Big Spring Lands April Convention of Plains Bankers

AFTERNOON SESSION WAS FEATURED BY ROUND TABLE TALKS

Visitors Attended Baseball Game In The Afternoon; Luncheon Guests Heard Texas Bankers Association Head

Big Spring, with probably the largest delegation of visiting bankers at the convention here Monday of the South Plains Bankers Association, was chosen as the next convention city.

Aside from the morning session, mentioned in Monday's paper, and the noon luncheon and the afternoon business session, the visitors were entertained principally by the West Texas League play-off game between Midland and Coleman at Cowden Park.

At noon, a luncheon was given to the visitors by the two Midland banks, served at Hotel Scharbauer. Approximately 200 attended.

R. M. Barron, cashier of the Midland National Bank, was toastmaster. The principal address was made by A. A. Horne, president of the Texas Bankers Association, who spoke on "regional clearing houses."

His address, although technical and filled with statistics and information for bankers themselves, was interesting to all who heard him.

Short talks were made by a number of the visitors.

At the afternoon session, at the Ritz theater, a round table discussion on topics of interest to bankers of this area resulted in bringing out many constructive ideas.

O. P. Thrane led the discussion on "group and chain banking and how country banks can retain their prestige."

"Ways and means to encourage diversification" proved to be a topic of unusual interest, being led by J. E. Barron, vice-president of the First National Bank of Lamesa.

"Tax problems, national and state" was led by Morgan Copeland, cashier of the Brownfield State Bank.

Later registrations, not included in the list published Monday, were Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Price of Lamesa, E. P. Cowden of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Yates of Lamesa, J. E. Barron and O. B. Norman of Lamesa; Carl Akin, Ruth Skinner, Mrs. A. M. Tate, Aurelia Skinner, Imogene Akin and Onita Ruth Akin of Odessa; R. V. Middleton, G. H. Hayward, E. Notestine, B. T. Gardwell, Henry Edwards, and R. G. Elliott of Big Spring; A. M. Turner of Stanton, France Baker of Lubbock, R. M. Barron of Midland, Mrs. Burton Boone, Mrs. Dick Whitson, Johnnie Roberts and D. Lord of Midland.

Courthouse Plans Expected Today

Actual drawing of Architects Vlekter & Dixon, Wichita Falls, of the proposed Midland county courthouse is expected to be received here today, county commissioners say.

The county election has been advertised for Sept. 21, 13 days from now. Cost of the proposed structure has not been definitely determined. It is expected however that warrants will be issued above the $150,000 bond issue.

"The building as proposed would be one of the most beautiful in the state," County Judge Hill said today. "It is designed for being built of Indiana limestone, and is more on the architectural style of Vernon's courthouse than any other the commissioners studied."

Officers Report Traffic Accidents

Traffic accidents on the Broadway of America were numerous Sunday night, according to local officers. Two Big Spring automobiles collided east of Midland, near Germania station, overturning both cars and injuring one man slightly.

A San Angelo man is said to have parked his car off of the highway surface to assist in removing the wrecked automobiles, and before he could drive away another car hit his and knocked it into the ditch.

One car ran off of the highway at the old gravel pit about five miles west of town, slightly injuring one man.

Another car, with a wheel off, was seen standing at the side of the highway near the Gulf tank farm.

Union Carpenters Set Record for Construction of Revival Tabernacle

Linking of labor with religion was definitely established in Midland today when the Carpenters Local Union members turned out en masse and set a record for fast construction, practically completing the large tabernacle for the Rayburn Evangelistic Campaign the first day.

Volunteer workers had been asked for in building the tabernacle, A. Harry Anderson, chairman, asking for the services of "saw and hammer" carpenters. Instead, he was offered the services of Midland's most skilled mechanics, and a frame building, larger than the new city hall being erected across the street, was built in a day's time. In fact, at noon, the building had the framework, the roof and the walls completed, with nothing left but the finishing work.

The large building is located at the corner of Illinois Avenue and North Loraine Street, on the vacant property back of the First Baptist Church. It is to be used for all services of the Rayburn revival which begins September 8.

A luncheon was served to the carpenters at noon today by women of the Methodist, Christian, Presbyterian and Baptist churches. Those serving the big feed included Mrs. G. H. Butler, chairman, Mrs. A. B. Coleman, Mrs. Stacy Allen, Mrs. George Ratliff, Mrs. John Gossett, and by many others who contributed pies, cakes and many kinds of good eats.

ODESSA MEN TO ATTEND MEETING HERE SATURDAY

Odessa will have from five to six representatives here Saturday at the Breeder-Feeder conference, according to a letter to the Midland Chamber of Commerce from Lee Satterwhite of that city.

"I think this meeting will have considerable importance to this section of West Texas," Mr. Satterwhite wrote.

Homer D. Wade, manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, writes the Midland Chamber of Commerce that his board of directors will meet on that date, hence he will not be able to attend; but that Frank P. Holland of Holland's Magazine may be able to attend the meeting and will represent the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Labor Day Deaths Reach Heavy Total

(By United Press) Death went hand in hand with millions of Labor Day pleasure seekers who sought refuge from heat on the beaches and country highways. A nation-wide survey by the United Press showed at least 155 lost their lives. There were at least three dead in Texas.

Miss Blanch Rivero of Monterey, Mexico, and Claude Lucas of near San Antonio were killed when their car overturned, and four others with them were injured. They were going to a dance at Macdonna. O. C. Buttram, 25, of Henderson, was killed near Arp when his car overturned.

Fear Felt For Lives Of Cleveland Racers

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—(AP)—It is believed that John Wood and Mechanic Russell Ward have been forced down in an inaccessible sport or have been killed. Holderman of Odessa had a similar operation yesterday and was able to be taken to his home this morning.

MRS. LEE JONES PASSED AWAY AT DALLAS MONDAY

Mrs. Lee Jones, Jr., of Midland, 24 years old, passed away late Monday at a Dallas hospital. It was learned here last night. She underwent an operation there last Thursday and was taken suddenly worse Sunday.

She is the wife of Lee Jones, Jr., secretary of the Sloan Oil Company of Midland, and has lived in Midland since moving here from Colorado last October.

Burial will be at Hico, Texas, Wednesday morning, the funeral services being held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Little of that city.

Her sister, Miss Willie Little, lives in Midland and is employed in the office of Glass and Myrick.

Dr. and Mrs. L. J. LeConte and Harvey Sloan left Midland last night for Dallas on receipt of the news of Mrs. Jones' death. Mr. Jones was with his wife at the time of her death, and Miss Little left here last night for Colorado, going on to Hico today.

Mrs. Jones had a host of friends here, being one of the most popular of the younger married people of the city.

M'DONALD SAYS ANGLO-AMERICAN AGREEMENT GOOD

GENEVA, Sept. 3.—(UP)—In a plea for international peace, J. Ramsey McDonald of England assured the League of Nations assembly today that the prospective Anglo-American naval arms limitation agreement "is not directed against anyone and is nowise a conspiracy." He said the announcement of the agreement will be made before the present assembly ends.

Farmers Hear Talk On Seed Selection

Meeting today of a dozen leading farmers of Midland was held at the court house, to hear an address by E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. College, who delivered an address on seed selection. He also gave a demonstration to bring out the chief points of his talk, and declared that more profit is to be made from the use of pure seed than from bastard seed.

County Agent Frank Wendt was general chairman of the meeting.

Prior to a round table discussion, a talk was made by Leon Goodman on feeding of cattle.

The farmers were enthusiastic over the proposed feeding of cattle in Midland County, but fear that there will be a shortage on account of dry weather.

Get Tickets To Big Barbecue

Admission to the John M. Gist barbecue Saturday will be by ticket only.

The barbecue is mainly for visitors, but Midland farmers and ranchers who are deeply interested in the breeder-feeder movement will be welcomed, provided they attend the morning session starting at 11 o'clock in Hotel Scharbauer.

Uncle John M. Gist, host at the barbecue, said he would like to invite everybody, but his friends are too numerous to permit that, hence, tickets will be passed out at the meeting Saturday at 11 o'clock, and only those holding these registration tickets will be welcomed to the barbecue. This statement is being made through an erroneous impression that the barbecue was for everybody. It is only for farmers and ranchers who either plan, or want to know the facts on feeding out beef cattle.

Lindy Grows Up!

These pictures illustrate how, in two years, the strain of being a world hero has transformed Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh from a care-free youth into a man, his face strengthened and hardened by the worries of his career. The two lower photos were taken at the time of Lindy's epochal flight from New York to Paris. Contrast them with the upper picture, snapped when he attended the National Air Races in Cleveland recently.

SUPERINTENDENT MARRS TO ARRIVE MIDLAND TONIGHT

State Superintendent of Public Instruction S. N. M. Marrs will arrive in Midland at 7:45 from Big Spring, a telegram to County Judge M. R. Hill stated.

While the visit was not expected, it is thought that the superintendent wishes to confer with Judge Hill, who also is county superintendent of schools, on the educational question here. A representative from Marr's office will arrive Wednesday night to fill speaking engagements Thursday and Friday, the dates of the institute. A complete program for the institute has not been made, but will probably be given for publication tonight by Superintendent W. W. Lackey of the city public schools, Judge Hill said.

Commander Byrd and shipmates are now just beginning to see daylight after their long winter night in the Antarctic frozen darkness and preparations begun for his epochal flight over the South Pole.

Just when the book will be given the class was not mentioned in the radiogram, however. Mr. Peters intimated it will probably be late winter of next year before Commander Byrd's expedition will return to America, all depending upon a successful flight and return from over the South Pole. Neither did the Commander mention the name of the book to be his gift to the class of boys but it is certain his selection will be appropriate. Members of the class are looking forward to the fulfillment of Commander Byrd's promise with interest.

BREEDER-FEEDER MOVEMENT IS URGED IN ADDRESS TO BANKERS

Linked closely with the ideas to be brought out in the Breeder-Feeder conference here Saturday was the speech made Monday morning at the South Plains Bankers convention by Leon Goodman of Midland.

His address was on the subject "the cattle outlook in West Texas," and brought out many points of interest to breeders, feeders and bankers.

"The cattle industry is undergoing radical changes," Mr. Goodman declared, "and although the day is approaching when all classes of cattle, from calves to aged steers, are in demand, West Texas cannot profitably produce aged animals."

He said that the cost of producing cattle is advancing, and that the old lower costs can never be reached again. "We must produce what we can get the maximum for," he declared, and added that West Texas was never intended to be a "big steer" country. It has been proven that one can't profitably guess the weight of range cattle, and West Texans must weigh their

MODIFIED SLIGHTLY BY POPULAR REQUEST; SOME NEW PROBLEMS ARISE

Street Designations Made for Paving; Camp Petitions for Extension of Sewerage Line; Auditing Announced

A background of colored ribbon, enamel headed-tacks and a huge city map held attention of city council members today as the zoning ordinance, with modifications, was passed at the regular Tuesday luncheon meeting.

Duly advertised, the ordinance, an outgrowth of recommendations of the zoning commission appointed by the mayor shortly after his election, was passed without a dissenting vote. Modifications will be written into the ordinance this afternoon and the ordinance, in substance, will be given for publication tonight.

Several important questions came before the body. Kirby's El Campo Moderno has requested that the city extend a sewerage line to that camp, which is 400 feet outside the city limits. It was decided that the line from the limits to the camp will be constructed at the expense of the camp, and the nominal "apartment house" rate be charged for usage of the proposed main.

Mayor Goodman asked Joe Ward, engineer of Montgomery & Ward Engineering company to look at the pavement on West Texas street, stating that there is evidence of cracking at points.

It was decided, after discussion, to make formal application of the T & P railroad for automatic bells to be erected at important railroad crossings here.

School zone signs are to be erected as a protection to students from automobiles.

The question of delinquent taxes came in for positive discussion. As soon as available room is made at the new city hall the list of delinquent tax payers will be made out, notice served, and prosecution made.

Books to be audited

As soon as the new quarters for the city hall are moved into the books of the city will be audited, as authorized by the former administration, and the audit published.

Adams Electrical company, low bidder, was awarded the contract for furnishing lights and light equipment on the city hall job. The bid entered by this company was $475, a saving to the city of $75, inasmuch as the original contract allowed an expenditure of $550.

When it was shown that there would be an increase in the key rate for such a building to be constructed of walls as thin as he outlined, Charles A. McClinton was denied a permit for erecting a portable filling station in the fire zone.

Board Is Named

A board of adjustment, as legally required, for the benefit of those who might become aggrieved because of restriction brought about through zoning, was named: Lee Bradshaw, Charles Sinclair, Terry Elkin, George D. McCormick, and R. V. Hyatt. Hyatt was made chairman of this board.

Engineers were informed that they are to advertise bids for paving streets designated today by the council. A complete list of these streets will be published Thursday.

Radiogram Here From Com. Byrd

The New York Times has delivered to Marion F. Peters of the West Texas Gas Company a radiogram from Commander R. E. Byrd, Little America, in which the eminent explorer has promised to present a book that now is a part of the famous Byrd Antarctic Expedition Library to Our Heroes Class of the First Methodist Church, Ranger of which Mr. Peters formerly was teacher.

Commander Byrd and shipmates are now just beginning to see daylight after their long winter night in the Antarctic frozen darkness and preparations begun for his epochal flight over the South Pole.

Just when the book will be given the class was not mentioned in the radiogram, however. Mr. Peters intimated it will probably be late winter of next year before Commander Byrd's expedition will return to America, all depending upon a successful flight and return from over the South Pole. CLAPPER FANNY SAYS

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

What can be delivered.

Goodman made the statement that West Texas is the best cattle producing area in America, and is as economical a producing area as there is in America if cattle are sold as calves or yearlings, but that after the yearling stage, cattle cannot be made to produce as much profit as in the stronger grass country farther north and in the Corn Belt.

West Texans must try to produce more from the soil, he said, and made the statement that with $10 and the roughage which a farmer or ranchman can produce, an animal can be finished for the market. He estimated that with the $10, plus the roughage and the labor, an animal can be made to bring a profit of $24 from being fed.

He said that the day of enormous herds, with the waste and loss of ranch operation, must give way to producing smaller herds, marketing calves and yearlings, and producing the maximum beef pounds at the lowest possible cost.

BREEDER-FEEDER CONFERENCE

If the breeder-feeder conference to be held in Midland Saturday brings about the intentions of those who started the movement, it will be a step toward one of the greatest factors in the future livestock and agricultural development for West Texas.

A local cattle authority has said that the day of producing aged steers profitably in West Texas is rapidly passing, and that the man who makes a success of the cattle business must produce what will provide the most beef pounds at the lowest cost.

At the same time, the West Texas Farmer, whose land is specially adapted to the growing of grain sorghums, must market his product in the most profitable manner.

The breeder and feeder must get together to accomplish the greatest good for themselves, for each other, and for West Texas.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SUMNER

The average woman is a born detective—her well known woman's intuition being the best huncher in the world. However, women never have distinguished themselves as actual detectives engaged in unraveling crime, and to my knowledge there is only one woman in the country who has her own honest-to-goodness agency.

She was the first woman in the city to take out a license, and previous to that she had had 13 years of actual experience in ferreting out mysterious situations.

She finds her Sherlock Holmes activities particularly desired in guarding wedding presents, looking up financial and social ratings, and in getting odd bits of information that are more apt to come a woman's way than a man's.

Drab Walls Go

There are times when one feels that the craze for color has gone far enough, what with red tea kettles, blue mixing bowls, green tables, pink coil buckets, but the tendency of decorators to win us away from dull, drab, colorless walls, and give us a colorful background deserves considerable credit.

Walls this fall are being featured in green, blue, pink, yellow and orchid, as well as in the conventional cream and gray. There is a decided advantage here, economically, for with a green or pink background, the furniture must be very simple and inconspicuous, and the fewer gimcracks and gadgets the better.

If money is short in the home, as it often is, color is cheaper than tapestry hangings or mahogany—and it is surprisingly effective.

A certain blooded lady robbed of a quarter of a million dollars worth of jewels the other day and who set a regiment of square-jawed Pinkertons on the trail, opined that she didn't believe in jewels, anyway, that it was perfect folly to wear so much money in jewels when no one could tell them from paste, anyway.

That's something like a man who has just dined sumptuously telling the starving tramp that food doesn't matter, anyway.

San First

King Michael is kept too much the child and not enough the monarch, according to certain Rumanian factions who criticize the fact that little King Michael is constantly accompanied by his mother, the Princess Helen, and his grandmother, Queen Marie.

They criticize the fact that either the princess or the queen holds his hand when he appears in public.

Even that great power, "The People," may have to yield to maternal instinct which insists on keeping young and protecting even kings, if the kings happen to be sons or grandsons.

BARBS

The newer of the endurance fads is swing-sitting. Can't some way be devised to make them swing for it?

Some people are pessimistic over the fact that they don't seem to get all out of life that's coming to them; others are optimists for the same reason.

A British motorist skidded the other day, hit a lamp post and then crashed into the front of a store. That's probably the American movie influence.

COLTS EVEN BIG SERIES WHEN THEY BATTER OUT HOME RUN TIDE

FIFTH GAME WILL BE PLAYED HERE THIS AFTERNOON; AFTERWARD GAMES IN COLEMAN

Midland evened the championship by a crushing 23-13 win Monday over the Coleman Bobcats. The two teams will play the fifth game at Cowden Park this afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

Home runs proved the factor in yesterday's win. King, Cheeves and Stagner each collected two of the circuit trips, and Boyd and Flowers grabbed off one each.

The clubs will decide other games to be played, this afternoon.

Start Fast

Starting their most effective hurler, Gene Moore, the Colts saw their chances of victory dwindling when the Bobcats hammered the little left hander from the mound and scored five runs in the second inning. Midland came right back, however, tied the score with four tallies in the third and forced Hinson from the slab in the fourth. Their long distance cannonade was continued through the game against Manager Jack Holloway and Steve Myers, and by the end of the sixth they had accumulated 18 counters.

First Inning

Coleman: J. Moore grounded to Boken. Carpenter grounded to Boyd. Bryant doubled down the third base line. Kowalk up. Bryant stole third. Kowalk grounded to Boyd. One hit, no runs, no errors.

Midland: Boyd popped to Crumpton. Flowers rolled to Crumpton. King hit a home run over the right field fence. Kallina singled to right. Cheeves forced Kallina at second. Two hits, one run, no errors.

Third Inning

Miniature Simmons Campus For Fair

ABILENE, Sept. 1.—A ten-foot square miniature of the 40-acre campus of Simmons University will be put on display at the West Texas Fair from September 23-28. It is announced by fair officials. Made of permanent materials of wood, steel and concrete, this is considered to be one of the most interesting home products ever put on exhibition here.

The miniature is the product of three years of work by the School of Fine and Applied Art of the university, and has been made by art students under the direction of Miss A. M. Carpenter, head of the school. Every detail of the campus and buildings, such as trees, shrubs, walks, flowers, campus benches, and curbs are shown. The exact number of seats in the athletic stadium are reproduced.

The product will be used for years by the university, since it is of permanent material. It is divided into eleven sections which can be shipped without damage.

Midland Man's Cow Is Bested

When Drew Ruple decided to take his milk cow along on a fishing trip, so that his family could enjoy fresh milk enroute and while in encampment, writers over the country decided they had a good yarn, and the story ran all over America.

But Ray Davison had another idea, Ruple has learned: Horseshoes, if you please, on a cow!

Such was the request of Ray Davison, Edgar county farmer, made to Allen Bell, village smithy of Paris, recently.

It all came about when bossy came in range of a mowing machine employed by Davison to rid his fields of weeds. The blades of the machine severed the tendons in the hind legs of the cow, rendering them useless to the animal.

Dr. A. C. Tiffin, veterinary, was summoned. After viewing the injuries, he suggested bracing the ankle with shoes and upright steel straps. He figured that such a contraption would enable the tendon to grow together. The smithy was then consulted and stated that he could supply the shoes, which he pounded out of a pair of old mule shoes.

The shoes were nailed to the cow's hoofs, and Dr. Tiffin braced the ankles, binding them with rope so that the tendons went together again. The animal was then permitted to stand on her feet, which she did with apparently little effort. The severed tendons are knitting, according to Dr. Tiffin, who has been treating the animal.

TEXAS OIL MAN HURLS CHARGES AT OIL FIRMS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(UP)—A list of suggested witnesses concerning the alleged Texas patronage irregularities was submitted to the committee here today by Fred Strang, Fort Worth oil promoter, who re-entered the charge that Texas oil companies were seeking to control Federal and State affairs.

Chairman Brookhart said the list would be inspected privately and that the names would be kept confidential. Affidavits purporting to show irregularities by R. B. Greager, republican national committeeman, and his party associates have been submitted to the committee by Strang.

McKee Returns From Great Lakes Trip

Roy McKee returned Tuesday morning from a trip over the Great Lakes and to Canada. He won the trip by reason of his good work for the Lamar Life Insurance Company of Jackson, Mississippi.

John W. Hix and wife and daughter, Annie Laurie, of Midland, also made the trip. Mr. Hix, agent for this territory, having won two trips. McKee reports a wonderful trip, having spent one day at Niagara Falls, looking the falls over from both the United States and the Canadian sides.

Starting from Chicago, a steamer trip of several days took the party to most important points on the lakes.

BARRY MILLER AND TOM LOVE FOCAL POINTS FOR SWING OF COMING RACE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The impression around this place is that the governor's race next July will be between Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller and Senator Tom Love, both of Dallas.

Friends of former Speaker Robert Lee Bobbitt of Laredo are wondering what he will do, and alignments are awaiting some announcement from him. This section likely would give him his largest vote of any. Although he is a native of Hill County, he has lived in Southwest Texas for many years. He has been associated in the practice of law with Marshall Hicks of San Antonio, active and powerful in politics for many years.

It is conceded that Miller would have a shade the better of the contest in Bexar county over Love were the field to narrow down between the two. But Love had a large following here too, as little as one would think in this so-called anti-prohibition "strong hold."

Bexar county did not do so well. Democrat-ally speaking, last November in the Smith-Hoover voting and the same Hoover-Love organization that functioned then still is alive.

The opinion prevails here among politicians who have ears to the ground that the democratic party probably would make a serious mistake were it to bar Senator Love's name from the official ballot because he bolted the party last fall and led the revolt against what he called the "Tammany candidate."

Some surprise was expressed over the apparent little interest created by the rally for former Congressman Jim Young of Kaufman. It was meant to draft him for the gubernatorial race and there is little doubt but he will become a candidate.

It has been rather generally remarked that Congressman Young will have to renew his acquaintanceship in Texas, because he spent

Walter Elkin May Travel The World

Walter Elkin of Midland has been called to appear in Abilene for rehearsals when the Cowboy Band of Simmons University begins pre-school rehearsals Saturday, Sept. 7, in preparation for what is expected to be the greatest year in all its history. Calls have been issued to more than 100 bandmen to appear for these rehearsals, enough to make two well rounded bands. Many others are expected to be on hand when school starts the 17th.

With this wealth of material, new and veteran, Director D. O. Wiley proposes to build the supreme musical organization of the Southwest. Manager G. B. Sandefer is planning travels which will spread the fame of the band and the name of the West Texas Cowboy far and wide.

Fred L. Haskett, Dallas promoter who sponsored the Cowboy's trip to Washington last March, is arranging for a tour of Europe by the band next June.

DR. PAUL FEJOS, IN "LONESOME" CREATES REMARKABLE ATMOSPHERIC IMPRESSION

We have symphonies of music, of classical movement, of color, but it remained for the genius, Dr. Paul Fejos, the noted Hungarian motion picture director, to produce a symphony of jazz interpreted by movement.

This is what he has done in Universal's Special, "Lonesome" featuring Glenn Tryon with Barbara Kent which is now at the Ritz Theater.

Side Glances : : By Clark

Oh look, Judy, our stock's up ten points; that will more than buy our fur coats."

ing Glenn Tryon with Barbara Kent which is now at the Ritz Theater.

With an emotional sensitiveness to the mental reaction to movement, Fejos has made of the amusement pier sequence at Coney Island, a series of "lap dissolves," trick shots and properly timed scenes, which have the same mental effect on the spectator as jazz music does on an audience.

"Lonesome" is the story of a girl and a boy, both alone among the workers of New York. Like millions of people who live and move among the teeming crowds, they are lonesome for real friendship and love. The photoplay narrates how their efforts to forget lonesomeness led them to each other.

This production is Tryon's first serious role. It is in decided contrast to his comedies and marks him as an actor of much dramatic power. "Lonesome" is from a story by Mann Page and was made under the supervision of Carl Laemmle, Jr.
