Selection of Jury for Leah Bailey Murder Trial Starts

MURDER CHARGED IN CASE

Motion of Counsel Is Withdrawn; Trial Then Starts

Questioning of members of a special venire in an attempt to get a jury for the Leah Bailey murder case started in district court early this afternoon after defense counsel withdrew a motion for continuance that had been made before noon.

Selection of a jury began at 1:30. Leah Bailey is charged with having fatally shot a Ward county peace officer, Dan Horn, in 1928. She has been tried in Midland twice before, each year receiving sentences of 99 years. In each instance the sentence was reversed through appeals action and the case remanded to the lower court.

District Judge Charles L. Klapproth charged members of the special venire for the Leah Bailey case to return at 9 o'clock Thursday morning in case they are not selected for jury duty in the Bailey trial.

He'll Be "Mister America" Next

The mere males were shy about appearing in the "Men's Bathing Beauty Contest" at a beach near Los Angeles. Two hundred entered but only 20 appeared when it came time to display charms before admiring throngs. Herbert Barthels, above, winner of the contest, is being presented with a cup by Miss Gladys Ford. He is "beautiful" but, oh, so cavemanish-looking! Did she say that?

400 MEET FOR IOOF SERVICES

20 Towns Come Here In the Important Gathering

Oddfellows, their wives and guests, 400 strong, from Stanton, Big Spring, Knott, Crane, Abilene, Eldorado, Okla., Terrell, Wink, Big Lake, Itasca, Lamesa, Breckenridge, Florence, Kah., Ackerly, Texon, Coahoma, Matador, Sour Lake, Rankin and Midland celebrated the 112th anniversary of the organization of the IOOF lodge here Sunday.

Through the courtesy of John Bonner, manager of the Ritz theatre, a film was shown the large assembly at 3 o'clock. A barbecue was served later in the afternoon at the lodge hall, and the march for the First Christian church began. There the Rev. Thomas D. Murphy, pastor of the Presbyterian church, preached. The Rev. Howard Peters, pastor of the First Christian church, was in charge of arrangements. Presbyterian church services were postponed out of courtesy to the Christian church service.

Barbecue left over from the dinner of Sunday afternoon was given the Midland Community Welfare association today for division among the deserving poor.

It is believed the meeting was the largest ever to have been held in Midland by a fraternal organization.

On the program, other than those mentioned above, were: Mrs. Ada Ramsey Post, president of the Rebekah assembly; J. D. Jackson, Jones brothers, Lottie Estes, Rosa Pliska, Sam Lamar.

McCamey Wins Courthouse Row; Rankin Loses Seat $300,000 IS VOTED FARMERS

MCCAMEY, April 27.—A six-year-old town that started with high hopes when a discovery oil well spouted a black fluid against the escarpment north of the city, Saturday night had come into its birthright. The county seat of the county of Upton, long a restless institution, was moved here by a substantial majority, only 59 votes here being recorded against the plan. This meant that not only the merchants but the oil companies as well favored the plan, and that everybody here was tired of driving 20 miles to transact a little legal business.

"We have paid our last bit of tribute to Rankin," said one man here.

In 1929 there was an election, but it called for the removing of the courthouse. Thus, argue the locals, the election Saturday was legal and plans are already under way for the movement of the county seat here. Temporary buildings will be offered for use of the officials until the permanent structures can be erected. A bond issue may be necessary as the recent law is that no warrants can be issued by county commissioners courts in excess of $20,000 without a vote of the people. It is not felt that the commissioners court would order warrants as many of them are opposed to the removal.

McCamey has grown steadily in the face of declining oil operations and low prices for crude. Instead of bowing its head and losing its pride, it has paved its streets, put in a white way, secured one of the best water systems in the state and a public school system without a peer. It has a community spirit of vigor as is shown by the two immense rallies held here during the week to engender interest in the election. A wave of home building will begin here and new industries are expected to arrive. McCamey is already the pipe line center of West Texas.

Some Day It'll Be a Statue

If you've ever wondered what the inside of a statue looks like, here's the answer. The strange hollow framework which E. Whitney Smith, noted British sculptor, is shown erecting here is to form the skeleton of a life-size statue which he will execute of Chita, famous dancer. Yes, that's Chita at the left.

Midland to Get About $18,000, It Is Explained

AUSTIN, April 27. (UP).—West Texas farmers of 21 counties were voted refunds of $300,000 by the house today for expenses incurred in sterilizing and fumigating cotton in 1929 and 1930 to prevent the spread of the pink boll worm through Texas. The bill now goes to the senate.

Midland to Benefit

Midland was included in the number of counties. Efforts of Mrs. N. P. Strong, representative of Anderson county, to include $50,000 for tick eradication losses there were held not germane to the bill. The federal government will be asked to take care of $200,000 more of the expenses incurred in growing cotton under pink boll worm restrictions.

Governor Sterling, during his campaign in West Texas, told the people they were entitled to a refund. Representative Lee Satterwhite of Odessa, told house members.

Prospects bright for senate passage of the bill, it was said in Midland today.

The fight for remuneration has been waged for almost three years, since shortly after the law enforcing a fumigation and sterilization of cotton and seed was passed. Forces lined up against the law. Penrose Metcalf of San Angelo, Carl Rountree of Lamesa and Lee Satterwhite of Odessa were the main spokesmen. The chambers of commerce of Midland, Lamesa, Big Spring and Odessa waged continual correspondence with representatives, seeking to abolish restrictions on several West Texas counties, among them Midland.

Senate passage of the bill would result in approximately $18,000 being released in Midland county as remuneration to farmers, or about three-fourths what was asked.

MIDLAND BOYS DO WELL IN TAKING PLACES AT MEET

BIG SPRING, April 27. — Big Spring Saturday witnessed the biggest event in the history of the Buffalo Trails Area council, Boy Scouts of America.

All scout leaders attending declared there were more scouts in attendance at the field meet held in City park following a colorful street parade and barbecue than had ever attended any meeting in this region. B. W. Draper, veteran executive of the Concho Valley Area council, with headquarters in San Angelo, assisted Buffalo Trails officials at the meet. He declared it was the largest meet ever held by scouts in West Texas.

Approximately 500 of the 638 scouts enrolled in the 33 troops of the area were present. Twenty one of the thirty eight troops were represented.

Troop 42, Sweetwater, of which J. C. Morris is scoutmaster, took first prize in the field meet, with 140 points. Troops 52, Midland, G. W. Brenneman, scoutmaster, took second place with 115 points. Troop No. 51, Midland, was third with 100 points.

Prizes were presented the three highest ranking troops by Charles Queareau, scoutmaster of troop No. 1, Big Spring, himself an Eagle scout.

Prizes were: First, first aid kit given by Carl Blomsheld of the Texas Electric Service company; second, 25 merit badge pamphlets given by B. Reagan of the West Texas National bank; third, bicycle, given by Monroe Johnson of Austin and Jones.

The day's program was opened by a street parade through the business district. Boys of Big Spring took members of scout troops joined with the scouts. It was a combination parade of scouts of the area and the first item on the National Boys' week for Big Spring.

Approximately 800 boys marched in the parade. It extended for more than four blocks—just a solid line of boys of all sizes. Many scout troops were in uniform with the national colors and their troop standards.

The troops ranked as follows: No. 42, Sweetwater, 140 points; No. 52, Midland, 115 points; No. 51, Midland, 100 points; No. 40, Sweetwater, 95; No. 4 Big Spring, 75; No. 7, Big Spring, 55; No. 33, Rotan, 55; No. 9, Colorado, 50; No. 24, Loraine, 30; No. 1, Big Spring, 30; No. 67, Pecos, 15; No. 3, Big Spring 10.

Winners of the events were as follows: Signaling, first class division, No. 42, Sweetwater, first; No. 33, Rotan, second; No. 51, Midland, third. Signaling, second class division: No. 42, Sweetwater, first; No. 51, Midland, second; No. 40 Sweetwater, third.

Dog Earning $500 Weekly in Movies Breakfasts Here

"Pete," that famed $500 a week dog of the "Our Gang" movie comedies, stopped in Midland Sunday morning for his breakfast, being accompanied on a return trip to Hollywood by his manager, Harry S. Lucenay, Mrs. Lucenay and their six year old son, Ted. They had been visiting in Waco, Mrs. Lucenay's old home, for three weeks.

Pete, the big mongrel who now is in his ninth year of movie stardom, carries with him the big black ring around his right eye. Contrary to general belief, the ring is natural and plays a big part in enabling the dog to draw down a salary of $500 a week. The dog has been in the movies since he was three months old and at one time played the part of Tige in the Buster Brown comedies.

He plays now with Jack Cooper, star of "Skippy," which will be shown here soon. Jack, according to Lucenay, is a play mate of Ted. Lucenay, Ted, an exceptionally bright young chap, has had substantial offers to go into the movies but has been kept from the work by his parents on account of frail physical condition. He spends much time in the mountains.

Immediately upon return of the party to Hollywood, or to Culver City where the Hal Roach Studios are located, Peter will begin upon his next "Our Gang" comedy. Names of the pictures are affixed always upon completion of the films, Lucenay said.

Lucenay lived at Waco for a number of years, being at that time manager of a wrestler who created a sensation in Texas sport circles. The party spent Saturday night at Big Spring and expected to reach Lordsburg, N. M., Sunday night.

MIDLAND DEFEATS ABILENE SUNDAY; MAJORITY OF 226

Midland 521, Abilene 303.

That's how badly Midland beat Abilene Sunday in the Men's Sunday school class contest.

The Men's class of Hotel Scharbauer defeated Abilene by 218 men Sunday, and being already 8 men ahead, defeated the Men's Victory Bible class of Abilene by a total of 226 men in the month's attendance contest.

Over one-tenth of the total population of Midland, or about one-third the adult male population of Abilene was in this class Sunday. Many of the men got inside the doors, and 93 men sat on the platform in the crystal room of the hotel where the class meets each Sunday at 9:45.

It was pronounced a great victory for Midland. So far as available records show the class Sunday was the largest men's class in the South, and one of the three largest in America. It was without any doubt the largest Sunday school class anywhere proportionate to population.

Class officials attributed the enormous attendance to the loyal and enthusiastic membership. Men started working early in the week. Committees were busy throughout the week. It would be impossible to name all the workers, because practically 200 men were at work to win. Some men worked late Saturday night, some were at work by 8 o'clock Sunday morning. A wealthy cattleman was out early Sunday helping destitute men.

Oil men, cowpunchers, store owners, employees, clerks, laborers, farmers, the rich and the poor alike were joined in the great drive.

Many men who were present for the first time say they will be back next Sunday, and Arthur Jury, manager of Hotel Scharbauer, will arrange additional seats so all that come may be comfortable. The room can be made to seat about 400 men, and ample seats will be provided.

Abilene wired its class would like to continue the contest, but officers and members decided to end the contest now. However, as Abilene wished to contest two more Sundays it will be interesting to note relative attendance of the two classes, even though Midland has already won.

SENATOR GLASS RENEWS FEUD WITH CANNON

WASHINGTON, April 27. (UP).—Senator Carter Glass renewed his feud with Bishop James Cannon Jr. in the Southern Methodist church and was out in a statement ridiculing the bishop's idea of sickness and proposing that constitutional objections be ignored.

The statements were made in response to Cannon's challenge of the Nye senate campaign committee inquiry authorized by a resolution proposed by Glass.

Midland Boy to Get Contest Award

BIG SPRING.—An added feature of the scout field meet Saturday was presentation of an Eagle Scout badge to Otto Allen, troop 42, Sweetwater. The Eagle badge is one of scouting's highest honors.

Presentation was made by C. S. Holmes, area commissioner and veteran scout.

Area officials announced one Big Spring boy and a Midland boy would be presented Eagle badges at the next sessions of the Court of Honor in their respective cities.

Steve D. Ford Jr., Big Spring, will receive the honor here Friday evening.

Alvin Patterson, Midland, will receive his badge in a few days.

Eagle scouts attending the rally included Willard Croly and Henry Albert, San Angelo; Charles Queareau, Big Spring; J. H. Smith, Big Spring; Austin Davis, Sweetwater.

'Legs' Diamond Survives Another Killing Attempt

CAIRO, New York, April 27. (UP).—Luck which saved Jack Diamond from assassination twice before in his gangland career, came to his aid again today when he emerged alive though seriously wounded from a volley of enemy gunfire.

The attempt to take his life failed as physicians said he was not critically wounded.

Diamond was shot at a roadhouse party with a sawed-off shotgun. His arm was broken and he was wounded in the side and back.

Diamond recently recovered from a wound received in a gangland attempt to put him "on the spot."

An X-ray examination today revealed a shotgun slug embedded in the chest of Jack Diamond and physicians said the condition of the gang leader was only fair. They said it could not be determined whether the bullet had injured the lung.

Governor Roosevelt today superceded District Attorney Harrison I. Gardner of Green county in the investigation of activities of Jack Diamond, racketeer king.

INDICTMENT MAY BE NECESSARY IN MEXICAN'S CASE

AUSTIN, April 27. (UP).—Indictment may be necessary before Victor Sanchez can be extradited from Nuevo Laredo as the alleged knifed slayer of Enda Merle Springer, 11, near Leming.

Officials studying records of past extraditions were expected to request extradition.

Sanchez claimed he is a Mexican citizen and not subject to extradition. The governor can only request President Hoover to ask the Mexican government for Sanchez's return to Texas.

LABORERS ASK FOR MORE MONEY ON ROAD PROJECT

Workmen and business men of Midland are protesting in a petition wages being paid by city, county and state for labor.

The petition, signed by a total of 173 laborers and business men was presented to Mayor Leon Goodman this morning. It reads:

"Whereas, the present wage scale of 25 cents per hour now being paid for labor by the city, county and state is insufficient to support the employes and their families who are engaged in such work, and

"Whereas, the scale of wages for this class of labor should be increased in proportion to the cost of living to meet the needs and necessities of the employes and their families; and

"Whereas, it is believed that the city, county and state will take this into consideration in setting the scale of wages for such labor, and

"Whereas, being confident that the officials concerned will take this into consideration,

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we the following persons of Midland county, Texas, respectfully petition the city, county and state to grant an increase in pay for this labor."

Expect Hit Lime in Ector Test Soon

Galt-Brown and Penn No. 1 E. F. Cowden, Ector county wildcat test, was drilling late Sunday at 3,747, stringers of lime having been encountered for approximately 200 feet, it was reported here. No report on the operation had been received here today but oil men were watching for early striking of the lime and for possible opinion as to prospects for a well late this week.

The hole, in the center of the southeast quarter of section 12, block 44, township 2-south, T. & P. Ry. survey, has been put down at rapid time and has become the most interesting test in the Permian basin since the Southern Crude No. 2-A Cowden, 12 miles north, made a producer.

Rainfall to East And West Reported

Stockmen said it was likely that rains on all sides had been received during the early afternoon.

At 2:30 rain was falling steadily here, and low hanging clouds presaged heavy downpours.

U. S. SENDS SENATORS ABROAD TO INTERVIEW FOREIGN LEADERS IN EFFORT TO END $1,500,000,000 SILVER DEPRESSION

WASHINGTON.—Three senators are going abroad to study the silver situation and add to a great mass of information and opinion which has been poured out in statements, official reports and erudite articles—none of which has prevented the price of silver from going down below 30 cents an ounce.

In February, at about the time silver was falling below 26 cents after preciously declining from 69 cents in 1925 to 46 cents in 1930, the Senate adopted the resolution of Senator Kay Pittman of Nevada which asked President Hoover to negotiate with foreign governments with a view to stopping government sales of silver and to promote an international conference to achieve agreements or understandings "with respect to the uses and status of silver as money."

Conference Not Called
 No conference has been called, but the administration is actively interested in silver, along with statesmen, fiscal experts, economists and business men over the world. The subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which will now be interviewing foreign leaders consists of Pittman, Swanson of Virginia and Shipstead of Minnesota.

The important phases of the international silver depression, which have stirred up general interest in and discussion about the metal for the first time since the famous Bryan "free silver" campaign of 1896, involve the prosperity of India and China and the effect of low silver prices on exports to those countries, the effect on the mining industry in this country and other countries where Americans may or may not have large mining investments and the aggregate effect which most experts agree has been an important factor in the world-wide business depression of the last year or two.

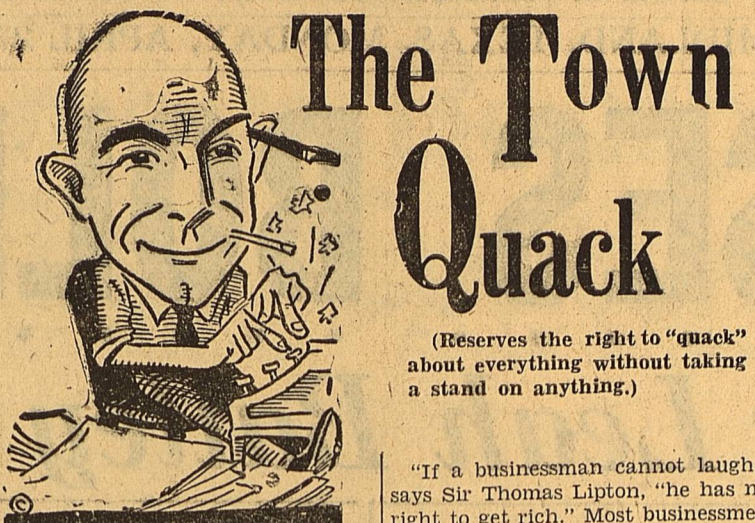

Many Countries Affected
 Silver is not the only depressing factor, but the great amount of study and discussion devoted to it is attributable to the fact that our own silver producing states are vitally affected, half a dozen important countries in Asia and the Americas which either hoard or produce silver are involved and many authorities seem to believe that something can be done about the white metal which will stimulate prosperity's return.

Treasury Lost 10 Million
 The U. S. treasury lost $100,000,000 on its silver reserves.
 Governor Montagu Norman of the Bank of England and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon are said to have discussed silver at their recent meeting here, but no suggestion or proposal has been forthcoming as a result. Both the United States and Great Britain are understood to be willing to enter an international silver conference, but apparently neither country intends to call one.

Various proposals for government action here and abroad have not been getting anywhere because they are not convincingly sound or advantageous from the standpoint of those requested to act. Most of them involve some form of price fixing.

It has been suggested that governments informally agree not to sell silver below a stipulated price, that they put more silver into their coins—most silver coinage having been debased—and that the United States absorb much of the over-supply. Senator Pittman has also proposed a silver loan to China, but neither Chinese nor Americans appear to be very interested.

Silver is a commodity affected by the laws of supply and demand and

Does the men's class beat that Abilene Victory Bible class, or didn't it? I ask you. With a lead of eight men and one Sunday to go, the finals yesterday placed Midland 218 ahead for four Sundays. A total count of 513 was sent in yesterday and after that the crowd swelled to 520. Abilene has 303.

A college boy who was arrested for speeding and told the judge he was a college boy received the advice that ignorance is no excuse for violating the law.

We suppose that that Canadian boy who was born in an airplane recently will be forever boasting of his descent.

The Paris hotel at which Alfonso resides charges him $600 a day. They look upon him, apparently, as just another tourist.

Many film producers seem to be of the opinion that the talkies have given them the privilege for outspoken drama.

If there's anything in a name, John Drinkwater, the writer, should make a fine propagandist for the prohibitionists.

Married couples don't realize they're in a tight fix until they move into a modern apartment.

The man who blows his own horn, says the office sage, is the only one who thinks he's tootin' right.

MAN'S WORST ENEMIES

Two great enemies beset the adult human being of today, says Dr. George H. Crile, famous middle-western specialist. They are infections and emotions; disease and fear, to put it more simply.

In place of the claws, horns and fangs with which other animals protect themselves, Dr. Crile points out, man has only an extremely high development of certain parts of his brain. This, his greatest asset, is also his greatest liability. He literally consumes his brain with worry and fear. A long and grinding emotional strain may use up 100,000 brain cells.

There may be a method of escape, says Dr. Crile, in an intellectual approach to the problem. The fear of death is the worst of man's fears, for it begins as a child and continues into old age; but it is a fear that can be rationalized. Some day, the doctor believes, when children are trained to understand the physical aspect of death as a fact, the race will be free of this terror.

Sometimes it seems as if the whole story of the race's climb from savagery to civilization is simply a story of the discarding of fears.

In the beginning, men feared everything that they did not understand, and they understood almost nothing at all. The thunder, the night, the wind, the glowing stars—all of these were profound mysteries, carrying a threat and a veiled menace. Even the fire that leaped upon the hearth in cave or forest hut was a mystery—a thing to be propitiated, sometimes a thing to be worshipped.

We have gone a long way since that day. Coming down from the jungle, men have learned to scoff at things their ancestors shuddered at; to make use of elemental forces which put their forefathers in fright. Few fears remain, and those few grow fewer each generation.

And sometimes one is compelled to wonder if this is altogether good for us. Fear is a tyrant, but it serves one good purpose; it keeps a man in a state of becoming humility. The mysterious shadows at the edges of existence may hide terrors, but they may also hide great possibilities. The mystic, who sees flaming visions that help the rest of us find beauty and joy in life, is usually a man who is greatly frightened by the terror and the mystery that he senses in the world.

To abolish fear, Dr. Crile advises, is a splendid aim; but it will be bad for us if we abolish mystery as well. We know almost too much about our world as it is.

WHY WE GO TO COLLEGE

The significance of the attempt of a girl student at Miami University in Ohio to prevent the faculty from dropping her because of poor grades may not be realized at first glance. Yet it all goes back to the old question: Why are our youth sent to college?

The answer must inevitably be—to learn. To learn what?

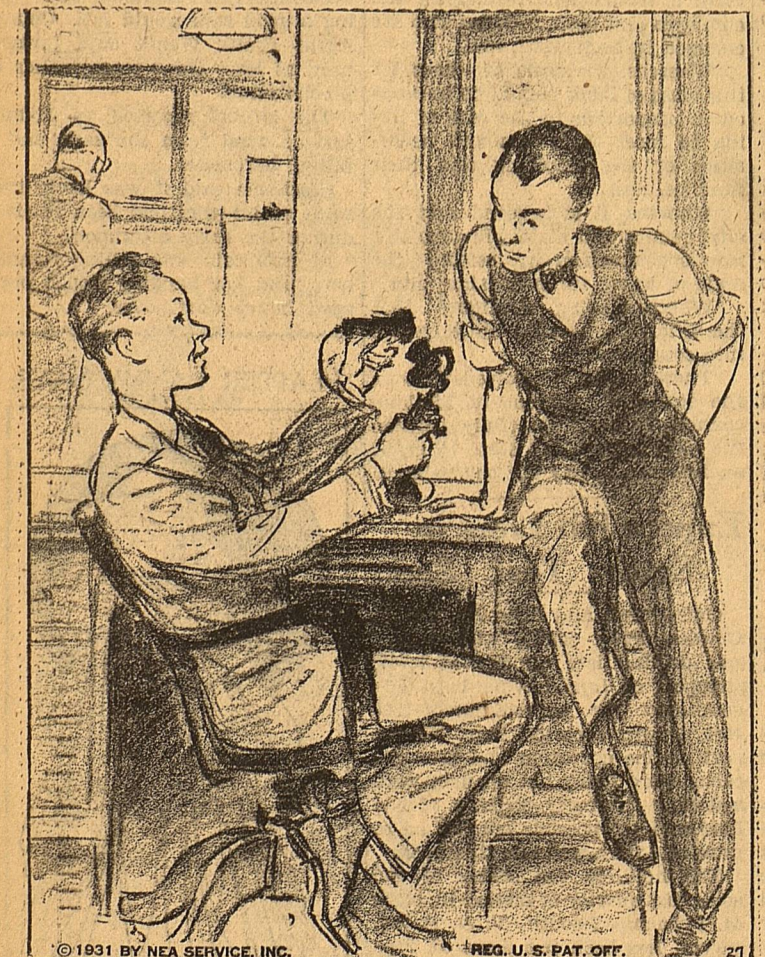

Faculties in general and college presidents particularly still hold the belief that students are in college because they want to acquire knowledge. Apparently another faction, represented by alumni and some of the students, contends that study is only incidental, that associations, experiences and extra-curricular activities are more necessary in producing the well-rounded man or woman.

The latter idea is wrong fundamentally. If there is any doubt about it, let him who would know investigate conditions in Europe universities where the student is years ahead of America's youth in progress. At Oxford and Cambridge and at the University of Berlin studies are first.

Critics of American colleges have poked fun at our universities, have called them, "glorified country clubs." They may be that. But they should be more.

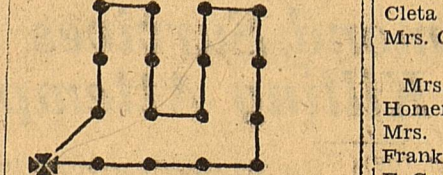

If the student has time to enjoy the country club phases of college life it is well. He must learn lessons first. And if he doesn't, regardless of whether he is a son of a millionaire, a butcher or an undertaker, he shouldn't be in college. Colleges are places in which to study. If they aren't—they aren't colleges.

A mailman stopped at 16 houses, as indicated by the dots. He started from the point marked by a cross and covered the 16 houses in nine straight moves. What is the fewest possible number of straight moves by which he could cover his route, starting at the cross and winding up there? The answer carries him over more ground than the nine moves and he is not restricted to stay within the square marked by the dots.

FIREMEN WIN, OILERS LOSE TO STANTON, BUSHERS TO ODESSA

SHIFLETT HURLS 2-HIT GAME, LOSES

Only one Midland baseball team won its game Sunday. Three clubs had games.

The Oilers lost a great game to Stanton, here, 1-0. The Busher Colts were upset by Odessa, 13-11.

The story of the first half of the second inning might well tell the story of the Oiler-Stanton game.

A pitcher's duel resulted, with Shiflett apparently getting the better of the affair.

The game was played in the first time of one hour and 10 minutes.

The Busher-Colts and Odessa played after the Oiler-Stanton game.

SPORTS REPORTS

And now for what happened at Odessa Sunday. This is written by way of defense, as much as anything else.

By explaining the causes of poor timing I hope to show you how to obtain the correct timing. A cause for poor timing is the turning of the body too quickly on the downswing.

It was a big day, except for the wind and rain. The course will have been positively milled had it not been for the stiff breeze and cold.

Famous Bourbons of Ten Centuries

By MILTON BRONNER Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of a series of five stories about outstanding figures of the Royal House of Bourbons of which King Alfonso XIII of Spain was the last monarch.

As both he and his wife were French by birth, the Spaniards first resented his French accent and manners.

Philip took little interest in government. He was lethargic and melancholy. His wife was the real ruler.

Elizabeth, pictured to the princess as timid, was actually bold and resolute. Through the remainder of the reign Elizabeth was the moving power behind the throne.

The princess then became the ruling force. She intrigued to marry Philip to a bride who would be a tool in her hands.

Godoy was a handsome provincial gentleman who had entered the life guards at 17 because of lack of something better to do, and was only 21 when the queen fell wildly in love with him.
