

Allies Go All Out In Defense Of Anzio

Allies Occupy All Of Huon After 5 Mos.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 11 (AP)—Complete occupation of Huon peninsula, New Guinea, and the end of a five-month campaign which cost the Japanese a division of 14,000 men was announced by Gen. Douglas MacArthur today.

Australian troops and American soldiers joined forces on a hot, coastal plain yesterday, chopping off another piece of Japan's captured territory.

The Aussies had fought and cut their way through the jungle for 150 miles along the coast, since launching the campaign with a landing north of Finschhafen Sept. 22.

The Americans, units of the 32nd division, invaded Saldor from the sea Jan. 2 and then moved down the coast 14 miles to Old Yagomil where the Australians met them yesterday.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique said the great bulk of the augmented Japanese division, which consisted of three infantry regiments, a field artillery regiment, two engineer regiments and auxiliary services, had been destroyed in the squeeze action which preceded the joining of the two Allied forces.

MacArthur credited the Allied air force and light naval units with an assist in the victory, for they destroyed the Japanese coastal barge routes, making escape or supply impossible for the enemy, and causing death by starvation for hundreds of Nipponese.

Failure of supply and reinforcement forced great numbers of the Japanese to flee into the mountains. The combined Allied force may next move on Madang, Japanese base about 60 miles up the coast from Saldor. American bomber crews reported evidence that the enemy already has abandoned Madang.

The communique reported another raid on Rabaul, the heavily hit Japanese base in New Britain, but made no mention of opposition to the blows by Solomon-based night patrols against Lakunai air-drome.

This was the first time in many days that a communique report of a raid made no reference to opposition. Usually 40 to 60 enemy planes rise to battle. Allied fliers reported seeing but little shipping of any kind in Simpson harbor at Rabaul in recent days.

City Testing Second Well

The City of Big Spring apparently had another good well located on the O'Bar ranch in northern Glasscock county, but preliminary tests indicated it was not in the same category as the initial test well.

Started at 250 gallons per minute, the well steadily drew the static water level 30 feet until operators pinched back on the rate of pumping. Immediately, the level returned. Draw down on 227 gallons an hour was 19 feet, where the water seemed to hold in the shaft.

The test was continuing Friday. Location of the well is 2,000 feet east of the No. 1 test which only declined two feet in pumping up to 350 gallons per minute. Apparently the No. 1 well was unaffected by test of the No. 2. Both are located in section 27-30, W&NW.

Two Indicted Men Waive Jury Trial

Two men who had been indicted Wednesday by a 70th district court grand jury waived right to trial by jury and pleaded guilty before the court Thursday.

William Mayhall, who with Carl L. Cleary was charged with burglarizing the Minute Inn off last Saturday night, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Cleary has not been arraigned.

Sam Edward Caldwell, charged with burglary of the Big Spring Laundry, pleaded guilty and was given a three-year suspended sentence in the penitentiary.

Natividad Barelo, indicted on a charge of assault with intent to murder, has not been arraigned.

FDR Will Address Nation Saturday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt will address the nation tomorrow afternoon, speaking for about five minutes during a radio broadcast between 3:30 and 4 o'clock, Central War Time.

The speech will be in connection with ceremonies attendant upon the presentation of a destroyer escort to French naval authorities under lend-lease. The subject of Mr. Roosevelt's address was not disclosed.

Blankenship Is Re-Elected As Superintendent

W. C. Blankenship, who is serving out his 16th year as superintendent of city schools, has been extended another contract by the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School district, it was announced today.

Blankenship came here in 1928 from Denton to assume charge of the local schools. Since that time the population of the city has about doubled, the number of schools increased from five to nine, the high school enlarged, and two separate building programs completed. Enrollment has increased and the curriculum been enlarged correspondingly.

Also elected to another term were John A. Coffey, high school principal, who also came here in 1928, and John Dibrill, athletic director and football coach, who is rounding out his second term. All were for the conventional one-year contract. The board announced removal of the West Side nursery building, which has been closed for several months, to the North Side where it will become a part of the Lakeview (negro) school. This will relieve congestion there by adding two more classrooms. Currently three teachers are attempting to instruct children in two crowded classrooms.

Accepted were the resignations of Mrs. M. J. Cousins, math teacher, Mrs. Rachael Brown Best, grade teacher, Mrs. Lillian Upchurch, eighth grade math teacher. The board elected these teachers whose assignments were announced by Blankenship: "Eugenia Ann Goin, chemistry and home economics; Ruth Thomas, eighth grade math; Mrs. Max Lee Fann, Kate Morrison Americanization school.

American Forts Lay Eggs Again On Frankfurt

Industrial Center Is Raided Second Time In Four Days

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR LONDON, Feb. 11 (AP)—American Flying Fortresses blasted Frankfurt-On-The-Main with tons of high explosives again today, striking the already hard hit southwest German industrial and transport center for the second time in four days and the fourth time since Jan. 29.

While this devastating assault to flatten Frankfurt was in progress, Liberators again operated independently on the forts, slashing at military installations in the Pas-De-Calais area and American Raiders in their ninth operation in 11 days struck other targets in the "rocket gun" sector of northern France.

Today's operations kept the unprecedented Allied aerial assault going through yet another 24-hour cycle and followed up yesterday's mighty attacks on the German manufacturing city of Brunswick and the Gilze-Rijen air base in Holland which precipitated furious air fights in which American heavy bombers and fighters were credited officially with downing 84 enemy planes.

Mustang, Lightning and Thunderbolt fighters escorted the fortresses to Frankfurt, and other Thunderbolts covered the Liberators on their run to France.

Heavy bombers of the USAAF now have struck continental objectives in 12 of the past 15 days. The terrific assault obviously designed to flatten Frankfurt has been under way since Jan. 29 when a record force of more than 800 heavy bombers hit the city with a daylight record of 1,800 tons of explosives.

McCormick Will Not Be Candidate

CHICAGO, Feb. 11 (AP)—Although petitions have been filed to put his name on the Illinois primary ballot as a candidate for the republican presidential nomination, Col. Robert R. McCormick said today he will not enter, the contest.

In a letter to Capt. William J. Grace, secretary of the republican nationalist revival committee, the Chicago Tribune editor and publisher said he decided against allowing his name on the April 11 ballot "while not participating actively in the canvass."

The committee last Saturday, in what Grace said was a "draft movement," filed nominating petitions to place McCormick's name on the ballot—without his signature.

Attempted Burglaries Under Investigation Officers were following up Friday on investigations of attempted burglaries Thursday at Marvin Hull Motor Co., 207 Gollard, and Tommie's Smokehouse, 211 Ruf-nels.

Attempts had been made without avail at the motor company to enter a safe. Nothing was missed, however, and at Tommie's Smokehouse no loss was reported.

JAPS DRAFT KIDS

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—The Japanese government has ordered a drastic extension of the national labor conscription law, effective immediately, to make males from the ages of 12 to 60 and unmarried females from the ages of 12 to 40 subject to the labor draft, a dispatch broadcast by Domei said today.

"Miss Killeen" Glides Through Texas Skies As Bond Hopes Shine Brighter

By The Associated Press "Miss Killeen," a B-25 Medium bomber named for the Bell county town, glided through Texas skies today, ready to go to war against the Axis, as Texas Fourth War Loan officials became more confident that the whirlwind drive of the last few days of the campaign would bring victory over the $35,000,000 quota.

Only $95,000,000 in bonds must be sold to attain the goal. "Miss Killeen" was christened yesterday by Mrs. Della Gray, mother of the late Capt. Robert Gray, one of Maj. Gen. James Doolittle's Tokyo bomb-

Reds Clean Up On Last Of Trapped German Troops

LONDON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Russian guns pounded the remnants of some 100,000 German troops trapped in a narrowing circle near Korsun in the Dnieper river bend today as converging Red army columns drove within seven miles of that city and other Soviet troops pressed their assault on the iron ore center of Krivoi Rog, 150 miles to the southeast. Yesterday Soviet spearheads split off several groups from the main body, which once numbered 10 divisions, a Russian communique said. These units were being systematically wiped out, the bulletin added, and the exhausted Germans were surrendering in steadily mounting numbers. Associated Press dispatches from Moscow indicated the German army was facing its biggest disaster since the surrender of Stalingrad a year ago.

In the far north, the Russians said, troops of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army captured the town of Zhelty, seven miles northeast of Luga, rail junction on the Leningrad-Pskov railway, and a number of other communities.

Gen. K. A. Meretskov's Volkhov army, forming the southern arm of the pincer drive on Luga, was moving up from the south and was last reported within 14 miles of the German-held base.

No information as to the progress of the Soviet forces inside Estonia, last reported advancing on Narva on the Leningrad-Reval railway, was given in the Moscow war bulletin. The communique also omitted mention of the situation inside old Poland, where the center and right wing of Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's first Ukrainian army has been reported operating in the vicinity of Rovno and Lutsk.

The Germans trapped in the Korsun salient were said to be dying in great numbers under the hammering of Soviet batteries raking their positions with a steady, accurate cross-fire. Adding to the hopelessness of the German's situation was a rapidly decreasing food supply and the destruction of their airfields, their last link with German forces outside the ring of death, Moscow dispatches said.

The Moscow war bulletin said that Gen. Rodin Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian army had killed 1,300 Nazis and captured many more in its drive on Krivoi Rog yesterday. Advancing beyond Apostolovo, Malinovsky's forces were reported more than 45 miles west of captured Nikolov, where other thousands of Germans were under attack by Gen. Feodor Tolbukhin's Fourth Ukrainian army.

Arrangements will be made for installing a ticket office opening on the airport terminal lobby, and with an adjoining room for communications equipment.

Wallace Heads Tire Panel For Mitchell

COLORADO CITY, Feb. 10—R. J. Wallace has been named head of the Mitchell county tire panel of the War Price and Ration board, it was announced this week by Tom Goss, Sr., general chairman of the county's WPB.

Wallace succeeds Marion New who resigned last week. Tire panel members are meeting here twice weekly to consider applications. Other members of the panel are A. D. Kiker, Earl Hammond, and I. W. Ramsey. A member to fill New's place has yet to be named.

Ground Support Calls On Every Available Plane

By EDWARD KENNEDY ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Feb. 11 (AP)—Throwing virtually every available combat plane, including giant four-engined bombers, into one of the greatest ground-support operations ever undertaken, the allies launched a terrific onslaught yesterday to protect their Anzio bridgehead, already converted into a bristling hedgehog by hundreds of massed tanks.

Americans, still fighting bitterly in the ruins of Cassino on the main Fifth army front, captured five more buildings. Their artillery leveled the town prison which had been turned into a Nazi fort, but the Germans still fought tooth and nail from the underground dungeons and cellars.

Countless tons of bombs smashed down on the Germans at all points ringing the bridgehead and their main operating points about Rome as heavy bombers were diverted from long range targets to join medium and fighter-bombers in furious attacks protecting the American and British troops resisting attempts to drive them into the sea.

The bombers added the weight of the terrible explosives to the destructive blasts arched upon the enemy by Allied artillery in "time crashes"—a method of fire control by which hundreds of big guns all place shells upon a single target area in a matter of a minute or so, often erasing the target in a single blast.

Both Flying Fortresses and Liberators joined in yesterday's forays—dropping their deadly missiles on enemy troops at five key points in the highway network around the beachhead area—Albano, Cisterna, Velletri, Campoleone and Cocchiana.

But despite the fury of the air offensive, in which 850 sorties were flown as against 30 by the enemy, the Germans apparently retained the initiative on the ground and lashed out in many probing attacks at various points around the bridgehead.

They continued to add to their containing force and a new division, the 65th, was identified in their line, making five full divisions and a brigade called up to smash the bridgehead. The German attacks were in the Carroceto (Aprilia) area, where heavy fighting was still in progress, and west and southwest of Cisterna where Americans battled grimly to hold their back.

The Nazis used tanks in these attacks, but not in the grand manner. It was evident that their main effort was yet to come, and there were indications that the heavy aerial assault may have delayed it.

The heavy bombers dashed their explosives against the enemy in and around Albano, Cisterna, Velletri and Campoleone—all towns ringing the beachhead—while fighter-bombers carried out bombing sweeps in the area around Rome.

Officers Seek Light Breakers

City officials said Friday that they were anxious to apprehend youths responsible for smashing whiteway lights on Washington Blvd. early Thursday morning, regardless of cost incurred in catching them.

According to police records, a group described by one Washington Blvd. resident as "five or six large boys in a dark sedan," shattered every light on the boulevard at 2:48 a. m. by striking them with bottles. After completing this job, they reportedly shelled the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Christensen with bottles.

The police patrol car failed to locate the boys, said City Manager B. J. McDaniel, who added that he had instructed police to make every effort possible to find the youths. Damage amounted to $70, said the manager.

Commission Hears Highway Request

AUSTIN, Feb. 11 (AP)—Designation and construction of a state highway from Glimmer to Linden via Avinger and Ore City is a significant project from the point of view of long range planning, Highway Commission Chairman Brady Gentry today told a delegation from Cass, Marion and Upshur counties.

The three-county delegation appeared at a public hearing at which the commission also took under consideration without commitment the following requests: Glasscock and Howard counties, designation and construction of a road from Garden City to Big Spring.

Texas Gripped With Freezing Temperatures

By The Associated Press Freezing temperatures gripped many portions of Texas today, with promise of colder weather tonight and tomorrow for some sections of the state.

The minimum temperature at Amarillo today was 10 degrees above zero. Abilene registered 20 degrees, Lubbock, 16, Midland, 22, San Angelo, 26, Dallas, 24 and Fort Worth 24.

Although the Panhandle area could look for warmer weather tomorrow, temperatures as low as 12 degrees were predicted for all Texas. The South Texas forecast called for readings of 24 to 30 degrees and the Rio Grande valley's prediction was 30 to 35 degrees.

The Del Rio-Eagle Pass area also reported colder weather tonight.

In many sections of Texas, the cold wave that invaded the state yesterday after 20 days of springlike weather nipped tender vegetation.

Minimum temperature readings over the state today included: Big Spring, 22; Brownsville, 55; El Paso, 30; Houston, 35; San Antonio, 34; Waco, 27; Texarkana, 33; Tyler, 30; Corpus Christi, 41; Austin, 30 and Corsicana, 26.

Planes, Ships Pound At Japs

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 11 (AP)—Fighter planes, Mitchell Medium bombers, Dauntless dive bombers, big Liberators and navy search planes are teaming up with shelling warships in blasting away at Japanese-held Marshall Islands now gravely imperilled by American conquest of Kwajalein.

Yesterday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz disclosed that on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday planes of such a wide category dumped 114 tons of explosives on enemy bases in the mid-Pacific group; Navy Coronado bombers on Tuesday night and early Wednesday pounded air-drome and barracks on Wake Island; and warships during the three-day period bombarded "two enemy-filled atolls."

Only Wake, which is in a position to support the supply-severed enemy bases in the Marshalls, was specified as a target. The Coronados, which gave Wake its 12th raid of the war, scored effective hits and all got back safely.

American investment of Kwajalein in the heart of the Marshalls has so disrupted Japan's contact with other bases there that the navy now keeps the enemy guessing by saying only "enemy-held islands" or "enemy bases" or "Marshall Atolls."

Monday, army Warhawk fighters and Mitchell's dropped 33 tons of bombs "on enemy bases." Tuesday the Warhawks, dauntless Dive bombers and Liberators hit "Marshall Islands" with 24 tons. Wednesday Liberators dropped 57 tons on "Marshall Atolls."

Partisans Fall Back Into Lika

LONDON, Feb. 11 (AP)—The Yugoslav partisan army's 19th division has fallen back from northern Dalmatia into the province of Lika in Croatia after bitter fighting, Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today.

His broadcast communique gave no further details of the action in the Dalmatian sector, but reported successful operations in both eastern and western Bosnia and added: "In Slovenia all enemy attacks against our positions from Rakov to Novo Mesto were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy."

Playlett And Speech Given At College Heights Meeting

Norris Speaks On Problems Of Juveniles

A playlet, "Pioneers Forever", and a speech on juvenile delinquency problems by H. D. Norris, Scout executive, were features of the monthly meeting of the College Heights Parent-Teacher association Thursday night at the school.

Thirty boys and girls from Mrs. Martelle McDonald's sixth grade class presented the playlet, which depicted the progress of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers from frontier days, and the immortal ideals of Alice McLellan Burney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, to present day work of the P-T-A.

A candlelight ceremony was conducted, with 13 persons participating. Seven pyramided candles depicted ideals of P-T-A work.

Norris spoke on responsibility of parents, teachers and the community in preventing juvenile problems. The child is capable of learning and doing, but the responsibility of seeing that he uses those talents lies with adults. Juvenile delinquency problems are caused by "parental paralysis", the speaker said.

Mrs. J. E. Brigham, president presided at the meeting.

A business meeting was conducted and report of the executive committee, which had met Thursday afternoon, was received. The group is to give $25 for purchase of juvenile books for the public library to be opened soon. Selection of a nominating committee comprised of Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. M. A. Cook and Mrs. W. F. Edwards to nominate officers was announced.

A social hour was observed and refreshments served.

Those present were Mrs. A. L. Hobbs, Mrs. John F. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Cloud, Mrs. L. M. Tucker, Mrs. Jimmie Tucker, Mrs. L. R. Terry, Mrs. M. H. Kelley, Mrs. Mark Harwell, Mrs. G. L. Paoge Cites Waste Of Rubber Source

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Rep. Paoge (D-Tex.), told a house agriculture sub-committee today that a vast amount of government-controlled guayule from which rubber could be produced at from 35 to 40 cents a pound was going to waste in the United States while the government is paying South America 60 cents a pound for natural rubber.

"Why aren't we producing in the United States instead of importing from Brazil for the duration?" Paoge asked.

After taking complete control of the guayule output an end to that rubber director put an end to that program, declaring it wasn't needed, Paoge said. Now, he added, the government says there will not be the expected output of synthetic rubber from oil.

"The guayule crop was not used last year and 60,000,000 plants in California nurseries will go to waste unless they are planted by March 1," Paoge added. "But the government has taken no action."

He urged renewed action to obtain products for synthetic rubber from grains and grain sorghums.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP) — A popular off-season pastime among football coaches seems to be stripping the "T" of some of its glamour. . . . Recently Cornell's Carl Snively, who found many advantages, including "more fun for the players" in the "T" formation, said he will stick with the stripe wing because the man in motion can be used to better advantage in it. . . . And Colgate's Andy Kerr, who startled the natives both in New York and California by his varied offense in the East-West game, explains he used that game as a sort of football laboratory. . . . "It is my impression," writes Andy, "that the 'T' formation will be a very satisfactory supplementary formation to use. Personally I am not ready to adopt it in toto. . . . The next question is, what will Kerr adopt in Hamilton, N. Y. . . . He probably wishes it could be V-5 trainee Otto Graham."

Golfers Start 72-Hole Grind In Texas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 11 (AP) — One hundred and fifty-seven golfers—more than 60 of them professionals—started the 72-hole grind in the $5,000 Texas open today with their sights trained on those pals of the fairways—Harold (Jug) McSpaden and Lord Byron Nelson.

These two spent the fall on Nelson's farm near Denton, Tex., then took to the winter tournament trail to hog honors in the four events held thus far. McSpaden came through in three of them, one victory being in a playoff with Nelson, while Lord Byron took the other title.

Yesterday both participated in the annual pro-amateur event preceding the Texas open and Nelson shot a 69, two under par, while McSpaden had trouble on two holes to finish up with a 73. But it was a recovery shot by the latter on No. 9 that had the gallery buzzing. He landed behind some trees, and in trying to get out fell into the same trouble on the other side of the fairway, then he placed his shot through trees and underbrush without touching even a leaf.

But the best score of yesterday was turned in by Raymond Gafford, Fort Worth professional, who felled par by four strokes with a 34-33-67. It enabled him to share in the money offered in the pro-amateur event as he combined with Dan Biggs, San Antonio amateur, for a 61. Sam Byrd, the former New York Yankees baseball player, was the heaviest winner, however. He fired a 69 and combined with Lieut. E. T. Carruthers of Randolph Field and Mark Wright of San Antonio for 61's to bring him 112.50. Gafford received 56.25 and Abe Espinosa, veteran Brownsville, Tex., professional, got the same with a 61, obtained in working with Hub Friery of San Antonio.

Fifteen professionals equalled or bettered par during the day with Ray Hill of Randolph Field and Pete Cooper of Gainesville, Fla., each shooting a 68 along with Byrd. The amateurs all received handicaps.

IN UNIFORM
Pfc. Paul A. Wadsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wadsworth of Foran, recently completed an intensive course in radio operation-mechanics at AAF Training Command Radio School, at Sioux Falls Army Air Field in South Dakota.

A letter was received here recently from Pvt. Lillian B. Patton, former resident who is stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., at the Third Women's Army Corps Training Center. She states that Georgia is a wonderful state, even though it rains often. "The WACs are as one big happy family; living, sharing, cooperating and helping one another," she wrote.

Herbert Wood Whitney, who is stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla., has been promoted from the rank of first lieutenant to captain, word has been received here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts of Andrews have word from their son, Pvt. James Warren Roberts, 20, who is serving in Italy, that he has won the Purple Heart. He received his injury while cleaning out a machine gun nest which had held up forces for several days. "A Jerry speared me in the side," he wrote. Another son, Pfc. Harold Roberts, was a machine gunner in the Tarawa invasion and has been on the island since Dec. 15, 1943.

Airlines Plane Crashes Into The Mississippi

MEMPHIS, Feb. 11 (AP) — Twenty-four persons were believed killed last midnight when a transcontinental American airlines plane crashed in the Mississippi river and sank immediately in the 22-foot channel 15 miles below Memphis.

Several crewmen with the U. S. engineers reported hearing the plane flying low overhead and one said he saw it hit the water and sink seconds after being enveloped in flames.

"There was a terrific explosion and fire," said Charley Williams, they found no trace of the big plane, which was enroute from Los Angeles to New York.

Williams said the plane was on its course for the Memphis airport where it was due at 11:38 P. M. (CWT.)

"It was quite low," Williams said, "and appeared to be tipped a little to the right but the engines seemed to be all right and there were no flames. It angled into the river about half way across."

Coast guard boats and several searching parties searched the area without success for three hours before daylight. Grappling hooks were used but rivermen said considerable delay might be expected in discovering the plane if it broke up in the swift current before hitting bottom.

At least 10 of the 21 passengers aboard the plane, flight No. 2, which stopped at Little Rock, were members of the armed forces. The three crewmen were Capt. D. B. Francis, first officer; R. R. Majors and Stewardess Dovie Holybee, all based at Fort Worth.

Weather conditions at the time the plane reported itself near the river—seven minutes before due in Memphis—were described as "scattered, broken clouds" with the temperature near freezing.

Rice Cane Quint And TCU Clash

HOUSTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Rice Institute's cagers, setting a torrid pace in the Southwest conference scramble, tangled tonight with a rearguard Texas Christian team that almost spilled the Owls in the first clash.

Battling to retain their conference lead, the Owls assigned D. (Jug) Thomas, one of the league's finest defensive players, to stop Zeke Chronister, the Frogs, ace scorer.

Thomas soundly throttled Chronister in their initial duel in Fort Worth two weeks ago. He held Chronister, one of the conference's leading scorers with 86 points—to two baskets.

The Owls won that game by 10 points but they had to stage a strong finish. The Frogs knotted the count at 22-all with 13 minutes to go. Then Thomas sent four shots zipping through the basket to take scoring honors for the night with 16 points.

Rice holds a half-game lead over Arkansas which opens a two-game stand against the University of Texas in Fayetteville tonight. Rice has won eight of nine games and Arkansas seven of eight.

Germans Mistake American Loyalty

MEXIA, Feb. 11 (AP) —Five German officers who escaped the Mexia prisoner of war camp thought it would be easy in Texas—to become free men again.

They probably had dreams of fighting for their fatherland again, but they failed to reckon with the uncanny eyes of a Texas newspaper carrier and an alert housewife.

Three of the men were captured yesterday at Hubbard by City Marshall L. O. Bates, while their two partners in the escape were taken at Corpus Christi the day before. There was no resistance in either case.

It was Mrs. Alma Kuehm, wife of Otto Kuehm, the latter a German by birth, but an American World War I veteran, answered raps on her door Tuesday night. When the men, one of whom called her by her correct name and spoke in German, went away, Mrs. Kuehm called officers. Lt. Eugene Kurz, 26, and Lt. Heinz Joachim Grimm, 21, were captured Wednesday.

Trudging along a moonlit Central Texas road early yesterday, William H. Kline, a route carrier for the Waco News-Tribune, saw three men between Mount Palm and Waco, with packs slung over their shoulders. He went into Hubbard and informed the city marshal because he had heard of the escapes.

Major Kurt Bettelweil, 37, Lt. Walter Heymann, 23, and Lt. Rudolph Gottfried, 43, were captured easily.

Bloody Dance
STORRS, Conn. (AP)—A pint of blood and ten dimes is the admission price at a dance tonight at the University of Connecticut. The blood goes to the armed forces, the dimes to the infantile paralysis fund.

A mobile blood bank unit from Hartford will redeem the blood pledge cards given by the dancers.

Jockey Has Luck On No. 1 Mounts
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11 (AP) — Oscar Pernia, 39-year-old Cuban jockey, and the number one horse a lot in common.

Yesterday at the Hipodromo de las Americas, the veteran rode the first three winners, and in each case the "No. 1" horse was his mount. Pernia barely missed a fourth winner when his No Justice, a "No. 2" horse, by the way, finished second.

England Has Model Law Enforcement

AUSTIN, Feb. 11 (AP) —State Police Director Homer Garrison believes Texans have a lot more to learn from England whose legal system supplied the framework for our system.

Writing in the February issue of the department of public safety News Garrison declared: "In the last year there were only 12 armed robberies in the city of London. There are days when we have that many hijackings in a 24-hour period in the larger Texas cities.

"I am not fond of making comparisons like this. . . . There are many reasons why Britain has so much more observance of law than we do. But none of those reasons is so potent as the swift and sure process of justice which characterizes the British system of law enforcement. British people respect law because they have adequate law enforcement and business-like courts which get the job done without political interference or unnecessary delay."

Naked Franks

DANIELSON, Conn. (AP)—Sign on the wall of a local restaurant: "Due to rationing and other things beyond our control, we are forced to sell a 5-cent frankfurter absolutely naked—plain and ungarlished. We will allow a toast-egg roll, mustard and relish with a 10-cent frankfurter."

Coach Afraid Parkers Are Overconfident

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 11 (AP)—The Texas Longhorns, although practically out of the Southwest conference title race, are feared by Coach Gene Lambert.

The greatest fear Coach Lambert has, however, is that overconfidence may have swept the Longhorns in the first of a two-game series tonight.

All this week Lambert has been preaching the finer points that have made the Steers rise to great heights on occasions this year. He described, particularly, the play of Bob Fanning, an elongated first-year student from Fort Worth who scored 19 points against the lanky Southern Methodist Mustangs last week.

Unkempt But Courageous

Tomorrow we observe the birthday of a man many hold to be our greatest native American, and to borrow one of his phrases, "it is fitting and proper" to catch some inspiration from his life to help us in these days.

This, after all, is the real power of a life such as lived by Abraham Lincoln — the power to continue through the years to exert influence and inspiration upon people whose pulse quicken at his brand of Americanism.

Much has been said about the solemn truths uttered by Abraham Lincoln, about his eloquence, about his profoundness, about his vision, about his honesty and industry. All of these characteristics are almost household words with us by now.

Perhaps a little less repeated are such characteristics as Lincoln's carelessness about his personal appearance, yet in this we may find some insight of the man. One of the fallacies is the acceptance of the adage that "clothes make the man" and the implications which go with this line of thought. Apparently, Abraham Lincoln went through his day, oblivious in his concentration, to his surroundings. Perhaps we would have applied the appellation of "screwball" to him in this day, for his mind was not always with his body. He often forgot to brush his hair or watch after his clothes, so concerned was he with other matters which he considered more important.

Surely none would say that failure of Lincoln to pay attention to these details would stand as a recommendation for slovenliness. Our point rather is this: The man acted as he thought, and what anyone else thought about him personally did not make any difference.

This action certainly would not be any the worse today for men who thought deep and well as did Abraham Lincoln, and then acted with his typical courage, honest and unselfishness. If baggy trousers and uncombed hair is the price for this virtue, then we will take our men a little less well groomed exteriorly and better groomed mentally.

Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — I'm not partial to celebrities in uniform. I don't mean to discount their sincerity, earnestness, courage, or any of it. But I can't see any reason for blowing up a Clark Gable or a Robert Montgomery and ignoring the potential Butch O'Hares or five Sullivan brothers, whom nobody ever heard of before. And Clark and Bob, who know all about publicity, can't see any reason for it either. Both of them have said so.

All of which is by way of prelude to the fact that I sat in a session the other night with Lieut. Tom Harmon. There are probably plenty of folks who are saying that the former football star has a "flare" for publicity. Perhaps he has. He's had his share of it, what with being lost in the jungles of Brazil, missing for 32 days and behind the Jap lines in China, and then even amusingly being reported "missing" for several hours between Norfolk and Bowling Field, but he's a sophomore compared to some wearing uniforms. The point of it all is that no celebrity carries himself with more honest modesty.

It wasn't Tom who told us that he got two Zeros before he was forced down in China. He talked mostly about how he would like to get back to the Tenth Air Force and how much those fellows out there hate the Japs, despite them as nobody probably ever could despise a Nazi.

And when somebody wanted to know what then he was doing here, headed for the European theater, it was another Air Force officer who answered.

Tommy Harmon is just another lad who has been shot down behind Jap lines, and thanks to Chinese guerrillas or other friendly natives operating underground has come out alive.

But to the Japs, such men are marked. Our Air Forces operating in the east learned it long ago. Once the Japs get their hands on those men again, they'll take them over the torture route, even to death in an effort to find out who aided their escape and how. The Army and Navy Air Force isn't taking any chance like that with our pilots.

Once they have gone through the Harmon experience they are shipped out immediately, not even allowed to make one more flight over enemy lines.

Lieutenant Harmon has put back most of the 50 pounds he lost in those 32 days battling through the Jap lines. He wore a leather flying jacket that looked as if it had been three times through Notre Dame for a touchdown.

And the story he liked best to tell was about how 54 letters were waiting for him when he got back to his base after being missing those 32 days.

All of them were dated before he was reported missing, except his mother. Fifteen days after he had been reported missing, she wrote as if nothing had happened, not even mentioning the fact that two weeks before, she had been informed of his disappearance behind the enemy lines.

"She just knew I'd turn up somehow to read it," he explained. "She's the one that's got the courage in the Harmon family."

You'd Be Surprised

By GEORGE STIMPSON

Six men took the oath as President of the United States while they were still in their forties. They were: Theodore Roosevelt, 42; Grant, 46; Cleveland, 47; Pierce, 48; Garfield, 49, and Polk, 49.

Five men were in their sixties when they took the oath of President. They were: John Adams, 61; Jackson, 61; William Henry Harrison, 68; Taylor, 64, and Buchanan, 65.

All other presidents were in their fifties when they took the oath of office. Arthur Tyler, Taft, and Filmore were 50; Coolidge and Franklin D. Roosevelt were 51; Lincoln was 52; none was 53; Van Buren, McKinley and Hoover were 54; Benjamin Harrison and Harding were 56; Madison, Johnson, Jefferson and John Quincy Adams were 57; Monroe and Hayes were 58, and none was 59.

So if you plan to be president it would be wise to run in your fifties.

Thus far no man in his thirties or seventies has become President.

A note in Tolstoy's "War and Peace" says of Russia in the Napoleonic period: "A proprietor could send any of his serfs as exiles in Siberia, and when going there one side of the head was shaved, that the man might more easily be recaptured should he run away."

Robert Charles Winthrop, speaker of the House of Representatives and senator from Massachusetts, wrote when he was 65 years old in 1894: "I have known, and many of them intimately, every one of the 23 Presidents, except Washington, who died nine years before I was born."

After Washington's death in 1799, not a single man who had been President died for 25 years, when Jefferson and John Adams died on the same day.

Robert Winthrop was the chief speaker when the cornerstone of the Washington Monument was dedicated in 1848, and again when the monument was completed in 1885.

In 1861 the provisional government of the Confederate States of America established its capital on "foreign soil." The capital of the Confederacy was removed from Montgomery, Ala., to Richmond, Va., six weeks before the day appointed for the Virginia plebiscite to determine whether the state would leave or remain in the Union.

Gov. Tells Youth To Study Great Men

MATADOR, Feb. 11 (UP)—Texas' youth had a bit of philosophy from Gov. Coke R. Stevenson today.

The Texas' governor, speaking at the 7th annual Matador father-son banquet, admonished the young people of Motley county: "Study the lives of great men. It is needed to bring our vision down to close range."

Governor Stevenson declared that he is not alarmed about the youth of America and he is confident they have "the same opportunities that their elders had."

The late Lieut. Paul Eubank, former state representative from Motley county, was the sponsor of the first father and son banquet here seven years ago. The governor, who knew him in Austin, paid tribute to the lieutenant, killed in the Pacific area in January, saying: "He met every test that many men falter under."

The governor speaks today at the Matador high school and for a noontime engagement in Floydada.

FLIGHT FROM LOVE

by JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY

Chapter 18
Julie awoke at two next afternoon to the enticing aroma of coffee and sizzling bacon, and Kay's cheerful whistle from the kitchen.

Julie showered quickly, brushed the dark waves of her hair with fast, deft strokes and coiled it low about her head. In five minutes she was in the kitchen fresh in a gayly-flowered gingham and wedgies.

Kay gave her a grin of friendly malice. "I tried the navy song first," she said, "then the army, then the marines. I don't know why I didn't think of the air corps tune sooner."

Julie laughed. "It wasn't your singing that woke me. It was the bacon. How'd you ever happen to get it?"

Kay winked. "System," she murmured, breaking the eggs into the skillet. "I'll show you when we go shopping this afternoon. Turn the toast, will you? Have a good time last night?"

Julie nodded happily. As they lingered over their breakfast in the sunny kitchenette, Julie told Kay of the fabulous evening at Marek's Hollywood apartment. Of the fascinating discussion of her picture.

Kay nodded understandingly. "No one in the world makes better noises than directors and producers when they're talking shop," she said. "What alibi did you give Marek for standing him up last night?"

"I told him the truth," Julie stated at her, her toast stopped halfway to her mouth. "You mean you told him you went with another man?"

Julie nodded. Kay murmured with awe, one eyebrow cocked, "And he talked of starring you in the picture—after that?"

Julie took a sip of coffee. "Why shouldn't he?" she argued. "Because," said Kay. "Marek Dorrr just isn't the kind of guy to be pushed around. He does the shoving when there's shoving to do. And he's in love with you."

"He isn't," Julie retorted. "If that's why he were giving me this chance, it would be off—because I told him I loved Dave."

"What did he say?" whispered Kay. Sudden pink spots appeared in Julie's ivory cheeks. Her voice lowered. "He said—when I was on top the glamour pile, I could have Dave... if I still wanted him..." she said slowly.

Kay let out her held breath in a snort of puzzled amusement, and helped herself to marmalade. "I don't get it," she admitted. "But maybe I'm wrong. Maybe he did recognize genius in you. Maybe he's all his concern is what he'd lavish on any valuable studio property. I don't know. I was just an extra myself. Maybe I'm sentimental."

After breakfast Julie insisted on washing the dishes, but Kay was adamant. "No you don't, kiddo," she said. "You're spoiling your hands fast enough at night. I'm doing the extra dirty work around here. You'd look funny having to take a week off when your studio call came to get rid of dishpan hands."

So Julie wiped. Kay complimented her. "It's fun," Julie laughed. "At least it's fun to do with you. You enjoy it don't you?"

"This apartment isn't housework," scoffed Kay. "It's child's play. You ought to have a sixteen-room Minnesota farmhouse—with eight brothers to pick up after, and milk to put through the separator night and morning, and chickens to feed and a calf to nurse."

While they ran the sweeper through the small room and aired the beds, Kay told Julie of her large and energetic family, now scattered across the continent in six states, besides swelling the ranks of army and navy.

"I should think your mother would be worried sick all the time about all of you."

Kay looked up from her counting of the laundry with a smiling shake of her blonde head. "She isn't the worrying kind," she said. "Some people are and some aren't. She said once she tried it, but she didn't know which of us to start worrying about. So she gave it up. She has a wonderful time getting letters and spreading the news to the others."

Julie sighed. "What a wonderful way to live. What's the secret of it?"

Kay shouted from the closet. "Balance. She says she's not responsible for creating heaven or earth or running anyone's life, including her own. All that's required of her is to function happily."

Julie laughed wistfully. "It sounds as simple as perfection," she murmured. Then she stared at Kay emerging from the wardrobe. "Why on earth are you in your factory clothes already?"

Kay winked. "That's my system," she said. "Just in case our butcher forgets I'm a war worker."

They walked the two blocks to the grocery store. The towering ridge of the hills flanking the valley to the north was blue and clear. The breeze was sweet with alfalfa and spicy with mustard. Victory vegetable gardens were bright spots in the green fields.

Kay seemed to know all the amateur gardeners along the way. She stopped to exchange greetings and give them advice. "Better make those trellises higher for your beans," she'd call. "They'll be spreading all world for him."

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Off Sunset boulevard but still in the heart of the town's radio row is a little office labeled "Jot 'Em Down Store — Lum and Abner, Props." Ordinarily quiet and peaceful, the spot today is in the throes of change, not outwardly apparent but the tremendous in portent to two young men named Chet Lauck and Norris Goff.

Messrs. Lauck and Goff, it seems, have suddenly become successful. That sounds funny

They had a merry time in the market. Kay flattered the vegetable man and flirted outrageously with the butcher, explaining to Julie loudly it was the only way to get good food these days. Everyone had a quip for Kay and a friendly grin for Julie. Life seemed for the moment bright and uncomplicated. Julie was humming as they strolled over the ground and tripping you!

In the Washington movie, Lum and Abner left the Ozarks for the first time, and now they're planning to do it again. "Country Boys" will bring them to Hollywood and—if they don't change their minds—if they'll appear both as Lum and Abner and as themselves, minus whiskers, the dapper Goff and the somewhat Gable-ish Lauck.

In the throes, they're still not deserting Pine Ridge entirely. That town, which changed its name from Waters, Ark., in their honor, has to be in every film, if only at beginning and end.

"And some of the people we've had in all the pictures and the radio show," says Chet (Lum) Lauck, "we couldn't leave them behind, either."

"That's right," agreed Goff. "Some of 'em like Dick Huddleston, are real-life folks, you know, Friends of ours."

No matter how they work it, the folks back in Arkansas can be sure that Lauck and Goff got what they wanted in a story because they still control their material for both air and film.

When the boys were granted this privilege by the movies, they took Hollywood offers which had been coming since they hit the national networks. They couldn't risk script changes which might insult "our folks down in Arkansas," they explained.

When they kid Hollywood in the film, they'll be kidding Lauck's new home town. Goff lives in the valley, but Lauck's place, with pool and tennis courts, is right here. Five days a week, twice daily, they meet to broadcast, and spend the three-hour wait between shows around the broadcasting station, at the Hollywood Canteen, or at their Jot 'Em Down Store. They usually prepare their radio script in the half hour before air time and when making a movie they broadcast from an improvised "station" on the lot.

Radio Dramatizes Jap Atrocities

Part of the story of terror brought out of the Philippines by the late Lt. Col. W. E. Dyess, Albany, Tex., officer who escaped from a Jap prison camp and made it to Australia, will be heard in a broadcast over every Texas radio station from 8 to 8:30 p. m. today.

The story had been dramatized by Capt. Robert Nall, public relations officer of the Eighth Service Command and boyhood friend of Col. Dyess, who did his work in collaboration with Judge Richard Dyess, father of the officer who recently was killed in a plane crash.

The broadcast is being arranged by officials of the Fourth War Loan in Texas to give Texans a new awareness of the character of the Pacific foe and of the necessity of buying bonds to crush him.

Deats Will Speak Over Radio Today

The address will be delivered by Dr. C. W. Deats over station KBST at 6:45 p. m. today.

"The achievements of the Boy Scouts of America symbolize the hopes and aspirations of our organization for America's future," Dr. Deats said.

"Here in America we can insure the security of our democracy in the future by teaching our children of today the real meaning of Americanism."

Sergeant Crenshaw Writes Parents Of Big Doings In Overseas Service

"The people in the states do not realize what the boys are really going through unless they have talked to some of the lucky ones who have returned to the states," Big Spring's only WAC in overseas service, Sgt. Mary Odessa Crenshaw wrote in her latest letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Crenshaw.

Sergeant Crenshaw wrote that she and other WACs had been going to an army hospital talking to boys who had been in combat and that "they are a cheerful lot, especially for the condition they are in."

Sergeant Crenshaw has been overseas since late December. The letter received by her parents this week is the third since she has been in overseas service.

The WAC has been in service since Jan. 15, 1943, when she left a high salaried job as an inspector for the State Board of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists to enlist. She received her basic training at Des Moines, Iowa, then attended administrative school at Nacogdoches, where she served as instructor a short time. She then received 21 days' training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and three months' training at Daytona Beach, Fla., before going overseas.

Prior to serving as a state inspector, she had taught in business school at Graham and had been head operator at the Crawford Beauty shop in Big Spring three years. She was born and reared in Big Spring.

Here 'n There

Many local people thought that if officers and enlisted men had been stationed in Texas for a year and in Big Spring for six months that they would be entitled to a vote. This didn't sound right to the soldiers so they wrote Attorney General Grover Sellers, and he confirmed their suspicions, holding that military personnel was in Texas because of military orders, and not primarily because of choice. Moreover, he ruled, there was no basis for legal residence in mere assignment to a Texas post.

First Methodist church choir rehearsal will be conducted at 7:45 p. m. Friday in the church basement, Mrs. G. H. Wood, choir director, announced.

Lt. and Mrs. Grover Blissard of Temple are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lawson. They will remain here several days.

Julie was filled with admiration and enthusiasm. "Why can't we rent a lot and make a garden?" she wondered. "I think it would be fun!"

"It would be all right!" Kay agreed eagerly. "We might even jerk Jack away from his books some days. Best thing in the homeward with their parcels.

She turned suddenly to find Kay's eyes on her in a quizzical look.

"What's the matter?" Kay laughed. "Nothing. I was just thinking, you look so darn cute in overalls and gingham aprons, it's almost a pity you have to be a glamour queen."

The 6-A basketball round robin which has been breezing along since last month wound up this week with a three-way tie between Merkel, Colorado City and Baird.

A Wolf defeat at the hands of Merkel Tuesday night, 32 to 26, resulted in the triple deadlock. The Wolves will meet Baird in the junior high gym here Friday night for a playoff contest. At the same time Merkel will go to Roscoe for a tilt.

Should the Wolves win their battle and Merkel lose, Colorado City will be the champions. If Merkel wins and the Wolves go down, Baird and Merkel will play off their own two-way tie. If both Merkel and Colorado City are victors Friday evening then a hot playoff between the two teams will be staged to decide the 6-A best quint.
