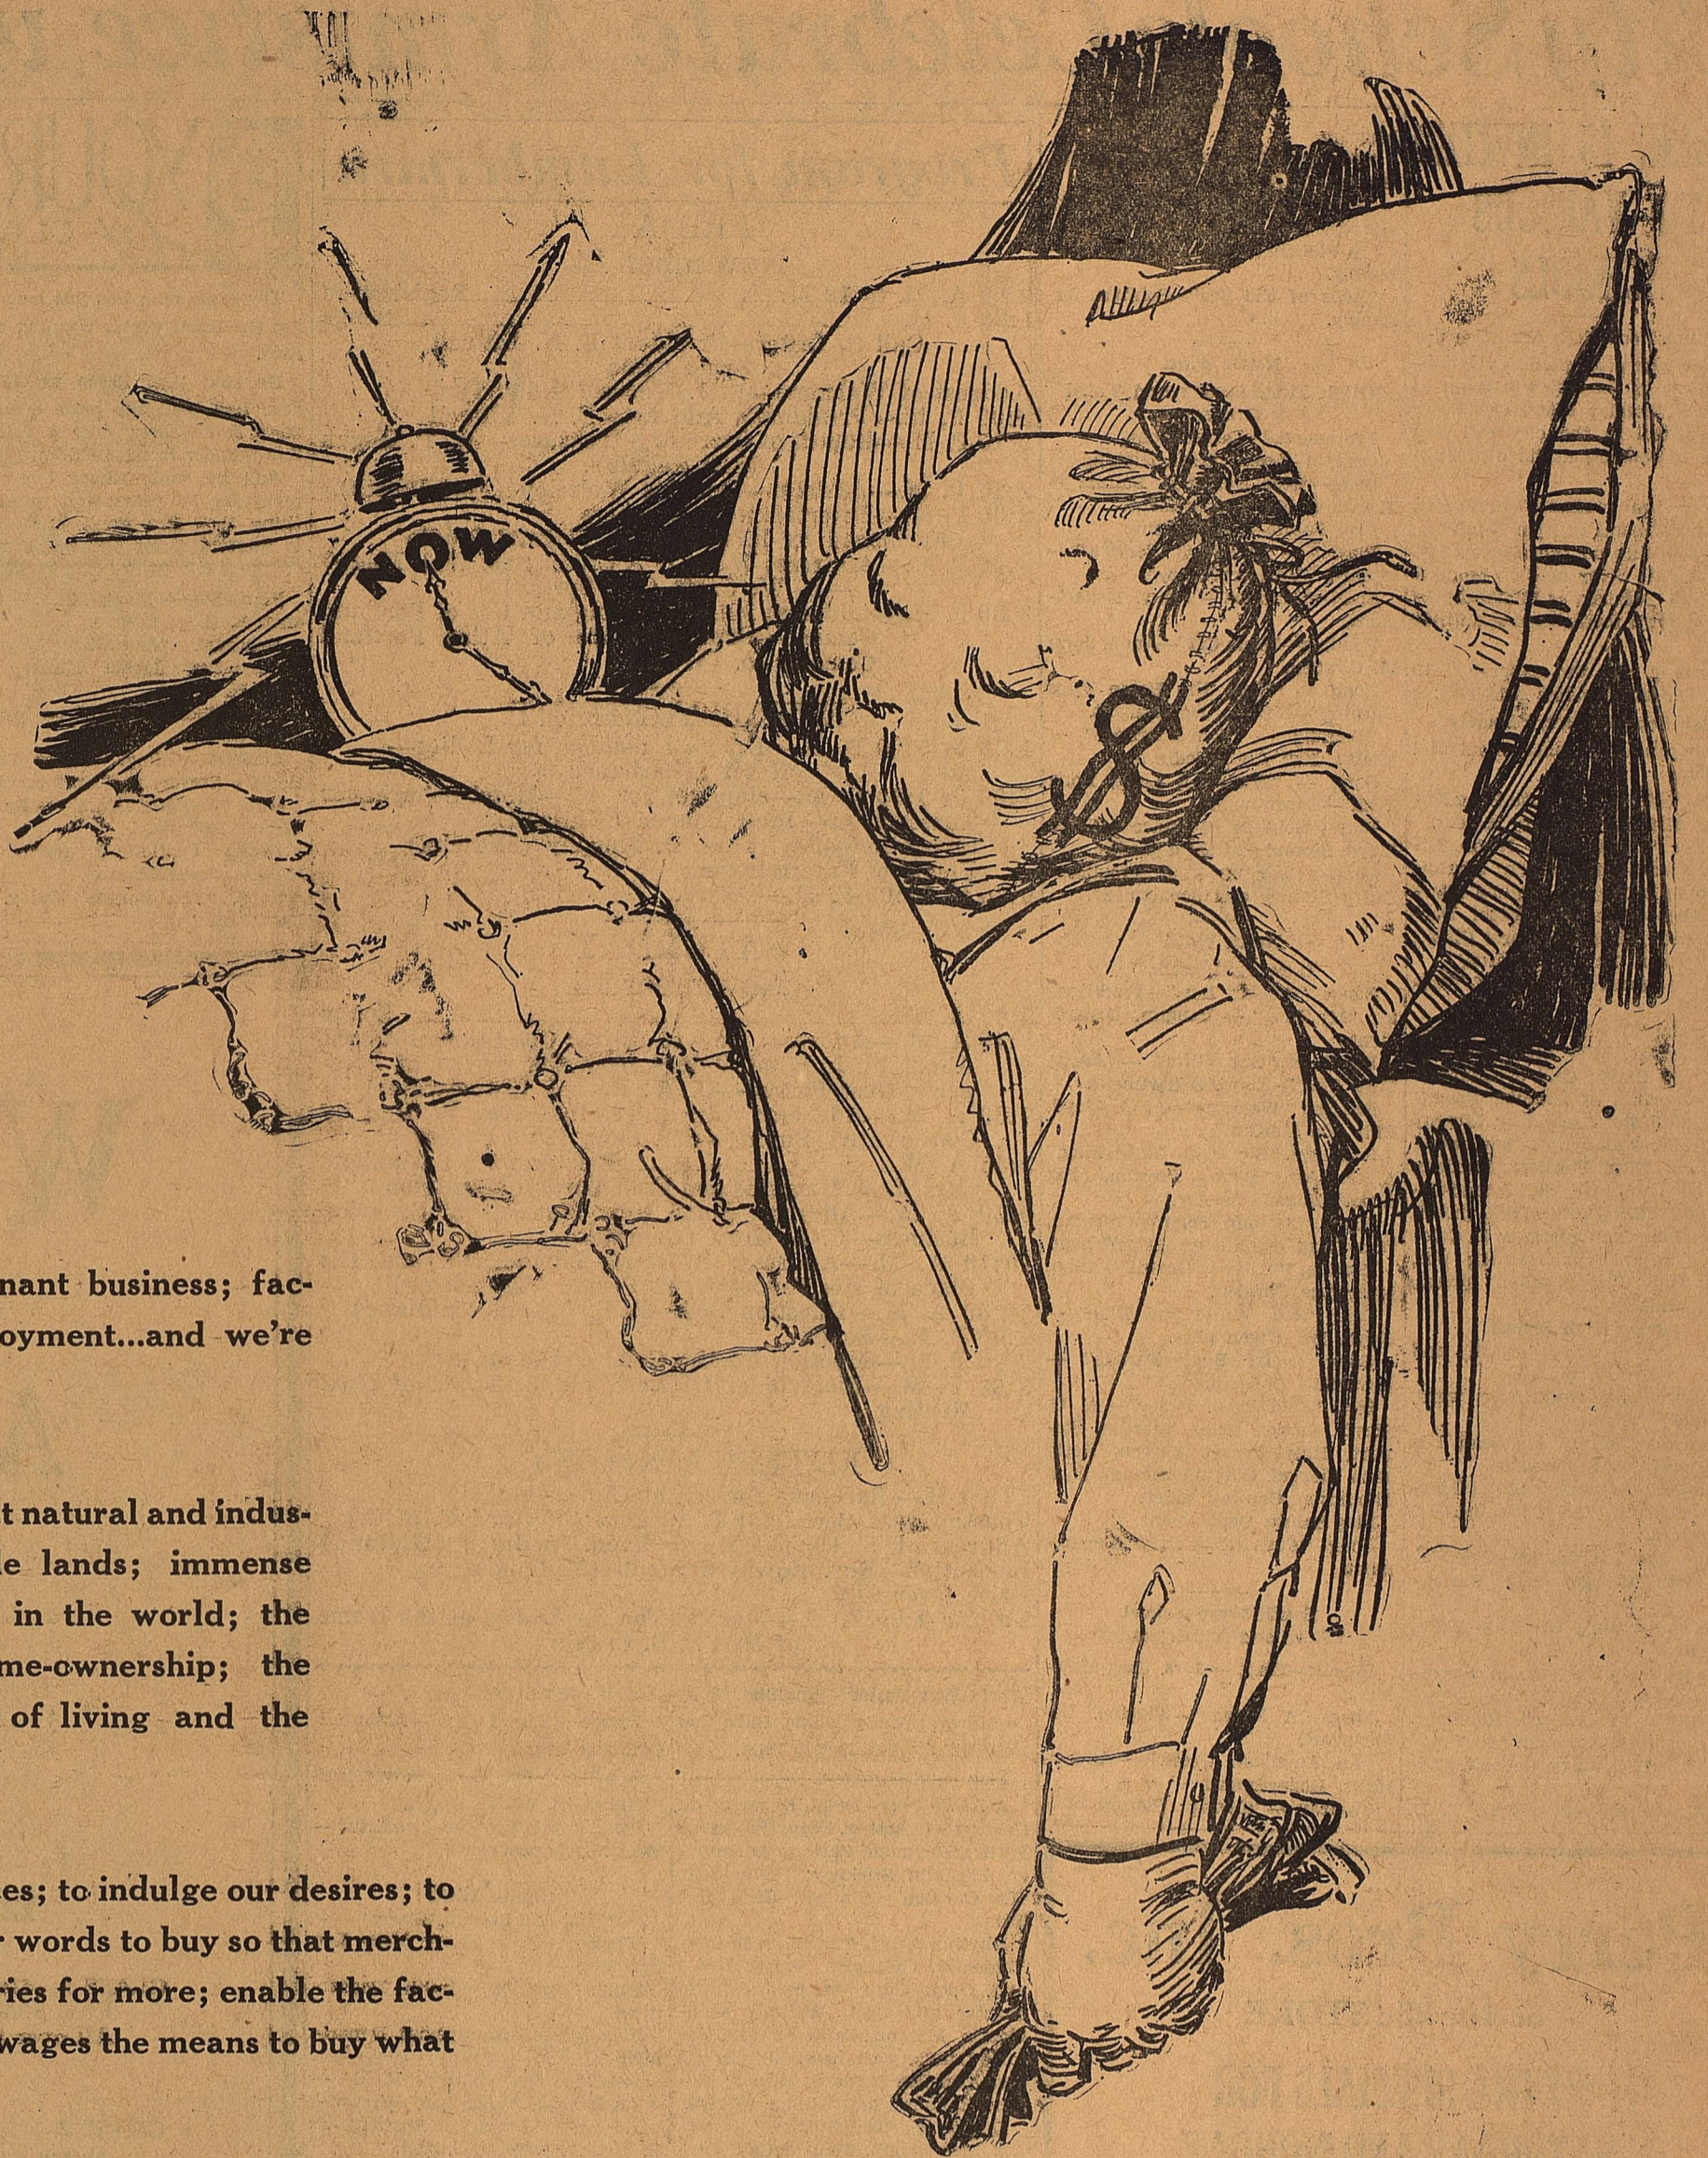

But we've heard the alarm now...the alarm of stagnant business; factories with muted machinery and deplorable unemployment...and we're ready now to get up and put our dollars to work.

No, Prosperity is not dead. America still has its great natural and industrial resources...its tremendous capital reserve...fertile lands; immense savings deposits in the banks; the greatest industries in the world; the most skilled workmen; the highest percentage of home-ownership; the highest percentage of literacy; the highest standards of living and the most cultivated desires for the better things in life.

It's time now for us to put activity back of our resources; to indulge our desires; to release the money we have been hoarding . . . in other words to buy so that merchants can move their goods, place orders with the factories for more; enable the factories to employ more men and give to those men in wages the means to buy what you yourself sell or produce.

But we must all do our part in this Buy Now program. Don't wait for "George to do it" or George will wait for us and none of us will get anywhere. You start patronizing George today and George will start buying from Tom, and Tom from Dick and Dick from Harry and Harry from you.

Depression is merely an obsession . . . a confession of fear . . . a compression on the pulse of prosperity that stops the circulation of money. And money is just as important to the life of business as the circulation of the blood is to the life of the human body.

PECOS DECORATED FOR BATTLE WITH BULLDOGS ARMISTICE DAY

MIDLAND EXPECTS TO WIN BY 4 MARKERS

"No Alibis; Beat Midland!" So read several hundred stickers pasted on windshields of automobiles bearing Reeves county licenses.

Pecos is really getting ready for Midland in a great fashion. Never was the town so stirred with community spirit, unless it was a long time ago when the last bad man along the Pecos kicked off and all turned out to see him buried.

The Midland and Pecos teams line up for play at 2:45 Tuesday afternoon. Pecos will be host, and hopes Midland to be a victim. No likelihood of this can be felt in Midland, however. Barry's machine packs a wallop that has noticeably increased from the Stanton game on Odessa, Colorado and Wink all bear testimony to the fact that Midland has an offensive and defensive team worthy of representing the eastern half of the district, and could scarcely be convinced that Pecos is likely to prove much competition.

In Midland there is a belief that the high school squad here is better by four touchdowns, at least, than Pecos. And that takes in the handicap of playing on the Pecos field, which does not favorably compare in any respect with the sodded green grid of Lackey field.

BIG SPRING TO DEDICATE NEW STADIUM NOV. 11

BIG SPRING, Nov. 8. — Big Spring's new football stadium will be formally dedicated and given a name here November 11 when the Big Spring Steers will meet the Sweetwater Mustangs.

This team, as well as Sweetwater team, is playing the second year in Class A football. The Mustangs have to their credit this year six games played with five lost, tying the Eastland Mavericks. The Big Spring team has won one game against Mineral Wells and tied San Angelo. The Steers are being put through stiff practice by Coach Stevens.

Among offenses forbidden by the by-laws of Vienna, for which the penalty is a fine on the spot, are crossing the street in the wrong place, throwing paper about, hearding a moving street car, playing a piano too loudly, driving too fast or on the wrong side of the street.

STANTON UNLEASHES BACKS AGAINST THE PLOWBOYS

By EDITOR KELLY (Stanton Reporter)

STANTON, Nov. 8.—Hi, Ho, Hum. Whoop-pee, Kawham!! Look well to your chain harness, neck yokes, plow shares and what have you, folks? The Roscoe Plowboys are coming Armistice day. They have issued advance notice they are coming with hay in their hair, mesquite thorns in their whiskers, and blood in their eyes. Their silos are craving fresh fodder from green fields, and they claim the Bison reservation provides that happy hunting ground.

According to arrangements the game between the fast and strong Roscoe team is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 on the Stanton field. It is not a conference clash, but one matched to keep the Buffaloes in fighting trim to win the district championship.

The Buff herd stepped off their reservation a "fur piece" to secure a game, and all Stanton fans agree they reached out into the territory of a dangerous enemy when they beckoned the Plowboys to come over and play in their yard Armistice day. But it's a fighting and dangerous enemy Coach Hyde wants his herd to battle.

Up to the present the Stanton Buffaloes stand as the undefeated champions in their district. They are waiting to see what the Bulldogs will do with the Pecos Eagles Armistice day. Should it be the will of fate the Eagles stow away the game in their nest, the Buffaloes will be accredited with the Stanton-Midland tie game played at the start of the season, placing the Stanton Buffs on the top rung of the ladder in the conference race for the eastern half of the district.

A large crowd is expected to attend

DISTRICT 8 TANGLE

By R. C. Hankins

If all the systems being worked out by the scribes in football anent the district champion should be realized, what a muddle would result. Midland claims the inside track for the eastern half supremacy, but so does Stanton. Midland has a team with more of a potential near future than Stanton, but the newspaper men to the east are backing their club with a flock of adjectives that would choke a savant.

If Midland loses to Pecos, Stanton will be awarded the tie game with Midland, it is being said by Stanton. Midland may or may not know that such arrangements have been made. This desk has never been informed of it at any rate. However, there is justice in the idea; the Bulldogs should have beat Stanton, in the first place and, since they emerged with a scoreless tie with the Buffs, nothing could be more applicable than to give the club that was the underdog credit for the game. That isn't in the rules, it might be pointed out, and would please no one but Stanton.

Stanton is on top of the heap by virtue of having played more games. The Midland tie is the only suggestion of an official blemish against the Buffs. If Midland beats Pecos, and Stanton gives Midland credit for almost having the game sewed up in a sack, the neighboring city and the Bulldog capital will have to fight again. Then the fun starts. Stanton leads up to the suggestion thus: "For the information of the Midland sports scribe we might say that the Buffs are about three touchdowns better than when they played Midland, which to our way of thinking will make the Bisons a two-touchdown better squad than the Bulldogs when the count has been marked up after the Midland-Stanton set to."

That, apparently, gives Midland an improvement margin of only one touchdown since the Midland-Stanton game. The Stanton editor evidently has not seen Midland in action since that apathetic afternoon when Rufus Hyde's charges fought Midland's listless club to a standstill. I have intended asking Editor Kelly over some evening for dinner, thinking to have him as my guest. But I've done a bit of figuring since reading his editorial column lately and have decided to let HIM buy the dinner. He believes Stanton will win by two touchdowns (I infer he means 12 points); I shall not waver the game Armistice day, and if fate doesn't decree otherwise the Buffs will unhitch the Plowboys from their traces and send them back home to hang their harness up on their own stable peg.

The Plowboys are a fine gentlemanly crew. They play the game in a sportsman like manner, and fans will see in this game the fastest and cleverest piece of football art that has been displayed in any game in this district this season.

a dinner on his giving Midland 12 points, but shall give him 12 points on Stanton and pick Midland. The game will probably be played here and I believe dinner would taste better when paid for by an out-of-town guest. Incidentally, Mrs. Kelly owned me a malted milk—she thought Midland would be in mourning after the Wink game.

Pecos has written Stanton, praising that town's sporting club. Stanton is every bit that, and so is Pecos. Stanton went to Pecos and indulged in giving the Pecos lads a royal thwacking. But no fist fight resulted like one did that day when Wink went over to Pecos. When Midland goes to Pecos Armistice day Pecos will find another sportsman-ship club. Midland plays football to win; but Midland takes a defeat with just as much grace. Ask anyone.

Now, back to Pecos. The town is as decorated as a Spanish village at fiesta season. Merchants are closing doors for the Midland-Pecos imbroglio. Coach Withers has shifted his line-up to meet specific ailments on his own squad and to properly squelch pointed threats of the Midland offense. His own squad has "chipped in" to buy windshield stickers advertising the game and has plastered the town with other publicity. There'll be music by Granger's Pecos band, color clash in the uniforms of the rival pep squads, and a bit of everything to make the meeting look like a collegiate reunion. Incidentally, one Pecos merchant has trimmed his window with an army came over to help dedicate Lackey above a bulldog, about to sink its talons in the back of the dog. A two-page ad has been taken by merchants via advertising the game and banners and scare heads adorn the Pecos Enterprise from mast head down. Somebody's going to be disappointed in the finish of that game. Somebody's coming home in a barrel that day. No foolin'.

Odessa gets th' kings pudding. Ralph H. Shuffler, writing in the Odessa News-Times says: "We're for Midland, a hundred and one percent." That's getting 'way up in the fractions and his superior knowledge of mathematics has put him just a step past this desk that ventured only a figurative 100 per cent in saying what good fellows Odessa football men and rooters were the day the came over to help dedicate Lackey field." Ralph is likely to spring one like that at any time, however.

He's the boy who writes those hell-bent-for-leather feature stories for the United Press.

Superintendent Lackey, Principal Shifflett and Coach Barry formed a critical triangle in Rankin Saturday, going over to see Marfa measure a shroud for the Rankin county town. They were scouting the plays and idiosyncracies (I hope Dr. Lackey spelled the word right when he took time out to pronounce it) of the wild Marfa outfit. It seems likely as anything else that Midland will be called on to play that club for district honors.

The diameter of Jupiter is about 86,500 miles and the surface area is about 23,506,236,600 square miles.
