Andrews Test May Drill to 4,800 Feet

Drilling in the Deep Rock Oil company No. 1 Kuykendall, Andrews County test two miles southwest of production, was resumed yesterday at 4,506 feet with intentions of carrying the hole to 4,800 feet, or sulphur water.

When drilling was resumed Thursday, the hole was standing practically full of oil, the first of which was encountered at 4,245 feet. Several slight increases were encountered in the lime section down to the present depth.

California Company and Atlantic Oil Producing Company are interested in the Andrews County test with Deep Rock Oil Company, Location is 2,310 feet from the south and west lines of section 24, block A-46, public school land.

Popular Editor Is Business Visitor

John L. McCarty, editor of the Dalhart Texan, one of the fastest growing weekly papers in West Texas, was in Midland Thursday and today. His trip was of a business nature.

McCarty is the editor who put over the first "Cuss the Editor" week, about which a veritable tempest raged for several weeks. It was claimed in East Texas that another editor started the movement, but it was proved that McCarty was the originator of the clever idea.

Newspaper advertisers and subscribers wrote the Texan for weeks, telling what they wanted from a newspaper and the editor. These letters came from several states, and were, for the most part, highly commendatory of the editor and his sheet.

POOL EXTENSION PROMISED; EAST TEXAS FRENZIED

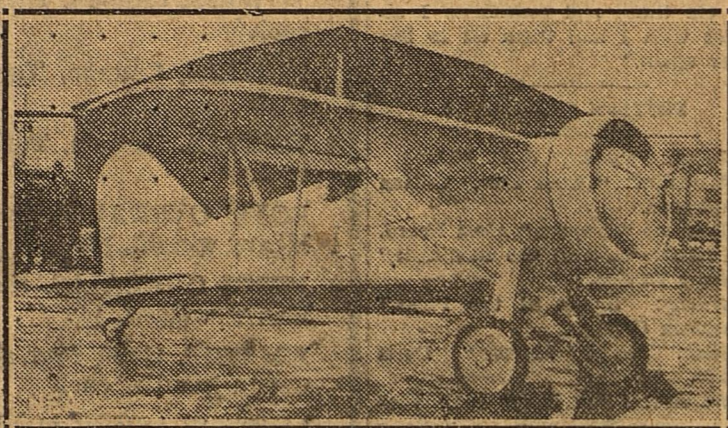

LONGVIEW, Feb. 20. (UP). — Substantial chalk and a trace of sand reported in the Mamie Hammond and J. M. Hamby No. 1 test and a promising formation being encountered in the Foster Fisher No. 1 today gave promise of a three and a half mile extension, of the Greag pool to the southwest and a five mile extension to the northwest. Trading in leases took on a renewed frenzy.

SHOCKERS BEAT OILERS

U. S. Navy's Mystery Plane

Armed guards protect this wasp-like navy fighting plane from prying eyes at Roosevelt Field, Long Island. Reputed to be the swiftest aerial battleship ever built, the craft was sent up on test flights under cover of darkness. Powered by a new type of air-cooled engine, the plane was designed for a top speed of 300 miles an hour. Its highly stream-lined fuselage tapers to a V shape at the bottom and the wings are staggered.

J. E. WITCHER, ODESSA RANCHER, SUCCUMBS TODAY

J. E. Witcher, well known Ector county cattleman, died in Odessa early today after a lingering illness. Details of funeral arrangements had not been announced when telephone messages advised friends of the Witcher family here of his death.

The cattleman had lived in this section for approximately 20 years, owning and operating one of the leading ranches of the Odessa area. He had spent much of his time in Midland, transacting a large part of his business here.

Two Officials to Handle Big Game

Two officials will handle tonight's "trophy chase" basketball game of The Reporter-Telegram and the Midland Clinic-Hospital, Dr. T. R. Wright, president of the Midland Industrial Basketball league announced early this afternoon.

Tom Rushing, principal of the Stanton high school, was asked to umpire the affair. Cantrell Hays, popular Odessa high school teacher, will referee.

The game begins at 8 o'clock sharp. A dance in Hotel Scharbauer will follow. Everyone is invited.

No Pretty Girls in This Place, Writes Canal Flyer

The soft scented tropical winds of Coco Solo, Canal Zone, sing no lullaby to a Midland airman who is stationed at the naval air base. Meridional glamour as sensuously written in the best sellers is to him a figment of the imagination of those who hibernate in a mountain cabin and consult maps of steamship lines, or those who play around Coney Island one night and write in some sheltered inlet along the Long Island coast the next.

"I wish the navy would establish a base in Midland and that I might be assigned to that place," he writes.

Benedict confided before leaving that he was possibly a victim of psychology, like many other flyers. Duty on the U.S.S. Saratoga, where thrills crowded into all his waking hours and sandwiched those hours punctuated by the periodical night bell, has given him little more to expect in the thrill world. For that reason, those happenings in the Canal zone that would be intensely interesting events to the fledgling are to him just expected routine happenings.

He sees the usual number of crack-ups, visits with the alligators at close quarters—at enforced intervals, flies patrol along the solemn route of the canal, has his moments of wonderment at the tangled jungleland that spreads out impen-

Cagers Dance at Ballroom Tonight

The first annual basketball dance of the Midland Industrial Basketball league will be held this evening in the ballroom of the Scharbauer hotel. The event which will follow after the final game of the city championship series this evening, will mark the closing of the basketball season, and will follow in a like manner each year.

Grady Gilder and his Imperial orchestra will furnish the musical entertainment.

Special features for the evening will consist of a general welcome to the "first champions" and presentation of the Industrial league trophy. This most important ceremony will be at intermission time and Paul Vickers, secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce, will present the well deserved prize to the winners. The dance just previous to intermission will be a feature affair, known as a Basketball Favor dance, in which couples dancing will be placarded to represent each team in the league. A process of eliminations will then follow and appropriate favors awarded to the winners.

The dance is not limited to basketball players, but reservations have been made by numerous fans, and by a party of 12 from Odessa.

Anyone will be admitted if he has a ticket, which may be purchased at the ballroom.

Masonic Service Is for Everyone

The George Washington memorial service to be held at 7:30 Sunday evening in the high school auditorium under the auspices of Masons, will not be restricted to attendance of Masons and their families, neither will there be a reserved section set apart for them in the house, Claude O. Crane announced today.

The Masons will not assemble in a body, but will attend with their families and sit with their families just as they elect.

The service will have as features special music, hymns, solos, invocations and a sermon preached by the Rev. Edwin C. Cahoun, pastor of the First Methodist church. The four principal Protestant churches will have no services on that evening, the ministers of those churches assisting in the Masonic meeting.

MAGNOLIA LETS CONTRACT FOR NEW FIRE PROOF STATION ON EAST WALL TO COST $9,000

Contract for construction of the Magnolia Petroleum company's new fire proof service station on east Wall street was let late Thursday to A. E. Brunson, general contractor of Dallas. Brunson was awarded a "turn-key" job and will handle all sub-contracts.

Cost of the station when completed, including an unusual amount of concrete work and paving about the grounds, will run from $8,000 to $9,000, it was announced this morning by a representative of the Magnolia company.

All labor used on the construction of the station will be local except the supervisor, it was announced. It is expected that the station will be completed and ready for occupancy by the lessee by April 1.

There will be a brick and steel, fireproof, building 22 by 24 feet in size, a paved drive 24 feet square, the entire building and grounds covering a tract 75 by 100 feet. The property is located where Wall and Front streets intersect with Fort Worth street.

Brunson, low bidder on the construction, has handled similar buildings for the Magnolia in a number of cities, it was stated. Local contractors, however, were given opportunity to place bids.

Work of leveling and clearing the grounds, preparatory to construction of the station, was started this morning.

Vets Bill Goes Over In Senate with Big Fanfare

President Hoover received the veterans' loan bill from Congress this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP). — Vice President Curtis and Speaker Longworth today signed the Veterans' Loan Relief bill, sending it to the White House where President Hoover was prepared to administer a prompt veto.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (UP). — Hoover was expected to veto presumably within the next few days the veterans' loan bill which passed the senate last night by a vote of 72 to 12.

34 Republicans Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. — The senate passed the veterans loan bill 72 to 12, completing one of the most devastating routs of the administration on Capitol Hill in the term of President Hoover.

The measure to which the president only yesterday voiced his vigorous objections was rushed through the senate with not only the votes

HIGH POINT OF BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP). — The veterans' loan bill would allow World war veterans to borrow up to half the face value of their bonus insurance certificates.

President Hoover and the treasury estimate approximately $1,000,000,000 will be borrowed, if the measure becomes law. Veterans Administrator Hines believes 2,550,000 veterans of the more than 3,000,000 holding the adjusted service certificates would avail themselves of the loans.

Interest on the loans would be charged at 4 1/2 per cent instead of 6 per cent as now.

Veterans are now allowed loans up to 22 1/2 per cent of value of bonus certificates. The average loan available to a veteran would be $500.

of 34 republicans for it but with support of many of these administration members in debate also. Applause rang from the galleries and the floor as the overwhelming majority was announced by Vice President Curtis at completion of the roll call.

DOING THE JOB RIGHT

Announcement Thursday that the paved alleys in Midland, constructed during the last paving project but not accepted by the city, were to be rebuilt comes as constructive news.

The alleys, as they are now, furnish an eye-sore each time a small shower falls. Water stands in the middle and causes mud to accumulate, making the pavement very little better than the former dirt alleys.

City officials are to be commended for having maintained an attitude of accepting nothing but first class work. The West Texas Construction company may be commended for its decision to "make the job good." A bad job in Midland would be poor advertising for a company of this size, and, regardless of how the miscalculation in drainage occurred, the company is doing right by itself and by the city to lay the Midland alleys in conformance with the street drainage.

Work of this kind comes as a boon to Midland at this time, even though the cost is hurting someone, because it will provide jobs for Midland jobless citizens.

The registration of laborers, to assure the fact that they are really full-fledged citizens of Midland and are not boomers or transients looking for some community fund to live on, is a wise move on the part of the city and construction executives.

NATIONAL BOYS' WEEK

National Boys' Week, which has become in recent years one of the outstanding events of the year in the United States, will be observed from April 25 to May 2 this year, it has been announced.

Walter W. Head, past president of the American Bankers' association, is general chairman of the event this year and already is laying plans for a big nation wide observance.

Boys' Week was first conceived in New York City in 1920, by the late William Lewis Butcher, and promoted that year by the New York Rotary club. So successful was this experiment that in the brief span of eleven years the idea of Boys' Week has attracted to it the active interest of community leaders in all parts of the world. More than 100 national and international service clubs, boys work organization and educational or social welfare agencies are now cooperating in the concentration of attention upon the boys of the world.

In a few short years since its inception, Boys' Week has brought about some wonderful results. Although it is not always possible to definitely analyze the spiritual values in such a movement, there is an undoubted awakening of the community, the state, the nation and the world to the recognition of the boy and his problems as something fundamental in the future life of the commonwealth.

The boy of today is confronted with a much more complex world than the day of his father's boyhood, and the sense of responsibility for equipping the boy to meet and conquer his roming environment is growing in the minds of his elders.

"Boys must be advertised," said Mr. Butcher, "not for the sake of exploiting them, but in order that the citizenship of the world may come to their assistance, provide for their development, safeguard their future and see to it that the world is made safe for the leaders of the days not so far ahead of us."

Beginning with Loyalty Day on Saturday, April 25, this year's program continues with daily programs outlined for Boys' Day in Churches, in Industry, in Schools, in Entertainment and Athletics, in Health and Home activities, in Citizenship and concludes with Boys Day Out-of-Doors on Saturday, May 2.

THE ADVANTAGES OF C. I. A. (Ex-Students Series) By Mary Belle Pratt

For some reason, many people have entirely the wrong idea of a woman's college, and especially of one such as the College of Industrial Arts. We hear parents say every day that C. I. A. is no school for their daughters, and their girls heartily agree with them without even so much as visiting the campus. If they but realized it, they are doing not only themselves but the college a great injustice.

Now, why this feeling prevails, or why so many people do not favor women's colleges is a great problem to be solved. If only girls would banish from their minds the unpleasant things which they have heard about C. I. A. and would find out for themselves whether these things are true, they would change their opinions very quickly. Think for a moment of the innumerable advantages to be gained at this college.

Surely the object of every person is to live a useful life, or if this is not his aim, it certainly should be. In preparing for later years, the College of Industrial Arts has the advantages of a more extensive vocational curriculum than can be found in but very few co-educational institutions. Courses are offered here which cannot be found anywhere else in this part of the country, and for this reason students from almost every state in the Union are enrolled. The very high standard of the vocational department is clearly shown by the number of C. I. A. graduates who are now filling industrial and professional positions the world over.

As for the democratic spirit which rules the campus, no other college can compare with C. I. A. At any hour of the day girls in blue chambrays can be seen trudging up and down "Blue Serge Hill." If not this, what then could make for equality among the students? Rich girls, poor girls, city girls, country girls—all mingle together, and they are all the happier for their pleasant associations with one another. Indeed, the uniform dress is the chief factor in bringing forth the democratic spirit, and it has done much in making the college what it is today.

At C. I. A. the problem of expense is done away with. One of the first lessons that the college girl learns here is economy, and after four years of this training a C. I. A. graduate is able to spend her money to the very best advantage. Thrift is one of the greatest lessons to learn in life and also one of the most difficult, but when it is once instilled into a person, it never leaves him. This economy is said to be one of the most favorable aspects of the college, to the parents at least.

Taken all in all, there is no other college which has such an uplifting and inspiring atmosphere, such noble ideals, and such beautiful traditions. No girl could attend the College of Industrial Arts without feeling that she has accomplished something worth while, socially, spiritually, and mentally. She comes from C. I. A. a cultured woman ready to take her place in the world and to be a credit to herself, her parents, and her college. This, then, is the great opportunity which awaits every girl, and if she could only realize the wonderful advantages within her reach, she would surely make the most of them.

PETERS SPEAKS TO SCHOOL

The Rev. Howard Peters, pastor of the First Christian church of the city, spoke in the chapel assembly of the high school Monday morning. He talked on unselfish living in order to make the world a better place in which to live. He said that someone had said that dead people have no pockets in their shrouds, but he believes they do and carry them with them morals, conscience, and memories. He encouraged all the students to live in such a way that when they come to die they would be able to say that the world was a little better because they had lived.

some hot words were passed.

I had expected to have received letters from as many as a dozen coffee guzzlers before this time, giving me some support in the campaign I started Tuesday for a sliding scale rate for big coffee consumers.

If there has been any reaction, even by the coffee guzzlers, I haven't heard of it. The only reason I took up the campaign was because it looked like the coffee guzzlers needed a champion for their cause, but if they think I'm going to put up the whole fight without any support or encouragement from the birds who would be benefitted, they are wrong.

I will either receive some letters of encouragement from coffee guzzlers or I will never mention the rates on coffee again.

Here's what I think really happened. The coffee guzzlers went home Tuesday night and found that their wives had already read my article, showing how much per month the average guzzler spends for coffee.

When the wives found that the coffee bill was running around $10.50 a month, as much as or more than the gas or electric bill, and from two to three times as much as the telephone or water bill,

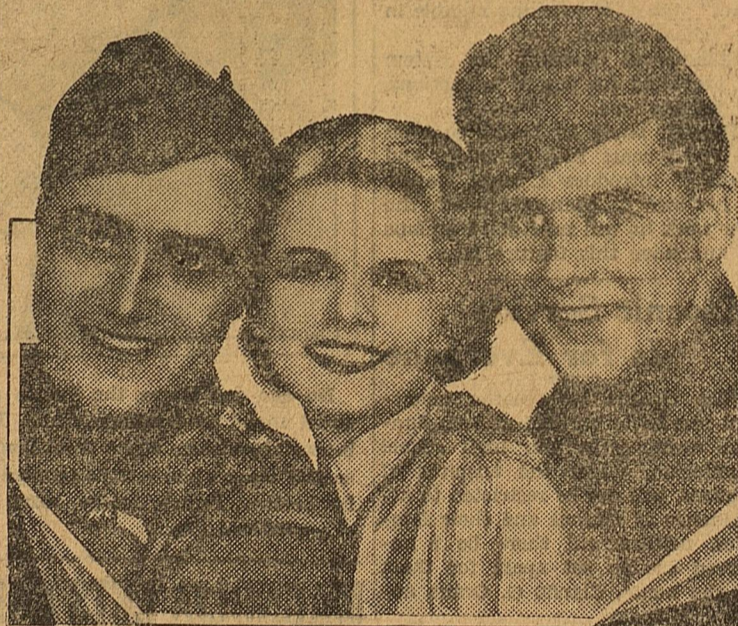

This probably put the coffee guzzlers in the hole, silencing them to the extent that they have been leary of breaking in to print or of having too much to say about the high price of coffee guzzling.

In other words, the coffee guzzler is in bad down town and also at home. He is paying a nickel a cup straight for his coffee, without benefit of a reduced rate on all over 70 cups, and then another drop over 150 cups; but when he goes home he gets hopped for spending so much for one purpose.

However, these home troubles are something in which I have no statement to make, no hand to take. I will remember the cartoon of the man who attempted to rescue a wife who was receiving a beating from her husband. The wife and husband both turned on the would-be rescuer with the result that he went to the hospital. None of that for me.

I will do what I can on the coffee rate, but I must have some support. Do you guzzlers want cheaper coffee, or don't you?

THRILLING AIR FIGHTS IN "HELL'S ANGELS" COST $2,000,000 TO FILM

Scene from Howard Hughes' "Hell's Angels"

"Hell's Angels," the most expensive and most talked about film-drama of all times, will be the deluxe attraction at the Ritz theatre, starting Sunday.

Nearly three years in the making, and bearing an overhead cost of approximately $4,000,000, this lavish air-thriller is the screen sensation of the new era of talkies.

Howard Hughes, the 25-year-old producer and director of "Hell's Angels," has shattered all records in time and money spent on a single picture. His prodigal outlay is discussed wherever films are shown, and fans everywhere are eager to view the first multi-million dollar talkie.

It is more than three years since "Hell's Angels" was first launched—as a silent super. Subsequently the cast and story were revamped, and all of the non-flying sequences re-filmed, with sound and dialogue.

Ben Lyon, James Hall and Jean Harlow are co-featured in the leading roles and are supported by such well-known players as John Darrow, Lucien Prival, Jane Winton, Lena Malena, Douglas Gilmore, Stephen Carr, Tommy Carr, Pat Somerset, Granville Davis, Lisa Gora, Wyndham Hall and others.

Approximately 137 aviators, and as many mechanics, including nearly ever stunt flyer and ex-war ace available in America, participated in the sky action of "Hell's Angels."

Holding interest for the last days of the week are several pretty parties given in compliment to clubs and one as a courtesy to Mrs. Robert O'Conner of Pasadena, California, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. Harry Anderson.

Cherry sprays topped the colorful prize packages which were received by Mrs. Ernest McKinney, high guest, Mrs. B. F. Taylor, high club, and Mrs. Fred Brown, high cut. Prizes were silhouettes of George and Martha Washington and a colonial make-up box.

At tea time, tables were laid in cloths of the colors and centered with clever cherry trees with bases filled with mints. The salad plates carried red, white and blue sandwiches of star shapes, cherry pies, and Mary Ann molds of chicken with celery centers.

Black-Draught Benefited Kentucky Man Who Had Been In Poor Health.

Georgetown, Ky.—Believing that an account of his experience might be of assistance to people suffering from complaints which Black-Draught should relieve, Mr. G. E. Penn, 115 Stone Ave., this city says: "In regard to Black-Draught, I want it known what it has done for me and how thankful I am. "For several years, I had been in poor health. I could not eat and did not relish the small amount of food I managed to force down. I had no energy, was tired all the time, also troubled with constipation. I fell off in weight from 187 to 145 pounds. "I was telling a friend of mine how I felt, and he told me he had been in the same fix and advised me to try Black-Draught. This I did, and you do not know how much better I feel in every way. I can eat three square meals a day. I feel like a man 30 years old instead of 60." This well-known medicine has been in use nearly 100 years, and its popularity is constantly increasing, as growing sales clearly prove. Costs only 1¢ a dose. RA 1204

North Ward P. T. A. Transacts Important Business Thursday

Two meetings each month during the remainder of the school year will be held by the North Ward Parent-Teacher association, it was decided at a business meeting yesterday afternoon.

Parents' Visitation day will be observed by the group February 27 when each mother is requested to visit the school.

A report was made by the club that 30 children were being provided with milk each morning by the association. Plans were made for the summer round-up which is strictly a P. T. A. project.

The play to be sponsored by the association is "The Path of True Love," and will be directed by Mrs. J. G. Gemmill assisted by Mrs. Ed. Cole and Mrs. Fred Wemple.

Mrs. Stacy Allen's room had the most mothers represented at the Thursday meeting and the room will possess the picture for a month.

Plans Made to Bring 1931 W. C. T. U. Convention Here

Hope for securing the state convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union for Midland next fall was expressed by the local union at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Recent correspondence with the state officials reveals possibilities of the delegation coming here for several days and the Midland women are planning to make strong efforts to make this city the 1931 convention place.

In addition to the business meeting, the program in observance of the Frances E. Willard Memorial day was presented by a group headed by Mrs. R. L. Mitchell. "Frances E. Willard's Message to Women of Today," was given by Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy; "Organizing with the Willard Memorial Funds" was discussed by Mrs. George F. Brown. An offering for the fund was made following this talk.

"Prohibition Patriots" was the subject reviewed by Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. T. S. Nettleton spoke on "The Influence of Frances E. Willard Over John B. Gough." Lucille McMullan presented two entertaining readings.

Twenty-seven women attended the meeting with Mrs. Horace Rankin, Mrs. D. J. Quinn, Mrs. Carl Reeves and Mrs. Smly Kannon being added as new members.

At tea time the hostesses, Mrs. G. W. Breneman, at whose home the meeting was held, Mrs. Lee Bradshaw and Mrs. Noel Oates served ices and cakes revealing the patriotic color scheme with tiny flags as favors.

The next meeting of the union will be on March 5 at the First Christian church when members meet for business.

Fruit Rice Put one breakfast cupful of well-washed rice into a saucepan with six tablespoonfuls of moist sugar, a tablespoonful of butter and three pints of milk, and boil gently until tender, stirring it occasionally. Rinse out a mould with cold water, then line it round the bottom and sides with any kind of canned fruit, pour the rice gently into the prepared mould, being very careful not to disarrange the fruit, and set it in a cold place. Whip one pint of thick cream with the juice of the fruit. When quite set turn

GAME TONIGHT CLOSES LEAGUE SEASON

CLINIC AND REPORTER-TELEGRAM IN TIE FOR TROPHY; BIG DANCE AT THE SCHARBAUER FOLLOWS GAME'S ENDING

A 40-minute squabble in the Scharbauer gym this evening and the colors of either the Midland Clinic-Hospital or The Reporter-Telegram will fly in the zephyrs of the once gusty Industrial Basketball league. The colors will snap for a whole year. No more swishing down of the black or the scarlet as first one club holds the upper hand in the percentage column, then the other.

Tonight's issue will decide the league, and the trophy goes to the lucky club. The game is the third of a three-game play-off. Clinic won the Monday game, 24-23, and The Reporter-Telegram won Wednesday night, 29-23.

Jaded players of the two clubs will be glad when the final whistle blows. Weakened by illness and injuries, the two clubs have slowed up considerably during the past three weeks. The final stroke of ill fortune struck Clinic Monday night when Clayton, sniper for the doctors' offense, tore the ligaments in his right foot and was automatically "out" for the remainder of the play-off.

The two clubs, together with other clubs of the loop, will dance at Hotel Scharbauer after the game. The whole town is invited to come out and dance with them in the first annual league promenade.

Tonight's game begins promptly at 8 o'clock.

With the CAGERS

By SPORTS EDITOR

The boys in the Industrial Basketball league can take their curtain calls tonight. The asbestos shield rumbles down for the last time this season. A victor will be acclaimed.

Clinic and Reporter-Telegram have been inflexible enemies in the cage court all season. They play harder against each other than against any of the other teams in the loop. It is fitting that they should end the season as they will tonight. And that a dance should be given following the game—the first of a line of dances that will probably be given at the conclusion of future Industrial league seasons.

I'm getting a string of inquiries about a horse shoe league. And the boosters of a checker tournament are getting hot and bothered. As for the croquet wielders, they are feeling the prickly feeling around the collar, and tennis promoters are asking when their season should

GRADY GILDER INTRODUCES NEW HIT, "WEAVE OF THE BASKETEERS," WHEN INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE DANCES TONIGHT

"The Weave of the Basketeers," a new musical composition written by Grady Gilder especially for tonight's dance of the Industrial basketball league, will draw a big crowd to the ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer following the finale of the league season in tonight's play-off of Clinic and Reporter-Telegram for the league trophy.

A big crowd will see the game at the gymnasium then go immediately afterward to the ballroom. Twelve reservations from Odessa had been made this morning, and it was expected that Big Spring would have several at the hop.

The dance is the first annual Industrial league prom. It is being given in honor of the club that wins tonight. Grady Gilder and his nine-piece orchestra have arranged a series of novelty numbers especially for tonight, but has been requested by the management of the hotel to keep "Babe" from singing the blues. It was explained that dance crowds always get too noisy when "Babe" sings. He is a popular member of the orchestra and has been here with Grady for a series of engagements that have been interspersed over the last three years. Tickets to basketball players will cost $1, to non-players $1.50.

start. It appears someone started something when the Industrial league was gracefully born and was found to have a healthy body and good appetite. Everything in the way of community competition must be organized just like the Industrial. This newspaper is interested to hear from anyone who would like to enter a horse shoe tournament, a checker tournament, a tennis or croquet tourney—or anything else. You must have sport, and this department must have sports. Why not get together?

We've heard a lot of tales of local horse shoe pitchers, with an assortment of clarifying details on how good they are and that sort of twaddle. Some of the most dignified business men would like to get into a nose-tweaking with some other business men with a checker-board the only thing between them. All sorts of tournaments will be lined up, and soon. In the meantime, let's hear from you.

My Scotch friend, Major Robert Campbell of Big Spring, is ill. I wired him some flowers in the early morning. I have not had time to telephone him yet to see how he fares, but will later in the day. How do I know he is off his feed? The answer is one of those automatic ones: Bobby wrote his entire column without lambasting some other columnist and hanging out that unfortunate's hide to dry. When that sports polyglot winds up with one of his coined phrases its a two-to-one bet somebody's due to get hurt. It's worth the missing of a dinner engagement with your friend's best girl just to go home, get on your dressing gown and slippers, prop up and read the verbal pyrotechnics set of simultaneously by the major and by Blondy Cross of San Angelo. These two have fingers that itch for the feel of the other's adam's apple. To make the exchange a bit more interesting, Prexy Anderson and Boyce House act as seconds and slip up when nobody's looking and sneak in a kidney chop or two to the combatants. Then Cross and Campbell decide to bury the hatchet—but Cross throws Concho sand over his so that it can be uncovered quickly and Campbell leaves the handle sticking out so he can grab it even more quickly.

Editor James Kelly of Stanton was over last night and, surprising to say, didn't ask us over to dinner with him the following week. We have promised so often to go over to Stanton and look about with him, and have neglected said promise so much, he is about to lose even his inherent urbanity. We are due a hunt together—a bet from last football season—and will probably have nothing to shoot when we do bump into each other, unless it is each other. We might compromise and blast away at young Campbell over at Big Spring. There's an open season on Campbell, and the Howard county commissioners court has offered a bounty on his ears, so it's said.

PATRIOTIC DAY AT MEN'S CLASS IN SCHARBAUER

Sunday will be a patriotic day in the mammoth class for all men which meets in Hotel Scharbauer. The picture of George Washington, the Stars and Stripes and a flag draped pulpit will be part of the decorations arranged under supervision of Arthur G. Jury, manager of Hotel Scharbauer. Patriotic songs as well as the popular old fashioned songs will be sung.

R. D. Scruggs expects to have 100 per cent attendance for the Scruggs Buick company. The Hughes Tool company, the Atlantic Tank farm, the Llano Barber shop, the Scharbauer Barber shop, The Reporter-Telegram and others are pulling for extra large attendance. Any manager who will try for 100 per cent attendance on March 1 is asked to announce the fact Sunday. Various division leaders are at work this week to increase the attendance. Every man in Midland of any denomination or no denomination not in Sunday school elsewhere is invited. The invitations includes all men 20 years old to 100 who do not go to some other class.

Temperature Still In High Scale Here

Warm weather in Midland has set even the old timers to guessing. Temperatures continue well above the seasonal mark.

Over most of the Amarillo weather district of the U. S. department of agriculture, an extensive territory, general light to moderate rains occurred, reporting stations informed.

Range conditions have showed general improvement from southern Texas Panhandle southward. Range conditions are reported excellent over the southern portion to fair to good elsewhere.

Midland, Eastland and Quanah, with 68 degrees reported for the highest temperature of the week, were, with only four exceptions, the towns of West Texas with hottest weather. It was 70 degrees at Snyder, 72 at Spur. Lowest temperature in Midland during the week was 32 degrees. No ice was found the night of this temperature reading.

Rainfall during the weather week totalled .08 inch.

No Pretty Girls--

getting to shoot a few rebels and drink a lot of cold beer. We shoved off from there some time that night and arrived in the Canal Zone the morning of the 20th. Came through the canal the next day and I reported to the air station for duty. Was assigned to a torpedo and bombing squadron having eighteen 13M2's, big seaplanes with 800 horse power Packard motors. I was checked out the following day and found they handle about like a ten-ton truck loaded with gravel; they won't even do a decent wing-over, or at least I can't do a decent wing-over in one.

"Have been to Balboa a few times and one squadron formation is about all the flying we have done. Mostly we are getting the planes ready for the War Maneuvers coming up the middle of the month. The Scouting Fleet came in yesterday, fifty-two ships, all anchored in the bay, so you can imagine what Colon is like when that mob of sailors get ashore where there is a bar on every corner and six in between.

"This should be a good 'war' this year—you see the navy has war maneuvers every year. It is technically called fleet concentration but the participants call it war maneuvers. The battle fleet of the west coast is steaming down this way, their date of arrival unknown; they are the enemy and are attacking the canal. The Scouting fleet assisted by the air station, submarine base, and army are the defense. The Saratoga with her squadrons of nearly a hundred fighting, scouting, and bombing planes will assist in repulsing the enemy. Each year we see aviation gradually taking the lead in these maneuvers, and more planes taking part. The Lexington and Saratoga are bringing their squadrons, the planes of the Wright are in our hangars, twelve big twin motored flying boats of two east coast patrol squadrons are due to arrive late this afternoon from Guantanamo bay, and last night the Los Angeles passed over, her navigation lights mingling with the stars and her great silvery form outlined against the brilliancy of a tropical moon. The last time I saw the L. A. I was leaving Washington in a T4M going to Hampton Roads, and she slipped out from behind a cloud headed for Washington from Lakehurst, N. J. Pretty small world after all, don't you think so?"

"That's about all I can think of that might be of interest, ordinarily this is a very quiet place, not much to do other than fly trans-canal occasionally and spend the rest of the day wishing the navy would put an air station at Midland and give me duty there.

"One of the Pan-American planes cracked off yesterday. It was coming in from Jamaica, and was about three miles from the field when both motors quit cold. He didn't have anywhere to land but the top of a coconut tree, which he did so successfully that the crew was only badly shaken up. They had to wait until midnight while a rescue party cut their way through the jungles to get to them. So I guess I'll stay over the water in my little "Playboy," as I don't fancy entertaining a bunch of alligators as lazy as they

NEGRO SHOT, ONE OFFICER INJURED IN PITCHED ROW

KOSSE, Feb. 20. (P)—One negro was probably fatally shot and two others escaped during a gunfight along the Southern Pacific railway tracks near here today after railway agents received a tip that negroes were planned to wreck the train.

A bullet went through Railway Agent J. B. Piper's overcoat at the waistline but did not injure him. No one of the officers was hurt.

Officers said the negroes were also wanted in connection with the death of Charlie Hunter, white, thrown from the train here last week.

Goat-Getter Tag Found by Bryan

The staccato pulsing of a motorcycle halted the racy car with the blue license plate.

"What sort of license is that?" Officer Bryan Middleton inquired.

"Simple enough—it's an international plate," the driver said, grinning.

"What you mean—a truck license?" the motorcycle officer wanted to know, looking at the sport car.

"No, I mean all over," the driver explained. "This license was issued me by the Dollar Steamship line and lets me tour the world without extra registration—except in this country and in France. They charge me fifty cents a day to drive this wreck in that little place of hamlets and distorted lingo."

"Well, what are you doing driving it in this country if it isn't allowed?" the officer persisted.

"Well, I've got plates awaiting me in Los Angeles," the motorist said, showing a receipt. "Wired for 'em." The name on the receipt was F. Amann. It cost $250, and was listed as 252KFL.

"Okay, brother," Middleton said, waving the carefree motorist on his way. "If you got this far on that thing I guess you can make it across the rest of this jolly little old U. S. A., adding under his breath, "he could almost get any cop with that new fangled license. What is it, anyway?"

Tells of Chicago Jobless Situation

M. L. Hendrickson, electrical engineer with the Insull interests in Chicago, and brother of A. N. Hendrickson of Midland, has had a "close-up" of the unemployment situation in that city through being assigned to welfare work under the government of Illinois, and has written his brother of the magnitude of the situation.

He told of 300,000 unemployed persons in Chicago and of the raising of a $5,999,999 fund to support charities and provide part-time jobs for the most needy.

Representatives of public utility companies formed the greater part of the personnel in aiding the government in this huge task.

The greater number of unemployed interviewed by Hendrickson were laborers brought to Chicago by railroads, factories and meat packers about ten years ago, and many Mexicans, Italians and persons not naturalized as United States citizens were included.

Hendrickson reported that on Feb. 15, the date of his letter, the $5,000,000 fund was almost spent, and that the charity organizations could not possibly feed the families in dire need of food.

M. L. Hendrickson is a younger brother of the Midland oil man, having graduated a year ago from Oklahoma university in electrical engineering, taking up a position with the Insull interests in Chicago.

Thursday Miss Bredimier, county nurse, and Judge Hill were with at the school conducting a health examination of the school. All of the students were weighed and measured but time permitted only Miss Carpenter's students to be examined. Even though the health of the room as a whole, was not bad, it was found that many children need medical attention at once. In the interest of the children's health it is hoped this attention can be given immediately.

Nearly a Hundred Cents

Your dollar is nearer worth a hundred cents today, than it has in many, many years.

Those of us who expect to see conditions again as they were in nineteen twenty seven, eight and the early part of twenty nine, are due for disappointment.

But, while the average one of us will have fewer dollars coming in, those dollars will buy much more.

Speaking for this store, the merchandise will average nearer pre-war prices than at any time since 1917.

Here are a few examples and while we may have selected the more outstanding ones, we believe that 69c will buy as much in this store today as a dollar would have bought two years ago.

At $1.00 the yard, we are selling an all silk, 40 inch washable Crepe de Chine that is a better material than was being sold at $1.95 the yard, two years ago.

At 39c the yard, is all silk, 12 Mme, pongee that sold at 85c the yard, as late as 1929.

A yard wide, fast colors percale at 15c the yard is just about to prewar prices and this same cloth sold at 25c the yard and more.

Yesterday, we marked down all of our Service weight all silk $1.50 stockings to ONE DOLLAR the pair, for the reason that we are now able to buy these so they can be sold for $1.00. In fact we are selling a better stocking today at $1.00 than was sold at $1.50 to as much as $1.95 the pair, two years ago.

Our $1.95 stocking is the same or better quality than sold at $2.95 to $3.50.

$1.50 will buy a better shirt today, than was sold for $2.50, two years ago. Manhattan $1.95 shirts are better than were the $2.50 ones of 1928.

We'd like you to compare Friendly Five Shoes for spring with any $7.50 to $8.50 shoe, of two years ago, and every pair of Friendly Five shoes are $5.00.

Packard Shoes today at $7.50 were $10.00 up to twelve months ago.

We are selling Stacy Adams shoes at $10.00 the pair, and they have always been $15.00 the pair.

This store is meeting existing conditions and in a great many instances, anticipating them with better merchandise at lower prices than in many many years.

Story of Songs Is Dramatized in Play

For the second time this year, students of the public speaking department were presented in a play by Miss Stella Maye Lanham at the high school literary society meeting this afternoon.

The play, "Dramatized Story of Our National Songs," by Harold Bissbee, was an appropriate observance of George Washington's birthday. The aim of the production was to portray the circumstances attending the writing of national songs in an interesting and educational manner.

Characters were Conrad Dunaagan, Lawrence Hawkins, H. L. Straughan, Vann Mitchell and Jean Verdier. The quartet singing patriotic songs was composed of G. B. Hallman, Ed Watts, Carl Reeves and T. Dozier, directed by Miss Lena Solomon.
