ELEMENTS RAGE IN FRIGID SWIRL ACROSS PANHANDLE

WARMER WEATHER EXPECTED

Most of Southwest in Blanket of Snow Saturday

DALLAS, March 7. (UP). Snow, rain and sleet swirled across North Texas and the Panhandle today as a wintry blast spent its force on the Southwest. Sunshine and warmer weather were due today. The damage done to the young fruit orchards cannot be estimated until next week, agriculture experts said. It is feared damage was done to East Texas crops. Temperature was 16 degrees there at seven o'clock this morning.

Snow in Southwest KANSAS CITY, March 7. (UP). Snow and sleet swept across the Southwest today, blanketing most of the area with the heaviest fall of the year. Heavy wind piled up huge drifts. The storm was expected to spend itself in the Southwest today.

Jealousy Motive in Confessed Slaying

DENVER, March 7. (UP).—Jealousy was ascribed by police today as the motive for the slaying of Mrs. Katharine Beach, 32, maid, by her husband, Lellie Beach, 42, whom she married secretly three months ago. Beach, a chauffeur, surrendered to authorities last night. Detectives said he confessed the killing.

Chamber Meeting Date Postponed

Due to the absence of so many directors from the city, Malcolm M. Meek, president of the chamber of commerce, has set the meeting date up one week. The directors meeting will be held Monday night, March 16, instead of the regular monthly meeting time. Several directors will be in Fort Worth at the Fat Stock show, or at Austin to attend the land validation hearing.

Ira Lord Buys Land From Elkin

Ira F. Lord has bought a section of land from W. B. Elkin four and a half miles northwest of town, and is putting the last 110 acres in cultivation. Lord, a successful farmer, will personally operate the farm. He says 20 acres of sudan grass on the place will give him considerably more pasturage than 110 acres in grass.

Andrews Asked to Open Another Road

ODESSA, March 7. (Special).—A petition will be presented to the Andrews county commissioners court, at its regular session next week, praying that body to open a county road west from Andrews to a point in the west Andrews county line near Eunice, N. M., according to information supplied by secretary Wilson, of the Andrews chamber of commerce.

This road is of great importance, in that it opens up a direct route to the New Mexico oil fields and provides a much needed outlet for New Mexico operators to Andrews, Odessa and Midland. The road is to be of standard construction and will be first class throughout its entire length, according to Wilson. Residents of Odessa and Midland are particularly interested in the project, since a direct route to the New Mexico oil fields long has been a necessity.

Globe Battered Saturday As Storms, Quakes, Other Disturbances Take Place

(By the Associated Press) This globe was battered Saturday by storms, raging rivers, earthquakes, dangerous gales and Atlantic storms. The North sea flooded lands on the English coast and imperiled ships. In the United States, a blizzard swept the prairie states and the Great Lakes region, blocking highways, snapping poles and slowing up traffic.

The snow covered a great region. Earth shocks demolished buildings in Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Greece, South Siberia, and in France rivers overflowed. In the Texas Panhandle, the sun slowly melted a snow blanket and temperatures hovered low over most of this state, rising in the Rio Grande valley, where the fruit area had withstood the cold. Northeast Texas reported its fruit crop was badly damaged.

MIDLAND MEN TO ASK AUSTIN SUPPORT

Several Midland men will leave this morning for Austin, where they will work in interest of Senate Bill 310 and House Bill 542.

County Judge M. R. Hill, Hillary Bedford, Clarence Scharbauer, Mulard Eldson, M. C. Ulmer, Walter Cowden and J. R. Martin signified their intention of going, and there was a possibility that Mayor Leon Goodman would join them at the last minute. W. F. Schorborough, president of the West Texas Landowners association, Saturday sent out letters to 50 house members of East Texas, urging their support of the house bill.

A copy of the letters follows: "The object of this letter is to try to explain the injustice of the Graves House Bill No. 312, and the injustice to the people of the western part of the state, as we believe, of the court decision in the case of Green vs. Robison, and to respectfully ask your serious consideration and best thought before you cast your vote for this bill.

"We believe that practically all, if not all, of the representatives of this state are fair-minded men and will do the right thing regardless of consequences, when they believe they are right.

"If the Senate Bill 310 and House Bill 542 are not enacted into a law, then a great number of the landowners in West Texas are up against the real thing. As you well know, the 1919 mineral act sold the land to the settlers with 15-16ths of the mineral. And you further know that the latest court decision takes 1-2 the minerals and the Graves bill does the same.

"The people in the country affected make their living by stock-raising. There is county after county, beginning west of here some 40 miles, that has no agricultural land whatever, except along the Pecos and Rio Grande valleys where they irrigate. We can not make a living farming. In Winkler county, where I ranch, there is not a single 5-acre patch; in fact, I can not call to mind a garden spot. The soil is too poor to grow stuff and if it were not, the sandstorms and dry weather would prevent our growing crops. A great number of West Texas counties will not run more than 10 or 15 head of cattle per section. The only easy money we have ever made out here was by these oil leases and rentals; and that has practically all been spent for debts, paying state land interest, taxes, improvements, and bread and meat.

"If one-half of that is taken from us, according to the Graves bill and present court decision, a large number of landowners will be absolutely bankrupt.

"The oil possibilities are greatly over-estimated. Where there is one acre of oil land there are thousands and hundreds of thousands of acres without minerals. You may draw a line north and south from where the Pecos river comes out of Mexico and west of the line the country has been punched full of holes and not a single producing well. The Hendricks pool in Winkler county covers some three or four sections and was a large pool when first (See ASKS SUPPORT page 8)

41 MEN ESCAPE FLAMES

Guard Saves Men as He Discovers the Raging Blaze

KENNASVILLE, N. C., March 7. (UP).—Eleven negro convicts were burned to death this morning when fire destroyed the Duplin county prison camp several miles south of here. There were 52 convicts in the stockade. A guard, Owen Baisben, saved 41 of the convicts. D. F. Nicholson was the only other guard on duty. Flames kept the others from being reached.

Midland School Typists Win Meet

Midland high school's "fast typing twins," Alice Buchanan and Marie Hill, defeated several teams from high schools along the Orient railway, at a meet at McCamey Saturday.

The Midland students won first and second places at the meet, as well as a $75 loving cup offered. Towns present were those between San Angelo and Marfa. Miss Buchanan averaged 45 9-15 words a minute, Miss Hill, 40 11-15. The nearest competitor was an Iran student, who made 33 words a minute.

Hoovers Visit Son During Week End

WASHINGTON, March 7. (UP).—President Hoover and wife planned to leave tonight for a brief visit with their son, Herbert junior, at Asheville, N. C., where the young Hoover has been convalescing this winter.

Motion Picture Actor Is Stranded in Midland

Cherokee Indian Who Made Several Films With Tom Mix Believes in Rodeo Film He Carries; Family Trudges Along Too; Benefit Scheduled

By R. C. HANKINS

A cinema actor who worked with long before Mix caught the public motion picture star—a full-blooded Cherokee Indian who had feature roles in "The Criminal Code," "Dirigible," "Great Meadow," "The Covered Wagon," "North of 36," "The Thundering Herd," and numerous other less known pictures.

But an actor who, like many others during the past 16 months practically has been ruined by his own ambition to turn producer.

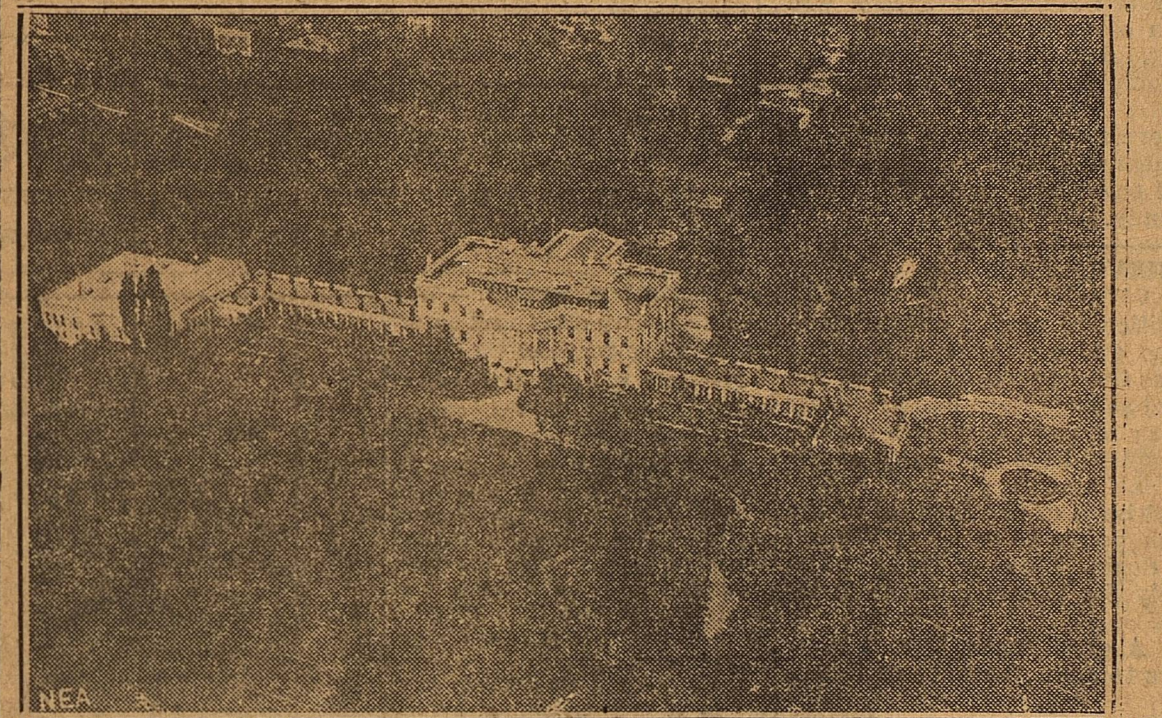

This is "Tex" Jones, who came into Midland Saturday, walking on the highway with his wife, mother-in-law and two children, but who carried a precious satchel along with him.

The satchel contains two reels of the only rodeo that has ever been filmed with complete sound effects. It is the sort of rodeo that would appeal to any native of the West, showing 70,000 people in the great stands at Salina, Calif., and costing $60,000 to make.

This picture will be shown at the Ritz theatre Sunday night, following the regular show which ends at 11 o'clock, in a benefit performance for the actor and his family. This courtesy was offered by Manager John Bonner, who will arrange the show so that the actor will get every cent of the box office.

The story of "Tex" Jones is one of big moments and moments that crashed down around his ears. Denied an education, he worked on ranches here and there, finally joining up with the 101 outfit. Here he and Mix became inseparable friends.

Come On—Let's Drop in On the Hoovers!

Here's a view of the White House that tourists don't often get. Strikingly pictured in its setting of trees and shrubbery, the Executive Mansion and the surrounding grounds are seen here as they appear from the air on a clear day. In the foreground is the spacious lawn where Washington children will enjoy their annual Easter egg roll in a few weeks. At the left are the executive offices, which were renovated after their partial destruction by fire last New Year's.

FORTY-ONE JOIN RANKS TO BOOST TRADES DAY PLAN

Forty-one business houses of Midland have so far entered an agreement to stage a great trade promotion campaign in Midland. A Trades day every first Saturday is to be the main event. The cooperating merchants are paying the expenses of the campaign, and believe it will bring them large returns. The campaign is open to every business house in Midland which is a member of the chamber of commerce. Others who wish to join the 35 are asked to do so at once. Those business houses already on the list are herewith recorded, and those who come in within the next few days will be recorded also. (See FORTY-ONE JOIN page 8)

New Port Map Made by C of C

New maps of Sloan field are to be issued shortly by the department of commerce. The Midland chamber of commerce forwarded to the United States department of commerce revised maps of the Midland airport, from which the government will draft a new official map. The chamber of commerce drawing was prepared by Cecil Hodges of the Texas Electric Service company. Hodges had charge of the wiring of the field. He is now taking flying instructions from H. M. Becherer.

Chinese Area Is Swept by Floods

GENEVA, March 7. (UP).—Canton of Saagau, in the Subur valley, was inundated today as the district was swept by the worst flood of thirty years. The River Thur overflowed and flooded the countryside around Fraundfeld.

Money Sacks Found; Couple Is Arrested

DALLAS, March 7. (UP).—A couple arrested today in a down town hotel was being held in connection with the robbery of the Treco, Kansas, bank. Officers said that several money sacks and pennies were found in the room.

KICKED ON "SHANTY IRISH"

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP).—Mrs. Laura Muckermann obtained a divorce here because her husband called her "shanty Irish."

Scouts on Hike Lose To Weather

Midland boy scouts, 65 of them, returned Saturday from Castle Gap, 65 miles away, where they spent Friday night in encampment. No injuries were reported by the group, though the five troops had to leave their beds and gather at the council fire at 2 o'clock in the morning because of the intense cold.

The trip was instructive, every scout looking over the old ambulance ground and the places where adventurers sought the legendary gold buried by Mexican troops.

KEROSENE FIRE BRINGS DEATH TO MOTHER AND SON

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 7. (UP).—A mother and her child died in the hospital as result of a fire in their home yesterday. Mrs. Mary Lee, 27, and her son Jack, four, were fatally burned when some kerosene oil which the mother put on wood in the stove exploded.

$13,500 in Permits Issued During Week

Building permits in Midland over the week included $3500 for the Magonia Pilling station at 321 East Wall, and the $10,000 Ryan hospital being constructed at 210 North Big Spring street.

The filling station will be 24x40 feet, and one of the most modern in the hospital building is to be built of tile and stucco.

Cleaners Renew War With Bomb Throwing

ST. LOUIS, March 7. (UP).—A bomb exploded early today on the roof of the Staten Island Cleaning company. Police believed it to have been a renewal of warfare in the cleaning and dyeing business. The explosion tore a large hole in the roof. Bombers apparently aimed at the highly inflammable naphtha vats but missed them by about six feet.

SIX MONTHS WORK IS INCLUDED

Hurley Appoints Five At Request of The A. P. I.

WASHINGTON, March 7. (UP).—Secretary of the Interior Wilbur today appointed a committee on petroleum economics to survey supply and demand factors in the petroleum industry for the six months period beginning April 1 and ending September 30. Secretary Wilbur, who is chairman of the federal oil conservation board, took the action at request of the American Petroleum Institute.

Two reports, similar in character to the one planned, were made in 1930. One the committee appointed by Wilbur are E. B. Swanson, chief economist of the United States Bureau of Mines, chairman; J. W. Frey, department of commerce expert; Martin Van Gouvernig, petroleum engineer; A. X. White, of the national industrial conference board, and Howard Bennett, of the Western Petroleum Refiners' association.

Lowerie on Others Harold W. Lowerie, Jr., of Fisher-Lowerie, consulting geologists, and allied oil organizations, served on the two former petroleum survey committees.

He was in Midland at the time of receiving his second appointment from President Hoover and left here for the west coast to begin work on the mission. The second committee was charged specifically with study of refining conditions in the industry.

Sorghums Make More for Farmer

J. C. Miles, farmer who lives three miles south of Midland, is one of those who will reduce cotton acreage by 50 per cent this year. Miles has found that feed pays more than cotton, and especially can he see possibilities of feeding out cattle and other livestock on West Texas sorghums. He sold more than $1100 worth of higer a few days ago from his farm, keeping enough to feed his work animals and plant his fields. He says he realized a profit of $1250 an acre on this feed.

Miles joined the Midland chamber of commerce when here Saturday.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Contract has been signed by the county and city with the general paving contractor by which practically all labor will be Midland county people. Only those who have been in Midland county prior to Jan. 1, 1931 and have been continuous residents of the county will be given work. With the exception of a very few skilled workers, all workmen must be Midland county people, either farmers, farm hands, or town men. All who get jobs must prove they have been living in Midland prior to Jan. 1, 1931. It will be necessary to produce references. All men who get jobs must watch the bulletin board, then must get cards from the committee on unemployment at the city hall and present that card next day to the paving foreman before they will be given work. Men wanting jobs will have to do their own bulletin board watching. No phoning, letters or (See REGISTRATION page 8)

ONE JOB; THREE BENEFITS

Action of Midland city and county authorities Friday in letting contract for construction of a 20-foot concrete highway on the east and west ends of the Broadway of America, within the Midland city limits, is highly commendable.

The job comes as a long delayed boon to the safety of traffic and at this time as a boon to unemployment, giving a double benefit as well as to increase business through putting something over $50,000 in circulation within two months.

The narrow asphalt surface on the highway through several counties has its dangers, but within the Midland city limits the condition is worse, except where recent full-width pavement has taken care of several blocks on Wall street. It is planned to bring down the elevation of the road where it is above levels of intersecting streets, thus eliminating one serious hazard. Then the construction of the 20-foot paved surface will eliminate the hazards of the broken edges of asphalt and the narrow street now in use.

City and county officials, in letting the contract, have taken care of local labor, providing that on all jobs possible, local men only will be given recognition. This will give employment to idle men of various crafts, as the grading, excavating, trucking, concrete work and all phases of the job are to be completed within 50 working days.

Traffic is to be made more safe, idle men are to be given jobs and Midland business institutions will feel the benefits of the badly piece of construction through circulation of this additional money.

UNSUNG ACHIEVEMENTS

By BRUCE CATTON

Business depressions, political struggles and international complications may come and go, monopolizing the headlines and posing briefly as the important news of the day; but all the while medical science goes unobtrusively along its path, and without any blare of trumpets accomplishes things that will be considered the highlights of the age when historians get busy half a century hence.

A brief article in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association points to some of the accomplishments of medicine during 1930—a year noteworthy, to most of us, merely for the misfortune it inflicted on us.

It wasn't all misfortune. A great many lives will be saved, through many centuries to come, because of things that were done in 1930.

To begin with, the artificial lung, or respirator, was perfected by Drs. Philip Drinker and L. A. Shaw. This has already saved the lives of a number of people whose breathing apparatuses were paralyzed by infantile paralysis or gas poisoning.

Dr. J. Shega of Seoul, Korea, found that feeding vitamins in sufficient quantity to animals prevented leprosy; and it is hoped that this will point the way to the prevention of leprosy in human beings.

Investigators at Columbia University and Johns Hopkins Medical School believe they have found the virus causing the common cold.

It was discovered that Vitamin D shortens the time that it takes blood to clot—a matter of vital importance in surgical operations.

An instrument whereby heart disease can be disclosed in its early stages, before the ordinary noticeable symptoms are apparent, was demonstrated by Dr. P. V. Wells of Newark, N. J.

Drs. Szymanowski and Hicks of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital Institute of Pathology found that extremely short radio waves can be of value in killing the poison of diphtheria. Similarly, Dr. W. T. Richards of Princeton University found that fever produced by radio waves is helpful in treating paralysis; and the germ that caused creeping paralysis was discovered by Sir James Purvis-Stewart and Katherine Chevassut of Westminster Hospital, London.

That is an imposing list of accomplishments. It may be that some of you who read this will live longer, because of these discoveries, than you would have otherwise. At any rate, it indicates clearly that 1930 was not quite the year of disaster that some of us have supposed.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

CONGRESS MAY NOT WANT EXTRA SESSION, BUT THE CITIZENS DO, JUDGING FROM THEIR PLEAS FOR ACTION ON THIS AND THAT

—WASHINGTON, March 7.—Who said the country didn't want an extra session of Congress?

From all parts of the country, in the last days of the session, came pleas to Capitol Hill for action of one sort or another on this and that, most of which obviously could not be taken care of before adjournment. The indication seems to be that there are large groups of citizens who would be positively delighted to have Congress come right back and give them what they want.

Study of about 300 petitions from groups of citizens received by the House and Senate within a single week reveals several interesting facts—such as where the pressure of back-home lobbying was centered, what kind of folks are most prone to sign such prayers and the optimism of those who don't follow the progress of collapse of measures in Congress.

Many Churches Sent Petitions The churches and organizations affiliated with them were the most numerous last-minute petitioners.

The majority of petitioners were Protestant groups urging passage of the Sparks-Capper "stop-alien representation" amendment or the Hudson bill for movie censorship, while Catholic parishes and organizations sent in dozens of protests against the Gillett "doctor's bill" to liberalize the birth control laws. None of these measures had a chance in the 1st Congress.

And right up to the bitter end, groups of citizens were demanding cash payment of soldier bonus certificates, although that possibility had long ago faded out. World court ratification also continued frequently to be urged, along with the bill to exempt dogs from vivisection in the district of Columbia.

Both the Sparks-Capper amendment and the Hudson movie bill obviously made a hit out in the so-called "stickies." Among scores of petitions on their behalf hardly one comes from a town large enough to be known outside its own state.

Drys Back Amendment The amendment would exclude aliens from the count in determining the proportional representation of the states in Congress, to the loss of states with large alien population and the gain of those with hardly any aliens. Dry and anti-Catholic organizations have been its most enthusiastic sponsors, but there is much general sentiment for it in rural states which lose one or more congressmen under the last reapportionment.

And one finds petitions for it from such sources as the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Benson, Minn.; Millville, Pa.; Rutherford, N. J.; Hunter, Okla., and Rowan, Ia., as well as groups of from 20 to 75—usually church folk—in Menville, Ia.; Milan, Ind.; Williamsport, Pa.; Delphos, Kas.; Copperstown, N. Y.; Hancock, Minn.; Waterloo, Ia.; Donnybrook, N. D.; La Grange, Ky.; Hampton, Va.; Laurium, Mich.; Storm Lake and Albert City, Ia.; Zanesville, O.; Madison, Me.; Sand Lake, Mich.; Cleveland, St. Louis, Scotia, N. Y.; Haverhill, N. W. C. T. U. Seeks Censorship W. C. T. U. members also have been strong for the Hudson censorship bill. Petitions for passage of that measure have been received from North Branch and Almena, Kas.; Herkimer, N. Y.; Denver, Fort Lewis and Hugo in Colorado; Charleston, W. Va.; Oshborne, Logan and Phillipsburg in Kansas; Wenatchee, Wash.; Council Bluffs, Ia.; Owosso, Mich.; Mohawk, Rome, Little Falls, Ithaca, Norway, Charleston, Four Corners and Utica in New York, and Menlo, Kas.

Most emphatic and fervent of all this season's petitions were those protesting against the Gillett bill, coming from communities big and little. Many petitioners in that group Terrazo is harder than concrete! I haven't secured this information from contractors or builders but I have figured it out for myself, my conclusions being based on street rumors only.

There is a patch of pavement about 20 feet square torn up in the alley back of Everybody's Store. It is unofficially reported that C. L. Sinclair lost a half a dollar there the other day.

On the other hand, Jim Finlayson and Allan Watts are reported to have got a dime hung in the miniature baseball machine in the Scharbauer lobby and the floor wasn't torn up at all.

This proves that terrazo is harder than concrete.

Ap Baker, proprietor of the Tack to a Buck store, must have it in for me. The boys said that he expressed a wish to have had me along when he got stuck in the mud and snow and had to take 15 hours to drive from Plainville to Tahoka one day last week. These fellows whose names have been in my column are not going to get a crack at me. I'll give them a wide berth, Chunky

RAOUL WALSH SATISFIES TWO DIRECTORIAL WHIMS IN PICTURE

In producing the Fox Movietone feature, "The Man Who Came Back," co-starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, Raoul Walsh satisfied a long standing ambition.

One of the first pictures he ever directed for Fox, quite a while ago as time is measured in the movie business, was "Regeneration." It was based on a famous story, written by a man who, himself, had many of the experiences he related. It was hailed as a great picture at that time, although Walsh was dissatisfied because it was a bid sordid for his tastes.

He welcomed the assignment, then, to direct Miss Gaynor and Farrell in the famous Jules Eckert Goodman play, "The Man Who Came Back," as it, too, is a story of regeneration. But it is a much more powerful story than the other one and without the sordidness which "Regeneration" contained.

The famous director considers "The Man Who Came Back," at the Ritz theatre, one of the best things he ever has done. And that is a real achievement when it is recalled that he produced some of the most successful pictures ever filmed, including "The Big Trail," "The Cock-

Twelve players of the Pittsburgh Pirates had their tonsils removed. It's a pity that big leaguers should be involved in minor operations!

"Eyed World," "What Price Glory," "Sadie Thompson," "Thief of Bagdad" and many other equally well known.

"The Man Who Came Back" signifies the reunion, upon the talking screen, of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, after a separation of more than a year's duration in their art. They are reported to have the finest roles in their careers. This insures a treat for pictures audiences, for Gaynor and Farrell, while superb individually, are unsurpassable together.

 "Can These Bones Live?" This quotation was asked and answered long ago. Ezekiel saw a valley full of dry bones, and his testimony is that they were "very dry." Our churches are full of "dead" members today. Dead to prayer, love, interest, etc. Can these dead members be made to live? These questions will be discussed Sunday.

PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS

O. W. Roberts, pastor
 Preaching service at the tabernacle in the morning at 11 o'clock and evening at 7:30 o'clock.
 Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

If every person reasoned this matter of church attendance to its logical conclusion, there would be few vacant pews, and a growing demand for more and larger churches. Few among us are opposed to the churches or their work. Multitudes would fight for them if necessary, but are unwilling to attend their services and support their work.

COME to Church

Some Don'ts for the great army of Stay-at-Home Church Members

Don't stay at home because of company—bring them.

Don't stay at home because you're poor—seats are free. And anyway you pay your taxes.

Don't stay at home because you feel badly—you'll probably feel worse if you do.

Don't stay away because the church is cold—bring the fire of your enthusiasm and help warm it up.

Don't stay away because you are not needed—that is just one of the devil's tricks to cheat you.

Don't stay away because you think there will be enough without you—no one can fill your place in the church or in Heaven.

Brighter, ever brighter, gleams the star of Bethlehem. Centuries pass. Nations pass. Culture pass. But the great Truth survives, and grows in glory.

"In the Heart of Midland For the Hearts of Midland"
 Howard Peters, pastor
 9:45 a. m. Bible school. We hope to fill the house today in the greatest Bible School of this year. Efficient officers and trained teachers along with general enthusiasm in every department account for the increased attendance.
 11:00 a. m. Communion and sermon. The sermon will deal with some of the problems of daily life and should interest everyone who desires a happier life; a better city and a larger hope.
 6:30 p. m. Endeavor societies meet in separate rooms.
 7:30 p. m. The minister will preach on the subject: "Is Marriage a Failure?" If you think it is a failure we rather think you will not want to be present.
 WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT IT?

Every non-attendant upon religious services virtually votes to discontinue them. Those who wilfully neglect to vote at the ballot-box and those who wilfully stay away from the services of their church are alike recreant to duty. How shall the church survive if its own members neglect its appointed services and despise its communion?

Speaker Stresses Cooperation of City and County Clubs

Rural Organizer of A. & M. College Lectures to Combined Meeting of Rural And Federated Clubs at Court House

Tracing the barrier existing between industrialism and agriculture through the ancient history to the present time, Mrs. Maggie M. Barry, rural women's organizer of A. & M. college, spoke to a group of more than fifty women at the court house yesterday afternoon on the need of cooperation between city federated clubs and county demonstration clubs.

The meeting was a combined conference of rural and Midland federated clubs.

The reason for the creation of home demonstration work was told by the speaker as coming from the necessity of women learning the scientific knowledge of managing their homes. Fifty years ago in the United States, national workers realized that "man must become a partner of the soil," from which came the establishment of the land-grant schools where farmers are given opportunities to study the scientific side of farming.

The speaker explained what the council should be and what it means to the demonstration agent in conducting the activities in the county. Council members present were Misses Robertson and Campbell; Mmes. T. D. Jones, J. C. Graham, J. W. Arnett, Willis Seales, J. D. Bartlett, J. A. Pogue, J. R. McCarter, Pat Bodine, T. McCann and Miss Genavieve Derryberry.

Resulting from this bill, extension work was established from which rural women have received their knowledge of proper consumption and production.

Mrs. Barry stressed proper distribution as the one factor which has not yet been accomplished, declaring that the cooperation between the city and rural groups is the first step in realizing this need.

Speaks to Council

Council members of the county demonstration clubs heard Mrs. Barry in a morning session tell of the importance of organization from the standpoint of cooperative buying and selling.

She related the history of Ireland as a country that started with weak organization among the rural people and how, through perfection by organization, rural people of that country have brought it to the rank of second in agricultural world.

The speaker explained what the council should be and what it means to the demonstration agent in conducting the activities in the county.

Council members present were Misses Robertson and Campbell; Mmes. T. D. Jones, J. C. Graham, J. W. Arnett, Willis Seales, J. D. Bartlett, J. A. Pogue, J. R. McCarter, Pat Bodine, T. McCann and Miss Genavieve Derryberry.

Mrs. Barry is remaining in Midland until this afternoon as a guest of Miss Derryberry. From here she

New Mode in Prints

A new spring afternoon frock from Patou is made of marocain with a modernistic design in white on a black background and trimmed with a new type of white pique collar and cuffs, with four shiny black buttons fastening the cuffs. A new evening gown from Patou features the new three-color scheme in its print, which is pale green and pale pink on a black background, has a skirt made with the draped front that is a new note and a scarf type of décolletage.

Miss Frances Lolley, Popular Midland Teacher, Is Married to Mr. Dolph Evers

The marriage of Miss Frances Lolley, who until the past week has been a teacher in the John M. Cowden school, and Mr. Dolph Evers, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Evers of Denton, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lolley, in Denton Wednesday afternoon at 3:30.

The wedding vows were read by the Rev. Charles G. Kinsolving of Dallas in the presence of relatives and several close friends.

The home was attractively decorated with ferns, carnations, snapdragons and japonicas. An archway of southern smilax dotted with pink carnations and flanked with tall baskets of white carnations and snapdragons was arranged in the wide doorway connecting the two living rooms, where the couple stood for the ceremony. They were unaccompanied. The bride's book was presented over by Mrs. R. L. Hopper.

Preceding the entrance of the couple Mrs. W. T. Evers, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, sang, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Lotta Evans. The Wedding March from Lohengrin was played by Miss Grace Camp on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Lee R. McDonald on the piano. During the ceremony Mrs. McDonald played softly, "To a Wild Rose" (McDowell).

The bride wore for the ceremony a navy blue crepe with lace bodice and trimmed in a lighter shade of blue, and carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas, trezias and fern. She wore lace mits worn by her mother in her wedding, and gold ear screws, an heirloom from her grandmother. Her going away gown was a black and white satin ensemble with silver lace trim and accessories to match.

The couple went to New Orleans for a wedding trip of two weeks, after which they will be at home in Denton.

Reception Held

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The bride's cake centered the dining table, and was decorated with sweet peas and lacy fern, and an imported cupid holding a scroll bearing the names and date of the wedding. Miss Eileen Camp cut the cake and it was served with molded ice cream decorated with hearts pierced with arrows. Mrs. L. O. Hayes, sister of the bride, assisted her mother in entertaining.

Taught Here

Mrs. Evers received a B. A. degree from C. I. A. in 1925 and has done work toward a master's degree in that institution. She has been teaching in Midland for the past three years and was honored with a number of parties before returning to her home ten days ago.

Mr. Evers is connected with the Evers Hardware Co. here.

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Frances Lolley, was made at a pretty bridge party given by Mrs. Lindley O. Hayes, sister of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. Lee R. McDonald, at the home of the latter, in Denton last Saturday afternoon.

The announcement was made by bag, the secret of the marriage, was revealed.

A hint of the announcement came through a miniature mock wedding just preceding the announcement. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Grace Camp on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Stewart of Dallas at the piano, little Mary Elizabeth and George Milton, children of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Hopkins, dressed as bride and groom, marched into the living room where they halted for a short ceremony.

The living room, sun room and dining room, thrown en suite, were attractively decorated with carnations, snapdragons, calendulas, japonica and jonquils. The refreshment plate carried fruit salad, angel food squares, olives, sandwiches and tea. A St. Patrick suggestion was carried out in the refreshments and tallies.

The house party was composed of Mmes. W. E. Lolley, R. H. Evers, Walter Camp, Miss Grace Camp and the honoree.

Seven tables played the game, at the close of which remembrances went to Mrs. J. L. Kingsbury for high score, and to Mrs. H. T. Miller of Gainesville, for high cut. The honoree was also presented with a gift.

Lunches Served to 252 Students by P. T. A.

Two hundred and fifty-two lunches were served by women of the North Ward P. T. A. to students of the North Ward school and Junior high school Friday at noon.

Mothers supervising this work were Mmes. S. P. Hall, H. M. Hiett, Bob Preston, J. D. Young, J. T. Walker, J. O. Nobles, J. A. Tuttle and Benton Collins.

Guests having lunch with the children were Mrs. C. Y. Barron, Mrs. P. J. Mims and Mr. John E. Adams.

Mrs. George F. Brown is visiting friends in Abilene this week end.

Pretty Spring Party In Honor of Pioneer Club at Rowe Home

Attractively reflecting pastel tints in the party features, Mrs. Homer Rowe was hostess to the Pioneer club at her home Friday evening with bridge games.

Masses of sweetpeas and peach blossoms graced the playing suits where tables bore tallies and score books harmonizing in colonial fans of the soft colors.

High scores for the evening were won by Mrs. Harry Neblett, who was given perfume; Mrs. Leon Goodman, who received cards, and Mr. Ellis Cowden who was awarded an elephant cigarette holder. Mr. Harry Tolbert won an oil painting for cutting high.

At tea time a salad course was served to Messrs. and Mmes. Joe Youngblood, Ellis Cowden, Harry Tolbert, Leon Goodman, H. J. Neblett, Allen Tolbert, J. V. Stokes Jr., Dr. and Mrs. John B. Thomas, Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith, Mrs. Elliott Cowden and Mr. Clarence Scharbauer.

Women's Classes Study Bible at Friday Meetings

Two women's Bible classes held their weekly study programs Friday afternoon with the Belmont women meeting with Mrs. D. E. Holster and the Community Bible class at the home of Mrs. Charles Berry.

Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy taught the lesson from James and first Peter for the Belmont women. Nine women were present.

Mrs. Edwin C. Calhoun taught the lesson based on Genesis to the Community women.

Women present were Mrs. T. S. Nettleton, Mrs. L. C. Monday, Mrs. A. A. Clark, Mrs. Jess Barber, Mrs. J. M. Haygood and the teacher and hostess.

The Community class is inviting visitors to attend the weekly class.

City Union Holds Monthly Meeting at Presbyterian Church

Combining a program, social and business meeting, approximately 50 young people of the City League Union met at the First Presbyterian church Friday evening with the organizations of that church as hosts.

Miss Avalyn Pogue was leader of the program on "Working in Our Community." The devotion period consisted of songs, prayers and scripture reading by Miss Marguerite Bevins. Miss Edythe Sundquist played a piano solo; Mr. Frank Stubbeman spoke on the program subject and Miss Lucille McMullan gave a reading.

Massive decorations of the St. Patrick note made the church halls attractive for the social hour.

Young people attending included Ada Driver, Margaret Tyner, Levi Driver, Ray Gwyn, Donovan Gwyn, Leland Murphy, Unisee Baker, Norine West, Mattie Bryant, Frank Stubbeman, Mary Katherine Hogsett, John B. Miller, Irene Lord, Doug Allen, Alta Mae Johnson, Harvey Powledge, Ruth Long, Sammy Lane Cobb, Sherwood O'Neal, Inez Cosper, Vivian Arnett, Leon Arnett, Watson Spears, R. L. This Man's life was saved by a Long Distance call that went through fast

Molly Malone, long distance operator, glanced at the clock.

It was 9:54 a. m.

Suddenly a light flashed on the switchboard... a call.

"Emergency!" a voice shouted.

"Get Raymond Ditmars, quick... New York, Fordham 5560!"

Molly Malone did not know the speaker was George Vierheller, Director of the St. Louis Zoo. She did not know that nine minutes earlier Marlin Perkins, curator of reptiles, had been bitten by a deadly Gaboon viper.

She did not know that Ditmars, curator of reptiles at the New York Zoo, is one of the few authorities on the treatment of American snake bites.

All she knew was that it was an emergency!

"I'll do my best," said Molly. "Hold the line."

In New York, a minute or two before the hands of the clock touched the hour, Ditmars lifted his telephone receiver.

"Perkins has been bitten by a Gaboon viper," he heard Vierheller say. "We have injected serum. We want to know how far we can go—what kinds of serum to use, how much, and at what intervals."

Concisely, Ditmars gave directions—the sure, definite directions of the expert.

"It's serious," he concluded, "but you must pull him through."

Perkins did pull through... Today he is back at work in his laboratory. Scars, marking the incisions in his left arm, are the only evidence of his ordeal.

On ordinary calls, long distance is just as speedy, just as dependable. If you give the number of the telephone you are calling, in most cases you will be connected while you hold the line. It's like telephoning across the street.

And you can talk 100 miles for 60 cents.

Would you like to know the telephone numbers of friends, relatives, in other cities? Upon request we will send you, free, an "out-of-town number book," prepared especially for you, in which will be listed the names of your friends, your relatives, your business associates, with addresses, telephone numbers, and the cost of a three-minute telephone call to each.

Just mail the attached coupon.

Manager SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY CITY

Please send me an "out-of-town number book," giving the telephone numbers of the persons listed on the attached sheet, and the cost of a three-minute talk to each.

Name..... Address.....

*Dr. Forest H. Staley, St. Louis authority on snake poisons, took charge after emergency treatment was given, conferred twice more by telephone with Ditmars — pulled Perkins through. —See Bulletin of Anti-Venom Institute of America, Vol. III, No. 2, July, 1929.

Mrs. Ward, Recent Bride, Is Honoree At Pretty Shower

As an honor to Mrs. R. E. Ward, recent bride, Miss Obera Hines and Miss Mamie Hale entertained with a shower party at the home of the honoree Friday evening.

Yellow and white streamers draped across the party room reflected a pretty spring note. The wagon, on which gifts were presented to Mrs. Ward, was also decorated in the colors. Little Miss Mary Jo McCarter pulled the wagon in front of the honoree and cleverly told her of the courtesy which friends were extending to her.

Dainty refreshments revealing a note of yellow and white were served to Misses Ernestine Bryan, Lonnie Smith, Rudie Lee Lowe, Dortha Meadows, Bessie Dale, Dorothy Hines, Mrs. Roy McCarter, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Haltom, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morelan, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Morelan, Mrs. M. I. Morelan, Mrs. Bryan Stone, Mrs. G. D. Thompson and the honor guest.

SPORTS REPORTS

By R. C. HANKINS.

The TCU Horned Toads surprised the Southwest conference by their flashing finish to win the Southwest conference. But TCU surprised the conference more when letters were awarded to every one of the nine squadmen. Coach Schmidt, "perennial cage champions builder," recommended such in his statement to the athletic council of the Fort Worth school. The first championship in basketball TCU ever knew, the school could well afford to listen to such a proposal. Schmidt, as it remembered, brought TCU the first football championship since the purple withdrew from the TIAA.

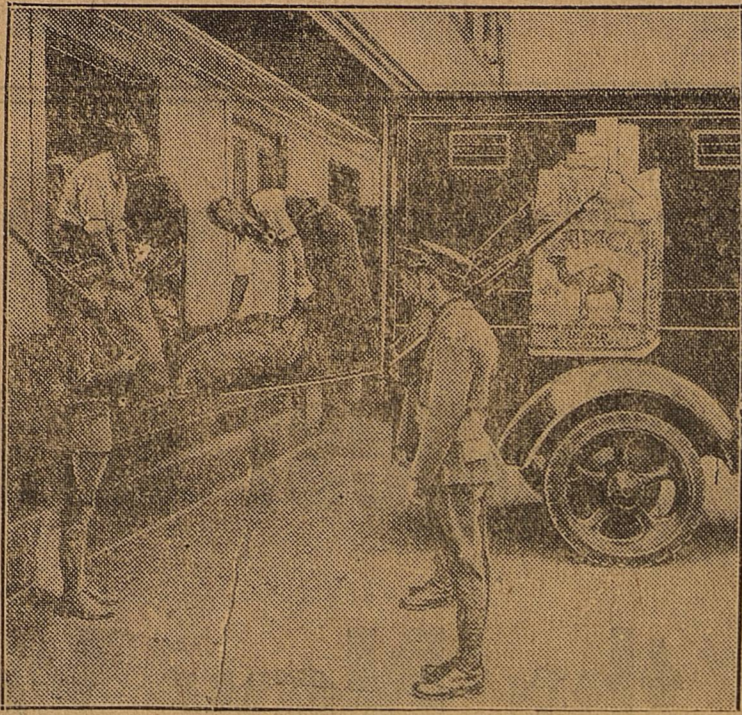

A & M, the school that beat every Southwest cage team except TCU, places two Frogs on the All-Southwest basketball selection. Here's the choice, made by Curtis Vinson, director of publicity: Dietzel (TCU) and Sumner (TCU), forwards; Hoke, (A&M) center; Skeeters (SMU), and Sexton (Arkansas), guards.

We have three new coaches in District Four, according to the metaphor-stringing sports scribes. Harry Taylor, who brought his Colorado Wolves to Midland last year, you'll remember, takes over Bill Bissett's place at San Angelo. Obie Gordon Bristow of San Angelo leaves the Concho valley and ceases himself to the Big Spring, which town dreams smugly under the shadow of the cedar-crowned hills of what it will do and of the itinerary it will include in its program and up and going places. Gene Taylor, who was at Spur last year, goes over to Brownwood.

So far as we can learn (research work in the information being taken from the library of Bloddy Cross of Angelo) Esker Curtis, head coach, and Tricky Ward have been re-elected at Ranger—to get out of this district—and Shotwell is to remain in Breckenridge. Ted Jefferies, who was an underling professor of sports in Corsicana the past brace of years, succeeds Chapman at Cisco. Mayhew and Abilene are mutually infatuated with each other, and Gibson will still herd the Mavricks down Eastland way.

Here's a snatch from the sports output of one writer, who appears to have stumbled at last: "McCamey and Midland, fresh from Class B circuits." We suspect the chronicler of being facetious—at least of tipping

Militiamen Guard $50,000 Contest Mail

The thousands of letters received in the $50,000 Camel cigarette contest, advertised in newspapers from coast to coast, were guarded in the same manner as huge gold shipments. Photograph shows contest mail being loaded into an armored truck at the Winston-Salem, N. C., postoffice under guard for transportation to the offices of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company. Charles Dana Gibson, noted artist and publisher of Life, Ray Long, president of International Magazine company and editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine, and Roy Howard, chairman of the board of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, were judges of the contest which called for answers to the question, "What recent change has been made in the wrapping of the Camel cigarettes containing twenty cigarettes and what are its advantages to the smoker?" The huge response to the contest announcements proved anew the great responsiveness of the public to newspaper advertising.

his right cross with sarcasm. We refer to Mr. Cross over in the sheep and goat region. On that date comes Mr. Campbell of the Howard county capital, same being the cherub dropped rather abruptly on the stoop of the Big Spring Herald by a night-flying stork who suffered myopia and had depth perception, rather pointedly said no engraved invitations had been mailed Midland, anyhow.

Scribes are putting the names of C. H. Kenley of Angelo and George Gentry of Big Spring as president of the District Four football committee. Mr. Campbell goes into an advertising lecture on Big Spring's merits as a city and remembers to say, after talking of the dirt road that "bounces" out of Big Spring to Angelo, that Gentry knows his pig rashes. Personally, we have no vote, and are at the disadvantage of not having met Mr. Kenley. But we know Gentry would be a good chairman.

Do you remember John King, the baseball manager who cavorted like a circus clown within the Cowden park ballfield summer before last? Well, he will soon have enough money to buy out a few West Texas leagues, if the press dope is right. Oil is spouting out of his Kilgore, East Texas, holdings like nobody's business. And John, always the baseball player, says he will let the oil take care of itself—while he takes care of the Texas league from behind the catcher. He is an ump and his glib tongue needs no oil to keep it functioning. John was the Nick Atrock of the West Texas loop and was a tough on young batters from his place in the outfield as Joe Pate was in his cannister days in a pitcher's box. "Scraps to John are as bread is to the Armenians," as our nearest eastern contemporary puts it.

Oilbelt writers take those daily cracks at each other. Boyce House of Ranger reminds that Abilene was contest with its showing last year on the gridiron. Abilene lost two, tied two; Ranger lost one, tied one. House points out that Ranger has only a small herd of reserves, while Abilene had 100 men from which to select 11. The first thing to consider is to beat Abilene, pre-season favorites, and Breckenridge, winner for the last two years, the authority says.

There's no peace for a man who doesn't know a woman real well. Confucius didn't utter the statement, neither is it a trite adage. Just, in substance, the preliminary for a fifteen-hundred word discourse on our lack of feminine knowledge. And the one at the mike?—why none other than Jim Kelly, the Stanton editor who is so cooked and primed at all times that the night officers watch him from behind buildings. He rides us for "being a 'bo hummel' . . . reputedly able to distinguish a female sister as far as most can see with a field glass . . . that, upon learning of the Midland puncher who said she was a woman, he 'hotfooted' it to the country and interviewed ranchmen for whom the girl was supposed to work but could gather no facts related by the girl that could be substantiated . . . the Midland sports editor has had this scribe at his mercy all along relative to his unimpeachable knowledge about the peculiarities and all the so and so's about how to be the best man in milady's boudoir . . . but when a girl can tramp his reservation 14 years in breeches and get by without the sports editor knowing it, it's very apparent to us it would require the removal of more wearing apparel than a pair of gloves to reveal a girl to him."

No answer to the above as we weren't in. In fact, we were out. We only hope some Amazon goes over to Stanton with a stubby feminine beard and chases Jim Kelly down the Bankhead in his running pants and house shoes.

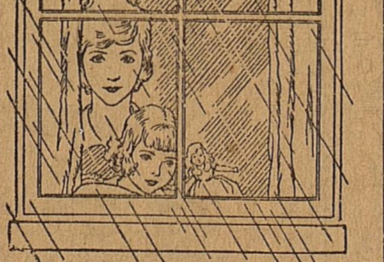

Dangerous Dan McCarty, Ranger high flash, has at last been defeated along the 100 yard route. Don Flahie, a junior, not only flamed down the cinders ahead of the speed merchant who has been known as the fastest high school football star in the Oil belt, but also tossed the shot farther than Dick Murray, 1930 district champion, and won first in the low hurdles. But Dan romped away with the 220 and 440. Another Leland-Oliver combination that will be heard of again?

Playground ball is more popular as the weather grows colder—strange as it might seem. Midland boys have grown philosophical in the fact the sport itself is slowed up by cold days, but the boys can sleep in their sweat shirts these cold nights, what?

Texas Electric to Launch Campaign

The sales force of the Texas Electric Service company, General Electric refrigerator dealer, was preparing today to launch a spring sales campaign, part of the nationwide contest, plans for which were outlined at the annual Monitor Top convention in Cleveland, Ohio, from which B. F. Taylor, salesman for the Texas Electric Service company, returned Friday.

Officials of the General Electric refrigeration department from Cleveland, who addressed the 800 delegates to the convention, predicted that sales for 1931 will shatter all previous records.

"The electric refrigeration bureau of the National Electric Light association has predicted that 1,000,000 electric refrigerators of all makes will be sold this year," Taylor said. Texas Electric Service company, distributor here for General Electric refrigerators, viewed the approaching spring and summer season with optimism and predicted that their sales will show a considerable gain over those of last year.

"We will do more business in 1931 than we have done any year since the General Electric refrigerator was placed on the market," Taylor said. "I base this prediction on the financial recovery that now is taking place in all parts of the country and the fact that, in spite of the depression of 1930, our sales were larger than any other year."

In connection with the spring sales campaign, T. K. Quinn, vice-president of the refrigeration department of Cleveland, outlined a sales promotion and advertising program for this year already underway that will entail the combined expenditure of $6,500,000, half a million more than was spent last year. The larger portion of the advertising appropriation will be used

M. H. White of the Valley View school in Martin county was in Midland yesterday morning arranging for declamation judges for a contest to be held at the school this week.

Miss Violet Graves is spending the week end visiting relatives in Abilene.

E. C. Adams is in Midland this week visiting his family. He is planning to return to Longview where he has been located for several weeks.

In newspaper advertising, the speaker declared, adding that through this medium, millions of householders are reached annually.

Taylor was awarded a silver cup by T. K. Quinn, vice-president of the General Electric company, as second high man, and was paraded through downtown Cleveland streets with 150 other cabinet members, all carrying canes and wearing top hats.

A series of banquets and instructive meetings was held for the Toppers, and one entire 10-story hotel, the Winton, was reserved to accommodate the salesmen, distributors, and other executives, numbering in all, 800. Entire floors of the three other leading hostilities, Statler, Cleveland and Hollenden, also were reserved.

One of the features of the Cleveland convention was a talk by Dr. George W. Allison, director of the electric refrigeration bureau of the National Electric Light association, who, in an interview a few days ago, predicted that approximately one million electric refrigerators will be sold during 1931.

Mrs. J. E. Lucas and daughter, Alene, of Andrews were in Midland visiting yesterday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Lucas' sister, who is returning to her home in Gorman after a visit in Andrews.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals addressed to the Honorable M. R. Hill, judge of the county of Midland, Texas, will be received at the office of the county judge until 10:00 A. M., March 30th, 1931, for furnishing all necessary materials, equipment and labor for constructing certain street improvements in the City of Midland, Texas, on State Highway No. 1 from the present pavement on Front Street to the East City Limit line and from the present pavement on Wall street to the West City Limits.

Bidders must submit certified check in the sum of Three Thousand ($3,000.00) Dollars, payable without recourse to the order of M. R. Hill, county judge, as a guarantee that bidder will enter into the contract and execute bond in the forms provided within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without the required check will not be considered.

The successful bidder must furnish bond for fifty per cent (50%) of the sum bid, on the attached form, from a responsible surety company satisfactory to the commissioners court.

The county reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding local conditions.

Bids shall be based on the State Highway Department's paying one-third (1-3) and Midland County and the City of Midland's paying the remainder in warrants.

Proposal forms, specifications and plans are on file at the office of the County Judge, and of Montgomery & Ward, Consulting Engineers, Wichita Falls, Texas, or may be secured upon deposit of Five ($5.00) Dollars; to be returned to the Contractor on submission of a bona fide bid on the work with such plans and specifications; or upon returning immediately after examination of same and advising the Engineer that bid will not be submitted; otherwise the deposit shall be forfeited.

Approximate Quantities Are:
99.0 cubic yards Rock Excavation
19,878.6 square yards Earth Excavation
19,878.6 square yards Reinforced Concrete Pavement.

New Bulls Bought By Stockmen Here

MIDLAND ranchmen are getting new herd bulls, as may be seen from the recent cattle trading report of Louis Beyers:

Mabee & Pyle, Midland, sold 100 two-year-old heifers and 4 bulls to Joe Yungblood, Midland, at $55.00.

W. W. Brunson, Midland, sold 100 two-year-old heifers to A. C. Francis, Midland.

G. O. Golliday, Midland, sold 65 steer and heifer calves to M. Tankersley, El Paso, at 7c per lb.

Scharbauer Cattle company, Midland, sold 108 tons to J. M. Mullen, Santa Maria, Calif.

C. D. Bird & Son, Midland, bought at the Denver Stock Show 17 registered bull yearlings to be used on their ranch north of Midland.

L. S. McDowell, Big Spring, bought the grand champion car load of bulls at the Denver show in January and sent them to his ranch in Howard county.

Range conditions in the Midland country are excellent and cattle have wintered in fine condition and with the recent rains there is an underground season that assures an early start of grass, and there is already a wonderful crop of weeds on all that part that is considered a good weed country.

Sales during the last few weeks have been confined largely to bull sales with the Midland country bringing in, as usual, their part of the best bulls from the leading shows of the country.

Motor Dealers In Hot Contest

Chevrolet and Buick men are in a hot contest to see who will have the biggest attendance today in the Men's class at Hotel Scharbauer.

Class workers said Saturday it looked as if the attendance would run to 200 men. The colored quarter of Hotel Scharbauer will be offered by the South side as an attraction. The North side may spring a surprise in the barbecue contest now raging in the class.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graves of Anson, Mr. Marion Jackson of Stamford, Mrs. Z. I. Harlan, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carper and daughter, Mary Catherine, of Roswell, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brown of Cisco were out-of-town people in Midland Friday to attend the funeral of W. L. Graves.

Delegation From Odessa Satisfied

ODESSA, March 7. (Special).—Returning from Austin, where a large delegation of West Texans appeared before the house committee on public lands and buildings, Tuesday night of this week, Eli J. Jones, Ector county chairman of the West Texas Land Owners association, reported the apparent success of their mission, committee support for the small land validation bill which is designed to clear mineral rights to West Texas lands.

Members of the Ector county commissioners court, who accompanied the Odessa delegation on the trip to Austin, took advantage of the opportunity to appear before the highway commission with the request that contract be let for topping of approximately nine miles of highway No. 137 in Ector county.

Judge Webb, reports that a tentative agreement was reached with the commission whereby the contract is to be let later in the month. Topping of this portion of the highway will see the completion of the project through this county. It is understood that as soon as this work is completed a cut-off will be opened from the end of the pavement, west to the old Odessa - Andrews road, thus opening all the new highway to traffic.

Middleton Enjoys Reunion of Family

Recounting the happy experiences of a family reunion at the home of the parents of Fred Middleton and Mrs. M. A. Newman in Sulphur Spring, the Sulphur Springs newspaper carried an interesting story last week.

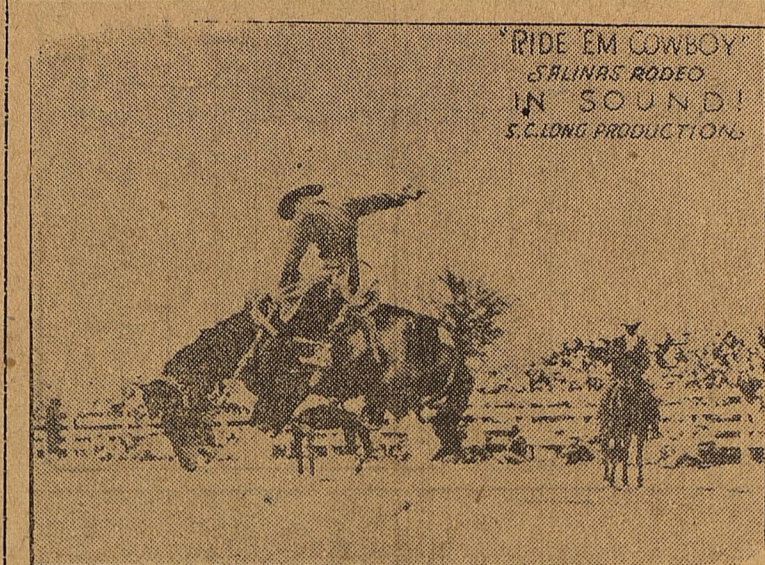

The occasion was a visit of the children, grandchildren, a sister and many friends of the elder Mr. Middleton who has been in bad health for some time. The day was made bright with the large gathering for a "fish dinner." Music was given by members of the family and the entertainment was interesting to all. Mary Elizabeth of Midland, giving song and dance numbers, was one of the principal entertainers.

Midland people attending the family reunion were Mrs. Newman, Mary Elizabeth Newman, Fred Middleton and son, Fred Gordon, and Butler Hurley.

on the screen! The noise is typical of a rodeo, too—cows bawl, horses drum the ground, cowboys emit ear-splitting yells, and in the background, the 70,000 in the stands below in glee as horses throw their riders and leap over or on them and as trick riders swing over the rumps of their flying mounts or crawl under their closely-stretched-to-the-ground bellies.

Jones had had many falls while doing "double" work for well known stars. In one of these he was supposed to take a fall while on location in Arizona. The ground was sandy, but he fell on a rock, knocking out his front upper teeth. He has been trampled by broncs, shot by blanks, blistered by high dives from cliffs, and at one time fell from a speeding airplane 40 feet into a river when the craft was struck by a vertical current. He was "knocked out" by a power boat in one of his most thrilling scenes.

He made money. He saved money. And now he has lost money.

But, at 47, he is ready to start over again. And that little satchel with the two reels in it constitute his bonanza.

He says he will make good. Someway, one believes him.

Now consider the case of the beautiful Lina Basquette, screen darling who passed through Midland last to re-marry her former husband, (or week on her way to the west coast rather her "most recently divorced husband") Peb Marley. Barelegged and motoring with a police dog, she passed this way in regal comfort. She traveled by slow stages of a few hundred miles a day in her luxurious limousine. Her dog received more attention that Jones could give his entire family.

The two cases form a simple contrast that is life—and that's about the only way anyone save a philosopher could say it.

One of the most valuable old newspapers seen in Midland in years is owned by Fred Brown.

This, "The News," published in Washington, Ga., Thursday, July 7, 1836, emblazons the following across its masthead: "The State Rights party of Georgia have my best wishes for their success—engaged on the side of liberty against a vicious and corrupt government, they must eventually triumph."

The newspaper, published as a weekly, advertised run-away slaves, strayed animals, drills for soldiers, and numerous "pick up" editorials from other newspapers of the country.

Slaves brought a $25 reward. About the only value that seemed comparable with those of today was found in livestock, judging from the fact that $20 was offered for a horse described as: "a common size grey horse, deeply dappled on his rump, perceptibly so on his body, and flea-bitten on his neck and head, thin tail, mane inclined to curl, foretop half grown out, having been trimmed, shod all around, and seven years old; had on when he left, a half worn saddle, new martingale, a double reined bridle with new head stall and bit. This horse came last from the Rocky river settlement in Abbeville district, South Carolina, though it is not known where he was raised, and therefore it is difficult to conjecture where he may go; he was seen for several days after his departure, within ten miles of this place near the Savannah road, but was so wild he could not be taken. The probability is, that he is up Savannah river, should he have desired to return to his late home. . . ."

And so on into the night.

Yes, those days were different in the journalistic world. No departments in the newspaper, whatever, would find nothing he sought—but everything is interesting.

$1 Check Pays off McCamey Bills

MCCAMEY.—Friday Feb. 27 a check, five inches wide and twelve inches long, was let loose by the Security State Bank. The check was for $1.00. On the back and for endorser to read was the line: "Instructions: Pass this on. Pay $1.00 you owe some one or buy $1.00 worth of goods. Do this immediately. Don't break its progress. Pass on!"

At the bottom was the advice: "Present to Security State Bank for payment at noon, Thursday, March 5, 1931."

The big check was filled with endorser before night.

R. B. Dyer then started another similar check on the road of home travels. It, too, soon filled up.

Everywhere the checks went, large crowds of curious examined it, greatly surprised at the number of bills a dollar will pay, if kept on the go.

"Just what the payment of the adjusted service certificates will do for the country," remarked a veteran of the world war who was applauding the "educational campaign" conducted by the big dollar.

Doctors, druggists, grocers, cafes, dry goods merchants, day laborers, and in fact every line of business and work here represented are among the 55 endorser.

State Press in Butler Defense

Joe Taylor, "State Press" to thousands of readers of The Dallas News, has an interesting comment to make on an editorial that ran recently in this newspaper:

The Reporter-Telegram said: "Perhaps it is just as well for everybody concerned that Gen. Smedley Butler is going to resign from the marine corps and go on the lecture platform. The country is at peace and apparently will stay that way for some time, so that the services of this able warrior can be spared. General Butler apparently likes to make speeches, and he quite certainly is able to find interesting things to say. Both he and his audiences should be happier under the new arrangement."

To which State Press answers: "The marine corps may find itself uncomfortably lonesome after their loyal General departs from their midst. General Butler has not allowed words to perish in his mouth, nor has he confined his intellectual interests to the problem of war. Any problem, in fact, which attracted the attention of his fel-

JONES APPEAL CAUSES LISTED BY HIS LAWYER

The movement last week of C. B. Jones, convicted slayer of Weldon L. Russell here Jan. 25, for a new trial was based on the following "reasons and causes," according to Sam K. Wasaff, defense counsel:

"1. The verdict is contrary to the law and evidence in this: (a) The state wholly and totally failed to prove a motive for the killing; (b) The state wholly and totally failed to prove malice aforethought on the part of this defendant; (c) The state wholly and totally failed to prove premeditation on the part of this defendant; (d) The state wholly and totally failed to prove that this defendant fired the fatal shot."

"2. The verdict of the jury and the judgment rendered thereon is contrary to the law and evidence as in terms of law required. . . ."

"3. This Honorable Court committed error in admitting evidence over the objections of the defendant while the state's witness Dr. Shyles was on the stand. (Instances were brought out at length.)"

"4. This Honorable Court committed error in admitting evidence over the objections of the defendant while the state's witness Dr. Woods was on the stand. (Instances were listed.)"

"5. This Honorable Court should grant the defendant a new trial on account of the misconduct of the special prosecutor, Hon. J. P. Cunningham, in his argument to the jury. . . . as it was prejudicial, highly inflammatory, unjust, an appeal to prejudice, appeal to passion and an appeal to bias. . . ."

"6. This Honorable Court should grant the defendant a new trial on account of the misconduct of the district attorney, Hon. W. R. Smith, in his closing argument for the state. (Same reasons as above set forth.)"

The new trial was denied by District Judge Charles L. Klapproth at the hearing, and Wasaff gave notice of appeal.
